11. That the mind that is gathered here, will find great oppoſition, both within and without, inſomuch as he ſhall not eaſily paſs from out of the Kingdom of darkneſs, into the Kingdom of the dear Son, but through many tryals, temptations, oppoſitions and dangers many ways, for turning the back on the Kingdom of darkneſs, by joyning to the Principle of Life, in hearkning and ſubjecting to the light thereof; hereupon the powers of darkneſs both within and without beſtir themſelves to hinder the ſouls progreſs, and to bring it back again into ſubjection under the will and wiſdom of the fleſh.

O how doth the will and wiſdom ſtrive within in a mans own boſom! What riſings of the Impure are felt againſt the Pure! What ſecret and ſubtil reaſonings to enſnare and entangle the mind! and if they cannot draw the ſoul back from the Lord and the Living Path, then they ſtrive to vex, afflict and torment it! There is none knows what is felt inwardly by the followers of the Lamb but thoſe that travel with him in the Living-Path; they are often ſenſible of that they meet with in their travels, and how hard it is to abide in the path of Salvation, inſomuch as they underſtand the truth of that ſaying, If the Righteous ſcarcely be ſaved. It is ſcarcely indeed, ſo ſubtil, ſo ſtrong, ſuch a many holds, ſo many ſtratagems hath the ſubtil, twining, crooked, piercing Leviathan, to enſnare, perplex, over-run and entangle them with. And then outwardly, the ſame fleſh, the ſame earthly ſpirit and wiſdom, the ſame crooked, helliſh will is ſtriving in men without alſo, to bear down and ſubject the pure Principle in them who are born of God, to their devices and inſtitutions, decrees, ways, cuſtoms, &c. which are of the will and wiſdom of the fleſh. So that, as the Apoſtle ſaid, through much tribulation is the entrance of the ſoul into the heavenly Kingdom; and there is no avoiding the many tribulations, but by turning aſide out of the way (which though thereby thereby the flesh get ease for a time, it will be to the greater loss and sorrow in the end:) For the spirit of the world, the wisdom of the world, the nature, religion, worship and whole course of the world, is contrary to the way of the pure Wisdom and Spirit of God, and useth it as its enemy, where ever it findeth it: and they that will not bow to the spirit, wisdom and way of the world, must feel the force of its beastly claws. For is it not a beastly thing (even far beneath the nature of a man) to persecute that which is good, to hurt, reproach, and pursue the innocent life of the Lamb? and yet this is that which the spirit of the world (which is not of God, but wise and seemingly just and righeous in another wisdom, nature and principle) always hath done, still doth and will do to the end.

12. That there is a glorious Crown prepared for all those, who are gathered to the Lamb in this Principle, and abide with him faithful therein to the end, hearing his Voice, believing the demonstration of his Spirit, obeying him in all his motions and requirings, undergoing every yoke (which is appointed by him to yoke down the fleshly nature and mind) and taking up every Crosse of every kind in meekness, patience and fear. And there is not only a Crown laid up for them at last, but the Power of the Lord God is nigh unto them to work all in them, to bear them up through and over all, and to keep them to and in that Principle, whereby and whereinto his tender Mercy and powerful Arm gathered them. For, as the Power of the Lord began the work: for there could never any heart be gathered from under the power of darkness to the Light which leads out of it, but by the Power of the Lord: for the powers of darkness stand between, and would hold and keep their own, did not a greater Power appear and put forth it self for the soul against them. I say, as the Power of the Lord began the work, so the same Power alone is able to go on with it and pefect it; and it will go with it and perfect it upon the same terms it began, and no other. How were the terms at first but on a giving up of the soul in the faith to the Lord, in the sence of his love and goodness and mercy, touching and drawing and making willing? And how is the standing, but in the same giving up still, in abiding with the Lord, in hearkning to the voice of the Lord, in waiting for the wisdom and counsel of the Lord? But if any man draw back from this, if he despise the Spirit and his motions and counsels, and hearken to the voice of a contrary spirit, believing and following it, like the Angels that fell, he departed from his place and habitation, which he had in the drawings, life and power of God, and is not to God what he was before, nor is God to him what he was before: but the Lord who loved him before, and delighted in him to do him good, hath now no pleasure in him, he being turned from that which the Lord loveth, and in which he hath determined and appointed to chuse, love, and own the children of men: who as they are gathered thither, are his children; as they are gathered from thence, into a contrary principle, are the children of the wicked one.

And now what is of man in all this? where is the man that can boast before the Lord, who is thus saved? He hath all from a Principle, yea he is gathered into, preserved in, and abideth in this Principle by the Power, goodness and mercy of the Lord. The Power begins the work in him, the Power accompanies him; the Power carries him through, or he falls and miscarries. There is no man can stand any longer here, than he submits to and is upheld by the Power, nor act nor suffer, but as the Power acts in him and helps him to suffer. Let the man that boasteth, bring forth somewhat of his own, if he can, here. Is the will at any time his own? Doth not he that is spiritual and in the true sence, always find God to work in him to will, when ever he willeth rightly and holily? and if he cannot will of himself, can he do any thing of himself? can he believe of himself, pray of himself, wait on himself, resist enemies and temptations of himself, nay, so much as give a look to the Lord at any time of himself? Indeed in the grace of the Lord, and principle of his life there is sufficiency, and therein he that is joyned to the Lord and become one Spirit with him, what can he not do here? but that is, as he is new-made in Christ, and as Christ ariseth, lives and acts in him, which he that is in the true sense and feeling will still acknowledge, not only in his words to men, but in his heart and spirit before the Lord.

Some further directions to Christ, the Principle and Fountain of Life, by way of Question and Answer.

Queſt. 1. What is Chriſt?

Anſw. He is the Word of Eternal Life, who is appointed of the Father to give life, and who giveth life to them that receive him and obey his Goſpel. He is the Son of God, the Wiſdom of God, the Power of God, the righteouſneſs of God, the Saviour and Salvation of God. The peace, the reſt, the joy, the life of the ſoul. The King, the Prieſt, the Prophet, the Shepherd of the ſheep. The Way, the Truth, the Door, the Vine, the Olivetree, into which the living are gathered and engrafted. And he is alſo an Hammer, an Ax, a Sword, a Fire to the corrupt tree and fruit.

Queſt. 2. How is Chriſt known, received and obeyed?

Anſ. As a ſeed: as the ſeed of Life, as the ſeed of the Kingdom, as a Leaven, as Salt: as a little ſmall thing, riſing up in the heart againſt all that is great and mighty. As a Branch out of a dry ground, as a little child to lead, which all the wiſdom of man and fleſh cannot but deſpiſe: and therefore that muſt firſt be brought down in ſome meaſure in the heart, before Chriſt can be owned in the heart and ſubjected to.

Queſt. 3. How is this Seed received?

Anſ. By feeling its vertues, manifeſtations and operations in the heart, and ſubjecting thereto.

Queſt. 4. What are its vertues, manifeſtations and operations?

Anſ. They are all living, and have all living and powerful effects upon the heart, as they are let in. They are all againſt darkneſs, ſin and death, tending to diſcover it, to turn the mind from it, to lead out of the captivity, power and reach of it: and they are alſo all for God, tending to prepare the heart for him, and to bring it into union and covenant with him.

Queſt. 5. What is the firſt operation of the ſeed to the ſoul, wherein it is to be waited for and cloſed with, that the ſoul may come into the farther ſenſe and feeling of it?

Anſ. It is according to the ſtate of the Soul, which being in darkneſs, ſin and death, it appears as a light to diſcover the darkneſs, ſin and death, and to lead out of it to the redeeming power. And then, to them that thus receive it, and wait upon it in the fear and humility which it gives and begets, it appears as life, quickning the ſoul, and as power enabling it in ſome meaſure to live to God, and to walk with him in the way to the Kingdom.

Queſt. 6. How comes this way to be hid from ſome that deſire after the Lord, and know his Truth as it is in Jeſus?

Anſ. From the ſubtilty of the enemy, who blinds the eye which alone can ſee, and ſtops the ear which alone can hear, and hardens the heart which alone can underſtand; and hath devices, ſnares, and baits, and falſe reaſonings from Scriptures, and from Experiences, which any one that hearkens unto, and is entangled and enſnared in, is his captive, and cannot be at liberty to ſee or know, or embrace the Truth as it is, but his heart is deceived about it, and filled with prejudices againſt it. (Therefore ſuch ſhould wait for the true Circumciſion, that they might hearken to the Lord, come out of the enemies ſnares and ſubtil devices, and live,) as Iſa. 55. 1, 2, 3.

Queſt. 7. But may not theſe be ſaved notwithſtanding?

Anſ. There is no Salvation but in and by Chriſt Jeſus; and the Salvation is not to them that received a bare notion of him under the Law, or another empty notion under the Profeſſion of the Goſpel, but only to them that receive him as he was promiſed, as the Holy Seed: for in that alone is the Redemption, freedom from ſin and power of life felt, and no where elſe. So that he that hath not this knowledge of him, hath not the true knowledge; nor he that doth not ſo believe in him, doth not rightly believe; nor he that doth not ſo hope in him, doth not rightly hope: and without the true Knowledge, the right Faith and Hope, how can any man be ſaved?

Therefore awake, awake, O weary, thirſty ſouls! Come to the ſpring of Life, come to the living Waters. Become little, that ye may learn of Chriſt; wait to have your eyes anointed, that ye may ſee him, and your hearts opened, that ye may know and receive receive him. O wait for the manifestation of this Seed in you, be abased before him, joyn to him, receive his checks, receive mourning and repentance from him; wait for the Light and Faith that he gives, and the Power that issues from his Throne, and ye shall find him the bruiser of the Serpents head (which none else is able to do) and the breaker of the bond of Iniquity, which keeps down the Just and lets the Unjust at liberty, till he dissolve it. And this is sufficient to manifest against all the disputes of the mind, that this is he He and no other, by his doing that which none else can do. This demonstration he gave to the Jews in flesh, in his appearance in flesh; and this demonstration he giveth now to the Jews in Spirit, in his appearance in Spirit, whereby he satisfieth their hearts, and putteth them out of doubt that it is he. And we must profess to the world (as our hearts are drawn and guided by the Lord, to give forth the testimony we have received of him) that we look not, yea we cannot look for another. Whom should we look for, besides the Lamb, besides the Word which was in the beginning, besides him who is one with the Father, and hath the Eternal Life, Wisdom, Righteousness, and Power of the Father, and manifesteth it in us? We look for indeed more of the same, and the more universal and powerful breaking of it forth, but another thing, another Christ, another Life, Spirit, Power, &c. we cannot look for. And this we further testifie, that whoever receives this Testimony in the truth and uprightness of his heart, waiting on that which discovers sin to him, and in simplicity joyning and giving up thereto, and walking with him in forsaking the evil and cleaving to the good, in the faith of him and of his power, he shall witness the same thing with us, and all the reasonings, imaginations and strong holds of his mind shall be battered down and come to nothing, before the vertue, power and life of him who thus is pleased to appear and manifest himself after the Apostacy, even as he did before, even in an inward Principle, an inward Seed, an inward Light, an inward Life, an inward Word, an inward Power. And Friends and People, mark (in your minds, and learn to put a right difference between) that which stumbles you, and that which draws and convinces you. What makes any of you own Truth at any time? is it not an inward, lively, powerful touch and demonstration of Gods Spirit? what makes you afterwards doubt and question is it not another thing, of a different nature from this? is it not a subtil reasoning, whereby the enemy twines into your spirits, and begets first a doubt concerning, then a prejudice, and at last a great strength against that, which before ye had some sense of and some unity with, in the teachings and quickenings of the Spirit of the Lord. And what spirit is it in you, that thus worketh in your minds? and whither doth he lead you by these workings and subtil reasonings? Oh that ye might see! Oh that ye might feel the snare, and know with us the preserver there-from: for we have met with much of this; and had we not been helped by the Lord, and given up to him, we had been entangled to this very day, as ye are. And he that hath helped us, waits to be gracious to you: and O that you would not reject his help, that he might deliver you also, that ye also might bless his Name, in feeling the benefit and joy of his preservation. And this is written in true bowels and tender yerning love, that ye might be a little stirred up to wait to know the Fathers house, and might feed on the bread which abounds therein, and drink of the waters which makes fresh and living to God, and be clothed with the raiment which the Master of the Family gives to his Spouse, Children and Servants.

The end of Christs manifestation, his Salvation, and whom he saves.

CHRIST came (and is manifested in the hearts of those that receive him) to destroy the works of the Devil, and to set the soul free from sin: and whom he maketh free, are free indeed. Is the Liberty which the Son giveth, inferiour in this life, in its kind, to the captivity and bondage of the Enemy, in its kind? Which of them is stronger? The Enemy to enthral, or the Lord Jesus Christ, to set free from his Thraldom? Yes; the Lord Jesus Christ, the captain of our Salvation the mighty Saviour (who is more able to save, than the Enemy to destroy) delivereth his Israel out of the hands of their Enemies, and so mightily and powerfully delivereth them, that they are able (in the power of his Might) to serve him, without fear of them any more, in holiness and righteousness before him all the dayes of their life.

It

It is true, there is a ſtate of darkneſs, ſin and death, wherein Satan reigns: and there is a ſtate of weakneſs, wherein Satan much prevails, if the watch be not ſtrictly kept to him, who is the everlaſting ſtrength; and there is a ſtate of fighting and groaning under the body of ſin and death, and crying out who ſhall deliver from it! But there is alſo a ſtate of growth in the Life, and of Victory (through the Life) over that which captiv'd and cauſed to cry out. There is a treading down of Satan under the feet by the God of Peace, inſomuch as not only the Elders, but the very young-men in Chriſt overcome and triumph over him, feeling the entrance miniſtred to them abundantly into the everlaſting Kingdom, into which no unclean thing can enter. Oh! wonderful is the travel to the holy Reſt of the pure Life! Happy are they that meet with the true Leader, and faithfully follow him, till they have travelled through and overcome all that ſtands in their way! for to them, and to them alone, is the promiſe of the poſſeſſion of the everlaſting Inheritance; and ſuch find and feel the Lord to be their God indeed, and themſelves to be his Children, (brought forth in his holy Life and Nature) which to feel in truth and certain knowledge is more than tongue can utter.

Chriſt ſaves only thoſe that come unto him, and believe in him, and ſo are born of his Spirit, and by the faith and through the ſtrength and vertue of his Spirit overcome the wicked one, his works, ſnares and temptations in their hearts. And theſe feel in themſelves the Root of his Life, the holy Seed of his Kingdom ſpringing up in them, into which they are ingrafted and become one with him, and ſo bringing forth the holy Fruit, the living Grapes, the new and righteous Converſation, wherein the Life of God ſhines and is glorified. Now it is not knowing, or believing, or receiving any thing into the old underſtanding, that avails with God, or the Reformation which is there wrought, but the New Creature alone, created of God in Chriſt Jeſus. This is born of God, this lives in him, this is clothed with him. This puts off the old man with his deeds, and puts on the newneſs of the Nature and Spirit of the Lord Jeſus Chriſt; ſo that this man is as really in Chriſt, in the Spirit, in the new Adam, found in him, formed in him, covered with him, as the firſt man or nature is in the old Adam. Therefore this is the main thing in Religion, to mind the Seed of the Kingdom, the Leaven of the Kingdom, its growth in the mind, ſoul and ſpirit, and the minds, ſouls and ſpirits gathering into and growth in it. And here is Faith, the true Faith, the true Love, the true Hope, the true Meekneſs and Patience, the true Juſtification and Sanctification felt, and not elſewhere: but thoſe that are out of this, out of Chriſt the Seed, out of Chriſt the Word, out of Chriſt the Wiſdom, Righteouſneſs and Power of the Father, are only in a dream concerning theſe things, but know not the truth and real nature of them, as they are felt in Jeſus, by thoſe who are truly ingrafted into Him, and livingly grow up in him.

Three Queſtions anſwered concerning Juſtification.

Queſt. 1. What is juſtifying or juſtification with God?

Anſ. It is God's owning the ſtate, works or actions of a creature, either inwardly in his own mind, or manifeſtly to them. This is God's juſtifying of them, or his Juſtification: his diſowning or diſallowing them, is his condemnation. As for inſtance, God's owning Adam in the upright eſtate of his Innocency, wherein God created him; and any thing he did in that ſtate and ſpirit, was his juſtifying of him and his works. Gods diſowning and diſallowing his hearkning to his Wife and the Serpent, and his eating the forbidden fruit, upon their temptation, was his condemnation thereof.

Queſt. 2. What is it God juſtifies, and what is it he condemns?

Anſ. That which God juſtifieth is the Spirit of his Son, the Life of his Son, the Nature of his Son brought forth in any creature; the Faith which is in him, and ſo the creature as it is in the Obedience which is of him, and the works that are wrought in him: but the fallen eſtate of Man from him, and all that is done by Man out of him, God condemns.

Queſt. 3. How is Juſtification received, kept and grown up in; and what is the Preſervation out of Condemnation?

Anſ.

Anſ. Juſtification is only received by receiving him, who is the righteouſneſs and juſtification, and only kept by abiding in him, and only increaſed by growing up in him. For as every one that is found in him, is juſtified: ſo he that hath more of him, more of his Life, more of his Faith, more of his Nature, more of his Spirit, more of the pure Obedience, more of the Garment of Righteouſneſs and Salvation drawn over him, he is more juſtified. For there are degrees of Juſtification, as the ſoul that is really in the thing, and is acquainted with the true nature and diſpenſation of it from God, feels and knows. A father is more or leſs pleaſed with his children, yea with the ſame child ſometimes, which is a true figure to man who is come under Gods Teachings. And the preſervation out of condemnation, is, by being preſerved out of that, which God condemns: for no man upon the earth, that hath the true ſenſe and feeling, ſhall ever find the Holy and Juſt One juſtifying him in his ſins, but as the heart is turned from them, and by the power of Life kept out of them. He that will be kept in the Juſtification, muſt be kept out of that which the Juſtification is not to; for there he is not Juſtified; but in his being drawn again out of it, and turning again from it, his Juſtification in the tender Mercy of the Lord is renewed. Juſtification under the Law, was according to that Covenant: and Juſtification under the Goſpel, is according to that Covenant. He that walks with God in that Covenant, he that walks in and after the Spirit of Chriſt, he is therein juſtified: but he that walks after the fleſh, and doth any thing that is fleſhly; that is not juſtified with God, nor he in that: but in the Faith which cleanſeth and giveth victory over it, in that is the Juſtification from it, and the pure Heavenly peace with the Lord God of Life witneſſed.

He that is in Chriſt, and receiveth his knowledge from Chriſt, and is kept in the pure fear and ſenſe of him, he underſtandeth the truth of theſe things: but he that is erred in ſpirit, and holds but up a literal knowledge (though from or at leaſt accompanied with ſome remembrance of former feeling and experiences) he errs about theſe things alſo, and deceit and a lie hath prevailed over him, as he will find, when the Lord confounds his wiſdom and preſent apprehenſions of things, by awakening his Witneſs in him. For Religion, the true Religion is a Myſtery, Life a Myſtery, Chriſt is a Myſtery, the Spirit is a Myſtery, Faith is a Myſtery, Obedience (the pure Obedience) is a Myſtery, Worſhip (the Spiritual Worſhip in and according to the New Covenant) is a Myſtery, hid from the eyes of all the wiſe ſearchers of the World, but revealed to the leaſt Babe that is of God, and abideth in the quickned Life of his Son. But many that are out of the Myſtery of Truth, are in the Myſtery of Deceit, and have a knowledge or Profeſſion concerning Chriſt, his Spirit, Faith, Obedience, the Spiritual Worſhip, &c. in that Myſtery of Deceit, which they for the preſent account the true, and by it venture to judge, diſallow and condemn the Truth it ſelf: but that is not at all to the hurt of the Truth, or ſuch as are in it, but rather to their own hurt and great danger. For the ſparks which man kindles, will never light him to God; the garments of man's righteouſneſs (either according to his apprehenſions of the letter of the Law, or letter of the Goſpel) will never cloath him; but for all that, he muſt lie down in ſhame and ſorrow, when the Truth of God appears in his Conſcience, and all his ſhadows and deceits flee away.

Therefore hearken to the Teſtimony from theſe, whom the Lord hath awakened, whom the Lord hath quickned, whom the Lord hath led out of the darkneſs of the night, into the light and brightneſs of the day; who have ſeen Jeſus, and teſtifie what they have ſeen, heard, felt and handled of that eternal Word, which was from the beginning, which appeared in fleſh, and afterwards in Spirit before the Apoſtacy, and hath again appeared (ſince the Apoſtacy) as a Shepherd, as a Gatherer, as a Seeker-out and Preſerver of his wandring Sheep, who were driven from Him in the cloudy and dark day. And if ye would hearken aright, breathe to the Lord, in that which deſires and longs after him, that he would circumciſe the heart, and open the right ear in you, that the ear may hear his witneſs in you, that ſo ye may indeed know the voice of the Shepherd, and in true underſtanding, ſenſe and conſtant experience bear witneſs to that true Teſtimony, which Chriſt ſpake in the days of his fleſh; My Sheep hear my Voice, and follow me; but a ſtranger they will not follow: for they know not the voice of ſtrangers.

Of

Of the pure, constant, eternal, unchangeable Nature of Gods Truth.

TRuth is of God, and was with God and in God, before any thing else had a being. Truth was before Error or Deceit: for it was from the Truth that the Error was, and it was about Truth that the Deceit was. There was somewhat which erred from Truth, and brought in Deceit into the World, and hath propagated Deceit in the World, but Truth remains the same that it was, keeping its pure, eternal, unchangeable nature; and is not, nor ever was, nor ever can be defiled or tainted with any Error or Deceit; but testifieth against it, reproveth it, and condemneth for it, draweth out of it, and delivereth from its bands and captivity, all those that hearken and cleave to it, in the Faith which is of its nature and begetting.

The Father, the Fountain of Truth, is the same. The Son, his express Image (whom he fills with himself, and in whom he appears) is the same. The Spirit, the Anointing who is Truth, and no Lie) is still the same. The Principle, or Seed of Truth, is still the same. The Doctrine and Way of Truth is still the same; for it was the same Truth which was preached in shadows under the Law, the substance whereof appears and is witnessed in the Gospel: and it was the same before the great Apostacy, in the latter days from it, and all the times of the Apostacy, and again after the Apostacy. It hath the same nature still, the same properties, the same operations and effects, and gives forth the same Testimony in the ears and hearts of all that are open to it. Indeed the minds of men, and the states of men may often change in relation to Truth; but Truth it self changeth not, but is equal, fair and just to all men upon the Earth, in all Ages and Generations, always condemning that which is unjust, erroneous and deceitful, and always justifying what is pure, holy and righteous.

Now is not this a Pearl? nay is not this the Pearl indeed, the precious Pearl of price? Who would not buy it? who would not sell all for it? who would not dig in the Field where this Treasure is hid, until he find it? The Field is near thee, O man, which thou art to purchase and dig in, and must feel torn up by the Plough of God in some measure, before this Pearl or Treasure appear to thee; and thou must take up and bear the Yoke and Cross of Christ, until all be bowed down and crucified in thee which is contrary to its nature, before it be polished in thee, and thou come to behold and enjoy its riches and everlasting fulness. O happy are they, that are begotten and born of it! happy are they that know its voice, and give up to it, to be gathered and redeemed by it, out of all deceits, out of all errors, out of all that entangles and ensnares the soul in sin, misery and under perdition; for destruction and misery everlasting is out of it, and Life and Salvation is alone to be found in it.

There is a Witness in every heart, which knows these things, and will testifie it to their faces, when the Light of God is opened in them, and its tongue speaks therein to them. O happy they, that wait for, know, hear and subject to the heavenly Voice, while the day of their Visitation and reclaiming lasteth, wherein they may travel from Sin to Holiness, from Death to Life by its help and guidance! O why should Man perish! why should Man hearken to that which hates him, and seeks his destruction, and stop his ear against that which loves him, and warns him of his danger in the dearness of love, and in tenderness of bowels towards him?

A

TO THE

Professors of Christianity,

Whether they have the True, Living, Powerful, Saving Knowledge of Christ, or no?

With some Queries concerning Christ, and his Appearances; his taking upon him our Flesh; as also concerning his Flesh and Blood, and our being Formed thereof, and Feeding thereon.

And an Incitation to Professors seriously to consider, Whether they or we fail, in the true acknowledgment and owning of the Christ, which Died at Jerusalem.

Likewise some Propositions and Considerations concerning the nature of Church-Worships and Ordinances, since the Death of the Apostles, for the sake of the simplicity, which hath been long held Captive therein.

With the sounding of Bowels towards thee, O England.

Also a faithful Guidance to the Principle and Path of Truth.

WITH

Some sensible experimental Questions and Answers from the Tenth Chapter of John.

The Second Part.

By Isaac Penington, Prisoner in Alisbury, who (by the Counsel of the Lord) hath chosen rather to suffer Affliction with the despised People of God, than to enjoy the pleasures of sin for a season.

THE PREFACE.

THis is life Eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ whom thou hast sent. Whom did the Father send? Did he not send the Son of his Love? From whence did he send him? Did he not send him out of his own Bosom? Whither did he send him? Did he not send him into the world to take upon him a Body, and glorifie the Name of the Father, doing his Will therein? He laid down his Glory, stripping himself of the form of God, and appearing in habit as a man, in their Raiment, with their Garment upon him; in which, as a Servant, the Seed, (the Heir of all) served the Father. And now his work being as good as done, he looks back at the Glory which he had laid down for the Fathers sake, looking up to the Father for the restoring of it to him again. I have glorified thee on the Earth, saith he, I have finished the work which thou gavest me to do. And now, O Father, glorifie thou me with thine own self, with the glory which I had with thee before the world was, John 17.4,5.

Now having sought and travelled (from my Childhood) after the true knowledge of God, and of his Christ; and having been satisfied with nothing else that ever I could meet with, and having at length (through the tender mercy of the Lord, and guidance of his Spirit) met with this, and been satisfied therewith, finding it to be the eternal Life, the true Food, the living Power, the pure Rest, the Joy and Salvation of the Soul; I cannot but testifie it to those that lay out their Money for that which is not Bread, and their labour for that which satisfieth not.

We (some of us at least) laid out as much of our money as others who now despise us have done, and as much of our labour; And (I may speak it in the fear of the Lord, and in true sence, without boasting) some of us had as much of that which they feed on, & call bread, as they have now. Yet when the Lord, brought us to the true Ballance, we found it not to be bread, nor able, to give the Soul true satisfaction. The bread was not that which we then called bread, but that which we overlooked, and wist not what it was. But the eternal Life which was hid with the Father, & is manifested in the Son, and made known to the Soul, (as the Son is manifested to it, and revealed in it) that is bread indeed, that is meat which perisheth not, but will endure when all litteral and outward knowledge of God and Christ fails, and will fall short of satisfying that hunger of the Soul, which is after the substance it self.

Now to draw mens minds to a sence of Truth, to a sence of that which is the thing that they might know the Bread indeed, that they might know the living waters, come to them and drink thereof, and find Christ in them a well of water springing up to eternal Life; therefore was it in my heart to give forth this Question, & the ensuing Queries which he that rightly answers must know the thing; and he that doth not know the thing, by his inability to answer, may find that he doth not, and so may wait upon God that he may receive the knowledge of it, and come to it for the eternal Life which it freely giveth.

The Jews were puzled with a literal knowledge of the Law and Prophets, and about the Messiah to come, according to their understanding of the Propheſies concerning him, and ſo were kept from the true knowledge thereby. Moſt ſorts of thoſe that now profeſs Chriſt, are puzled about a knowledge concerning the outward Body, fleſh and blood of Chriſt, according as they apprehend the Scriptures to ſpeak, and ſo the vail is over their hearts likewiſe, and they cannot ſee the eternal Life and Subſtance, no more than the Jewes, but by an outward literal knowledge are kept back from the thing, as the Jews were. Now the breathing of my heart to the Lord is, To take away the Vail from all hearts that ſincerely deſire after Truth, and to open the true Eye in them, that they may ſee the deſire and beloved of their Souls, and may be led by him into the true travel, out of ſelf, towards the Kingdome; yea into the very Land of the living, where the food of Life is fed upon, where the living Springs flow, where are Vineyards which we planted not, and dwelling places which we built not, where the fruit of the Vine of Gods planting (the Wine of the Kingdom) is drunk of, even new in the Kingdom, with the Father and Son in the Spirit, who are One and All there.

The Lord give a ſence and underſtanding, that the Ear of the Needy, the afflicted in Spirit, the Mourners, the Captives, the bowed down may hear, and may be drawn to touch that which hath the vertue in it, and which effectually redeemeth (thoſe that wait upon it) from all that boweth down and oppreſſeth.

A Queſtion to the Profeſſors of Chriſtianity;

Whether they have the True, Living, Powerful, Saving Knowledge of Chriſt, or no?

THE Queſtion is not, whether they know what is ſaid of him in the Scriptures; but whether they know it ſavingly, truly, livingly, powerfully: Yea, they may know what is ſaid of him, & yet not know him of whom thoſe things are ſaid. As it was with the Scribes and Phariſees; they knew what was ſaid of Chriſt in the Law and Prophets; but they knew not himſelf, when he appeared in that body of Fleſh. So men may now know what the Apoſtles and the Evangeliſts have ſaid concerning his appearance in a body of Fleſh, (concerning his Birth, Circumciſion, Baptiſm, Preaching, Doctrine, Miracles, Death, Reſurrection, Aſcention, Interceſſion, &c.) and yet not know him, of whom theſe things are ſaid. Yea, they may know what is ſaid concerning the Word which was from the beginning, and yet not know the Word, the Power, the Life it ſelf.

Since the prevailing of the Apoſtles Teſtimony, the way of the Enemy hath not been directly to deny Chriſt, but to bring men into ſuch a knowledge of Chriſt, as ſaves not. And as the Enemy did own Chriſt, when he appeared in that body of Fleſh, ſaying, I know thee who thou art, the holy one of God: So he hath found it for his advantage, almoſt ever ſince, to own that appearance of his. So that this he doth not oppoſe, nor mens knowledg and underſtanding of Scriptures ſo, as to confirm them in this. But the Saving knowledge, the true knowledge, the Living knowledge, the Powerful knowledge of Truth, that he alwayes oppoſeth; for that alone overturns and deſtroys his Kingdom in man, and brings man from out of his reach.

Now there is a vaſt difference between knowing the Relations concerning a thing, and Knowing the thing related of. And there is alſo a great deal of differnce between believing the Relations concerning a thing, and believing in the thing which is related of.

Spiritual things cannot be ſavingly known, but in union with them, in the receiving of them. A man can never really know the Spirit of God, by all that can be ſaid concerning it, but he muſt firſt feel ſomewhat of it, whereby he may truly know it. So the Peace, the Joy, the Life, the Power, they paſs the underſtanding, and a man can never rightly know them by reading, or comprehending never ſo much concerning them; but by coming out of himſelf, and travelling thither where they are given and made manifeſt, he may come into acquaintance with them. And if the Peace which Chriſt gives, the Joy, the Life, the Power, cannot be thus known by literal diſcriptions: How can he, who is the Fulneſs of all, the Fountain of them all, the Treaſury of all Perfection, in whom are hid all the Riches and Treaſures of Wiſdom and Knowledge; how can he be known by outward and literal deſcriptions?

Now we have travelled through theſe things. We knew formerly what ye know now; and we alſo know now, what God hath given us further; and what our former knowledge was, and what our preſent knowledge is. And this is it which gives us ſatisfaction.

Our knowledge is in a Principle, wherein we receive our capacity of knowing, and wherein the Father (from whom the Principle came) teacheth us. And this is his way of teaching us, to wit, by making us one with the thing he teacheth. Thus we learn Chriſt, by being born of him, by putting him on. Thus we know his Righteouſneſs, his Life, his Wiſdom, his Power, by receiving a proportion of them, which giveth an ability to diſcern and acknowledge the fulneſs. And in this we receive the underſtanding of the Scriptures, and know the Seed of the Woman, (which bruiſeth the Serpents head) by receiving the Seed, by feeling its growth in us, and its power over the Enemy. Then we know the thing; likewiſe we know the Woman that brings forth this Seed after the Spirit, which is the Jeruſalem above; and we know alſo, and ſingly acknowledge the bringing forth of it, outwardly after the fleſh. This Seed we know to be the Seed of Abraham, the Seed of David after the Fleſh, and the Seed of God after the power of the endleſs life, and we are taught of God to give the due honour to each; to the Seed of God in the firſt place, to the Seed of David in the ſecond place. There was the Seed that wrought the thing, which Seed was the Life; and the Seed in which he wrought it, which was formed into a veſſel like ours, but without ſin, in which the pure Lamb appeared in the pure Power of Life, which kept the Veſſel pure: and ſo he (who was to be the firſt fruits) had the honour above all his Brethren, being anointed with the Oyl of Gladneſs above his Fellows.

But we alſo are born of the ſame Seed. He is formed in us, we are formed of him; we are as well of his fleſh and blood, as he was of ours. And by being thus formed, and feeling him grow up in us, and receiving an underſtanding from him, and in him, thus we come to know him, and to underſtand the words of Scripture concerning him. By feeling and knowing the Lamb in our Veſſels, we know alſo what was the Lamb in his Veſſel.

Thus we know things in the certainty and demonſtration of Gods Spirit, even in the Light which ſhines from him, and in the Life which he begets; and we ſpeak of things as they are, and as we feel them to be in the true Life, which the Spirit of Chriſt hath begotten in us. And we can truly ſay concerning the Scriptures that now we believe, not ſo much becauſe of the relation of things concerning Chriſt, which we have found in them: but becauſe we have ſeen and received the thing which the Scriptures ſpeak of, and find it to be the very thing indeed, the very Chriſt of God, the ſpotleſs One, the living Garment of Rightouſneſs and Salvation, wherein God findeth no fault, and in which the Soul appears without blame before him. And concerning this, can we ſpeak words of its Nature, words of its Virtue, words of its Life, Power and Rightouſneſs, which that which is of the fleſh cannot hear, but that which is born of God naturally owneth and underſtandeth. Why ſo? Becauſe it knoweth the nature of the thing, and receiveth them in the ſavour thereof. Can Life deny Life? Can the Birth of Life deny that which ſprings out of the ſame Womb? No, no. The Children which are born of Wiſdom, do juſtifie Wiſdome in its ſeveral ſproutings forth and appearances; but that which denies it, is a Birth after the Letter, a Birth after the literal and outward knowledge of things, a Birth of the comprehending Wiſdom; that indeed reproacheth and blaſphemeth the incomprehenſible Wiſdom, in its incomprehenſible ways, and would reſtrain life to what they apprehend, or can comprehend by the Letter concerning it.

And this may be a great evidence to Profeſſors, that they know not Chriſt indeed, Chriſt in his Nature, Spirit, Life, and Power; becauſe they ſpeak not of him as perſons who feel the thing, and ſpeak from the preſent ſence of it, and acquaintance with it, but only as perſons that bring forth a Notion they have received into their underſtandings. And yet they fail therein alſo; for they ſpeak not of Chriſt according as the Scriptures hold him forth, compared one with another, but as they have groſly apprehended concerning him from ſome Scriptures, as the Jews outward did. For the Scriptures ſpeak not only of a Body, but alſo of him that appeared in the Body; nor only of bodily fleſh, blood and bones, but alſo of ſuch fleſh and bones, whereof Chriſt and his Church conſiſt. He is Chriſt, (ſay the Scriptures) who is one with the Father, who came from the Father, in whom the Father was, and who was in the Father; ſo ſaid Jeſus of himſelf (lifting up his eyes to Heaven, and praying to the Father for his Diſciples, and the Children whom the Father had given him) more then once in that ſeventeenth Chapter of John. Yea he is Chriſt, whom a man cannot ſee, but he muſt ſee the Father alſo; and whom, whoſoever ſeeth the Father, ſeeth, who was before Abraham was; whom no man could know whence he was, even as no man can know whence the Father is. Chriſt granted the Jews that they knew him, and whence he was as to his Body; and yet for all that, he was the Chriſt who was to come, whom no man knew from whence he was. What was that, Chriſt called me, ſpeaking to Philip? Haſt thou not known me Philip? Haſt thou not ſeen me? What, doſt thou know know me after the flesh, after the body? Doth thou take that for me? Have I been so long with you, and do you know me no better than so? The body is from below, the body is like one of yours, (only sanctified by the Father, and preserved without sin,) but I am the same Spirit, Life and Being with the Father. We are one Substance, one pure power of Life, and we cannot be divided; but he that sees one, must needs see both; and he that knows one, must needs know both. This is the Lamb of God which John bare witness of, which he said was before him, (John 1. 15.) which the body was not.

Now Friends, if you have this living Spiritual knowledge, if ye hold it in him that is true; then own and acknowledge it, (as it is expressed in the Scriptures, and as God hath now brought it forth in his People) that ye may manifest your selves to that which is of God, that ye are of him. There is an understanding and wisdom of man, and there is a witness of God, which witness gives true judgment. Man (at best) judgeth but according as things appear to him from the Scriptures; but the Witness judgeth of the things of God in the demonstration of the Spirit, according as they are felt and known to be in him.

But if ye have not this knowledge, but have long laid out your money and labour for that which is not bread, nor can yield the true satisfaction; O come to the waters, and receive that which is given freely, without money and without price. O sell all for the Pearl, for the knowledge which is of Life, for the knowledge which is Life! I am the way, the Truth, and the Life, saith Christ; this is life Eternal to know. And wait to feel the Rock laid as a foundation in you, even the Seed of God, the Life of Christ, the Spirit of Christ revealed in you, and your Souls born of it, and built upon it. O that ye could come out of your own understandings, that ye might feel and receive the love of my Heart, and know the Travel of my Bowels for you; that ye might be born of the Truth, and know and receive it as it is in Jesus, and as it is felt in the Spirit, and its own pure Power.

Now a little further to remove the Scruple, and Prejudices out of the minds of of such as sometimes have been touched with the Power of Truth, and have had the Witness of God reached to in their hearts; but afterwards the Enemy hath raised mists, and cast blocks in their way, stirring up in them hard thoughts against us, as if we denyed what the Scriptures affirm in this thing, and indeed, (in effect) that Christ which dyed at Jerusalem, and set up a natural Principle within, instead thereof.

To remove this out of the minds of the honest-hearted, (who in the guidance of God may light on this Paper) I shall open my heart nakedly herein.

1. We do own that the word of God (the only begotten of the Father) did take up a Body of the flesh of the Virgin Mary, who was of the Seed of David, according to the Scriptures, and did the will of the Father therein, in holy obedience unto him both in life and death.

2. That he did offer up the flesh and Blood of that Body (though not only so, for he poured out his Soul, he poured out his Life) a Sacrifice or Offering for sin, (do not, O do not stumble at it, but rather wait on the Lord to understand it; for we speak in this matter what we know) a Sacrifice unto the Father, and in it tasted death for every man; and that it is upon consideration (and through Gods acceptance of this Sacrifice for sin) that the sins of Believers are pardoned, that God might be just, and the justifier of him which believeth in Jesus, or who is of the Faith of Jesus.

3. What is attributed to that Body, we acknowledg and give to that Body in its place, according as the Scripture attributeth it, which is through and because of that which dwelt and acted in it. But that which sanctified and kept the Body pure (and made all acceptable in him) was the Life, Holiness and Righteousness of the Spirit. And the same thing that kept his Vessel pure, it is the same thing that cleanseth us. The value which the natural flesh and Blood had, was from that; in its coming from that, in its acting in that, in its suffering through that. Yea, indeed, that hath the virtue, that is it which is of an unchangeable nature, which abideth for ever, which is pure, and maketh pure for ever; and it is impossible for a man to touch it, but he must feel cleansing by it. Now this living Virtue and Power, man was shut out from by the fall, but through the true knowledge of the death of Christ, the way is made open to it again, and man brought to it to be baptized, waſhed, cleanſed, ſanctified, fitted for, and filled with life; ſo that this is it that doth the thing; this is it from whence Chriſt had his one fleſh and Blood, (for we are taught both by the Spirit, and by the Scriptures, to diſtinguiſh between Chriſt's own fleſh, and that of ours, which he took up, and made his) which fleſh and blood we feed of in the Spirit, which they cannot feed on, which ſerve at the outward Tabernacle, nor they neither which know only the outward Body, but they only that feed in the Spirit.

Now of this thing we might ſpeak yet more clearly and plainly, could men hear our words. But if we have ſpoken to you earthly things (in Parables and Figures, ſuitable to your Underſtanding, & ye believe not; How ſhall ye believe, if we ſpeak to you heavenly things, if we ſhould tell you plainly of the Father, in whom is all the life of the Son, and all the virtue of Salvation that ever the Son had from him? The Jews were to learn in Types, Figures and Shadows, till Chriſt came. And after Chriſt came, he alſo taught them in Reſemblances & Similitudes of things: and the Apoſtle wrote and ſpake much to Perſons, as juſt coming out of that ſtate, in a language ſuited to that ſtate. But he that comes into the thing it ſelf, and is taught there by the Spirit, after he is grown up and made capable, he is taught plainly the nature of the Heavenly things, and the words of the Apoſtles, (concerning the deep things of God) which are Myſterious to others, are manifeſt and plain to him. Yea the Lord ſo teacheth him things, as words cannot utter; that is, He ſo knoweth the peace of God, the Joy of his Spirit, the Life and Power of the Lord Jeſus Chriſt, his Wiſdom, Righteouſneſs, and pure pretious way of ſanctifying the heart, the tender Mercy, Faithfulneſs and rich Love of the Father, &c. as he cannot utter to any man; nay ſo, as he never learned (nor could learn) from words about the things; but by the ſenſe and experience of the thing it ſelf, the Lord (in whom are the depths of Life, and who giveth the ſenſe and underſtanding of the deep things of the Spirit) opening them in him, and manifeſting them to him. And indeed, this is the right and excellent way of knowledge, to come into the Union, to come into the Thing it ſelf; to learn in the Union, to ſee and know in the Thing. This is the way that the Lord teacheth all his Children in the new Covenant, by inward Life, by the pure Light within, by the inward demonſtration of his Spirit, by the Power and Virtue of the Truth it ſelf, which it hath in him that is true. And he that is in the Son, hath ſome meaſure of this Life: and he that hath not ſome meaſure of this Life, is not in the Son; but in a talk and wife knowledge of things after the fleſh, which will periſh, and he with it, who abideth there. For no man can be ſaved, but by coming into the knowledge which is of a pure eternal, living, ſaving Nature. Can an opinion, which a man takes up concerning Chriſt from the Scriptures (and caſting himſelf thereupon) ſave him? for it is no more than an Opinion or Judgment unto a man, unleſs he be in the life and power of the thing it ſelf. Then indeed it is Truth to him, knowledge in him, right Knowledge; otherwiſe it is but Knowledge falſly ſo called. Knowledge which will not ſubdue his heart to Truth, nor hath its ſeat there, but in his head, making him wiſe and able there to oppoſe Truth, and ſo bringing him into a ſtate of Condemnation, Wrath and Miſery, beyond the Heathen, and making him harder to be wrought upon by the Light and Power of the Truth, than the very Heathen. Therefore conſider your ways, O Profeſſors of Chriſtianity, and do not deſpiſe the the hand which is ſtretched forth to you in the love of God, and in the motion and guidance of his Spirit, who condeſcends to you exceedingly, that he might reach to his own in you, and ſcatter your Apprehenſions, Imaginations and Conceivings about the meanings of Scriptures (which are as ſo many Chains of Death and Darkneſs upon you) that ye might come to him in whom is Life, and who gives life freely to all that come to him. O obſerve what Barrs were in the way of the Scribes and Phariſees! They would not come to him that they might have life; nay indeed, they could not, as they ſtood. There are greater Barrs in your way; yea it is harder for many of you to come to him, than it was for them. My upright deſire to the Lord for you is, That he would remove the ſtumbling-blocks out of your way, that he would batter and knock down the fleſh in you, that he would ſtrip you of all your knowledge of Scriptures acording to the fleſh, that ye might be made by him capable of knowing and receiving things according cording to the Spirit; and then ye will know how to understand, honour and make use of the Letter also: but till then ye cannot but make use of it both against your own Souls, and against Christ and his Truth.

And then for setting up a natural principle, we are further from that than ye are aware. For we are as shy of this, and jealous that it was a natural Principle as ye can be, and started from it, divers of us, till the Lord by his eternal Power, and demonstration of his Spirit reached our hearts, and shewed us that it was the Seed of the Kingdom (even the Root of all the Spiritual life, that either we our selves formerly, or ever any else received at any time) and gave us the sight of the things of the Kingdom in it, and at length wrought that in us, and for us by it, which never was wrought in us before, and which can be wrought by nothing else but the Power of the Spirit. Now having certainly felt and known the thing in our own hearts; and having also seen the Snares and Nets which the Enemy laies for you, whereby he keeps you from the true Bread, and from the water and wine of the Kingdom (even as he kept us formerly;) How can we hold our peace, but witness to you (in the love and drawings of the Spirit of the Lord) of the Truth, Life and Power which we have felt in Jesus, though ye become our Enemies therefore? Nor do we this to bring you to another Opinion or outward Way, (that is not our end) but that ye might feel the thing it self, and know assuredly what is the Truth, in that which never was deceived it self, nor ever deceived any, nor will suffer any to be deceived who are joyned to it, and abide in it. O why should ye wander in the dark Opinions and uncertainties of the night? Why should ye not rather come to that wherein the Light of the day Springs, and out of which it shines? And can the natural man (who hath his Eyes) be deceived about the Light of the natural Day? Doth he not know the Light of the day, both from the Lights, and also from the Darkness of the Night? Ten thousand times more certain and inwardly satisfied is he, who is born of the spiritual Day, brought forth in the Light thereof, and who spiritually sees, lives and walks therein. So that there is no doubt in him who is grown up into the thing; but he hath the assurance of Faith, (which is far above the assurance of outward sense or reason) and the assurance of Understanding. O blessed is he who hath an Eye to see, an Ear to hear, an Heart to understand the things which God hath Revealed by his Spirit in this our day, the living Way which he hath now made manifest, the Principle of Life that he hath raised out of the Grave of Death. But he that reproacheth and speaketh evil of this, (that will neither enter in himself, nor suffer others) he is far from receiving the blessing or blessedness of this Seed; but groweth up in the wrong Nature and Spirit, the end whereof is to be Burned, with all that is in Union with it, and groweth up from it. Therefore come out from that Spirit, come out of that dark mind and nature, which never saw nor can see the Truth, (but setteth up Opinions and Appearances of things instead of it, and receive the Anointing which is given with and in the Seed, which is raised in some, and visited in many, in this day of the Lords Love and tender Mercy, to whom the Living, the Sensible, the Redeemed sing Praises, and on whom they wait, for his further manifesting of his Power and Glory in them daily more and more.

Now Friends, if ye will know aright, or believe aright, ye must know & believe in him, who was with the Father before the World was; who was the Saviour, the Jesus, the Christ, from everlasting. For what makes him so? Is it not his Nature? Is it not the power of Salvation in him? His taking up a Body made no alteration in him, added nothing to him; only it was necessary that he should take it up to fulfil the Will in it, and to offer it up a Sacrifice in his own Life and Spirit to the Father. This we firmly believe; & this also we cannot but say further, That the Vertue, the Value, the Worth, the Excellency of what was done by him in the Body, was not of the Body, but it was in him before time, in time, & will be after time, & for ever: Yea, it is he to whom the Name Jesus and Christ did of right belong before he took up the Body; and he only put forth in the Body, the saving Virtue which he had before, which belonged to the Nature, to the Anointing in him, whether ever he had saved any with it or no. And this Vertue, this Life, this Spirit, this Nature of his, is the Food, the Righteousness, the Garment of Life & Salvation, which he (through the death of the Body) made and prepared a living way for the Soul to come to, to Feed on, and be Clothed with. I can hardly stop speaking of these things for your sakes, that through my words (or the words of whom the Lord shall please) ye might come to feel that which is able to give you the Holy Understanding and might come to the true sense and Experience of the Truth it self, and might see who hath blinded you, and how he hath blinded you, and fed you with Husks and dry Food, instead of that which hath the true living Sap in it. But while ye see and judge in that which is wrong, ye must needs judge amiss both of your selves and others and also of the Truth it self, and of the words spoken either formerly, or now concerning it; whereby ye expose and bring your selves under the Righteous Judgment of the Truth it self, even of the Son, and the Light of his Day, which hath Power from the Father to judge all false Appearances, Deceits and Deceivers.

A Post-Script to the Professors of Christianity.

IT hath pleased the Lord, as he manifested his Christ gloriously before the Apostacy; so to manifest him so again. For he was not only born (in the flesh) of the Virgin Mary; but he was also born in the Spirit of this woman cloathed with the Son, which had the Moon under her feet, and on her head a Crown of twelve Stars. She also brought forth the Man-Child, who was to Rule all Nations with a Rod of Iron, Rev. 12.

Now of this appearance and return of the Lord Jesus Christ, and his fresh bringing forth of his Life and Power, in his Body, the Church, there are many Witnesses, who have seen, felt and tasted, thereof, with the Eyes and Senses which are of God, and of the New Birth. And of this (in the Love and good will of God, and from the drawings and requirings of his Spirit) they bear witness to others; that they also might come to see the glory and brightness of his day, and rejoyce therein. For indeed it is a glorious Day inwardly in Spirit, to those that are quickened and gathered to the living Shepheard and Bishop of the Soul, by the eternal Arm of his Power. And happy is the Eye that sees the things that they see, and the Ear that hears what they hear, and the Heart that understands the things which God hath revealed in and unto them by his Spirit.

Glorious was the appearance of Christ in the flesh; but there were blocks in the way of the Jews, that they could not know, own, believe and receive him. And glorious is the Administration of his life in Spirit, in this day of his Power: but there are also blocks lying in the way of them to whom it is sent, which cause them to stumble at it, and keep them both from letting it into them, and also from giving up to it. But blessed was he, who was not offended in Christ then; and blessed is he who is not offended at him now. For he that is offended at him, who is Life, and gives Life, stumbling at the present way of dispensation, which God hath chosen to give it out by, how shall he live? This is the cause that so many poor hearts lie mourning and grovelling on the earth, groaning because of their sins, fearing because of the strength of the Enemy, and the corruptions of their own hearts, which are continually ready to betray them into his hands; because they know not him, who hath streched out his Arm, and is come in his Power to deliver; but are prejudiced against the way, wherein he hath and doth deliver. Yea, they know not his Voice who calls, Come unto me, I am the Resurrection and the Life. He that believeth in me, shall receive my strength; and though he were never so weak, shall become as David; and though never so unclean, shall find the Waters, which spring from my Well to cleanse him, and nourish him to Life everlasting.

How tenderly did Christ visit the Jews, in the dayes of his flesh? How Powerfully, and in the true Authority of God, did he preach among them? what mighty works did he shew? and yet they could not believe. Why so? The Enemy had entred them with his temptations, had got somewhat into their minds of a contrary nature, to keep out thereby the sense, knowledge, and acknowledgment of him. So that when their hearts were even overcome with his Power and sweet precious Doctrine, and ready to yield that this was he, this was Christ indeed; then the Enemy raised up some Argument or other to prejudice them against him, that he might thereby beat them off, and drive them back again from owning or receiving him. This man is not of God, say some; for he keepeth not the Sabbath. He cannot be a prophet, say others, because he is of Galilee, out of which no Prophet ariseth. He cannot be Christ, saith a third sort, because we know whence he is; but when Christ cometh, no man knoweth whence he is. He is not holy, strict, and zealous, accor-cording to the Law, say others; but a loose person, a man gluttonous, and a Wine-bibber, a friend of Publicans and sinners; one who teacheth not his Disciples to fast and pray, (as the Pharisees did theirs, and John, who was generally looked upon as a Prophet, did his) but justifieth them in plucking the ears of Corn on the Sabbath Day, and so thereby rather incouraging them to break it, then strickly to observe and keep it according to Gods Law. He is a Blasphemer, say some, (speaks most horrid blasphemy) making himself equal with God. He reproacheth the most strict and zealous men that we have,) even our Teachers and Interpreters of the Law and Prophets) calling them Hypocrites, painted Sepulchers, blind Guides, &c. and pronounceth Wo upon Wo against them. And those that are the Children of Abraham, he calls the Children of the Devil, and saith, He that committeth sin, is the Servant of sin. But if the Son(meaning himself)make you free yee shall be free indeed. And if we will have life in us, we must believe in him, and eat his flesh, and drink his blood; (Did ever Moses, or any of the Prophets teach such Doctrine?) Again, he saith, if a man keep my saying, he shall never see death; whereas Abraham and the Prophets (who believed God, and kept his sayings) are all dead. This made them even conclude he had a devil, John 8. 52. So how could they understand him, when he said, He was the Good Shepherd, and the Door, &c. and that all that ever came before him were Thieves and Robbers; would they not look upon this as witnessing of himself, and endeavouring to set up himself? And when he said, Verily, Verily, before Abraham was, I am; Were they not ready to stone him, for speaking a false and impossible thing, as it seemed to them, he manifestly being not yet fifty years old? But suppose it to be true, that he was before Abraham, how then could he be the Messiah, who was to come of Abraham, and out of the loyns of David, according to the Scriptures? And then for his Miracles, having beforehand concluded that he was a bad Man, a Sinner, a breaker of the Sabbath, a Blasphemer, a deceiver of the People, &c. How easie was it for them to harden themselves against them, and to infer that he wrought not these things by the Power of God, but by the aid and assistance of the Devil, to overthrow the Laws and Ordinances of Moses and to set up himself and his new Doctrine by? Indeed many (and some seemingly strong and unanswerable) were the exceptions, which the wisdom and understanding in them (which was out of the Life and Power of Truth) formed against Christ, whereby they justified themselves in their refusal of him, who was Sealed and sent of the Father, and so excluded themselves the Kingdom, and the Righteousness thereof.

This is past, and they can condemn them now, who themselves are acting over again the same thing in Spirit. It pleaseth the Lord thus to suffer things to be, still so to give forth the dispensations of his Life, as they alone that are in some measure of his Life can discern them. And the same spirit (under a new guise) still opposeth Truth in its present appearance and dispensation, and stirreth men up to slight and blaspheme that holy Name and Power which they that believe in, are saved and sanctified by. Well what shall I say to you; O that ye could discern Spirits! O that ye could see what Spirit ye are of, and whom ye serve, in opposing the present dispensation of Life! O that ye could see how ye read Scriptures out of that which wrote them, & bend them against that which wrote them, making yourselves wise and strong in a wrong Wisdom and Knowledge, against the Lord, and against his Christ, whom he hath set upon his holy Hill of Sion, and who appeareth there, though you see it not. For Sion is not now literal, or after the flesh; (the Day is come, the shadows are gone.) But Sion is the holy Hill of God in Spirit, upon which the Heavenly Jerusalem was built, which is revealed, come down, and coming down from Heaven, and many of the Heavenly Citizens dwell there already, and more are coming thither to dwell; for even from the East, West, North and South, shall the gathering be, to sit with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, in the Kingdom which cannot be shaken, which Kingdom was received by the Christians formerly before the Apostacy, and is now received again, blessed be his Name, who lives and reigns in Power, over all the Spirits of darkness and deceit, maintaining his pure Life and Truth in the hearts of his Children, in despite of them all.

But why should you thus err in Heart from the pure Truth? why should you not open to him that knocks in his holy Power, and in the demonstrations of his Spirit to your Consciences? Why should a subtile device of the deceiver be let in and hugged by you, to cause you to thrust him back from your hearts, who is the Word of eternal Life, and with whom are the words of eternal Life? the Lord God discover the deep deceits of the Enemy to you, whereby he captivateth your hearts and understandings, that it may not be always said of you, as it was of the Jews, He came unto his own, and his own received him not. But to as many as received him, he gave power in the day of his flesh, and he giveth much more Power to them that receive him in Spirit (in the Day of his Spirit) to become the Sons of God. And because they are Sons, he poureth out abundantly of his Spirit upon them And he that hath the Spirit, hath the Son; and he that hath the Son, hath Life. But he that hath not the Son, (but blasphemeth the appearance and light of his Spirit) hath not life; but is yet in that Wisdom and Knowledge which is death, and which keeps him dead.

Now the Lord, of his tender Mercy, make you sensible of, and pardon your opposing and resisting his Truth, and also cause the Light of Life to shine in your hearts, quickning and guiding you thereby out of the Land of Death and Darkness, into the holy Land of Life; that all that sincerely breath after Truth, may (through the faithfull travel) come to sit down, dwell and feed together in it, in the one Power, in the one Life, in the one holy Spirit, where is pure Rest and Peace, perfect Joy and Satisfaction for evermore. Amen.

Some QUERIES concerning Christ and his Appearances; his taking upon him our flesh: As also concerning his flesh and blood, and our being formed thereof, and feeding thereon.

Query, 1.

WHether there was not a necessity of Christs taking upon him our flesh, for the redemption of those that had sinned, and the satisfaction of the justice offended?

Quer. 2. Whether the Father did not accordingly prepare a body for him, to do his Will in all things in, and particularly to offer up to him the acceptable Sacrifice for the sins of the whole World?

Quer. 3. Whether it was not necessary, in this respect also, that Christ should take upon him our flesh, that he might have experience of our temptations and infirmities, and become a merciful and faithful High Priest and Intercessor for us?

Quer. 4. Wherein lay the value and worth of his Sacrifice, and of all he did? Did it lie chiefly in the thing done, or in the Life wherein he did it; in that he did it in the pure Faith, and obedience to the Father? He became obedient unto death, even the death of the Cross; and he through the eternall Spirit offered himself without spot to God.

Quer. 5. What was he, for whom the Father prepared a body, and who took it up to do the Will, and did the Will in it? was he not the Arm of God, the Power of God, the Saviour and Salvation of God, the Jesus and Christ of God?

Quer. 6. To whom do the Names and Titles, Jesus and Christ, chiefly, & in the first place belong? do they belong to the Body which was took by him, or to him who took the Body? The Body hath its Nature and Properties, and the eternal Word, or Son of God, (the pure spotless Lamb, the Fountain of Innocency) its Nature and Properties. Now the Query is, Which was the appointed Saviour of the Father, which was the Anointed of the Father? chiefly, and in the first place; Whether the Body prepared, or he for whom the Body was prepared, to do the Will, and offer up the acceptable Sacrifice in?

Quer. 7. Which is Christs Flesh and Blood which we are to partake of, whereof we are to be formed, which we are to eat and drink, and which is meat and drink indeed, nourishing to life everlasting? Is it the flesh and blood of the Body, which was was prepared for, and taken by him, wherein he tabernacled and appeared? or is it the flesh and blood of him, who took, tabernacled and appeared in the Body? For that which he took upon him was our Garment, even the flesh and blood of our Nature, which is of an earthly perishing Nature: but he is of an eternal Nature, and his flesh, and blood and bones are of his Nature. Now as the Life and Nature, which is begotten in his, is Spiritual; so that which feeds, and is the nourishment of it, must needs be of a spiritual and eternal Nature.

Quer. 8. What is the Bread which came down from Heaven? Is not the Bread and the Flesh all one? Outwardly-visible flesh and blood was not in Heaven, nor came down from Heaven; but the bread of Life did come down from Heaven, which the heavenly Birth feeds on, and lives by. For that which Redeems, that which is Jesus (the Saviour) came down from Heaven, and took upon him a body of flesh here on earth, in which he manifested himself as King, Priest, and Prophet, and did the work appointed him by the Father, (John. 17. 1. &c.)

Quer. 9. What was that which saved people outwardly, from their outward infirmities and diseases, while Christ was on earth in that Body? Was it the Body, or the Life, Power and Spirit of the Father within the Body, and manifested through the Body? And can any thing less save inwardly? Now that which saves, that which hath the Virtue and Power of Salvation in it, that the Eye of Faith is to fix upon, and not to stick or stop in that, through which the Life works it.

Quer. 10. Who was he that humbled himself, that made himself of no reputation, that took upon him the form of a Servant, and was made in the likeness of men, and found in fashion (or habit) as a man? was it the body of flesh? or was it He that was glorified of the Father before the World was? And who is to have the honour and exaltation? At whose Name is every knee to bow? Is not the reward to him, who laid down his Glory, to take upon him the body of flesh, and appear in it, that he might honour, glorifie and fulfill the Will of his Father?

Quer. 11. Are not the Children and He of one? is not he and they of the same flock? (Both he that Sanctifieth, and they who are Sanctified, are all of one, Heb. 2. 11.) Is it not from thence, that he is not ashamed to call them Brethren, even because he finds the Nature, Spirit and Life of his Father in them? What makes a Child to God? Is it not the being begotten of the Father, and born of the Spirit? And that which is born of the Spirit, is Spirit. Now mark: Have we the denomination and relation with Christ, from that which is Spiritual, and hath Christ himself the name from, or because of the body of flesh? Nay, nay, the Name Christ was from the anointing which was in the Body, which ran into, and filled the Vessel. It is true, the Body in and by the Union, partakes with him of his Name; but the Name belongs chiefly, and most properly, to the treasure in the Vessel.

Quer. 12. What is it to put on Christ, or what is the putting on of Christ? Is it the putting on of that body of flesh? Or the putting on a belief concerning him, according to what is said of him in Scripture? Or is it not rather a putting on of his Nature, his Seed, his Spirit, his Life, wherewith the Souls of those that are born from above are cloathed, as the body is with a Garment?

Quer. 13. Who was it that said, I am the Resurrection and the Life? Was it not Christ? And what did he say it concerning? Did he say it concerning the Body? Or did he say it concerning the Power and Virtue of the Father, which was in the Body? Did he not say it concerning, that which had the Power of Life in it, before it took up the Body, and had also the Power of Life while it was in the Body; yea, and could raise up not only other Bodies, but that also after it had laid it down? For after it was laid in the Grave, he could raise it up, and take it on again, as well as he did at first, when it was first prepared, (John 10. 17, 18.)

Quer. 14. If I, or any one else have felt the saving Arm of the Lord revealed in us: If we have felt a measure of the same Life, Power and Anointing revealed in our Vessels, as was Revealed in his: Is it not of the same Nature? Is it not the same thing? Is not Christ the Seed? And is not this Seed sown in the heart? Now if this Seed spring and grow up in me into a spiritual shape or form, (though it be but of a Babe) is not Christ then formed in me? If I be ingrafted into, and grow up in it, am I not ingrafted into Chriſt, (the true Olive-Tree, the true Vine) and do I not grow up in him? And is not this the ſame Chriſt that took upon him the body of fleſh, & offered it without the Gates of Jeruſalem? Is there any more than one, or is there any other than he? is Chriſt divided? Is there one Chriſt within, & another without? He that knoweth the leaſt meaſure of the thing, doth he not know the thing in ſome meaſure? And he that is in the leaſt meaſure of the thing, is he not in the thing? He that knoweth the Son, doth he not alſo know the Father? And he that knoweth the Spirit, doth he not alſo know the Son? And he that is in the Spirit, is he not in the Son? For they are one Nature and Being. A man may have notions of the one, and not of the other; but their Nature, their Being, their Life, their Virtue is inſeparable. And as Chriſt ſaid concerning the Father, That he was in the Father, and the Father in him; and that he that ſaw him, ſaw the Father. So may it not be as truly affirmed (in the true ſence and underſtanding of Life) concerning Chriſt, that he is in the Spirit, and the Spirit in him; and that he that ſeeth the Spirit, ſeeth him; and he that ſeeth him ſeeth the Spirit? For he is the Spirit, according to that Scripture, 2 Cor. 3. 17. Now the Lord is that Spirit; and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is Liberty. What to do? Why, to ſee and read within the Vail, and to behold the glory of the Lord, which is revealed there; which they whom the Vail was over formerly, or whom the Vail is over now, have not Liberty to do. Here is confuſion and impoſſibility to mans wiſdom; that Chriſt ſhould be all one with the Spirit; that Chriſt ſhould ſend the Spirit in his Name, and alſo himſelf be the Spirit whom he ſends. (This is an heard ſaying, who can bear it?) And yet this confuſion to man, is Gods Wiſdom, and pretious in their eye, who are taught of him.

For it is one and the ſame Chriſt that was ſignified in Types and Shadows under the Law, Revealed in the fulneſs of time in that prepared Body, and afterwards in Spirit. Now after he was Aſcended, he received the Spirit ſo as he had not received him before; and ſo having received the Promiſe of the Father, he ſo Diſpenſeth the Spirit to his Brethren and Diſciples, as it had not been Diſpenſed before. Indeed he comforted and refreſhed his People under the Law by his Holy Spirit, which was their inſtructer then, (Neh. 9. 20.) and taught them the things of God under Types, Shadows and Reſemblances. When he came in the Body, he choſe out Diſciples, whom he taught the things of the Kingdom, and was a Refreſher and Comforter of them therein. (And was not this another Comforter, than thoſe had under the Law? Had the Jews before, ever any ſuch Comforter, as Chriſt was to his Diſciples in his bodily preſence?) Now when he aſcends, he Receives the Spirit from the Father, as the Father had Promiſed him; and having ſo received him, he ſends him to them for their Comforter. And may not this juſtly be Termed another Comforter, than Chriſt was in his Bodily Preſence; And yet is it not alſo the ſame Spirit of Life, that had been with them in that Body? So that it is another in the way of Adminiſtration, but the ſame in Subſtance, even the Word which was from the beginning, the Spirit which was from Everlaſting; and to Everlaſting there is no other.

Now as the Father ſent the Son, and yet was with, and in the Son; ſo the Son ſending the Spirit, he alſo is with, and in the Spirit. And as it is the Fathers Will, that the ſame honour be given to the Son, as is given to him; ſo it is the Sons pleaſure, that the ſame Honour be given to his Spirit, as is given to him. Yea, as he that will Worſhip the Father, muſt Worſhip the Son, muſt come to him in the Son, muſt appear before him in the Son, muſt Reverence and Kiſs the Son; ſo he that will come to Chriſt, will Worſhip him, muſt come to him in the Spirit, muſt bow to him in the Spirit. Yea he that will know and Worſhip Chriſt in his fulneſs (in the Majeſty of his Glory, Dominion and Power) muſt learn to bow at the loweſt Appearance of his Light and Spirit, even at the very Feet of Jeſus; for that is the loweſt part of the Body.

Quer. 15. Did not the Bridegroom go away, as to his Appearance in Fleſh, that he might come again in Spirit? Did not the Apoſtles, who knew his Appearance in Fleſh, and his Tabernacling among them, know alſo afterwards his Appearance in Spirit, and his Tabernacling in them? And were not their hearts filled with joy unſpeakable, and full of Glory, becauſe of the Preſence of the Bridegroom? Did they not know the Man-Child born and brought forth in Spirit, as really as ever he was Born and brought forth in Flesh? Yea, did they not Travel and help to bring him forth? Were there not many in that day, who could say concerning the spiritual and inward Appearance of the Bridegroom, VVe know that the Son of God, the Eternal Life, the pure Power and VVisdom of the Father is come? Did they not receive from him the Understanding which he gives in and by his coming? Yea, Were they not in him that is true, even in Jesus Christ the Son, who is the true God, and Life Eternal? (1 John 5. 20.) Had they not received the Kingdom which could not be shaken? And did they never see and Converse with the King in the Kingdom? Nay, Did not he walk in them and they in him, and he sup with them and they with him, eating and drinking together the Bread and VVine of the Kingdom, fresh and new in the Kingdom? O that ye could Read in Spirit. O that ye did receive that measure of life from Christ, which the Father hath allotted you, that ye might Read therein; but the Letter (read out of the Spirit) darkneth and killeth.

Born

Quer. 16. VVhat is the Laver of Regeneration, or the VVater wherewith the Soul is washed, and whereof a man is Born again? Is it outward or inward? Is it the VVater which ran out of the side of the natural Body, when it was Pierced with a Spear? Or the water which springs from the Fountain of Life, the water which Floweth from the Spirit? VVhat are the VVaters which Corrupt Mud, and defile the mind? Are they outward waters? And what are the waters which purifie and cleanse it? Can they be of a lower nature than Spiritual? What are the waters which answer the thirst of the Soul after Life, after Purity, after Salvation? That refresh and glad the Heart of him that drinketh thereof? Are they not from the Pure River, clear as Chrystal, which runs from the Throne? And if the water which cleanseth and nourisheth the Soul be Spiritual; can the flesh and blood (which falleth not short of the water in its Virtues, Properties and Operations) be inferiour to it in nature and kind?

Quer. 17. Can outward blood cleanse the Conscience? ye that are Spiritual consider. (Can outward water wash the Soul clean?) Ye that have ever felt the blood of sprinkling from the Lord upon your consciences, and your Consciences cleansed thereby; did ye ever feel it to be outward? It is one thing what a man apprehends (in the way of notion) from the Letter concerning the things of God, and another thing what a man feels in Spirit.

Quer. 18. Seeing the Apostle speaks of purifying the Heavenly things themselves, Heb. 9. 23. It would seriously be inquired into, and the Lord waited on to know what nature these Sacrifices must be of, which cleanse the Heavenly things? Whether they must not of necessity be Heavenly? If so, then whether was it the flesh and blood of the Vail, or the flesh and blood within the Vail? Whether was it the flesh and blood of the outward earthly Nature, or the flesh and blood of the inward Spiritual Nature? Whether was it the flesh and blood which Christ took of the first Adams Nature, or the flesh and blood of the second Adams Nature?

Quer. 19. What is that wherein they that are in the Spirit, behold as in a Glass, with open face, the glory of the Lord? Is it not Christ? And how is Christ so? Is it not as he is made manifest in Spirit? Doth he know Christ aright, or believe in him aright, that knoweth him according to his bodily appearance, (that can relate, and firmly believe what he did therein) or he that knoweth and believeth in his Spirit and Power? Henceforth Know we no man after the flesh; no not Christ (saith the Apostle) though we have known him so. What meaneth that? The same thing may be known several wayes; outwardly, inwardly; according to the Flesh, according to the Spirit. Now, if ye are of the Spirit, live in the Spirit: If ye live in the Spirit, know in the Spirit the things of God after the Spirit, as the Spirit reveals, as that which is born of God receives; and not as the wisdom, understanding, reason, and flesh of man can receive; and then ye will come into fellowship with Christ, both in his death and resurrection, and know indeed the resurrection both of the Life and of the Body, which to know, and be able to acknowledge in Jesus, is very pretious.

Quer. 20. Hath not Christ made us Kings and Priests to God, even his Father? What is it that is the King and Priest in us? And if we be Priests, must we not have somewhat to offer? What have we to offer? And what makes our Sacrifices savoury and acceptable? Is it not that of his Spirit, that of his Life, which which is in them? Is it not the Faith, the Love, the obedience (which are all of him) wherein they are offered? If we ſhould give our bodies to be burned (in the way of teſtifing to Truth) without this, would they be accepted? If we give but a cup of cold water in this, is it not accepted?

Now, is the Life, the Faith, the Obedience of the Son the thing which is of value in us? And was it not the ſame which was of value in him? What did the Father require of the Son, for ſatisfaction for Adams diſobedience? Was it not the obedience of the ſecond Adam, which weighed down the tranſgreſſion and diſobedience of the firſt? Doth not this make all righteous, (who are of Him, and found in his Nature) as the tranſgreſſion of the firſt made all unrighteous? (Rom. 5. 19.) Sacrifice and Offering thou wouldſt not. Lo I come to do thy Will O God. (He taketh away the firſt, that he may eſtabliſh the ſecond.) By the which Will we are ſanctified, through the offering of the Body of Jeſus Chriſt once for all, Heb. 10. 9, 10. What can be plainer to that which hath Truths ear? So, by Truth manifeſted in the heart, there is nothing denied of what is ſaid concerning Chriſt in Scripture, but every thing owned, believed and received in its proper place.

Quer. 21. Who is the Captain of our Salvation? Who is it that girdeth himſelf with Might, riding on conquering and to conquer all the Enemies of the Soul? Is it not the Lamb? Is it not Chriſt? Is it not he whoſe Name is called the Word of God? And yet how can it be he? Is not he to ſit at Gods right hand, untill his Enemies be made his footſtool.

Quer. 22. VVhat is the Water and Spirit, whereof a man muſt be born again, or he cannot ſee the Kingdom of God? Is it Chriſts Fleſh and Blood or no? His Fleſh ſaw no Corruption; and Incorruptible Fleſh and Blood may enter the Kingdom, though Corruptible cannot.

Quer. 23. What did all the Types, Vails and Shadows under the Law ſignify? Did they ſignify another Vail? Did they ſignify or ſhadow out that which was outward? or did they ſhadow out and ſignify that inward Life, Vertue, and ſaving Power, which was the ſubſtance of all?

Quer. 24. Is not the Subſtance, the Life, the Anointing called Chriſt, wherever it is found? Doth not the Name belong to the whole Body (and every Member in the Body) as well as to the Head? Are they not all of one, yea all one in the Anointing? VVas not this the great deſire of his Heart to the Father, that they all might be one, even as the Father and Chriſt were one, John 17. 21, &. 23. And ſo being one in the ſame Spirit, (one in the ſame Life, one in the ſame Divine Nature, 2 Pet. 1. 4. even partakers of Gods Holineſs, Heb. 12. 10.) Chriſt is not aſhamed to call them Brethren, Heb. 2. 11. nor is the Apoſtle aſhamed to give them the Name Chriſt together with him, 2 Cor. 12. 12. The Body is the ſame with the Head; one and the ſame in Nature; and doth not the Name belong to the Nature in the whole? So that the Name is not given to the Veſſel, but to the Nature, to the Heavenly Treaſure, to that which is of him in the Veſſel, to that which the Lord from Heaven begets in his own Image, and Likeneſs, of his own Subſtance, of his own ſeed, of his own Spirit and pure Life.

Quer. 25. VVhat was that live Cole from the Altar, whereby the Prophet Iſaiah's Iniquity was taken away, and his ſin Purged? Iſa. 6. 6, 7. Can any thing purge away ſin, but the Blood of Chriſt?

Quer. 26. VVhat are the Leaves of the Tree of Life, which are for the healing of the Nations? Is not Chriſt the Tree of Life? Is there any other Tree of Life beſides him? Is there any other Healer? And what do theſe Leaves of the Tree of Life heal the Nations of? Do they not heal them of their ſins, and of the ſickneſſes and diſtempers of their Souls becauſe of their ſins? And have theſe Leaves any of the Blood of Chriſt in them or no?

Quer. 27. Is not Chriſt the true Vine, the true Olive-Tree; the living Vine, the living Olive-Tree; the ſpiritual Vine, the ſpiritual Olive-Tree; into which all the ſpiritually living are ingrafted? As the Father is the Husbandman; ſo is not the Son the Vine? And hath not this ſpiritual, this Eternal Vine in it juice and ſap of an eternal Nature? and is not this ſap its blood?

Quer. 28. Is there not a choice Vine, to which the Foal and Aſſes Colt of the Seed of Judah is tyed? and are not the Garments and Cloaths of the true Jews waſhed ed in the Wine, and in the Blood of the Grapes of this Vine? (Gen. 49. 11.)

Quer. 29. What is that which the earthly Nature ſlayes? And what is the Blood which the Earthly Nature ſhall diſcloſe, and the Slain which it ſhall no more cover.

Quer. 30. What are the Robes which are waſhed and made white in the Blood of the Lamb? and how are they waſhed and made white therein? And what is the Blood (of what Nature? Earthly or Spiritual?) wherein they are waſhed and made white?

Quer. 31. What is it to have, or how come we to have fellowſhip with Chriſt in his Death, and to ſuffer and be Crucified with him? Is it by having our natural Bodies Crucified on the ſame Croſs of Wood (or ſome ſuch like one) as his Body was Crucified on? or by having the fleſhly Nature Crucified, ſubdued and worn out of our Souls, Minds, Spirits, &c. by the Power of the Spirit? Rom. 8. 13. Now if the fleſh we are to put off, be of ſuch a nature and kind, to wit, inwardly and ſpiritually Corrupt; muſt not the fleſh of Chriſt, which we are to put on inſtead thereof, be of as deep, inward and Spiritual a Nature? What is the Fleſh whereof we are to be uncloathed, before we can be Cloathed with Chriſt? Is it outward or bodily? And what is Chriſts Fleſh we are to put on? is that any more outward or bodily, than that which we are to put off.

Quer. 32. Is not the fleſh and blood which they that have eternal Life feed on, and which nouriſheth them up to Life Eternal, (they continuing to feed thereon, and not feeding afterwards on ſtrange fleſh, and ſtrange blood) I ſay, is not this fleſh and blood Spirit and Life? For that is it which profiteth. John 6. 63. Is it not the fleſh and blood of the Word? Was not the Word made Fleſh? and did not the Word, who was made Fleſh, dwell and appear in a Tabernacle of Fleſh, and cauſe the Glory of his own Divine Fleſh, to ſhine through that earthly Fleſh? O Read and Conſider that ye who have ſtumbled and Murmured againſt the Truth, may ſtumble or murmur no more, but now at length receive the pure and pretious Doctrine thereof, (and ſo come to witneſs the fulfilling of that Promiſe, Iſa. 29. 18. & v. 24.) and praiſe him who giveth underſtanding.

Quer. 33. Is not the true Church, Fleſh of Chriſts Fleſh, and Bone of his Bone? Is not the falſe, or Antichriſtian Church, fleſh of Antichriſts fleſh, and bone of Antichriſts bone? What is the fleſh of the Spiritual VVhore, which is to be ſtripped naked and burnt with fire? Shall ever the Church, which is of Chriſts Fleſh, be ſtripped naked and burnt with Fire? Nay, doth not his Fleſh make able to abide the devouring fire, and to dwell with the everlaſting burnings?

Quer. 34. VVhat is the pure Milk of the VVord, which is milked out to the Babes from the pure Breaſt? and what is the Breaſt from which it is milked out? Is it of the fleſh of Chriſt or no?

Quer. 35. Are not the wicked of the ſeed and fleſh of the Serpent? (Is not that the Body of Fleſh, of Sin, of Death, which is to be put off? And are not they who are renewed in ſpirit, of the Seed and Fleſh of Chriſt? (is not that the Body or Garment of Holineſs, of Righteouſneſs of Life, which is to be put on?

Quer. 36. Is it not as neceſſary that the Eternal VVord be made Fleſh inwardly, that ſo the Children may feed on him, as it was for him to take on him an outward body of fleſh, to ſuffer and die for them, and to fulfil all Righteouſneſs, both of the Law, of the Letter, and of the Law of the Spirit in?

Quer. 37. Is there not that which ſpiritually is called Sodom and Egypt? and do not they which dwell there, inſtead of eating Chriſts Fleſh, and drinking his Blood, put his fleſh to pain, Crucifying it in & to themſelves, trampling under foot the Son of God, & counting the Blood of the Covenant an un-holy thing? Read the Figure. Did not outward Iſrael ſuffer in outward Egypt? Did not juſt Lot ſuffer in Sodom? Doth not the ſpiritual Seed ſuffer in and by ſpiritual Egypt? Doth not the Fleſh of the Holy and juſt One, ſuffer in and by ſpiritual Sodom?

Quer. 38. VVhat is that which the Gentile-Chriſtians, who are not Jews inward, Circumciſed in heart and Spirit, who know not the inward Temple (the place of the true Jews VVorſhip, where they VVorſhip the Father in Spirit and Truth) but only worſhip in the outward Court, vvhich God hath caſt off, and left out of his meaſure, Rev. 11. 2. I ſay, What is that Holy City which theſe Gentiles tread under foot forty two months? Is it the Church which is of the Fleſh and Bones of Chriſt, or no?

He that knoweth the ſubſtance, the Seed of the Kingdom, the Birth of the Spirit, knoweth the Fleſh and Blood which is of the Seed. And this Fleſh is Fleſh indeed, this Blood is Blood indeed, even the Fleſh and Blood of the Seeds Nature; but the other was but the Fleſh and Blood of our Nature, which he honoured in taking upon him, in which he did the Will, in which he offered up the acceptable Sacrifice; but yet did not give the honour from his own Fleſh and Blood to it. For the Fleſh and Blood of our Nature, was not his own naturally, but only as he pleaſed to take it upon him and make it his. But that whereof he formeth us, (and which he giveth us to eat and drink) is the Fleſh and Blood of his own Nature: And this was it wherein was the Virtue, and wherein is the Virtue, Life and Power for ever. Happy, O happy is he who is of it, who is taken out of and formed of him, (as Eve was of Adam) and ſo becomes Fleſh of his Fleſh, and Bone of his Bone. Then will he know the Myſtery of Life, feed on the thing it ſelf, and not ſtumble about appearances and expreſſions, as thoſe that are out of, and from the thing it ſelf, do, through the darkneſs of their mind, and becauſe of their ignorance of the thing ſpoken of in the Scriptures.

An Incitation to Profeſſors ſeriouſly to conſider, Whether they or we fail, in the true acknowledgment and owning of the Chriſt which died at Jeruſalem.

WE, who are commonly called Quakers, being a People whom the Lord hath gathered (out of the wandrings, out of the many Profeſſions, out of the ſeveral ſcattered eſtates and conditions, wherein his Eye pitied us, and his love found us out) into a meaſure of the eternall Reſt; where we have found that Life, that Power, that manifeſtation of the eternal Spirit, and that redeeming Virtue, which we never were before diſtinctly acquainted with; I ſay, having taſted of this, having known this, having felt this, and come to a real enjoyment of it, in ſome degree, in our ſeveral meaſures; we could not poſſibly conceal this Treaſure, but in bowels of love (and in the movings of the Life and Power of the Spirit) have been drawn to teſtifie of it to them who are left behind, groveling under the burthen of corruption, and crying out becauſe of the ſin and bondage from the powers of darkneſs, who hath in a miſt withheld their eyes from beholding that living Virtue, which is able to ſave (and doth ſave, bleſſed be his Name) therefrom.

Now this we have often found, That this our Teſtimony hath not been received in the ſame Spirit and Love, wherein it hath gone forth; but the Enemy (by his ſubtilty) hath raiſed up jealouſies concerning us, and prejudices againſt us, as if we denyed the Scriptures and Odinances of God, and that Chriſt that died at Jeruſalem, profeſſing him only in words (to win upon others by) but denying him in reality and ſubſtance.

To clear this latter, (for my heart is only at this preſent drawn out concerning that) we have ſolemnly profeſſed, in the ſight of the Lord God (who hath given us the knowledge of his Son in Life and Power) theſe two things.

Firſt, That we do really in our hearts own that Chriſt, who came in the fulneſs of time, in that prepared Body to do the Fathers Will (his coming into the World, Doctrine, Miracles, Sufferings, Death, Reſurrection, &c.) in plainneſs and ſimplicity of heart, according as it is expreſſed in the Letter of the Scriptures.

Secondly, That we own no other Chriſt then that, nor hold forth no other thing for Chriſt, but him who then appeared and was made manifeſt in fleſh.

Now it would be nakedly inquired into by profeſſors, what is the reaſon that their jealouſies ſtill remain concerning us, and why they are ſtill ſo ready, to caſt this upon us? certainly if they did know and own the ſame thing with us, (in

(in the Spirit, and in the Power, in the Life, and in the Love which is of the Truth) this prejudice, and these hard thoughts could not remain. But if they themselves do not know Christ in the Spirit (but only according to a relation of the Letter) no marvel though they miss both of the Spirit, and of the true intent and meaning of the Letter, and likewise be liable to clash against the Truth, as it is made manifest in others.

And indeed the Lord hath shewen me in Spirit several times, that they themselves are guilty of that very charge (and that he will so implead them at his Judgment-Seat) which they cast upon us, even of denying that Christ which died at Jerusalem; to be the Christ. For he that owneth the words of Scripture, as he apprehends or conceives them in the reasonings of his mind, and doth not wait to have them revealed in the Spirit, keeping out of his own reasonings and conceivings, and waiting patiently till the Lord open the thing in the Spirit, he setteth up his own conceivings, or an Image in his mind of the mind of the Spirit, but misseth of the thing it self; which alone is known in the Spirit, by them who wait upon the Spirit there to receive it, and are not hasty to set up their own reasonings and imaginations concerning the thing in the mean time.

No man can in Truth call Jesus the Lord, but by the Spirit. But any man that is any thing serious, and weighs the Scriptures in the natural part, may so learn to acknowledge his coming into the VVorld, and that he is Lord and King, &c. and may thus call him Lord, yea, and kindle a great heat in his affections towards him; but all this (out of the Life, out of the Spirit) is but mans Image, which he forms in his mind, in his reading the Scriptures, and observing things therefrom. But the true calling Jesus Lord, is from the feeling of his Eternal Virtue in the Spirit, & finding the Scriptures opened to him by the Spirit, in a Principle which is above the Reason, comprehends the Reason, and confounds and brings it to nothing.

Again, There is no true Knowledge of Christ, no living Knowledge, no saving Knowledge, no Knowledge which hath the eternal Virtue in it; but that which is received and retained in a measure of Light given by God to the Creature, in the Faith which is the Gift, in the Grace which is supernatural and spiritual, whereas the reasoning part is but Natural. And such as have received the Spiritual Understanding, know it to be distinct from the Natural: and we experimentally find a very clear distinction, between Scriptures searched out by the reasonings of the mind, (and so practices drawn therefrom) and Scriptures opened by the Spirit, and felt in the Life.

Now that Professors generally have not received their knowledge of Christ from the Spirit, or from Scriptures opened in the Spirit (and so know not the thing, but only such a relation of the thing, as mans reasoning part may drink in from the Letter of the Scriptures) is manifest by this, In that they are not able in Spirit and Understanding to distinguish the thing it self, from the Garment wherewith it was cloathed, though the Scriptures be very express therein. Speak of Christ according to a Relation of the Letter, there they can say somewhat: but come to the Substance, come to the Spirit of the thing, come to the thing it self; there they stutter and stammer, and shew plainly that they know not what it is.

Now the Scriptures do expressly distinguish between Christ, and the Garment which he wore; between him that came, and the Body in which he came; between the Substance which was vailed, and the Vail which vailed it. Lo I come! a body hast thou prepared me. There is plainly He, and the Body in which he came. There was the outward Vessel, and the inward Life. This we certainly know, and can never call the bodily Garment Christ, but that which appeared and dwelt in the Body. Now if ye indeed know the Christ of God, tell us plainly what that is which appeared in the Body? whether that was not the Christ before it took up the Body, after it took up the Body, and for ever?

And then their confining of Christ to that Body, plainly manifesteth that they want the knowledge of him in Spirit. For Christ is the Son of the Father, he is the infinite eternal Being, one with the Father, and with the Spirit, and cannot be divided from either; cannot be any where, where they are not; nor can be excluded from any place where they are. He may take up a Body and appear in it, but cannot be confined to be no where elſe but there, no not at the very time while he is there. Chriſt, while he was here on Earth, yet was not excluded from being in Heaven with the Father at the very ſame time, as he himſelf ſaid concerning himſelf, The Son of man which is in Heaven, John 3. 13. Nor was the Father excluded from being with him in the Body, but the Father was in him, and he in the Father, whereupon he ſaid to Philip, He that hath ſeen me, hath ſeen the Father. What, did every one that ſaw that Body, ſee the Father alſo? Nay not ſo, but he that ſaw Chriſt the Son of the living God, whom fleſh and blood revealed not, but the Father only (Mat. 16. 16, 17.) he ſaw the Father alſo.

O Friends, look to your knowledge of Chriſt, and to your Faith and Knowledge of the Scriptures, and to your Prayers alſo; for it is eaſie miſſing of the living ſubſtance in all theſe, and meeting with a ſhadow, which may pleaſe and make a great ſhew in the earthly Part, in the natural underſtanding and affections, but ſatisfieth not the Soul, or that which is born after the Spirit, but ſtill the cry there goes out (where the Soul is awakened) after Truth, Subſtance, Life, Virtue from Gods Spirit in the Spirit, which it alone can feed upon.

Theſe four things following, I am certain of, which he that cometh into the true Light, ſhall infallibly experience them there.

Firſt, That nothing can ſave but the knowledge of Chriſt, even of that very Chriſt and no other, who took upon him the prepared Body, and offered it up at Jeruſalem.

Secondly, That no Knowledge of Chriſt can ſave, but the living Knowledge. Not a knowledge of him after the Letter, (which the carnal part may get much of, and value it ſelf much by) but a knowledge of him in the Spirit; which is only given to that which is begotten and born of the Spirit, and only retained by that which abides and remains in the Spirit, and runs not out into the fleſhly reaſonings, imaginings and receivings, about the things mentioned in the Scriptures.

Thirdly, That that man who knoweth not Chriſt in Spirit, nor keepeth cloſe to him in Spirit; but (through darkneſs and miſguidance of the ſpirit of deceit) calleth the ſhinings of his Light (his reproofs, his checks for that which is evil, and his ſecret motions to that which is good) naturall; This man, though he ſeem to own Chriſt never ſo much according to the Letter, yet in Truth denies him.

Fourthly, He that denies Chriſt, (in his knockings and viſitations of him in his own heart, and before men in the Truths which he holds forth by his Servants and Miniſters of his Spirit) him will he deny before his father in Heaven.

O I beſeech you, do not trifle about theſe things (for they are exceeding weighty) leſt ye periſh from the way; for miſſing of the Saviour, ye muſt needs alſo miſs of the Salvation. O that ye knew your ſtate, as God knows it to be, and as it is certainly known and felt in the meaſure of his Life and holy Spirit, by thoſe whom God hath gathered thither, and whoſe eyes he hath opened, and preſerveth open there, Glory be to his Name therefore: Yea, Glory, Glory, Glory, and everlaſting Praiſes be ſung to him throughout all the holy Land, yea in the very bughts of Sion, by the Souls of the Redeemed, from henceforth, and for evermore, Amen: whoſe Mercy, Love, Grace, Wiſdom, Power and Rich Goodneſs remaineth and endureth for ever; by and in which the Redeemed live to his Praiſe, who have overcome by the Blood of the Lamb, whoſe Blood they know what it is; and none elſe knoweth it, but they who feel the ſprinkling and virtue of it. Lo this is our God, we have waited for him; and how can we but be glad, and rejoyce in his Salvation! O let all that live by the breath of thy Power, and drink of thy Streams, ſing praiſe unto Thee, and exalt thy great and wonderful Name for ever and ever.

Some

Some Propoſitions and Conſiderations concerning the nature of Church-Worſhips and Ordinances, ſince the dayes of the Apoſtles, for the ſake of the ſimplicity, which hath been long held captive therein.

HE that would know the true ſtate of the Church, and Ordinances thereof, muſt wait upon God in fear and humility of heart, who alone is able to give the true knowledge and underſtanding of theſe things. And he that cometh to the Spirit, waiteth in the Spirit, and receiveth the true Light from the Spirit, he ſhall be able to meaſure Ages and Generations paſt, as with a ſpan, and ſee clearly (in that Light) how things were before the Apoſtacy, how while the Church was in the Wilderneſs, and how things ſhall be again after the Apoſtacy, when the Church cometh out of the Wilderneſs. She her ſelf is the ſame in all; but her ſtate is different, according to the wiſdom and good pleaſure of him, who variouſly diſpoſeth of her. One while ſhe is cloathed, appearing in the beauty and glorious dreſs which the Lord had put upon her. Another while ſhe is ſtripped of her outward Garments, and the Harlot dreſſed therewith, and appearing therein. After which ſeaſon, ſhe is adorned again as gloriouſly (if not more gloriouſly) than before; but whether ever ſhe appears more in thoſe Garments wherein the Harlot had been dreſſed, and wherein ſhe had long appeared, (even all the time of the Apoſtacy) the Lord would be inquired of, and waited on to know. Now to help the tender and upright hearts towards the true ſenſe of theſe things, the Propoſitions and Conſiderations following are given forth, which he that ſincerely waiteth on the Lord, from him may receive the true underſtanding and right acknowledgment of.

1. That upon the coming of Chriſt, and the change of that outward Covenant, the diſtinction between the outward Jew and Gentile fell, they becoming all one, as in relation to Chriſt; and then another diſtinction aroſe in relation to the Faith, Believers becoming Jews now, and unbelievers Gentiles.

2. That theſe true and inward Jews had not only the inward Faith, the Life, the Power, the Spirit; but alſo a Miniſtry, Ordinances, and gifts of the Spirit relating to their preſent ſtate.

3. That there was a time, after a long and ſharp fight between the true Miniſters, who appeared in the true Light and Power of the true Spirit, and the falſe Miniſters, who alſo appeared as Miniſters of Righteouſneſs, and as in the Power of the Spirit, but were not ſuch indeed, but inſtructed by Satan to tranſform themſelves, into a reſemblance and likeneſs of Miniſters of Righteouſneſs: For though they ſaid they were Apoſtles, and ſeemed ſo in appearance; yet their Spirit (being tried) was found not to be the Spirit of the Apoſtles: I ſay, there was a time, when there was a diviſion (or ſeparation) made, between the inward Temple, and the outward Court.

4. That when this diviſion was made, the outward Court was given to the Gentiles; not any longer reſerved by God for the true Worſhippers, who worſhip in Spirit and Truth; but given to the unbelievers, the worſhippers out of the true Faith, the worſhippers out of the Spirit, and out of the Life.

5. That henceforward (ſince this ſeparation) the Believers or true Jews are not to be expected in the outward Court (in the worſhip thereof, wherein they were found before this ſeparation,) but the unbelievers, the Gentiles (who have not the true Nature, but at beſt but the appearance of the Jew) are to be expected there; and the true Jew is to be looked for and found more inward.

6. That therefore which allureth to look for God there (and to wait for him in the wayes and worſhips of that Court, all this time of the ſeparation) is not the true Spirit (which rightly guideth the ſimple heart to the place where God appears, and where he is to be waited for) but the wrong Spirit, who when he cannot ſtifle the ſimplicity, and hinder it from breathing and ſeeking after God, waits to draw aſide and miſlead it.

7. That the great way of that Spirits miſguiding and miſleading the honeſt heart, in its breathing and longing ſtate, is not by a direct taking it off from ſeeking after God, but rather by Pointing it to a way to ſeek him in, wherein he once appeared, and was injoyed, but is now withdrawn from.

8 He that will keep cloſe to God, and not be withdrawn from him, muſt watch to his Spirit, and know the leadings of it, elſe he will not follow the Lamb whitherſoever he goes, but ſtay behind in ſome obſervation or practice which the Lamb is gone out of, and ſo miſs of his Leader and meet (inſtead thereof with another Leader even the Spirit of Antichriſt, who enters into the outward Court and outward practices, ſo ſoon as ever the Spirit of God hath left them.

9. That Gods People, ſince his withdrawing inward and giving the outward Court to the Gentiles, have been much deceived by the Antichriſtian Spirit, and led captive into Babilon; in ſomuch as God, when he cometh to overthrow Antichriſt, with the Babilon of his building, finds them there, and calls them out from thence. For the Light growing low, and the deceit great, and the Spirit ſubtile; how can the poor, weak innocent Babe eſpy that ſpirit, and eſcape his ſnares, when he tempts to thoſe very paths and wayes of worſhip, wherein the Saints had walked and met with God, before the Spirit of the Lord departed out of them, and gave them up to the Gentiles?

10. That there is danger to the People of God of not underſtanding his Call out of Babilon, but abiding there, through the ſubtile entanglements of the falſe ſpirit, who bewitcheth (with the Cup of Fornication) to make Babilon appear as Sion, her Doctrines as the Truths of the Goſpel, her Ordinances and wayes of Worſhip, as the true ordinances and wayes of worſhip. For the deceit is exceeding deep, and the myſtery of iniquity very great, following the heart cloſe, which the Lord is drawing to depart therefrom; and if the Lord God were not ſtrong and vigilant, who judgeth the Whore, ſhe would ſtill keep her hold of the heart; and if the heart be not kept very cloſe to the Lord in the judgement, it cannot come out of Babilon, but will ſtill be entangled and held in ſome part or other of the Myſtery of its deceit.

11. Such of the People of God, as do not wait to underſtand and receive the full Call, and ſo do not follow the Lord perfectly, out of that City of Abominations; but by her ſubtilties, and inward or outward witch-crafts, are held captive therein, and found in any part thereof when the Lord cometh to judge her; ſuch muſt partake of the Plagues from the hand of the Lord, who will not ſpare her, nor the ſpirits of his deareſt People who are found there, in the day of his viſitation and righteous judgments.

Therefore come out of her, come out of her, O ye that love your Souls, and the pure Preſence and freſh Light of Gods Countenance. Yea that know what it is to provoke him to jealouſy, and fear the weight of his hand upon your ſpirits; ye that love the holy Land, the holy City, and Temple of the living God, O come out of that impure building, that fleſhly building, thoſe fleſhly wayes and worſhips which that ſpirit adorneth, to make them appear as if they were ſpiritual. O depart ye, depart ye out of your new removes; for they are alſo polluted, and not your Reſt; but ſhort of that wherein the Reſt, the Peace, the Preſence of the Lord of Life is felt by others, and to be found by you.

And conſider this, if ever ye will come to the holy City, which was once built in the dayes of the Apoſtles, but (ſince the diviſion of it from the outward Court) hath been trodden down, and trampled under the feet of the unbelievers, even while they have been worſhipping in the outward Court (which God once built and choſe, but afterwards withdrew his Spirit from, and gave up to the unbelievers) I ſay, if ever you will come to this holy City, the holy Land wherein it is built, and the holy Hill whereon it was founded, ye muſt paſs through the Wilderneſs, be exerciſed in the Wilderneſs, even till ye are fitted for it, and not ſtrive to raiſe up a building your ſelves in the likeneſs of it, but waite till God hath hewen and prepared the ſtones by his Spirit, and then (by the skill of the Spirit) build up his Sion again.

Therefore in the fear of the Lord conſider ſeriouſly, meekly, humbly, and brobrokenly, that the Lord may manifeſt your preſent ſtate and condition unto you, Whether ye have not erred in theſe things as well as others, and have not cauſe to repent of your forwardneſs herein, and to acknowledge that your buildings have been raiſed in the forwardneſs of your own Spirits and in the confidence of your reaſonings upon Scripture-words, without feeling the preſence (guidance and holy Power) of Gods Spirit raiſing up the Foundation of many Generations, and rearing his own pure Houſe upon his own holy Mountain.

In the Lords hand is the time and ſeaſon of building his own houſe. David, though his deſire was approved, yet might not build the outward Temple in the time of his choice: but Gods time and ſeaſon was to be waited for, both for the firſt building, and for the rebuilding of it. There is likewiſe a ſeaſon for the rebuilding of Spiritual Sion, after the long captivity of it in Myſtery-Babilon. Now he that is forward, building before the time and ſeaſon of the Spirit, buildeth without the Spirit, and his building is not of the Spirit, but of the nature of Babilon (which is wholly to be departed from and left behind, in the Souls travels and progreſs towards Sion:) And what ever is of the nature of Babilon, muſt at length fall with Babilon, (in the day of her terrible Judgement) if the Lord in mercy do not ſhake it, and cauſe it to fall before.

Therefore, O all Profeſſors, awaken out of the fleſh and all fleſhly reaſonings, into the Spirit of Life; and examine there both your inward and outward buildings, that your loſs be not great, and your anguiſh unutterable in the Day of the Lord, when all thoſe buildings, which are raiſed and preſerved in the pure Life and Power, ſhall ſhine in the beauty and glory of Gods Spirit, and the greateſt glory of fleſh, and fleſhly buildings, fade and wither.

The Sounding of Bowels towards thee, O ENGLAND.

EArly in the Morning, on the 26th day of the ſixth month, 1666. this, in the freſhneſs and quick ſenſe of Life, ſprang up in my heart again and again. O England, England, England, how good had it been for thee, that thou hadſt known and walked in the way of Peace!

There is a way of Peace, for Perſons and Nations to know and walk in; but every Perſon and Nation doth not know and walk in this way, but rather in the way of trouble.

Queſt. What is the way of Peace?

Anſw. It is the way of the pure Wiſdom, the way of the Light, and guidance of God's Spirit, from whom the Creature came, and by whom alone it can be rightly ordered. He that waiteth on him for Counſel, he that ſubjecteth to, and walketh in his Counſel, he walketh in the way of Peace.

Queſt. What is the way of Trouble?

Anſw. The way of a mans own Wiſdom and Counſel. For a Man or Nation to do that, which is right in their own Eyes. This is the way of Man, whereby he thinks to eſtabliſh himſelf, and put an end to his Troubles; but he errs therein, as in the end he ſtill finds to his Woe.

Now O England conſider, Haſt thou had the guidance of God? Hath the Light, which hath guided thy ſteps, been lighted by him, or by his and thy Souls Enemy? For there is a Spirit (of a contrary Nature to God) near Man, which he ſuddenly taketh Counſel of, when his heart is not acquainted with, nor receiveth Counſel of the Lord. And this Counſellor is the deſtroyer both of Perſons and Nations, leading them in ways of Ruin and Subverſion, under an appearance of being the proper ways of Peace and Settlement.

It is true of Nations as well as Perſons, that what they Sow, that ſhall they alſo Reap. God meaſureth out their time unto them, and when that is over, his time of judging and pleading with them comes. And woe is then unto them, who have acted in their own Wills and Wiſdoms, out of the pure Counſel and fear of the Lord, wherein they ſhould have ſtood and been guided.

It is a day of trouble and diſtreſs. The weight of the Iniquity of this Nation begins gins to be felt upon it. O let every one ſearch, and bow before the Lord under his Righteous Judements; that there may be no going on in that, which bringeth and will increaſe the judgment; but a turning towards that which intercedes, and opens the Springs of Mercy.

Two things lie heavy on this Nation, to wit, a running on in Tranſgreſſions of ſeveral kinds againſt the Lord (forgetting his tender Mercies, with the days of former diſtreſs) and an afflicting others whom he loves, and hath led, and is leading out of tranſgreſſion. O that theſe things might come to an end, that the Anger of the Lord might ceaſe, and the ways of his Judgments and Pleading with this Nation be ſtopped; for who can ſtand before him, when he riſeth up in Controverſie againſt them?

There is but one Eye, which can rightly ſee the Hand and Judgments of the Lord; yea it pleaſeth the Lord ſo to manage them, that only the Eye which is of him may ſee them. Man muſt be taken in his Wiſdom, and caught in the Snare of his own Underſtanding. He that will ſee the Things of God, the Wayes of God, the Counſels of God, the Love and ſweetneſs of God (yea the very Judgments of God) muſt receive from him the Eye that ſeeth them. O that men might feel after, and come into that, wherein they might be pitied and ſpared by their Maker. Man muſt bow; that which is of God in man (which hath long lain under Oppreſſion) muſt be Exalted. It is the day of his Power, and he will Reign in it. O happy they that bow to his Scepter, and kiſs the ſhinings of his Light (even in the ſharpeſt rebukes of it in their hearts) that they may turn from, and travel out of the darkneſs (where is death, deſtruction, and miſery, even in all the counſels and wayes of it) and come into unity with that which is pure, and live.

Written in Alisb. Priſon. 27.

A faithful Guidance to the Principle and Path of Truth, wherein eternal Life is witneſſed, by thoſe who are born thereof, and walk therein.

THere muſt be ſomewhat let down from God into a mans heart, to change his heart, and redeem it to God, or he cannot be ſaved. He muſt receive a Seed, be born of a new and Incorruptible Seed, or he cannot be renewed from his Corrupt Nature and State. He muſt be born of Water and Gods Spirit, or he cannot enter into Gods Kingdom.

Now this is the true Religion, Namely, to experience and be ſubject to that Power which Redeems to God, which breaks the Power of the wicked one in the Heart, firſt caſting him out, and then taking poſſeſſion of the Veſſel, and filling it with the Holy Treaſure.

Queſt. But how may a Man meet with ſuch a thing as this?

Anſw. The Scripture (which giveth a faithful Teſtimony concerning the Truth) ſaith; Chriſt, the Word of Faith which the Apoſtles Preached, is nigh. Inſomuch as a man need not ſay, Who ſhall go up or down to fetch it? but what ſaith it? The Word is nigh thee, in thy Mouth, and in thy Heart. This is that which reconciles to God, cutting down and ſlaying the Enmity by the Power of the Croſs, and bringing up the Seed. This is the Adverſary in the way of the ſinner, which he that maketh peace with, ſhall be remitted all his treſpaſſes paſt, and find power and ſtrength againſt ſin for the time to come, as he is gathered into, and brought forth in his pure Life and Nature.

Queſt. But how ſhall I know and receive this?

Anſw. That in the Heart which is contrary to ſin, which diſcovereth ſin, which witneſſeth againſt Sin, and is drawing the mind from it, furniſhing thoſe with a new and Holy Ability, who wait upon the Lord in it; that, that is the thing, though in never ſo little a Seed or low meaſure. Now he that minds this, hearkens to this, turns from what this (in its pure un-erring Light) ſhews to be evil, follows (in the Will will, ſtrength and ability which is of this) what this ſhews to be good, he receives it; and waiting upon it, and becoming daily ſubject to it, ſhall grow up in it, increaſe in the knowledge of it, and acquaintance with it, and receive of it daily more and more. And thus the man whoſe way was vile, whoſe heart was naught, formed in wickedneſs, filled with corruption, daily bringing forth ſin and fruits unto death, ſhall find theſe (by the pure Light, and holy inſtructions of Life) daily purged out of him, and Chriſt formed in him, and the holy Fruits of Righteouſneſs brought forth through his Veſſel, by the Power and Spirit of Chriſt, to the Glory of God the Father.

And then being in Chriſt, being in the Principle of his Life and acting therein, here is peace in the Soul, reſt to it from its Enemies and Gods Judgments, and acceptance with the Father in what the Soul thus is and works.

But then the World will perſecute and hate exceedingly; becauſe this Soul, who thus ſubmits to God, and is thus changed by him, is not of the World, but of the Father which begat it in Chriſt, and formeth it in his Image and Likeneſs.

Likewiſe in this Light, the eyes are opened to read the Scriptures, and to underſtand therein the conditions of the People and Saints of the moſt High in former Generations, and how the wicked ſpirit wrought then, to oppoſe the Truth and People of God, and to draw men into deceit. Yea, and many other wayes the Scriptures are exceeding ſweet and uſeful, being read in that which giveth the true ſenſe and underſtanding of them.

But let him that once putteth his hand to the Plow (beginning to feel ſomwhat of God, and to ſubject unto it, and ſo to taſte of the Peace and pureneſs of it) never look back to the World, nor mind the temptations and oppoſitions he will meet with from that nature and ſpirit, either in himſelf or others; for if he do, he will never be able to travel on, but rather conſult with fleſh and blood, and ſo return back into Egypt and loſe the Crown, which is laid up for thoſe who paſs on through the Wilderneſs, through the Tryals, through the Temptations, through the Wants, through the various Exerciſes to their journeys end.

This is the Path of Life in brief, happy is he who feels the guider into it, and faithfully follows him therein to the end.

There is another Queſtion ſprings up in my heart, which is this.

Queſt. How may a man come to have his ſins waſhed away by the Blood of Chriſt?

Anſw. By coming into the Light, and walking in the Light, which diſcovers the Blood, and wherein alone it is ſprinkled by God, and felt by the Soul, he may receive the cleanſing which is by it. This is according to the Teſtimony of Scripture, as 1 John 1. 7. If we walk in the Light, as he is in the Light, we have fellowſhip one with another, and the Blood of Jeſus Chriſt his Son, cleanſeth us from all ſin. By the Light the darkneſs is diſpelled, and in the Light the corruption and filth is waſhed away by the Blood, and the Soul (mind and conſcience) cleanſed from it.

This then is the Meſſage that we have heard of him, and declare unto you, that God is Light, and in him is no darkneſs at all, verſ. 5. What then? Why then, they that will know God, and walk with God, muſt by the Virtue of his Truth be turned from darkneſs to light, and from the Power of Satan unto God; (as Acts 26. 18.) and in that Light he ſhall meet with the Father, and with his Son Jeſus Chriſt, and have fellowſhip with them, ver. 3. and ſhall be waſhed (both with the Water and with the Blood) and kept clean and pure thereby in the ſight of God.

Queſt. But how ſhall I come into the Light, and how may I walk therein?

Anſw. Chriſt is the Light. (He is the Light of the World, the Light of Men, the Light of Life.) And thou needeſt not ſay in thine heart, Who ſhall go up to Heaven, or down into the deep for him? for he is near in thy mouth, and in thy heart. This is the Word of Faith, which thou art to believe in, love and obey; that in the Love, Faith and Obedience thereof, thine heart may be circumciſed, and thou mayeſt live. This is the Goſpel of our Salvation, even this Chriſt, this Word, this Light, this Life which redeems from Sin; which deſtroyeth the deſtroyer, and ſetteth the Soul free to ſerve and live to the Lord. This was the Meſſage the Apoſtles had to deliver in their day, (as Rommans 10. 8.) And this was Moſes his Meſſage too, when he ſpeak concerning the new Covenant. For Moſes did not only deliver the old Covenant, but he alſo ſpeak concerning the new, (even another Covenant than that of Mount Horeb, Deut. 29. 1.) And the Word of this other Covenant, was not the Law written in Tables of Stone, but the Word nigh in the mouth and heart, Chap. 30. 14.

Objection.

But that place ſpeaks of doing: (which is the Voice of the Old Covenant, Do this and live) but the new Covenant ſtands in believing.

Anſ. The end of Faith is Obedience. Why do I believe Chriſt, but that I may receive the Law of his Spirit, and walk before him in the newneſs of the Obedience thereof? And he that Obeys, is of the Faith, and in the Truth; and he that Obeyes not, is out of it; is not in the Power, not in the Life which brings forth the Obedience; ſo out of the thing which Redeems, and in which the Redemption is witneſſed, But he that Obeys, he that doth the Will, he is in the Righteouſneſs, in the Power, in the Life from which the Obedience ſprings.

And here the waſhing and Purifing of the Soul, is truly known and witneſſed. Outward Sacrifices under the Law were Vain, as to cleanſing the Soul; and an outward belief (of what Chriſt did and ſuffered) effects not the thing now, What then? The new Creature doth. The pure Faith doth. The pure Obedience doth. It did it formerly, it doth it ſtill, and nothing elſe can do it. Bring no more vain Oblations; but waſh ye, make you clean, put away the evil of your doings from before mine eyes; ceaſe to do evil, learn to do well, &c. But how ſhould this Be? could they ever attain this by the Old Covenant? Nay, but Moſes had not only delivered them the old Covenant, but alſo had directed them to the new, to the VVord of Faith, to the VVord of Life and Power in the heart and mouth, through the Obedience whereof they might waſh themſelves (as Peter even in the Goſpel times, ſpeaketh, 1 Pet. 22.) put away the evil of their doings; ceaſe to do evil, learn to do well, &c. And what then? VVhy, then they ſhould receive the cleanſing through the Blood of the Lamb; for then, though their ſins were as Scarlet, they ſhould be as white as Snow; though they were red like Crimſon, they ſhould be as VVool, Iſa 1. 16. 17. 18.

So Micah tels them, (when they asked, how they might come before God to pleaſe him?) He hath ſhewed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do juſtly, and to love Mercy, and to walk humbly with God; Mich. 6. 8.

VVhere or how doth God ſhew this to man? Had not Moſes told that before, to wit, by the VVord nigh in the mouth and heart? There is ſomwhat near man, even in his mouth, which devides his words one from another, ſhewing him (at ſometimes, and would do it oftner if he heeded it) which are bad words, and which are good words. VVhat is that, that doth this? the ſame thing alſo is in his heart, as a diſcerner of the thoughts and intents therof, ſhewing him when there is a good thought, deſire or intention in his mind, and when there is a bad or wicked one. What is this? O that men knew what it is! O that they could fear the Lord, and become Subject to it, and they ſhould know what it is.

Every Man that will be ſanctified, and Inherit Gods Kingdom, muſt be born of the Will of God. He muſt deny his own VVill (as Chriſt did; not my VVill, ſaid he, Father, but thine be done) that muſt be Crucified. He muſt ſuffer in the Fleſh, Die to the Fleſh; and Live in, and to the Holy Nature and Spirit of God.

Now thus a Man comes to be Born of the Pure VVill, to wit, by hearing the VVord nigh in the Mouth and Heart, and becoming ſubject to it, This cuts down his own VVill day by day, and brings up the VVill and Nature of God in him, through which he is Changed and Sanctified, and become a new Creature. For the old Creature is made up of the old Underſtanding and Will; but the new Creature is made up of the new.

Wherewithal ſhall a young Man Cleanſe his Way? By taking heed according to thy Word, ſaith David. What VVord was that? Was it the VVord of the Old Covenant, or the Word nigh in the Mouth and Heart? And, Thy Word (ſaith he) is a Lanthorn to my Feet, and a Light to my Path. VVhat VVord was that? the VVord of the firſt Covenant, or the VVord of the ſecond? The Law of the Lord is perfect, converting the Soul. VVhat Law is that? The Teſtimony of the Lord is ſure, making wiſe the ſimple. VVhat Teſtimony is that? The Statutes of the Lord are right, rejoycing the heart. VVhat Statutes are they? (were not the Statutes of the old Covenant heavy and burthenſome?) The Commandment of the Lord is pure, enlightning the eyes. VVhat Commandment is that? Yea, what is that which is ſweeter than the Honey and the Honey-comb, which overcomes with its ſweetneſs? O that men could read! O that men could ſee the thing which is pure, and maketh pure; which is righteous, and maketh righteous. After men have ſeen the thing, there is a great way to travel to it; but how far have they off, who do not ſo much as ſee it, but are in the darkneſs and prejudices of that Nature and Spirit, which is contrary to it.

Now if the Lord, in his tender mercy and love to thy Soul, bring thee to a ſence of this thing, and thou beginneſt to feel this precious ſearching VVord diſcovering any evil to thee, either in thy heart or wayes: O do not diſpute, do not reaſon againſt it, but bleſs the diſcoverer, bow to the Son, become obedient immediately, faithfully following the Lamb therein, leſt he remove his Light from thee, and ſuffer darkneſs and the diſputing wiſdom to overtake thee.

Chriſt is not of the VVorld, and he leads out of the VVorld. Out of its vanities, wayes, cuſtoms, faſhions, &c. A man cannot ſerve Chriſt and the VVorld. Can any man be born of the Father, be begotten by him out of the Spirit of the VVorld: and yet live in that, walk in that which is not of the Father, but of the VVorld? which came from the worldly part, is of the worldly part, nouriſheth and pleaſeth the worldly part in man, but pleaſeth not the Father? Can that man who is not of the World, but of the Father, do any thing that upholdeth the luſt of the fleſh, the luſt of the eyes, or the Pride of Life, either in himſelf or others? Doth not the Spirit of the Lord, where it is hearkned to, draw out of theſe, and out of all things which are of theſe? Therefore conſider well what it will coſt, and how hard it is to follow Chriſt; that thou who deſireſt to be the Lords, mayeſt receive help and ſtrength from him to be faithful, that in his ſtrength thou mayeſt overcome all that ſtands between thee and Life, that ſo thou mayeſt receive the Crown, and inherit the Kingdom which is prepared for, and given to the Faithfull, who labour and fight not in vain, but gain ground and Conquer (yea, at length become more than conquerors) through the Mercy, Love, Might, and Power of the Lord.

Some ſenſible experimental Queſtions and Anſwers from the tenth Chapter of John.

Queſtion, 1.

WHO is the good Shepherd of the Sheep?

Anſw. The Wiſdom, Life and Power of the Father (which dwelleth in, and is manifeſt through the Son) is the Shepherd. He that is the Truth, the Way, and the Life, he alſo is the Shepherd and Biſhop of the Soul.

Queſt. 2. Who are the Sheep?

Anſw. They that are born of this Wiſdom, gathered by this Life, turned to this Power, they are the Sheep. They who are changed by him into his Nature, they are of him; Sheep of him, the Shepherd; Lambs of him, the Lamb; Doves of him, the Dove.

Queſt. 3. Which is the Fold of the Sheep?

Anſw. The Wiſdom, Life and Power of the Father, even the ſame that is the Shepherd. The Fathers Hand wherewith he covers them, wherein he incloſeth them, that is the Fold. For it is the Power, Wiſdom and Life of the Father, which gathereth the Sheep; and he gathereth them into his Power, into his Wiſdom, into his Life; and that is a Wall or Fold about them.

Object. Is not the Church the Fold?

Anſw. This in the Church, or the Church in this, is the Fold; but not out of this. For, there is no ſafety or preſervation among any ſort or gathering of people, but as they ſtand and abide in this. And ſtanding and abiding in this, they have Authority and Power from the chief Biſhop of the Soul; but none out of this.

Queſt. 4. Who is the Door?

Anſw. The Shepherd is the Door alſo, who lets into the Fold, and ſhuts out at his pleaſure; and none can rightly enter but by him.

Queſt. 5. What are they that run before the Power, or farther than the Power leads and guides them?

Anſw. They are Thieves and Robbers; and they may deſtroy the life and freſhneſs in thoſe that are not watchful, but they cannot help to ſave or build up; becauſe they themſelves are out of that, come out of that, and act out of that, which alone can do it.

Queſt. 6. How may the Sheep be diſcerned from the Goats, and from ſuch alſo as put on the Sheeps cloathing, but yet are not Sheep in Nature and Spirit?

Anſw. By their Lamb-like Nature, by the meekneſs and innocency in them which is of the Lamb; which none can have, but they that are of him; for it is not to be found in mans nature, nor to be attained by his Art. They alſo know and hear the Voice of the Word nigh in the mouth and heart, and follow the Law of his Spirit, received from his mouth; which none elſe, but his Sheep, do or can do; for this is given by him, and it is given by him only to his Sheep.

Queſt. 7. What doth Chriſt the Shepherd (the Eternal Word, the Wiſdom, Life and Power of the Father) do for his Sheep?

Anſw. He doth great things for them, which who can utter; but happy is he that ſeeks and knows them. He gives them a new Nature, a new Spirit, a new Heart, a new Name, which none knoweth but he that hath it; for it is written on the white ſtone, which none elſe receives, nor none elſe can read, but he that hath the eye which is of him, what is written thereon. He giveth them eternal Life, he leadeth them into the poſtures of Life, he giveth them to drink of the Waters of Life. He putteth them forth out of the Priſon-Houſe, out of the Chains and Fetters, out of the Darkneſs, out of the Bonds, and from under the burthens of the Soul, into the pure Light and Liberty of the Spirit, where they taſte, know and enjoy of his freedom, and dwell with him, and reſt with him, and lie down with him, and riſe up with him, even in the ſame eternal Life, Spirit and Power, wherein his dwelling-place is. And all this they enjoy ſafely, hearkening to the Voice of the Shepherd, and turning from the voice of the ſtranger, which it is natural to them to do. For being turned from man, born of that which is immortal, and keeping to that; that ear which is there received, will alone hearken to the Voice of him who is Immortal; and the voice of the ſtranger (who ſpeaketh of himſelf) is preſently diſcerned and turned from, by him that heareth with the true ear. The Lord God, who is the Spring and Fountain of all good, inflame people with deſires after the pure Life, and holy Nature, which is of and from Chriſt the Seed, his Son, and ſatisfie thoſe deſires which are ſingly and uprightly after him.

W

The Concluſion.

GLorious was the eſtate of the Church, before the Apoſtacy, for Purity of Doctrine, for holy Order and Diſcipline, for Love to God, one to another, and to all men (even of Enemies) for Faith in God, for the Preſence and Power of his Spirit among them (inſomuch as the unbeliever coming among them, might find his heart and ſtate reached to, and be forced to confeſs, and report that God was in them of a truth) for for singleneſs, and uprightneſs of Heart, meekneſs and innocency of Spirit and Converſation, for zeal for God and his Truth, ſuffering the ſpoiling of their Goods, Impriſonments, Stripes, and many other wayes, both from the Heathen, and alſo from the profeſſing Jews, who had been the Church once. O what ſhall I ſay concerning the beauty and lovelineſs of that State? Ye that would know it, O wait to feel it in that, which giveth the true ſenſe of it.

But over this glorious State, came a dark, thick, corrupt night, wherein the Kernel was loſt, and the Shell defaced; wherein the Houſe, which had been ſwept and garniſhed, became again recovered and poſſeſſed by the wicked Spirit. And how great hath this darkneſs been! O what a kind of Church hath appeared in the World wherein the ſpirit of Enmity hath dwelt and acted in men, under the Name of Chriſtianity! So that inſtead of loving and ſeeking the good of Enemies, they are ready to rend and tare one another for every little difference, and will be Lords over mens Faith, requiring men to practiſe things in Religion, before the Spirit of the Lord teacheth them ſo to do, which the Apoſtles did not. For though they had from God the expreſs knowledge of what was Truth, and could certainly inſtruct and build men up therein; yet they were not Lords over mens Faith; but if men were otherwiſe minded then according to what they knew and taught, they could wait and bear with them, bidding them walk ſo far as they had attained, and God in his due time would reveal the reſt alſo. O that men were come to this Spirit again! Then they would be Chriſtians indeed, and then they might be known to be Chriſts Diſciples, by their loving the Brethren and fellow-Diſciples. But without this love, mens Religion is but as a tinkling Cymbal, making a noiſe and ſound of ſomewhat, but not having the true Nature or Virtue of Religion in it.

Now will it not be a glorious Day, when the Spirit of the Lord cleanſeth away this thick darkneſs, and cauſeth the Light of his pure Truth to ariſe and appear again? Why there is ſuch a Day to be, wherein the true Church (which was reproached and driven into the Wilderneſs) is to come out of the Wilderneſs again, and her Witneſſes ſtand on their feet again, and her Seed to ſpring up in the Power of Life, following the Lamb, who marcheth on fighting with the Sword of the Spirit (the words of his mouth) conquering and to conquer thereby the corrupted Antichriſtian World, even as he did at firſt the corrupt Heatheniſh World. The Lord will puriſie his Temple, and cleanſe the World, by the Plagues of his Angles which he hath prepared, making way for the beauty of his Truth, and the Church of his gathering; wherein he will bring forth his Righteouſneſs, wherein his Power ſhall appear, wherein his Preſence ſhall be made manifeſt, wherein that which ſhined before in the Primitive Church, ſhall ſhine again in this new-reared Building of his, inſomuch as men ſhall be forced to ſay, This is the Church of Chriſt indeed, God is here of a truth; This is the Goſpel-Jeruſalem indeed, which is built upon the holy Hill of Sion, in which Innocency, Righteouſneſs, Truth, Love, Sweetneſs, Peaceableneſs, and the gentle Nature and Spirit of the Lamb lives and reigns; and the Lord bleſs thee, O Habitation of Juſtice, and Mountain of Holineſs.

Now of a truth this Work is begun. The times of refreſhment are come from the Preſence of the Lord. The Lord hath heard from Heaven, pitying the cries of his Seed, and hath viſited their Souls, cauſing the Light of Life (even the pure Light of the everlaſting Covenant) to ſhine upon their Tabernacles. But whoever would know theſe things, and partake of them, muſt come in at the Door, by the Guidance of the Spirit, through the Light which is with him. And he that would enjoy the full Light (even the ſtrivings forth of the Sun at noon day) muſt begin with its glimmerings, even that in the heart, which diſcovereth and draweth out of the corrupt ſtate of the World, towards the Father. O hear and live. Do not diſpute about it, but wait to feel it; upon the feeling of it, deſpiſing the ſhame, and taking up, and enduring the Croſs, and forbearing the reproach and ſufferings of Chriſt in thy Age and Generation. And as thou obeyeſt, thou ſhalt know of its Doctrine; but out of the pure Faith and Obedience, there is no true, ſound, deep, rooted knowledge; but all of that kind muſt be parted with, for the knowledge which is of the Faith, and which is made manifeſt and increaſed in the Obedience; which knowledge is of a far more excellent Kind and Nature, than that which thou art to part with for it. The Lord guide thy Mind, and ſtretch forth his Hand to help thee, who from the tenderneſs of a true Nature and Spirit, deſireſt after the pure Truth and way of eternal Life. Amen.

This

This Testimony (here held forth) is faithful and true, and (I know) the Witness of God in many hearts will answer to it; and happy is he that maketh a right use of it. For, so doing, his Soul will not fall short of the pure living Truth, nor set up any thing else for Truth which is not.

To such as are not satisfied with a Profession, without the true Life and Power; but have sincere desires in their hearts after the Lord himself, and a willingness to be acquainted with his pure living Truth, and with the Souls true Guide and Leader, This Experience is in my heart to express unto you, which we have all-along witnessed in our travels out of the dark corrupt Land, into the Land of Life and Purity.

WE have still found the willer, the runner, the self-striver, the wise comprehending part, &c. left behind; and the Grace of God alone able to lead towards him, and the birth which is of and by grace still to obtain the mercy. And Christ is our life; and in the union with his Spirit lies all our ability and strength; and that knowledge of Christ which we witness to be life eternal, we did not meet with whilest we thought to have it in the Scriptures, but it hath been all along revealed to us by Gods Spirit: so that we can truly say, flesh and blood did not reveal the Son to us, but the Father. Yet that which the Scriptures testify concerning Christ, is exactly true according as is there related, and is so acknowledged and really owned by us, though we obtained not our knowledge of Christ by the letter, but by receiving a Principle of Life from God; and coming into union with his Spirit, we came to the true knowledge and owning of the letter, which as it came from the life, so can only be rightly read and understood in the life from which it came: So that he that is out of that, cannot but err concerning the Letter, and misjudge concerning the things of God; whereas he that is guided by and lives in Gods Spirit (receiving his knowledge there) cannot err concerning the Spirit or concerning the Letter, but hath that within him, which gives to him and preserves him in the true sense and understanding of both.

Now friends, this is an excellent thing indeed; To come to and be acquainted with and receive that, which the Scriptures testifie of, to wit, to receive Christ, to feel union with him in his Spirit, to enter into the new and holy Agreement with God, into the everlasting Covenant of Life and Peace, to feel the partition-wall broken down, and the wall of salvation reared up, and the defence which is thereby: To find the Law of God, the Law of his Life, the Law of the New Creation written in the heart; the pure fear planted there by God, which keepeth the mind and spirit from departing from him; to have his Spirit put within, causing to walk in his wayes, and to keep his Statutes and Judgments and do them: and so to have union and fellowship with the Lord in that which is pure and living of him, in Christ the new and living way, which was before the fall, and leads the obedient out of the fall, even beyond Adams state, into himself who never fell, in whom is no sin, nor erring, no not for the waifaring man, though a fool, who often erred and wandered before he came thither: but there the Fathers hand, even the hand of the eternal power is felt, which none can pluck out of. O that ye knew the infallible Leader, and were turned from Darkness to the Light (and did believe therein) and from the power of Satan unto God, that ye through his Spirit might undeniably witness the mysteries of his Kingdom, and partake of and enjoy that which his Love, Grace and Mercy, plentifully distributes among his Children, that wait upon him in his one way, under the holy ordering of his Spirit: which was long harped at and longed after by many of us, but we could never meet with it, till the Lord in his Mercy caused the Light of his day to shine into our hearts, which chased away the Darkness of the night, and made the things of the day manifest.

Are

Are ye of the House of Jacob? are ye of the right Seed? are ye of the true breathers after Gods Holiness; after the Life and Righteousness of his Son? O then come ye, know, acknowledge, receive and wait to walk in the Light of the Lord: and do not joyn to that in you, which is separated from, and knoweth not the Light of the Lord, but opposeth it. And Friends, I beseech you, take heed in this Point: for he that denieth, refuseth, opposeth, speaketh evil or thinketh hardly of any thing that is indeed of Christ, doth it to Christ himself, in Christs account (that is, Christ looketh upon it, as if he had denied him, refused him, opposed him, spoke evill of him, &c.) and it will be so laid to his charge in the day of the Lord: and indeed, such is my love to you, and such my desire after your eternal good and welfare, that I would not have you stumble at the Light and Power of Life, which the Lord hath revealed and stretched out (in this Day of his Mercy) to gather and save with; but feel the gathering by it from all that scattereth from the Lord, with the preservation which is thereby, and the effecting of that in your Spirits, which it is able to effect, as it comes to manifest it self unto you, and to put forth his strength in you. So wait for the gathering unto the Light (the Light of the everlasting Day of God) and into the Power which is able to Redeem and Defend the Soul from all that is contrary to God. And when ye are there, be diligent and faithful to the Lord: And feel (O daily wait to feel from him) the uncloathing of your Spirits from all their own Unrighteousness, yea from all their own Righteousness also (which are but as filthy Rags before the Lord, even of the same Nature with the Unrighteousness) that ye may be Clothed upon with the new and living Garment, wherein there is neither Spot nor Wrinkle, nor any such thing. For they that are of Christ and in Christ, do as really put on the Nature, the Spirit, the Garment of the second Adam, as ever they did put off the Old Garment, Nature and Spirit.

This is from one, who uprightly and singly desireth your Union with the Lord (in his pure Truth and Holy Anointing) and your Disunion from all that is contrary to him.

Isaac Penington.

A Query added, with its Answer.

What is the true Confession of Christ, even that Confession which ariseth from the knowledg, which is Life Eternal.

Answ. Friends, I Witness it to be this; A Confession of his Nature, a Confession of his Spirit, a Confession of his Life, a Confession of his Power. To confess the present living Appearance of Christ; that is, to confess Christ. Behold, saith he, I stand at the Door and knock. He that heareth his Voice, acknowledgeth him, letteth him in, subjecteth to his Truth and Holy Spirit; he Confesseth him. But, though a man should Acknowledge and Confess all that is Recorded in the Scriptures concerning him; yet if he know not his Knocks, so as to let him in, and become subject to his Power, he doth not Confess Christ as he ought to do, and as God requireth of him. O that ye could learn thus to know Christ, and thus to Confess him: for until ye thus know him, ye cannot thus Confess him: and your Knees must first bow at his Name, before your Tongues can rightly Confess Him, to the Glory of God the Father. For if ye will indeed glorify the Father, ye must bow to the Son, who is the Light wherein God dwells, in the shinings whereof he appeares to, and visits the Sons of Men. And as the Son himself is Spiritual: so is the Light wherewith he visits dark Man. His Law is Spiritual, able to Convert the Soul of any Man in whose Heart is Writ, and to make wise (the most simple among Men) unto Salvation. For the Law of God, Writ in the heart heart, is from the Covenant of Life; and delivers and preſerves from the law of ſin and death, having the Light, Power, and Spirit of Chriſt in and with it from whom it comes.

Now if ye will know theſe things clearly, certainly and infallibly; wait to feel ſome touches, ſome drawings, ſome convictions of Gods Spirit upon your hearts. And then diſpute not againſt them; but immediately become ſubject, ſo far as the Light and Drawings of the Father encline and lead the mind: and then ye ſhall ſee what he is that draws, and of what nature his drawings are. And if once ye come to feel the precioufneſs of his Ointment, and to partake of it, receiving it and following it, it will bring you into the pure Virginity, which loves and longs after the Name that anoints with the pure living Oyl.

Friends, I was once, where ye now are: and in that day, I alſo (through error and miſtake) called the Light, wherewith Chriſt hath enlightned man, natural, as ye now do. But the Lord hath ſince ſhewed me, that it was not the true birth of life in me which ſo called it: and it is alſo manifeſted to me in his Spirit of Truth (which deceives not) that it is not the true birth in you, which ſo judge of it. O that ye were born of the Spirit, and in it knew the names of the things from their nature, and might be taught of the Father to worſhip in the Son; which ye can never do, till ye come into the Son's Light: and that is the Sons Light, even that wherewith he hath enlightened men, that they might believe in the Father through him. The Scriptures (or any words ſpoken or written) are not the Light it ſelf, but teſtimonies concerning the Light. Now that which ye are to come into, and to dwell and abide in, is the Light it ſelf, which Light was before any words that teſtifie of it, and is the ſubſtance of all the ſhadows, and the end of all the Teſtimonies concerning it. He is Alpha and Omega, the Begining and the End of the New Creation of God. O that ye ſo knew him!

That from which the Scriptures came, is the Thing, the Life, the Spirit, the Power it ſelf: which is able to write inwardly, as well as outwardly. And he that knows the Thing, and is led to the thing by the inward writing (which is the Teſtimony of Jeſus, the Spirit of Propheſie) he by the Teſtimony of Jeſus, by the Spirit of Propheſie is led to the Holy Power which he believing in, it prevailes to ſave him out of the contrary Spirit and Power. And this the Gentils without the Law, the Jews under the Law, and the Believers under Grace, had ſpiritually all one and the ſame Way and Path of Life unto Salvation: and God will be clear and juſt in judging them all according thereunto, who had all ſome manifeſtation of the Goſpel and Power which ſaves, according to the diſpenſation, of the good pleaſure of the free giver. And mens periſhing in the time of every diſpenſation, is not for want of Light and Power from God, but from mens withdrawing and apoſtatizing from the Light and Power, which in every Diſpenſation of Life ſtretched forth its Hand and Arm ſufficiently to gather and ſave.

There is one thing more in my heart unto you, at this time, which is Concerning applying the Promiſes.

THe Promiſes of God are great and precious, and give to partake of the Divine Nature, thoſe that wait upon the Lord in the Faith and Obedience of his Truth. Now there are eſtates and conditions to which they do belong: and there are eſtates and conditions to which they do not belong: and if any one apply any Promiſe to himſelf, he not being in that eſtate and condition to which that promiſe belongs, he deceives his Soul, and ſucks not in the true ſweetneſs and comfort of the Promiſe, but of his own imaginary apprehenſions concerning the Promiſe.

There

There is a ſtate of wounding, of judging, of Gods pleading with the Soul, becauſe of Sin and Tranſgreſſion. Now he that breaks and wounds, he alone can bind up and heal: and the Lord is to be waited upon, in the way of his Judgments, until he ſee meet to bind up and heal. Now the Lord heals by the ſame Spirit and Power wherewith he wounds: but it is hard to lie under the Judgment to bear the indignation of the Lord, and ſo keep the wound (which he makes) open, till he pour in the Oyl and heal. For there is that near, which will be offering to heal before the ſeaſon, and will be bringing in Promiſes and applying Promiſes, otherwiſe than the Spirit of the Lord intendeth or applyeth them. Now this is diligently to be watched againſt, that the hurt of the Soul (Judged and wounded by the Spirit of the Lord) be not healed ſlightly, and peace ſpoken to it (and an expectation and hope raiſed in it) which is not of the Lord. But this is the right way, even to give up to feel that which wounds, and to receive the woundings of thy Souls friend and lie low before him in the wounded ſtate, waiting upon him in the way of his Judgments and righteous indignation; till the ſame that wounded, ſpeak peace. For the ſame is to ſpeak peace, and not another, I the Lord wound, and I heal: I kill, and I make alive. Judgment is mine and Mercy is mine; and they both iſſue from my lips. (ſee Iſa. 12. 1.) So every one, that would not be deceived about, nor miſapply the Promiſes, wait to feel that in you, which leads into the condition to which the promiſe belongs, and to be led into and kept in the condition by it. And then, the ſame that leads into the condition, will apply the promiſe to him who is in the condition, the ear being open to him, harkning to the Lord, waiting what he will ſpeak, who ſpeaks peace to his people in his ſeaſons, and having the ear ſhut againſt the voice of the unrighteous troubler of the Souls of Gods Heritage. Yea, he that aplyeth the Promiſes to the ſoul (having brought it into the ſtate to which they belong) he alſo will lead and bring unto the fulfilling of the Promiſes, even to the receiving of the good things promiſed and waited for: ſo that the ſoul ſhall witneſs the Goſpel to be a Glorious ſtate indeed; a ſtate of Life, a ſtate of Liberty, a ſtate of Power, a ſtate of Dominion, a ſtate of Holineſs, a Kingdom of Righteouſneſs and Peace, wherein there are Everlaſting Manſions and dwelling places in Chriſt Jeſus, for the Seed of the Righteous for evermore. The Lord God of everlaſting Mercy, Life, Power and rich goodneſs, cauſe the Light of his own holy Spirit to ſhine into your hearts, guide you thereby into, and in the true way, even in the pure living path (which was and is but one for ever) that ye may come into the true poſſeſſion, and full enjoyment, and infallible witneſſing of theſe things.

23 of the 2d. mon. 68.

There is another Query, of great concernment, which ſpringeth up in my heart towards you.

Query. IS not the Spirit, or Anointing, the great Goſpel-Promiſe, and the great Goſpel-Ordinance? Is not he Truth and no lie, and the leader out of all lies and deceits into the truth, and the preſerver of the mind and ſpirit therein? Little Children, ſaid the ſame Apoſtle, who had directed to the anointing, keep your ſelves from Idols. Is there any poſſibility of being kept from Images and Idols, but by him? Can any underſtand the things of the Spirit, or the words ſpoken by the Spirit concerning ſpiritual things, but by him? and then, is not every apprehenſion, that ye take up from the Scriptures concerning ſpiritual things, which ye have not from him (but comprehend and gather of your ſelves) an image or conceiving of your own concerning that thing, and not that true knowledge and underſtanding of the thing which he alone can give? O that all the Chambers of Imagery were thrown down in you, and every Idol of the heart and mind diſcovered to you, and broken down by the Light and Power of the Lord; that ye might come to that which is pure and living and by its purifying know the pure heart, the Pure mind, the pure conscience, and offer up the pure perfect offering, not the lame, blind, imperfect, &c. which were not accepted (in the figure) under the Law, nor acceptable under the Gospel, Mal. 1. 11, 13. and Chap. 3. 3.

Friends, ye must know that which is pure from God, and ye must come into it, (out of that which is impure, into that which is pure.) Now that ye may do so, ye must know the purifying: for nothing that is impure, can enter into that which is pure. Yea, ye must become Priests to God, and wear the Priests Garment, the pure Garment the Living-Garment, the fine Linnen, without mixture of the Woollen. Ye must be born of the innocency be cloathed with the innocency. The stony, hard, desperately-wicked heart must be taken away, and the tender heart of flesh received, the mind renued to God, the fear put within, (which cleanseth and keepeth clean) the Law writ within, the Spirit of the Lord put in the inward parts, and felt powerfully operating and changing there. Yea and the inside must not only be clean, but the outside also: for ye must be cloathed with the Spirit, clothed with the Lambs Righteousness and Holiness; and thus ye must appear before the Lord in his Temple, which is the beauty of holiness, whose House holiness becomes for ever; where ye are never to appear in your own filthy rags, but in the Nature, Spirit, Righteousness and Life of Christ. And thus ye are well-pleasing to God even in that which is of God, being born of that, formed of that, found in that, appearing in that. But in his own, no man can be accepted: for it is determined of God, and stands irreversible for ever, that in his own (in his own knowledge, in his own faith, in his own obedience, in his own righteousness, in his own willing and running, &c.) shall no flesh for ever be justified in his sight; but only and alone in the Nature, Spirit, Life, Righteousness, Faith, Obedience and Holiness of his Son. Therefore wait for the Seed, that ye may know the Seed, feel the Seed, the pure Seed of Life, (the Leaven of the Heavenly Kingdom) and may witness it arising and come in you to do the will, and you in it quickned and enabled to live to and serve the living God. And when ye know this Seed, ye know Christ: and when ye receive this Seed, ye receive Christ: and if it live in you, Christ lives in you: and in it (being in it, and abiding in it) are ye Heirs of the Life, Kingdom and Power, which hath no end; and shall daily feel the promises, and blessings belonging to the Seed, flowing in upon your spirits. But if ye content your selves with the knowledg of Christ, which the erring and apostatized spirit of man (from the Life and Power) may gather out of the letter of the Scriptures, and feed thereon: that will not nourish you up to eternal Life, but death, and sin, and the gates of Hell will have power over you notwithstanding that: but if ye through the Spirit, receive power over that which is contrary to God, and through him mortify the deeds of the body, ye shall live. Therefore wait for the manifestation of the pure Power of the endless Life, which is now dispensed from on high (blessed be the Name of the living One) and wait to know and be joyned to that Seed of Life, wherein and whereby it is dispensed, that ye may witness Christs Kingdom come to you, and the reign of your spirits with him therein, over all that captivateth from him, loadeth the soul, boweth down and oppresseth.

A POST-SCRIPT.

Concerning Deceit, and being Deceived.

THere is that which deceives (where it is harkned to) and there is that which is liable to be deceived by it. There is likewise that which deceiveth not: and there is also that which cannot be deceived. So likewise there is a pure fear and watching in the Truth against the deceit, least by any means it should enter and betray. As also there is a fear that is a snare (which the true Faith preserves out of) whereby many are entangled in the very bowels of deceit, even concerning ing those very things about which they are afraid they should be deceived. This hath been experienced by those, who have been acquainted with the Lords precious Truth, and thereby are come to know and discern the wiles and devices of Satan; who often hath quenched what the Lord hath kindled, by his stirring up a fear, lest it should not be of the Lord, but from the Spirit of deceit.

It is true, that in the Apostacy from the Life and Spirit of Truth, deceit did generally prevail and overwhelm the minds of people. And so far as people are yet in the Apostacy (not being gathered and redeemed out of it, by the Spirit and Power of the Lord) they are yet under deceit; though perhaps they little think so. Little did we think formerly (and little do they think now, who are now in that state we were then in) that while we so much feared being deceived, we were already deceived being short of the Life and Power of Truth, which alone is able to make free and preserve from deceit. When the Lord cometh to bring to the primitive light and principle, that he might perfectly deliver out of deceit; what can the enemy do more advantagiously towards keeping his hold in the mind (and towards keeping the mind in the deceits wherein he hath already entangled it) than to stir up and highten a fear in it, lest the precious Truth, which God maketh manifest to deliver the soul by, should be deceit? And they that hearken to and let in the voice of the deceiver, must needs believe it to be so. And thus, with them Light cometh to be called Darkness, and Darkness Light. Yea, who is it, at this day, who escapeth this snare, of calling evil good, and good evil? surely, none but he, whose soul is led into and lives in the Light and Power of Truth.

For most men take up principles (according to their own, or other mens understanding of the Scriptures) and judge according to those principles; and so the Spirit and Light of the Lord judgeth not in them, but they themselves judge according to an assumed knowledge. So that flesh is not silent, the man is not dead in them and brought to nothing, but only lives in an higher Region than he did before. Before he lived in an apparent unrighteousness: now he lives in an imagined righteousness and faith: but not in the Sons Righteousness, not in the Sons Faith, not in the Sons Power, not in the Sons Dominion; but at best only in that which he apprehendeth and strongly imagineth to be so.

O happy is he, who is come through all his own imaginings and conceivings about the things of God, and his own apprehensions about Scriptures and Promises, and is come into the thing it self, into the Spirit of Life (into the the Truth and into the Power) and who walks with God therein, daily witnessing the Redemption which is of him through his Son Jesus Christ, who is known and partook of in the pure quickning Spirit, and not otherwise. And he that is truly begotten of God, and dwells with him in the Light which is eternal, knows that he is of God, which others may strongly imagin they are, but none else can truly know it, but may easily err and be entangled in the deceits of the enemy (about the new birth and other weighty things) while they are greatly afraid of being deceived by him, and so (through that fear) fly the pure Truth, which frees from deceits, lest it should deceive them.

Observations on some Passages of Lodowick Muggleton, in his Interpretation of the 11th Chapter of the Revelations.

As also on some Passages in that Book of his, stiled, The Neck of the Quakers Broken, and in his Letter to Thomas Taylor.

VVhereby it may appear what Spirit he is of, and what god his Commission is from.

VVhereunto is added, A brief Account of my Souls Travel towards the Holy Land; with a few words concerning the VVay of knowing and receiving the Truth.

Written in tender love to Souls, in true sense and understanding received from the Lord, and with reverence to his holy Spirit and Power,

By Isaac Pennington

The Preface to the Reader.

HAving had a Book of Lodowick Muggleton's sent me to peruse, and having unwillingly pressed thereunto by some, who had tat in his spirit and Doctrines, to their great hurt: in the fear of the Lord, and in the sense of his holy Spirit of Truth, and in tender love to them who had requested this of me, I cast my eye thereupon; wherein I observed very many things contrary to the Spirit of the Lord, the Testimony of the Holy Scriptures, and the nature of Truth; some whereof (for the service of others) are here communicated. To which, there arose somewhat in my heart to add concerning my self, in reference to my wearisom seekings, journeys and travels after the Lord. Indeed it came upon me very freshly and tenderly: and the Lord may please to make it useful to others, even to help to stay the minds and quicken the hopes of such that are fainting, as I deeply was. Now, if so be any shall reap any benefit thereby, let them give glory to the Lord alone, who alone is worthy thereof. For I seek not esteem of men; but all my desire is, that men might know the Lord and the Power of his Truth, and be gathered into, and preserved in that which is pure of him. It is the day of the Gospel, even of Gods Eternal Power, which is risen in many hearts: for indeed the Light of the Everlasting Day of God shines gloriously, and doth Conquer and shall conquer the darkness and corruption in mens minds daily more and more. O that more might partake of its virtue, and no slumber in that stumbling Stone, which the Builders out of the Life and Power in every Age and Generation, have still dispised and rejected. O that men might seek after Christ, the Wisdom of God aright: not in that spirit and wisdom which shall never find him. For it is easie to seek amiss, but none can seek aright, save only those that are led and taught of God so to do.

Observations on some passages of Lodowick Muggleton, in his Interpretation of the 11th Chapter of the Revelations.

IN Page 9. he saith, [The Law is not written in the Seed of Faiths Nature at all, but in the Seed of Reasons Nature only. (Reason, or the Spirit of Reason, he saith, is the Devil, P. 15.)]

Observe. The Sum of the Law is Love: Even to Love God above all, and ones Neighbour as ones self. And this Love, which is the Sum of the Law, and fulfils the Law, God writeth in the hearts of his spiritual Seed. In

In P. 15. he affirmeth, [That that ſaying of the Devil was true which he ſaid to Chriſt, All the Kingdoms of the Earth are mine.]

Obſerve. The Earth is the Lords, and the fulneſs thereof. The Devil hath no right to it. God never gave it him: but God himſelf is Judge, who throweth down one and ſetteth up another, diſpoſing of the Kingdom of men according to his pleaſure, Pſal. 75. 7. Dan. 4. 25.

In P. 19. he ſaith, [There never was no Enmity between the Perſon of the Serpent and the Perſon of the Woman: but the Enmity which lay between them was in the two Seeds.]

Obſerve. Is not the Enmity as expreſly placed by God between the Serpent and the Woman, as between their Seeds? I will put Enmity between thee and the Woman, and between thy Seed and her Seed, Gen. 3. 15.

In P. 21. he ſaith, [So that now God himſelf is not capable to diſſolve himſelf into Seed or nature, as he was before.]

Obſerve. Is God changable? Is he one thing to day, and another thing to morrow? and can he never be any more what he was yeſterday? His god may be ſo: but the true God is not ſo. (I the Lord change not.) His Nature, his Seed, his Life, his Spirit, his Power is the ſame for ever.

Further in P. 21. he ſaith, [Theſe two Seeds were thoſe two ſpiritual bodies which are called by the revelation of Moſes two Trees. Yet they were in forms of men, and was capable as they were ſpiritual bodies to diſſolve into Seed or Nature, and ſo become capable to ſuffer the pains of death.]

Obſerv. O the depth of imagination from that Spirit, which giveth imaginations to to them that will receive them! He that is taught of God never learned thus; but learneth much otherwiſe: and in the feeling ſenſe and experience knoweth the two Seeds, and is born of the one, and ſeparated from the other from the very Womb; I mean, from his birth of the Jeruſalem which is above, which is free (from the ſpirit of deceit, and all its imaginary knowledge) which is the Mother of all that are born of the Spirit.

In p. 22. he ſaith, [Knowledge proceedeth from life that hath wiſdom in it.]

Obſerv. Living knowledge doth. But there is a knowledge which comes not from the true Wiſdom; nor doth convey Life, but Death. And ſuch is the knowledge which he hath from his God, and holdeth forth to others: it poyſons and corrupts the mind, and leads out of the capacity of receiving and obeying the Truth, as it is in Jeſus.

In p. 27. he ſaith, [Reaſon can feed on nothing but what it can ſee with this viſible eye.]

Obſerv. That is not Reaſons food only, which is ſeen with this viſible eye: but Reaſon is in the mind, and feeds chiefly on things which the mind gathers and comprehends inwardly.

In p. 29. he ſaith [I declare by revelation from the holy Spirit, that out of theſe two ſpiritual trees came forth theſe two Commiſſions, namely the Commiſſion of Moſes and the Prophets, and the Commiſſion of Jeſus and the Apoſtles.]

Obſerv. He had ſaid before, p. 11. One of theſe Trees was the Tree of knowledge of good and evil (in the form of a man, p. 14.) that tempted Adam. Was that which tempted Adam, the tree out of which Moſes his Commiſſion came? Doth not he call this tree the Serpent? (P. 30.) Had Moſes his Commiſſion from the Serpent? Surely every one that is of God will ſay, no.

In P. 30. he ſaith, [Theſe two Olive-trees and Candleſticks here ſpoken of, I declare, are thoſe two Commiſſions which came forth of theſe two ſpiritual trees.]

Obſerve. One of theſe trees he ſaid, was the very Perſon of God himſelf, P. 19. That the other was the tree that tempted Adam: whereas the Tree did not tempt Adam, but the Serpent tempted Eve to eat of the fruit of the Tree.

Again P. 30. he ſaith, [Moſes acted as a God in the Perſon of the Angel, or Tree of knowledge of good and evil.]

Obſerve. Moſes was faithful in all his houſe as a Servant. Nor did he act in the Perſon of the Serpent; for the Serpent was the Devil, and was out of Truth long before Moſes time, and ſpake of his own: but Moſes ſpake and miniſtred from from the pure holy Spirit of Life. was not the Devil defiled, a corrupt Tree, an Angel fallen from his habitation, before he tempted Eve and Adam to ſin and fall? And who can bring a clean thing out of an unclean? or an holy Commiſſion out of the Devil?

In P. 31. he ſaith, [The Law (ſpeaking of Moſes Law) which is juſt and good, doth enlighten Reaſon to do as he is done unto, not as he would be done unto.]

Obſerv. If Chriſt may be believed, he ſaith otherwiſe: for he ſaith, All things whatſoever ye would that men ſhould do to you, do ye even ſo to them: for this is the Law and the Prophets, Mat. 7. 12. So that the Law and the Prophets did teach and require this, not only for a man to do as he is done unto, but as he would be done to.

In P. 32. he ſaith, [The Law of Reaſon is called a Law of ſin and death, it being given unto reaſon, becauſe reaſon is ſin; there is nothing doth break the Law but Reaſon.]

Obſerv. Thoſe that are delivered by the powerful appearance of Chriſt from the Law of ſin and death, knows it to be another Law than the Law of Reaſon, even a Law contrary not only to the Life of Chriſt, but to the Reaſon and underſtanding of a man, bringing him below the ſtate of Reaſon, even into bruitiſh captivity and ſenſuallity. Doth Reaſon teach a man to manage his body deſtructively and unreaſonably, as the corrupt and unreaſonable Law of Sin and Death teacheth many men? Reaſon is not ſin: but a deviating from that from which Reaſon came, is ſin. God did not Create man in ſin; or make a ſinful Creature: but he gave him Reaſon, and thereby made him reaſonable.

In p. 34. he ſaith, [The Moon (Rev. 12.) did ſignify the Law of Moſes, which muſt now be trod underfoot by the Sun-ſhine Light of the Goſpel.]

Obſerv. No not ſo: the Law is not trodden underfoot by the Light and Power of Life, when it appeareth; but its righteouſneſs is fulfilled in them that walk not after the Fleſh but after the Spirit, Rom. 8. 4. Chriſt did not teach men to tread Moſes and his Law underfoot; but brings forth that Life, and beſtows that Spirit, which leads through and beyond the Law, even to the righteouſneſs of Faith, (which the Apoſtle Paul ſaid) they did not make the Law void by, Rom. 3. 31. Therefore not trod underfoot through Faith in the Goſpel.

In P. 37. he ſaith, [There was none of the Prophets that were commiſſionated to write Scripture.]

Obſerv. They ſpake and wrote as they were moved by the holy Spirit, and is not that a ſufficient Commiſſion? In his Book called The neck of the Quakers broken, he had ſcoffingly caſt away the Writings of Solomon from being Scripture; and now he caſts away the Writings of all the Prophets too, as being written without Commiſſion?

In P. 42. he argueth againſt Gods being an infinite, incomprehenſible Spirit, ſaying, [Such a great vaſt Spirit doth not know it ſelf, neither can this vaſt Spirit tell where to find or ſee it ſelf: and if it cannot know or ſee it ſelf, how ſhould his Creature be able to know or ſee his Maker, when as he cannot know or ſee himſelf? Then alſo that would be a vain thing which is ſpoken of in holy Writ, where it is ſaid, It is Life Eternal to know the true God.]

Obſerv. Here is dark imaginations indeed. He that cannot read in the Spirit, let him read that place Iſa 40. 12. according to the plainneſs of the Letter, and ſee if God can be leſs than infinite and incomprehenſible. He that knoweth the Nature and Spirit of God, knoweth God, though he be not able to meaſure or diſcern the utmoſt extent of his Being, which who can? For he is a Sea of Life, a Sea of Love, a Sea of Purity and Righteouſneſs, a Sea of Power and Wiſdom, &c. but in a meaſure of the ſame Life, received from him, we know him ſo to be; and worſhip him in the Spirit and Life which is of him; not making likeneſſes of him in our minds, but bowing to him and worſhiping him in his own appearances.

In P. 77. he ſaith, [The holy Ghoſt ſate upon none like as of fire, but the Twelve Apoſtles; neither could any other ſpeak with tongues by inſpiration, but the Twelve Apoſtles.]

Obſerv.

Observ. This is directly contrary to the Testimony held forth in Scripture. For, said Peter, the holy Ghost fell on them, as on us at the beginning, Acts 11. 15. And they of the Circumcision which believed, were astonished, because that on the Gentiles also was powred out the gift of the holy Ghost. For they heard them speak with tongues and magnifie God, Chap. 10. 45, 46.

In p. 52. he saith, [Christ's Apostles could do no miracles, neither could they cast out Devils until he was ascended.]

Observ. Did they not cast out Devils and do miracles, while he was on Earth? Did not he give them power so to do? See Matth. 10. 8.

In p. 59. and 60. He speaking of the wild Olive-tree, and the good Olive-tree. [The wild Olive-tree, he saith, is the state of nature or reason, the Devil which is wild by nature. The good Olive-tree, he saith, was the very Person of Christ, which the Gentiles were ingrafted into by Faith. But the Commission of Moses and the Prophets proceeded from the Tree of Knowledge of good and evil, he acting his part in that Seed, &c.] which he afore said was the Serpent.

Observ. Is the wild Olive-tree (the Devil which is wild by nature) one of Gods Witnesses, or the head or root from whence any of the Commissions of Gods Spirit came? Did the Law of God, which was against Sin and the Devil, come from the Devil? is not the Law holy, just and good? and did it come from an unholy root? What was the Olive tree the Jews were broken off from? Read their state Rom. 9. 4. 5. and 11. 16. 17. Was this holy Root they were broken from a wild Olive tree? What interpretation of Scripture is here? Surely from a Spirit quite contrary to that which wrote it.

In P. 63. he saith, [The great and high Wall about the New Jerusalem, was all that visible and external Worship, which was set up by Moses, which did belong to that Tabernacle, &c.]

Observe. Is this the defence about the glory of the new Jerusalem? Is this the Wall and Bulwark? Nay, nay: the Power of Gods Salvation is the Wall and Bulwark, Isa. 26. 1. which is a sure defence upon all the glory of this Building, Isa. 4. 5.

In P. 66. he saith, [The Apostles should be equal in the Kingdom of Glory, as they were equal here in the Kingdom of Grace. And again, P. 67. As there should be no preheminence with the Apostles here in the Kingdom of Grace, neither should there be any preheminence in the Kingdom of Glory. Yet P. 102. he saith, Peter was the head of the Apostles.]

Observ. Hath the Head no preheminence in the Body? Are the rest of the Members equal with the Head? is not this an absolute contradiction?

In P. 78. he saith, [The Commission of the Apostles was not the Commission of the Spirit.]

Observ. Paul saith, They were made able Ministers of the new Testament, not of the Letter, but of the Spirit, 2. Cor. 3. 6. What is to be desired more than the new Covenant? wherein Life, Spirit and Power is received. Now the Apostles were made by God able Ministers thereof: and the glory of this Covenant and Ministration remaineth, verse 11.

In P. 93. he saith, [Death being the First-born of the Law, it went forth as a Conqueror of all Life both in God and man.]

Observ. The Law is holy just and good, and bringeth forth only that which is holy, sin is not of the Law, but against the Law, and the wages of sin is death. Yet neither sin nor death could ever conquer the Life of God, but the unconquerable Life and Power have ever reigned over them. Gods Kingdom is an everlasting Kingdom, and his dominion endureth throughout all Ages, which Sin, nor Death, nor Hell could ever Conquer. That Life which Christ did give up, never took from him as a Conqueror, but he laid it down freely, at his requiring of the Father, knowing his glorious Power was able to restore and raise it up again.

In P. 105. he saith, [The body of man is that Temple that was ordained of old, and the spirit of Reason is that King, which must abide in this Temple.]

Observ. The body of man was Gods Temple before it was defiled with sin; and is Gods Temple again, when it is purified and purged from sin. Now him that defileth this Temple of God, him will God destroy. And Christ said, Fear him who after he hath killed, hath power to cast into Hell, Luk. 12. 5. What, is he able to cast into Hell? why, both body and soul, Mat. 10. 28. Then the body of man is not the Tophet or Hell: but Tophet is that whereinto the souls and bodies of the wicked are to be cast.

In p. 116. he saith, [Eternity did become Time, and Time shall become Eternity again.]

Observ. Eternity did never become time, but is unchangable in its Nature, Spirit, Life and Beeing for evermore: but it brought forth natural and changable things in time, which with time shall have an end.

Observations on some Passages in a Book of Lodowick Muggleton's, stiled by him, The Neck of the Quakers Broken.

IN p. 14. he affirmeth, [That Adam had no part in the begetting of Cain.]

Observ. The Scripture saith, Adam knew Eve his Wife; and she Conceived and bare Cain, and said, I have gotten a man from the Lord, Gen. 4. 1. Here the holy Spirit of God Attributeth the begetting of Cain to Adam's knowing his Wife Eve: but L. M. saith otherwise.

In p. 15. he saith, [Whoever is partaker of the seed of Adam, may be said to have the Spirit of Christ in them, and their spirits to be in him, that is, Christ dwells in their hearts by Faith.]

Observ. The Scriptures distinguish between the first and second Adam. None have the Spirit of Christ from or in the first Adam, but only from and in the second. And the old Adam's seed, spirit and nature, is to be put off by him that puts on the new; and he must be born again of the immortal Seed of Life, who receives the Spirit of Life.

In p. 17. [He calls Reason the Devil, and p. 29. saith, This Devil so much spoken of in Scripture, is no other but the spirit of Reason.]

Observ. Indeed corrupted Reason is of the Devil: but pure Reason is of God. Man, by his fall, had his Reason Corrupted, and so became brutish and unreasonable: But by Faith in the redeeming Power, he is brought out of the Fall, raised from Death to Life, and in the new Life hath the true, holy, righteous Reason restored to him again, 2 Thes. 3. 2. which Reason is neither the Devil, nor of the Devil.

In p. 22. He saith, [If God be a person in the form of a man, as I am sure he is (for I do acknowledge no other God but the man Christ Jesus, who is a distinct body of flesh and bone of his own) how then can he fill Heaven and Earth with his presence, and get into the Quakers bodies, &c.]

Observ. Solomon said in prayer to God, 2 Chron. 6. 18. (which prayer God testified his acceptance of, as being from his own Spirit, Chap. 7. 1.) Behold Heaven, and the Heaven of Heavens cannot contain thee, how much less this House which I have built? Again, Thus saith the high and lofty one that inhabiteth Eternity (what is Eternity?) whose Name is Holy, I dwell in the High and Holy, with him also that is of a contrite and humble Spirit, &c. Isa. 57. 15. Yet again it is said, Ye are the Temple of the Living God, as God hath said, I will dwell in them and walk in them, 2 Cor. 6. 16. Is it such a strange thing that God should be in Heaven and in Earth also? Is not the Earth his Foot-stool? and are not the Feet present in the place on which they tread? Was not Christ in Heaven while he was bear on Earth, according to his own words? No man (saith he) hath Ascended up to Heaven, but he that came down from Heaven, the Son of Man which is in Heaven, John 3. 13. And cannot God be in Heaven and in Earth too, and also by his Spirit in the hearts of his People?

In P. 23. he saith, [To say that Christ according to the Flesh was of Abraham is Blasphemy.]

Observ. The Apostle said concerning the Jews (whom he calls his Brethren and Kinsmen according to the Flesh, Rom. 9. 3.) of whom as concerning the Flesh Christ came came, who is over all, God bleſſed for ever, Amen, verſe 5. Did Chriſt come of the Jews according to the Fleſh, and did not he come of Abraham according to the Fleſh? Now leſt any ſhould apprehend there may be ſome difference between according in verſe 3. and concerning in verſe 5. I ſhall add this, they are both the ſame in the Greek. It is κατὰ σάρκα in both.

In P. 24, 25. he ſaith, [None can interpret Scripture truly, but himſelf.]

Obſerv. All that are children, to them God giveth of his Spirit: (Gal. 4. 6.) and they that have the Spirit, have that which interprets Scripture truly; which they keeping to, cannot be deceived about the interpretation of them. But they that keep not to the Anointing within, but receive interpretations from men without, may eaſily be deceived.

In p. 25. he ſaith, [God hath made him the Judge of the Scriptures.]

Obſerv. O Let him that readeth, wait to feel the Spirit which is of God, and the Light wherein God dwells, and that will open Scriptures and the Myſteries of the Kingdom to him (he abideth in Unity therewith, through the pure ſubjection thereto) and Manifeſt to him who is the Judge in Spiritual Matters in Gods Iſrael.

Again p. 25. he ſaith further, [We the Witneſſes of the Spirit do know more than Moſes, the Prophets and Apoſtles did, things of more higher concernment.]

Obſer. The Apoſtles were not the leaſt in the Kingdom, but in the glory of the day (1 Pet. 2. 5.) in the Eternal Life, in him that was true (1 John 5. 20.) and they had the whole Counſel of God, even a Miniſtry ſufficient to perfect the Work of God, in the Saints (Epheſ. 4. 1, 2.) that ſo they might preſent men perfect in Chriſt Jeſus, Col. 1. 28. And happy is he that receiveth their Teſtimony, and cometh into and walketh in that Light which their Meſſage was concerning, 1 John 1. 2. and verſe 5. and 7.

Yet again, p. 25. he ſaith, [The Quakers have only the dead letter of other mens words, whoſe Light was but dark in compariſon of the Light that comes by this Commiſſion of the Spirit.]

Obſerv. Yes, they have much more than the dead Letter of other mens words; for they witneſs the living Spirit, and are taught thereby and ſubject thereto, Bleſſed be the Lord, who is become the Shepherd and Teacher of his people himſelf, according to his Promiſe.

[And as for the Apoſtles Light being dark in compariſon, &c.]

Obſerv. We all with open Face, beholding as in a Glaſs, the glory of the Lord, are changed into the ſame Image, from Glory to Glory, even of the Lord the Spirit, 2 Cor. 3. 18. Again, God who commanded the Light to ſhine out of Darkneſs, hath ſhined in our Hearts to give the light of the knowledg of the glory of God in the face of Jeſus Chriſt, chap. 4. 6. In that day the Woman was cloathed with the Sun (for as many as are truly Baptized into Chriſt, have put on Chriſt, Gal. 3. 27.) had the Moon under her feet, and was crowned with a Crown of twelve Stars, and not only travelling to bring forth, but brought forth the Man-child which was to Rule all Nations. They who are indeed in the Spirit, know that the Light which is now broke forth, is but the Light of the ſame Day which ſhined then very glorioufly in them, who were the glory of Chriſt, 2 Cor. 8. 23. They had the Spirit of God plentifully poured upon them, which opened to them the Myſteries of the Kingdom, and the deep things of God, 1 Cor. 2. 9, 10. And how highly ſoever he think or ſpeak of himſelf, yet this is known concerning him, that he hath a very great journey to travel, before he can come to that meaſure of Light that they were in, or to receive that proportion of the true Spirit that they received: For he is yet quite out of it.

In p. 29. he affirmeth, [That it was the very God-head Life that ſuffered Death.]

Obſerv. If the God-head Life ſuffered Death, what Power was left to raiſe it up again? I am the Reſurrection and the Life, ſaid Chriſt; but he ſpake concerning that which raiſed Lazarus, which was of an Immortal Nature and could not die: not concerning the body; but the Life and Power of the Father, which dwelt in and was revealed through the Body; which died not with the Body, but remained alive to raise the Body. What kind of Doctrine is this, that the very God-Head Life suffered death, and so to make the Creator mortal like the Creature?

In P. 39. he saith, [God the King of Heaven is not in this World at all.]

Observ. Whether shall I go from thy Spirit? or whether shall I flee from thy Presence? said David (who had the Spirit of God) If I ascend up into Heaven, thou art there: if I make my bed in Hell, thou art there, &c. Psal. 139. 7, 8. And do not I fill Heaven and Earth saith the Lord, Jer. 23. 24. But L. M. hath affirmed contrary to these Testimonies, that God is not in this World at all.

In P. 48. he saith [I am the only and alone Judge, what shall become of men and women after death; neither shall those that are damned by me, see any other God or Judge but me, or that Sentence which I have passed upon them.]

Observ. Is he God? is he Christ, is he the only one? is there not another God, another Judge? (Yes, we know there is another, who Judgeth otherwise than he hath Judged: who Judgeth that to death which he Judgeth to life, and that to life which he Judgeth to death). And in the Resurrection of the just and the unjust, shall not both the just and unjust see him who is the Judge? Read Matth. 25. 31. &c.

Again. P. 48 he saith, [No man upon the Earth can or ought to judge of the Doctrine of a Prophet, that hath a Commission from God.]

Observ. Cannot he judge, who hath the Anointing? Doth not he that is a Child of God receive his Spirit? and is not the Spirit of God able to judge in them that receive it? Judge not according to the appearance, (saith Christ) but judge righteous judgment, John 7. 24. Did Christ absolutely forbid men from Judging concerning him, or his Doctrine and Miracles; or did he not rather direct them how they might judge aright? I speak as to wise men, judge ye what I say, 1. Cor. 10 15. The Apostle had a Commission from God, and yet he did not barr men from judging of his Words, but bid them judge: and the same Apostle saith, Let the Prophets speak two or three, and let the others Judge, 1. Cor. 14. 29. Is the Spirit of God given to and received of the Believer, and shall he not therewith judge concerning Spirits and Doctrines and Commissions which pretend to be of him, and Apostles and Angels, whether they be Angels of Light indeed, or only such as would so appear? Believe not every Spirit, but try the Spirits, whether they are of God, 1 John 4. 1. And they which are of God, love to come to the Light which tries and makes manifest; but they that are not of God refuse to be tried by it. Thou hast tried them that say they are Apostles and are not, and hast found them Liars, Rev. 2. 2. God giveth that Light, that Spirit, that Anointing to his which hath in it ability to try, and they ought to try therewith Doctrines, Spirits, Prophets, Apostles; and certainly find thereby that they are of him before they receive them, or else they may easily be deceived? Despise not Prophesyings, saith the Apostle, 1 Thes. 5. 20. but yet withall, though a man may not despise them, yet neither may he receive them without due trial: therefore the Apostle in the next words adds, Prove all things, hold fast that which is Good, verse 21.

Further P. 48 he saith, [Who do you blind Quakers think should be judge of a Prophet that hath a Commission from God?]

Observ. What saith the Apostle? 1 Cor. 2. 10. The Spirit searcheth all things, yea the deep things of God. And again verse 15. The Spiritual man discerneth (or judgeth) all things, yet he himself is discerned of no man.

Yet again P. 48. he saith, [Is not a true Prophet the Law-giver? and ought not every one to submit unto his Law.

Observ. There is but one Law-giver, but one King, but one Lord, but one Master. All Prophets and Ministers from him, are but his Messengers and Servants, not Law-givers. The Law cometh forth from the King himself, from the great Prophet and Shepherd of the Soul, to every Lamb and sheep in the Covenant, as it is written, All thy Children shall be taught of the Lord (and I will write my Law in their hearts) and so taught by this Prophet (in the new and Living Covenant) as that they shall need no other Teacher. This was once fulfilled before the Apostacy (as is faithfully testified, 1 John 2. 27. The Anointing which ye have received of him, abideth in you; you; and ye need not that any man teach you, but as the ſame Anointing teacheth you of all things, &c.) and it is again fulfilled after it, bleſſed be the Name of the Holy one of Iſrael.

But mind Reader, what is the reaſon that he reviles us above all others, calling us blind, and the darkeſt peices to interpret Scriptures, and the curſedſt of all Sects, and the like, but becauſe we ſtand moſt in his way, becauſe we cannot receive him as a Law-giver, becauſe we have received the true Light, the true Spirit, and Anointing from God, which diſcovereth and denieth him in his very root and ground.

In P. 50. [He makes himſelf the Judge, and the day of Judgment but a day of general Execution, wherein Chriſt ſhall ſay, come you Bleſſed, and go you Curſed. He ſaith there ſhall be no more pleading with God, but this will be all that God will ſay in the Reſurrection Come you Bleſſed, and go you Curſed.]

Obſerv. Yes, there will be more ſaid. There will be the reaſon given publickly, why men are Bleſſed or Curſed, as was teſtified by Chriſt himſelf, while he was here on Earth, Matth. 25. 35. &c. And men ſhall have liberty to plead as is there expreſſed, verſe 44. So that Chriſt, the great Judge, is not ſo bound up, as he would bind him up: nor are Perſons, to be judged by him, abſolutely bound up from conſidering of their ſentence and pleading their cauſe with him; but if they have any thing to ſay of their own behalfs, they ſhall be equally heard.

In P. 60. he ſaith, [God doth not come down from Heaven upon this Earth to interpret Scriptures to men, but this was alwayes Gods practiſe to commiſſionate particular men, and furniſh them with gifts for that purpoſe; and what interpretations of Scriptures they give, it is owned of God as if he had done it himſelf.]

Obſerv. The Apoſtle ſaith, Every man is to ſtand or fall to his own Maſter, and bids every man to be fully perſwaded or aſſured in his own mind; and affirms, that whatſoever is not of Faith is Sin, Rom 14. 4, 5. and verſe 23. Nor did Chriſt deal thus with his Diſciples, requiring them to receive what ever interpretation of Scripture he would give them; but he opened their underſtanding that they might underſtand the Scriptures themſelves, and ſaith, the Spirit of Truth ſhould lead them into all Truth. Nor did the Apoſtles thus deal with men, but they waited for Gods opening of the true Capacity in others, and were not lords over mens Faith, but Demonſtrators of the Truth of God to mens Conſciences by his Spirit, and as in his ſight.

Again he ſaith, [Chriſt doth not teach every particular man, neither by his Spirit, nor by voice of words.]

Obſerv. Every man that is truly begotten and new-born to God, is born of his Spirit, John 3. (There is not another begetter and bringer forth of Life in the heart.) And the Spirit of the Lord, in the new Covenant, teacheth all its Children. It was written ſo of old, All thy Children ſhall be taught of God. How taught? Why, they ſhall hear and learn of the Father, John 6. 45. Thus the Scriptures ſpeak: and thus it is witneſſed, felt and known in the heart, bleſſed be the Name of the Lord. For the Children of the Lord are anointed with the holy anointing, with the Oyl of the ſame ſpirit (the ſame Oyl of gladneſs.) Pſal. 45. 7. and Hebr. 2. 11. wherewith Chriſt was anointed; which maketh them alſo of quick underſtanding in the fear of the Lord, and of deep inſight into the Myſteries of his Kingdom, as they grow up in his life, and ſweet innocent holy nature.

Yet again in that Page he ſaith, [The true and right interpretation of the Scriptures, it lieth in thoſe men that God hath choſen, anointed and ſealed for that purpoſe, and men cannot come to the knowledge of God, nor the true meaning of the Scriptures, no other way.]

Obſerv. The Goſpel is a miniſtration of the Spirit and Power of the endleſs life: and it conſiſts not in receiving words, but in receiving the Spirit from which the good words and precious knowledge come. And he that receives the Spirit, and hath the Spirit, receiveth and hath that which openeth and giveth entrance, not only into words concerning the Kingdom, but into the Kingdom it ſelf. And the Apostle, who had a true Commission from God, was not sent to limit Men to his Interpretation of Scriptures; but to turn Men to the Light, and to the Power, which gives to see the Scriptures, and Spiritual Things, Act. 26. 18. And the Church of Laodicea was counselled not only to buy Gold and Rayment; but also Eye-salve of Christ, that therewith they might be enabled to see, Rev. 3. 18. They had Words from those that were sent by God, and much Knowledge, (insomuch, as they seemed to themselves to be Rich and Full;) but yet they wanted the Eye-salve, which they were to buy themselves: For no Man is to offer any thing, but at his own Cost.

Yet again, in p. 60. he saith, [The Opening of the Scriptures belongs unto Commissionated Men, and not unto Christ himself.]

Observ. In the New-Covenant, God himself is the Shepherd, the King, the Prophet, the Teacher. (This is not known only from VVords left upon Record by holy Men of God; but also inwardly felt, and witnessed.) The Eternal VVord is nigh; nigher than Words from Commissionated Men; and teacheth more inwardly and fully, than Words from Men can. The same God, who creates the Heart anew, puts his Law into the Mind and Heart, yea, his Spirit within. Now, to this the Gospel-Ministers formerly did (and still do) direct and turn Men; but did not limit them to Words from themselves, or to their Interpretations of Scriptures, as was said before. And as, under the Law, Men were to hear Moses; so, under the Gospel, Men are to hear Christ in all things; and he that doth not hear Him, is to be cut off, as Act. 7. 37.

In p. 62. he saith, [Though the Prophets and Apostles were Anointed and Sealed of God for that great Work, Will it follow therefore, that you Quakers, because you Read their Writings, that you are Anointed and Sealed of God for the Work of the Ministry?]

Observ. Where was this ever affirmed by them? But this they certainly know, and faithfully testifie, That they have Received the very same Spirit in Measure, which the Prophets, and the Apostles had, and minister in its Name and Authority, and Demonstration; and have the true and living Seal of their Ministry in many Hearts.

In p. 17. he saith, [As for my Mouth being full of Cursing, that is my Commission. And, p. 18. God hath ordained me the Chief Judge in the World, at this Day, to give Sentence upon Men and Womens Spiritual and Eternal State, what will become of them after Death. Full of this Cursing I confess my Mouth is, and I do Rejoyce in it too, &c.]

Observ. When Christ pronounced Judgment upon Jerusalem, he did it VVeeping, Matth 24. 37, 38. and Luk. 19. 41, &c. And the true Apostle knew, that those that watched for the Soul, when they gave up the Account concerning such as did not submit to, and obey the Truth, but rebelled against it, and perished; they could not do it with Joy, but with Grief, Heb. 13. 17.

In p. 69. [He teacheth his Disciples to Curse Men to Eternity, despising Spirits he calls them; such he means, as do not own his Commission, but know it not to be of God, and faithfully testifie against it.]

Observ. Christ taught his Disciples to Bless, saying to them, Bless them that Curse you, Matth. 5. 44. And the Apostles said, Bless and Curse not, Rom. 12. 14. And Christ is the same at this Day, and teacheth his Disciples so now. Yea, I, and many others can faithfully witness it, that since we felt the Seed of Blessing in our Hearts, we never learned of it to Curse any Man; but rather to pity them, and pray to the Lord for them, and direct them to the Holy Light, Spirit, and Power; whereby they might be turned from their Iniquities, and come into the Blessing; as Acts 3. 26. And though he pretends, that those whom he Curses, have sinned the Sin against the Holy Ghost, and are Devils; yet that is but the Judgment of his Spirit, not of God's Spirit: For they are in that which keeps from grieving God's Spirit; much more from sinning the great and unpardonable Sin against it.

In p. 63. he saith, [Neither do I Curse any, until he judge me first.]

Observ. Feel, ye that have true Sense and Understanding, what moves him to Curse.

In p. 73. he saith, [If the Witness that informed me, did not witness Truth, then the Sentence which I have passed upon them, shall be of no value.]

Observ.

Observ. How often hath he affirmed his Judgment to be Infallible, and such as God himself could not Reverse? But here, it seems, it is such as may be passed by Hear-say, and depend upon the Witnesses words: So that, if the Witness that informed him spake Truth, it shall stand; but if the VVitness did not speak truth, then the Sentence which he hath passed, shall be of no value. What! Shall a Man be Commissionated, and receive Authority from God, to Judge Irreversibly, so as God himself cannot Pardon that Man he hath Judged (as he affirmeth;) and yet that Man not receive true Sense, Wisdom, and Understanding from God, to preserve him from misplacing it; but it may be a true Judgment, or a false Judgment, according as the Witnesses Information was? Ah, cease Deceit, and for shame be silent! Thy Covering is manifestly too narrow.

In p. 66. he saith, (speaking of the Penalty or Punishment of the Laws) [If my Innocency or Money will not deliver me, I must and will suffer under it.]

Observ. He hath took Scope enough, to avoid the Cross, or Suffering by any Laws, which might lay hold on him for Conscience-sake. The Apostles never saved themselves by Money, from their Suffering for their Testimony.

In p. 70. he saith, [Every Man that reads the Scriptures, doth think to find Eternal Life in them, as Christ said to the Jews, and as you Quakers, and others do now adayes.]

Observ. Do the Quakers think to find Eternal Life in the Scriptures? Did they ever teach Men so? Have they not very often faithfully testified otherwise? Not in words concerning the Thing, but in the Thing it self, in the Word which was in the Beginning, and from the Beginning, do they look to find Eternal Life: Yea, and there they have found it, and do live in the Life which is Eternal, and the Life which is Eternal lives in them. This Testimony hath the living Seal to it, (whereby it may be known by those that are truly living) and cannot be shaken. But he hath manifestly in this Thing (as in several others also) discovered himself to be a False Witness; and a False VVitness can never be a True Judge. Nay, Alas! his Judgment is of and like his Spirit, which manifestly is not of God; and his Knowledge, which he holds forth, leads not to God, nor to Life, but to the Chambers of Hell and Death.

Observations on some Passages in his Letter to Thomas Tayler.

IN Pag. 5. he saith, [I marvel what Satisfaction any Man can have in his Mind, in believing in a Quakers God; to tell a Man, That God abides in himself, and is what he is?]

Observ. Doth not God say to Moses concerning himself, I am that I am? When Moses desired to know how he should Answer the Israelites, when they should enquire who sent him to them, God bid him tell them, That I AM had sent him, Exod. 3. 14. How could the Israelites understand what God was by this? VVhat Satisfaction could they find in this Answer of Moses, would this Spirit say? But God is not to be known by the Description of Words of the Earthly Wisdom; but in his own feeling Spirit and Life.

In p. 11. he saith, concerning the Quakers, [That which Purifies your Hearts, is the Law written in your Seed of Nature, even the same as was written in the Angel-Serpent's Nature, before his Fall; which is no other but the Nature of Reason.]

Observ. This is not a true Testimony: For the Light wherewith Christ enlightneth the Soul, (to redeem and bring it back out of the Fall) is not of the Nature of Reason; but confounds Corrupt Reason, and brings it into the Dust; begetting the Soul into the Divine Wisdom, and giving it to partake of the Divine Nature. Yea, that which we are Born of, and Purified by, (as we sensibly feel, and truly understand) is not the Nature of the Serpent's Reason, but the Immortal VVord of God's Eternal Power; which doth that in us, and for us, which the Nature of Reaſon never did, nor can do in any.

Again, in p. 11. he ſaith very ſlightingly, and as untruly, concerning the Quakers, thus: [As for the Sins your Hearts are cleanſed from, they are no other but ſuch like as theſe; that is to ſay, To keep the Hat on the Head before a Magiſtrate, and to find fault with Gold-Lace, and a Piece of Ribbon, a Band-ſtring, and a Gold-Button; and to rend and tear Gold-Lace, and other Lace off their Cloths, and burn it; and to uſe the Language of Thee and Thou: He or She, that gets Thee or Thou perfectly, is a very good Quaker; they are gotten half way to the Quakers Heaven. Theſe, and ſuch like Righteouſneſs, is the Quakers Perfection, and all the Cleanſing of Heart they have, &c.

Obſerv. O thou Deſpiſer, Reproacher, and Be-lyar of the VVork of God, in the Hearts of his Children! Nay, nay, there are Thouſands, who in God's Preſence, can teſtifie againſt thee; that they have waited for, and received the Inward Cleanſing from the Filthineſs of Fleſh and Spirit, from the Inward Luſts and Motions of Sin in the Mind; having felt the Ax of the Lord, and the Two-edged Sword, which cutteth up Sin at the very Roots. But thou art ſo far from having thy Heart cleanſed, that thou art not yet cleanſed from Lying Lips; but bringeſt forth thy Falſe, Reproachful, Slanderous Teſtimony, againſt the Heritage of God, in the Sight of the Sun.

In p. 13. he ſaith further of the Quakers, [That they own no other Death of Chriſt, but what is within them; what ever they pretend by uſing the words of Scripture, &c.] Obſerv. They ſincerely, and in plainneſs of Heart, own and acknowledge the Death of that Body, which the Father prepared for his Son; in which he did the Fathers Will, in his Suffering without the Gates of Jeruſalem. Therefore, in this, he is a very falſe Witneſs, and therein hath groſly belyed the Quakers.

In p. 15. he ſaith, [You Quakers are the darkeſt Pieces to Interpret Scripture, of any other Opinions in the World; for you will name Places of Scripture, but never Interpret any, &c.] Obſerv. It is better to bring Men to that which opens the Mind to underſtand the Scriptures, than to give Men Interpretations of Words, or Things, beyond their Capacity. Yet the Spirit of the Lord, in and through many called Quakers, doth often open many Scriptures in Clearneſs and Demonſtration to others. (Read the Book, called Goſpel-Liberty, or the Royal Law of Love; and ſee if many Scriptures be not therein opened to the loweſt Capacity.) But the Lord hath given them the true Skill and Underſtanding; and they are not to open to, and feed that in Men, which the Lord hath appointed to be famiſhed. Yet if they did not open Scriptures, the Scriptures are plain to him that hath an Underſtanding.

Now, for a Cloſe; I ſhall add ſomewhat of the Teſtimony, which is written in my Heart, by the Finger of God's Spirit, concerning the People called Quakers.

Indeed, they have met with many Reproaches, and ſore Oppoſitions many wayes, ſince they were a People: But notwithſtanding all, their Bow abides in Strength, and the Hands of their Arms have been made ſtrong againſt the Wicked One, with all his Devices in his ſeveral kinds of Inſtruments: And their Light is ſtill the ſame, and their God the ſame; who bleſſeth them from day to day, even in the mid'ſt of all the Revilings, Slanders, Perſecutions and Curſes, which they have met with from Men without; and in the midſt of all the Temptations, inward Tryals, and Afflictions alſo, which are often met with inwardly. Yea, we know him to be our God, and cannot but truſt in him, having found him to be Faithful to us hitherto, and knowing his Nature to be ſuch, that he cannot but continue his loving-Kindneſs and Faithfulneſs, to all who are gathered by him into his holy, inward, ſpiritual Covenant of Life and Peace, and who dwells with him therein. And truly, we are fully ſatisfied, and at reſt in him; and cannot deſire another, than He who hath Redeemed our Souls from Death, given us Life, brought us out of the Pit wherein was no Water, into a large Place, ſet our Feet upon a Rock, (a Rock indeed) and eſtabliſheth our Goings in the Path of Holineſs, working all our VVorks in us, and for us, by his Spirit and Power. Yea, we have the VVitneſs in our Hearts, even the VVitneſs neſs which never erred nor can deceive, which teſtifieth to and with our ſpirits our Sonſhip: ſo that we do not imagine our ſelves ſons from apprehenſions upon Scriptures, but we feel our ſelves ſons in the true ſenſibleneſs, and know who David is, and reap and inherit the ſure mercies of David daily, O bleſſed be our Father, O bleſſed for ever be the Father of Life, who feeds, who nouriſhes, who waters, who refreſhes (with the Bread of Life and with the pure living Water) his Lambs, his Babes, his Plants, his tender Ones, of whom he is daily tender, and who are daily tender of his Name and Honour. And if any man preach another God, than he who creates anew in the true Light, and therein puts forth his arm of Salvation, death and deſtruction, and the curſe are his portion from the hand of the Lord.

Now, O people, any of you that reads this mans writings and admire them; what ſpirit are ye of! what is it in you that reliſheth them? what do they feed in you? Not the true Birth, I am ſure: but that in you which muſt periſh, and come into death and deſtruction, if ever your Souls be ſaved. I ſpeak ſenſibly, and from the true underſtanding and experience which God hath given me: yea I certainly know, that the knowledge and notions which he holds forth, are not pure, nor able to cleanſe the heart of any that receives them.

And all people, that truly love your Souls, and deſire the Salvation thereof, O wait on God that ye may be enabled by him rightly to diſtinguiſh, between receiving notions concerning God and Chriſt, and feeling and receiving the Power which effectually redeems from ſin and death: for deceit may enter in at the one, but cannot at the other. The Enemy hath all deceivableneſs of unrighteouſneſs, to paint as if it were righteouſneſs, and appear in, and to enter and poſſeſs the mind by: but he is excluded the redeeming power. He that feels that which renews his heart to God, and breaks the power and ſtrength of luſts and temptations in him, and brings him into ſubjection to the Truth, which from God lives in the hearts of thoſe that receive it in the vertue, life and power of it: here his devices and deceits are at an end, and here the elect Sheep feel the hand of the Father, which is ſtronger than all, which none can pluck out of. Here is the Fold, here is the ſafe dwelling place, whither the Lord leadeth, and where he preſerveth his Lambs and Children, and there is not another.

Now as for him (notwithſtanding all that he hath done againſt the Lord and againſt his dear people) ſo far am I from wiſhing any harm unto him, that I could wiſh with all my heart, that it were poſſible for him to come to a true ſenſe of the true Light of God, his Spirit; that by it he might examine, wherein he hath provoked and ſinned againſt the Lord, that the Lord ſhould thus leave him, not only to be deceived himſelf, but to become an head or root of deceit to others, and ſo to bring the blood of many Souls upon him, which will be his bitter burthen and miſery in the day of the Lord upon him, when the Lord ſhall rebuke him for blaſpheming his Name, his Light, his Spirit, and ſhall juſtifie (in the ſight of men and Angels) thoſe to be his Heritage and everlaſtingly dear unto him, whom he hath reproached, miſrepreſented and curſed unto eternity: but they are gathered by God into the Bleſſed Seed (which he knoweth not, nor in his ſpirit, nor by this Commiſſion, ſhall ever know) where he cannot curſe, nor can his malice reach or touch them, but they therein are bleſſed for evermore, Amen.

A brief account of my Souls Travel towards the Holy Land, and how at length it pleased the Lord to joyn my heart to his pure, holy, living Truth (wherein I have witnessed the New Covenant, and peace with the Lord therein) with a few words concerning the Way of knowing and receiving the Truth: which is not done by disputes and reasonings of the mind about it, but in waiting aright for the Demonstration and Power of Gods Spirit to open the heart and understanding, and by submissive obedience to it, even in its lowest appearances, in the inward parts.

MY Heart from my childhood, was pointed towards the Lord, whom I feared and longed after from my tender years; wherein I felt, that I could not be satisfied with (nor indeed seek after) the things of this perishing World which naturally pass away; but I desired true sense of and unity with that, which abideth for ever. There was somewhat indeed then still with me (even the Seed of Eternity) which leavened and ballanced my spirit almost continually: but I knew it not distinctly, so as to turn to it and give up to it, entirely and understandingly. In this temper of mind I earnestly sought after the Lord, applying my self to hear Sermons and read the best Books I could meet with, but especially the Scriptures, which were very sweet and savory to me: yea I very earnestly desired and pressed after the knowledge of the Scriptures, but was much afraid of receiving mens interpretations of them, or of fastning any interpretation upon them my self; but waited much and prayed much, that from the Spirit of the Lord I might receive the true understanding of them, and that he would chiefly endue me with that Knowledge, which I might feel sanctifying and saving. And indeed I did sensibly receive of his Love, of his Mercy and of his Grace, which I felt still freely to move towards me, and at seasons when I was most filled with the sense of my own unworthiness, and had least expectations of the manifestation of them. But I was exceedingly entangled about Election and Reprobation (having drunk in that Doctrine, according as it was then held forth by the strictest of those that were termed Puritans, and as then seem'd to be very manifest and positive from, Rom. 9, &c.) fearing, lest notwithstanding all my desires and seekings after the Lord, he might in his decree have passed me by: and I felt it would be bitter to me to bear his Wrath and be separated from his Love for evermore; yet, if he had so decreed, it would be, and I should (notwithstanding these fair beginnings and hopes) fall away and perish at the last. In this great trouble and grief (which was much added to by not finding the Spirit of God so in me and with me, as I had read and believed the former Christians had it) and in mourning over and grapling with secret corruptions and temptations, I spent many years, and fell into great weakness of body; and often casting my self upon my Bed, did wring my hands and weep bitterly, begging earnestly of the Lord, daily, that I might be pitied by him and helped against my enemies, and be made conformable to the Image of his Son, by his own renewing Power. And indeed at last (when my nature was almost spent, and the pit of despair was even closing its mouth upon me) mercy sprang and deliverance came, and the Lord my God owned me and sealed his Love unto me, and light sprang within me, which made not only the Scriptures, but the very outward creatures glorious in my eye, so that every thing was sweet and pleasant and lightsom round about me. But I soon felt, that this estate was too high and glorious for me, and I was not able to abide in it, it so overcame my natural spirits: wherefore, blessing the Name of the Lord for his great goodness to me, I prayed unto him to take that from me which I was not able to bear, and to give me such a proportion of his light and presence, as was sutable to my present state, and might fit me for his service. Whereupon this was presently removed from me, yet a ſavour remained with me, wherein I had ſweetneſs and comfort and refreſhment for a long ſeaſon. But my mind did not then know, how to turn to and dwell with that which gave me the ſavour, nor rightly to read what God did daily write in my heart which ſufficiently manifeſted it ſelf to be of him, by its living vertue and pure operation upon me: but I looked upon the Scriptures to be my rule, and ſo would weigh the inward appearances of God to me, by what was outwardly written, and durſt not receive any thing from God immediately, as it ſprang from the Fountain, but only in that mediate way. Herein did I limit the holy One of Iſrael, and exceedingly hurt my own Soul, as I afterwards felt and came to underſtand. Yet the Lord was tender to me and condeſcended exceedingly, opening Scriptures to me freſhly every day, teaching and inſtructing, warming and comforting my heart thereby: and truly he did help me to pray, and to believe, and to love him and his appearances in any, yea to love all the Sons of men, and all his creatures, with a true love. But that in me which knew not the appearances of the Lord in my Spirit, but would limit him to words of Scriptures formerly written, that proceeded yet further, and would be raiſing a fabrick of knowledge out of the Scriptures, and gathering a perfect rule (as I thought) concerning my heart, my words, my wayes, my worſhip: and according to what I thus drank in (after this manner, from the Scriptures) I practiſed, and with much ſeriouſneſs of Spirit and Prayer to God fell a helping to build up an Independent Congregation, wherein the ſavour of Life and the preſence of God was freſh with me, as (I believe) there are yet ſome alive of that Congregation can teſtifie.

This was my ſtate, when I was ſmitten, broken and diſtreſſed by the Lord, confounded in my worſhip, confounded in my knowledge, ſtripped of all in one day, (which it is hard to utter) and was matter of amazement to all that beheld me. I lay open and naked to all that would enquire of me, and ſtrive to ſearch out, what might be the cauſe the Lord ſhould deal ſo with me. They would at Firſt be jealous that I had ſinned and provoked him ſo to do: but when they had ſcanned things throughly, and I had opened my heart nakedly to them, I do not remember any one that ever retained that ſence concerning me. My Soul remembreth the VVormwood and Gall, the exceeding bitterneſs of that ſtate, and is ſtill humbled in me in the remembrance of it before the Lord. O how did I wiſh with Job, that I might come before him and bowingly plead with him: for indeed I had no ſence of any guilt upon me, but was ſick of Love towards him, and as one violently rent from the boſom of his Beloved! O how gladly would I have met with death! for I was weary all the day long and afraid of the night, and weary alſo of the night-ſeaſon, and afraid of the enſuing day. I remember my grievous and bitter mournings to the Lord; how often did I ſay, O Lord, why haſt thou forſaken me? why haſt thou broken me to pieces? I had no delight but thee, no deſire after any but thee. My heart was bent wholly to ſerve thee, and thou haſt even fitted me (as appeared to my ſence) by many deep exerciſes and experiences for thy ſervice, why doſt thou make me thus miſerable! Sometimes I would caſt mine eye upon a Scripture, and my heart would even melt within me: at other times I would deſire to pray to my God, as I had formerly done; but I found I knew him not, and I could not tell how to pray, or in any wiſe to come neer him, as I had formerly done. In this condition I wandered up and down from Mountain to Hill, from one ſort to another, with a cry in my ſpirit, Can ye tell news of my Beloved? where doth he dwell? where doth he appear? but their voices were ſtill ſtrange to me, and I ſhould retire ſad and oppreſſed, and bowed down in ſpirit from them.

Now ſurely, all ſerious, ſober, ſenſible people, will be ready to enquire, how I came ſatisfyingly to know the Lord at length: or whether I do yet certainly know him, and am yet truly ſatisfied?

Yes indeed, I am ſatisfied at my very heart. Truly my heart is united to him whom I longed after, in an everlaſting Covenant of pure Life and Peace.

Well then, how came this about? will ſome ſay,

VVhy thus. The Lord opened my ſpirit, the Lord gave me the certain and ſenſible feeling of the pure Seed, which had been with me from the beginning, the Lord cauſed his holy Power to fall upon me, and gave me ſuch an inward demonſtration and feeling of the Seed of Life, that I cried out in my ſpirit, This is he, This is he; there is not another, there never was another. He was alwayes near me, though I knew him not (not ſo ſenſible, not ſo diſtinctly, as now he was revealed in me and to me by the Father) O that I might now be joyned to him, and he alone might live in me. And ſo in the willingneſs, which God had wrought in me (in this day of his Power to my Soul) I gave up to be inſtructed, exerciſed and led by him, in the waiting for and feeling of his holy Seed, that all might be wrought out of me which could not live with the Seed, but would be hindring the dwelling and reigning of the ſeed in me, while it remained and had power. And ſo I have gone through a ſore travel, and fight of afflictions and temptations, of many kinds; wherein the Lord hath been mercifull to me in helping me and preſerving the ſpark of Life in me, in the midſt of many things which had befallen me, whoſe nature tended to quench and extinguiſh it.

Now thus having met with the true VVay, and walked with the Lord therein, wherein daily-certainty, yea and full aſſurance of Faith and of underſtanding is at length obtained; I cannot be ſilent (true Love and pure Life ſtirring in me and moving me) but am neceſſitated to teſtifie of it to others: and this is it, To retire inwardly and wait to feel ſomewhat of the Lord, ſomewhat of his holy ſpirit and Power, diſcovering and drawing from that which is contrary to him, and into his holy Nature and Heavenly Image. And then, as the mind is joyned to this, ſomewhat is received, ſome true Life, ſome true Light, ſome true Diſcerning; which the Creature not exceeding (but abiding in the meaſure of) is ſafe: but it is eaſie erring from this, but hard abiding with it, and not going before its leadings. But he that feels Life and begins in Life, doth he not begin ſafely? and he that waits, and fears, and goes on no further than his Captain goes before him, doth he not proceed ſafely? yea very ſafely, even till he cometh to be ſo ſetled and eſtabliſhed in the Virtue, Demonſtration and power of Truth, as nothing can prevail to ſhake him. Now, bleſſed be the Lord, there are many at this day, who can truly and faithfully witneſs, that they have been brought by the Lord to this ſtate. And thus have we learned of the Lord, to wit, not by the high ſtriving, aſpiring mind: but by lying low and being contented with a little. If but a crum of Bread (yet if bread) if but a drop of Water (yet if water) we have been contented with it, and alſo thankfull to the Lord for it: Nor by thoughtfulneſs, and wiſe ſearching and deep conſidering with our own wiſdom and reaſon have we obtained, but in the ſtill, meek, and humble waiting, have we found that brought into the death, which is not to know the Myſteries of Gods Kingdom, and that which is to live, made alive and increaſe in Life.

Therefore he that would truly know the Lord, let him take heed of his own reaſon and underſtanding; I tried this way very far: for I conſidered moſt ſeriouſly and uprightly; I prayed, I read the Scriptures, I earneſtly deſired to underſtand and find out whether that, which this people (called Quakers) teſtified of, was the only VVay and Truth of God (as they ſeemed to me but to pretend:) but for all this, prejudices multiplied upon me, and ſtrong reaſonings againſt them, which appeared to me as unanſwerable. But when the Lord revealed his Seed in me and touched my heart therewith, which adminiſtred true Life and Virtue to me, I preſently felt them there the Children of the Moſt High, and ſo grown up in his Life, Power and holy Dominion (as the inward eye being opened by the Lord, ſees) as drew forth from me great reverence of heart, and praiſes to the Lord, who had ſo appeared among men in theſe latter dayes. And as God draweth, in any reſpect, O give up in faithfulneſs to him. Deſpiſe the ſhame, take up the Croſs: for indeed it is a way which is very croſs to man, and which his wiſdom will exceedingly be aſhamed of; but that muſt be denied and turned from, and the ſecret ſenſible drawings of Gods ſpirit waited for and given up to. Mind people, He that will come into the new Covenant, muſt come into the obedience of it. The Light of Life, which God hath hid in the Heart, is the Covenant; and from this Covenant God doth not give knowledge to ſatisfie the vaſt, aſpiring comprehending wiſdom of man; but living knowledge to feed that which is quickned by him: which knowledge is given in the obedience, & is very ſweet and precious to the ſtate of him, that knows how to feed upon it. Yea truly, this is of a very excellent, pure, precious nature, and a little little of it weighs down that great, vaſt Knowledg in the Comprehending Part, which the Man's Spirit and Nature ſo much prizeth and preſſeth after. And truly, Friends, I witneſs at this day, a great Difference between the Sweetneſs of comprehending the Knowledge of things, as expreſſed in the Scriptures, (this I fed much on formerly) and taſting the hidden Life, the hidden Manna in the Heart; (which is my Food now, bleſſed for ever be the Lord my God, and Saviour.) O that others had a true, certain, and ſenſible Taſte of the Life, Virtue, and Goodneſs of the Lord, as it is Revealed there! Surely, it could not but kindle the true Hunger, and enflame the true Thirſt; which can never be ſatisfied but by the True Bread, and by Water from the Living Fountain. This the Lord (in the Tenderneſs of his Love, and in the Riches of his Grace and Mercy) hath brought us to; and this we earneſtly and uprightly deſire and endeavour, that others may be brought to alſo; that they may rightly (in the true ſilence of the Fleſh, and in the pure ſtilneſs of Spirit) wait for, and in the Lord's due time receive that, which anſwers the Deſire of the awakened Mind and Soul, and ſatisfies it with the true precious Subſtance for evermore, Amen.

To the ROYAL SOCIETY, ſo termed.

FRIENDS,

I Have heard that ye are ſeeking after the Excellency of Nature and Learning. I am not for Diſcouraging any Man, in endeavouring after that which is Good, Uſeful, and Excellent in its kind and place: But it is the Advantage of every thing, to know and abide in its place; and to honour and serve Him, from whom all good Gifts and Endowments come. Man hath but a Moment in this World, and he is here no more and then the Spirit returneth to God that gave it, to give an account of the Talent which he gave it; and its Improvement thereof, to the Glory of Him that gave it, and to the Salvation of its own Soul. Now, this Talent is of an higher kind than Nature, and will lead higher than Nature; giving a Man to partake of that Wisdom, from which Nature came; and teaching him to order all that is Natural, to its right End: For God is not an Enemy to Nature, but to the Corruption and Disorder of Nature. I desire ye might know and partake of the true Wisdom, and feel Union with God in the Principle of his own Life; and in the Incorruptible and Heavenly Seed of God, receive Dominion over the Earthly and Corruptible. For this end singly, in the Love springing up in my Heart towards you, (as it often doth, both towards particular Persons and Societies: For I am a Friend to all, and a Lover of all; sincerely desiring the Good of all, and the right Guidance of their Souls to Happiness) have I proposed these things following more particularly to your View, though they concern others also, that ye thereby might be awakened to search after that which is most Excellent in you, and be acquainted with the Virtue, and precious Effects thereof, to the full Satisfaction, and compleat Joy of your Souls, in that which alone is able fully to satisfie, and give them ground of durable Joy and Rejoycing, in that which is not of a perishing Nature; but which was, and is, and will be the same for ever.

From a Friend to the Everlasting Peace of your Souls, and a Desirer of your Welfare and Prosperity in this World,

ISAAC PENINGTON.

Of Certainty, and rightly-grounded Assurance, in Matters of Religion.

THere is a Witness of and from God in every Conscience, which in his Light, Power, and Authority witnesseth for him, and against that which is contrary to him, as he pleaseth to move upon it; visiting and drawing the Hearts of the Sons of Men by it.

From this Witness proceeds the true and well-grounded Religion in the Mind towards God: For this Witness both testifieth and demonstrateth, that there is a God; and also, inclineth the Mind to desire and seek after the right Knowledge, and true Worship of Him.

And such who keep to this Witness, and wait upon God therein, are taught by it the true Spiritual Worship, the true and pure Fear of the Most High; the Faith which he giveth to his Saints, the Love which is chast and unfeigned, the Hope which Purifieth the Mind, and Anchors it on the Eternal Rock; the Meekness, Patience, Gentleness, Humility, &c. which is not of Man's Nature; but the Gift of God, and the Nature of the Heavenly Giver.

And then for Exercises of Religion, as, Praying to the Father of Spirits, Hearing the Heavenly Voice, Reading in the Spirit, and with the renewed Understanding; Singing, and making Melody in the Heart (and also with the Voice) to the Lord, as his Life is felt, and the Spiritual Blessings and Treasure received: All these, and whatever else is judged necessary for the Soul, are taught by this Witness of God in the Conscience; as the Soul groweth up in the Light, Spirit, Nature, and Holy Power thereof.

But now, when the Lord reacheth to his Witness in Men, and is teaching their Hearts by it; then the Enemy, the other Spirit, whose Seat is in the other Part, keepeth a Noise there, to over-bear the Voice of the Witness, and to make Men take up Religion in another Part; which is shallow, and reacheth not to the Depth and and Weight of Truth, which is in the Witneſs of God, and which the Witneſs of God gives to them that come thither.

Thus the Enemy ſtirreth up Reaſonings, Imaginations, and Conſultations about God, and his Worſhip; wherein he raiſeth up the vain, ſhallow Mind, forging and bringing forth ſomewhat pleaſing & ſuitable to the earthly Underſtanding; taking up the Mind therewith, and engaging the Heart in ſome ſuch Practiſes there-from, as may quiet and ſatisfie that Part in Men. For the wayes that Men take up in their Reaſonings and Underſtandings, ſatisfie their Reaſonings and Underſtandings; and ſo they walk in the Light of the Sparks, and warm themſelves by the Fire of their own kindling: But all this anſwers not the Witneſs of God in them, nor will be approved by his Light in their own Conſciences, when it comes again to be revealed, and made manifeſt in them.

This was the Ground of the Error both of the Jews and Gentiles.

The Gentiles were enlightned by God with his true Light; what might be known of God (ſuitable to their State and Capacity) being manifeſted in them, inſomuch as it is witneſſed concerning them in the Scriptures, (which are a true Record and Teſtimony) That they knew God. But when they knew Him, they glorified Him not as God; but became vain in their Imaginations, and ſo their Fooliſh Heart was darkned concerning him: And they worſhipped him not as the Witneſs taught them he was to be worſhipped, not according to the Manifeſtation of his Light in them; but according to their own fooliſh Imaginations and Reaſonings, which taught them to make Images of him; and ſo to worſhip him in and through Creatures, according to their own Inventions, which is not the true Worſhip, Rom. 1. 21, 22, 23.

So likewiſe, the Jews, not keeping to the Manifeſtation of his Light within them, (to the Word or Commandment nigh in the Mouth and Heart, to which Moſes directed them) which would have taught and enabled them to have kept to the Law of the Letter without them; they alſo ran into the Nature and Spirit of the Heathen, and fell into Imaginings and Reaſonings, which led them to worſhip like them: Inſomuch, that they alſo changed their Glory into the Image of an Oxe, that eateth Graſs, Pſal. 106. 20.

Now, from this Part in Man ariſeth all the Uncertainty, and Doubts, and Diſſatisfaction about Religion. And hence ariſes the Opinions, and Judgments, and Reaſonings in the the Minds of Men. Yea, indeed, the beſt of Mens Religion here, is but an Opinion or Judgment, which the Breath of God's Spirit will ſhake and diſſolve every where, ſooner or later. All Fleſh is Graſs; and all the Beauty of Men's Knowledge, Religion, and Worſhip here, will wither like Graſs. All the Buildings and Churches that are Raiſed here, (how Beautiful ſoever) are but Babylon, built by Man's Underſtanding, by Man's Knowledge, by Man's Comprehenſion, by Man's Wiſdom, by Man's Skill, and indeed, in Man's Will and Time: And their Standing, Beauty, Strength, and Glory, is but from Man, and in Man's Day; and will fade away like a Flower.

But the true Certainty is in the Day of God, from the Light of his Spirit ſhining into Man's Spirit, from God's inward Reaching to his Heart by his Power, and teſtifying his Truth there. And this, all the Powers of Darkneſs cannot prevail againſt, in it ſelf; no, nor againſt that Man that is kept to it. For, it is the Rock (the only Rock) upon which the whole Church is Built; and which cannot fail to Preſerve every Member of the Church, which is Built upon it.

Ye then, which would come to Certainty in Religion, obſerve the Way, which is made manifeſt from God in this our Day, bleſſed be his Name; which is this: Mind the Witneſs of God in thy Heart, and come to, and build upon the Light thereof. Dwell not in Reaſonings, take not up thy Religion in Reaſonings of the Mind; but paſs through them, paſs beyond them into a Light of an higher Nature. Wait to know the Birth which is from God, and the Light which he gives to that Birth. What is the Birth? Is not the Birth of, and from the Second Adam? And, What is the Heavenly Birth's Light? Is it not the Light of the Second Adam? Is it not, in nature and kind, above the Light of the Firſt Adam? Where is the Seat of Reaſonings? Is it not the Earthly Mind, the Fallen Mind? Here lies Man's Strength, Here is Man's Wiſdom. Here is Man's Life. It is ſo indeed. But the VViſdom of Christ, the Light of Christ, the Life of Christ, the Power of Christ, is a Cross to this; finds it in the Enmity against God, crucifies it, slays it, brings it to nothing: And he that will become VVise as to God, must become a Fool unto all this, a Child, a Babe, entring the Kingdom without this; and must there remain Naked as to this, and never put it on more.

Now observe (ye that have Understanding, and true Sense) the Difference between the Religion which God hath taught us, and led us into, and the Religions of all Men upon the Earth besides.

Our Religion stands wholly out of that, which all their Religion stands in. Their Religion stands in the Comprehension, in a Belief of a literal Relation or Description. Our Religion stands in a Principle, which changeth the Mind, wherein the Spirit of Life appeareth to, and witnesseth in the Conscience to, and concerning the things of the Kingdom; where we hear the Voice, and see the express Image of the Invisible One, and know things not from an outward Relation, but from their inward Nature, Virtue, and Power. Yea, here (we must profess) we so know things, that we are fully satisfied about them, and could not doubt concerning them, though there had never been Word or Letter written of them; though indeed, it is also a great Comfort, and sweet Refreshment to us, to read that testified of outwardly, which (through the tender Mercy of our God) we feel and injoy inwardly. And in this our whole Religion consists, to wit, In the Silence and Death of the Flesh, and in the quickning and flowing Life of the Spirit. For he who is of the New-Birth, of the New-Creation, of the Second Adam, (the Lord from Heaven) is as really alive to God, and as really Lives to him in his Spirit, as ever he was really Dead in Trespasses and Sins, in the time of his Alienation and Estrangement from God.

Of Tenderness of Spirit, and Persecution.

He which is Born of God, he who is of the Love, and dwells in the Love, cannot but be tender. He who is Born of the earthly VVisdom, who taketh up and holdeth forth a Religion there, cannot but Persecute. VVhy so? Because he cannot but judge, that any man may take up Religion as he hath done, and so by reasonings may come to acknowledg and take up, what he hath taken up and holdeth forth; or else he is willful, and stubborn, as he judgeth. But now, he that is Born of God, and hath received his Light, Knowledg, Religion and way of VVorship from him; He knoweth that no man can rightly receive them, but the same way, to wit, from God, by the Light which he causeth to shine into the heart at his pleasure, and in the Faith which he gives. So that God's free and powerful Spirit is to be waited upon, for the working of all in his people, and not any forced to Act beyond, or contrary to the Principle of his Life and Light in them.

A Query Concerning Separation.

Quer. VVhether after the Apostacy from the Spirit, Life, and Power of the Apostles, and the getting up of the Antichristian State, Church, and VVorship, there must not of necessity be a separation from all these, before there can be a recovery of the Life and Power again, and of the true Church-state, which was brought forth in the days of the Apostles? Must there not be a perfect coming out of the Corrupt State (in the whole Nature, several parts and degrees of it) before there can be a Restoration to, and witnessing of the true and pure State? Must not the Christians now come out of all the Antichristian Inventions and Churches, as well as the Christians of Old came out of all the Heathenish VVorships, yea, out of the Jewish VVorship and Church (which once was of God) before they can become an holy Building, an Habitation to God in the Spirit? Yea, doth not the same spirit, which cryed to the People of God then, Come out from among them, and be ye separate, &c. call and cry now, Come out of her, my People, out of Babylon, out of the false Church, out of all the Antichristian Buildings, which are reared up after the several forms and ways of mens Inventing, being out of the Spirit, Life, and Power, which which alone is able to Build up in and unto the Lord? And what is that which cries out against separation, in this day of the Lords dividing and separating, but that spirit which would hold back the soul, from being gathered to the Lord, in the Chains of Darkness and in the Land of Death and Confusion?

O that men knew that which divides and separates, and which is appointed by God to divide and separate both inwardly and outwardly, and might feel the full work and Effect of it, even perfect separation from all that is not of God, that so they might be joyned to him and built up in him, who is the Life, Rest, Peace, Joy, and pure Breath of the Soul for ever! The VVord of God is quick and powerful, sharper than any two-edged Sword; and what doth it do? VVhy, it separates between Nation and Nation, between Church and Church, between People and People, between Cattel and Cattel, between Soul and Soul, yea, between the Thoughts and Intents of the same Heart, owning and cherishing all that is of the pure, and condemning and destroying all that is of the impure. And happy, O for ever happy is he, who can witness the work of this word perfected in his soul, even the Axe of the Lord powerfully laid to, and having cut down all that is corrupt in him; that the pure Plant of God may flourish, and bring forth Fruit in him in Peace, without Annoyance or Interruption of the Impure. Then the River of Life as the Streams of everlasting Righteousness shall flow into his Vessel, and Jerusalem become in and to him a quiet Habitation, and nothing be able to hurt or destroy any thing of Life in him, who dwells in, and abides on the Mountain of God's Holiness. O blessed is the Race of Travellers, which in the pure Light of the everlasting day are travelling thitherwards, even with their hearts and faces faithfully bent towards Sion, which is the Holy, Spiritual, Heavenly Hill of God! And blessed, O blessed for ever, is the Lord God of Life and Power, who is the Faithful Guider, Leader and Conducter, of all that follow the footsteps of the flock, in the way which is Pure, True, Living, and Everlasting.

Concerning the washing away of Sin from the Conscience, and the Garment of Salvation, and what it is that is covered therewith.

There is somewhat appointed by God to wash away Sin, which is the VVater of Regeneration, the VVater of Life, the Spirit's VVater, and the Blood of the Lamb, which are known, received and felt by Faith in the Light of the Spirit, wherein alone his work is wrought.

Thus now, upon believing the Soul is washed; The Faith brings in or lets in the Water and Blood, which cleanse and purg the Conscience from the Sin, which before stained and defiled it: And according to the Faith, so is the VVater and Blood let in, and accordingly is the washing. And he that is Baptized, he that is washed by the spirit, comes out of the water clean, and watching to the Light wherein he was purified, witnesseth the powerful word of Life as able to preserve in cleanness, as it was to cleanse.

But if there be not a watch to, and Faith in, and single-hearted Obedience to that which purified, and keepeth pure, there is that near which will defile, where it is hearkned to and let in, there is that which will tempt to lust and Sin, and so draw into darkness and death again. And if any man sin afterwards, sin defiles again, and the stain thereof will lye upon the Conscience; till by Repentance and Faith, the Water and Blood be let in again, and the cleansing Virtue from it received and restored again. So if any Man sin, there is an Advocate, an Intercessor, a Divine Helper, one who hath the Water of Life, and the Blood of Life to wash with. There is a Fountain set open for Sin and for Uncleanness, for Judah and Jerusalem to wash therefrom: But every defilement and pollution sticks, until it be washed off.

But this is not the state of them that sin wilfully, after they have received the Knowledge of Truth.

Now there are sins of several kinds. Some are easily remitted and washed off, insomuch as the stain is hardly felt by the Soul, the tender Mercy and pure Life doth so readily and naturally flow over them. Some again are long held and bound by the Spirit upon the Conscience, and often remembred to the heart, which is apt to backslide:

slide: Yea there is in some cases a severe judgment, and a long waiting on the Lord for his mercy, and for his renewing and enlivening of Faith, before the Water and Blood which washeth can be again felt. For Faith is not in a Man's power, nor Repentance neither; but they are given of God to whom and when he pleaseth. And a man that is in part converted, may give ear to the Enemy, and let in sin and death upon his soul: but he cannot repent again presently, nor believe again presently, but as God breaths upon him, and revives the work of Faith and Repentance in him.

There were Sins under the Old Covenant, and there are Sins under the New, or against the Law of the New. The Sins of the Old Covenant did lie upon him that committed them, until they were expiated according to the Law of the Old Covenant; & sins under the New Covenant lie also upon the Soul and Conscience, until they be expiated according to the Law of the New Covenant, which is until the Advocate interpose and plead with the Father, and give Faith & Repentance to the Soul, and sprinkle upon the heart and conscience that Water and Blood which hath virtue in it to wash. And if it were not for this after-washing (as I may so say) no man could be saved: But though he were once washed, yet sinning again afterwards, he would die in his sins (and so under Condemnation) unless he were again washed. O blessed be the Name of the Lord for the Water and Blood of the Covenant, and for his continual pouring them out upon the Souls of his, in the Light that is Eternal!

Now as men come to the Truth as it is in Jesus, they will find their own apprehensions about these things to have been but dreams, wherewith the Enemy hath fed and pleased them, while he hath lulled them asleep in the Night of Darkness, that he might the better steal away the true weighty knowledg of the things of the Kingdom from them. Thus men have dreamed about Justification, about Sanctification, about Regeneration, about Redemption, about Faith, Hope, Love, Righteousness, Peace, Joy, &c. And have been mistaken about them, missing of that Power and Light whereby and wherein they are revealed and made manifest. Now he that will rightly know these things, must know them in the feeling and true experience: And therein he shall find all these are wrought in a mysterious way of pure Life's operation, out of the reach of man's comprehension; and that no Man can understand them, but as the New and Holy understanding is given him; nor retain the sense and knowledge of them, but as he abides in the new nature, and retaines the new understanding.

So for the Garment of Salvation; that is Christ, the Righteousness of Christ, the Nature of Christ, the Spirit of Christ. This is the holy covering. He that puts on Christ, puts on this: He that wears Christ, wears this: he that appears before God in Christ, appears in this. And the Soul puts on this, as it puts off the other. It is the purified Soul, that only puts on him that is pure: And as a man is cleansed from the impure, so only hath he in him a capacity of receiving and being cloathed with Christ. And this now is the work of the true Ministry, to wit, to preach the Word, to reveal the Word, and bring the Mind to the Word (which changeth it, and begets the new capacity) and so to begin the work of Life and Reconciliation, wherein and whereby there is some uncloathing of the Old, and and some cloathing with the New; and so to carry on this Work in the Spirit and Power of the Father, until it be perfected. And this is a blessed work, and blessed is the Ministry which is called to and entrusted with this work, being faithfull in it: and blessed are they that witness the truth of, and receive the effect of this Ministry, and are subject to it in the Lord. For through and under this Ministry, there is a receiving of a perfect gift in some measure at first (wherein some true union and little acquaintance with the Lord of Life is at first witnessed) and some operation of the Light and Power of his holy Spirit: And a growing up in it unto perfection, as the Soul is exercised by it, and faithful to the Lord in the exercise, under the daily Cross, which daily worketh against and crucifieth in the Heart, Mind, Life and Conversation what ever is contrary to God, as it is singly waited for, taken up and subjected to.

Some

Some Queſtions and Anſwers concerning the Church of the new-Covenant, the Rock or Foundation whereupon it is built, and its preſervation by and upon the Rock. With ſome Queries concerning the ſcattered eſtate of the true Church, and concerning that Church which got up in its ſtead, and made a great ſhow with her Golden Cup, for the time while the true Church was ſcattered.

Qu. 1. What is the Church of God under the new Agreement or Covenant.

An. It is a company of Living Stones, quickned by God, and knit together in the unity and fellowſhip of his Spirit, to worſhip God together in his Spirit, and offer up unto him Spiritual Sacrifices, acceptable to God by Jeſus Chriſt. What was the Church of the Old Covenant? Was it not the Seed of Abraham, the outward Jews, the Children of the Old Covenant? and what is the Church of the New Covenant? Is it not the ſeed of God, the Jews inward, the Children of the New Covenant?

Qu. 2. How are theſe Stones Joyned together?

An. By the Spirit of Life, which begets them all in one Nature, and knits them together in that Nature. By the inward Circumciſion, cutting off that which cauſeth Enmity and Diſunion, and ſo fitting them to be made one New Lump in Chriſt, By Chriſt's Baptiſm, which is the Baptiſm of Fire and of his Spirit, which burns up the Old earthly Nature, and ſo Baptizes them into one New Living Body, ſutable and fitting to their Head, which is the Fountain of Life and diſtributes Life through all the Body, according to its capacity, need, and ſervice.

Qu. 3. Upon what is this Church built?

An. Upon the Rock or Foundation of God, which God hath laid in his ſpiritual Sion, which Rock is Chriſt. For other Foundation can no man lay, than that which is laid, which is Jeſus Chriſt; nor other Rock did the Lord ever chuſe for his Church to be built upon: Nor hath any other Rock ſufficient ſtrength to bear up the building, againſt the ſtorms and ſtreſs of the Powers of Darkneſs, which it often meeteth with, even every member in its travels; after it is once built on the Rock, the Gates of Hell preſs hard upon it; but abiding on the Rock, it feels the ſtrength and preſervation of the Rock. For as they cannot prevail againſt Chriſt, ſo neither can they prevail againſt that which is built upon him. But if there be a going forth from the ſtrength and preſervation, there is a liableneſs to be made a prey. And the promiſe is not, abſolutely and perpetually to that Perſon or Congregation which is received or let into the Truth, but to that perſon or Church which abideth and continueth in the truth unto the end. The Jews were ſafe in the Faith and Obedience of their Covenant, and the Chriſtians or Chriſtian Churches are not ſafe, but in the Faith and Obedience of theirs. For if they walked not humbly with the Lord and in his Fear, which keeps the heart from departing from him, and in the Faith whereby they ſtand, they were to be cut off from their Church-ſtate, as well as the Jews were from theirs, as the Apoſtle Paul expreſly tells the Church at Rome, Rom. 11. 21, 22.

Qu. 4. What was Paul?

An. The Apoſtle of the Gentiles, who Laboured abundantly, even more abundantly than all the other Apoſtles, and hath left more inſtructions, relating to the Gentiles, than all the Apoſtles beſides; and was tender of them, in ſtanding for and defending their liberty in Chriſt, when Peter a little warped and was to be blamed, Gal. 2. 11. For indeed man cannot be certain and infallible, further than he keepeth to, and is exerciſed by the certain and infallible Spirit; which he is ſubject to be tempted to err from, further than he ſtands upon the watch; and cannot but err from, unleſs he feel a continual preſervation in the Fear and by the Power of the Lord. And the certainty of truth doth not depend ſo much upon the Perſon from whom it is received, as upon the demonſtration and evidence to the conſcience wherein it is received. The Apoſtles were not Lords over the true Chriſtians Faith, but helpers of their joy. And Chriſt did not require his Diſciples to believe what ever he knew to be true, but prepared their capacities, and dropped in according to their capacities. And this is the way of the true Ministers, to wait on God to beget, and on him again to Water the begotten Soul, and carry on his work in it: to make them know Christ their Master, from whom they are to receive Light, Life, Instruction and Direction; and to feel the Head, and be joyned to the Head, and receive from the Head their knowledge, as well the least as the greatest, Ebr. 8. What is Paul? What is Apollos? What is Cephas? Were not they carnal that cryed up these one above another? Yet the younger ought to be subject to the Elder, and all to be subject one to another in the truth, 1 Pet. 5. 5.

Queſt. 5. What was Peter?

Anſ. One of the Disciples of Christ, a precious Stone in the building (Joh. 1. 43.) one of the most eminent Apostles, even the chosen Minister to them of the Circumcision, as Paul was to the Gentiles. But he knew that Christ was the only Rock or Foundation, as well as Paul, and that Christ alone was able to bear the weight of that building, and to defend it against the Gates of Hell; and he never had Commission, nor can it be proved that ever he preached himself the Rock, but he preached Christ the Foundation-Stone, the Rock of Offence, the Rock of Defence, &c. see 1 Pet. 2. 4. and ver. 6, 7, 8. And if an Angel from Heaven, or any Man or Church on Earth, so interpret any Scripture, as to hold forth any such thing, that any else besides Christ is the Rock, they plainly shew that they are erred from the truth, and that their interpretation is of their own private Spirit, and not that publick Spirit, which all the Prophets of God, and Apostles, and Truly-Holy men were guided by.

Queſt. 6. Was the Church alwayes to be a gathered Company? or was there a possibility of their being scattered?

Anſ. There was a possibility of their being scattered, yea a certainty, if they grew corrupt in Doctrine and Practice, and kept not the Faith, Rom. 11. For the Lord God intended a pure building, a spiritual building, fit to offer the spiritual Sacrifices, 1 Pet. 2. 5. An Holy People, separated from the World, 2 Cor. 6. 17. In which he might dwell and walk, ver. 16. If therefore any Church depart from the Spirit and Life and Power of the Apostles, and mix again with the World, losing their own proper pale which fenced from the World, they soon lose that which maketh them a Church of God, and so become a Synagogue of Satan.

Now it is in my heart also to propound a few Queries concerning the scattered and hidden estate and condition of the Church, and concerning that Church which got up in the view of the VVorld, and was acknowledged by the VVorld instead thereof afterwards.

Queſt. 1. Whether the true Church did retain her Ministry outwardly, and her outward Ordinances, and way of worship of the outward Court after her scattering? or whether the false Church, which appeared in her room as if she had been the true, caught up and appeared in the outwardness of these? The grounds of this Query are these following.

1. Because upon God's measuring of his Temple and Worshippers, the outward Court (consider well what that is, and how far it extends) was left out of God's measure, so that he intended to reckon it no longer as his, but given by him to the Gentile-Christians, such as were Christians or Jews in Name, but Gentiles in Spirit and Nature, Rev. 11.

2. Because in the Last dayes, when that strange Generation of Christians was to spring up, who should be Lovers of their own selves, covetous, proud, blasphemers, disobedient to parents, unthankful, unholy, without natural affection, truce-breakers, false-accusers, incontinent, fierce, despisers of those that are good, traitors, heady, high-minded, Lovers of pleasures more than Lovers of God: Yet these should have a form of Godliness, but deny the power therefore, 2 Tim. 3. 1, to 6. Now mind, The Temple, wherein was the Power, God had removed with the true Worshippers; but the outward Court (wherein was the appearance or some kind of a form of Church, Ministry and Ordinances) those had got, and were found worshiping in it, in the midst of all this great wickedness and abomination of spirit.

3. Because the Jews (who were the type) while they were in captivity in Babylon, could not sing the Songs of Sion, nor had the VVorship of the outward Jerusalem there.

And

And can the ſpiritual Jews, ſing the ſpiritual Songs of ſpiritual Sion, in myſtery Babylon? No, there they are but witneſſes to that Life and Power, which the true Church enjoyed and flouriſhed with, in her built eſtate.

Queſt. 2. VVhether this is not an infallible mark, and moſt certain demonſtration of the falſe Church, her ſitting upon many VVaters, which VVaters are Peoples, Multitudes, Nations and Tongues? Did not the Spirit of the Lord thus mark her out to John, Rev. 17. 15. Did the true Church ever ſit upon many VVaters? Was not the Church a gathering out of the Nations into the Power and Life which the Nations perſecuted? But the falſe Church ſits over the Nations with a form of Godlineſs, but without the true Power thereof. Then if this be a mark that God hath ſet upon her, let every one wait to read it aright, that he may know thereby which is ſhe, and praiſe the name of the Lord for diſcovering her to him.

Queſt. 3. VVhether this falſe Church be not rightly called Babylon, even an heap of confuſion (in a myſtery) as to God's eye, though to man's eye her appearance may be orderly and decent? And whether ſhe be not juſtly termed by the Spirit of the Lord, the Great Whore, both for largeneſs in bulk, and for the greatneſs of her fornications, having whored from the bed of the Husband, and entred into the bed of a Stranger, and having taught and compelled others to acknowledg and worſhip in her forms, which thus held forth and maintained by her, are not only without, but alſo againſt the true Power?

Queſt. 4. VVhether Antichriſt be not entred into and become the head of this falſe Church, and whether he doth not ſit there ruling in it, even as Chriſt was Head of the True, and ſate ruling in the True? And whether Antichriſt doth not keep his hold of this Church, and poſſeſs his ſeat in it, for many Ages and Generations, even from the time he got in after the days of the Apoſtles, till the very coming of Chriſt in his Power and Brightneſs? 2 Theſ. 2.

Queſt. 5. VVhether the great Plagues, VVoes, terrible Thunders and Cups of God's Indignation, ſpoken of in the Book of the Revelations, are not to be poured, in their ſeveral orders and degrees, upon this falſe Church, and upon Antichriſt her beloved Head and King even till ſhe be ſtripped naked, made deſolate, and her Fleſh burnt with Fire, and her Head bruiſed and deſtroyed, by Chriſt the true Head and King of the true Church?

Queſt. 6. VVhether the people of God, ſuch as feel ſomewhat of the Power, and bow to the Lord in Spirit and Truth in ſome meaſure, yet theſe, if they mind not his call out of this Babylon, and come not fully out of her, but abide in any part of her, obſerving any of her wayes or worſhips, till the time of God's controverſie with her and judging of her, whether they alſo ſhall not partake of her Plagues? Rev. 18. 4.

Queſt. 7. VVhether all people have not great reaſon to fear before the Lord, and to look to their wayes and worſhips, leſt they be found in any thing therein which is not of him, but contrary to him, and ſo bring upon their Souls and Bodies that wrath and ſore Judgment from God, which they are not able to bear? Rev. 14. 9, 10, 11.

Queſt. 8. VVhether it was not the great Love and Mercy of God to warn the Churches of theſe things in the Book of the Revelations? And whether he can be ſafe in theſe reſpects, who either doth not underſtand or not obſerve the warnings given by the Spirit of the Lord therein? How often is it therein ſaid; He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit of God ſaith to the Churches! It is alſo ſaid, Bleſſed is he that readeth, and they that hear the words of this Propheſie, and keep thoſe things which are written therein: For the time is at hand. He then that readeth not, that hath not an ear to hear the words of this Propheſie, how can he keep what is written therein? How can he beware and avoid the ſeeming Beauty and Glory of the falſe Church, or ſuffer with the Faithful Witneſſes of God in their Teſtimony againſt her? And if he do not thus, but is entangled by the falſe Church with her Golden Cup of Fornications, (Rev. 17. 4.) he miſſeth of the bleſſing, and oh what is he to meet with inſtead thereof! My heart hath often melted within me, and my bowels yowled at the conſideration and deep ſenſe, which the Lord hath given me of theſe things: and this I ſay therein, to thoſe that deſire Life and Peace from God, O wait on him for the Eye which sees in his Light, for the Ear which hears his Voice, and for the Heart which understands the VVords and Messages of his Spirit; that ye may feel his Gathering, Guidance, and Preservation out of that, to which his VVrath is for ever; and against which his VVrath is to be made more manifest, and poured out more fully and abundantly, than ever it yet was. For the Lord will empty his Love, and his Life into Sion, and empty the very Dregs and thick Mixtures of the Cups of his Indignation, into the very Heart and Bowels of Babylon: and her Sickness, Misery, Woe, Death, and Destruction will be exceeding dreadful and unutterable. Therefore, wait on the Lord in Fear and Singleness of Spirit, crying and mourning to him to discover to you the Extent and Limits of this false Church, this false Building, this Building in a Form and outward Order, without the Life and Power of the Spirit; and then fly as fast out of her, and from her, (and as far) as the Spirit of the Lord leads; even till ye come to the Holy Building which is of him, and the Heavenly Places which are prepared there by him, for every one of his, (according to their Growth and Stature in his Son) that ye may sit down in him.

Some Queries to Professors, who speak of high Attainments and Experiences in Religion; and yet do not witness, nor can acknowledge the Truth, as the Lord hath now revealed it, (and done great Things by it, in the Spirits of his People) but look upon it, as a poor, mean, and low Thing.

Q. 1. Have ye known the great and terrible Day of the Lord, wherein he ariseth to shake terribly the Earth? And, Have ye known that shaken down in you, which must be shaken down and removed as a Cottage, before the Everlasting Kingdom can be Established in you?

Q. 2. Do ye know the Living, Powerful, Eternal Word, which is quick and piercing, sharper than any Two-edged Sword, dividing between Thought and Thought, Grace and Grace, (as I may so speak) Light and Light, Life and Life, Spirit and Spirit, Power and Power, &c.? Have ye known it an Hammer, a Fire, an Axe laid to the Root of the Corrupt Tree? And, Do ye know the Corrupt Tree? Root, Branches, Leaves, and Fruit so cut down by it, as to cumber the Ground no more?

Q. 3. Do ye know the Paradice of God, and the Tree of Life there? Do ye indeed Feed thereon? Have you passed through the Flaming Sword to the Tree of Life? And, Is the Flaming Sword (which once fenced from Life, and the Power thereof) set now to fence up the Way to the Tree of Knowledge, that ye may feed no more thereon, and Die; but feed only on that which is Life, and gives Life, and so live for ever?

Q. 4. Have ye witnessed the Effects of the great and terrible Day of the Lord, in your Spirits? Is Antichrist destroyed, the Whore burnt, Flesh consumed, Man ceased from, both within and without? Is the Loftiness of Man bowed down in you, the Mighty removed out of his Seat, and the Meek, Holy, Humble Seed raised up to rule in Righteousness in your Hearts? Is every high Tower battered down, and every fenced Wall laid flat? Are all your Imaginations and Conceivings, and fleshly Apprehendings upon Scriptures; yea, every pleasant Picture and Image of the Things in Heaven (formed in your Minds) brought to an end, and the pure living Truth of the Father waited for, received from him, and lived in? Yea, Is the Lord alone exalted in your Spirits, and all other Dominion, Authority, Rule and Lordship put under?

Q. 5. Do ye know the Mountain of the Lord's House, and the Lord's House built and established by his own Holy Spirit and Power upon his own Holy Mountain? And, Do ye worship the Lord alone therein? Do ye come up to the New-Jerusalem, to offer your Sacrifices there, according to the Institution of the Gospel? And, Do ye worship the Lord there, on his own Day, which he hath Spiritually made?

made? And, Do ye bear no Burthen, kindle no Fire, do no Work on that his Day? Do ye never warm your ſelves at any Fire, or by any Sparks of your own kindling? Or, Are ye yet worſhipping upon ſome of the many Mountains and Hills, which the Lord hath not formed nor eſtabliſhed; but have been formed, and ſet up by Man in the Night of Darkneſs, before the Everlaſting Light of the Day brake forth?

Q. 6. Do ye know the Wilderneſs, through which the Paſſage is from Egypt to Canaan? and, Have ye faithfully Travelled in the Leadings of God's Spirit thereſ through? and, Are ye entred into the pure Reſt thereof? Are ye not under the Law, but under Grace? not under the Enemy's Power, but under the Spirit's Power, out of the other's reach; ſo that the Wicked One cannot touch you? Have ye gone through the Exerciſes and Tryals of the Wilderneſs? Have ye fed on the Manna, dropt down from Heaven upon your Spirits therein? Have ye drunk of the VVater of the Rock? Have ye ſeen the Serpent lifted up, and felt the Healing thereby? Have ye witneſſed the Pillar of Cloud by Day, and the Pillar of Fire by Night, to be your Defence and Leader? And, Have ye now, at length, received the Kingdom of Life, and ſit under the Shadow of it, drinking VVater out of your own Ciſtern, and eating under your own Vine and Fig-tree, the Fruits of the good Land, after the Shaking of that which was to be ſhaken; now being come to, and enjoying the Kingdom, which cannot be ſhaken? Have ye really felt theſe things? or, Have ye been in the Dreams and Imaginings about them?

Q. 7. Do ye walk in the Light of the Lord, (as the Spiritual Houſe of Jacob is to do?) Have ye received the Spirit? Do ye live in the Spirit? Are ye truly united, ſo as to become one Spirit with the Lord? Are all the VValls of Partition broken down? And, Is there nothing now between you, but of Two are ye made One in that which uniteth?

If it be thus with you, then hold forth the Right-Hand of Fellowſhip to thoſe whom the Lord hath brought hither; and know and acknowledge, that whereby the Lord hath wrought it in them. But if ye be not really in the Thing it ſelf, but only in the Apprehenſions and Conceivings about it, ye can never ſo be VVitneſſes concerning theſe things, nor concerning the Truth whereby God works theſe things: And ye will find there is a great Gulf between You and Us, which ye cannot poſſibly paſs over, till ye meet with our Principle and Guide; and faithfully Travel with him in the Footſteps of the Flock, that ye may come to the Shepherds Tents, (even the Tents which the Shepherd pitcheth, and which no Man can pitch) and may know the true Tabernacle, Sanctuary, and Temple, whereof he is the Miniſter.

THE END.

Of the CHURCH in its First and Pure State; in its Declining State; in its Declined State; and in its Recovery.

With the Way of Salvation, in the Covenant of Life, Opened; and some Stumbling-Blocks Removed out of the Way of the Simple-hearted.

Likewise, Some QUERIES concerning the New-Covenant.

With an Exhortation to all People; but more especially, to such as are Desolate and Distressed.

By one who testifieth what he hath seen, and heard, and tasted, and handled of the VVord, and Life Eternal,

Whereunto is added,

A Visit of Tender and Upright Love to such as retain any Sincerity towards the LORD.

Also, A brief Account of the Ground of Certainty and Satisfaction, which it hath pleased the Lord to establish in my Heart, concerning Religion, and the Things of his Kingdom.

And a Question Answered about the Way of knowing the Motions, Doctrines, and Teachings of Christ's Spirit.

With somewhat relating to the Gospel-Rest, or Sabbath.

And some Queries to such as complain of want of Power, to become the Lords, and serve Him.

The PREFACE.

THE True Church is a Mystery, and so is the False also: Neither of which, the outward Eye of Man's Understanding is able to discern; but he alone, who is enlightned and taught of God. Who can see how the Spirit of God works, changing Mens Hearts, gathering them into his Truth, and building them up into an Holy Temple in his Son? And, Who can discern, how the Spirit of Deceit works with an outward Knowledge, Doctrine, and Form of Religion, perswading or compelling Men thereunto; and so Builds up a False Church? Yea, Who can tell, when the Spirit of the Lord with-draweth from a Church, which was once his, leaving it to the other Spirit, to Re-enter and Possess; from which time it becometh a Synagogue of Satan? There was need of the Anointing of God's Wisdom and Spirit to try Jews and Apostles; (for there there were such, even in the Apostles Dayes, as said, They were so; but were not:) and there is also need of the same Wisdom and Spirit to try Churches, whether they be indeed the Churches of Christ, (in and of his Spirit and Power) or only in the Name and outward Profession of the Thing, without the Nature, Spirit, Life, and Power thereof.

The Apostle Paul (who was the Apostle of the Gentiles, and knew what was likely to be their future State) writing to the Romans, tells them, That the Gentiles were cut out of the Olive-Tree, which was wild by Nature; and were, contrary to Nature, ingrafted into the True Olive-Tree; and so, came to partake of the Root and Fatness thereof. But withal, he tells them, That unless they did continue in the Faith, and in the Goodness of God, keeping out of the High-mindedness and Conceitedness of their own Estate and Condition, in the Fear (which makes the Heart clean, and preserves it in the Cleanness, from that which would defile, and cause it to depart from the Lord) they likewise should be cut off, Rom. 11. 17. and 20, &c.

Now, it would seriously be considered, Whether the Gentile-Churches did abide in the Faith, and in the Goodness and Power of the Lord, which gathered them? Or, Whether they grew high-minded, holding their Estate in a Presumption, (as if the Promise was so to them, that they must needs be the Church for ever) out of the Fear, and so was cast off by God, and cut off, (according to the Apostle's Words from God's Spirit;) and so have not partook of the Root and Fatness of the Olive-Tree, for many Generations? It would also further be enquired (if it prove thus, upon true Search and Examination, that they have been cut off) Whether they can partake of the Root and Fatness of the true Olive-Tree any more, till he that cast them off, gather and build them up again?

It is true, There have been Witnesses against the Corrupt State, even a Seed who have been Persecuted by it: and these have, in some Measure, partook of the Root and Fatness of the Olive-Tree, all this time of the Degeneration. But, Hath the Church-State of the Gentiles, which provoked God, and was cast off, and persecuted the Witnesses of the Lamb, his Holy Seed, who could not but in his Nature and Spirit, testifie against their Corruption? Have they partook of the Root and Fatness of the Olive-Tree) Or, Have they not rather grown up from, and drunk in of the Sap and Juice of another Stock?

The same Apostle speaks of the Man of Sin, that wicked One, the Son of Perdition; who should get into the Temple of God, sit there, and shew himself as God; and yet oppose and exalt himself above all that is truly called GOD, and that of right ought to be Worshipped, 2 Thes. 2. 4. Now, when he gets into the Temple, Doth not he Leaven it with his wicked Spirit, making it become Wicked, like him that sits and reigns in it, and is the Head of it. And, Doth the Church, or Temple, all the while he sits in it, partake of the Root and Fatness of the Olive-Tree? (Of Christ, its former Vine; of Christ, its former Head?) Or, Doth it not rather suck in, and partake of the Venome and Poison of this new Head? And, How long is this new Head, this false Head of the Church, to sit in the Temple? Is it not from the very time of his getting in, till Christ, by the Spirit of his Mouth, consume and scatter him; and by the Brightness of his Appearance and Coming, utterly destroy him? Vers. 8.

This is certain, (as certain as ever there was a True Church, in the Dayes of the Apostles) that after the Apostles Dayes, there got up a False Church, which the Spirit of the Lord calls the Great Whore; (indeed, She was far bigger, by multitudes of Degrees, than ever the True Church was.) This Great Whore had a Golden Cup in her Hand, where-with She made the Kings and Inhabitants of the Earth drunk. And She sate upon many Waters; which Waters are Peoples, Nations, Multitudes, and Tongues. Did ever the True Church do thus? That was a little Flock, gathered out of Peoples, Nations, Multitudes, and Tongues, reigning in the Spirit and Power of the Lord, over them only who were thus gathered; but never sate upon whole Peoples, Nations, Multitudes, and Tongues, as this Great Whore hath done, Rev. 17. 1, 15.

Now, it would be worth the enquiry, What this Cup is, (this Golden Cup, which appears like Gold?) And, What this Wine is, where-with She made the Kings, and Inhabitants of the Earth drunk? Ask her, and She will tell you, It is the Cup of Salvation, and her Wine the Wine of the Kingdom, even the Doctrine and Discipline of Holy Mother-Church;

Church; out of which, and without which, no Man can be ſaved. But ask the Spirit of the Lord, (or hear what the Spirit of the Lord ſaid to the Churches, concerning it) and he will tell you, 'Tis the Wine of Fornication, the Cup of Deſtruction, full of Abominations, and Filthineſs of her Fornication; and that She ſhall be ſo far from ſaving others, that She ſhall be deſtroyed, and periſh her ſelf: And whoever Drinks of her Wine ſhall Periſh, unleſs he vomit it up again, and drink of the pure Blood of the Lamb after it. See Rev. 17. and alſo Chap. 18. and Chap 14. 9, 10, 11.

Now, one Word (in the Love and Truth of God) to all that have ſeparated from this Church. Have ye Separated fully? Have ye Separated wholly? Have ye Separated from her in Nature and Spirit? Have ye waited for the Building, which God alone can Rear? for the Church, which he alone can form and Frame? Or, Have ye built up another Church, in the Reſemblance and Likeneſs of that which ye Separated from? This is a weighty Thing: Ye muſt anſwer it to God, and ſtand by his Judgment therein: I beſeech you, conſider it. What will it profit a Man, (ſaith Chriſt) if he gain the whole World, and loſe his own Soul? So ſay I in this Caſe; What would it profit you, if ye could make your Church ſtand, and be approved in the Sight of the whole World, if the Lord diſown and diſallow it, and they that are gathered into it, periſh by it? If it be not of God's Building, if it have not his Preſence, Virtue, Spirit, and Power in it, it cannot ſave. O hear, hear! for the Lord will ſtrip Babylon, and fill her with dreadful Plagues and Judgments; and She ſhall appear naked as She is, and become the Scorn of every Eye, and the Reproach of every Beholder: And that which hath been Reproached, Scorned, Hated, and Perſecuted by Her, the Lord will Honour.

Now conſider, and wait on the Lord, to know the Extent of Babylon; that ye may not be found by the Spirit of the Lord, (nor by his Angels, which pour out his Plagues upon Her) within her Limits. For the Great Whore is not Babylon only, or alone: but She is the Mother of Harlots, and all her Daughters are Harlots alſo; even all that have built up Churches, like Her, (in her Spirit, with her Materials) out of the Leading, Guidance, and Power of the Spirit of Truth.

Of the Church in its Firſt and Pure State, when it was clothed with the Sun, had the Moon under its Feet, and was Crowned with the Crown of Twelve Stars, Travelling to Bring-forth, and Brought-forth the Man-Child, which was to Rule all Nations with the Rod of Iron.

IT pleaſed the Father to ſend his Son into the World (in his Name, Power, and Authority) to gather out of the World; and to manifeſt his Name to the Men, whom he ſhould gather out of the World. The Jews (for all their great Profeſſion, and high Eſteem of themſelves) were but a worldly Policy, having but worldly, elementary Shadows, of the good things to come, and to be ſet up in the Kingdom of the Meſſiah. John preached, that the Kingdom was at hand; Chriſt ſaid, It was come: John Prepared for it; Chriſt Brought it. He came in the Spirit, in the Life, in the Vertue, in the Dominion of the Moſt High. And he gathered Diſciples unto him, by the Word and Power of the Father. And thoſe that continued in his Word, were his Diſciples indeed; of his Gathering, ſuch as the Father had ſent the Son out to ſeek; even the new Sort of Worſhippers, who ſhould worſhip neither at Samaria, nor Jeruſalem; nor with reference to any other outward Place: but in Spirit, and in Truth. They ſhould meet together in that Name, wherein Chriſt had gathered them: And Meeting ſo, he would be in the Midſt of them; and they ſhould feel the Preſence, Power, and Authority, which belonged to his Church.

Now, if any would know what kind of Perſons theſe Diſciples are, Chriſt giveth many Deſcriptions of them. They are ſuch as are Born from above, ſuch as are changed changed by the Name and Power which gathers them. They are Jews inward, Circumcised inwardly; such as are Baptized with the Holy-Ghost, and with Fire; squared Stones, hewen by the Spirit, for the Spiritual Building: Not old; rough, fierce, cruel, unplacable, unregenerate, unholy Spirits: but meek, gentle, lowly, tender, poor in spirit, merciful, peaceable in themselves, and making Peace among Men, renewed, and sanctified in Spirit, holy in Conversation, suffering (both from the Heathenish, and from the Worldly-professing Spirit) for that Power of Truth and Righteousness, which they profess and bear witness to. They are the Salt of the Earth; having that in them, which seasoneth their own Hearts, and which hath Virtue in it to season others. They are the Light of the World; having that in them, which casts Rayes of Light, Conviction, and Demonstration, where-ever they go. They, being changed into the Leaven of the Kingdom, become a Leaven, and so a Weight upon Iniquity; testifying against, yea, bowing down and afflicting that Spirit, as the Power of Life springs in them, and breaks forth through them.

Now, if the Church be thus; if it be a Gathering by the Power into the Power; by Christ, who came in the Name, into the Name in which he came: Must not the Ministry needs be much more thus? Must not they be grown in the Name, be grown in the Power, who are to minister to those who are gathered into the Name, who are gathered into the Power? Must not they be well grown in the Spirit, if they be able Ministers of the Spirit? Did not Christ, when he sent out his Disciples to Preach in his Name, give them of his Spirit and Power? And afterwards, when he was to go away, and they to succeed him; What were they to succeed him in? Were they not to succeed him in his Spirit and Power? And, Did not he bid them wait for it, and receive it, before they went forth to Preach, and set up his Kingdom? And, Was it not by this the Church was gathered? And, Can the Church be preserved by any thing beneath this? Yea, falling short of this, Is it not in a degenerated and fallen Estate?

After that those who had been gathered in the Name, had waited as Christ directed them, for the Holy Spirit and Power, and after it had fallen upon them; then the Glory began, then the Ministry shined, then the Church (or People gathered in the Spirit and Power) shined; then great Life was in them all, then great Grace and Holiness was upon them all, then Faith (which springs from the Spirit and Power) was fresh, then Love abounded; then they minded not Earthly Things, but the Kingdom, the Life, the Glory, which was come upon them in Power: then Satan's Kingdom fell down like Lightning; and they went on (in and with the Spirit, which led them) Conquering the Jewish Professors, and the Heathenish Worshippers also; none being able to Resist the Power and Spirit, wherein they speak and ministred. Read the Scriptures of the New-Testament, and wait on God for the Opening of the true Eye in you; and these things will be manifest and plain to you therein: For the Sweetness, Freshness, Preciousness, and Beauty of that State, may abundantly be read there, by those whose Eyes the Lord opens. To instance in some places.

Peter Writes two general Epistles, in one whereof he speaks of their having received like pretious Faith with them, 2 Pet. 1. 1. and in the other, that they did rejoyce with joy unspeakable and full of glory, 1 Pet. 1. 8. Yea, he speaks also of their being as lively stones, built up a spiritual House, an Holy Priesthood (mark; All Gods people who are gathered into the name, who are of the Faith, who are in the Life and Power, are Priests unto him) to offer up spiritual Sacrifices, acceptable to God by Jesus Christ, 1 Pet. 2. 5. Now was it a small thing to be a Priest under the Law, to offer up the outward Sacrifices thereof? what is it then to be a Priest in the Holy Spirit and Power of Life?

John also Writes a general Epistle, wherein he divides Christians into three Estates (Children, Young-Men, Fathers) speaking great things and glorious of them all. He said, The darkness is past, and the true light now shineth. Paul had said, The night is far spent, and the day is at hand: But he said, the night is past and the day is come. 1 Joh. 2. 8. And he Writes to all (Children, Young-Men, Fathers) as being passed from the darkness, and in the light of the day. The little Children had had their sins forgiven them for his names sake, and had known the Father, vers. 12, 13. The Young-Men were ſtrong, and the VVord of God did abide in them, and they had overcome the wicked one, verſ. 14. The Fathers knew him that was from the begining, verſ. 13, 14. And knowing that, they knew enough: for that was it which appeared to ſave, and that was it which was to be preached, even that which was from the beginning, the Light which was with God, the Light which was in God, the Light which was God, in which is no darkneſs at all, chap. 1. 1. and verſ. 5. Yea the little Children had an unction from the holy one, and they knew all things: and John wrote not unto them as not knowing the truth, but becauſe they knew it, chap. 2. 18, 20, 21. Yea, they had received the anointing, and it did abide in them, and they needed not that any man ſhould teach them, but as the ſame anointing taught them of all things: and it ſo taught them, as that no Seducer nor Antichriſtian deceiver could impoſe or prevail upon them, they keeping to it, ver. 18, 26, 27. What a glorious ſtate was here when the little Children were thus advanced in the ſtrength and power of life? Sure that promiſe was now made good indeed, Ye ſhall be all taught of God, when the little Children were thus taught. Yea and they were taught to abide in him, ſo as they might not ſin; for how could they, the anointing abiding in them, and teaching them of all things, and they being in ſubjection thereto, for that preſerves out of ſin, the veſſel in whom it dwells and reigns. Sin is a tranſgreſſion of the Law: but they that are in the anointing, taught by the anointing, ſubject to the anointing, are far above the righteouſneſs of the Law, even in the righteouſneſs of the Son; the righteouſneſs of whoſe nature, is far above the righteouſneſs which the Law requires of mans nature. And let men talk and imagine what they will, the ſinner is not in the redemption and power of righteouſneſs, which is by Jeſus Chriſt. For that which is born of God doth not commit ſin, but the ſeed remaineth in him which is born of God, preſerving him from the nature and ſpirit of the Devil, and from the works which flow from that nature and ſpirit, Chap. 3. verſ. 4. &c. Yea they might ſo walk as that their hearts ſhould not condemn them; but that they might have confidence towards God, verſ. 20, 21. And as Chriſt ſaid to the Father; Father thou alwayes heareſt me; So could they ſay, Whatſoever we ask, we receive of him; becauſe we keep his Commandements, and do thoſe things that are pleaſing in his ſight, verſ. 22. even as Chriſt had ſaid, He that ſent me is with me, &c. For I do alwayes thoſe things that pleaſe him, John 8. 29. Yea, theſe little Children, having received the anointing, were able to try ſpirits, and had tried and overcome them (notwithſtanding the ſubtilty and ſtrength of all their deceits) becauſe that light, life, ſpirit, and power which dwelt within them, was greater then that which was in the World, Chap. 4. 1. and verſ. 4. And can the leſs overcome the greater the greater keeping to its ſtrength? Nay, nay: Theſe that are of the Love, and dwell in the Love, are (by the power and vertue of the Love) kept out of all the ſnares and devices of the enmity: for the enmity cannot enter the Love, nor the ſoul that abides in the Love; but only him that departs out of it. Here is a munition of rocks, here is ſafety indeed: let him that hath an ear hear, and let him that hath a ſpiritual eye, read and conſider. What ſhould be ſaid more of them? They were in the Love which keeps the Commandments, of the birth to which the victory is given, and in the faith which gives the victory, Chap. 5. 3, 4. Yea, did they not ſo keep themſelves, as that the wicked one could not touch them? verſ. 18. How could he, when they had overcome him, and abode in that which overcame him? Sathan falls like a flaſh of lightning before the power of Truth, before the living Faith, the Faith which is from, and ſtands in the power. And if the Devil would fly from thoſe that reſiſted him, how much more would he fly from thoſe that had overcome him, and ſtood armed with that armour which is painful and dreadful to him?

Again the Apoſtle that writeth to the Hebrews, ſpeaketh of their work and labor of love (which advanceth the ſoul apace towards the Kingdom) and of their patient enduring the trials, perſecutions, afflictions and croſſes (through which perfection is attained, Jam. 1. 4.) Heb. 6. 10. and chap. 10. 32, 33. Yea he ſpeaketh expreſly concerning them, that they were come to Mount Sion, and to the City of the Living God, the Heavenly Jeruſalem, and to an innumerable company of Angels: to the general aſſembly and Church of the firſt born which are written in Heaven, and to God the Judge of all, and to the Spirits of Juſt Men made perfect: and to Jeſus the Mediator of the New Govenant, and to the blood of ſprinkling, Chap. 12. 22, 23, 24.

and that they had received, or were receiving a Kingdom which could not be moved, verſ. 28.

There is another place in my heart to mention, which ſpeaks great glory and an high ſtate, in the ſenſe of my ſpirit, attributing glory and dominion to Chriſt for his loving them, and waſhing them from their ſins in his own Blood, and making them Kings and Prieſts unto God and his Father, Revelations 1. 5, 6. What is he who is both a King and Prieſt to God? Surely he is waſhed, ſurely he is clothed with the Prieſts raiment, ſurely he is in the dominion and purity of life, who reigns and offers up therein holy ſacrifices to the Father.

Thus far have inſtances been given in reference to the general ſtate. Now it is alſo in my heart, to give ſome inſtances in particular Churches, wherein teſtimony is given of the freſhneſs of life in them, and of their pretious ſtate therein.

Firſt I ſhall inſtance in that Church at Jeruſalem. In what a beautious glory and luſtre did they ſpring forth? Act. 2. 41. to the end. Conſider the place well, and tell me, If this was not the beginning of the Spiritual and Heavenly Jeruſalem, if the glory of it did not deſcend upon this new-gathered people and converts? ſo likewiſe ſee, Chap. 4 31. &c.

The Church at Rome (the Apoſtle Paul ſaies,) were beloved of God, and that their faith was ſpoken of throughout the whole World, Rom. 1. 7, 8. Now what a glorious, pretious ſtate was this! For by Faith is water drawn out of the wells of ſalvation: and how much might they draw, who abounded in faith? True faith ſprings from the power of life, and it brings the power of life into the ſoul in which it ſprings, according to the degree and growth of it. He that is beloved of God, and abounds in in faith towards him; what glory, what life, what vertue, what power can he want?

The ſame Apoſtle, writing to the Church at Philippi, ſaith, He did thank God upon every remembrance of them, making requeſt for them with joy always, in every prayer of his for them all, for their fellowſhip in the Goſpel (which is power and life to them that have fellowſhip therein) From the firſt day until now, Phil. 1. 3, 4, 5. And he calls them, dearly beloved, and longed for, his joy and crown, Chap. 4. 1.

So writing to the Saints and faithful brethren at Coloſs, he gives thanks for their Faith in Chriſt Jeſus, and their love to all the Saints, Chap. 1. 3, 4. and ſaith farther concerning them, that the word of the Truth of the Goſpel had brought forth fruit in them, ſince the day they heard and knew the Grace of God in Truth, ver. 5, 6. To what then were they grown? Surely very far into the miſtery of life in Chriſt, in whom they had been circumciſed and baptized, and were compleat, abiding in him, and drinking in of the life, vertue and power which floweth from him.

Likewiſe he writes to the Church of the Theſſalonians, as being in God the Father, and in the Lord Jeſus Chriſt, 1 Theſ. 1. 1. Ah how excellent and glorious was the ſtate and condition of Chriſt, to be in the Father! how glorious is the ſtate of that Church, which is both in Chriſt and in the Father! (He ſpeaks alſo of their work of faith, and labor of love, and patience of hope, verſ. 3.) Yea he writes to them again as ſuch, 2 Epheſ. 1. 1. Surely, they did abide in the Vine, they did dwell in the Name, and Power into which they were gathered; and ſo did feel the Dews from above, and the Springs from beneath; ſo that their Faith did grow exceedingly, and their Love abound; and the Apoſtles did find Cauſe of glorying in them, in the Churches of God, for their Patience and Faith in all their Perſecutions and Tribulations that they endured, verſ. 3, 4.

Writing alſo to the Epheſians, he giveth an high Expreſſion of the Goodneſs of God to his People, in thoſe Dayes; and of the Bleſſedneſs of their Eſtate, in that God had bleſſed them with all Spiritual Bleſſings, in Heavenly Places in Chriſt, Chap. 1. 3. That is hard to be underſtood; yet this may ſenſibly be ſaid: In the Heavenly Places in Chriſt, the Spiritual Bleſſings are received. And they that are raiſed together with him, and live in and with him, do alſo ſit with him in the Heavenly Places in him, even in the Manſions which he hath prepared, and is preparing: For he raiſeth the Soul higher and higher, from Glory to Glory, at his Pleaſure. The Apoſtle alſo ſaith, That they were Fellow-Citizens with the Saints, and of the Houſhold of God; and were built together in Chriſt, for an Habitation of God, through the Spirit, Chap. 2, 19, 22.

So the Church of Smyrna, Christ owneth her works and tribulations and poverty, and pronounceth her rich, Rev. 2. 8. (Christ knoweth how to value things.)

And the Church of Philadelphia was in a very precious state indeed, Christ owning her works, and having set before her an open door, which no man could shut; and promising to make those who made a profession of the truth (of being Jews) but were not in it, to come and worship before her feet, and to know that he had loved her: as also that he would keep her in the hour of temptation, because she had kept the word of his patience, Rev. 3. 8. &c. Thus it is manifest that the Church in general (and many Churches in particular) was once in a pure, fresh, living, powerful glorious state.

II.

Of the Church in its Declining and Falling Estate.

But all the Churches were not thus, nor did those who were thus, always continue thus: but there was a Declining and Falling from this Glorious Estate by degrees, even from the Light, brightness, purity and power of the day, into the darkness and corruption of the night again.

And thus the Apostacy came in, to wit, by not keeping to the Anointing, by not abiding in that Spirit, Life and Power whereinto they were gathered, by not keeping singly to the voice of the Shepherd. For then another ear got up in them, and that itched after new and strange things, not being contented with the simplicity of Truth which is in Christ, with the plain heavenly bread. For Truth is a naked simple thing to look at, not answering mans wisdom at first, nor ever afterwards: but in the cross to that, its power is felt and its beauty seen. But if the wisdom of man get up from under the cross, if it be not still kept down by that, it will presently be judged the wisdom of God, and the plain way of Truth foolishness, and be listening after somewhat else.

Thus the Church of Corinth, who did abound in Spiritual gifts; yet were apt to run out and be lifted up above their measures, and think they reigned as Kings without (it not beyond) the Apostles, and so came into danger of harkning to false Spirits and Ministers of unrighteousness, 1 Cor. 4. 8. &c. 2 Cor. 10, and Chap. 11.

And the Churches of Galatia, which began well and very zealously, even so as they could have plucked out their eyes for Pauls sake; yet were afterwards so far bewitched and prevailed upon, that the Apostle professed he stood in doubt of them, and was afraid, lest he had bestowed upon them Labour in vain, Gal. 4.11.20.

When the enemy could not prevail in open battle, by manifest afflictions, oppositions, persecutions, &c. then he tries by deceit, getting into the form, to see what he can do there, how he can please and satisfie men therewith, and so work them from that Power which redeems. And those that do not eye the Power, keep to the Power, walk in the Power, and judge by the Power, to be sure he catcheth this way. The false Prophet saith Christ (which come in sheeps clothing, with the good words, as Ministers of Righteousness: but not with the living Powerfull fruits of righteousness) come with so subtle an appearance, as if it were possible they would deceive the very elect; but God keepeth that eye in his elect open, which cannot be deceived; but all else are. They that depart from the Power, they that err from the Faith, they that are in the high-mindedness and conceitedness, out of the fear, they easily harken to seducing Spirits, and drinking off their poison. And Peter plainly foresaw that these would be many, 2 Pet. 2. 1, 2.

See also what complaint Paul makes to Timothy, about the declining of many from the Truth, he exhorts him to keep Faith and a good Conscience, which some having put away, concerning faith have made shipwrack: of whom is Hymeneus and Alexander, 1 Tim. 1. 19, 20.

Again he speaks of some, that were already turned aside after Satan, Chap. 5. 15. and of some that had erred from the Faith, and pierced themselves through with many sorrows, Chap. 6. 10. Again, all they which are in Asia be turned away from me, me, 2 Tim. 1. 15. likewise he speaks of some, who would increase unto more ungodliness, and whose word will eat as doth a canker, chap 2. 16, 17. and that evil men and seducers shall wax worse and worse, deceiving and being deceived, chap. 3. 13. yea, the time will come, saith he, when they will not endure sound Doctrine, chap. 4. 3. Demas hath forsaken me, having loved the present world, verse. 10. Alexander the Coppersmith did me much evil, the Lord reward him according to his works, verse. 14. At my first answer no man stood with me, but all men forsook me, verse. 16. Surely love was grown very cold, iniquity likely to abound, and the Apostacy from the Truth to increase.

And among the Churches of Asia, how many of them were warping! Ephesus though she had much good remaining in her, yet she had left her first love, and was fallen from her first state and works, Rev. 2. 4, 5. Pergamus also had them which held the Doctrine of the Nicholaitans, which thing Christ hated, verse. 15. Thyatira, she likewise suffered the woman Jezabel, which called her self a Propheteſs, to teach and seduce Gods servants, verse. 20. (Now this she ought not to have done, the Churches having the Spirit, the holy Anointing to try Spirits and Prophets by, yea to try Apostles, which will faithfully discover which are truly such, and which are not, as verse. 2.) Sardis had a name that she lived, but was generally dead, there being but a few names left in Sardis, which had not defiled their Garments, chap. 3. 1, 4. Laodicea was lukewarm: neither cold nor hot, in the profession, in the form and appearance of Truth; but without zeal, without Life, without Power, verse. 15. Now being in this state, (having the form and appearance of all) she judged her self rich, and increased with goods, and to have need of nothing, verse 17. This indeed is a pleasant state in mans eye, but very lothsome to God, vers. 16. This Church seemed to have all, but indeed had lost all, and wanted the gold, the raiment and the eye-salve; and so was wretched, miserable, poor, blind, and naked, vers. 17, 18.

In this declining state, some fell from the doctrine of Truth, giving heed to seducing Spirits and doctrines of devils, 1 Tim. 4. 1. Some from the fellowship and worship, it being the manner of some to forsake the assembling themselves together (Heb. 10. 25.) which the Church when first gathered, was very diligent in, Act. 2. 42, 46. Some held the form of knowledge and profession, but fell from the Life and Power, 2 Tim. 3. 5. Yea, many wayes did the wolvish false Spirits drive and scatter from the flock, as they could get entrance into mens minds.

Object. But how could the Church decline thus in the Apostles dayes, the Spirit of God being so Powerful in the Apostles, and being also so generally then bestowed upon believers? as Gal. 4. 6.

Answ. It is true, they had great advantages of standing, by reason of the presence and power of the Spirit with them. But yet withal, the Spirit of the Lord is tender, jealous, and might be grieved and provocked by neglects (his warnings being slighted, and his motions quenched) and so might draw back from such, as either received not the Truth in the love of it, or grew cold and careless afterwards: and then the Spirit of darkness and deceit thereby had advantage to blind them, gain upon them, and enter into that part of them, which the the Spirit of the Lord had before recovered and possessed. Now the enemy; having got entrance, prevailes and captivates more and more, unless the Lord in tender love and mercy visit it again, lifting up a standard for the Soul, and so drawing it back by degrees into his light and Power again.

Besides, it is easie to decline (easie for any soul, easie for any Church) but there is need of much care, fear, faith, obedience, watchfulness to the Lord, and against the enemy, &c. to preserve and keep the estate of an heart, or the estate of a Church chast and pure. Ye are kept by the power of God through Faith unto Salvation. Can any thing preserve a Soul, or Church, but Gods Power? And doth God preserve any Soul, or Church, but in the way he hath appointed? A Church is like a Garden, needs digging, dressing, watering and Sun-shine, to cause it to thrive and flourish. Do not weeds easily spring up in a Garden? yea ranker weeds than in common ground, which spread apace and over-run it faster, if it be not looked to and kept by the Gardiner? Read the figure and understand. Are not Spiritual weeds as corrupt and ſpreading, as the outward? are they not like leaven, have they not a poiſonous, infecting nature in them? Know ye not, ſaith the Apoſtle, that a little leaven leaveneth the whole lump? 1 Cor. 5. 6. if but one root of bitterneſs ſpring up in a Church, it may defile many, and trouble the whole, Heb 12. 15. And as one corrupted perſon, ſo alſo one corrupted Church may infect and poiſon many more. Yea, was it not thus in the Apoſtacy? When it once got head, did it not break in and overflow apace?

III

Of the declined and fallen ſtate of the Church.

WHen Antichriſt (or that Spirit, which wrought againſt the ſpiritual appearance of Chriſt, and power of his Truth) was revealed and got into the Temple, appearing and being acknowledged there as God: then (without controverſie) was the declined ſtate. He had been a long while working under ground, by his agents and miniſters, appearing as Miniſters of Righteouſneſs, in a form thereof, out of, and againſt the Power; but the Power (in the true Apoſtles and Miniſters) ſtood in his way, and wrought againſt him, ſo as he could not for a long time get up. Yet he prevailed more and more in the corrupt part in men, till at length he drew many (of the very ſtars from Heaven) after him, and then fighting an open battle, gets rid of the true Church, vomits out a floud after her (as if ſhe were an harlot, and not worthy the name of Chriſt's Spouſe) and ſo gets into the Temple, and is owned there (as Chriſt) in the ſtead of Chriſt.

Obj. Will any man own Antichriſt, worſhip Antichriſt, and acknowleg Antichriſt (in ſtead of Chriſt) to be God?

Anſ. Read 2 Theſ. 2. 4. and ſee if it be not ſo. See if he do not get into the Temple, and ſit ruling and governing in the Temple (that which was once ſo, and ought ſtill to be ſo) till the very coming and appearing of Chriſt in his ſpirit and brightneſs, verſ. 8.

Queſt. But how could this poſſibly ever be, or how can it be?

Anſw. He doth not directly get up, nor ſhew himſelf directly as he is; but in a myſtery of deceit. He doth not appear as Antichriſt (crying up all manner of filthineſs, abomination and contrariety to Chriſt, in direct words) but as Chriſt, preaching Righteouſneſs, crying up Scriptures, Ordinances, Church-Miniſtry, Holineſs, &c. Yet for all theſe words and fair pretences, he is not the true Spirit, but the falſe, the Antichriſtian: and thoſe that receive him, or bow to him in any of theſe; they bow not to Chriſt, but to him. He hath a mark, he hath a Name, he hath a Worſhip, he hath a Church, he hath a Miniſtry, he hath Laws and Ordinances of Worſhip; which whoſoever receives, worſhips not the Lord Jeſus Chriſt, but that Spirit which under a diſguiſe thus appeareth, which hath horns as it were of a Lamb, or like a Lamb: but not the Lambs horns, nor the Lambs nature, nor the Lambs Spirit, nor the Lambs meekneſs; but the old nature of the Dragon, who gives him both ſubtilty and power.

Now mark, when Chriſt brought forth his Church; it was a pure, holy, ſpiritual building, built up of renewed Spirits, ſuch as were new-born, ſuch as were waſhed, ſuch as were ſanctified, ſuch as were juſtified in the name of the Lord Jeſus, and by the Spirit of our God. Chriſts Church was Sion, even the holy Seed, built upon the Holy Hill of God, into an holy City or Temple. But Antichriſts Church is Babylon; which hath the wiſdom and order of man in it, ſuch as mans eye judgeth right, but is fooliſhneſs and confuſion in the eye of God. Now the Lord hath moſt terrible plagues, to pour out upon this Antichriſt, and upon his Babylon, yea upon every one that hath his mark or name, or that which amounts to his name, though it be not directly ſo called. Therefore O fear the Lord God, and ye that love the peace of your ſouls, pray to be delivered from that which his wrath is to: for the dregs of the cup of trembling are to be poured out on Antichriſt inward and outward; and on Babylon inward and outward. Let him that readeth underſtand the tender warnings, which are given forth in the tender Nature and and Spirit of the Lord; for the day of Mercy ſpends apace, and the night of anguiſh and tribulation haſtens.

The true Church of Chriſt was gathered by his Spirit into his Name and Power, and was a ſpiritual building, or building of Spirits therein; wherein the Spirit of the Lord was as preſent ſpiritually, as ever he appeared in the outward Temple or Ark outwardly. And the Miniſters of the new Teſtament were made by the Spirit, and ſent forth by the Spirit, and in the Power. Stephen (though but a Deacon) was full of faith and of the Holy Ghoſt: and if any man taught in the Church, he was to ſpeak as an Oracle of God. Fleſh is to be ſilent there, and only the Spirits voice to be heard in the Spiritual building. But now in the Apoſtacy, the Miniſters there are as wells without water, clouds without rain, who have only the ſhew of the thing after the fleſh, but not the truth of the thing after the Spirit: and ſo being not in the thing, not in the Spirit, they deſpiſe the dominion, and ſpeak evil of the dignities which are of the Spirit, and for advantage ſake cry up the dominions and dignities which are of the earth.

In the Apoſtles dayes, the Miniſters of the Church were not of man, nor ſet over the flock by man: but made by God, and ſet over the flock as overſeeres by him, Act. 20. 28. For the ſame Lord, who gave Apoſtles, Prophets and Evangeliſts, gave alſo Paſtors and Teachers, Epheſ. 4. 11. And though the hands of the Presbytery were laid on thoſe that were made Miniſters: yet that was not done ſuddenly or lightly, but by the Guidance of God's Spirit; and there went a Gift and Power of the Spirit along with it, according as Paul ſaid to Timothy; Neglect not the Gift that is in thee, which was given thee by Propheſie, with the Laying-on of the Hands of the Presbytery, 1 Tim. 4. 14. But now, in the declined, fallen Eſtate, there is no ſuch thing; but an empty Form, a Form of Worſhip, a Form of Godlineſs, a Form of Miniſtry, a Form of Doctrine, a Form of Diſcipline; without the Life, without the Spirit, without the Power, from which the true Form came, and whereby alone it could be preſerved.

This declined State hath been a very Sink of Iniquity, wherein the Chriſtian Love hath not only grown cold, but hath been quite dead, and plucked up by the very Roots; yea, wherein all that Filthineſs, which was ſprouting forth, and getting up in the Declining State, hath reigned in Power, defiling the very Name of Chriſtianity, oppreſſing the good Seed, and corrupting the Earth. Read 2 Tim. 3. 2, &c. and ſee what a Generation of Chriſtian Profeſſors were to grow up, (and did grow up) in the Time of the Apoſtacy.

IV.

Of the State of the Church in its Recovery; or, what State the Church ſhall be in, after it is Recovered out of the Apoſtacy.

THE State of the Church after the Apoſtacy, is to be like the Eſtate it was in before the Apoſtacy, (for Purity, Power, Brightneſs, and Glory, &c.) Yea, Shall it not be more Glorious, after its coming through all this Darkneſs and Shining over it, than it was before? The New-Jeruſalem is to come down from God out of Heaven: The Bride is to be clothed and adorned as the Lamb's Wife, meet for the Delight of her Husband. The Power and Spirit of the Lord, which cleanſeth away all this Rubbiſh, will make his Truth ſhine, his Church ſhine, his ſuffering Lambs (that come out of the great Tribulation) ſhine, more than ever before. The Lord God Omnipotent, will take his great Power unto him to Reign, and will Reign according to his Power, in the Hearts of his Children, and over the Earth. He will break that which ſtands in his way, with a Rod of Iron; and he will embrace, and exalt that, which boweth to, and kiſſeth the Scepter of his Son, who is to appear upon the Holy Hill of Sion: And the Law is to go forth out of Sion, and the Word of the Lord from Jeruſalem; the Power whereof ſhall break down the Power of Iniquity, and bring up the ſuffering Seed into the Dominion and Glory of Life.

In

In this Reſtored Eſtate, Anti-chriſt ſhall be worſhipped no more, nor the Beaſt, nor the Dragon, who gave his Power to the Beaſt: But the Lord God ſhall be Worſhipped and Magnified over All. It ſhall be ſaid no more, Who can make War with the Beaſt, after the Lamb hath overcome him? But, Who is like to thee, O Lord, O King of Saints, who haſt taken to thee thy great Power; and haſt Reigned, and doſt Reign; who haſt brought down this lofty City, and trod it under the Feet of the Poor, and made the Steps of the Needy to paſs over it; who haſt made it an Heap, (the City fenced by all the Might, Wiſdom, and Power of Man) a Ruinous Heap, a Place no more for thy dear Children to be Captived in, and Oppreſſed; but an Habitation of Dragons, and a Cage of every unclean and noiſome Bird for ever? —— Who ſhall not fear thee, O Lord, and glorifie thy Name? for thou only art Holy: for all Nations ſhall come, and Worſhip before thee; for thy Judgments are made manifeſt, Rev. 15. 4. Thou haſt judged down Babylon, which was Exalted; Thou haſt pittied Sion, which lay in the Duſt for many Ages and Generations; and haſt raiſed up thine own Holy Building again, and wilt give to thy Children to be clothed, and to walk before thee in pure white Linnen (which is the righteous Nature, and Spirit of thy Son) for evermore: And the Darkneſs ſhall never come over them again; but the Beaſt, Dragon, and falſe Prophet ſhall be caſt into, and bound down in the Lake; and the Springs of Life ſhall open, and whoſoever will, may come freely, and drink of the Water of Life. And the People in Heaven ſhall ſay, Alleluja; Salvation, and Glory, and Honour, and Power unto the Lord our God.

And the Voice of great Multitudes, and the Voice of many Waters; and the Voice of mighty Thunders ſhall ſay Alleluja, and ſhall be glad and rejoyce, and ſhall give Honour to the Lord, for the Brides Marriage with the Lamb, and for her Rich Adoring for her Bridegrom. Yea, the Earth ſhall rejoyce, and the Multitudes of the Iſles be glad. Why ſo? Becauſe the Lord Reigns, who is tender even of the Earth, and hates the Oppreſſing not only of his Seed, but alſo of his Creatures: For, he will reign and judge in Righteouſneſs and Tenderneſs, and much Mercy to all that is of him; and none ſhall feel his Judgment and Severity, but that which is contrary to him, and joineth to his Enemy. For the Lord will make War with that Spirit, which is contrary to his Life and Nature, for ever and ever. And he that joineth to that Spirit, ſhall find Woe, Miſery, and Tribulation: (Tribulation and Anguiſh ſhall light upon every Soul that continues in the Evil Doing.) But he that comes from under that Spirit by the Leadings of God's Spirit, bowing to and kiſſing the Son, ſhall taſte of the Father's Love to the Son, and partake of the Mercy, Peace, and Reconciliation, which is treaſured up in him. Amen.

The Way of Salvation, in the Covenant of Life, opened; and ſome Stumbling-Blocks removed out of the Way of the Simple-hearted.

THere are many whom the Lord hath raiſed up, in this Day of the Manifeſtation of his Power, and of his Everlaſting Love, to bear witneſs to his Truth; among whom, I alſo (who was an Out-caſt, and Miſerable beyond Expreſſion) have obtained Mercy to partake of the Vertue, Life, and Power of his precious Truth, (which redeems from the Bondage of Sin and Iniquity;) and am alſo many times moved by the Lord to teſtifie, of what he hath made known unto me, and given me to experience.

This brief Touch ſprang in me by way of Preface: Now to the Thing it ſelf.

The Father, in whom is the whole Virtue and Power of Redemption, ſent his Son to gather the ſcattered and loſt Sheep of the Houſe of Iſrael; and not only ſo, but he gave him alſo for a Light to the Gentiles, that he might be his Salvation to the End of the Earth! And ſending him, he ſent his Spirit and Power with him: For that which is begotten by the Father, is not able to do the Work, unleſs anointed ted and assisted by the Father: Therefore, the Father, who sent him to Preach the Gospel, anointed him, and filled him with his Spirit, that he might Preach the Gospel, according to that Scripture, Isa. 61. 1, 2, 3. The Spirit of the Lord God is upon me, because the Lord hath anointed me to Preach good Tydings to the Meek; he hath sent me to bind up the Broken-hearted, to proclaim Liberty to the Captives, and the opening the Prison to them that are bound; to proclaim the Acceptable Year of our Lord, and to Comfort all that Mourn, &c.

Quest. But, How come these Meek, these Broken-hearted, these Captives, these bound in Prison, these Mourners, to meet with the Redemption and Blessings, which he is anointed to Preach to them? Or, Which way do they come to receive and partake of them from him?

Answ. In Faith. This all his outward Healings did signifie, being thus Dispensed. (If thou wilt believe, thou shalt see the Glory of God, Thy Faith hath made thee whole. O Woman, great is thy Faith! Be it unto thee according to thy Faith.) And thus all his inward Healings are bestowed upon, and received by the Soul; to wit, in the Faith.

Quest. But, How come they to have Faith? Or, How cometh any Man to have Faith in the Redeeming Power?

Answ. It is bestowed upon them by God; in the Sense which is from him. His Word goeth forth from his Mouth; there is a Witness of him in the Heart, towards which it reacheth. Now, it reaching to the Witness, immediately it brings into a Sense, and in that Sense begets Faith; and being mixed with this Faith (which is of its own Begetting) in them that hear it, it begins the Work of Life and Redemption, in that Heart, where it is not yet begun; or carries it on in that Heart, wherein it is already begun. Thus Faith hath a Work, a Work from the beginning of the Hearts turning to God, even to the end; which he that abides in the Faith till the end, finds accomplished.

Object. But this Faith is bestowed on some few whom God hath Elected, not on all Men.

Answ. God hath sent his Gospel to be Preached to every Creature; and his Word is able to reach the Witness, and work Sense in every Creature. And in whomsoever there is a Sense wrought, they listening to God in that Sense, he works Faith in them: And waiting on the Word, hearkning to the Word, and staying their Minds there-through on the Lord, he will speak Peace to them, and keep them in Peace, dayly removing them more and more out of the Reach and Power of that which troubleth them.

Quest. Doth the New-Covenant lay all upon God, and require nothing of the Creature? Or, Is there something required by God of the Creature in, and by Vertue of the New-Covenant?

Answ. Consider well, Doth not God require of the Creature, in the New-Covenant, what he gives in the New-Covenant? Doth he not require the Faith, and the Exercising of that Faith, which he himself works, and gives in the Sense, from the Power and Demonstration of his Truth, to the Soul? The New-Covenant requires more of the Creature, than ever the Old did; but it requires them not of the Creatures, as weak in the Fall; but as taught (strengthened and enabled) to walk with God in, and by Vertue of the Covenant. Yea, all manner of Holiness, and Righteousness of Heart, Life, and Conversation, is required in and by the New-Covenant. For, as the Lord works out of all therein, in the Creature; so the Creature works out all thereby, in the the Lord, according to that known Scripture; Work out your own Salvation with Fear and Trembling; for it is God which worketh in you both to Will, and to Do, of his good Pleasure. And as the Creature is able to do nothing that is Good, of it self; so being grown up into the Life and Ability, which is of God, it is able to do all things through Christ, that strengthneth it.

Quest. But, Why is it said, That Christ was Anointed to Preach the Gospel to the Poor, the Meek, the Broken-hearted, the Captives, the bound in Prison, the Mourners, (for want of Righteousness, Life, and Peace?) Did not God give his Son in Love to All? Was he not made a Ransome and Propitiation for All? Yea, Was he not A- nointed to Preach the Gospel to All? How then comes it here to be thus Limited and Restrained to some?

Answ. It is true, God had a general Respect to Mankind, in the Gift and Anointing of his Son; but yet, there are some in a better Capacity to Receive, already in the Sense of the want of him, and panting and longing after him: Yea, there are some, who are grievously sick in Soul, and deeply wounded in Spirit; the Sadness and Misery of whose Condition, cryes aloud for the Help of the Physician. Now, the Eye and Heart of the Lord, is more especially towards these; and so he bids his Prophets be Instructing and Comforting these, concerning the Salvation, the Healing, the Oyl of Gladness, the Messiah to come; and when he comes, he sends him up and down, to seek out these, to keep company with these, to help and relieve these; having given him the Tongue of the Learned, to speak a VVord in season to these weary, distressed Ones. These are not like the common, rough, unhewen, knotty, rugged Earth; but like Earth prepared for the Seed, and so easily and naturally Receive it. The Gospel is Preached to others at a distance, which (it is true) they may have, if they will hearken to it, and wait for it, and part with what must be first parted with; but they have a great way to Travel thither. But these are near the Kingdom, these are near that which opens, and lets in Life, these are quickly reached to, melted, and brought into the Sense; in which, with Joy, they receive the Faith; and with the Faith, the Power, which brings Righteousness and Salvation to their Souls. Though also the Enemy is exceeding busie to darken, disturb, and bow down these; that he might still keep them in the Doubts, in the Fears, in the Chains, in the Fetters, in the Prison-House, from the Liberty and Healing, which the Word of the Anointing brings.

Now mind: God is Real towards All; he desires the Life and Salvation of All, not the Destruction of any one Soul that ever he Created; (it is Unnatural to him.) And the VVay that he holds forth, he stands ready to meet any Man in. Whom is it, that he doth not draw? And, Who is it, that may not come in the Drawing? Is not his VVord an Hammer? and, Whom can it not break? Is it not fire? and, Whose Corruption can it not burn up? Is it not Water, Wine, and Blood? and, Whom cannot it wash and nourish? Therefore, let no Man think to lay the Blame upon God, because of his Perishing; for he will be deceived therein, and God will prove true, who saith, Mans Destruction is of himself; and every Man a Lyar, who layeth any Blame on Him, for not giving him further Assistance with his Power. Neither let him blame God for hardening him; for God hardeneth no Man, but him who first refuseth, and grieveth the Power and Love, which would melt and soften him. It is true, We are the Clay, and God the Potter: And, May not the Potter make what Vessels he will of his Clay? This Parable came from the Spirit of the Lord, to Israel of Old: But, What use did the Lord make of it? Did he say to them, Do what ye will; some of you I will cast off, and others of you I will shew Mercy to; for I have determined so? Nay, not so; but I have this Power over you; therefore, do not provoke me. (Read Jer. 18.) Was not God exceeding tender to that outward People, in that outward Covenant? Did he ever give them up to Pain and Sufferings, without great Provocations on their Parts? He doth not afflict willingly, nor grieve the Children of Men. Wherefore, Doth a living Man complain, a Man for the Punishment of his Sins? Let us search and try our Wayes, and turn again to the Lord. And the Spirit of the Lord never failed to do what was his Part, towards the turning them from Iniquity, towards the Lord in that Covenant.

And when they did Believe, Consent, and Obey, and did eat the Good of the Land, Was it not Pleasant and Delightful to him? And when they provoked him to Jealousie, and drew down Judgments upon their Heads, Was it not irksome and painful to him? (Read Deut. 5. 29. Isa. 5. Ezek. 20. Jer. 44. 4. and Chap. 31. 20. Isa. 63. 7. to vers. 15.) And, Will God fail to do his Part towards any Man for the Salvation of his Soul, which is so precious, of so great Concern, and the Loss whereof he knoweth to be so unvaluable? No, no; the Spirit of God suffers, in every Man upon the Face of the Earth, that sins against him; and is grieved and wounded by their unjust and unrighteous Conversations, from day to day, against the Testimony of of somewhat of him in them, which is contrary thereto. Now, this is of a precious Nature; and being so despised and rejected by Men, Can it be wondered, that God doth not proceed to make it more manifest, and to work more in Men by it? Nay, May it not rather be wondered, that God doth continue to manifest it so much? What Man could endure to behold a thing so Precious in his Eyes, (as this is in God's) so continually abused by, and to suffer so much from that which is so far beneath it; as God dayly doth? Therefore, if there come a Day of Reckoning for this, with all Men upon the Face of the Earth; (for, Who hath not had a Talent from God, even of the pure eternal Light in him, witnessing in his Heart and Conscience, against the Darkness?) there will be no Cause of wondring at it. And, Is not this Light and Spirit, (which shines in all Mens Darkness, in some Measure, stirring and witnessing against it, and endeavouring to perswade and draw the Mind from it) the very same in nature and kind, with the Light and Spirit of the Father, which appeared in that Person of Christ? And, if hearkened unto and followed, Would it not bring into Union and Fellowship with him, and into a Partaking of the Benefit of all he did in that Body? Yea, Would not the Spirit reveal whatever is necessary to be known to that Soul, which receives and follows it? O what hath God done (in his rich and tender Mercy towards all) for Mankind! And, How clear will he be, when he opens and manifests the Righteousness of his Judgment? He will not clear himself after this manner, that he hath disposed of them to Destruction, according to the Power and Prerogative of his Will; but that they have run headlong into Destruction, against the Light and Leadings of his Will and Power; to which it is natural to save, but not to Destroy. That is the Act which is proper to another Nature and Spirit, but strange to his.

Object. But, Could not God save any, if he would? Who can Resist his Will, or his Power? Who can Stop or Resist him in his Work of Redemption or Destruction?

Answ. God can so put forth his Will and Power, as none can Resist. Yea, the Will and Power of God, (which offereth to save, and standeth ready to save) will bring Destruction upon all that so dally with it, as to neglect and let pass the Day of their Visitation: and thus none can Resist his Will, or his Power. But in the Way wherein he appeareth, and hath chosen to work out Life and Salvation; Satan, and Man's corrupt Heart and Mind, may, and do often Resist the Will and Power of the Lord. Now, that which Resisteth, is not of God, but against him; yet it is the Patience of the Lord, to suffer it. I find Drawings in my Heart from God, or I durst not open these things. For I dare not hold out to Men, what the Lord hath given me to know and Experience; but only what he giveth and chuseth for me to hold out; and that will be Life to them that receive it. But if I should hold out any thing of my self, that would not reach to Life, but only feed the wrong Part in Men; and so help to build up that, which God will again throw down, before he saves that Soul which is built up with the Knowledge of things, after this manner.

There is somewhat springs up in my Heart, which may perhaps open this thing further to the Minds of some.

Cain was the first wicked Man that we read of; and, How tender was God towards him? even him that sacrificed not after the Spirit, but after the Flesh, and slew his Brother Abel? Now, Can any Man lay Cain's Wickedness either upon the Will, or upon the Degree and Council of God? Might he not have done well? Might he not have sacrificed to God in the Faith, as well as his Brother Abel? And, If he had done well, and Offered in the Faith, Had he not found Forgiveness and Acceptance with the Lord? God Accepteth no Man's Person, God Rejecteth no Man's Person; but there is a Seed he hath chosen, and to gather Man into this Seed, is his Delight and Work, as it is the Delight, Nature, and Work of another Spirit to scatter from this Seed.

Now, in this Seed he doth accept, and not out of it. Yea, in this Seed shall all the Families of the Earth be blessed, as they are gathered into, and abide in it. And this Seed is a Word nigh in the Mouth and Heart, both of Jew and Gentile; which, as it is hearkened to, writes the Law of the Spirit of Life in the Heart, either of Jew or Gentile: And, as they become Sons, ſo the Spirit of the Father is poured out upon them, even the Spirit of Adoption, which cryeth, Abba Father, either in Jew or Gentile. And this is the Goſpel of the Kingdom, which is preached more ſparingly, or abundantly, by the Mouth of the Seed, as the Lord pleaſeth.

For God's Power, Wiſdom, Mercy, Love, Goodneſs, Patience, and Long-ſuffering, &c. is his own; and he may ſow of it, or exerciſe it, more ſparingly or abundantly, as he pleaſeth: Yea, he doth exerciſe it more abundantly towards the Veſſels of Mercy; ſo that the Cauſe of their Salvation doth not ſo much ariſe from their Embracing of Mercy, as from God's exerciſing of it. He viſiteth Nations as he pleaſeth, and Perſons in Nations as he pleaſeth: And, Who may ſay unto him, What doſt thou? Why art thou ſo Good and Kind here? Or, Why art thou ſo Sharp and Severe there? But ſtill in the way, and according to the Path of the Covenant, doth the Lord walk in and towards all; and his Mercy endureth for ever towards the Seed of the Righteous, and his Juſtice and Indignation for ever towards the Seed of the Evil-doer: And Man (ſimply conſidered) is not either of theſe; but as he is gathered into, and brought forth in the Root and Spirit of either of theſe. Now, every Man hath a Day for the Life of his Soul; and Power and Mercy is near him, to help him to travel from Death to Life: Happy is he, who is taught of God to make uſe of it.

And let not Men puzle themſelves about the Myſtery of Election and Reprobation, which cannot be underſtood by ſuch, as are out of the thing wherein it is made manifeſt. Only thus, at preſent; Pharoah and Iſrael, Eſau and Jacob, Iſhmael and Iſaac, &c. were Parables, ſignifying ſomewhat inward. What was Pharoah? was he not the Oppreſſour of God's Iſrael? What was Eſau? was he not the Firſt-birth, which ſold the Birth-right and Inheritance? What was Iſhmael? was he not the Birth after the Fleſh? Theſe are rejected, and caſt off by God for ever; and the Spiritual Iſrael, the Spiritual Jacob, the Spiritual Iſaac are accepted.

Shall I ſpeak out this thing yet more plain? Why thus then: It is not the Creature which is rejected by its Maker; but ſomewhat in the Creature, and the Creature in that. Nor is it the Creature ſimply, which is elected; but ſomewhat in the Creature, and the Creature in that. And as any Man comes into that, the Election is begun in him; and as any Man abides in that, he abides in the Election: and as that is made ſure to any Man, his Calling and Election is made ſure to him. But as any Man departs from that, he departs from the Election into the Reprobation: and going on in that into the full Impenitency and Hardneſs, he will for ever miſs of the Election; and the Reprobation, and Sealing up to Condemnation, will be made ſure to him. For God is no Reſpecter of Perſons; but every where, he that receiveth his holy Seed, and therein worketh Righteouſneſs, is accepted of him; and he that receiveth the wicked Seed, and therein worketh Wickedneſs and Unrighteouſneſs, is with it Rejected.

Object. But, may the honeſt heart ſay, this may be truth for ought I know; but indeed I did not apprehend things to be ſo: for I thought man and his works had been wholly excluded by the Covenant of Grace, but this ſeems to take both him and them in upon a conſideration.

Anſw. Man is wholly excluded the Covenant of Grace as in himſelf, as he ſtands in himſelf and in his own ability, out of the newneſs of the life and ability which is of the new Covenant. But he is not excluded as he is renewed, and receiveth a new Being, Life, Vertue, and Ability in the new Covenant: but here much is required of him; and whatever he thus doth is owned, acknowledged and accepted by God. Here the true Jew hath praiſe of God. He is commended for his Faith, and for his Obedience in the Faith. For his loving the Lord his God with all his heart, and his Neighbour as himſelf. For his waſhing his Garments in the blood of the Lamb, and keeping them clean in the ſame blood, while others defile theirs. For his merciful nature and actions to Chriſt in his members, while others are rough and cruel. For his watching againſt ſnares and temptations, while others are running into them. For his crucifying that in himſelf, which others feed in themſelves. Yea, for his denying and turning from all ungodlineſs and worldly luſts, even of the fleſh, eyes, and pride of life, all which which are not of the Father (whom he is born of, and seeks after) but of the spirit of the world, which the earthly-minded man is born of, and seeks to please. So that (mark) though man is excluded in his corrupt nature and state, yet not the new man, not man in the regeneration: but man must be regenerated, and thus man must enter into the Covenant of Life, and thus man must abide and be found in the Covenant of Life, in the Nature, in the Righteousness, in the Holiness, in the Power thereof, if ever God own him.

Object. But this seems to lay the difference on mans act, and not wholly on the Grace of God. For the Grace, in it self, is equally powerful towards all; but it is my receiving of it, which maketh it effectual unto me; which others not receiving it, it is not so to them.

Answ. The Grace in it self is of its own Nature every where. This is true. And that it hath Power in it every where, and that this Power is over and above sin; this is true also. But yet there is a greater or lesser proportion of it given, according to the pleasure and good will of the giver: and according to the measure of it, (which is freely given) and the souls growth therein; so is the Power of it manifested in the heart.

Now the difference in every man is by the Grace. Not of himself: for he can do nothing that is good, as of himself, but only by the Grace, which is alone able to work that which is good in him, and to cause him to work in it. Yet thus it is; As the Grace reacheth to him, draweth him, quickning and causing him in the Virtue, Life, and Obedience, of the Grace to answer the Grace; so doth the work thereof go on in him. And there is matter of Condemnation to him, who doth not answer the Grace; and there is matter of Justification and Praise to him, who doth answer the Grace. Yet this whole ability arising not from himself, but from the Grace; the acknowledgment of what is effected thereby, doth of right and due belong to the Grace. And therefore they who are justified, sanctified, and crowned by the Grace, do but of right and due cast the Crowns at the feet of the Lamb, at the Throne of the Grace, giving honour and glory to him who is worthy, and to his Grace which hath wrought all in them.

Now if any man would know this thing groundedly and certainly, let him not run into disputes of the mind and brain, but come to heart-experience. Hast thou ever found the work of Gods Grace in thy heart? hast thou found thy heart, at any time, believe and obey, in and through the strength of the Grace? Hast thou found thy heart at another time negligent of, or rebellious against the Grace? when thou wert rebellious, wert not thou condemned, and that justly too? When thou didst believe and obey, to whom did the honour thereof belong? to thee, or to the Grace? Canst thou answer this? Why, as it is in thy self, between thee when obeying and disobeying: the same is the state of the case between godly and wicked men. There was a difference between thee when thou obeyedst the Grace, and when thou disobeyedst it: so is there between the unregenerate, and regenerate. When thou obeyest not, that which called for obedience condemned thee, so it doth them. When thou obeyedst, thou didst sensibly feel the praise was not thine, but belonged to the Grace which wrought in thee: so is it also in the Regenerate, in whom the Lord works by his Grace, and who work out their Salvation through him, and make their calling and election sure in him. Leave brain-knowledge, and come to true sense (where the mysteries of God are made manifest) and this will soon be cast and clear to thee. But these things were never intended by God, to be found out by mans disputing wisdom: for God (who giveth the knowledge) hideth them from that part, and giveth them to the innocent simple birth of his own Spirit.

Object. But when the Father draweth, can any man resist or hold off? doth not the Power of the Lord make any man willing, whom he exerciseth his Power towards? and is it not thereupon said, Thy People shall be willing in the day of thy Power?

Answ. The power of the Lord is great, and hath dominion over all the evil spirits that can tempt, and over all the corruptions, backslidings and withdrawings of the heart. But the Father doth not save man by such an absolute act of his power (for then there would need no more to be done, but an immediate translating of a man from death to life; which if the Lord pleased to do, nothing could come between to hinder) but the the power of the Lord works in and according to the way that he hath appointed. And in this way the Devil hath liberty and power to tempt from, oppose and resist the work of God: and they that hearken to him, and enter into the temptation and snare which he layes, let his power in upon them, and withdraw from the vertue, operation and strength of the power of God. Yet for all this, the Lord not only begins his work, but also carries it on in the day of his power, giving not only to will, but also to do what is right and pleasing in his eyes: but still in and according to his own way and covenant.

Object. And so whereas some men say, If God put forth his power to save, and the Devil interrupt and stop his work; then it seems that the Devil is stronger than God. Is the Devil stronger than God, say they? If he be not, how can he resist and withstand him in the work of his power?

Answ. Nay, the Devil is not stronger than God, though he is very strong. But if the heart set in the enemy, grieve the Spirit, beat back his power in the way wherein it hath appointed to work, the Devil may be more prevalent with him, than the power of God. But in those that believe, and become obedient and subject to the power of God; his power is far stronger in them, to defend and carry on his work, than the power of the Divil is to work against, and hinder it.

There are objections also, relating to Free-will and falling from Grace, which stick much in the spirits of many, and they cannot get over them; but it hath pleased the Lord to clear up these things to us, and to satisfie our hearts concerning them, so that with us there is no difficulty nor doubt about them.

As touching Free will; We know from God, that man in his fallen estate is spiritually dead, and hath no free-will to good, but his understanding and will are both darkned and captivated by the enemy. But in Christ there is freedom, and in his Word there is power and life: and that reaching to the heart, looseneth the bands of the enemy, and begetteth not only a freedom of mind towards good, but an inclination, desires and breathings after it. Thus the Father draws, and thus the soul (feeling the drawing) answers in some measure: and the soul, thus coming, is welcomed by Christ, and accepted of the Father. But for all this the enemy will tempt this soul; and the soul may hearken to, let in, and enter into the temptation, and so draw back from the plough to which it put its hand. Now if any man draw back, my soul shall have no pleasure in him, saith the Lord; and he that putteth his hand to the plough, and looketh back, is not fit for the Kingdom of Heaven.

So concerning Falling away; The Lord shews us what it is that is apt to fall, and what cannot fall. Christ cannot fall; and that which is gathered into him, stands and abides in him (and so partakes of his preservation) cannot fall. There is no breaking in upon that power which preserves, in the way that it hath appointed; but there is a running and perishing out of the way. Out of the limits of the Covenant, the preservation and power of the Covenant is not witnessed. But in coming to Christ, in the drawings of the Father, in the sense and faith which he begets; & abiding with him that drew, in the sense and faith which he daily and freshly begets anew (for he reneweth Covenant and Mercy daily, and keepeth Covenant and Mercy for ever:) in this is the power felt, the preservation felt; in this the Fathers hand incompasseth the soul, which none can pluck it out of. Now he that feels and experiences these things every day, that seeks and feels daily how he can fall, and how he cannot fall; how he meets with the preservation, and how he misses of the preservation; how he abides in the pure power (which is the limits of this holy Covenant) and how he wanders out of this power, into the limits of another Covenant, Spirit and Power; he knows these things how they are indeed, whereas other men (who are not exercised in the thing) do but guess at them, striving to comprehend them in that part, which God hath shut out of them.

Now mind a Parable, with which I shall conclude this.

Though the natural, and outwardly-visible Sun, be risen never so high upon the Earth; yet he that is naturally blind cannot see it, nor partake of the light thereof. So also, though the spiritual Sun, the Sun of Righteousness, the Sun of the inward-world be risen never so high, and appear brightly in never so many clouds; yet they that are spiritually ſpiritually blind, cannot diſcern it, nor reap the benefits of its light, nor partake of the Healing which is under his wings.

Some Queries concerning the New Covenant.

Query 1. WHat is the Covenant of Hell and Death, which muſt of neceſſity be broken, before a ſoul can be gathered into the Covenant of Life?

Query 2. What is the Covenant of Life and Peace, into which God gathers the ſoul?

Query 3. How doth God gather? By a meer act of power, which nothing can reſiſt? or in a way wherein his power (though much reſiſted) ſhall prevail for the ſalvation of thoſe, who are faithful in the Covenant: who come to Chriſt, abide in Chriſt, reſiſt and fight (in Chriſt) againſt all that is contrary to his Nature and Spirit, and overcome through him?

Query 4. Are there any terms in this Covenant? or can there be any terms in this Covenant, ſutable to the nature of the Covenant? Is believing in the Power, as abſolutely required in this Covenant, as obedience to the Law, was under the Covenant of the Law?

Query 5. If faith in the Power, and obedience to the Power that Redeems, be required as terms in the new Covenant; yet if they be not required of the creature in its own capacity and ability, but as ſtrengthned and enabled by the vertue, life and power of the Covenant, are they not free terms, noble terms, worthy and becoming a free Covenant?

Query 6. Is not this the Goſpel or new Covenant, That whoſoever believeth and receiveth the Baptiſm of the Holy Ghoſt and Fire (ſuffering in the fleſh, and having his ſins and corruptions purged away by the ſpirit of judgment, and by the ſpirit of burning, and ſo walketh no longer after the fleſh, but after the ſpirit) I ſay, Is not this the Goſpel or new Covenant, That he that thus believeth, and is thus baptized, ſhall not be condemned with the World, but juſtified and ſaved by that Spirit and Power which cleanſeth him?

Query 7. Doth God write his Laws in mens hearts, or put his Fear therein, or his Spirit within them, cauſing them to walk in his Ways and Statutes, and to keep his Judgments, &c. I ſay, Doth God do this to men out of the Faith? Is not the work of Salvation begun in the Faith, and carried on and perfected in the Faith? And he that maketh ſhipwark of Faith, and of a good Conſcience, can he groundedly hope to have the work of Salvation carried on in him?

Query 8. Doth not God beget, increaſe, and perfect the Faith, which is available unto Salvation? Is any man accepted in the Faith which is of his own nature? or is the acceptation in and through the Faith which is of the Sons nature?

Query 9. May the temptations of the Devil, with a mans hearkening thereto, hinder Gods begetting Faith in him, or no? Or if it be begotten, can they hinder the growth and increaſe of it?

Query 10. When God draws, muſt a man neceſſarily come to the Son? or may the Devil ſo tempt, and he ſo hearken thereto, as that his coming to the Son may be hindered, notwithſtanding the Fathers drawing?

Query 11. Is there not Juſtification to them that receive the Seed, to them that obey the Light? And is there not condemnation to them that refuſe the Seed, and obey not the Goſpel of its Salvation?

Query 12. Do men periſh for want of power from God? or through their cleaving to another power, and refuſing the ſtrength of that which is over that other power, whoſe hand would help their ſouls, and bring them through and over it, did they receive it, and cleave to it in the way that the Lord hath appointed?

Query 13. They that receive the Power, believe in it and live: do they do it by their their own ſtrength? or in the ſtrength and vertue which flows from the Power, which enlivens, draws, and makes able to follow?

Query 14. Thoſe that are weak as to the Power, and in whom the Enemy and corruptions are ſtrong; is the defect on Gods part? or on his Covenants part? or in the way of Life, which he hath pitched upon as ſufficient to redeem and deliver fallen-man by? Or is God (and his Covenant and Way of Life) wholly clear of the defect, and reſts it wholly on them?

An Exhortation to all People, but more eſpecially to ſuch as are deſolate and diſtreſſed.

Now is the acceptable Time, now is the day of Salvation. Now is the Life ariſen, and now the Light ſhines, to guide out of the Darkneſs and Death, into the Land of the Living. O awake ye that ſleep in the duſt of the earth, ariſe up from among the dead, and Chriſt ſhall give you Light, to walk along in the path of the Living. Come to him whom the Father hath ſealed, who is Life, and who giveth Life freely to all that come; yea abundantly to thoſe that wait upon him, and walk faithfully in his Covenant. O therefore come into Covenant with him; mind the words of his lips, which beget ſenſe, and in that ſenſe his Life ſtirs, and in the ſtirrings of his Life and the drawings of the Father are felt. And when the Father draws, he whom-ever he draws may come: and him who comes, Chriſt will in no wiſe caſt out, but receive into his armes and defence by his power, againſt that which would draw or force back from him into perdition. Therefore hearken to the little movings and ſtirrings in you, after that which is eternal: for any deſire which is in truth after him, he will not quench (it is his nature to cheriſh it;) but he will be a ſtrength and relief to the ſoul, againſt that, which would quench and put out the breathings and pantings after him, that it might ſtill hold the ſoul in bondage and captivity. And people mind this (it is a true teſtimony.) The door of life is now ſo opened, by him who hath the key and power, and who ever will may enter. For the power of Life is ariſen, againſt the power of Death and the deſtroyer of the Soul: ſo that great, yea very great advantage is there in this day, to all that are willing to follow the Leader and Captain of Salvation, out of the Land of Captivity. Mind but his viſits, and be faithful, in the ſtrength which flows from him; and nothing ſhall hinder thy ſoul from overcoming what ſtands in thy way, to ſtop thee from attaining the eternal Crown and Inheritance of Life.

And as for you afflicted Mourners, who are ſeeking the way to Sion, bewailing the abſence of your Beloved, in whoſe preſence is life and redemption, reſurrection from the dead, and victory over ſin, yea all that your hearts have deſired or can deſire; What ſhall I ſay to you? O my Friends and dear Brethren, May I ſpeak a little freely to you concerning the Lord Jeſus? how that he was born of the Virgin Mary, according to the fleſh, fulfilled his Miniſtry and ſervice in the fleſh, and was taken up to God: and how that the ſame Lord Jeſus was afterwards born in ſpirit, of the ſpiritual Woman the Church, even ſo born as to rule all Nations, with an Iron Rod; and yet did not come forth to rule the Nations, but was taken up to God again, and hath not ſince appeared in that ſpirit, power and dominion; but only in ſuch a ſtrength of life, as might enable his VVitneſſes to bear witneſs to him all along the Apoſtacy, until the Church ſhould come out of the VVilderneſs, and the Man-child appear again.

And now hear the joyful news. The Apoſtacy is ended. Mark, I do not ſay the Apoſtacy is generally ended. No, no. There are many Woes, Plagues, Judgments and terrible Thunders to come upon Perſons and Nations, before they feel it ended. But it is ended in ſome Veſſels, which are upon the earth. The man of ſin, that wicked one, the ſon of perdition hath been diſcovered by the Spirit of the Lord, chaced, conſumed and deſtroyed by the breath of his mouth, and by the brightneſs of his appearance in ſome. Yea the Church is come out of the Wilderneſs, and the Man-child is come along with her: for ſhe is not come without her Beloved, but leaning upon her Beloved; and he is known ruling with his Golden Scepter, and with his Iron Rod, battering down the corrupt, ſelfiſh, ſtubborn, earthly ſpirit, and raiſing up that which is meek, tender, lowly, and lay bowed down and oppreſſed.

Now

Now as Christ said, preaching in the dayes of his flesh, This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears, Luk. 4. 21. VVas it not then fulfilled outwardly among the outward Jews? were there any sick, or weak, or blind, or lame, or Leapers, or possessed with Devils, whom he was not ready to cure? and did he not go about doing good, and seeking them out to cure them? So may it not now be said in the spirit and power of the Lord, among the spiritual Jews, This day is this Scripture fulfilled spiritually in your ears. Yea, what he did then outwardly, is known in spirit to be done among you inwardly and spiritually. How many that were before blind, do now see? that were before deaf, do now hear? that were formerly lame, do now walk? that were very leaprous, are now cleansed? that were very dead, are now raised? that were quite dumb, do now speak? and the poor, the empty, the naked are now clothed, and filled with riches and treasures of the everlasting Kingdom? May it not be truly said, by many poor distressed hearts, that the wilderness and solitary place is now glad, because that which once was parched with drought and barrenness, now feels the living Springs, and the breaking forth of the pure clear River of Life, the streams whereof makes glad the City of God, and cause melody in the heart to the Lord? Where's the envious, cruel, dragonish nature, may some say? Yea, where is the place where Dragons lay? Is there not a new Creation? a new Heaven, a new Earth, and are not all things become new therein? Are not the old things of the night, and of the darkness passed away, and all things become new in this day, which the Lord hath made, in the hearts which have received, and been subject to his Light?

And now what hinders, but that ye also should lift up your heads, and see the coming of the Son of man in the Clouds, wherein he comes, and partake of the Redemption, Vertue and Power of his Appearance? What are the Clouds wherein he comes? Is his coming outward? or are the Clouds outward? or is his coming inward and spiritual in ten thousands of his Saints? Did not Enoch see that he was to come so to judge the World? Doth he not come to be glorified in his Saints? are not they to judge the World? they in him, he in them? O read aright; read with the spirit, and with the understanding which is thereof, and then the truth of the letter will be manifest and shine to you. There is nothing stands in your way, but want of a spiritual eye to see his spiritual appearance in others (and so to wait for it in your selves) even the eye of Faith, which sees the invisible power and glory, as the Lord openeth it, and maketh manifest to it.

Now this I have to say to you, in true sense and understanding. Come down to the Gentiles light, come down to that which God hath dispenced to the Gentile, as well as to the Jew, which is the Word (or Commandement) nigh in the mouth and heart. This hath been the lowest of all, despised by all; and this is in the heart of God to exalt over all; for it is above all. The lowest in its descent from the Father, he highest in its ascent to the Father. This is the thing which man ran from, when the vail came over him; which all the shadows of the Law were to point out and signifie. And as man is brought again to this, Life springs in him, and the powerful Redemption of the eternal Word is witnessed by him. Yea, he that hears the voice of this, though he were never so dead in trespasses and sins, shall feel Life spring in him, and the Covenant of Life inwardly revealed, which by the pure Faith and Obedience is the entrance into, and the abiding in. And this is the one Truth, the one pure eternal Word and Way to the Father, which was from the beginning, and remains the same unto the end. This is the Door, at which all hitherto have entered into Life, at which all do still enter, and there is no other. Blessed for ever is he, who hath made it so manifest and plain in this our day and blessed are they that see it, and enter into Life at it!

A Visit of tender and upright Love to such as, among the many Profession and wayes of Religion, retaining any measure of sincerity of heart, and true desires after the Lord.

THE main thing in Religion, is to receive a Principle of Life from God, whereby the Mind may be changed, and the Heart made able to understand the Mysteries of his Kingdom, and to see and walk in the Way of Life. And this is the Travel of the Souls of the Righteous, that they may abide, grow up, and walk with the Lord in this Principle; and that others also, who breath after him, may be gathered into, and feel the Vertue of the same Principle.

But there is one that stands in the way, to hinder this Work of the Lord; who, with great Subtilty, strives to keep Souls in Captivity, and to prejudice them against the precious, living Appearances of the Redeeming Power of the Lord.

One great way whereby he doth this, is, by raising up in them a Fear, lest they should be deceived and betrayed; and, instead of obtaining more, lose that little of God which they have. With this, was I exercised long; and still, when Life stirred in my Heart, then this Fear was raised in me; so that I durst not in Judgment close with, what secretly in Spirit I felt to be of God; it having a true Touch of his quickening, warning, convincing, enlivening Vertue in it.

Now, that this Snare may be escaped by such as breath after the Lord; O let them wait, mourn, and cry to him, that he would write his pure Fear in their Hearts, and teach them when to fear, and how to fear, and what to fear; and in that (or as that is brought forth in them) they shall see, that they have more Cause to fear their present State; than to fear that, which in the quickening Warmth, and Vertue of God, comes to make a change in their present State: Yea, they shall then see, how the Enemy now causeth them to fear, where no Fear is; and keepeth them from fearing, where the Fear is. For, What is the Ground of Fear now? This is the great thing that they should fear, lest they should not hear the Call of the Spirit of the Lord out of Babylon; out of that Part of Babylon, out of which they have not yet Travelled: and lest they should not hear and mind the Call of his Spirit unto Sion, the Holy-Mount of God; towards, and unto which, he leadeth his People, in this Day of the Revelation, and Manifestation of his Glorious Love and Power.

O therefore, my Friends, ye that long after the Lord, ye that desire to feel the Power of his Truth, wait for the Principle of Life from him, to be Revealed in you, and the pure Fear which is there-from; that ye may feel the Lord thereby, and therein, (even in, and through that Principle) writing his Fear, his pure Fear, his holy Fear, his powerfully-preserving Fear, in your Hearts; that ye may know the Way to him, the Seed (which is the Way) may come, and joyn to him therein, and never depart from him. The Fear of the Lord, from the Principle of his Life, will (without fail) effect this in you, as ye receive it from the Lord: But the other Fear, the Fear which the Enemy begets, will not do it; but will be a Bar, and fore Stop in your way, till the Lord, by his holy Power, through his tender Mercy, remove it from you.

And now, Answer me one Question uprightly, as in God's Sight; from whom, it is in my Heart to Propound it to you.

Are ye come to Sion? or, Are ye travelling thither-ward, rightly and truly? Have ye ever known any of the Travellers, that ye have been acquainted with, that could in truth say, That they were come to Sion? The Christians, in the Primitive Times, were come to Sion; and they were acquainted, and dwelt with God and Christ there; and knew Jerusalem, the Heavenly Building, the City of the Living God. O, VVhere are ye! Nay, Are ye yet come out of Babylon? Do ye yet know the VVilderness, the intricate Passages therein, where-through God alone can lead the Soul? O depart ye, depart ye from your present Stations, (in the Leadings Leadings of God's Spirit) unless ye can say in the true unerring Light, That they are your Rest, your Souls true Rest, even the Everlasting Kingdom, which the Primitive Christians received, (and into which they found Entrance) which could not be shaken.

And Friends, Let me tell you one thing further, (for my Heart is, at this present, opened to you by the Lord) That as the Soul (in its Travels) comes to Sion, the Law of the Spirit of Life in Christ Jesus is witnessed, which makes free from the Law of Sin and Death. And then there is no more such a crying out of the Body of Sin, as there was before; but a Blessing of him, who hath delivered, and daily doth deliver from it: Yea, the Body of Sin is known and felt to be put off, and Christ put on in the stead thereof. For, my Friends, there are several states witnessed by the Soul, in its true and sensible Travels towards the Holy-Land. As for instance:

1. There is a state of Egyptian-Darkness and Bondage, in which the Power of Death Reigns and Rules in the Heart, subjecting it to Sin and Death. And here the Soul is in the Grave, and under Death, Captivity, and Bondage, in the midst of all its Professions of Religion, and Talk of God and Christ, and reading Scriptures, and observing Ordinances and Duties, &c.

2. There is a wilderness-state, wherein the strength of Captivity is somewhat broken, and the Heart drawn to mind the Leadings of Life, and to follow after the Lord through the Tryals, through the Preparation, through the several Exercises, which the Lord seeth good to exercise it with.

And here the Mercy and Goodness of the Lord is experienced, and the Deceitfulness and Treachery of the Heart. This is the Place of Humiliation and Breaking; wherein the Soul daily feels how untoward and unaccustomed it is to the Yoke, which should break the Spirit, and subdue it to God. Here the Lord shews the Soul what its Heart is, that he might humble it, and do it good in the latter End. Here the very Law of God appears weak, through the strength of the Flesh, which is not yet subdued. Now, here is mourning, and groaning, and crying to the Lord Night and Day; both because of the violence and multitude of the Enemies, and because of the naughtiness, distrust, and unbelief of the Heart.

3. There is a state of Rest, a state of Peace, a state of Life, a state of Power, a state of Grace, a state of Dominion, in the Life, and through the Power of the Lord; wherein the Law of Life is manifested in Dominion, in the Heart, over the Law of Sin and Death. There is an Everlasting Kingdom, wherein God and Christ Reign; in which God treads Satan down under the Feet of the Soul, and makes the Soul a King, and a Priest, in the Son of his Love; and the Soul feels it is one with, and accepted in the Beloved.

Now, Friends, that ye may know this Kingdom, travel faithfully towards it, feel and come into the Reign of Christ in it, sit down in the Heavenly Places in Christ Jesus, and inherit Substance; know the gathering to Christ in the Name, and sit down in the Name, where the Enemy cannot touch you; but feel the Preservation, and powerful Life, and Dominion of that Seed, which is over the Enemy; and wherein, and whereby the Lord scatters the Enemy, bruising the Serpent's-Head, and Anointing the Soul with the Oyl of Gladness, and clothing it with the Beautiful Garments of his Righteousness and Salvation; and that he may know the Precious and Glorious Building of Life, in the Spirit, even of the Holy House and City of God; where the Walls are Salvation, and the Gates Praise. For this End, it is in my Heart, from the Lord, to write these things unto you: And the Lord God, of his tender Mercy, open the Door of Entrance to you into these Things; for there is but one Door of Life, and there is not another; which Door, is Christ the Seed; which Seed, is revealed within, there to break the Wisdom, Strength, and Head of the Serpent: and so far as he breaks it there, Redemption and Freedom is witnessed from it, and no further.

O that ye might receive an Understanding from the Lord, and be taught by him to deny and part with the Understanding, which is not of him; that ye might see things, (from Him, and in his Light) which ye have not yet seen; and consider aright of that, which the Enemy hitherto, by his Subtilty, hath prejudiced you against.

And now, as for Us, who experience the Truth as it is in Jesus, and with the Lord our God, in his Light, and by Vertue of his Life and Love, shed abroad in our Hearts: I say, What is it to Us, to be Judged by You in your Day; as Persons that deny Christ, deny Scriptures, deny Ordinances, deny Duties, &c? We are satisfied in our Hearts, as touching your Judgment; knowing from the Lord, what it is in You, that thus judgeth of Us, even the same thing that judged amiss of Christ, (in the Scribes, Pharisees, and Professing Jews) in the Dayes of his Flesh. And indeed, that in You can never judge aright; but is to be Judged, Condemned, and Destroyed by the Life and Power of the Lord.

And, O that ye knew (sensibly knew) what it is to Live, and what to Die in you; that ye might feel the Rising of your Souls out of the Grave, through the Immortal Seed of God; and the bringing of all your Wisdom and Knowledge of the Things of God (which ye hold, and make use of out of the Compass and Limits of his holy Life and Covenant) into Death.

For, Friends, let me tell you, That which hath been parted with (for the Kingdom's sake, and the Righteousness thereof) in some, was more Precious, than what ye hold so stiffly; and so magnifie in your own Thoughts, and Reasonings, against the Truth. Yea, that which was once of high Esteem, and very Glorious in our Eyes, is now become as Dross and Dung, for the Excellency of the pure living Knowledge of, and Fellowship with Jesus Christ, our Lord; and if ye had the true Measure and Ballance to weigh Things in, ye would acknowledge it: But the Letter, and litteral Ordinances and Duties, and Apprehensions of Things out of the Life, kills you, and keeps you under the Vail, and from the Sight of the things which are within the Vail.

O that God would rend the Vail in you! O that God would give you the Feeling of, and Union with that, whereby he rends the Vail! O that he would humble you, and bring down the Mighty from his Seat of Judgment in you, to be judged and abased; and exalt the Meek and Lowly, into that which is his proper Place!

O that ye might feel the Work of God, even the Redemption of the Soul, begun and carried on by him, with Power in your Hearts! Then would ye know Christ indeed, the Scriptures indeed, the Ordinances indeed, the Duties indeed, the Everlasting Sabbath, the Everlasting Worship; even the Substance of all that was shadowed out under the Law, and sit down under the Wing of the Almighty; from whence, the Power, the Life, the Vertue, the Healing, drops into the Soul.

And now, to give a little Touch at those things fore-mentioned, which ye so stumble at, a little to help to remove them from your Spirits, if it please the Lord.

1. We do not deny that Christ, which Died at Jerusalem; but own Him, and no other; and own what he did, his Obedience to the Father alwayes, and in all things; his Sufferings in the Vertue and Power of the Father, and the Value of them with the Father. This the Lord our God teacheth us to own; and to bless the Name of the Lord for him, who is the Captain and Worker out of our Salvation; a Measure of whose Life and Power, we have received, and embraced in our Hearts: And in this is He, the Fulness, made manifest to us; and We, through this, and by this, and in this, ingrafted into him; and so, come to partake of the Sweetness and Fatness of the Olive-Tree. Yea, this we certainly know, that Christ was not only made manifest in that Body of Flesh; but is also made manifest in our Mortal Flesh, as we are gathered into his Life, and his Life brought forth in us. And he is not only Anti-christ, that denyeth Christ's Appearance in that Body of Flesh; but he that denyeth Him (the Hope of Glory) in his Saints, his Spiritual Body. Yea, I beseech you, consider, Whether it hath been the Work of Anti-christ, all along the Apostacy, to deny the Appearance of Christ in that Body of Flesh? or, to deny the Appearance of his Life and Spirit, in the Flesh of his Saints? We know (saith the Apostle John) that the Son of God is come, and hath given us an Understanding to know him that is true. How was he come? Was not he that was with them, come in them? Did he not live in them, act in them, speak in them? And, Did not they that were of God, hear the Voice of Christ, the Voice of the Shepherd in them? But they which were not of God, which were not the Sheep, could not hear the Voice of Christ, in his Apostles and Believers, could not own him come in their Flesh; though they could preach the same Christ in Words, and own his Coming in that Body of Flesh, which he had appeared in, 1 Joh. 4. 6.

not

2. We do indeed, really, heartily, singly, as in God's Sight, own the Scriptures, the Scriptures written by the Prophets, and Holy Men of God, under the Law; the Scriptures written by the Evangelists and Apostles, in the time of the Gospel; and we Read them with Delight and Joy; and would draw no Man from a right Reading of them to the Benefit of his Soul, but only from giving their own Judgments on them, without the Spirit of God; lest, in so doing, they wrest them to their own Destruction.

This is that, which the Lord hath drawn us from; and which, we know, it would also be profitable to others to be drawn from too, to wit, From imagining and guessing at the Meaning of Scriptures, and interpreting them without the Opening of that Spirit, from which they were given forth: For they who so do, feed that part (with a gathered Knowledge) which should be famished, dye, and perish; that another thing might come to live in them, and they in it.

Now, to us, being taught of God, and led by him into the things, and through the Conditions the Scriptures speak of; the Scriptures are very precious, the Relation of Things under the Law precious, the Instructions, Promises, and Comforts, precious; yea, the very Reproofs, and Denunciations of Judgment to that part, nature, and Spirit, which the Judgments are to, precious: And it is impossible for any Heart to conceive (who hath not the Experience of the thing) how Life springs in us, and how sweet, pleasant, and profitable the Words of Life, in the Writings of the Holy Men of God, are to our Spirits: And, in Reading them, we often meet with Refreshment, Comfort, Hope, and Joy, from the Working of the same Spirit in us, which gave forth the good Words through them.

3. As touching Ordinances: We own all the Ordinances and Appointments of God to the Jews, under the Law, and God's Presence with them, walking with the Lord, and worshipping him in the Faith according thereto. Yea, What if I should say, That we know, and are exercised in the same Worship in Spirit, towards the Lord our God; who hath called and taught us to worship him in Spirit and Truth, so as he taught them, according to the Shadow and Letter? What if I should say, That we worship the Lord in Spirit, on the Lord's-Day, (which is Inward and Spiritual, the true Rest, the substantial Sabbath!) and that we offer up to him the Living Sacrifices, which the High-Priest of our Profession prepares in us, for the most excellent Majesty, and Glory of our God therein? Were not the Sacrifices under the Law, which they offered up according to the Letter, Types, and Shadows of what the Lord teacheth us, and giveth us to offer up to him in Spirit, when we appear before him in his House, built on his Holy Mountain? For, Friends, the House wherein we appear, is spiritual, (an House of God's own Building) the Worship spiritual, the Sacrifices spiritual, the Day of Worship spiritual, even the Day which the Lord hath made; And here we know and enjoy the things shadowed out under the Law spiritually; eating that which is Meat indeed, and drinking that which is Drink indeed, even the Flesh and Blood of the Son of Man; in which we feel and partake of his Nature, his Vertue, his Life, his Substance; and both take it in, into us, and put it upon us: So that, we have Christ both to be our Food, and Clothing; and in the Birth, Nature, and Spirit, which is of him, cannot be deceived concerning him.

But the great Matter ye seem to have against us, as to Ordinances, is about the Baptism of Water, and Breaking outward Bread, and Drinking outward Wine; concerning which, I have two or three weighty Queries to propound, to be seriously considered of.

Q. 1. Were these things themselves the things of the Kingdom, or Significations of somewhat relating to the Kingdom, as the Shadows under the Law were? And so, though they might have an Use and Service, in the Passage from the Law; yet, Could they have an absolute Place in the Day? for as the Day dawns and breaks, the Shadows fly away. What should the Shadow do, when that which the Shadow signified

And now, as for Us, who experience the Truth as it is in Jesus, and with the Lord our God, in his Light, and by Vertue of his Life and Love, shed abroad in our Hearts: I say, What is it to Us, to be Judged by You in your Day; as Persons that deny Christ, deny Scriptures, deny Ordinances, deny Duties, &c? We are satisfied in our Hearts, as touching your Judgment; knowing from the Lord, what it is in You, that thus judgeth of Us, even the same thing that judged amiss of Christ, (in the Scribes, Pharisees, and Professing Jews) in the Dayes of his Flesh. Yea, this we certainly know, that Christ was not only made manifest in that Body of Flesh; but is also made manifest in our Mortal Flesh, as we are gathered into his Life, and his Life brought forth in us. And he is not only Anti-christ, that denyeth Christ's Appearance in that Body of Flesh; but he that denyeth Him (the Hope of Glory) in his Saints, his Spiritual Body. Yea, I beseech you, consider, Whether it hath been the Work of Anti-christ, all along the Apostacy, to deny the Appearance of Christ in that Body of Flesh? or, to deny the Appearance of his Life and Spirit, in the Flesh of his Saints? We know (saith the Apostle John) that the Son of God is come, and hath given us an Understanding to know him that is true. How was he come? Was not he that was with them, come in them? Did he not live in them, act in them, speak in them? And, Did not they that were of God, hear the Voice of Christ, the Voice of the Shepherd in them? But they which were not of God, which were not the Sheep, could not hear the Voice of Christ, in his Apostles and Believers, could not own him come in their Flesh; though they could preach the same Christ in Words, and own his Coming in that Body of Flesh, which he had appeared in, 1 Joh. 4. 6.

2. We do indeed, really, heartily, singly, as in God's Sight, own the Scriptures, the Scriptures written by the Prophets, and Holy Men of God, under the Law; the Scriptures written by the Evangelists and Apostles, in the time of the Gospel; and we Read them with Delight and Joy; and would draw no Man from a right Reading of them to the Benefit of his Soul, but only from giving their own Judgments on them, without the Spirit of God; lest, in so doing, they wrest them to their own Destruction.

This is that, which the Lord hath drawn us from; and which, we know, it would also be profitable to others to be drawn from too, to wit, From imagining and guessing at the Meaning of Scriptures, and interpreting them without the Opening of that Spirit, from which they were given forth: For they who so do, feed that part (with a gathered Knowledge) which should be famished, dye, and perish; that another thing might come to live in them, and they in it.

Now, to us, being taught of God, and led by him into the things, and through the Conditions the Scriptures speak of; the Scriptures are very precious, the Relation of Things under the Law precious, the Instructions, Promises, and Comforts, precious; yea, the very Reproofs, and Denunciations of Judgment to that part, nature, and Spirit, which the Judgments are to, precious: And it is impossible for any Heart to conceive (who hath not the Experience of the thing) how Life springs in us, and how sweet, pleasant, and profitable the Words of Life, in the Writings of the Holy Men of God, are to our Spirits: And, in Reading them, we often meet with Refreshment, Comfort, Hope, and Joy, from the Working of the same Spirit in us, which gave forth the good Words through them.

3. As touching Ordinances: We own all the Ordinances and Appointments of God to the Jews, under the Law, and God's Presence with them, walking with the Lord, and worshipping him in the Faith according thereto. Yea, What if I should say, That we know, and are exercised in the same Worship in Spirit, towards the Lord our God; who hath called and taught us to worship him in Spirit and Truth, so as he taught them, according to the Shadow and Letter? What if I should say, That we worship the Lord in Spirit, on the Lord's-Day, (which is Inward and Spiritual, the true Rest, the substantial Sabbath!) and that we offer up to him the Living Sacrifices, which the High-Priest of our Profession prepares in us, for the most excellent Majesty, and Glory of our God therein? Were not the Sacrifices under the Law, which they offered up according to the Letter, Types, and Shadows of what the Lord teacheth us, and giveth us to offer up to him in Spirit, when we appear before him in his House, built on his Holy Mountain? For, Friends, the House wherein we appear, is spiritual, (an House of God's own Building) the Worship spiritual, the Sacrifices spiritual, the Day of Worship spiritual, even the Day which the Lord hath made; And here we know and enjoy the things shadowed out under the Law spiritually; eating that which is Meat indeed, and drinking that which is Drink indeed, even the Flesh and Blood of the Son of Man; in which we feel and partake of his Nature, his Vertue, his Life, his Substance; and both take it in, into us, and put it upon us: So that, we have Christ both to be our Food, and Clothing; and in the Birth, Nature, and Spirit, which is of him, cannot be deceived concerning him.

But the great Matter ye seem to have against us, as to Ordinances, is about the Baptism of Water, and Breaking outward Bread, and Drinking outward Wine; concerning which, I have two or three weighty Queries to propound, to be seriously considered of.

Q. 1. Were these things themselves the things of the Kingdom, or Significations of somewhat relating to the Kingdom, as the Shadows under the Law were? And so, though they might have an Use and Service, in the Passage from the Law; yet, Could they have an absolute Place in the Day? for as the Day dawns and breaks, the Shadows fly away. What should the Shadow do, when that which the Shadow signified signified is come? What Place is there for Shadows in the Substance, in the Everlasting Kingdom?

Now, though the Apostle condescended so as to Circumcise, for the sake of the Jews; yet Circumcision was not to abide. So he Condescended also, as to John's Baptism, to wit, The Baptism of Water; (for that was not Christ's Baptism; but his Baptism was that of the Holy Ghost and Fire;) yet he blessed God, he did not much make use of it; and said, He was not sent to Baptize. What was he not sent to Baptize with? Why, not with Water, not with John's Baptism: But he was sent to Baptize with Christ's Baptism; to Baptize into the Name, into the Spirit, into the Power, (and so were all the Apostles) as well as to Preach the Gospel, Gal. 3. 5. Mat. 28. 19.

Then for the outward Supper: Was not that a Shadow of the true Substantial Supper of the Lord, of the Breaking of the true Bread, and Drinking of the true Wine, (the Fruit of the Vine of Life) in the Kingdom of God? Which Kingdom was at hand in John's time; and the Disciples of Christ were to pray it might come; and the Apostles, and they afterwards (that were in the Power, in the Life, in the Righteousness, in the Joy Eternal) did witness it come. For mark: The Promise was not only of a Kingdom of Glory hereafter, when the Body is laid down; but they were to receive the Kingdom, and feel an Entrance (yea, an abundant Entrance) into the Everlasting Kingdom, ministred to them even then: And they were to eat Bread in the Kingdom, and drink Wine in the Kingdom, even new Bread, and new Wine, fresh from the Table of the Lord; yea, and with the Lord, in his Presence, according to the Promise, He would come, and dwell in them, and walk in them; and sup with them, and they with him. And thus They in their Day, and We in our Day, (blessed be the Name of the Lord our God) Eat and Drink of the Heavenly Bread and Wine of the Kingdom, with Christ therein; every one sitting in the Heavenly Place, and Mansion of Rest, which the Lord hath built up, and prepared for him.

Q. 2. Have not these outward things been much abused, and the Anti-christian Spirit (even the Whorish Spirit, which hath Adulterated from the Life and Power of God) appeared in them, and cryed them up? And surely, as so cryed up by that Spirit, they are neither of nor for Christ.

And consider well, what that outward Court was, which God gave to the Gentiles? and, what the Worship and Ordinances of the outward Court were? and, whether they were not given to the Gentiles also? and, whether these are any part of them? For if so, then they belong not to, nor are required by the Lord of the inward Jews, who are of the Circumcision in the Heart, and are come to inherit the Substance.

Q. 3. Whether there be any Vertue in these Things in themselves, without God's requiring of them? Can outward Water wash the Soul? Can outward Bread and Wine feed or refresh it? Indeed, if God require a Man to wash his Body with Water, he ought to be subject; and there will be Profit to him in his Subjection: but of it self, it is but a Bodily Exercise; and without God's requiring it, it would be but Will-worship, and profit him nothing at all.

Now truly, the Lord did never require this of us; but hath shewn us the Water, which our Souls and Bodies had need of to be washed with; and the Bread and Wine, which they are to be fed, and refreshed with: And in following the Lord, according as he hath led us, and required of us, we have found Reconciliation, Life, Rest, Peace, and Joy with our Father, and pure Refreshment from him.

4. As touching Duties: These are the Two great Duties we are taught; To Love the Lord our God with all our Heart, Soul, and Spirit; and, Our Neighbour as our Selves. And these we learn by believing in Him whom God hath sent, and receiving the Seed of Life from him; in the Growth whereof, in us, we live, and are made one with him, and Partakers of the Ability which is of him. For, not by Working of our selves, do we attain to this; but by the Working of his powerful Life in us, through his Mercy to us. He Circumciseth us, he cuts off the Enmity, he brings under the Old Nature and Spirit in us; and then the New springs up, and we are Renewed in it: And in this we learn, and are made able to love the Lord, and his Children, and his Creatures; yea, all that is of him. And this Love constrains us to Obey the Lord, and deny all for him; so that, we can suffer any thing (through his Strength) but Sin, but Corruption, but Unbelief, but Disobedience to him. Yea, this makes us so tender towards him, that we can rather part with all of this World, than the Integrity and Subjection of our Spirits to him, in the least thing that he requires of us: His Truth (and our Testimony thereto) in every respect, being far dearer to us than our Lives, and all the Enjoyments and Pleasures of this present World.

Lord

From these Two great Duties flow many others, as towards God; To fear him with the Fear which is not taught by the Precepts of Men, but which he writes in our Hearts; To wait upon him Night and Day in his Temple, even in the Holy Place of his Building; To call upon him in the Motion, Guidance, Will, and Help of his Spirit; (for indeed, when once we learn of God, we are taught to pray no more after the Flesh, no more after the Will, Wisdom or Way of Man:) as also, To be sensible of his Goodness, and give Thanks to him in every Condition.

And in this we feel his Presence and Acceptance, and the Lord is not forgotten by us; but when we eat and drink, walk abroad, or stay at home, we feel him near, and our Hearts acknowledge him, bow to him, wait upon him, bless him, praise his Name, and speak words concerning him, or to him, with the outward Voice, when he gives them, and requires them of us: But of a truth, we dare bring no Sacrifices of our own, nor kindle any Fire or Sparks of our own; but wait for the Holy Breath, Spirit, and Power of our God, to perform all in us, and by us.

But now, because we do not Pray at certain set-times (as we formerly were wont to do) nor speak Words before and after Meat as formerly, and the like; ye are offended with us, and say we deny this Duty. No, no, we do not deny to God the Prayer which is from the birth immortal; but this we say, and sensibly feel, Prayer is a Gift, and the ability thereof is in God's Spirit; for we know not what to pray for as we ought, nor have we a Power in us to pray when, or as we will; but in the holy Spirit, in his breathing in us, is our ability: and we are to wait on him for the moving and breathing of his Spirit, and not to pray of our selves, or in our own wills or times, but in the Father's. And it is a mighty thing to speak to God aright in Prayer. Flesh must be silent before him, and laid still and low in his presence, that the pure spring may open, the pure Breath breath, and the pure Voice issue forth: for God heareth not sinners, but the born of him that doth his will. This must every soul witness in his measure, as Christ witnessed it in the fulness: and there is no serving God aright, or performing any Duty or Ordinance of Worship to him aright, but in a measure of the same Life and Spirit wherewith Christ served him.

Now I do not only own the state of the Jews in their integrity, and of the Primitive Christians in theirs, and of what the Lord hath caused to break forth in this our day: but I also own all the appearances of God, all along the night of the Apostacy, in the holy martyrs and Witnesses, which he raised up and enabled to bear Testimony to his Truth, and against the Antichristian practices of many in that dark night of the Apostacy. And thus also I own all the work of God in my own heart, and in the hearts of others (whom he pleased to work upon) in former times. Yea, the breathings and desires which are yet in the hearts of any after the Lord, so far as they are in the Truth, and of, and from the Lord, I cannot but own. But the Lord hath shewn me, that there is a great mixture in mens desires and indeavours after him, and that the evil spirit (by his subtilty) doth often get the managing of them, and turn the very zeal and earnestness of the mind (through prejudices and misapprehensions) against the Lord and his Truth. Now this is a very dangerous state, and there are some (who little think so) in this state, doing that against the Lord, and against his Christ, his Truth, his People, which if ever their eyes be opened, they will mourn bitterly over; and if their eyes be not opened, but they walk on by a wrong light (even by a light of their own gathering, imagining and conceiving) whether will it lead them, and what will their end be?

O that ye could hear, O that ye could fear aright, O that ye could rightly consider, O that ye could feel the Life and Power of the Lord near you, the Word of Life near you, even as near as ye have felt the enemy and his temptations, that ye might partake of, and witneſs with joy, the vertue and redemption of it! O that ye could once aright look upon him whom ye have pierced, and yet daily pierce, and cannot but pierce until the righteous judgments of the Lord be poured out on the head of the tranſgreſſor in you, and the Lord waited upon, feared, and ſubjected to, in the way of his judgments, that ye may feel the refining-work finiſhed, the droſs burned up, the Temple prepared, the Veſſel brought pure out of the Furnace. What then? why, when the Lord hath build up Sion, prepared his Temple, cleanſed his Houſe, will he not appear there in his glory? Shall it not become an Houſe of Prayer; of pure prayer, and of pure praiſes? Shall there be any lame or blind Sacrifice offered up there? Shall it not be the beauty of Holineſs indeed? Shall not the appearance of the Lord be more glorious there, than ever it was in the Temple and Ordinances under the Law? Shall not every living ſtone in this building, feel the God of Life and Power preſent of a truth, and feel not only the earth, but the very Heavens melt before him and paſs away, and nothing remain but the pure Light and Life of the Lamb?

Words and Promiſes ſpoken concerning things to be brought forth in the Goſpel-ſtate, do not go beyond the things ſpoken of; but the things brought forth excel and go beyond the Words, being ſo felt and enjoyed by that which is fitted and prepared by the Lord, as words cannot utter. The Lord God lead all that rightly deſire after him into the right way (and preſerve them therein) of meeting with, and enjoying what their hearts rightly deſire, and beat back the enemy in all his devices of entangling, perplexing, and drawing them aſide: that they may receive the Covenant, the new Covenant, walk with God in the Light thereof, live in the life thereof, obey through the power thereof, and may know what kind of meat and drink, what joy, delight, and pleaſure it is to the Soul to do the will, in the Principle, and by the Power of the new Life. So the Lord God Almighty, the Creator, Guider, and preſerver of his Iſrael, lead you out of the darkneſs, bring you through the wilderneſs, reveal the hope in you, and ſtay your minds thereon, and give you to feel the true travel and faithful walking with him in the footſteps of the flock, which he hath led, and is leading his in, and unto ſome of whom (in the tender mercy which from on high hath viſited them) he hath given full reſt and ſatisfaction in his Truth.

A brief Account of the ground of certainty and ſatisfaction, which it hath pleaſed the Lord to eſtabliſh in my heart, concerning Religion, and the things of his Kingdom.

I Have been afflicted from my Childhood, mourning and ſeeking after the Lord, and feeling very much grief and pain of Spirit, through my ſenſe of the want of him. I have not been contented with the way of Religion I was educated in, but (through that of God which ſtirred in me) found great defects in it, and was drawn and led by his Spirit to travel through it, and ſeek further. That which I ſtill ſought after was the reſting-place, the Life of my ſoul, and power and preſence of the Lord, that demonſtration of his Spirit (as touching Truth and the way of God) which was witneſſed in the dayes of the Apoſtles. Now, breathing after this, but not meeting with it, cauſed unutterable anguiſh, miſery, and diſtreſs in my heart, ſo that my condition could not be hid within mine own breaſt, but my ſorrow alſo break forth in the ſight of others.

But at length the eternal bowels have pitied me, and have ſhewed me the place of the ſouls reſt, and I have felt the eternal Arm gathering me into, and giving me ſome poſſeſſion of a meaſure thereof, ſo that my heart is ſatisfied about Religion and the things of Gods Kingdom, being taught of God how to know the Pearl, and the way alſo how to come to inherit and enjoy it: and in that way I have had had great experience of the love, mercy, wisdom, goodness, power, and righteousness of the Lord: and notwithstanding all my souls enemies, I still feel his presence, life and power, to his praise, which doth the work in me, and which giveth me to hope in him, and wait upon him. And now in love and tenderness of bowels to others, it is in my heart to answer a Question or two about the ground of the assurance and satisfaction which God hath given my Soul, it being in my heart not to grieve or trouble any, but only to be helpfull in holding forth what the Lord hath demonstrated to, and written in my heart, as he shall draw, move, and enable my Spirit thereunto, to whom my Soul boweth, and giveth the praise of all that he hath done in me, and pleaseth by his Spirit and Power to work through me.

Quest. 1. It may be enquired by some, How I come to know the Spirit of God, and his Church, and the Scriptures of the Holy men to be written by the Inspiration and leading of his holy Spirit; and how I know the motions and drawings of his Spirit in me, from the motions, suggestions, and temptations of the evil Spirit; and how I am satisfied that I am in the way of Truth and Life eternal, and do not wander out of it, and err from it?

Answ. Thus I know. By receiving, joyning to, abiding and growing up in that holy Seed, which the Father of Spirits hath Sown in me. There is an Elect Seed, which cannot possibly be deceived, which Seed the Father Soweth, and causeth to grow in the hearts of them that receive it, whose earth is by him digged and prepared for it. Now I have felt this Seed from God, this holy pure thing, which there is nothing like for vertue and excellency. Nothing hath its Nature besides it, nothing manifests the Father but it: the heart is changed, renewed, restored into the holy Image by this alone.

In this Seed there is no deceit, no deceit ever came from it, no deceit ever entred into it, nor can: and from the day that I have known it, I have always felt Preservation by it, while my heart hath been kept to it. Mine Eye never mis-saw in it, mine Ear never misheard in it, my heart never misunderstood in it: but here I have felt given to me, & maintained in me by God, the eye which sees, the ear which hears, the heart which understands the things of his Kingdom; and here the entrance hath been ministred into the everlasting Kingdom, where God reveals by his Spirit, the mysteries of his Kingdom, which all else are shut out of, but this Seed and the Birth which is of it. And when the enemy hath at any time in my travels, by any temptation or device, got in any degree between my soul and this Seed; then a darkness, a loss, doubts, fears, troubles, &c. have so far come over my soul.

Quest. 2. But how know I this Seed, may some enquire?

Answ. By its nature, by its properties, by its manifesting of it self in my heart. It hath that Light, that Life, that power in it, which I never met with any where else. It bruiseth the head of the Serpent at its pleasure, whereby I know it to be the Seed of the Woman. It dasheth in pieces (through subjection to it) whatever is contrary to God, and bringeth up his holy Nature in me. It so bringeth me into the very Image of his Son, that what I read in the Scriptures concerning the Nature, Righteousness, and work of Salvation by Christ, I find formed and springing up in mine own heart, as I am gathered into and brought forth in this Seed. Yea, I really feel that I am born of Gods Spirit, so far as I am born of this. Here I feel, know, understand, and am acquainted with the substance, the thing it self, that which all the Types and Figures of the Law shadowed out. Here I meet with the Circumcision which is without outward hands; the Baptism, which is without outward water; the Supper of the Lord, which is without outward Bread or Wine; and here I know the true Jew, whose nature, spirit, works and wayes, are all of God, in and through his Son Jesus Christ. And here I must profess, I cannot doubt concerning the things of God; but in the Light and Anointing of this Seed, see both the Mystery of the Iniquity, and the Mystery of Godliness, and the wayes and workings of each Spirit, both inwardly and outwardly: and my unity with the one, (through the tender mercy, goodness, love, and power of the Lord, all which are herein revealed) and my separation from the other.

And this is the true way of certainty and satisfaction, which is of God, and will stand, when all the several wayes of men's inventions will fail of what they promiſe to men, and fall in the ſight of men. For this Seed and Birth of God are to be acknowledged, and reign in the day of his power, and not another. And it is the day of his power in ſome, and ſhall be the day of his power in others; for darkneſs or death ſhall not prevail to bring the Life of the riſen Son into the Sepulchre or grave again: but he ſhall ride on conquering and to conquer, ſubduing and to ſubdue, reigning and to reign, until he hath brought all things under the dominion of the Father's Power.

A Queſtion anſwered about the way of knowing the Motions, Doctrines and Teachings of Chriſt's Spirit.

Queſt. HOw may a man know the Motions, Doctrines, and Teachings of Chriſt's Spirit inwardly, from the deceiveable movings, appearings, and workings of a contrary Spirit? and how may a man know concerning the Doctrines that others teach, whether they ſpeak from Chriſt, or whether they ſpeak of themſelves?

Anſw. This is a great matter indeed, and he muſt firſt receive ſomewhat from God, who is able to do this. He muſt be born of the Wiſdom that is from above, he muſt receive a Spirit of diſcerning from God, he muſt receive ſomewhat of the Sheeps ear, ſomewhat of the holy Underſtanding, whereby he may be made able to diſtinguiſh Spirituals, and put a difference between the pure and impure, between the pretender to the things of God, and him which is indeed of God. There is a ballance of the Sanctuary appointed to weigh Spiritual things and Appearances in: and by this ballance alone are they truly and rightly diſcerned and diſtinguiſhed: and this ballance is in the Sanctuary, in the Holy Heavenly place in Chriſt Jeſus, where the true weight of ſpiritual things (or things that pretend to be truly ſpiritual, and Living, but are not) is given and diſcerned. But he that weighs without this, he that weighs by his own judgment and underſtanding, by his own comprehenſion and conceivings; he weighs by that which is uncertain, changeable, and fallible, and turns up and down according to the appearances of things to him, but judgeth not the righteous judgment, which is from the ſenſe, and in the Light of Truth.

Therefore, O that men were humble, tender, meek and ſenſible of their inability to judge as of themſelves, that they might ſee their need of this gift of God, and wait upon him for it, being in the mean time as the weaned Child, not medling with things too high for them, but keeping and abiding low in fear and ſubjection to that which the Lord hath already made manifeſt to them. For what man is there, to whom the Lord hath not already (in his tender mercy and goodneſs) made ſomewhat of himſelf manifeſt? Who is there, who by the Light of the Spirit of God in his Conſcience, knoweth not ſome evil which he ought to leave undone, and ſome good which he ought to do? Now this is the way of God, and the work which Man ſhould be exerciſed in, to feel his mind gathered into that which teacheth this, that he might receive power from the Lord to ceaſe to do the evil which he is thus warned by him of, and to do the good which is thus required of him. For thus the Spirit of the Lord teacheth and requireth of men, even inwardly in their ſecret parts, ſecretly quickning and enlivening them in ſome meaſure, and giving them a ſenſe of their ſin, death, ſeparation from him, miſery, and danger thereby: for where there is any ſight of ſin, and any ſenſe of the burden thereof, there is ſome Life, ſome Light, ſome little ſtirrings of the Life, and ſome quickenings thereby, without which this ſenſe could not be. Now mark.

Are not here the drawings of the Father? are not here the teachings of the Father, though but in a little meaſure, yet true, yet living? Is not here ſome little diſcerning given between the precious and the vile, between ſomewhat that is of God, and ſomewhat that is againſt him? Well then, here is the gift of diſcerning, though in a poor, low, little, weak meaſure: and that man who receiveth this, receiveth the beginnings of the gift, ſomewhat of the gift, whereby he may be able to diſcern cern and diſtinguiſh a little about ſpiritual things, ſo far as the light and ability of the gift in him extendeth.

Now this is man's work, (and in this lies his ſafety) to come hither, abide here, and grow here. Not to judge out of this, to judge no farther concerning the things of God, then this judgeth in him: to keep the judgment which he hath from this, not harkening to the ſubtile devices of the enemy, which will ſtrive afterward to cloud his mind, delude and deceive him, with a falſe appearance of wiſe reaſonings and diſputings of his own, or from other men, to make him believe otherwiſe. And ſo keeping what ground he hath gained, he is to wait for more of this Light, more of this Life, more of this Vertue, that his ſoul may grow up and increaſe therein, that his eye may be ſtrengthned to ſee further, and his ear to hear further, and his heart to embrace more of the inſtructions and directions of the Spirit of the Lord, unto and in the way of the Kingdom.

Therefore the man that would meet with, and receive from God the gift of diſcerning, let him mind the preſent manifeſtation of Gods Light from his Spirit in his heart, embrace that, fall in with that, take heed of the reaſonings of the mind againſt the convictions and demonſtrations of Gods Spirit, but receive the Truth in the love of it, even the loweſt appearance of Truth, about the leaſt and moſt deſpiſable things, and give up faithfully to the Lord therein, without murmuring, without diſputing, without conſulting with fleſh and blood. And he that is faithful to the Light of the Spirit (and to the diſcerning which is thereby) in the little, he ſhall receive more, he ſhall have his light and diſcerning thereby increaſed, as his need requireth. But he that ſtands diſputing, and would have all his way made clear to him, before he ſets one ſtep in it; he is far from becoming that Child, which the Father teacheth, and adminiſtreth an entrance into the Kingdom to.

This in effect, was the very anſwer, which Chriſt gave to this thing, in the dayes of his fleſh, when there were great diſputes concerning his doctrine, how to know whether it was of God or no. What was the reſolution he gave of this; If any man, ſaith he, will do his will, he ſhall know of the Doctrine whether it be of God, or whether I ſpeak of my ſelf, John 7. 17. Wouldſt thou know of the Son's Doctrine? wouldſt thou know, whether it be the Doctrine of the Son indeed, the Doctrine of him who comes from the Father? Yes, very fain, will the upright heart ſay; O that I might know concerning the things held forth in this our day, whether they are of God or no. O that I might know concerning what riſes and opens in my own heart, whether it be from the Spirit of God, or from the root of deceit in me! Why this is the way; Do the Father's Will.

Objection.

Do the Father's Will: why what an anſwer is this! the diſpute is about the Father's Will. Is not the Doctrine of the Son, the Father's Will? how can I do the Father's Will, which the Son is to teach me, until I firſt know of the Sons Doctrine?

Anſwer.

It is true, The Son's Doctrine is the Father's Will, and thou canſt not do the Father's Will but as thou receiveſt the Son's Doctrine: but mark; There are diſputes in thy mind about ſomewhat of the Son's Doctrine, whether it be his Doctrine or no: ſomewhat alſo about inward motions, workings and ſtirrings in thee, which thou wouldſt fain know whence they are. Now the queſtion is concerning the Way, how thou mayeſt attain to this; how thou mayeſt come to a certain and ſatisfactory knowledge herein? which is, not by entring into reaſonings and diſputes about theſe things whereof thou doubteſt, but by coming into that wherein and whereby they are made manifeſt: and that is by coming into obedience to the Father in that, which he hath already made manifeſt: for in that Light (to them that believe in it, and in obedience thereto, (be it never ſo little, or the manifeſtation never ſo ſmall) the Father will reveal more, and give to that heart and mind to be ſenſible of what is of him, and what is of the enemy, ſo far as is needful for it as yet to know. For wiſe and abſolute judgment in all things, is not neceſſary for a babe; but ſenſe to know the breaſt, and to receive from it the milk, by which it is to be fed that it may grow. This is enough in its preſent ſtate: yet if there be need of ſtrength at any time to ſtill the enemy and the avenger, the Lord will reveal it in the heart, and bring it forth out of the mouths of the babes and ſucklings, to the perfecting of his praiſe.

So mind and learn the way, O ye that are ſimple-hearted (and truly deſire after the Lord, and the purity and power of his Kingdom) and take heed of the wrong way, take heed of man's way, which is by conſulting with his own wiſdom, and weighing things in the ballance of his own reaſon and underſtanding: and thus he may weigh Scriptures written in former ages, and the appearances of God in this age, and err in heart, mind and judgment concerning them both, all his dayes. But he that waites on the Lord in fear, and in obedience to that which is already made manifeſt, not deſiring knowledge from God in his own will, time or way, but in the Lord's who perfectly knows every ones ſtate and what is fit for him: he ſhall know concerning every Doctrine his heart deſireth to be inſtructed in, in the Lord's ſeaſon: and in the mean time the Lord will feed him with food convenient, and cloth him with clothing convenient; and there ſhall be no want to him, who boweth before the Lord in what is already made manifeſt, and waiteth for his further manifeſtations and appearances. But the wiſe hunter after knowledge before the Lord leades, and further then he leades and teaches; this is the firſt birth, which is excluded the Kingdom and the Myſteries thereof: This is he who alwayes deſpiſed and would ſtill kill the Heir, that the inheritance might be his: but the Inheritance is appointed for and given to an other, even to the Lamb's nature, the Lamb's Spirit, the Lamb's Innocency, the birth of another Wiſdom, which is a fooliſh weak birth in his eye, and not worthy at all to inherit: but it is the Father's pleaſure to give the Kingdom and Inheritance of Life everlaſting to theſe.

To ſpeak yet a little more plainly, and bring it yet a little cloſer to the heart, if it may be. It hath pleaſed the Father, in this day of his love and power, to gather a little flock out of the world (and all worldly profeſſions of Worſhip and Religion) to himſelf. This flock he hath gathered by a poor, little, low thing, in their hearts, exerciſing them thereby in poor, mean and contemptible wayes to the eye of the world, and to all the profeſſions of man's wiſdom; and by this, and concerning this, he teſtifieth (through thoſe whom he hath gathered) to others. And the Teſtimony doth evidence it ſelf (through the power of the Spirit) to all that wait upon God for an ear, and hear in the ſimplicity thereof.

Now when we tell men of a divine Principle of a Seed of God, wherein their Religion is to begin, and from which it is to grow, and whereof they are to be born. This will enter into many, yea many will aſſent to be drawn ſo far as to wait inwardly for, and upon this. But now when this begins to ſtir and move in them, it is in ſuch a way, and many times about ſuch low, mean, contemptible things in their eyes, that they are very apt to deſpiſe it, and enter into diſputes againſt it, and ſo miſs of the entrance, and can never thus enter into it, but inſtead thereof are filled with doubts about the Leader and his motions, and puzled and entangled in their minds, and ſtopt at the very beginning. And ſo, though they deſire much, and hope much; yet all comes to little, becauſe the enemy hath poſſeſſed their minds with a device of his ſubtilty, as if theſe were ſmall things and of little concernment. That which they want is the powerful Life, the clear Light, &c. and ſo their minds are taken up with thoughts about theſe great things, and deſires after theſe great things, and they over-look the way wherein and whereby theſe are to be witneſſed and obtained.

For the Lord God, in his infinite Wiſdom, picked out theſe contemptible things, to exerciſe his flock by, and to lead them in. And whatever men may think of them, yet none knows (but they who experience it) how hard it is to follow and ſubject to the Lord in theſe, and how much they bow down and break the earthly and uncircumciſed ſpirit in a man. Now, Friend, thou who deſireſt Life from God, Oh take heed thou doſt not beat back the beginnings of his Life, and the redemption of thy Soul, by deſpiſing and over-looking the day of Small things. Why may not God chuſe to lead thee, the way that he hath led the reſt of his flock? Why ſhouldſt not thou alſo come to deny the cuſtoms and vanities of this world (and come into that which is ſimple and plain) and ſtand in the will and Life of God out of them? Are not the wayes, cuſtoms, and vanities of the world, of the ſpirit of the world, and not of the Father? Did they not come from the corrupt part? are they not of the corrupt part? do they not pleaſe the corrupt part? Muſt they not be left behind by him that travels into the ſeed, is one with the ſeed, and lives in the ſeed? Why wilt thou ſtick in theſe things? Why wilt thou diſpute about theſe things? O feel the Fathers drawings, firſt out of the world, firſt out of that which is not of the Father, but of the World; that he may draw thee further and further, even into the Kingdom and Power everlaſting, which are many dayes journey beyond that which thou ſtickeſt at.

Now mind and remember this which followeth.

In the dayes of Chriſt and his Apoſtles, God choſe the fooliſh things, and the weak things, and things that were not, to hide the path of Life and the myſteries of his Kingdom from the wiſe ſearching-eye of man in thoſe dayes. Why may he not chuſe the like things now? Why may he not now reveal things to the Babes, and not to the Wiſe of this Age and Generation? Why may it not be to his glory, to have it now ſaid alſo, Where is the wiſe? where is the Scribe (where is the learned man?) Where is the Diſputer of this world? Can any of them find out that, or any of them diſcern that, which God revealeth to his little ones? No, no: They are generally got too high above that little, low, tender, meek, ſenſible principle, in the faith whereof, and in obedience whereto, the teachings of God are received, and his life and power witneſſed. And becauſe of their riches, wiſdom, and knowledge out of this, therefore is the entrance into the pure living Truth (which cleanſeth the mind, and keepeth it clean, which quickneth it, and keepeth it living) to them ſo exceeding difficult.

And as the Principle is little, the Seed of the Kingdom little, (like a Grain of Muſtard-ſeed) the leaſt of all Seeds: So, Why may not its Appearance alſo be little, even in low, weak things, deſpiſable to Man's Eye and Wiſdom; which Man ſees nothing in, and may account of no value? And yet, the Power of the Croſs, (which brings down, and ſlayes the Corruptible) and the Reſurrection of the Life may be witneſſed, and felt in them. The fooliſhneſs of God is wiſer than Men, and the Weakneſs of God is ſtronger than Men: And he knoweth what he doth, in leading his Children in this contemptible Path; and by theſe contemptible Exerciſes, which all that is wiſe, high, lofty, and aſpiring, according to the Fleſh, may eaſily over-look and ſlight, but can hardly ſtoop down and ſubject to.

God is the ſame that ever he was; and he ſtill appears in the way of his own Wiſdom, and out of Man's: and he that will partake of God's Wiſdom, muſt deny and keep out of his own. His Touches, his Drawings, his Teachings, his Bleſſings, his Love, his Peace, his Joy, his Sweetneſs, &c. are let forth upon, felt, and enjoyed by the Soul, in the new Creation, in the new Senſe, in the denyal and paſſing out of the old.

Somewhat touching the Goſpel-Reſt, or Sabbath.

WHat is the Goſpel-Reſt? what is the Goſpel-Sabbath? Is it a Shadow, as that of the Law was? or, Is it the Subſtance of that which the Law ſhadowed out?

The Law was given by Moſes. Moſes, by the Command of God, gave forth the Shadows of the Heavenly Things under the Law: But Grace and Truth came by Jeſus Chriſt. The true Sabbath, the true Reſt, the Law of the Spirit of Life, in and to the true Jews, comes by him. The Law of Moſes had the Shadow of the good Things to come; which good Things themſelves, the Goſpel contains, bringing Life and Immortality to light, and the Soul into the Enjoyment and Poſſeſſion of the Heavenly Things themſelves.

The Apoſtle diſputes the Caſe about both theſe, Heb. 4. both about the Seventh-day of Reſt, and about the Land of Reſt; ſhewing, that they were neither of them the Subſtance; they were but the Reſts, which were to paſs away. But, beſides them, there was a Reſt remaining, a Day of Reſt remaining, a Land of Reſt remaining; whereof they both (both the outward Sabbath of Reſt, and the Land of Reſt under the Law) were Figures.

Now, For whom did this Reſt remain? Why, it remained for the true Jews, for Believers, for the Spiritual Circumciſion in the Times of the Goſpel. And we (ſaid he) who have believed, do enter into Reſt. The Faith gives Entrance, the Son's Faith; the Faith which ſtands in the Power, the Faith which is Victory, and gives Victory over Sin, and the World, removes the Mountains and Difficulties which ſtand in the way, and gives Entrance into the Goſpel-reſt. Faith, which is from and of the Power of the endleſs Life, puts Sin under, brings down Self, gathers Man into a new Principle, brings Man forth in a new Principle, cauſeth him to live and act in a new Principle, &c. And as Man comes thither, and that Life riſeth and hath Power in him, it cauſeth him to reſt from his own Works, and to wait for and experience God in, and through Chriſt, to work all, and be all in him.

The Apoſtle Peter alſo ſpeaks of this Reſt, and declares how it is attained, even by ſuffering in the Fleſh, He that hath ſuffered (ſaith he) in the Fleſh, hath ceaſed from Sin, 1 Pet 4. 1. It is the fleſhly Part, the motions in the Fleſh, from whence Sin ariſeth.

Luſt, when it is conceived, bringeth forth Sin. Now, Chriſt hath prepared and appointed a Croſs, a ſpiritual Yoke to bring down the Fleſh, which cauſeth great ſuffering in the Fleſh, to him that taketh it upon him. To deny all Ungodlineſs, and every worldly Luſt, Motion, Deſire, and Delight of the fleſhly Mind and Nature; this is a ſore Suffering to the earthly Part: But yet this bringeth down the earthly Part, in all that take it up; and helpeth and cauſeth to ceaſe from Sin. And he that hath taken up the Croſs wholly, and felt the through Work of it, and ſuffered in the Fleſh the parting with, and crucifying all that is of the Fleſh; that which would cauſe him to ſin, is ſlain in him, and he ceaſeth from ſin. Then he is in the Reſt, then he keeps the Reſt fully; then he knows the Yoke and Croſs, which was once burdenſome to him, to become eaſie and delightful, that being worn out in him to which it was painful.

Now, he that is in meaſure delivered, that hath in meaſure ſuffered, findeth ſome Reſt, and may in ſome meaſure, keep the Sabbath; yea, in the Faith, the weakeſt Babe (abiding there) cannot but keep the Sabbath, and offer up the Sacrifices, and perform the Services thereof to the Lord. For, the Worſhip of the New-Teſtament relates not to outward Times or Dayes; but is in the Spirit, in the Truth, in the Name, in the Power, in the Subſtance, on the Day, and in the Times and Seaſons, which the Lord hath made, and makes in the Spirits of his People.

And here that Scripture is witneſſed to thoſe that are born of the Spirit, and live in the Spirit, and walk after the Spirit: Sin ſhall not have Dominion over you; for ye are not under the Law, but under Grace. Who are not under the Law, but under Grace? Why, they that are gathered by the Grace, that hear the Voice of God in the Grace, drawing and enabling them to follow; they whom the Grace over-ſhadows from the Power and Dominion of Sin; they are under it, they are ſheltered, ſaved, and preſerved by it.

He that is born of God, ſinneth not, but obeyeth the Grace: But he that committeth ſin, is the Servant of Sin, and not yet made free by the Grace and Power of the Son from it. Yea, the Son gives that Freedom in his Day from Sin, and the Power of Satan, as they that are out of the Light of his Day, cannot ſo much as believe. But they that are gathered into, and walk in the Light thereof, they witneſs the Law of the Spirit of Life in Chriſt Jeſus, making them free from the Law of Sin and Death. What! Is the Stronger than the Strong-man come, with his Law and Power of the endleſs Life; and, Shall not he manifeſt his Dominion in the Heart, over the Law of Sin and Death? Yea, as it is received, and let in, it works out, overcomes, bears down, over-runs the Law of Sin and Death: And that Promiſe is witneſſed, fulfilled; O Death, I will be thy Death!

And if God, by the Power and Breath of his Holy Spirit, with the living Powerful Laws thereof, kill Sin and Death in the Heart, What ſhall make them alive again?

gain? No, no, then they are dead indeed, and the Kingdom and Reign of Christ is witnessed in that Soul.

Then the birth of Life is witnessed, then the Man-child is witnessed, ruling with a Rod of Iron, dashing in pieces all motions and temptations to corruption, and all that would defile, so that they cannot enter the mind, and guarding it in the pure peace, unspeakable joy, and rest of the Son continually. And there it is as truly witnessed inwardly (as ever it was at any time enjoyed or hoped for by the Jews outwardly) that this Horn of Salvation, which God hath raised up in this House of his Servant David, breaks all the Horns of the Oppressors, and gives rest to the Soul from them round about, that without fear of them any more, it may serve him in holiness and righteousness before him all the dayes of its Life.

There are some good desires in many people, for which, blessed be the Name of the Lord: but there is great error of judgment and wandring up and down from the Truth, for want of that which is able to stay the mind upon the Lord, and to guide it in the right way. Some run to this Mountain and sacrifice there, others to that Hill, and offer there; but few know the true resting-place, or the place of the true Worship. Now in these their errors, they can witness no acceptance with the Lord. O that they knew the acceptable thing, the acceptable way of Worship, and might appear before, and be found of the Lord therein. Then might they begin in that which is substantial (in the Gospel-Spirit, Life and Power) and come to inherit and sit down in that which is substantial and everlasting.

Some Queries to such as complain of want of Power to become the Lords, and serve him, and who are not yet so acquainted with the Truth, as to witness the cleansing by it, and ceasing from Sin.

Query 1. WAS not Christ made a King, and Priest, after the Power of an endless Life? and doth he not communicate of the Power of that endless Life, to all that rightly believe in him, receive the Truth as it is in him, and obey his Gospel?

Query 2. Was it not the End of Christ's Coming, to destroy Sin in the Heart, and to set the Soul Free therefrom, that it might serve the Lord in the Liberty, Life and Power of his Spirit?

Query 3. To them that believe in and receive him, doth not Christ give power to become Sons to God? and to them that are Sons, Doth not the Father give the Spirit of the Son? And hath not the Spirit of the Son Power over the contrary spirit?

Query 4. Were not the Deliverances of the Jews under the Law, real Deliverances from their outward Enemies? And are not Christ's Deliverances as real from the inward Enemies? Whom the Son maketh Free, Are they not Free indeed? Free from Sin, free from Satan, being under the shadow of the wing of the Almighty, which preserveth out of the Darkness, and guardeth the mind from the evil and danger thereof?

Query 5. Is not Christ stronger than the strong Man, whom he cometh to dispossess? Are not his Weapons stronger than the Weapons of the Enemy? Is not he able to dispossess him, to cast him out, to spoil him of his Goods and strength? And when he hath gained the House, is not he able to cleanse it, and garnish and keep it clean and pure, in the way of his Covenant, against all that the Enemy can do?

Query 6. Doth not Christ dwell in the heart by Faith? And is not Christ's nature and Spirit pure, and will he dwell in any thing that is impure? Is not the spiritual Temple under the Gospel to be as pure inwardly as ever the outward Temple under the Law was to be pure outwardly, or by way of representation? Must not they be cleansed from all filthiness of flesh and Spirit, who witness the Father dwelling in them and walking in them?

Query 7. Who offer up the Incense, and the pure Offering in the times of the Gospel?

Can

Can any do it but the Sons of Levi, whom the Lord hath purified? Who can bring a clean thing out of an unclean? Who can compass the Altar of the Lord, or offer up an acceptable Offering there, whose heart and hands are not washed in innocency?

Query 8. Is not the Worship of the New Testament to be in Spirit and Truth? Is not the Spirit pure, the Truth pure? Can any unclean thing enter into it? Can any be in it, can any worship in it but they which be cleansed, purified and changed by it?

Query 9. How did the Apostle express the right manner of drawing nigh to God in the Spiritual Gospel-Worship? Was it not to be thus, with the heart cleansed from an evil Conscience, and the Body washed with clean water? And is not the presence, power and acceptance of God witnessed by them, that appear before him and worship him thus?

Query 10. Had not other Lords Dominion over the Heart, to subdue it to sin and defile it, before Christ was known and received in his Spirit and Power? But when Christ is known and received in his Spirit and Power, have the other Lords power to do so still? Is not Christs Law, the Law of his Spirit of Life, able to bring under and make the Soul free from the Law of Sin and Death? insomuch as now it may be said in truth, by the souls whom he hath set free, O Lord our God, other Lords besides thee have had Dominion over us, but (now henceforward) by thee only will we make mention of thy Name.

Query 11. Was it not a brand of ignominy on those who had got the good words and high notions about Christ, but were not in the Authority and Power of his Spirit, that they had eyes full of adultery, and could not cease from sin? Can any cease from sin, but he that receiveth the Power? And he that receiveth the power of the new Life, is it not natural to him to cease from sin, and unnatural to him to commit it?

Query 12. Is not the Lord the Teacher of his people under the New-Covenant? Was it not promised of old concerning the Gospel-times, and is it not fulfilled in the Gospel-times, That all thy Children shall be taught of the Lord? And what doth the Lord teach? Doth he not teach to cease from doing evil, and to learn to do well? And shall his Children never learn this Lesson of him?

Query 13. Whose Servants are they that obey unrighteousness? Are they cloathed with the strength of God? Do they stand in the power of his might against the power of the Enemy? Are they overcomers of the wicked one? or are they not rather daily overcome by him?

Query 14. What is the whole Armour of God provided and appointed for? Is it not to keep out the Enemy wholly? and is it able to do it, or no?

Query 15. Will not Christ say to all men upon the Earth, profess they what they will, hope in Christ, and cast themselves upon him for Salvation never so much, and never so often; yea though they have received such power from him as to preach in his Name, and cast out Devils in his Name, yet if they have not so received the Power, as to overcome sin in their own hearts, and to cause them to cease from working iniquity, though they call him Lord, and cry to him with confidence, Lord, Lord, open to us, yet will he not say to them, Depart from me ye workers of iniquity, I know you not; ye are not of the birth of my Power, ye are not those which have done my will, ye were never by me redeemed out of the evil-doing, but have still all your dayes (notwithstanding your profession, notwithstanding your knowledge, notwithstanding your owning me as your Lord, and preaching in my Name) been workers of Iniquity.

Query 16. He that receiveth the spiritual Circumcision and Baptisme of Christ, doth it not cause him to cease from sin? And doth not the New Life spring up in him, which causeth him to live holily to God? He that hath the offending eye plucked out, the offending hand cut off, is not that taken away from him which caused him to sin? And he who is created a New-Creature in Christ, doth he not naturally do that which is holy and righteous? (1 John 3. 7, 8.)

Query 17. Doth not the true Faith, the Faith of the Son of God give victory over sin? Can any Believer be conquered by the Enemy, he standing in the Faith, abiding in the Covenant? Doth not the Power stretched out by the Father of Life, defend the Soul in the way of the Covenant, against all the assaults of the Enemies, so that the gates of Hell cannot prevail against any here, but the Name of the Lord is felt a strong Tower against them; and though they encompass like Bees, yet in the Name of the Lord victory is witnessed over them, and against all that they can do? And doth not the Lord teach and enable his to keep Covenant?

Query 18. Was not such a thing witnessed by Paul (and may not such a thing be witnessed by the believing and obedient Travellers now) I can do all things through Christ that strengtheneth me? I know how to want, and I know how to abound; every where and in all things, I am instructed, &c. I am armed with the whole Armour of God, and taught to stand so upon my guard in the power of his Life, that the Enemy cannot come at me, but the Power of the endless Life so preserveth me, as that the Evil one cannot touch me, cannot enter me with any of his Temptations in any condition?

Query 19. Was there not such a condition once witnessed, and may it not be witnessed again, of being more than Conquerours through the Love and Power of Christ? When the Life doth arise, in its Power and Dominion in the heart, doth it not soon scatter the Enemies? Do they not fly away, and are chased at the blast of Gods Spirit? when the soul is filled with the Love and with the Power, is not the land cleansed of what annoyed it? And this which is sometimes felt by many of the Travellers, may it not be an abiding state? Are there not dwelling places on Mount Sion (on the Mount of God's holiness in the Gospel-time) and is not there security from Sin, Satan, the souls enemies and dangers? They shall not hurt nor destroy in all my Holy Mountain, saith the Lord; and will he not fulfil it to those, that wait upon him in the way of his Covenant?

The Conclusion.

THere is a Principle of darkness in the hearts and minds of men, which is as a seed or root of corruption in them, bringing forth in them fruits of sin and unrighteousness unto death.

And there is also a principle of the pure heavenly Light, as a free gift from God, to discover the darkness, turn man's heart against it, and lead him into the way and path of Life.

Now as Satan rules in the principle of darkness, and there is the power of death therein: so God rules in the principle of Light, and there is the power of Life and Redemption manifested by God therein.

For this principle is of the Father, of the Son, of the Spirit; yea, the Father, Son, and Spirit are in this principle; and here the soul meets with them, and is brought into union and fellowship with them, and feels the everlasting Arm revealed and stretched forth, for its delivery from corruption and the captivity thereof, into the liberty of the Sons of God.

And he that is here, meets with the substance of things, with that which all the types of the Law shadowed out, meets with the one offering, the cleansing which is thereby, the imputation of Righteousness, or of Faith unto Righteousness, yea, and with somewhat more, even with the everlasting Righteousness its self, brought into the heart, and dwelling there; insomuch as his nature is changed (truly changed) his spirit changed, his mind, heart, soul, and conscience changed, his conversation changed, the Leopard's spots, and the Ethiopian's skin washed away, the deceitfulness of the heart removed, and the new garments of Righteousness, Life, and Salvation, put on in the stead thereof: so that he is uncloathed of the evil, unholy nature, and spirit, and cloathed with the Spirit of the Lord.

For Christ is really made unto him, Wisdom, Righteousness, Sanctification, and Redemption. How is that? Why, he that once a fool, is now made wise unto God, and the things of his Kingdom, by the Mystery of the Son's Life and Power revealed in him. He is a Child of wisdom, and he hath heard the wisdom of his Mother, and learned wisdom of her. So putting on Christ, who is the Righteousness, being ingrafted into him, being brought forth in him, he partakes of the sweetness and fatness of the Olive-Tree, and is renewed into the Image of the true Righteousness and Holiness, and drinks in the Vertue and Life of the precious Promises, wherein and whereby he is made partaker of the divine nature, and so cannot but witness Redemption from the earthly corrupt nature.

Now, it is not any ſtriving, believing, or obedience of mans own ſpirit, which can effect this: he may will ſtrongly, he may run hard, and yet never obtain: he may ſo caſt himſelf upon the mercy of God, and hope concerning his mercy in Chriſt, as to miſs of it.

But the Principle of Life which is from God, and Faith in God from that Principle, without fail effects this; and no other Faith doth. But out of this are the Myſterious Images and Idols, and ſubtile workings and devices of the cunning one, to take up the mind with ſomewhat which appears as ſubſtantial and truly excellent, but is not ſo indeed. His birth hath deſires after the Kingdom (and makes no queſtion but it ſhall be his) wills, runs, ſtrives, believes, hopes, prayes, reads Scriptures, obſerves Duties and Ordinances, and in theſe they meet with a wrong knowledge, a wrong ſanctification, a wrong joy, a wrong confidence and aſſurance, a wrong reſt and peace; in which there may be a great warmth and ſeeming life and pleaſure, from the fire and ſparks of their own kindling and blowing up, which the mind that is blinded by him can hardly ſuſpect that it is not true; yea, may be taken with it, and ſtrongly juſtifie it in its own thoughts for the true, & ſet it above that that is indeed the true. This, this is the great Myſtery of Iniquity, which hath great ſubtilty of deceiveableneſs in it, to pick up and ſteal away the good Seed out of the heart, and to ſteal in a falſe Image and likeneſs thereof, which may have a more glorious appearance to man's eye, than the true Seed it ſelf (for that is the leaſt of all ſeeds, makes the leaſt ſhew of any) but hath not the ſame Nature, Vertue, and Power.

Ah! the Lord God of tender mercy, help all the poor Souls that breath after him, that they may not be thus deceived: and thoſe that are thus deceived, and in the ſnare of the Enemy (and do not witneſs the Faith which hath the Son's dominion in it, and gives victory over Sin, Satan, and the World, and wherein the blood of ſprinkling, which livingly waſheth, is felt, in Light of Life wherein the redeemed walk to the praiſe of their Redeemer) the Lord guide them alſo to that wherein all deceits are made manifeſt, and where the Truth which is of the Son is made to ſhine, in ſuch who were once in the barren places, and in the thick darkneſs, but now are Light in the Lord, and who have a dwelling place with the Lord in his Light, which is the pure and everlaſting habitation, Amen.

A Poſt ſcript,

Containing ſome further QUERIES, concerning the NEW-COVENANT.

Query 1. WHat is the New-Covenant? Is it not an agreement between God and the Soul in Chriſt, according to the Law of Faith, as the Old-Covenant was an agreement between God and the people of the Jews, according to the Law of Works?

Query 2. Who is the Mediator of this Covenant? Is it not the Lord Jeſus Chriſt? Doth not he prepare the heart for the Covenant, bring into the Covenant, keep in the Covenant, preſerve peace between God and the Soul, and keep the ſoul in the way of truth and peace?

Query 3. Who is the Shepherd, King, and Prophet in this Covenant? Is it any other than Chriſt the Mediator? Is not he the King, and Prophet, raiſed up to rule in Righteouſneſs, and to inſtruct in the path of Life? And is not his Spirit able to teach and inſtruct in all things, and able to govern and rule in Righteouſneſs, all that are ſubject to his breathings, quicknings, and holy movings, and inſtructions in their hearts, who writes his Law there, and guides and governs by the Law which he writes?

Query 4. How come men into this Covenant, or holy Agreement with God? Is it not by Repentance and Faith? Is it not by turning from the Darkneſs, which is not of him, him, to the Light which is of him? Is it not by turning from the ſpirit of Satan to his Spirit, from the ſtandard and power of the wicked one, to the Standard and Power of the Holy One? What is it that God lifts up againſt the darkneſs of the Enemy, but the Light of his Spirit, which diſcovers where a man hath been (and what he hath done) and gives him to repent thereof, and forſake all his dead works, and turn to the Life and Power which inſtructs and quickens him, in and by the holy Spirit. And this is true Converſion, and thus a man feels the Covenant of Sin, Death and Hell broken, and enters into a new Covenant, a pure Covenant, a living Covenant, a powerful Covenant, and comes to feel thoſe things which the Covenant contains, as his condition requires, and as his capacity is made able to receive.

Query 5. How do men come to abide in this Covenant? Is there any abiding, but according to the entrance? Is there any ſtaying in the Covenant, but in and by the Faith that lets in? Doth not unbelief and diſobedience keep out from it at firſt? and doth not unbelief and diſobedience cut off from it afterwards? For there are ſins againſt this Covenant, as well as againſt the Old: and the ſins againſt this are more dangerous to the ſoul, than the ſins againſt the Old. Take heed (ſaith the Apoſtle) leſt there be in any of you an heart of unbelief, to depart from the living God. And ſaith Moſes, ſpeaking of the Prophet, or Angel of this Covenant, Beware of him, and obey his voice; for he will not pardon your tranſgreſſions: for my name is in him. And whoſoever hearkneth not to this Prophet, he ſhall be cut off. How can it be otherwiſe? for he ſpeaks Life, and he ſpeaks it in the Covenant to the circumciſed ear, to the ſoul in the Faith, in the Obedience. Hear, and your ſouls ſhall live. So then, he that hears not, muſt needs abide in death; and he that departs from hearing him, muſt needs return to death.

Query 6. Whether there be any Purifying of the heart, or any Juſtification, or keeping the Veſſel clean out of the Obedience of the Truth? If a man keep my ſayings (ſaith Chriſt) he ſhall never ſee death. If ye (ſaith the Apoſtle) through the Spirit mortifie the deeds of the Body, ye ſhall live. But if the deeds of the body be not mortified by the Spirit, if a man do not keep the ſayings of Chriſt, doth he, or can he live then? Is not this then the main thing in Religion, that a man receive the Truth in the Faith, and that he feel the power of the Spirit of Life bringing him into, and keeping him in the obedience thereof. For it is the Truth that ſaves; the living Truth, the living Knowledge, the living Faith. The Law of the Spirit of Life, that makes free from the Law of ſin and death: and it makes free by its powerful working in the mind, working out, and preſerving from that which defiles, captivates, and deſtroyes. For Chriſt comes with his Power to ſave, with his Power to break the bonds of darkneſs, and ſet the captive free; with his Power to diſlodge and diſpoſſeſs all the enemies, and ſanctifie the Veſſel to himſelf: and the effects of his Power in and upon the heart, are his ſalvation; and he that falleth ſhort of the miniſtration of the Power of Life to his ſoul, and of the effects thereof in his ſoul, is ſo far defective in point of ſalvation. For no man is ſaved, farther than he is redeemed and delivered from that, which Chriſt comes to ſave him from.

Query 7. Whether the firſt thing of all to be witneſſed in Religion, is not the Spirit of Chriſt? Is not the whole work to be done by him? And how can a man be certain, concerning any work wrought in him, unleſs he be certain that it is he that works? How can I be certain concerning the Knowledge given me, unleſs I be ſure it be he that gives it? How can I be certain concerning any Prayers or Breathings ariſing in my heart, unleſs I be ſure they be from him? How can I underſtand any Scripture concerning Chriſt, or the knowledge of any ſpiritual thing, unleſs I be ſure he open it to me? And, how can I be ſure of any thing that he giveth or openeth to me, further than I know him, and have the true ſenſe of him in his nature and operations? So then, if the Spirit be my leader, guide, teacher, inſtructer in the way of Life, in the Covenant of Life, in the things of the Kingdom, in the knowledge of Scriptures, &c. it is of great concernment to me to receive that ear and heart from God, which knows and underſtands his voice. For, for want of this are all the defects, miſtakes, miſcarriages, and errors in and about Religion. But as men come to this, they come out of error into certainty; and know the one Chriſt, the one Faith, the one Baptiſm, the one Body, the one Church and Aſſembly of the firſt Born, the pure Love which is of and in the Truth, the pure path of the Kingdom, the way of Holineſs, which the ranſomed and redeemed walk in: yea, the Lord is one, and his Name one among all that are here, and the pure one-Language which is of the Spirit, Wiſdom, and Teaching, is here received, and the one-Voice of the Shepherd heard, &c. But out of this are the janglings, ſtrifes, contentions, debates, diſputes, ſubtle, wiſe, entangling reaſonings of the earthly, one with another, and all as one againſt the heavenly and ſpiritual.

Query 8. Did not the meſſage which Chriſt ſent his Apoſtle to Preach, He that believeth, and is baptized ſhall be ſaved; contain the ſum of the Covenant? What doth God require of the ſoul, but believing in his Son (which includes repentance from the dead ſpirit and works) and receiving his Baptiſm. To be baptized into him, into his death, into his life, into his nature, into his ſpirit. To take up his croſs, to bear his yoke, to be circumciſed in him and by him, that he may love the Lord his God with all his heart, that the power, vertue, and life of love may conſtrain him to live wholly in and to God. And then doth not the promiſe of Salvation, to him that believeth and is baptized into Chriſt, contain writing the Law in the heart, putting the fear into the heart, putting the Spirit within to become the teacher, guide, ſtrength and comforter and whatſoever elſe is neceſſary to the ſoul in the way to the Kingdom?

Query 9. How is God merciful to men's iniquities, and remembers their ſins no more? Is it not in the Covenant, and according to the Covenant? Is there not a warfare to be accompliſhed, before the ſoul come to witneſs the perfect blotting out of ſin? Is not Chriſt the Mediatour, the Judge to whom all judgment is committed? And doth not he judge his people for their tranſgreſſions againſt the Law of his Spirit and Life? And muſt not the ſoul, who will witneſs the dayes of refreſhment, and the perfect blotting out of ſin therein, wait upon the Lord in the way of his Judgments, even till ſin be judged and brought under and God's righteouſneſs perfectly revealed? Under Moſes his Law, every tranſgreſſion received a juſt recompence of reward: and ſhall he eſcape in the Goſpel who grieves the Spirit, who deſpiſes the Son, and gives ear to the enemy? Nay, nay, the ſame Covenant that holds forth mercy to the tender broken-hearted, to the believing, to the obedient, contains alſo righteous judgment againſt the tranſgreſſor of this Covenant. Yea, judgments begins at the houſe of God, and ceaſeth not, till that ceaſe which judgment is to. The Lord ſhall judge his people: ſhall not Chriſt judge his own family? Yes, yes, they that are of the family, and in the true ſenſe, feel the Lord pleading with whatever is contrary to him in them, and they can rejoyce therein, and ſing of mercy and judgment, after the Lord hath done his work in them, and brought forth the quiet fruit of Righteouſneſs in their hearts thereby.

Bleſſed is he that experienceth theſe things, witneſſing that from the Lord, which preſerveth out of all miſtakes and deceits about them.

An ENQUIRY after Truth and Righteouſneſs,

And after the People whom the Lord Eſtabliſheth and will Eſtabliſh therein, in ſome Queries on Iſa. 58. and alſo on Chapter 54.

Query 1. ARe there any people to be found, who exceed that ſtate ſpoken of ver. 2. of ſeeking God daily, and delighting to know his wayes, as a Nation that did Righteouſneſs, and forſook not the Ordinance of their God? They ask of me, ſaid the Lord, the Ordinances of Juſtice, they take delight in approaching to God. Are there not many Profeſſions and ſorts of Profeſſors at this day, who in Gods ſight fall ſhort of this ſtate, and yet think highly of themſelves? yet theſe the Prophet of the Lord was not to ſpare, but to lift up his Voice like a Trumpet againſt them, becauſe of their Tranſgreſſi-

Transgression and Sin which they committed, notwithstanding their thus daily seeking the Lord.

Query 2. What was the Transgression and the Sins which the Prophet was not to spare them in, but lift up his Voice like a Trumpet against them for? Was it not (among other things) for their wrong fasting, their wrong afflicting their Souls, their wrong seeking of God, out of the meek, tender, merciful spirit? Doth God require such fasting or praying of any man? or will the Lord accept such fasting or praying at any mans hand? Ah, how many fast and pray at this day, who never rightly considered, nor truly understood what the fastings and what the prayers are, which God requireth, and which alone he will accept?

Query 3. What is the fast which God requireth, and will accept in all Ages? Is not this it, To loose the bands of wickedness, to undo the heavy burdens, to let the oppressed go free; to break every yoke, &c. ver. 6, 7. Who can understand or learn this fast, but he that is taught of God?

Query 4. Are there any, whose light breaks forth as the morning, and whose health springs forth speedily; and whose righteousness goeth before them, and whom the Glory of the Lord gathereth up, or is a Reward to (as is promised to those who observe this fast) and whom the Lord is ready to hear and answer in all that they call upon him for, as ver. 8, 9? Doth not God teach his Children in the New Covenant to observe this fast? And they who are taught by him to keep it (and do faithfully keep it) do they not inherit this Promise?

Query 5. Are there any now among the Sons of men, whose light hath risen in obscurity, and whose darkness hath become as noon-day? Whom the Lord guideth continually, and whose Soul he satisfieth in Droughts, and makes fat their bones: And makes them like a watered Garden, and like a Spring of Water, whose Waters fail not? Surely if there be any, who are truly taught of the Lord to observe that which leads hereto, they cannot miss of enjoying these precious promises: For he is faithful and true who hath promised, (vers. 10, 11.)

Query 6. Are there any, at this day whom God honoureth in building the old waste Places, in raising up the Foundations of many Generations; in repairing the breach, and restoring the Paths to dwell in? What are the Paths that are to be dwelt in? Are they not the same which the Soul is to walk in? Is not the just mans path and his dwelling place all one, even the Light of the Living, which he is both to walk and abide in? See 1 Joh. 1. 7. And Prov. 4. 18.

It is said concerning Christ, He that saith he abideth in him, ought himself also so to walk, even as he walked 1 Joh. 2. 6. How did Christ walk? Did he not walk in the Light of Gods Spirit? in Subjection to Gods Spirit? Was not the fulness given him? Was not the Father alwayes with him? And did not he act in the Father, and the Father in and through him? Now, doth not he give forth a measure of the same Spirit, of the same Anointing, of the same Power to become Sons unto all his? and are not they to walk according to the measure of light and Life they receive from him? And he that walks according to this rule, can he err in so walking? Is not this the pure Paths the living Path, the Path for the ransomed in the dayes of the Gospel, who walk not after the Flesh, but after the Spirit; not in the oldness of the Letter, but in the newness of the Spirit? O that men could consider this with the true understanding, and know the way of Life in the true sense and experience thereof! That which enlightens and gives life to my Soul, is somewhat from Christ, even a measure or appearance of pure Spirit; it is no less: and the Law of Life written inward is more to the Soul than words written outwardly, though all the words that ever come from Gods holy Spirit are very precious, and greatly useful, to those, to whom he vouchsafeth to give the understanding of them.

Query 7. What is the Sabbath spoken of, vers. 13? Is it the Law-Sabbath, or the Gospel-Sabbath? Is it inferior in nature to the Fast before mentioned? What is Gods Holy-day, which is the Souls delight, the holy of the Lord honourable, wherein the Souls that enter into the true Rest (by Faith in him who is Life) honour the Lord, in ceasing from their own wayes, pleasures and words? See also Hebr. 4. 3. and 10.

Query 8. They that keep Gods holy Sabbath, do they not delight themselves in the Lord? do they not feel the pleasure of his Day, and of his Appearance in his day?

Are

Are not these of the true Seed of Jacob (who prevail with the Lord for the blessing?) and doth not the Lord feed them with the Heritage of Jacob their Father, even with the Blessing of the Covenant of Life and Peace for evermore.

Some Queries on Isa. 54.

Query 1. IS there such a state to be witnessed, either in the particular, or in the general, wherein the Womb that was barren shall Travel and bear, and sing for joy of heart and spirit before the Lord? See vers. 1.

Query 2. Is there such a state to be witnessed, as of the Maker to become the Husband? Is not this a glorious state indeed, and a name better then of Sons and Daughters signifying neerer intimacy and union, than any other relation, with the holy One, the Redeemer of Israel? and do not such as come to this state (even to be married to the Lamb) partake more abundantly of his redeeming Power and holy Presence? see vers. 6.

Query 3. Are there some so visited and redeemed by the Lord, as that they shall never be cast off more, as that the floods of Wrath shall never overtake them more, nor the Covenant of their Peace removed? Ah precious state! Blessed are they doubtless, who have been so visited and redeemed by Gods mercy, as to be made partakers of it.

Query 4. Who is this that hath been afflicted, tossed with tempest, and not comforted? Have there been any such in our days, who have been deeply afflicted, for want of the presence of the Lord God of their Life, who have been tossed up and down with tempest after tempest, and could meet with no Comforter to speak a word in season to their weary Souls? And hath the Lord appeared to these, visited these, built upon these, comforted these? Surely then, the poor whom he hath raised out of the dust, and the needy whom he hath lifted off from the dunghil, cannot but praise his Name.

Query 5. Who is this, whose stones God layes with fair Colours, and her Foundation with Saphires? whose Windows God makes of Agates, and her Gates of Carbuncles, and all her Borders of Pleasant Stones? Was not the Covenant of Life so adorned in the Apostles dayes? and is she not so adorned now again?

Query 6. Whose children are they, who shall be all taught of the Lord, and whose peace shall be great, who shall be established in Righteousness, who shall be far from Oppression, so that they shall not fear, and from terror so that it shall not come near them? Are there such a Generation of the heavenly Birth, of the Covenant of Life, brought forth in this our day, who sanctifie the Lord of Hosts himself, and make him their fear and their dread, but are not terrified with the wicked one, nor with the Snares and Engines of the ungodly? Surely they who are taught of God, have Peace from him, and in him, and are established in the Righteous Spirit and Life of his Son; they are like mount Sion, which cannot be shaken or removed, by all the Terrors and oppressing Devises of the ungodly.

Query 7. By whom do they gather together, who gather together against such a people? Certainly it is not by the Lord, nor by any advice or counsel from him; but by the advise of that spirit which opposeth himself against the Power and Work of the Lord: And that spirit must fall for the sakes of those whom God hath raised up by his Power, & undertaketh to defend. How tender was God of Israel after the flesh in the day of his delivering them, see 1 Chron. 16. 19. &c? and will he not be as tender of his spiritual Israel, in the day of his redeeming and delivering them? Indeed the opposition will be very great, but consider who shall have the victory, See Rev. 17 14. Certainly it is true, and sealed by the Spirit of the Lord, that Patience, Meekness, Innocency, Love, Righteousness, &c. shall at length overcome all Unrighteousness, Enmity, Oppression, Cruelty, Wrath, &c. and that spirit from which they proceed:

and as they are overcome, and when they are overcome, the Lamb's Spirit shall Reign and shine in the glory of the Father. O the sweet Sense of this day, and further hope thereof, how doth it bear up the suffering Lambs in the midst of all their Tryals, and Tribulations!

Quer. 8. Hath not God Created the Waster to destroy? and hath not he power over him? and doth not he limit him in the midst of his destroying work? But did God Create him to destroy his Heritage? Or will God suffer him so to do? they may indeed destroy the buildings which are not of God: But God is the wise, great, Master-builder, who counted his cost before he began, and knew he was able to maintain his Building, against all the Oppositions and Opposers, which could rise up against it.

Quer. 9. Can any Weapon formed against the Covenant of Life, and the Children thereof, who are taught of God, and have great Peace from him, and who are established by him in Righteousness; I say, can any weapon formed against these, prosper? Every Tongue that riseth up in judgment against them, doth not the holy Tongue condemn? Is not this the Heritage of the Servants of the Lord, in this our day? and doth not the Lord say (what ever men say to the contrary) that their Righteousness is of him? Indeed, who ever receiveth the true Righteousness, receiveth it from the Hand of the Lord, and knoweth it to be of him.

And this Testimony we have, even from the Spirit of the Lord, who taketh away our Unrighteousness and filthy Garments, and giveth us Righteousness from and in his Sons Righteousness, even the very same wherewith the Son himself was Clothed. For as the Seed is but one, and of one (Heb. 2. 11.) so the Righteousness is but one neither. Be not hasty in spirit, but wait to understand in the Light and Spirit of the Lord, which is Wisdoms place of giving true Understanding to her Disciples.

It is true, there hath been great Darkness, and the true Church hath been in the Wilderness, and the Remnant of her Seed Hunted and Persecuted up and down the Earth by the false Church, which hath been cried up for the true. But, blessed be the Lord, the Darkness is passing away, and the true Light shining again: which light Discovers and Redeems out of all that is false, into that which is true: so that he that is Truth, and no Lie, is again known, and he speaketh truth and no lye, and anointeth with the true and holy Oyle of life and Salvation, all that are truely living. And now the Kingdom of Darkness is going down, and the Kingdom of our Lord Jesus Christ raising up and Exalting; which is an inward Kingdom, a spiritual Kingdom, a Kingdom of Life, a Kingdom of Peace, a Kingdom of Righteousness, a Kingdom of Holy Power and Dominion over Sin and Death in the Heart. And this will spread and increase, to the blessing of Persons, Families and Nations (as they come to be sensible of, and subject to the Holy Light and Power thereof) with the Blessings of Abraham, wherewith all Families and Nations are to be blessed, as they come to be unleavened from the serpentine Spirit and Wisdom, and leavened with the Innocency and Righteousness of the Lambs Nature and Spirit.

The mighty God carry on his work, by the same mighty Arm of Strength wherewith he began it; and open the eyes of this Nation, that they may see their proper hope and interest: For indeed the Lord hath great love to this Nation, and blessing in store for it, (for the Seeds sake which he hath sown and caused to spring up in it,) though many Trials and Tribulations must first be passed through, and the Spirit of Enmity and Opposition against the appearance of Gods Holy Spirit and Power worn out. O that men could come to that which gives the eye-sight, that thereby they might see a right, and no longer take the rise of their seeing from that spirit and and wisdom, which miss-represents things.

The Holy TRUTH and PEOPLE Defended, and ſome of the Weapons and Strength of the Power of Darkneſs, Broken and Scattered, by the Light and Power of TRUTH.

In an ANSWER, to the Chief Paſſages in a LETTER, Written to me, and Replyed by me, before my Impriſonment in this Place; where I have been a Priſoner above a Year and a half, without any Law broken, or Cauſe given on my Part; who only came Innocently and Peaceably to viſit my Friends in Priſon.

By me Iſaac Penington, Priſoner for the Teſtimony of Truth, (For could I have denyed Truth, I might have avoided the Snare) at Reading-Goal.

The Bowes of the Mighty are broken; and they that ſtumbled, are girt with Strength, 1 Sam. 2. 4.

The PREFACE.

A Letter was ſent me from a Dear Friend of mine, (bearing Date the Fifth of the Eleventh Month, 71.) who had long been greatly diſtreſſed, and could not find Relief in the way of her former Profeſſion, and Church-Fellowſhip: For whom, I greatly travelled with the Lord; and towards whom, my Spirit was made very tender by him. I ſtill felt the Seal of God's Love and Mercy towards her, even in her loweſt Condition, deepeſt Deſpair, and ſoreſt Captivity, through her great and manifold Temptations: And my Teſtimony to her at times, from the Lord, on this behalf, was ſometimes of uſe to her, to bear up her Spirit, till the Day of God's Viſiting and Redeeming her, with the Virtue and healing Power of his Salvation; which, bleſſed be his Name, ſhe hath ſince had ſweet Experience of, and true Peace and Joy, in knowing the true Head, holding him in the Faith, and being held by him.

Now, this Letter of an antient Acquaintance of mine, which I had anſwered long ago, one that belonged to Sir Henry Vane (as ſhe ſignified in her Letter to me) deſired ſhe ſhould ſee; which is ſaid to be an Anſwer to a Letter of mine. If my Anſwer had gone along with it, I ſhould have took no further Notice of it: But it going without my Anſwer, leaſt it ſhould do hurt to thoſe to whom the Lord hath done, or is doing good; I am ingaged in Spirit to Reply ſomewhat to it, and to give forth to others, what the Lord giveth in to me, upon this new Occaſion. How greatly, truly, and purely I have loved the Man, I will not boaſt; (the Lord knoweth, with whoſe Knowledge herein I am content:) But, O that this his Paper might not be laid to his Charge at the great Day! which (I am afraid) it will, unleſs he Repent of it: For indeed, it is not a Fruit of Life from God's Holy Spirit; but of the Growth of Egypt, and Babylon.

It was ſent me in the Form of a Book, as if it had been ſent abroad for ſpecial Service. There was no Name at it, as if it were an Arrow to fly in the Dark, and wound ſecretly: But no Weapon, formed againſt the Iſrael of God, ſhall Proſper, either from this Hand, or any other; and every Tongue that riſeth up againſt them in Judgment, will will God condemn. This is the Heritage of the deſpiſed People, and Servants of the Living God, in this our Day; whoſe Righteouſneſs is the Righteouſneſs of his Son beſtowed upon them, where-with he himſelf hath clothed them; as the anointed Eye now ſeeth, and all Eyes ſhall one day ſee, and Tongues confeſs to the Glory of God the Father.

The Holy TRUTH and PEOPLE Defended, &c.

In an ANSWER, &c.

HE excepteth againſt thoſe words of mine to him, in a former Letter, (of Jun. 24. which I have not here by me) That when his Eyes are opened by the Lord, he ſhall then acknowledge, that we oppoſe no Truths of the Lord; but hold forth what we have Received from him.

To which he thus replyeth, Is Redemption by Chriſt's Blood no Truth of the Lords? Which he chargeth one of us in particular, and many others in general, with denying.

Anſw. We are gathered into that, and abide in that, in which no Truth can be denyed: And are in him that leadeth into all Truth, and teacheth to deny no Truth, that ever was held forth by the Spirit of the Lord. Some of us may not yet be grown up in Underſtanding into the Myſteries of the Kingdom, which God hath reveuled, and made manifeſt to others: but yet, we do not deny, but own one another in our ſeveral meaſures of Knowledge, and ſenſe of Things, and in our ſeveral Growths. And we own and acknowledge in God's Sight, the ſeveral Diſpenſations he hath brought forth, both before the Law, and under the Law and Prophets, and in the time of Chriſt's Appearance in the Fleſh; and after, when he ſent his Spirit, and all the time the Church was in the Wilderneſs; and now, ſhe is coming forth again in the Brightneſs and Glory of the Father, looking forth as the Morning, fair as the Morning, clear as the Sun, terrible as an Army with Banners. Nor do we diſown any thing that is of God, in the Profeſſors of this Age: But only that, which we know, and are required by him to teſtifie againſt, as being not of him. O that they could weigh our Words and Teſtimony in a right Spirit! For they would not then be ſo offended at, and ſpeak ſo againſt us, as now they do: And the Lord knoweth, we would do any thing that lieth in us, to remove the ſtumbling-blocks that lie before them. But it cannot be done to that Spirit in them, before which God Almighty hath laid the ſtumbling-block, that it might ſtumble, and fall, and be ſnared, and broken, and taken. But, if they could come into another Spirit, and feel Unity with, and the Birth of another Spirit, the Birth of that pure Wiſdom ſhould find no ſtumbling-block or offence in this precious Diſpenſation of Truth, wherewith God from on high hath viſited us.

And as for denying Redemption by the Blood of Chriſt, O how will he anſwer this Charge to God, when none upon the Earth (as the Lord God knoweth) are ſo taught, and do ſo truly, rightly, and fully own Redemption by the Blood of Chriſt, as the Lord hath taught us to do! For we own the Blood of the Lord Jeſus Chriſt, both outwardly and inwardly, both as it was ſhed on the Croſs, and as it is ſprinkled in our Conſciences, and know the cleanſing Virtue thereof, in the Everlaſting Covenant, and in the Light which is Eternal: Out of which Light, Men have but a Notion thereof, but do not truly know nor own it. And let him conſider, before the time of Anti-chriſt, it was a great matter to know and own Chriſt outwardly, as he appeared in that Body: But ſince the Anti-chriſtian Spirit hath got that, the diſtinguiſhing Knowledge, and owning of Chriſt, is, to know and own him inwardly. The outward Knowledge and Confeſſion now, (as it is generally ſeparated from, and held forth in way of Diſtinction from the inward) is but the Knowledge and Confeſſion of Babylon, and not the true living Knowledge and Confeſſion of Chriſt, in and by the Spirit of the Father; which is the Knowledge and Confeſſion of all the Children of the True and Heavenly Mother, which is the Mother of all that are born of the Spirit.

He repeateth thoſe words of mine, That we do not make any finite thing our Righteouſneſs; but Chriſt of God, is made unto us Righteouſneſs. This, he ſaith, Is well ſpoken, and wiſheth we may alwayes abide in this Confeſſion.

Anſw. Theſe words aroſe in me from an inward Feeling of him, who giveth Righteouſneſs, and of the Righteouſneſs given; and the Lord preſerving me in that Life, I ſhall feel ſo for ever, and confeſs ſo for ever. And truly, I can teſtifie of no other Righteouſneſs: For, bleſſed be the Name of my God, I ſee the Righteouſneſs of his Son revealed in me daily, from Faith to Faith. In his Name I have been gathered, in his Name I live, and in him I feel Righteouſneſs; and indeed, there is nothing but Righteouſneſs Holineſs, Truth, Life, and Salvation, (and the like) in him.

And he that is truly in him, is Righteous, and Holy in him; there being in him a new Creating of all that are there, and a renewing into the Holy and Heavenly Image; which conſiſts in the Righteouſneſs, and Holineſs of Truth.

He deſireth me to give a plain Anſwer to this Queſtion.

Is Chriſt of God made our Righteouſneſs by Faith in his Blood, or in his Spirit?

Anſw. A pretended Faith in Chriſt's Blood, without Faith in his Spirit, is but dead and notional. Except ye eat my Fleſh, and drink my Blood, (ſaith Chriſt) ye have no Life in you. It is the Spirit that quickneth, the Fleſh (ſaith he) profiteth nothing. Now, the Faith muſt be in that which quickneth: And the Faith in that which quickneth, is Holy and Righteous; and the Man who is found in it, is Juſtified, through that Faith in the quickning Power, in the Sight of God. Thus Abraham was juſtified in the Sight of God, and thus are the Children of Abraham to be Juſtified, even through believing in that Holy Power and Spirit, which requireth Obedience, and juſtifieth the Obedient, and condemneth the Diſobedient for ever, Rom. 4. 24.

He ſaith, He fears a Snake in this Green Graſs, when I ſay, From his Life, Virtue, and Power, revealed in us, is our Conformity to him.

Anſw. It were better and ſafer for him to fear at home: For the Snake is in his own Graſs, and many notional, high, ſoaring Expreſſions, without true Knowledge. But, Can there be any Conformity to Chriſt without his Life, Virtue, and Power, inwardly revealed? What elſe can conform unto, and bring forth in the Image and Likeneſs of Chriſt?

He ſaith, He feareth leſt I make this Life and Virtue our Righteouſneſs, which is indeed the Fruits of it.

Anſw. Who is this, that darkneth Counſel by Words without Knowledge, and runneth out from the Truth into his own Imaginations? What was Chriſt's Righteouſneſs? Was it not the Life, the Virtue, the Spirit of the Father in him; he being one with it, in the Faith of it, and in the Obedience to it? And, Is not the Righteouſneſs of the Head, and the Body the ſame, communicated from the Head to the Body? Are they not all of one, and the Righteouſneſs one and the ſame in both? So much of Chriſt's Spirit, ſo much of his Righteouſneſs; and out of his Spirit, out of his Righteouſneſs for evermore. For the Righteouſneſs of the Son is revealed, and communicated from Faith to Faith in his Spirit: And ſo Chriſt is indeed made Righteouſneſs to them that are found in his Spirit; and they are covered with the Garment of Righteouſneſs and Salvation, who are covered with his Spirit.

He ſaith, Our Righteouſneſs is before this.

Anſw. What! Is our Righteouſneſs before any of the Life, Virtue, and Power of Chriſt, revealed in us? Is God a Reſpecter of Perſons? Doth he juſtifie any out of the Holy Covenant, before he hath made a Change in him? How doth this Man, with his vain Imaginations, turn the whole Way and Councel of God upſide-down?

He

He brings a Scripture to prove this, The Spirit is Life for righteouſneſs ſake.

Anſw. That Scripture (which is, Rom. 8. 10.) ſpeakes of thoſe in whom Chriſt is and dwells: And there indeed, The Body is Dead becauſe of ſin, and the Spirit is Life becauſe of righteouſneſs, This is plainly ſpoken, and plainly felt, and known as it is ſpoken. O that he had the true ſence and underſtanding of it, as it is in Jeſus.

He ſaith, Righteouſneſs is in order of nature before Sanctification.

Anſw. That which is holy is Righteous. There is nothing Righteous in the eyes of the pure God, but that which is holy. The Head was really holy and Righteous; and they that are in him partake of his Holyneſs and Righteouſneſs, and are really Holy and Righteous in him: And Faith which purifies the heart, and through which Sanctification is, muſt needs be in order of nature before the Juſtification which is by it; for God Juſtifieth no unbelievers, but believers only. Yea the wicked muſt forſake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts, and turn unto the Lord, which cannot poſſibly be without ſome degree of Sanctification before the Lord will have mercy, and pardon the Soul its ſins. Iſa. 55. 7. and chap. 1. 16, 17, 18.

He ſaith, Juſtification is an act of Grace paſſed upon us by God freely, without reſpect to us as Godly, nay properly reflecting on us in that moment as ungodly.

Anſw. I charge this in the ſight of God, for abſolutely falſe Doctrine and contrary to the Goſpel. For God Juſtifieth no man as ungodly, but calleth upon men to repent and turn from their ungodlineſs, and he will have mercy upon them, Juſtifie and ſave them. Now men are not ungodly in turning from their ungodlineſs, but changed: And ſo their ſtate is in ſome meaſure changed, before Juſtified. If Abraham was ungodly when God called him, Yet in forſaking his own country, and following the Lord, and offering up his Son, he was obedient, and not ungodly, and in that obedience he was Juſtified. A man may have Notions of Juſtification in his mind, and accordingly take himſelf to be Juſtified, when he is not: But there is no man Juſtified by the Lord till he be changed, tranſlated into him in whom God Juſtifieth, out of the place of Condemnation, into the place of Juſtification. For till men are changed by the Spirit and power of the Lord, they are but darkneſs and in the darkneſs, where no Juſtification is. It is the Believing, the Obedient, the Children of Light, that are Juſtified by the Lord.

He ſaith, Were we godly before or at that time, it were no act of Grace to pronounce us Righteous.

Anſw. He that witneſſeth Salvation in Chriſt Jeſus, witneſſeth it to be a continued Act of Grace. Grace appears to the Soul, Grace teacheth, Grace enableth, Grace maketh a change from the ungratiouſneſs of the heart and ſtate, and then Grace (or God by his Grace in and through Chriſt Jeſus) forgiveth the ſins that were committed before. For though the Lord viſit me with Life, quicken me thereby, make a change in my heart and ſtate, yet it is his Mercy to accept me, and to paſs by for his name ſake my former debts and treſpaſſes againſt him. Alas the new Covenant is wholly a Covenant of Grace and Mercy; and the giving of Chriſt, drawing the mind to him, accepting and Juſtifying in him, are works of Grace and Mercy towards his: So the Spiritual Iſrael may well ſing this Song in the Land of Holineſs and Redemption, O praiſe the Lord, for he is good, for his mercy endureth for ever. I can truly ſet my Seal to this thing, that the more Holy and Righteous the Lord maketh me in his Son, the more ſenſible am I of his Love, Grace, and Mercy in Juſtifying of me: and it is precious to me to witneſs Juſtification, and acceptance with him in and through his Son.

He ſaith further, But this is the Bounty, the Freeneſs, the Munificence, the Riches of the Grace of God, to call things that are not as though they were.

Anſw. Take heed of abuſing that Scripture. God ſent Chriſt to Renew, to Redeem, to Change, to make Holy, and Righteous, to make people ſuch as the Father might be pleaſed with, accept and Juſtifie: And as Chriſt maketh them ſo, the Father receiveth, and accepteth them as ſuch. But God doth diſtinguiſh and call things as they are. He doth not call an ungodly man, an holy man, a Juſtified man. But when he hath changed him, new-created him in Chriſt Jeſus, took him out of his old Stock, and planted him into the new, then he accounteth and calleth him so, and not before. It were better for men to wait upon God, to understand what his spirit meant in what he speak, than to put formed meanings of their own upon his words.

He wrests my words, charging and reproving me, as if I said, The Love of God was a bare thing.

Answ. Those were not my words, nor did my words so signifie: but my words were, That it is not by bare Loving (or meer Loving, or only loving) that God makes a man Righteous, which is very true and manifest: For there is besides his Love (in and through that Love) the sending of his Son, and revealing of his Son, drawing to and Transplanting into his Son, to make Holy and Righteous in him. For Holyness though it may be distinguish'd, yet it cannot be divided from Righteousness; nor can a man possibly be Righteous in Gods sight, unless he be also Holy in some measure. His reflecting words hereupon I pass by, though very unjustly and unchristianly cast upon me (without any just occasion given him by my words) which I desire the Lord may make him sensible of, that he may be forgiven it.

He blameth me for saying, We make no finite thing our Righteousness; and yet he saith, We make the measure of the Spirit (which each member of Christ receives) our Righteousness.

Answ. A measure hath the same nature with the fulness: A measure of the Spirit and Life, of the Grace and Truth which comes from Jesus Christ, hath the same nature that the fulness hath. All the Life, all the new Creation that comes from him and dwells in him is Righteous, and found Righteous where ever it is found. Yet I do not remember, that we have thus expressed it, that that measure is our Righteousness; but it is he who is the fulness, who is revealed in that measure, and it is he, who is our Righteousness, our Wisdom, our Sanctification, our Redemption: But it is in the holy pure measure of the heavenly gift, that he is made thus of God to us, not out of it.

He saith, The Lord our Righteousness redeems us, not properly by the Life and Spirit of his God-head, though that was in the work supporting, enabling him and carrying him up, in that great undertaking, but by the death and sufferings of his man-hood.

Answ. This is strange Doctrine, to make the man-hood the main Redeemer, and the Life and Spirit of the God-head, but the supporter, and the carrier up of the man in the work of Redemption: Whereas it was the word which Created all, which also redeemed, he that left his Glory, and made himself of no reputation, but came in the form of a Servant to do the will. It was the Spirit and Life of the Father (even the Eternal Son) which took up that body, appeared in that body, offered it up a pure and acceptable Sacrifice to the Father, finishing the work therein, which the Father gave him to do, Joh. 17. 4, 5.

He saith, Shall we think to answer the Law by our Obedience?

Answ. We do not look upon the Law of Moses, which was given to the Jew outward, to be the dispensation of the new Covenant, or to be the Law of the Spirit of Life in Christ Jesus. But those who are in the new Covenant, and have Gods Law writ in their hearts, and his fear put there, which preserveth from departing from him, and his Spirit put within them, to cause them to walk in his wayes, and to keep his Statutes and Judgments, and do them, and who live in the Spirit, and walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit, the Righteousness of the Law is fulfilled in these. Yet they do not magnifie and cry up their own Obedience (nor call it their Righteousness) but him from whom their obedience comes. For in the measure of his Grace and living Truth, the Soul is, one with him; and all that he is, and all that he hath done, is theirs, and it is he himself that is the Righteousness of all that are in him: And they that abide in him partake of his Righteousness from day to day, which floweth in like a stream upon them.

I wish he could consider in what Spirit it is, that he calls the White Stone a Ticket for the Righteousness. Doth he know the white Stone with the new name? it is no less than the Foundation Stone, than the Righteousness it self: And what doth he talk of bringing that as a Ticket for the Righteousness?

He

He ſeemeth to paſs by ſome things (which I ſpeak in tender love and weightineſs of Spirit to him) as the Judgment of man in his day: but let him take heed, when he comes to appear before God, he then find it was the Judgment of Gods Spirit in the Light of his day: Which day is inward and Spiritual, which believers are to hasten to, and which approacheth in every heart, as the night ſpendeth and paſſeth away. And all true Chriſtians and Believers ought to wait for the paſſing away of the night, and the dawning of this day, and the ariſing of the day-Star in their hearts.

He ſaith, Chriſt is now ready to be revealed.

Anſw. I believe he is to be revealed further and in fuller Glory: But he is truly already revealed as the Saviour, Shepherd, and Biſhop of the Soul, and many are gathered home to their reſting place in him, which while they were ſcattered up and down upon the barren mountains (before the ſhepherd appeared and made himſelf manifeſt) they could not find.

He ſeems to ſtrike at the peace and Joy which is of God, and to give it a daſh, Becauſe minds eſtranged from the enlightenings and Convictions of God, have much peace in their wayes, and ſuch are under deluſions.

Anſw. We do not tell men of the peace and Joy we have in our God boaſtingly, but in a faithful way of Teſtimony concerning, and invitation to, what we once wanted, but now have found under the leadings of the true Shepherd. And the peace and Joy which he gives, is an evidence and aſſurance in the hearts of thoſe to whom it is given by him. And they that have been greatly diſtreſſed for want of the Lord, and his powerfull Arm of Salvation, having met with it, it riſeth up from Life in them to teſtifie, and ſay it to others; Loe this is our God, we have waited for him, and we will be glad and rejoyce in his Salvation. And, O that ye alſo were ſtripped of this dead, notional, comprehenſive knowledge concerning the Saviour; that ye might meet with the Saviour himſelf, and receive that knowledge from him, which is Life Eternal. And this, with the true peace and Joy thereof from him, ye would find no deluſion.

He ſpeaketh, Of ſuffering loſs, and of phraſes and expreſſions, better (ſaith he) to ſuffer loſs in theſe, than themſelves to be deſtroyed.

Anſw. Let him apply this home. O that he ſaw how thoſe phraſes and expreſſions, and imaginary knowledge, which he hath brought forth in this Letter, ſtands in his way to hinder the true knowledge, and that he cannot poſſibly receive the true knowledge without being emptyed of theſe, and parting with them, for the excellency of the knowledge of the Truth, as it is in Jeſus: And without the true knowledge of Jeſus, men cannot but periſh and be overtaken with deſtruction.

Then for being helpful to eſtabliſh Perſons in Grace.

Anſw. Such kind of Doctrines as theſe do not tend thereto.

They may eſtabliſh men in ſuch a notion of Grace as he hath formed: But they neither tend to lead to, nor eſtabliſh in the Grace it ſelf, but keep men from it. Nay, I can truly ſay it, from him that is true, that he himſelf cannot receive the Grace, the thing it ſelf, till he part with theſe notions. And, O that he might know the Stone cut out of the Mountain without hands, to daſh his Image, that the living one (who gives Life) might be received by him, in that meaſure of Grace and Truth, which he inwardly diſpences to all that travel out of the darkneſs of their own imaginations and conceivings upon the Scriptures, into his Pure Light.

The main reaſon he giveth why he is not ſatisfied with that which I ſent him, concerning the ſum and ſubſtance of the true Religion is, becauſe it ſights with his notions, even a ſtating of our Righteouſneſs with God, according to his imagination, which is abſolutely a meer dream, which he hath dreamt of in the night, and not ſeen in the Light of the day. For the cry of the Spirit of the Lord is in the Goſpel-day, Open ye the gates, that the Righteous nation, which keepeth the Truth, may enter in. This is the Truth, as God hath revealed by his own Spirit, in this our day: But to ſay, this ſpeakes of our ſtate in him, without witneſſing it in our ſelves, is but a meer dream: And men cannot bring forth fruit to God, nor be lovely and pleasing in his eyes, but as their fallow Ground is ploughed up, the Thorns, Thistles, Bryers, and that which is unclean and unholy, removed.

Christ he saith, Is the heavenly man, and mansion in whom we are thus blessed, and in whom we sit down in a state of Rest and Reconciliation, Heavenly and Divine, before and without the Consideration of any works of Righteousness which we have wrought, &c.

Answ. If he meanes this concerning the full sitting down in Rest; it is directly contrary to Scripture. For none sit down in that full Rest, before and without consideration of works of Righteousness wrought by them. For that great Judgment, is a time of rendering to every man according to his works. Rest is the reward of the Traveller; And his Travels are not despised, but considered in his Reward. Mark, every one that improved the Tallent, had a reward from his Lord. And come ye blessed of my Father inherit the Kingdom prepared for you: For I was an hungred and ye gave me meat, &c. Matth. 25. And the Apostle is of the same mind with Christ, when he saith, It is a righteous thing with God, to recompence tribulation to them that trouble you, and to you rest, &c. 2 Thes. 1. 6, 7. So that Persons do not sit down in eternal blessedness in Christ, before or without consideration of any works wrought by them.

And then for sitting down in an heavenly divine state of Righteousness, Rest, and Peace in him here; It is a glorious State to be travelled to. There must be a translating out of the Kingdom of darkness, into the Kingdom of the dear Son first. The Kingdom must first be come, and the Soul prepared to enter into it, at the Gate which the Spirit opens to him in the way of the Gospel. For it is one thing to know somewhat of Christ, and to begin to become a Disciple; and another thing to learn of him so to deny a mans own Wisdom, and will, as to come to receive and be born of that which is true and living of him, and to learn to wait aright for the opening of the Gate, and entering into the Kingdom and Land of Life, and to be prepared to sit down with him.

For there is a state of Discipleship, wherein a man hardly knoweth a settlement, so much as how to watch with Christ rightly and constantly: But it is a great matter to be able to dwell and abide with him. None can do this, But he that can dwell with devouring fire and everlasting burnings: For the pure Word of Life is a fire, & he that sits down in the heavenly place in him, must sit down in that fire.

This he Reckons the firm stable state, which indeed is no state at all. There is not a state in Christ without being in Christ: And then the state is according to the Souls being in Christ: For then the Work of Regeneration, the Work of Sanctification, the Work of Justifying, &c. goeth on: and a man is with God, according as he is framed and new created in Christ, and not otherwise. So that the Life and Power of the Lord Jesus Christ, is found Judging and Condemning whatever is not of God; and Justifying only what is of God in him. For the Soul then comes into the new Covenant, which requireth and Justifieth that which is new, all that is wrought in God; and condemneth all that is wrought out of him. And so here is the true sence and knowledg of sin, by the new, and pure Law of the new Covenant, and the Advocate known, and Repentance given by him upon all occasions, to those that wait upon him, and the sprinkling of the Blood, and the Remission upon Repentance. This is the new Living Way of the Lord Jesus Christ, which he hath consecrated for all his (made known in the demonstration of his Spirit) which will stand for ever; whereas mens apprehensions about those things, which they have gathered and comprehended of themselves out of the Scriptures (in the supposed Light of their natural Reason and Understanding) are but Dreams, and will vanish even in their own hearts, if ever the true Light arise there.

He saith, This state can never fall, nor be finally fallen from.

Answ. There is a way of comming to Christ, and there is a way of preservation in Christ. For there is a power that Redeems; and men are preserved by that power in subjection to it. And so every one, That thinketh he standeth, is to fear, and take heed lest he fall: And not to boast and say, I am in a state of Justification which is firm and cannot be moved; and it cannot fall, nor be finally fallen from,

For,

For, yea are kept by the Power of God, through Faith unto Salvation, Keep to the Power which preſerves; Hold that faſt which thou haſt, let no man take thy Crown, Keep the faith, make not ſhipwrack of it, and of a good Conſcience. O that men knew the right Doctrine and way of coming to Chriſt! (which they cannot do, till they are taught of the Father, John 6. 45. and the right Doctrine and Way of ſtanding and abiding in him. For truly mens profeſſed coming to Chriſt, believing and ſtanding at this day, is generally notional, outward, without; but not in the inward Life and Power it ſelf, without which no man can come to him, nor ſtand nor abide in him.

He chargeth us, With ſetting up a Covenant of Works; alwayes doing and never done, a Covenant to be performed by us, for our ſelves, not by Chriſt for us.

Anſw. I would he ſaw in the true Light how unjuſt and untrue this charge is. For the Lord God of Life knoweth that he himſelf hath taught us the new Covenant, and thereby taught us to wait upon himſelf in his Son, to work all our works in us and for us: And this we dayly experience, that we can work nothing, but as he works in us. Therefore our whole courſe is a waiting on him in ſtilneſs, to witneſs him appearing and doing all in us: And bleſſed be his Name, we do not wait in vain. But if he think all works are excluded out of the new Covenant, he greatly erreth: For the Works of Gods Spirit are required and have a place therein: And God and Chriſt (the King and Shepherd) is the Judge of his People in the new Covenant, and Juſtifieth or condemneth according to the Law thereof. In the faith and obedience he Juſtifieth: In the unbelief and diſobedience he condemns, without reſpect of perſons.

And it is a pretious thing in the Goſpel Miniſtration to come to God the Judge of all, and to witneſs true Judgment ſet up by God in a mans own heart, that by the miniſtration of the pure Judgment, there the Soul may come to learn Righteouſneſs, of the holy Teacher and Shepherd, even the Lord Jeſus Chriſt, who is Juſt and faithful under his Father, in the impartial miniſtration of the new Covenant.

Hereupon ſeveral charges he brings againſt us, through his own miſtakes and miſapprehenſions of us.

As Firſt, That our Doctrine implyes Free Will and Power in the creature.

Anſw. We have never experienced Free Will nor power, as of our ſelves, but as we have been turned to Gods Power, and received it from him; nor did we ever teſtifie to others, that they could receive and embrace Truth in their own Will, and by their own Power. O that this Perſon had true diſcerning of, and were ſevered from that Spirit which thus chargeth us! For, who ever receives this Teſtimony concerning the inward Light of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, ſhall never find himſelf able to do any thing therein by his own will and power: But there witneſſeth Gods begetting him out of his own will, by the Life and Power of Truth.

Secondly, He chargeth it, That it maketh the Election of God altogether Fruſtranious.

Anſw. Election of the Seed, in the Seed, it doth not at all make Fruſtranious: But Mens wrong Apprehenſions concerning Election out of the Seed, the true Doctrine of Election doth not conſiſt with. He hath choſen us in him; ſo that in him, to wit in Chriſt, the Choice is; and he that will make his Election ſure, muſt make the Seed ſure to him; growing in the Nature thereof, wherein the Election is to the truly Obedient.

He ſaith, Our Righteouſneſs with God is the Foundation.

Anſw. But, Is there not ſomewhat, which is the Foundation of our Righteouſneſs with God? And, Can we be Righteous with God, till we come to that Foundation, and be made Righteous by it? Muſt we not firſt believe in him? And, Is not Faith a Gift, which comes from the Holy Root, and maketh a Change in them in whom this Gift is found? Doth not Faith make a Difference between them that believe, and them that believe not? So that, ſo ſoon as ever there is true Faith, and it thus works, the State is changed: And there is no Juſtification before Faith. For in the Unbelief, is the Condemnation for ever. He that believeth not, is condemned already: And what! Is he Juſtified there too, at the ſame time? Was Abraham, our Father, Juſtified in the Unbelief and Diſobedience? or, In Believing and ob-

Obeying God? For, What ſaith the Scripture? Abraham believed God, and it was counted to him for Righteouſneſs.

That which I ſpoke of, he ſaith, Is but the Fruit and Superſtructure.

Anſw. When Chriſt directs Men to the Seed of the Kingdom, Doth he direct unto the Fruit and Superſtructure? I ſpoke there of the Seed, of the Light, of the holy Spirit, of the quickning Virtue: Is that the Superſtructure? or, Is that the Fruit of Mens being made Righteous? Nay, Muſt they not turn to that, receive that, believe in that, even in the Light of God's Spirit, (for they are the true and right Believers) before a Man can come to be made Righteous, or accounted Righteous in the Eyes of the Lord? For none are Righteous, but in him: And all are out of him, till they be gathered into him.

He inſtanceth in one Paſſage of mine, (in a Book entituled, The Sum or Subſtance of our Religion, who are called Quakers) the words are theſe: This is the Sum of all, Even to know and experience what is to be brought down into Death, and kept in Death; what to be brought up out of the Grave, to live to God, and Reign in his Dominion; and what to be kept in Subjection and Obedience to him, who is to Reign. Now, to experience it thus done in the Heart, the Fleſh brought down, the Seed of Life raiſed, and the Soul ſubject to the pure Heavenly Power, whoſe Right it is to Reign in the Heart, in and by the Seed; this is a bleſſed State indeed: For here the Work is done, &c. Theſe were my words.

Now mind; God is the Teacher in the New-Covenant. Now, he that hath learned this of him, Hath he not learned the true Religion? And, Is not this a full Sum and Subſtance of Religion? When the Apoſtle ſaith, Pure Religion, and undefiled before God, is to viſit the Fatherleſs, &c. Alas, might this Spirit have ſaid againſt the Bleſſed Apoſtle, that is not the pure Religion, (not the Sum or Subſtance of pure and undefiled Religion) that is but a Fruit or Superſtructure. O that Men had true Senſe and Underſtanding! That they might ſavour the words that come from God's Spirit, and the words that come from their own Spirit; and might not be offended at that which is true, pure, and living of him.

But having diſliked this Sum, he giveth one of his own, in theſe words following: I ſay, the Sum, and that which firſt and mainly imports us to know, as the Lord hath taught me, is, That the Old Man is Crucified with Chriſt, and brought down into his Grave, and that we are Riſen together with him, by the Faith of the Opperation of God; and from this Faith to be working with God to mortifie our Members that are on the Earth.

Anſw. Doth not Chriſt ſend his Apoſtles to preach the Goſpel, and give them this Meſſage, That God is Light; and to turn their Minds to the true Light, that they might be enlightned by it? Doth it not import Men firſt to know that, whereby they might be Crucified, before they can know themſelves Crucified thereby? So that, Chriſt did judge this as the firſt thing neceſſary to be known, in the Preaching of the Goſpel; and bid Men preach the Light, and turn Men to the Light, and to the Inward Appearance and Voice of God's Word in their Hearts: And what, Are Men riſen together with him, by the Faith of the Opperation of God, while they are yet in their Sins, in their ungodly State? And, How can any witneſs the Faith of the Opperation of God, in this State? Now, it had been better he had forborn affirming, that the Lord taught him thus: For truly, the Lord never taught any thus. This is not Truth from God; nor will it be owned by the Lord, as his Truth, when he comes to appear before him: And he ſhould have took it to himſelf, and not have put the Name of the Lord to it.

But againſt this his own Doctrine, he raiſeth an Objection in theſe words: Shall we mortifie that which is mortified already?

His Anſwer is: The Old Man, which is Crucified together with Chriſt, is the State of the Fleſh, and of Enmity. This is paſt away, and in this is the Concern of our Righteouſneſs, and Juſtification properly.

That which remains to be mortified, are our Members upon Earth, which are the Fruits of that evil State; and in the mortifying of theſe, is the Concern of our Sanctification. The Will of God is done in Heaven, &c.

Anſw.

Anſw. Paul ſpeaks of the Law of ſin in his members; and he alſo ſpeaks of the body of death, and cries out againſt that, O wretched man that I am, ſaith he, who ſhall deliver me from the body of this death? He felt ſomewhat that nouriſhed and gave ſtrength to the Law of ſin in his members, and looked upon himſelf as wretched, till he could meet with deliverance there-from. Now ſome are of opinion that there is no being delivered from the body of ſin, while in this Life. Doſt thou look upon it to be done in Chriſt, for us, without us; but never to be done by Chriſt in us? Let me tell thee, If ever thou come to witneſs the pure eternal Light of the Lord Jeſus Chriſt, revealed in thee; that will not find out ſome Members on Earth only, but the very Body thereof; and ſhew thee the Neceſſity of the putting off that Body from thee, and that Circumciſion whereby it is to be done, which is the Circumciſion of Chriſt. Mark, the Promiſe of the New-Covenant; I will Circumciſe thine Heart, and the Heart of thy Seed, to love the Lord thy God with all thine Heart, that thou mayeſt Live. Is not this the Circumciſion of Chriſt? Doth not this cut off the Body of the Sins of the Fleſh, in the particular, where this is witneſſed? This is the Truth, as it is in Jeſus, even To put off the Old Man with his Deeds. It doth not ſay, The Body is put off in Chriſt without us, and Men muſt only put off the Members or Deeds; but, they muſt put off the Body, and come to witneſs in themſelves the very Nature, Spirit, Root, and Principle, from whence they proceed, cut down, and deſtroyed in them. They muſt feel the Axe laid to the Root of the corrupt Tree, and it cut down in them, (not think it enough to ſay, it is done in Chriſt for them) yea, they muſt alſo witneſs the Lord ariſing to ſhake terribly the Earth, in which the Tree grew; that ſo the Place of Dragons and Serpents, (where each lay in times paſt) may hence-forward become the Place of Holyneſs; where Graſs may grow, and the new Plants and Flowers of the Paradiſe of God.

And, How is the Will of God done in Heaven? Is it done in Heaven after this manner? Have Mercy and Righteouſneſs the Preheminence, the Leading of the Van? (they are his own words) and ſaid to go before, and look down from Heaven after this manner, (the Body of Sin being put off in Chriſt there) Are there not thoſe here on Earth, who dwell in Heaven? Whoſe Converſations is in Heaven, even the Witneſſes to God's holy Truth, who are aſcended up above the Spirit of this World, and dwell in God's holy Spirit; and who walk in the Light, as God is in the Light. Hell is not far from the Wicked; nor is Heaven far from them, who are renewed in the Spirits of their Minds, and who witneſs the paſſing away of the Old Things, and the New Creation in Chriſt. O that he could look back, (in a true Senſe) and ſee how he hath wreſted thoſe Scriptures!) Pſal. 85. 9, 10, 11. Iſa. 4. 2. and Epheſ. 2. 6. after his own Imaginations: And indeed, in this Spirit, Men cannot but turn the precious Truth of God into a Lye; that is, as to themſelves, as to their own Knowledge of it. It is known, how the Branch of the Lord is beautiful and glorious, and the Fruit of the Earth excellent and comely, and in what Day it is ſo; which Day is, When the Lord ſhall have waſhed away the Filth of the Daughters of Sion, and ſhall have purged the Blood, &c. by the Spirit of Judgment, and by the Spirit of Burning, Iſa. 4. 4. Then every one that is left, ſhall be called Holy, and the Branch of the Lord ſhall be Glorious in the midſt of them, and the Fruits of the Earth excellent and comely for them. And then they that are thus purged, ſhall ſit with Chriſt in the Heavenly Places; there being an abundant Enterance miniſtred to them, into the everlaſting Kingdom, 2 Pet. 1. 11.

Thirdly, He chargeth it with making the Obedience and Suffering of Chriſt ſuperfluous, except only as a Pattern.

Anſw. Chriſt came to do the Father's Will, to obey, to ſuffer, To taſt Death for every Man; to fight with, and overcome the Devil; to offer an holy, ſpotleſs Sacrifice for all Mankind, that through him they might witneſs Atonement and Acceptance. And the Lord ſaw the Uſe of this, and we witneſs the Uſe of this, and find every thing in its proper Place and Service in him, who is God's Covenant of Life and Peace in us, and to us. But the Work of this Day, is not to Preach up a notional Knowledge of theſe Things, (the Chriſtian World ſo called, hath been drowned and dead in them long enough) but to bring to that Meaſure of the Spirit, to that ſenſe of Grace and Truth, which is by Jeſus Chriſt; wherein the Benefit to theſe things is truly reaped and injoyed: And indeed, that is the Work committed unto us from the Lord, who gave us this Teſtimony to bear, whatever Men may think or ſpeak of us.

And whereas he ſpeaks of our laying hold of Paſſages, in his Printed Sermons, to favour our Cauſe.

Anſw. That is his Miſtake, as to me: It was for his ſake, I mentioned it. There was indeed, at that time, ſomewhat ſtirring in him, which would have gathered him, had he known and obeyed its Voice, and not run out into lofty Notions concerning it. He had ſome ſenſe then of a Glory approaching, which he might have from the true Prophet: Though even then he ran out in his Imaginations concerning it, and did not rightly apprehend, nor know how and when it appeared.

He hath further Charges againſt us; Of crying up Works againſt the Work-man, Man's Grace and Righteouſneſs againſt God's, Conformity to Chriſt, againſt Chriſt; yea, to make a Chriſt of our Righteouſneſs, a Saviour of our Conformity.

Anſw. O what will this Man do, when the Lord ſhall ſhew unto him, that he hath charged not ſo much us, as the Spirit and Power, and precious Appearance of the Lord Jeſus Chriſt, with theſe things! We cry up Works no otherwiſe than we are taught of God, and as the Apoſtles and Prophets have cryed them up. Faith is neceſſary, and Works are neceſſary in their Places: And the Juſtification of each follow them. And he that receiveth the Spirit of the Son, and therein doth Righteouſneſs, is therein eſteemed of God Righteous, as the Son is Righteous, 1 Joh. 3. 7. God Juſtifieth us in his Son, and loveth his holy Seed too therein, and the Faith that comes from him, and all the Works that are wrought in him; and out of this holy Root of Life and Power is no Man, nor his Faith, nor his Works juſtified.

Then for Man's Grace and Righteouſneſs. Where doth he hear us ſpeak of Man's Grace? O what doth he mean! Will he miſrepreſent the Cauſe of his Neighbour or Brother, to make it bad? And for Man's Righteouſneſs; We do not cry it up or put it on; but teſtifie Men muſt be uncloathed of it: And we our ſelves were fain to part with it, and put it off, before we could be cloathed with God's Righteouſneſs. But the Works of Life, the Works of God's Spirit, the Works of the New-Creature, the Works of the New-Covenant; theſe are not Man's Works, nor unrighteous Works, condemned by God; but juſtified in and through him that works them. The Works wrought in us, are truly acceptable; and we in him who works them, who is our Righteouſneſs. And concerning this People, (theſe Children of the New-Covenant) which the Lord hath Begotten and Brought-forth in this our Day, that Scripture is fulfilled in them, and upon them; Their Righteouſneſs is of me, ſaith the Lord, Iſa. 54. 17. Well! as long as the Lord ſaith ſo, we matter not, though others ſay, That our Righteouſneſs is of our ſelves, and that it is our own Righteouſneſs; being aſſured, that God's Teſtimony in our Hearts (as to this thing) will ſtand.

He aggravateth this Charge thus: And this to be done by thoſe that have been ſo far enlightned, and that account all the Religion and Profeſſion in the World below them, as Carnal.

Anſw. Indeed, we magnifie Truth, Life, the Anointing, the Spiritual, the inward Appearance of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt; to which we have been turned, and in it made Spiritual: And all other Knowledge, Faith, Profeſſion, Religion, (which hath not its riſe here) we cannot but call Carnal. For the enlightning Spirit of the Lord hath given us this Teſtimony to bear, againſt all the dead notional Profeſſors of this Age, who build from the Letter (or rather, their Apprehenſions of the Letter) out of the Life: all which cry up Names of the Foundation, and Corner-Stone; but refuſe, reject, deny, and turn from the Corner-Stone himſelf; and have neither Skill nor Patience, to try what he is, in this his pure, precious, living, powerful, and glorious Appearance, in the Spiritual Light of his inward Day, after the long thick Darkneſs of the fore-going Night. And Woe would be unto us, if we did not thus teſtifie! For, for this Cauſe we were born, and brought into the World, to teſtifie to the preſent Appearance of our God, and of his Chriſt, in this our Day: Glory to him, who hath Called and Choſen us to, and (in a true and precious Meaſure and Degree of his own pure Life) made us Faithful therein.

This (ſaith he) is ſo far from giving us a Liſt nearer Heaven, that I cannot more properly reſemble it, than to the coming forth of Amaleck; who met Iſrael by the way, when they were come forth out of Egypt, and ſmote the hindmoſt of them, &c.

Anſw. Do not talk of having a Liſt nearer Heaven: O learn the Way, the holy Way, the living Way, wherein no dead, unclean thing can walk. Learn to know God's Spirit in your ſelves, from that which oppoſeth his Spirit. Ye have been long learning, after your old Conceivings and Apprehenſions of the Letter; O at length, come to learn the Truth, as it is in Jeſus; which diſcovers Sin and Death, and the Body of it, and crucifies and puts it off, and makes room in the Heart for him that is true and pure.

And then, for Amalecks ſmiting Iſrael; O how greatly are ye miſtaken! Ye take your ſelves for Iſrael, and us for Amaleck; whereas, if your Eyes were anointed, ye would ſee, that we have been begotten, and born of God's Spirit, through the Word of Life, which was from the Beginning; wherein we have been Circumciſed with the Circumciſion made without Hands, that we might worſhip God in his own pure Spirit, and in his living Truth; and that our God hath inwardly appeared to us, and led us out of Egypt's Land, and out of Babylon alſo, and all the Lands whereinto we have been ſcattered in the cloudy and dark Day: And that this is Amaleck's Spirit, in you ſeveral ſorts of Profeſſors, (through your dark Imaginations and Conceivings about the Letter) which riſeth up againſt us; and this Spirit in you feareth not that God, who hath appeared, and by his own holy Arm of Power hath led, and is leading us. So that, we may take up the Complaint of the Prophet, in this Day; Who hath believed our Report? and, To whom is the Arm of the Lord revealed? For, though we ſpeak what we have heard, ſeen, and felt of the Life which is Eternal, and of the Word, which was in the Beginning; yet ye are ſo far from the Witneſs of God in your own Hearts, that ye cannot receive our Teſtimony; but oppoſe it with your dead, dry, notional, conceited, imaginary Knowledge; which will ſtand you in no ſtead at all, when ye come to appear before God.

Then he proceedeth, complaining againſt us thus: Ah, Sir! Inſtead of clapping us on the Back, and miniſtring to us in our Journey, you clog our March, and fall upon our Rear: Inſtead of ſerving the Kingdom of Chriſt, which the Church is now in Travel of, you deny the firſt Principles of the Goſpel, and wholly diſown the Hope of Chriſt's Second Appearing and Kingdom; knowing or acknowledging, as no other Saviour, ſo no other Kingdom, but a Principle, or a Light in your ſelves.

Anſw. God is Light, and in him is no Darkneſs at all; And this is the Meſſage of the Goſpel, 1 Joh. 1. 5.

And Chriſt, who is one with the Father, he is one and the ſame Light with him; and we confeſs, we look not for another beſides him, nor for another Kingdom, beſides the Kingdom which is revealed in him: for the Kingdom, which is revealed and manifeſted in, and by him, is the Spiritual, Eternal, Everlaſting Kingdom; and there is not another. We do not ſay, The Fulneſs, or that the full Glory of the Kingdom is now revealed or enjoyed; (nay, we confeſs, we have but the Earneſt, in compariſon but a Meaſure, a Proportion) but this is the ſame in nature and kind with the Fulneſs it ſelf. And all that is of Chriſt, of his Spirit, of his Nature, is ſaving; the leaſt Meaſure of his Grace, that appeareth in any Heart, bringeth Salvation with it; the leaſt Touch of his Finger hath pure Life, and ſaving Virtue in it: Yet this is not diſtinct, nor ſeparate from the Fulneſs; and ſo it is not another, though it be not the Fulneſs.

But whereas thou complaineſt of our not Miniſtering to you in your Journey, but clogging it; Oh, that ye knew what your Journey is, and whither ye are Marching and Travelling in that preſent Spirit wherein ye act. We acknowledge it God's great Love, and Mercy to us, to deliver us from that Spirit, and from that way of Knowledge, Religion, and Worſhip, wherein ye ſtill abide. And what we have ſeen, and known from the Lord, that are we required of him to teſtifie to you; and if your Eyes were opened, (by the Principle of Light from him) in the holy Anointing, ye would bow to the Teſtimony: But judging of it in a contrary Wiſdom and Spirit, ye not only turn from it, but fight againſt it; and reproach and ſlander us, for our Faithfulneſs to the Lord, and good Will to You; which the Lord make you ſenſible of, and forgive you, that at length ye may know and receive him (who is the Deſire of all Nations) in his pure, living, inward, and ſpiritual Appearance.

And as for denying the firſt Principles, that belongs to your ſelves: For, Do ye not deny that Light, which is the Foundation of all, and wherein and whereby all the Myſteries of God's Kingdom are ſeen; and, inſtead thereof, ſet up a notional, comprehenſive Knowledge of your own conceiving, comprehending, and gathering from the Letter; whereas no Man can underſtand the Letter, but as he comes into, and abides in the Light? This we have experienced in our ſelves formerly: For we were but gueſſing at, and imagining concerning the Letter, until and further then we were turned to, and our Minds gathered into, and comprehended in the Light of God's Spirit.

And as for diſowning the Hope of Chriſt's Kingdom; the Lord knoweth, that is far from us: For we our ſelves bleſs him, for what of his Kingdom is already appeared; and wait and hope for the further and fuller Appearance thereof. But this we confeſs, another Spirit, another Chriſt, another Light, another Life, another Power, another Kingdom; beſides him who hath already appeared, we do not expect. For he is our King, and Kingdom both: and the leaſt Proportion of his Life and Spirit received, (bought with the loſs of All, and ſo purchaſed and poſſeſſed) is no leſs than a Pearl of great Price, and an Heavenly Kingdom to him that enjoyeth it.

He addeth further: If Chriſt be but a Principle, then we are no other; and only Principles ſhall be ſaved, and no Perſons: Is this your Goſpel?

Anſ. Chriſt is the promiſed Seed, to which all the Promiſes are, in which Seed all the Families of the Earth are Bleſſed, as they are gathered unto, and grafted into Him. But he is not only the Seed, but the ſeeds-man alſo; who ſoweth of his Life, of his Nature, of his Spirit, of his heavenly Image in the hearts of the Children of men. He giveth a meaſure of the Grace and Truth unto them, the fulneſs whereof he hath received of his Father. Now this meaſure of the Light Eternal is very pretious, and is that wherein he appears and manifeſts himſelf: Yea, indeed glorious things are both ſpoken, and witneſſed of the Seed of Life, of the Seed of the Kingdom, of the Grace and Truth which comes by Jeſus Chriſt. But we never ſaid that this Seed, or meaſure of Life, is the Fulneſs it ſelf, but that which the fulneſs imparts to us, and brings Salvation home to our doors by. And if any man will receive Chriſt, he muſt receive that from Chriſt wherein he manifeſts himſelf. There is a difference between the Light which enlightneth (the fulneſs of Light, which giveth the Meaſure of Light, the Meaſure of annoynting to us) and the meaſure or proportion, which is given: the one is Chriſt himſelf, the other is his gift: yet his gift is of the ſame Nature with himſelf, and leavens thoſe that receive it and abide in it, into the ſame Nature: ſo that not only the gift is one with him, but we alſo are one with him in the gift. Come, be not thus wiſe after the fleſh, nor do not ſtrive ſo (in thy wiſdom and knowledg out of the Truth) to Triumph over the Truth, and Truths Teſtimony, in this the day of Gods great Love, and glorious Arm of Salvation, Revealed in the midſt of his People, which he hath gathered out of Babylon, and the dark knowledg thereof, into the Light and Kingdom of his own dear Son; where he giveth them Eternal Life, and of the Fruits of the Good and Heavenly Land.

He addeth; I firmly believe, and ſo have all the Saints that have gone before, that Chriſt is a Perſon, and his Spirit is a living Principle in the hearts of all the faithful, but it is not the Spirit or Principle in us that did Redeem us, but the Man Chriſt Jeſus.

Anſ. If he mean by the man Chriſt Jeſus, The ſecond Adam, the quickning Spirit, the heavenly Man, the Lord from Heaven, He who is One with the Father, the Word which was in the beginning, which Created all things, I grant him to be the Redeemer; for it was he who laid down his glory, wherewith he was glorified before the World was, and made himſelf of no Reputation, but took upon him the form of a ſervant, & came as a ſervant, in the faſhion of a man, to do the Will. But if he diſtinguiſh Chriſt from this Word & Spirit, and make the Mans Nature, the Saviour, and the God-head only assistant to him (as he seemed to word it before, and as these his words seems to imply) that I utterly deny. For so testifieth the Scripture, I am the Lord, and besides me there is no Saviour. I am a just God and a Saviour, &c. So that Christ is the Saviour, as he is one with God. It was Gods Arm and Power (revealed in him) that effects Salvation. Yea, if I may so speak, his obedience was of value, as it came from the Spirit, and it was the offering it up through the Eternal Spirit, that made it so acceptable to God. So that we must not attribute Redemption originally to him as a man, but as he came from God, and bring the honour all back to the Spring and Fountain, from whence he had all, that God may be all in all, and the very Kingdom of Christ may endure and abide for ever, in the Root of Life from whence it came.

And so he is not a foundation, or the Corner-stone distinct from God; He as the Foundation, was and is the Rock of Ages: the Spiritual Rock, both before and since he took upon him the body prepared for him. It is the Spirit, the Life which was revealed in that Man (by which he did his Fathers will) which was and is the Foundation whereupon all the Living Stones are Built. There is a Foundation of Death; and that's the wicked Spirit. There is a Foundation of Life, and that's the holy Spirit, by which Christ himself was led and guided (in that his appearance in the flesh,) which descended upon him, and he was anointed with, and all his are to be annointed with, and live in the same Spirit. And he that knows Christ in this Spirit, he hath the true and abiding knowledge of him, and no otherwise: And though the names, Messiah, Jesus, Christ, Saviour, Annoynted, &c. were given to him as in the flesh, or as man, they most properly and originally belong to him, with respect to the Divine Life and Birth in him as the sent one, And only Begotten, Proceeding form the Father, the Brightness of his Glory, &c. For he as the eternal Son of God was the spiritual Rock, before he took upon him that Body which was prepared for him, which expresly was called, the Body of Jesus, and which he called, This Temple, and distinctly he being called, Jesus Christ, come in the flesh, which every Spirit that confesseth not, is not of God, but is that Spirit of Antichrist, 1 John. 4. 3.

He speaketh of sitting on the Throne of David.

Answ. It is a great matter to know that Throne, which Davids Throne signified, and Christ sitting thereon. His Kingdom, his Throne are not of this outward worldly nature; but inward and spiritual: and his Throne is in his Kingdom and Temple, where he reigns and is worshiped. He that knoweth Satan disthroned and cast out, knoweth also Christ come in, and sitting on his Throne. O that men did give over their dreaming about the heavenly Glory, and come thither in the leadings of Gods Spirit where it is revealed.

Was the Scripture written in vain concerning the glorious state of the Gospel? But we all with open face beholding as in a Glass, the glory of the Lord, are changed into the same Image, from glory to glory, as by the Spirit of the Lord. 2 Cor. 3. 18.

He putteth up a prayer for us, That the Lord would awaken us, and make us do our first Works, and return to our first love.

Answ. Ah poor man, how is he blinded, not discerning how the Lord hath done for us and much more? but it is he himself that hath lost his first love, and doth not do his first works, but is found short of that tenderness, quickness and savour that once was in him. O that he might see it, and return to him whose quickening vertue restores and heals.

He concludeth with the words of the Prophet Jer. Chap. 13. ver. 15, 16, 17. Hear ye and give ear, be not proud, for the Lord hath spoken. Give glory to the Lord your God, before he cause darkness, and before your feet stumble upon the dark Mountains, and while ye look for Light, he turn it into the shadow of death, and make it gross darkness. But if ye will not hear it, my Soul shall weep in secret places for your pride, and mine Eyes shall weep sore, and run down with Tears, because the Lords flock is carried away Captive.

Answ. How doth this man mistake in his sight and application of Scriptures, seeing, and applying in a wrong Spirit? It is true, the Lord hath spoken, but he himself, himself, and many such as he is have not given ear. And what is the reason, but because they are exalted above the pure principle of Life in their own hearts? And are not such proud? Hath not he brought forth these weapons, these false charges and reasonings in this paper against the heritage of God, in the pride of his heart? As for us, the Lord God hath humbled us, and taught us, who have learned, and dayly learn of him, in the humility, and in humility and fear do we give forth our testimony, though also in the Authority and Majesty of our Masters Name, whose Name stands over, and is exalted above every Name, and his Mountain and gathering is (in the pure Authority and Power of his Spirit) above all other Mountains and gatherings whatsoever. And as for Gods causing darkness, let him and such as he is look to it, for God doth not, nor will cause darkness to them whom he hath gathered into the Light of his Spirit, but saith to them, Arise, shine, for thy Light is come, and the glory of the Lord is risen upon thee, O City and dwelling place of the living God. But those that know not, or turn against his appearance, and cry up former dispensations of the same Life and Power, but reproach and blaspheme the present, on them doth he cause the gross darkness to fall, and cover them. And this which he threatneth us with, is already fallen upon himself, when his feet are fallen upon the dark mountains; and whilst he looks for Light he hath lost that which once he had, and his very Light, as (he esteems it) is become obscurity and gross darkness, as this dark paper of his (from the dark Spirit and Principle) makes manifest to all that shall read it in any measure of true sense or discerning. And truly my soul doth weep in secret for his pride, and height of Spirit in opposing the Lord, his Truth and People. And for this cause shall those, who have looked upon themselves, as the Children of the Kingdom, and Flock of God, be laid wast; and know, that as it was a dreadful thing to oppose Christ Jesus, the Lord, in his appearance in Flesh, so it is also dreadful to oppose his appearance in his Spirit and Power: wherein he is arisen to set up his Kingdom, and to through down Babylon, which is built in the likeness of Sion, but by and in another Spirit.

Those in whom there is any Tenderness towards God, (and true Breathings after him left) the Lord give them the Sense, and true Understanding of this inward, spiritual Appearance of his Son, and of what they have been doing, and are doing against it; that they may not continue to fight against the Lord, and kick against that which is able to wound and prick, to their own Hurt, and eternal Ruin. For there is not Salvation in any other Name, than in that which is now revealed: Blessed are all they that trust therein; it being not another, but the same that ever was.

To his Post-Script.

HE beginneth it with the Justification of that Passage of his, in a fore-going Letter of his to me; wherein he said, Christ is Heaven, and I am Hell.

Answ. When God visiteth Man, he finds him in Union with Hell, Death, and Darkness; and the Man is Dead, is Dark, is of an Hellish Nature and Spirit in that state. But when the Lord hath Converted him, cut him off from that Root, leavened him with the Spirit and Nature of his Son, Is he Hell still? Ye were Darkness, (saith the Apostle) but now are ye Light in the Lord. And such were some of you; but ye are Washed, but ye are Sanctified, but ye are Justified in the Name of the Lord Jesus, and by the Spirit of our God.

A Man can be but Hell before he is washed, before his Filth be purged away by the spirit of Judgment and Burning, before the Old Leaven is purged out, and he sanctified and made a new Lump: But after the Lord hath thus changed him, and new Created him in Christ, Is he still Hell?

He

He ſaith: He doth not call the New Creature Hell; but there is an Old Man an Outward Man, as well as the New Man, and the Inward Man; Fleſh, as well Spirit, in the Regenerate.

Anſw. What doth he mean by the Outward Man? the Sinful Body; The Body of Fleſh is within. The outward Body thats not Hell, thats the Temple of God where the heart is Sanctified. And the pure Word of Life Sanctifies throughout, even in Soul, in Body, in Spirit, thoſe that are ſubject to it, Know ye not that your Bodies are the Temples of the Living God? and your Spirits much more: for God is a Spirit, and he dwells in a Spiritual Temple; and his Temple is holy.

He addeth, And unleſs your attainment be beyond Pauls, he found that in him, (that is in his fleſh) dwelt no good thing: and the fleſh luſting againſt the Spirit, ſo that he could not do the thing that he would.

Anſw. Paul did once experience ſuch a ſtate, that he felt himſelf Carnal, ſold under Sin; when he did not find how to perform that which was good, but did what he hated, the Law of Sin being ſtrong (in his members) againſt the Law of Life in his mind; which ſtate he calleth, A ſtate of captivity to the Law of Sin in his members, and calleth it a wretched ſtate, Rom. 7. 23, 24. But did Paul never experience another ſtate? Did he never witneſs the virtue and power of the new Covenant, even the Law of the Spirit of Life, and the Power thereof, freeing him from the ſtrength and captivity of the Law of Sin in his members? There were young men, John ſpeaks of, who were ſtrong and had overcome the wicked one. Did Paul himſelf never attain to that ſtate? He bid others be ſtrong in the Lord and in the Power of his might, and ſhewed them how to reſiſt in it, ſo as to overcome. Did he never experience and witneſs it himſelf? He ſaid, He had fought a good fight, and was more then a Conqueror. What, was he then a captive to the Law of Sin in his members, and did he then cry out, Who ſhall deliver me from the body of this Death? He ſaid, He could do all things through Chriſt that ſtrengthened him: was not that a ſtate different from that other wherein he found only to will? And could not do the good he deſired, but did the evil he allowed not, but hated? And bleſſed be the Lord, there are many at this day, who witneſs a farther ſtate of redemption and deliverance from Sin, and the Law thereof in the members, then that ſtate of Captivity was, which Paul there expreſſeth his former groanings and complainings under. For he was not in that ſtate of captivity when he writ that Epiſtle, but knew the Dominion of Grace over ſin, and bid that Church be ſubject to the Grace, and not give way to ſin, but yeeld their members ſervants to Righteouſneſs unto Holineſs, Chap. 6. For that other place, Of the Fleſh luſting againſt the Spirit, and the Spirit againſt the Fleſh, Gal. 5. 17. He doth not there ſpeak of himſelf, but of the Galatians, who were in a weak, low, and (indeed) fallen State, from the Spirit and Power of the Goſpel, having let in that which was contrary thereunto. And ſo he ſtrives to gather them into the Spirit again, and bids them, Live in the Spirit (and walk in the Spirit) and ſo they ſhould not fulfil the luſts of the fleſh. For in the new Covenant, man is taught of God, the holy leſſon of ceaſing from evil, and doing good: and taught in the virtue and power of the Covenant; ſo that he learns daily, and grows daily out of Deceit into Truth, until he come to be a true Iſraelite in whom there is no Guile. And ſo in the ſpiritual War, The houſe of Saul grows weaker and weaker, and the houſe of David ſtronger and ſtronger, until Sauls Kingdom be at length overturned and wholly deſtroyed, and the Kingdom of David eſtabliſhed in Righteouſneſs for ever and ever. Then Jeruſalem the holy building, the City of the living People, the City of Righteouſneſs, (the Habitation of Righteouſneſs, and Mountain of Holineſs) is known, and Jeruſalem is witneſſed a quiet habitation, there being peace in all her borders. Then the mind is fully ſtayed upon the Lord in all conditions: and he keeps it in perfect, peace. Then the Soul is careful for nothing, but in every thing makes its requeſts known to God, by Prayer and Supplycation with Thanksgiving; and the Peace of God which paſſeth all underſtanding, keeps the heart and mind through Chriſt Jeſus. Surely the Apoſtle had learned himſelf, (when he taught others this) in every ſtate to be content. He knew how to be abaſed, and how to abound, &c. O glorious ſtate, O pure ſtate of pure Life in the heart! And what if I ſhould add, O perfect ſtate! The Apoſtle James ſaith, Let patience have its perfect work, that ye may be Perfect and Intire, wanting nothing, or in nothing, Jam. 1. 3. When Paul had ſo learned Chriſt, that abundance could not lift him up, nor want deject him, or cauſe him to repine or diſtruſt, what did he want of this perfect ſtate?

His next words are, If you have no ſence of this, your ſtate is never the better to be liked.

Anſw. Chriſt led Captivity Captive, and the ſame Power is revealed to lead Captivity Captive in us. And truly when God leads our Souls out of Captivity, putting his fear within us, writing his living powerful Law of Life in our hearts, and putting his Spirit into us, leading us in the way of holineſs, and cauſing us to walk therein; we find this a better ſtate, then when we were groaning under deep Captivity.

Further he ſaith, If your Peace and Joy ſtand in ſeeing no ſin your ſelf, (in your ſelf I ſuppoſe it ſhould be) I ſhall more then ſuſpect it, not to be the Peace and Joy of Paul, and all the Saints, but a deluſion.

Anſw. Our Peace and Joy is in him who is without ſin: and it abounds in us, in his cleanſing and delivering us from ſin: and we have found him remove ſin as far from us as the Eaſt is from the Weſt: and as he removeth tranſgreſſion from us, and bringeth ſin and the power of Satan to an end in us, he giveth us of his Peace and Joy. And truly we do not only witneſs him deſtroying ſin and the works of the Devil, but breaking the very head of the Serpent, caſting him out, And piercing Leviathan, that crooked Serpent, and ſlaying the Dragon that is in the Sea. And though ſuch as he may ſuſpect our peace and joy, yet while Chriſt gives it us, and maintaines it in us, it is very ſweet and pleaſant to us: and the time may come, that he may wiſh from his heart, that he might partake with us therein.

He concludes the matter thus; We are without ſin in him, but in our ſelves nothing but ſin.

Anſw. He ſpake of deluſion juſt before: a greater then this I do not know. For Chriſt doth make a real change, if any man be in Chriſt ther's a new Creation, ther's a real change. The man is not what he was before: but he puts off that which is old, and puts on that which is new; and ſo is really changed in his ſtate, and in the ſight of God, and is not what he was before. The heart when it is really renewed and waſhed by the Water, Blood, and Spirit; it is not the old, abominable, wicked, deceitful heart that it was before. If this be his knowledge and experience, let him keep it to himſelf: for my part, I deſire not to partake with him therein; but to be like Chriſt my Lord and Maſter; even ſanctified throughout in Soul, Body and Spirit; that I may become wholly his, and the Enemy of my Soul have no part in me.

He ſaith, Chriſt ſhall appear without ſin to Salvation.

Anſw. I grant it; But when, and how? Doth he not inwardly appear without ſin to ſalvation to thoſe who have waited for, haſtened and come to the inward day? Doth not Chriſt appear without ſin to Salvation inwardly in the day of his own Spirit? Is not Salvation then witneſſed for Walls and Bulwarks? Is not the glorious Salvation of the Goſpel brought forth in the Goſpel-Day? And is there not in the Life and Dominion of Grace, a pure Defence about all the Glory? Is there any ſin in the Grace and Spirit of the Goſpel, which appears and ſhines in the Day of the Lord? And doth not this Grace bring Salvation to them that wait for the revealing of it?

He ſeemeth to clear himſelf of watching for our haltings.

Anſw. Had he not watched for our haltings, and received things into, and conſidered them in the prejudiced part, he could not have writ ſuch a Paper againſt Truth and Us, ſo far from true Underſtanding and Judgement as this is.

But he ſaith, He hath watched for our Repentings.

Anſw. If we ſhould repent of having our eyes opened by the Lord, and turning to his Truth, and receiving his holy Spirit, and of having the precious Promiſes of the Scripture made good to us, and fulfilled in us, we might juſtly loſe our Portion and Inheritance of Life for ever. We have repented from dead Works, but we cannot repent of Gods pure Truth, and the living Way, Spirit and Power thereof. But this I can tell him, and that from the Lord, whoſe Name I Reverence, and Worſhip in, that the Lord watcheth for his Repentings, and turnings from that ſpirit in him, which darkneth him concerning, and prejudiceth him againſt the Truth.

He

He beſeecheth me in Love, &c. and requireth me to clear my ſelf of Free-Will, Falling from Grace, denying Election of Perſons, and imputed Righteouſneſs.

Anſw. What the Lord requireth of me, that I muſt mind; and I have divers times expreſſed my Heart nakedly in theſe things.

The Principle of Life, which the Lord hath raiſed in me; in that is the Freedom to Good, and in that am I made free by Jeſus Chriſt, my Lord. And I had rather witneſs him upholding me by his Power, than contend about a Notion of Falling, or not Falling away. And my Care hath been about making my Calling and Election ſure in him, who is ſure to thoſe that are of him for ever. And I have witneſſed the Righteouſneſs of the Lord Jeſus Chriſt revealed in me, and imputed to me; and my Soul cloathed there-with in his Sight, bleſſed be his Name.

O that the Profeſſors of this Age might come to the Anointing, and ſee thoſe things in the Anointing! Then would they know the Truth, and Harmony of the Scriptures therein: But Men by the Letter, without the Spirit, can never diſcern or find out the Myſtery of Life; but only gather into their Minds, and retain a litteral Knowledge that killeth.

He bids me, Love the Truth better than a Party.

Anſw. The Lord knoweth, he hath taught me ſo to do. For, had it not been for the Evidence and Demonſtration of God's Spirit in this People, I could never have owned them. (For, O how low was the Knowledge they held forth, in my Eye, before the Power of the Lord reached to my Heart, raiſing up his own Seed in me, wherein I knew them!) And the Lord alſo knoweth, that 'tis in him that I love, and diſcern, and honour them to this very day: Yea, I ſee his Name written on their Fore-heads, and them brought forth in the Glorious Image, and Heavenly Life of his Son, (though it be hid from the wiſe Eye of the Profeſſors of this Age) and in the true Light, with the true Eye, (which God hath opened in me) have I ſeen it.

He ſpeaks of Clinging together, and keeping up a Party againſt all right.

Anſw. Nay, nay: This is the gathering of the Lord Jeſus Chriſt, by his Spirit and Power, after the long Night of Darkneſs; and we are kept up by the ſame Spirit and Power, and Life of Truth, which gathered us.

He ſaith: It is not a Calling for a Work within, which will give you Authority to lay waſt Chriſt, and the Goſpel, in the moſt Fundamental and concerning Truths thereof, and thoſe above-mentioned, &c. And above all the reſt, denying the Perſon of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt; and making him but a Light, or Notion, or Principle in the Heart of Man.

Anſw. This is but his own Miſtake, not a true and juſt Charge againſt us, as he will one Day ſee. The Lord hath not taught us to lay waſt; nor do we lay waſt any Truth of the Goſpel, but own every thing in its Place. And though our Religion do not lie in Notions concerning him, but in the Principle of Life it ſelf, even in the Grace and Truth, which is by Jeſus Chriſt, (which is a meaſure of Light from him the full Light) yet we do not learn thereby to deny the full Light, but the more to acknowledge it. And we own him to be the true and full Light, and his outward Appearance in that Body, in the fulneſs of time, to fulfil the Father's Will therein; and his Appearance in Spirit and Power, in the Hearts of his People, in the Day of the Goſpel; and his ſetting up his ſpiritual and glorious Kingdom there, where he reigns as King on the Throne of David, over the Spiritual Iſrael of God.

Come, conſider ſeriouſly; Do not ye your ſelves fall ſhort of not only the Principle and Power of Life, but alſo the true Knowledge of Things, according to the Letter?

He confeſſeth, There is too little Power; and without it, Profeſſion is little worth.

Anſw. O that the Profeſſors of this Age knew the Scriptures, and the Power of God, and had that Knowledge which comes from, and ſtands in the Power! For then that Evidence and Demonſtration of Truth would be witneſſed, which puts an end to the Diſputes, and Reaſonings of the Mind: And then the great Care would be to live the Life of that, which God makes manifeſt, and requires in the New-Covenant.

He saith: To pull down the Pillars and Principles of the Gospel, is the Work the Devil imploys his Power in.

Answ. I grant what he saith, is true, (and wish, he knew how rightly to apply it:) but there is a great Error and Mistake in his Judgment about it. For, the Lord is pulling down that which Men have built up, (which they may, in their mistaken Judgments, call Principles and Fundamentals) and is building up that which Men have trampled on, even the Tabernacle of David, which hath long been fallen down; and the City of the Living God, which hath long been trodden under foot of the false Christians: And the Power of the Devil is greatly at work, to oppose this Appearance, and mighty Work of the Lord in this Day. Let him take heed of blaspheming the Lord's Power, calling it the Devil's, and owning the Devil's Power for God's.

He concludeth thus: Come to the Point; What singular thing do you more than Moding and Wording it, save only that out of you have risen Men, that have more Audaciously lifted up a Standard against the Sealed and Experienced Truths of the Gospel, than ever I have heard or read of any, before you? You talk of Words, and boast of Perfection: I tell you, An humble Sense of a Man's Nothingness, driving him out of himself, to live and glory in Christ alone, is more than all such boasted Perfections a thousand times. Sir, Accept my Zeal for your Soul.

Answ. We are a People (many of us) who have gone through great Distress for want of the Lord our God, and exceedingly waited and long'd for his living and powerful Appearance. And, for my own part, this I can say, That had not this Appearance been in Power, and in the Evidence and Demonstration of his Spirit to my Soul, (reaching to, and answering that which was of him in me) I could never have owned it; so deeply was I Jealous of it, and Prejudiced against it. And since my Mind hath been turned to the pure Word of Life, even the Word which was in the Beginning, (I speak as in the Lord's Presence) it hath had singular Effects on my Heart. The Light hath so searched me, as I never was searched before, under all my former Professions; and the Lord hath given me a true and pure Discerning of the Things of his Kingdom, in the Light which is true and pure; and singular Quicknings have I met with from his Spirit, and the Faith which stands in his Heavenly Power, and giveth Victory and Dominion in him, blessed be his Name. And the Love which he hath given me, is not notional, but ariseth from his Circumcising my Heart, and answereth his Nature; springing forth purely and naturally towards him, and those of his Image, and all his Creatures; yea, towards those who are Enemies to me, for his Names sake.

I might mention the Patience also, and Faithfulness to his Truth, with the long-suffering Spirit, which cannot be worn out; which his Spirit testifieth in me to be of a singular Nature; with many other things. Nor am I alone, or the Chiefest; but have many Equals; yea, there are such as far exceed me in the Heavenly and Divine Image of my Father. And the Fruits are according to the Root of Life in us; and so acknowledged by all, who look upon us with the true Eye, with the Eye of God's giving and opening.

Now, the same that hath wrought thus inwardly in us, the same hath required some outward Behaviour and Expressions from us, which are foolish and weak to the Eye of Man's Wisdom; but chosen of God, to hide the Glory of this Life from that Eye which discerns it not, but despiseth the Day of small Things. And though this be the least part of our Religion, (yet subjected to, because it is of God, whom we dare not disobey in the least) yet the Spirit, which is contrary to God, casteth this upon us; as if this were all, or at the least, the Main wherein we differ from others. Some call the living Words of Truth from us, (when God, according to his good Promise, giveth them us) but Canting; and thou calleſt all that is Singular in us, but Moding and Wording of it. Alas! It is in the Main we differ from you: We holding our Religion as we receive it from God, in the Light and Life of his Spirit; You, as you apprehend it from the Letter. Christ is our Rock and Foundation, as inwardly Revealed; Yours, but as outwardly conceived of. We believe with the Faith which is of the Nature of him whom we believe in, which Faith is mighty through God, and works through all the Powers of Darkness, neſs, giving Victory over them all in God's Way and Time: Ye believe with a Faith, which eſteems Victory, and a perfect and intire State, (wanting nothing) as impoſſible, while in this VVorld. And as our Root differs, ſo all that grows up in us, differs from yours: So that indeed, all is ſingular that is in us; and all alſo is ſingular, that is brought forth by us; as the Spirit of the Lord, who knoweth the Difference of Things, witneſſeth.

Have we ſo long walked in the Name and Spirit of our God amongſt you, ſhewing the ſingular Virtues of his Spirit, daily in our faithful Teſtimony, Sufferings, Patience, and Converſation? and, Do ye ſtill cry, What ſingular thing do ye? Juſt like the Jews, who after all Chriſt's mighty VVorks, and Demonſtrations of his Father's Virtue and Power outwardly, asked for a Signe. O that your Eyes and Hearts were opened by the Spirit, and Power of the Lord! for then ye would ſoon ſee otherwiſe, in this Reſpect, than now ye do.

And then, as for that Expreſſion, Of audaciouſly lifting up a Standard againſt the ſealed, and experienced Truths of the Goſpel; that is but an over-confident Expreſſion, through Prejudice and Miſtake of Judgment at leaſt: For, I can truly teſtifie, I have never learned, ſince the pure Heavenly Light of the Lord Jeſus Chriſt hath ſhined on my Spirit, to deny any one Truth that ever was ſealed to me, or experienced by me in the Dayes of my former Profeſſion: For whatſoever was then of God, hath been reſtored to me; and that only which was of the Fleſh, pared off. And I have ground alſo to believe, that it is ſo with others in this reſpect, as it hath been with me.

He ſpeaks, As if our Difference or Talk were about Words.

Nay, it is about Things: For, though we own the ſame Lord Jeſus Chriſt to be the Foundation of Life; yet after a different manner: Ye, as ye notionally apprehend concerning him; We, as we experience him to be the precious Stone and Foundation of Life in us. And we teſtifie of Juſtification and Sanctification, as we witneſs him beſtowing it upon us, and working it in us.

But for boaſting of Perfection; I wonder, how he dares ſpeak thus! What, Is there no Fear of God before his Eyes, or in his Heart, that he dares charge us with that which is ſo utterly falſe? Where is any of us, that did ever boaſt of Perfection? But that God's Power and Covenant is able to make Perfect; and that God's Will, is our perfect Sanctification, in Soul, Body, and Spirit: Even that we be wholly leavened with the Salt of the Kingdom, and become a fit Temple for him. This we humbly and reverently teſtifie of, and preſs towards in his holy Name and Fear.

And as for that humble Senſe, Of a Mans own Nothingneſs, driving him out of himſelf, to live and glory in Chriſt alone: This we meet with, and witneſs in that Light, which this Generation of Profeſſors deſpiſeth. But others, though they may talk of it, can never come truly to witneſs it; but in that Light, wherein God beſtoweth and preſerveth it.

Well! The Profeſſors of this Age, who deſpiſe the Light, ſhall one Day find, that what they take themſelves to be, they are not in God's Sight; nor are we before Him, what we are reproachfully repreſented by them: But we are his Workman-ſhip in Chriſt Jeſus, Created by him unto Good Works; and that it is Natural to us, to bring forth the Fruits of Righteouſneſs and Holyneſs to our God, however Men reproach us.

As for his Zeal for my Soul, Which he deſired me to accept: It is ſtrange Zeal, and would tend to my utter Deſtruction, had it power over me. But, bleſſed be my God, who hath called me into the Light of his Son; and I am ſatisfied, that he will preſerve me therein, even in that holy Spirit of Life, which he hath gathered me into, from all deceiveable Spirits of Darkneſs whatſoever, in that holy Covenant wherein his Strength appears to me, and is revealed in me. And O! That he might know what that Spirit is, wherein he hath thus appeared againſt the Lord, (though under a Pretence, as if it were for him) and bring forth no more the Fruits of it.

For a Cloſe, I ſhall add a few words on that Scripture, Phil. 3. 3. For we are the Circumciſion, which worſhip God in the Spirit, and rejoyce in Chriſt Jeſus, and have no Confidence in the Flesh. It is a precious thing to witness this Scripture, fulfilled in the Heart: To experience that there, which inwardly Circumciseth, which cutteth off the Fore-skin of the Heart, which lieth over it and vaileth; till it be cut off by the inward Appearance of the Life and Power of the Lord Jesus Christ, inwardly revealed. Then when this is done, I can truly and sensibly say, I am a Jew inward: How so? How can that be proved? Why, I am inwardly Circumcised. I have felt that within, which Circumciseth the Heart; and have born the inward Pain and Cutting thereof, and am Circumcised by it. That which stood between Me, and the Lord, is cutt off, the Vail is taken away, the Stiff-neckedness and Unsubjection to God removed, the Wall of Separation is inwardly broken down; and now I am in true Unity of Spirit, and Communion with my God, even with the Father, and the Son, in that One holy Spirit wherein they are One.

Now, I can bow before the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, and worship him in his own Spirit; even in the new and fresh Life thereof, day by day. Now, my Rejoycing is in Christ Jesus, whom the Father hath sent, both outwardly in a Body of Flesh, to fulfil the Holy Will, and do what therein the Father had for him to do; and also, inwardly in his Spirit and Power into my Heart, to destroy the Works of the Devil there; and so, to work me out of the Enmity, and unreconciled State, into the Love and Reconciliation. And I cannot but rejoyce both in what he did in his Body of Flesh for me, and in what he doth by his Spirit and Power in me. And, blessed be the Lord, I feel him near, his Spirit near, his Life near, his Power near, his pure Vertue near, his holy Wisdom near, his Righteousness near, his Redemption near: For he is my Rock, and my Strength, and my Salvation day by day. And I have no Confidence in the Flesh, in what I am, in what I can do after the Flesh; but my Confidence is in him, who hath weakned me, who hath stripped me, who hath impoverished me, who hath brought me to nothing in my self, that I might be all in him, and that I might find him all unto me. He is my Peace, he is my Life, he is my Righteousness, he is my Holiness, he is the Image, wherein I am Renewed; in him his my Acceptance with the Father; he is my Advocate, he is my Hope and Joy for ever. He hath destroyed that in me, which was contrary to God, and keepeth it down for ever. He is my Shepherd, his Arm hath gathered me, and his Arm encompassed me day by day. I rest under the Shadow of his Wings, from whence the Healing Virtue of his saving Health droppeth upon my Spirit day by day. Oh! I cannot tell any Man what he is unto me: But, blessed be the Lord, I feel Him near, his Righteousness near, his Salvation daily revealed, before that Eye which he hath opened in me, in that true, living Sense, where-with he hath quickned me.

And now, ye that have high Notions, and rich comprehensive Knowledge concerning these things, but not the Thing it self, the Life it self, the Spirit it self, the new and living Covenant, and Law of Life it self, wherein alone Christ is livingly Revealed. Ah! How poor, miserable, blind, and naked are you, in the midst of all your Traditional Knowledge, and pretended Experiences, concerning these things?

Come, be quiet a while, and cease from Bitterness of Spirit, and reviling the Work and People of the Lord: For the Lord knoweth, and will make manifest both who are his, and who are not his. All the living Stones are his; but the great Professors of the Words of Scripture, without the Spirit and Life of the Scriptures, are not his, nor never were, nor never will be owned by him.

Come, learn to distinguish from God, by his Life, by the Anointing, by the everlasting, infallible Rule; and not by Words without Life, where the great Error and Mistake hath been in all Ages, and Generations. The great Way of Deceit hath long been (and still is) by a Form of Godliness, without Power. Be sure ye be not thus deceived; for, if ye miss of the Power which saves, ye cannot but perish for ever. And, What if the Appearance of the Spirit, and Power of our Lord Jesus Christ inwardly, which is that which Saves, be as strange to your Sense, Understanding, and Judgment, as his outward Appearance was unto the People of the Jews? Take heed of their Spirit, take heed of their Judgment, who judged according to the Appearance of Things to them; which they imagine and conceive from the Scriptures, but judged not the true and righteous Judgment, which only the Children of the true Wisdom can.

A Post-

A POST-SCRIPT.

THere are Four or Five Things very precious, which were generally witneſſed in the Dayes of the Apoſtles, among the true Chriſtians, which are all mentioned together, Heb. 6. 4, 5.

Firſt, They were truly enlightned.

The Miniſters of the Goſpel were ſent by Chriſt, to turn Men from Darkneſs to Light, and from the Power of Satan to God, Act. 26. 18. 1 Joh. 1. 5. And they were Faithful in their Miniſtry, and did turn Men from the Darkneſs, and Power of Satan, to the Light of God's Holy Spirit; and they were enlightned by it, and received Power through it; and ſo came to be Children of the Light, and to walk in the Light, as God is in the Light.

Secondly, They taſted of the Heavenly Gift.

What is the Heavenly Gift, which Chriſt gives to thoſe who come unto him, and become his Sheep? He gives them Life, Eternal Life, Joh. 10. 27, 28. He brings them out of Death, and gives them a ſavour and taſt of the Life, which is Eternal. This was it, which the Apoſtles teſtifyed of, even of the Life which was manifeſted in that Body of Fleſh of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, (1 Joh. 1, 2.) and they that turn from the Darkneſs to his Light, he gives them a Taſte of the ſame Life.

Thirdly, They were made partakers of the Holy Ghoſt.

The Goſpel is a day of bringing forth the Spiritual Seed, and of pouring out the holy Spirit upon them. The Law State is a State of Servants, the Goſpel of Sons: And becauſe true believers in Chriſt are Sons, God ſent forth the Spirit of his Son into their Hearts to cry, Abba Father. And God cannot deny his own Spirit, to his Children that ask it of him, he knoweth how abſolutely neceſſary it is to the ſtate of a Son. And whoſoever truly receiveth Chriſt, Chriſt doth give him power to become a Son, which power is in and with him, and cannot be ſeparated from his Spirit. Yea, the Spirit of Chriſt is ſo neceſſary and inſeparable from him that is Chriſts, that the Apoſtle expreſly affirms, That if any man have not the Spirit of Chriſt, he is none of his, Rom. 8. 9.

Fourthly, They taſted of the good Word of God.

Of that Word from which the gift comes, of that Word which was in the beginning, of the Word which is ingrafted into the hearts of thoſe that truly believe, Which Word is able to ſave the Soul.

Fifthly, They taſted of the powers of the World to come.

Of the power of the endleſs Life, whereof Chriſt is the Miniſter, and according to which he miniſters Life, in that Holy, True, Living, Inward, Spiritual Temple, which he Pitcheth and Reareth up for an Habitation to God, in his own Spirit.

Now in the Apoſtacy and Night of Darkneſs, which hath come over the Chriſtian ſtate, theſe things have been greatly loſt. For there hath been none that have been found able to turn people to that Light, which the Apoſtles directed to. None could tell men where the Light is to ſhine; and where men were to expect it, and wait for it. None were able to direct men to the Seed of the Kingdom within; to the Word of Faith, the Word of the Kingdom, nigh in the Heart and Mouth: Much leſs were they able to inſtruct men, how they might know and diſtinguiſh it from all other Seeds, and the Voice of the Shepherd from all other Voices. Here it came to paſs, that though at times God viſited and opened mens hearts, a little warming them by the breath which came from himſelf; yet they not knowing how to turn to the Lord, and wait upon him for preſervation in the Gift and meaſure of his own Grace; the good hath ſoon been ſtolen away from them, and the building which hath been raiſed up in them, hath not been a building of Life according to the Spirit, but a building of Wiſdome or Knowledge concerning the things of God, according to the Fleſh: and ſo the building, that hath been raiſed up in mens Spirits, hath been Babylon, in ſtead of Sion.

But

But the Lord hath had a Remnant all along the Apoſtacy, who felt ſome Begettings of Life, and had in meaſure ſome Senſe and Taſte of the Heavenly Things. Theſe mourned after that State, which was once enjoyed, and felt their want of it, travelling from Mountain to Hill, ſeeking their reſting Place, which none could rightly inform them of. Now, for the ſakes of theſe, God hath at length appeared.

How appeared, may ſome ſay?

Why thus: He who is Light, hath appeared inwardly, cauſing his Light to ſhine inwardly, cauſing his Life to ſpring inwardly. So that, he who is Light, who is Life, who is Truth, is felt and known in his own inward Viſits, Breakings-forth, and Appearances. For God, who is a Spirit, his Appearance is Spiritual, his Day is Spiritual, his Kingdom is Spiritual, his Light is Spiritual, his Life is Spiritual, his Day-ſtar is Spiritual; and his Day dawneth, and his Day-ſtar ariſeth in the Heart. Thus, The Day-Spring from on high did viſit us, who ſate in Darkneſs, and in the Region of the Shadow of Death. And here we have met with what the Apoſtles met with, the very ſame Light of Life, the very ſame enlightning Spirit and Power, and have been enlightned by it, and taſted of the ſame Gift.

The very ſame Grace that appeared to them, and taught them, hath appeared to us, and taught us; and of it we have learned the ſame Leſſons, in the ſame Covenant of Life wherein they learned: And now, can we ſeal to their Teſtimony, in the ſame Spirit wherein they gave it forth, and witneſs to the ſame Eternal Life, and the ſame Holy Oyl and Anointing, our Eyes having been opened, and being kept open by it. And though there be great Diſputes about our Teſtimony, in this our Day, (and the preſent Profeſſors riſe up againſt Us, as the former Profeſſors did againſt Them;) yet let but any Man come rightly to diſtinguiſh in himſelf, between that which God begets in the Heart, and all other Births; and let that ſpeak and judge in them, that will ſoon confeſs, that our Teſtimony is of God, and given forth in the Authority, and by the Commiſſion of his own Spirit. True Wiſdom is Juſtified by the Children that are born of her: It is the other Birth, that doth not, nor can own her. The other Birth can own former Diſpenſations, (according to the Letter of them) but not the Life and Power of the preſent.

I have known the breaking down of much in me, by the powerful Hand of the Lord, and a parting with much (though not too much) for Chriſt's ſake. The Lord hath brought the Day of Diſtreſs, and inward Judgment over my Heart: He hath ariſen, to ſhake terribly the Earthly Part in me, (yea, What if I ſhould ſay, That the Powers of Heaven have been ſhaken alſo?) that he might make me capable to Receive, and bring me into that Kingdom, which cannot be ſhaken. And now, that which God hath ſhaken, and removed in me, I ſee others build upon; and they think it ſhall never be ſhaken in them. But ſuch know not the Day of the Lord, nor the terrible Searching of his pure Light, nor the Opperation of his Power; which will not ſpare in one, what he hath reproved, condemned, ſhaken, and over-turned in another. He that knows the Living-Stone within, and comes to him as to a Living-Stone, and is built upon the Revelation of his Spirit, Life, and Power, (revealed inwardly againſt the Power of Darkneſs) is not deceived: All that otherwiſe build, (I mean, upon an outward Knowledge concerning Chriſt, and not upon his inward Life) their Building will not be able to ſtand in the Day of the Lord. I wiſh they might have a Senſe of it in time, that they might not periſh for ever; but experience that Life and Power of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, which redeemeth and preſerveth out of the periſhing State, for ever and ever. Amen.

The

The Antient PRINCIPLE of TRUTH;

Or, The Light within Asserted and Held forth, according to True Experience, and the Faithful Testimony of the Scriptures.

Also, An APPEAL to the Witness of GOD in all Consciences,

Which is the More sure Word of Prophesie; the Testimony of the Scriptures Without, or the Voice and Testimony of the Light and Spirit of God Within, in the Heart.

By One once greatly Distressed, but now at length, in the Tender Mercy of the Lord, effectually Visited and Redeemed, by the Light and Power of Truth,

Isaac Penington.

The PREFACE.

THE true Ministers of the Gospel, the Ministers of the New-Covenant, were Ordained and Appointed by God to be Ministers of Light, Ministers of Righteousness, Ministers of the Spirit, Matth. [illegible]. 2 Cor. 11. 15. and Chap. 3. 6. And this was their Work and Service, even to Preach the Light, to deliver their Message concerning the Light, which they heard of Christ, and were sent by him to Preach, as is Recorded, 1 Joh. 1. 5. So that, they were to tell Men what the Light was, and where it was to be found; and to turn Men from Darkness to Light, from Sin and Unrighteousness to Purity and Righteousness, from the Spirit and Power of Satan, to the Spirit and Power of the Living God, (Dan. 12. 3. Act. 26. 18.) that so they might come from under Satan's Authority, Power, and Kingdom of Darkness, into the Light, wherein Christ Reigns as King, Priest, and Prophet, unto and over all his: who is Faithful in all his House, as Son and Lord of all, distributing Life, Righteousness, Mercy, and Peace to his whole Family, as they abide in him, and walk in subjection to his Spirit. So that, there is no Condemnation to them that are gathered unto Christ, ingrafted into him, and who abide in him, (walking not after the Flesh, but after the Spirit) who is the Quickner, Guide, and Rule of all the Children of the New-Covenant. For Christ is the Way, the Truth, and the Life, in, and to them all, and is made by God All in All unto them. He is their Shepherd, their King, their Captain, their Vine, their Olive-Tree, their Leader, their Door, their Path, their Rule, their Righteousness, their Holiness, their Wisdom, their Redemption, their Altar, their Sacrifice, their Priest, their Prophet, their Sabbath, their Light, their Day-spring, their Bright and Morning-Star, their Son, their Shield, their Rock, and their High-Tower.

What shall I say? God hath gathered together all things into one, even in him, whose Spirit, Life, and Light Eternal, is the one Substance, which answers all the Figures and Shadows of the Law; and they are all comprehended and fulfilled, and end in him. So that, he is the End of the Law for Righteousness, to all that beleive in him. And he ministers Righteousness, he ministers Truth, he ministers Life, he ministers Salvation, he ministers Power, he ministers pure Heavenly Wisdom; and no good thing will he with-hold from them that come unto him, in the Drawings of his Father, and follow him whithersoever he leads, and obey his Gospel, which is everlastingly New and Living.

Now, this precious Ministry hath been with-drawn, and hid from Ages and Generations, in the long Night of the great Apostacy, and thick Darkness. And, How could it be otherwise? For Men being in the Dark, and having Erred from the True Spirit, and let in a wrong Spirit, and built up wrong Churches; and having not known the True Wilderness, (nor being willing to flee into it) whither the True Church fled, and was nourished by God with the true Food, even with the true, living Vertue and Nourishment, all this dark Night of the Apostacy: I say, How could they come at the true Light, the true Spirit, the true Power, (from which the true Ministry is) which did not visibly now appear; but was with the True Church in the Wilderness? So that, there hath been a True Church all this while, which the Gates of Hell have not been able to prevail against, as to her inward Temple and Altar, (nor over the Worshippers, which have worshipped therein;) although they have gained the Outward Court; God having severed it from his Inward Building, and given it to the Gentiles in Spirit; who are not true Jews, who are not Worshippers in the Spirit, and in the Truth, Rev. 21. 1, 2.

But now, at length, blessed be the Lord, the long Night of Darkness draws towards an End, yea, is come to an End in many Spirits; and the true Light is broken forth again, (and shineth again inwardly in many) and the true Ministry is revived again, and the Everlasting Gospel (the Everlasting Covenant of Life, Mercy, and Salvation, in and through Christ Jesus, the Light and Life of Men) preached again. For now, it is not only outwardly read, That God is Light; but the Message hath been received, and Persons chosen, and sent forth by God to publish it; and to turn Men from Darkness to Light, and from Satan's Power to God. And, blessed be the Lord, the Publishing of this precious Testimony (in the Power and Authority of the Most High) hath not been in vain: But the Captivity of many hath been broken by the Power of Light, and the Power and Strength of Darkness (inwardly) over-turned by it. O how hath the Strong-Man, which kept the House, before the Stronger than he appeared in the Name and Authority of his Father; I say, How hath he Trembled at the inward and spiritual Appearance of him, that was Stronger than he? And, How have the Pillars of the Old Building been shaken? How hath the Witness of God been reached to in Mens Spirits? How have the Dead been raised, the Blind Eye opened, the Deaf Ear unstopped, the Dumb Tongue loosed, the Lame caused to leap as an Hart, and the Tongue of the Dumb to sing, the inward Spiritual Leprosie cleansed, and done away for ever, the Wounded healed, the Broken-hearted bound up? And, What hath not the Lord done Inwardly and Spiritually for his People, who have been sensible of his Appearance, and gathered by his Spirit and Power, to the true Siloh, who is the true Shepherd, the Land of the Living, the Holy City and Temple, the Light of the City, the Life of the City, the Gates and Wall of the City, the King and Kingdom both? For his Life, his Nature, his Spirit is All, and in All. Ah! What do we desire to have, but Christ the Seed, and this Seed sown in our Hearts, and abiding in us, and his Life, Righteousness and Glory; his holy Power, Dominion, and Kingdom springing up in it? And, as in the Apostles Dayes, there was the Seal to their Testimony in Peoples Hearts, where their Ministry was ordered by the Lord, and was received; even so it is now. O how doth the Witness answer in Mens Hearts and Consciences! And they that keep to the Witness, and its Testimony, not hearkening after Words to the Wisdom of the Flesh; How do they become Living Epistles, to be Seen and Read of all Men, as the Lord pleaseth to open that Eye in any, which can See and Read.

Now, to be often Testifying of this Light, (which the Lord hath visited us with, and wherein we experience the Knowledge of his Son, and Redemption by him) to us it is not grievous; and it is good and safe for others. Therefore, it arising in my Heart in the Springings of Life, and lying upon me (as in the Sight of the Lord) to give forth this further (short) Testimony, for the sakes of such as have any Desire to know and experience the Truth, as it is in Jesus: I am given up in Spirit to serve my God therein; and do give it forth in Humility, in Fear, in Tenderness of Spirit, in true Love, with Breathings to my God, that he would please to open the Hearts of those that shall be inclin'd to read it, that they may feel somewhat of that in themselves, from which the Teſtimony came; and ſo there-from may hear, in true Senſe and Underſtanding, the true and good Report of the Sound of Life and Salvation, in this our Age, and may learn ſo to turn inwardly from the Darkneſs to the Light, from the Power of Satan to God's Spirit, and Appearance inwardly; that the Arm of the Lord may be revealed in them, and powerfully ſtretched out for them.

And this is the precious Knowledge of Chriſt indeed, even to know Chriſt the Power of God, Chriſt the Wiſdom of God inwardly revealed, and working in the Heart, deſtroying Sin there, and building up the Holy Building, wherein he himſelf will dwell and Reign. O that all that truly breath after him, might not be with-held from him, (and his living Teſtimony, and inward Appearance) by the Power of Darkneſs and Deceit, which works ſubtilly in the Heart againſt the Appearance, Power, and Work of the Lord there; but might thus come to know him. Amen.

The Antient Principle of Truth; or, The Light within Aſſerted, and Held forth, according to true Experience, and the faithful Teſtimony of the Scriptures, in the Anſwers to Four Queſtions.

1. What this Light is, which we Teſtifie of; and what is the Nature of it?
2. What it doth inwardly in the Heart?
3. How it cometh to be Lighted, Set up, and Increaſed there?
4. How it cometh to be Diminiſhed, or Extinguiſhed in any?

Queſt. 1.

WHat is this Light, which we ſo earneſtly Teſtifie of, and whereof we affirm, That all Men are (or have been) in ſome Meaſure, enlightned by it? and, What is the Nature of it?

Anſw. It is that which ſhineth from God in the Heart, wherein God is near to Men; and wherein and whereby Men may ſeek after God, and find him.

God is a Spirit; and his Spirit and Preſence is near to all Men. Whither ſhall I go from thy Spirit? or, Whither ſhall I flee from thy Preſence, (Pſal. 139. 7. &c.) It is Impoſſible for any ſo to do. For God, who is a Spirit, (and the Father of Spirits) is nigh to every Spirit. Every Spirit depends upon him the Fountain of Spirits, and hath its Being, Life, and Motion from him, and in him, after a Senſe; though not after ſuch a Senſe, as they who are quickned by him, experience.

Now God, who is Light, being ſo near every Man; Doth he never ſhine upon them? They are Darkneſs; but, Doth he never appear in the Darkneſs? He who is Light, loveth Mankind; Doth he never viſit them with his Love? He knoweth what and how great inward and ſpiritual Enemies Mankind hath; Doth he never make any Diſcoveries of their Enemies to them? Yes; The Light is near all Mankind, to diſcover to them, and help them againſt the Darkneſs; and the Love is near to help them againſt the Enmity which deſtroyeth, and ſo to ſave them. For whoſoever joyneth to the Light of God's Spirit, cannot but witneſs Salvation thereby: for, it is of a ſaving Nature, and bringeth Salvation with it to all that receive it. Chriſt is in it, and is known by it, (inwardly, ſpiritually, livingly known) and he is not, nor can be known without it. He that knoweth the Light of God's Spirit, knoweth Chriſt; and he that believeth in it, believeth in him; and he that knoweth not, nor believeth therein, neither knoweth nor believeth in Chriſt. So that, as the Jews Circumciſion outward, and their Knowledge and Thinking to be juſtified by the Righteouſneſs, and Works of the Law; (which moſt of them brake, and were Tranſgreſſors of; though Paul ſaid, He was touching the Righteouſneſs which is in the Law, blameleſs:) I ſay, as this was diſowned, and denyed by Chriſt, and his Apoſtles; and the Circumciſion, and Work of God on the Hearts of the Gentiles, ſet over it, and exalted above it; (as Rom. 2.) So is it now alſo. The Knowledge of thoſe, and Belief of thoſe who own the Light, and believe in the Light, is owned by God's Spirit, (in this our Day) for the true Believing in the Lord Jeſus Chriſt, and for that Knowledge which is Life Eternal: And the Knowing, and Believing on him, as Men account it, according to their Apprehenſions of the Letter, without this, is reckoned with God for Ignorance and Unbelief.

So that, in this is God known, in this is Chriſt believed in. Here God draws nigh to every man, and is a God not afar off, but nigh at hand; and his Salvation is nigh, and his Righteouſneſs ready to be revealed here: and here every man may ſeek after and obtain the knowledge of him, the ſaving knowledge, the knowledge of the Grace, of the Gift of Grace which brings Salvation. In this is the Son kiſſed, in this is he drawn nigh to, and come to by the Soul, and not out of it. Here are the drawings of the Father felt. Let any man feel this, he feels that which begets to God: he feels that which comes from the Son, is of the nature of the Son, wherein the Father draws (the heart of the Child whom he begets) to the Son. And in this the Soul comes; it comes out of the darkneſs wherein Chriſt is not nor dwells, into the Light wherein Chriſt is with the Father: and ſo in this the Soul is ever neer, and out of it ſtill afar off. In this is the holy root witneſſed, and the ingrafting thereinto: out of this the holy Root is not known, nor can men underſtand what it is to be ingrafted into him, and how he is an Olive Tree, a Vine, a Door, a Shepherd, a Leader, a Captain, a Redeemer. Nor can men poſſibly know the voice of the true Shepherd, from the voice of a ſtranger, till they come hither; nor how the true Shepherd walks before his Sheep, and what it is to follow him out of that which deſtroys, into that which regenerates, makes new and living, till they come hither.

Now this inward Light is abundantly teſtified of in the Scriptures.

As firſt by Moſes, who ſpeaking of the other Covenant, the new Covenant, the Covenant of Circumciſing the Heart, turneth or directeth the mind to this Word or Commandment nigh, whereby alone it can be done, as Deut. 30. And this was the reaſon, why God ſo often commanded the Jews to circumciſe their hearts, and to waſh them and make them clean, from their Wicked Wayes and Vain thoughts, becauſe Moſes had directed their minds to that, and that was near to them, wherein and whereby it might be done. In another place, he bids them make them a new heart, Ezek. 18. 31. How could that be done; Why, by turning to Gods Spirit which ſtrove with them, his Power would effect it in them: and men are ſaid to purifie their hearts, through the Spirit, in loving and obeying the Truth which doth it, 1 Pet. 1 22. Joh. 17. 17.

2*dly*, By Job, Who ſpeaks of Gods Candle ſhining upon his Head, and of walking through Darkneſs by his Light, Chap. 29. 30. He ſpeaks likewiſe of thoſe that rebel againſt the Light, that know not the wayes thereof, nor abide in the paths thereof, Chap. 24. 13.

3*dly*, By David, who by it ſaw through the types and ſhadows to the ſubſtance, and grew wiſer than his Teachers, he knowing the Word within, and having his Candle lighted by it, ſo that he knew the inward Law which converts the ſoul, and was led by Gods Light and Truth ſhining in his inward parts, Pſal. 43. 3.

4*thly*, By Solomon, The commandment is a Lamp, and the Law Light, and the reproofs of inſtruction the way of Life, Prov. 6. 23. every one that experienceth the Light, the Law, the commandment within, knoweth it to be thus. Again ſaith he, The path of the Juſt is as the ſhining Light, that ſhineth more and more unto the perfect day, Chap. 4. 18. Juſt as a Light, which ſhines outwardly, is to the outward man: ſuch is the inward Light to the inward man; ye more: for inwardly, the Light and the Way is all one. Chriſt is the Way, the Truth and the Life, which are three names of one and the ſame thing. And he that walks in the Light, walks in the way of Life and Holineſs, which he that walks in the darkneſs, walks out of. I ſhall mention but one place more, which is very differently rendred, it is Chap. 20. 27. The new Tranſlation renders it thus, The Spirit of man is the Candle of the Lord, ſearching all the inward parts of the belly. The Old thus, The Light of the Lord is the breath of man, and ſearcheth all the bowels of the belly. The heart of man, (the unregenerate mind, the unregenerate ſpirit) is deceitfull above all things and deſperately wicked: that whereby God ſearcheth it, is his Light, his Candle, his own Holy Spirit.

5*thly*, By the Prophets, as Iſaiah, Jeremy, Ezekiel, Mycah, &c. who ſaid, He hath ſhewed thee, O man, what is Good; and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do juſtly, and to love mercy; and to humble thy ſelf to walk with thy God? Chap. 6. 8. How doth God ſhew this to mankind, but by the inward Light of his Spirit.

6*thly*, By John Baptiſt, who was the fore-runner, and teſtified of Chriſt as of of the inward and Spiritual Baptizer, who had his Fan in his hand: what is that? What doth Chriſt Fan with? What doth he fan, and with what? The Light within is a Fan, the Spirit within, is a Spirit of Judgment and burning: it ſcatters the darkneſs, yea it conſumes and burns up the Droſs and Stubble there.

7*thly*, By Chriſt himſelf, who ſaid, This is the condemnation, that Light is come into the World, and men loved darkneſs rather than Light, becauſe their deeds were evil, John 3. 19. Mark how Chriſt preached the Light (the Seed, the Kingdom, the Leaven) and bid men bring their deeds to it, and blamed them that did not, ver. 20. 21. How can there be an inward Jew, an inward Circumciſion, without an inward Law, inward Light, and inward Teſtimony? and to this inward Law and Teſtimony, muſt the inward Jew daily have recourſe, and bring his deeds thither, to be Judged and ſcanned there.

Again, Chriſt ſaith, I am the Light of the World: he that followeth me, ſhall not walk in darkneſs, but ſhall have the Light of Life, Chap. 8. 12. How is Chriſt the Light of the World? or how was Chriſt the Light of the World? Was he only ſo, as he appeared in that body of fleſh? Is he not ſo in his inward and ſpiritual appearance? Is he not the Univerſal Light, the Son of Righteouſneſs which enlighteneth the whole dark World? Yet again he ſaith, Yet a little while is the Light with you; walk while ye have the Light, leſt darkneſs come upon you: for he that walketh in darkneſs, knoweth not whither he goeth. While ye have the light believe in the light, that ye may be the Children of Light, Chap. 12. 35, 36. This is Chriſts direction to men how they may become true Believers, to wit, by believing in the Light. The Light ſhines in the darkneſs (ye were darkneſs) and by believing in it, men become Children of it.

8*thly*, By the Apoſtles, and Evangeliſts. They were ſent to turn men from Darkneſs to Light, Acts 26. 18. and they teſtified of the Light they were to turn men to: delivered their Meſſage that God was Light, and that in him was no darkneſs at all. They preached Chriſt the Light, the Life, the Way, the Truth, They turned men from Satans Spirit which is darkneſs, to Gods Spirit which is Light.

John the Evangeliſt teſtified of the Word which was in the beginning, and ſaid, In him was Life, and the Life was the Light of men. And the Light ſhineth in darkneſs, and the darkneſs comprehended it not, Chap. 1. 4, 5. And again ſaith, ſpeaking of him, That was the true light, which lighteth every man that cometh into the world, verſ. 9.

Paul ſaith, whatſoever doth make manifeſt is Light, Epheſ. 5. 3. Wherefore Awake thou that ſleepeſt, and ariſe from the dead (verſ. 14.) for God hath ſent forth the light of his Son to rouſe thee. Again, he profeſſedly averreth, that the Word nigh in the mouth and heart, was that word of Faith which he preached, Rom. 10. 8. If ſo, then that is the word of Faith which is to be believed in, if men would believe in Chriſt and be ſaved by him.

James ſpeaketh of God as the Father of Lights, from whom every good and perfect Gift proceedeth, Chap. 1. 17. Then ſurely from him is the Grace and the Gift, (the free Gift) by Grace, which is upon all to Juſtification of life, that receive it, and follow the teachings of it.

Peter ſpeaks of the more ſure word of propheſie, to which men ſhould take heed; and wait, in taking heed to that, for the dawning of the day, and the ariſing of the Day Star in the heart, 2 Pet. 1. 19. Indeed, all men ought to wait for, and give heed to the Light of God's holy Spirit, and the holy Propheſies, Warnings and Directions thereof in their hearts.

And John, at laſt, as I may ſay, in that Book of the Revelation (cloſing up the Teſtimony of that Age and Generation) ſpeaks of walking in the Light of the Lamb, Chap 21. 23, 24. (which every one that comes to witneſs the true Light, ought to do, elſe there is no true fellowſhip with God, nor with his Sanctified Ones, who are gathered into and walk in the Light, even as God is in the Light, 1 John 1. 7.) And the Angel that opened the Propheſies and Myſteries of that Book to John, ſaid, that the Teſtimony of Jeſus is the Spirit of Propheſie, Chap. 19. 10. So then, he that hath this Spirit of Propheſie, he that hath this inward Light, hath the Teſtimony of Jeſus; but he that hath it not, hath not the Teſtimony it ſelf, but only words concerning the Teſtimony. For this is the Diſtinction between the true Believer and the Falſe: The true believer hath the Spirit of Propheſie, the Witneſs in himſelf, (1 John 5. 10.) The Falſe Believer hath but the Outward Teſtimony or Relation of things, but not the Inward Subſtance, the Covenant and Law of Life within.

Queſt. 2 WHat doth this Light do inwardly in the Hearts of thoſe that receive it, believe in it, and give up to it?

Anſ. It doth all that is requiſite to be done, from the ſouls coming out of Spiritual Egypt into the Land of Reſt; and all that is needful for its Growth and Preſervation there.

Firſt, it Enlightneth. It ſheweth what is Evil, and alſo what is Good, according to the Meaſure and Proportion of it, and according to Gods cauſing it to Shine in the Heart. It diſcovers the Myſtery of Darkneſs, the Myſtery of Ungodlineſs, the Myſtery of Iniquity, the Myſtery of Deceit in all its Myſterious Workings: for nothing is hid from the Light of him with whom we have to do. And it alſo diſcovers the Myſtery of Godlineſs, the Myſtery of Holineſs, the pure Way and commandment of Life; and gives all the Believers (the True Believers in Chriſt) this Experience, That his Commandment is Life Everlaſting There is nothing the heart needs deſire to know of God, but this makes it manifeſt in the due ſeaſon. It opens the very Myſtery of the Scriptures, gives the right Underſtanding and Applycation of the promiſes, and fulfils the Propheſies therefore in the heart.

2*dly*, It doth not only manifeſt the good and evil, but likewiſe inclines the mind to chuſe the good, and refuſe the evil. It draws from the evil and towards the good: yea, and the ſoul is made willing in the day of him who is light, and who appears in the light, and reveales his power there. There is a way an high-way ſpoken of Iſa. 35. 8. called the way of holineſs, which the unclean can neither diſcern nor paſs over to: but the Light of the Lord Jeſus Chriſt, the meaſure of Grace and Truth wherewith he enlightens men, ſo manifeſts and leads into this way, that they that are taught and guided by him, ſhall walk therein, and not err.

3*dly*, It ſcatters the darkneſs, breaks the power of the enemy; it makes one with him who is all power, and giveth to partake thereof, ſo that power is given to become ſons, in the Light, to the Children of the Light: power given to become Kings and Prieſts to God: Power given to reign in the dominion of his Life, in the dominion of his Truth, over ſin, over death, over deceit; and to offer up the holy living ſacrifices to God.

What ſhall I ſay? It is one with Chriſt, it is of his heavenly Spirit and Nature, it makes way for him, it leads to him, it fills with him, it brings into unity and fellowſhip both with the Father and the Son, where the peace which paſſeth underſtanding,

underſtanding, and the Joy unſpeakable and full of glory abounds. This is the Goſpel-meſſage, that God is Light: and they that are gathered into and abide in this Light, they are gathered into, and abide in unity and fellowſhip, both with the Father, and the Son.

David had great ſenſe, and great experience of this Light of Gods holy Spirit, and of his Truth ſent forth, manifeſted and revealed in his inward parts, as is ſignified, Pſal. 51. 6. and again, in that vehement Prayer of his, Pſal. 43. 3. O ſend out thy Light and thy Truth; let them lead me, let them bring me unto thy holy Hill, and to thy Tabernacles. Then will I go unto the Altar of God, unto God the gladneſs of my Joy: yea, upon the harp will I praiſe thee O God, my God. Indeed when the Light ſhines, and the Truth ſprings up in the heart, it leads to him that is true, it leads to the Holy Hill, and Mountain of the Lord, and to the Inward Altar which they have no Right to, who ſerve and worſhip at the outward; and the Harp is known whereon the Moſt High is Praiſed, even that inward Harp, whereof Davids outward Harp was but the Figure. Therefore they that come to the Holy Hill of God, to the Mountain of the Lord's Houſe, and to that Holy building which was reared there, they invite and incourage others to walk in that Light which led them thither, wherein Communion with God, and one with another, and the Bleſſings of Life and Peace are injoyed, Iſa. 2. 5.

But what ſhould I ſpeak of the Sufficiency of the Light and Grace of the Spirit of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, or of what it is able to do, and of what he is pleaſed to work by it? I ſhall only ſay this, that as the fulneſs was enough for Chriſt, and to fit him for the Work which he had to do: So the meaſure of Grace and Truth which he beſtows, is enough for every man. My Grace is Sufficient for thee, ſaid God to Paul: and ſo it is for every man. There is no want of Sufficiency in the Grace of God, in the Seed of the Kingdom, in the Pearl of Price, in the Holy Leaven, in the Heavenly Salt; but the Vertue and Strength of it is greater, than the Enemy is able to withſtand: and he that keeps to it, and departs not from it, ſhall feel Life and Power ſpringing up in it, to quicken him and carry him through all that God requires of him. For the Water which Chriſt gives is a Well, ſpringing up (in him to whom it is Given) unto Life Eternal: and this Water is able to VVaſh, able to Nouriſh, able to fill the Soul with Living Vertue, which waiteth for it and partaketh of it. And all the Nations of them that are ſaved, are to walk in the Light of Gods Spirit. To this men are to be turned, unto this they are to be gathered, into this they are to be Tranſlated (even from the Kingdom of Darkneſs, into the Sons Marvellous Light) and being changed by it (into its Nature) become Light in the Lord, and ought to walk in the Light, as God is in the Light, 1 John 1. 7.

Queſt. 3. HOw doth the Mind come to be Enlightned, and the Candle of the Lord come to be ſet up in the Soul?

Anſw. By God's cauſing it to ſhine there, and the minds being turned to it, and given up to be exerciſed by it, as it pleaſeth the Lord to cauſe it to ſhine.

The Power of the Lord reacheth to the pure Princple of Life and Light in the Heart, in the ſeaſons of his good Pleaſure. This being reached to and touched by the Lord, anſwers his touch, his viſit, his call: and the mind being turned to it, ſenſible of it, and willing to let it into its Nature and Spirit, and to become one with it, (ſuffering with it, and bearing its Croſs;) the Seed cometh to grow there, the Light which was hid and overwhelmed under the Earth (under the earthly Wiſdom, the earthly Will, the earthly Knowledge, the earthly Deſires, the Earthly Delights, &c.) cometh to be lighted up there, yea the life cometh to be quickned more and more, and the holy Leaven to ſpread more and more there. And this ſenſible Plant of God's Renown being thus entertained, and being not afterwards grieved, diſpiſed, quenched or hurt, by the giving way to, and letting in of that which is contrary to it, it ſhooteth up into a Kingdom of Righteouſneſs, into a Tree of Righteouſneſs, within the compaſs whereof, and under the ſhadow whereof, the

Soul

Soul ſiteth down in Peace and Reſt, & is defended and nouriſhed with that which is pure and living, and full of the pure Sap and Vertue; and ſo becomes ſtrong in the Lord, and in the Power of his Might, againſt the Power and Strength of Darkneſs. Now this all men may experience, (at firſt in ſome low Meaſure & Degree, and afterwards more and more) as they come to feel after, and have a ſenſe of that which is of God, and good in the Heart, and come to joyn and give up to it. For then it will be working againſt, and purging out that which is of a contrary Nature, and overſpreading the heart with its own Nature: inſomuch as, that which was the leaſt, will become the greateſt; and that which was the loweſt of all (and indeed trampled under foot) will riſe up into Dominion and Power over all, and bring all under. So that the lofty City, the lofty Building of fleſhly Wiſdome, and of Sin and Iniquity in the Heart, will be laid low; and the feet of the Seed ſhall tread it down, even the feet of that which was once poor and needy, until it was Anointed, and its Horn exalted by the Lord.

Queſt. 4. HOw is the Light or Candle of the Lord Diminiſhed, and at length Extinguiſhed, or put out in ſome? Or, how cometh that about?

Anſw. By their neglecting, deſpiſing, quenching it, hearkening and giving way to the contrary ſpirit in its Motions and Temptation. For as the Good, let in, ſtops and works out the Evil: ſo the Evil let in, ſtops, and works out the Good: So the Philiſtine-Nature, given way to, ſtops the inward Well, which Jacob had digged and opened. There is a time wherein Life is a Myſtery, a Fountain ſealed; and there is a time wherein God un-ſeales the Fountain, and opens the Myſtery in the Heart. O then great care is to be had, and the Soul is to lie very low in the pure Fear, that it may continue in his Goodneſs, and walk worthy of his Love, that the Fountain may be kept open, and the pure Springs of the Holy Land flow, and not be ſealed and ſhut up again. For, there are ſome that Rebel againſt the Light, and they dwell in a dry Land. There were ſome that did always reſiſt and vex God's Spirit, and the Lord's Spirit ceaſed ſtriving with them, and gave them up to a Reprobate ſenſe and judgment concerning the things of God. There are ſome that do not improve God's good Talent, and from them that which was once given, is again taken away. Yea the Candle of the Wicked ſhall one time or other be put out, and they ſhall be ſilent in darkneſs, and their Mouth ſtopped from having any thing to ſay againſt God, his Truth, and People, for evermore. And all men had need to take heed, how they be wanton with the Grace of God, or deſpiſe the day of their Viſitation by the Holy Light of God's Spirit: for if God take away the Talent, if God put out the inward Candle, who can light it again? O how did poor David, the man after God's own Heart ſuffer, by letting the Enemy's temptations in upon him, Caſt me not away from thy Preſence, ſaid he, and take not thy holy Spirit from me. Indeed he did loſe his condition at the preſent, and he ſpeaks as a man in danger of being quite undone; though afterwards he came to Comfort and Aſſurance, that God would reſtore to him the Joy of his Salvation, and light his Candle and enlighten his Darkneſs again.

But I am not inſenſible of what doubts and diſputes there are in mens minds, about this Teſtimony which we give (from certain knowledge and true experience) concerning the Light, wherewith God enlighteneth Souls. At firſt, when the Teſtimony firſt came forth, men would not grant ſuch a thing, as a Light from God in men, which convinced of and reproved for Sin. But now there are many will aſſent to that, who yet cannot believe it to be a Meaſure of the Grace and Truth which comes by Jeſus Chriſt, and that in it the Sufficiency and Power of God is Revealed againſt the ſtrength and power of Satan. But let ſuch ſeriouſly conſider.

Firſt, who they are that have teſtified, and teſtify of this Light? They are Perſons who, generally, have been deeply exerciſed in Religion: Perſons, who have read the Scriptures very diligently, with much praying and waiting upon God for the the true, certain and clear understanding of them: Persons, who (several of them) have had experience of most (if not all other) separated Wayes; but could never meet with the Answer of the Cry of their Souls, nor with Satisfaction to that Birth, which breathed in them after the Lord, night and day.

2dly, What their Testimony is, which is manifold; As first, That they were by the Lord (even by his holy Spirit, and the shinings and springings of his precious Seed in them) turned to this light, and shewn it to be of God. 2dly, That in turning to it, they still met with the Presence, Appearance, and Power of the Lord working in their hearts. 3thly, That it did not only discover Sin to them, but also powerfully resist it, fight against it and bring it under; which no light and power, besides the Light and Power of God's Spirit can do. 4thly, That the Life of the Son is manifested and revealed in it, and they come therein truly to see, and taste, and handle the Word of eternal Life. 5thly, That in this Light they come to witness cleansing by the Blood of the Lamb, and the everlasting Covenant made with them (even the sure Mercies of David) and the holy and precious Promises fulfilled in them, whereby they are made partakers of the divine Nature, and come to VVitness an entrance into the Holy City, and drink of the Streams of the pure Chrystal River, which refresh and make glad the City of our God, and all the Tabernacles wherein he dwells. Lastly, to mention no more, the Lord hath shewn them, how this had been formerly with them, even in the days of their former Profession; and how God had wrought by this in them in former times, though they then knew it not; and that all their Ability then to understand any thing of God aright, or to pray unto him, or reap any true benefit from the Scriptures, was through the stirring of this in them, whereby God even then in some measure enlightened and quickened their minds. For, there being such a Principle in man, it works variously, and many times when he is not aware of it: and he hath benefit thereby, if he resist it not, but receive its influence and opperation, though he hath not the distinct knowledge and discerning of it.

3dly, Again consider, VVhether the Light of Christs Spirit, or the Grace and Truth which is by Jesus Christ, hath not this property of discovering, convincing, and reproving for sin? Doubtless the Law of the spirit of Life in Christ Jesus, in the lowest Ministration of it, is of that Nature, that it discovereth, and fighteth against the Law of sin and death, where ever it finds it. And whether the Comforter, the holy Spirit of Truth, who leads out of all Error and Falshood, and into all Truth, is not as well to be known by this, even by his convincing the VVorld of sin, and inwardly reproving for sin, as by his comforting of the Saints, in their holy Travels out of sin, and Battels against sin?

Consider 4thly, Whether any thing can convince of sin, but the Light of God's holy Spirit shining in the Heart? There may be an outward Declaration of sin by the Law outward; but it never reacheth the Heart and Conscience, but by the shining of the Light inward: Nay, it cannot so much as reach to the understanding, but as God opens the heart, and brings home the Conviction by his Light and Power. This we have experience of in the Jews, who though the Prophets came with certain Evidence, and Demonstration from God's Spirit, yet they were not Convinced thereby, but stood it out against the Prophets, and justified themselves against the Voice and Word of the Lord, their Eyes being closed, their Ears shut, and Hearts hardened against that of God in them, as may be read in Jeremiah, Chap. 2. and in divers other places, even to Admiration. And what wickedness is so great, which the hardened man will not plead for, and be defending and justifying himself in? Yea, if God do open mens Understandings in some measure, so that they cannot but confess such and such things to be evil in general (as Pride, Covetousness, Drunkenness, Riotousness, Excess in Apparrel, Lying, Swearing, &c.) yet they are not able to see the evil and danger of these things in and to themselves, but have covers and excuses to hide them, unless the inward Light and Spirit of the Lord search their hearts, and make them manifest to them.

5thly, Consider the weight and proper tendency of these two Scriptures, and do not form another meaning, and so put off the drift and intent of God's holy Spirit in them. The first is that of the Apostle, Ephes. 5. 13, 14. But all things that are reproved, reproved, are made manifeſt by the light: For whatſoever doth make manifeſt, is light. Wherefore he ſaith, Awake thou that ſleepeſt, &c. Every man is bid to Awake, becauſe every man hath ſome proportion of that in him, which (if hearkened to) will reprove, rouſe up and awaken him, and lead him from among the dead, to him, who gives the light, and cauſeth it to ſhine in him, even in the midſt of his darkneſs and corruption, that it might awaken him out of it. The other Scripture is that of Gal. 5. 27. where the Apoſtle ſpeaks of the Fleſh its luſting againſt the Spirit, and the Spirit againſt the Fleſh, and that theſe two are contrary. Did not God's Spirit ſtrive with the old World? Not only with the Sons of God, who had corrupted themſelves, but with the reſt alſo? And what is it that hath ſtriven with wicked men ſince, and that doth ſtrive with wicked men ſtill? Is it not the ſame good Spirit? What is it alſo that inwardly reſiſts and luſts againſt the Will and ſtrivings of God's Spirit? Is it not Fleſh? So here are the two Seeds, the two Principles (which are contrary one to the other) near man. For there is the Creature man (which of right is the Lords) into whom the Deſtroyer hath gained entrance, and in whom he Rules by the Law of Sin and Death. Now he who made man, ſeeketh after him, and findeth out his Enemy in man, and giveth forth a Law againſt him inwardly in the Heart: Which ſo far as any man gives Ear to, believes and receives, there ariſeth preſently a Fight, and ſtriving between theſe two contrary Principles in him, ſo that this man cannot do the things that he would. Now that which thus ſtrives againſt Sin in any man, and troubles him becauſe of Sin, Reproving and Condemning him for it; that is, of another Nature than the Fleſh, (which harbours ſin) and contrary to it.

Laſtly, conſider the great love of God to mankind, and the great care he hath of them. Firſt, as touching their Bodies. How doth he provide for the Bodies of all mankind! He would have none hurt, none deſtroyed, but feedeth all, nouriſheth all, making plentiful proviſion and giving fruitful ſeaſons, cauſing his Sun to ſhine and his Rain to deſend on all. Then, as to their Souls: He knoweth the preciouſneſs thereof, and what the loſs of a Soul is: yea, he knoweth how eager the Devourer is to deſtroy, and ſetteth himſelf againſt him. He is the Father of Spirits, and his Son the Shepherd and Biſhop of Souls, whoſe nature it is to gather and ſave; and it is ſaid expreſly of God, by the Teſtimony of the Spirit of Truth, that he would have all to be Saved, and come to the knowledge of the Truth. And whereas it was ſaid to the Jews, that God was as the Potter, and they as the Clay, and he could make them Veſſels either of honour or diſhonour at his pleaſure, Jer. 18. 6. yet it was ſaid to this end, even to invite and incourage them to be ſubject to him, that they might be made Veſſels of honour by him, as appears ver. 11.

Now conſider; If God be as tender of ſouls, as of the bodies of men; doth he not make proviſion for the ſoul, as will as for the body? Would he not have the ſoul live, and would he not have the ſoul fed, as well as the body? If ſo, then needs muſt the light of his holy Spirit, ſhine inwardly throughout all Nations, and the ſaving Grace and Power be manifeſt every where, even in the every heart, in ſome meaſure, and the Fleſh and Blood of the Son of God (which is the ſouls food) be diſtributed to all. And truly, the Lord is not an hard maſter to any, (as the unprofitable Servant, in every Diſpenſation, is ready to account of him:) for the times of ignorance and darkneſs God winketh at, or paſſeth over, being very tender towards men in that eſtate: yea, a little that is of him, turned to and heeded, according to the Meaſure of Underſtanding that God gives, will be owned and accepted, even in the midſt of a great deal of Darkneſs, and evil working againſt it.

There was a time before the Law (for the Law was given by Moſes) what ſaved then? VVas it any thing but the ſaving Grace, the ſaving Light, the ſaving Spirit, the holy Anointing? Could any be ſaved, but thereby?

What ſaved under the Law? Did the Shaddows then ſave, or the Subſtance of Life vailed under them? Did not the Spirit then Work inwardly, Redeem inwardly, Save inwardly? Did not the Word or Commandments nigh in the mouth and heart (to which Moſes by Gods direction, had turned their minds) enlighten and ſave inwardly?

And any of the Gentiles, as this Word or Spirit of Life did work in them, did it not circumciſe inwardly, and ſave them alſo? So that though they had not the

Law

Law or Miniſtration of Moſes outward, yet they had the inward Writing from God on their hearts, and ſhewed the work and efficacy of it there, and ſhall at laſt be juſtified by and according to the everlaſting Goſpel, which juſtifieth all whatſoever, ſo far as in any meaſure they receive and are ſubject to the Light and Law of Gods pure Spirit, which the carnal mind cannot receive nor be ſubject to.

O that men could dye to themſelves, even to their own wiſdom and prudency, and not lean to their own underſtandings, nor idolize their own apprehenſions and conceivings, but wait to receive underſtanding from God, who giveth liberally of the true Wiſdom, to thoſe that ask and wait aright! And how doth God give true Wiſdom and Underſtanding? Is it not by the ſhining of his Light in the heart? O that men were turned inwardly thither, and inwardly dead to that wiſdom and prudency from which God ever hid things and ever will. He that will be truly wiſe, muſt firſt become a Fool, that he may be wiſe, that is, He muſt not ſtrive to learn in the comprehenſive way of mans wiſdom and prudency the things of Gods Kingdom, but feel the begettings of life in his heart, and in that receive ſomewhat of the new and heavenly Underſtanding, and ſo dye to the other, and know no more the things of God after the Fleſh, that is, as a wiſe man, as a learned Scribe, as a great Diſputant (for where is the wiſe? where is the Scrib? where is he Diſputer of this World? Can they find out the Myſtery of life, the Myſtery of Gods Kingdom in this Age, any more then they could in former Ages?) but become a Babe, a Fool, and ſo receive and bow to that which his own wiſdom will call fooliſhneſs, and account weakneſs; but the other Birth, which is begotten and born of God, will know and daily experience to be the Wiſdom and Power of God unto Salvation.

An APPEAL to the Witneſs of God in all Conſciences; which is the More Sure Word of Propheſie, the Teſtimony of the Scriptures Without, or the Voice and Teſtimony of the Light and Spirit of God Within in the Heart.

THe Apoſtle Peter ſpeaks of a more ſure word of Propheſie (or of a more ſure Prophetical word, as the Greek hath it) then that voice which came from Heaven, which they heard, when they were with Chriſt in the holy Mount, 2 Pet. 1. 18, 19. Now what this more ſure word is, which ought to be given heed to in the moſt eſpecial manner, more than to ſuch an eminent Voice and Teſtimony from Heaven, even from the excellent Glory, it is a very great and weighty Queſtion. Now ſome affirm, that it is the word and teſtimony of the Scriptures without; others affirm, that its the voice, ſound and teſtimony of the Word of Life within.

I do not know a Scripture that my heart hath been more tenderly ſolicitous about, deſiring to give due honour both to the Spirit of God and to the holy Scriptures, and alſo to underſtand what the Lord would have me in the moſt eſpecial manner give heed to, until the ſeaſon came from him, in which he ſhould cauſe the Day to dawn, and the Day-ſtar to ariſe in my heart. And now that others might come to the ſame underſtanding and ſatisfaction alſo, are theſe following Conſiderations propoſed in the weight of my Spirit to them.

Firſt, conſider how ſure the word of Propheſie was, how ſure the Voice and Teſtimony from Heaven was, then which the Apoſtle directs them to ſomwhat as more ſure. This I may clearly ſay of it, It was undoubtedly from God, and that in a very extraordinary manner, even in Chriſts preſence, when Moſes and Elias were with him, and God beſtowing upon him honour and glory, transfiguring him before his Diſciples, cauſing his face to ſhine as the Sun, and making his Raiment white as the Light, Mat. 17. 2. And the intent of it was to give the Diſciples full evidence and ſatisfaction (for the voice was not for his ſake, but for, theirs) or rather that they might have a full ground, after his death and resurrection, to testifie for the satisfaction and confirmation of others: for till then, they were to keep it secret, ver. 9. Now that which was thus provided for this end, doubtless it was very sure, testified by them who were chosen to be faithful Witnesses in this respect.

2*dly*, Consider, Whether the Testimonies of the Prophets concerning Christ were surer, than this immediate Voice from God himself? Were they surer to those that lived in those dayes, or to those that should come after, then this Testimony was to the Apostles, and to those thy did communicate it in the Will and Counsel of the Lord? The prophets did testifie from Gods holy unerring Spirit: but they that lived in those dayes, did not alwayes believe and receive their Prophesies, but sometimes doubted of them and questioned them; yea their prophesies were not alwayes evident, and clearly understood by those who desired to understand; but their Visions were many times a Book sealed, both to the learned and unlearned. But this Testimony, this Word of Prophesie, this Voice from the excellent Glory (This is my beloved Son, hear him) is a very plain, evident, full Testimony, easie to be understood by any in that present, or in after Ages: and I must confess, as to my self, the reading of it did alwayes deeply affect and satisfie my heart.

3*dly*, Consider the manner of Gods appearing to the Prophets, and compare it with the manner of this Appearance. God appeared to them sometimes in Visions, sometimes in Dreams. Moses saw a Bush burning, and heard a Voice. The Vision of Isaiah the Son of Amos, Isa. 1. 1. and Ezekiel saw Visions, Chap 1. 1. and Daniel had a Dream and Visions on his Bed, Dan. 7. 1. And Jeremiah had that sweet Prophesie (of Gods satiating the weary soul, and replenishing every sorrowful soul) in his sleep, Jer. 31. 26. Now here, to these blessed Apostles, was a Vision given of the glory of Christ, and of Moses and Elias with him; not in the mind or head, as Daniels Visions were, Dan 7. 1. but the excellent glory did appear, and Christ, Moses and Elias were really there together on the mount (which is more then a prophetick Vision of a thing) and Christ was cloathed with and swallowed up in the glory. For God the Father did set himself to honour and glorifie him so, as never man was glorified before; and the Voice came (the certain Voice: What Voice could be more certain?) from the excellent Glory, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased, 2 Pet. 1. 17. And this pure Vision of Glory (even of Gods thus appearing, and Christs thus transfiguring) they saw, and heard the Voice which came from Heaven, when they were with him in the holy Mount. Now were the prophesies of the Prophets that Christ should be born in Bethlehem, and that he should be thus and thus, &c. equal to this in evidence and Demonstration. Why was John greater then the rest of the Prophets? Was it not in that he was chosen to be the immediate Fore-runner and preparer of the Way, and could point with his finger to the Messiah? And yet, is not this immediate testimony from the excellent Glory, greater than the testimony of John?

4thly, Consider, Whether Christs own words, in the Flesh, to his Disciples, were surer then this Voice from the excellent Glory? If I should extol the Words of Christ in the Flesh, above the words of the Prophets which testified of him, should I therein do the words and testimonies of the Prophets any wrong? He was the Son, he had the fulness of Life, the fulness of the Spirit, the great authority and vertue of God his Father. God (saith the Apostle) who at sundry times, and in divers manners, spoke in time past unto the Fathers by the Prophets hath in these last dayes spoken unto us by his Son. (Hebr. 1. 1, 2.) seeming to exalt and magnifie Gods speaking by his Son, and the Way of this Ministration above the Ministration of the Prophets (which Ministration was first by him in Flesh, afterwards in Spirit, which is properly called the Ministration of the Spirit, 2 Cor 3. 8) Now consider, whether this sure word of Prophesie from the excellent Glory, so immediately from the Majesty on High, was not intended by him as a seal to the Faith of the Disciples, as a seal to Christ's appearance in Flesh, and to what he had taught them (which was sometimes in Parables, and not so fully understood by them;) and whether this was not more bright, mor ravishing, more certain, more establishing, then his common Presence and Appearance among them, and then the words words which he from the Father, not the Father ſo immediately himſelf, ſpake to them? For that which is given to confirm a thing, is (in order of nature and for evidence ſake) more certain and clear, than that which it is given to confirm.

5thly, Conſider, Whether the Voice of Gods Spirit and Light within, in the heart, be not more clear and certain to him that hears it, than any Word or Teſtimony from without? Is it not a ſurer Word of Propheſie, than this Relation or Teſtimony of the Apoſtles, of what they heard from the excellent Glory? yea, is it not ſurer than any Teſtimony of the Scriptures; or than all outward Teſtimonies put together?

6thly, Conſider, Whether they who are turned from Darkneſs to the Light, even to the inward Manifeſtation of Gods holy Spirit, ought not to give diligent heed unto it, until the Day dawn, and the Day-Star ariſe in their hearts?

Laſtly, Conſider, What is the difference between this Light ſhining (as a word of Propheſie) in the dark place, and the day dawning and the Day-Star ariſing in the heart? is it not the ſame Light, only further revealed and ſhining in its glory, in the holy and pure place?

The Apoſtle Paul excellently openeth the thing. Coloſſ. 1. 25, 26, 27. Firſt, he ſpeaketh of the word in general, which he was to fulfil, or fully to preach. Then he ſheweth how this Word is a Myſtery, hid in the Gentiles (for ſo the Greek ver. 27. is) even in them that believe not; the word is nigh there, the inſtruction and and Commandment of life nigh there. But, in thoſe that receive the Grace, and and believe in the light, and ſo become Children of the light, and walk in the light as God is in the Light; in them Chriſt is riſen, and they are riſen together with him, and he is in them the hope of glory. So that the day hath dawned, there the Day-Star hath riſen, and they know not only a Meaſure of Grace from Chriſt, but Chriſt himſelf ariſen, dwelling, living, acting, walking in them, and they in him.

Let theſe things be duly conſidered of, and equally weighed in the holy Ballance, and then I dare appeal to every ſerious and ſober heart and mind, Whether the inward Light, the inward Word, the word nigh in the mouth and heart, and the holy living teſtimony thereof, the voice of the Witneſs within, of the Propheſie within, be not ſurer to that man that hath it, and hears and knows the voice of it, than any outward voice or teſtimony whatſoever?

Object. But ſome may object thus, or after this manner. I am ſatisfied that there is a Word nigh in the mouth and heart (to which Moſes did direct the Jews, and the Apoſtles the Chriſtians) and that this Word doth enlighten the mind, and doth ſeparate in the mouth between words and words, and is a ſwift Witneſs againſt the bad words, and a Juſtifier of the good words, which come from the truth and uprightneſs of the heart, and are ſeaſoned with grace. I alſo believe, that this Word is quick and powerful in the heart, ſeparating and dividing between the thoughts and intents there, and that the teſtimony thereof is ſurer and clearer (as to the hearts in which it ſhines, and to them whoſe ſpiritual ears are opened to hear its voice) than any words and teſtimonies from without. And I am ſatisfied alſo, that they who are the Sheep of Chriſt, do thus hear the Shepheards Voice, and do know both the Voice behind them, when it comes after them to reprove their wandrings, and direct their minds into the true Way, and alſo the voice before them, when the Shepherd (who is the Leader) putteth forth his Sheep, and goeth before them, and they follow him, for they knew his Voice, John 10 4 Yea, I have had the experience hereof in my own heart: for I have felt that work within, and that living ſweet teſtimony of Gods Spirit in my own heart, which hath been more to me, than all that ever I heard or read, from without: ſo that I can truly ſay (with the Samaritans, John 4. 42.) Now I believe, not becauſe of the teſtimonies or words I have heard from without, but from the evidence and demonſtration of Life, and of Gods holy Spirit in my own heart. Nor can I ſee, how the Apoſtle Peter in this place, can prefer the Teſtimonies of the Prophets (for that which is called the New Teſtament, was not yet written and added to the Old) before this glorious immediate Teſtimony from God Almighty, which Chriſt was honoured with, and they were greatly honoured in being admitted to be Beholders and Witneſſes of. Yet ſomewhat ſticks with me, namely thoſe words of the Apoſtle ver. 20, 21. wherein he plainly ſeems to me to ſpeak of the Scriptures or Writings of the Prophets, as if that had been the more ſure Word of Propheſie, which in this place he had directed to. For why ſhould he ſay thus, Knowing this firſt, &c. unleſs he had intended the ſame Word of Propheſie, which he had been ſpeaking of before, and directing their minds how they might make uſe of that Word of Propheſie?

Anſw. Peter was the Miniſter of the Circumciſion, and he was to deal with people who were great Admires and Studiers of the Letter. Therefore though he, as well as Paul and John, and the other Apoſtles (Rom. 10. and Act. 26. 18. and 1 Joh. 1.) was to direct men to the Word within, and Light within: Yet he knew it was of great concernment to them, rightly to Read, and be able to underſtand the Letter without. Therefore having firſt directed them to the Word of Propheſy, to the Path of the Juſt, which is the inward ſhining Light, to the Light which ſhines more and more in the dark place, to them that give heed to it: in the next place, it was very proper, uſeful and neceſſary, to direct them how to Read the Scriptures aright. For indeed, the Oracles of God were given to them, Rom. 3. 2. and they ought to be diligent in the reading of them, that they might underſtand the Holy Propheſies and precious Promiſes, &c. and Reap the hope and comfort of them, and be made Partakers of the divine Nature, which is the thing promiſed. And not only to the Jews, but to the Chriſtians gathered from among the Gentiles in that Age, were the Scriptures greatly uſeful: and ſo they are alſo to ſuch as are gathered by the holy Spirit and Power of God in this Age. The Propheſies, the Judgments, the Promiſes, the Mercies, the Experience, &c. are all uſeful and profitable, to thoſe that read and underſtand them in the Light of Gods holy Spirit. But the firſt thing needful, is to turn a mans mind to the Light, that he may have ſomewhat to guide him, ſomewhat to ſtay his mind upon in reading the Scriptures, ſomewhat to open and unſeal the Holy and Divine Words and Myſteries to him. For no man can truly and rightly underſtand the Scriptures, but as his mind is opened by the Lord, and the underſtanding of words and things given him. So that this is exceeding neceſſary to be known (after a man is turned to the Light and Word of Propheſy within, and comes to Read the outward Oracles and Teſtimonies of the holy Spirit) that all Holy Men ſpake not in their own wills; not in the will of the Fleſh, not in the will of Man; but as the Spirit of God gave them Words, and moved them to ſpeak. And thoſe words, ſpoken by Gods Spirit, knoweth none but that Spirit which ſpake them. So that no man ought to venture by his private Spirit, to undertake to Open and Interpret thoſe Words; but he muſt firſt receive the ſame Word of Life, the ſame Spirit of Propheſy within, and wait upon him, and learn to know his Voice, who openeth what, and when he pleaſeth to the ſons of men, either of what he ſpake formerly, or of what he pleaſeth to ſpeak now. And ſo, when the ſame Word of Life ſpeaks in a mans heart now, ſhewing things to come, either concerning a mans ſelf or others, that man muſt be careful to retire, and lie very low before the Lord, waiting upon him for the true Underſtanding and right Interpreting of his own words, elſe a man may eaſily miſ-underſtand and miſ-apply what was truly and rightly ſpoken. So that this is the right way of underſtanding the Words of Propheſy from the holy Men of God in former Ages, and the Inſtructions of the Word of Life in the Heart. The ſecrets of the Lord are with them that fear him. In the true fear the Ear is opened, and the right Underſtanding given: but in the wiſdom of the Fleſh, and in the confidence thereof, it is eaſie erring at any time from the true ſenſe and right uſe of that, which was opened and given by God, either for the ſouls own good, or for the good of others.

To conclude this Appeal: There is one Conſideration on my my heart to propoſe to the ſerious and ſober minded; and Oh that they might rightly conſider and underſtand it! David was a man after Gods own heart, a wiſe man, an inwardly exerciſed man, an experienced man, an holy, ſpiritual, heavenly man; a man who knew the inward, everlaſting Kingdom, and had the Spirit of God, and witneſſed his Truth in the inward parts. Can ye think that David did not know the Word and Commandment of Life within? Did not God write his Law in his heart? how elſe could he become a man after Gods own heart? Did not he witneſs the everlaſting Covenant and the Law thereof, the new Law, the living Law, even the Law of the Spirit of Life in Chriſt Jeſus? Now when David ſaid, The Law of the Lord is perfect, converting the ſoul: What Law did he mean?

What

What is the Law, which converts the ſoul to God? Can any thing leſs than an inward Power, an inward Light, an inward Law, an inward Life, than the inward drawings and teachings of Gods Spirit, convert the ſoul to God? And what teſtimony is that, which makes wiſe the ſimple? Is it not the inward teſtimony? What made him wiſer than the Antients, and his Teachers, who knew and could teach the Law outward? Were they not the inward teachings and inward precepts of Gods holy Spirit from the Word of Life within, which doubtleſs was very nigh him, he being a man ſo exerciſed by Gods Spirit, and ſo formed after his heart? And what are thoſe right Statutes, which rejoyce the heart? And the pure Commandment, which enlightens the eyes? And the clean Fear, and the righteous Judgments? Are not theſe all things known within, and received within? Doth not God put his fear within, in the heart? Doth not God reveal his righteous Judgements within, againſt ſin and iniquity? O how did David cry out, becauſe of Gods dreadful judgements upon him for ſin, and ſaid, his Sore ran in the night, and he watered his Couch with his Tears? and in another place, My Fleſh trembleth for fear of thee, and I am afraid of thy Judgments. And when he ſpeaketh ſo much (as in Pſal. 119.) of Gods Word, Gods Law, his Teſtimonies, Precepts, Statutes, Judgements, &c. What doth he ſpeak of? Doth he ſpeak of the outward, or inward miniſtration of the word in the heart? Doth he not ſpeak of the inward writing? of the Law in the heart? of the Commandment in the heart? of the Teſtimony of Life there? For he had the Teſtimony within, the Spirit within, the Law within, the Light within, the inward and ſpiritual Kingdom (wherein the holy dominion of God is revealed) he knew within: and ſo, believing, could ſpeak of the power and glory thereof, and of Gods wonderous works, Pſal. 145. And when he ſaid, Thy Word is a Lamp unto my Feet, and a Light unto my Path: What Word did he mean? Did he mean the Letter or Law outward? or the Word nigh in the mouth and heart, which Moſes had teſtified of and directed the Jews to, and he himſelf had been very well acquainted with? When, again, he ſaith, Wherewithal ſhall a young man cleanſe his way? and immediately giveth the anſwer, By taking heed according to thy word. Doth he mean the Letter without, or the Word within? What is it, that cleanſeth the heart? that cleanſeth the way? Is it any leſs then the Water of Life, then the Blood of the everlaſting Covenant, then the Word and Life of Truth within? Sanctifie them by thy Truth, thy Word is Truth. In the ſenſe of that inwardly, and obedience to it, is the renewing and Sanctification felt. And ſo this brings to be undefiled in the way, and to keep the teſtimonies of Life, and preſerves from doing iniquity. Bleſſed are the undefiled in the way, ſaith he, who walk in the Law of the Lord. Bleſſed are they that keep his Teſtimonies, that ſeek him with the whole heart. They alſo do no iniquity, &c. Had he no experience of theſe things himſelf? Yea ſurely. He knew the holy heart, the pure heart, the new and heavenly Image, the heart after Gods own Heart: and he knew what it was to walk in innocency, and to be kept out of Sin: Hear what he himſelf ſaith, Pſal. 18. 21. &c. For I have kept the Wayes of the Lord, and have not wickedly departed from my God. For all his Judgements were before me, and I did not put away his Statutes from me. I was alſo upright before him: and I kept my ſelf from mine iniquity: What was that? Was not that it which had moſt power over him, and was moſt apt to entangle and enſnare him? Now, he that arrives here, he that doth this, that keeps himſelf from his iniquity, doubtleſs witneſſeth great power and victory over leſſer and ſmaller Sins. Was not David ſtrong in the Lord, and in the Power of his might? did not the Word of God abide in him? did not he overcome the wicked one by the Power thereof? How elſe could he walk thus in the Wayes of the Lord, as he expreſſeth, and keep himſelf from his iniquity?

Now, this Word of Life, theſe living Teſtimonies and Precepts, yea the everlaſting Ordinances and Statutes of the new Covenant, with the ſure mercies of David: which Word Moſes had teſtified of and directed to, and David had experienced (it being the Pearl he had treaſured up and hid in his heart) and which was the VVord of Faith which Paul and the other Apoſtles preached and teſtified of, turning men from darkneſs to this inward Light; I ſay, this VVord, this living VVord (and the inward Miniſtration thereof) God hath revealed and made manifeſt in this our day, and hath turned the minds of many to it, and is daily inviting men to Shiloh's Streams, to the living VVaters, to the Light and Habitation of the Living. Bleſſed are they that hear the joyful joyful ſound, and come to the holy Mount and City of our God, where Life lives and reigns, and is ſed on by all the living; who are Gods elect, Gods Heritage, Gods Vineyard of Red Wine, Gods encloſed Garden, whom he watcheth over night and day, and watereth every moment; and in whom he dwelleth and walketh, and is to them a God and Father, and maketh them daily ſenſible that they are his Servants, Children and Spouſe, in whom is his great delight, and on whoſe hearts and fore-heads is written, Holineſs to the Lord. Yea and the Lord will bleſs thee forever, O Habitation of Juſtice and Mountain of Holineſs, and every tongue that riſeth up in Judgement againſt thee, will the Lord God condemn for evermore. This is the Heritage of the Servants of the Lord, whom the Lord hath gathered by the Arm of his mighty Power (inwardly revealed and ſtretched forth in them, and for them) and their righteouſneſs is of me, ſaith the Lord.

Poſtſcript.

There is a Scripture now openeth in me, as it hath often done; and it hath been very ſweet to my Taſte; but I have not had freedom to give it forth to others, as at this time it is with me to do: It is that Scripture, Rom. 9. 18. Therefore hath he Mercy on whom he will have Mercy, and whom he will, he Hardeneth.

NOw many apprehend from this Scripture, as I alſo formerly did, That God hath Choſen out a certain Number of Perſons, on whom he will have Mercy and Save by Chriſt Jeſus the Lord; and that he hath paſſed over the reſt; ſo that they were never intended to have any Benefit by Chriſt's Death, as to their Eternal Salvation. This the Wiſdom of man, from the Letter of this Scripture and many other places, may eaſily apprehend and ſtrongly reaſon for. But as the Lord openeth the mind, and men come to a ſenſe of his Nature, and Spirit, and his Intent in ſending his Son, and receive the Key which opens the Truth as it is in Jeſus; they will eaſily ſee that this is contrary to Gods Nature, and his Intent in ſending his Son, and the Univerſal Covenant of Light and Life, and the manifeſt Teſtimony of the Scriptures.

Firſt, As touching the Nature of God. His Nature is Love; love to all his Creatures. He would not have it go ill with any of them. He needeth not their Miſery to make himſelf Happy. His Nature is to Love, to Bleſs, to Save: not to Deſtroy or Cut off, not to Afflict or Grieve the Children of men, not to Hurt either the Body or Soul of any. He preſerveth Man and Beaſt, Pſal. 36. 6.

Secondly, As touching his ſending his Son. He ſent him in his Love to Mankind, to ſave Mankind. His Love was not to a few only: but he loved all his Creatures, he loved all loſt Souls; and he ſent his Son to ſave them all. He gave him Light to enlighten them all, and he gave him Life to quicken them all; only he diſpenſeth this in various wayes, according to the Infinite Wiſdom and Good Pleaſure of his Father.

So that, Thirdly, The Covenant of Light and Life is univerſal and nigh all Mankind, by which the darkeſt parts and corners of the Earth are at ſometimes enlightned, and feel ſomewhat of the Quickning Life. For the life is the light of men: and the light comes from the life, and is a quick, piercing, quickning, light, conveying Warmth and Life, yea living Vertue into the darkeſt hearts, as it moves and finds entertainment in them.

Laſtly, As for the Teſtimony of the Scriptures, it is very clear that God would have none to Periſh. All Souls are mine, ſaith the Lord, Ezek. 18, 4. I have no Pleaſure in the Death of him that dyeth. ver. 32. And again, As I live, ſaith the Lord God,

God, I have no pleaſure in the death of the Wicked, Chap 33. 11. I have ſent my Light to enlighten all men, and turn all men; and I would have all men receive it and be turned by it. I have ſhewed every man what is Good, and what I the Lord require of him: and I would have every man anſwer the Manifeſtation of my Light and Spirit in him. Do ye not read Gods charge againſt the whole Earth, Iſa. 24. 5. That they had tranſgreſſed the Law, changed the Ordinance, broken the everlaſting Covenant? Why then they all had the Law, had the Ordinance, had the everlaſting Covenant: and for this cauſe it is that the Curſe and Judgment comes upon them, ver. 6. So that this was the Condemnation from the begining, and this is the Condemnation ſtill, that Light is come into the World, and men love darkneſs rather than Light, becauſe their Deeds are Evil. Men are not condemned for want of Light from Chriſt Jeſus? but becauſe they do not believe in and obey that light which they have from him: becauſe they believe in the Darkneſs, believe in the dark ſpirit, believe in the dark power which riſeth up againſt the Miniſtration of Light in the heart; and do not believe in that which is given of God to diſcover and work it out. What ſhould I multiply Scriptures for? That common Scripture is abſolutely undeniable (as the Lord opens the heart unto the Simplicity of Truth, and keeps it out of the ſubtile, enchanting wiſdom) John 3. 16, 17. For God ſo Loved the World, that he gave his only begotton Son: that whoſoever believeth in Him, ſhould not Periſh, but have everlaſting Life. For God ſent not his Son into the World to condemn the World: But that the World through him might be Saved. What can be more naked and plain than theſe words of Chriſt, who knew the very Heart of God in this particular, and plainly declares what it is: even not to condemn, not to deſtroy; but to ſave men from Condemnation and Deſtruction? And would Chriſt have ſo affectionately Wept over Jeruſalem, had he known it to have been his Fathers will and Determinate Counſel, that they ſhould have periſhed, and not have been gathered and ſaved by him? I ſhall add but one place more, where the Apoſtle (who knew God's Counſel, and underſtood the Myſtery of Election and Reprobation, and had the Mind of Chriſt) ſaith expreſly, That God will have all men to be Saved, and to come unto the Knowledge of the Truth, 1 Tim. 2. 4. What words can be ſpoken more plain and full? And let people mind, that theſe words are far plainer and eaſier to be underſtood, than thoſe Scriptures which treat of Election and Reprobation, which is a deep Myſtery; and men muſt come to a growth in the Truth, before they can receive that capacity, which is neceſſary towards the underſtanding of them. But to open the thing a little, as it is now in my heart.

There hath been a threefold Diſpenſation of God to Mankind. A Diſpenſation of the Law to the Jews. A Diſpenſation of the Goſpel (or promiſe, which was as well before the Law, as after it) to the called Jews and Gentiles. And a ſecret, hidden Diſpenſation of the Myſtery of Grace, of the Myſtery of Life and Salvation, which the Apoſtle calls the Myſtery hid in the Gentiles, Coloſſ. 1. 27. For ſomewhat of God, ſomewhat of the Nature and Spirit of Chriſt, the Souls of all Mankind have had neer them to enlighten them, and to turn them from Satan's power to God; though it hath not been a thing known to them, but a Myſtery hid in them.

Now, that God did caſt off any Jew under the Law, or any whom he viſits with the Grace and Power of the Goſpel, from a meer, abſolute will in himſelf, becauſe he would deſtroy them and have them periſh, to ſhew forth the Praiſe of his Juſtice, and his abſolute Soveraignity: this the true ſenſe of Life in me denies. But all have a viſit, of that which ſaves, heartily and in true good will from God: and he that is turned to that which God hath ſent to turn him, ſhall be owned and ſaved thereby. He that believeth in the Truth, in the Light, in the Word nigh; even in the very loweſt appearance of it (for the loweſt appearance is the ſame thing in nature with the higheſt; and the Grace is ſaving in its very loweſt appearance, as well as in its higheſt) ſhall be ſaved thereby.

Now mark: God's Grace, God's Mercy, God's Love, God's Light, God's Spirit, God's Power, &c. is his own: And he may do with his own what he pleaſeth. Now, it being by this that he ſtrives, converts and ſaves: And it being in his own will and good pleaſure, how long he will ſtrive and contend to ſave; it lieth therefore abſolutely in him, even in his own will, what he will do in this kind. He may take advantage againſt Rebellious Man, and cut him off when he will: And again, he may ſtrive and raiſe true ſenſe in a mans heart, and give Repentance and Pardon his Tranſgreſſions as long as he pleaſeth; Yea, he may ſo change a man's heart, and ſo Create him a new in Chriſt Jeſus, and ſo bring him into Unity with the pure Seed, and to that eſtate in the Seed, as that he may have aſſurance he ſhall never be utterly caſt off: But that though he ſhould Sin, and Tranſgreſs the Holy Law of God's Spirit; his iniquity ſhall be chaſtiſed with Stripes, and his Soul recovered and brought back thereby, but not utterly rejected by the Lord. Now, it being thus, hath not God Mercy on whom he will? and doth not he Harden as he pleaſeth? Did not God give up the Jews to hardneſs, after much ſtriving with them? Did not God give up the Gentiles to hardneſs, and to vain imaginations concerning the true God, after they had rejected a meaſure of the True Knowledge? (Rom. 1. 21) Have not the Veſſels of Wrath, who are fitted to deſtruction, a day of much long-ſuffering firſt? Rom. 9. 22. Had not the Old World, who were fitted for that Deſtruction of the Floud, a long day of Patience and forbearance from God, his Spirit reproving of them and ſtriving with them? To what end did God forbear them, and cauſe his Spirit to ſtrive with them? Was it not to lead them to Repentance, that thereby they might have Avoided that Deſtruction, which by their Rebellion and ſtifneſs of Spirit, againſt God's good and Tender Spirit, they were fitted for and expoſed to? See Rom. 2. 4. So for Cain, How tenderly did God deal with him! how uprightly did God ſeek his Good! Would not God have had him come to a true ſenſe and Repentance? Would not God have had him believed and offered in the Faith, and been excepted as his brother was? And for Pharoah: God, indeed, was againſt that nature and Spirit in him, which oppreſſed Iſrael: but would not the Lord have had him denied and turned from that nature and Spirit, and let Iſrael go? God would have no man do evil, and bring upon themſelves Deſtruction, though in his juſt Judgment, he is many times provoked to give men up to that, which leadeth into and hardneth in Evil. So not onely Pharaoh, but Iſrael alſo was given up to their own hearts Luſts when they would none of the Lord, nor hearken to his council, Pſal. 81. 12. But, ſaith the Lord, O that it had been otherwiſe! O that my People had hearkened unto me, &c. it ſhould then have been otherwiſe with them, ver. 13. &c.

So that God, of himſelf, doth not deſire the Deſtruction of his Creature? nor doth he deſire to harden them or to give them up to a deluding Spirit, that they might be damned: but men firſt refuſe the Truth and turn from it, or let it go; not receiving it in the love of it, or not liking to retain the knowledge of it (which is Death to the man's corrupt nature, ſpirit, will and wiſdom, and ſuch a Croſs and Yoke, as he is in no wiſe willing to bear:) and then the Lord, in his juſt Judgment, gives them up to the Deceitfulneſs of Sin, to be hardned by it. Now this liveth in God's own Breaſt when and to whom to do it, according to his own Will, and according to his own Wiſdom and Council; ſo that it may be truly and properly ſaid, He hath Mercy and compaſſion on whom he will, and whom he will he hardeneth. But that God hath determineth to harden any, without giving them a Day of Mercy; or that it is Gods will and determinate Counſel, that men ſhould reject the Day of his Mercy, and precious Invitation, that they might be hardened by him and periſh: This is not God's Truth, but mens Miſ-Apprehenſions upon true words, gathering Meanings therefrom in their own wiſdom, and not waiting upon God till he cauſe the true Light to ſhine in them, and thereby give them the True Knowledge and Underſtanding.

Therefore, ſince there is ſuch Mercy in God towards all, and he hath given all men a Day of Viſitation, greater or leſſer; yea, ſince of late he hath cauſed his Light to ſhine forth, and given this Age ſuch a viſitation, as many Ages have not had: O let men take heed how they cloſe their Eyes, ſtop their Ears, and harden their hearts againſt it; leſt they provoke God to give them up to their own imaginary conceited, fleſhly comprehenſive knowledge of the Letter, and ſo ſeal them up in that hardneſs of Heart and deafneſs of Spirit, which they firſt gave themthemſelves up to. For the Letter without the Spirit killeth: And ſo doth all litteral Knowledg: and there needs no greater Curſe from God (it will ſufficiently avenge the Cauſe of his Reproached Light, and Holy Covenant of Life in Chriſt Jeſus, now abundantly Revealed and made Manifeſt) then to cloſe mens Eyes, and ſtop their Ears, and harden their Hearts (in their Litteral Knowledges and Practiſes) from beholding and partaking of the precious Life and Vertue of this holy and Living Miniſtration in Chriſt Jeſus the Lord, wherewith God Viſiteth and Redeemeth his People.

Indeed the Phyſitian is come inwardly and ſpiritually, and he inwardly Heals and Reſtoreth his People; faithfully, ſeeking after the Sick, the Diſtreſſed, the Broken, the Wounded; pouring Oyl into their Wounds, and healing them. But there are ſome, who are ſo ſound and whole in their notional Apprehenſions and Practiſes, that they have no need of the Phyſitian: And then the Phyſitian paſſeth by, as unworthy of him, and whom he intendeth ſhall have no ſhare with him. Ephraim is joyned to Idols (he is well, he hath enough, he hath no need of me) let him alone, ſaith the Lord. I will pour out the choice Vertue of my Spiritual Life, and Redeeming Power, among my gathered Sheep and Lambs, who have need thereof, and will rejoyce therein. Theſe will know my Voice, theſe will juſtify the appearance of my Spirit and Power, theſe love the ſavour of my Anointing and precious Oyntment which runs down from the Head upon all the Living Body: And theſe ſhall have it. Theſe underſtand how I have Mercy on whom I will, and whom I will, I Harden: And it is my Will to have Mercy on theſe, my once greatly Diſtreſſed Ones, and to deſtroy (inwardly to deſtroy, O who knows what that meanes) the Fat and the Strong, and to feed them with judgment. O that men did know to whom the Mercy, and to whom the Judgement belongs. To the Wiſdom of the Fleſh, to the Wiſe Comprehenders of the things of God after the Fleſh, is the judgment: to the Poor, to the Diſtreſſed, to the Broken in Spirit (not to them that are at eaſe in their Litteral Knowledg, but to the Mourners in Sion after the Holy God, and his living Power and Righteouſneſs) is the Everlaſting Goſpel, the Mercy, the Love, the Peace, the binding-up, the Redemption which is by Chriſt Jeſus, the Living Miniſter in the Holy Sanctuary of our God. THE END.

NAKED TRUTH; or, TRUTH Nakedly manifeſting it ſelf in ſeveral Particulars, for the Removing of Hindrances out of the way of the Simple-hearted, that they may come to true Knowledge, Life, Liberty, Peace and Joy in the Lord, through the vertue and power of his precious Truth, revealed and working in them. Bleſſed are the Eyes, which ſee the Things that ye ſee, Luk. 10. 23.

THE PREFACE.

TRue Knowledge, and true Experience, eſpecially concerning Things of Neceſſity, and great concern to the Soul, is very Precious. As to know the True Foundation, the Corner-Stone, which God layes in his Spiritual Sion; and the Heavenly Jeruſalem, which is the Mother of all that are Born of God; and the Gathering out of the Spirit of this World (with the Vanity and Falſhood thereof) into God's Spirit; which is Truth, and no Lye: and the Building up of the Holy Temple, in which God appears, and is worſhipped; and the Heavenly Communion with the Father and Son, in the one pure Light, which ſhines from them into the Heart; and the one Faith, the one Circumciſion, the one Baptiſm, the one Holy Mountain, the one Feaſt of Fat Things made thereon; the one Water of Life, the one Bread, the one Cup of Salvation, &c.

Now the Things of the Kingdom, are all at the Diſpoſe of the King thereof: To him all Power is given, in him are hid all the Treaſures of Wiſdom and Knowledge; he hath Life in himſelf, and he hath Life to diſpoſe of, and diſpenſe to his. He gives the true Knowledge, which is Life Eternal: He gives Repentance, and Remiſſion of Sins. He teacheth to believe in the Father, and he giveth Faith alſo. He is the Shepherd of the Sheep; who by his Voice quickneth, and maketh alive, and leadeth, and preſerveth, and nouriſheth up to Life Eternal. Therefore, whoever will underſtand aright, muſt receive Underſtanding from him; and whoever will repent aright, muſt receive Repentance from him; and whoever will believe aright, muſt receive Faith from him; and whoever will hear and ſee aright, muſt receive an Ear and Eye from him; and whoever will come unto him, and receive him, muſt witneſs that new Heart forming or formed in him, wherewith and whereby he is received. Men greatly miſtake and erre about the Goſpel-Knowledge and Religion, by beginning therein without the Goſpel-Spirit and Power.

Therefore, that Man that would not be deceived, and loſe his Soul for ever; let him take heed how he begins, how he ſtands, and how he proceeds in his Religion. The Jews-State ſtood in the Revelation of God's Spirit and Power outwardly; and the State of the Chriſtians, the New-Covenant-State ſtands in the Revelation of God's Spirit, and Power inwardly. For none can beget a New-Birth to God inwardly, but his own Spirit and Power, working inwardly in the Heart.

Therefore, thou that would'ſt live with God for ever, and not periſh from the Preſence and Glory of his Power, mind theſe Three things.

Firſt, God's inward Viſiting thee, and making a real Change in thee. I do not mean, a Change in thy Mind, from one Notion to another; but a Change in thy Heart, from one Nature and Spirit, to another. This is the Great Work, which nothing but the mighty Power of GOD, which raiſed Jeſus from the Dead, can effect in the hearts of the Children of Men! Now that this may be wrought out in thee, wait for the appearing and working of that Power, which (by its appearing and working) doth effect it dayly more and more, in thoſe that unite to it, and give up to its operations. O wait to feel the Power begetting ſomewhat of its own Nature in thee, leavening thee into its Nature by the pure Heavenly Leaven, wherewith God waits to leaven thy Heart. Thus feel thy beginning from the true Root, from the Holy Principle, from the Seed of the Kingdom: and then wait to feel that grow up in thee, and to grow up therefrom: that as the beginning is pure, ſo the growth may be pure alſo. For after God hath viſited thee, and begotten ſomwhat in thee, and leavened thee in ſome meaſure; ſo that there is true Life, true Senſe, true Hungerings, true Breathings after the Lord, and his Righteouſneſs, after the Fountain of living Waters: then (in the next place) mind and wait to learn of the true Teacher, how to come to the true Waters, that thou mayeſt drink thereof, and of no dirty puddle, of thy own or any others forming. Where are theſe Waters diſpenſed, and where are they to be found? Why, in the New-Covenant, which God makes with the Hungry and Thirſty Souls, as they come to the Shepherd, and hear his Voice, and learn of him, and follow him. Therefore, thou muſt wait to diſtinguiſh Spirits, and the knocks of Spirits in thy own Heart. Thou muſt know when the Shepherd knocks, and when the ſtranger knocks: and let in the ſhepherd when he knocks: and not let in the ſtranger when he knocks. Thus by knowing him, enclining thine Ear to him, and hearing his Voice; thou comeſt to have the everlaſting Covenant made with thy Soul, even the ſure Mercies of David; wherein the Union with God is ſure, the Teacher ſure, never more to be removed from thee; the fear which God puts into the heart ſure; the Law of the new life ſure, being ſo written in thy Heart, by the finger of Gods Spirit, as none can blot out; the love of God ſure, his preſervation ſure, the Inheritance of Life ſure. O ſweet Covenant! O holy Covenant! O bleſſed Covenant! and bleſſed are all thoſe Souls with whom God makes this Covenant, and who are kept by him in the ſenſe and enjoyment of it!

Now,

Now, Lastly; After God hath made this Covenant with thee, and spoken Peace to thee, and given thee of the Power, Righteousness, and Joy of the Kingdom, and set the holy Hedge of his Power and VVall of salvation about thee; thou must take heed of going forth after any Lust, after any desire of the Flesh, after any temptation of the Enemy: Thou must keep within the holy Limits, and not touch any dead or unclean thing, lest thou be Defiled, and so in degree separated from him who is Pure.

The occasion of what follows was briefly thus.

There was a Controversy between me and another, about many of these things; towards whom my love was in a travel, And having a sense on my Heart, that the Enemy makes use of the wrong apprehensions and mistakes he begets in mens Minds about these things, contrary to the true Knowledge and Experience, which God giveth to the Children which are Born of the Heavenly VVomb, who indeed alone can rightly plead for and justify their Mother, in this day of great strife and contention about the Kingdom and right Heir thereof; I say, having this sense on my Heart, and these things naturally springing up and opening in me upon this Occasion, I was drawn in Love, and in the motion of Life, thus to give them forth to others, hoping that the Lord may thereby open the minds of some towards, and confirm the minds of others in the sense and belief of the Truth, and the inward manifestation of his Spirit, which discovers and strives against the darkness, lusts, and corruptions in them. The Lord give People the sense of the strivings and repooofs of his holy Spirit inwardly in their Hearts, and joyn their spirits thereto, that they may receive Light, Life, Vertue and Strength from his holy Spirit, and thereby witness the overcoming and keeping under the Enemy of their Souls, that they may know what it is, to have the Seed of the VVoman bruise the Serpents Head in their own particulars, that so the Holy Child Jesus may be Exalted (his Horn Exalted in them) and he may Reign and exercise his Government in them, and they may become Kings and Priests to God, and Reign in him, over all that his Power is ordained to break and keep under, yea utterly consume and destroy, in the Hearts of those that submit themselves willingly to him, and walk in the Light and Leadings of his Holy Spirit, Amen.

NAKED TRUTH; or, Truth manifesting it self in several Particulars, for the removing of Hinderances, &c. Given forth by way of Question and Answer.

I. Concerning understanding the Holy Scriptures truly and aright.

Question.

Whether the Scriptures can be understood aright, without the Light of God's Holy Spirit shining inwardly in the Heart, and giving the true Understanding of them?

Answ. No, not possibly: for as the outward Eye cannot possibly see, without the shining of some outward Light; No more can the inward Eye see without the shining of the inward Light. God who Commanded Light to shine out of Darkness, causeth the Light of His Spirit to shine in the Hearts of People, according to His Holy Pleasure; and thereby they come to see. God seeth all things in his own Light, in the light of his Pure, Eternal Spirit: and in his Light do the Children of light see Light. The things of Gods Kingdom are Holy Mysteries, and the Words whic' he speaks concerning those Holy Mysteries, none can understand, but as he pleaseth to Open and Reveal them. He hath given us an understanding to know him that is true, 1 Joh. 5.20. The Inspiration of the Almighty giveth Understanding (Job 32. 8.) without which Man is Dead, and can neither Hear nor See, nor Understand any of the Things of God's Kingdom.

II. Concerning the Illuminating Spirit, and Sanctifying Spirit.

Queſt. Whether the Illuminating and Sanctifying Spirit be one and the ſame Spirit or no? Becauſe it is affirmed by ſome (and written by one to me as a ſound diſtinction of Divines, which diſtinction, he ſaith, he hath a mind I ſhould learn) that there is a Spirit of Sanctification, and that is peculiar to the Godly; and there is a Spirit Illuminating, and that is oft vouchſafed to the wicked, as it was to Balaam.

Anſw. The Spirit which Illuminateth, and the Spirit which Sanctifieth, is one and the ſame Spirit: And the Illumination of the Spirit is in order unto Sanctification. The ſame Light which diſcovereth the Darkneſs, alſo chaſeth away the Darkneſs, as it is received and ſubjected to, and purifieth the mind: for the Light hath not only a property of enlightening, but alſo of Cleanſing and Sanctifying. And the reaſon why Men are not Changed, Juſtified, and Sanctified, in and by the Light, is, becauſe they love it not, and bring not their hearts and deeds to it; and ſo it is their reprover and condemner, and not their Juſtifier and Sanctifier. But the ſame Spirit, Light and Life, which Enlighteneth, alſo Sanctifieth; and there is not another.

III. Concerning the Holy Spirit of God, and the Holy Scriptures.

Queſt. Whether they be always joyned; or ſome may have the Spirit, who have not the Scriptures; and ſome may have the Scriptures, who have not the Spirit.

Anſw. The Holy Spirit of God, and the Holy Scriptures, are not always joyned together; for ſome in the dark corners of the Earth may be viſited by the Spirit, become ſenſible of the Spirit, and receive the Spirit, who never heard of the Scriptures; and many may have the Scriptures, and yet be very ignorant of, and ſtrangers to Gods Holy Spirit, as the Jews were, who had them Read in their Synagogues every Sabbath day, and yet Chriſt told them, you neither know the Scriptures, nor the Power of God.

IV. Concerning the Law of the Lord which is Perfect, and which Converts the Soul.

Queſt. What is the Law of the Lord which is Perfect, and Converts the Soul? is it the outward Law or Writing in the Letter, or the inward Law and Writing in the Spirit?

Anſw. No Man is, or ever was, or ever can be Converted to God from the inward Law of Sin & Death, but by the inward Law of Life and Righteouſneſs Written in his Heart. And I am ſure that Law is Perfect. The New Covenant is Perfect, and the Law thereof Perfect, the Law of the Spirit of Life in Chriſt Jeſus Perfect, which Converts the mind to Chriſt, the Righteouſneſs of God, and ſets it free from the Law of Sin and Death. And David was a ſpiritual Man, and knew the inward Covenant, and the inward Creating of the Heart anew, and Gods Holy and free Spirit, and the Law and Teſtimony thereof. I will grant a great deal to the Letter and Miniſtration outward; but I muſt Attribute more to the inward; or elſe Gods Light, and the holy Experience which he hath given me, will Condemn me. And as the Jew outward had the Law, and Teſtimony, and Statutes outward; ſo I am ſure the true Jew, the Jew inward, hath the Law, and Teſtimony, and Statutes inward, Written in his Heart by the Finger of Gods Spirit; yea and the ſame Spirit put within him, to cauſe him to keep this Law, and the Holy Teſtimony, Statutes and Judgments of the Lord: and the ſpiritual Jacob, and Iſrael of God, in this the day of their Redemption and Salvation from on High, do follow the Lamb whitherſoever he goes, and walk in the Light of the Lord.

V. Concerning David's longings, expreſt in Pſal. 42. Pſal. 43. and Pſal. 119. and other places.

Queſt. Were Davids longings more after the Law outward, or after the Law and Light of Gods Spirit inward.

Anſw.

Anſw. David was a Man after Gods own heart, a Man that knew an inward and clean Heart of Gods Creating, and knew the free Spirit of the Lord, and the freſh ſpringing Life thereof, and the leadings of the pure living Truth inwardly in his heart, and this was it he moſt eſpecially prized and longed after. Create in me a clean Heart, O God, and renew a right Spirit within me, and take not thy Holy Spirit from me, &c. ſaith he (Pſal. 51. 10, 11) after his fall, ſhewing what he had been acquainted with before, and what he now (God having touched his Spirit afreſh) began to long after again. And, ſaith he, in another place, O ſend out thy Light and thy Truth; let them lead me, let them bring me unto thy Hill, and to thy Tabernacles, Pſal. 43 3. O the ſweetneſs of Light within, Truth within, O the precious leadings and drawings thereof; which were once felt, upon a freſh and tender remembrance thereof, cannot but be longed after again!

VI. Concerning the Sun, or Fountain of Spiritual Light.

Queſt. Whether the Holy Scriptures, or written Teſtimonies be the Sun or Fountain, and the Light within, but a Ray or Stream from them? (as is affirmed by my Antagoniſt.)

Anſw. It is juſt quite contrary: For the holy Men ſpake the holy Words, from the inward Light and quickning Life of Gods Spirit within them: ſo that that was the Fountain in them, and is ſo ſtill. With thee is the Fountain of Life. And he that believeth, as the Scriptures have ſaid, out of his Belly ſhall flow Rivers of living Water. This ſpake he of the Spirit (John 7. 39.) that's the Fountain. The Water that I ſhall give him, ſhall be in him a Well of Water ſpringing up into everlaſting Life, Joh. 4. 14. Who eſteems and honours the Scriptures aright? He that believes their Teſtimony, comes to Chriſt, and makes his Spirit, Light and Life all: Or he that ſets the Scriptures in the ſtead of that Word of Life which they came from, Teſtify of, and point men to, as the Fountain and Foundation of Life and Salvation to all Mankind?

VII. Concerning the Words being a Fire and a Hammer, to burn up the Chaff and break the Rocks in pieces.

Queſt. Is the Word, which is a Fire and Hammer, the Teſtimonies and Declarations of the Holy Scriptures without, or the Word nigh in the Mouth and Heart?

Anſ. That which I have felt Hammering inwardly, that which I have felt burning inwardly (unquenchably, as the mind has been kept to it) has been the Word of Life it ſelf, from which the good words and Holy Teſtimonies proceed. That which does the work in the inward Jew, is the inward Miniſtration of the inward Covenant, the Appearance of God there: He is the conſuming Fire, he is the Spirit of Judgment and Burning, who by his holy Flamings inwardly, Burns up the filth of the Daughter of Sion. A man may be exerciſed in the Letter all his days, and yet Witneſs nothing of this inwardly in Truth and Righteouſneſs: But he whom the Spirit of Judgment, and Burning inwardly comes nigh, and whoſe Fleſh is kept in that Holy Furnace, it will be conſumed there day by day, until it be quite waſted and deſtroyed; and ſo he come to be judged according to the Fleſh, and to live to God in the Spirit.

VIII. Concerning God's Writing his Law in the Heart.

Queſt. How doth God Write his Law in the Heart?

Anſw. By his Spirit and Power working there, whereby he both Creates a new Heart, and Writes the new Law, even the Law of the Spirit of Life in Chriſt Jeſus, in the new Heart. The Iſles ſhall wait for his Law. Whoſe Law? The Law of the Meſſiah, the Law of Grace, which gives Dominion; the Law of the Anointing, the Law of the New-Birth, the Law of the Holy Seed. His Seed remaineth in him, 1 Joh. 3. 9. In that Seed is the new Nature, and the new Law both. What is the Law of Sin? VVhat is the Law of Death? How is it written in the Heart? How doth the Enemy write it there, but by his corrupt Spirit and Nature? And doth not God by his holy Spirit and Nature write the new Law, the law of Life in the Hearts of of thoſe that are Renewed and made tender to the Impreſſions of his Holy quickning Power: every motion and drawing whereof, is a Law to them who are born of the Spirit, and taught of God to eye and walk after the quickning Spirit.

IX. Concerning the inward Light of God's Spirit.

Queſt. What is it which the Mind is to be turned to, to Enlighten it, and to work the darkneſs and corruption out of it?

Anſw. It is no leſs than the Light of God's Spirit; nothing elſe can do it. The day-ſpring muſt ariſe from on high in the heart, or there will be night for ever there. All notions or apprehenſions concerning the Light will not do it: it is the ſhining of the Light alone inwardly, which is able to expel the darkneſs there. It was not for nothing that Chriſt came a Light to enlighten men; and directed men to follow him the Light, that they might not abide in Darkneſs; and that he ſent his Apoſtles with this meſſage, that God is Light, and in him is no darkneſs at all; and ſo gave his Apoſtles wiſdom, authority and power to turn men from the darkneſs to the light. And if the darkneſs was within, which they were to be turned from, ſurely the light muſt ſhine within, to diſcover the darkneſs; and to that light muſt they be turned. And in this light the holy Spirit is received, and dwells there; but out of this light, and the limits thereof, in every heart, dwells the unclean and dark ſpirit, and hath power and rule there: for nothing but the light and ſtrength of Gods Spirit is able to break his Kingdom, and dominion inwardly in the heart.

X. Concerning the Miniſters and Miniſtry of the Goſpel.

Queſt. Who are the Miniſters, and what is the Miniſtry of the Goſpel?

Anſw. They are the Miniſters of the Goſpel, who have received that ſpirit and power wherein the Miniſtry of the Goſpel ſtands. For Chriſt came in the ſpirit and power of the Father, and he ſends his Apoſtles and Miniſters in the ſame ſpirit and power, that they might be able to beget, and reach to that birth, which is to be begotten and miniſtred to. It is one thing to be a Miniſter of the Law, and to miniſter Letter: and another thing to be a Miniſter of the Goſpel, and to miniſter Spirit. The Apoſtles were able Miniſters of the New-Teſtament; not of the Letter, but of the Spirit: and ſo are all in a degree, who ſucceed them in any meaſure or proportion of their Miniſtry. For the Miniſtry of the Goſpel is in the Light, Spirit, and Power of the moſt High, to turn peoples minds to a proportion of the ſame Light, Spirit, and Power in themſelves, and ſo to come to the manifeſtation, and quickning of the ſame Life in themſelves, that ſo they may walk in the ſame Light. For the Life is the Light: and he can never have Light, or ſee Light, who comes not firſt to feel ſome vertue from the quickning Power. O how precious is this Miniſtry! bleſſed be the Lord, for his renewing of it in theſe our days! And this Miniſtry is not to be confined to an outward order of men, as the miniſtry of the law was: but whoever hath received the gift, ſo he is to miniſter, as the Lord guides, leads, and orders him in the uſe of that gift which he hath beſtowed upon him for that end. And what if he be an herdſman, a fiſherman, a tentmaker or the like? yet if God hath poured out his Spirit upon him, and openeth his Mouth, he hath not only liberty, but more, even authority from the Lord God Almighty to ſpeak in his name, either for turning men unto Chriſt, the light and life of men, or for building men up in their holy faith in him, whoſe ſpirit and power was, and is the Reſurrection in the life for evermore.

XI. Concerning trying of Spirits, and ſearching the Heart.

Queſt. What is it which ſearcheth the Heart, and infallibly tryes Spirits.

Anſw. Gods Spirit, Gods word nigh in the heart and mouth, ſeparateth and giveth true diſcerning and judgment there, to all whoſe ears are circumciſed and inclined to it. Gods Spirit is the ſpirit of judgment; and where he is given, the

ſpirit

ſpirit of judgment is given; and he judgeth in his children by the quickning life and ſenſe he beſtoweth on them, which diſtinguiſheth between life and Death, between truth and deceit; yea, between the ſame words, when they come from the dead ſpirit, and when they are ſpoken in his living power: Chriſt gives his ſpirit to his ſheep, which gives them to know his voice; to know when life ſpeaks, and when words are living, and food for the living; and in what mouth they are dead, and cannot yield living nouriſhment.

XII. Concerning things neceſſary to Salvation.

Queſt. Whether all things neceſſary to Salvation be contained in the Scriptures?

Anſw. The Scriptures give teſtimony concerning the one thing neceſſary to Salvation: but the thing it ſelf, Chriſt himſelf, the ſeed it ſelf is not contained in the Scriptures, but revealed in the ſhinings of the true light, and ſo received or rejected inwardly in the heart. Behold I ſtand at the Door and knock. Bleſſed are they that hear his voice, and believe him knocking, and open to him; and receive him who gives eternal life, and power to become Sons of God, to as many as receive him, and believe in, and give up to the inward revealings of his redeeming arm and power therein, To whom is the arm of the Lord revealed? They in and to whom this arm is revealed, Chriſt is revealed: and they, in whom, and to whom Chriſt is revealed, know the one thing neceſſary, even him who is life eternal, in whom all other neceſſary things are wrapped up, and by whom they are conveyed to the Soul, according to its need, by him who is faithful in all his houſe, and takes care of every ſheep which the Father committeth to him.

XIII. Concerning the true Goſpel-Church: or Society.

Queſt. What is the true Goſpel-Church, or Society?

Anſw. A company of true believers in the ſpirit and power of the Lord Jeſus Chriſt. A company of true Jews, inward Jews, Jews in Spirit, of the true circumciſion, whom the Father hath ſought out, and made true inward worſhippers: Such as are gathered to the name, and gathered together in the name of the Lord Jeſus, to offer up ſpiritual ſacrifices to God through him. A company of living Stones, who have received life from him the Foundation-ſtone, and meet together to wait upon, and worſhip the Father, in the life and ſpirit which they have received from him. This is the holy Church, or living aſſembly of the New-Teſtament: bleſſed are they that are of it! For about this Church is the wall of Salvation: and they that are added by Gods ſpirit and power to this Church, and abide in it, ſhall certainly be Saved.

XIV. Concerning the way to Salvation.

Queſt. Which is the certain and infallible way to Salvation?

Anſw. It is a new and living way; it is ſuch a way, as none but the living can walk in. It is an holy way, which none but the cleanſed, the ranſomed, the redeemed of the Lord, can ſet one ſtep in. The way, the life and the truth are all one: bleſſed are they that find it, and walk in it. In plain and expreſs terms, It is the Lord Jeſus, the light of the Lord Jeſus, the life of the Lord Jeſus, the Spirit of the Lord Jeſus, the Truth as it is in him, his wiſdom, his power, he himſelf the covenant or holy limit between God and the Soul. He that comes into him comes into the way: he that abides in him, abides in the way: he that walks in him, walks in the way. He that comes to his light, his life, his ſpirit, his truth in the inward parts, comes to him: he that abides therein, abides in him: he that walks therein, walks in him: and he that walks out of the light, and leadings of his Spirit, let him walk in what form he will, yet he walks not in him the way.

XV. Con-

XV. Concerning Chriſt's ſaving the Soul.

Queſt. How doth Chriſt ſave the Soul.

Anſw. By viſiting inwardly, knocking inwardly, appearing inwardly, cauſing the light of life to ſhine inwardly; and ſo enlightning and quickning inwardly, breaking the ſtrength of the enemy inwardly, and bringing out of the region and ſhadow of darkneſs inwardly, into the region and path of light. By the light and power of his ſpirit, he begets a child of light, which child of light, he brings out of Egypt the dark land, out of Sodom the filthy unclean land, out of Babylon the Land and City of confuſion (where the Spirit of the living God, and the holy order of life, and his precious government in the heart, is not ſo much as known) and brings him into the light, where He and his Father dwells. And this child of light is not of the nature of darkneſs, but light in the Lord, and walks in the light, as he is in the light: and by the further ſhining, and working of the light and life in him, he preſerves, and ſaves him daily more and more.

XVI. Concerning Regeneration or the New Birth.

Queſt. What is Regeneration or the New birth?

Anſw. It is an inward change by the ſpirit and power of the living God, into his own nature. It is a being, begotten of his Spirit, born of his Spirit, begotten into, and born of the very nature of his Spirit. (That which is born of the Spirit, is Spirit, Joh. 3.) It is not every change of mind, which is the right change: but only that which God by the very ſame power, wherewith he raiſed our Lord Jeſus Chriſt from the Grave, makes in the hearts of thoſe whom he viſits, who are ſenſible of, receive and are ſubject to his inward Life, Light, and Power.

XVII. Concerning true Holineſs.

Queſt. What is true Holineſs?

Anſw. That holy nature, and thoſe holy actions, which ariſe from the holy root: all elſe are but imitations of holineſs, not the true holineſs. The tree muſt be made good firſt, and then the fruit will be good alſo. There are many likeneſſes of the true holineſs, up and down in ſeveral profeſſions: but there is no real holineſs to be found, nor righteouſneſs neither, but in the trees of Gods planting, in the branches which are by him ingraffed into the true Vine and Olive-tree, whoſe ſtrength of vertue and holineſs lies in the ſap, which they daily receive from him.

XVIII. Concerning Chriſt's works outwardly in the days of his fleſh, and inwardly in the day, and inward ſhining of the light of his ſpirit in the heart.

Queſt. Which are greater, the works which Chriſt did outwardly on the Bodies of men, in the days of his fleſh, or which he doth inwardly in mens Minds and Spirits, by the powerful appearance, and operation of his Spirit? becauſe Chriſt ſaid, the works that he did, thoſe that believed on him ſhould do, and greater alſo, becauſe he went to the Father, Joh. 14. 12.

Anſw. Doubtleſs to reach to the Soul, and quicken the Soul, and raiſe the Soul out of the grave of death, and cure the blindneſs, deafneſs, hardneſs, and diſeaſes of the ſoul, is greater than the outward; and was ſignified by the outward.

XIX. Concerning the Yoke or Croſs of Chriſt.

Queſt. What is the Yoke or Croſs of Chriſt?

Anſw. It is inward, as that which is to be crucified is chiefly inward. It is that gift of God, that light of his Spirit, which is contrary to the darkneſs, contrary to all that that is corrupt; which wills againſt it and wars; and being received, ſubjected to, and born patiently, takes away the life of the fleſh, the will and wiſdom of the fleſh, and all the ſubtile reaſonings and devices of the fleſhly part; and ſo that languiſhes and dies, and Gods plant is eaſed of it; and the ſoul, abiding under this croſs, comes into the true, pure and perfect liberty, where it hath ſcope unto holineſs, freedom unto righteouſneſs, and is in ſtrait Bonds, and holy Chains from all liberty to the fleſh, and from all unholineſs and unrighteouſneſs of every kind.

XX. Concerning making our Calling and Election ſure.

Queſt. How may a man make his Calling and Election ſure?

Anſw. By making the gift of God ſure to him: by making that ſure to him, wherein the Calling and Election is. For the choice is of the ſeed, the holy ſeed, the inward ſeed, the ſeed of Gods Spirit, and of the creature, as joyned to the ſeed. God would have none to periſh, but would have all come to the knowledge of Chriſt, the Truth, who is the ſeed, in whom the Election ſtands: and his holy advice to men is, whom he begins to call and to lead towards the Election, To make their Calling and Election ſure. So that the way of making the Calling and Election ſure, is to make the gift ſure, the ſeed ſure, the leaven ſure, the pearl ſure, which God will never reject, nor any that are found in true Union with it, and in the love and obedience of it. O therefore, as God viſits with power (with his powerful gift) and as thou receiveſt power, dominion and authority over ſin (for in this gift is God's dominion and authority revealed) be faithful to the gift, be faithful to the power, give up to the truth in the inward parts, come into it, dwell in it, that thou mayſt feel its vertue and delivering nature, from every enſlaving and embondaging thing: and then ſtand faſt in the liberty, wherewith Chriſt the Lord (by the life, vertue, and power of his truth) ſets thee free. And ſo here thou wilt read thy Calling, and read thy Election day by day; and find them ſealed, and ſure to thee in that truth, in that gift, in that Heavenly Light, in that holy ſeed, which came from God, and is of him, and which he delights to own, and will never reject.

XXI. Concerning Prayer.

Queſt. Which is the true Prayer?

Anſw. The breathings which ariſe from the true birth, from the living ſenſe, which God gives to the true birth; that is the true prayer. There is a ſpirit of prayer, and ſupplication given by God to his children, to wreſtle, and prevail with him by. All prayer that ariſes from, and is given by that Spirit, is true prayer: all other prayer is not right and true, but at beſt, but an imitation of the true. We know not what to pray for as we ought, but the Spirit maketh interceſſion for us, with groanings which cannot be uttered. Mark, the very groanings that come from Gods Spirit, from his breathing, and work upon the heart, are right prayers in Gods ſight: but other ſighs and groans are not ſo.

XXII. Concerning Repentance.

Queſt. Which is the true Repentance?

Anſw. That which Chriſt gives, whom God hath exalted to be the Prince and Saviour, to give Repentance and Forgiveneſs of ſins, Acts 5. 31. It is not in man's power to repent: his heart is hard and impenitent. It is God's power which melteth, tendereth and changeth the heart. So that there is a great difference between the ſence and ſorrow of mans nature, and the ſenſe and ſorrow which God gives to the heart which he renews and changes. The one is of an earthly, the other of a heavenly nature. The one is like the early dew, or morning cloud, it ſoon paſſeth away: the other is written in the new heart, and abideth. So that in it there is a real ſorrow and mourning over the corrupt nature, and all the dead works of the fleſh, and a turning from them, and medling no more with them. This is the Repentance of the renewed ones, which is the gift of the Lord Jeſus Chriſt unto them, and is a godly ſorrow for ſin, not to be repented of.

Queſt. What is the true Faith?

Anſw. It is a belief, in the power which ſaves, from a true ſenſe and experience of it in the heart. For the power which ſaves, muſt firſt manifeſt it ſelf, before it can be believed in. And how doth it manifeſt it ſelf but by ſhining in the heart, which hath been darkened by tranſgreſſion, to open the eye of the underſtanding, which the God of the World hath Blinded, and to unſtop the deaf Ear? and ſo it begets and creates ſomewhat capable to receive its further manifeſtation. The Scripture ſpeaks of a new Creation in Chriſt. Indeed all true believers are ſo: and they have the ability, the faculty, the power of believing from him who creates them anew. There is that which is called Faith in unregenerate men: but that is not the Faith I am now ſpeaking of, but that which is the gift of God to his own birth, to his own begotten. To you it is given, not only to believe, &c. Phil. 1. 29. Mark, it is given to believe. O, this holy gift! this Faith of the new birth, is the Faith which pleaſeth God, prevaileth with him, purifieth the heart to which it is given, giveth acceſs to God, intereſt in his power and promiſes, and victory over the worldly nature, and over all the Soul's enemies. Bleſſed be the Lord for beſtowing and increaſing it in the hearts of his Children.

XXIV. Concerning Obedience.

Queſt. What is the true Obedience?

Anſw. The Obedience which flows from the true underſtanding of God's Will, and from the holy nature which he begets in the heart. It is the Obedience which flows from true ſenſe, true underſtanding, and true faith. There is no birth can believe aright, but one: nor is there any birth can obey aright, but that birth which believes aright. The true believing is from the quickning vertue of God's ſpirit, (all other Faith is but dead Faith) and the true Obedience is in the newneſs of the Spirit (Rom. 6. 4. and 7. 6.) Man may ſtrive to underſtand and obey all his days; but he can do neither, but as he is quickned, taught and enabled of the Lord. Teach me, O Lord, the way of thy ſtatutes, Pſal. 119. 33. There is a myſtical path of life. The way of wiſdom, the way of holineſs, the holy skill of obeying the truth is hid from all living, from all mankind; but ſuch as are begotten and brought up by him, in the holy skill and myſtery of ſubjection to the Lord. Thy people ſhall be a willing people in the day of thy power. It is the power of God that works the will in the heart, and the ſame power works to do alſo: and none can learn either to will or to do aright, but as they come to be acquainted with that power, joyned to that power, and feel that power working in them. And here, in this power, to this new Birth, Faith and the Holy Obedience are as natural, as unbelief and diſobedience is to the birth of the fleſh. It is frequently and abundantly experienced by his holy Birth, by the Child of his begetting. Bleſſed be the name of the Lord.

XXV. Concerning Juſtification.

Queſt. What is Juſtification, or how is a man juſtified in the ſight of God?

Anſw. By a true ſenſe of, and Faith in that which juſtifies; which is the ſpirit, the life, the water, the bloud, the vertue, the power of the Lord Jeſus. All theſe are one in nature, and they go together. Man is ſinful naturally, fallen from God, found a tranſgreſſor againſt him. Now he needs Juſtification from his ſins, and he needs Juſtification in reſpect of what God hath entruſted him with, and requires of him: and in the new birth, and joyning to the Spirit of the Lord Jeſus Chriſt, he meets with both. Being quickned by his Holy Spirit, turned from the Darkneſs, coming into the Light, and walking in the Light; there his ſins are done away, blotted out as if they had never been, for his Name ſake: And there he receiveth a new Ability, a new Heart, a new Spirit; yea the Spirit of the living God, to quicken him and work in him: and what ever he doth in this Spirit (or rather what God doth by him, in, and through this Spirit) is Juſtified, Owned, and Accepted; God finds no fault in any of the Fruits of of his own Spirit (in any of the Children of Men) but only in the Fruits of the Fleſh. And if for want of watchfulneſs the Enemy ſhould prevail and draw into a Snare, yet upon turning to the Light of Gods Holy Spirit, which diſcovers and reproves for it; in the holy Light the Water flows, the Blood is ſprinkled, the Conſcience is Cleanſed, and ſo becomes clean even in God's ſight. O bleſſed is he, who is not deceived with dead Notions of Juſtification, but feels the Juſtification which comes from God and is accompanied with a living ſenſe, and with the Teſtimony his Holy Spirit.

Queſt. What are Good Works?

Anſw. The Works that flow from God's good Spirit, the Works that are wrought in God, they are good Works. The Works of the New Birth, of the New Creature, are good Works; whereas all the works of the Fleſh are bad, though never ſo finely Painted. All its thoughts, Imaginations, Reaſonings, Willings, Runnings, hunting to find out God and Heavenly Things, with all its Sacrifices are Corrupt, and Evil, having of the bad Leaven, of the bad Nature in them. Make the Tree good, or its Fruit can never be good. So that they are only the good Works, that flow from the good Tree, from the good Root. And here all the works of the Fleſh, though never ſo Glorious and taking in Mans Eye, are ſhut out by Gods meaſure, by God's Line and Plummet of Righteouſneſs and true Judgment: And every work of God's Spirit, the meaneſt work of Faith, the leaſt labour of true Love, the leaſt ſhining of Life in the Heart, and the giving up thereto, is owned by God, as coming from him, and wrought in him, who worketh both to Will, and to Do, of His own good pleaſure. He that is gathered to the Light, which God hath Enlightned him with, hath Received the Light, dwelleth in the Light, and walketh in the Light; the Spirit of the living God is near him, and dwelleth with him, and worketh in him; and he bringeth his Deeds to the Light, where it is manifeſt that they are wrought in God. But he that is out of the inward Light of God's Holy Spirit, his works are not wrought in God, and ſo can but make a fair ſhow in the Fleſh (to the fleſhly Eye) but are not good in God's ſight, The erring mans way and works are often right in his own Eyes: Ah, but bleſſed is he whoſe way and works are good and right in the Eye of the Lord, in the judgment of his ſearching Un-Erring Light and Spirit.

XXVII. Concerning Love.

Queſt. Which is the true Love.

Anſw. The Love which ariſeth from the nature which God begets, and from his Circumciſing the Heart from the other Nature. Love is the Beautiful thing. What can be higher expreſſed concerning God himſelf, than to ſay he is Love? Love is greatly commended and admired, and there are many pretenders to it: but none have the true Love, but only thoſe that are Born of God, and Circumciſed by him. The Lord thy God will Circumciſe thine Heart, and the Heart of thy Seed, to love the Lord thy God, with all thine Heart, and with all thy Soul, that thou mayeſt live, Deut. 30. 6. Mark, The true Love ariſeth from the true Circumciſion. And the more a man comes to have his Heart Circumciſed from the fleſhly Nature, and to grow up in the Pure and heavenly Nature, the more he Loves. God is Love: And the nigher any one comes to him, and the more he partakes of him, the more he becomes Love in the Lord, and the more he is taught of God to Love the Lord his God, and his Brethren in the Spirit, and all mankind, who are of his Blood (for of one Blood God made all mankind) according to the Fleſh, or according to a natural Conſideration.

XXVIII. Concerning Meekneſs and Patience.

Queſt. Which is the true Meekneſs and Patience?

Anſw. The Meekneſs and Patience which ariſeth from the Lambs nature. Deceit will put on an appearance of Love; and deceit will put on alſo an appearance of Meekneſs and Patience: but it cannot put on the true Love, the true Meekneſs and Patience. That is only learned of the Lamb, and received of him by receiving of his Spirit and Nature from him. And O how precious is this, how ſweet is it felt in the heart! To feel a meek, a quiet, a patient Spirit in the midſt of all trials, all troubles, all fears, all doubts, all temptations of every kind. Indeed this is of much price in the ſight of the Lord, and alſo in the eye of him who hath received it from the Lord, and enjoyeth it in him, and poſſeſſeth his Soul in it.

XXIX. Concerning the Knowledg of the new Covenant.

Queſt. What is the knowledg of the new Covenant?

Anſw. The Knowledg which is given by God to the new birth: for to it the new Covenant belongs, and the Knowledg thereof. The truly begotten of God, the true diſciples of Chriſt, to them it is given to know the Kingdom of God, but to others it is not given. The Jew outward, the firſt birth, the birth after the fleſh; for them the Prieſts lips were to preſerve knowledg, and they were to ſeek the law at his mouth, and to them God ſent Prophets to ſpeak to them, and taught them by his Prophets: but concerning the inward Jews, the Children of the new Covenant, the Children of the Jeruſalem which is above, concerning her ſeed it was propheſied, that they all ſhould be taught of the Lord, they all ſhould hear and know the voice of the Shepheard himſelf, they ſhould all be gathered to the Shepheard and Biſhop of the Soul, and taught by him. So that in this new, holy, living Covenant, God himſelf is the Shepheard, God himſelf is the Teacher: not only of the greateſt, but of the very leaſt, Heb. 8. For he teacheth them all to know the Lord, and to know his Son, and to come to his Son, and to love him their Father, and one another. So that he that is taught of God, he hath the true knowledg, the living knowledge, the ſubſtantial knowledg, the knowledg of the thing it ſelf, of the life eternal it ſelf. All that are not thus taught (but learn only from a litteral deſcription and relations of things) have not the knowledg of the new Covenant, the knowledg of the thing it ſelf: but only an outward knowledg, ſuch as the firſt birth may catch at, lay hold on, and comprehend.

XXX. Concerning the Fear of the new Covenant.

Queſt. What is the Fear of the new Covenant?

Anſw. It is the Fear which God puts in the hearts of his Children, which Fear cleanſeth their hearts, and keepeth them from departing from their God. There is a great deal of difference between the Fear, which may be learned from precepts from without, and the Fear, which God puts in the hearts of his Children, from a root of life within; which Fear is of an heavenly nature, and is the free gift of God to his own heavenly Birth, and none elſe: which no man can poſſibly attain by any thoughts or reaſonings of his own, but only by the ſpringings of life from God. And he that would have this Fear, muſt know the place of wiſdom, and wait there for it; and when he hath it, this Fear will ſoon begin to make him wiſe towards Salvation, and teach him to depart from evil, which is the cauſe of deſtruction; Job. 28. 28.

XXXI. Concerning Hope.

Queſt. What is the true Hope?

Anſw. The ſtay of the mind upon the Lord, the ſtay of the heavenly birth upon its Father. For we muſt diſtinguiſh between Hope and Hope. There is the Hope of the hypocrite, or falſe birth, which ſhall periſh: and the Hope of the true birth, which will never fail it, nor make it aſhamed; becauſe that birth is taught of God to hope aright. Now in Hope, there is both the ground of it, and the Hope it ſelf. The ground of the Hope is God's Love, God's Truth, God's Faithfulneſs, God's Grace, his Seed, his Chriſt felt within; being of him, united to him, in him, him, he in me; here's the ground of my aſſurance of the everlaſting glory and inheritance, which is ſure to the ſeed, and to all that are of, and in the ſeed. So knowing Chriſt within me, feeling Chriſt within me, living in him, and he in me, I have an Anchor ſure and ſteadfaſt, within the Vail; which no ſtorms, no tempeſts, no tryals, no temptations, preſent or to come, have power over. And then there is the Hope or hoping it ſelf, that is, the ſtaying of the Mind upon the Lord, the leaning upon the Lord, the retiring beyond all thoughts, or reaſonings, or lookings out, to the inward life; to feel ſomewhat ſpring from it, for the ſoul to Hope and truſt in, beyond all outward appearance. And this Hope never deceives nor makes aſhamed, thoſe who are taught of God thus to ſtay their minds upon him. Nay, though the ſtate be darkneſs, and no Light ſeen; yet beneath the darkneſs, there there is ſomewhat to ſtay the Mind of the Child, and Servants of the Lord, till he appear and cauſe Light to break out of Obſcurity; for light is ſown for the righteous, and Joy for the upright, even in their darkeſt, ſaddeſt, and moſt diſtreſſed conditions: in all which the Lord is near them, and there is ſtill ground for them to Hope in him.

XXXII. Concerning Peace.

Queſt. Which is the true Peace?

Anſw. The Peace which God ſpeaks to the Soul: the Peace which Chriſt gives to his own diſciples. The way of Truth, the way of Life leads to Peace: and the Peace which is found therein, is of God's giving, and is the true Peace. Firſt; God breaths upon the heart, begets a right birth, a true Child: then he leads him into the holy way, the righteous way, from that which loads and burthens, to that wherein is the eaſe and reſt. Thus in the believing and following him, there's Joy and Peace. This is experienced by all the true travellers, and by none elſe. No man, with all his wiſdom, knowledg, and underſtanding, can ſo much as gueſs at what this Peace is. The Peace of God, the Peace which he ſpeaks to his Children, the nature of it, the ſweetneſs of it, the heavenlineſs of it, paſſeth mans underſtanding: but he who is born from above, who hath a new and heavenly underſtanding, he knoweth the nature, excellency and preciouſneſs of it, and would not for all this World, for any fear or danger or expectation of any thing from without, hazard the breaking off this precious Peace and Reſt of his Soul in his God.

XXXIII. Concerning Joy.

Queſt. Which is the true Joy?

Anſw. The Joy which flows from God's preſence, and the Work of his power in the heart, and the aſſured expectation which he gives of the full inheritance and glory of life everlaſting. When the Bridegroom is preſent, when the ſoul is gathered home to him, married to him, in union with him, in the holy living fellowſhip; when he appears againſt the enemies of the Soul, riſing up againſt them breaking, ſcattering them, and giving of his good things, filling with Life, filling with Love, filling with Virtue, feaſting the Soul in the preſence of the Father. O what ſweet Joy! O what fulneſs of Joy is there then in the heart! In thy preſence is fulneſs of Joy, and at thy right hand are pleaſures for evermore, ſaid the Pſalmiſt, (Pſal. 16. 11.) Surely he had had a taſte of the thing, he had been in God's preſence, and that made him cry out, Caſt me not away from thy preſence, Pſal. 51. 11, and he had drunk of the river of God's Pleaſure, which is at his right hand, which made him ſpeak ſo ſenſibly of it, Pſal. 36. 8. and 46. 4. Chriſt ſaid to his diſciples, that becauſe of his going away, they ſhould have ſorrow: but he would ſee them again, and their heart ſhould rejoyce, and their Joy no man ſhould take from them, Joh. 16. 22. How, or when was this fulfilled? What were they ſorry for? Was it not the loſs of his outward preſence, which had been ſo ſweet and comfortable to them? How would he come to them again? Was it not by the Comforter? Was it not by his inward and ſpiritual preſence? So that he that was with with them ſhould be in them? Before they knew Chriſt with them, now they ſhould know Chriſt in them, the Father in them, and they in him Immanuel, the Goſpel-ſtate, God with us, dwelling with us, tabernacling in us, living in us, walking in us? and we living and walking in him. When the Apoſtles came to this ſtate; then they came to witneſs the Joy in the Holy Ghoſt, even the Joy unſpeakable and full of glory. And hence it is, that the Goſpel-ſtate is a ſtate of Joy, and rejoycing in the Lord, even in his glorious living preſence, and in the glory of his Power. For in the Goſpel-ſtate, the true light ſhines inwardly in the heart, the life is manifeſted and being manifeſted, they that come into the manifeſtation of it, come into the holy union, and into the holy fellowſhip with the Father and Son, where the Joy is, and where the Joy is full; where the power is revealed which does away that which is contrary to the holy fellowſhip, and hinders the holy Joy and rejoycing in the Lord. See 1 John 1. 3, 4.

XXXIV. Concerning Poverty of Spirit and Humility.

Queſt. Which is the right Poverty of Spirit, and the true Humility?

Anſw. That Poverty and Humility of Spirit, which ſpringeth from the ſame Root, from which the Faith, the Love, the Peace, the Joy, and the other heavenly things ariſe; and is of the ſame Nature. There is a voluntary Humility, and a voluntary Poverty, even of Spirit; which man caſts himſelf into, and forms in himſelf, by his own Workings and Reaſonings. This is not the true, but the falſe Image or counterfeit of the true. But then there is a Poverty, which ariſeth from God's emptying the Creature, from God's ſtripping the Creature; and an Humility which ariſeth from a new Heart and Nature. This is of the right kind, and is laſting, and abides in the midſt of the Riches and Glory of the Kingdom. For as Chriſt was poor in Spirit before his Father; and lowly in heart, in the midſt of all the fulneſs which he received from him: So it is with thoſe, who are of the ſame Birth and Nature with Chriſt. They are filled with Humility, and Cloathed with Humility, in the midſt of all the Graces and Heavenly Riches, which God fills them and adorns them with. Keep in the Faith, keep in the Truth, keep in the Light, keep in the Power; it excludes boaſting in or after the Fleſh, and keeps the Mind in that Humility, and Poverty of Spirit, which God hath brought, and daily further and further brings it into: And ſo the Humility and Poverty remains (poor in Spirit for ever, humble in Spirit for ever, nothing before the Lord for ever) even as that remains, which brought into that frame, and keeps in that frame for ever. And ſo the Lord of Life is only Exalted, and the Creature kept abaſed before him, and low for ever; and is nothing, but as the Lord pleaſeth to fill, and make it to be what it is. So what I am, I am by God's Love, by his Grace, by his Mercy, by his Goodneſs, by his Power, by his Wiſdom, by his Righteouſneſs, by his Holineſs; which he of his own good pleaſure communicateth and cauſeth to ſpring in me, and filleth and cloatheth me with, as ſeemeth good in his ſight.

The Concluſion.

THere is mention made in the Book of the Revelations, in the Epiſtles from Chriſt to the Seven Churches of Aſia, of a Tree of Life, which is in the midſt of the Paradice of God (the Fruit whereof, is good for Food, and the Leaves thereof, for the Healing of the Nations) and of hidden Manna, and a white Stone, and in the Stone, a new Name Written, which none knoweth but he that receiveth it, and of a Morning-Star to be given, and Power over the Nations to Rule their Spirit even as Chriſt hath Received of his Father: and of being Cloathed in White, and his Name Confeſſed before the Father (This is the Sheep of my fold, the Child of my Father's Begetting, who is Named by me among the Living, I know him by his Name, Joh. 10. 3.) as alſo of being a Pillar in the Temple of God, and of going no more out, but bearing the Name of God, and the Name of the City of God, the new Jeruſalem (which cometh down from God out of Heaven) and of Chriſt's new Name (Oh what is that! And of ſitting with Chriſt in his Throne, This is the Generation of Spiritual Kings, Kings, who have a Spiritual Kingdom, and a Spiritual Throne, even Christ's Kingdom and Christ's Throne, the Royal Priest-hood of God. O precious Things! O rich Glory! Surely Eye hath not seen, nor Ear heard, nor hath it entred into the Heart of Men to Conceive what these things are.

Now he that would witness these things, he that would Know, Experience, and enjoy these things, must mind that Seed, in which they are wrapped up, as in a Seed, and out of which they Spring, and shoot forth. The Kingdom is in the Seed, the Throne in the Seed, the Power in the Seed. He that is United to the Seed, and abideth in the Seed, receiveth Power from the Seed, and overcometh, shall Inherit all things. And I will be his God, and he shall be my Son, Rev. 21. 7. But he that will be so, must not be fearful or unbelieving, of overcoming sin, or his Souls Enemies, but must depend upon the Almighty, and alsufficient Power of God, which will give him Victory over sin, and keep him that he touch no unclean thing; that he may be Holy, as the Lord his God is Holy; and Righteous, even as the Lord his God is Righteous. Indeed it becometh the Heavenly Children to partake of the Divine Life, of the Heavenly Nature of their Father, and be like him. And he that partaketh of his Nature, of his Holiness (Heb. 12. 10.) is Holy, as he is Holy: And he that from the Holy Root of Purity and Righteousness, doth Righteousness; is Righteous, even as he is Righteous, 1 Joh. 3. 7. So it is written without, and so it is Testified within, by him that is Born of God, in whom the Seed remaineth, which overcometh the wicked One, bruiseth him and keepeth him under: and the just live by the Faith, which giveth Victory over him,

A PREFACE to the EXPERIENCES.

IT hath pleased the Lord, to unseal and open the Fountain of Life, in the midst of his Heritage: so that in his Light do they see Light, and in his Life do they reap and enjoy Life. And the precious Promises are fulfilled in the midst of them, of sending the Comforter, and pouring out of the Holy Spirit; so that he that believeth, out of his belly do flow rivers of living water. Yea the Lord hath a vineyard of his own planting, which he keepeth night and day (lest any hurt it) and watereth every moment. O the streams of Life, the streams of Love, the streams of Grace, the streams of Mercy, the streams of Peace, the streams of Joy and Consolation, which flow from him into the Bosoms of his Childeren! Indeed Grace and Mercy and Peace is multiplyed from God our Father, in and through the Lord Jesus Christ, daily: insomuch, as that saying of Christ to his disciples (John 14. 26, 27.) is now fulfilled: I say, not that I will pray the Father for you: for the Father himself loveth you, &c. the Father in his Love hath brought us to the Son, and the Son in the same Love hath brought us back to the Father: and now the Love flows from the Father, in and through the Son, most naturally and abundantly. And where the heart is Circumcised, and much forgiven, there also Love returns back most truly and naturally: So that the Lord our God, in the Lord Jesus Christ, is loved with all the heart, and with all the Soul, and nothing is thought too good to sacrifice to him, nor any thing too much to suffer for him. O the pure Love that Springs and Flows, between the Heavenly Father, and the Spiritual Child! The best love that is to be found in this World (in the Men of this World) is not worthy to be a shadow of it. God is Love: and his Children are of him, and partake of, and dwell in the same love; though the enmity and highest Wisdom of this World know them not, nor can know them; even as it never could know the Children of the true Wisdom formerly.

Now from this Fountain, do not only issue Springs and Streams of Life, to refresh our own hearts: but testimonies concerning the Life, which we feel and partake of, and concerning our travels from the dark Land, through the valley of tears (where he, who gave us Life, was our Well) towards our resting place. These many times spring up in us for the sakes of others: of which nature are the things which follow. For not for my own sake did they Spring up in me, at this time: but to signifie to others the Mercy the Lord hath shewn me, and the way wherein he hath led me, and what he hath given me to taste of, and experience in the way; which will answer every true palate, every palate that is seasoned with life, and with the true experience. And having received them from the Lord for this very end, to hold them forth to others: in Love and tenderness of Spirit, my heart is freely given up to him therein; not aiming at any thing thereby, but his glory singly, and the good of such Souls, to whom he shall please to extend favour and shew Mercy, in opening the heavenly Mistery of Life and Salvation to them.

I have often said in my heart, Who hath begotten me these? Who would have said that Sarah should have given Children Suck! My wound was deep, and seemed incurable. But blessed be the Lord, who hath made known to me the Physitian of value, for whom no disease is too hard; but he is able to cure every sickness, and to relieve and rescue all that are captived and oppressed by the Devil, that come unto him and wait upon him, in the way of his righteous judgments, and most tender Mercies. For after all my Religion and deep exercises, and inward experiences and knowledge, I came to such a loss of what I once had, that I sensibly felt I knew not the Lord, and lay continually Groaning and Mourning after him, and deeply afflicted for want of him. O the pure Light, and precious Life, and sweet presence of my God that my Soul wanted, insomuch that my moisture, was turned into the drought of summer, and my bones grown dry and withered! But at length, the Lord in his goodness (O blessed for ever be his name!) breathed upon the dry bones, and I felt Life enter from him into me, and the days of deep sorrow and distress were at length forgotten, because a man-child was at length conceived and brought forth. And now where's the Sack-Cloth? Wher's the Ashes? Oh ther's beauty in Life, instead of the Ashes in the state without Life; and the garment of praise, instead of the Spirit of heaviness! O Glory, Glory to the binder up of the bruised, and broken-hearted, to the Redeemer of the captives, to the repairer of the breaches, to the builder up of the wasted and desolate ones! Glory to his tender Mercy, Glory to his Grace, Glory to his Love, Glory to his Wisdom, Glory to his Power for ever and ever, Amen.

Some Experiences added.

I. Concerning the Seed of the Kingdom.

CONcerning the Seed of the Kingdom, this I have experienced, that it consists not in words or notions of the Mind, but is an inward thing, an inward spiritual substance in the heart, as real inwardly in its kind, as other Seeds are outwardly in their kind: and that being received by faith, and taking root in man, (his heart, his earth being ploughed up and prepared for it) it groweth up inwardly, and bringeth forth fruit inwardly, as truly and really, as any outward Seed doth outwardly. This Seed is known by its contrariety and enmity against the Seed of the Serpent, against all the Seeds of evil in the heart of Men; it discovering them, turning the mind from them, and warring against them, and bruising and overcoming them in all that receive it, and let in its holy nature, which as an holy leaven or salt, worketh out that which is unholy and unrighteous, dark and dead, and seasoneth with Light, with Life, with Grace, with the Holiness and Righteousness of truth.

II. Concerning the Souls Food.

The Souls Food is that which nourisheth it, which is the same with that which giveth it Life. Every word proceeding out of the mouth of God, every motion, every quickning, every operation of his Spirit is living, and nourisheth the Soul with Life, which receiveth it and feedeth on it. The spiritual Manna, the spiritual Water from the holy Well or Fountain, the Milk of the Word, the Flesh and Blood of the Son of the living God, his words which are spirit and Life nourish up the living birth unto life everlasting. How comes man to live at first: but by hearing the voice of him him that giveth life? And how comes man to live afterwards, and to increaſe in life, but by hearing the ſame voice ſtill? Encline your Ear, and come unto me: hear, and your Soul ſhall live, &c. Iſa. 55. 3. This I have alwayes experienced to give me Life, to nouriſh up and ſtrengthen me in Life? even freſh Life communicated from the living Fountain; and ſo my life is not in my ſelf, not in any thing I can comprehend concerning Chriſt? but in being joyned to him, in being ingrafted into him the holy root, into him the true Olive-tree, into his Spirit: and ſo by the ſap that ſprings up into me from him, my life is maintained and increaſed in me daily, Glory to his name for ever.

III. Concerning God's Power.

Concerning God's Power, this I have Experienced, that that is it which doth the Work in the Soul. It begets to God, it brings out of the Land of darkneſs, it leads through all the entanglements, and preſerves in the midſt of them all. It breaks down the old building of Sin and iniquity (both inwardly and outwardly, both in heart, and alſo in life and converſation) and raiſeth the new and holy building. It makes willing, it makes obedient, it gives to believe, it gives to ſuffer. O bleſſed be the Lord for the day of his Power, which is inwardly broken forth! O what would the poor Child do, (the poor Lambs in the midſt of Wolves, inwardly and outwardly) were it not for the Father's hand, the Father's arm, the Father's Power, which is ſtill with them, and compaſſeth them about! O bleſſed are they that know the miniſtration of life inwardly, the Power of life inwardly! For in Life, in the Seed of Life is the Holy Power, which is manifeſt, appears and works, as it gains ground on the Creature, to put forth and exerciſe in it the virtue and ſtrength, which it daily receiveth from its Father.

IV. Concerning Temptation.

Concerning Temptations, this I have Experienced, that the ſtrength and hurt of them, as to the Soul, lies in the ſouls looking at them. For the ſtrength of God is revealed in his Children againſt the tempter, which being patiently waited for and truſted in, will never fail them. The leaſt babe, the Lord would not have let in Temptation, and Sin: but watch to that, and keep joyned to that, which will preſerve out of the Temptation, and out of the Sin. God is faithfull who hath care of all his, and whoſe Promiſe is to all his: and as he would have none ſin; ſo none that diligently wait, ſhall want his Power to ſtand by them, to preſerve out of ſin. Look unto me, and be ſaved, all the ends of the Earth. It's univerſally true. Look unto me, truſt in me; look not at your ſelves, truſt not in your ſelves, look not at the Enemy, fear not the enemy; I will ſave you from every ſnare, every Temptation as your eye is ſteadfaſt upon me. What if the enemy come in like a floud, if the Spirit of the Lord lift up a ſtandard againſt him, can he prevail? what though he caſt fiery darts? What though he be ſet round about? Will not the ſhield of Faith quench them all? Will not the whole Armour of God defend and keep ſafe from them all? If the enemy be reſiſted Lawfully, that is, in true Faith in that Power which is engaged for the Soul againſt him; Doth not the Power of the Lord ariſe and ſcatter him, and ſtrengthen and eſtabliſh the Soul in the Grace, and in the Truth? O the holy myſtery of the heavenly Warfare, and of the working of the pure Power againſt the enemy, which overcomes all his impurities, and keeps clean from them! Look not at the enemy, let not in the reaſonings of the Mind, keep in the patience, keep in the pure fear, in the holy living ſenſe, be only what thou art in the ſeed, in the new birth, in the Life which God hath begotten in thee; then art thou ſafe, then art thou in the name of the Lord, which is the ſtrong Tower. The enemy indeed may make a noiſe about thee with his luſts, with his temptations, with his flouds, with his ſtorms, with his fiery darts: but he cannot enter thy habitation The Spirit of darkneſs, the Prince of darkneſs, is ſhut out of the Land and Light of the Living. Abide thou there: dwell in the Light, and walk in the Light, as God is in the Light, and he ſhall never have power over thee.

V. Concerning Prayer.

I have experienced Prayer to be the breathing of that birth which God begets, to the Father of Life which begat it; who by his Spirit makes known to it its Condition and wants, and gives a ſuitable ſenſe of heart, and cries to it. For as it is not in man to beget himſelf to God; no more can he pray to God in his own will or time, but as God pours out the Spirit of Prayer and Supplication upon him, and by his Spirit teacheth and helpeth him to pray as he ought. Becauſe ye are Sons, God hath ſent forth the Spirit of his Son into your hearts, crying Abba, Father. I have had a ſenſe of the natural man, and of the ſpiritual man; and of the Cryes and Prayers of each: and this I have been taught and learned of God, that the Goſpel-Prayer, is the Prayer of that birth which is begotten by the Spirit and Power of the Goſpel, and which prayes in the Spirit, and in the ſpringing of the holy Life and Power, whereby it rightly wreſtles, and prevailes with God, obtaining the Mercies and Bleſſings which it wreſtles with him for. For to this Child there is acceſs to God in the Faith, through that holy Spirit of Life which makes way for it, to obtain Grace and Mercy in the time of need. And through this Spirit it prayes to God, and prevailes with him on the behalf of others alſo. For the Prayers of the righteous avail much, as it is written.

VI. Concerning Juſtification and Sanctification, ſome things which it hath pleaſed the Lord, in his tender Mercy, to give me to experience.

Firſt, That it is the ſame Chriſt, the ſame Spirit, the ſame Life, the ſame Wiſdom, the ſame Power, the ſame Goodneſs, Love and Mercy, the ſame Water, the ſame Blood, which both Juſtifies and ſanctifies.

Secondly, that Juſtification and ſanctification go hand in hand together. There is none Juſtified, but he that is in meaſure ſanctified: and there is none Sanctified, but he that is in meaſure Juſtified. For God Juſtifieth by a rule (by the new Covenant, and according to the Law thereof;) And men receive and partake of Juſtification, according as they are brought into, and keep within the compaſs of that rule. For God acted of old toward, and Juſtified the children of the old Covenant according to the Law thereof; and the Children of the new Covenant are Juſtified, and partake of Juſtification according to the Law thereof.

Thirdly, That Juſtification and Sanctification are both of and through Grace. It is ſo in the beginning, and it is ſo all along. By grace ye are ſaved, ſaith the Apoſtle. The whole work of Salvation is begun and carried on through Grace. It is through that, God viſits and reaches to the Soul, with his quickning Vertue and Power. He regenerates alſo thereby. Through that he Juſtifies; through that he Sanctifies, &c. So that as the Work goes on, Grace, Grace, is to be cryed to him that does the work, from his very laying the Foundation and faſtning the Soul thereupon, to his very laying on of the top-ſtone.

Fourthly, Though Juſtification and Sanctification be of God's Grace and Mercy in Chriſt; yet this doth not exclude Faith: but they are alſo through Faith, and not without it. God doth not Juſtify man in the unbelieving ſtate, in the dead ſtate, in his abiding there; but in the coming out of it, in the repenting and turning from the dead works, to the living God, and in believing in him: and ſo he alſo Sanctifies him.

Fifthly, Faith and Obedience are of the ſame nature, and always go together. So that where-ever there is Faith, there is Obedience likewiſe, and where-ever there is Obedience, there is Faith. Obedience flows from Faith, and cannot be without it: for the very nature and vertue of Faith is in it. And Faith is Obedience. For this is the command of God, that the ſoul believe on him (and in his appearances) whom he hath ſent to ſave: and this Believing is Obedience unto him that that commands it. And this Faith, and this Obedience is Holy and Juſt in God's ſight, and through it (but not without it) the Soul is both Juſtified and Sanctified.

Sixthly, That the works of Faith, the works of the new Life, are not the works of the Law, the works of the old Covenant; nor are excluded Juſtification, as the Works of the old Covenant are. For I have found the Lord, who hath condemned and excluded all my doings, which ever I have been able to do of my ſelf, ſtill Juſtify and except what his Spirit and Holy Power hath done in me. They are not of the ſame nature in themſelves, nor are they ſo accounted of in the eye of the Lord. For the Lord diſtinguiſheth between root and root: and what ſpringeth from the holy Root, he Juſtifieth as holy, and what ariſeth from the unholy root, he condemneth as unholy.

Seventhly, That by the Law of Faith all boaſting is excluded, in the whole work both of Juſtification and Sanctification. What is the Law of Faith? Is not this its Law, to fetch all from the Son, to do all in the Son? to quit ſelf and its own ability, and to perform all in the newneſs of the Spirit, in the ability which is of God, given and continued in and through his Grace and Mercy, to the Soul in the Lord Jeſus Chriſt; All the Veins of Life, all the ſtrains of the new Covenant run here. Here is no boaſting of the Creature, here can be no boaſting: for all its ability and ſtrength is ſhut out; and that which is given of God to it, is all and doth all. Yet every Jew here hath praiſe of God. His faith is commended, his Love is commended, his Faithfulneſs is commended, his Zeal for the Lord, his Obedience to the Lord, his Patience in ſuffering, is commended, &c. But the praiſe and honour of all redounds not to his fleſh, but to the Spirit and Grace of God in him. So that here fleſh is laid low, and kept in the duſt for ever, and God alone exalted in this day of his pure power in the heart. He that truly believeth, entreth into reſt. How into reſt? From what doth he reſt? Why, from his own works, from the works of the fleſh, yea from the works of the old Covenant; from the works that ariſe from his own ability, from the works wherein he can never be Juſtified with the Goſpel-Juſtification. But doth he ceaſe from the works of Faith? doth he ceaſe from the Labour of Love? doth he ceaſe from Obedience to any thing that God requires? Nay then ſurely he rather beginneth to work and Labour in the Vineyard; and his labour is not in vain in the Lord.

VII. Concerning Faith.

Several things I have experienced, both concerning the nature, vertue, and operations of it, ſome whereof (as I feel them ſpring up livingly in my heart) I may mention at this time.

Firſt, This I have often experienced, that it is an hard thing truly and rightly to believe. It is an eaſie matter to believe notions concerning God, and concerning Chriſt: but to believe in God, to believe in Chriſt, to believe in him that raiſed up Jeſus, to believe in the Light, Life and Power, which flows from Jeſus; this indeed is hard by reaſon of the great Darkneſs and Ignorance, which man is faln into through tranſgreſſion.

Secondly, I have experienced this alſo, that Faith is God's gift, and that it flows from the Power of his Life. There is firſt a quickning, firſt a touching of the heart by the holy, pure Power of the Lord: and when a man is touched and quickned, then in and by, and through that vertue which flows into him, he can believe in that which toucheth and quickneth him.

Thirdly, That Faith never ſtands in a mans own power, but alwayes in the vertue and power of the life of the Son. So that he that will believe aright, muſt wait to feel the Life of the Son revealed in him, and Faith flowing therefrom. For the true belief ſprings from the Life of the holy root; and from the flowing up and ſpringing up of that Life, Faith receives its nouriſhment and dayly vertue.

Fourthly, I have obſerved this in my travels, that the Earthly Wiſdom and Notions there from, got into the Mind, and held in the Mind out of the ſenſe of life, are a great let to Faith. For theſe ſtrengthen and nouriſh that in man, which is to be weakned and die, that life and the birth of life may be all in the heart. Man is to die, man is to be ceaſed from his underſtanding, his Wiſdom is to be brought to nought. But after it hath had a ſtroak and wound from God's holy Spirit and Power (even the very wound which tends to death) yet it will be getting Life again (getting its deadly wound healed) and nouriſhing its Life by thoſe very notions, which came from that Life and Power; which (in meaſure) ſlew it. And thus the Jew outward, hath his Life in the outwardneſs of knowledg, in the outwardneſs of the Law, in the letter which killeth: for the relation and outward knowledg of things killeth and deadneth more and more, unleſs man come into the inward Life and Vertue, and daily feel them quickened there. If ye live in the Spirit, walk in the Spirit, ſaid the Apoſtle. A man cannot live in an outwardneſs of knowledg concerning the Spirit and Power of the endleſs Life; but he that would truly live, muſt live in the Spirit it ſelf; and he that would rightly walk on in his way, muſt walk in that Spirit wherein he received life, and wherein he that abideth lives before the Lord.

Fifthly, This I have alſo obſerved, that all notional Faith wherein is not the living vertue (as concerning Chriſt, his ſufferings, death, reſurrection, aſcention, interceſſion; and concerning Juſtification by him, &c.) the enemy will let the Soul alone with, and let him enjoy peace in: but his war is deſperately againſt the true Faith, againſt Faith in the true power, againſt Faith in the light of life. O how many ſore and ſharp aſſaults doth he make againſt the Faith which receives its vertue from God, and cauſeth the Soul to live to God! And how ſore is it with the ſoul, when Faith is weak, and the enemy comes on againſt it with the ſtrength of his aſſaults and temptations. Lord increaſe our Faith, ſaid the ſenſible diſciples.

Sixthly, It is a precious thing to feel Faith quickened by God, and helped by God, againſt the enemy. For then the enemy cannot prevail againſt the Soul, but the Soul through the vertue and power of life, prevails over the enemy in the Faith. And this is the great work of a Chriſtian, not only to wreſtle and fight, but to learn ſo to wreſtle, and ſo to fight, as to overcome.

Seventhly, That in the pure fear, (not that which is taught by the precepts of Men, but which God puts into the heart) Faith hath its ſtrength, and exerciſeth its ſtrength. O who knows the preciouſneſs of this Fear! The power of Faith, the power of Life, the power of Salvation, and everlaſting preſervation is revealed in it. Therefore, ſaith the Lord, when he ſpeaketh of providing for his Children in the new Covenant, that they ſhall abide with him for ever; and not depart any more from him, as the Children of the old Covenant did; I will put my Fear in their hearts, and they ſhall not depart from me. And when the Angel preached the Everlaſting Goſpel, how did he preach it? Fear God, and give glory to him, for the hour of his Judgment is come, &c. Rev. 14. When the pure Fear is felt, when that which is contrary to God is Judged; then the Goſpel is known, and the work thereof experienced in the heart. And how eaſy is it, when the pure fear is felt, to diſtruſt and deny ones ſelf, and truſt in the Lord? O how weak are the reaſonings and imaginations then, and how ſtrong is the power which ſcatters them, and lifts up the head over them!

Now it concerns every one deeply to conſider, of what nature his Faith is, and what vertue is in it, and what it can do in, and through the Power of the Lord for him; how it fetcheth in the true living nouriſhment every day, how it delivers the Soul, and gives it victory over that which Faith was appointed to deliver from. For he who through the Faith overcometh that which is contrary to God, ſhall inherit; and he that fights the good fight of Faith, ſhall overcome: but he that overcomes not his enemies, which ſtand in his way, ſhall be ſure to be hindred by them from attaining to his journies end.

VIII. Concerning Obedience ſome Experiences alſo.

Firſt, True Obedience, Goſpel Obedience flows from Life, flows from the living faith. If I could obey in all things that God requires of me, yet that would not ſatisfy ſatisfy me, unleſs I felt my Obedience flow from the Birth of his Life in me. My Father doth all in, me, ſaith Chriſt, this was Chriſts comfort. And to feel Chriſt do all in the Soul, is the comfort of every one that truly believes in him.

Secondly, True Obedience, Goſpel Obedience is natural to the birth which is born of God. It is unnatural to the fleſh, to mans Wiſdom, to deny himſelf, and take up the Croſs; but it is natural to the birth which is born of God's Spirit. That which is born of the Spirit, is Spirit; and it is natural to it to be converſant in, and exerciſed about that which is Spiritual.

Thirdly, That honouring and pleaſing, and anſwering the will of the Lord, is the proper aim of the truly Obedient. O how do they delight to do the will of God! I have Meat, ſaith Chriſt, that ye know not of. To do the will was his Meat and Drink: and it is Meat and Drink to all that are of his Nature and Spirit. If I ſhould never have any other reward, but the pleaſure of Obedience; yet I could not but ſay and teſtify, that in anſwering the Law of the pure Life; in keeping the holy Statutes and Commandments of Gods Spirit, there is great rweard. But yet there is a Crown alſo, and a reaping after this Life, of every thing that is ſown to the Spirit: and the Crown is weighty and everlaſtingly glorious.

Fourthly, Goſpel Obedience is exceeding neceſſary in, and to the Goſpel-ſtate. Mark, The Lamb is the leader: and can any be ſaved by him, but they that follow him? When Chriſt calls out of the World, muſt not the Soul come to him, who is the Shepherd? And muſt not the Sheep daily learn to know his voice, and follow him: even till they come to be acquainted with every moving, drawing, and leading of his Spirit; and ſo come to follow the Lamb whitherſoever he goes? Mark, what a weight Chriſt layeth upon doing. If ye know theſe things, happy are ye if ye do them. Why then the Diſciples cannot come to happineſs, but in the doing, in the obeying of the will of Chriſt, his Lord and Maſter. And he that heareth theſe ſayings of mine and doth them, I will liken him to a wiſe man, that built his houſe upon a rock. But the believer, without doing the will, is the fooliſh builder, whoſe building will not ſtand. Again, ſaith Chriſt, As the Father hath loved me, ſo have I loved you; continue ye in my love. If ye keep my Commandments, ye ſhall abide in my love even, as I have kept my Father's Commandements: and abide in his love. The Diſciples whom he moſt dearly loved, muſt keep his Commandments, if they will continue in his Love. And his Apoſtles taught the ſame, even the working our of the Salvation, and the purifying of the heart through the Obedience of the truth. For Mark: There is a Covenant of Life, a way of Life: and how can Life be reaped, how can the work of Life go on, but in Subjection and Obedience thereto?

O bleſſed is he, who meets with the power of Life, which enables to obey, and who is Obedient, and ſubject to that power. For he that truly believes in Chriſt, is turned by him to his Light, and to the power of his Father; and the Peace, Growth, Joy, Bleſſedneſs, &c. is witneſſed in ſubjection thereto.

VIII. Concerning the Croſs of Chriſt.

This I have eperienced concerning the Croſs of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, that it is an inward and ſpiritual thing, producing inward and ſpiritual effects in the Mind: and that this is it, even that which ſlays the enmity in the mind, and crucifies to the World, and the affections thereof. God forbid, ſaid the Apoſtle, that I ſhould Glory, ſave in the Croſs of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, whereby the world is crucified unto me, and I unto the World. Now mark; That which is contrary to the World, and crucifies to the World, that is the Croſs. The Croſs hath this power, and nothing elſe: and ſo there is nothing elſe to glory in. The fleſh luſteth againſt the Spirit, and the Spirit againſt the fleſh: and theſe are contrary one to the other. Mind here is the Croſs: The Spirit which is contrary to the fleſh, which mortifies the fleſh, through the Obedience whereof the fleſh is crucified. If ye through the Spirit mortify the deeds of the body, ye ſhall live. Whatſoever is of and in the Spirit, it is contrary to the fleſh. The light of the ſpirit is contrary to the darkneſs of the fleſh. The holineſs of the Spirit is contrary to the unholineſs of the corrupt heart. The Life of the Spirit is contrary to the Life (or rather death) that is in ſin. The power of the Spirit is contrary to the power that is in Satan, and his Kingdom. The Wiſdom of God is contrary,

contrary and a fooliſh thing to the Wiſdom of man. Yea the new Creature, which ſprings from Gods Holy Spirit, is contrary and death to the old. Now he that comes hither, out of his own wiſdom; out of his own will, out of his own thoughts, out of his own reaſonings; and comes to a diſcerning of God's Spirit, and to the feeling of his begetting of life in his heart, and his ſtirrings, and movings in the life which he hath begotten, and waits here, and receives counſel here, he is taught to deny himſelf, and to joyn to and take up that, by which Chriſt daily croſſeth, and ſubdueth in him, that which is contrary to God.

And here is the fight of Faith, and the good travel under the Croſs, whereby the holy journey is gone, and the enemies (which riſe up to oppoſe in the way) vanquiſhed and overcome. For here is the power revealed: the preſerving power, the leading power, the conquering power of him, who rideth on conquering, and to conquer his ſpiritual enemies, in the hearts of his Children, who know his voice, and are ſubject to him; who daily denying themſelves, and taking up his Croſs, follow him. Wo is to them that are at eaſe in Sion, under any thing that is contrary to God: but bleſſings are upon them whoſe dwelling is under the Croſs, and who know no eaſe but what it allows. It will make Truth, Life, Holineſs, Righteouſneſs, Faith, Obedience, Meekneſs, Patience, Love, Separation from Sin, Communion with the Lord, and all the fruits of the Spirit, as natural to them in the renewed ſtate, as ever ſin was in the corrupt ſtate. And in that ſtate, they ſhall be able to ſay with Paul; who once complained of his captivity, and that he did what he hated; yet after he had known the power of the Croſs, and was crucified with Chriſt, he could then do nothing againſt the truth, but for the truth: Yea then being a conquerer, having overcome the enemies which ſtood in his way, he could do all things through Chriſt that ſtrengthened him. The cauſe of ſo many complaints and bowings down the head, and going mourning becauſe of the prevailings of the enemy, through temptations, ſin and corruption, is becauſe the Croſs of Chriſt, which is the power of God, (which is his Ordinance againſt the ſtrength of the enemy) is either not known, or not taken up. And this is the reaſon that many that make a fair ſhew for a while, yet afterwards come to nothing (but are like untimely figs, or like Corn upon the Houſe-tops which haſtily ſpringeth up, but ſoon withereth) becauſe they either rightly never learn, or keep not to the Croſs. For that alone hath power from God, to bring down and keep down that which is contrary to him. So that from under the Croſs of Chriſt, there is no witneſſing Salvation or preſervation from the Lord: but out of the limits of the Croſs, the enemy hath power to recover and bring back under his dominion again. And whoſoever in his travels, leaves the Croſs behind him, does draw back unto perdition, and not travel on, in the living faith and newneſs of Obedience, towards the Salvation of the Soul.

X. Concerning the Myſtery of Life, and the Myſtery of the fellowſhip which is therein.

God is hid from Man, as he lies in his ſinful and fallen eſtate: and no Man can find or know him; but as he pleaſeth to reveal himſelf by his own bleſſed Spirit. And Chriſt, being God's image, there is no knowing or confeſſing him, or right calling him Lord, but in and by the ſame Spirit (1 Cor. 12. 3.) When he appeared in the days of his fleſh, fleſh and bloud could not reveal him, but only the Father. And he is the ſame to day as he was yeſterday. He is not to be known now, but in the ſame Spirit; in his own Grace and Truth, in a meaſure of his own Life. The dead cannot know him; they only know him, who are his Sheep, who are quickned and made alive by him. And this Life is a Myſtery: none can underſtand it, but they that partake of it. Can a man that is naturally dead, know what the Life of nature means? No more can a man that is ſpiritually dead, know what the Life of the Spirit means. The natural Man may get the words that came from Life, and cry up them, and ſpeak great words of the fame of Wiſdom, and of her Children: but the thing it ſelf is hid from them all. O it is a ſtrait gate, at which the birth enters, at which none elſe can enter. The wiſe and prudent knowers and ſearchers after the fleſh (and of the Scriptures, as they can put meanings upon them and comprehend them) are ſhut out out in every age: but there's a babe born of naked Truth (born of the pure ſimplicity) admitted by God, while men diſdain and deſpiſe it.

And the fellowſhip of the Saints is in the Life, and in the Light, which is this Myſtery. The fellowſhip is not outward but inward. All they that meet together in the outward place, are not in the fellowſhip or worſhip: but only they that meet together in the inward Life and Spirit. They that worſhip the Father, muſt worſhip him in Spirit and Truth, Look, there's the worſhip, there are the Worſhippers; they that are in the Spirit, in the Truth; They that meet in the Spirit, in the Truth, they meet together in the one ſpiritual place, as I may call it. And ſo we own no man after the fleſh, no man according to the appearance; but in the righteous judgment of the Spirit, thoſe only who are of the Spirit. Indeed we are tender, where there is the leaſt beginning of the work of God in any heart; yea, where there is but ſo much as a conviction of the underſtanding: but Men are not preſently of us, who own our Principle in words or outward appearance, but only ſuch as are inwardly changed thereby in heart. It is true, Perſons may walk among us, and afterwards go out from us, who were never of us (as it was in the Apoſtles days) that were never in the fellowſhip of Life with us, whom we could never own in the ſight of the Lord, as being born of him; though we were willing to wait and watch for their good, that they might come to witneſs the true birth. Now from ſuch come the offences, even from the falling off of ſuch as never were truly ingraffed, and alſo from the ſlips of ſuch who are not watchful to that which preſerves. And wo is to the World, becauſe of the offences which cannot but come. For they which are not approved in the ſight of the Lord, muſt not ſomewhat or other happen to make them manifeſt? And when they are made manifeſt, the World's eye is offended, and is apt to think hardly of, and reproach the Truth it ſelf, becauſe of them. Bleſſed is the eye, which ſees into the Myſtery, into the Life it ſelf, where there is no offence, Truth is one and the ſame for ever.

XI. Concerning Judging according to the appearance, and Judging righteous Judgment. Judge not according to the appearance (ſaid Chriſt) but Judge righteous Judgment, Joh. 7. 24.

What is it to Judge according to the appearance? and what is it to Judge righteous Judgment? I ſhall ſpeak what I have experienced, having been deeply exerciſed about this thing. Mark then,

The holy Spirit of Life breatheth upon the heart: and by his breathing and working there, he quickens and begets life, Joh. 3. 8. And that which is begotten and born of him, is begotten and born into his nature, and ſo is of the ſame nature with him, as ver. 6, of that chap.

Now to that which is born of the Spirit, the Spirit is the leader, the preſerver, ſupporter, the comforter, the daily quickner. He can do nothing without the Spirit, without the preſent Life and Power of him that begat him. So that all the judgment which the Birth of Life hath, is from, and of, and in the holy Spirit of the Father.

And here is true Judgment, both concerning righteouſneſs, and againſt all unrighteouſneſs. So that keep to the Life, keep to the Spirit, keep to the Birth, keep to the Power; then is the Wiſdom and righteous judgment of God revealed. But any that go out of this, and meaſure without this, they meaſure in the unrighteouſneſs; and though they ſearch the Scriptures, and think in themſelves they meaſure from the Scriptures; yet they are miſtaken, and meaſure but from their own knowledge and apprehenſions upon the Scriptures, as the Scribes and Phariſees did, when they ſeemed to conclude upon ſearching the Scriptures, that Chriſt could not be the Meſſiah, Joh. 7. 52. Search and Look, (ſaith they) for out of Galilee, ariſeth no Prophet. How then can this Galilean be he? See, by the Scriptures, if this can be the Chriſt.

It is ſaid of Chriſt, He ſhall not judge after the ſight of his eyes, nor reprove after the hearing of his Ears: but with righteouſneſs ſhall he judge, &c. Iſa. 11. 3, 4. Chriſt Judged righteous Judgment. How came he to Judge ſo? Why, he judged in and with the Spirit. He kept to the Spirits judgment. The Spirit of the Lord reſted upon him, and made him quick of underſtanding in the fear of the Lord, ver. 2, 3. And no man can judge aright concerning the things of God, but in and by the ſame Spirit. How ſhall I know whether my duties be right, my prayers right, my ways right, my worſhip right, my faith right, my hope of the right kind, my knowledge and underſtanding of the Scriptures right, &c. Why there is none but one can determine. He who begetteth life, knows whether that which is in thee be from his life: and whether that which thou offereſt to him, be truly living or no. And when the Lord ſeparates the living from the dead, what will remain in many that make great profeſſions at this day.

I would have no man miſtaken about theſe things; I know many are deeply miſtaken, as their own hearts will one day acknowledge, when the Lord ſhall make manifeſt to them, how they have called evil good, and good evil; and put darkneſs for light, and light for darkneſs. Indeed it is juſt as it was in the dayes of Chriſt's appearing outwardly in a body of fleſh. The ſame Life, the ſame Spirit is denyed now, as was then. Then the Jews cryed up Chriſt to come, but they then ſpiritually ſaw him not. They ſaw the fleſh: (or outward form) but they ſaw not him who dwelt in that fleſh. And though the World of Chriſtians now acknowledge Chriſt is come, and did appear; Yet neither do they know him who did appear, but deny his life, his ſpirit, his vertue, his power, which is revealed in this day of his love and goodneſs, to the eyes of the Children of the true Wiſdom. O let not fleſh Judge. Be ſilent, O all fleſh, before the Lord, and ceaſe judging: for he is ariſen to Judge. He is Judge in the midſt of his people, and he will Judge the Heathen alſo.

And every one bring this near. Wait to feel fleſh judged in thee, and brought down in thee, that it may not Judge in thee: but Spirit and Life may be exalted, and ſit upon the Throne in thy Heart. And when Life is exalted, and doth begin to Judge; Oh take heed of harkening to the fleſh, of letting in the Judgment of fleſh afterwards, leſt the Spirit be grieved and quenched! For the Wiſdom of the fleſh is near, and will be ſtriving to get in and recover its ſeat again: and if the watch be not ſingly kept to God's Holy Spirit, ſomewhat elſe will be judging in thee, which will Judge according to the appearance of things to thy mind, and ſo thou wilt miſs of the true and righteous judgment of God's Spirit.

XII. A Queſtion anſwered about knowing God's Spirit.

Queſt. How ſhall I know God's Spirit? How ſhall I know the motions thereof? How may I know whether the Faith and Hope in my heart be from him? whether my prayers and deſires ariſe thence, &c.

Anſw. No man of himſelf, or by any way he of himſelf can take, can know God's Spirit. There muſt firſt be a capacity given, before any man can know the Spirit of the Lord; His Life, his Power muſt firſt be felt; and ſomewhat quickned, ſomewhat formed by him, ſomewhat begotten of him, which is ſpirit, and this can know him. Now man in this may know him, but out of this can never know him. Therefore this is the great skill, and diligence and wiſdom of a Chriſtian, to keep to this, to wait for this, to have his eye towards the pure ſpring of wiſdom; that when it ſprings, he may diſcern and receive it: and when that which is of a contrary nature ſprings, he may diſcern it under all its deceitful appearances, and turn from it. For out of the heart are the iſſues both of Life and Death. There is all manner of deceivableneſs or unrighteouſneſs in the unrighteous nature, in the unrighteous Spirit: and if the watch be not diligently kept, it is eaſy to be deceived at any time. But the true Seed, the holy Seed, he living Seed, the elect Seed, the immortal Seed is never deceived. O bleſſed are they who have their eyes opened and kept open in it, to diſcern the myſtery of Godlineſs, and the myſtery of Iniquity; that they may be preſerved ſafe in the one, out of the reach of the other.

XIII. Some

XIII. Some Queries Concerning the Seed of the Kingdom, in which the Kingdom it ſelf is contained (as the nature and ſubſtance of things is contained in the Seed thereof) and out of which it ſpringeth up and ariſeth in the heart.

Quer. 1. What is that Seed which is ſpoken of 1 John 3. 9. which remaineth in thoſe that are born of God, and preſerveth out of ſin, thoſe that are led by it and comprehended in it? is it not the Seed of the Kingdom?

Quer. 2. Do not the natural herbs and flowers, the natural plants and trees grow from a natural Seed? Do not the ſpiritual plants, the ſpiritual trees, the trees of righteouſneſs grow from the Seed of righteouſneſs?

Quer. 3. Was it not the great Doctrine of Chriſt, to preach the Kingdom? And how did he preach it? Did he not preach it as a Seed, as a grain of Muſtard-Seed? and did not he liken this Spiritual Seed to leaven, to a precious pearl, to treaſure hid in a field, to a peace of Silver loſt, &c. O how happy is he who knows and enjoyes the thing it ſelf which Chriſt preached! All the Prophets propheſied concerning him: and when he comes, this was his doctrine, that men ſhould mind this, look after this, purchaſe this, poſſeſs this, feel this planted and grow up in them, and themſelves ingraffed into and growing up in it.

Quer. 4. Can any man be born of God, and not born of this Seed? can any man be born of this Seed, and not born of God?

Quer. 5. How doth Grace and Truth come by Jeſus Chriſt? Doth it not grow up from this Seed? Can it grow up any other way in any heart?

Quer. 6. Is not Salvation felt and witneſſed in every heart (of thoſe that are in any meaſure redeemed) as this Seed grows up and overſhadows them? Was not this the Salvation ready to be revealed in the laſt time, 1 Pet. 1. 10. whereof the Apoſtle Peter himſelf was made a partaker? Chap. 5. 10. In the law were the ſhadows of good things to come: but in the Goſpel the ſubſtance, the Seed it ſelf it revealed.

Quer. 7. Is it not the right beginning in Religion, to begin in the Spirit? and can any begin in the Spirit, but he that begins in and with the Seed of the Kingdom?

Quer. 8. Is it not the main and chief thing in Religion, to know this Seed, to feel this Seed, to be joyned to this Seed and abide in this Seed?

Quer. 9. Is not all that flows from this Seed, true and certain? is not the knowledge certain here? the Faith here? the Love here? the Peace here? the Joy here? the Righteouſneſs here? From this true root, can there grow or ſhoot forth any thing, but that which is true? O, every breathing here is from pure Life, and precious in the eye of the Father. Is there any certainty elſewhere? O, when the Lord appears, will he not diſown all the religion and worſhip, which is not of this growth?

Quer. 10. But ſome may ſay, how may I know this Seed, and how may I be joyned to it?

Anſwer. In the quickning Life mayeſt thou know it, and no-where elſe. Didſt thou ever feel that which quickened thy heart towards the Lord? Therein and thereby, at that time, thou mayeſt feel an eye and heart opened, which can truly ſee and know ſomewhat of God. And (keeping thy eye to the quickning power of God, as that ſtirs, moves and operates in thee and upon thee, thou mayeſt know again and know more.

Therefore eye the power which quickens, and eye the Seed which it reveals and raiſeth in thee, and wait to feel the power ſubjecting thee to the Seed, that thou mayeſt come under it, and it may come over thee, and preſs down in thee all that is contrary to its pure nature.

And as thou comeſt hither, thou wilt find that which death hath no power over: and as thou abideſt there, thou ſhalt find it to have no power over thee. For, of a truth in the Holy Covenant of Life and Peace, death never had nor can have power: but he who abideth in him who is the Covenant, who is the ſhepherd, who is the Love, who is the Wiſdom and Power of God, witneſſeth there a ſure defence and ſtrong tower, where Salvation is for a Wall and Bulwark againſt the Enemy.

There are many ſorts of talkers concerning the thing, but there are few travellers into it: but he alone who is a true traveller into it, and takes up his reſt there, certainly knows, and can truly witneſs what is to be found there. And this is the reaſon that ſo many (who ſeem great and experienced knowers) cannot receive our teſtimony, becauſe they know neither the Seed nor its voice, concerning which and whereby we teſtify. But Wiſdom is Juſtified of her Children; and they that know the voice of the Shepherd, know his preſent appearance in this our day, which is contrary to the Wiſdom and Knowledg of all other Seeds and Births whatſoever. He that hath an Ear to hear, let him hear: But he that hath not the true Ear, cannot hear the true teſtimony, though it ſhould never ſo often be declared unto him. But bleſſed is he that knows and ſtumbles not at the appearances of the Seed and Power of Life in his own heart, but is turned from the Darkneſs to the Light there, and from the Power of Satan to the manifeſtation of God's Spirit there: for the end of words (even of Chriſts own directions in the days of his fleſh) is to turn men to the holy Life and Power from whence the words came, and thither man is to travel, and therein to center, waiting on the Lord in the way of his Judgments and tender Mercies, to witneſs a tranſlation from Darkneſs to Light, and from the Kingdom of Satan into the Kingdom of the dear Son, which Kingdom is at firſt but as a grain of Muſtard-Seed, and muſt be ſo known and ſo received.

And now let every ſerious heart examine concerning himſelf. Doſt thou know the Kingdom? is the Seed grown in thee? Doth it overſpread thee? Art thou in it as in a Kingdom? Doſt thou feel it overſhadowing thee? Art thou in unity with it? Doth it ſpeak Peace to thee from the Lord? Is the Wall of of partition broken down in thee? is there of twane made one new man? Doſt thou feel that which is contrary to Chriſt ſubdued in thee by his power? and his holy Nature, Life, and Spirit reigning over it? Canſt thou read that Scripture ſenſibly and experimentally, if ye through the Spirit mortifie the deeds of the body, ye ſhall live?

Ah how miſerably do men talk of Chriſt, the Power of God, and miſs of the effect and work of his Power in them?

Faith is a powerful thing, it gives victory, (true Faith gives victory) it ſcatters that which ſtands between, and gives real acceſs to God, and lets in his pure, freſh living Vertue, upon the heart.

Love is a powerful thing, it conſtrains to Obedience. And the heart that is circumciſed to love the Lord God, O how doth Life flow from him into it!

O, away with empty notions, and come to the miniſtration of the Spirit, where the Knowledge is living, the Faith victorious, the Love pure and undefiled, the Worſhip truly ſpiritual, even flowing from and comprehended in the Life and Vertue of the Spirit. O that all that truly breath after the Lord, might be gathered hither, found here and dwell here, Amen.

A POST-SCRIPT

To the Experiences.

PErſons that have had ſome true touches of Life, and true breathings after the Lord; yet not having their eye fixed rightly upon him, nor diſcerning from whence thoſe come, may eaſily loſe the true ſenſe of Life, and another Birth of another nature ſpring up in them, inſtead thereof. This was it we generally wanted, in the day of our former profeſſion, even the diſcerning of that and fixing upon that, which begat Life in us: through want whereof, many of the moſt tender-hearted came to a loſs; whom the Lord at length ſhewed Mercy to, manifeſting to them the Light of their eyes, and the ſtay of their Souls. Now to all that hath been gathered hither by the Lord, Life hath been renewed, and their former experiences (of the Lord and his goodneſs to them in the Lord Jeſus Chriſt) reſtored again with advantage. And here they ſenſibly ſee, and daily experience, that nothing is of their own works, but all of Grace, and Mercy in, and through Chriſt, in whom they are created unto good works, which God before ordained, that we ſhould walk in them. And here the glory is revealed; the glory of Life, the glory of Peace with the Lord, the glory of Righteouſneſs in, and through his Son, the glory of Victory over the Souls enemies, and of leading captivity captive, and treading upon the Necks of Kings, even of mighty luſts, which mightily prevailed over, and oppreſſed the Soul, before the Captain of our Salvation appeared, in the Power and Authority of his own Spirit. But bleſſed be the Lord, there is not only this Glory revealed, but there is a defence over the Glory: For there is that revealed, which is able to defend it, and doth defend it in the hearts of many, and in the living aſſemblies which have been gathered by God's Holy Power, which Holy Power (which gathered) daily quickens and overſhadows, and is a rock unto, and will be ſo for ever, even to all that abide with him in his Holy Covenant: but out of the limits of that into which God gathers, and wherein, and whereby, he preſerves, there is no defence to any. The curſed thing, the unclean thing, the earthly Spirit, the earthly Mind and Wiſdom, the Lord hath excluded, and it is to be excluded out of his camp for evermore, that the inward Iſrael may be kept holy to the Lord, and may ſerve and worſhip the Lord in the beauty of the inward holineſs, as the outward Iſrael was outwardly, to be, and to do, in that outward miniſtration of the ſhadows of the Goſpel-ſtate.

Some Scriptures very ſweet, and neceſſary to be experienced in the Goſpel-State.

This is Life eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jeſus Chriſt whom thou haſt ſent, Joh. 17. 3. There is a knowledg of God and Chriſt, which is Life eternal: and there is a knowledg of them (or at leaſt that which man call ſo) which is not Life Eternal. The knowledg which is Life Eternal, is that knowledg which God gives to his own Birth, even the Spiritual knowledg which God gives to thoſe which are born of the Spirit: which is the knowledg of the myſtery of God, and of Chriſt in the myſtery, inwardly appearing, and working in the heart againſt the myſtery of ſin and death. O precious is the Birth to which God gives this knowledg, and precious is the knowledg which he giveth to it. The knowledg (or that which Men call knowledg) which is not Life eternal, is that knowledg which man can get and comprehend from without, of himſelf; without the enlightnings and quicknings of God's Holy Spirit and Power, inwardly felt, and operating in the heart.

No man can say, that Jesus is the Lord, but by the Holy Ghost, 1 Cor. 12. 3. It is precious to witness that confessing and acknowledging Jesus to be the Lord, which is by the Holy Ghost. For only they that are governed by the Holy Ghost, can so confess him. The Devil did confess Jesus to be the holy one, the Son of the living God, &c. and many now confess Jesus to be the Lord, in the same spirit, being alienated from the Life of God, and having no true sense or understanding of that. But there is a confession which cannot arise, but from God's Spirit; and from the knowledg, sense and understanding which he gives: blessed are they that experience that.

It is written in the Prophets, and they shall be all taught of God. Every man therefore that hath heard, and hath learned of the Father, cometh unto me, Joh. 6. 45. Ah, blessed is he that can in true understanding say, The Lord hath made good this Promise to me! He is become my Teacher. I have heard his voice, as truly and certainly, inwardly in my heart, as ever I heard the voice of Satan there. He hath revealed his Son, his pure, holy, living Child Jesus in me. He hath drawn me to his Son, he hath taught me to come to his Son: and indeed so soon as ever I heard and learned of the Father, I could not but come to the Son, and receive the Son, and give up my self to him: and he hath received me, and daily preserveth me from death, and the sting and power thereof, and giveth unto me Eternal Life.

He that hath the Son, hath Life; and he that hath not the Son, hath not Life, 1 Joh. 5. 12. Ah, this is abundantly experienced, blessed be the Name of the Lord! Many who had not Life, while they had not the Son, but mourned and lamented deeply after him (the Spirit of the Lord being grieved in them and his Life not possessed by them) the Father revealing his Son in them, and giving him to them, and they enjoying and possessing him, feel that they are daily in the enjoyment and possession of pure and fresh Life in him.

My flesh is Meat indeed, and my blood is Drink indeed. He that eateth my Flesh, and drinketh my Blood, dwelleth in me, and I in him, Joh. 6. 55, 56. We are of his Flesh, and of his Bone, said they that did eat his Flesh, and drink his Blood. They that eat Christ the one bread, are by that Food made partakers of his Divine Nature, and become one bread (for we being many, are one bread, as said the Apostle) so that now they are no longer Darkness, but Light in the Lord. O the pure flesh and blood of the immaculate Lamb! O the incorruptible food, which gives Life to the Soul? O the living word? O the milk of this word, the Milk of the heavenly breast, which nourisheth the babes? but the bread, the flesh, the Blood, is stronger nourishment. O how brightly might this be opened, in the demonstration of Life, to the Spiritual ear and understanding! but the carnal-minded are thick and gross, being drowned in their own apprehensions and sense of the letter, but having no sense of the mystery, what it is mystically to Eat and Drink the Flesh and blood of Christ (of him who is Life, and gives Life) and to dwell together with him in the one Spirit, Light, Life and Power eternal.

For with thee is the Fountain of Life; in thy Light shall we see Light, Psal. 36. 9. Oh, blessed are they, that can experimentally speak thus, who know the Fountain of Life, and dwell there, where Light shines more and more.

Ho, every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and he that hath no money, come ye, buy and Eat; yea come, buy Wine and Milk without money, and without price. Wherefore do ye spend money for that which is not bread? and your Labour for that which satisfieth not? hearken diligently unto me, and Eat ye that which is good, and let your Soul delight it self in fatness. Incline your ear, and come unto me: hear, and your Soul shall live, and I will make an everlasting Covenant with you, even the sure mercies of David; Isa. 55. 1, 2, 3. Here's happiness, true happiness, full happiness. He that experiences this one portion of Scripture, is happy. He that knows the true thirst after the true waters, and comes to the Waters which he thirsts after, and knows how to buy, and hath bought the Wine and Milk which is to be had at the Waters, (Oh, who knows what this buying is! this is beyond all talk and outward profession concerning the thing, concerning the precious pearl; this is the real, hearty trafficking of the wise Merchant for it.) And then to hearken diligently, and eat that which is good, and to have the Soul delight it ſelf in the fatneſs of God's Houſe, in the riches and fatneſs of his goodneſs and Mercy in Chriſt Jeſus: and not only to taſte of Mercy, but to witneſs it ſure in the everlaſting Covenant, that God will never be wroth with me more, never be a ſtranger to me more, never depart from me more, nor ſuffer me to depart from him; but preſerve me pure and chaſt to him, through his love ſhed abroad in my heart, and his holy fear, which conſtrains me to abide with him, and to keep his Commandments.

But whoſoever drinketh of the water that I ſhall give him, ſhall never thirſt: but the water that I ſhall give him, ſhall be in him a Well of Water ſpringing up into everlaſting Life, Joh. 4. 14. Is not this an univerſal Promiſe to be made good to every one that drinks of the Water of Life, of the water that Chriſt gives? Did not Chriſt promiſe it ſhould be a Well? a ſpringing Well? the Fountain is of a ſpringing nature: and is not every drop of the ſame nature? of a living nature, of a ſpringing nature? He that rightly drinks, doth he not receive a Well? O the Water which Chriſt giveth, doth it not become a Well in the true Diſciple, in the living Diſciple, out of which Well the Water is ſtill ſpringing and flowing, to nouriſh up with Life and unto Life, even with Life of an everlaſting nature, and unto Life everlaſting. O the pure glory that is revealed in the Goſpel-diſpenſation! why is it ſo hid from mens eyes, who profeſs themſelves to know the Lord Jeſus Chriſt, and to be his Diſciples?

For the Life was manifeſted, and we have ſeen it, and bear witneſs, and ſhew unto you that eternal Life which was with the Father, and was manifeſted unto us. That which we have ſeen and heard, declare we unto you, that ye alſo may have fellowſhip with us; and truly our fellowſhip is with the Father, and with his Son Jeſus Chriſt, 1 Joh. 1. ver. 2, 3. This is precious, to experience the Life inwardly manifeſted, and to come out of death inwardly felt, into Life inwardly manifeſted, and ſo to come into the Holy fellowſhip with the Father and Son, and with the Saints in Light: For he that comes out of the darkneſs into the Light, comes out of the Fellowſhip of the Dead, into the Fellowſhip of the Living.

Come unto me all ye that labour, and are heavy-laden, and I will give you reſt. Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me, for I am meek and lowly in heart: and ye ſhall find reſt unto your Souls. For my Yoke is eaſy, and my Burthen is light, Mat. 11. 28, 29, 30. This invitation of Chriſt was to be fulfilled in the hearts of his Diſciples, and it is precious inwardly to witneſs it effectually in the heart, as really as ever it was ſpoken by him. To be able to ſay, in the evidence and demonſtration of his Spirit; It is true, I did labour, I was heavy laden, none could eaſe or help me; till he called, till he knocked at the door of my heart, and till I came to him, and received him in: and he hath made good his word to my Soul, he hath given me reſt from my Labours and heavy Loads. He hath laid his Yoke upon me, and I have took it and born it, and have learned of him, to be meek and lowly in heart, like him, and I have found reſt to my Soul. And now I ſhall never complain more of his yoke or burthen, he hath made it, and doth daily make it ſo eaſy and light to me.

And we know that the Son of God is come, and hath given us an underſtanding, that we may know him that is true: and we are in him that is true, even in his Son Jeſus Chriſt. This is the true God and eternal Life, 1. Joh. 5. 20. There is an inward, ſpiritual coming of the Son of God into the heart, by which Coming (to them that receive him) he giveth a new and Spiritual underſtanding, whereby they know him that is true (and without it they cannot) and are ingrafted into him, and found in him; partaking of his Life and Righteouſneſs, to the glory of God the Father: and ſo in true underſtanding are able to ſay, Lo this is the God, this is the Saviour we waited for. This is the true or very God, and Eternal Life. What are all notions about God, and about his Son Chriſt Jeſus, to this inward ſenſe and experience of them?

God who commanded the Light to ſhine out of darkneſs, hath ſhined in our hearts, to give the Light of the knowledg of the glory of God, in the face of Jeſus Chriſt, 2. Cor. 4. 6. O how precious is it to be able to witneſs this in meaſure! to experience God ſhining upon my tabernacle (as Job ſpeaks, Job 29. 2, 3.) and by his his Light my walking through Darkness! It is true, Christ was the Light, he had the Fulness of Light, and the Apostles a very great Proportion: But, blessed be the Lord, I have received some, and am changed by it, and become Light in the Lord; and walk with God, and dwell with God in the Light, even as he is Light, and dwells and walks in the Light. Is not this a Blessed Testimony? And, Is not he Blessed, who can set his Seal to it?

Which Veil is done away in Christ, 2 Cor. 3. 14. It was promised of old, That in the Mountain, where God would make the Feast of fat things, he would destroy, swallow up, or do away the Veil, or that which veils the Life and Glory of the Lord from Man, and hinders it from being revealed in him, Isa. 25. 6, 7. Now, in Christ, there is no Veil: In his Light, Life, Spirit, and Power, there is no Veil. Where they are inwardly manifested and received, the Veil is done away, and the Glory of the Mystery revealed and beheld.

If ye continue in my Word, then are ye my Disciples indeed; and ye shall know the Truth, and the Truth shall make you free, Joh. 8. 31, 32. What is this Word, which the Disciples of the Lord Jesus Christ are to continue in? Is it any less than Spirit and Life? And, What is it to be a Disciple indeed, but to learn the Law of Life at his Mouth, and to continue therein? And, What is the Truth, which makes free? Is it not the living Truth, (the Word which lives and abides for ever) the powerful Truth, the operative Truth? This cuts between a Man, and his Lovers; this divides between Soul and Spirit, Joints and Marrow, and makes the Soul free from that Evil Spirit, which had embondaged it. It sanctifieth, it cleanseth, it reneweth, it quickneth, it giveth Strength, it maketh free from the Souls Enemies, from the Bondage of Sin and Corruption, and brings into the Glorious Liberty of the Sons of God. And they that are made free from Sin by that which is contrary to Sin, and which subdues, overcomes, and destroys Sin; they doubtless are free indeed. O precious is it to experience this, even the Truth that is free from Sin, and makes free from Sin all that truly know it, and are joined to it, and live and abide in it!

For Sin shall not have Dominion over you; for ye are not under the Law, but under Grace, Rom. 6. 14. What's the Law? What's the Ministration of the Law? Is it not the Ministration of the Letter? of that which is Holy and Righteous, by an outward or litteral Command? What's Grace? Is it not the inward Teacher, which inwardly instructeth to deny Ungodliness, and worldly Lusts, and to live Soberly, Righteously, and Godlily, &c? Is it not the Ministration of the Spirit and Power? Is it not the Ministration of the New Covenant, where the Law of the Spirit of Life in Christ Jesus, is written in the Heart, and the Commandment of Life made easy, by the Power of the Lord Jesus; who manifests himself within, to make willing unto, and to strengthen to Obedience?

Now, they that are under this Grace, under this Spirit, under this Power; Doth it not break the Power and Dominion of Sin in them, and set them free there-from? Can Sin break in upon those, who dwell under the Shadow of the Almighty? Indeed, a Man may be under a literal Dispensation of holy Commands against Sin, and yet be under the Power of Sin: But he that is gathered under the Wing of Christ, under the Grace and Spirit of the Gospel, turned from Satan's Power to God's Power, and within the Wall and Bulwark thereof; he witnesseth this true; Sin hath not Dominion, Sin cannot have Dominion, Sin shall not have Dominion over you: No Device of the Enemy, shall be able to hurt or destroy on God's Holy Mountain; for his Light shines there to dispel the Darkness, and his Power is revealed there, to scatter and dash in pieces the Strength of the Enemy, when-ever it appears.

Upon all the Glory shall be a Defence, Isa. 4. 5. O the Lord God, by the Spirit and Power of the Gospel, in the Day thereof, is bringing many Sons to Glory; into great, inward, spiritual Glory; yea, into exceeding Glory: (For the Ministration of the Spirit exceeds in Glory.) And as God hath ordained this Glorious Ministration for his Sons and Daughters, under the New Covenant; so by the Spirit and Power of the New Covenant, when it breaks forth, he is daily working, translating, and changing them, out of the Earthly Nature and Image, into his own Divine divine nature, into his own heavenly glory, 2 Cor. 3. 18. And bleſſed be the Lord, the defence of his power is ſpread over the glory of his holy Mountain, ſo that nothing can make a prey of, or devour the birth of Life, or deprive of the inheritance of Life there. The Lord doth not only give a bleſſed lot and lines in pleaſant places: but he maintains the lot of his Children, ſo that they can dwell in their Fathers Houſe, and feed on the Heavenly Food and rich dainties of the Kingdom, in the Majeſty of the name of the Lord their God, which is ſuch a dread unto the enemies, and ſuch a defence about them, as none can make afraid: but they are kept in perfect Peace, in perfect Reſt, in pure Love, out of which Life ſprings and flows continually.

And in that day, thou ſhalt ſay, O Lord, I will praiſe thee, though thou waſt angry with me, thine anger is turned away and thou comforteſt me. Behold, God is my Salvation: I will truſt and not be afraid; for the Lord Jehovah is my ſtrength, and Song, he alſo is become my Salvation. Therefore with Joy ſhall ye draw water out of the Wells of Salvation, Iſa. 12. 1, 2, 3. O precious; to witneſs the inward Spiritual day of redemption, and deliverance, wherein praiſes from a living ſenſe naturally ſpring up to the Lord! To witneſs the reproofs at an end, the anger, indignation, trouble and ſorrow at an end, and the comforter come; miniſtring Peace, Joy, and Comfort to the Soul. Ah, when the Lord is felt, the Salvation, (his preſence, his Power, his Life, his Vertue the Salvation) when Faith ſprings towards him, and and the fear of the enemy (or concerning the enemy) is baniſhed; when he is experienced to be the Soul's daily ſtrength againſt him; yea and doth ſo deliver, that inſtead of the former fear, becauſe of the fury and oppreſſion of the enemy, the Soul can now ſing; becauſe of that ſtrength and heavenly authority, which the Lord putteth forth and exerciſeth in the heart againſt him! When the well of Life, the Well of Salvation, the Saviours Well is kept open, and the Philiſtins, the uncircumciſed Spirit, Power and nature caſt out, that they can ſtop it no more; but the Soul can draw the water of Life, out of the Well and Fountain of Life with Joy; Ah, then the Goſpel-diſpenſation, is indeed known, and the bleſſed eſtate thereof witneſſed and experienced!

I counſel thee to buy of me Gold tryed in the Fire, that thou mayeſt be rich, and white raiment, that thou mayeſt be cloathed, and that the ſhame of thy nakedneſs do not appear, and anoint thine eyes with eye-ſalve, that thou mayſt ſee, Rev. 3. 18. What is the Gold tryed in the fire, which man is to buy of Chriſt, that he may be made rich therewith? What is the white raiment, which the Soul is to be clothed with, without which it is naked in God's ſight, and in the ſight of the truly diſcerning; and there is a time, when the ſhame of its nakedneſs will appear more generally, as it doth already to the eye of the Spiritual man, who Judgeth all things? What is the eye-ſalve, wherewith the eye is to be anointed, or it cannot ſee? Is it not precious to purchaſe this Gold and Raiment, of Chriſt, and to have this eye-ſalve to anoint the eye with, and to keep it open that it may daily ſee its way, and walk in the Light of the Lord? Certainly this is all inward and Spiritual, as a remnant witneſs it this day; Glory to the Lord God.

But the anointing which ye have received of him, abideth in you: and ye need not that any man teach you: But, as the ſame anointing teacheth you of all things and is truth, and is no lie: and even as it hath taught you, ye ſhall abide in him, 1 Joh. 2, 27. The outward anointing was a ſhadow of the inward, and had a glory in it, under the diſpenſation of the Law and the inward anointing in the Goſpel-diſpenſation is Spiritual and Divine, and exceeding glorious. Chriſt, the anointed one, anoints all his. No being a Son, without being begotten by the Spirit and Power of the Father: and no abiding a Son, but by the Vertue and Power of the ſame Spirit, remaining in and with the Soul, ſo that every Son receives of the anointing of the Father: Chriſt received the Spirit, the fulneſs, that he might give to them a proportion. Now to experience this anointing, and to experience it abiding, and teaching all things, and to know this voice, the voice of the ſhepherd, the voice of the anointing, which the Sheep ſtill finds to be true and no lye? and to abide in the Vine, in the Life, in the Spirit, in the Power as this Spirit or anointing teacheth: Oh here's the ſweet ſtate, the clear ſtate, the bleſſed ſtate! Here

the Promises and Blessings are Yea and Amen in Christ; and the Soul can say, He is Faithful and Just who hath Promised, who hath opened the Treasures of Life to his Family, to his House, to his Children, to his Servants; and blesseth them with all Spiritual Blessings, in Heavenly Things in Christ.

Surely, his Salvation is nigh them that fear him; that Glory may dwell in our Land; Mercy and Truth are met: Righteousness and Peace have kissed. Truth shall spring out of the earth: and Righteousness shall look down from Heaven. Yea the Lord shall give that which is good: and our Land shall yield her increase. Righteousness shall go before him: and shall set us in the way of his steps, Psal. 85. 9. to the end. Is it not precious to witness that fear of God in the heart, to which Salvation is nigh, and the Land wherein Glory dwells? Where Mercy and Truth meet, Righteousness and Peace kiss? Where Truth springs out of the Earth, and Righteousness looks down from Heaven? Where God gives that which is good, and the Land of the Living yields the increase of Life to him? Where righteousness goes before him, and he sets his in the way of his steps? Where the Lamb goes before; and the way is not known, but as the Lamb goes before, and leads into it? Where God is the Shepherd, and the Soul doth not want, because he maketh it to lie down in pastures of tender grass, and leadeth by the waters of quietness (where it drinks of the Brook in the way) and in the Paths of Righteousness for his names sake? See Psal. 23. Is there not a Kingdom of Darkness, a Land of iniquity inwardly? and do not they that dwell there, and sit there, dwell in darkness, and sit in the region and shadow of death? And is there not a travel out of this Land, into the holy Land (the Land of Light, the Land of the Living) and a translation out of this Kingdom, into the Kingdom of the dear Son? And is not God the Shepherd there? Christ the Bishop of the Soul there? and doth not he oversee and take care of souls there, leading them into fresh pastures, and by the soft flowing waters? Is not Salvation nigh there, yea round about that Land? doth not Mercy and Truth meet there? Righteousness and Peace kiss there? yea doth not the glory of the most high dwell in, and overshadow that Land? Is not the eye of the Lord upon it for good, from one end of the year to the other? doth not he watch over it night and day, that none hurt it, and water it in the proper seasons? O, who can utter the Goodness and Glory of the Lord which is revealed and shines here!

Rev. 3. 20. Behold, I stand at the door, and knock: if any man hear my voice, and open the door, I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and he with me. Here are several things, which in their order and seasons, the living come to a certain and sensible experience of.

As First, Christ standing at the door and knocking. What is the door at which he stands? and how doth he knock? How doth the contrary Spirit knock? how doth his Spirit knock?

Secondly, What is his Voice? and how is his Voice heard? To hear Wisdoms cry within, in the inward streets; his call at the door, at which he would enter: Must not the true ear in some measure be opened first? Can any one hear without an ear?

Thirdly, What it is to open the door? there is a dore-keepers state to be witnessed: and the right door-keeper knows how to open and how to shut the door, and is exercised in opening and shutting the door. The King of Glory is to be opened to and let in: but no Wolf, no Stranger, no strange Spirit is to be hearkened or opened to.

Fourthly, What Christ's coming in is at the door opened to him? When he knocks, would he not come in? Would he stand always at the door knocking; Nay, nay; when the door is opened, at which he knocks, he who is the Resurrection and the Life enters, the King of Righteousness, the King of Peace enters; he who is the Wisdom and Power of God enters: and what becomes of the Power and Goods of the enemy then? Doth he not kill and destroy them? doth he not consume and devour them? Doth he not empty the House of them, and garnish the House with that which is truly pure, glorious and beautiful?

Lastly, What is it to have him sup with the soul, and what is it for the Soul to sup with him? Is not here eating and drinking in his Fathers Kingdom? Doth he not first

firſt deſtroy the Devils Kingdom, and then ſet up his own Kingdom? and doth not faſt with the ſoul, and feaſt the Soul in the Kingdom which he ſets up there? O that all men knew how near he, who is eternal Life, is to them: Doth not God ſearch the heart? Is not he near the heart? doth not his Light ſhine there, in the midſt of mans darkneſs and corruption? doth not his Power reach thither, and aſſault and trouble the enemy? doth not his pure Love, wherewith he loveth man, pierce thither? Doth he not knock? doth he not call? Doth he not touch? doth he not draw? doth he not give, at times, ſome living tender ſenſe to many hearts, who too much neglect and deſpiſe him, and regard not the day of his tender viſiting them and calling after them? O how is the Love of God, the Spirit of God, the Life of God, the Wiſdom of God, the Power of God, the drawings and inſtructions of his Grace, day by day, reſiſted by the Wiſdom and Will of the Fleſh, in thoſe that are born thereof and hearken thereto; and ſo live after the fleſh, and not after that which reproves the fleſh?

Many more Scriptures might be mentioned, and alſo ſenſibly and livingly witneſſed to: but theſe are enough to give a taſte. The Lord open mens underſtandings into the thing it ſelf, and give them the Key which opens into the truth, even into the myſtery thereof, wherein is the hidden Life and Vertue, Amen.

A few Words concerning the True Chriſt; how it may be certainly and infallibly known which is He?

This Queſtion relates not to his outward Appearance, in the Dayes of his Fleſh; but to his inward and ſpiritual Appearance, how it may be known? To which the Anſwer on my Heart is, Even after the ſame way, and by the ſame Means is he to be known in his inward Appearance, as he was known in his outward: which was, by the revealing of the Father. For, None knows the Son, but by the Father; and he to whom the Father reveals him. And when Simon Peter confeſſed him to be Chriſt, the Son of the Living God; Bleſſed (ſaid he) art thou, Simon Bar-Jona; for Fleſh and Blood hath not revealed it unto thee, but my Father which is in Heaven, Matth. 16. verſ. 16, 17.

And if none could know Chriſt in his Appearance in Fleſh, notwithſtanding ſo many manifeſt and expreſs Prophefies concerning him, but ſuch only to whom the Father revealed him: How ſhall any know his inward and ſpiritual Appearance, unleſs they be taught of the Father, and hear and learn of him ſo to do?

But more particularly, to ſhew how the Father revealed his Son, and how they came to know in that Day, that he was the Son of the Living God, the Holy One, the Anointed Saviour; and that the ſame way, and by the ſame means, People that will truly know him, muſt come to the Knowledge of him now.

Firſt, They came to know him, by the Manifeſtation of the Life that was in him, by the Fulneſs of the Grace and Truth which dwelt in him, and put it ſelf forth; ſo as to be diſcerned by the inward and ſpiritual Eye in them. For the Life was manifeſted, 1 Joh. 1. 2. The Life which was in him, was manifeſted to the Spiritual Eye, which was in them: and thus they came to know him.

Secondly, By his Voice and Knocks. Thus ſaid he, concerning his Sheep in thoſe Dayes, That they know his Voice, Joh. 10. 4. Oh, he hath ſuch a Voice, as none hath but he! He ſpeaks in his Father's Authority, (not as the Scribes, not as earthly wiſe, learned Men) he ſpeaks in the Evidence and Demonſtration of God's Spirit. The words which he ſpeaks, are Spirit and Life: They that hear his Voice, live. And when he ſtands at the Door and knocks, he pierceth deep.

O the Beatings of his Hand upon the tender and ſenſible Hearts and Conſciences! O, his ſecret Reproofs, his ſecret Inſtructions, his ſecret Quicknings and Enlightnings! How did they, and how do they eternally make him manifeſt in the Hearts and Conſciences of his?

Thirdly, By his Baptiſm, or by his Baptizing into his own Spirit and Power. While People were in expectation, and muſed in their Hearts of John, whether he were the Chriſt or not; John anſwers the Caſe, and tells them, how they might diſcern and know the true Chriſt. It is not I, who baptize with Water; but he that baptizeth with the Holy-Ghoſt, and with Fire: Whoſe Fan is in his Hand, &c.

Luk. 3. 15, 16, 17. Was not this then, and is not this now the way to know the true Chriſt? He that knoweth him, who inwardly and ſpiritually Baptizeth, him who hath the Fan, who inwardly fanneth and purgeth the Floor, gathering in the Wheat, and burning up the Chaff; Doth not he inwardly, truly, and ſpiritually know Chriſt? He that knoweth the Word, which is quick and powerful, and ſharper than any two-edged Sword, piercing even to the dividing aſunder of Soul and Spirit, and of the Joints and Marrow; and is a Diſcerner of the Thoughts and Intents of the Heart: Doth not he know the Word which was in the Beginning, which was with God, yea, which was God? For he is the only Searcher of the Heart, and Tryer of the Reins.

Fourthly, By his mighty Works. The Works which the Father hath given me to finiſh, the ſame Works that I do, bear witneſs of me, that the Father hath ſent me, Joh. 5. 36. And when John ſent two of his Diſciples to Jeſus, with this Queſtion; Art thou he that ſhould come, or look we for another? Chriſt bids them go, and tell John what things they had ſeen and heard; How that the Blind ſee, the Lame walk, the Lepers are cleanſed, the Deaf hear, the Dead are raiſed, to the Poor the Goſpel is Preached: And bleſſed is he, whoſoever ſhall not be offended in me, Luk. 7. 22, 23. Why, herein is a marvellous Thing, (ſaid the Blind Man) that ye know not from whence he is, and yet he hath opened my Eyes, Joh. 9. 30. He who hath the Power, and putteth forth the Power inwardly, who openeth the inward Eye, the inward Ear, looſeth the inward Tongue, cauſeth the inward Feet to walk in the way of Life, and the inward Hands to work the Works of God; he is the Meſſiah, the Saviour, the Word of Life, the Son of the Living God. They that believe in him, in his Spirit, in his Power, in his inward Appearance, have the Witneſs in themſelves, the living Teſtimony, which none can put out, or take away from them. He hath opened mine Eyes, he hath opened my Heart, he hath raiſed me out of the Grave, he hath given me eternal Life. He hath changed me inwardly, created me inwardly, by the working of his mighty Power; and I daily live, am preſerved, and grow by the ſame Power. I feel his Life, his Vertue, his Power, his Preſence day by day. He is with me, he lives in me; and I live not of my ſelf, but by feeling him to live in me, finding Life ſpring up from him into me, and through me; and therein lies all my Ability, and Strength for ever-more.

A few Words in the Bowels of Tender Love, and Good Will to my Native Country.

It is written, When thy Judgments are in the Earth, the Inhabitants of the World ſhall learn Righteouſneſs. O that this might be verified concerning Thee, O England; even that thou might'ſt learn Righteouſneſs, and that the Dayes of thy Unrighteouſneſs might come to an End! Have not God's Judgments been upon thee? Yea, Are not God's Judgments ſtill upon thee? And, Can any thing divert them from coming more upon thee, but thy ſpeedy Returning unto the Lord, in breaking off thy Sins by unfeigned Repentance? O that thou might'ſt be ſenſible of the Hand of the Lord, and might'ſt hear the Rod, and him who hath appointed it! The Lord hath Power over all Nations, and can break them in pieces as a Potter's Veſſel. They are but as the Drop of a Bucket, as the ſmall Duſt of the Ballance: They are before Him as nothing, and are counted to Him leſs than nothing, and Vanity.

Read Iſa. 24. See, how God will plead with Nations; and conſider, whether he be not dealing thus with thee? O, Hath not that been found in thee, and is not that found in thee, which provoketh the Lord exceedingly? O that the weighty Senſe of thy Sins were upon thee; and that thou might'ſt truly repent, and turn from them; that thou might'ſt reap the Benefit of God's Judgments, and learn Righteouſneſs; and his Indignation might be removed from thee, and his tender Bowels of Compaſſion move towards thee.

But,

But, perhaps, ſome may ſay; What is the Righteouſneſs we ſhould learn?

Anſw. O learn to know God, that is a Righteous Thing. Learn to fear God: Learn to worſhip Him aright. How is that? Why, in his own Spirit and Truth, in which he ſeeks to be worſhipped. Learn Humility towards God: Learn Juſtice and Mercy towards Men. Learn to love thy Enemies. If ye will be Chriſtians, that is the Law of Chriſt: But that which is called the Chriſtian World, many of them have not yet learned ſo much as to love their Friends; but hate and perſecute ſuch as fear the Lord, and ſeek their Good, and ſtand in the Gap, to keep back the Wrath of the Lord from breaking in upon them, and are wreſtling mightily with him, with ſtrong Cries that he would ſtay the Sharpneſs thereof, that it might not break forth to their Deſtruction.

Learn to do to others, as ye would be done to. Do not do to any becauſe of their Religion, and tender Conſciences towards the Lord, what ye would not have done to your ſelves becauſe of your Religion. How long will it be, ere ye learn this! How many Judgments and Diſtreſſes ſhall come upon you, before ye bow in Spirit, under the mighty Hand of God, and yield your ſelves, in ſubmiſſion to him, to learn theſe things of him?

Queſt. But, How ſhall we learn Righteouſneſs?

Anſw. Retire inwardly to that, and hearken inwardly to that, which gives the Senſe of Judgments, and learn of that; and that will wean you inwardly from all your Unrighteouſneſs, and teach you Righteouſneſs. There is that inwardly in the Unregenerate, which hardens and miſleads: There is alſo that inwardly, which tenders, melts, teacheth, and leadeth aright; as it is believed in, and obeyed.

O that Men knew the Difference between theſe Two, and how to turn from the one to the other! For out of the Heart, proceeds all that is evil and vain: and out of the Heart, are the Iſſues of Life alſo. The Well or Puddle of the muddy Waters, of the Waters of Egypt, of the Wine of Sodom, and Waters of Babylon, is there: and the Well and Ciſtern of the pure Waters, is there alſo.

O my Native Country, that Thou might'ſt be the firſt Nation, in this Age of the World, that might paſs through the Judgments of God; and be cleanſed thereby, and be happy! O that thy Rulers and Governours were weaned from the Spirit and Wiſdom of this World, and might receive of God's holy Spirit and Wiſdom; and judge and govern Themſelves, and the People thereby! When the Jew outward was choſen to be the People of God, Did not he pour out of his Spirit, to govern them by? Were the Judges, Kings, and Leaders thereof, only anointed with outward Oyl? were they not alſo anointed with God's Spirit? And, Can any Chriſtian Magiſtrate govern aright any Chriſtian Nation, without the Aſſiſtance and Guidance of the ſame Spirit? And, O that all the People were anointed alſo, that they might be inwardly Kings and Prieſts to the Lord, and the Kingdom of Chriſt might be inwardly ſet up in all their Hearts; and every Man might reign in and through him, over the Enemies of his own Soul! O that the Power and Glory of the Lord, might cover thy Governours and Inhabitants, O England! O the Prayers that have been long put up, in Bowels of Tenderneſs for Thee! O the Beſome of the Lord, the Beſome of his Righteous Judgments, that it might ſweep the Hearts of Men inwardly; that this Nation might be prepared for the Glory of the Lord, (for the Glory which he reveals in his Heavenly Birth) to break forth outwardly, to the Admiration and Magnifying of the Work of his Power, in the Eyes of all Beholders. Amen, Amen.

The FLESH and BLOOD of CHRIST,

Both in the Myſtery, and in the Outward, briefly, plainly, and uprightly Acknowledged and Teſtified to, for the Satisfaction and Benefit of the Tender-Hearted; who deſire to experience the Quickning, Healing, and Cleanſing Vertue of it.

With a brief Account concerning the People called Quakers, in reference both to Principle and Doctrine.

Whereunto are added ſome few other Things, which, by the Bleſſing of God, may be Experimentally found uſeful, to the true Pilgrims, and faithful Travellers out of the Nature and Spirit of this World.

The PREFACE.

HAving been lately at London, upon occaſion of a Meeting between ſome of the People called Quakers, and ſome of the People called Anabaptiſts, and other Confederates; wherein I was ſomewhat concerned, being charged or brought in by Thomas Hicks, in his Second Book of Dialogues, called Continuation, page 4. To prove, That the Quakers account the Blood of Chriſt, no more than a common Thing. And having been at that Meeting, to clear my Innocency in that particular; but the Thing not then coming in Queſtion, and I being to return to my Habitation in the Country, (though I ſtaid alſo a Second Meeting for that purpoſe) it was on my Heart, in the Clearneſs and Innocency thereof, to give forth this Teſtimony, to take off that Untruth and Calumny of T. H. both from the People called Quakers, and my Self; being both of us greatly therein injured, as the Lord God of Heaven and Earth knoweth. I have had Experience of that deſpiſed People for many Years; and I have often heard them (even the Antient Ones of them) own Chriſt, both inwardly and outwardly. Yea, I heard one of the Antients of them thus teſtifie, in a Publick Meeting, many Years ſince, That if Chriſt had not come in the Fleſh, in the Fulneſs of Time, to bear our Sins in his own

Body

Body on the Tree, and to offer himſelf up a Sacrifice for Mankind, all Mankind had utterly periſhed.

What Cauſe then have we to praiſe the Lord God, for ſending his Son in the likeneſs of Sinful Fleſh; and for what his Son did therein! O Profeſſors, do not pervert our Words (by reading them with a prejudiced Mind) quite contrary to the Drift of God's Spirit, by us! If ye ſhould thus Read the Holy Scriptures, yea, the very Words of Chriſt himſelf therein, and give that Wiſdom of yours, which fights againſt us, ſcope to comment upon them, and pervert them after this manner; What a ſtrange and hideous Appearance of Untruth and Contradiction, to the very Scriptures of the Old-Teſtament, might ye make of that wonderful Appearance of God? For the Words of Chriſt ſeemed ſo fooliſh and impoſſible to the wiſe Men of that Age, that they frequently Contradicted, and ſometimes Derided him.

If we be not of God, we ſhall come to nought; nay, We had not ſtood to this Day, if his mighty Power had not upheld us. We could not have ſtood inwardly, nor could we have ſtood outwardly, againſt the fierce Aſſaults we have met with both wayes. And as we have not had By-ends, to move us inwardly; ſo neither have we had By-ends, to move us outwardly, as our God knoweth.

O T. H. Doſt thou believe the Eternal Judgment, at the Great Day; not outwardly only in Notion, but inwardly in Heart? O then conſider, How wilt thou anſwer it to God, for ſaying ſo many things in the Name of a People, as their Belief and Words, which never were ſpoken by any one of them, nor ever came into any of their Hearts! Innocency in me, Life in me, Truth in me, the Chriſtian Spirit and Nature in me, is a Witneſs againſt thee, that thou wroteſt thy Dialogues out of the Chriſtian Nature and Spirit: And thy Brethren, William Kiffin, and the reſt, who have ſtood by thee, to juſtifie thee, (or at leaſt, ſeemed ſo to do) muſt take notice of theſe things, and condemn them in thee; or they will expoſe Themſelves (and their Religion) to the Righteous Judgment of God, and of all who love Truth, and hate Forgery and Deceit.

I pity thee; yea, I can truly ſay, I forgive thee the Injury thou haſt done me, (though indeed it is very great, thus to repreſent me publickly, what thou couldſt not have done, if thou hadſt equally conſidered the Things written in that Book;) and I alſo deſire, that thou mayeſt be ſenſible of what thou haſt ſo evilly done, and confeſs it before God; that he alſo might forgive thee. O I would not bear the Weight of this Sin, at the Judgment-Seat of Chriſt, for Ten Thouſand Worlds! And that theſe Books ſhould be ſo long Publick, and thy Brethren take no notice of them; but rather, at laſt, apply themſelves to Juſtifie thee: O how will they anſwer this thing, when they come to anſwer it for ever! Oh, What will ye ſet up an Intereſt againſt our Lord Chriſt, (who is the Truth, and teacheth Truth) and bend all your Strength and Underſtanding, to make Lies, Falſhoods, and Forgeries to appear, as if they were Truth, and not Forgeries?

If ye will judge your ſelves, and repent of theſe things, ye ſhall not be condemned of the Lord: But if ye will go on, to cover and hide this great Iniquity, ye ſhall not proſper therein.

As for my Particular, I had committed my Cauſe to the Lord, and intended to have been wholly ſilent; knowing my Innocency will be cleared by him in this Particular, at the great Day; and the Love, Truth, and Uprightneſs, wherein I wrote thoſe Things, owned by him.

But in the Love of God, and in the Stilneſs and Tenderneſs of my Spirit, I was moved by him to write what follows. And, Oh that it would pleaſe the Lord, to make it ſerviceable, even to T. H. himſelf, for his Good.

The

The FLESH & BLOOD of CHRIST,

Both in the Mystery, and in the Outward; briefly, plainly, and uprightly acknowledged and testified to, &c.

IN the Second part of Thomas Hicks his Dialogues, called Continuation, pag. 4. He maketh his personated Quaker speak thus. Thou sayest, we account the blood of Christ no more than a common thing, yea no more than the blood of a common Thief: To which he makes his personated Christian answer thus. Isaac Penington (who I suppose is an approved Quaker) asks this question, can outward blood cleanse? Therefore saith he, we must enquire, whether it was the blood of the Vail, that is, of the Humane Nature, or the blood within the Vail, (viz.) Of that spiritual man consisting of Flesh, Blood and Bones, which took on him the Vail, or humane Nature; 'tis not the Blood of the Vail, that is but outward, and can outward blood cleanse?

Now to satisfie any that desire to understand the Truth as it is, and to know what the intent of my heart and words (as spoken by me) were; I shall first say somewhat to his stating the question: and then open my heart nakedly and plainly, as it then was, and still is in this matter.

First, I answer, these were not my words, which he hath set down as mine, but words of his own patching up, partly out of several queries of mine, and partly out of his own conceivings upon my queries, as if he intended to make me appear both ridiculous and wicked at once. For I no where say, or affirm, or did ever believe, that Christ is a spiritual man consisting of Flesh, Blood and Bones, which took on him the Vail or Humane Nature: Thus he represents me as ridiculous. It is true, Christ inwardly, or to his inward being, was a Spirit, or God blessed for over manifested in Flesh, which (to speak properly) cannot have Flesh, Blood and Bones, as man hath. And then, besides his alterations at the begining, putting in only four words of my query, and leaving out that which next follows (which might have manifested my drift and intent in them) he puts in an affirmation which was not mine, in these his own words. Tis not the Blood of the Vail, that is but outward; and then annexeth to this affirmation of his own, the words of my former query. Can outward Blood cleanse? as if these words of mine, (Can outward Blood cleanse?) did necessarily infer, That the Blood of Christ is but a common thing.

Herein he represents me wicked, and makes me speak by his Changing and Adding, that which never was in my heart, and the contrary whereto I have several times affirmed in that very Book, where those several queries were put (out of which he forms this his own query, giving it forth in my name.) For in the Tenth page of that Book, begining at line 3. I positively affirm thus, that Christ did offer up the Flesh and Blood of that Body (though not only so, for he poured out his Soul, he poured out his life) a Sacrifice or Offering for sin, a Sacrifice unto the Father, and in it tasted death for every man; and that it is upon consideration (and through Gods acceptance of this Sacrifice for sin) that the sins of Believers are pardoned, that God might be just; and the justifier of him who believeth in Jesus, or who is of the Faith of Jesus. Is this common Flesh and Blood? can this be affirmed of common Flesh and Blood? ought not he to have considered this, and other passages in my Book of the same tendency, and not thus have reproached me, and misrepresented me to the world? Is this a Christian Spirit: or according to the Law or Prophets, or Christs Doctrine? Doth he herein do, as he would be done by? O that he had an heart to consider it! I might also except against those words, Humane Nature (which he twice putteth in) being not my words, nor indeed my sense: for by Humane Nature as I judge, is understood more than the body, whereas I by the word Vail intended no more than the Flesh (or outward body) which in Scripture is expresly so called, Heb. 10.20. Through the Vail, that is to say, his Flesh.

Secondly,

Secondly, I cannot but take notice of this, That he hath not cited the place, page or pages; nay not so much as named the Book, where those words or sayings which he attributeth to me are written, whereby any persons that were not willing to take things upon bare Report (especially in so deep charges, reflecting not only upon one person, but an whole people) might consult the place, and see whether they were my words or no, and whether the queries I did put (indeed to the hearts of people) had any such drift or no, and might compare the words (if they were mine) both with what went before, and also followed after; and with what was said in several other places of the Book, which speak of Christ's Flesh and Blood as of no common thing, but as that which God made use of toward the Redemption of Mankind.

Thirdly, The drift of all those Queries in that Book, was not to vilifie the Flesh and Blood of Christ, by representing it as a common or useless thing: but to bring people from sticking in the outward, to a sense of the inward mystery, without which inward sense and feeling, the magnifying and crying up the outward doth not avail. Indeed, at that time, I was in a great exercise concerning Professors. Love was deeply working in my heart, and I was in a very tender frame of Spirit towards them, as any may perceive, who in the fear of God, and in meekness of Spirit shall read that Book (It is Entituled, A question to the Professors of Christianity, whether they have the true, living, powerful, saving knowledge of Christ, or no, &c.) And in this tender frame, in the midst of my crying to God for them, those Queries from a true sense and understanding sprang up in my heart, even to necessitate them, if possible to some sense of the mystery, which there is an absolute necessity of, unto true Christianity and Salvation. This was the very intent of my heart in the several Queries, which generally speak of one and the same thing, under several Metaphors and Figures. And that this was my intent, these words following in the second page of my Preface to that Book, do plainly express, the words are these. Now to draw mens minds to a sense of truth, to a sense of that which is the thing, that they might know the Bread indeed, that they might know the living watures, come to them and drink thereof, and find Christ in them a Well of water springing up to eternal life; therefore was it in my heart to give forth this Question and the ensuing Queries, which he that rightly answer, must know the thing; and he that doth not know the thing, by his inability to answer, may find that he doth not, and so may wait upon God, that he may receive the knowledge of it, and come to it, for the eeternal life which it freely giveth.

And that I did mean the mystery, when I spake of Bread, Water, the Vine, the live-coal from the Altar, the leaves of the Tree of life, the putting on Christ, the Flesh and Blood of Christ, &c. is very plain to him that reads singly. But to make it manifest particularly, concerning the Flesh and Blood of Christ, I shall recite one Query, it is the 33. Query, page 29. The Query is thus. Is not the true Church, Flesh of Christs Flesh, and Bone of his Bone? Is not the false or Antichristian Church, Flesh of Antichrists Flesh, and Bone of Antichrists Bone? What is the Flesh of the spiritual Whore, which is to be stripped naked and burnt with fire? Shall ever the Church which is of Christs Flesh, be stripped naked and burnt with fire? Nay, doth not his Flesh make able to abide the devouring fire, and to dwell with the everlasting burnings Can this possibly be understood of outward Flesh and Bone? is it not manifestly intended of Flesh and Bone in the Mystery? ye that I did relate to the Mystery? in that very Query, out of which he takes the four first words, and no more, is very manifest by the following words of the same Query. It is the 17. Query, page 25. The Query runs thus, Can outward Blood cleanse the Conscience? ye that are spiritual consider (can outward water wash the Soul clean?) ye that have ever felt the Blood of sprinkling from the Lord upon your Consciences, and your Consciences cleansed thereby? did ye ever feel it to be outward? It is one thing what a man apprehends (in the way of notion) from the letter concerning the things of God, and anoher thing what a man feels in spirit: Is it not manifest by the express word themselves, that I spake of the inward feeling of the Blood in the mystery?

Fourthly, This Query, Can outward Blood cleanse the Conscience, &c. doth not necessarily, nor indeed at all infer, that the Blood of Christ, as to the outward, was but a common thing, or useless. If I had been to answer this Query my self, he doth not know what my answer would have been. It was put to the Professors to answer, inwardly in their hearts; who I did believe, upon serious consideration, could not but confess, in way of answer thereto, that outward Blood it self (or of it self) could not cleanse and purge away the filth that was inward; but that must be done by that which is inward, living and spiritual. Then hereby they had been brought to see the necessity of the Mystery, the Spirit, the Power, the life of the Son to be inwardly revealed in them: and then I had obtained my end. Nor was I their enemy in desiring or aiming at this for them, or in setting Queries before them, which to my eye (as in the sight of God) seemed proper and conducible in themselves (however they might fail as to them) towards the obtaining of this end. And if they could once come to this, to own the Flesh and Blood in the mystery, and so come to partake of its cleansing and nourishing vertue, and not fix and appropriate that to the outward, which chiefly belongs to the mystery; I say, if they could but go thus far with me, in owning the inward life and power, in the sensible feeling and operation thereof; I could meet them a great way in speaking glorious things of, and attributing a cleansing or washing vertue to the outward, in and through, and with the inward. For I do not separate the inward and outward in my own mind, but the Lord opened my heart, and taught me thus to distinguish, according to the Scriptures, in love to them, and for their sakes. For that was not my intent, to deny the outward, or make it appear as a common or useless thing. There was never such a sense in my heart, nor was ever word written or spoken by me to that end: which to make more manifest, I shall now plainly open my heart, how it hath been, and is still with me, in this respect, since it pleased the Lord and Father of mercies, to reveal the mystery of himself, and of his Son in me.

In the first place, I freely confess, that I do own and acknowledge, as in Gods sight, Our Lord Jesus Christ, his Flesh and Blood in the mystery. The Apostle Paul speaks of the mystery of God, and of the Father and of Christ, Colos. 2. 2. The Son was revealed in him, Gal. 1. 16. and so he knew the mystery of Christ, and preached the mystery of Christ, Colloss 4, 3. He was made an able Minister of the new Covenant; not of the Letter but of the Spirit, or mystery: and so he preached the wisdom of God in the mystery, or Spirit, 1 Cor. 2. 7. 2 Cor. 3. 6. Colloss. 1. 25, 26, 27. and he had great conflict to bring people to the rich knowledg, and acknowledgment of the mystery, Chap. 2. 1, 2. He was sent to turn men from darkness, and from the Power of Satan, (which is a mystery, and works in mens hearts in a mystery) to the Light, to the Spirit and power of God, which is a mystery also: and remission of sins is received in and through this mystery, Act. 26, 18. And I desire every serious and tender heart to consider, whether this knowledg of Christ, in the mystery, was not that which he called the excellency of the knowledg of Jesus Christ his Lord, Phil 3, 8. Certain I am, that the knowledg of God and Christ in the mystery, is the most excellent knowledg, and no less then life eternal, inwardly revealed and felt from God in the heart. And here no legal righteousness, no self-righteousness can stand: but the vertue and power of Christs Death and Resurection, inwardly revealed and felt in the mystery, subdues and destroyes it all. Indeed self-righteousness may be given up in the way of notion, or seemingly destroyed as to mens apprehensions, without the revealing or working of the mystery: but it cannot be destroyed in reallity, but where this is felt. But where the mystery is known, is received, and throughly works: self-righteousness can have no place there. Now the Apostle, who was acquainted with the mystery of Christ, he speaks of his Body, Flesh and Bones in the mystery, Eph. 5, 30. (And if there be Flesh and Bones in the mystery, is there not also Blood in the mystery?) yea the Apostle John speaks of the Spirit, Water and Blood, 1 Joh. 5. 8. Now consider seriously, are all these of one and the same nature? or are they of a different nature? the Spirit of one nature, and the Water and Blood of another nature? Blessed be the Lord, the birth which is born of the Spirit, and is spiritual, knoweth the nature of the spirit which begat it, and kn weth water which is inward and heavenly, and blood which is not at all, all of an inferior nature, to it. And Jeſus Chriſt, our Lord, and Teacher, ſpeaketh of Fleſh which came down from Heaven, which Fleſh is the Bread of Life, which he that lives, feeds upon, and none can feed upon, but they that live. And by this it is manifeſt (to all to whom God hath given underſtanding in the myſtery) that his Fleſh and Blood in the myſtery is intended by him, in that he ſaith, He that eateth my Fleſh and drinketh my Blood, dwelleth in me and I in him, Joh. 6. 56. This dwelling in each other, is an effect of the myſtery, and is witneſſed by none that know not the myſtery. And to this effect Chriſt himſelf expreſly expoundeth it, ver. 63. It is the Spirit that quickneth, the Fleſh profiteth nothing: the words, that I ſpeak to you, they are ſpirit, and they are life As if he had ſaid, I am ſpeaking of the Souls food, I am ſpeaking of the Heavenly bread, I am ſpeaking of ſpirit and life, I am ſpeaking of the miſtery, which ye look upon and underſtand as outwardly intended by me, and ſo miſs of the myſtery, of the ſpirit, wherein is the quickning vertue, and look only at the outward Body or Fleſh, which, without the ſpirit, profiteth not, nor ever can profit man.

Secondly, I confeſs further, that I have the ſenſe, experience, and knowledge of this alſo, that in the myſtery is the quickning vertue, the cleanſing vertue, the nouriſhing vertue unto life eternal, The ſpirit, the water, the blood inwardly ſprinkled, inwardly poured by God upon the Soul, inwardly felt and drunk in by the thirſty earth, do cleanſe, do feed, do nouriſh, do refreſh. Doth not God promiſe to ſprinkle clean water upon his Iſrael in the new Covenant, and they ſhall be clean? and to pour water on him that is thirſty, and floods upon the dry grounds? is it not by the ſpirit of judgment and burning, that God waſheth away the filth of the Daughter of Sion, &c. Eſay 4. 4. Doth not the live coal from the Altar, purifie and take away the iniquity? Eſay. 6. O read inwardly! O wait to be taught of God to read inwardly, ye that may know what theſe things mean! Why ſhould ye quarrel at the precious and tender openings of truth, in love to your Souls?

Thirdly, I have likewiſe this ſenſe, and have alſo had this knowledge and experience, that the outward, without this, cannot avail. A man is not cleanſed by notions or apprehenſions concerning the thing: but by the thing it ſelf. Let a man believe what he can concerning the blood of Chriſt, and apply to himſelf what pomiſes he can, yet this will not do (O how grievouſly do men miſtake herein!) but he muſt feel ſomewhat from God, ſomewhat of the new Creation in Chriſt Jeſus, ſomewhat of his light (ſhining from him the Son, into the heart) ſomewhat of his life, ſomewhat of his power, working againſt the darkneſs and power of the enemy in him. Now a man being turned to this, joyned to this, gathered to this ſtandard of the Lord, tranſlated in ſome degree out of himſelf into this: here ſomewhat of the myſtery is revealed, and found working in him; and far he is of God, and hath ſome true underſtanding from him. And here alſo he hath right to Chriſts Fleſh and Blood in the outward, and to all the benefits and precious effects that come thereby. For by owning the myſtery, and receiving the myſtery, we are not taught of God to deny any thing of the outward Fleſh and Blood, or of his obedience and ſufferings in the Fleſh, but rather are taught and enabled there rightly to underſtand it, and to reap the benefits and precious fruits of it.

Fourthly, The Lord hath ſhewn me this alſo, very manifeſtly and clearly, That in former times (in this nation, as well as elſwhere) before Profeſſors ran ſo into heaps (I mean, into ſeveral wayes and forms of Church fellowſhip ſo called) they had more inward ſenſe of the Myſtery, than now they have; and were a great deal more tender (both unto the Lord, and one towards another) than now they are. For then grace in the heart, and the inward feeling was the thing that was moſt minded among the ſtricter ſort. They did not mind ſo much bare reading, or hearing, or praying, or any outward obſervation whatſoever, as what they felt therein. Let men have ſpoken never ſo many glorious words concerning the things of God; yet if they had not been ſpoken warmly and freſhly by him that ſpoke them, there was little ſatisfaction to the Soul that hungred after that which was living, but rather an inward grief and diſſatisfaction felt. So that in that day there was an inward sense of the mystery (though not a distinct knowledge of it) which was pretious in the eye of God, and very savoury inwardly in the heart. But now, in so long time, by looking so much outward, and beating their brains, and disputing about the outward, many have very much (if not wholly) lost the sense of the inward, and are found contending for the outward, against the very appearance and manifestation of the inward, and so are in danger of being hardned and sealed up in that which is dead and litteral, out of the limits of that which is living and spiritual. It is a dreadful thing to fight against the living God, and his living appearance in the hearts of those whom he chuseth, in any Age or Generation: The Lord hath been pleased to bring us (a poor despised remnant) back to that which first gave us life, in the dayes of our former profession. O that ye were brought thither also, that that might remove the vail, hardness, darkness, and deep prejudices from you; which can never be removed, while ye stick in litteral apprehensions, without the light and teachings of Gods spirit! Now, as touching the outward, which ye say we deny, because of our testimony to the inward, I have frequently given a most solemn testimony thereto; and God knoweth it to be the truth of my heart, and that the testifying to the inward (from which the outward came) doth not make the outward void, but rather establish it in its place and service. God himself, who knew what vertue was in the inward, yet hath pleased to make use of the outward: and who may contradict or slight his wisdom and Council therein? Glorious was the appearance and manifestation of his Son in Flesh, pretious his subjection and holy obedience to his Father; his giving himself up to death for sinners, was of great esteem in his eye. It was a spotless Sacrifice of great value, and effectual for the Remission of sins: and I do acknowledge humbly unto the Lord, the Remission of my sins thereby, and bless the Lord for it, even for giving up his Son to death for us all, and giving all that believe in his Name and power, to partake of Remission through him.

And seeing it is thus with me, seeing the Root of the matter is in me, O how can any man that hopes to be redeemed by my Lord and Saviour, reproach me for speaking of the mystery, without the least Derogation to the outward, or what was done by him in the outward! But if I should speak vehemently concerning mens neglecting the mystery, and setting up that which is outward instead of it, and without it; I should not be condemned, but justified of the Lord in so doing. Indeed there is a great and weighty charge from Gods spirit, upon the Professors of this age, for departing from the inward (I mean that sweet sense, which in some measure God gave them in former times of the inward) and magnifying and striving to establish that which they apprehend concerning the outward, without it, and against it. O that it were otherwise with them, that God may not have this charge to manage against them, when at the great day they are to appear before him, and be judged by him: When all that have slighted or spoken contemptuously of his Sons appearance in Flesh (and have not come) to a sense thereof, and Repentance for it) or shall be condemned, and they that have slighted or spoken contemptuously of his appearance in spirit, shall not be justified: which appearance is now made manifest in the hearts of Many, blessed be the lord for it. O what cryes have been in my heart many years concerning you! (O ye Professors of all sorts, who have had any tenderness towards the Lord,) that ye might see and know the Lord Christ, and confess, him in spirit, in the Mystery, even in his inward appearance in the heart, and might feel his redeeming power and vertue there, and so be brought unto Union and Fellowship with him!

A Post-

The Concluſion of this Part.

THere is a precious Promiſe of God's making a Feaſt of Fat Things on his Holy Mountain, and of deſtroying there the Face of the Covering, caſt over all People, and the Vail that is ſpread over all Nations, Iſa. 25. 6, 7. Now, What is this Mountain? Was there not a Mount-Sion under the Law, which was figurative? And, Is there not a Mount-Sion under the Goſpel, which is the Subſtance of that Figure? And, Did not the Chriſtians, in the Apoſtles Dayes, who were called of God, and ſanctified, come to this Mount-Sion, and to the City of the Living God, the Heavenly Jeruſalem; where they had Fellowſhip with God, the Judge of All, and with Jeſus, the Mediator of the New-Covenant, &c. Heb. 12. 22, 24? And, Was not the Vail here done away, in him who was their Lord, their Light, their Life, their Strength, their Sun of Righteouſneſs, their Bright and Morning-Star? So that, with open Face, they could behold the Glory of the Lord, and were changed thereby into his Heavenly Image, from Glory to Glory, 2 Cor. 3. 18.

But, Alas! How hath that Life, Spirit, and Power been loſt, ſince the Dayes of the Apoſtles! Men have ſtill owned the Apoſtles Words, and formed many Notions and Apprehenſions out of the Letter: But loſt the Apoſtles Spirit, loſt the Knowledge of the Holy Mountain, where the Vail is taken away, and where the Feaſt of Fat Things is made; and ſo, are only dreaming about Eating and Drinking ſpiritually, but know not what it is to feed on the living Subſtance. And ſo (being ignorant of that) the Vail is over their Hearts, while they read the Prophets Words, and Chriſt's and his Apoſtles Words; and the Myſtery of Life, and of the Redeeming Power is hid from their Eyes: And that which God intended to them for a Table, is become their Snare, (as it was with the Jews;) and their Back is ſo bowed down under the Loads and Burthens of the Enemy, that they cannot ſo much as hope or believe in the Power of Life, for Redemption there-from; but conclude, it muſt neceſſarily be ſo with them all their Dayes.

O where's the Faith, that gives Victory over the Enemies? Where's the Ability in the Faith, ſo to reſiſt him, as to make him fly? Where's Satan's falling like Lightning. (Oh, his Strength before the Power of the Lord, is but a Flaſh!) and the God of Peace his treading him under the feet of his Saints? O where's that Truth, or that Knowledge of the Son, which makes free from him? (Joh. 8. 32, 36.) Where's that Spirit, wherein Liberty from his Power and Snares is felt, 2 Cor. 3. 17? Where's living in the Spirit, and walking in the Spirit, and in the pure Light of the Lord, where he cannot come? Where's reading of the Scriptures, in that which gives to witneſs them, and which fulfils them in the Heart?

O the Myſtery of Godlineſs, the Power of Godlineſs, where the Life is revealed, and the Vail taken away, and an Underſtanding given, opened, and kept open to read and underſtand the Scriptures aright; yea, and the hidden Glory alſo! Where it cannot be ſaid in truth, to thoſe that are there, Ye know not the Scriptures, nor the Power of God; but ye have received Power to become Sons of God, and ye are in him that is true; who truly opens the Scriptures in your Hearts, and gives you the enjoyment, inheritance and poſſeſſion of the precious promiſes, whereby ye are made partakers of the Divine Nature, and live in him who is the head and ſpring of that Nature! O that people, that profeſs Chriſt, were here! O that they did know him who begets! and then they would not be ſo ignorant of thoſe that are begotten by him: but would come into the true faith, into the true love, into the true knowledge and obedience of him, whom God hath appointed to guide and govern, and build up the whole living body! The Lord guide me inwardly thither, where the myſtery is revealed, and the fellowſhip with God, and his Son and Saints held in the Myſtery: for our fellowſhip is not in a notional knowledge concerning Chriſt; but in the Life it ſelfe, which the Lord God gather his people more and more into, and build them more and more up in, Amen.

A brief ACCOUNT Concerning the People called QUAKERS, in reference both to Principle and Doctrine.

We are a People of God's gathering, who (many of us) had long waited for his appearance, and had undergone great Diſtreſs, for want thereof.

Queſt. BUt ſome may ſay, what appearance of the Great God and Saviour did ye want?

Anſw. We wanted the preſence and power of his ſpirit, to be inwardly manifeſted in our ſpirits. We had (as I may ſay) what we could gather from the Letter, and indeavoured to practiſe what we could read in the Letter: but we wanted the power from on high, we wanted life, we wanted the preſence and fellowſhip of our beloved; we wanted the knowledge of the Heavenly Seed and Kingdom, and an entrance into it, and the holy Dominion and Reign of the Lord of life over the Fleſh, over ſin and death in us.

Queſt. How did God appear to you?

Anſw. The Son of Righteouſneſs did ariſe in us, the day ſpring from on high, the Morning Star did viſit us, inſomuch that we did as really ſee and feel the light and brightneſs of the inward day in our ſpirits, as ever we felt the darkneſs of the inward night.

Queſt. How did God gather you?

Anſw. By the voice of his Son, by the Arm of his Son, by the vertue of his Sons light and life, inwardly revealed and working in our hearts. This looſed us inwardly from the darkneſs, from the bonds of ſin and iniquity, from the power of the Captiver and Deſtroyer: and turned our minds inwardly towards our Lord and Saviour, to mind his inward appearance, his inward ſhinings, his inward quicknings; all which were freſh from God and full of vertue. And as we came to be ſenſible of them, joyn to them, receive and give up to them, we came to partake of their vertue, and to witneſs the reſcuing and redeeming of our ſouls thereby. So that by hearing the Sons voice and following him, we came to find him the way to the Father, and to be gathered home by him to the Fathers houſe, where is Bread enough, and Manſions of reſt and peace for all the Children of the moſt High.

Now, as touching the bleſſed principle of truth, which we have had experience of, and teſtifie to (for how can we conceal ſo rich a Treaſure, and be faithful to God, or bear true good will to men!) it is no new thing in it ſelf, though of late more clearly revealed, and the minds of men more clearly directed, and guided to it, than in former ages. It is no other then that which Chriſt himſelf abundantly Preached, who Preached the Kingdom, who Preached the truth which makes free, and that under many Parables and Reſemblances: ſometimes of a little Seed, ſometimes of a Pearl or hid Treaſure, ſometimes of a Leaven or Salt, ſometimes of a loſt piece of Silver, &c. Now, what is this, and where is this to be found? What is this, which is like a little Seed, a Pearl, &c. And where is it to be found? What is the field? is it not the World, and is not the World ſet in mans heart? what is the houſe, which is to be ſwept and the Candle lighted in? Is it not that houſe, or heart, where the many Enemies are? A mans Enemies, ſaith Chriſt, are thoſe of his own houſe. Indeed the teſtimony concerning this was pretious to us: but the finding and experiencing the thing teſtified of, to be according to the teſtimony, was much more. And this this we say, in Perfect truth of heart, and in most tender love to the Souls of people; that whoever tries, shall find this little thing, this little Seed of the Kingdom, to be a Kingdom, to be a Pearl, to be Heavenly Treasure, to be the Leaven of Life, leavening the heart with life, and with the most precious oyl and oyntment of Healing and Salvation. So that we testifie to no new thing; but to the Truth and Grace, which was from the begining: which was alwayes in Jesus Christ our Lord and Saviour, and dispensed by him in all Ages and Generations, whereby he quickened, renewed, and changed the heart of the true believers in his inward and Spiritual appearance in them, thereby destroying the Enemies of their own house, and saving them from them. For indeed there is no saving the Creature, without destroying that in the Creature, which brings Spiritual death and destruction upon it. Israel of old was saved by the destroying of their outward Enemies: and Israel now (the new Israel, the inward Israel) is saved by the destruction of their inward Enemies. O that people could come out of their own wisdom and wait for Gods wisdome, that in it they might come to see the glory, the excellency, the exceeding rich Vertue and Treasures of life, that are wrapped up in this principle or Seed of Life; and so might receive it, give up to it, and come to partake thereof.

And as touching Doctrines, we have no new Doctrine to hold forth. The Doctrines held forth in the holy Scriptures, are the Doctrines that we believe. And this doth farther seal to us our beliefe of this principle, because we find it a Key, by which God openeth the Scriptures to us, and giveth us the living sense and evidence of them in our hearts. We see, and have felt in it to whom the curse and wrath belongs, and to whom the love, mercy, peace, blessings and pretious promises belong: and have been led by Gods holy Spirit and Power, through the judgments, to the mercy and to the partaking of the pretious promises. So that what should we publish any new faith, or any new Doctrines for? (indeed we have none to publish) but all our aim is to bring men to the ancient principle of truth, and to the right understanding and practise of the ancient Apostolick Doctrine and holy Faith once delivered to the Saints. Head-notions do but cause disputes: but heart-knowledge, heart-experience, sense of the living power of God inwardly, the evidence and demonstration of his spirit in the inward parts, puts an end to disputes, and puts men upon the inward travel and exercise of spirit, by that which is new and living, which avails with God. Now whereas many are offended at us, because we do not more Preach Doctrinal points, or the History of Christ, as touching his Death, Resurrection, Ascension, &c. but our Declaration and Testimony is chiefly concerning a Principle, to direct and guide mens minds thereto.

To give a plain account of This thing, as it pleaseth the Lord to open my heart at this time, in love and good will to satisfie and remove prejudices where it may be: thus it is in brief.

FIrst, that which God hath given us the experience of (after our great loss in the litteral knowledg of things) and that which he hath given us to testifie of, is the mystery, the hidden life, the inward and spiritual appearance of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, revealing his power inwardly destroying Enemies inwardly, and working his work inwardly in the Heart. Oh, this was the joyful sound to our Souls, even the tydings of the arising of that inward life and power, which could do this? Now this Spiritual appearance of his, was after his appearance in flesh, and is the standing and lasting Dispensation of the Gospel, even the appearance of Christ in his Spirit and Power inwardly, in the hearts of his. So that in minding this, and being faithful in this respect, we mind our peculiar work. and are faithful in that which God hath peculiarly called us to, and requireth of us.

Second-

Secondly, There is not that need of publiſhing the other, as formerly was. The Hiſtorical Relation concerning Chriſt, is generally believed, and received by all ſorts that pretend to Chriſtianity. His death, his miracles, his riſing, his aſcending, his interceding, &c. is generally believed by all people: but the myſtery they miſs of, the hidden life, they are not acquainted with; but alienated from the life of God, in the midſt of their litteral owning and acknowledging of theſe things.

Thirdly, The knowledg of theſe, without the knowledg of the myſtery, is not ſufficient to bring them unto God; for many ſet up that which they gather, and comprehend from the Relation concerning the thing, inſtead of the thing it ſelf; and ſo never come to a ſenſe of their need of the thing it ſelf; nay, not ſo far, as rightly to ſeek after it. And ſo, many are builders, and many are built up very high in Religion, in a way of notion and practiſe, without acquaintance with the Rock of Ages, without the true knowledg and underſtanding of the foundation and corner-ſtone. My meaning is, they have a notion of Chriſt to be the Rock, a notion of him to be the foundation-ſtone: but never come livingly to feel him the Rock, to feel him the foundation ſtone inwardly laid in their hearts, and themſelves made living ſtones in him, and built upon him the main and fundamental ſtone. Where is this to be felt, but within? And they that feel this within, do they not feel Chriſt within? And can any that feel him within, deny him to be within, the ſtrength of Life, the hope of Glory? Well, it is true once again (ſpiritually now, as well as formerly litterally) The Stone which the builders refuſed (Chriſt within, the builders of this age refuſe) is become the head of the Corner, who knits together his ſanctified body, his living body, the Church, in this our day, more glorioufly than in former Ages and Generations, bleſſed be the name of our God.

Fourthly, The myſtery, the hidden life, the appearance of Chriſt in Spirit comprehends the other; and the other is not loſt or denyed, but found in it, and there diſcerned and acknowledged more clearly and abundantly. It was to be after it, and comprehends that which went before it. Paul did not loſe any thing of the excellent Knowledg of Chriſt, when he ſaid, Henceforth know we no more after the Fleſh; yea, though we have known Chriſt after the Fleſh, yet henceforth know we him no more. If he did not know Chriſt after the Fleſh, how did he know him? Why, as the Father inwardly revealed him. He knew him in his Spirit and Power. He knew his Death inwardly, he knew his Reſurrection inwardly, he knew the Spirit, the Virtue, the Life, the Power of it inwardly. He knew the thing in the myſtery in his own heart. O precious knowledg! O the excellency of this knowledg of my Lord and Saviour Jeſus Chriſt! what is the outwardly moſt exact litteral knowledg without this? But what then! do I now deny or ſlight the outward? No, I have it here, and I have the inward feeling of the Spirit of Life, how it dwelt in him, how it wrought in him, and of what wonderful value all his actions and obedience were, in and through the vertue of this Spirit. Was Abrahams offering his Son ſo pretious in God's eye? O then, what is this! Never was ſuch a body ſo ſanctified, ſo prepared: never ſuch a Sacrifice offered. O the infinite worth and value of it! For by the inward Life and teachings of Gods Spirit, am I taught and made able to value that glorious outward appearance, and manifeſtation of the Life and Power of God in that Heavenly Fleſh (as in my heart, I have often called it) for the Life ſo dwelt in it, that it was even one with it. Yet ſtill it was a vail, and the myſtery was the thing; and the eye of Life looks through the vail into the myſtery, and paſſes through it, as I may ſay, as to the outward, that it may behold its glory in the inward. And here the Fleſh of Chriſt, the vail is not loſt, but is found and known in its glory in the inward. Be not offended at me, O tender hearted Reader, for I write in love, things true, according to the inward feeling and demonſtration of Gods Spirit, though not eaſie perhaps to be underſtood at preſent by thee: but in due time the Lord can make them manifeſt to thee, if thou in uprightneſs and tenderneſs of heart, and in the ſilence of the fleſhly part, wait upon him.

A few WORDS Concerning the way of PEACE.

The way of Peace they have not known, Rom. 3, 17.

THere is a way of Peace, of true Peace with God, who is an adverſary to all that is unholy and unrighteous. Thoſe who have been unholy and unrighteous, who have been awakened, troubled, and could find no reſt, but the ſevere and righteous judgments and wrath of the Lord, lying upon their Spirits night and day; having at length had their ears opened by him, and being led by him out of the unholy and unrighteous way, into the holy and righteous way, have felt both Life and Peace therein.

Now there are two ſorts, which the Apoſtle here mentions (or two ſtates, which the Apoſtle here ſpeaks of) which have not known, nor can know the way of Peace with God; who is an adverſary to them both, and will one day ſpeak trouble to them both, when their Souls and Conſciences come to be ſearched and judged by him.

The one is the Prophane or Gentile-ſtate, which is without the ſenſe of God, not heeding any appearance of his, or any inward voice of his Spirit, or the writing of his Law upon their heart. Theſe never knew the way, wherein the heart is inwardly and Spiritually circumciſed and renewed, ſin forgiven and Peace obtained.

The other is the profeſſing, or outward Jews ſtate, who may ſtudy the Letter, and apply themſelves to conform outwardly to the Letter, but never were acquainted with the inward Spirit and Power. Theſe greatly differ from the Gentile or Prophane-ſtate, both in outward appearance, and in their own eye: but are the ſame in the ground, with the Gentiles, and know no more of the way of Peace, than the other do.

Queſt. But what is the way of Peace, which neither the Prophane, nor any ſort of Profeſſors out of the Life and Power, ever knew or can know?

Anſwer. It is an inward way, a way for the inward Jews, for the inwardly renewed, and circumciſed to walk in. it is an holy or ſanctified way, for the ſanctified ones to walk in. It is a living way, which none but the living can find. It is a new way, which none but thoſe to whom God hath given the new eye can ſee. It is a way that God prepares and caſts up, and leads mens Spirits into (who hearken unto him) and guides the feet of his Saints in. It is a ſtrait and narrow way, which no luſt of the Fleſh, nor wiſdom of the Fleſh can find out, or enter into. O how little, how low, how poor, how empty, how naked muſt he be, that enters into this way, and walks therein! Many may ſeek after it, and may think to find it, and walk in it, but few ſhall be able, as our Lord Chriſt ſaid. Here circumciſion outward availes not, here want of that circumciſion hinders not: here bodily exerciſe profits little. The new Creature is all here, the Croſs of Chriſt is all here, the power of God is all here; and he that walks according to this rule. Peace is upon him, and the whole Iſrael of God. But he that knows not this rule, nor walks according to this rule; Peace is not upon him, nor is he one of the inward Iſrael of God, who receive power to become Sons, who receive the Law of the Spirit of Life, in Chriſt Jeſus, which is the inward rule of the inward Iſrael.

This was the way of Peace from the begining; this is the way of Peace ſtill; and there is not another. To be new Created in Chriſt Jeſus, to be ingraffed into him, to abide in him, to have the circumciſion of the fleſh (the body of the ſins of the fleſh cut off) by the circumciſion of Chriſt (made inwardly in the heart without hands) and to walk not after the fleſh, but after the Spirit, (even in the newneſs of the Spirit, he is Life and Peace, Reſt and Joy for evermore. The Lord of his tender mercy, give men a ſenſe of it, and lead men into it more and more, Amen.

The Concluſion of the Whole.

THere is a Birth which is born, not of Bloods, nor of the will of the fleſh, nor of the will of man; but of God, Joh. 1. 13. And this Birth which is born of the Spirit, is Spirit, Chap. 3. 6. Now this Birth, which is born of the Spirit, and is Spirit, hath a life and way of knowledge, ſuitable to its nature, and being, which is very far above man. It's Life is in the Spirit, and its walking in the Spirit, and its knowledge is after the way of the Spirit, very far above mans way of conceiving or comprehending. The Birth it ſelf is a Myſtery to man, and it's way of knowing is a way altogether hid from man. It is indeed in the evidence and demonſtration of Gods Spirit, in the ſhinings of his light in the heart. In thy light ſhall We ſee light. The Birth knows what this means. There is a wiſe and prudent part in man, from which God hides the ſight of his Kingdom, and the Heavenly Glory thereof: but there is a babe, to which God reveals the Myſtery thereof. Fleſh and Bloud cannot reveal: but the Father can and doth to his Children, who is the teacher of them all, from the leaſt to the greateſt, in the new and living Covenant. There is man's day, and there is God's day. There is mans day of gathering knowledge, after his fleſhly manner comprehending: and there is Gods day of giving knowledge, by the ſhinings of the light of his own eternal Spirit. In mans day, how doth wiſe and prudent man beat his brains, and labour in the fire for very vanity! but in Gods day, how doth the knowledge of the Lord cover the Earth, as the waters cover the ſea! When the day-ſpring from on high viſits inwardly, when the Lord lighteth the Candle inwardly; O how clear is the knowledge of the Lord, and how doth it abound then! O what a difference there is between mans apprehenſions and conceivings, concerning Chriſt, and Gods revealing him inwardly! and between mans coming to Chriſt, according to his own apprehenſions, and his coming to Chriſt in the Heavenly drawings, and teachings of the Father, (Joh. 6. 45.) O that the begettings of Life and Birth thereof, were felt in mens hearts, that in it men might know the day of God, and the Kingdom of God, and the Treaſures of Wiſdom which are hid in Chriſt, and will ever be ſo, but as Chriſt is inwardly revealed and formed in the heart! Many may have notions of Chriſt being formed in them: Ah, but to feel it inwardly! ther's the Sweetneſs, ther's the aſſurance, ther's the life, ther's the peace, ther's the Righteouſneſs of the Lord Jeſus Chriſt, and ther's the Joy of the true Chriſtian for ever. Come, O come, all ſorts of tender Profeſſors out of your ſelves into Gods Spirit, into Gods truth; that ye may know what it is to be in the Spirit, and in the Truth: and what it is to live there, and to know things there, and to worſhip there, and to have fellowſhip with the Father, and Son there. The poor receive the Goſpel, the poor receive the Kingdom, the poor receive the Power, the poor receive the Righteouſneſs and Salvation of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt. Ye are too rich in your comprehenſions and gathered knowledge, from your own litteral conceivings, to learn to wait aright, to receive of him his Gold, his Raiment, and his eye-ſalve. What pleaſure is it to us to teſtifie againſt you? Were it not for obedience to our God, and love to your Souls, we would never do it. We are content and ſatisfied to be of the little, deſpiſed Flock, which the Shepherd feeds, giving to every one his proportion of daily nouriſhment, Life, Peace, Righteouſneſs and Joy. It is our love to you, that we would not have you lay out your Money for that which is not Bread, and your labour for that which will not ſatisfie, the truly hungry and awakened Soul, but might come to feed on ſubſtance, on the life it ſelf, on the ſweetneſs and fatneſs of Gods houſe, where nothing, that any of the Children can need or long after, is wanting. O that ye had the ſenſe of our love! If ye had the true underſtanding ing and ſenſe of Gods love, ye could not but have a ſenſe of our love alſo: for it comes from him, and it flows towards you in his will and tender movings. Do ye love God? are your hearts circumciſed to love God? if not, ye do not truly love. And if ye loved him that begets, ye would love them that are begotten by him. Your love is to your own notions and apprehenſions of God; not to his nature; For if ye loved his nature (that Holy, Heavenly, ſpiritual nature as it is in him) ye could not but love it in his Children alſo. Well, our God is Love, and taught us to Love, even our Enemies, and to wreſtle with our God for them; that if it be poſſible, the Lord may remove the Scales from their eyes, and give them Repentance to the acknowledgment of the Truth, as it is in Jeſus, where it is more living and powerful, more effectual and operative (inwardly purifying, ſanctifying, yea and juſtifying alſo) then any, but only thoſe that are born of God, (and kept alive by him,) yet ever knew or can know.

A POST-SCRIPT.

Containing a few words concerning the doings and ſufferings of that deſpiſed People called QUAKERS, which are both miſunderſtood, and miſ-repreſented by many; with an Exhortation to true Chriſtianity.

FIrſt, their doings are looked upon by many, to be from a natural Principle, and according to the Covenant of works, and not from the free grace and gift of Gods Spirit.

Now concerning this, I can ſpeak ſomewhat faithfully, as having been long exerciſed in the Principle, and as having had experience of the Grace and tender mercy of the Lord from my Childhood. And indeed, thus it hath been with me from my Childhood; what ever hath been done in me or by me, that was good, I have felt to be from Gods grace and mercy to me, and have cryed grace, grace, mercy, mercy to the Lord continually therefore. And when I was turned to his truth in the inward parts, I found it was Gods grace and tender love to me to turn me to it, and to preſerve me being turned; and to cauſe it to ſpring in me day by day, and to give me ability through it. Ah, none knows, but they who have had experience, how we have been weakned in the natural part; how poor we have been made, that we might receive the Goſpel, and how poor in our ſelves we are kept, that we might enjoy the riches and inheritance of the Kingdom. And this we daily experience, that not by the works of Righteouſneſs which we had done, but according to his mercy he ſaved us, and doth daily ſave us, by the waſhing of regeneration, and the renewing of the holy Ghoſt! yea, Gods writing his Law in our hearts, and placing his fear there, and putting his ſpirit within us, to enlighten and quicken and cauſe us to walk in his wayes, and to keep his ſtatutes and judgments, and do them, and all the mortifying of ſin, and denying of the luſts of the fleſh, and performing that which is holy and acceptable in the eyes of the Lord (as all that proceeds from his own holy ſpirit is) all this is of the New Covenant, and performed by the working thereof and not by the working of the natural part of it ſelf, but by the working of the ſpirit of life in the new Birth and through the natural part as his inſtrument. So let none reproach the works that God brings forth in us, who hath created us a new in Chriſt Jeſus unto good works, leſt thereby he reproach the holy Spirit and power of the living God, in which they are wrought and by which they are brought forth, and could never be brought forth without it.

Then, for our ſufferings, indeed they are gifts we receive from God: ſo that we can truly ſay, itis given us by the Lord our God, not only to believe in his Son, but to ſuffer for his ſake: and that it is only in good Conſcience to God, and by the aſſiſtance of the Lord, that we ſuffer that the patience and meekneſs wherewith we ſuffer, is not of our ſelves, but of him. When ever the Lord permits afflictions or ſufferings to come upon us, our eye is to him, and we enter into them in his fear, knowing our own inability to go through them, and looking up to him for ſtrength. And when we are in them, while they continue, we daily look up to him for ſtrength, and have been many times very weak in our ſelves, when immediately, or very ſoon after, we have felt great ſtrength in the Lord. Alſo, after our ſufferings, when the Lord hath been with us all along, and brought us through our ſufferings, in the peace and joy of his Spirit; we do not look back boaſtingly, as if we had been any thing, or done any thing as of our ſelves; but we bow before the Lord, and bleſs the Lord, when we conſider how he hath been with us, and how he hath upheld us by the right hand of his Righteouſneſs, and what he hath done for us, when we were very poor, weak, afflicted, and often ſorely diſtreſſed. Therefore let none Reproach, miſ-repreſent or viliſie our ſufferings, which our God hath helped us through, and for which we (in humility of heart) give him thanks, and cannot but do ſo all our days; beauſe the thankful remembrance and ſenſe of them, is written by the finger of his Spirit upon our hearts. O all ſorts of People, whom we love and travel for, and uſe our intereſt in the Lord our God for, that ye might be truly ſenſible of your conditions, know the inward appearance and viſits of the Shepherd and Saviour of the Soul, turn to him (looking in true faith unto him) and be ſaved: I ſay unto you, in tenderneſs of Spirit, O do not requite us ſo ill for our love and truth of heart towards you, as to caſt untrue and unjuſt Reproaches upon us, and to render that truth vile, which God has made honourable, in ſanctifying and redeeming many thereby. Truly our love is from the God of Love. We could not ſo love you, as we do, if our God had not taught us: nor ſo ſeek after you, as we do, in tenderneſs of Bowels, if we were not inſtruments in the hand of the Shepherd of Iſrael. And the light we teſtifie of, which we feel ſhine in us; it is no leſs than the true, ſure light of the Sun of righteouſneſs, which God hath cauſed to ſhine in our harts, who alſo loveth mankind, and cauſeth it to glance into the darkeſt Corners of the Earth. And the life we are quickned by, out of Sin and Tranſgreſſion, and the power we have received to become Sons of God, it is from him who is the fountain of Life and hath all power in Heaven and Earth. O that ye could receive the bleſſed report! O that the Arm of the Lord might be revealed in you! O that ye could feel and witneſs the Saviour working out your Salvation in you, binding the ſtrong man in you, caſting him out of you, with all his goods after him, that the place of the wicked one might be found no more in you, nor none of his luſts or vain thoughts lodge in your hearts any more; but ye might witneſs and experience the new heart, the clean heart, the pure heart, in which God dwells; and the eye that ſees him that is Inviſible. O glory to the Lord for what he hath done in and for a deſpiſed People, (who were no People, before the Lord made them one) who hath brought them to Sion, his holy Mountain, where he dwells and reigns, and where he builds up his own Houſe and Temple, which he eſtabliſheth over all, where the Sheep of Iſrael feed, and where the Shepherd of Iſrael Reigns and Triumphs in glory, over the enemies of his Kingdom. The little innocent Babes taſt ſomewhat of his holy Dominion and Power, and of his Kingdom of Peace and Righteouſneſs: but in his antients, his light ſhines very brightly, and before them he reigneth glorioufly; ſo that he is praiſed in the very heights of Sion, and his name renowned there over all for ever. Glory, glory to the pure ſpring of life, from whence the living ſtreams come, which refreſh the Souls of the living. Surely, his pure praiſes ſhall be ſounded in the hearts of the living, for ever and ever, Amen.

An

An EXHORTATION to true CHRISTIANITY.

It is eaſie to pretend to Chriſt: but to be a true Chriſtian is very pretious, and many Tribulations and deep Afflictions are to be paſſed through before it be attained unto, as thoſe that are made ſo by the Lord, experience.

Now everlaſting Happineſs and Salvation depends upon true Chriſtianity. Not upon having the name of a Chriſtian only, or profeſſing ſuch or ſuch Chriſtian Doctrines; but upon having the Nature of Chriſtianity, upon being renewed by the Spirit of Chriſt, and receiving the Spirit, walking in the Spirit, and bringing forth the fruits of the Spirit. Oh, here is the Chriſtian indeed; and it ſhould be every ones care, not to fall ſhort of this! Now, becauſe there is ſuch a contention about Chriſtianity, who is the right Chriſtian; it behoves every man to take care, as to himſelf, that he be really ſuch: that he receive that from God, and be that to God, which none but the right Chriſtian can be, or can receive. This is the uſe I would make of theſe things in my own heart; even to be ſure I be ſuch an one, as God hath made, and will accept and own as a Chriſtian. And having had ſome experience of this thing, and truly underſtand what the Chriſtian-ſtate is, and what doth attend it; I ſhall ſet down ſome few things, which he that inwardly knoweth (witneſſeth and enjoyeth) is without all controverſy, a true Chriſtian, what ever men may account of him. Firſt, He that is a new Creature, is without doubt a true Chriſtian. He that is Regenerated, he that is renewed in the Spirit of his mind by Chriſt Jeſus, he that is New-Created in the holy and Heavenly image; he has felt the power of Gods Spirit begetting him anew, forming him anew, out of the old nature and Image of the firſt Adam, into the nature and Image of the ſecond Adam: who is the quickning Spirit: and that which is begotten and born of him is Spirit.

Secondly, He that is in the new Covenant, is a true Chriſtian. He that hath thirſted after the living waters, and hath heard the call to the waters of life; hath heard the voice of him who gives life, and hath received life from him who giveth life to all that come to him, and who maketh the new and everlaſting Covenant with all that hear his voice, take up his Croſs and follow him; he is without doubt one of Chriſts Sheep, whom the Shepherd owneth and taketh care of.

Thirdly, He that is inwardly circumciſed, with the circumciſion made without hands, he is a Jew inward, a Chriſtian inward, (in the ſight of God) who hath felt the Spirit and Power of Chriſt Jeſus, and rejoyceth in Chriſt Jeſus, and is one of thoſe Worſhippers, whom God hath ſought out and taught to Worſhip him, in the life and ſpirit of his Son.

Fourthly, He that is inwardly waſhed with clean water, with the inward water; he is the inward Jew, the inward Chriſtian. God promiſed to pour out clean water upon his Iſrael, and they ſhould be clean. He who hath the clean water poured upon him inwardly, which inwardly waſheth and cleanſeth, he is without controverſie of one Gods inward Iſrael.

Fifthly, He that feeds on the Bread of Life within, and drinks the water of life out of his own Well or Ciſtern, he without doubt is living. He that is invited to the Marriage Supper of the Lamb, and comes and Sups with the Lamb, he is one of the ſame nature and Spirit with him. He with whom Chriſt Sups, who hath heard Chriſt knocking at his door, hath opened to him and received him in, to purifie his heart and dwell in him, and Sup with him, and give him to Sup with himſelf; ſo that he eats Bread in the Kingdom, and drinks Wine in the Kingdom, and partakes of the Feast of fat things, which God makes to his Israel in his holy Mountain; he is without doubt one of Christs, and partakes of this in and through him.

Sixthly, He that lives the Christian life, who walks not after the Flesh, but after the spirit, who doth not fulfill the lusts of the Flesh, but hath the law of God written in his heart, and his fear put within him, and his holy Spirit given to instruct him, and to guide him to answer the holy law written in his heart, which the carnal mind is not subject, nor can be subject to; without doubt he is spiritual, without doubt he is a true Christian.

Seventhly, He that lives by faith, who knows the faith which is the Gift of God, hath received it and lives by it, who can do nothing of himself, but only by faith in that holy power which doth all in him: so that he lives, and believes, and obeys from an holy Root of life, which causeth life to spring up in him, and love to spring up in him, and the Lambs meekness and patience to spring up in him, and all grace to spring up in him; I say, he that lives thus, without doubt is engraffed into the true Vine, into the true Olive-tree, and the Root bears him, and Ministers sap unto him, and he is a true, fresh, green, living Branch of the true Vine of the holy Olive-Tree.

Many more things might be mentioned, as they are experimentally known and felt amongst us who are true Christians, though the Baptists and others have represented us to the World, as if we were no Christians, but that toucheth us not, their saying so, is no more to us than the professing Jews of the same Spirit, who said Christ had a Devil; but these are to give a Taste. And he that knows and feels these, may also know and feel the rest: and he that doth not know nor feel these, would not know or feel the rest, if never so many more should be mentioned. Now the way to feel these, and to become a true Christian (and to grow up in the Christian life) is to feel the Seed of the Kingdom, which is the beginning of the Kingdom, the beginning of true Christianity: and then to feel the Seed abiding (the Seed which is of the Spirit, and which is Spirit) here's the constant Seal of Christianity in my heart; here are true and certain evidences, day by day, of the Christian nature and Spirit, manifesting themselves undeniably inwardly.

And now, having the witness in my self, the Testimony of him that begat life in me, testifying to his own work, and to his own Birth: of what value are any Testimonies of men without against this? Christianity is a mystery: and he only can truly see, who is a Christian indeed, who hath the inward eye opened, and with that inward eye, is taught of God to pierce into that, wherein Christianity consisteth. There have been many Christians of mens making: there are also some Christians of God and Christs making, which Christians God and Christ will own; but not the other. O let men have a care! that when God cometh to distinguish between Cattle and Cattle (between Christian and Christian) they be found such as God will make up as his Jewels, and own as the Sheep of his fold, such as shall be able to bear the Tryal of his searching judgment, and pure impartial eye; and not such as still, notwithstanding all their profession of Religion and Christianity, are found workers of iniquity, and so not created anew in Christ Jesus unto good works, and therefore not truly of him, nor true Christians in his eye.

Behold the Dayes come ſaith the Lord, that I will puniſh all them which are circumciſed with the uncircumciſed, Egypt, and Judah, and Edom, and the Children of Ammon, and Moab, and all that are in the utmoſt corners, that dwell in the wilderneſs; for all theſe Nations are uncircumciſed, and all the Houſe of Iſrael are uncircumciſed in the heart, Jer. 9. 25. 26

The PREFACE.

WHat a day of diſtreſs, and revelation of the righteous Judgment of God, is to come upon the wicked and ungodly World (even upon man, who was created in the Image of God, but is now fallen from it, and found out of it, and in another Image very unlike it) the eye which the God of this World hath blinded, and the heart which he hath hardened by ſin and tranſgreſſion, hath no ſenſe of.

What a day of diſtreſs and miſery ſome in this nation (and in other parts of the World) have already met with; how they have felt the Weight of Sin upon their Spirits, and what a ſore thing it hath been to them to feel their Souls ſeparated from that God that made them them (who is the Husband and Father, King and Preſerver of Souls that are found in his Image and Nature) how they have been inwardly captivated by a Forreign Power, and oppreſſed, and made to ſerve under ſin, and could hear no effectual Tidings of his appearance who was able to ſave, but their Spirits were ready to ſink, and their Hope of Redemption, from that which oppreſſed and captivated them, almoſt cut off; this being an inward State and Condition, hath been altogether hid from the Eye which is outward.

How the Lord at length appeared unto theſe (his Bowels having long rowled over them, and he having long waited to be gracious to them, even till the fully acceptable and ſet time was come) how his Light hath ſhined in and upon them, how he gathered thoſe dry Bones together, and breathed Life into them, and made them live; this alſo is altogether an hidden thing from the Eye of the World.

How the Lord, who appeared to them, hath exerciſed and tried them; how he hath judged them, and how he hath ſaved them; what deſolations he hath made inwardly in them, and what he hath built there? what an Hammer, a Sword, a Fire, &c. his pure word of Life hath been in them; How that Birth which could live without God, without his inward Life, or upon words and Knowledg without Life, hath been famiſhed, untill by the pain of the Famine its very Life and Breath, hath been taken from it, and it crucified with Chriſt, by the Pain of the Croſs of Chriſt; and what Birth hath been raiſed and crowned afterwards, and beautified with the Ornaments of Righteouſneſs and Salvation, yea, with the endleſs love, and Mercy with its God; and how the Lord is with his People, and dwells and walks in them, and how he hath humbled them to walk with him; and how in Fear and Humility they do walk with him in the Light of Day-everlaſting, even as God is Light, and walks in the Light, of his own Day, theſe are very ſtrange and unknown things to the Wiſeſt and moſt Prudent in Religion, at this Day, who are not gathered into the myſtery of Godlineſs (nor into the Spirit, Power and Glory of the Father) where theſe things are revealed in and by the Son.

What Faith the Children of Wiſdom have in the Wiſdom and Power which hath appeared; What confidence they have in the Lord their God, that he will ſtand by them in all their Exerciſes and Trials, both inward and outward; and what Experiences they have had of the Lords ſtanding by them in both; how his Faithfulneſs doth not fail, and how their Faith in him is upheld and preſerved by him, that it doth not fail in the ſtormy time, or Hour of greateſt Diſtreſs; and how their Eye is unto him, and their Hearts with him in the Calms, ſo that their God is all in all unto them continually; (And who knows this, but they that have it!) Oh who can utter or declare the Sweetneſs and Certainty of this, where it is enjoyed!

What Love alſo the Lord ſheds abroad in their Hearts, and how he teacheth and cauſeth them to love, by often circumciſing their Hearts, and cutting off that which hindreth the pure Love from ſpringing in them; and how they love others in the love wherewith God (who is love) hath loved them; and how natural it is to them to pray for their Enemies, and to bleſs them that curſe them, and do Good for Evil; but cannot requite Evil for Evil, being tranſplanted into and growing up in the Root that is Good, and ſends up good ſap and Vertue into them, which nouriſheth all that is good in them, but is Death and Deſtruction to the Remainders of of evil, as the Lord purſueth and findeth it out; Oh how impoſſible is it for the Heart of man to conceive and underſtand!

Now, I alſo having taſted of the Mercy and goodneſs of the Lord, and having been brought out of a State of great Miſery and Sorrow of Heart into the Redemption and Joy of God's choſen; and having found the Lord faithful to me, and giving me Faith in the Appearance of his Spirit and Power in me, and true Love (tender Love) not only to my Brethren in the Truth, but to all Mankind ſpringing in me, and divers Fruits iſſuing forth from it, ſome of them at this time I cannot but publiſh, and the Lord open the Hearts of thoſe whom it concerns, that they may find ſome Help, Benefit and Furtherance by it; for it is the Joy of my Heart to receive Good from God, to be filled with his Bleſſings, to have my Cup overflow, and that others may be helped, refreſhed and gladed therewith, and by the ſweet taſte thereof led to wait for the opening of the ſame Root and Fountain of Life in themſelves, to yeild living Sap, and ſend forth living Streams in them Day by Day.

Some

Somewhat in the Love of God to the Jews Natural, or ſeed of Abraham after the Fleſh.

O the Glory of your ſtate outward, who were the people whom God once choſe, and Loved, and manifeſted his Power and preſence among, above all People! Whoſe Land was the Glory of all Lands, to which God brought you out of Egypt by an out-ſtretched Arm, through a dreadful Wilderneſs, wherein ye were tempted, tried, and exerciſed, and the ſucceeding Generation fitted to enter into. O what Laws and ſtatutes, and righteous Judgments did God give you, ſuch as no Nation beſides had! What a Temple had ye to appear before God in, and the Ark of the Covenant, and holy Prieſts, Kings and Prophets! And how nigh was God to you, to be enquired of by you; and how ready to hear your Prayers, in all that you called upon him for! The eternal God was thy Refuge, and underneath were the everlaſting Arms (the Lord was thy Rock, and thou waſt built upon him) and he did thruſt out the enemy before thee, and did ſay, Deſtroy. And when the Arm of the Lord, did deſtroy them before thee, thou didſt dwell in ſafety alone, and the Lord was a Fountain of living waters to thee, and his Heavens did drop down Fatneſs upon thee. Happy waſt thou, O Iſrael, who was like unto thee, O People ſaved by the Lord, the ſhield of thy help, and who was the Sword of thy excellency! And thine enemies were found lyars unto thee, and thou didſt tread upon their high places. And it might have been ſtill ſo with thee, hadſt thou not been unmindful of the Rock that begat thee, and forgotten God that formed thee: For thy Glory ſhould not have been taken from thee, but ſwallowed up in a higher Glory, wherein thou mighteſt have had the firſt and chiefeſt ſhare, hadſt thou not, by thy almoſt conſtant Rebellion and Unbelief, provoked the Lord againſt thee; not only often to afflict, but at laſt utterly to caſt thee off from being a people, and to choſe a people in thy ſtead, who ſhould bring forth better Fruits to the Lord of the Vine-yard, than thou in thy Day hadſt done.

Yet when thy ſtate was thus Glorious, it was not a ſtate of the truly-ſubſtantial, laſting Glory, but a ſhadowy-ſtate or repreſentive thereof. Thy day of Glory was not the day of the Meſſiah, the day of everlaſting Light inwardly, wherein the Lord alone is exalted, inwardly in the hearts of all, in whom he breaks down all that is contrary to the Light of his Day. Thy day was but the day of the outward ſhadows of the heavenly ſubſtance; but when that day, (the day of the inward ſubſtance and Glory) ſhined, thy ſhadows or ſhadowy-ſtate was to fly away, and to be ſwallowed up in the pure ſubſtance, and ſpiritual Kingdom of the Meſſiah.

Thy birth from Abraham after the Fleſh, was not the birth which was to inherit the promiſe in the Kingdom of the Meſſiah: but there is a birth inwardly born of the Spirit, born after Abraham in his Faith, who travels inwardly, as Abraham did outwardly, and ſeek an inward Country and City, whoſe builder and maker is God: To theſe the Spiritual Kingdom and Promiſes belong.

Thy Circumciſion was but the Circumciſion outward, the Circumciſion of the Fleſh; it was not the Circumciſion of the Heart. That is the Circumciſion of the inward Jew, which indeed the Scripture call'd for from you, becauſe there was ſomewhat near you, which would have ſo circumciſed you, had ye hearkened and given up to it: but ye, as a people, were not ſo circumciſed, but were a ſtiff-necked people (as Moſes and the Prophets were ſtill complaining of you) uncircumciſed in Heart and Ears, reſiſting Gods Spirit, both in your own Hearts, and in the Prophets, untill the Lord was provoked to take away both Viſion and Prophet from you.

The Ægypt, in which your Fathers were in bondage, and Pharaoh who oppreſſed preſſed them, was but the Ægypt outward, and Pharaoh outward. There is an inward Ægypt, wherein the Spiritual Seed, the inward man, the Soul is in Bondage; and there is a Spiritual Pharaoh, that oppreſſeth the Spiritual Seed, in ſpiritual Ægypt. And there is a ſtretching out the Arm of the Almighty inwardly, to break the ſtrength of the inward Pharaoh, to pierce Leviathan the crooked Serpent, and to deliver the Soul from under his captivity.

The Wilderneſs alſo your Fathers were led through was but the outward Wilderneſs; where they were tempted and tried by the Lord many wayes, that he might do them good in the latter end. But the inward Iſrael, after they are led out of the inward Egypt are tried in the inward wilderneſs; where they are Judged after the Fleſh, and that waſted in them, which is not to enter into and inherit the good land, where they are tried in the furnace of affliction, and their filth purged away by the Spirit of Judgment and burning; that the righteous nation, which hath received the holy inward law, and keeps the Truth, may enter into the good land, city and kingdom of the Meſſiah, and inherit the bleſſed promiſes of life and ſalvation there.

Moſes, your great prophet, was a Type of the great, laſting, ſtanding prophet, whom God would raiſe up like unto Moſes, who was to give his inward law; as Moſes did the outward; and to lead all the Spiritual Iſrael as Moſes did the outward Iſrael, and his word was to be heard and ſtand in all things whatſoever he ſhall ſay unto his people: and whoſoever will not hear and obey this Prophet, ſhall be cut of from among the holy, ſpiritual, and inwardly living People.

Joſhuah, who ſucceeded Moſes, led but into the figurative Reſt; he was but a Figure of him, that inwardly leads into the inward and ſpiritual Reſt; which the true Jews, which are inwardly created and formed by God, and made a willing people, in the day of his Power, enter into.

The Pillar of cloud and pillar of Fire in the Wilderneſs, were but Figures of the ſpiritual Pillar of Cloud and Fire, by which the Spiritual Iſrael are led and defended in the glorious Goſpel-day, of God's ſpirit and power, read Iſa. ch. 4. which ſpeaketh of the Goſpel-day, and the Pillar of Cloud and Fire to be created therein, and of the defence which is to be on all the inward and ſpiritual glory.

The Land of Canaan, the outward good and Kingdom of Iſrael, was but a Figure of the inward Land, and Kingdom of the inward Iſrael, in the dayes of the Meſſiah. This is the Land of Judah, in which the Song is Sung, becauſe of the inward ſtrong City, where God appoints Salvation for walls and bulwarks, which the righteous nation which keepeth the Truth, enter into, Iſa. 26.

Their outward Kings in that Land, and particularly David, were but Types of the Spiritual King, the ſpiritual David, whom God will raiſe up to the ſpiritual People, who ſhould ſeek the Lord their God, and David their King, who ſhall be their ſpiritual ſhepherd, and ruler, whom God hath appointed to feed them, in the integrity of his Heart, and to guide them by the skilfulneſs of his hands, who is King of Righteouſneſs and Peace inwardly, and who miniſters Righteouſneſs and Peace to the ſheep and lambs of his paſtures.

Their outward prieſts (even their High prieſts) were but a repreſentation of the great High-Prieſt of God, who was to be a prieſt for ever, after the order of Melchizedeck, Pſal. 110,

Their outward Covenant (made with them from the outward mount Sinai, upon the giving of the Law, and holy ſtatutes and ordinances, by which they were to live and enjoy God in their outward ſtate) was but a ſhadow of the inward and Spiritual Covenant, the new and everlaſting Covenant, which God makes with his inward and Spiritual people in the latter dayes.

Their outward Law, as written and engraven in tables of ſtone, was but a ſhadow of the inward Law, which God puts into the Children of the new Covenant, inſomuch that they need not go outwardly to learn the Knowledge of God, or his will or law; but the inward Iſrael find it inwardly written within. There the Iſles who wait for the Law of the Spirit of Life, for the Law of the Meſſiah receive receive the Miniſtration of the Law (in the Spirit and Power of the Meſſiah) which they wait for.

Their outward Mount Zion, on which the outward Temple was built by Solomon that wiſe King, that righteous King, that peacable King, was a figure of the inward Mountain, whereupon the inward Houſe is built in the dayes of the Goſpel, in the dayes of the Meſſiah. And to this Mountain are the Spiritual people to come up and Worſhip. And this is the Zion and Jeruſalem (even inward and ſpiritual) from which the Law and Word of the Lord go forth in the dayes of the Meſſiah. And the ſpiritual houſe of Jacob combin'd or agree together, to walk in the light of the Lord, who ſends forth his Light and Truth, and leads them to his holy hill, and to his Tabernacles.

Their outward Tabernacle and Temple, ſanctified by God for him to dwell and appear in, was a ſhadow of God's inward dwelling-place in man, I will tabernacle in them. God dwelleth not in Houſes or Temples made with hands, that is not the place of his reſt, as ſaith the Prophet Iſaiah; but the high and lofty One, that inhabits Eternity, whoſe Throne is in Heaven, and the Earth his footſtool, he dwelleth alſo with him that is of an humble and contrite Spirit, to revive the Spirit of the humble, and to revive the Spirit of the contrite ones.

Their outward Sabbaths were not the laſting Sabbath or Reſt of the Goſpel, but given them for a ſign; but the day of Redemption from ſin, the day of Reſting from ſin, the day of ceaſing from the works of the Fleſh, the day wherein God is all, and doth all by his Spirit and Power inwardly, and wherein he alone is exalted; this is the day of Reſt, which the Lord hath made, for the Spiritual Iſrael, and which they are glad of and rejoyce in.

So their Incenſe and Sacrifices were not the laſting Incenſe and Sacrifices, but ſhaddows thereof. The Prayers of the Saints, when God pours out the Spirit of prayer and Supplication upon them, and they pray to him therein, that is the Incenſe. Let my Prayer be directed before thee as Incenſe, and the lifting up of my Hands as the evening Sacrifice. And this was the Incenſe and pure Offering, which in every place was to be offered up to God's Name among the Gentiles, when his Name ſhould be great among them, as Malachy foretels. And what ſaid David of old when Gods Spirit and the holy viſion was upon him? Sacrifice and offering thou didſt not deſire, mine Ears haſt thou opened: Burnt offering and ſin-offering haſt thou not required. Then ſaid I, lo I come, in the volumn of the Book it is written of me: I delight to do thy will, O my God: yea, thy law is in the midſt of my Bowels. The Sacrifices of God are a broken Spirit, (rent your hearts and not your Garments, and turn to the Lord your God) A broken and a contrite Heart, O God thou wilt not deſpiſe. The offering Praiſe to God, from a ſincere Heart, and the ordering of the converſation aright, theſe are the Sacrifices well-pleaſing to God, for ſacrifices were not the thing which God mainly required of outward Iſrael: but this OBEY MY VOICE: And Obedience is more acceptable then all other ſacrifices, and to hearken then the Fat of the choiceſt Rams.

Beſides, thoſe outward ſacrifices could not remove or take away ſin from the Conſcience, but he that came to do the will, and to put an end to thoſe ſacrifices, and oblations, which were but outward and imperfect, he doth both waſh and take away ſins from within, and alſo bring in everlaſting Righteouſneſs, where his Light ſhines, and his pure Life ſprings inwardly in the Heart.

And this is the ſubſtance of all the ſhadows, even the Light eternal, the word eternal, the Son of the Living God, (who is light, as the Father is Light) the word nigh in the Mouth and Heart, the word of the New Covenant, the which Moſes directed your Fathers to, Deut 30. And by which the Lord ſpeaketh, and hath ſpoken throughout the world (Pſalm. 50. 1.) and teacheth every man that hearkenneth to his Voice, to do juſtly, love Mercy and walk humbly with his God, as it is expreſſed by the Prophet Micah.

Now to you Jews of the outward line of Abraham, (whoſe return to the Lord my ſoul moſt earneſtly deſireth after, and for which I have moſt vehemently and wreſtlingly prayed to the Lord,) are ſome few weighty Queries upon my heart.

Query. 1. How came David to pant ſo after the living God, like the Hart or Hind after the water-brooks? was it not from the quickning vertue of this inward word which Moſes the man of God had directed the mind to? Read Pſalm. 119. and ſee how he breathed for Quicknings from this word, on which all depends. And if ye come to experience this word, aud the quickning vertue of it, and follow the Lord on therein, ye will ſoon come to know the day of the Meſſiah, and the glory of his Kingdom, which is not outward, tranſitory and of a periſhing nature; but inward, ſpiritual and everlaſting (as David well knew, and ſpake ſenſibly of, Pſalm 145. and elſewhere.)

Qu. 2. What are the Waters, which every thirſty Soul is invited to? Are they not the Waters of the Meſſiah? Are they not Waters that flow out of the Wells of Salvation? Iſa. 12. Do not the Spiritual Iſrael draw Spiritual Water out of the Wells of the Saviour, in the dayes of the Meſſiah? What is it to come to theſe Waters? O that ye experimentally knew! But this I will tell you, from true and certain Experience, that if ye come to take notice of this word of Life, which God hath placed nigh in your Mouths and Hearts, to ſeparate between the evil Words and evil thoughts of the Enemie's begetting and bringing forth, and the good Words and good Thoughts of God's begetting and bringing forth, and incline your Ear to it, and come from that which it reproves in you, and draws you from to it ſelf; your ſouls ſhall ſoon come to live, and he that gives you Life, will make an Everlaſting Covenant with you, even the ſure Mercies of David: But ye muſt ſtill mind him as a witneſs, and leader, and Commander inwardly in your Hearts, that ye may be preſerved in the Covenant, and enjoy the Bleſſings of it ſee Iſa. 55.

Qu. 3. Did not the Meſſiah come at the ſet time, at the time ſet by the holy Spirit of Prophecy? Did he not come in the prepared Body to do the Will? And did he not do the Will? And after his Obedience to his Father, was he not cut off, though not for himſelf? And after his cutting off, were not ye made deſolate? why were ye made deſolate? why did ſuch a ſtroak come upon you, as never before? O conſider it. Read Dan. 9, 24. to the end of the Chapter, and let him that readeth underſtand.

Qu. 4. What was that Curſe, and on whom did it light, Let their Table become a Snare to them, &c. Pſalm. 69. was it not on thoſe that gave gall and vinegar to the Meſſiah to drink, whom David was a figure of, and ſpake in Spirit concerning? Whoſe Eyes are alwayes darkned? Doth not the vail lie ſtill on your whole Nation? Do ye know the inward mountain, where the vail or face of the covering is deſtroyed? In the inward day and light of the Meſſiah it is deſtroyed. There, that which vails the noble eye of the mind, is known and alſo that which deſtroyes and removeth it. To what purpoſe is it for you to read Moſes and the Prophets, when the vail is ſo upon you, that ye cannot ſee what it is to be aboliſhed, and is aboliſhed, by the dawning of the glorious day of the Meſſiah, and what is to remain and never to be aboliſhed? There is a Jewſhip, there is a Circumciſion, there is a Sabbath, there is a Reſt, &c. for the inward and Spiritual people which is to remain, and never to be aboliſhed.

Qu. 5. Who were thoſe that God would hide his Face from, and ſee what their end ſhould be; becauſe they were a froward Generation, Children in whom was no Faith; who were they that moved God to Jealouſie, and provoked him to anger? And what was the people and fooliſh nation he would provoke them to Jealouſie and Anger with? Deut. 32. Was it not the Spiritual, the holy nation inwardly, the true Jews, whom God took from among the Gentiles, whom he appeared among, and was a God and a Father to, when he caſt of and forſook the Jews outward, and left them to be a Deſolation?

Qu. 6. Who are thoſe that ſhall be hungry, when God's Servants ſhall eat? And thirſty, when God's Servants ſhall drink? And aſhamed, when his Servants ſhall rejoyce? Are not your ſouls hungry andparched for want of the Spiritual ſuſtenance, which the living God ſatisfieth his Servants with, making a feaſt of fat things to them on his inward holy mountain? And are not ye aſhamed of your expectations of the Meſſiah, while the Servants of the Lord, rejoyce in him their Prince and and Saviour, and witneſs him daily a Leader and Commander to them? What is the

the People whom the Lord hath ſlain and made deſolate (are not ye a ſlain people to God, alienated from his Life, Spirit and Power, dead in your litteral Notions and Obſervations?) And what are the Servants of the Lord, whom the Lord hath called by an other Name, even a Name that ye never knew? ſee Iſa. 66. And conſider, how all your day God ſpread out his Hand to you, and ye were rebellious and would not hear; and now night is come upon you, and your viſitation, as ſuch a people, is and hath been long ended.

Qu. 7. Did not God ſignifie by the Prophet Malachy, that he had no pleaſure in you, nor would accept an offering at your Hand? And did not he alſo ſignifie the chooſing of the Gentiles in your ſtead, that the called among the Gentiles ſhould be his people, and his Name, which ye had prophaned, ſhould be great among them, and their Incenſe and pure offering in every place be accepted, even from the riſing of the Sun, to the going down of the ſame? Read Mal. chap. 1.

Qu. 8. Now the inward people, and the inward Covenant, the New Covenant are brought forth; ſhall ye ever be owned or regarded, as an outward people, according to your outward Covenant any more? Will not all ſuch expectations fail you for ever? Ye have looked, from generation to generation, for the coming and appearing of the Meſſiah outwardly, after an outward manner: But his coming and appearance is inward; and he ſetteth up his Kingdom, his everlaſting Kingdom in his Saints, and in their Hearts he ruleth inwardly, and the Meſſiah, the Seed of the Woman bruiſeth the Head of the Serpent there. O that ye knew the ſubſtance! O that ye knew the word of Life in the Heart, and were turned to it, and daily faithful and obedient! That ye might feel it cruſhing and daſhing the Power of ſin and corruption in your Hearts. This is the Conſolation, Hope and Joy of the inward and ſpiritual Iſrael! O that ye might be made partakers thereof; and that your long outward captivity and deſolation might at length end in inward Freedom and Redemption! Amen.

Somewhat of Concern to the Jews ſpiritual, who are of the Seed of Abraham ſpiritually, or according to the Faith, and gathered in this day of God's Power, to the true and everlaſting Shiloh,

THE Scepter ſhall not depart from Judah, nor a Law-giver from between his feet untill Shiloh come; and unto him ſhall the gathering of the People be, Gen. 49. 10.

Old Jacob, in the Spirit of Prophecy, ſaw that Judah was to have the Scepter, the Kingly Power; and it was not to depart from him, it was to be his Right, and the Law-giver was to be between his Feet, till Shiloh came; then the Right was Shiloh's, to reign and to give Laws to his people, whom he ſhould gather out of the Kingdom of Darkneſs, and from Satan's Power into his own inward, Spiritual and everlaſting Kingdom. This was the true King, God's King, whomhe would ſet up on the holy Hill of ſpiritual Zion; and all the holy, inward, ſpiritual gatherings of all people, ſcattered from the holy, living Power, muſt be to him. I will overturn, overturn, overturn it, and it ſhall be no more, until he come whoſe Right it is, and I will give it him. And his Dominion ſhall not paſs away, or the Scepter and Law giving Power ſhall not Paſs away from him, as it did from Judah, nor ſhall his Kingdom ever be deſtroyed, Dan 7. 14. but God will give to him the Throne of his Father David, and he ſhall reign over the Houſe of Jacob for ever; and of his Kingdom there ſhall be no end.

Qu. But, who are the People that ſhall be gathered to him?

Anſw. The People ſhall hear his Voice, and come at his call, that ſhall receive the inſtruction of Wiſdom, and feel the drawing Power and Virtue of the Father, in the day of his Power. It is written in the Prophets. All thy Children ſhall be taught of the Lord. And every one that is taught and learneth of the Father, cometh to the Son, cometh to the Meſſiah, cometh to the Shiloh, to the Word eternal, to the Word of Life in the Heart.

Qu. Was not the Meſſiah promiſed to the Jews, to come of them, and to be appropriated to them?

Anſw. He was promiſed to them, and to come of them, but not to be appropriated to them: But he was to be the Univerſal Saviour to all that ſhould come under his Enſign and Banner. He ſhall ſet up an Enſign for the Nations, and he ſhall ſprinkle many Nations, &c. And God promiſed, that he would give his Son (his elect choice Servant) for a light to the Gentiles.

Qu. Were the Jews then excluded?

Anſw. No; They were to be gathered to Shiloh, as well as others; Nay, the Lord had a ſpecial regard to them. The Goſpel was firſt preached to them. They had the firſt offer, or the firſt Call to the ſpiritual Glory. They were the Children of the Prophets, and of the Covenant God made with their Fathers; unto whom God having raiſed up his Son Jeſus, ſent him to bleſs them, in turning away every one of them from their Iniquities, And the whole Nation, turning from their Iniquities, ſhould have been gathered by him, and ſhould have enjoyed the Bleſſing of his day and Kingdom; Yea, the firſt gathering was from among them, and the Firſt glorious Goſpel-Church was at Ieruſalem, where the Spirit and Power of the Lord Jeſus did moſt eminently and wonderfully break forth; and great grace was upon them all. But the Nation was not gathered to Shiloh, nor did come under his Scepter and Government; but only a remnant of the Nation. So theſe being gathered, the reſt were caſt off; and the Enſign was carried among the Gentiles, and the great gathering was there among them.

Qu, How is it manifeſt, that the great gathering to Shiloh, was to be from among the Gentiles?

Anſw. By many expreſs propheſies of Scripture, and promiſes to the Meſſiah, that he ſhould have the Gentiles for his Inheritance and Poſſeſſion. When God eſtabliſhed his King, the Meſſiah, upon the holy Hill of Spiritual Zion, notwithſtanding all the Heathen rage againſt him, and the people of the Jews imagining a vain thing (thinking to keep the Body of him in the grave, who was the reſurrection and the Life) what ſaith the Lord to him? Ask of me and I will give thee the Heathen for thine Inheritance? and the uttermoſt Parts of the Earth for thy Poſſeſſion, Pſalm. 2. The Lord ſaid in another place. It is a light thing, that thou mayſt be my Servant to raiſe up the Tribes of Jacob, and to reſtore the preſerved of Iſrael; I will alſo give thee for a light to the Gentiles, that thou mayſt be my ſalvation unto the Ends of the Earth, Iſa, 49. 6. Again the Lord ſaith further. From the riſing of the Son, even unto the going down of the ſame, my name ſhall be great among the Gentiles? and in every place Incenſe ſhall be offered unto my name, and a pure offering: For my Name ſhall be great among the Heathen? ſaith the Lord of Hoſts, Mal. 1, 11. Sing O barren, thou that didſt not bear; break forth into ſinging and cry aloud, thou that didſt not travel with Child; for more are the Children of the deſolate than the Children of the married Wife, ſaith the Lord, Iſa 54. 1. Who was the married Wife, Who was the mother in the Dayes of the firſt Covenant? was it not the Jeruſalem below; who was then Deſolate and Barren? was it not another Jeruſalem, which is free, and the Mother of all the ſpiritual Children? Why was ſhe now to rejoyce and ſing? But becauſe ſhe was to break forth on the right hand and on the left, and her Seed was to inherit the Gentiles, , and make the deſolate Cities to be inhabited, ver 3. The Covenant of Mount Sinai, did bring forth a great People, whereof Jeruſalem that was below was the Mother, The Covenant afterwards made, beſides that in Horeb, whereof the word nigh in the heart and mouth is the Foundation (by which word God Circumciſeth) was, as yet Barren, and did not bring forth a people to the Lord. But this Covenant was to have a time, the Jeruſalem above was to have a time, wherein her ſeed ſhould inherit the Gentiles; and the maker the Husband ſhould be called the God of the whole Earth, ver. 5. Read Gal. 4. and ſee how the Apoſtle of the Gentiles expounds the Myſtery, ſhewing which is the free Woman and her free Children; and which is the bond Woman and which the bond Children, who are caſt out in the day of God, and in the ſhining of his Heavenly Light inwardly, and cannot inherit the glorious Kingdom Kingdom of the Goſpel, with the Children of the free woman. And conſider, who were the People in the time of the firſt Covenant? Who obtained Mercy then? Were they not the Jews? And who were not a People, and who did not obtain mercy, but were left out of the love and mercy of the firſt Covenant? Were they not the Gentiles? And did not the Lord promiſe, that he would have mercy on them that had not obtained mercy; and that he would ſay to them that were not his People, THOU ART MY PEOPLE, and they ſhall ſay, MY God, Hoſ 2. 23. compared with Rom. 9. 26. Was not this once gloriouſly fulfilled in the firſt Viſitation of the Gentiles? And is it not again gloriouſly fulfilled in his now viſiting them again with the freſh Sound of the everlaſting Goſpel, as was promiſed, Rev. 14. 7.

O what a Promiſe is that, concerning the Day of God, that In that day there ſhall be a Root of Jeſſe, which ſhall ſtand for an Enſign of the People, to it ſhall the Gentiles ſeek, and his Reſt ſhall be glorious, Iſa. 11. 10. Is not This the Day wherein the holy Mountain is known and that nothing can hurt or deſtroy there? And doth not the Knowledge of the Lord cover his Land, his Earth, as the Waters do the Sea? And doth not the Root of Jeſſe the Rock of Life and Salvation, ſtand for an Enſign, placed ſo by God, and who can diſplace it, or ſhake them that are built on the inward Mount Zion? Yea, is not the Reſt of the weary Soul, when he comes hither, found to be very glorious? And when this Enſign is more fully lifted up, ſhall not the Gentiles more abundantly come unto God, from the Ends of the Earth, and bewail their dead and eſtranged Eſtate from God (ſaying, Surely our Fathers inherited Vanity, and things wherein is no Profit, Jer. 16. 19.) And ſhall they not turn from all their Idols, to ſerve the living God? Theſ. 1. 9. And concerning the Meſſiah it was promiſed, that in his Name ſhould the Gentiles truſt, and the Iſles ſhould wait for his law, and he ſhould bring forth Judgment to the Gentiles, Iſa. 42. 11. with Mat. 12. 21.

But What ſhould I mention any more Scriptures unto you concerning this thing, when as ye have ſo large, full, certain and daily Experience of it, in that which is pure and living of God, which never deceived nor can deceive any; for ye are begotten by his Spirit, into his own Image and Nature, and have received the Spirit of Adoption, wherein ye cry Abba Father, to the Father of Spirits. He found you indeed in a ſtrange land, under great Captivity and Alienation from him. Ye have been in Egypt, in Sodom, in Babylon ſpiritually: But the mercy of the Lord hath followed you thither and the Arm of the Lord hath reached to you there, and hath cut Rahab, and wounded the Dragon: Yea, he whom the Lord hath given for a Light to the Gentiles, hath ſhined to you there, in the midſt of your Darkneſs. So that God ſent among you the Prophet like unto Moſes (though far above Moſes) and hearing him, he led you out of Egypt, and by the Rod of his Power did Signs and Wonders and valiant Acts there, breaking that Power, which with a ſtrong Hand held you captive there, and oppreſſed you. And ye have known the Travel, Trials and Temptations in the ſpiritual Wilderneſs, and the falling of the carcaſes which were to fall there, and the holy leading by the Pillar of Cloud and fire through all the Entanglements and Dangers therein. Yea, and the faithful among you, the tried and prepared among you, have paſſed over Jordan (the River of pure Judgment into the good Land, and come to witneſs David and Solomon (who are one in Spirit) your King, who rules in Righteouſneſs, and miniſters to you Peace everlaſting. And ye have an High-Prieſt there, not after the Order of Aaron, but after the Order of Melchizedeck, who is made the Everlaſting High-Prieſt of God, not after the law of a Carnal Commandment, but after the Power of an endleſs Life; whoſe lips preſerve the knowledge of the law for you, in that endleſs power of Life; who miniſters for you and to you in that endleſs Power, and intercedes with Power and Efficacy and ſprinkles the Blood of the Covenant upon you, which takes away ſin from your Hearts and Conſciences. So that ye know the inward Jew's ſtate, the inward Holy Land and Kingdom, the inward Circumciſion, before ye enter into that Land; and the inward Lamb, the inward Paſſover, the inward Mount Zion and Jeruſalem; the inward Sacrifices and Incenſe, the inward Tabernacle, Temple and Ark of the Covenant, the inward Table of Shew-Bread, the inward Manna, the inward Rod that buddeth, the inward Candleſtick, and the Lamps, which are never to go out in God's Temple. And what ſhould I ſay more? All that that people were to be outwardly, in an outward Way and State

State, hath God made you inwardly in the Substance: And what God would have been to them outwardly, had they obeyed his Voice, and kept his Statutes and Judgments; that he is to you inwardly, who are the called, and chosen, and faithful Followers of the Lamb: And ye are the enjoyers of their Blessings and Promises inwardly. O the glory of your State, to the Eye that is opened to see it!

Now somewhat doth remain on my heart unto you.

O be daily sensible of the tender Goodness and Mercy of the Lord, which is broke forth among you. What Mercy, what Love hath the Father shewn unto you, that ye should be thus accounted the Children of God! that they which were once nigh, should be removed so far off; and ye which were so far off, should be brought so nigh, and should forever inherit the sure mercies of David! For, of a Truth, the Lord will never forsake you; but his mercy endures forever towards you, and your Stakes shall never be removed: but this inward Building shall stand forever, This Zion is the Place of God's Rest, where he will dwell forever, whereof the outward Zion was but a Figure.

Secondly, Remember what the Lord promised himself concerning you. When he was weary of that people, and continually complaining of them; O what did he promise himself concerning the People he would bring forth, by the Spirit and Power of the Messiah, in the latter Dayes! Did he not promise himself, that they should be an holy People, an inwardly circumcised people, a People that should please him; Sheep that should hear the Shepherd's Voice, and be healed by him, gathered home to him, and so follow and learn of him the Shepherd; that they should all know him, from the least to the greatest; and that he would forgive their Sins, and heal their Backslidings, and they should not return to Folly or backslide any more; as the Children after the Flesh alwaies did? Is not this the People, whom indeed God hath formed for himself, who shall shew forth his praise?

Thirdly, Remember what a Covenant God hath prepared to make with you, as ye incline your Ears to him, and are led by him into the holy agreement with him; even a Covenant which is not weak, as the old Covenant was, but is full of virtue and Vigour, to enable you to do whatever God requires of you. Mark what it containes, Putting God's Fear into you: Not the Fear which is taught by man's precepts, which man may get into his carnal mind; but which God places as the Treasury of Life in the Heart, as it is written, The Fear of the Lord is his Treasure, Isa. 33. 6. And, O who knows the preciousness of this Treasure! How it cleanseth the Heart and keepeth it clean, and will not suffer the mind that is seasoned with it, and kept to it, to depart from the living God! It fenceth from Unbelief, it fenceth from Disobedience, it will not suffer the Soul so much as to meddle with any Appearance of Evil. O precious, glorious, blessed Treasure! Happy is the man that feareth alwaies with this Fear! Another precious thing this Covenant contains, is, The Law written in the Heart, that it shall be as near, yea, nearer then sin is, in the Heart that is made tender, and hath the Law of the Spirit of Life written in it. Who knows what it is to have the Law of Love, the Law of Life, the Law of the Spirit, the Law of Faith, the Law of new Obedience livingly written by God in his heart! Surely none can, but they in whom God writes it! And such cannot but desire to have it written in their Hearts, by his blessed Finger, daily more and more. But this Covenant contains yet more, even the putting of his own Spirit within them, to be a Fountain of Life there, a Fountain of Strength and Wisdom there, to make them more and more willing in the day of his Power, and to cause them to walk in his wayes, and keep his statutes and Judgments and do them, that the Lord their God may bless them and delight in them.

O who would not long after, and take up the Cross and Shame, to enjoy the Glory of this State! O what hath God done for a Poor despised Remnant among the Gentiles! O who would not desire to keep this blessed Covenant with the Lord, that he might fully enjoy the Lord that the Marriage with the Maker might be witnessed, in his Loving-kindness and Everlasting Righteousness, and all Unrighteousness and Uncleanness might be put away, removed and separated from the Heart forever. Ah the Virgin-Spirit, which the Lamb loves, and delights to marry with! He that is joyned to the Lord is one Spirit, and he must part with all that is old, evil, unclean and corrupt in him, that would be joyned to the Lord, and become one Spirit with him.

O

O who would loſe the precious Fear of the Covenant, which is clean and endureth forever, and keepeth clean and chaſt to the Lord forever! And who would miſs of one Law, which God hath to write in the Hearts of his Children, when every Law is a Law of Life, and changeth the Mind into the Nature of the Law-giver! And who would grieve God's Spirit, which is our Comforter? Or quench that which kindles the pure Flame of Love and Life in our Hearts? Much leſs can any of his dear and tender Children be willing to vex him, by manifeſt Careleſneſs and Diſobedience, who giveth us to drink of the River of his Pleaſure!

O my dear Friends, ye do not know the great Travail of my Heart, that all the Children of the Lord might walk before him in all well-pleaſing, that we might come all into Covenant, into the full Covenant, and walk fully with him in the Covenant, that his Anger might be forever turned away from us all, and he might never be wroth with nor rebuke any of us any more. It is written on my Heart, the breaking forth of this Glory would reach the Jews. And though they be caſt off as to their outward State and not ſo to be owned, or come into that Glory any more, yet there is a Day of mercy and Love for them, as to that inward State of Life and Redemption, which their outward State typified: And the breaking forth of the full Glory of the Gentiles, and the manifeſtation of God's mighty Power and Preſence with them (they being made by God a People to him, and ſo walking with God, as none poſſibly can, but thoſe, who are created anew and ſo made by him) this might provoke the Jews (the poor ſcattered forſaken Jews) to ſeek after the Lord their God, and David their King, inwardly to be revealed in them, and rule among them.

The Lord God of our Life and tender Mercies, carry on to Perfection this bleſſed Work of his, which he hath ſo mightily begun, and ſo mightily hitherto carried on; and keep us in the Senſe of his good Spirit, and in tender and holy ſubjection thereto, and in Unity together in the Life, wherein we have been gathered and preſerved, and in pure Judgment over all the Workings of the Enemy every where, and in the Goſpel-love one to another, and to all men, even our greateſt Enemies, that we may ſeek the good of all men, even the reſcuing and preſerving all out of Sin and Wrath, as much as in us is poſſible, that the pure Light wherewith our God and Heavenly Father hath enlightned us, may ſhine in us, and the Life wherewith he hath quickned us, may live in us, and we may feed on nothing but Life, and grow in nothing but Life and Truth, to the great Glory of our Heavenly Father, and to the great Joy of our Hearts, Amen.

A few Words to England my Native Country.

O Land of my Nativity, O my dear Country-men!

THE pure Power of the Lord is upon me, and the Springs of Life open in me; and among many other things, I am melted in Love and Deſires after your Welfare: and this is in my Heart to ſay to you. If I now teſtifie to you in Truth, of a Pearl, a heavenly Pearl, an everlaſting Pearl; will ye not hear me? If I tell you, your Heart is the Field, or Earth, wherein it is hid; will ye not conſider of it? If the everlaſting Goſpel be preached again, which contains true Tidings of Redemption from ſin; will ye not liſten after it? If the Kingdom of God, and Righteouſneſs of Chriſt, be to be revealed within; would ye not willingly learn to wait for it there, and beg of God that the Eye may be opened in you, which alone can ſee it, when it doth appear. Indeed God's Viſitation is upon this Nation, in an eſpecial manner; his Light and Power is breaking forth in it, againſt the darkneſs and Power of the Spirit of Satan, which hath captivated and ſtill captivateth many. Ye deſire outward liberty, and the enjoyment of your outward rights; would ye not be free inwardly? Free from the baſe, earthly, ſelfiſh nature and ſpirit, which man fallen from God, and the Glory wherein he created him, is degenerated into? Oh, is not the Power of God, and life of of Christ able to restore man to this? He that Created man at first so glorious, in his own Image; is he not able to create him anew? Oh hear, my dear countrymen; the Power is revealed, which createth anew; and they that receive it, and are as Clay in the Hands of the great Potter, given up to be formed by it, are daily created (by the operation of it) anew, into an holy, heavenly, innocent, living, tender, righteous frame Day by Day; and are made willing, daily more and more to be the Lord's, in this day of his Power; and do receive power to become Sons, and strength against their Souls Enemies: And the glorious work of redemption, which God hath begun in them, the Arm of his strength mightily carrieth on in them to their comfort and his everlasting Praise.

There is a spiritual Egypt and Sodom, as well as there was an outward; and there is a spiritual Wilderness, and Canaan also; And the Arm of God's power inwardly and spiritually hath been revealed in this Spiritual Egypt, Wilderness and Canaan, as really as ever it was in the outward. Do ye not read of a Jew-inward, and a Circumcision-inward; and the leaven-inward, and keeping the feast of unleavened Bread, even of Bread that is not leavened with sin? And he that eats of the unleavened Bread, it unleavens him of Sin, and leavens him with Life and Holiness: For it is an Holy Bread, and a Living Bread. This is the Bread which comes down from Heaven, which they that feed upon live, and they that live feed upon. And though they be many, yet feeding upon this Bread, they become one Bread, one living Body, consisting of a living Head, and living Members; for the same life and pure heavenly nature, which is in the head, is communicated by him to the members.

But how shall we find this, may some say?

I will tell you how we found it, and ow none can miss of it, that sweep the House and make a diligent and faithful search after it. That in the heart of man, which turns against sin, discovers sin, draws from sin, wherein God ministers help against sin, that is it. That is the Pearl hid, that is the Kingdom hid, in that is the Righteousness of God revealed from Faith to Faith, in all that receive and give up to this holy leaven. This is of the nature of God and Christ, this is a measure of his Light, of his pure Life, this is the Law and Commandment everlasting, which God writes in the hearts of his spiritual Israel. For the inward Jew hath inward Tables where the inward Law is writ, for the inward Eye to read. O how nigh is God, inwardly, to the inward People, in this our day! O the pure glory is broke forth! But, alas, men are in their several sorts of Dreams and take no notice of it. What shall the Lord do to awaken this Nation? In what way shall his Power appear, to bring down unrighteousness and to bring up Righteousness in the Spirits of People? Do ye not think the Lord hath been at work? How could deceit be so wasted inwardly, and Truth so grown inwardly, and overspread more and more, and gain ground in the Nation, if the hand and power of the Lord were not with it, blessing it. O take notice of the handy work of the Lord, ye Children of men, and waite to feel Truth near, and to partake of the living Vertue and Power of it? that ye may feel your Hearts creating a new, and the old Heavens, and Earth may inwardly pass away, wherein dwells Unrighteousness and the new Heavens and the new Earth may be inwardly witnessed, wherein dwells righteousness, O that this Nation might become a Paradise of God! O that every one might be sensible of his presence, and power, and Kingdom, and Righteous Government inwardly in the Heart, from the King that sits on the Throne, to the Begger on the Dunghil. Surely man was not made for himself! surely he was not made such a Creature, as now he is! but in the holy Image of God, with love in his Heart to God above all, and to his Neighbour as to himself. O what are the Religions and professions of Several sorts, where this love is not found! The Lord is restoring his Image, and bringing forth the true, pure religion again. The Pearl, the Truth contains and comprehends it. O buy the Pearl, O buy the pretious Truth: sell all that is contrary to it for it, take up the Cross to all that is evil in thee as the light in thee maketh it manifest, and thou shalt have the free possession of it in thy heart, and feel it a root of Life, a treasure of Life, a well of Life, out of which the living water wil be daily springing up in thee, unto Life everlasting, Amen.

Three Queries upon three verſes of the 46th Pſalm.

verſe 4. THere is a River the Streams whereof ſhall make glad the City of God, the holy Place of the Tabernacles of the moſt High.

Query 1. Which is the River, and what are the Streams thereof, which make glad the City of God? And which is the City of God which they make glad, which are the Tabernacles of the moſt High, and which is the holy Place of thoſe Tabernacles; O my dear Country-men, that every one in this Nation did underſtand and enjoy theſe things! For the Lord is ready to beget a will, to beget a Thirſt in the hearts of the Children of men: and whoſoever thirſteth, whoſoever will, is called to the waters, and may come to the waters, and take of the water of Life freely, (Iſa. 55. 1. Rev. 22, 17.) yea, to the full ſatisfaction of their Souls, For indeed this is the Day of Gods Power, wherein he doth make his people willing to come to him, and to abide with him in the Fountain of living Waters: And thoſe that do come to him, and abide with him, he abundantly ſatisfieth with the Fatneſs of his Houſe, and giveth them to drink of the River of his Pleaſures, Pſal. 36, 8, 9. Mark, God is the Fountain of living Waters, with him is the Fountain of Life, a River of Pleaſures, a River whoſe Streams make glad the whole City, even the holy place of all the Tabernacles of the moſt high: And he giveth his Citizens to drink of it; and whoſoever drinketh of it, it maketh them glad, it refreſheth their Life. O that more knew what this means!

ver. 5. God is in the midſt of her, ſhee ſhall not be moved: God ſhall help her, and that right early, or when the Morning appeareth, or from the Morning appearing.

Qu. 2. How is God in the midſt of this City? (is it not more glorioufly, in an inward way, then ever he was in the Temple in the outward Jeruſalem, in an outward way? How is ſhe built? How is ſhe founded and ſcituated? How comes it about, that ſhe ſhall not be moved? How is God her refuge and ſtrength, and preſent help in the time of Trouble? After what manner doth God ariſe inwardly and ſcatter his Enemies? How doth the Morning Light help her? after what manner, when the Enemie cometh in like a Flood, doth the Spirit of the Lord lift up a ſtandard againſt him? Ah, bleſſed are they that know, and experience, and live in the Enjoyment of theſe things, O that this whole Nation did ſo! Were it not worth the ſuffering of much, the denying of much, and the bearing of much Judgment, to come to this?

ver. 10. Be ſtill, and know that I am God, I will be exalted among (or in) the Heathen: I will be exalted in the Earth.

Qu. 3. What is that ſtilneſs, wherein God is known to be God; not outwardly in notion, but inwardly in the heart? What is that Silence of Mind, wherein God teacheth his Iſrael in the new Covenant to know him as he is; even all of them, from the greateſt to the leaſt? How will God come to be exalted in the Heathen, and in the Earth? Is it not by the Light of his Day breaking forth and ſhining in them, where this Day breaks forth in any heart, doth it not break down and deſtroy the Kingdom of Darkneſs inwardly? and doth not the King of Glory conſume the man of Sin, the wicked one that was exalted in the Temple before (which Temple belonged of right to God) with the Spirit of his mouth, and deſtroy him with the Brightneſs of his coming, or appearing Iſa, 11, 4. 2 Theſ. 2. 8. Then is the Day known, wherein the Lord alone is exalted. O that this Day were more known, and the Lord, who is indeed worthy, were more exalted, and all Fleſh become his Foot-ſtool for ever!

Concerning the true Church and Miniſtry under the Goſpel, and the Maintenance thereof, ſome few Queſtions anſwered in Truth and Plainneſs of Heart, and left to the Witneſs and Teſtimony of God in other mens Conſciences.

Queſtion 1. WHich is the true Church, or the Goſpel-Church, or the Church, according to the new Covenant? For there was an old Covenant, and a Church according to that under the Law: And there is a new Covenant, and a Church according to that under the Goſpel.

Anſw. For the clearing of this, to the Hearts and Conſciences of People, let us enquire and conſider what the new Covenant is, and then it will more eaſily appear, which is the Church according to the new Covenant.

The new Covenant according to plain Scripture, and according to manifeſt experience, in this bleſſed Day of the ſhining of the Goſpel-Light in mens hearts, is a Covenant of God's putting his Law in the inward parts of people, and writing it in their hearts, and of his becoming their God, and making them his People, and of teaching them all to know him (inwardly and experimentally) from the leaſt to the greateſt, and of being merciful to their unrighteouſneſs, and remembring their ſins and iniquities no more, Jer. 31, 33, 34. Heb. 8. 10, 11, 12.

Now if this be the new Covenant, the Covenant of the Goſpel-Church, then they are the Goſpel-Church, who are the People of God according to this Covenant, who have the Law put by God into their inward parts, and writ in their hearts; and ſo according to this Law and Covenant, have God to be their God, and are his People, and are taught by him to know him (as it is written, All thy Children ſhall be taught of the Lord. Iſa. 54. 13, and John. 6 45.) and whoſe unrighteouſneſs God hath been merciful to, and whoſe ſins and iniquities he remembreth no more, being waſhed away from their Conſciences by the Blood of the everlaſting Covenant, which the Blood of Bulls and Goats could never do; So that, this is the new Teſtament-Church (or Goſpel-Church) a Church of Jews inward, as the Law-Church was a Church of Jews outward: A Church of inward Worſhippers, of Worſhippers in Spirit and in Truth, John, 4.23. as the Law-Church was a Church of Worſhippers outward: A Church of inward circumciſed ones, as the Law Church was a Church of outwardly circumciſed ones, Rom. 2. 29. A Church of ſuch as are inwardly holy, as the Law-Church was to be a Church of ſuch as were outwardly holy: A Church of ſuch as offer inward Incenſe and Sacrifices, as the Law Church was a Church of ſuch as offered outward Incenſe and Sacrifices: A Church of inwardly redeemed ones, from the inward Egypt, from the inward darkneſs and Power of Satan, as the Law-Church was a Church of ſuch as were redeemed from the outward Egypt, and the Power of Pharaoh outward: A Church that hath the inward Ark, (Rev. 11. 19.) the inward Preſence, the inward Manna, &c. as the outward Church of the Jews had the outward.

Qu. 2. Which is the true Goſpel Miniſtry, and who are the true Goſpel Miniſters?

Anſw. Thoſe whom Chriſt ſends forth, in the Spirit and Power of his Father, to gather and build up this Church. Chriſt had all Power in Heaven and Earth given him, even to this very End, to gather, defend and build up his Church; And he bid his Apoſtles wait for the ſame Power; and ſends forth his Miniſters in the ſame Power, that they may be able Miniſters of the Goſpel, which is not Words but Power, even the Power of God unto Salvation, Rom. 1. 16. The new Covenant ſtands not in the Letter, but in Spirit and Power and they that are the Miniſters of it, muſt receive Life, Spirit and Power from from Chriſt (the Head) and Miniſter in that Spirit, Life and Power to the Members; or they cannot nouriſh and build them up: Yea, they muſt preach and miniſter to the world in it, or they are not able to gather out of the World into it. Chriſt the Lord of his Church, the Foundation of Life in his Church, the everlaſting Rock, is a living ſtone, and his Church is built of lively ſtones: and how can any miniſter Life unto them, or build them up in the Life, Spirit, and Power; but who are in the Life, Spirit and Power, and who receive Life, Spirit and Power from the Head, to further, quicken, and build up the living Members with? The Milk, which nouriſheth the living Babe, is living, which muſt come pure from the Breaſt of Life, and not be mixed with man's Wiſdom or Brain-inventions, or it cannot yield pure Nouriſhment. What then muſt the bread and Wine, and water of the Kingdom be, whereon the Children and Heirs of the Kingdom muſt feed, or they cannot be ſatisfied? And the Miniſters of the Goſpel are ſtewards of this heavenly Life, this heavenly Spirit, this Heavenly Power, this heavenly Treaſure which they have in the earthen Veſſels, and which God enables them to bring forth, for the feeding of his Lambs and Sheep. Chriſt ſaid unto Peter, Loveſt thou me more than theſe? Peter anſwered him, Yea Lord, thou knoweſt that I love thee. If it be ſo, Feed my Lambs, Feed my Sheep, ſaid Chriſt to him. But how ſhould he feed them? In what ſhould he feed them? With what ſhould he feed them? All Power ſaith Chriſt, is given me in Heaven and in Earth, and I am to aſcend to my Father, and to receive the fulneſs of his Spirit, and do ye wait, and ye ſhall receive abundantly of the ſame Spirit and Power, and then in that Spirit and Power, ye ſhall be able to feed my Lambs and Sheep, that are begotten and gathered to me, in it: But out of it none is able to feed and build them up; for that is the very thing they are to be fed with, and built up in. Indeed a man may be a Miniſter of the Letter, a Miniſter of the Law, without the Spirit and Power, but of the Goſpel he cannot poſſibly; for that conſiſts not in Letter, but in ſpirit, 2 Cor. 3. And the Faith that is to be begotten there, is not to ſtand in the wiſdom of man, but in the Power of God. The Goſpel-ſtate, the Goſpel-Church, the Goſpel-building begins in the Power, and is carried on in the Power, and finiſhed or perfected in the Power, and the whole Miniſtry of the Goſpel is to partake of this Power, and miniſter in it, or they can do nothing in this work. Chriſt Jeſus our Lord begun it in this Power, and none can carry it on without this Power. The Lord God of Glory laid the Foundation; Behold I lay in Zion for a Foundation, &c. Iſa. 28. 16. 1 Pet. 2. 4, 5, 6. And the quickning Spirit alone is able to make living ſtones and Spiritual ſtones; and the Lord alone is able to build them up by the opperation of this Spirit and Power; and they that are the true Miniſters of the Goſpel, miniſter in this: and are to wait for it daily from God that they may miniſter in it.

Qu. 3. What is the maintenance of the Miniſters of Chriſt, or what is to be the maintenance of the true miniſters under the Goſpel.

Anſw. Chriſt, who hath ſent them forth to miniſter in his Name, hath provided for them and they that are his true Miniſters, are ſatisfied with what he hath provided for them, Mat. 10. 10. being careful not to make the Goſpel which is to be an inward Bleſſing, outwardly changeable to any. The mind of the true Miniſters is about the Service of Chriſt, how they may be faithful to him, gather ſouls to him, feed them with the Bread of life from him; not what they ſhall have from men, for ſo doing; for ſuch covet no mans Gold or Silver, &c.

Some Queſtions anſwered concerning the Lambs War.

Queſtion 1 WHO is the Lamb?

Anſw. He that takes away the ſins of the World. The Word which was in the Beginning Behold the Lamb of God, ſaid John, John 1. 1. & ver. 29.

He that was born of the Virgin Mary after the Fleſh; and was alſo the Man-child, born of the travelling-church, after the Spirit, Rev. 12. 5.

Queſt. 2. Who makes War with the Lamb?

Anſw. All that are in Wickedneſs, in Darkneſs, in Sin and Corruption, and under the Power thereof, who ſtrive to defend and maintain this Kingdom againſt the appearance of his light, ſpirit and power in them.

Queſt. 3. What ſtrength have they on their ſide, that make War againſt the Lamb?

Anſw. The ſtrength of the great Red Dragon who hath ſeven Heads and ten Horns: and in every one of his Heads is Wiſdom, and in every one of his Horns there is Power. So that dreadful is the Battle that is fought between them, either inwardly in the Heart, or outwardly in the World, when Chriſt appears in his light, ſpirit and power to aſſault and break down the Kingdom of Darkneſs, and to ſet up his own Kingdom, which muſt be ſet up, even in the World, Dan. 7. 14. 27. Rev. 11. 15.

Queſt. 4. Did the great Red Dragon and his Army, never (in no reſpect) prevail in this Battel?

Anſw. Yes; for even while the Lamb, and his pure life and holy Teſtimony have prevailed, ſo that the Dragon and his Army could get no ground over them inwardly; but ſalvation (the wall and bulwark of God's Heritage) and ſtrength, and the Kingdom of God, and the Power of his Chriſt did prevail inwardly; yet the Dragon, even then hath prevailed over their goods, liberties and lives outwardly: and he drove the Woman, the true Church out of her Place, as I may ſay, that ſhe was forced to fly into the Wilderneſs, he ſo ſorely aſſaulted her: Yea, after that alſo, he made War with the Remnant of her ſeed, and caſt ſome of them into Priſon, and drunk the Blood of thoſe that would not drink his falſe Church's Cup, but keep the Commandments of God, and have the Teſtimony of Jeſus, Rev 12. and chap. 2. 10. yea the Beaſt, to which he gave his Power (which had ſeven Heads and ten Horns like him, chap. 13. 1.) made War with the ſaints, and overcame them outwardly, though he could not overcome them inwardly; for he could not make them to worſhip him, ver. 7. 8. Nay, nor the ſecond Beaſt neither, though he had Horns like a Lamb, and ſpake like a Dragon, and exerciſed all the Power of the firſt Beaſt, and did great wonders, and had power to give Life unto the Image of the former Beaſt, and would kill all that would not worſhip the Image of the; and would ſuffer none to buy or ſell, but ſuch as had the mark or Name of the Beaſt: Yet neither could this Beaſt overcome the Followers of the Lamb, as to their inward Life anp Teſtimony, though it had Power to kill and ſuppreſs them outwardly, ver. 11. to the end, and chap. 14. 9. to ver. 13. which plainly ſhews the ſaints had patience, and kept the Commandments of God and the Faith of Jeſus, and would not worſhip the Beaſt and his Image, nor receive his Mark, either in Forehead or Hand.

Qu. 5. What was the Cry up and down Nations, when the Dragon and the Beaſt thus prevailed, and when the falſe Church carried her Cup of Fornications up and down through Kingdoms and Nations, and made the Kings and Inhabitants of the Earth drink thereof; and who would not drink thereof ſhe would not let them buy nor ſell, but impoveriſh, impriſon them, and drink their Blood? Rev. 17. 2. and 6.

Anſw. The Cry every where Was, Who is like unto the Beaſt? Who is able to make War with the Beaſt? Indeed, there appeared no Power any where able to withſtand or reſiſt this power; which the Dragon had, who gave it both to the Beaſt which aroſe out of the Sea, and to the Beaſt which aroſe out of the Earth; both which joyned together, to perſecute all that would not drink of the falſe Church its Cup, which was Golden without, but full of Abomination, and Filthineſs of Fornication (fornicating from the holy Life, Spirit and Power of the Lamb inwardly, who is the Head of the true Church, and true Worſhippers, Rev. 13. 4. and Chap. 17. 4. 5.

Qu. 6. What is the time of the Dragon's, the Beaſt's and falſe Church thus Prevailing againſt the true Church, in reference to the outward, though they cannot prevail againſt its inward Life and Teſtimony; but that (through Patience and Sufferings) prevailes over and reigns inwardly, in the midſt of all their Cruelty and oppreſſing of the outward Man?

Anſw. It

Answ. It is the time of Antichrist's reign, and sitting in the Temple as if he were God and exalting himself over all that is called God, and which ought to be worshipped. It is the time of the true Church its being in the Wilderness, and of the Man-Child's (which the true Church brought forth) being caught up to God, which, things were to last, according to the Scripture account, 1260. dayes, or a Time, Times and half a Time, 2 Thes. 2. 3, 4. Rev. 12. 6, 14.

Qu. 7. What will the Lamb do, when this time is out?

Answ. He will come and make War again, he will come with his heavenly Armies armed with spiritual Armour, and fight an heavenly Battel; yea, he will judge and make War in Righteousness, against the Unrighteousness of the Dragon, and the Beast, and the false Prophet; and his Heavenly Armies shall follow him their Captain and Leader, and white Horses, clothed in fine linnen, white and clean; who shall fight in his spirit and power, against all that he fighteth against: And out of his Mouth goeth a sharp Sword, that with it he should smite the Nations; and he shall rule them with a Rod of Iron and make the spirits of all his Opposers bow under him, and fly to shelter themselves from that Wrath which they cannot escape. O who would not kiss the Son, that he might not provoke the Lamb to Wrath against him, whose Wrath is dreadful! Rev. 19. 11. to the end, Psal. 2. 11.

Qu. 8. What shall the Cry be, when God's Spirit and Power prevaileth over the Dragon's Spirit and Power, when the Lamb gets the Victory, when he smit the Earth with the Rod of his Mouth, and with the Breath of his Lips shall slay the Wicked; when he brings down the Dragon, Beast and false Prophet, and the false Church Mother of Harlots (which hath drunk the Blood of Saints) with his Viols, Plagues, Woes, Thunders, &c? When Babylon the great City falls, which made all Nations drunk with her spiritual Wine of Fornication?

Answ. Then the Power, which doth this, shall be magnified. Then it shall be said no more, who can make War with the Beast? but who can withstand this Power? Who can make War with the Innocent, Righteous Lamb (who hath his Sword in his Mouth) and with his tender-hearted, faithful Followers, and prosper? Who shall not fear thee O Lord, and glorifie thy Name: For all Nations shall come and worship before thee; for thy Judgments are made manifest. Great and Marvelous are thy Works, Lord God Almighty, Just and True are thy Wayes, thou King of Saints, Rev. 15. 3, 4. Yea, a great Voice of much People in Heaven shall say, Allelujah, Salvation, and Glory and Honour, and Power unto the Lord our God: for True and Righteous are his Judgments; for he hath judged the great Whore, which did corrupt the Earth with her Fornication, and hath avenged the Blood of his Saints at her Hand, Chap. 19. ver. 1. 2.

Now doth it not concern all People to consider, which is Zion God's holy Mountain and which is the Jerusalem of his building, and the holy City of God, the holy Church of God, the Mother of all the truly living Children? for the Jerusalem which is above and which is free, is the Mother of them all, Gal. 4. 26. And also which is Babylon, the City built by man, and the Spirit of Antichrist, in a kind of likeness, but not in the real nature of the true Church, that they may wait for and follow God's Call to come out of her, and may not partake of her sins, of her sorceries (Rev. 18. 22.) of her Fornication from the pure Life, Spirit and Power, and seting up Worships, and compelling people to worship in her forms (which are out of the Life, and out of the Power) that they partake not of her plagues; which will indeed be very dreadful, such as shall affright any from coming near her, or medling with her spiritual sorceries and Fornications any more, Rev. 18. 4. & ver. 9, 10. O therefore let every one consider what the Beast is, what his Image, what the mark in the Forehead, what in the right Hand; and take heed he be not found worshipping the Beast and his Image, or receiving his Mark, either in his Forehead or right hand; lest God make him to drink of the Wine of his Wrath, which is poured out without mixture into the Cup of his Indignation, and he be tormented with Fire and Brimstone in the Presence of the holy Angels, and in the Presence of the Lamb, and have no rest Day nor Night, Rev. 14. 9, 10, 11. I had rather run great hazards outwardly, and suffer much Affliction and Persecution from Men, to keep my Soul true to God; in the spiritual Worship and Testimony, which he hath given me, against all false Wayes and invented ted Worſhips, then expoſe my Soul to the hazard of drinking of this dreadful Cup of Gods Indignation, which the Lord God of tender Mercies, teach men and give them true Wiſdom to avoid and eſcape, Amen.

The CONCLUSION.

BEhold my Servant ſhall deal prudently, he ſhall be exalted and extolled, and be very high. As many were aſtonied at thee; (his Viſage was ſo marred more then any man, and his Form more then the Sons of Men) ſo ſhall he ſprinkle many Nations; the Kings ſhall ſhut their mouthes at him: For that which had not been told them, ſhall they ſee; and that which they had not heard, ſhall they conſider, Iſa. 52. 13, 14, 15.

Thou art fairer then the Children of Men: Grace is poured into thy Lips; therefore God hath bleſſed thee for ever. Gird Thy Sword upon thy Thigh, O moſt mighty; with thy Glory and thy Majeſty. And in thy Majeſty ride proſperouſly becauſe of Truth, and Meekneſs, and Righteouſneſs, and thy Right Hand ſhall teach thee terrible things. Thine Arrows are ſharp in the Hearts of the King's Enemies, whereby the People ſhall fall under thee. Thy Throne, O God, is forever and ever: The Scepter of thy Kingdom is a right Scepter. Thou loveſt Righteouſneſs and hateſt Wickedneſs, therefore God, thy God hath anointed thee with the Oyl of Gladneſs above thy Fellows, Pſal. 45. ver. 2. to 8.

Strengthen ye the Weak hands and confirm the feeble Knees: Say to them that are of a fearful Heart, be ſtrong, fear not; Behold, your God will come with Vengeance, even God with a Recompence, he will come and ſave you. Then the Eyes of the blind ſhall be opened, and the Ears of the deaf ſhall be unſtopped. Then ſhall the lame man leap as an Hart, and the Tongue of the Dumb ſing; For in the Wilderneſs ſhall Waters break out, and ſtreams in the Deſert. And the parched Ground ſhall become a Pool, and the thirſty Land Springs of Water: In the Habitation of Dragons, where each lay, ſhall be Graſs with Reeds and Ruſhes. And an high-way ſhall be there, and a way, and it ſhall be called the way of Holineſs, the unclean ſhall not paſs over it, but it ſhall be for thoſe: the way-faring men though Fools, ſhall not err therein. No Lyon ſhall be there, nor any ravenous Beaſt ſhall go up thereon, it ſhall not be found there: But the redeemed ſhall walk there. And the ranſomed of the Lord ſhall return and come to Zion with Songs, and everlaſting Joy upon their Heads: They ſhall obtain Joy and Gladneſs, and Sorrow and Sighing ſhall flee away, Iſa. 35. ver. 3. to the end.

Bleſſed be the Lord God of Life for ever, theſe Scriptures and many more, are ſweetly and preciouſly fulfilled in the hearts of a Remnant, in this our Day. They were once (in a degree) fulfilled in the Day of the Appearance of the word of Life, in the prepared Body of Fleſh. They were again more generally fulfilled, in the Day of the pouring out of his Spirit, and gathering a people to him, both from among the Jews and Gentiles, whom he did ſprinkle with his holy Life, Spirit, and Power. And they are again fulfilled in the hearts of many, after the long Night of Darkneſs, and great and large Apoſtacy from the Spirit and Power of the Apoſtles. Bleſſed, O bleſſed be the Lord, the Sun of Righteouſneſs hath again ſhone forth, and appeared inwardly in a glorious, living, powerful manner, to them that have feared his Name; and he hath been a God of Vengeance to the Man of Sin, yea, to all that was dark, fleſhly, and corrupt in them; and a God of Mercy and tender Bowels, to thoſe which panted after, and waited for his Salvation. And the healing Virtue, from under the VVings of the Saviour, and the holy anointing, hath dropped upon the eyes of the blind, the pure Eye-ſalve, and they have been opened; and the Ears of the deaf, by the Voice of the Son of God, have been unſtopped; and the inwardly, and ſpiritually lame, have leaped as an Hart; and the Tongue, which could not name God in Truth and Righteouſneſs, but hath been dumb before him, and before men alſo, could not but ſing, becauſe of the breaking forth of the Waters and Streams of Life upon the thirſty land, and parched ground, making them a pool and ſprings of water: which Land, which thus is changed from its wilderneſs and parched ched ſtate, into an holy, freſh and living ſtate, the Dragons do not lodge in, nor is it any more an Habitation or Cage for unclean and noiſom Birds (as great profeſſing-Babylon the Mother of Harlots, with all her fleſhly profeſſing-Daughters is) but Life dwells there; the holy one is in the midſt of this land, and it brings forth the fruits of Life and Righteouſneſs, to the Righteous and holy one. And here the King of Glory's Highway, even the way of Holineſs is known, which none, but thoſe whom he makes holy can walk in. Let men profeſs what they will, yet being unclean in Heart and Converſation, they cannot paſs over to come into this way; but the holy, they which are made holy by God, and keep to, live in, and follow that which is holy, though wayfaring men, and though otherwiſe Fools, yet they ſhall not err here, but be preſerved by the holy Power, in the holy way, which is prepared and caſt up for theſe. And as for that which would tear and deſtroy, it ſhall not be found on all that holy Mountain, where theſe live and feed. Yea, here is the Houſe of God, and Throne of God, and God the Judge of all, and Jeſus the Mediator of the new Covenant, and the Blood of ſprinkling, where the ranſomed of the Lord enjoy the Preſence of the Bridegroom, whom God hath ſet King, and who reigns on his holy Hill of inward and ſpiritual Zion, and cauſeth them to ſing, who feel him reign (even the everlaſting Seed of Life to reign inwardly in the Heart) Oh, everlaſting Joy is upon their Heads! they have obtained Joy and Gladneſs, and ſorrow and ſighing flees away, when the joy unſpeakable and full of Glory is felt ſpringing in the Heart, from the Senſe of the Preſence and Enjoyment of the Bridegroom; for of a Truth, the Lord hath comforted Zion, yea, he hath comforted many of her waſte places (he was angry with her Daughters, before their filth was purged away, by the Spirit of Judgment and Burning; ſince that time his Anger hath been turned away, and he hath comforted them, Iſa. 12. 1. &c.) and he hath made her Wilderneſs, in many hearts, like Eden, and her Deſart like the Garden of the Lord (even like the Garden that he waters) and how can Joy and Gladneſs but be found here, with Thankſgiving and the Voice of Melody? Iſa. 58. 11. and chap. 51. 3. Thus it is with ſuch of the gathered People and nation of the Lord, that hearken and give ear to him, and have known the Law of Life to proceed out of his Mouth, and his Judgment to reſt for a Light, ver. 4.

Some Senſible, Weighty QUERIES, Concerning Some things very ſweet and neceſſary to be experienced in the Truly-Chriſtian State.

Whereunto is added A Poſt-ſcript, Containing ſome Queries on Iſa. 50. 10, 11. A Scripture of Deep Counſel and Concern to the darkned and diſtreſſed ſtates of ſome among thoſe that fear and obey the Lord.

Written by one, who hath been ſorely darkned and diſtreſſed, for a long ſeaſon, but at length mercifully enlightned, and comforted by the Hand which afflicted anddiſtreſſed him.

Iſaac Penington.

Come and let us return unto the Lord; for he hath torn, and he will heal us: He hath ſmitten, and he will bind us up. Hoſ. 6. 1.

And in that Day thou ſhalt ſay, O Lord I will Praiſe thee, though thou waſt angry with me, thine anger is turned away, and thou comforteſt me, Iſa. 12. 1.

Printed in the Year, 1677.

A Brief PREFACE.

INdeed, the Lord hath reached unto me by his living Power, and thereby hath begotten ſomewhat which he doth own, and which he hath taught to know, and own him in his living Appearances in my Heart: And by its pure Life and Operations in me, I know it to be the pure Power. And truly I would fain have this Life and Power, more and more reach to, prevail and ſpread in my own heart, and in the Hearts of other men, I am not for any notional Religion out of the Power, in any Way or Form whatſoever (No indeed, I am not ſo much as for the very true Form of Godlineſs out of the Power) but where there is any Touch, any ſenſe, any Operation, any Savour of the true Life and Power any where, my Soul loveth and imbraceth it, bleſſing the Lord for it. And O that this might be viſited by the Lord, wherever it is, and kept alive to the Day of Redemption, and led by the Lord into the Pure and living Way, and Holy, everlaſting Covenant of Life, wherein he Redeems; for which End theſe Queries have broke forth from me; and indeed, no leſs than a neceſſity (or a Neceſſitous force of Love and Life purſuing me) hath conſtrained me to publiſh them, who with Reverence of Spirit, commit them into the Hands of the Lord, who can open the Hearts of whom he pleaſeth, and give the living ſenſe of what comes from him. I am ſatisfied that Gods Powerfull work of Redeeming will go on. O bleſſed be his Name, who hath a mighty Arm, and hath done mighty things with it, inwardly in mens Hearts; and we are in the true Faith aſſured, that he will yet do more mighty things as he ſeeth good, to the gladding of the Hearts of thoſe, whoſe Hope is in him, and who have no Help beſides him.

Some

Some Senſible, Weighty Queries, concerning ſome things very ſweet, and neceſſary to be experienced in the Truly Chriſtian-State.

Q. 1. WHat is the VVater, wherewith the Soul or Innerman is to be waſhed, that it may be cleanſed from its inward Filthineſs, as outward things are by waſhing with outward VVater? Ezek. 36. 25. Pſal. 51. 2. &c.

Q. 2. VVhat is the Anſwer of a good Conſcience towards God, when the Soul is inwardly Baptized, and made clean? Pet. 3. 21.

Q. 3. Chriſt ſaith, Bleſſed are the Pure in Heart; Do, or can any witneſs Purity of Heart before this VVaſhing?

Q. 4. How may the Heart be ſprinkled from an Evil Conſcience, and the Body waſhed with pure water; ſo that there may be a drawing near to God with a True Heart, and in full aſſurance of Faith, Heb. 10. 22. Pſal. 26. 6.

Q. 5. How might the Jews waſh and make themſelves clean? Iſa. 1 16. Could it be any otherwiſe done by them, than by taking heed to the Word of the New-Covenant, nigh in the Mouth and Heart, to which Moſes had directed them, Deut. 30. 14. Pſal. 119. 9.

Q. 6. What is the Fire which takes hold off, and burns up the Luſts and Corruptions of the Heart? Is not the Word of Life within, which flames againſt Evil, and hammers down Evil? Doth not the Holy One in the midſt of the Spiritual Iſrael do this? VVhen Chriſt, who knocks at the Door of the Heart, is let in, and his Voice hearkned to, doth not he become a Spirit of Judgment, and Burning, judging and burning up what is evil there? Is it not bleſſed to know this ſpiritual Appearance, and this work of Chriſt in the Heart, Iſa. 4. 4. and 10. 17.

Q. 7. VVhat are the Enemies of a Man's Houſe? VVho muſt overcome them? How may they be overcome? Is a man ſafe, or delivered from them till they be overcome? Mat. 15. 19. 2 Cor. 10. 4, 5.

Q. 8. VVhat is the Houſe of the Strong Man, where he dwells, till he be diſpoſſeſſed? VVho can diſpoſſeſs him? How doth he diſpoſſeſs him? How doth he ſpoil his Goods, and then garniſh the Houſe a new? O what a new Creation and Change within is VVitneſſed, when this is done? And who would not VVait, and Pray, and Believe, and ſuffer the Judgings, and Burnings of the Spirit of Judgment and Burning, that this may be done throughly and effectually, Luke 11. 21, 22. Iſa. 26. 9. 2 Cor. 5. 17.

Q. 9. What is that coming to Chriſt, which none can witneſs, but thoſe that hear, and learn of the Father, and are taught by him; in the Drawings of the Life, and Spirit of the New Covenant, to come to the Son, John 6. 44. 45.

Q. 10. Who can confeſs Jeſus to be the Lord by the Holy Ghoſt? Can any but they that receive the Help of his Spirit, and feel ſomewhat of his Lordſhip, and holy Dominion in their Hearts? Iſa. 26. 13.

Q. 11. What is the precious Faith, which is the Gift of God, which none can obtain, but they that are born of God? John 1. 12, 13.

Q. 12. Can any rightly believe that Jeſus is the Chriſt, unleſs they receive this Faith, which God gives to his own Children, that are born of his Spirit, 1 John 5. 1.

Q. 13. Doth not this Faith give Victory over the World? (over the worldly Nature and ſpirit within; over the worldly Nature and Spirit without alſo) can any other Faith give Victory? 1 John 5. 4.

Q. 14. What is the Love of God's Children? VVhence doth it ariſe? How come they to love? Is it not of an heavenly, ſpiritual nature? Doth it not ariſe from God's begetting them, and circumciſing their hearts, and teaching them in the ſpirit of the New Covenant to love him, and one another, yea and Enemies alſo, 1 John 4. 7. Deut. 30. 6. 1 Theſ. 4. 9.

Q. 15. How come the Children of God, who are begotten of him, to obey his Commandments? Is it not from the Conſtrainings of his Love, which makes them natural and easy (where this Birth and Nature is grown up) and not grievous and burthensome, Mat. 11. 33. 1 John 5. 3.

Q. 16. VWhat is the fear God puts into the hearts of the Children of the New-Covenant? Is it a Fear taught by the Precepts of men, or a Fear springing from the Root of Life within? Can any who receive this fear from God, and who are preserved in the sense of it (and in the the holy Awe and Reverence which it produceth) depart from the holy, tender, living God and Father? Jer. 32. 40.

Q. 17. What is the Law, which God writes in the Hearts of the Children of the New Covenant? Is it not the law of the spirit of Life in Christ Jesus? Is it not the law which the Isles wait for? Isa. 41. 5. And do the Isles wait for it in vain? O blessed be the Lord, by the once distressed and miserable ones, in this Age it hath not been waited for in vain.

Q. 18. What is the Truth that makes free indeed, from the law of Sin and Death? Is it not the Truth as it is in Jesus; the inward Truth, which hath Vertue and Power in it, to work against, and work out that which is contrary to Truth, and so deliver and free the mind From it? For the Light, which is Truth can expel Darkness? the Life which is Truth can overcome Death; yea, the Truth which is living, holy, and righteous, can overcome and subdue the unholy and unrighteous Nature, and break down the strong Holds, and bring every rebellious and captivated Thought into Captivity and subjection, John 8. 32. Rom. 8. 2. Ephes. 4. 20, 21, 2 Cor. 10. 4, 5.

Q. 19. How doth God cause the Children of the New-Covenant to walk in his Statutes, and to keep his Judgments, and do them? Is it not by putting his Spirit into them, and by the Holy Vertue, Power, and Operation thereof, in them? Doth not that make them a willing People in the day of his Power? And doth not that give them to do also, and strengthen them with might in the inner man? So that not grieving that, or quenching that: that is as a Flame of Life in them, and fills their Hearts with Joy, and the Joy of the Lord is in their strength; and in this Joy and strength, they can rejoyce, and work Righteousness, and remember the Lord in his wayes, Isa. 64. 5. Ezek. 36. 27.

Q. 20. Can any work Righteousness, or do righteousness, but he that is truly Righteous; inwardly Righteous; in whom the Righteousness of God, the Righteousness of Christ is revealed from Faith to Faith? Must not the Tree be good, before the Fruit can be good? Must not the heart be changed, be made holy and righteous, before it can bring forth that which is holy, and righteous? Can any but the Plants of God, the Plants of Righteousness, bring forth the fruits of Righteousness? Isa. 61. 3. and 1 John 3. 7.

O that People, Nations, Tongues, and Languages, could understandingly, sensibly, and experimentally, as in Gods sight, with the Seal of his blessed Spirit, answer every one of these things!

Three Queries more added.

Query 1. DOst thou indeed know the new Covenant? Hast thou inwardly felt the spiritual, powerful Gathering, by the mighty Arm, and Power of the Lord, out of the sinful Nature and state, into it? Dost thou abide with God therein? And art thou daily taught and fed by him there? These are very weighty things. Can any Man be Safe or Happy without Experiencing them? Heb. 8. 8. &c.

Q. 2. Hast thou experienced the true Hunger and Thirst after the living Waters? Hast thou been called and led to them? Hast thou eat and drunk the Bread, Wine and Milk which those waters yield? Hast thou been abundantly satisfied with the fatness of God's House, and hath he given thee to drink of the River of his Pleasure? Hath the Lord opened an Ear in thee to hear as the Learned? And hast thou inclined thy Ear and come unto him who gives Life, and received him who is Life, and gives Life in that inward, spiritual, living Appearance of his in the heart, wherein and whereby he gives Life? Hast thou known his Appearance inwardly, as of a living Stone? Hast thou heard, and learned of the Father how to come to him, as to a Living Stone? And haſt thou been new-created and formed a living Stone by him? And art thou a living Stone, built upon Him, the Living Stone inwardly in Spirit, daily living in him, and daily receiving ſpiritual Life and Vertue from him? If it be thus with thee, then ſurely thou doſt know, and enjoy the Everlaſting Covenant, even the ſure Mercies of David, Iſa. 55. 1, 2, 3. Pſal. 36 8, 9. 1 Pet. 2. 4, 5.

Q. 3. Doſt thou ſenſibly, and experimentally know, how the Spirit of the Father begets the Child like Life, Love, and Fear in the Heart, and how the pure Fear of the Lord is the beginning of Wiſdom, and the living Child's Treaſure? And doſt thou know what the Womb is, wherein the living Child is formed? What the Jeruſalem above is, which is the Mother of all that are truly living? And how Chriſt is formed in all that are begotten, and born of, and live in his Spirit? Iſa. 33. 6. Gal. 4. 26. John 3. v. 6, and 8. Gal. 4. 19.

The Concluſion.

O How Miſerable is he, who is deceived about theſe things! O how Happy is he, who hath received the true Underſtanding from God, which cannot be deceived; wherein he hath the Evidence and Demonſtration of God's Spirit concerning them, and knoweth the Truth as it is in Jeſus; as it is in his Life, in his Spirit, in his Power, who miniſters after the Power of an endleſs Life, unto all his Sheep, who are returned to the Shepherd and Biſhop of the Soul, who hear his Voice and follow him, wherever he goes or leads, who is an eternal Shepherd, and eternal Door of Life to his, and leads to precious Paſtures, and ſweet ſtill Streams of Life, and is giving the ſweet Food, Reſt, and pure Pleaſure of Eternal Life, unto his abundantly, even as it is his Will, that after their many ſore Trials, Exercifes, and Travels (and Faithfulneſs to him therein) they ſhould abundantly poſſeſs and enjoy it. Glory to the Lord for ever, whoſe Kingdom is ſet up in the Hearts of many, and who already Reigns in the Hearts of many, and will Reign in the hearts of more. O that Men might hear the ſound of his Everlaſting Goſpel, and learn to fear him, and give Glory to him, and know the hour of his Judgment, come in their own Hearts; that by his Judgment againſt Sin, and Unrighteouſneſs in them, they might come to Know and Worſhip Him; and then the Worſhip of the Dragon, and Beaſt, would ſoon come to an End in their Hearts: And they would worſhip the Begetter of Holineſs, the Begetter of Life, the King of Saints, who dwells and Rules in thoſe that are his own, as the Devil the Deſtroyer doth in thoſe that are his. The Lord God of everlaſting Power, break down the Kingdom of Satan (the Kingdom of Unrighteouſneſs, and Darkneſs in mens Hearts) and exalt the Kingdom, and Scepter of his own Son, inſtead thereof, Amen.

Poſt-ſcript.

Containing ſome Queries on Iſa. 50. 10, 11.

Verſe 10. WHo is among you that feareth the Lord, that obeyeth the Voice of his Servant, that walketh in Darkneſs and hath no Light? It is renderd in another Tranſlation. And no Light ſhineth upon him, (which was Job's caſe in his great Affliction, as is ſignified by him, chap. 29. 2, 3.) Let him truſt in the Name of the Lord, and ſtay upon his God.

Verſe 11. Behold all ye that kindle a Fire, that compaſs about with ſparks, walk in the light of your own Fire, and in the ſparks ye have kindled, this ſhall ye have of mine Hand, ye ſhall lie down in Sorrow.

Query 1. DOth not the Tender and Merciful God, many times in the Bowels of his Love and Mercy, bring Darkneſs, and great Diſtreſs upon mens Spirits, that they might wait for his Healing and Redemption? Yea, doth not this befall ſome who fear the Lord, and are found in the holy Reverence, and Obedience to him? And is it not good that it ſhould befall them?

Q. 2. Should not men in ſuch a condition of Darkneſs and Diſtreſs, truſt in the Name of the Lord, and ſtay upon him, till he cauſe Light to ariſe out of Obſcurity, and comfort them that mourn in Zion; giving them Beauty for Aſhes, the Oyl of Joy for Mourning, and the Garment of Praiſe for the Spirit of Heavineſs?

Q. 3. Are not Perſons very prone, and liable in time of Darkneſs and Diſtreſs, inſtead of waiting upon God for his Help and Salvation, to be kindling a Fire, and compaſſing themſelves about with Sparks?

Q. 4. Are there not ſome, who cannot be content without Heat, and Warmth in their Religion and Performances, and yet inſtead of waiting for God's kindling the fire, and his cauſing the ſparks of Life to ariſe, kindle a fire of themſelves; and compaſs themſelves about with ſparks of their own Kindling?

Q. 5. May not men after they have kindled a fire and ſparks; walk in the Light thereof? And may not God in his juſt Judgment and ſore Diſpleaſure againſt them, leave them to themſelves, and give them up ſo to do?

Q. 6. What will God do in the end, or what in the end ſhall befall them from God, who kindle a fire and ſparks; and have continued walking in the light thereof, and have been heated and warmed thereby? Will not God cauſe them at length to lie down in Sorrow? O that Perſons that are ſerious in Religion, might not thus err, and ſo provoke God to give them up, to walk in the Light of the fire and ſparks of their own kindling!

Q. 7. When do men kindle a fire and ſparks of their own? Do they not firſt forget the God of their Salvation, and become unmindful of the Rock of their Strength? And do they not then plant pleaſant Plants, and ſet ſtrange Slips? (And where do they plant and ſet them?) But what will the Harveſt be in the Day of Inheritance, when they come to reap, and inherit what they have planted and ſown? (For what a man ſoweth, that muſt he alſo reap) Will it not be a Heap for the Fire of God's Jealouſie to take hold on in the Day of their Tribulation, Anguiſh, and deſperate Sorrow of Heart, Iſa. 17. 10. 11.

Q. 8. In what Light do men build up a Wall inwardly, and daub it with untempered Morter, to ſecure themſelves from the wrath to come? Is it not in the light of the fire and ſparks of their own kndling? Will any wall or Defence built up in the Light of this fire or ſparks ſecure men, will not the Wrath of God in the day thereof, break forth upon all the workers of Iniquity, whatever their Faith or Hope be to the contrary? Will any wall defend the Soul from the overflowing ſtorm of Wrath, but the VVall of God's Salvation; and can any enter within that VVall, but the Righteous Nation which keepeth the Truth. Iſa, 26. 1, 2. The Name of the Lord indeed is a ſtrong Tower, but can any run into it, and get ſhelter in it, but the Righteous, Prov. 18. 10.

Q. 9. VVho is he, who when he falleth, ſhall ariſe again? and after he hath ſate in Darkneſs, the Lord ſhall be a light unto him? Is it not he that feareth the Lord, that obeyeth the Voice of his Servant, that in the time of his Darkneſs, and Diſtreſs, truſteth in the Name of the Lord, and ſtays upon his God? Yea is it not ſuch an one, as is willing to bear the Indignation of the Lord, becauſe he hath ſinned againſt him, until he plead his Cauſe, and execute Judgment for him? VVill not the Lord bring forth ſuch an one to the light, and ſhall not ſuch an one behold his Righteouſneſs? Mic. 7. 8, 9.

Q. 10. VVhen ſhall Perſon's Light ariſe in Obſcurity, and their Darkneſs be as the Noon-day? VVhen ſhall their Light break forth as the Morning, and their Health ſpring forth ſpeedily; and their righteouſneſs go before them, and the Glory of the Lord gather them up? And when ſhall the Lord be their continual Guide, and ſatisfie their Soul in Droughts, and make fat their Bones, and make them like a watered Garden, and like a ſpring of water, whoſe waters fail not? Are not theſe Promiſes belong-belonging to the Gospel-state; and are they not fulfilled in the Gospel-state, as People come to know and keep the Gospel-fast, and the Gospel-sabbath. Read Isa. 58. 6. to the end, and wait on the Lord, to receive Understanding from him, that in reading thou mayest Understand.

O that men knew the Gospel-Fast, and the Gospel-Sabbath, with the Feasts of Unleavened Bread, Tabernacles, Trumpets, &c. A little of the Knowledge of the Mystery of the hidden Life and Power, is of more value, and would do their Souls more good, than heaps of litteral Knowledge, wherewith the World is so filled. The Knowledge of God and Christ in the Mystery, is no less than Life Eternal, in them and to them, who are taught in the New-Covenant, or Ministration of the Power of the endless Life so to know them.

The Everlasting Gospel of Our Lord Jesus Christ: and the Blessed effects thereof Testified to by experience.

By Isaac Pennington.

The Darkness is past, and the true Light now shineth, 1 John 2. 8.

Arise shine, for the Light is come, and the glory of the Lord is risen upon thee; for behold, the darkness shall cover the Earth, and gross darkness the people; but the Lord shall arise upon thee, and his glory shall be seen upon thee. Isa. 1. 2.

When the Lord shall build up Zion, he shall appear in his glory, Psal. 102. 16. (indeed he doth so.)

The Everlasting Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ, and the Blessed effects thereof, Testified to from Experience.

THe blessed message, which the Apostles (who were sent by Christ to preach the Gospel,) heard of Christ, and were to declare to others, was; That God is Light, and in him is no Darkness at all, 1 Joh. 1. 5.

The end of Christs sending them with this Message, was, that thereby (preaching it in the evidence and demonstration of Gods Spirit) they might Open mens eyes, and turn them from Darkness to Light, and from the Power of Satan to God, that they might receive Forgiveness of Sins, and inheritance among them that are Sanctified by Faith that is in him, Act. 26. 18.

Now the eye of the Mind being opened, and the Mind turned from the Darkness within, to the Light within; and from Satans power to the power of God, which is revealed revealed in the Light: The Soul in the Light comes to see (over the Darkness and Satan who darkned it) the things of God and his Kingdom, as they are revealed in the Light, which makes them manifest.

As First, It sees him who is the Rock, the Holy Foundation of God, the Holy Foundation of Life in the Soul; the living Stone, by which all the other living Stones are made alive, and they are taught of God to come to him as to a living Stone, and so are Built upon him, and become Gods Building and New Creation in him, 1 Pet. 2. 5. 2 Cor. 5. 17. And here, in this Light none can miss of the true coming, hearing the voice of the Father, and being drawn and taught by him to come to the Son, Joh. 6. 44, 45.

2*ly*. Here the true Jews state, the state of the inward Jew, and the inward Circumcision, and the true VVorship (even the VVorship of the Father in Spirit and Truth) is known. For the Jew inward is a Child of Light, begotten in the Light, redeemed out of Darkness, and Dwells and Walks in the Light, as God is in the Light, 1 Joh. 1. 7. And the Circumcision is not a fleshly Act; but the cutting off of that which is Fleshly from the mind, by the Spirit and Power of Christ. And the Gospel-worship, or the Worship of the Jew inward, is the Worshipping of God in the newness of the Life of his Son.

3*dly*. Here is the true Repentance from the Dead Nature and Dead Works, which no man can attain to of himself, but is Gods Gift through his Son, whom God hath appointed to be a Prince and a Saviour to give Repentance and forgiveness of Sins, Act. 5. 31. I say here, that Repentance is known, waited for and received. For not to men in the Darkness, and loving the Darkness, is the true Repentance given; but to them that are turned to the Light, to them is Repentance given unto Life, Act 11. 18. compared with chap. 26. 17, 18.

4*thly*. Here the true Faith, the Precious Gift of Faith is received, whereby men believe in him who gives Life, and receive Life from him. And this is the Faith which gives access to God, and gives victory over the World; and that which is contrary to God: The Faith which is given in the Light, doth so; but the Faith which men have in the Darkness, doth not so.

5*thly*. Here the Cross of Christ is known, which is an inward Living Spiritual thing, effectually Crucifying that man, that takes it up and daily bears it, to all that is earthly and sinfull; and then the Pure seed and Life of Christ springs up in his Earth, over the World and every worldly thing, Gal. 6. 14.

6*thly*. Here the pure Love springs in the Heart, both to him that begets, and to him that is begotten. In the Light there is nothing but Love; but in the Darkness there is no true Love to be found, but the very Love that is found there, is of the Nature of Enmity. It is the Light or Truth that purifieth the Heart to the Love unfeigned, 1 Pet. 1. 22. Deut. 30. 6.

7 thly. Here the Lambs patience and meekness is experienced, and the Soul adorned with it. The Lamb is the Light of the VVorld; and they that are made Lambs by him, partake of his sweet and meek Nature, learning of him to be meek and lowly in heart; and so have that patience and meekness from him, which no other can attain to, Mat. 11. 29.

8*thly*. In the Light the precious Promises are fulfilled, and partook of, which make them who partake of them, and in whom they are fulfilled, partakers of the Divine Nature: For the Divine Nature is not partook of in the Darkness, but in him who is Light: Man, (who is Darkness) cannot partake of the Promises which belong to the Children of Light: But, when by the operation of Gods Power, his State and Nature is changed, and he is now no more Darkness, but Light in the Lord, then the Promises which were made to the Children of Light, he cometh to have a share in, Eph. 5. 8. 2 Pet. 1. 4.

Lastly. In the Light the Holy anointing is received, the voice of Christ heard, and the new everlasting Covenant, even the sure Mercies of David made with the Soul, Isa 55. 3. The Law of the new Covenant, (even the Law of the Spirit of Life in Christ Jesus) writ in the Mind, and the holy fear of the New Covenant, which cleanseth and keepeth clean, put in the heart; and the blessed Spirit of the Father given and received, which gives to those that receive it, Power to become the the Sons of God, cauſing them to walk in his wayes and to keep his Statutes and Judgments, and do them. O bleſſed Diſpenſation of Life and holy Power, which the Lord hath cauſed to break forth, among a deſpiſed people in theſe latter dayes! O that the Sons of men would hear and underſtand this precious loving kindneſs of the Lord, and put their truſt under the ſhadow of his wings, and know what it is to be ſatisfied with the fatneſs of his Spiritual-Goſpel-houſe, and to drink of the River of his Pleaſures, and in his light to ſee light, Pſal. 36, 7, 8, 9.

This opened in me this Morning, in Love and Compaſſion towards the Papiſts. My Bowels have often rowled over them, and been pained concerning them, to ſee how they are cloſed and ſhut up, as to the true ſenſe and underſtanding of things of this Nature. O that they would prize the Day of their Viſitation; that they might hear the ſound of Life, both from others, and alſo in their own hearts, and the ſaving Arm of the Lord might be inwardly revealed to them, and they effectually Redeemed thereby!

I am no diſdainer of Papiſts, or any ſort of Proteſtants; nay not of Turks or Jews, but a Mourner becauſe of their ſeveral Miſtakes, and a breather to the God of my Life for tender Mercy towards them all.

POST-SCRIPT.

AND in this Light, the true Church, the Goſpel-Church, the New Teſtament Church is known, which is a Church of the Children of Light, a building built in the Light, which Church is in God the Father, and in the Lord Jeſus Chriſt, 2 Theſſ. 1. 1. In whom they are built together for an habitation, of God through the Spirit, Eph. 2. 22. Yea in whom all the building fitly framed together, groweth unto an holy Temple in the Lord, v. 21. (for the Lord frameth them fitly together into a Spiritual and Holy building.) And all, that are here gathered out of the Darkneſs into the Light, who walk in the Light, and abide in the Light, are built upon the foundation of the Apoſtles and Prophets, Jeſus Chriſt himſelf being the chief Corner, v. 20. And are no more Strangers and Forreigners, but fellow-Citizens with the Saints, and of the houſhould of God, v. 19.

The Goſpel Church is the Spiritual houſe of Jacob, which walk in the Light of the Lord. Iſa 2. 5. who go up to the Mountain of the Lord (to that which is revealed to be the Mountain of God, in the laſt dayes, even Spiritual Mount Zion, Heb. 12. 22.) to the houſe of the God of Jacob, where he teacheth his Spiritual People, the inward Jews of his wayes, and they learn to walk in his Paths: For out of this Zion ſhall go forth the Law of the Spirit of Life in Chriſt Jeſus (in the dayes of the Goſpel) and the word of the Lord from this Jeruſalem, v. 2. 3. For Jeruſalem which is above, is free, which is the Mother of all the Children, which are born of Gods Spirit, Gal. 4. 26. Joh. 3. 6. And ſhe being the Mother of them all, nouriſheth them all with the word of Life, which goeth forth from her; and all her Children know and juſtify her their Mother, Mat. 11. 19. O that all, both Papiſts and Proteſtants knew this true Mother-Church, this Mother of all the Living, of whom none but the living are born; and who nouriſheth all the living, and none elſe, with the Law and word of Eternal Life!

And if they knew the true Church, the Church is of the true Jews, the Church of the firſt born, whoſe names are written in Heaven, and did live and walk in the light of the Lamb, and follow the leader, the ſhepherd of Iſrael, and faithful Biſhop of the Soul, who overſeeth and taketh care of the Soul; they would learn and come to know and experience theſe things following.

Firſt, The dwelling places of Mount Zion, and her aſſemblies, and Gods Creating upon every of them a Cloud and Smoak by day, and the ſhining of a flaming ing fire by night, which is the defence upon all the Glory, that the Lord bringeth forth among his Spiritual Church and people, Iſa. 4. v. 5.

2*dly*. They would know the Land of the inward Jews, and Spiritual Judah, and the Song ſung therein, becauſe of the ſtrong City which the Lord builds there, and the Salvation which he appoints for Walls and Bulwarks about it: And would ſee and know, how none but the inward Jews, the inwardly Circumciſed and ſanctified, even the righteous Nation that keepeth the Truth, can enter by the Gates into that City, Iſa. 26. 1, 2. And they that dwell in that City, whoſe minds are ſtayed on the Lord, and who truſt in him, the Lord will keep in perfect peace, v. 3. Then Jeruſalem is a quiet habitation indeed, and the reſting and feeding places in it are ſure, Iſa. 32. 18. and chap 33. v. 15. and v. 20.

3*dly*, They could know the Feaſt of Fat things, which the Lord of Hoſts makes to all people that are here, to all people that come up to, and dwell on his Holy Mountain, and ſerve and Worſhip him in Spirit and Truth. The Lord of hoſts maketh ſuch a Feaſt, as no eye hath ſeen, nor ear heard, nor can it enter into the heart of man to conceive what it is, but only by the Spirit of God, even a Feaſt of Fat things, even a Feaſt of Spiritual Fat things, a Feaſt of Wines on the Lees, of Fat things full of Marrow, of Wines on the Lees well refined, Iſa. 25. 6. They that are turned to the Light, and follow Chriſt the Light, ſhall not abide in Darkneſs, but have the Light of Life, Joh. 8. 12. Shall be tranſlated out of the Kingdom of Darkneſs into the Kingdom of the dear Son, and they ſhall Sup with Chriſt and he with them, and both together Drink of the Fruit of the Vine of Life, new in the Fathers Kingdom.

4*thly*. They ſhall infallibly know, here in this Light, which ſhines on Gods Holy Mountain, the deſtroying or ſwallowing up of the face of the Covering caſt over all people, and and the Vail ſpread over all Nations, Iſa. 25. 7. For the Vail is caſt over and ſpread in the Darkneſs. But is done away and ſwallowed up in Chriſt the Light: for the vail is done away in him, 2 Cor. 3. 14. And all that are in Chriſt, in his Spirit, in the light and liberty thereof, behold as in a Glaſs the Glory of the Lord, and are changed into the ſame Image, from Glory to Glory, by the Lord the Spirit, v. 17. 18.

Laſtly, Here the King of Righteouſneſs his high way is known, even the way of Holineſs, which the unclean cannot paſs over, but the ſanctified in the Light do walk in, and the way-faring men here, though fools, do not erre in, Iſa. 35. 8. For they that are taught of God in the New Covenant, and follow the leading of his bleſſed Spirit, do not erre.

O that the true Church were known, which is now come and coming out of the Wilderneſs, leaning upon her Beloved, who led and leads her out thence, into her own land of Life and Glory, where her Light ſhines, and ſhe ariſeth and ſtandeth upon her feet before the Lord, and the Glory of the Lord ſhines upon her and covers her! Happy is the eye that ſeeth this, and the Soul that hath a ſhare in it.

The End.

A Further Teſtimony to TRUTH, revived out of the Ruines of the Apoſtacy, or ſeveral things opened from the Spirit of Truth, touching the way of Life and Salvation, which will reach to the Witneſs in the hearts of thoſe, whoſe Spirits are quickned, and whoſe Ears and Underſtandings are opened, by the Spirit and Power of the Lord.

Written in a deep ſenſe and tender Love, by

Iſaac Penington.

Ariſe, ſhine; for thy Light is come, and the Glory of the Lord is riſen upon thee. For behold, the darkneſs ſhall cover the Earth, and groſs darkneſs the People: but the Lord ſhall ariſe upon thee, and his Glory ſhall be ſeen upon thee. And the Gentiles ſhall come to thy light, and the Kings to the brightneſs of thy riſing. Iſa. 60. 1, 2, 3.

O Houſe of Jacob, come ye, and let us walk in the Light of the Lord, Iſa. 2. 5.

The PREFACE.

O How excellent and precious is the Name of the Lord, in this our day, among his People, whom he hath gathered out of the Worldly Spirit unto himſelf, and whom he mightily defendeth in that, wherein he hath gathered them! inſomuch as it may now be ſaid inwardly, as it was of old outwardly, Pſal. 76. In Judah is God known: his Name is Great in Iſrael. In Salem alſo is his Tabernacle: and his Dwelling Place in Sion. There brake he the Arrows of the Bow, the ſhield, and the Sword, and the Battle, Selah. O what mihty things hath the Lord God done, in and for the Spirits of his people! How hath he ſcattered the darkneſs from about them, broke the Chains which held them in captivity! how hath he riſen up againſt the all enemies of their Souls, diſcovered their ſnares, ſnapped in ſunder the weapons of War, which the Spirit of darkneſs hath formed and lifted up againſt them! and how hath he preſerved them in life, in peace, in purity, in holineſs, in his power and dominion (over that Spirit and the devices thereof) to this very day! He lives and reigns in power over all: and becauſe he lives, we live alſo: and becauſe he reigns, thoſe that are in his life and Spirit partake of his holy reign and dominion (over Sin, Hell, Death and the powers of Darkneſs) with him. Lo, This is our God; This is he, whom we have ſought after and waited for: and now his power is made manifeſt, now his righteouſneſs and Salvation is revealed, how can our Souls but be glad and rejoyce therein? Yea how can we conceal the good tidings of the day of our God, and of the Gospel of his Salvation, which hath arisen and broke in upon us? How can we but desire to awaken the minds of men out of their sleep, and call upon them to shake off the drowsiness and blackness of the night, and to lift up their eyes towards the Hill and Mountain of Gods holiness, that they also may behold the beauty of his day in others, and wait for the springing of his life, and glory in themselves?

Now, there is somewhat revealed of God, of his own Nature, Power and Spirit, wherein we have met with him. To this we invite, of this we speak, concerning this we testify, as being that which the Father will honour, and wherein he hath and will appear. It is a poor, weak, low thing to consider of, or behold with the eye and understanding of man: but there is the Riches, the Glory, the Life, the Righteousness, the Peace, the Joy, the everlasting Power of the Kingdom in it; and to them that receive it in the demonstration of Gods Spirit, and in the love of it, it is the Wisdom of God and his Power to the redemption and Salvation of their Souls. Indeed, of all the wise builders (out of the true sense and power) it is rejected at this day, as it alwaies was of old: but to us, who are called of God, taught by him, who have received an understanding from him, &c. We know the value of that which comes from him, being instructed by him not to judge according to the appearance, but to judge the righteous judgment: and in the righteous judgment, in the Ballance of the Sanctuary, we find this little despised light to be elect and precious, even the Foundation-stone, the Corner-Stone, and the Top-stone of the building of God. And this we testify to men in true love, and from certain knowledge and experience, which we have received from him that is true, and hold in him that is true.

Now, this precious pearl (of which we testify) lies hid deep within; and thither must men come to know it, to purchase it, to possess it: and thither it is the desire of our hearts to bring men. Nor do we open the things of God before men to this end, that they might get a knowledge thereof into their Brains, and feed on it there, but through tender love, we bring these things a little into the very view of men (as the Lord inables us) not that they might stick there, but that having a tast of the excellency and beauty of truth, they might be enflamed (with desires after it) to travel thither, where it is to be had. Therefore dwell not in the notion, delight not in the outward knowledge of the thing it self (though that knowledge be never so sweet, pleasing, satisfactory and demonstrative to the mind:) but come to the everlasting spring. Feel the measure of life in thy particular, and that will lead thee to the Spring of Life, from whence the measure comes, as a gift from the Father to thee, to bring thee to the Father. And singly for this end, have I been drawn to write what follows, in service to the Lord, in faithfulness to him, in dear love to the souls of men, especially of those who have formerly been travellers, and have felt somewhat of the Lord, and yet retain desires and breathings in their hearts after him. O that the Lord would touch their Spirits, discover to them the way everlasting, and lead them therein to that, which their souls darkly desire and seek after; to which there is no other way, then that which hath been from the beginning; only there have been various discoveries and manifestations of the one way. But what greater discovery can there be, then of the thing or seed it self, which the Lord hath been pleased to make manifest, in this day of his glorious mercy, love and power, whereof he hath raised up many witnesses, whom he hath enabled (by his Spirit and Power) to give a living, clear, certain testimony to? Happy is the ear that hears: for that also must be of God, as the message and messengers are known to be.

A Queſtion Anſwered concerning reading the Scriptures aright.

Queſt. HOw may a man know, whether he readeth the Scriptures to his advantage and benefit, or whether he readeth them to his diſadvantage and hurt?

That the Holy Scriptures, written by men inſpired by Gods Spirit, were of great uſe and benefit to thoſe, to whom they were written (they rightly underſtanding them and becoming Subject to the voice of his Spirit, in thoſe that wrote or ſpake to them) is an undeniable truth.

And that they were not only written for them, but for others alſo in future ages, who alſo may reap benefit in the reading of them; this is as manifeſt.

Yet, that men may ſo read them, and ſo underſtand them, as may be to their hurt, that is true alſo, and hath been often and is ſtill evidenced by lamentable experience.

The Jews, the Scribes and Phariſees heard and read the Law and Prophets to their hurt: ſome in a Spirit of Direct oppoſition to the truths and will of God held out by the Prophets; others in a ſpirit of miſunderſtanding. Thus the Scribes and Phariſees in Chriſts time, ſo read the Words of Moſes and the Prophets (who teſtified concerning the Son and his Coming) as that thereby they became ſtrong, wiſe and confident in oppoſing him when he came. They could prove by Scriptures that this was not, could not be he. He was to be a glorious King, and to reſtore Iſrael. This was a mean man, a Carpenters Son; and ſo taught and ſo behaved himſelf, that if men believed in him, the Romans would thereby be provoked to deſtroy their Place and Nation. They ſaid, He was an eater, a drinker, a friend of Publicans and Sinners, a breaker of the Sabbath, a Galilean, &c. And ſhall Chriſt come out of Galilee? Search and look: for out of Galilee ariſeth no Prophet, Joh. 7. 52. as if they had ſaid, Can this be the Meſſiah, of whom the Scriptures have ſo abundantly propheſied, who cometh out of Galilee, out of which the Scriptures have not Propheſied, of ſo much as any Prophet to ariſe? Thus they read the Scriptures to their hurt.

And ſo afterwards, in the Apoſtles daies, men wreſted the words of the Apoſtles, as they did alſo the other Scrptures, to their own deſtruction.

And ſince, in the Apoſtacy from the Apoſtles Spirit life and Doctrine, and the coming up of many ſects, heads and horns; which of them have not ſo read the Scriptures, as to confirm themſelves even in thoſe very Doctrines and practices, which are directly contrary to the Doctrines, Practices and Spirit of the Apoſtles?

Yea, ſince Gods breaking the darkneſs of the night, and cauſing the light of his day again to ariſe, how do men read and underſtand Scriptures, even ſo as to oppoſe this light, Life, Spirit and power, now it is again made manifeſt, thinking and judging its appearance now (according to their underſtanding of, and apprehenſions on the Scriptures) to be as contrary to its appearance in the Apoſtles dayes, as the Scribes and Phariſees judged Chriſts appearance in their daies, to be different from, and contrary to what the Prophets had propheſied, concerning the Meſſiah.

Therefore it is a matter of very great weight, for a man to know when he reads the Scriptures aright; that his table (whereon he feeds, and by which food he hopes to live to God, and be accepted with him) become not his ſnare, and ſet him further off from God. For it is as true in this day, as it was in Chriſts day, that Publicans and Harlots, &c. are nearer the Kingdom, then thoſe who are in the ſpirit, Wiſdom and Righteouſneſs of the Scribes and Phariſees; who have a knowledge, a belief, an hope, a zeal, &c. from a miſunderſtanding of the Scriptures: for this is wrong in a miſtery of deceit, which is worſe in its nature, and more dangerous to the Perſon in whom it is, and to the Souls of others, then the deceit which is openly manifeſt. Well then, is it not worth the diligent enquiry and waiting upon God to know, What is the right reading of the Scriptures; and whether a man ſo read them, as is to the benefit and profit of his Soul, or to his loſs and detriment? To come then to the Anſwer, which is as followeth.

Anſw. He that reads the Scriptures in a true meaſure of life received from God, he reads them aright: and when ever he ſo readeth, it is to his benefit. He that readeth out of that, readeth to his hurt, that being then up in him, which miſunderſtands, miſapplies and grows conceited, wiſe and confident according to the fleſh; and ſo he is thereby liable to, and in great danger of ſetting up his interpretations, inſtead of the meaning of Gods Spirit, and of condemning that which doth not aſſent and agree therewith, though it be never ſo neceſſary and precious a truth of Gods, and never ſo fully demonſtrated by his Spirit, to thoſe who are in the true Faith and Underſtanding.

They that are of the true Spirit, are meek, tender, gentle, fearing before the Lord, waiting upon him, often crying to him, that they may not be deceived, that a wrong thing get not up in them, that they receive not any thing for truth, but what they know to be truth: and when the Lord pleaſeth to give the true knowledge, that they hold that knowledge of his truth in Righteouſneſs, in his Life, in his Will, in his Wiſdom, &c. But the wrong Spirit is not ſo, nor is its courſe thus; but that is ſubtile in ſearching and forming of things, and holding them in the ſubtilty, and drawing the wrong part in others to own and acknowledge that, which it repreſents and holds forth as truth.

There is a Wiſdom in man, which is againſt God; which Wiſdom oppoſeth the Wiſdom of God two waies: either in a direct oppoſite way, or in a ſecret, ſubtile, undermining way. Now no man can come to God, or truly underſtand, or receive the things of God, but as this wiſdom comes to be confounded, and deſtroyed in him by the Light and Power of God. All its ſtrong holds, all its ſubtile imaginations, all its reaſonings and conſultings muſt be daſhed and brought to nought, before the truth of God can have full place, and power in the heart. Now in the true diſcovery of this Wiſdom to man, and in his denial of it, and watching againſt it, and turning to the other, he may wait upon God aright, receive the knowledge of the heavenly myſteries aright, read the Scriptures aright, come to the true Senſe, underſtanding and experience of them: but at any time, ſo far as he is out of this, he is liable to the ſnare, to the miſunderſtanding of Scriptures, and the fleſhly confidence, that ariſeth thereupon. So that, having taken up a miſunderſtanding of a Scripture, or ſome Scriptures, he will even boldly venture to ſpeak evil of the Heavenly and ſpiritual dignities, which are of God, and the holy truths which are held forth by his holy miniſters: againſt the Prophets in their day, againſt Chriſt and his Apoſtles in their day, againſt the witneſſes in the times of the Apoſtacy, and againſt the Angel (learn who that is) that is to preach the everlaſting Goſpel again, after the Apoſtacy. Ah! how doth this wiſdom deſtroy and entangle, and how hath it deſtroyed and entangled many at this day, who think they are greatly for God in thoſe things and practices, wherein they are directly againſt him; and that they only oppoſe errour and a wrong Spirit, when they are oppoſing his truth and his holy Spirit! and it is impoſſible it ſhould be otherwiſe, while they judge and act from that which is wrong, and in that which is wrong. Now mark,

The Spirit, the Truth, the Life, the Subſtance is Gods for ever: the unclean Spirit cannot enter into it, the unclean womb cannot conceive of it, nor bring it forth; but the letter, the ſhell, the outward figure, the out ward relations and deſcriptions of things, the other Spirit, Wiſdom and Nature in man may read, gheſs at, transform, receive, believe and build up with, according to the fleſh. And here is the Foundation, and riſe of Antichriſt and Babylon, who raiſe up a Building, a Knowledge, a Faith, an Hope, a Church, a Worſhip, Duties, Ordinances, Juſtification, Sanctification, &c. like Sion: but they are not the thing it ſelf, but repreſentations of the thing, either ſuch as were invented by it ſelf, or ſuch as were once appointed and made uſe of by the Spirit of the Lord. For there is little difference between inventing a new thing, and making uſe of an old thing, which once was of God, but is now underſtood, obſerved and practiſed out of the Senſe, Light and guidance of his Spirit, in another Spirit and according cording to another wiſdom. Now this is not the right way of reformation, to wit, to return to outward litteral things, which were practiſed by the Jews in their day, or by the former Chriſtians in their day: but to return to the Spirit that they were in and to feel (in the true life and leading thereof) what it teacheth, and requireth to be obſerved, and practiſed now. For there are things, whoſe value is not in, themſelves, but in Gods requiring of them, which the wrong Spirit mayget into, and the Lord may draw his people out of them (as he did out of the outward Court into the inward building, or Temple, when he gave the outward Court to the Gentiles Rev. 11. 1, 2.) and he that is found in thoſe things, after God hath given them to the Gentiles, and drew his People out of them, is not therein owned or accepted of God, though God may bear with him in the time of his ignorance, yet if he abide in them after the riſing of light and its teſtimony, the Lord wil not ſo bear with him; but will condemn him, and deal with him as a Tranſgreſſor of that Covenant, wherein life and peace with him is witneſſed.

Therefore, in all things that concern God, whether in reading the Scriptures, Praying or obſerving any thing ye call duties and ordinances, O ye that would approve your ſelves Chriſtians indeed, waiting to know your guide and leader, and the true limits which are ſet by God, that ye may ſerve him in the true Faith, Spirit and underſtanding, which God knoweth to be ſo indeed, and not in that which ye may faſely account ſo! For marke, If ye be Chriſtians, are ye not in Chriſt, and is not Chriſt in you? and are ye not to feel his life, and the guidance of his Spirit, ſo as ye may live in the Spirit and walk in the Spirit, read in the Spirit, pray alwaies in the Spirit, believe in the Spirit, worſhip in the Spirit, and in the holy underſtanding which is of him?

He that would be right in Religion, muſt have a right beginning. How is that He muſt begin in the Spirit. His Knowledg, his Faith, his Hope, his Peace, his Joy, his Righteouſneſs, his Holineſs, his Worſhip &c. muſt begin there. He muſt come out of his own Spirit, his own Wiſdom, the counſels and thoughts of his own Heart, and wait on him who beginneth the Work of Regeneration and Life in the Heart; and he muſt afterwards diligently watch againſt that Spirit and Wiſdom, from which the Lord hath led him, that it at no time again enter him: for it will be ſtriving to lead him out of the way, with likeneſſes and falſe images of things, with Knowledge falſly ſo called, with a Faith which is not truly of God, nor of the ſame nature with that which he firſt felt, with falſe Hopes, falſe Fears, falſe Joyes, a falſe Righteouſneſs and Holineſs, which are not Chriſts, nor according to the Scriptures, but only ſuch as he apprehends to be ſo. For a man, who once taſted the Truth and in ſome meaſure judged aright, may afterwards err in his palate and judgment, and then take the wrong for the true, not keeping to that, nor being now in that, which formerly gave him the true reliſh. Now he that would meet with the true Religion, the Religion of the Goſpel, muſt meet with the Power, receive the Power, believe, dwell, and act in the Power. For Chriſt was made a King, Prieſt and Prophet; not after the Law of a carnal Commandment, but after the Power of an endleſs Life: and his Covenant is not like the old inward or Letter; but in the ſame Power and Life, wherein the Prieſt's were made Miniſters: So the Knowledge here, the Faith here, the Hope here, &c. are not litteral, but living. He that receiveth this Knowledge, receiveth living Knowledge. This Faith gives victory over unbelief, and over that Spirit, whoſe ſtrength lies in unbelief. This Hope purifieth the heart even as he is Pure, And he that receiveth the Righteouſneſs of this Covenant, receiveth a living Garment, which hath Power in it over Death and Unrighteouſneſs. The begining of this Religion, of this Power and holy inward Covenant is ſweet: but the progreſs and going on in it much more pleaſant, as the Lord gives to feel the growth and ſweet living freſhneſs of it, notwithſtanding the Temptations, Fears, Troubles, Trials, Oppoſitions and great Dangers, both within and without; with the Life (which was at firſt turned to) being ſtill kept to, by the Power which is from it, and through the Faith which is in it, in its own ſeaſons, and way of its own wiſdom overcomes, giving the Soul that is diligent and Faithfull to witneſs, that all its wayes are Pleaſantneſs, and its Paths Peace: yea the very Yoke is eaſy and the burthen light, when the Mind and Will is changed by the Power, and helped and aſſiſted by the Lord in its ſubjection to the Power.

So the Lord God of tender mercies, (who pitieth the miſerable and erring out of the way, eſpecially, thoſe in whom he hath begot deſires after himſelf) remove the ſtumbling blocks, and lead the wandering Jews (who are entangled in their own thoughts and reaſonings about the Letter) into that which is of himſelf in them, which is Spirit and Life, and was before the Letter and excels the Letter, (with its diſpenſation) in glory, and is to remain (after the Letter) the reſt, Joy, Life, Peace and Portion of the Soul, for ever and ever. So honour the letter, in believing its Teſtimony concerning Chriſt, who is the Pearl, the ſhepherd (to whom the ſheep are to be gathered) the VVay, the Truth, the Life it ſelf, to whom the Soul is to come, and on whom the Soul is to wait for life; and having received life from him, to dwell, abide and grow up into him, who is the life, and not go backward into any thing that is litteral, nor to glory in the knowledg or litteral deſcriptions of things; but forward into the Spiritual heavenly diſpenſation of life and Power. The law was letter, the Goſpel is life and power. The law was a ſhadow of good things to come, but the Goſpel is the ſubſtance, the life, the vertue, the Spirit of what the law ſhadowed out. From hence the Chriſtian is to ſpring. The Jeruſalem from above is to be its Mother, the holy Spirit its begetter: and becauſe here the ſtate of true ſon-ſhip is witneſſed, therefore God pours out the Spirit of his Son upon theſe: and then the Spirit being received, which is above the letter, a life is to be felt and lived in beyond words, even that which the good words lead to and end in. And here the truth, ſweetneſs and fulneſs of words is known felt and witneſſed, even in that which comprehends them, and gives them their due weight and meaſure. Now can any poſſibly underſtand the words of the Spirit, but he that is in the Spirit; and then he knows the place of the words which came from the Spirit, and of the Spirit from whom the words came. And this is Precious, but not to be witneſſed by the wiſe diſputer, but by the ſerious traveller, who firſt is broken and daſhed to peices in his own wiſdom, and then afterwards healed, led and guided by the eternal wiſdom, which is the ſure unerring guide.

The Spirit of God knoweth the things of God, and the ſtates of Perſons, and what is proper, or improper for them. He knew what was proper for the Jews under the Law and Prophets (what was proper for them in Egypt, what in the Wilderneſs, what in Canaan, and what in their ſeveral Diſperſions and Captivities) for the Diſciples in the Dayes of Chriſts fleſh, for the Churches in the Dayes of the Apoſtles, for the Witneſſes and Mourners in the times of the Apoſtacy, and for thoſe who by his Power are raiſed up, and delivered out of the Apoſtacy. And the Spirit of the Lord doth not only know the ſtate thus in general, but likewiſe every ſouls particular ſtate, and how to apply things to its ſtate. There are ſome newly quickened, newly come out of the Darkneſs. There are ſeveral ſtates and degrees of growth. There is a tempted ſtate, a wandering ſtate, a backſliding ſtate, a ſhaken ſtate, an eſtabliſhed ſtate &c. Now there is ſomewhat proper to every one according to his ſtate, which the Spirit of the Lord knows; and thoſe who are called out by him, to miniſter in his Name and Power, know alſo, as his Spirit pleaſeth to teach them, and make manifeſt to them. All truths are not proper to every eſtate, nor all remedies to every diſeaſe. Chriſt had many things to teach and ſay to his Diſciples, which they were not able to bear: and a man, in reading the Scriptures, though he ſhould underſtand the truth of what he reads, yet he is apt to miſapply things as to himſelf, or others, unleſs the Lord guide and help him. He is apt to apply that to him, which belongs not to him, and to thruſt that from him, which belongs to him. Thus may a man eaſily err, and wander from error to error, and toil and wear out himſelf in his ſeveral apprehenſions, waies and practices, (thinking he doth as he ought, and as God requires of him, according to the Scriptures) and yet his mind be from that and his underſtanding out of that, which opens the Scriptures aright and gives the right uſe of them.

Therefore

Therefore wait on the Spirit of the Lord, to feel quickenings from him, through a measure of his Life revealed, and the mind gathered into, and purged thereby: and then wait for the Spirits appearing to thee in this measure, further quickening, purifying, guiding thee, and manifesting his truth therein to thee, according as he sees thy need, estate and condition to require. And thus thou wilt be like a child, living not upon a wisdom of thine own, but upon thy Fathers wisdom; and not gathering a knowledge according to thine own will, and into thine own comprehension, but receiving it as a gift daily from the hand of the Father: and so thou shalt have it alwayes fresh, and living and safe for thy use; whereas that which thou keepest in thy comprehension (and canst run to, when thou lists, and make use of as thou lists) putrifies and yeilds but corrupt nourishment, feeding not the living, but the dead in thee: and so thy very knowledge corrupts thy mind, and brings it into death; and thou hast only such a knowledge, and may be held in the dead parts, and so livest and walkest, as man may live and walk, without the pure Life and Presence of God.

So this is the Answer that was in my Heart (and indeed sprang up in me, as the Question was laid before me in Spirit) In the true measure of Life, which is from God and one with him, the Scriptures are rightly read and understood, in the will of God, in the holy understanding which comes from him. Not in a mans own will or understanding: for he cannot understand what Scriptures he will, or when he will, or as he will; but he must wait on him who hath the key, who understandeth what is fit, and proper for him to know, or not to know, and so openeth or shutteth in his eternal pleasure, and according to his eternal Wisdom. And what he openeth to thee, that is proper for thee to know: and what he shutteth from thee, that is proper for thee as yet not to know, but to wait the times and seasons of things, which are in the Fathers hand. And so, what the Lord reveals not to thee, that is yet a secret with him, as to thee: but what he reveals to thee, that is thine, in his fear and councel to feed on, and make use of: So here, in the gathering of Life, in the holy building, there is an holy Order and Wisdom from the most High, wherein every one waits on the Master, on the Lord, on the Shepherd, on the Father of Spirits, and receives from his hand what is proper to his State. And so all hold the head, and live by the Life, Vertue and teaching of the head, and there is one God who is eternal, and one Christ in whom all are, and one Spirit of Life into which all are Baptized and joyned together: and every one, as he springs from this Life, and feels the union, vertue and fellowship thereof; so abiding here, he is in his place and service, beloved of the Lord and Father of all, and felt by the Life in all, in the unity of the Body, and so cherished and helped forward, in the Love and Spirit wherein the Body is knit. Yea whatever his state be, (whether a state of mourning, or temptation, or deep distress; or a state of joy, rejoycing and peace,) yet abiding and waiting on the Lord, he is felt, received, owned and dearly beloved in the Lord.

Some Queries concerning Christs Righteousness, how it justifieth Whether as inwardly revealed and dwelling in the heart, or only as imputed, or both.

1. IS not Christ the Righteousness and Justification of the Soul with God? is not he made of God unto us righteousness, and are not we made the righteousness of God in him? How is this done. Is it not by being ingrafted into him covered with him? Is this a meer imputation? or is it not rather a bringing the soul into the thing it self, and a drawing his Nature, Life and Spirit over the Soul, which was and is alwaies righteous in it self, and so accounted with God? And he that is found in him, cloathed with him, emptied of himself, and filled with him, is he not really righteous in the sight of God?

2. Is

2. Is not the Principle of Life, which is from Christ, of the same nature with Christ? is not it also holy and righteous? yea, is not Christ the fulness in it? And he that receiveth this principle, doth he not receive Life, receive Christ, receive Righteousness? Can the Righteousness of Christ be separated from the seed of his Life, Nature and Spirit? Can a man deny himself, go out of himself, give up to that and be found in that, and not found in the Righteousness? or can a man come to righteousness by imputation, without that?

3. This principle, or seed of Life, being from Christ, of Christ and one with Christ in Nature, though not of the same stature and fulness, yet hath it not the property and vertue of all that is of Christ in it? Do not all the promises belong to this seed and go along with this seed? doth not all that is good in man spring up from this seed? He that receives this, doth he not receive that which is righteous, and which makes him righteous, so far as he is of it and in it? yea the Sacrifice of Christ in the flesh, the vertue thereof, the forgiveness of the Father for the sake of his Son, doth it not go along with this, and is it not accepted for that man, who is found here, and his iniquities (which he committed formerly) freely forgiven him for his names sake? yea are not his sins afterwards also blotted out upon the same terms, he returning to this, abiding in this, and being found in this, and wherein the remission of sin, and the power against sin is alone to be felt and received for ever? So here is the imputation in its right place, and the right use and pleading of the Sacrifice of the Son, which here (in this its proper place and in this state) prevailes with God, and not otherwise. For the Kingdom, the Righteousness, the Peace, the Joy, the Power thereof, &c. is placed by God in this seed, which is as a grain of Mustardseed. And he that ever finds it, must so find it: and he that ever joynes to it, must so joyn to it: and he that ever receiveth it aright, must so receive it.

4. Is not he that is born of God, new created in Christ Jesus? and is not the new creature and new creation righteous in the sight of God? When Adam was created at first, he was created in Gods Image: and was not that Image righteous and he righteous in that Image? And when man is regenerated, renewed, brought again into the Image: is not the Image again holy and righteous, and he in the Image?

5. Is not Faith the gift of God? and is it not holy, spiritual and righteous in its own nature, and in the creature to whom it is given? And being given to the creature, is it not owned by God as such, and so justified in the creature? Is not the Faith, which is of God, as righteous, as the unbelief from the root of bitterness is unrighteous? and doth not God own and justify that as righteous, as well as condemn and reject the other as unrighteous?

6. Is not the obedience of the Soul in Christ, and from the principle of his life in the Soul, and through his Spirit, Righteous? Nay as righteous and justifiable in the sight of God, as the disobedience of the first nature is unrighteous?

7. Are not all the works, which are wrought in God, righteous? and doth not he that doth truth, bring them to the light, that it may be made manifest that they are wrought in God, (John 3. 21.) Now there is no condemation, but justification, to the deeds that are wrought in God: as there is no justification, but condemnation to the works that are wrought out of him.

So that here now, he that is indeed of God, he that is new created in Christ Jesus, he knows the Father and Fountain of righteousness, the Son of rigteousness, the righteous seed, the righteous Faith and obedience of the seed, and the works which are wrought by the power and in the spirit, which being brought to the true light, are alwaies justified by it.

Concerning

Concerning the true Church and Miniſtry.

THere is a great noiſe in the world about Church and Miniſtry. Many are affirming which is it, and many are doubtful and enquiring about it: and many are truly, and groundedly ſatisfied, having received the knowledge of the thing from God, who is not deceived about it, nor deceiveth any, but giveth the true underſtanding of theſe and other things, to them that wait upon him aright, to wit, in his fear, and in the ſilence of the fleſhly wiſe part before him. Now I have a teſtimony to give concerning theſe things, which that ear which is of God can hear; and to that I deſire to ſpeak.

That is the Church, which is the ſpiritual body of Chriſt. The Church is Chriſts Spouſe, he the husband. The head is living, and ſo are all the members of the body. The head is anointed, and the Oyl, wherewith the head is anointed, runs down from the head upon all the body: and that upon which the Oyl runs not, is none of the body. Now no outward thing can make one a member of this body, much leſs can any outward thing, way, profeſſion, or practice make a Church. The Church under the Law, was made ſo by outward things; by an outward gathering, an outward Circumciſion, an outward Law, an outward Worſhip, &c. But the Goſpel is a ſtate of ſubſtance, a ſtate of the inviſible things, of perſons inviſibly gathered by the ſpirit, into the life and Power of God, inwardly circumciſed, inwardly baptiſed with the Holy Ghoſt, and with fire, inwardly worſhiping in ſpirit and truth, bowing at every ſound, and name of the Lord Jeſus: and what is of an outward ſtate here, is brought forth, and preſerved by the power of the inward appearing, and dwelling in it. So that this is the Church now, A people gathered by the Life and Spirit of the Lord, a people gathered by the power from on high, abiding in the power, Acting in the Power, Worſhiping in the Power, keeping in the Holy Order, and Government of Life (both inwardly in their own hearts, and outwardly in their aſſemblings and walkings) by the Power. Chriſt was made a King, Prieſt and Prophet, not after the Law of a carnal commandment, but after the Power of an endleſs life: and in this power he gathers, governs and preſerves his Church, and miniſtreth from, and by his Spirit and power in it. Now find this power of the endleſs life, find a people any where gathered by this power, and in this power; ther's the Church, ther's the living body, ther's Chriſt the head, whoſe dominion and ſtrength is over all, againſt whom the Gates of Hell cannot prevail.

And ſo, for the miniſters of this Church. The ſame thing that gives to know the Church, gives to know the Miniſters thereof: for they alſo are of God, called by him, receiving Power from him, and abiding and Miniſtring in that Power. So that there are three things requiſite to a true Miniſtry, without which they cannot be right, or execute their Office rightly.

1. They muſt be called by God. The Miniſtry under the Law, this was their warrant, they were called and appointed of God thereunto. Chriſt himſelf took not the honour to himſelf, but he was called of God to this Prieſthood, as Aaron to his. So the Apoſtles and Miniſters, in the firſt Publication of the Goſpel, were called and appointed by Chriſt. And when the everlaſting Goſpel is again to be preached, God ſends his Angel with it, as Rev. 4. 6.

2. They muſt receive Ability and Power from God. The Elders that were to help Moſes, were to receive of his Spirit. Under the Law, the Prieſts were to be anointed with the outward literal Oyl, and the Miniſters of the Goſpel are to be anointed with the inward ſpiritual Oyl. Their work is ſpiritual; and how can they perform it, but by the anointing, by that Preſence, Guidance, Life, Vertue and Power of Spirit, putting it ſelf forth in them? The Apoſtles themſelves, who had been taught by Chriſt, who knew his Converſation and Doctrine, who were eye-witneſſes of what they were to publiſh, and had received an authority, and commiſſion from him, yet were not to go forth meerly upon this call and commiſſion, but to wait for Power from on high: and when they had received the Spirit and Power, then they were made able Miniſters of the New Teſtament; not of the letter, but of the Spirit and Power.

3. They muſt abide in the Power, keep in the Power, feel the Motion, Vertue and Aſſiſtance of the Power, in all their work and Service. They muſt neither pull down, nor build up, nor watch over, or overſee the Flock in their own wiſdom, in their own Spirit, in their own wills; but in the anointing, in the light and guidance of the Lord. This gathering, this building, this work of the Lord begins out of fleſh, out of man; and fleſh muſt be kept out of the whole carrying on of it.

And indeed unleſs the Miniſters of the Goſpel be in the Spirit, in the Life, in the Power; how can they miniſter to the nature, to the Spirit, to the life in the body? yea ſo much as to the leaſt member in the body? They may miniſter outward knowledge to the mans wiſdom, to the mans underſtanding: but that is not the food that is to be miniſtred to the Church, nor is that part in man to be fed by the true Miniſter. But they are to miniſter life (living food) from the living Fountain, from the Head, from the Spirit of Chriſt in them, to the Particular members under their charge; and ſo are to be good Stewards, and Shepherds to the Flock, giving every one their proper portion in due ſeaſon.

It was no ſmall matter to be a Miniſter under the Law. It was eaſy to erre, and miniſter amiſs then. It was eaſy erring from the Letter, unleſs great care and circumſpection was uſed to keep ſtrictly to it.

But it is a much more weighty thing to miniſter under the Goſpel, to receive the Power, to Miniſter in the power, to that which is begotten and born of the power. And this is pretious, and (without controverſy) of God, wherever it is found. But they only that are of God, can hear and receive this miniſtry, (as 1 John 4. 6.) The uncircumciſed ear cannot hear here, nor the wiſe and knowing according to the fleſh. The wiſdom of God is fooliſhneſs to him, and the myſteries of his Kingdom (the myſtery of his life, and the true godlineſs) are riddles and direct madneſs to the eye of his Wiſdom: ſo far is man degenerated from God, and bound down with Chains of darkneſs and corruption. And he that would know the true Church, or be of it, and hear the voice of God in his true miniſtry, muſt firſt take up the Croſs to that part in him which is not of God, and receive from God, the eye which ſees, and the ear which hears.

An Objection (concerning the newneſs of the way of Truth) anſwered, with a tender expoſtulating Exhortation.

Object. It is Objected againſt us, that this which we teſtify to, hold forth and practiſe, is a new way, Sprung up of late, never known nor heard of in the World, till ſome few years ago.

Anſw. THe light eternal, when it ſhineth out of the darkneſs, after the great Apoſtacy from the Spirit and Life of the Apoſtles, is new indeed to thoſe, that were overwhelmed, and buried in the darkneſs of the night, and ſo never ſaw or heard of it before: but it is not new in it ſelf, but the ſame that it was from the beginning. This ſeed of Life, this ſeed of Bleſſing, is the ſame that was promiſed at firſt to bruiſe the Serpents head. The ſame which was promiſed to Abraham, when the Goſpel was Preached to him. The ſame that ſaved all (that believed in it) under the Law: for it was not the Types and Shadows and outward ordinances, which which saved the soul then; but the seed, who was the Saviour from the beginning, and is the Saviour all along, even to the end. And it was the same, which was the Gospel in the dayes of the Apostles. They preached the seed also, the word of Faith, Christ the Way, Christ the Power. Yea all along the times of the Apostacy this was the thing that preserved the witnesses, saving them from being swallowed up in the darkness, and keeping them alive in their testimony. And there is no other thing held forth now by those, who are in the Truth, and raised up by the Power of God in it to give testimony to it. This is it, from whence life hath sprung in any that have felt life, in all Ages and Generations. This is the Root and Offspring of David, the bright and the morning Star. This is the desire of all Nations (O that they knew their desire) and their saving health too, without which they can never be healed. And O ye, whoever felt any thing of God at any time, which was true, either in reading the Scriptures, for hearing a ministry, or in private breathings, &c. This was it, which gave you to feel in that state, to desire after the Lord, to turn from vanity, to long for communion with him, &c. O that ye were so far in it now, as ye have been in times past. For there is no other thing we testify to you of, (or desire to draw you to) then that which was the root, and strength of your life in those dayes. I remember that time very well, and what I was and felt among you, nor can I deny it at this day, but know that it was of the Lord; yea my soul bleſſeth his name in the remembrance of it. But he that sticks in the letter of that (having lost the life thereof) is in a dead state before the Lord, and in that dead state hath not the true sence and feeling, and then must needs erre, and mistake concerning the truth, and (in that error) make use of his Wisdom and Knowledge to resist, and oppose it. And this brings more death and darkness upon the Soul, insomuch as the very light there becomes darkness, and the very life dead: and if they could truly look inwards, they would see, that they are not now there, what once they were, nor their Duties or Ordinances (as they account them) such; but a blasting and withering is come upon them, from the Spirit and Power of the Lord, and they have lost their beauty and freshness, to all that with a true eye behold them. Therefore come back to the life: know that, which formerly gave you life. Is it removed, stick not behind, but follow on? O know the Lamb, who is the leader! and this is the great duty of duties, to follow him whithersoever he goes. He may in his tender mercy visit in Egypt, in Sodom, in Babylon: but these are not the place of his rest, nor so to be esteemed, because he once appeared, visited, touched, refreshed the soul there. But his dwelling place is Sion, His Holy City is Jerusalem, where the Christians dwelt with him before the Apostacy, and where those that are redeemed out of the Apostacy, are again to dwell. For the darkness of the night, is not to diminish or take away any of the beauty or brightness of the day for ever: but the brightness and beauty of the day, in its rising and glorious growth, is to overcome, and swallow it up. Therefore lose no more time in disputings, in thoughts, inreasonings, in consultings with that, which will never advise the soul for its good: but wait on the Lord, that ye may come (through his leadings) to the true sense of his seed, to the feeling of the nature of his eternal light and life in the heart; and that will put an end to disputes, yea scatter the disputing mind, and powerfully determine the controversy in the pure sense and demonstration of the Spirit. And he that knoweth any thing of this, let him abide here, wait here, live here, dwell here, and breath to the Father here, watching narrowly over that, which would lead from hence, and draw the mind into another Way, Wisdom and Spirit. And thus, O poor soul, if the Lord touch thine heart and open thine eye, thou wilt see thy beloved, even the choicest among ten thousand, whom none can parallel, whom nothing is like to for excellency of nature. nor is there any can do for the Soul, as he. It is felt, it is experienced, it is testified unto you in the love, and in the truth. O that ye could hear; They are not the words of the letter, nor the observation of all is in the, that letter, can give life: but his voice gives life. The words that he speaks (at any time) are spirit and life: and if he speak them not, but letter. So this is it we live upon: not the bread, which we can make; not the things we can gather or comprehend from the letter: but the words which proceed from the mouth of God. Now this seed is his mouth, in and through which he ſpeaks to our ſouls, who fear before him and wait upon him, in his own eternal and everlaſting ordinance, at the door and poſts of the everlaſting wiſdom. And here we meet with all in ſubſtance, in Life, in Freſhneſs, in Purity, in Power, that ever we met with of God: and we meet with ſomewhat more alſo, than we formerly met with. And this teſtimony is given forth to you in the love of God, from his tender bowels, which know your preſent ſtate, your wants, your wandrings, your deep prejudices and ſetled hardneſs againſt his Truth: yet he remembers the dayes of your youth, and cannot give over ſeeking after you and crying unto you; O when will ye turn, when will ye hear, when will ye wait to feel life in the Spirit, and not increaſe death in you from the letter!

A Caution to thoſe, who are at any time touched with the Power of Truth, how they afterwards hearken to and let in the Enemy; and ſo thereby have the good ſeed ſtollen away, the true ſenſe loſt, and the mind filled with prejudices and ſtumbling-blocks inſtead thereof.

THe Truth of God, being received into the inward parts, is found to be of a living powerful nature, working mightily there for the cleanſing and redeeming of the hearts. Yea, this is certainly witneſſed, That as the mind joyned to deceit, is thereby defiled: ſo the mind joyned to the Truth of God, is by its Power and vertue purified.

Now having felt this, and being filled with the love and good will of God to the ſouls of others; how can we but teſtify it to others who ſtand in need of Gods Truth (and its cleanſing property and vertue) as well as we, eſpecially being thereunto moved and drawn by the Spirit of the Lord?

Now, when the Lord giveth forth the ſound in his power and life, it many times pierceth deeply through the earthly vail, and reacheth to its own; which (being reached to) anſwers to the teſtimony, ſaying, it is Truth. So here is a beginning of the work of God in that heart, the Soul being touched with his truth, feeling it inwardly, and yeilding in ſome meaſure to the overcomming vertue and power of it.

But then comes the Subtile one, whoſe deſign and labour is, to undermine and overturn the work of God in the ſoul: and he begets doubts, and jealouſies, and queſtionings, both concerning us and concerning the doctrine taught by us, to ſuggeſt into the mind, as if it were not (nor indeed could be) of God. And ſo bringing the diſpute and determination into another part, then where truth got entrance he eaſily ſwayes the mind to determine againſt its own former feeling, and to turn from that work, which was begun to be wrought in it by God, and from the worker alſo. And thus many poor hearts are entangled and carried back into captivity, who began to feel the ſtirrings of truth in their Hearts (wherein is the power of Redemption) which would have redeemed them, as well as others, had they received it in the love of it, and become ſubject to it.

O! it is a precious thing to receive from God a Spirit of diſcerning, which gives ability to diſcern his Spirit, from the Spirit of deceit: yea, it is impoſſible to be preſerved in the right Spirit, and way, but as this is felt. For how can the Lord be received in all the motions and operations of his Spirit, or how can the contrary Spirit be turned from in all its ſubtile devices, twiſtings and reaſonings in the mind, unleſs there be a diſcerning (in the true Light of the Lord) what is of the one and what of the other?

And ye that would not be deceived, ſink deep, beneath the thoughts, reaſonings and conſultations of the earthly mind, that ye may meet with ſomewhat of the Kingdom and Power, (which carries its own evidence and demonſtration with it) and may be gathered into it, and find a ſenſe, knowledg and judgment there, which never was deceived nor can deceive. Know the elect of God, which the deceits paſs over and cannot reach: for its Nature and Birth is beyond them. It came from the light of the Father. It lives in the light of the Father. It ſees in that Light; ye there its judgment and underſtanding is, where deceit never had Power to enter. But he that conſiders as a man, ſees as a man, judges as a man concerning the things of God, by what he can gather out of the Scriptures, or conclude from his own ſenſe, knowledge and experience; he may eaſily err, yea, indeed, he is in the way of errour in ſo doing; For the pure Religion, the pure Knowledg, the right judgment, the living Faith begins in the power and demonſtration of the Spirit: and theſe are its limits, out of fleſh, out of man, out of his will, out of his wiſdom, out of the compaſs of his comprehenſion. And he that paſſeth not theſe bounds, never meets with the Life, Power and vertue of Truth. He may meet with a Body of Notions and formed Knowledg, wherein he may tell of the fall of man, and reſtoration by Chriſt, and very exactly, according to a litteral deſcription: but the Life, the true Knowledg, the Powerful Vertue is another thing, and is met with in another country, whither man cannot travell, but as he is ſtripped of himſelf, and new formed, made and brought forth in another.

Kingdom

O therefore, ye that deſire after the Lord (that would be his, that would feel him yours, that would know his truth in the Life and Power of it) wait for the demonſtrations of his Spirit; learn to diſtinguiſh inwardly, between his teachings from his Spirit, and the teachings of another Spirit from the Letter. For it is ſo indeed. That other Spirit would have taught Chriſt ſo: and he will teach any elſe ſo, that will hearken to him. Now he that is taught ſo and follows ſuch teachings, wanders from God, is not accepted with him, but follows that which leads from him, under a pretence and appearance of leading to him. And here hardneſs and deadneſs grow and increaſe, the Soul being turned from that which is living, and alone able to give Life.

Queſt. But how may I do, who am weak and full of doubts and fears, to keep in the ſenſe of Truth, and to come to a certainty that I am not deceived therein?

Anſw. To thee, who putteſt this queſtion in the uprightneſs and ſimplicity of thy Heart I have ſomewhat to ſay.

1. Mind how thou waſt touched, mind how thou waſt reached, obſerve what ear was opened in thee, and breath to the Lord to keep that ear open in thee, and the other ſhut. For this I can aſſure thee in the truth of God, that with that ear which the Lord opened to truth (which thou felt'ſt his Spirit unlocking in thee, and letting in Truth by) I ſay, with that ear thou ſhalt never be able to let in any thing afterwards contrary to truth. But if the Enemy can open the other ear, that will hear his prejudices, his jealouſies, his doubts, his fears, his temptations, and let them in, to thruſt out that which entred at the other ear. Now canſt thou not diſtinguiſh, O poor ſoul (a little, to help thee) between that which brought ſome ſenſe of truth into thee, and that which riſeth in thee againſt truth? O fear before the Lord, O watch, and pray, that when the Tempter comes, thou enter not with him into the temptation, and ſo loſe thy union and growth in that which is unvaluable.

2. Keep thine eye and heart upon the precioufneſs of what thou felteſt. O remember, how freſh, how warm, how living it was; how it reached, how it overcame, how it melted. The remembrance of this, (cleaved to in the mind) will be a ſtrength againſt the temptations and ſubtile devices of the Enemy.

3. Meddle not with the things that the Enemy caſts into thy mind. Conſider not whether they be ſo or no. He that conſiders of a temptation (in many caſes) hath let it in and is overcome already. When Eve did but hearken to what the Serpent ſaid, how ſoon was ſhe loſt and gone? The Enemy, many times brings temptations beyond the ſtate, capacity and ability of the Soul, to determine. Theſe things, at preſent, are too high for thee. Thou haſt not yet received a Proportion of Life from God to determine them by: and if thou run beyond thy meaſure, and determine determine things in thy mind, which as yet are beyond thy reach, thou muſt needs run into the Snare.

2. The preſent determining of theſe things, would not be of ſo great advantage to thee, as thou mayeſt apprehend. Why ſo? Becauſe the enemy hath many temptations and devices of the ſame kind (as well as of other kinds) which he would bring one after another. And when he brings a ſecond, a third, &c. That which engaged thee to conſider of the firſt, would engage thee alſo to conſider of the reſt. And if thou couldeſt find one anſwered, and not the other, that would appear to thee as ſo much the more weighty, and thou wouldeſt hardly be able to eſcape conſenting to the tempter therein. Therefore the way is to keep out of him, in the upright ſenſe of what the Lord wrought in thee: for ſo far he is with thee; and abiding there, thou art out of the enemies reach. But being drawn by the enemy to conſider of things that are out of thy reach, thou therein layeſt thy ſelf open to his Snares and betrayings.

3. Mind what was forbidden thee, or required of thee in that time, when thou felteſt the warmth from God. For there is then an Heavenly voice, and an Heavenly viſion moſt commonly in the Heart, though the enemy turns the mind, as much as may be, from heeding it. There is then oftentimes, ſomewhat of the worldly Nature and courſe diſcovered, or ſomewhat of Gods will made manifeſt: ſomewhat that thou doſt (or haſt done) which then thou ſeeſt to be not of the Father, but of the World, and ſomewhat perhaps of the Father, which thou knoweſt thou oughteſt to become ſubject to, but thou art afraid of the Croſs, or ſhame, or wouldſt fain have ſome more clearneſs firſt. O call this to mind afterwards: and if ever thou wouldſt receive Life, and come into union with Gods Truth, and receive his Spirit and Power, and be eſtabliſhed therein, become obedient to the Heavenly Viſion. Conſult not with Fleſh and Blood, but enter into the Obedience of that very thing, which was forbid or required, be it little or much. This is the righ way, this is that thy mind ſhould be exerciſed in. And if thy mind be exerciſed Faithfully here, the Lord will ſtrengthen thee againſt the tempter, when he comes with his temptations and ſubtile objections. But if thou falter here, and become unfaithfull in the little, thou art not like to meet with more, no nor with the preſervation of the Lord in that little. And indeed this is the cauſe of the miſcariage of many, becauſe they received not that little which was made manifeſt, in the love of it; but had pleaſure in the unrighteouſneſs, and ſo lingred in pleaſing the Spirit of the World, both in themſelves, and others, when they were called by the Lord to quit it and travel out of it.

6. Wait for the renewings of Life, and Senſe in thee from God, wait for another viſit, wait for another touch, and demonſtration of his Spirit. Where didſt thou meet with it? Go thither again, wait there again, and look up to the Lord to ſtay thy Spirit till he appear again

But, O take heed, that before the Light ariſe again, before the Life ſtir again, thou be not gone (by hearkning to temptations) into an incapacity of knowing or receiving it. For this is the way of the Lord, the experienced way. After him (after the touches of his Truth) comes the tempter with his reaſonings, deceits, likeneſſes, &c. Now the Lord is trying thee, how thy heart will ſtick to him. And if thou come off from the temptation, if thou ſtand clear of the enemy, the Lord wil appear to thee again, ſtrengthen thee, cumfort thee, open more to thee, lead thee further in the way of Life, and nearer to the Power and Purity thereof; But if thou draw back from that, wherein the Lord began to work, the Lords Soul hath no Pleaſure to appear any further to thee, or work any further in thee.

And one thing I will tell thee. If thou let not in the enemies temptations, but abide, (under the clouds, under the ſtorms, under the tempeſts, under the confuſed reaſonings, fears, doubts and troubles) looking towards the Lord, waiting for him, and not making a league with the enemy againſt him in the mean time, the Lord will certainly appear; and when he doth appear, thou ſhalt find one of theſe two effects.

Either

Either the Power of the enemies Objections, or Temptations will be ſo broken, as thou ſhalt not then heed them; or they will be ſo anſwered by the appearance and Light of the Spirit of the Lord, as thou ſhalt be ſatisfied about them. Now which of theſe is the better for thee, the Lord God knows, and that thou ſhalt be ſure to receive from him in that hour, neither will he leave thee, but ſecretly ſupport thee in the mean time; thy eye and mind being towards him.

The Light, and Power of the Lord, when it ariſeth, ſcatters and breaks that into pieces in the mind, which was very Powerfull before; So as the Soul doth not now ſo much as mind the conſidering, or knowing of that, which the enemy had made it believe was ſo neceſſary for it to know. For mark; That which cauſeth me to grow, is the feeling of Life, the ſenſe of the Lords preſence and Power with me, the living knowledge, the knowledge which quickens, and gives Life. Now, when the Life ſprings, when the Light ſhines, when the Lord in the Power and precious viſitations of his truth, reacheth to my Heart, this is preſent with me. Then what matter I thoſe objections and Prejudices, which the enemy caſts into my mind? Nay, I cannot heed them, being taken up with another thing of a deeper nature. Thus have I often found it by experience; all that troubled me, and that I doubted of, vaniſhing in a moment; that being preſent with me, and prevailing in me, which puts an end to all Thoughts, Reaſonings, and Diſputes.

Again, it pleaſeth the Lord at other times (when he ſeeth good) to open the mind, and let it into the ſight of thoſe things (it waiting upon him, and letting them alone his ſeaſon) which of it ſelf, it could never have waded through. Thus alſo have I ſeen the objections, and ſtumbling blocks concerning this precious people (who are of God, as the firſt fruits of his powerfull viſitation after the Apoſtacy) concerning their Principle, Way, Doctrine, Practices, &c. opened unto me in the clear Light of God, and in the holy demonſtrations of his Spirit; inſomuch as I have manifeſtly ſeen, and been fully ſatisfied, that what was objected in my own heart, and is objected to and in the hearts of others, hath been from the ſubtile accuſer of the brethren, who beareth falſe witneſs againſt them, and would dare as many as he can to partake in his falſe Teſtimony, and ſo alſo to become falſe witneſſes againſt God, his truth and people. Therefore beware, all ye that deſire after the Lord, and would meet with the reſt, and ſatisfaction of your Souls in him, how ye be prejudiced againſt that, whereby God worketh in others, and whereby he hath appointed to work in you, and all whom he worketh in. For he hath ſent his ſon to give Life, and he will not give Life by another. And he hath appointed his Son ſhall be received as a Principle, as a Seed of Life, though as little as a grain of muſtard-ſeed: yet thus muſt he be received; and in this his low appearance hath he the Preſence of God with him, and his Power and Authority: and what he, this little ſeed, (though never ſo little) requires, teaches, forbids, &c. muſt be obſerved. But there is none upon the earth can own or ſubmit to this, but he that becomes a Child alſo, yea a very little Child. Mans Spirit, mans Wiſdom, mans knowledge, mans Religion, mans Zeal, &c. is too big to enter here. Men are too wiſe, too knowing, too rich from Scriptures, and experiences to ſubmit to this; as the Scribes and Phariſees were to ſubmit to Chriſts appearance, doctrines and preachings, when he appeared among them in that body of Fleſh. Therefore come into the true feeling, out of the dead knowledge into the living ſenſe, where Life, Power, righteouſneſs, yea the Peace and joy of the Kingdom is taſted of, and in ſome meaſure witneſſed by thoſe, who bow down in Spirit before the leaſt, or loweſt name, or appearance of Jeſus; the loweſt degree, and meaſure of whoſe Life is King, and Lord over death for ever.

An Objection againſt the Principle, which (in Faithfulneſs to God and in love to ſouls) we bear witneſs to, briefly anſwered.

Object. Many do believe, and in that belief do Object againſt it, that it is a natural principle, and but a Natural Principle: and ſo in its utmoſt improvement, could lead but to the ſtate of Adams Nature, and not to the Redemption, and new life which is in, and by Jeſus Chriſt.

Anſw. I can grant that it is natural, in a ſence; but not in the intended ſence. It is a principle indeed of Gods nature, of Chriſts nature; but not of mans nature. It is that which ſtands a witneſs in man againſt him, when he falls, and tranſgreſſes. It is a light indeed that ſhines in his conſcience: but it was before his conſcience was, and is of an higher nature. Man is earthly (with his underſtanding, knowledg, reaſon, judgment, conſcience) but the light that ſhines in him (even in his dark, hard, unregenerate, earthly heart) is heavenly; ſuch as his darkneſs cannot comprehend, though it ſhine in his darkneſs. But wouldſt thou in true underſtanding know what it is? Feel it; come out of that darkneſs where it finds thee, into that light where it dwels, and then thou wilt know it indeed, and be able to judge of it better. Now I will tell thee, how we know it to be the light of the New covenant. Why thus? Becauſe we find it diſcover to us the new Covenant, and lead us into it, yea alſo ſhew us the ſins againſt the New Covenant, and furniſh us with Power from God againſt them, and preſerves us out of them. And with this demonſtration indeed our hearts are ſatisfied, though we could alſo ſay further, We have witneſſes both in Heaven and in Earth concerning this thing, whoſe teſtimony fully concludeth it (to the full Satisfaction of the Soul) where it is heard and felt.

Some Queſtions and Anſwers concerning the New Covenant, opening the Nature and way of it, as it is experimentally felt in the heart, and witneſſed to in the holy Scriptures.

Queſt. 1. What is the New Covenant?

Anſw. IT is a new agreement between God and the Soul, different from that former agreement, which was between God, and that People of the Jews. It is a precious, glorious Covenant, containing precious promiſes on Gods part, and as eaſily to be obtained on the creatures part, as can poſſibly be. It is a covenant of the eternal love of God; of Life, Peace and reſt to the Soul; of the Power of the Lord ſtretched out for the ſoul, to deliver it from Egypt; carry through the wilderneſs; bring into the Holy Land; giving it its proper poſſeſſion and inheritance there; and maintaining it therein againſt all its enemies. Yea this Covenant contains very precious things, which the ſoul finds great need of, and rejoyceth in the ſenſe and preſence of, when they are felt flowing from the Covenant into it: as writing the Laws of God in the heart, putting his fear in the inward parts, yea putting putting his own Spirit within, to be a fountain of life and ſtrength there, whereby he cauſeth the Soul to walk in his waies, and preſerveth it from departing from him. Likewiſe in this Covenant God becomes the teacher, who createth in the Soul a capacity to learn, and cauſeth it to heed and profit. And in this Covenant there is a forgiving of iniquity, and a remembring of ſins no more, but a deſtroying and rooting out of that, which cauſed to ſin, and an healing of the backſlidings of the Soul, and a loving it freely.

Queſt. 2. How is this Covenant made with the Soul?

Anſw. In Chriſt, the ſeed, who is all in this Covenant. He is the Light of it, he is the Life of it, he is the Power of it, he is the Righteouſneſs and Sanctification of it. By coming into him, the ſoul comes into this Covenant: by abiding in him, it abides in this Covenant; and by growing up in him, it grows up in this Covenant.

Queſt. 3. Is this an abſolutely free Covenant? or are there any terms or conditions required of the ſoul in it?

Anſw. It is abſolutely free in its own nature. It comes from the free Love of God, it containes in it the free love of God, it is freely offered to all to whom it is offered, it is freely given to all to whom it is given. Here is no price, nothing of the creatures required for it: all that is required, is the creatures receiving of it and giving up to God in it. And here, and after this manner, many things are required of the creature, without which the creature can never come to receive the Covenant, abide in it, or reap the bleſſings contained therein. This the Scriptures abundantly teſtify to, as alſo the experiences of thoſe, who know and feel the Nature and Vertue of the Covenant.

Queſt. 4. What things are required in this Covenant according to the Scriptures, and according to the experiences of thoſe that enter into it, and reap the fruits and benefits of it?

Anſw. 1. This is required; That when the Lord calls, when the Lord quickens, when the Lord toucheth the heart, openeth the ear, giveth a faculty & ability of hearing; that then the Lord be harkened diligently unto, the ear (which he hath opened) kept open to him; and that, that, whereby he opens the one ear and ſhuts the other, be kept cloſe to, and he waited upon therein, the true ear may be more and more opened by him, and the other ear (which is apt to hearken to and let in the enemy) more and more ſhut. Who is there among us, that hath not felt the Lord God requiring this of us? Wherein, as he hath been anſwered, the work of God hath gone on in us, and as he hath not been anſwered, the work hath gone backward and not forward. And the Scripture bears witneſs to the ſame, as Iſa. 55. 1, 2, 3. where the free Covenant is proclaimed: yet there is ſomewhat, even there, required. Hearken diligently, come and eat ye that which is good, and let your ſoul delight it ſelf in fatneſs, encline your ear and come unto me: hear and your Souls ſhall live, and I will make an everlaſting Covenant with you, even the ſure mercies of David.

2. Repentance is required, turning from the old unclean Nature and Spirit, and touching it no more; but cleaving to that which hath power againſt it, and preſerveth from it. This alſo is felt and witneſſed to be required of God now, and was alſo teſtified to of old, as 2 Cor. 6. 17, 18. Touch not the unclean things, and I will receive you, and will be a father unto you, and ye ſhall be my Sons and Daughters, ſaith the Lord Almighty.

3. Faith, believing the teſtimony of Truth and receiving the Spirits baptiſm is required. He that will enter into this Covenant, muſt believe the teſtimony of the Goſpel (the record of God concerning his Son) with the faith which is of him; and muſt be circumciſed, baptiſed, renewed and changed by him. Now he that doth this ſhall be ſaved, as Chriſt promiſed, Mark 16. but he with whom is the Power of Life and Salvation, did not promiſe that any ſhould be ſaved otherwiſe.

4. Obedience of the Goſpel, Subjection to Chriſt in the rule of his Spirit, and keeping of his Commandments is required. For as the firſt Covenant required the obedience proper to it: So the ſecond Covenant requires the obedience proper to it. And as there was no Salvation, or ſtanding in the firſt Covenant, without the Obedience thereof: ſo neither in the ſecond, without the obedience thereof. He that will enjoy the Peace, the Righteouſneſs, the Juſtification, the Life, the Power of this Covenant, muſt live ,in the Spirit, walk in the Spirit, fulfil the will of the Spirit, keep to the ſeed, keep to the anointing, that the evil one touch him not, that the interrupter, the ſlayer, the deſtroyer of life in the heart have not power over him, as he hath over any out of the limits of this Covenant. For within it are all the good, but without it the evil things, the dangers, temptations, the ſnares, the death and deſtruction of the Soul: and whoever wanders out of the Covenant, cannot but meet with them, and acknowledge it to be ſo, if he be in the true ſenſe. Therefore there muſt be a great care to abide in that which hath gathered, in that which hath quickned, in that which giveth the true ſenſe and underſtanding, and keepeth out of the wrong. How tender, how free was the love of Chriſt to his diſciples! yet he bids them abide in his love, and tels them how they ſhould do it. If ye keep my commandments, ye ſhall abide in my love, even as I have kept my Fathers commandments, and abide in his love.

Queſt. 5. But how ſhall the ſoul be able to perform all theſe things? Are they required of it in its own ſtrength, or doth God undertake to perform and work all in it?

Anſw. Not at all in its own ſtrength, will or wiſdom (theſe are eternally ſhut out of this Covenant:) but in the Strength, Life and Power, which flows from God in the Covenant.

Queſt. 6. How ſhall the Soul receive this Strength, Life and Power?

Anſw. By embracing it as it comes, cleaving to it, panting after it, patiently mourning and waiting for it. (The viſion of good, will come to that ſoul in the Lords ſeaſon, and will not tarry.) By not deſpiſing the little, and looking after more before the little be received, but thankfully entertaining the beginnings of life, the beginnings of the holy inſtructions, the firſt drawings from off the Spirit and nature of this world, in whatever it be. He that diſputes not concerning the thing, but receives it juſt as it appears, in a ſimplicity and uprightneſs, watching thereto; he ſhall be bleſſed of the Lord, and meet with the deſire of his Soul in the Lords ſeaſon, when the Lord hath fitted and prepared his heart for it. Now this is ſo little and ſtrait a door, ſo poor and low a beginning, as the wiſdom of man can never enter at it: and if there ſhould be a little entrance in the overcoming power of life, yet that wiſdom will drive the ſoul back again preſently. Let me know the doctrine firſt, ſaith the wiſe man: I'le underſtand the doctrine throughly, before I'le change my preſent way. No, ſaith Chriſt, He that doth his will, ſhall know of the doctrine. Thou ſhalt know a little, which will reach to thy heart. There thou muſt begin: And being faithful there, thou ſhalt know further of the doctrine. But being unfaithful there, thou mayeſt be ſtumbled and prejudiced againſt the doctrine, but never be able to know it. O the myſtery of life, O the hidden path thereof, which none can learn, but thoſe whom the Father teacheth! but many think to learn in that, which ever was and ever will be ſhut out. If Chriſt would lay his doctrine before them, and make it good to their underſtanding, they would receive it. No, no; They muſt bow to Chriſt, to his Name, to his Power, to his Will, to his Way of manifeſting his Truth: he will not bow to theirs.

Queſt. 7. What are the ſins againſt this Covenant, and what effects have they?

Anſw. The ſins againſt this Covenant are chiefly unbelief in the power, and diſobedience to the power, which are of a deeper nature than the ſins againſt the firſt Covenant, and have more dangerous effects. The refuſing of this Covenant is more dangerous, than the refuſing the Covenant of Moſes. And the breaking of this Covenant, to wit, the ſtarting back from God (through an heart of unbelief) here, is more dangerous than the breaking of the firſt Covenant.

Queſt. 8. Why, can this Covenant be broken? hath not God undertaken all in it?

Anſw. It is an agreement between God and the Soul, wherein things are required of the Soul, through the life and ſtrength, which flows from the Covenant. And the Soul may hearken to the enemy, and not to the Lord; may walk after the fleſh, and not after the Spirit; may luſt after high knowledge, and hidden things of the Kingdom dom, as they of old did after prying into the Ark; may draw back from the Lord in thoſe reſpects, wherein it had given up unto him &c. Now theſe, and ſuch like, are breaches of the Covenant, or at leaſt ſuch Sins againſt it, as draw down judgments upon the Soul at preſent, and at laſt utter caſting off, unleſs the Soul be brought back by the Judgments, into the agreement again with the Lord in Truth and Uprightneſs. It is true, The Lord doth all in the Covenant, according to his good Pleaſure: but withall he hath appointed a way of his working out the Life and happineſs of the Soul, to which it is his good pleaſure to keep. And his way is Chriſt, his Seed. Hence all Love, Mercy, Care and Tenderneſs of God flows. Hither is the Soul to come for it: and here the Soul is to abide, that it may enjoy and poſſeſs it. But if the enemy can by any means draw the Soul out from hence, he draws it from its Life and ſtrength, and from the ſweet bleſſings and influences of the holy and free Covenant. Now the Lord hath not given Power to the Enemy to force from hence: but he gives Power to the Soul to abide with him here; and in the hour of diſtreſs, if it cry to him, he helps the helpleſs, and lifts up a ſtandard againſt the Enemy.

Now, all that deſire the ſweetneſs of this Covenant, the Life, the vertue, the Bleſſings of it, O wait to feel and receive ſomewhat from God, and in that to fear before him, and walk worthy of him, and not to grieve or provoke his Spirit. For he hath the Power of Life and Death in his hand, and whom he will he may have ſufficient cauſe againſt, to turn from and cut off when he pleaſeth; and whom he will he may extend mercy to, as far and as long as he pleaſeth: for it is his own, and he may do what he will with it. Only know this; God is Love, God is Bowels, infinite Bowels; yea his tenderneſs is beyond imagination or comprehenſion: and he hates putting away. The poor mourning Souls that cry unto him, feeling their need of him and gaſping after him, he cannot caſt off; no nor any that come unto him in the truth of their hearts. But the wiſe, the confident, the conceited from their apprehenſions of Scriptures, that think themſelves ſafe by Virtue of the Covenant, and yet are enemies in their minds to the Light of the Covenant, theſe are out of the thing at preſent (in their own imaginings and conceivings) and are in the moſt danger of any I know. The Lord in mercy cauſe his Light to ſhine, his Life to ariſe, his Power to be manifeſt, and thereby lead into, and preſerve in his everlaſting Covenant according to his good pleaſure, Amen.

A Queſtion or two, Relating to Election, Anſwered.

Queſt 1. How may a man make his Calling and Election ſure?

Anſw. BY making Chriſt ſure to him, in whom the Calling and Election is; For the Lord chuſeth only in him, and refuſeth or reprobateth only out of him.

Queſt. 2. How may I make Chriſt ſure to me?

Anſw. By receiving him, giving up to him, parting with all for him, and waiting upon him in the way and path of Life, till I feel the Power of that broken in me, which would ſeparate from him. For what danger is there then, when the Soul is naturally become the Lords, rooted in his love, Circumciſed in heart to love the Lord above all, even with the whole heart and Soul? Certainly the Love of the Lord cannot but flow in great Strength to that Soul, and what can come between? But now, while there is ſomewhat ungiven us, ſomewhat yet ſtanding, in which the Enemy hath a part, and by which he may enter, the ſtate of that Soul is not fully ſure, but there may be a going back from the ſaving Life, into that wherein is the perdition and deſtruction of the Soul: and whoever goes thither, meets with perdition and deſtruction, ſo far as he travels that way. For in the Path of death there is death, which is met with by all that enter into and walk therein, as in the path of Life there is Life. God is no reſpecter of Perſons;

but he is a reſpecter of his Seed, and of his eternal Covenant of Life, which ſtands firm in his Seed for ever. Here is Life for every Soul, that feels the drawings of the Father, and comes to his Son for Life and abides in him: and there is death for every Soul that comes not to this, and departs from this through the heart of unbelief. So the way of God is eternal and immutable, he cannot deny himſelf. He that believeth in the Son, hath Life. He that believeth not, is in the death and condemnation which belongs to the unbelief. Now wouldeſt thou know thy Election, wait to know and diſtinguiſh between Jacob and Eſau, Iſaac and Iſhmael, in thy ſelf: for they were outward figures and allegories of ſomewhat inward. Feel Eſau, the prophane one, Iſhmael, the ſcoffer at the wiſdom, way, and ſeed of God; feel I ſay, theſe (that are caſt off by God) caſt out of thee: and then feel Iſaac, the Seed of the Promiſe, Jacob the plain Birth of Life, raiſed up in thee, living in thee, and thou in it. And then thou ſeeleſt the Election, and are in the Election. And as his Seed is ſure to thee, and thy union with it, and ſtanding and abiding in it ſure: ſo thy Election is ſure. Election is a deep myſtery, and none can read the Scriptures about it (which indeed are hard to be underſtood, but eaſy to be wreſted) but they that underſtand the thing, that can read in the Seed, Life, Power, and openings of the Spirit of the Lord, they read things as they are: but other men only read things as they apprehend and conceive them to be. So that the knowledge, that God hath given his People, is above all the knowledge that can be ſearched out, gathered or comprehended by all the men upon the earth; whereby they know God better, the things of God better, the words and Scriptures of truth better, than they themſelves otherwiſe (or any elſe) could poſſibly attain unto.

A Queſtion Anſwered concerning the ground of mens miſunderſtanding, and wreſting of Scriptures.

Queſt. What is the ground of mens miſunderſtanding, and wreſting of Scriptures.

Anſw. 1. WAnt of acquaintance with Gods Spirit, and the right way of waiting upon him to receive the underſtanding of them. For though men may go thus far, as to know and confeſs, that the Spirit of the Lord is the only revealer of the things of God, and the alone right interpreter of his own words: yet that man, who thus confeſſeth, may not certainly, and diſtinctly know the Spirit of the Lord, and when he receiveth the interpretation of a Scripture from him, or when from his underſtandings, or a Spirit that is contrary to him. For there is another Spirit near man, whoſe nature, work and delight it is to cauſe man to miſunderſtand, and miſwalk by the very Scriptures: and will bring things as warmly, and (as it were) clearly to him as he can from Scriptures, purpoſely to deceive and miſlead him. Now he that huggs and receives every thing that thus riſeth in him, eaſily runs into, and is ſurely caught in the Snare of the Enemy. Therefore a man muſt watch, and wait, and fear, and pray that he may diſtinguiſh between the nature and voices of Spirits in himſelf, that ſo he may know (in the light of the Lord) when the Lord ſpeaks, and alſo when the myſterious Spirit of deceit ſtrives to ſpeak like the Lord. Now man cannot know this of himſelf, but as he is taught by the Lord, at the very time when the Snare comes: and he muſt not determine haſtily, but wait to feel that wherein the Lord appears and ſpeaks to him, and wherein the enemy cannot ſpeak. Thus feeling the Birth of Life in his heart, the Seed which is of the Father, which hath an ear that knows the voice of the Shepherd, and ſinking into this, and liſtning in this (out of his own thoughts, reaſonings and whole courſe of his own Wiſdom) he alſo hath his ear opened to hear the true voice, and findeth ability here to diſtinguiſh it from the voice of the ſtranger, let him counterfeit never ſo deceitfully. For the eye of the Lord, the eye of Truth, the eye of Life, the eye of the Spirit pierceththrough and diſcovereth all deceits to the Soul, that feareth before him, diligently waiteth upon him, in his ſeed, and deſireth to walk faithfully therein.

2. Want

2. Want of acquaintance of Gods truth in the Love, Life and Power of it. For he that knows truth, that hath received from God the thing, the Scriptures speak of, how easie is it to him to understand the words that speak of that thing? But he who hath the knowledge of the thing but from the words, how easy is it for him to misunderstand the words? as for instance. He whom God hath justified, he who hath received the righteousness of the Son, he who daily feeleth the blood of sprinkling, &c. How easie and natural is it unto him, to understand the Words of Scripture, which speak of these things? But he that hath not received this, nor thus knoweth the thing; how easie is it for him to misunderstand the words; and so from his misunderstanding of the words, to set up another righteousness for the righteousness of Christ, then that which the Spirit of God intendeth in the Scriptures.

3. The opinions, apprehensions, waies and practices of men, which they have taken up in the dark, and in which their minds are engaged, are a great lett in their way from the right understanding of Scriptures, or the testimony of truth from others according to the Scriptures. For there hath been a cloudy and dark day, or a great night of darkness upon the earth, wherein the light (which leadeth to the souls rest) hath not shined clearly in mens spirits; and so in this cloudy darkness, men have wandered from Mountain to Hill, seeking their resting place. Now some have fixed and pitched on one Mountain, some on another: some on one Hill, some on another, saying, here is the resting place. So when the Spirit of the Lord comes and cries, Depart ye, depart ye, this is not your rest: for it is polluted; They cannot hear. Why so? Becaufe they have already believed otherwise, and in that belief took it up for their rest; and so cannot rightly understand or believe those Scriptures, or those living testimonies from the Spirit of the Lord, which declare it not to be so; but are ready to wrest the one, and reproach the other.

Some Questions, Answers and Queries concerning Deceit and Deceivers; as what they are, what discovers them, how man may come out of them, and be preserved from them? &c.

IN the Truth there is no deceit; and they that are in the truth, are out of deceit, and abiding there, are out of the reach of deceivers: but they that are out of the truth, are in the deceit already, and are liable daily more and more both to be further deceived, and to help to deceive others.

Queft. 1. What is deceit, and who are deceivers?

Anfw. That which appeareth like Truth, but is not; that is deceit: and they which are in a form of Godlineſs, but are without the Spirit, Life and Power of it, they are deceivers.

Queft. 2. Who are moſt liable to deceit?

Anfw. The Simple, the Heedleſs, the Careleſs, the Credulous; thoſe that wait not upon the Lord in the Light, Power and Demonſtration of his Spirit to try things, theſe (with good words, and fair Speeches and appearances of things) are eaſily led aſide from the truth it ſelf, into ſome likeneſs or reſemblance of it.

Queft. 3. Which is the time of deceit?

Anfw. The Night; the Cloudy, the dark Time, when the enemy hath raiſed his Fogs and Miſts in the minds of men, then is his time of deceiving their hearts.

Queft. 4. Is it now Night or Day?

Anfw. It is Night with ſome, Day with others. Where the light is ariſen, there it is day: where the darkneſs covereth and poſſeſſeth the minds of men, there it is Night.

Queft. 5. How may a man know, Whether it be Night or Day with him?

Anfw.

Anſw. By waiting to feel ſomewhat of the Life of God ariſing in him, by turning and harkening to his witneſs. That will faithfully diſcover how it is with him, and where he is.

Queſt. 6. How may a man come out of the darkneſs of the night, into the light and brightneſs of the Day?

Anſw. By joyning to the firſt glimmerings, and breakings forth thereof upon him. The leaſt light of truth hath the ſame nature, vertue and properties with the greateſt. Though not the ſame in degree, yet the ſame in kind: and he that will come to the greateſt, muſt begin with the leaſt; Light makes manifeſt; the day diſcovers both the things of the night and of the day. Haſt thou any diſcovery of either kind? either of that which is Good, or of that which is Evil? either of that which is of this worldly nature, and the evil one, or of what is of the heavenly nature and the holy one? Joyn in immediately in the vertue, ſtrength and Power of that which makes the diſcovery, and thy Spirit therein will find an entrance into the Light of the day; and going on faithfully thus, it will daily more and more break in upon thee, even until it hath gathered thy Spirit out of the blackneſs, darkneſs and deceit of the night, into the beauty, brightneſs and truth of the day?

Queſt. 7. How may a man be preſerved from deceit and deceivers?

Anſw. By abiding in that, which diſcovers them to him; and preſerveth out of them; by dwelling in that light, in that Life, in that power, in that truth, into which they cannot enter; by keeping to and in the elect of God, which never was deceived, nor can be deceived: for it is of God, it is his ſeed, of his nature, in which the wicked one (the deceiver) finds nothing, hath nothing in him to enter at: and he that abides in him, is ſafe in him. But he that goes forth out of the life, out of the Light, out of the Seed, out of the Power which preſerves, out of the holy anointing, which keeps the eye open; he eaſily runs into, and is entangled in the deceivableneſs of unrighteouſneſs, judging it (for want of a true diſcerning) righteouſneſs: and then, having judged that to be righteouſneſs, which is in its own nature but unrighteouſneſs, he muſt needs alſo judge that which is the true righteouſneſs, to be but unrighteouſneſs: and then (having paſſed this judgment in himſelf) he grows wiſe, confident and ſtrong in his deceit, both believing himſelf, and alſo endeavouring to convince and perſwade others that it is the Truth. O who knoweth the ſecurity of the little ones of God, who have a being and ſtanding in his truth! The arm of his Power is ſtretched round about them, and he is a defence and ſtrength unto them, againſt all that would break in upon them, (to make a prey of their life, or to ſhake their ſtanding in his truth) either inwardly or outwardly. O bleſs his name, ſing high praiſes to him, ye that feel it, over all deceit and deceivables, over all the devices of the dark Spirit, which entangleth others, and would alſo entangle you, but that his goodneſs, mercy, tender love and powerful arm is ſtretched out over you. So to him be the praiſe, and the bowings of that Soul, which feels his powerful and merciful preſervation, for ever and ever.

Now it is in my heart to add four Queries, which rightly weighed and reſolved, in and according to Truth, may further open mens minds into the true ſenſe and right underſtanding of this thing.

Quer. 1. Have not the laſt dayes, the perilous times (the times foretold of by Chriſt and his Apoſtles) been a long while upon the earth, wherein iniquity hath abounded, and the love of many waxed cold, wherein men have been lovers of themſelves, covetous, boaſters, proud, &c. Hath there not been a long night of darkneſs, wherein theſe things (with many other fruits and effects of the night) have hid and covered themſelves almoſt in all ſorts of Profeſſors of Chriſtianity, under a form of Godlineſs?

Quer. 2. Is not their time expiring already, and in ſome degree expired? Was it not to have an end, when the Light and Power of Truth which at firſt kept it back, did ſpring and ariſe again?

Quer. 3. Is not the day ariſen? is not the darkneſs already paſt, and doth not the true light now ſhine (and the true power of Life now appear) in many veſſels? Let the Souls, that deſire to know the truth of this, wait to feel that which is of God anſwer in them.

Quer.

Quer. 4. Where are the deceivers, and where is the deceit? Is it among thoſe that have embraced the light of life? or among thoſe who abide in their old darkneſs, and whoſe eyes are not yet opened to ſee the light and beauty of the day, which is ariſen in the hearts of thoſe that are quickened and raiſed by the power of the Lord?

That the Way of Life, and Salvation is freely held forth by God to all, and there is nothing in him to lett, ſtop or diſcourage any man from receiving his truth, and giving up to him in the Faith and Obedience of it, but very much to invite and incourage.

IT hath pleaſed the Lord, who is over all, and good unto all, to provide a remedy for the ſin and tranſgreſſion of the creature: for as ſin hath abounded unto death, ſo he hath cauſed Righteouſneſs to abounod unto life: Yea the free gift, which is as large and univerſal, as ever ſin was, hath more power in it to ſave, than ſin hath to deſtroy. And there is no ground of diſcouragement for any (who hath not out-ſinned the day of his viſitation, and ſo the offer of mercy is over, as to him) in reference to God; though the enemy of the ſoul ſtrives to raiſe up many Diſcouragements and Objections in the minds of many, to keep them from hoping in the Lord, and from giving up to his Truth, which ſaveth all that receive it, and abide in it. Now it is in my heart at this time, from a true ſenſe, to ſignify ſomewhat concerning the nature of the Lord (and his real deſire to ſave, even thoſe that periſh) which may conduce towards the removing of Objections, and Lets of this nature out of the minds of men.

1. God is Sweetneſs, Meekneſs, Gentleneſs, Tenderneſs, Abounding in Mercy and Loving-kindneſs, pitying the miſerable, and naturally holding forth an helping hand towards them. Yea, he is univerſally thus. There is not one miſerable ſoul, not one periſhing creature upon the face of the earth, but as he hath Wiſdom and Power to help it, ſo he hath tender bowels, and an heart thereunto. And it is not for want of ſomewhat to be done on his part, that ſouls periſh, but the failing alwaies was, and ſtill is on the Creatures part.

2. God loveth all his Creatures, and cannot but be good to them. He is outwardly good, he is inwardly good to them all. He can do nothing againſt any one of them, but what ſtands with his love and mercy. He doth not forget himſelf, he doth not loſe his nature in the manifeſting of his righteouſneſs, wrath and ſeverity againſt ſin and ſinners.

3. He deſires not the death of a ſinner, nay not of the wicked. How mercifully did he walk with the Jews in the firſt covenant? Did he ever deſire their miſcarriages, and the miſeries which came upon them thereby? Nay, did he not deſire their good, and their obedient walking with him therein for their good. O (ſaid he) that there were ſuch an heart in them, that they would fear me, and keep my Commandments alwaies, that it might be well with them, &c. Deut. 5. 29. How mercifully doth he walk with all in the ſecond Covenant, that are in any meaſure drawn within the limits and compaſs thereof! He is a Saviour, that is his nature; and he ſeeketh the Salvation of his Creatures with his whole heart, and with all his ſoul. And when he bringeth any to Repentance, there is joy in his boſome: and when the enemy breaketh in upon any of his, or by any ſubtilty draweth them into that which deſtroyeth, his pure, tender ſpirit is grieved therewith, and mourneth becauſe of it. O Jeruſalem, Jeruſalem (ſaid his true living Image with tears) How often would I have gathered thee!

4. He would have all men to be ſaved, and come to the knowledge of the Truth. God ſends his truth, his powerful truth to ſave: and he ſhuts not any one out of it, but ſeeks (in the way he hath appointed) to gather all into it that they might be ſaved by it.

5. He

5. He is very patient, and long-ſuffering, waits long, tries long, invites often, touches often, draws often: Yea, the very veſſels of wrath fitted to deſtruction, there is much patience and long-ſuffering exerciſed towards them, before the Lord can caſt them off and give them up utterly to deſtruction. For mark, deſtruction is not his work or delight; it is the work of a Spirit and Nature contrary to his. I came not (ſaith Chriſt) to deſtroy mens lives, but to ſave; to give life to them. And this is the proper end of God in every miniſtration: his end is not death, deſtruction, increaſing of the condemnation of the creature, &c. but to bring it to life thereby, out of that which leadeth into the condemnation and deſtruction. Did he not for this end bear with the old World? was not this the end of Noah's preaching to them and warning of them? Did he not for this end bear with the Jews in Egypt, in the Wilderneſs, in Canaan, &c. Is not this the proper intent of the goodneſs, forbearance and longſuffering of God, that it ſhould lead to repentance? (Rom. 2. 4.) And Repentance leads to Mercy, Remiſſion and Life.

6. The Sacrifice of Chriſt had relation to all men. He was ſent out of Gods univerſal love to mankind, to the whole World, and was made a propitiation by God for the Sins of the whole World.

7. There is no man periſheth for want of Power: for there is Power in the free-gift which comes upon all. There is power in it to quicken, to give faith, to preſerve in the Faith, to do all that is to be done in the Soul: and it doth all every where, as it findeth place and entertainment in the Soul. But man refuſeth, man loveth the darkneſs, hateth the light, ſhutteth his eyes againſt it, withdraweth his heart from it, and ſo beateth back the purpoſe and counſel of Gods love and good will towards him. For as the Jews outwardly in that outward Covenant, almoſt alwaies rebelled, reſiſted and brought wrath upon themſelves, to the grief of Gods heart and of his holy Prophets: So do men in reference to the inward Covenant (in that nature and ſpirit) exceedingly provoking the Lord, until his Spirit (in its holy jealouſy and indignation) turn from them, and give them up to hardneſs, ſenſleſſneſs and impenitency, which Sealeth up to deſtruction. But as Iſrael, in that firſt Covenant, could never juſtly lay the cauſe of their deſtruction on God: but God did moſt juſtly lay it on them (O Iſrael, thy deſtruction is of thy ſelf: but in me is thy help:) So neither can any blame the Lord, who periſh from, and fall ſhort of the vertue of the ſecond Covenant: for he faileth not in doing his part therein, no more then he did fail in the Firſt. But man turneth from the power which ſaves, from the light which makes manifeſt, from the life which quickens: and this is his condemnation, and the cauſe of his periſhing. So that God will be juſt and clear of the blood of all men, and the blood of them that periſh will lye upon their own heads. Had there not been ſomewhat near every man, which had more power in it then ſin had, they might have had ſome plea before the Lord: but the preſence of this, the power of this, the working of this in every heart more or leſs, leaves all men without excuſe, and clears the freegiver and his free gift in the Ballance of righteouſneſs. For this gift of his is faithful to every man upon the face of the earth, never conſenting to his iniquities and tranſgreſſions in any kind, but ſtill teſtifying againſt them as the Lord pleaſeth to open its mouth. But who hath believed its report? and to whom hath the arm of the Lord been revealed? Yet greater will the condemnation be upon them, upon whom the Lord hath more abundantly ſhined; and many will have a plea in reſpect of them, which the Lord will hear and conſider, and ſo they ſhall not enter into that depth of judgment and condemnation, which will light on ſuch as have reſiſted the Light and power of Life, in its more glorious and bright appearances and ſtrivings with them, even as Chriſt ſaid, It ſhall be eaſier for Tire and Sidon, Sodom and Gomorrah in the day of Judgment, then for Chorazin and Bethſaida, Capernaum and Jeruſalem.

Therefore O all men upon the earth, know the day of your viſitation. Make peace with the Lord, O Tranſgreſſors, lay hold on his ſtrength, that ye may make peace with him. Believe not the Liar, who would put you out of hope but believe the voice of his Love and tender Spirit. Turn in, liſten after him, watch if he do not call, mind if he do not draw: and do not ſay, I want power; but wait in humility, meekneſs and fear, until his power ariſe. Bear his judgments, wait upon him in the way of his judgments. Do not fly from him becauſe thereof: for therein is the mercy, life and ſalvation. Be not haſty, but wait long, believe long, hope long, feel the patience tience of the Lamb, learn the mysterious path of Life from the inward teacher, that ye may certainly know it, and find your feet guided by his Spirit into it.

Is not the voice gone forth from him that is true? Ho every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters &c. and whosoever will, let him take the Water of Life freely. And is not he near, who causeth the thirst and giveth the will? Whom hath the Lord excluded? why should any man exclude himself? The Call is universal, the way is set open to all. That is at hand which hath Life and Power in it, and is ready to work in all. This Commandment hath it received of its Father: and it is faithfull which hath received it. And all that come to the Father here, in this gathering of Life, the Father is ready to receive. Thy Soul, O man, is the Lords. It is very pretious in his eye: He seeks to save it, and hath sent somewhat into thy heart to gather thee from that which would destroy it. And this, which he hath sent hath in it of the Fathers Love, of the Fathers Mercy, of the Fathers Power, of the Fathers Light, of the Fathers Life, of the Fathers Wisdom, Righteousness &c. and will gather thee out of the world into the Fathers Nature, and Spirit, if thou wilt hearken to him with the ear which he will create in thee, and receive him with the heart which he will give thee. Yea he will help thee to turn from and forsake thy own wickedness and the wicked Spirit, and to turn towards him who is Life, Righteousness and Peace to the Soul, that is gathered unto him; do but give up thy self (in the Faith and Obedience which he is creating in thee) in the way of his quickning and renewing Life.

Some Questions answered concerning the Spirit of Christ, and the Spirit of the Scribes and Pharisees.

Quest. 1. What kind of Spirit was the Spirit of the Scribes and Pharisees?

Answ. A Strict, Zealous, Righteous Spirit, according to their understanding and apprehensions of the Letter. They fasted much, they prayed much, they gave alms, they were great contenders for the Circumcision and Ordinances of Moses.

Quest. 2. What kind of Spirit was the Spirit of Christ?

Answ. A Righteous, strict and zealous Spirit according to the Power of the endless Life. He was in that, from which the Righteousness of the Law came, and which brought it forth and fulfilled it in his vessel.

Quest. 3. What did the Scribes and Pharisees Judge of Christ, according to their apprehensions and understanding of the Letter?

Answ. They Judged him a sinner and transgressor of the Law of Moses, a loose Person, an eater, a drinker, a friend of Publicans and Sinners, one who taught not his Disciples to fast and pray, but rather to break the Law of God, and transgress the Sabbath, yea one who was a Blasphemer, and a Deceiver of People, &c.

Quest. 4. How came the Scribes and Pharisees thus to Judge of Christ?

Answ. Because they were in that Spirit, Nature and Mind which giveth wrong Judgment; For it is not a gathered Knowledge from the Letter, which makes able to judg of Spirits, and above the things of God: but a receiving and being born of the Spirit. For from the Spirit alone is the right understanding of the Letter; which the Spirit hath to give, and giveth to the true Birth.

Quest. 5. What did Christ Judge of the Scribes and Pharisees, according to his knowledg of them from the Spirit and Power of Life?

Answ. That they were Hypocrites, Painted-walls and Sepulchres, which made a fair shew in the Flesh, but were not of, nor in the truth.

Quest. 6. Is the Spirit of the Scribes and Phatisees to be found now in the World?

Answ. There is nothing new under the Sun. The Spirit of wickedness and deceit is alwaies the same, in all Ages and Generations: and the Spirit of holiness and truth is the same also. So that Cain, Ishmael, Esau, the scoffer and persecuter of the Prophets (of Christ his Apostles and holy Martyrs) are to be found in every age: (The same in Spirit and Nature with them.) And so is Abel, Enoch, Isaac, Jacob, &c.

Queſt. 7. Where is the Spirit of the Scribes and Phariſees now to be found?

Anſw. They in all Profeſſions (gatherings and walkings) that are ſtrict, zealous and Righteous according to their own underſtandings and apprehenſions of the Letter, and not according to the Spirit and Power of the endleſs Life, they are of, and in that Spirit.

Queſt. 8. How may a man come out of the Spirit of the Scribes and Phariſees, and into the Spirit of Chriſt?

Anſw. By coming to the Power of the endleſs Life, wherein Chriſts miniſtry is: wherein his Spirit is felt and miniſtreth. This ſhuts out all the deceits and devices of that Spirit, which lieth in wait to deceive. He may entangle the mind about the Letter, about the underſtanding of Scriptures, and Practices and Ordinances there: but he that begins in the Spirit (in the Power of Life, in the living demonſtration of Truth) is out of his compaſs; and there abiding, groweth up and remaineth out of his reach.

Queſt. 9. How may a man come to the Power of the endleſs Life?

Anſw. By waiting to feel it. There is ſomewhat of God near every man: which, his Spirit retiring & waiting on the Lord, the Lord will give him to feel, in the ſeaſons of his good pleaſure. For it is near man, not as a Talent alwayes to lye dead & buried: but to work in him, & bring him out of his own ſinful corrupt Nature, into its holy pure Nature.

Queſt. 10. How may a man feel and know the Power of this Life?

Anſw. By its Nature, Properties, manner and end of working in the heart. It enlightens the Soul, it quickens to God, it draws the heart from that which is manifeſtly and ſenſibly evil without diſpute, it opens the eye to ſee and diſcern that which is holy and good, inflaming the mind with deſires after it. Now this is the appearance of the holy one, who thus appears and begins to work, to draw the mind from that which is ſinfull, and deſtroyeth to that which is holy and ſaveth: Happy, O happy is he, who thus feels the drawing, quickning Spirit, and in faithfulneſs gives up thereto: For he (by the Spirit and Power of Life) ſhall feel Cain, the Sacrificer according to the Fleſh, Iſhmael the Seed of Abraham after the Fleſh, Eſau the firſt Birth, whoſe mind is in the earth; he ſhall feel theſe, I ſay, caſt out: and Abel the Righteous Seed, who lives and Sacrifices in the true Faith; Iſaac the Seed of Promiſe, Jacob the wreſtler with God, in the Power and ſtrength of his own Spirit, with the tears and ſupplications which are from his own Life, he ſhall feel (I ſay) this Nature, Birth and Spirit raiſed in him, and his ſoul in it living to God, and increaſing in union and fellowſhip with him.

Some Queſtions Anſwered concerning Blaſphemy and Blaſphemers.

Queſt. 1. What is Blaſphemy?

Anſw. IT is the reproaching or ſpeaking ill of the Truths or Name of God, in any of their appearances, or of them whom he hath choſen to bear his Name, or hold forth his Truth. To reproach the Name, or Truths of God as they have been held forth in former Ages, or as they are held forth in this Age; or to ſpeak evil of the Inſtrument he then choſe, or now choſeth and maketh uſe of to hold them forth; This is Blaſphemy: and the Lord will not hold him guiltleſs who ſo doth, whatſoever he be.

Queſt. 2. In which reſpect are men moſt liable to Blaſphemy? are they apteſt to reproach and ſpeak evil of Gods Truths, as they have been held forth in former Ages, and the Inſtruments by which God then held them forth? or are they apter to reproach and ſpeak evil of the Truths of God, as they are held forth in their Age, and the Inſtruments and miniſters who then hold them forth?

Anſw. Men are not ſo liable to blaſpheme the truths (or Name) of God, as formerly held forth, or the meſſengers and miniſters of former Ages, as the preſent Truth and the preſent Miniſtry.

Queſt. 3. How cometh that about, or why is it ſo?

Anſw. Becauſe the Truths of former Ages, and the miniſtry therein, have wrought through through the deceit and oppoſition, which withſtood them in their day, and have left a good Savour behind them; ſo that it would be hard, and diſadvantagious to the evil Spirit, to endeavour to bring a reproach over them. If men ſhould go about to revile Moſes, or the Prophets of old, Chriſt or his Apoſtles; who would give an ear to them? Surely very few, if any. But to cry up theſe and their Doctrine, and to endeavour to make the preſent diſpenſation of Truth appear to men, as if it were different from and contrary to theſe (of another nature, of another Spirit, tending to other ends, and towards the producing of other effects) This is a very ſubtile device, and an advantagious way of oppoſing the preſent truth and miniſtry with: and this way the Enemy hath taken all along. Moſes, in his day, had enemies and reſiſters: but after his death, we never hear him ſpoken againſt; but thoſe that withſtood the Prophets in after Ages, would honour the remembrance of Moſes. In Chriſts day, they would honour both Moſes and the Prophets: but Chriſt, and his Diſciples, and Apoſtles, were reproached as Blaſphemers and Deceivers. After that age, Chriſt and his Apoſtles were generally acknowledged, as well as Moſes and the Prophets: but yet they that were in the ſame Spirit, in the ſame Life, in the ſame Nature, have afterwards ſtill been perſecuted, and oppoſed by the preſent Age.

Queſt. 4. Who are the great Blaſphemers in every Age?

Anſw. They which profeſs Truth, but are not in the Power and Life of that which they profeſs. And among theſe, thoſe eſpecially, who have had any taſt of the Power: For if theſe turn from the Power, which it pleaſed God to give them ſome taſt of, they are given up by God to deluſion, deviliſhneſs, ſubtilty, and enmity, above all others. For as the Blaſphemy (which I am ſpeaking of) is above truth, and the Name of Chriſt: ſo it is chiefly to be found among thoſe who pretend to his Name. Thoſe that have the outward Name, Knowledge, and talke about the Name, about Chriſt, about the heavenly things; theſe Blaſpheme and Reproach thoſe who have and are in the thing it ſelf, who dwell in heaven, and worſhip in the heavenly place, even in the true Tabernacle which God hath pitched, and not man. Theſe bring their Knowledge, Wiſdom, Scriptures, Experiences, Obſervations, and all that ever they can reap and rend, againſt the preſent Power, and Life of Truth.

Queſt. 5. How come men, who pretend to truth, and to ſeek after it, to run into this grievous and dangerous Blaſphemy?

Anſw. By reaſon of their not being in that, which demonſtrateth the truth in the holy Power and Nature thereof. They want its Light and Demonſtration, and ſo underſtand things out of it: and in this their own miſunderſtanding turn againſt that, which ſhould enlighten, ſanctify and preſerve them, Now, not being in that (but in another thing) not being in the true Spirit, in the true Light, in the true Knowledge, in the true ſenſe and underſtanding, they muſt needs err and misjudge: and the greater their Knowledge, Ability, Wiſdom, and Zeal is, the more deſperate, and dangerous is their path of error, both to themſelves and others. Who erred ſo dangerouſly in that day, as the Scribes and Phariſees, which by their Wiſdom, knowledge and skill in the Scriptures, would diſpute againſt Chriſt, prove he was not (he could not be) the Meſſiah, according to the Scriptures (bidding men ſearch the Scriptures, and ſee if any Prophet came out of Gallilee, Joh. 7. 52.) judged him, who was indeed the holy one (who loved Righteouſneſs, and hated Iniquity) an unholy one, a Sinner and Companion of Sinners, a Blaſphemer, Deceiver &c? And in the ſame Spirit the ſtricter a man is, and the more he knows, and the more confident he is of his knowledge, and skill in the Scriptures, the more deſperately and dangerouſly will he venture, to oppoſe the appearance of the Spirit and Power of the Lord Jeſus in this day.

Queſt. 6. How come they who have ſo much literal knowledge of Scriptures, and and have had a true ſenſe and experience (ſome of them) of the things of God, to be out of that which demonſtrateth the truth?

Anſw. By their turning from it, and rejecting it. The Scribes and Phariſees rejected the counſel of God, againſt themſelves. There is but one thing can open the eyes, and the Scribes and Phariſees turned againſt it, believing that their eyes were opened already, by the Light and knowledge which they had received from Moſes. Moſes, ſaid they, we know God ſpeaks to: but as for this fellow, we know not from whence he is. And juſt ſo is it now: O that ye could read, whoſe ſtate it is.

Queſt. Why do they turn from it and reject it?

Anſw. Becauſe it anſwers not their expectations. That appearance of Chriſt in Fleſh in that day, did not anſwer the expectations of the Scribes and Phariſees. And this appearance of Chriſt in his holy Spirit and Power after the Apoſtacy, doth not anſwer the expectations of many now. And ſo, not appearing as what they look for, as what they have expected, according to their apprehenſions and underſtanding of the Scriptures they cannot (ſo ſtanding and believing) wait, but turn from it, and turn the Scriptures againſt it, as the Scribes and Phariſees turned the Scriptures againſt that appearance of Chriſt.

Now, O that men, that have any deſires after truth, might not run into this kind of Blaſphemy, and ſo thereby provoke and turn that Spirit and Power of Life againſt them, which alone is able to ſave them. For the Spirit and Power of the Lord turneth againſt the other Spirit, in all its devices and tranſformings, and againſt them who are joyned to that Spirit. And as the eye of the Lord is chiefly upon his preſent miniſtration of truth in the preſent age to mind that, to bleſs that, to appear in that: ſo his Spirit moſt turneth againſt that which oppoſeth and ſeeketh to overturn it. Yea little do men know, what they have loſt from God, as to themſelves and their own ſtates, and what they are become in his Sight, by their oppoſing the preſent diſpenſation and miniſtration of truth; even as little do many know in this day, as the Scribes and Phariſees did, (in their day) what they brought upon themſelves and others, whom they infected (by their falſe knowledge and wrong expounding and managing of the Scriptures) with a prejudiced Spirit againſt Chriſt.

The Lord did promiſe that he would become the Shepherd, and gather his ſheep himſelf, after the cloudy and dark day. He is come to ſeek out, to gather, to heal, to bind up, to comfort, to preſerve &c. He is known, he is witneſſed, he is received; his Life, Vertue, Healing and Saving Power is felt. Let men reproach and revile it never ſo much, yet it is known to be the Thing, the Pearl, the Seed of the Kingdom &c. Yea and he that receiveth it, and is born of it, knoweth that he is of God, and hath the true nature of Life, and true language from God; which that, which knoweth God, heareth; but that which is not of God, cannot hear.

A Queſtion concerning Miracles Anſwered.

Queſt. 1. IF this be a new diſpenſation of the life and power of God, even of the preaching of the everlaſting Goſpel again after the Apoſtacy, why is it not accompanied with outward miracles now, as formerly it was? I ſay outward miracles, becauſe it is accompanied with inward miracles. For the lame (that could never ſet Step in the path of life) do now walk: the eyes, that were blind, are opened and do now ſee: the ears that were deaf, have been unſtopped and do now hear: the Lepers inwardly (who were all overſpread with ſin and corruption) have been waſhed, cleanſed and healed by the pure power: yea the dead inwardly have been quickened, raiſed, turned to him that lives for evermore, have received life from him, and do live in him and with him. Now theſe are mighty things, wonderful miracles, even the ſubſtance of the miracles, which were wrought under the Law, and which Chriſt himſelf wrought outwardly. For it was not the outward healing, which is Salvation, Life and Power chiefly aimed at therein: but to point men by that, to the thing which was to work the inward; that they might take notice of it; know it, come to it, and wait upon it, to be made partakers of the inward health and ſalvation by it. Yet ſeeing in that day Chriſt did then pleaſe to put forth his power outwardly, to point to and witneſs of the inward, why doth he not do ſo now?

Anſw.

Answ. The nature of the present dispensation doth not require it. For present dispensation of life, is to bring men to the principle of life which is within them (which is the sum and substance of all former dispensations :) and to bring them to this, there doth not need any thing of a miraculous nature outwardly; but the witness, demonstration and enlightening of the spirit inwardly. Now when the outward Law was to be received, then the Lord saw need of outward Miracles to confirm it: so also in the Prophets dayes, while that dispensation held, till towards the coming of Christ. And when Christ came, in the body prepared by the Father, it pleased the Lord to confirm (by outward visible demonstrations of his Power in him) that this was he. Likewise afterwards, the Apostles having the doctrine concerning that appearance to preach aud testify to the World, the Lord was also pleased and saw good to confirm it by Miracles. But now there is not any new doctrine to be preached. The doctrine concerning Christ is the same that it was, the very same that the Apostles preached. Neither is there any need of confirming it now: for it is generally believed among professors of all sorts: as Christs Birth, preaching, living holily, dying (offering himself up as a sacrifice for sin) rising, ascending, sitting at the right hand of the Father &c. who doubts of these things? But under all this Knowledge men hide their Sins, their lusts and corruptions, serving not the Lord (not truly fearing, believing in and obeying him) but his enemies, and are become corrupt like unto the Heathen; being in words Christians, but as to the holy conversation and Power of the endless Life, as far from it as the very Heathen Therefore hath the Lord visited the world in this state, and sent forth what he judged meet for it in this state, to wit, not a ministry to preach over that doctrine, under which the Christian world had corrupted themselves; but to point to the principle of Life, wherein is the Light and Power to discover, lead from and wash away this corruption. And with this ministry, there goeth a power, to reach the heart and raise the witness, in all that hear in fear and in the sense, and dread of God; so that the witness presently answers, and the mind is inwardly satisfied, knows the thing, and turns to it. Now this (and the effect of this) is beyond miracles, and the satisfaction or assurance which they can afford. For miracles leave a dispute in the mind, (Notwithstanding all the miracles Christ shewed, there was yet a dispute and disatisfaction in the minds of many concerning him) But he that feels the thing it self in the true principle, where the demonstration and certainty of the Spirits assurance is received; he is past dispute, and is gone a degree in the nature of things, beyond that satisfaction, which miracles can afford. He is out of that state and mind, which asketh a sign, or seeketh confirmation by a sign. So that men ought to take heed, how they expect or call for miracles now, as the Jews did to Christ for a sign of old: for that is not the temper of mind, which this dispensation is to answer, but rather to draw men out from thence into a principle, into the new Life and Spirit it self; where full demonstrations (of a deeper nature) are given to the Soul, there outward miracles are. Feel the Power that is revealed, feel the Life that is made manifest, let in the Light of the day which shines; This will scatter the darkness from thee, and clear up the things of the day unto thee. The pure ministration of Power, the pure ministration of Life, the Light of the everlasting day is come: O wait the opening of the he eye that sees it, and conceived and brought forth in the womb of it.

Some

Some further Queſtions Anſwered concerning the new Covenant.

Queſt. 1. WHat were thoſe dayes, after which the new Covenant was to be made?

Anſw. They were the days of the Law and Prophets, the dayes of the firſt Covenant, the dayes of God's exerciſing and making triall of that outward People the Jews, by his outward and literall Covenant. After the full expiring of thoſe dayes, another Covenant was to be made.

Queſt. What are the dayes wherein the new Covenant is made?

Anſw. They are the dayes of Chriſt, the dayes of his Power, the dayes of the miniſtration of his Spirit.

Queſt. 3. What is the houſe of Iſrael and Judah, with which this new Covenant is to be made? is it the Iſrael and Judah according to the Fleſh? the Iſrael and Judah according to the old Covenant; or according to the new?

Anſw. When the old Covenant is paſſed away, the conſideration of Iſrael and Judah (after the Fleſh) paſſed away alſo: and the new Covenant is fitted for and made with the new Iſrael and Judah: ſo that (as the Apoſtle ſaid) He is not (now, according to this Covenant) a Jew, that is one outward; nor is that circumciſion, which is outward in the Fleſh: but he is a Jew, which is one inward &c. The Goſpel breaks down the outward conſideration between Jew and Gentile, and brings up another conſideration in both: ſo that the Promiſes and bleſſings are not to either in their old ſtate, but as they are gathered into, and ſpring up in the new Seed.

Queſt. 4. Is this Covenant faultleſs? doth it mend that which God found amiſs in the other? doth it keep more firmly to him, than the other did? is there no falling away from it?

Anſw. Yes, it is faultleſs, it doth help the deceits of the other. It doth keep more firmly to God. There is no falling away from it by thoſe, with whom it is fully made, and who are eſtabliſhed in it. But in the paſſage and travel, there is danger to the Soul, which is not faithfull, and watchfull, leſt it be drawn from that, which gives it right to, and entrance into the Covenant. For as the beginning is in the Faith, and in the obedience: ſo is the continuance, growth and progreſs. Thus the Goſpel was preached, He that believeth, and is Baptized, ſhall be ſaved: which believing includes not only a beginning to believe, but a going on therein, and continuing to the end. For ſo is the Promiſe and word of Chriſt, He that continueth to the end, ſhall be ſaved. But if any man draw back from the Lord, from his Spirit, and return into the way of Death with the other Spirit, the Soul of the Lord will have no pleaſure in him.

Object. But then this alſo is like the firſt Covenant, depending upon the Creature, and is defective as the other was.

Anſw. No; This Covenant doth not depend upon the Creature: but upon Gods Love, Mercy and Power, which hath no limits in this Covenant, but may extend it ſelf as far and as long as it pleaſeth. It dependeth upon the principle of his Life, upon the Power of his Spirit freely diſpenſed to the Creature: yet the Creature that will reap and enjoy this, muſt come to it in the Faith and Power which is of the Principle, and in the ſame muſt abide with it. For God forceth none to come, but draweth and maketh willing: neither doth he force any to ſtay, but perſwadeth and maketh willing to ſtay. This is the manner of his working, the day of his Power. But now, if the ſoul hearken to the other Spirit and his drawings, and depart from the Lord, and will not hearken and be won again, the Love and Pleaſure of the Lord turns from it, even according to the Law of this Covenant. For there is a Law of this Covenant, according to the nature of it (according cording to which the Lord works) as well as was in the other.

Now ſearch ye the Scriptures concerning this thing. Is there any Promiſe of Salvation, but upon coming to the Son, or to them that come, without abiding? Did not Chriſt tell his own diſciples, that as they were in the Vine, in his Love: So they muſt abide there? It was the Law his Father gave him: and the ſame Law he giveth them. It is natural to man to backſlide: and in his backſliding from that wherein is the Life and Vertue, how can he but miſs of the Life and Vertue of it? Therefore in this Covenant, the Lord hath provided that which will heal the backſlidings, which will work out all in man freely, which will powerfully preſerve him, &c. But he muſt come to it (he muſt come to the Son, he muſt come to the Waters) and he muſt alſo abide there. Yet this is not required of him to do of himſelf neither, according to the Law and courſe of the old Covenant: but of him in the new ability; which is in the new Principle of Life, wherein he is daily to receive it: yea it is with him and near him; as near him to be daily drawing him into and preſerving him in Life, and within the limits of the Covenant, as the Tempter is to be drawing him into ſinning againſt the Covenant, and ſo into death.

Queſt. 4. What doth God promiſe to do, for the new houſe of Iſrael and Judah, in this new Covenant.

Anſw. He Promiſeth to put his Laws into their mind, and write them in their Hearts. (O happy he that knoweth theſe Laws, this Mind, this Heart, this manner of writing.) He promiſeth to be their God, and that they ſhall be his People (This Covenant is a Powerfull Covenant, it will make ſo indeed.) He Promiſeth to become their Teacher, and ſuch a Teacher as all ſhall know him, from the leaſt to the greateſt, even ſo as they ſhall not need to ſeek out abroad after the Knowledge of him. (It is ſo, where this Covenant is made, even with the leaſt with whom it is compleated: but it is not ſo where it is only begun, or in ſome few degrees carried on.) He promiſeth to take away that, which alone is able to hinder the good things of the Covenant: for he will be mercifull to their unrighteouſneſs and their Sins and Iniquities will he remember no more. This alſo is witneſſed, according to the Souls growth in and receiving into it the ſtrength of the Covenant. For many find ſinning againſt the Covenant, and the remembring of their Iniquities, in their paſſage; yea Judgment doth continue in the refining time, till that be made to paſs away thereby which the Judgment is to: but in the Covenant it ſelf is Reſt, Joy, Peace, Satisfaction, Life and Powerful Redemption and Righteouſneſs for evermore.

Queſt. 5. How is this Covenant made, and how doth the Soul enter into it, grow up in it, and reap and enjoy the Sweet bleſſings and Promiſes of it?

Anſw. It is made in the Faith and Obedience of the Soul to the Goſpel, to the Power of the endleſs Life; It is made according to the Promiſe. The Promiſe is to him that believes and obeys the Goſpel. There is no other way into it but union with Chriſt in the Faith, from which flows Obedience to the holy commands and requirings of his Spirit. All unbelief and diſobedience is out of this holy, bleſſed Covenant. They are ſtops in the way, and hinder the Soul both from entring into, and from abiding in the Covenant; yea the Gates of Hell may eaſily prevail againſt them, who do not believe, obey, watch and pray, but enter into the Temptations of the enemy, which draw into death, as the motions and requirings of the Spirit lead into Life.

A brief Account concerning ſilent Meetings, the Nature, Uſe, Intent and Benefit of them.

This is a great myſtery, hid from the eye of man, who is run from the inward Life, into outward Obſervations. He connot ſee, either that this is required by the Lord of his People, or any Edification therein, or Benefit thereby; But to the mind that is drawn inward the thing is plain, and the building up hereby in the Life of God, and fellowſhip one with another therein, is ſweetly felt, and precious refreſhment from the Preſence of the Lord received by them, who ſingly herein wait upon him, according to the leadings and requirings of his holy Spirit. Now to open the thing a little to the upright hearted, if the Lord pleaſe.

After the mind is in ſome meaſure turned to the Lord, his quicknings felt, his ſeed beginning to ariſe and ſpring up in the heart, then the fleſh is to be ſilent before him, and the ſoul to wait upon him (and for his further appearings) in that meaſure of Life which is already revealed. Now this is a great thing to know fleſh ſilenced, to feel the reaſoning thoughts and diſcourſes of the fleſhly mind ſtilled, and the Wiſdom, Light and guidance of Gods Spirit waited for. For man is to come into the poverty of Self, into the abaſedneſs, into the nothingneſs, into the ſilence of his Spirit before the Lord, into the putting off of all his Knowledge, Wiſdom, Underſtanding, Abilities, all that he is, hath done or can do out of this meaſure of Life, into which he is to travel, that he may be clothed and filled with the Nature, Spirit and Power of the Lord.

Now in this meaſure of Life which is of Chriſt, (and in which Chriſt is in this and appears to the Soul) there is the Power of Life and Death: Power to kill to the fleſh, and Power to quicken to God: Power to cauſe the Soul to ceaſe from its own workings, and Power to work in, and for the Soul, what God requires, and what is acceptable in his Sight. And this God is to be Waited upon and Worſhiped continually (both in private and in publick) according as his Spirit draws and teaches.

For the Lord requireth of his People not only to worſhip him apart, but to meet together to Worſhip him, in the ſeaſons and according to the drawings of his Spirit: And they that are taught of him, dare not forſake the aſſembling of themſelves together, as the manner of ſome is, but watch againſt the temptations and ſnares, which the enemy layes to deceive them there-from, and to diſturb their ſenſe by, that they might not feel the drawings of the Father thereunto.

And this is the manner of their worſhip. They are to wait upon the Lord to meet in the ſilence of Fleſh, and to watch for the ſtirrings of his Life, and the breakings forth of his Power amongſt them. And in the breakings forth of that Power they may pray, ſpeak, exhort, rebuke, ſing or mourn, &c. according as the Spirit teaches, requires and gives utterance. But if the Spirit do not require to ſpeak and give to utter, then every one is to ſit ſtill in his place (in his heavenly place, I mean) feeling his own meaſure, feeding thereupon, receiving therefrom (into his Spirit) what the Lord giveth. Now in this is edifying, pure edifying, pretious edifying; his Soul who thus waits, is hereby particularly edified by the Spirit of the Lord at every meeting. And then alſo there is the Life of the whole felt, in every veſſel that is turned to its meaſure; inſomuch as the warmth of Life in each Veſſel, doth not only warm the particular, but they are like an heap of freſh and living coals, warming one another, inſomuch as a great ſtrength, freſhneſs, and vigour of Life flows into all. And if any be burthened, tempted, buffetted by Satan, bowed down, overborn, languiſhing, afflicted, diſtreſſed, &c. the eſtate of ſuch is felt in Spirit, and ſecret cries, or open (as the Lord Lord pleaſeth) aſcend up to the Lord for them, and they many times find eaſe and relief, in a few words ſpoken, or without words, if it be the ſeaſon of their help and relief with the Lord.

For abſolutely ſilent meetings (wherein there is a reſolution not to ſpeak) we know not: but we wait on the Lord, either to feel him in words, or in ſilence of Spirit without words; as he pleaſeth. And that which we aim at, and are inſtructed to by the Spirit of the Lord as to ſilent meetings, is that the Fleſh in every one be kept ſilent, and that there be no building up, but in the Spirit and Power of the Lord.

Now there are ſeveral States of People. Some feel little of the Lords preſence; but feel temptations and thoughts, with many wandrings and roveings of mind. Theſe are not yet acquainted with the Power, or at leaſt know not its dominion, but rather feel dominion of the evil over the good in them. And this is a ſore travelling and mournfull State, and meetings to ſuch as theſe (many times) may ſeem, as to themſelves, rather for the worſe than for the better, Yet even theſe, turning (as much as may be) from ſuch things, and cleaving, (or at leaſt, in truth of heart deſiring to cleave) to that which diſliketh or witneſſeth againſt them, have aeceptance with the Lord herein: and continuing to wait in this trouble and diſtreſs (keeping cloſe to meetings, in fear and ſubjection to the Lord who requireth it, though with little appearing benefit) do reap an hidden benefit at preſent, and ſhall reap a more clear and manifeſt benefit afterwards, as the Lord waſteth and weareth out that in them, wherein the darkneſs hath its ſtrength. Now to evidence that the Lord doth require theſe ſilent meetings, or meetings after this manner ſilent, it may thus appear.

God is to be worſhiped in Spirit in his own Power and Life, and this is at his own diſpoſe. His Church is a gathering in the Spirit. If any man ſpeak there, he muſt ſpeak as the Oracle of God, as the veſſel out of which God ſpeaks; as the Trumpet out of which he gives the ſound. Therefore there is to be a waiting in ſilence, till the Spirit of the Lord move to ſpeak, and alſo gives words to ſpeak. For a man is not to ſpeak his own words, or in his own wiſdom or time: but the Spirits words, in the Spirits wiſdom and time, which is when he moves and gives to ſpeak. And ſeeing the Spirit inwardly nouriſheth, when he giveth not to ſpeak words, the inward ſenſe and nouriſhment is to be waited for, and received as it was given when there are no words. Yea the miniſtry of the Spirit and Life, is more cloſe and immediate when without words, then when with words, as have been often felt, and is faithfully teſtified by many witneſſes. Eye hath not ſeen nor ear heard, neither hath entred into the heart of man, how and what things God reveals to his Children by his Spirit, when they wait upon him in his pure fear, and worſhip and converſe with him in ſpirit: for then the Fountain of the great deep is unſealed, and the everlaſting ſprings ſurely give up the pure and Living Water.

THE END

Life and Immortality brought to Light through the Goſpel. Being a true diſcovery of the Nature and Ground of the Religion and Kingdom of CHRIST, In ſeveral weighty Queries propounded; and other ſerious Matters treated of, highly Importing the Eternal Salvation of Souls.

written by Iſaac Penington, in the time of his Impriſonment at Reading-Goal.

The Preface to the Reader.

THE Goſpel is the Power of God unto Salvation. O bleſſed is he, who meets with that which Powerfully ſaves. Moſt Mens Religion is but a talk, and Profeſſion of that, which they have not: and what will ſuch a kind of Religion avail, when it comes to be tryed by the piercing Fire of the Spirit of burning, and pure (Impartial) judgment. Neither Circumciſion availeth any thing, nor Uncircumciſion, but a new Creature. Alas, how few know that? And yet if any man be in Chriſt, he is a new Creature: old things are paſſed away, and all things become new there. Who can bear the deciſion of this Tryal? for many pretend to be in Chriſt, and yet they themſelves are ſtill in the old Nature and Spirit. Be not deceived, ſaith the Apoſtle, God is not mocked. Alas, how many are deceived about their Religion; Indeed it is impoſſible for a man not to be deceived, who knoweth not the anointing, nor is taught his Religion by the anointing. He is Truth and no Lye, and he teacheth Truth and no Lye: but mens apprehenſions and concealings, upon the holy Scriptures and Myſteries of God's Kingdom are but like themſelves: empty and vain. O that men could ſee with the true eye, hear with the true ear, underſtand with the true heart! Then might they know indeed, and come to witneſs the Ethiopian skin waſhed, and the Leopard Spots changed: but till then, they may change from one opinion to another, and from one Profeſſion and way of Religion to another, and yet in Nature, Spirit, Mind and heart, yea and in Converſation alſo, (as to the ſubſtance thereof) remain ſtill one and the ſame. And what will become of men, whoſe hope is in their Religion, in their knowledge of Chriſt, in their Faith, in their Worſhip, &c. if all theſe, when they come to be tryed ſhall be found wanting of the true Nature and Vertue, and condemned by the Lord for dead and dry! O that men knew what ſhould be yoaked down, what ſhould be turned from and denied, how glorioufly and takingly ſoever it appears! All fleſh is graſs, all fleſhly Knowledge and Religion muſt paſs away. That which the earthly man can comprehend in his underſtanding, is but the outward, the fleſhly part of Religion: the Spiritual Knowledge, the living Knowledge is reſerved for, and given to the Spiritual capacity and underſtanding, which the Children of the moſt high received in the new Birth, and holy Begettings of Life.

Here are ſome queries held forth in love to thee, Reader, to bring thee to a true ſenſe in many weighty matters. They are not of a confounding (unleſs it be, to that part which is not to know) but of an opening Nature; they were ſweet to my taſte, which (as in Gods preſence, and by the Vertue of his Life and Spirit flowing in me) reliſhed the things queried of. I deſire they may be profitable to thee alſo, and that thou mayeſt witneſs the guidance of Gods Spirit, leading thee into and giving thee faithfully to walk in the way that leads to eternal reſt. For our dayes in this World are but for a moment, and then we muſt be Judged, and diſpoſed of by the Lord, for ever: each Perſon according to the Nature and Spirit he is of, and according to the deeds done in the Body, whether they have been good or evil. The Lord give thee ſo to conſider thy wayes, that thou mayeſt apply thy heart to true Wiſdom, which conſiſts in fearing God, and departing from evil, which the leaſt child, that is taught of God, learns; and thoſe that are grown up in Holineſs and Righteouſneſs, are skilfull and perfect in; So that they cannot do any thing againſt the Truth, but in and for the Truth.

There are alſo ſome queſtions anſwered, one about Preaching the Goſpel after the Apoſtacy, another about the reaſon of Gods not teaching others what it pleaſeth him to teach us, and the way of his teaching us. There is likewiſe ſomewhat concerning the threefold appearance of Chriſt, and touching Mount Sinai, from whence the Law of the Letter was given, and Mount Sion, from whence the Law of the Spirit goes forth; as likewiſe concerning the Temple and Sacrifices under the Goſpel, and of the way to know ones Election and to obtain full aſſurance thereof, &c. All theſe ſpring from Life in my Heart, for thy ſake who breatheſt after the Lord, and after his pure way and holy path of Life, and who Readeſt in humility, fear and uprightneſs: and my Prayers to the God of my Life goe along with them, that thy heart may be opened by him, in the Reading of them, and that thou mayeſt have the ſenſe of them in the ſhinings of his Light in thine own heart, whoſe work it is to cauſe it to ſhine out of the darkneſs that his Glorious Goſpel may not be hid from the Sons of men, but through the Virtue, Power and operation of the Spirit of Truth (which firſt convinceth of ſin, and then leadeth out of it, into that which is pure and holy, they may come to be acquainted with the myſtery of Life, which hath been hid from Ages and generations, but is now made manifeſt to Gods Children and Sanctified ones: which being made manifeſt to them, is revealed and known to be Chriſt in them, the hope of Glory. The Lord grant thou mayeſt know & experience him to be ſo to thee & in thee, Amen.

A few Words in general, to thoſe that deſire the Knowledge of the True GOD.

The Inſpiration of the Almighty, giveth Underſtanding.
we know that the Son of God is come, and hath given us an Underſtanding, that we may know him that is True.

IT is a great Matter to receive an Underſtanding from the Lord; which, 'till a Man doth, his Knowledge is neither True, Living, nor Saving.

Now, he that would receive an Underſtanding from the Lord, muſt wait to know the Beginnings of the New and Holy Underſtanding; and what that Underſtanding and Knowledge is, which ſtands in the way thereof, and how to part therewith: And then he muſt faithfully loſe, and part with it, for the other; which is Pure, True, and Heavenly.

And when a Man hath received an Underſtanding from the Lord, then he may weigh, conſider, and come to know things aright: But till then, deceit will lodge in his Heart, and have Power over him; and his very Wiſdom and Knowledge will pervert him, and turn him aſide from the way of Life and Truth. The Wiſe profeſſing Jews were hindered from owning the Meſſiah, by the very Knowledge which they had gathered and comprehended out of the Letter of the Scriptures.

But if a Man hath received an Underſtanding from the Lord, in meaſure; yet it is an hard matter to keep to that Underſtanding; and he muſt lye very low and humble, who ſo doth. Oh, What a continual Watch hath my Soul had (and ſtill hath) againſt that Part wherein my Religion formerly ſtood! For, though the Lord had reached to the pure Seed of Life in me, and had quickned my Soul thereby; yet I knew not how to turn to the Seed, and abide in the Seed, and to hold my Knowledge and Life there: but was ſtill ſtriving to live and know (and (comprehend and practiſe) in a part above the Seed: and there the enemy was ſtill too hard for me, and did often deprive me of the benefit or right uſe of what the Lord had wrought in me, and freely beſtowed upon me.

Alaſs, who can underſtand this voice! Surely it is very hard for any ſo to do, but ſuch who have had ſome ſenſible and lively experience thereof in themſelves: but for want of this Knowledge, Senſe and Experience, many are deeply deceived concerning the Lord Jeſus Chriſt, and the ſtate of their own Souls concerning Faith in him, Love to him, Pardon of Sin and Juſtification in and through him, Regeneration and Sanctification by his Spirit, and concerning walking in the way of Holineſs and obeying his commands; and ſo err in heart exceedingly (both in Doctrine and Practice) concerning the weighty things which appertain to Salvation.

Now I having erred in time paſt in my former Profeſſions, and been deeply perplexed and diſtreſſed, through my erring from the holy Seed, Spirit and Power of Life: bear with me, bear with me, yea I ſay again, bear with me if I pity others, and ſincerely deſire that their eyes may be opened to ſee the Pure, Living, Holy, Undefiled way, in which no defiled Spirit can walk; but a man muſt be truly made alive, and truly cleanſed in mind and Spirit, before he can walk in this way. Now, if we experimentally, moſt tenderly and in true Love witneſs, from the God of Life and Salvation, where the Life of the Lord Jeſus Chriſt, and the cleanſing of his blood and Spirit is met with; and that according to the plain Teſtimony of the Scriptures: why are ye offended with us for our Love, and for telling you the truth, as the Lord hath opened our eyes, and taught us to ſee, and read it in the Scriptures of truth, and as we have experimentally found it in Jeſus?

Well, The Lord knoweth how we are many times mourning and praying for you, while ye are reviling and backbiting us: for we know the way and courſe of that Spirit, wherein ye oppoſe us. And, O that ye your ſelves alſo did know what Spirit it is, which thus acts you! for then, ſurely, ye would confeſs it to be the very ſame which oppoſed Chriſt in the dayes of his Fleſh, having only a different cover and way of appearance; That, crying him up as to come, This, as, already come; but both denying him who is the Meſſiah. For, in that ye deny his Spirit, Life, Appearance and Power in the leaſt of his, ye deny him. O that ye could feel the tender bowels, truth of heart and true underſtanding from Gods holy Spirit, wherein this is written! O that ye could rightly diſtinguiſh between the pretious and the vile; and not call that vile, which in Gods ſight is pretious; nor that pretious, which in Gods ſight is vile. Ye muſt feel the Holy Seed, the Living of God Judge in you, and ye judge only in that, or ye will err in Judging according to the appearance, and not judge the righteous Judgment.

Life

Life and Immortality brought to light by the Gospel, being a true Discovery of the Nature, and ground of the Religion, and Kingdom of Christ, &c.

I

Some Queries concerning the State of the Church, as it was in the Apostles dayes, and was to be afterwards.

Quer. 1. WAs not the Church exceeding Beautiful and in heavenly Glory, in the dayes of the Apostles? did she only travel after Life and Glory? did she not also bring forth? did she not witness the Kingdom come, the Power come, the Eternal Life come? and did she not partake thereof and dwell therein? Was she not a woman clothed with the Sun, and the Moon under her feet, and Crowned with a Crown of twelve Stars? yea did she not bring forth the man-Child, which was to rule all Nations with a rod of Iron? who can read this State who is not in some measure a partaker of the same Glory?

Quer. 2, Was not this Heaven afterwards wrapped up, rolled up, and did not this Glory pass away? did not the great red Dragon fight with the Woman? and did she not fly into the wilderness, and was not the man-Child caught up to God? & did not the remnant of her Seed (who had the testimony of Jesus, and who kept his Commandments) testifie and propheſie in sackcloth? Read the 11 and 12 Chapter of the Revel.

Quer. 3. Upon the flight of the true Church into the wilderness (when she was thus gone out of Sight) did not the false Church start up, which made a Glorious and taking appearance in the World, to the eye of mans Wisdom? did not shee sit upon a Scarlet coloured beast (Wise and strong) having Seaven heads and ten horns? Was she not arrayed in purple and scarlet colour, and decked with Gold and pretious stones and pearls, having a golden Cup in her hand making the Kings, Nations and Inhabitants of the earth drunk with the Wine of her fornication? What do those things mean? what did the Wisdom of God thus describe her for?

Quer. 4. What did the true Church carry into the Wilderness with her, & what did she leave behind her? did not the Temple, the Altar and the true Worshipers go along with her? did not the Gentiles, such as were not true Jews, such as could not come iuto the Temple (but only into the outward Court, and Worship there) did not these stay behind? and had not these Gentiles henceforth (from the true Church its flight into the Wilderness) the outward Court given to them, that they might make use of it (and worship in it) as much as they would? The Virtue, the Life, the Power, the Spirit being taken away, & removed with the true Church which fled into the Wilderness; what did God regard the outward? leave it out of my Measure, saith the Lord, and give it to the Gentiles Revel. 11 2.

Quer. 5. What is the Cup, the golden Cup, which this false Church hath in her hand, wherein are sorceries and witchcrafts, wherewith she bewitcheth People and maketh them drunk? Is it not a Glorious appearance of things, without the true Life and Power? Doctrines concerning God, Doctrines concerning Christ, Doctrines concerning Worship, Doctrines concerning Sanctity? &c. Yea, but the Spirit, the Life, the Power that was in the Apostles dayes is wanting. What remains of these, is to be found with the true Church in the wilderness (the Blood of whose seed she drinks) not with her.

Quer. 6. What will become of this great Woman in the end; this Rich, this Glorious Glorious Church? ſhall ſhe continue ſo for ever? ſhall ſhe ſit as a Queen for ever, and never ſee ſorrow? ſhall the true Church never come out of the Wilderneſs, to be reſtored to her Beauty and Glory again? Nay, nay, in one day ſhall her plagues come, Death, and Mourning, and Famine. It is true ſhe is Wiſe and Strong (and a beaſt alſo on which ſhe ſits and rides, who is able to make war with, ſaith mans Wiſdom) but Wiſer and ſtronger is the Lord God Almighty who judgeth her, and who is taking and will take to him his great Power, wherewith he will Thunder againſt her, until he hath brought her down, and her fleſh be utterly burnt with Fire.

Quer. 7. What ſhall become of thoſe who drink of her Cup, and who believe and Worſhip as ſhe teacheth? ſhall they not all drink of the Wine of the Cup of the wrath of God almighty, poured out without mixture? ſhall they not partake of her dreadfull plagues, in the hour of her judgment? Read Revel, 14. 9, 10. 11. and Chap. 18. For theſe things are to come to paſs; as certainly as they were foretold: and when they do come to paſs, bleſſed ſhall the Saints be, who have ſuffered with patience, keeping the Commandments and the faith of Jeſus; and Wo will be to them, who have perſecuted them, and drunk their Blood, Read 13. 14. 17. and 19. Chap. of the Revel. which ſignifie of and teſtifie to theſe things.

Now whereas many ſay, that the Book of the Revel. is ſuch a myſtical book, that it is not to be underſtood: to what end then was it written? It was the Revelation of Jeſus Chriſt, which God gave unto him, to ſhew unto his Servants things which muſt ſhortly come to paſs, Chap 1 8. 1. and would Chriſt give them forth in ſuch words, as could not be underſtood; Again it is ſaid ver. 5. Bleſſed is he that Readeth, and they that hear the Words of his Propheſie, and keep thoſe things which are written therein: for the time is at hand. How can any be bleſſed in reading, or how can any keep what is written therein, without underſtanding the things contained in it? How can any follow the true Church into the Wilderneſs, or avoid being taken with the Golden Cup of fornications of the falſe Church, or refuſe the mark of the Beaſt (that he take it neither on his fore-head nor hand, nor have the name of the Beaſt upon him, nor ſo much as the number of his name) unleſs he truly & rightly underſtand theſe warnings and deſcriptions of the holy Spirit of God, given forth in the Book, to preſerve in the way of Truth, in the way of Life, (though through great ſufferings and tribulations) out of the way of Spiritual whoredom and death? For, Myſtical Babylon, the Nations of the earth and great ones (generally) commit fornication with, Revel. 17. 2. and 18. 3. Indeed this Book is a myſtery to mans wiſdom: for it was not given to the wiſdom of this world, but is hid from that; but God gave it Chriſt to give to his ſervants, and it is not a myſtery (but opened and revealed by the Fathers Spirit) to the Children of the true wiſdom, who are inſtructed and taught of God to eſcape that bed of whoredom, and ſpirittual fornication, which the earthly wiſdom (in the wiſeſt men of this world) is intangled in.

II.

Some Queries on Chap. 29, and 30. of Deut. compared with Rom. 10

Quer. 1. DId not God Command Moſes? to make a Covenant with the Children of Iſrael, in the land of Moab, beſides the Covenant he made with them in Horeb, Deut. 29. 1.

Queſt. 2. What was this Covenant? was it of the ſame Nature with the former? or was it of a different Nature; was not the former the Covenant of the Law? and was not this the Covenant of the Goſpel? did not this Covenant contain the promiſe of Circumciſing the Heart, Deut. 30. ver. 6. Whereas under the other Covenant, notwithſtanding all the temptations, ſigns and miracles which they had ſeen in Egypt, and in the Wilderneſs about the ſpace of Forty years: yet the Lord had not given them an Heart to perceive: and eyes to ſee and ears to hear unto, unto that day. But Moſes and Aaron, with Caleb, and Joſhuah, who know and partooke of the other Covenant, they were of a better Spirit, and underſtood the leadings and commands of God, and followed afterhim

Quer. 3. Had the Jews minded this Covenant, might they not have been able to keep the other alſo? Did any fail in Sacrifices or outward Obedience to the Law, who kept to this Covenant? what an holy man was Samuel, who did not ſo much as err in Government, but could plead with the people, whoſe Oxe or Aſs have I taken? or whom have I defrauded or oppreſſed. Zacharias and Elizabeth his wife walked in all the Commadments and Ordinances of the Lord blamleſs. And ſo the Children of God in the Goſpel, who have a new Heart and a new Spirit, and walk not after the fleſh, but after the Spirit, and Law of Life in Chriſt Jeſus, they alſo fulfill the Righteouſneſs of the Law declared in the Letter, Rom. 8, 4.

Quer. 4. What is the Commandment of this Covenant, and where is it written? the Commandments of the other Covenant were written in the Law of Moſes, and in Tables of Stone: but where is this Commandment written? or where is it to be found; Is it in heaven above to be fetched down from thence? or is it beyond the Sea, &c. Nay, is it not very nigh? is not the word of this Commandment nigh in the mouth and in the heart? and is it not there placed by the Lord for this very end, that men might hear it and do it?

Quer. 5. Was not this the word or Commandment of Life and good, or of death and evil to the Jews (ſee Chap. 30. 14, 15.) and is it not ſo alſo to mankind? He that hears and obeys the word of this Commandment, doth he not live and partake of good? he that diſobeys it, doth he not dye and undergo wrath and evil, tribulation and anguiſh upon his Soul from the hand of the Lord, either poured out upon him at preſent, or treaſured up for him againſt hereafter? Read Rom. 2. 5. 6. &c.

Quer. 6. Was not this other Covenant, this ſecond Covenant, this new Covenant, which God bid Moſes make with them then, the ſame which God makes with believers in the dayes of the Goſpel; The old Covenant had been made with the Jews before: was not this the new? They had had the Law in the letter before, wherein the Commandment was afar of: but is not the Commandment of the new Covenant (the Law of the Spirit of Life) nigh; and had not that People of the Jews the Spirit of the Lord nigh to inſtruct them, by vertue of this Covenant; That they had ſo, is plain, Nehem. 9. 20. and Iſa. 63. 10. but whether they had the Spirit nigh to them by vertue of the old Covenant, or by vertue of the new (which Moſes was appointed by God to make with them, as is afore expreſſed) let the wiſe in heart conſider: and whether the tender mercies, which God all along expreſſed to them (as is mentioned Iſa. 63. 7.) were by vertue of that Covenant wherein God had continual advantages, and provocations againſt them, or by vertue of this Covenant, from which mercy and redemption is continually ſpringing freely towards the Iſrael of God.

Quer. 7. whether the word of faith which the Apoſtles preached, was not the ſame word nigh in the mouth and heart which Moſes Preached? Is not the word of Life, the word of Faith, the word of the new Covenant one and the ſame in all ages and generations; Indeed there are outward ſayings and teſtimonies after divers manners: but Chriſt is the ſame yeſterday, to day, and for ever, and the Commandment of Life in the mouth and heart changeth not, but is always one and the ſame.

Quer. 8. What is the juſtification under this Covenant, or what is that which God hath an eye to in juſtifying any perſon here? is it not the obedience of faith? What doth God condemn, but unbelief? and will he not juſtifie Faith? for Faith flows from Life, and Life from Chriſt. So that indeed here the holy root makes all that are of it holy, and the Righteous root makes all that are of it Righteous; and he that doth Righteouſneſs is Righteous, even as he is Righteous, 1 John, 3, 7. and Chriſt is here indeed made unto the Soul, that thus receives him, and obeys him, as the word and Commandment of Life. I ſay, he is indeed made unto ſuch an one of God, Wiſdom, Righteouſneſs, Sanctification, and Redemption:

demption: and bleſſed are they that do not miſtake about this, but come truly to witneſs it.

III.

Some Queries concerning Deſtruction and Salvation.

Quer. 1. WHether there be not ſomewhat which deſtroyes, which hath the Nature of Death and Deſtruction in it, and which leaveneth with Death and Deſtruction, as it is let in and received.

Quer. 2. Whether there be not ſomewhat alſo which ſaves, which hath the Nature of Life and Salvation in it, and which leaveneth with Life and Salvation as it is let in and received?

Quer. 3. Whether that which deſtroyes be not near, and whether that which ſaves be not near alſo; (doth not Chriſt ſtand at the door and knock? and may not he be heard and let in. ſee Revel. 3. 20.)

Quer. 4. Whether this which is ſo near and ſo able to ſave, was not that which ſaved in all ages and generations, even before Chriſt appeared in a Body of Fleſh, and the ſhedding his bloud?

Quer. 5. Whether after Chriſt appeared in a Body of fleſh, and ſhedding his bloud, any can be ſaved thereby? or by any believing on Chriſt whatſoever, without letting in or receiving that Life and Power which ſaves? Be not deceived, God is not mocked: He that believeth in the Power which raiſed our Lord Jeſus Chriſt from the dead, and is ſubject to the Power, ſhall be redeemed and ſaved thereby: For Death came by the Souls Separation from the Power which gave Life; and Chriſt ſaves by bringing to the Power again (ſo that he that would indeed be ſaved by Chriſt, muſt believe in God through him, and feel the Power which redeems.) But let a man believe never ſo much concerning God and Chriſt; until he feel this and be changed by the vertue and operation of this, he cannot be ſaved; but is ſtill in his Sins, and under condemnation and wrath; becauſe of Sin, whatever he think of himſelf.

Quer. 6. Whether Chriſt was not the ſame yeſterday, to day and for ever: even before he took up the Body of Fleſh, while he was in the Body, after he laid down the Body; and after he took it up again and appeared in it to his Diſciples?

Quer. 7. Whether Chriſt, where he inwardly and Spiritually appears and is received, doth not diſcover, ſhake, diſſettle, and remove that Nature, which cannot receive the Law, and ſo bring up and bring forth the Heavely ſeed, which was afore the Law (which is appointed by God for a Generation to himſelf) which alwayes doth the will of him who quickens it, and who fills it with Life and Power from an high?

IV.

Some Queries on Coloſs. 1. 27, 28, 29. (obſerve, that in ver. 27. whereas it is in our common Tranſlation rendred, this Myſtery among the Gentiles; and it is by ſome other Tranſlations rendred, This Myſtery in the Gentiles; and ſo it is in the Greek)

Quer. 1. WHether there be not a Myſtery of Light, a Myſtery of Life: ſomewhat of true Light hidden, ſomewhat of true Life hidden in the Gentiles? Whatſoever makes manifeſt, is Light, ſaith the Apoſtle, Epheſ. 5. 13, 14. And that which may be known of God is manifeſt in them, Rom. 1. Is there not ſomewhat in the Gentiles, which in ſome meaſure diſcovers ſomewhat contrary to God in them, and is many times working in their minds againſt it? Is not this of a Pretious Nature? and hath it not Pretious Vertue and Power in it, though it be little tooke notice of by them?

Quer.

Quer. 2. Do not the Saints know what this myſtery is? do they not know what is the Riches and Glory of it? Indeed it hath been hid from Ages and Generations; ſo that they knew it not: but is it hid from the Saints alſo, in the day of the Goſpel? is it not revealed in them, and to them?

Quer. 3 What is this Myſtery in them in whom it is revealed? Is it not Chriſt in them? Is it not the hope of Glory in them? Do they not know it to be Chriſt? Do they not know it to be the hope of Glory? Who can damp the Faith or darken the Knowledge of thoſe, who feel the Myſtery of Life revealed in them? who feel Chriſt the (hope of Glory) Living, Dwelling, and Reigning, in the Authority and Power of the Father, in their own hearts?

Quer. 4. Did not the Apoſtles preach this Myſtery? did they not Preach the Word of Faith within in the Heart? the Kingdom within? Chriſt, the hope of Glory within? Did they not Preach this Meſſage of the Goſpel (which they had from Chriſt to carry to men) that God is Light, and in him is no darkneſs at all? And did they not Preach it to this very end, to turn men and bring men, from the Darkneſs within to the Light within? That in it they might have Union and Fellowſhip with God, who is Light. Can any have fellowſhip with God, who is Light, but as his Spirit is brought out of the inward darkneſs, into the inward Light?

Quer. 5. What did the Apoſtle Paul, and the other Apoſtles aim at, in their warning men and teaching them in all Wiſdom? Was it not to perfect the work of God in them, and that they might preſent every man perfect in Chriſt Jeſus.

Quer. 6. Did not the Grace and Power of God go along with the Apoſtles, and work in them mightily to this end, even for the perfecting the Saints? And the Grace and Power of God, working mightily againſt ſin, and the power of Satan, is it not able to conquer Satan, and to make him fall like Lightning, and to trample him under feet? conſider ver. 19, & 2 Theſ 1. 11, 12.

Quer. 7. Did the Apoſtles ever preach ſuch a Doctrine, that no man could be perfected in this Life; but man muſt alwayes, (every day) be committing ſin? Nay, did they not ſpeak Wiſdom among them that were perfect, and ſay, let as many of us as be perfect, be thus minded? Did they not diſtinguiſh between the weak, and between the ſtrong and perfect? Do they not ſpeak of ſome that had overcome the wicked one, and were born of God, and did not ſin? It is a pretious thing to feel the Power of God regenerating the mind: But it is much more pretious to witneſs it regenerared. But that ſtate none know, but they that are in it: but this is moſt certain, that ſin is ſhut out of it, and that all things are new there.

Quer. 8. Will the Myſtery of Life, where it is received and turned to, ever ceaſe working againſt the Myſtery of Death, untill it hath wrought it out of the mind? ſhall Judgment never be brought forth unto victory over ſin in the Heart? ſhall there never be pure and full Communion with the Lord here in this world, without the interruption of ſin? Theſe things, ſaith John, I write to you, that your Joy may be full. Shall the Joy never be full in any? How can the Joy be full, where ſin hath power and breaks in upon the ſoul, and prevaileth upon the mind, even to the committing of it daily? The ſoul that is weary of ſin, and grieved at its grieving Gods Spirit thereby, can never come to full union and fellowſhip with the Lord, nor to have its joy full while it doth that which grieves Gods Spirit: for it is impoſſible but it ſhould grieve the Soul alſo, and weaken its joy and rejoycing in the Lord.

Some Queries concerning the Way of Life, and Myſtery of the Goſpel, Quer. 1. IS not the way of Life, the way of Holineſs, the way of Truth, the way of Peace one and the ſame, in all Ages and Generations? was there ever or ſhall there ever be another, than that which was from the begining?

Quer. 2. Is not this way a pure way, a clean way? Can any impure thing walk in it? Is not the Gate ſtraight, and the way narrow that leadeth unto Life? is it eaſy finding it? or is it eaſy entring into it and walking in it? Doth not the Corruption and Unholineſs of the hearts of many hinder them, from walking in the holy way of Life and Peace?

Quer. 3. Is not this way a Myſtery? Can any learn it, but thoſe, whoſe eyes are opened by the Lord, and to whom the Myſtery is revealed by him? Can any diſcern or underſtand it, but the Children of the Pure, Heavenly Wiſdom, whom the Lord teacheth, and whoſe eyes he openeth, to ſee and juſtifie it in every Age?

Quer. 5. Is not the whole Viſion of God, the whole Viſion of Life, the whole Viſion of Peace, a Book ſealed to all ſorts (both learned and unlearned in every Age and Generation) but thoſe to whom the Lord unſeals it?

Quer. 4. May not ſuch, as are not at all acquainted with the Myſtery of Godlineſs, the Myſtery of Life, the Myſtery of Redemption; read what the Scriptures ſay concerning theſe things, and get a great deal of knowledge (from the Letter of the Scriptures) into thier minds, and be able to raiſe Doctrines, Reaſons, Uſes, &c. And back all by Scriptures very plentifully? But are not thoſe, who teach not from the Myſtery of Life and gift of the Spirit, but only what they have gathered and formed from the Letter; I ſay, are not ſuch blind leaders of the blind? and is it poſſible, but that they themſelves and ſuch as follow them ſhould fall into the ditch? For it is only the Myſtery of Life, and Redemption (not a litteral Knowledge and Wiſdom, though with an endeavour to practiſe according thereto) which preſerves out of the ditch. O that this were duly conſidered of! for it is tenderly and weightily propoſed.

Quer. 6. What is the Knowledge of Chriſt which ſaves? Is it a Knowledge of him after the Letter, or a Knowledge of him in the Spirit and Power of the endleſs Life? Can he be known truly, livingly, and ſavingly, without the Fathers revealing him in man? or can any truly call him Lord, but they that are firſt taught by the father to diſcern his Spiritual and heavenly Glory, and to receive him and bow to him in Spirit?

Quer. 7. What is it to kiſs the Son? Can any do ſo, but thoſe who diſcern and receive the Light of his Spirit.

Quer. 8. Can any truly know the Father, unleſs the Son reveal him? or can any know the Son, unleſs the Father reveal him? I know men may get Notions out of the Scriptures, concerning God the Father and his Son: but can they get true Knowledge of either, without the inſpiration of the Almighty which giveth underſtanding?

Quer. 9. Can any perſon fear God and depart from Evil, (any where upon the face of the earth) without ſome viſit of the Lord Jeſus Chriſt to his ſoul, and without receiving ſomewhat of Life and Power from him? He is the Wiſdom of God, he can teach this, but can any elſe teach it? If none elſe can teach it; then he that learn'd it, muſt needs learn it of him. Is not this (to wit, to fear God and depart from Evil) the path of Wiſdom, which is hid from all living, but ſuch as are taught by Chriſt, who is the Wiſdom of God. Read Job, 28. 12. to the end of the Chap. and conſider. For doth not the Spirit of Chriſt, which convinceth of ſin, Reach to all men and Miniſter to all men inwardly and ſpiritually, in ſome days of inſtruction about fearing God and departing from Evil?

Quer. 10. Can any be acquainted with the fear of God, and be ſenſible of the hour of his Judgment, and give Glory to him and worſhip him, but they muſt know and receive the everlaſting Goſpel? They that are ſent to preach this after the Apoſtacy, are they not ſent to preach it as the everlaſting Goſpel; read Revel. 14. 6, 7. and conſider. For, come to Life and Power in any Doctrine, which Chriſt ſends his meſſengers to preach towards the ſalvation of mens ſouls, a man comes to the Goſpel preſently: but read and aſſent to, and practiſe all the things (as well as men can) related in the Scriptures without the Life and Power, and ſo acknowledge and believe all that is ſaid concerning Chriſt: yet for all this this, and in the midſt of all this, a man may miſs of the Goſpel: for the Goſpel is an hidden Myſtery of the Life and Power, ſee Coloſ. 1. 26, 27

Quer. 11. Is not the meſſage of the Goſpel, That God is Light, and in him is no darkneſs at all? doth not the Spirit of Chriſt Preach this, more or leſs, to all people under heaven? Yea, is not the Goſpel preached in every Creature, and hid in thoſe that are loſt, whom the God of this world blindeth? for is not the Spirit of God, in ſome meaſure, every where convincing men of Sin, and drawing them out of Darkneſs, into the ſenſe and obedience of Light? and will not this be the generall and univerſal condemnation of the world, that they did not bring their deeds to the Light, but turned from it and hated it, loving the darkneſs more than it, becauſe their deeds were evil, and they had not a mind to part with them, but to remain and abide in them?

Alas, alas! Men ſhould paſs through the Knowledge of things after the Letter, into the Knowledge of things after the Spirit and Power of the endleſs Life; but, inſtead thereof, men ſtick in their apprehenſions of the Letter: and if any man be taught of God, and have the things of his Kingdom, and the Myſtery of the Scriptures revealed to him in the Spirit, and ſo ſignifie of them, in the words which Gods Wiſdom teacheth; yet ſo men know them not, but oppoſe and reſiſt the Miniſtration of Life and Power in their day and generation! and this will be bitterneſs in the latter end, even as bitter to the profeſſors of this age, as the former denying of Chriſts appearance in the Fleſh was to the profeſſors of that Age.

VI.

Some Queries concerning Righteouſneſs or Juſtification.

Quer. 1. IS there not a new Covenant under the Goſpel, as well as there was an old Covenant under the Law.

Quer. 2. What did the old Covenant require? Did it not require Obedience to the Law of Moſes? What doth the new Covenant require? doth it not require Faith in Chriſt and Obedience to his Spirit,? Doth it not require Faith in the Grace, and Obedience to the Grace which bringeth Salvation, teaching to deny ungodlineſs and Worldly luſts &c.

Quer. 3. What is the Righteouſneſs or Juſtification in the Old Covenant? what doth God Juſtifie in the old Covenant? doth he not Juſtifie the Obedience thereto, and condemn all diſobedience? what is the Righteouſneſs or Juſtification of the new Covenant? what doth God juſtifie in men under the new Covenant? Doth he not Juſtifie their Faith in Crriſt, and their Obedience to the Law of his Spirit? is not whatſoever is not of Faith ſin and condemned, and whatſoever is of Faith holy, and juſtified?

Quer. 4. What is Faith? is it not the gift of God? What is Obedience? doth it not flow from faith? is it not performed by the Power and in the newneſs of the Spirit? and is not that juſtifiable, and always juſtified in the ſight of God? Doth it not ſpring from the new Tree, from the holy root of Life in the Heart? and whatſoever ſprings therefrom, is it not holy and righteous? and is not whatſoever is truly Holy and Righteous, juſtified, and accounted Righteous by the holy and Righteous God?

Quer. 5. To what end was Chriſt made under the Law, and did fulfill the righteouſneſs of the Law? was it not that he might accompliſh and fulfill that Righteouſneſs, and ſo make way for the bringing in of the everlaſting Righteouſneſs, even of the Righteouſneſs of his own Nature and Spirit, which is everlaſting? is not this the righteouſneſs, which the Children of the new Covenant experience in the new and living way? is not this far beyond the Righteouſneſs of the Law, if they could fulfill it never ſo exactly from the Letter! For I feel a vaſt difference between that righteouſneſs which would belong to me from the Law, and the righteouſneſs which flows into my heart from the Nature and Spirit of Chriſt revealed in me, and which floweth up in me from my Union with him: for this is absolutely a Righteousness of another Nature, of another Kind, of another Root.

Quer. 6. If Christ fulfilling the Law of Moses, the Law of the first Covenant, were imputed to us as our Righteousness, and we justifyed in the Sight of God thereby; were not then our righteousness the Righteousness of the First Covenant in Nature, and our justification a justification by the Righteousness of the first Covenant? For Christ was made under the Law, made under the first Covenant, and fulfilled the Righteousness of the first Covenant: so that if that be imputed to us for Righteousness, then the Righteousness of the first Covenant is imputed to us for Righteousness, and is our Righteousness.

Quer. 7. Was not Faith imputed to Abraham for Righteousness? What was his Righteousness? was it not the Faith which he had from Christ, whereby and wherewith he believed God? Is not Faith of the Nature of Christ? Is not true Faith Justified for ever, and doth it not Justifie him in whom it is found? And doth not Gospel Obedience flow from Faith? and hath it not of the Nature of Faith in it? O how pure and pretious was it in the eye of God, that Abraham reasoned not, consulted not with Flesh and Blood, but retired into Faith in the pure Power! He believed God, saith the Scriptures, and it was accounted to him for Righteousness: and shall it not be Imputed to us also, if we have the same Faith, and believe in the same Power?

Some Queries about being under the Law, and being under Grace.

Quer. 1. WHether they that have received the Spirit of Grace, and are under the Spirit of Grace; I say, whether they were under the Law also, or witness freedom therefrom?

Quer. 2. What is the Law? is it not a Ministration of Death, of Bondage, of Condemnation? What is the Spirit of the Lord, the Spirit of Grace?—is it not a Spirit of Life, a Spirit of liberty, a Spirit that frees from Bondage? They that have received it, and are in subjection to it, do they not partake of its liberty, and through it come into dominion over Sin and Death?

Quer. 3. Is the Law to the Righteous or Unrighteous? whom was it made for? He that cometh into the Holy and Righteous Nature of the Seed, doth he not come from under the Law? Doth he not come into the Nature, State and Spirit, which is free from the Law?

Quer. 4. What is it to come through the Law into the Liberty and Redemption of Sons? What is it to know the Seed free in the particular, and to come into the freedom of the Seed? Doth not the Son make free, the truth of God make free, all that come to it and dwell in it; and are not they that are made free by it, free indeed? O Sion, thy Children are all free born! Jerusalem which is above is free, which is the Mother of us all: and she bringeth forth none but free Children. They that dwell in the height of notion, they are not free: but they that dwell in the Power of Life, know that which makes free, and witness freedom by it.

Some Queries for the Professors of Christianity to Consider of, and try their States by: For it is good for every one to know and Understand his Estate aright (what it is in the sight of the Lord) and not to be mistaken in a matter of so great Concernment.

Quer. 1. IS thy Spirit, Heart, Mind, Soul and Body, a Temple for God to dwell in? Who dwells in thy Heart? Doth the Holy Spirit or the Unclean Spirit? Is that dislodged and purged out of thee, with which God will not dwell? Is that discovered and taken away, in which the wicked one dwelleth? O

Jerusa-

Jeruſalem, waſh thine Heart from Wickedneſs, how long ſhall thy vain Thoughts lodge within thee! O Jeruſalem, wilt thou not be made Clean? When ſhall it once be? Is not forbearing to touch every unclean thing, and cleanſing from all filthineſs of Fleſh and Spirit, more neceſſary to the State of a Son and Daughter of the moſt High, than moſt people are aware of? read 2. Cor. 6. 16, 17. and Chap. 7. 1.

Quer. Is Chriſt Revealed in thee? Doth God dwell any where, in any heart, but where Chriſt is, but where he is inwardly and Spiritually Revealed? Know ye not that Chriſt is in you except ye be Reprobates? And can any know Chriſt in them, who have not had him Revealed there by the Father? Almoſt all ſorts of Pretenders to Chriſt, own him as ſpoken of without; but the true Chriſtian witneſſeth him Revealed within: for it pleaſeth the Father to Reveal the Son in ſuch, and none can be truly Ingrafted into Chriſt, but as Chriſt is in ſome meaſure made manifeſt within.

Quer. 3. How doſt thou Confeſs Jeſus to be the Lord? Is it by Notions from the Letter, or by feeling his Spirit and Power Revealed within, and thy heart made ſubject to his Spirit and Power inwardly Revealed? For there is a Confeſſing Chriſt in and by the Spirit, and a confeſſing him without the Spirit, according as men can read, conceive, and apprehend of him from the Letter: Conſider which of theſe thine is.

Quer. 4. Art thou come out of the Apoſtacy and Spirit of Darkneſs, into the Light and Spirit of Chriſt? What was the Apoſtacy from? Was it not from the Spirit, from the Anointing? Wherein did it Conſiſt? Did it conſiſt in holding a knowledge of Chriſt, and form of Godlineſs out of the Power? Art thou returned to the Anointing? To the Holy Spirit of the Father? Haſt thou received it? Doſt thou Live and Walk in it, and not fulfill he Luſts of the Fleſh?

Quer. 5. Doſt thou know the Tree of Righteouſneſs, and the Tree of Unrighteouſneſs, inwardly? Haſt thou felt the Axe laid to the Root of the corrupt Tree, and it cut down; and the holy Plant of God (the Plant of his Renown) planted in thy Heart, and bringing forth Fruit to him? Can the fruit ever become good in thee, till the Tree be made good? Can the corrupt Tree ever bring forth the Holy Fruit of Righteouſneſs to the Lord? O mind thy growth, I mean, from what thou groweſt, and from what thy Fruit proceedeth: for all the Knowledge, Faith, Love, Zeal, Practices, &c. which proceed not from the renewed Spirit and Nature, is not the good Fruit which God calls for, and accepts: but the denying the leaſt cuſtom or faſhion of this world, from a renewed Nature, and from the drawings and teachings of Gods Spirit, is good Fruit, and accepted by him.

Quer. 6. Can any be Redeemed to God, but by his judgment and Righteouſneſs Revealed in them? Is the Soul redeemed from its Enemies, while its Enemies remain in ſtrength, and have the Dominion over it? Where Grace is received, and the Soul taught by it, and ſubject to it; Doth it not break the Dominion of Sin? As the Spirit of judgment and burning is felt in any Heart, doth it not cut down, and burn up Sin there? And as the righteous Spirit is turned to, is not his righteous Nature received, and doth not the Holy and Righteous Seed ſpring up in the Heart? And as it ſpringeth up, Doth it not Redeem and Deliver that which is joyned to it? Can any be Redeemed by a Righteouſneſs at a diſtance, without partaking of the new and holy and righteous Image of the Son? And he that is the righteous in meaſure, he may do Righteouſneſs: But no man can do Righteouſneſs, until he become Righteous, by being joyned to, Changed by, and in ſome meaſure brought forth a new Plant to God, in the new Righteous and Holy Seed; ſee 1 Joh. 3. 7.

Quer. 7. Do ye indeed know the new Covenant? Was it ever inwardly revealed in you? Do ye know the difference between reading the holy Directions given forth in the Scriptures, and ſo getting them into your minds and practiſing them, as well as you can; I ſay, do ye know the difference between this, and Gods writing them in your Hearts, and cauſing you to walk in his Ways? Do ye know the difference between reading in the Letter, and in the Spirit: and between walking according to the oldneſs of the Letter, and according to the newneſs of the ſpirit? O that ye might not be deceived about theſe things, but might know the Truth, as it is in Jeſus, and come into fellowſhip with us therein: For truly our fellowſhip is with the Father and the Son, in that which changeth not, but is one and the ſame for ever: yea the Lord our God hath Redeemed us out of all the changeable Ways, Religions and Worſhips, into the one pure way of Life, and into the Worſhip in the one Spirit and Truth, which changeth not, but is ſtill what it was, even one and the ſame before the Law of Moſes, or Writings of the Prophets, all the time of the Law, while Chriſt was in the fleſh, afterwards when he was Revealed in Spirit, and all the time of the Apoſtacy, and after the Apoſtacy, and ſo for ever.

IX.

A Queſtion Anſwered about Preaching the Goſpel after the Apoſtacy.

Queſt. WHy doth God after the Apoſtacy, ſend an Angel to Preach the everlaſting Goſpel, after a manner different from what it was Preached before the Apoſtacy? How was it Preached before the Apoſtacy? Was it not Preached thus, that in Chriſt alone is Remiſſion of Sins, and Salvation through faith in his Blood? How is it to be Preached after the Apoſtacy? Is not an Angel from God, ſent to preach it thus; fear God and give glory to him; for the hour of his judgment is come: And Worſhip him that made Heaven and Earth, and the Sea, and the Fountains of Waters? Is this the ſame Goſpel that was Preached before? How different is the ſound thereof! Surely this would ſeem not the ſame, but rather another Goſpel, to any man who is not taught of God, and hath not received of him the true Underſtanding to obſerve and diſcern the nature of things.

Anſw. The Goſpel is the ſame in ſubſtance, though differing in ſound and manner of appearance; and they that judge not according to appearance, but judge righteous judgment, experience it to be the ſame: for whoever receives the Goſpel thus preached, receives the power of God unto ſalvation, which goeth along with his fear, and with the hour of judgment, and with the true Worſhip.

And this is the Reaſon why the Lord ſends his Angel thus to Preach it; that he might ſhut out the Birth of the falſe Wiſdom, and convey it to the Children of the true Wiſdom. For in the Apoſtacy, the Doctrines of the Knowledge of Chriſt had been Corrupted, and held in the wrong part; and men had got a wrong knowledge, and a dead belief concerning Chriſt, and his Blood, &c.

Therefore, to ſhut out theſe, God ſo orders his Goſpel to be Preached, as theſe cannot underſtand it, nor know it to be the Goſpel, nor come into this ſpiritual Miniſtration of it; but thoſe whom the Lord toucheth, whoſe hearts he openeth and quickneth, they (in the Demonſtration of his Spirit) have the ſenſe and obedience of it; for men had got a form of Religion, a form of Knowledg, a form of Doctrine, a form of Worſhip out of the Power: Therefore the Lord comes with the light of his Spirit, to ſever between that which was known and held out of the power, and that which was received and held in the power, and ſo Preached the Truth, that none but thoſe that are of the Truth, can Own and Receive it.

Had he ſent an Angel to Preach the Birth of Chriſt, the Death of Chriſt, his Reſurrection, &c. all the Dead would receive this: but to Preach thus; Fear God, Come to the Spirit of judgment and Burning, Worſhip Him that made the Heaven, the Earth, the Sea, and Fountains of Waters; Who can underſtand what this means? Who can know this to be the Everlaſting Goſpel, but he that is taught of God?

This is to Preach God the Creator, ſaith the Wiſe Profeſſor; this is not to Preach Chriſt the Redeemer: This is not to Preach the Everlaſting Goſpel, will they readily ſay. Yes, but God who is Wiſe, and knows what the Goſpel is, and ſends his Angel to Preach Preach it after the Apostacy, sends it thus to be Preached to every Nation, Kindred, Tongue and People: Read Rev. 14. 6, 7. and consider seriously, and spurn not against the way of Gods Preaching his Everlasting Truth, wherein is wrapped up the Eternal Salvation and happiness of Mankind, yea more especially of this Age, who ought to bow to God in this his way of dispersing his Truth, which he himself hath Chosen.

Now, consider this one thing, Was ever the Gospel thus Preached before this Age? The same Gospel was preached from the beginning: but was it ever thus preaced before? The Seed of the Womam, shall bruise the Serpents Head: So it was Preached to Adam; In thy Seed shall all the Families of the Earth be Blessed: So it was preached to Abraham; To us a Child is Born, to us a Son is given, &c. So it was preached in the days of the Prophets; By this Man, every one that believeth in his Name, shall receive Remission of sins. So it was preached in the Apostles Days.

And in the Reformation from Popery, some of the Doctrines about Free Justification by Grace, and of Remission of Sins by Faith in Christ, &c. were revived: But, was it ever thus preached before our Age? Did Persons ever come forth in the Power and Authority of God, bidding Men fear him, and be sensible of the hour of his judgment, even of his mighty day which was at hand; and come out of all false Ways and Worships, into the Worship of him, who made Heaven and Earth, and the Sea, and Fountains of Waters? I say, Did persons ever come forth thus, and preach the Everlasting Gospel thus, preach these Doctrines to Men, as the Gospel of God, before this day? And let Men well consider, whether it be not indeed, of of God, and by his Command and Power thus preached; and take heed of opposing his Message, lest they be found Fighters against him.

For mind: Was not this always the sum and substance in every Dispensation? could men be saved by believing that the Seed of the Woman should bruise the Serpent's Head? Or that in Abraham's seed all the Families of the Earth should be blessed? Or, that a Child should be Born, and a Son given? Or that, through Christ's Name, Remission of sins was to be had, &c. Without coming into the true Fear, which teacheth and causeth to depart from Evil; and without giving Glory to God, in bowing to his Spirits Instructions, and Teachings; and without worshiping him, who made Heaven and Earth, and Sea, and fountains of Water? Or, Could any fear the Lord, and give Glory to him, and come under the hour of his Judgment, and Worship him, who made Heaven, and Earth, and Sea, and fountains of Waters; but they must first feel the Power of the Gospel overcoming their Spirits, and leading them thither.

X.

Two Questions answered; one concerning others not learning what God teacheth us; the other concerning the way of his teaching us.

Quest. 1. WHat is the reason, that others cannot learn nor become subject to the same spiritual Truths, which God makes manifest to us and subjecteth our Spirits to?

Answ. The reason is, Because they do not learn the same way that God teacheth us; and so, though they have many advantages above us of Parts, Learning, &c. and studdy hard to know much; yet not coming into the right way, wherein God's Spirit teacheth, they never come to learn the Truth, as it is there taught.

Quest. 2. But What is the Way, wherein God teacheth you, may some say.

Answ. Thus God teacheth us, by giving us an understanding to know him that is true, and by opening an ear in us to hear his Voice; and so, being kept within the Limits of that Understanding and Ear, we come to hear and know aright.

Take heed (said Christ), how ye hear. Oh! the Lord hath made us sensible of the weight of that Scripture; and we have often experienced, that it is easy to hear amiss, and read amiss, and pray amiss, and believe amiss, and hope amiss; but hard to do any of these aright. Therefore, we are taught still to wait for the stirring of the Waters, for the moving of Gods Holy Spirit upon our Spirits; and then Healing, Vertue, and Ability is felt and received from him, to perform what he requires.

Thus

Thus, when we read the Scriptures, our eyes are towards him, and we watch against our own Understandings, against what they could gather, or comprehend of themselves, and wait to feel, how he will open our Spirits, and what he will make manifest to them, being opened: and if he drop down nothing, we gather nothing; but if he give Light, then in his Light we see and receive Light. So in praying, we wait to feel the Birth of Life (which is of the the Father and which the Father hears) breath in us; and so far as the spirit of the Father breaths upon it, and it breaths to the Father, so far we Pray: And when Life stops, we stop, and dare not offer up to God any Sacrifice of our own, but what the Father prepares and gives us. So in eating and drinking, and what ever we do, our heart is retired to the Lord, and we wait to feel every thing sanctified by his Presence and Blessing: And indeed, here every thing is sweet unto us. And in what ever God enables us to do, we narrowly watch to that direction of Christ, not to let the left hand know, what the right hand doth. For we are nothing of our selves, nor can do any thing of our selves: therefore whatever is done in us, as we feel the Grace of God, the Vertue and Power of his Life working all in us; so it is still given us to attribute all the Honour and Glory thereto.

And in this Temper of Spirit, we find nothing too hard for us: for the strength of Christ is still at hand, even in the midst of our weakness, and the Riches of the Kingdom is still at hand in the midst of our Poverty and Nothingness: and his strength works, and our Weakness doth not hinder the Glory of him that works through it. So being beaten to it, by constant sense, and dayly experience, that it is not by our Willing or Running, according to our Wisdom and Strength, that we can attain any thing; but by God's shewing Mercy to us in Christ; we therefore daily wait at the Posts of God's Heavenly Wisdom, to feel the gate of Mercy and tender Love opened to us, and Mercy & Love flow in upon us; whereby we may, and daily do obtain what our Hearts desire and seek after, blessed be the Lord, for ever.

And truly here, the Springings of Love, and Openings of Mercy from our God, we have fellowship and Converse with the Father and Son, and one with another, in the Holy Spirit of Life; and we testify of these things to others, that they also might come into the same fellowship, and be of the same Faith which flows from, and abides in, and makes living, in the Power and Life Eternal.

The Lord guide all Tender, Breathing, Panting Spirits hither; that they may be satisfied in the Goodness, and loving Kindness of the Lord, and may Eat abundantly of the Fatness of his House, and Drink of the Rivers of his Pleasures, and not wander up and down any longer in their own barren Thoughts, Apprehensions, and Conceivings upon the Scriptures.

XI.

Of the threefold appearance of Christ, to wit, under the Law in a Body of Flesh, and in his Spirit and Power.

First UNder the Law, various were the appearances of Christ: Sometimes as an Angel, in the likeness of a Man; So to Abraham, and so to Jacob, when Jacob wrestled with him, and prevailed, and had overcome God: So to Joshuah, or the Captain of the Lords Host, at his besieging Jericho: So to Moses, in the Bush, he appeared as an Angel, Acts. 7. 35. So likewise in Visions: Those Glorious Appearances of God to the Prophets in Visions, were the appearances of Christ; as particularly, that Glorious appearance of God sitting upon a Throne, and his Train filling the Temple, and the Seraphims crying Holy, Holy, Holy is the Lord of Hosts; his Glory is the fulness of the whole earth, Isa. 6. This was an Appearance of Christ to Isaiah, as is manifest, John. 12 41. where the Evangelists (relating to that Place) useth this expression: These things said Isaiah when he saw his Glory, and spake of him. So he was the Angel of God's Presence, which went before the Jews, in all their Journeyings and Travels out of Egypt, through the the Sea, and in the Wildernes, and in the time of the Judges; and wrought all their Deliverances for them, as is signified, Isa. 63. 9. In all their afflictions he was afflicted; and the Angel of his Presence saved them, &c. So with the Three Children He appeared in the midst of the fiery Furnace, in a form like the Son of God, as Nebuchadnezzar judged, Dan. 3. 25.

Now indeed, the whole Law was a Shadow of him, who was to come to be the substance of it, and to perform that inwardly in the Hearts of his, which the Law figured forth, and represented outwardly. Thus Moses, and all the Prophets, were fore-runners of him, the great Prophet of the Spiritual Israel of God; All the Priests, especially the High Priest, were Types, and fore-runners of him, and to end in him, who is the high Priest over the Houshold of God for ever. The Judges and Saviours were Types of him, the great Saviour and Redeemer: For they saved not by their own strength, but by his Spirit and Power coming upon them; so that the Yoak (which was made, and brought upon them, by their Rebellion against the Lord, and Disobedience to his Law) was still broken, because of the Anointing.

David, Solomon, and the good Kings, were Types of him: David of his conquest over his Spiritual Enemies; Solomon of his Ruling his Israel in Peace, after he had Conquered their Enemies.

Circumcision was a Type of his Circumcising the Heart, that his Children (his holy Seed) might Love the Lord their God, with all their heart, and live.

The Passover, and Blood of the Lamb, was a Type of his Blood, and sprinkled upon the Conscience, which preserveth against the stroak and Power of the Destroyer; and so God passeth over all such, when he visits for Sin and Transgression.

The outward Sabbath was a Type of the Pure Rest, which Christ gives to those that believe in his Name: for indeed, they that truly believe in him, do enter into Rest, and cease from their own Labours and Workings of themselves, and witness Gods Working in them, both to will and to do of his good Pleasure.

The outward Law, in the Letter, written in Tables of Stone, was a shadow of the Inward, Living, Pure, Powerful, Spiritual Law of Love and Life, which God writes in the Hearts of his Children; which constrains them to Obedience, and enables them to do all that God requires of them, with Ease and Delight: For truly the Yoak of his Law is Easy, and the burthen of his Commandments is Light; so that, they are not at all grievous to them that are under, and in subjection to his Spirit.

When the Mind is gathered, and brought from under the Spirit and Power of darkness, into his Spirit and Power; Oh, how easy is it to Believe, to Love, to Obey, &c. Indeed, there is nothing but Love, and Faith, and Obedience, and Life, and Righteousness, and Holiness, and pure Power, and Peace, and Joy here. For the old things are passed away, and all things are become new in Christ, to them that are in the new Creation in him.

So Canaan, the Holy Land, represented the Land of Life, or Country of Life, into which God gathers, and in which he feeds and preserves all the Living, whom he gathers out of the Territories of Death and Darkness. And the Plenty and Fulness of the Land of Canaan, and the sweet Rivers therein, signified the Abundance of Rich Things, and the Rivers of God's Pleasure, whereof his Redeemed ones Drink, as they come to live, and dwell, and walk and sup in, and with him.

Jerusalem, the Holy City, was a figure of the New Jerusalem, the Spiritual Jerusalem, the Heavenly Jerusalem, which is the Mother of all them that are born of the spirit; and the Hill, whereon Jerusalem was built, signified God's Holy Mountain, whereon this his City is built; and the Inhabitants of the outward Jerusalem, signified the Inhabiters of the new and inward Jerusalem, and the Temple signified Christ's Body, and the Bodyes of the Saints, which are Temples, which the Holy ones dwell in the midst of. And that Altar, in the outward Temple, signified the Altar in this inward Temple; which all the True, Inward, Spiritual Jews have right to Partake of, and none else: The fire in the outward Temple, and the Candlesticks, and the Lights which were never to go out, signified the Holy fire in the spiritual Temple, which comes from Heaven, wherewith all the spiritual sacrifices are to be offered up, and the Candlestick is to hold the Light (and the Priests to keep the Lamps burning) or God will remove it out of its Place. So the Holy Garments of the Priests, signified the tables of Righteousness, Innocency and Purity, wherewith the People of God under the Gospel (who are a Royal Priest-hood to him) are to be cloathed.

And the Ark signified that, which holds the Law of the New Covenant; and the Pot of Manna, with which kind of Food God fed and nourished the soul in the Wilderness, before he brought it into the Holy Land, must be for an everlasting Memorial in the Land of the Living. For indeed Christ appeared to, and was with that People in the Wilderness, in a Cloud, by day, and in a Pillar of fire, by night; which signified the Leadings of Gods spirit, in the day of the Gospel, Isa. 4. 5. And she was the Rock that followed them; and he was the Manna of which they did eat, and the Water of which they did drink; for they did eat and drink of the Heavenly things, in a figure, and (as their spirits were at any time opened) had a taste and sense of the True food, in and through the figure; yea, doubtless, at some times, they had all some sense, and did all eat of the same spiritual Meat, as we now eat of, and did all drink of the same Spiritual Drink, as we now drink of, 1 Cor. 10. 3, 4. for they were not only all under the Cloud, and did not only all pass through the Sea; but they were also all Baptized in the Cloud and in the Sea, having a sense of the Pure Power of the Lord, and of his outstretched Arm made bare for them; in which sense they sang his Praise, though they soon afterwards forgat his Works, Psal. 106. 11, 12. So likewise, there was Aaron's Rod that budded laid up in the Ark; which is the evidence of the true Priest-hood and Ministry for ever; and that which is so, is not to be spurned against; but still to be acknowledged, and Honoured as of God.

In it also were the Tables of the Law, in the Representative Ark: in the true Ark, are the Tables of the Law of Life, which God writes by the finger of his Spirit, and appoints to be kept in the spiritual Ark for ever.

Above the Ark was the Mercy-seat, with two Cherubims of Glory, one at each end of it, spreading their wings on high over the Mercy-seat, between whom God dwelt or sate, where God met with, and Communed with Moses, and the Priests, under the Law, when they came to Worship him, and enquire of him: which figured out the true Mercy-seat, under the Gospel, where the true Priests (the true Circumcision, the spiritual Israel of God) have Access with Boldness to the Throne of Grace; that (through the High-Priest of their Profession) they may obtain Mercy and Grace, to help in time of need.

So under the Law, all the Sacrifices (the Sin-offering, the Peace-offering, the Thank-offering, the Heave-offering, the Wave-offering, the whole burnt-offering, the meat-offering, the drink offering, &c.) signified Christ the one Offering, who comprehends them all; and the Holy, Spiritual, Heavenly Offerings, which the Spiritual People (the Priests of the Gospel) are dayly to offer up to God: and the sweet Spices, Frankinsence, and Odours signified the sweet seasonings of the Gospel-Sacrifices, with Grace, with Salt, with the Spirit, with the fresh breathings of Life, with Innocency, with Meekness, with Tenderness, with Zeal, with Faith, with Love, &c. which yields a most Pleasant scent in the Nostrils of the Lord.

Now, in the Bullock and Goat for the Sin-offering, the Blood was to be brought into the Holy Place, to make Atonement; and the Fat and Inwards burnt on the Altar; and the Flesh, Skin, and Dung, carried forth and burnt, without the Camp. What means this? O how Pretious is it to Read the figures of the Heavenly things with true understanding; but to read through the figures (with the eye of Life, with the eye of the Spirit) into the invisible substance; this is sweet, pretious and Heavenly indeed.

Secondly

Secondly, Concerning Christs appearance in a Body of Flesh.

When the time of these shadows drew towards an end, and the fulness of time was come; he who thus appeared in several Types and Shadows, among that People of the Jews under the Law, he now came down from the Father, debased himself and cloathed himself like a man, partaking of Flesh and Blood; and was in all things made like unto us (excepting Sin; for he was the Lamb without spot) humbling himself to come under the Law, and under the Curse, that he might Redeem those that are under the Law, (and under the Curse) by fulfilling the Righteousness thereof, and bringing themselves through into the Righteousness everlasting.

Now, while he was in the Body, his Glory did shine to the eye of the Children of the true Wisdom: his Disciples (to whom not flesh and blood, nor the Wisdom and Knowledge which they could get from the Letter, but his Father revealed him) they saw the hidden Glory? they saw through the Vail of his flesh, and beheld him as the only begotten of the Father, full of Grace and Truth,

Now in this Body he finished the Work which his Father gave him to do, he fulfilled all Righteousness (the Righteousness of the Letter, the Righteousness of the Spirit) that he might bring his through the Righteousness of the Law, or Letter, into the Righteousness of the Spirit and Power, into the Righteousness of the New Life; and here that Scripture is read and fulfilled, I through the Law am dead to the Law, that I might live to God. So his whole Life was a doing the will of the Father, which sent him.

When he was but twelve years old, he disputed with the Doctors and teachers of the Law, hearing and asking them Questions, (discovering the pure Wisdom of the Father which dwelt in him) because it was his Fathers business, which he was to be about, as he told his Mother, Luke. 2. 49. And when the Lord led him into the Wilderness to be tryed, he went and was Tempted, that he might fight the Battle against his great Adversary. And when the Spirit of the Lord was upon him, moving him to Preach the Gospel, he Preached the Gospel in the Spirit and Power of the Father, and went about doing good, and healing all that were oppressed of the Devil, as his Fathers Spirit led and guided him: for he did nothing of himself, or in his own Will, or for himself: but all in the Will and Time of the Father.

Mine hour is not yet come, said he to his Mother, when she was hasty to have him do that Miracle of turning Water into Wine, John. 2. 4. And so when his Brethren urged him to go up to the feast, John. 7. 3, 4. My time, said he is not yet come: your time is alwayes ready, ver. 5.

Thus he did alwayes please his Father, and seek the honour of him that sent him, and was Obedient unto Death, even the Death of the Cross, being willing to drink of the Cup, which his Father gave him to drink: and so, having finished his work, he returned from whence he came, and sate down at the right hand of the Majesty on high, being exalted above all Principalities and Powers, and Dominions, both in this world, and in that which is to come.

Thirdly, Now the Third Appearance of Christ, which these two outward Appearances made way for, was his appearance in Spirit, even his Pure, Inward, Heavenly Appearance in the Hearts of his Children. This he bids his Disciples wait for; telling them, that he would not leave them Comfortless, but would come again to them. They had had the Appearance of the Bridegroome in the flesh; and he was to go away. It could not be helped; it was necessary for them, that he should go away: but (saith he) I will come again. The same Power and Presence that is now with you in a Body of Flesh, shall visit you in Spirit, and so abide with you for ever: For he that is now with you shall be in you; Till that time ye shall have Sorrow, and be like a travelling Woman, but the World in the mean time shall rejoyce: but I will see you again, and your Heart shall re- joyce, and your joy no man takes from you. And was it not so? Did not Christ send the Spirit, the Comforter? did he not come in the Spirit and Power of the most high, to be with them alwaies to the end of the World? Did he not bid them, stay and wait at Jerusalem, for that Appearance of him in his Spirit; and not go about his work and message, till he came in the Power and Authority of his Father, to go along with them? And did not their Hearts rejoyce, when he came, with joy unspeakable, and full of Glory? had they not then the Joy and Peace, which passed all the understanding of man? which joy and Peace none could take from them? which Joy they were not Promised, that they should receive, till he came, and saw them again. Yea truly, in the Kingdom, Spirit and Power of our Lord Jesus Christ, there is a seeing eye to eye yea it was so, in some measure, with some Pretious ones, in the dayes of old, which that Promise, Psal. 32. 8. (I will guide thee with mine eye) intimates; for the eye of the Soul must be upon Gods Eye, and observe the Motion thereof, if it be guided thereby.

And truly, this Administration of the Spirit and Power of the Gospel, is exceeding Glorious; and they that come into it, come into the Glory and Heavenly Dominion, and Authority of the Lord Jesus Christ (and so are made Kings by him, and wear Crowns in his Presence, though they still cast them at his feet,) and are changed from Glory to Glory: and behold as in a Mirror, the Glory of the Lord, which none can do, but with the eye which is in some measure changed and Glorified.

Now, this Dispensation (of the Gospel, Spirit, and Power) began in the Apostles dayes; and the Church was exceeding chast, pure, and beautifull then, without spot or wrinkle; though there were some crept into the outward Court, which were spots among them, but that did not Marr the beauty of the rest; but they could bring Victory and Dominion to him, that sate on the Throne, and witnessed that Salvation and Strength, and the Kingdom of our God, and the Power of his Christ was come. For the Man-Child was born, and was among them; and the Glorious Woman, (the Church, the Spouse of Christ) Was clothed with the Sun, &c. And had both her Husband (her Lord and Head) and the Man-Child, (the pure Birth of Life) with her. But there was a falling away after this, and a thick dark Night, and a very great and Universal Apostacy from the Spirit and Power of the Apostles; many departing out of the Fear, into the High mindedness, and not keeping their standing in the Faith and Love, and Obedience of the Truth, but holding a form of Godliness out of the Power.

But God, in his tender Mercies, determined to send an Angel to Preach his everlasting Gospel again; and in due time so did, as is expressed, Revel. 14. 6, 7. (Mark, None could Preach the everlasting Gospel after the Apostacy, by any Ordination, or succession of ministry left amongst Men; but there must be a new receiving of the Gospel, by a new Message and Commission from on High:) And God likewise sent forth his Spirit of Judgment and Burning, to Consume the Whore (the false Church) which was grown very great, sitting over Peoples, Multitudes, Nations and Tongues; and to bring the true Church out of the Wilderness, into the injoyment of her Beauty and Glory again. And when she comes again, she comes as a morning without clouds; without any Vail, without any outward Types, or Shadows of the Glory to be revealed, even in the pure and Heavenly Glory it self.

He that hath a true eye, let him read this; and he that hath an heart opened by the Lord, let him acknowledge it: For the Name of the Lord Jesus Christ, is exalted, and the knees of his redeemed ones bow to him, and acknowledge him the only Anointed one, the only Lord and King over all, to the Glory of God, the Father, Amen.

Concerning

XII.

Concerning Mount Sinai, and Mount Sion.

WAs not Sinai, the Mount that might be touched, an earthly Mount, from whence was the Miniſtration of the Law outward, or in the Letter, which gendred to Bondage, Condemnation and Death? Doth not the Apoſtle Peter, ſay concerning the law, as ſo adminiſtred, That it was a Yoak too heavy for them, or their Fathers to bear? Acts. 15. 10.

Is not the Goſpel Sion, A Spiritual mount, an Heavenly mount, a mount that cannot be touched by humane ſenſes? a Mount from whence is the Miniſtration of the ſpirit, the miniſtration of liberty, the miniſtration of life, the miniſtration of the Glory that excelleth? Is it not the holy mountain, whereon the holy City (the new Jeruſalem) is built, and where the King of Righteouſneſs rules in Righteouſneſs and Peace, over all his ſubjects? where he makes to them the feaſt of fat things, and of wines on the Lees well refreſhed? where he and his ſup together; eating and drinking the bread and wine of the Kingdom, even the living bread, and the fruit of the living Vine?

Is not the whole miniſtration of Life, from the beginning to the end, from mount Sion? Is it, any of it, from mount Sinai?

Is not Sion to be redeemed with Judgment, and her converts with Righteouſneſs? Doth either the judgment, or the Righteouſneſs, wherewith Sion, and her converts are to be redeemed, come from mount Sinai? Do they not both come from mount Sion?

Out of Sion ſhall go forth the Law, and the word of the Lord from Jeruſalem, Iſa. 2. He that underſtandeth this ſcripture knoweth the Goſpel ſtate.

Ye are not come, (ſaid the Apoſtle) to the Mount that might be touched, and that burned with Fire; nor unto blackneſs, and darkneſs, and Tempeſt, and the ſound of a Trumpet, and the voice of Words, &c. but ye are come to mount Sion, and unto the City of the Living God, the Heavenly Jeruſalem. &c. Heb. 12.

Now they that are come thither, they witneſs the Law of the ſpirit of life in Chriſt Jeſus, which maketh free from the Law of Sin and death, and the pure word of eternal Life iſſuing thence, even from that Sion, and Jeruſalem.

Mind that Scripture, Gal. 4. 25, 26 For this Agar is mount Sinai in Arabia, and anſwereth to Jeruſalem; which now is and is in bondage with her Children: but Jeruſalem which is above, is free, which is the Mother of us all?

We read, Revel. 11. 19. that the Temple of God was opened in Heaven; and there was ſeen in his Temple the Ark of his Teſtament; and there were Lightnings and Voices, and Thunderings, and an Earthquake, and great Hail. Whence did thoſe Lightnings, Voices, Thunderings, &c. iſſue? out of Sinai, or out of Sion; Doth not the Lyon of the tribe of Judah roar out of Sion, againſt his Enemies, and ſhoot the arrows of his Judgments from thence? and if he judge his Enemies from thence, doth he not judge his People from thence alſo? Is not his fire in Sion, and his furnace in Jeruſalem? and doth not the ſpirit of judgment, and burning (by which he waſheth and purgeth away the blood and filth of the Daughter of Sion) Iſſue forth from thence? O, that men had a true and ſpiritual underſtanding of theſe things, and were taught of God to know and diſtinguiſh concerning the things of his Kingdom.

XIII.

Of the Signification of Mount Sinai, and Mount Sion.

MOunt Sinai was that Mount of earth, which the voice and preſence of the Lord ſhook, at the Miniſtration of the Law outward.

Now, there is an inward earth, which is to be ſhaken alſo, even the Nature which tranſgreſſed, the Nature which was ſubject to Sin, and under the Curſe, the the earth which brings forth Briars and Thornes. Into the earth, the Plough of the Lord is to go, to break it up, and overturn it, that there may be a new earth formed, fit to receive the heavenly ſeed; out of which it may ſpring, and bring forth fruit to God: yea, not only the Earth, but alſo the Heavens are to be ſhaken, yea, and removed too; though the ſhaking of Mount Sinai did not ſignifie that, but only the ſhaking of the earth. But yet once more (ſaith the Lord) I ſhake not Earth only, but alſo Heaven: which ſignifieth, the removing of thoſe things, that may be ſhaken; that thoſe things which cannot be ſhaken, may remain.

There is that which is changeable, and there is that which is unchangeable: the old Earth and the old Heavens are changeable; the new Heavens and the new Earth are unchangeable. There is a changeable mind, a changeable ſpirit, a changeabe nature, a changeable will, a changeable wiſdom, a changeable reaſon and underſtanding (which one while goeth this way, and another while that way) a changeable knowledge of God: which man learns not of the Spirit of the Lord, but after a traditional way, and by the ſearch of his own hunting mind, and drinks into that part which is old and earthly. There is mans kindling a fire there, a beating out ſparks there, with which he compaſſeth about and warmeth himſelf, getting unto himſelf Peace and Joy, Hope and Confidence, &c. But when the Lord appears and his voice is heard (when he ariſeth to ſhake terribly the earth, yea and the Heavens alſo) all theſe will be ſhaken, and fall like untimely Figgs at the ruſhing of a mighty wind, and terrible tempeſt.

For the day of the Lord, the day of his pure appearance, the day of the brightneſs of his riſing will be upon all that is high and lofty, upon all that is proud and lifted up above the pure Seed. Every Cedar of Lebanon, and Oake of Baſhan, that is high and lifted up; every high Mountain and Hills that are liſted up, every high Tower and fenced Wall, every ſhip of Tarſhiſh and pleaſant picture, &c. Shall all feel the terror of his Majeſty: and that alone which is of the pure ſeed, gathered into the ſeed, and changed into the nature of the ſeed, that alone ſhall ſtand Nothing elſe ſhall be able to dwell with the devouring fire and everlaſting burnings: So that it may be very well ſaid, Who may abide the day of his coming? and who ſhall ſtand when he appeareth? For he is like a refiners fire, and like fullers ſope: and he cometh with his Fan in his hand, to fan away the chaff; and ſhall ſit as a Refiner and purifier of Silver, to purifie the Sons of Levi, and purge them as Gold and Silver, that they may offer unto the Lord an offering in Righteouſneſs, Pleaſant to the Lord; which none can do, but thoſe that are purified by him.

And happy will they be, whoſe Religion and Worſhip in that day, will ſtand the Tryal and bear the fire. And, Oh bleſſed for ever be the Lord, who is come near to Judgment, and is a ſwift Witneſs againſt all deceit and unrighteouſneſs; but a Juſtifier of them, whoſe conſciences he hath ſprinkled with the blood of Jeſus.

But now, as the Lord taketh away the Old; ſo he bringeth in the New: As he removeth the Old Earth, and the Old Heavens, wherein dwelt Unrighteouſneſs; ſo he formeth and bringeth forth the New Heavens, and the New Earth, wherein dwels Righteouſneſs.

And here the Kingdom is known and received, which can never be ſhaken: Here is the Mount Sion, which ſhall never be removed; and the Jeruſalem, one of whoſe ſtakes or cords ſhall never be plucked up, nor broken. Here is the City which hath everlaſting Foundations, whoſe Builder and Maker is God.

Bleſſed are they that are come hither, and dwell here; who are not come to the Mount that may be touched and ſhaken, and removed, (read inwardly:) but to the holy Mount of God, and whereon all the Buildings of Life are raiſed, and whereon they ſtand firm for ever.

And all that are herein built up, and eſtabliſhed, can truly ſay, and ſing in ſpirit; Bleſſed be the Lord God of Iſrael; and bleſſed by him ſhall be the Habitation of Juſtice, and Mountain of Holineſs, from this time forth for evermore. For Jeruſalem is now become a quiet Habitation, and the King of Glory reigneth therein: for the Lord of Hoſts who hath created the New Heavens, and the New Earth, hath created created Jeruſalem a Rejoycing, and her People a Joy; and they ſhall be glad and rejoyce, and bleſs themſelves in him, for ever and ever. Amen, Amen.

XVI.

Concerning the Temple, and Sacrifices under the Goſpel.

God's Temple, under the Goſpel, is the Light of his Son, the Spirit of his Son; and thoſe ſouls which are renewed, and built up an Habitation for him, in the ſpirit of his Son; and thoſe bodies, in which renewed minds and ſpirits dwell. God is Light, and he dwelleth in Light: God is Spirit, and his building is holy and ſpiritual; for he dwelleth in nothing that is dark, or corrupt, or unclean.

And that which is Sacrificed or offered up to God muſt be clean and pure. No unclean thought, no unclean deſire, nothing that is earthly, or fleſhly, or ſelfiſh, muſt be offered up to God; but the pure breathings of his own ſpirit: For whatſoever is of him, and comes from him, is accepted with him; but whatever man can invent, or form, or offer up of his own, or of himſelf (though it be never ſo glorious and taking in mans eye, yet) it is but Abomination in the Sight of the Lord.

Thus all the Sacrifices of the Gepziles (or Heathenish Nature) are rejected: thus all the Sacrifices of the Jews outward (or of the profeſſing mind and nature, without the true Life) are rejected alſo.

Wherewith ſhall I come before the Lord, (ſaid the Prophet of the Lord of Old,) and bow my ſelf before the High God? Shall I come before him with Burnt-Offerings; with Calves of a Year Old? Will the Lord be pleaſed with Thouſands of Rams, with ten thouſands of Rivers of Oyl? Shall I give my firſt-born for my tranſgreſſion, the Fruit of my Body, for the Sin of my Soul? Mic. 6. 6, 7.

What ſaith the Anſwer of God? No, no: This is not the way to come to Pardon of Sin, or to acceptance with the Lord: But come to that, which teacheth what is good, and what the Lord requires of thee, O man; which is to do Juſtly, and to love Mercy, and to walk Humbly with the Lord: Come thither in the teachings of God's Spirit, and worſhip there, and there thou ſhalt witneſs Forgiveneſs of ſins, and acceptance with the Lord, Mic. 6. 7, 8. and Iſa 1. 16, 17, 18. For it was not offering Sacrifices of old (appointed under the Law) that would do the thing, nor mens pleading the Sacrifice of Chriſt under the Goſpel: But coming to that Spirit, which teacheth holyneſs, and being ſubject to that ſpirit, and offering in that Spirit, (to the Father) what proceeds there-from. So that his building in the ſpirit, is the only Temple, and the Sacrifices or Offerings in the Spirit, are the only Offerings of the New Teſtament.

And here, every Groan, or Sigh towards the Lord, after that which is pure, every Supplication in the Spirit, every acknowledgement of the Goodneſs of the Lord, in a true and pure ſenſe, are of a ſweet ſavour in the Noſtrils of the Lord: Yea, uſing Hoſpitality, relieving the Poor, or doing any thing that is good, from the good and holy root, are Sacrifices acceptable to the Lord. Read theſe Scriptures following, (and if the Lord open thine eyes, thou mayeſt thereby come to ſee, both what the Temple and Sacrifices are) 1 Cor. 3. 16. and 2 Cor. 6. 16. Iſa. 5. 7, 15. Epheſ. 2. 21, 22. Heb. 3. 6. Rev. 21. 22. Joh. 4. 23. Pſal. 90. 1. Theſe places foregoing are for the Temple: Then for the Sacrifices, Pſal. 50. 14, 15. and 51. 16, 17. and 141. 2. Mal. 1. 11. Heb. 10. 8, 9. Rom. 12. 1. 1 Cor. 6. 19, 20. 1 Pet. 2. 5. Heb. 13. 15. Philip. 4. 18.

Some

XV.

Some Questions concerning the Light of Christ's Spirit answered, according to the Testimony of the Scriptures of Truth, and according to Experience.

Quest. 1. What is the Message, which Christ sent his Apostles to declare; whom he sent to preach the Gospel.

Answ. This is the Message, which they heard of him, and which they declared unto others; That God is Light, and in him is no Darkness at all.

Quest. 2. What was Christ's Intent, in sending them with this Message? And for what end were they to declare it to others?

Answ. For the opening of Mens Eyes and Hearts, that Men might come to a Sight and Sense of the Darkness, and to a Sight and Sense of the Light; and might be turned from Darkness to Light, (and so from Satan's Power, to God,) and might come out of the one, into the other (that is, out of the Darkness, into the Light) and so might walk in the Light, as God is in the Light.

Quest. 3. What is the Danger of Abiding in darkness?

Answ. In the Darkness is Sin, Death, Condemnation, and Destruction of the Soul, and Separation from God and Christ for ever.

Quest. 4. What is the Benefit of being turned to the Light, and of coming into the Light, and walking in the Light, as God is in the Light?

Answ. The Benefits are great and many; three whereof I may now mention, which comprehend and contain in them many more.

First, In the Light, Remission of Sins is received; For there is the Blood of Sprinkling, wherewith those are sprinkled that come thither: and indeed none can walk and abide there, but they come to witness the Blood of Jesus Christ, God's Son, cleansing them from all Sin; and true, real cleansing, is no where else witnessed.

Secondly, They have Fellowship with the Father, and the Son, and come also into Fellowship with the Saints in Light: which are great Mysteries, and none knows what they mean, but such as are in that Holy Fellowship.

Thirdly, They there receive the Earnest of the Everlasting Inheritance, and the Sealing up by God's Holy Spirit, unto the Day of full Redemption.

Quest. 5. Where is the Darkness, which men are to be turned from?

Answ. It is Within, chiefly Within; there is Satans Kingdom; there is the House, which the Strong Man armed keepeth, where his Goods are in Peace, till a Stronger than he commeth to trouble, and dispossess him.

Quest. 6. How, or where is the Light to be met with, which Man is to be turned to?

Answ. It appears Within also; it shines in the darkness: For thither Christ (the Stronger) comes, with the Light of his Spirit, to overcome, and dispossess the Strong Man of his House, and Kingdom.

Quest. 7. When doth the Light of Christ's Spirit shine in the Darkness of Man's Heart?

Answ. When, and as God pleaseth. For the Light is his, and he causeth it to shine (in the Hearts of the Sons and Daughters of Men) according to his Pleasure: And therefore men are to wait for the shining of this Pure, Heavenly Light in their hearts, that with it the Darkness may be resisted, overcome, and subdued in them, and scattered and dispelled from them, and their Hearts filled with the Light and Power of Life.

Quest. 8. How may a Man perceive, or know the Light, when it shines?

Answ. By its shining: For Light (both outward and inward) manifests both it self, and other things by its own shining. And as there is no discerning the things of this World, but by the Light of the World: So there is no discerning the things of the other World, but by the Light of the other World; That is, there is no discerning Spiritual Things, but by the Light of the Spirit of our Lord Jesus Christ, which which God causeth to shine in the Heart; which Light searcheth the Heart and tryeth the Reins, and discovereth the most hidden things there.

Object. But the Heart is deceitful above all things, and Satan can transform himself into the Likeness of an Angel of Light; so that he shines inwardly too, by his feigned appearances: how then may I know the shinings of the true Light of Christ's Spirit in my Heart, from his false Shinings and Transformings?

Answ. God hath a Witness in Mens Consciences: For, as God hath not left himself without Witness outwardly, but all his Works testifie of him (his Works of Goodness, Love, Mercy, Power, &c. Testifie of his Goodness, Love, Mercy, Power, &c.) So he hath not left himself without Witness, inwardly; but there is somewhat in Men to testifie of God and for God, and against his Enemy, and all deceitful appearances: Which Witness alwaies speaketh faithfully, and testifieth Truth.

Therefore, He that cometh to discern that, and mind that, shall find that near him, which will alwayes Witness for God upon every occasion, and against all the appearances and devices of the Enemy.

Now, no Man can come to discern or distinguish in Cases of this Nature, but as that which is of God, and for God, gives the Judgment in him; and he that judgeth thus, shall never judge according to the Shews and Appearances of things; but shall still judge the true and righteous Judgment.

Quest. 9. What is the Nature and Properties of the Light of Christ's Spirit, and What will it do in the Hearts of those that turn to it, receive it, and walk in it?

Answ. It hath a most excellent Nature and Properties, and it will work wonderfully, in the hearts of those, that receive it, and walk in it towards the redeeming and saving them from Sin, and the Powers of Darkness: So that, following this Light, and abiding and walking in it, they cannot be overcome by the Enemy of their Souls, but must needs conquer and overcome him. To instance in some,

First, It hath an inlightening or manifesting Property. It will discover all that is of God, and likewise all that is against him; It will discover the very Mystery of Death, and the most subtile Workings of the Enemy in the Mystery of Darkness, and Deceivableness of Unrighteousness: And it will discover the Mystery of Life, and the Mystery of the Way of Holiness. So that not only the Precepts of Holiness, but the Way of the Precepts, the Way of Obeying the holy Will and Spirit of God in every thing, is here learned.

Secondly, It hath an awakening Property. This Light will not let a man sleep in sin, or grow heavy and dull, (if he hearken to it) but it awakens him that sleeps: And whoever is truly awakned at any time, is awakened by this Light; by the shining thereof in his Heart, by the Manifestation of God to his Spirit by it. This testimony Paul gives, Ephes. 5. 13, 14. Whatsoever doth make manifest is Light. Wherefore, he saith; Awake thou that sleepest, &c.

Thirdly, It hath a quickening Property: For it is the Light of Life, the Light of Christ's Spirit, which is living and powerful: and it hath Life and Power in it, and quickeneth and raiseth the man, to whom it reacheth, and giveth him Ability to arise from the Dead.

Fourthly, It hath a Cleansing, a Sanctifying, a Purifying Property. O how clean it makes within. The Light is pure, and it maketh pure. All the Defilement and Corruption, is in the Darkness: None of it is in the Light; but the Light purgeth it away, where it findeth Entertainment.

Fifthly, It hath an uniting, and separating Property. It unites to God, it unites to that which is pure; and it separates from Sin, Satan, Darkness, and whatever is impure.

Sixthly, It hath a preserving Nature and Property. It preserves the man in whom it dwels, and where it hath power, and rules, it keeps out the darkness; so that darkness cannot break in, where it hath place, and is kept to: Nor can the mind break out from the Lord, which keeps in the ſenſe, ſavour and ſeaſoning of the Light of his Spirit.

Indeed time would fail me, to ſpeak of the excellent Nature, Vertues and Properties thereof: But, come taſt and ſee, how ſweet the Light is, and what a pleaſant thing it is to behold the ſhinings of this Son.

Queſt. 10. Doth God viſit all Men with this Light?

Anſw. Yes, As God loveth all Men, and would have all men ſaved; ſo he viſiteth all men (more or leſs) with that which is able to diſcover the darkneſs to them, and to ſave them therefrom.

Queſt. 11. What is the Reaſon then, that all Men are not ſaved by it?

Anſw. Becauſe they do not receive it, and joyn to it againſt the darkneſs; but joyn to the darkneſs, and hearken to the Wiſdom and Reaſonings thereof againſt the appearances and diſcoveries of the Light.

Queſt. 12. How comes it that Men do ſo?

Anſw. From their Love to the Darkneſs, and to the Deeds of Darkneſs; which they know, they ſhould not love; becauſe they have ſomewhat near them, which often ſhews them the evil, both of the Darkneſs that is in them, and of the Deeds that come from it. So that, this is the Condemnation, that men love the Darkneſs, cleave to the Darkneſs, and follow the Darkneſs; but hate the Light, and turn from the Light, which in the Love, and Mercy of God follows them, to bring them out of Love with the Darkneſs, and to bring them into the ſenſe of, and Fellowſhip with him in the Light.

Queſt. 13. How come ſome to love the Light?

Anſw. God affordes a Capacity therein to all, and God is Love; and from the Flowings of his Love, and aboundings of his Mercy to all, are Men begotten to him; and the Obedient are kept by him in Subjection to that, which many Reſiſting the ſtrivings of his Spirit with them, are finally given up to hardneſs of heart, who turn from, and hate the Light. So that to God, and his Grace is to be Attributed the Salvation of all that are ſaved; and to man, his own Deſtruction, and periſhing from the Way of Life, notwithſtanding the tender Viſitations of God, to recover and reconcile Man to himſelf, through the blood of his Son.

Queſt. 14. Againſt whom do they rebel, that rebel againſt the Light?

Anſw. They rebel againſt Chriſt, from whom the Light comes; and Will Chriſt ſave ſuch as rebel againſt him? O that Men did aright conſider this thing: For it is a greater matter to know, and be ſubject to the Light of Chriſt's Spirit, as it ſhines from him in the Heart, then men are aware of: Now that which diſcovers the hidden things of darkneſs in the heart, and reproves for it, is the Light of Chriſt's Spirit, and not another. O that all that deſire to know what, and where the true Light is, did underſtand ſo!

Queſt. 15. What do they miſs of, who do not know, nor heed the Light of Chriſt's Spirit, nor mind the reproofs thereof in their hearts; but look on it, as inferior in kind and nature, to what it is?

Anſw. They miſs of many great and precious priviledges, which they that know it, and have received it, and ſo walk in it, and are ſubject to it, do experience, and are acquainted with.

Firſt, They miſs of knowing the wayes of it: For, in this Light, there are Wayes or Paths of Holineſs, Paths of Life, Paths of Righteouſneſs, Paths of Peace, Paths of Joy, Paths of Refreſhment, and Conſolation; wherein all theſe things are daily met with, by thoſe that walk there; which they that know not the Light, (or rebel againſt the Light) are not acquainted with. See Job 24. 13.

Secondly, They miſs of the lighting of their Candle by it: For God lights his Candle in the Heart by this Light, and by no other thing; ſo that, in this his Light, they whoſe Candle is lighted by him, See Light.

David had experience of this, and from that experience ſpake; Thou wilt light my Candle; the Lord my God, will enlighten my Darkneſs, Pſal. 18. 28. And Job had experience of this alſo, as thoſe words of his plainly ſignifie, Job 29. 2, &c. where he ſaith; O that I were, as in the dayes paſt, when his Candle ſhined upon my Head, and by his Light I walked through Darkneſs. And all the Children of God, who who in this day wait for the shinings of the Light of his Spirit in their hearts, and are subject to him therein, they experience the same, and know the Word of Life (which is nigh in the Mouth and Heart) to be a Lanthorn to the Feet, and a Light to the Paths of the lowest and meanest here.

Thirdly, They miss of sending forth, or Revelation of that from God, which leads to his holy Hill, and to his Tabernacles, which David experienced, and desired more of, Psal. 43. 3. For, Who shall dwell in God's holy Hill, or abide in his Tabernacle? Psal. 15. 1. He that walketh uprightly, and worketh Righteousness, and speaketh the Truth in his heart, &c. he shall never be moved; ver. 2. to the end, & Isa. 33. 15. &c. But how shall any come thither? Surely by God's Light and Truth sent forth from his Spirit into their Spirits; this is the way of ascending thither in all Ages and Generations.

Fourthly, They slight that measure of Light given them, and despise the day of small things; and therefore miss of the pouring forth of God's Spirit upon them, which is plentifully poured forth upon the Sons and Daughters of the spiritual and heavenly Jerusalem, in this day of God's visiting the Earth again, after the Apostacy; blessed be the Name of the Lord. And how comes it to be poured forth upon them? How comes wisdom to pour out her spirit unto them? Why, they hearken to her reproofs, turning thereat, and forsaking that which they are reproved for, and so come into Wisdom, Fear: and then Wisdom opens her secrets, and pours out her Spirit, and makes known her words to those that are subject to her reproofs and learn her Fear, which is the Fear of the New Covenant. See Prov. 1. 23. He that receiveth the convincer of Sin, and followeth his leadings, out of the sins he is convinced of (and into the paths of Righteousness and holyness, into which he is the leader) cannot miss of the Comforter, or of his Comforts; for he is one and the same with the Convincer, or Reprover.

XVII.

The Way to know one's Election, and to be fully assured of it: As also, concerning Election it self.

David saith, The Lord hath set apart him that is godly for himself, Psal. 4. This is God's choice. God is the great Potter, who formeth Vessels upon the Wheel of his power: some to honour, some to dishonour; but not before they were. Some he melteth and tendereth for salvation, who hearken to his voice: others he hardeneth and giveth up for destruction, who rebel against his spirit. O, how should all fear before him, who hath power over them, as the Potter over the Clay, that they should reverence and obey him, lest his power break them to pieces!

Now this is most certain: The holy man, the righteous man, the godly man, he that is renewed in the spirit of his mind; this is a Vessel of Honour, fitted and chosen by God unto honour: but he that is corrupt, dead, filthy, polluted, &c. This is the Vessel, which God rejects. For the Righteous God loveth Righteousness for ever, and the holy God loveth holiness for ever; and he that is holy and righteous, is of him, and chosen by him: But all that is unholy and unrighteous, is of another nature and spirit; and so rejected, and cast out by his pure nature and spirit.

Therefore, every one that would be accepted of the Lord and witness his Choice, is to mind that, and be subject to that, whereby God fitteth Vessels for himself; which is the holy Spirit, Nature, and Life of his Son, wherein every man is accepted (as he is called thither, gathered thither, and found there) and none Rejected: But out of this every man is Rejected, but none Accepted; For God is no Respecter of Persons.

He carrieth himself equally to every Jew, under the old Covenant: And he carrieth himself equally towards all, who obey the Call of his spirit, into the new and living Covenant: so that the Truth standeth for ever, that in every Nation, Tongue and People, he that feareth God, and worketh Righteousness is accepted of him, and none else. And this is the great mercy and tender love of God to all Men, that which bringeth into his Fear, and teacheth and enableth to work Righteousness, is near every man, which is the word of Faith, the word of Life, the word of Power, the word of Reconciliation: So that no man need go far to seek out Salvation; for Christ the Saviour and Salvation of God is nigh to every man, in the Light of that Holy Spirit of Truth, wherewith God visiteth Mankind, and wherein he speaketh Peace and Reconciliation, both to them that are nigh, and to them that are afar off, as they hear the Voice of the Spirit of the Lord Jesus Christ, and learn subjection to it.

Give all diligence to make your Calling and Election sure, said the Apostle Peter, 2 Pet. 1. 10. How shall we do that, may some say? Why, give all diligence to add to your Faith Vertue, and to Vertue Knowledge, and to Knowledge Temperance, and to Temperance Patience, and to Patience Godliness, and to Godliness Brotherly-kindness, and to Brotherly-kindness Love. For if these things be in you and Abound, ye cannot be barren in the knowledge of Christ, but must needs be Fruitful. Well, but what then? What if they be Fruitful? Why, If they be Fruitful, then (to be sure) they are Chosen Branches: For God casts off none, but that which is Dry, Barren, Dead, and Unfruitful. Feel Life, which is active and bears Fruit, thou feelest the Choice of God, thou answerest the end of thy Call, &c. and herein as thou comest to settlement and establishment, thou wilt find thy Calling and Election made sure to thee, and an entrance ministered to thee abundantly, into the everlasting Kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. For Christ hath the Key of the Kingdom: and shutteth out no such as these, but giveth them further Admittance day by day. And so by this means, thou wilt witness Translation further and further out of the Kingdom of Darkness, into the Kingdom of Gods dear Son, and an Inheritance and Possession of Life and Glory in measure, which will be an earnest to thee of the full Inheritance in due time, and a Seal upon thy Heart unto the day of full Redemption. Yea, thou may'st then also come to see, how thou wast Loved and Chosen in Christ before the Foundation of the World, through Obedience unto, and Sanctification of the Spirit, manifested in time, 2 Thes. 2. 13. (For known unto God are all his Works from the Beginning, before ever any of them were wrought:) If thou feel that which cometh forth from the Lord to call, and gather to him, and to renew and Sanctify, and make fit for him, and to make thee fruitful (from the Holy Root and Power of Life) in that which is good; this is enough for thee, and thy soul is safe and blessed here: for here thou knowest that, and art in that blessed seed of Promise, into which all that are gathered, and abide, are blessed in and with it.

Now, as concerning Election it self, observe this; that it is in Christ, and not out of him. For it was the intent of God to Honour his Son, even as his Son Honoured him: and this was the Honour which God gave him, That he should be his Salvation to the ends of the Earth: that whosoever believed on Him should not Perish, but have Everlasting Life; That he should be the way for all Mankind to come to the Father, through Faith in him; that as in Adam all died, so in Christ all might be made alive; and as in Adam all Men were shut up in Death and Condemnation, so the free Gift might come upon all, and the way of Life and Redemption be opened to all, in Him.

Mind the Figure, the Brazen-serpent, which was not lifted up, that a certain Number might be Healed, and no more; but that every one that was Wounded, every one that was stung with Serpents, might look up, and be Healed.

So was Christ lifted up, that every Sinner that was stung with Sin, and the Serpent, might look up to the Physitian of Souls, and receive Vertue and Healing from him, according to that precious Scripture; Look unto me, and be ye Saved, All the Ends of the Earth: And, Whoever is a Thirst, let him come; and whosoever will, let him come, and Drink of the Waters of Life freely. Yea, God stands ready, by his holy Spirit, and quickning Power, which is near Men, to kindle the true Thirst in them, and to make them truly willing. To open it yet further;

There is Predestination, Election, Calling, Justifying, Glorifying. Predestination unto unto Holiness, Election in that which is Holy, Calling out of Darkness into Light, Justifying and Glorifying in the Light, Through the renewing, and Sanctification of the Spirit. All these God ordereth, and manageth according to his good Will, and according as he hath purposed in himself; although he be not the Decreer, nor Author of Sin, or Rebellion against himself, which is the cause of the Creatures Condemnation.

Thus all things are as present with God, before they were; for God did foreknow Adam's Fall (though he was not therefore the Author of it) before it came to pass; and he fore-knew how his Power, and Love, and Mercy should work towards Men, and for Men, in, and through Christ; and how far he would visit Men therewith, and how far Men would resist and strive against his Holy, and Good Spirit; and he determined how long his Spirit should strive with Nations, and Persons: for with some, he would long wait to be Gracious, with others he would be quicker, and more severe, according to their Provocations.

Now, his Love, his Mercy, his Power, his Good Spirit are his own; and he may shew forth the Operations of them towards Men, according to his Pleasure: And who may say unto him, What dost thou? May he not do with his own what he pleaseth (who is Good and Righteous in all his Wayes?) And because he may shew Mercy as long as he will, and Harden as soon as he will (as he sees Cause.) May it not be truly said; That he hath Mercy, on whom he will have Mercy; and whom he will, he hardeneth? But, that he hardeneth any, without first giving them a Day of Mercy, and Visitations of Mercy, following them with Mercy, and forbearing them in Mercy, and so by the Riches of his Goodness, Forbearance, and long Suffering, leading them to Repentance, that they might escape his Wrath, and the Dread of his powerful Vengeance, because of Sin: I say, that God hardens any, before he hath dealt thus with them, from a Meer Will in himself; because he would Destroy the most, and far greatest part of Men: This the Scriptures no where testify to, but abundantly testify against: For, How long did God strive with the Old World even to have Saved them, whom afterwards he did Destroy? And, How did he strive with that People of the Jews, (yea, and with other Nations also, though they might seem cast off?) As I Live, saith the Lord, (and he speaketh his Heart) I desire not the Death of the Wicked; but rather that they might return and Live. I am not the Destroyer, I am the Saviour; and My Delight is not to Destroy, but to Save. O Israel! thy Destruction is of thy self; but in Me is thy Help: And no Man's Blood will lye at God's Door, but at his Own.

Therefore, as God hath prepared a Saviour; so there is no want of Love, or Mercy, or Power on his part to draw Men to the Saviour; but this is the Condemnation, that Men harden themselves against the drawings of his Spirit, and against the Operation of his holy Light and Power, when it appeareth, and is willing to work in and upon their hearts. This is not the condemnation of Men: that Light doth not shine in their hearts, but that they love the darkness more then the light, which appears and shines in them, and is there witnessing against a drawing from the darkness. And so when it shall at last be made manifest, how Light hath appeared to all Men, and Gods Spirit therein, and thereby striven with all men, and how they have refused, and would not be turned from their darkness to the light of the Lord: every mouth will be stopped before him, and all men that perish, justly condemned, for refusing and neglecting so great Salvation: for the light of the Sun of God's everlasting day, and the sound of his Spirit of life, visiting dark man, reacheth throughout all the Earth, and his voice, and words to the ends of the World.

Some Observations concerning the Priest-Hood of Christ, from several Passages in the Epistle to the Hebrews

Obs. 1. WHo is the Apostle, and High Priest of our Profession? It is Jesus Christ, the Son of God, whom God hath appointed Heir of all things, by whom he made the Worlds; and who is the express Image of his Fathers substance, &c. Heb. 1. and Chap. 3. 1.

Obs. 2. Why this High Priest was to suffer Death? which was, that he might taste Death for every man, and so, through suffering become a Perfect Saviour, or Perfect Captain of Salvation, to all the Sons, that were to be brought by him to Glory, Chap. 2. 9, 10.

Obs. 3. Why he partooke of Flesh and Blood? one reason whereof was; because the Children (and that therein he might shew them an example of Righteousness, that he might condemn himself in the Flesh) were partakers of Flesh and Blood; for that was the very Ground or Reason, that he took part of the same. Another Reason was that, which was mentioned before; that he might taste Death, and through Death destroy him, who had the Power of Death, and so break open the Prison doors, and deliver those who were Captives under him; Chap. 2. 14, 15.

Obs. 4. Why he was tempted, and why in all things it behoved him to be made like unto his Brethren? which was, that he might be a Merciful and Faithful High Priest, in things pertaining to God, to make Reconciliation for the sins of the People: For his own suffering under Temptations (even the sense thereof) renders him Merciful, Tender, Faithful, and ready to help and succour his in all their Temptations Chap. 2. 17, 18.

Mark, Christ was not only to Die, and so offer up a Sacrifice of Attonement; but he was also to make Reconciliation by it ever afterwards for his Children, (in case of transgression) when ever occasion should be. So saith John, If any man sin, we have an Advocate with the Father, (to plead for the forgiving and blotting out of the Sin) and he is the Propitiation (or Reconciliation) for our Sins; as the old translation renders it, 1 John. 2. 1, 2.

Obs. 5. Christ, our Apostle, and High-Priest, is as Faithful over all his house, as Moses was over his. There is not one of the Children, not one of his family, but he will teach: not one Soul belonging to him, but he will succour, being tempted; nor any one, but he will be an Advocate, and Reconciliation for (in case of Sin) in, and according to the way that God hath appointed, Heb. 3. 2.

Obs. 6. Who are Christ's House? over whom is he, an Apostle, and High-Priest? It is over his own house, whose house are all such as are called by him, if they receive and hold fast that which gives a Right to him, and interest in him, Chap. 3. 6, and ver. 14. For as under the Law, the High-Priest was Priest only over the outward Israel, the Jews Natural; so under the Gospel Christ is appointed of God High-Priest over the inward Jews, the Jews spiritual.

Obs. 7. How this Apostle, or High-Priest of our profession, doth work in the hearts of his family, or household? which is by the word of Life, by the Word of his own eternal power, which pierceth deep, and divideth between soul and spirit, joynts and marrow, discerning and judging every thought and intent, and bringing every high reasoning, and imagination into captivity, that the Heart, Soul, Mind and Spirit, with all the thoughts and intents thereof, may become subject to his Spirit and Power, chap. 4. 12.

Obs. 8.

Obser. 8. What an Advantage we have by having such an High-Priest (as was tempted like us, and touched with the sense of our infirmities) of coming boldly to the Throne of Grace, that we may obtain Mercy, and find grace to help in time of need. For he who experimentally knew, what the weakness of our flesh is, and what it was to be tempted therein, and how needful and seasonable help from his Father then was; surely he cannot but be ready to give out, and multiply Grace and Mercy to his in the time of their need, chap. 4. 15, 16.

Obser. 9. How Christ came to be an High-Priest, which was not by his own taking the honour to himself, but by Gods glorifying him with the Call thereto; 5. 4, 5.

Obser. 10. How God fitted Christ, and made him a perfect High-Priest? which was by preparing for him a body of flesh, and exercising him in the dayes of his flesh, with many tryals and temptations, and at last with a bitter Baptism, and Cup of Death, in which he felt, and bare the griefs and sorrows of his People, and cryed mightily to his Father, and was heard in that he feared: And so having himself perfectly learned Obedience to his Father, he knows how to become the Author of eternal Salvation to all that obey him. For Christ, who was heard and saved from Death in his Obedience to his Father, is appoynted to be the Leader, and Saviour of his People, to save and redeem them in their Obedience unto him, the Leader into, and in the Way and paths of Life, chap. 5. 7, 8, 9.

Obser. 11. Where Christ mediates for his People? which is within the Vail, in the heavenly place, in the holiest of all, where the Author of our Hope reacheth to him, and fasteneth upon him, and there remains sure and stedfast: so that, we are staid upon him, the Rock of Life and Power, against all the storms and tempests of the Powers of Darkness, both inward and outward, chap. 6. 19, 20.

Obser. 12. After what Order Christ was made an High-Priest? which was, after the Order of Melchizedeck, who was King of Righteousness, and King of Peace: even after an Holy and Heavenly Order. Not after the Order of the earthly Priest-Hood, the High-Priests whereof were taken from amongst Men: but after his Order, who was made mention of without Father, without Mother, without Descent, (for who can declare his Generation?) without beginning of Dayes, or end of Life, chap. 7. 1, 2, 3, and 15.

Obser. 13. That this Priest put an end to, and changed the Laws of the other, earthly, shadowy Priest-Hood of Levi, by which, Perfection was not; that he might bring in that Priest-Hood of his own, by which, perfection was to be; chap. 7. ver. 11, &c.

Obser. 14. How Christ was made Priest after a different manner from the Priests of the Law: For they were made Priests after the Law of a carnall Commandment; but Christ was not made Priest so, but after the power of an endless Life, Chap. 7. 16.

Obser. 15. That the work of Christ's Priesthood continueth untill it be finished; that is, till this high Priest hath saved all whom he is to save which is thus: As in all ages the Father draweth souls to him, so he is to save them; to destroy their Enemies, to blot out their sins, to break down what stands between God and them, and so to bring them into the true oneness; for God will never be reconciled to his enemy, the Devil, nor to man while in union with him, Chap. 7. 24, 25.

Obser. 16. That this High-Priest needeth not to offer many Sacrifices to attone by, as the Priests under the Law needed to do often: for he was a perfect Priest, and and offered up one perfect, spotless Sacrifice, and is a propitiation for the sins of the whole World, Chap. 7. 27, 28.

Obs. 17. What Sanctuary is Christ the high Priest and Minister of? which is of that Sanctuary and true Tabernacle, which the Lord pitcheth and not man, Chap. 8. 2.

Obs. 18. What he hath to offer: for every high Priest was ordained to offer both Gifts and Sacrifices? He hath the heavenly Gifts and Sacrifices to offer; even all the gifts and spiritual Sacrifices that are revived and brought forth by him in the holy Place, even in his Temple or Spiritual House within the Vail; he is to offer them all up to his Father, ver. 3, &c.

Obs. 19. What Covenant he is Mediator of? even a better Covenant than the Priests under the Law were Mediators of, which is established upon better promises; a Covenant, wherein there is no Defectiveness or imperfection, wherein all shall certainly be redeemed and saved by him, who come to him in the drawing of the Father and abide with him: For in such, God will put his Laws into their minds, and write them in their Hearts, and will be their God, and they shall be his People; and will so teach them, that they shall need no other teacher; but shall all know him from the least to the greatest; For as men come into this Covenant, God will be merciful to their Unrighteousness, and their Sins, and their Iniquities will he remember no more, ver. 6. to the end.

Obs. 20. That Christ is not an High-Priest of the figures of things, but of the good things themselves (which came in the time of reformation) even of the perfect Covenant, the perfect Tabernacle, and of the Worship and Service in Spirit and Truth: where the perfect Refiner (by his Spirit of Judgment and Burning) purifieth the Sons of Levi, that they may offer to God an offering in Righteousness, chap. 9. 9, 10, 11. and Mal. 3. 3.

So that, there is a different state witnessed, by the People of God, in this Covenant, from what was witnessed by the Jews in the other Covenant: For what was amiss there, is reformed here by the Spirit and Power of our God, in all those that abide and walk in this Covenant: who live in the Spirit, and walk in the Spirit and do not fulfil the Lusts of the Flesh, which grive and provoke God's holy Spirit.

Obs. 21. How Christ came to obtain Eternal Redemption for all his? which was by his Blood. For as the High Priest under the Law, entered into the Holy Place of that Tabernacle made with hands, by the Blood of Goates and Calves, and so obtained Remission for the sins of that outward People the Jews: So Christ entered into the truly holy Place, into the greater and more perfect Tabernacle, and there by his Blood obtained remission, for all that should receive Repentance from him, and believe in him; ver 11. 12.

Obs. 22. How Christ purifieth, purgeth, and sanctifieth the people with his Blood? which is, by sprinkling it upon them. For under the Law, in that outward Covenant, the unclean were sprinkled with the Blood of the Sacrifice, that they might be Sanctified to the purifying of the flesh: And under the Gospel, in this inward Covenant, believers are sprinkled with the Blood of the Lamb, that their Consciences might be purged from dead Works, to serve the Living God, as his cleansed, holy, renewed People? ver. 13, 14.

Obs. 23. For what cause Christ was Mediator of the new Testament? which was, that by meanes of Death, for the Redemption of the Transgressions under the first Testament, they which are called might receive the promise of Eternal Inheritance, ver. 15. For God hath made Christ a Propitiation for all men, both Jews, and Gentiles, that through Faith in his Blood, his Righteousness might be declared for the remission of Sins, that are past, through the forbearance of God, that he might be Juſt, and a Juſtifier of him, who is of the Faith of Jeſus, Rom. 3. 15, 16. So that they that were under the firſt Covenant, hearkening unto him, and believing in him, were Juſtified from all things; from which they could not be Juſtified by the Law of Moſes, Acts. 13. 39.

that

Obſ. 24 The neceſſity of Chriſts Death, which was, becauſe he was to make way by his own Blood into the Holyeſt, to appear before God for us; and to ſprinkle the Heavenly things with the Blood of a Sacrifice, of an higher and better Nature than the Blood of Bulls and Goats was: for that was the Blood of the Covenant, which was to paſs away, but he was to ſprinkle his, with the Blood of the everlaſting Covenant; And by this his Death and Blood, (ſprinkled upon the Hearts of his) his Covenant, comes to be of force, ver. 16. to 25, and Chap. 13. 20, 21.

Obſ. 25. That this High-Prieſt need not often Offer Sacrifices, to put away Sin, as the Prieſts of the Law did; becauſe this one Offering is ſufficient, and the Blood thereof ſprinkled upon the Conſcience, is able to purge away Dead works, wherever it is ſprinkled. There needeth not any other Offering, nor any other Blood to do it: but all that is now further needed, or to be expected by his, is his appearing the ſecond time, without Sin unto Salvation, in the pure Vertue, Power, and Life of his own Spirit, ver. 25. to the end.

Obſ. 26. What it was, that was the thing of great Value with the Father, in Chriſt giving up himſelf to Death? It was his Obedience. He did Obey his Father in all things, not doing his own Will, but the Will of him that ſent him. He was obedient to Death, even the Death of the Croſs: and ſo, as by one mans Diſobedience, Death came upon all; ſo by the Obedience of one, the free gift came upon all; which free gift is unto Life: for Life comes upon all, that come to him, and believe in him, through the free gift, which is freely tendred to, and come upon all; Chap. 10. 7. Rom. 5.

Obſ. 27. That God took away Sacrifices, and burnt Offerings, which were appointed by the Old Covenant, that he might eſtabliſh this Obedience among all his Children. Chriſt lead the way, and all are to follow him in the New Obedience, and to walk in newneſs of Spirit before the Lord, ver. 9.

Obſer. 28. That we are Sanctified by the ſame Will, by which Chriſt was ſanctified, or ſanctifieth himſelf. In ſubjection to the ſame Will, which the Head obeyed (even in denying themſelves, taking up the Croſs to their own Wills, and ſubmitting to God's) are the members ſanctified. The Spirit of God works them into Holineſs by this Will of God, and through the offering of the Body of Jeſus Chriſt once, ver. 10. and Joh. 17. 19.

So mark: There's the Will of God, the offering up the Body of Jeſus, the pouring out the Spirit of Grace, the New Covenant, and Faith in Chriſt, &c. All theſe tend to work out one and the ſame thing, and they all concur thereto, in their ſeveral Orders and Places.

Obſer. 29. That as this High Prieſt ſanctifies Men, ſo he perfects them, and when they are fully ſactified, then they are forever perfected: But till then, Chriſt the High-Prieſt of our Profeſſion, hath ſomewhat to do upon them towards the perfecting of them, that he may preſent them ſpotleſs, and blameleſs to his Father ver. 14, 15.

Obſer. 30. How the Apoſtle proves, That by this one offering, Chriſt hath for ever perfected them that are ſanctified. He proves it thus: By this offering the Covenant is eſtabliſhed, wherein is the putting and writing Gods Law in the heart and mind, the remiſſion of ſins.

So, come into this Covenant, come under this High-Prieſt; there is no more remembring of ſin there, but perfect forgiveneſs through this one offering, and ſo no more need of any more Sacrificing or Offering for Sins to such, ver. 15, to 19. For he shall sprinkle many Nations with the Blood of this one Offering, Isa. 52. 15.

Obser. 31. The great priviledge of those, who do indeed believe in Christ, and are sprinkled with the blood, and how they are to improve and make use of that Priviledge.

First, They have Liberty, Confidence, or Boldness to enter into the holyest by the Blood of Jesus, ver. 19. What is more holy, then God's Spirit? Is not that the most holy place? Why, there they are to worship; for they that worship the Father in the New Covenant, or according to the New Covenant, must worship him in the Spirit, and in the Truth; yea, and must also live in the Spirit, and walk in the Spirit, which is the place of everlasting Rest, and Land of the living.

Secondly, Take notice how they come into the holyest, which is by the new and living way, which Christ hath prepared, or consecrated through his Flesh, ver. 20.

Thirdly, They have an high Priest there over the House of God, who appears before God in the Holiest, and stands ready there to perform all the Offices of Priest-Hood for his household, ver. 21.

Fourthly, There is an orderly Way of drawing nigh to God, and worshiping him in the Holyest? there is a certain manner, after which Believers are to approach, and draw nigh to God; which is, 1. With a true Heart. 2. In fullness of Faith, or in full Assurance of Faith; not waveringly, but as those that are called of God, and shall be helped by him, and accepted of him through their High-Priest. 3. In Purity of Conscience and Conversation, having their Hearts sprinkled from an evil Conscience, and their Bodies washed with pure Water, ver. 22, 23. and Psal. 26. 6. Christ came by Water and Blood: So here's both the Water, and the Blood, according to the Figures thereof, under the Law.

Obser. 32. Whither they came in the Apostles Days, who knew Christ as their High-Priest, and Mediator, and who partook of the Blood of Sprinkling? They came to spiritual Mount Sion, and to the City of the Living God, the Heavenly Jerusalem, Heb. 12. 22.

Observe likewise, where they walked, who felt the Vertue of Christ's Blood cleansing them; which was in the Light, as God is in the Light, 1 John 1. 7.

Now, what Light is that which the Redeemed are to walk in? Is it not the Light of the Lambs City, the new Jerusalem? Is it not the Light thereof, that the Nations of them that are Saved must walk in? Rev. 21. 24. Yea, this Light, this City and the holy Waters of the Sanctuary, which flow and stream from the River of Life there, were in measure known and experienced in the Days of old, which David prayed for, and experienced a sense of, Psal. 43. 3. and 46. 4. Yea, he knew also the Blood of the Everlasting Covenant, praying and waiting to be sprinkled and cleansed therewith, Psal. 51. 6. For he looked through the outward Figure, to what his Soul needed to Purge, and wash it inwardly: which outward Hyssop, or outward Water of Purification (he knew) would not do; For he that saw through the Outward Sacrifices to the inward, could not chuse, but see through these also.

But that Power, Vertue, and Life of Gods Spirit, which could create a clean Heart, and renue a right Spirit in him, and bring him into Gods Presence, where he might feel the upholdings of his free Spirit, and partake of the Joy of Gods Salvation, and deliverance from that which had defiled him; this was it he prayed for; knowing assuredly, he should here meet with the true Hyssop, and Water of Life, and Blood of the Covenant, which purgeth the heart and conscience from dead works and maketh it whiter than the Snow in God's sight, ver. 10, 11, 12. For he that delighted not in sacrifice, nor burnt-offerings neither could he delight in Hyssop, or Water or blood, outward or natural; but in that which melteth the heart and purifieth the conscience from that which is dead and unclean, in that is Gods delight; and in that which is melted, broken, and purified by it, ver. 16. 17.

Obs-

Obſ. Laſtly, That there is a ſin unto death, a kind of ſinning for which there is no Sacrifice (but a certain fearful looking for of Judgment and Fiery Indignation, to deſtroy and devour the Adverſaries, ver. 26, 27.) which is a wilful deſpiſing this Covenant; which he that doth muſt die without mercy; as he that deſpiſed Moſes's Law did: ver. 28, 29. For the Lord will revenge this ſin, whereſoever he finds it: and ſuch ſhall know, that it is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God, when he comes to Judge them, ver. 30, 31.

XVIII.

A Brief Relation of the Eſtate or Condition the Lord found many of us in, when he came to viſit us, and make known to us the bleſſed Miniſtration of his Spirit and Power, and of ſome of his dealings with us, in inſtructing and nurturing us up therein; with a few words of Exhortation.

THere are Chambers of Imagery in many people, and ſtrong Holds, and reaſonings, and Imaginations, and high thoughts, exalted above the pure ſeed and meaſure of Life in their hearts. For every true Chriſtian (every true Believer) hath received ſomewhat of Chriſt's Spirit, ſome proportion of Grace and Truth from the fulneſs of Chriſt, which is as Leaven and Salt, to leaven the heart, and ſeaſon the mind, and ſpirit with.

But all do not diſtinctly know this, nor are all that do know it, ſubject to it; ſo that this doth not lead, and command, and rule in all: but there is ſomewhat which holds Captive, and the Enemy of the Soul hath the Rule and Dominion in many Mens Spirits, profeſſing godlineſs: whereby the ſeed is kept under in them, and their ſouls kept back from that redemption and deliverance, which they ſhould partake of in, and with the ſeed. So many talk of the Goſpel, (and ſpeak great words of Chriſt, and Redemption by him) who know not Immortality brought to Light, nor the Dead raiſed by it, to live to God and praiſe his Name.

Now in theſe Chambers of Imagery, in theſe ſtrong Holds, there are many pleaſant Pictures, many Images of the Heavenly things, which men form in their minds, from their own apprehendings, and conceivings upon the Scriptures. For men reading the Scriptures, not in the Life, Spirit, and Power which gave them Faith; but with that which is Natural, they come not to the True, Pure, Heavenly, Living Knowledge; but only obtain a Natural Knowledge, according to which they Believe and Worſhip; and ſo, fall down before, and according to the apprehenſions, and imaginations of their own minds: and ſo, one believes and Worſhips one way, another Believes and Worſhips another way. And truly, here men worſhip they know not what; but they that are the true Jews, know what they worſhip; for Salvation is of the true Jews, who worſhip neither at this Mountain, nor at the other Mountain; but only in Spirit, and in Truth, even in the Life and Power of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt.

Thus it is with all men in their ſeveral profeſſions of Religion in the Darkneſs, in the Apoſtacy from the true Life and Power, which all ſorts have erred, and wandered from, but few have returned to: Ah! few have found the Pearl of Price, which hath been long loſt; but have contented themſelves with a litteral Relation and Knowledge concerning the Pearl, without knowing and Poſſeſſing the Pearl it ſelf. Yea indeed, this was the ſtate of darkneſs the Lord found us all in, when he came to viſit us: For the ſtrong man armed, had his ſtrong Holds in us, whereby he held us in the Bands of Death, and kept us captive and free from that righteous Life, and Power, which we thirſted after. But when the ſtronger then he came, he battered his ſtrength, he aſſaulted and took his ſtrong-Holds; he brake all his Reaſonings, Knowledge, Wiſdom, and Subtilty, wherein he truſted, and made ſpoil of his Goods, and delivered the Captives from under his hand.

For indeed, when the Mighty day of the Lord came upon us, and his pure Heavenly Light ſhone in our hearts, God ſearched Jeruſalem as with Candles diſcovering the moſt hidden things of Eſau's Nature inwardly; and then all the Knowledge and Wiſdom, all the underſtanding and experiences, which were treaſured up in us out of the pure Life, out of the Truth, which lives and abides, they were found Dead, and condemned as Dead in us, and to caſt forth, as the treaſures of Egypt and Babylon, and thrown to the Batts and Moles; who either creep up and down in the earthly Nature, or ſoar aloft in the dark Dreams and imaginations of the Night of Darkneſs and Apoſtacy.

For when the true Light ſhines, it diſcovers what the Day is, and what the Night is; and the things which are of the Day, and the things alſo which are of the Night.

Now, when the Lord thus appeared unto us, and cauſed the Light of his Son to ſhine in us, many of us quickly came out of Egypt, turning our backs upon the Darkneſs; and went willingly into the Wilderneſs, to travel along with the Lord, and to be exerciſed and fitted there for the good Land, the Land of the redeemed, the Land of the Living, the Land which flows with Milk and Honey (which is Pure and Heavenly food) whither they that come, find the excellent Vine, which bears the Heavenly grapes, of which is the Wine of the Kingdom, and the true Olive, which yields ſweet Oyl, and Houſes which they built not; wherein are many Manſions, of Reſt, and pure Glory, and Vineyards, which they planted not, wherein the Living plants grow, and ſpring up in the preſence of the Lord; who dwells among his, and walks in the Gardens, and holy Plantations.

But there were others, who were loath to come out of Egypt, or to forſake the Idols, and way of worſhip in Egypt and Babylon, whom the Enemy long held Captive in their thoughts and reaſonings, and in the diſputings of their Minds.

Now, theſe ſuffered much, and felt many of their ſtrokes and dreadful Judgments of the Lord, poured out upon that Spirit in them, which held them Captive, and upon them for their hearknings and joynings to the ſubtil Twinings and Entangling reaſonings, and ſuggeſtions of that Spirit. For the Enemy uſeth all his ſtrength and ſubtilty, to the utmoſt, to hold his Captives in ſubjection to him, and under his Power, as long as ever he can. He keeps every Hold, he ſtrengthens every reaſoning, and every thought, and imagination of the Mind againſt Gods Call, againſt the appearances of his Spirit in the Heart. Do not go yet, (ſaith the Enemy) thy way is not yet plain before thee, thy Light is not yet clear enough; the Reaſon or Conſideration which is objected, is not yet fully anſwered. Thou art to try all things; but there is this, or that, or the other Conſideration, which thou haſt not yet tryed, or conſidered of fully, and Satisfactorily to thy own Heart.

Thus many pure drawings of the Father, (in which their was Light ſufficient for the Soul to follow) have been loſt, and the Soul thereby hath miſſed of the Hand, which was put forth (in the tender Love of the Lord) to help, and ſave it.

Queſt, But ſome may ſay; What have ye learned of the Lord more than we, or more than ye knew before, when ye walked among us, and practiſed the Ordinances, which we practiſe? Have not we good directions from the Scriptures? Do not we practiſe them? and is not the Spirit of God in the Scriptures? are they not joyned together: and ſo, having the Scriptures, we have the Spirit of God too?

Anſw. It is not in my heart to enter into diſpute now, though I am ſenſible of the darkneſs, from whence this Objection ariſeth: And Oh! that it were removed from their Hearts in whom it is; for truly, we our ſelves were once there, and when we were there, we knew not the Scriptures aright, as we ought to know, nor the Power of God. But to anſwer plainly and directly to the thing it ſelf.

There are three things I ſhall mention (beſides many others, which might be mentioned) which the Lord hath taught us, ſince his Spirit and Power hath appeared to us, and led us out of the Darkneſs, towards, and into the Land of Light: which are theſe. He hath taught us to Believe, he hath taught us to Obey, Obey, and he hath taught us to Pray to him in the Name of his Son.

Object. Why, Did ye never learn theſe before?

Anſw. No, not ſo as the Lord hath now taught us. There was indeed, ſome true Faith from the true Seed in us, and ſome true Obedience, and ſome pure Breathings to the Father, in the dayes of our former Profeſſion: But we knew not the Root from whence they came, ſo as to turn to it, and abide in it; and ſo the holy Deſires, and true Senſe in us, were often made a Prey of, and we ſtill in Want and Penury in a ſtrange Land, and could not enjoy (Poſſeſs or retain) what was freely given us of our God, and Father in Chriſt: but ſtill a fleſhly Wiſdom, a fleſhly Comprehenſion, a fleſhly Nature, Mind and Knowledge (which in that day went with us for Spiritual, as well as it doth ſo with others now) pecked up over it; and ſo Hagar, was in the Houſe, and would be Miſtreſs there; but was not caſt out with her Seed: Oh, who can read, and truly underſtand this! But when the Lord turned us to the Light of his Spirit, and by the Light and Power of his Spirit, brake the bonds and chains of darkneſs in us; then we would believe in him who appeared, and (in the Strength and Vertue received from him) we could obey him, yielding our Members Inſtruments of Righteouſneſs to do his Will; and in the Spirit of the Son (which we then received in the Faith, even the Heavenly Spirit, the moſt excellent Spirit) we could pray to the Father; Firſt, ſighing and groaning before him, afterwards pouring out our Requeſts and Supplications to him, with giving of thanks.

Queſt. How did the Lord teach you to believe? or what did he teach you to believe now, more than before?

Anſw. It is written in the Prophets, all thy Children ſhall be taught of the Lord; and in the new Covenant it is promiſed, They ſhall all know me, from the leaſt to the greateſt.

Now, as we were brought by the Lord into the Light of this Covenant, we were taught thus to know him, and to believe in him, and his Son, as thus made known. So that we knew the Father revealing the Son, and the Son revealing the Father; and our Hearts were drawn to believe in both, as they were both revealed in us, and to us, and the revealing was in the ſpirit of both, in the Light of both, in the Life of both, in the Power of both; which Spirit, which Light, which Life, which Power is one; ſo that, he that indeed knows the Son, knows the Father alſo; and he that indeed knows the Father, knows the Son alſo.

Very deep and weighty was that anſwer of Chriſt to Philip, when Philip ſaid; ſhew us the Father, and it ſufficeth. Haſt thou not ſeen me, Philip, ſaid Chriſt; how is it that thou ſayeſt, Shew us the Father? he that hath ſeen me, hath ſeen the Father alſo. Are they not one Nature, one Wiſdom, one Power, one pure Eternal Being? Can the one poſſibly be ſeen, and not the other? though they may be diſtinguiſhed in manifeſtation in the Hearts, where they are received: Is it poſſible, they ſhould be divided, and ſeparated the one from the other?

Thoſe that thus apprehend, plainly manifeſt, that they never received the true Knowledge of the Father and Son: but have only Notions, and Apprehenſions of Man's Wiſdom concerning them.

So, now to us, there is but one God and Father, Of whom are all things, and we in him; and, One Lord Jeſus Chriſt, by whom are all Things, and we by him; and but one Spirit and Power of Life, which we have received of the Son and Father, through which we Believe, and lay hold on the pure Eternal Power, and Strength of the Almighty, which redeems and ſaves the Soul; and ſo believing on him, who raiſed up our Lord Jeſus Chriſt from the Dead, here we meet with Juſtification, and are at Peace with our God, laying hold on his Strength, and Being held by it.

And ſo here, in the New Covenant, under the Teachings of God's Spirit, we witneſs that Scripture fulfilled in our Hearts, Iſa. 27. 4, 5.

Queſt. How did the Lord Teach you to Obey? ye do not obey the Ten Commandements; ye neither Learned, nor Teach them: But all that ye Obey, is all Light and Spirit within, which may be a Spirit of Deluſion, for ought we know; and we believe it is ſo, becauſe we do not find it agreeing with the Scriptures, nor you in the Pra- ctice

Etice of the Ordinances of Chriſt, according to the Scriptures.

Anſw. That Harſh Spirit which in this manner objecteth, is not very fit, nor likely to receive or embrace Information, from the meek and tender Spirit of the Lamb: but there are ſome, who are broken and tendred, and fit to receive Impreſſion and Information from the Holy Spirit, and Power of our God; and to them, and for their ſakes are my Anſwers given forth, and directed. So, for their ſakes I ſhall proceed in Plainneſs, and Evidence of Truth, Anſwering, as the Lord ſhall open my Heart.

Truly, the Lord hath taught us Obedience, ſo, as we never learned before, putting his Laws into our Minds, and Writing them in our Hearts, and giving us his good Spirit to dwell in us, to quicken and help us to obey, and perform his Holy Laws. And thoſe Two Commandements, (on which the whole Law and Prophets hang) to wit, To Love God with all our Hearts, and Our Neighbours as our ſelves, as Taught by Moſes and Chriſt; yea, the very Subſtance of the Law written in Tables of Stone, he hath inwardly Written in our Hearts, and Taught us to Obſerve, and Obey: So that, we have no other God, but Him, who brought us out of Spiritual Egypt, by his out-ſtretched Arm, and Holy Power, revealed inwardly for us, as it was outwardly for that People of the Jews, whom God redeemed out of outward Egypt.

Indeed before, other Lords had Rule over us, and ſomewhat ſtill got between us, and our God; ſo that, when we were without the Limits of the pure Power, we were Idolaters in God's Sight, though we then knew it not; But now, we make mention of the Lord's Name only.

So, the Lord hath Taught us not to make any Image, or Likeneſs of his Appearance, or of the Heavenly Things: not to form any thing in our Minds from the Scriptures; But to wait on God, to know his Truths revealed in their own pure Nature.

The Lord hath likewiſe Taught us to Sanctify his Name, which he hath made known to us, and not to take it in vain; but to reverence his Holy Power and Spirit, in every degree of its Appearance: For the Name of our God is Living, and is only Sanctified, and not taken in vain by thoſe that are Living.

Alſo, the Lord hath Taught us to obſerve, and keep his holy Sabbath, and Day of Reſt, (even the Day of the Goſpel-Reſt; for that is the Sabbath now) not doing our own Works, or thinking our own Thoughts, or kindling a Fire of our ſelves, on his Holy-Day; but ceaſing from our own Willing and Running, and from all the Works of the Fleſh, and waiting to feel him Work in us, both to Will, and to Do of his good Pleaſure: Which Works in the Spirit, (Works of Faith, of Love, of Mercy, &c.) Break not the Goſpel-Reſt, or Sabbath.

And having thus learned the Duties of the Firſt Table (the Lord having Circumciſed our Hearts, to Love the Lord our God, with all our Hearts, and to Exalt Him, his Spirit, his Nature, his Will, his Name, his Day in us) the Duties of the Second Table are eaſy, and natural to us, and we cannot but Do to others, as we would be done unto; and ſo Love, and Honour all Men in the Lord, as the Lord Teacheth us from the True and Holy Ballance. Therefore, we cannot Kill, or Commit Adultery, or Steal, or Bear Falſe Witneſs, or Covet any thing that is our Neighbours.

Then, for the Laws and Ordinances of the New Teſtament; The Miniſtration of the Goſpel, is a Miniſtration of Spirit and Power: even of the Light of the Everlaſting Day, which the true Miniſtry was ſent to turn Mens Minds from the Darkneſs to.

And here we ſee, what was taught and required before the Apoſtacy, while the Church was in its Firſt Glory; and what was permitted, and practiſed by Permiſſion: which were ſuch kind of Things, as were not of the Nature of the Kingdom, not of the Nature of the Light of the Goſpel-Day; but of a Lower Nature, of an Outward Nature, of an Earthly (Elementary) Nature, which were to be ſhaken in due time, that that which could not be ſhaken (which they ſignified of, and repreſented) might remain, and be Eſtabliſhed in the Spiritual and Heavenly Jeruſalem (which is the Jeruſalem of the Goſpel) without any ſuch thing thing as could be ſhaken; as is Teſtified, Heb. 12. 22. to the end: And we underſtand alſo from God's Spirit, and from the Scriptures of Truth, that all ſuch kind of things were part of, or belonging to the Outward Court; which was ſhaken, and given to the Gentiles, when God's Spirit meaſured what he would have abide with his True, Inward, Spiritual Jews; and what he would leave to the Profeſſing World, who in Mind, Nature, and Spirit, and in God's Account alſo, are but Gentiles.

Queſt. How did God teach you to Pray? Surely, ye never learned the Lord's Prayer; for ye do not practiſe that among you.

Anſw. As God brought us into a ſenſible Condition, ſo we came to feel our Wants, and the Need of our Souls, Inwardly and Spiritually.

Now, waiting on the Lord, in this Sence, when we meet together, and when we are alone alſo, the Lord Breatheth upon us, and kindleth in us fervent Deſires and Longings of Soul after that which is Pure, and to be Delivered from that which is Impure, and that we might be Ingraffed more and more into Chriſt; and that Judgment, and Condemnation might paſs upon all, that is not of God in us, and that our Hearts might be ſo united to the Lord, as that we might Fear his Name fully. For we feel and obſerve, that all our Life and Strength flows from the Union of our Souls, with the Lord; and therefore, above all things, we cry for that, and for Separation from that Spirit, which Captivateth into the Things of the Earth, and in the Earthly Mind, and Nature.

So, we watch unto Prayer, and watch for help from God in our calling upon him; and are deeply ſenſible, that we have need both of Watching and Praying continually, the Enemy is ſo near, and the Soul's Snares and Dangers ſo many.

And truely, Chriſt our Lord, and Maſter, who taught his Diſciples to Pray formerly, hath taught us alſo to Pray that very Prayer; though not to ſay the Words outwardly in the Will of Men, or in our own Will; that he hath taught our Hearts to Breath after the ſame things, even that the Name of our Heavenly Father might be Hallowed or Sanctified more and more, among all that call upon his Name in Truth, and eſpecially in our own Hearts; and that his Kingdom might come more and more, that he might Reign more in Men's Spirits, and the Kingdom of Sin and Satan be thrown down; and that his Will might be done, even in our Earth, as it is done in the Heavenly Places, where all the Hoſts of God obey him; and that we might have every day a Proportion of the Heavenly Bread, whereby our Souls may Live to him; and Convenient Food and Proviſion outward alſo, according as he ſeeth Good, who careth for us.

Now, as we are kept in the Light, and watch to the Light which diſcovers things, we ſee what we are kept out of; and what we at any time are intangled in, and ſo treſpaſs againſt the Lord: and then we are taught to beg Pardon, and to wait where Pardon is to be received, through our Advocate, even as God hath taught us to Forgive.

Yet this doth not imbolden any of the little Ones to Sin; but they pray that they may be led (or fall) into Temptation; but may Witneſs deliverance from the Evil, which the Enemy watcheth to betray, and inſnare them with. And theſe Cries are put up to him, who is ready to hear, and who can anſwer and fulfill the deſires of them, that love and fear him: and indeed not only ſo, but they are alſo put up in Faith, that in the Way of God, the Soul ſhall obtain and receive what it Prayeth and Waiteth for.

Now, we witneſs this to be true Religion, and undefiled before God; and we are ſenſible, that the Lord hath taught us this, and is with us in our Faith, which he hath given us, in our Obedience, in our Praying to him in the Name of his Son, in our watching, in our waiting, in the ſilence of our Spirits, before his Mighty and Glorious Majeſty.

O that ye all knew our God, and his Chriſt, in the ſame Covenant, and Power of Life, wherein it hath pleaſed him to make himſelf manifeſt to us! Oh, awake, awake out of your Dreames, come out of the night of Sin and Darkneſs, into the Light of the day.

Be

Be not offended, that I call them Dreames of the Night, ; for they are no better before the Light of the day. O be not contented with Dreames concerning God, with Dreames concerning Fellowſhip, with him, and the Saints in Light, with Dreames concerning Remiſſion, concerning Juſtification, concerning Peace, concerning Sanctification, concerning the Help of God's Spirit in Prayer, &c.

All friends; dear friends (for ye, in whom there is any true breathings after the Lord, are ſo to me) Oh! let go the Dead for the Living; away with Dead Knowledge, Dead Faith, Dead Hope, Dead Prayers, Dead underſtanding of the Scriptures, Dead ſtrivings after Holineſs, which ſhall never obtain, but ye beſtill bowed down, under Corruption, when at any time truly ſenſible, notwithſtanding all theſe: (truly groaning and complaining is your beſt State here; for your Peace here is wrong:) and come to feel that raiſed in you, in the true, retired waiting upon the Lord, which ſhall certainly obtain in you, as your minds are united to it; and come into the true ſence and ſubjection under it; And then, ye ſhall obtain in it, and with it, what the Hearts of all the upright, (whether in Captivity, or out of Captivity) breath after.

O therefore, be not any longer prejudiced, by the ſubtile devices and deceits of the Enemy, againſt that in your Hearts, which reproves becauſe of Sin; and likewiſe, draws and leads into that which is Holy: for it is no leſs, then the Pure, Heavenly Light of God's own Spirit, what ever ye, through miſtake, miſunderſtanding, or want of true experience, may judge of it.

XIX.

Concerning the Goſpel-State.

THe Goſpel is a Miniſtration of the new Covenant, or a Spiritual Miniſtration of the ſubſtance of all that was ſhadowed out under the Law. There were many things under the Law; but in the Goſpel, God hath gathered all into one; in Chriſt there is but one Seed, one Spirit, one Life, one Power, which Redeems, one Circumciſion, one Baptiſm, one Faith, &c.

The Law was given by Moſes, and the Miniſtration thereof continued through the Prophets, untill the Seed ſhould come, which was to put an end to the Law, and the Righteouſneſs thereof, (as in the Letter) and bring in the Righteouſneſs in the Spirit, which ſhould laſt for ever.

The Goſpel is By Chriſt, by whom God ſpake in the laſt dayes; who is the beloved Son, the Prophet and High-Prieſt of God, who is to be heard for ever; who taught his Diſciples while he was with them on Earth, in that Body of Fleſh, which his Father prepared for him; and afterwards by his Spirit (or Holy Anointing) whereby he continueth teaching his Children, and bringing them up in the Vertue, Life and Power of the new Covenant, giving them a new Heart and Spirit, and cauſing the old Nature of the earthly Adam to dye in them, and paſs away from them.

The Law was given to the Jew outward, and is againſt nature in man, which ſeems forward to obey, but will not.

The Law, alſo is given to check that Part (or nature in Man) which is above the Seed; to which were all the Shadows and Types outward.

But in the Goſpel, which is the Power of God, to the Redemption of the Soul, that part is done away, and the Seed raiſed, and comes to live in the Soul, and the Soul in the Power, which quickens it in, and through the Seed.

And ſo, here the Life, and Virtue, and Nature of the Seed overſhadows all, and changes all in the Goſpel-Miniſtration: So that here's a New Heaven, and a new Earth, wherein God reigns, and where Righteouſneſs dwells; and the old Things, wherein Unrighteouſneſs dwelt, and wherein the Devil reigned, are done away; and ſo, his Kingdom is deſtroyed, and laid Waſt in man, and the Kingdom of Chriſt ſet up, exalted and eſtabliſhed

Then cómes the Mountain of the Lords Houſe to be known on the toy, and above

Above all the Mountains and Hills; and then is the flowing of the enlightned Soul thither, to learn of the Lord in his Holy Sanctuary; that it may know his Wayes, and walk in his Paths. Then is the Voyce of the true Shepherd heard, and the Law known, (the Law of the Spirit of Life in Christ Jesus) which cometh out of Sion, and the Word of the Lord, (even the Holy One of Israel) which cometh from Jerusalem. Then is the Day of the Lord known, the Mighty terrible shaking Day of the Lord; which is then upon all flesh, silencing it in the dread and awe of him, who is Holy and Pure; and the Seed is then raised to Life, and in Life and Power, and the Lord alone exalted in that Soul. For the Son exalted the Father only, in the dayes of his flesh; and it is so now, wherever the same Seed and Power of Life is made manifest, and rules.

Then after this shaking, after the Work of this terrible day of the Lord in the Heart, when God hath purged away the Filth and Blood of the defiled Soul and Spirit, by his Spirit of Judgment, and Burning: Then that which is felt, shall be called Holy and dedicated to the Lord, even in every one that is written and reckoned by God among the Living, in his Jerusalem. And all God's Tabernacles, and Dwelling Places on his Holy Mountain, and in his Holy City, will he cover with the Glory of his Presence, and all their assemblies (by his Cloudy Pillar, and by his shining Flame) will God be a defence about; before which brightness (and the arising of his Life and Power, in the midst of his People) Satan with his devices and fiery Darts shall fall like flashes of Lightnings, and his Storms and Winds shall not be able to prevail, (against the Houses) or Dwelling-Places which God builds on this his Holy Mountain of Peace and Salvation.

Then the Rod of the Stem of Jesse is known, and the branch which groweth out of his Root, and the Spirit of the Lord resting upon him. For Grace and Truth came by Jesus Christ; and where the Grace, and Truth which comes by Jesus Christ is received and his everlasting Covenant entred into; there the same spirit is poured forth, and rests (even upon all the Sons) and true judgment is set up in the Heart, and the Soul established in the Righteousness and Peace of his Kingdom.

So if any want Wisdom, let him ask in Faith; it is presently given from the spirit of Wisdom, which is poured out upon the seed, which is a spirit of Understanding and Knowledge, and of pure Heavenly Fear, &c. which maketh quick in understanding the Fear of the Lord, which Fear (being uuderstood and observed) keepeth the Heart clean, teaching it to avoid, and keep out of all that defiles: so, that here is not so much as a touching the unclean thing, by any of the sons and daughters, who are led by God's Spirit, and live and walk in the spirit; but a following of the Law of the spirit of Life in Christ Jesus, fully and perfectly.

Let sin and imperfection be received back to Sodom, Egypt, and Babylon, from whence it came: but let Holiness and unstained Beauty dwell in Sion; yea, let Urim and Thummim, even God's Light and Perfection, be with his redeemed People for ever and ever.

Here the Wolf dwells with the Lamb, and the Leopard lyes down with the Kid, and the Calf, and the young Lyon, and the Fatling together, and the little Child leads them. Here the Lyon devours not, but eats straw like the Oxe, and the sucking Child, and the weaned Child can play in the hole of the Asp, and put his Hand on the Cockatrices Den; and they that are in the Power, can tread upon Serpents, and they cannot Hurt, Wound, Poyson, or Destroy; For there is safety all over God's Holy Mountain, and the Venom, or Poyson of the wicked Spirit, cannot reach thither, to Hurt or Poyson any there: For God's Earth is filled with Knowledge, with Life, with pure Living Knowledge, which preserves out of the reach of Darkness and Death.

Nay here, Ephraim doth not envy Judah, nor Judah vex Ephraim: for the envying, vexing Nature and Spirit, is taken out of them both. And here is turned to the Lord, a People of a pure Language, who speak the Truth, as they feel it, as they receive it from the Lord, in the Life of it, in the true sence and understanding of it, and not according to their own Apprehendings, or Imaginings concerning it, which are the various and many Languages of Babel. For, in the Seed, and of the Seed is the pure Language; but out from the Seed, are the many Voices and Languages (even the confusion of Babel) one speaking as he apprehends, thus; another speaking as he conceives, thus; so, plainly manifesting, that they are out from the evidence and demonstration of the Spirit, whose Voyce is one and Language one in all, in the day of the Gospel. And he that speaks otherwise, then the Law and Testimony of Life speaks in the Heart, it is either because he knoweth not, or is not yet gathered into the Morning-Light of the everlasting day of the Gospel: for there all are to speak, as the Oracle of God, the Truth as it is in Jesus.

In this day, the Anger of God is turned away, and Condemnation come to an end, (for there is no Condemnation to them that are in Christ Jesus, who walk not after the Flesh, but after the Spirit) and the Comforter is come, by whom God Comforts the Soul, and the Soul with joy draweth Water out of the Wells, or Springs of the Comforter. Yea, the Soul is gathered into the Love, (or into God, who is Love) where the Saviour and Salvation is felt, and God found such a present Help, and Strength in time of Trouble, that fear is done away, and the Lord trusted and hoped in; yea, and boasted of in every condition. So that his Name is made mention of, and Sung of, and exalted, over all that can come to oppose, or break down the Work of his Power, in the Heart; insomuch, that the Inhabitants of Sion, cryes out and shouts against the enemy, when he appears, because the Holy one of Israel is so great in the midst of her, who breaks the Spear and the Bow, the Shield and the Battle, Selah, See Isa. 12.

Yea, in this Day, the Feast of fat things is made on God's Holy Mountain, of fat things full of Marrow, and of Wines on the Lees well refined. And in this Mountain, the Vail of the Covering, (spread over the Heart) is done away; for in the Seed, there is no feigned Covering, but an opening of the unvailed Eye, to see the unvailed Life, and Power, even the revealed Arm of the Redeemer.

Who hath believed our Report, and to whom is the Arm of the Lord Revealed? It was said so, in the old Covenant, in the Law-Dispensation; but it is not said so, in the new Covenant, in the Gospel-Dispensation: for the Vail is done away in Christ; and the Children there, with open face, behold (as in a Mirror) the Glory of the Lord.

And here, where the Seed is revealed, and the Soul come into the Seed, and become one with the Seed, that is felt, which breaketh the Serpents Head: and when his head is broken, Death is soon swallowed up into Victory, and the tears of Sorrow wiped away, (so that, there is no room for any tears now, but tears of Joy, tears of melting Love, and Sweetness, before the Lord) and the Rebuke, because of Circumcision, taken away. For, when God Circumciseth the Heart, to love the Lord with all the Heart; then it receiveth Life from him, and then the shame and Rebuke of the uncircumcised, and Dead state passeth away.

And then, saith the Soul; Lo, this is my God, I so much wanted, and so long waited for. Oh! He is come, he is come to Judge my Heart in Righteousness, and to bring under all that hath kept the Seed under in me; and I feel him, my Souls Salvation, and my Heart is glad in him. And now I know the Land of Judah, (for that Land outwardly was but a figure of the inward) and the strong City that is therein (which the Righteous Nation, that keepeth the Truth, enters in at the Gates of) where God appointeth Salvation for Walls and Bulwarks. See Isa. 25. and Chap. 26.

And in this Day, when the Seed is raised, when the Gospel Power reacheth to the Seed, and raiseth up the Soul with the Seed, and punisheth Leviathan that crooked Serpent, and destroyeth the Place where the Dragons lay, so that as such a Place it can be found no more, because the Lord hath made all things New, and laid waste the Old, then shall be sung to her that was Afflicted, a Vineyard of red Wine, which the Lord will keep and Water every moment, lest any hurt it; yea, the Lord (who is the keeper of Israel, who neither slumbreth nor sleepeth) will keep it night and day: and though fury be not in the Lord, yet he will go through the Bryars and Thorns, which set themselves in battle against him; to hinder hinder the Current of his Love and Blessings upon his Heritage.

But, as for his People, God will be very Gracious to them, answering them in all that they call upon him for, and being with them in the Fire, and in the Water; so that, the Waters shall not be able to overwhelm them, nor the Flame of the fiercest Fire kindle upon them. For the Enemie's Fire shall not be able to burn up God's Heritage, nor their Waters to overflow them: But God's Fire and Waters shall overflow, and consume the Adversaries, as he pleaseth to let forth his overflowing Scourge, and Fiery Indignation upon them.

The Gospel is a State of pouring out the Spirit of God upon his Seed, and his Blessing upon his Off-spring; wherein he strengthens that which is Weak, and confirms that which is Feeble; wherein he comforts Worm Jacob, and recompenceth Vengeance to that which oppressed him: That which wounded him, that which bowed him down, that which closed his Eye, stopped his Ear, made him Dumb and Lame, hardened his Heart from God's Fear, &c. That Nature, that Wisdom, that Spirit, that Power is visited with Vengeance: That which emptied him of the Good, and made him desolate and Solitary, is now smitten, distressed, and made Solitary, and the Prisoner of Hope loosed, and brought out of the Pit, and the Blind Eye opened, and the Deaf Ear unstopped, and the Lame made to Leap as an Hart, and the Tongue of the Dumb to Sing, and the parched Ground become a Pool, and the Thirsty Land Springs of Water; and that Nature wherein Dragons dwelt, is now changed, and Life dwells there, and the Holy New Earth brings forth her Increase of Life to the Lord, and the Way of Holiness is made plain, which Rough Esau, or Conceited Ishmael, or Sacrificing Cain (who hath not the true Brotherly Love in him) cannot come into, but Holy Abel, Blessed Isaac, Plain Jacob, Walked therein, and Inherited the Blessing, and the Ransomed of the Lord return from all their Desolations, Captivities, and Scatterings in the Apostacy, and come to Sion with Songs, and everlasting Joy upon their Heads, where they obtain Joy and Gladness, and where Sorrow and Sighing flee away. For when the Comforter is come to the Soul, when the Spirit from on high is poured out upon it; then the Wilderness becomes a Fruitful Field, and the Fruitful Field is counted for a Forrest: Then Judgment dwells in the Wilderness, and Righteousness remains in the Fruitful Field: Then Righteousness is known, and the Work thereof; and the Work of Righteousness is Peace, and the Effect of Righteousness Quietness, and Assurance for ever: And the People of God then dwell (even his Holy Israel, his Spiritual Israel, the Redeemed Ones by his Spirit and Power) in a peaceable Habitation, and in sure Dwellings, and in quiet resting Places; where their God is to them, as Ammunition of Rocks, and as broad Rivers of Love, Life, Righteousness, Peace, Joy, and Blessedness for ever.

In the Gospel-State, the Lord, the Redeemer, the Holy One of Israel, who is the Teacher of his People in the New Covenant, who Teacheth them to Profit therein, and Leadeth them in the Way that they should go; I say in the Gospel-State he is known, and his Voice hearkened to. My Sheep (those whom I Gather and Redeem) hear my Voice, and follow me, saith Christ; who feed my Flock like a Shepherd, guiding them by my Spirit into fresh and green Pastures, gathering my Lambs with my Arm, carrying them in my Bosom, and gently leading those that are with Young: Yea, I bring the Blind by a Way, that they knew not, and lead them in Paths they have not known: I make Dark things Light before them, and Crooked things Straight: These Things do I do unto them, and will not forsake them. Yea, Worm Jacob, which was trampled upon by all, is now made a sharp, threshing Instrument, having Teeth, which thresheth the Mountains (beating them small) and makes the Hills as Chaff; which Fans them, and the Wind carrieth them away, and the Whirl-Wind scattereth them: But Jacob rejoyceth in his God, and glorieth in the Holy One of Israel; who openeth Rivers in high Places, and Fountains in the midst of Vallies, and makes the Wilderness a Pool of Water, and the Dry Land Springs of Water. For the Lord hath Comforted Sion, and had Compassion on her waste Places, and on her opposed Seed in Babylon; and hath said to the Prisoners, Go forth to them that sate in Darkness, shew your selves abroad in the Light: And he hath made her Wilderness like Eden, and her Desart like the Garden of the Lord; so that Joy and Gladness is found in her (even the Joy of God's Spirit, which is unspeakable, and full of Glory) with Thanksgiving, and the Voice of Melody: For the Destroyer, and those that made her Wast, are gone forth of her, and great is the Holy One, in the Midst of her. So that, the Barren, that did not bear, sings; and she cries aloud, and breaks forth into Singing, that did not Travel with Child: for she Travels not now in vain; but also, brings forth abundantly: So that, more are the Children of the Desolate, than of the formerly Married Wife. And, How can it be otherwise? For the Maker is the Husband, who hath made an Everlasting Covenant of Peace with the Soul, in the Son of his Love, and keeps and preserves in that Covenant, where the Lord can never be wrath with the Soul, nor rebuke it. For here, all the Children of the Lord are Taught of the Lord, and kept in his Holy Fear, and in Subjection to his Spirit; and great is their Peace, and in Righteousnes are they Established, and are far from Oppression; the Terror whereof cannot come near them.

There are Three or Four Things yet more on my Heart, to mention concerning the Gospel-State.

First, In it the Gospel-Fast is known; which is not to afflict the Soul, or hang down the Head like a Bulrush for a day; but to loose the Bands of Wickedness, to undo the heavy Burdens, to let the Oppressed go free, to break every Yoak, to deal One's Bread to the Hungry (To Visit the Fatherless, and Widows, in their Affliction, and to keep ones Self unspotted from the Worldly Spirit and Nature, which defiles; and so, not to touch the unclean thing.)

Then the Light of the Soul breaks forth, as the Morning, and its Health springs forth speedily, and its Righteousnes goeth before it (for that which judgeth Unrighteousnes, that is its Righteousnes; which instead of coming after to Reprove and Condemn, now goeth before) and the Glory of the Lord is the Reward, coming after to preserve and defend all that springs up in the Power. O blessed is he, that Witnesseth this State!

Secondly, In the Gospel-State the Gospel-Sabbath is kept, and known to be God's Holy Day, and called a Delight (the Holy of the Lord, Honourable) and the Lord is honoured in it by the Soul, while it walketh not in its own Wayes, nor findeth its own Pleasures, nor speaketh its own Words: And then the Soul delighteth it self in the Lord, who then (in this State) causeth it to ride on the High-Places of the Earth, and feedeth it with the Heritage of Jacob its Father. What is that? What is Jacob's Heritage? What is it, that Jacob is to be fed with, and Inherit? Is it any less, than the Life, and Blessedness of the Promised Land? Is it any less, than the hidden Manna? Is it any less, than the Fruit of the Living Vine? Is it any other, than the Sweetness, and Fatness of the True Olive-Tree?

Thirdly, In it the Garment of Salvation is put On, even the Lord Jesus Christ; for here the filthy Garments are put off, and the pure Garments put on: For here, the Lord hath appointed to them that Have Mourned in Sion, to give them Beauty for Ashes, the Oyl of Joy for Mourning, the Garment of Praise for the Spirit of Heavyness, that they might be called Trees of Righteousnes, the Planting of the Lord, that he might be Glorified. So that, here the Soul can truly say, I will greatly rejoyce in the Lord, my Soul shall be Joyful in my God; for he hath Cloathed me with the Garments of Salvation, he hath Covered me with the Robe of Righteousnes. For as the Earth bringeth forth her Bud, and as the Garden causeth the things that are sown in it, to spring forth: so the Lord God hath caused Righteousnes, and Praise to spring forth, before the Eyes of all that are truly opened by him: And he will not draw back his Arm, or put up the Sword, which he hath drawn, till he hath Destroyed his Adversaries, and laid wast the Mount of Esau, and made his Jerusalem the Praise of the whole Earth. Amen, Hallelujah.

And here is the Love, which casteth out fear, and removeth Care; so that, they that dwell here, are carefull in nothing; but in every thing make their requests known to God, by Prayer and supplication with thanksgiving; and the Peace of God,

God, which passeth all understanding, guards the Heart and Mind through Christ Jesus. So that here God Glorifieth the soul, charming it from Glory, to Glory, in and hy his spirit; and God is Praised and Glorified in, and by the Soul, and the Heart kept pure, and chast in the eye of the Lord; and in the Conversation ordered aright, by his Spirit and Power, in which the Soul lives and walks, and his salvation seen and enjoyed daily more and more: so that, here is a possession or inheritance of Life in the Kingdom (in the holy Land of the Living) of which there is no end; Everlasting endless Prayers, to the Holy One of Israel, (whose Tabernacle is with Men, and who dwelleth in the midst of his People) for ever and ever.

Now, if any one doubt, concerning the Truth of these things, this Word is in my Heart to such, Come, and see, O come, and see the Glory of the Lord, and the Power of his Life, and Righteousness of his Kingdom, which is now revealed after the long Night of Darkness! O Blessed, Blessed be his Name, who hath caused his Light to shine, and opened the eye (which was once blind) to to see it.

Quest. But how may I come to see the Glory of the Gospel-State?

Answ. Come to the Seed, and wait to feel and receive the Power, which raiseth the Seed in the Heart, and bringeth the Heart, Soul, and Mind, and Spirit into Union with the Seed.

Quest. But how may I come to the Seed? And how may I wait aright to feel, and receive the Power which raiseth it?

Answ. Mind that in thee, which searcheth the Heart, and what it reacheth to, and quickeneth in thee; what it draweth thee from, what it draweth thee to; how it sheweth thee thine own in ability to follow, and how it giveth Ability, when thou art weary of Toyling and Labouring, of thy self. O, this is he, whom we have waited for! Thus he appeared to us, thus he taught us to turn in, and to turn from the Kingdome of Darkness within, towards the Kingdome of Light, which the Good Seeds-man had sown in us, as a grain of mustard-seed; which when we found, we knew it to be the Pearl of Price, and were made willing to sell all for it: and now, it is purchased, and also possessed in a good measure, blessed be the Name of our Mercifull God, and tender Father, for ever and ever.

O Hungring and Thirsting Soul after Life, (after Truth, after the Lambs, Righteousness) do thou also wait to be taught of the Lord (who thus taught us) and then do thou go, and do so likewise, and thou wilt never repent of this purchase, or of what thou parteſt with for it, when once thou comest to enjoy, and possess any Proportion of it.

The Lord make thee sensible of the Visits, Drawings, and Leadings of his holy Spirit, and guide thy feet thereby into the way of Truth and Peace. Amen.

XX.

Concerning Baptism.

He that believeth, and is Baptised, shall be Saved; but he that believeth not, shall be Damned, Mark. 16. 16.

THis is a very weighty Scripture, and necessary for every Christian rightly to understand; that he may so believe, and be so Baptised, as to witness Salvation by the Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ.

Now, what believing is this, which is here required as necessary to Salvation, and which the Promise of Salvation is to? Is it any less, than a believing in the Lord Jesus Christ, from a sense of the Power, which the Father hath given him to save with? Is it not an inward believing, a believing with the Heart? And, what Baptism, or Washing is it, which serves? Is it not an inward Washing, a Washing of the Soul, a Washing of the Heart, a Washing of the Conscience, from dead works, to serve the the Living God? Doth outward washing save the Soul? Inward washing doth, Baptising into the Name doth. Bodily exercise profiteth little, but Godliness (the inward Renewing, and Washing of the Mind) profiteth greatly.

There is one Faith, one Baptism: Is not the one Faith inward and spiritual? Is not the one Baptism so also? Sure I am, that he that thus believeth, and is Baptised shall be saved; but he that believeth not, remaineth in the filthy, unwashed state, in which there neither is, nor can be Salvation; but Judgment and Condemnation, Death and Destruction for ever.

The Apostle Peter shews, Pet. 3. what the Baptism is which saveth, even that which is the Antitype, or which inwardly or spiritually answers to Noahs Ark. The The Greek Word is ἀντίτυπον, which signifieth the Antitype, or that which answers to the Type; the Substance, which comes instead of the figure or shadow; and so it is more Properly and Naturally rendered in the old Translation thus. (The Baptism that now is, answering that figure, saveth.) For, as Noahs Ark saved the Bodies of those that were in it, when God came to Judge and destroy the Old World; so the inward washing saveth those, that are washed thereby, from the Wrath and Destruction, which will come upon all that are unwashed.

Now lest any should misunderstand and misapply his Words, as if he spake concerning outward Baptism or Washing, he explaineth himself in the following Words; Not. (saith he) the putting away of the filth of the Flesh, not the outward Washing of the Body, that's not it that saves; but that Baptism which causeth the Answer of a good Conscience towards God, by the Resurrection of Jesus Christ: For this is the effect of the inward Baptism; Sin being washed away by the Water of Life, by the Blood of the Lamb; that which is new, that which is renewed, riseth up out of the Water, which washeth away Sin, and then the pure and good Conscience answers to God, and the Soul, knows and partakes of both the Death and Resurrection of our Lord Jesus Christ: and so being Baptised by the one Baptism, even the Baptism of Christ, into the one Body, comes into the state and fellowship of the Living. Another Apostle also speaketh of the inward washing, even the washing of Regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghost, by which, saith he, God according to his Mercy saved us, Titus. 3. 5.

The Apostle Paul speaks of a Circumcision made without Hands, and tells wherein it consists, to wit, in putting off the Body of the Sins of the Flesh; and sheweth how this is effected, namely, not by Moses his Circumcision, but by the Circumcision of Christ. Col. 2. 11. And truly, they who were thus Circumcised are the true Circumcision, the Spiritual Circumcision, who Worship God in the Spirit, and have no Confidence in the Flesh but rejoyce in Christ Jesus, who thus Circumciseth them, Now, in the next verse he speaketh of Baptism, of being Buried with Christ in Baptism, and of Rising with him in the same, through the faith of the Operation of God, who raised him from the dead. What is this Baptism? is it inferior to the Circumcision before spoken of? Is it not without Hands also? What is it, that buries into the Death of Christ? That raiseth into the Life of Christ, through the Faith of the Operation of God? Is not this the one Spiritual and Heavenly Baptism, wherewith the one Body is Baptised by the one spirit? What doth outward Circumcision avail? Doth it avail any thing? What doth outward Washing avail? Doth it avail any more than outward Circumcision? But the inward Circumcision of the Jew inward, and the inward Washing of the Soul from Sin, doth avail very much.

Now for that place, Math. 28. 19, where Christ expresly Commandeth Baptising: it is a Question very weighty and worthy, duly to be considered, what Baptism he there commandeth. For if it be outward Baptism, they greatly err who apprehend it to be the inward and spiritual Baptism: but if it be the inward and spiritual Baptism which Christ intended in those Words, then they greatly err who apprehend it to be the outward. Now consider the words in the fear and weight of Gods Spirit.

It is said, Go teach Baptising: but it is not said, Baptising with Water, but in the Name, or rather (as the Greek is,) into the Name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost.

Now

Now to Baptiſe with Water is one thing, and to Baptiſe into the Name, is another; as they who experience the Spiritual Baptiſm know it to be. For the word of Faith turns men from Satan, to the Power of Life: and then, as they receive the Power, and are made partakers of the Power, they are Baptiſed into the Power, and Virtue of Life; and ſo they are buried (ſo far as they come into Chriſt) by the Power of his Spirit, with this Heavenly Baptiſm, into Death, unto Sin, and by the ſame Power are made alive unto Righteouſneſs: and ſo the Name of the Lord, the Name of the Father, Son and Spirit comes over them, and they riſe up in it unto Life and Righteouſneſs, and ſo are Dead unto Sin, and alive unto God. Now, any outward Circumciſing or Waſhing can be but a figure of this: but the inward Circumciſing and Waſhing is the thing it ſelf. For Chriſt ſent not his able Miniſters of the new Teſtament, to Miniſter the Letter, or to Miniſter the figures of things; but to Miniſter the Spirit, (elſe how were they able Miniſters of the Spirit?) to Miniſter the ſubſtance; not to Miniſter a Circumciſion or Baptiſm, which might be ſhaken, and paſs away, as Outward and Elementary; but to Miniſter the Circumciſion and Baptiſm which cannot be ſhaken, which is the Circumciſion and Baptiſm of the Goſpel, the Circumciſion and Baptiſm of the Spirit, the Circumciſion and Baptiſm of the Kingdom, which is never to be ſhaken, and paſs away, as Elementary; but to ſtand, and abide for ever, read Heb 12. 26, 27, 28. and conſider, how all Elementary and Outward things, which could be ſhaken, were to be ſhaken, and paſs away; that thoſe things, which were of an Higher Nature (even of the Nature of the Kingdom) might remain, and be eſtabliſhed in their ſtead.

And indeed, as the inward Circumciſion could not be throughly, and alone eſtabliſhed, while the figure thereof remained; the ſame may be truly ſaid concerning the inward Baptiſm: So that, by this it may appear, that the Baptiſm of water cannot be the Baptiſm which Chriſt intended in this Place; becauſe the Baptiſm here ſpoken of, was to continue to the end of the world: but the Baptiſm of water, is plainly of ſuch an outward, elementary Nature, as might be ſhaken, as well as Circumciſion, and ſo was to be ſhaken in due time, that that which could not be ſhaken, might remain; read alſo Rev. 11. 12, where it is plainly ſignified, under that Phraſe of the outward Court, being left out of God's meaſure, and given to the Gentiles, that things of ſuch a nature were ſhaken. And ſo were thoſe that were not the true and Spiritual worſhippers, in God's ſight. For they are Jews under the Goſpel, who were Jews inwardly; and they who are not Jews inwardly, are by Gods Spirit numbered amongſt the Gentiles. And conſider, how, not only the notorious Heathen, but ſuch as had got the form of Godlineſs, but denied the Power thereof, were rejected with their outſide ſhadows, as real as outward Jeruſalem was rejected to be troden under foot of the Gentiles.

Object. 1. But againſt this it is objected, That the Baptiſm in the ſpirit cannot be the Baptiſm ſpoken of in this Place; becauſe the Baptiſm ſpoken of in this Place, is commanded, but the Baptiſm of the ſpirit was never commanded, nor was it any mans ſin, ſo not to be Baptiſed.

Anſw. Surely, this is a great miſtake; Was the inward waſhing of the Heart never commanded? Rent your Hearts, and not your Garments. What is this but the ſpiritual Baptiſm? The Goſpel is a Miniſtration of inward things, and the inward things are ſtraightly commanded there. Can any man be ſaved, without inward Baptiſing? and is he not commanded to receive inward Baptiſing? and doth he not ſin, if he do not wait to receive it, and give up his Heart and Soul to be Baptiſed by God's Holy Spirit: If the eye were opened in People, to look into the Goſpel Miniſtration, and into the inward Nature of things, this might eaſily be Demonſtrated to the leaſt Babe there. For as the Goſpel was before the Law, and could not be Diſannulled by the Law; ſo this Miniſtration of the Spirits Baptiſm, (for Nature and Kind) was long before John's Baptiſm, and could not be Diſannulled, by any outward Miniſtration of Baptiſm, but abideth the ſame for ever; and is to have its place in the Goſpel-ſtate, where the figures & ſhadows of things paſs away, and that which is true, laſting and ſubſtantial, filleth up the room thereof.

Now, the Baptiſm of the Spirit, or the Spiritual waſhing, and Circumciſing the Heart Heart (which is all one in ſubſtance) was called for, and required of the Jews under the Law; and it was their Sin, not to anſwer God's Call, and Requiring therein. Conſider theſe Scriptures following, with many more of the like Nature: Break up your Fallow-ground, and Sow not among Thornes, Jer. 4. 3. Can the Fallow-ground be broken up, and the Thornes rooted out, (elſe the Sowing will be amongſt them) without the Circumciſion or Baptiſm of the Spirit, which is all one in nature and ground? Again: Circumciſe the Fore-skin of your Hearts, and be no more Stiff-necked, Deut. 10. 16. Make you a New Heart, and a New Spirit; for, why will ye Dye, O Houſe of Iſrael! Ezek. 18. 31. (Is not this all one in Subſtance with that Scripture, He that Believeth and is Baptized, ſhall be Saved?) O Jeruſalem, waſh thine Heart from Wickedneſs, that thou mayſt be Saved: How long ſhall thy vain Thoughts lodge within thee! Jer. 4. 14. Waſh ye, make you Clean, put away the Evil of your Doings, from before mine Eyes; ceaſe to do Evil, learn to do Well; ſeek Judgment, relieve the Oppreſſed, judg the Fatherleſs, plead for the Widow. Come now, and let us Reaſon together, ſaith the Lord: Though your Sins be as Scarlet, they ſhall be as white as Snow; though they be Red like Crimſon, they ſhall be as Wool. If ye be Willing and Obedient, ye ſhall Eat the Good of the Land; but if ye Refuſe and Rebel, ye ſhall be devoured with the Sword: For the Mouth of the Lord hath ſpoken it, Iſa. 1. 16, to 21.

Is not here the true Baptiſm, and the Remiſſion of Sins, which enſueth thereupon, with the Bleſſing on the Baptiſed Eſtate, and the Curſe on the Unbaptized, which extendeth both to Jew and Gentile: for with God, There is no Reſpect of Perſons.

O that Men could read the Scriptures of Truth, with the true Spirit, and with the true Underſtanding! For theſe things which were Written to the People of the Jews, were Written for our Learning; and precious Things may be Learned from the Scriptures, by thoſe whoſe Eyes are opened by the Lord, and who keep cloſe in their Reading, to that which anointeth and openeth the Eye; whereas others cannot but miſunderſtand and wreſt them, to their own great Danger at leaſt, if not to the Ruin, and Deſtruction of their Souls.

I ſhall here mention but one Place more, which is that of Pſal. 51. 17. The Sacrifices of God, are a broken Spirit; a broken and contrite Heart, O God, thou wilt not Deſpiſe. Can any offer up the Sacrifice to God, but he who is inwardly and ſpiritually waſhed from that which defileth, and hardeneth? And, Doth not God require this Baptiſm? And, What is this, but the Baptiſm of the Spirit? who thus waſheth the Soul with his Heavenly Water, in the Miniſtration of his Word and Power, when the Vertue and Efficacy thereof reacheth to the Heart, in, and through the Faith.

Object. 2. The Baptiſm of the Spirit cannot be here intended, becauſe this Baptiſm is to be adminiſtred by Men; but the Baptiſm of the Spirit was never adminiſtred by Men, Jeſus Chriſt Was the alone Miniſter of this Baptiſm.

Anſw. The Apoſtle ſaith, That God had made them able Miniſters of the New Teſtament; not of the Letter, but of the Spirit: for the Letter killeth, but the Spirit giveth Life, 2 Cor. 3. 6.

Mark; They were made able Miniſters by God, of that which giveth Life: And that they did miniſter the Spirit by Impoſition of Hands, is manifeſt, Act. 19. 6. and in many other Scriptures.

Indeed, the Apoſtles were not able of themſelves, or by any Vertue or Strength of their own, to beget Men to God, or to Baptiſe Men into his Name and Power: But their Sufficiency was of God.

Again, Paul was ſent to the Gentiles, to open their Eyes, Act. 26. 18. Now, Opening the Eyes of the Blind, is as peculiar to Chriſt, as Baptizing with the Spirit can be.

When Chriſt gave his Apoſtles Commiſſion to Teach, Baptizing, he told them, All Power in Heaven and Earth was given him; and bid them not Depart from Jeruſalem; but wait for the Promiſe of the Father: For John truly Baptized with Water, but ye ſhall be Baptized with the Holy-Ghoſt, not many dayes hence: and then they ſhould receive Power: What to do? To Baptize with Water, or, to Baptiſe Baptiſe into the Name with the ſame Baptiſm, wherewith they themſelves were Baptiſed? ſee Math. 28. and Acts. 1.

Now, if this Commiſſion (here given to the Apoſtles, Math. 28. 16, &c.) was to Baptiſe with Water, then Paul was inferior to the other Apoſtles: for he, though he had ſeen the Lord, and was ſent from him to open the eyes of the Gentiles: yet he was not ſent to Baptiſe with Water, as he expreſly ſaith; he was not ſent to Baptiſe, (that is outwardly with water) but to Preach the Goſpel. But if the Baptiſm intended by Chriſt, was inward and Spiritual, even into the Name, Vertue, Life, and Power of the Spirit: Then Paul had the Apoſtolick Commiſſion, as fully as any of the reſt; and the Grace and Power of God, did work as mightily in him to this end, as in any of them.

But Men are as much miſtaken about the teaching required by this Commiſſion, as about this Baptiſm: For this Teaching is not a litteral teaching of things, or a diſcipling into an outward Knowledge and Way; but a Teaching in the Spirit and Power: And him whom God enableth ſo to do, he alſo enableth to Baptiſe into the ſame Spirit and Power. Yea indeed, when the Life and Power Miniſters (the word ſpoken being mixed with Faith in them that hear) it brings the earthly Part under, and brings the Life and Power of the Lord Jeſus Chriſt, over the Heart and Spirit. And this is true Baptiſm, and the ſubſtance of the Figure or Shadow, which was before the Figure either of Baptiſm, or Circumciſion was, and remains when they are gone.

Object. 3. This Baptiſm in the Commiſſion was to all Nations, but the Baptiſm of the Spirit, fell only on ſome few at the beginning.

Anſw. The Promiſe of receiving the Spirit, is upon believing, and it extendeth to every one that believeth. He that believeth on me, as the Scripture hath ſaid, out of his Belly ſhall flow Rivers of Living Water: but this ſpake he of the Spirit, which they that believe on him, ſhould receive, John 7. 38, 39.

Anſwerably Peter ſaid to that great aſſembly, to which he preached, whereof there were added about Three Thouſand Souls; Repent and be Baptiſed every one of you, in the Name of Jeſus Chriſt, for the Remiſſion of Sins, and ye ſhall receive the Gift of the Holy Ghoſt: for the Promiſe is unto you, and to your Children, and to all that are afar off, even as many as the Lord our God ſhall call, Acts 2. 38, 39.

Indeed, ſeveral Gifts of the Spirit were given (ſome to one, ſome to another, according to the Pleaſure of the giver) and diverſities of manifeſtations and operations of the ſame inward Life and Power: but every one received ſo much of the Spirit, as to make him a Son, and to Cry Abba Father, and to Waſh him.

And this is the one Waſhing, which all the flock are waſhed with; and ſo Baptiſed into the one, pure, Living Body: And this is the ſubſtance of the Figure, which ſubſtance belongs to the Goſpel-State; though God alſo ſaw an uſe of ſome Figures in that Day, and ſo inclined their hearts then to make uſe of them, which his gathered Sons and Daughters (by the Goſpel-Spirit and Power in this Day) would make uſe of alſo, if the Lord did ſo require them. For the Lord is our Judge, and the Lord is our King, the Lord is our Law-Giver; who by his Spirit and Power determines in every Age, what he would have his People do; and who leads into the way of Life, Truth, and Holineſs, which alwaies was and is but one and the ſame for ever.

And what if the Lord, who hath cauſed his everlaſting Day to dawn again, and the everlaſting Goſpel to be preached again, will have every ſhadow and Figure to fly away (ſeeing they are but of one elementary Nature and uſe, and not everlaſting and abiding;) Who may gain-ſay him herein; and ſay, That this is not the Miniſtration of the everlaſting Subſtance, or the ſame Goſpel the Apoſtles preached; becauſe ſome ſhadows, which they expect, and have a ſtrong belief concerning, are not found therein?

Object. 4. The Baptiſm in this Commiſſion, cannot be the Baptiſm of the ſpirit, becauſe it is to be adminiſtred in the Name of the ſpirit.

Anſw. The Greek word is not ἐν, which ſignifieth in; but εἰς which ſignifieth into;

So that, the Baptism here Commanded is to Baptize into the Name; into the Father's Name, into the Son's Name, into the Spirits Name, by turning them from Darkness to Light, from the Power of Satan to God; and then the Power and Life of God's Holy Spirit, comes over their Hearts and Minds, and breaketh the Power of Satan, and washeth their Consciences from that which is Dead, and plungeth or dippeth them into that which is Living.

Now, as God made them able Ministers of the New Testament (which is a Spiritual Ministry, an Inward Ministry) and gave them the Heavenly Treasure of Life, and of his Spirit to minister with: So, he required, and expected of them the Work of the Spiritual Ministry, which was the Spiritual Teaching, and Spiritual Baptizing into the Inward Name.

But, that there was also a Baptizing with Outward Water, that I do not deny; and that it was of use, as a Type to the Weak and Ceremonious state the Jews were in (when Christ sent forth his Apostles to gather them out of the Law-State, into the Gospel-State,) I am also satisfied in. But it hath been since corrupted, and set up above it's place by Apostates; and every one should consider, and wait on the Lord to know, what God requires, and will accept of him. For the Kingdom of God stands not in Meats, or Drinks, or any Outward Washings, nor comes in the way of Man's Observation; but in an Heavenly Seed, and in the Holy Spirit and Power of Life; which, happy are they, who are made Partakers of, Baptized with, and led by. God will try every Man's Religion, Work, and Practices, by the true Reed, or Measuring-Line: Blessed is he, whose Religion will bear that Tryal.

It is a great Matter to know the Gospel-State and Ministration, the Gospel-Spirit and Power, the Gospel-Church and Ordinances, the Words of the Holy Prophets concerning the Day of the Gospel, the Words of Christ concerning the Kingdom and Power of God, the Words of the Apostles, concerning the Mystery of Faith, and the VVord which was from the Beginning.

These are weighty Things, and of great Concernment, about which Men may easily miss, and wrest the Scriptures, unless they be enlightened by the Lord, in the Renewing of their Minds, and their Eye kept to the Holy Anointing, that they may not out-run (and so imagine and conceive of themselves, according to their own Ability of Understanding) but know, and keep to the Gift, and Inspiration of the Almighty, which giveth true Understanding. For, as no Man knoweth the Mind of a Man, but Man's own Spirit within him; So the Mind of God (in the VVords which his Spirit spake) no Man knoweth, but his Spirit: And there is a Key of Knowledge, to open the Words of Scripture by, which they cannot be opened without; I mean, such Scriptures as relate to the Mystery of Life and Salvation, which was alwayes hid from the Wise and Prudent, in every Age.

The Pharisees had got a great deal of Knowledg, and Understanding of the Law of God, and Prophesies of Things to come from the Words of Moses, and the Prophets: But they had not the Key of Knowledge; and so they erred, not knowing the Scriptures (notwithstanding all their diligent Reading, and Studying them) nor the Power of God.

Every one had need be wary, lest he err after the same manner; and so set up his own Apprehensions from the Scriptures, instead of God's Truth, and the Mind of his Holy Spirit: For then he cannot but also oppose that, which is indeed his Truth, and truly agreeable to the Scriptures, though to Man's miss-byassed Judgment, it may seem different or contrary.

The Lord beget in Peoples Hearts true Desires after Himself, and guide them into the Way, wherein they may obtain all the Desires of their Souls, which he begets in them: and the Lord preserve all that fear Him, from clashing against the present Dispensation of his Life and Power, in their Day and Generation.

The Pharisees little thought, they would have killed the Prophets, had they lived in their Dayes; nay, they greatly Condemned their Fathers, for so doing: and yet they themselves Crucified Christ. And many now little think, they would have have Crucified Christ, had they lived in the Dayes of his Flesh; and yet they disdain, reproach, and persecute the Appearance of the same Spirit, Life, and Power, as it now appeareth in his Saints, whom he hath Redeemed, and dwelleth in, and in whom he manifesteth Himself, Preacheth and Suffereth, whatever Men think of them.

O Blessed are they, that are not offended in Christ, in the present Appearance of his Life and Power: for they are not offended at him, who gives Life, in the Fathers Name, to all that receive him, and wait upon him, and worship in the Quicknings, and Vertue of his Spirit.

Some Questions Answered, concerning the Gentiles doing by Nature the things contained in the Law; and so shewing the Work of the Law Written in their Hearts, Rom. 2. 14, 15.

Quest. 1. BY what Nature did the Gentiles the Things contained in the Law? By the enlightned or unenlightned Nature? By Nature, as it lieth corrupted in the Fall; or, By Nature in some measure renewed, by the Light of God's Spirit shining in the Heart? And, By what Covenant was the Law Written in their Hearts? Is not the Writing of the Law in the Heart, a Promise of the New Covenant, and can it be Writ in any Heart, but by Vertue of the New Covenant? Is not the least Writing of the Law in the Heart, a Degree of the Promise? For the Old Covenant contains only the Law in the Letter; but the New Covenant contains the Writing of the Law in the Heart, by the Spirit.

Answ. The Apostle had shewed before, that that which might be known of God, was manifest in them; for God had shewed it unto them: So that, they had a Manifestation of the Light of God's Spirit in them, whereby they might discern his Eternal Power and Godhead, in, or by the Things made: for that which is Visible, shadows out, and declares that which is Invisible, which the inward Eye sees it, being opened by the Lord.

Now, their Hearts being joyned to this Manifestation of God within, it changeth the Heart and Nature; and in the changed Heart and Nature, God Writes his Law: and the Law being writ in any Measure in the Heart, it hath some Power upon Man, to cause him to subject to it, and answer what God requires of him thereby; and so his Heart and Conscience will Accuse him, or Excuse him, as he is found Answering, or Rebelling against the Holy Light and Law of God's Spirit within, manifesting the Will of God unto him. For God, though he peculiarly chose the Jews, and in that Sence had cast off the Gentiles, not choosing them so to be his peculiar People; yet he was not the God of the Jews only, but of the Gentiles also; and had a Care of their precious Souls, visiting them with that Light, and inward Manifestation of his Spirit, which was able to Save, and Deliver them from the Darkness. And it is Testified, they came thus far by this inward Manifestation of God in their Hearts, and what God had shewed them thereby, that they knew God, Rom. 1. 21. They had a true Knowledge of God, from the Light within: They had a Measure of the pure, and heavenly Gift. But they were not thankful for so great a Gift, in their dark State; and when they came to some true Knowledge, did not glorify God, according to what they knew of the Lord, from the Light of his Spirit within; but ran out from the Measure of the Gift into Imaginations, into the Conceivings of their own Wisdom: And this brought Darkness upon them, and gave deceit Power over their Hearts.

Now, if they had not professed themselves to be Wise, but kept low to the Manifestation of God's Spirit, and denied their own Wisdom; they might have been truly Wise: But running out from the Measure of the Gift, into their own

Wiſdom and Thoughts, they became Fools, as to the true Wiſdom, and wandered into groſs Idolatrous Conceptions, and brought great Judgments from God upon themſelves. And this was their Condemnation (not that the Light of God had not ſhone in their Hearts, not that that which might be known of God, was not manifeſt in them; but) That they loved their own dark Wiſdom, Thoughts, and Conceivings, more than the Manifeſtation of the Light of God's Spirit within.

Queſt. 2. But, if God was the God of the Gentiles, and thus viſited them, Were any of them Saved hereby? Did not all the Gentiles Univerſally periſh, notwithſtanding this Light, or Manifeſtation of God's Spirit within?

Anſw. God forbid, that the inward Manifeſtation of his Light and Viſitation of his Holy Spirit, ſhould be of no Effect to none of the Gentiles; but that they ſhould all Periſh notwithſtanding it. It is Teſtified here, that ſome of them came ſo far, as to have their Nature changed, ſo that they were a Law to themſelves, and did by Nature the things contained in the Law; which it is impoſſible for corrupt, fallen Man to do. And theſe, harkening to that, and following that which led them thus far, could not chooſe but like to retain God in their Knowledge, which the Generality (who followed their own Wiſdom) did not; whereupon God gave them over to a Reprobate Mind, ver. 28.

But now, thoſe that had the Law Written in their Hearts, and Anſwered it, fearing God, and working Righteouſneſs, and liking to retain God in their Knowledge, ſuch God did not give up to a Reprobate Mind; but kept them ſavoury to himſelf, and made them more and more Partakers of the true and inward Circumciſion: So that, their want of outward Circumciſion, was no Hinderance to them, as to Acceptance with God; but their Uncircumciſion, went with God for Circumciſion.

And this their State (from the inward Life and Power) judged the Jew, who boaſted ſo much of his State, becauſe of the Letter of the Law, and outward Circumciſion, Rom. 2. 26, 27. Yea, this State ſhall be juſtified by God, when God cometh to judge the Secrets of Men by Jeſus Chriſt, according to my Goſpel, ſaid Paul, ver. 16. Jeſus Chriſt is the Judge, who will juſtify what ever his Spirit hath made known of God the Father, in the Hearts of the Gentiles, and them in their Senſe thereof, and Subjection thereto.

That Man, who hath bowed to the Spirit, been taught by the Spirit (having had the Law of God Written in his Heart) and learned Obedience in the New Nature, ſo as to do the things contained in the Law, and hath received the inward Circumciſion, which cutteth off, teacheth to deny, and keep down that which is corrupt; which will never anſwer the Law, nor ſuffer the Man in whom it rules to anſwer it: I ſay, he that cometh into the Senſe of God's Spirit, and the Law thereof, and into the Denial of his own Spirit, he bears that, which in Subſtance is the Croſs of Chriſt, which Crucifieth the Worldly Nature and Spirit: And as he is truly Circumciſed; ſo muſt he needs alſo be Juſtified, and Saved under this Yoak. For the Lord God of Life, the Father of Glory, will condemn none whom he finds in Chriſt, ſubjected to Chriſt, one in Nature with the Image of his Son; and Chriſt will condemn none, whom he finds in his Spirit, taught by his Spirit, receiving Holy Laws from his Spirit, and walking in Obedience thereto. And indeed, I doubt not, but the Merciful God hath ſaved many among the Gentiles, in all Ages and Generations, by the Light of his holy Spirit, working their Minds into the ſenſe thereof, and into ſubjection thereto, according to the Manifeſtation thereof within them. For it is not the having much Knowledge that ſaves; but the being ſubject to the Meaſure of the gift, which comes from the Lord Jeſus Chriſt, the Saviour.

Queſt. 3. But, How can thoſe be Juſtified according to Paul's Goſpel, who never heard Paul's Goſpel?

Anſw.

Answ. Paul's Gospel is the Gospel of Christ, the Everlasting Gospel, the One Gospel, which is the Power which Saves, which is manifested in the New Covenant within; which is hid in them that are lost, but revealed in some measure, in all that are Saved. Where-ever the New Covenant is, there is the Gospel: Where-ever the Law is in any measure written within, there's somewhat of the Gospel.

If a Man believe in that which shines within, which manifests the Will of God within, he believes in that Power, which raised our Lord Jesus Christ from the Grave: And if he layd hold on it by Faith, he layes hold on God's Strength, which inwardly visits to save the Soul: Yea, and if he obey it, he obeys the Gospel, and shall not be condemned for Disobedience, when Christ appears in Flames of Fire, to Judge and Condemn all the Ungodly.

XXII.

Concerning the Rule of the Children of the New Covenant.

WHat was the Rule of the Jew outward? As to their outward State, Was not the Law and Testimony outward? Did not he make the Law in the Letter? What is the Rule of the Jew inward? Is not the Law and Testimony inward? Is not the Gospel a Ministration of Spirit and Power? And, Is it not a more Glorious Ministration, than the Law of the Letter? Under the Law, God spake by Moses, and the Prophets; but under the Gospel, he speaketh by his Son: And, Do not his Sheep hear his Son's (the true Shepherd's) Voice? We all like Sheep, have gone astray; but (Blessed be the Lord) are now returned to the Shepherd, and Bishop of our Souls: And, Shall we not hear him, and follow him whithersoever he goes, and leads by his holy, and good Spirit? A Prophet shall the Lord your God raise up unto you, like unto me; Him shall ye hear in all things, said Moses. Did Moses say, My Words shall be your Rule; or, The Words of the Prophets shall be your Rule then, in the Dayes of the New Covenant? Nay, he did not say so; but, Him shall ye hear in all things; and he that will not hear Him, shall be cut off: Yea, verily, it is so. He is the Minister of Life: and he that doth not hear him, and receive Life, Vertue, and Power from him, he builds but from the Letter (from what he apprehends from the Letter) but is really separated, and cut off from the Ministry of the Life and Power. He that hath an Ear, let him hear; and he that hath an Heart, let him consider.

Now, the true Jew, the Jew inward, in whose Heart God writes his Law by the Finger of his Spirit; he is to read and to meditate on the inward Law written in his Heart, as the outward Jew was to read and meditate on the outward Law. And as in Obedience to the outward Law, the outward Jew was blessed, and free from the Curse, and his outward Enemies: so, in Obedience to the inward Law (the Law of the Spirit of Life) the inward Jew reaps the Spiritual Blessings, and becomes inwardly free from his inward, and spiritual Enemies. Ye shall know the Truth, and the Truth shall make you free, said Christ to his Disciples: and every true Disciple in the Obedience of the Truth, witnesseth it.

And here the Mystery of all (which was outwardly written, and testified of) is known: the Mystery of the Law, the Mystery of the Prophesies, the Mystery of the Gospel, the Mystery of the Fellowship in, and with the Saints in Light, the Mystery of the Faith, which is held in a pure Conscience, the Mystery of the Love, which ariseth from the true and inward Circumcision, the Mystery of the Hope, which anchors within the Vail, and purifies the Heart, as he is Pure. For the true Children, the Children of the Heavenly Wisdom, being Children of the hidden Life, are begotten in a Mystery: for the Spirit of God breatheth upon them, no man knoweth how, and thus is every one, that is born of the Spirit.

Now, as they are begotten in the Mystery of Life; so the Mystery belongs to them, them, and is revealed and opened in them; insomuch, that they know God, not only as outwardly described; but, as inwardly revealed and manifested in Christ, his bright and heavenly Image.

So here the one Truth is known, even as it is in Jesus, the one Way is known, the one Name of the Lord (which is, and was the strong Tower, in all Ages and Generations, which the Righteous did, and do still fly unto, and are safe) is known; here the one Baptism is known, here the one Supper is known; yea, here the One God is worshipped, as Father and Son, in the one Spirit and Truth. So that, here is no dreaming in the Night, by Men's Comprehendings and Conceivings upon the Scriptures. But here is seeing with the true Eye, in a Measure of the Light of the Everlasting Day, which is given to the Children of Light; who live in the Light, and walk in the Light, and in the true Light (which now shines) see the pure and Eternal Light dayly more and more.

Who would not count all Dross and Dung (even all the Knowledge he can gather and Comprehend of himself) for the Excellency of this Knowledge, which God gives to those that are turned to the Light, and power of his Spirit, from the Darkness of their own Thoughts, Reasonings, and Conceivings upon the Scriptures; and who wait upon him therein, even in his holy Temple, Night and day? For all under the Gospel, are to be Priests to God; and all his Priests are to wait upon him, and worship him in his holy Temple, and to watch diligently, that neither the Fire go out, nor the Lamp go out, nor the Salt be wanting to season, and keep the Heart melted and broken, that it may be a continual acceptable Sacrifice to the Lord.

Time was, when we also did believe, that the Scriptures were the only Rule of Faith and Practice; and so bent our selves to search out, and observe what we found written therein, hoping thereby to have attained to that, which our Souls desired after. But we found all the Directions thereof weak, as to us, through the Flesh, and Sin had still Power over us; and we knew not what it was, to be made free by the Son, (free by the Truth) free indeed from that which stood near, to tempt and draw us into sin. But, when the Light of God's holy Spirit shined upon us, and our minds were by him turned thereto, and his Law written on our Hearts, in and by the New Covenant, which he revealed in us, and made with us in, and through his Son: then we felt the Ministration of the Power of the endless Life, and were experimentally assured, that in the Gospel-Administration, which is an administration of the Spirit and Power, nothing less than Spirit and Power, can be the Rule.

Mark; In the Old Covenant, Letter (or outward Directions) was a Rule; (but the Living Commandment, or word in the Heart, was the Rule in the New Covenant, living Laws, Laws livingly written; Laws that give Life to them, in whom they are written; they are the living, powerful, and effectual Rule.

Nor do we undervalue the Scriptures, in thus giving Honour to Christ, and his Spirit: For it is their Honour, to testify of Christ, and of his Spirit; who is the pure, certain, infallible Rule of the New Life, and who gives to fulfil all the Holy Directions, which are written in the Scriptures, concerning the Way of Life.

A Man, at a distance, may easily speak uncertainly: but let a man be joyned to God's Spirit, and feel his holy Nature, Movings, Leadings, and Guidings, he cannot but acknowledge them to be his certain and infallible Rule: For nothing is more certain, then God's Spirit, then the holy Anointing, which is Truth, and no Lie, and leads into all Truth, and out of a very Lye and Deceit.

Some Queries concerning the Law, or Word, Statutes, Teſtimonies, Judgments, &c. which David was ſo delighted in, and prayed ſo earneſtly for.

David ſaid; Thy Word is a Lanthorn to my Feet, and a Light to my Paths. He found it ſweeter, than the Hony, and the Hony-Comb: He deſired to be taught God's Statutes, and to Learn the Way of his Precepts, &c. as may be abundantly read Pſal 19. and in other places.

Quer. 1. What was this Word or Law, which there was ſuch an earneſt deſire in David after; by obſerving whereof, he became Wiſer than his Teachers? Was it the Law of Moſes, the Law outward? Or, Was it the Word, and Law of Life inward?

If it be ſaid, It was the Law of Moſes, then I query in the ſecond place.

Quer. 2. What Rule had David from the Law of Moſes to ſay, That God deſired not Sacrifice, nor delighted in Burnt Offerings? Did not God deſire and require of his People under the Law, that they ſhould perform theſe Things? And, Did he not accept of them, and delight in them, when they performed them aright, in Faith and Obedience to him? Was not the Lord pleaſed with Abel's Sacrifice? And, did not God ſmell a Savour of Reſt in Noah's Sacrifice? How could David ſay in Truth, and from a true Spirit, that God did neither deſire them, nor delight in them?

Quer. 3. Ought not David to try this Spirit, which ſpake thus in him, whether it was of God, or no? Should he receive a Teſtimony from any Spirit, ſo directly contrary, in Appearance, to the foregoing Teſtimonies of God's Spirit in the holy Scriptures, without a full and certain Evidence and Demonſtration, that it was the Spirit of God.

Quer. 4. How was David to try, or how might he certainly try this Spirit, whether it was of God, or no? Was he to try it thus, whether it ſpake according to the Teſtimony, and Law of Moſes, according to what Moſes had ſpoken in this Matter, which certainly was of God, and was given by God, for a Law or Rule to that People the Jews? If he had tryed it thus, Would he not have judged it a Spirit different from the Spirit of Moſes, ſpeaking contrary to the Law and Teſtimonies; which God gave forth by him? for Sacrifice and burnt offering was ſtrictly required there, and God often teſtified his Acceptance thereof, and Delight therein. So that, God did accept, and did delight therein in one reſpect; and did not accept, nor delight at all in them, in another reſpect; but his aim was at another thing, and at other Sacrifices, which David clearly ſaw. And ſo David's Eye, Mind, Heart, and Spirit being gathered inward, even thither where God's Eye and Heart was; he there had a clear Sight, and gave a certain Sound, concerning what was acceptable in the Eye of the Lord, and what not: And ſo ſaith, God did not deſire Sacrifice, nor delight in burnt Offering, (Pſal. 51. 16.) Though the Language of the Law of Moſes, ſpeaketh far otherwiſe; where Circumciſion, Sacrifices, and ſuch outward Things are expreſſed as of great Value with the Lord, and as great and high Priviledges, which were beſtowed upon that People, in that Day.

Quer. 5. May not the ſame Spirit, or the Children of God, in the ſame Spirit ſay ſay to the Lord in this Day, concerning Things of the ſame outward Nature: Thou deſireſt not ſuch outward Things, elſe would we perform them: Thou delighteſt not in outward Shadows of the things of the Kingdom. Thou deſireſt not outward Waſhing the Body with Water, or Eating and Drinking of outward Bread and Wine, which avail no more than Circumciſion, and the Paſſover. If thy Delight were in Things of this Nature, and thou didſt require them of us, How willingly would we be found in the Practice of them, before thee? But thy Delight is in that Water, which waſheth the Soul from its Filth; and in the Souls, that are waſhed therewith: And thou deſireſt to ſee thy Children feeding on the Living Bread, the Bread which comes down from Heaven, and to drink of the Wine which refreſheth, and maketh glad the Heart both of God and Man.

Queſt. 6. If any of the Children of the moſt High ſhould in this feel the Life wherewith God hath quickned them, open in their Hearts, and ſuch a Teſtimony ariſing from his Spirit in them; How ſhould they try, whether this Spirit and Voice were of God, or no? Should they look into the Writings of the Evangeliſts and Apoſtles, to ſee whether Baptiſm with outward Water, and eating of outward Bread, and drinking of outward Wine was ever commanded, and practiſed in the Apoſtles Dayes? And if they ſuppoſe ſtrongly, that 'twas Commanded, or find it was practiſed; May they thereupon ſafely conclude, That it is a wrong Spirit, and wrong Voice, that teſtifieth thus in them, and not the Voice and Spirit of the Lord? Had David tryed, and judged thus, Might not he have judged and condemned the Spirit and Voice of God, in his Day? And, if we Try, and Judge in this manner, May not we Judge and Condemn the Spirit and Voice of God, in our Day? David ſaw clearly, that outward Sacrifices were not the abiding Thing; but Significations of that, which was Abiding; and this Sight greatly ſhook them, in his Spirit. The Lord hath likewiſe ſhewn us clearly, that outward Water, Bread, and Wine, are not the Subſtantial, the Spiritual, the Heavenly Water, the Heavenly Bread and Wine; but of the Nature of ſuch Things, as were to be ſhaken, that thoſe Things which cannot be ſhaken, may remain in the Goſpel-State and Kingdom.

O therefore, let Men take heed how they build, or how they judge concerning the Appearances of God, by their own Apprehenſions, upon the Letter of the Scriptures. But let every one be careful to build upon the Rock Chriſt, upon his Spirit, his Life, his Power inwardly revealed, which the Birth, which is of him, knows; and that Birth, being kept to, reveals in, and to us: But no Man, by his own Conceivings, and apprehenſions upon the Letter, ever knew or can know the Spirit, and Voice of the Lord.

And thus Men may come, waiting here in Humility, and Fear upon the Lord, to Judge true and righteous Judgment, concerning the Appearances of God, and the Things of his Kingdom; which they can never do, by their own Underſtanding, and comprehending Things from the Scriptures, out of the Light, and quickning Life of God's Spirit. For Man is dead, dark, and corrupt, but as he is quickned, enlightned, and his Heart ſanctified by God's holy Spirit. What can a dead Man ſee? What can a dead Man hear? Can he hear the living Sound before he is quickned by it? Do not the Scriptures relate, and treat of Spiritual Things? And, Can the natural Man underſtand them? Can Man's unholy Mind underſtand the Word of God's pure holy Spirit, which were given forth through Veſſels that were ſanctified (ſome from the Womb;) and when the Spirit of the Lord was upon them, and they gathered by his Spirit into an holy, living Senſe?

O that Men ſaw their Need of the Lord, to open their Hearts, and that Fleſh might be ſilent in them, that they might come to witneſs the Birth of God's Spirit, and the precious underſtanding of the Heavenly Things, which is therein given! And then, that Underſtanding which is not precious, nor living, nor of God, but of themſelves, would not be of ſo great value with them: For indeed, through this great Miſtake, many (ſome whereof are zealous, and knowing, according to the Eſteem of Men) reject that which is of God, and ſet up that which is of themſelves, even of their own apprehending, and conceiving, which will be bitterneſs, and ſorrow in the latter end; when that eye ſhall be opened in them, which is at preſent cloſed in too too many.

Bleſſed is he, who can truly ſay, The Lord hath opened an eye in me, even the true eye, the pure eye, the living eye; and with that eye I now ſee; but with the eye wherewith I ſaw before, I now ſee not: and now I know the difference between ſeeing the ſame things with my own eye, and with the eye which God hath given me. So that now my earneſt deſire, and Prayer to the Lord is, to keep open in me for for ever, that eye which he hath opened; and alſo, to keep that eye ſhut which he in his tender Mercy to me hath been pleaſed to cloſe up in me.

And truly, this is the ground of the great Difference between us, and others, about the things of God; for though we own the ſame things, and ſpeak of the ſame things; yet we own them not alike, nor ſpeak of them alike. Why ſo? becauſe we ſee them with different eyes, and ſo have a different ſenſe of them.

Others call things True, and ſo acknowledge them as they apprehend them from the Letter: we call things True, as they are demonſtrated to us by Gods Spirit, and as we feel the Virtue, Life and Power of them from God, in our Hearts.

Now, this we are aſſured is the true way of Knowledge; therefore is it our hearts deſire (in true love to all, eſpecially to thoſe in whom there are any tender breathings after God) that People might ſo wait upon the Lord, as that they might be led by him into it, and quickned daily more and more by him in it.

And indeed, thoſe teachings and demonſtrations of Truth, which are given and received in the pure Senſe, and in the quickening Life; they are the teachings of Gods Spirit, according to the new Covenant, which is a Miniſtration not of the Letter (no not of thoſe ſhadowy or dead things, which are adminiſtred therein) but of the Power and Life. For the Law, is Letter; but the Goſpel is Spirit and Power. The Goſpel-State is a State of fulfilling thoſe things in the Spirit and Power of the endleſs life, in the new Covenant, which were ſpoken of, promiſed, and ſhadowed out under the Law in the Old Covenant.

XXIV.

Some Obſervations on 2 Pet. 3. 14, 15, 16.

wherefore beloved, ſeeing that ye look for ſuch things, be diligent that ye may be found of him in peace without Spot, and Blameleſs. And account the long ſuffering of the Lord is Salvation; even as our beloved Brother Paul alſo, according to the Wiſdom given unto him, hath written unto you, as alſo, in all his Epiſtles; ſpeaking in them of theſe things, in which are ſome things hard to be underſtood, which they that are unlearned and unſtable wreſt, as they do alſo the other Scriptures unto their own Deſtruction.

Obſer. 1. WHat Peter, Paul, and the reſt of the Holy men of God wrote of? They wrote of the Grace of the Goſpel: they wrote of the ſufferings of Chriſt, and the Glory that ſhould follow, and the Salvation of the Soul, and true Reſt, which believers ſhould receive; and enter into in him, 1 Pet. 1. 2, &c. and Heb. 4. 39. They Wrote concerning the times of Reformation, wherein thoſe things ſhould be reformed under the ſecond Covenant, which had been amiſs under the firſt, Heb. 8. They wrote of the times of Refreſhing, and Reſtitution from the Preſence of the Lord. Acts. 3. 24. For in the new Covenant, there is a renewing and reſtoring; and the pure preſence of God, which refreſheth, is witneſſed and enjoyed there. They wrote of the Everlaſting Kingdome the Kingdom which cannot be ſhaken, Heb. 12. 28. which ſtands in that Power, which ſhakes all things that may be ſhaken; but it ſelf is unmoveable. They wrote of the Day of the Lord, the Day of the Goſpel, which brings Darkneſs and Confuſion upon mans ſpirit, and Glory, and Deſolation upon his Buildings, melting and diſſolving the Old Heavens, and the Old Earth, wherein Righteouſneſs had a Place; and bringing forth the new Heavens and the New Earth, wherein dwells Righteouſneſs. Iſa. 51. 16.

For, if any Man be in Chriſt, there is a New Creation: Old things paſs away, and all things become New, at Chriſt's appearing in his Glory, in the heart, to which they that truly believe in him, cannot but haſten; that the earth with the Works thereof, may be burnt up, and the Heavens alſo; that ſo the new Heavens, and the new Earth, may be inwardly Witneſſed and experienced, and the King of Glory found ſitting on his Throne, and Reigning therein.

Obſer. 2. How Peter and Paul, with the reſt of the Apoſtles, and Holy Men of God, wrote; they wrote according to the Wiſdom given unto them: They wrote not in their own Wills, or according to their own Wiſdom; but kept to the Gift and Light of the Spirit, which they had received from the Lord. They waited to obſerve the Lord go before, the Spirit of the Lord move, and alſo give ability from the meaſure, and gift of Life, which he had beſtowed upon them.

And theſe are the proper limits of writing and ſpeaking under the Miniſtration of the Goſpel, which is a Miniſtration of the Spirit and Power, and not of the litteral Knowledge of things, according to mans Underſtanding and Comprehenſion.

Obſer. 3. That there are ſome things in the writings of Paul (and in the other Scriptures alſo) hard to be underſtood; which every one that hath true Life, and true ſenſe, do not at firſt underſtand; but only ſuch as are grown to a Capacity. For the writings of the Apoſtles, and miniſtrations of the Spirit, are to ſeveral States and Capacities, and can only be underſtood according to the growth and Capacity of each ſtate; much leſs can the Carnal underſtand or digeſt that which is high, and Spiritual.

Obſer. 4. That there are ſome, among thoſe, whom the Lord viſiteth, and reacheth to by his Power, who do not attain to the Knowledge of the Truth, nor come to the eſtabliſhment therein; Some that are alwaies Learning, but never come to the True, Heavenly, Spiritual Knowledge of the things of God; Some that know Chirſt only, according to the Letter, but not according to his Spirit and Power. Some there are, that learn in ſuch a way, as they can never come truly and throughly to underſtand: For it is God, that openeth the Heart and Ear; it is Chriſt who hath, and giveth the Key of Knowledge; but many learn what they can, of the things of God and Chriſt, without having their Hearts and Ears opened by the Lord, and without the true Key of Knowledge; and ſo thoſe remain unlearned and unſtable, as to the Myſtery of Godlineſs, as to the Myſtery of Life and Salvation, and as to the Nature of the things of God's Kingdom.

Obſer. 5. That thoſe, who are unlearned and unſtable in the myſtery of Truth, are wreſters of the Scripture. They cannot underſtand things as they are, not having the Key, and ſo they wreſt them, and ſtrive to make them ſpeak, as they apprehend, and would have them.

And here, in this State, in this Wiſdom, is both adding to, and diminiſhing from the Holy Words of Truth: For in many places, they add of their own Conceivings, and in other places diminiſh from the Drift and Intent of God's Spirit.

Obſer. 6. That wreſting the Scriptures tends to the Deſtruction of thoſe that do it. God is the Saviour, and the Holy Words of the Saviour tend to ſave: but being bent aſide by mans Nature and Spirit, they are not the ſame they were, when they came from God, nor have at all that Virtue and Nature in them.

And indeed, wreſting the Scriptures, is an high, preſumptuous, and provoking act, act, and brings God's displeasure against, and curse upon the Soul.

Now, It is impossible for any man, not to wrest the Scriptures, unless he keep close to God's Spirit to receive from him the understanding of them; For the Inspiration of the Almighty giveth understanding, and not another thing. God knoweth what he intendeth, in the words he spake concerning the heavenly things; but man knoweth not, but as his Spirit is opened and enlightned by the Lord.

Blessed is he, who waiteth upon and watcheth to God's Spirit, in reading the Scriptures, not leaning to his own understanding, and apprehension of things, but waiting to feel his mind opened and quickned by the Lord; that, in the renewings of his mind, he may learn of God that which is New and Living, which is not comprehended in the Letter, (or in Litteral descriptions of things) but in the spirit and power it self; which is the limits of the new Covenant, out of which the Children of life are not to depart; but to abide, dwell, and grow up therein.

XXV.

Concerning the Gospel Ministry, or right Way of Teaching and Learning the Mystery of Life and Salvation.

WHen Christ came in the fulness of time, in that Body prepared for him by the Father (he who was filled with the Spirit, and anointed of God to preach the Gospel,) he preached the Kingdom of God, bidding men seek it, directing them where to seek it and how they might find it; telling them in several Parables, what it was like, and where to look for it, even within their own Hearts; and that they might the better discern it, shadowed out the Being, Nature, and Properties of it, in several Resemblances. He compared it to a Treasure hid in a Field, which the wise Merchant selleth all, to buy; To a Pearl hid in the Earth; To a lost piece of Silver, which they that sweep their own Houses and search with the true Candle, may find; To a Talent, (for such is the Free-Gift of the pure and Heavenly Life;) To Leaven (hid Leaven;) To a Seed; To a Salt, &c.

So when Christ sent his Apostles after him, in the same Spirit and Power wherein he himself came and Ministred, he sent them to preach the same thing, giving them this message to declare to men, that God is Light and in him is no Darkness at all and that Christ is the Way, the Truth, and the Life; and that the Life was manifested; so that they heard, and saw, and tasted, and handled of it, and so were to direct men, how to come into fellowship with them in this Life, and to walk in the Light as God is in the Light.

Thus Paul likewise who was sent after the rest, was sent to turn men from Darkness to Light, and From the Power of Satan unto God. Acts. 26. 18

Now, People being turned to the Light (where they may receive understanding, and feel Vertue, and know the anointing, and hear the Voice of the shepherd) those who are over them in the Lord, and were made use of by him, as Instruments, to turn their minds hither, may be sensible of their Conditions, and may have a Word of Direction from God to speak to them. And this teaching is not the teaching of man, but the teaching of the Holy Anointing, and he that heareth this teaching, heareth Christ, and he that rejecteth this Preaching rejecteth Christ.

Yet, (though the Lord pleaseth thus to minister from the Heavenly Treasure, in some Vessels, which he hath prepared for that end) People are not alwaies to be expecting Pensions, or Portions of food from others without; but to know, and come to the Bread and Water of Life in their own Houses; that there they may eat the Flesh of the Son of man, and drink his Blood, as all do who have true Life in them.

Now, to give forth Precepts of Holiness (as the Way in the Apostacy hath been) before mens minds are turned to that which inlightneth, and giveth Power to Believe and Obey; that is not the way of the Gospel; but the way of the Gospel pel, is to bring to the Foundation of Light and Life in the particular, and so to dissettle the Spirit from that which is Dead, and found it upon that which is Living; that a Living building of pure Life, of living materials, of living stones may be raised up unto the Lord, in which Temple he dwells and appears, exercising his Authority and Power.

For indeed, God dwelleth in the Temples of his own building, which are built by and in his Spirit; but in all other Temples, which are built out of the Spirit, and only by men (not by God) in a way of Imitation from the Letter, in which they set up the likenesses of things; and so, set themselves to Pray and Preach, according to their apprehending, and forming of things: I say, in these buildings the Holy Spirit of God dwelleth not; but that Spirit, which hath thus deceived them.

And thus, Men erring in their hearts, concerning the Light, concerning the Power, concerning the Foundation, (not knowing how it is indeed laid in Sion) concerning the Scriptures of Truth, (which can only be understood in the light, and Inspiration of the Almighty, from whence they were given forth) they can never come to konw Christ, and his Spirit, livingly revealed in Power, in their own Hearts; nor the New and Living Way, and how to Walk therein; nor the Truth as it is in Jesus, according to the Ministration of the New-Testament, (which is not after the Letter, but after the Spirit) nor the New-Covenant, which is made with the Soul in Christ, wherein all things are made new, and the Old done away; nor the Law of the Spirit of Life in Christ Jesus, written in the Heart, which blots out the other Law, even the Law of Sin and Death, and makes free therefrom; and so they cannot Witness what it is to come from under the Law, where Sin Reigns, into, and under Grace, where Life Reigns, and hath the Dominion.

Who knows the Truth, which makes free! Could Men then say, they shall never be made free from the Body of Sin, on this side the Grave! Who hath received Grace, for Grace, from Christ Jesus the Lord, and knows the Virtue of it? Could Men then testifie against it, for Sin, as if the Grace of Christ could never deliver from it, and give Dominion over it, here in this life; who knows the Faith which gives Victory, the Hope which Purifies, the Love which Unites to God, and Constrains unto the Obedience of the Gospel, and whose Strength in the Heart is stronger than the Strength of Death?

Oh, the Gospel-Religion, the Gospel-Spirit, the Gospel-Power, the Gospel-Love, the Gospel-Faith, the Gospel-Obedience, the Gospel-Knowledge, the Gospel-Worship, hath been lost for many Ages, and Generations. And, now God hath caused it to shine forth, and appear again, what a Flood of reproaches doth the Dragon send forth against it? And, how do Men strive to uphold their dead knowledge, and their dead buildings, their dead ways, their dead worships, &c. Which they think highly of, and Magnifie, blaspheming that which is living; which came from God, is accompanied with his Power, and hath the Evidence and Demonstration of his Spirit going along with it!

Well, All Flesh is Grass, and its Beauty shall Fade! Let it Paint, and make a Flourish, as long as it can; yet the Breath of the Lord hath blown upon it, and it is already withered, and shall wither dayly more and more. But the Word of the Lord, which quickeneth, and changeth the Heart, (which his despised servants have been visited with, and have Testified, and do Testifie of) shall abide for ever, when that Spirit, Wisdome, and Religion, which hath opposed, shall Vanish like smoak, and sink under eternal Condemnation.

XXVI.

A few words concerning the Old and New-Covenant, with ſome Queries thereupon.

THe Old Covenant was that Covenant, which God made with that people the Jews, when he took them by the hand, to bring them out of the Land of Egypt Outward. The New-Covenant, is that Covenant, which God makes with the Soul, when he takes it by the Hand, to lead it out of Egypt Inward, which is the Land of Darkneſs and Pollution.

The Old-Covenant was made with the Outward People, with the Seed of Abraham, according to the Fleſh. The New-Covenant is made with the Inward People, with the Seed of Abraham, according to the Spirit, according to the Faith, according to the Promiſe: for in this Covenant, not they that are the Children of the Fleſh, are of Abraham; but the Children of the Promiſe are accounted for the Seed.

The Old-Covenant was made by Moſes, the Servant, who was Faithful in all his Houſe, as a Servant. The New-Covenant is made by Chriſt, the Lord and King of his Church and People, who is Faithful in Quickening them all, Reconciling them all, Interceding for them all, according to the Tenure and way of this Covenant.

The Old Covenant conſiſted in Laws and Directions outward, which that Nation and People had fully and exactly given them from God, above all Nations and People of the Earth. The New Covenant conſiſts in Life and Spirit inward which the Holy People, the Renewed People, the Redeemed People are viſited with, and made Partakers of, above all other People.

Under the Old Covenant, though the Lord did great things before the Eyes of that People in Egypt, and exerciſed them with Signes, Miracles, and Tryals alſo in the Wilderneſs; yet the Lord did not give them an Heart to perceive, and Eyes to ſee, and Ears to hear unto that day; as mentioned in Deut. 29. 2, 3, 4. the vail was over their Hearts. But the Other Covenant containes the Giving of a New Heart, the Opening of the Blind Eye, the Unſtopping of the Deaf Ear, the Writing the Law in the Heart, the putting the pure Fear in the inward parts, the Putting God's Spirit within them; and ſo, cauſing them to walk in his Statutes, and to keep his judgments, and do them.

Whereupon theſe Queries are in my Heart.

Quer. 1. Will not this Covenant inwardly Reform the Heart, Soul, Mind, and Conſcience; and amend all in this Inward, ſpiritual, renewed People; which was amiſs in that outward, earthly, unrenewed People?

Quer. 2. Doth not the Soul begin to enter into this Covenant, ſo ſoon as ever it Anſwers the Lord, in the viſits of his Love, turning from Sin unto Him?

Quer. 3. How precious is that Grace of the Goſpel, which brings into this Covenant? For the People of the Jews came into the Old Covenant, by the Law which was given by Moſes; but the Children of the New Covenant come thereinto, by receiving the Grace and Truth, which comes by Jeſus Chriſt.

Quer. 4. Can any poſſibly enter into the Covenant, without coming to the Lord Jeſus Chriſt, and receiving Grace from him? Can obſerving Precepts, and Directions from Scripture, bring into this Covenant? Or, Is it the receiving Grace, Truth, Life in the inward Parts, from Chriſt the Lord, which brings into this Covenant? O wait to know the Miniſtration of the Goſpel, and Covenant of Life, with the Entrance thereinto; O all that truly deſire the Salvation of your Souls!

Quer. 5. Wherein doth the Miniſtry of this Covenant conſiſt? Or how is the Teaching thereof? Is it by getting a form of Knowledge out of the Letter, or Miniſtring the Letter; Is it not a Miniſtration, not of the Letter, but of the Spirit?

rit? The Apoſtles ſaid ſo, who knew what it was, and was made an able miniſtiſter thereof by God, 2 Cor. 3. 6. Truly, none can Miniſter Goſpelly, none can miniſter under the new Covenant, but thoſe that miniſter from, and in the Spirit.

XXVII.

Queries on ſome Parts of Rom. 6, 7, and 8th. Chapters.

From Chapter. 6.

Quer. 1. WHat is it to be Baptiſed into Chriſt? Is it not to be Baptiſed into his Death? Are not they that are truly Baptiſed into Chriſt, buried with him by Baptiſm into Death? that like as Chriſt was raiſed up from the Dead by the glory of the Father; even ſo they alſo ſhould walk in the Newneſs of Life. How can they that are dead to Sin live any longer therein?

Quer. 2. What was the end of Chriſts Manifeſtation in Fleſh, and ſending his Spirit? Was it not to deſtroy the Works of the Devil, to Crucifie the Old man, that the Body of Sin might be deſtroyed, that henceforth we ſhould not ſerve Sin?

Quer. 3. Is he that is Crucified with Chriſt, and dead unto Sin, freed from Sin? Doth the Truth of Chriſt, the Life of Chriſt, the Spirit of Chriſt, the Power of Chriſt, make thoſe that receive and obey it free indeed; ſo that Sin cannot have Dominion over them, to make them do what they hate, or to hinder them from doing what God requires? Did not Chriſt himſelf Dye to Sin once, but now lives to God? and are not Believers, after this manner, to reckon and experience themſelves Dead indeed unto Sin; but alive unto God through Jeſus Chriſt our Lord?

Quer. 4. Have believers received Power from Chriſt (who had all Power in Heaven and Earth given unto him) to become Sons? Have they received the ſpirit of the Father, which hath Dominion over Sin? Can they ſtop or hinder the reign of it in their mortal Body, and refuſe obeying the Luſts thereof; and not yield their Members Inſtruments of unrighteouſneſs unto Sin?

Quer. 5. Are believers Alive from the Dead? And Can they yield their Members ſervants to Righteouſneſs, for God to Work in and by them, according to his Will and Pleaſure? Can they ever come to ſuch a ſtate, as to do nothing againſt the Church, but for the Truth; to do all things through Chriſt that ſtrengthens them.

Quer. 6. Is this true, that to whom People yield themſelves ſervants to obey, his ſervants they are to whom they obey; whether of ſin unto Death, or of obedience unto Righteouſneſs?

Quer. 7. Do Men, or is it poſſible for men in receiving, joyning to, and Obeying the truth, to be made free from Sin, and become the ſervants of Righteouſneſs?

Quer. 8. Cannot men have their fruit unto Holineſs, and at the end everlaſting Life, without being made free from ſin, and becoming ſervants to God? Is the Wages of ſin Death, after a man hath believed? After a man is turned from ſin to Chriſt if he hearken afterwards to Satan, and commit Sin, doth he reap Death thereby; See, alſo Gal. 6. 7, 8.

From Chap. 7.

Quer. 1. What Law is that, which hath Dominion over a man as long as he liveth; and what life is that in man, which the Law hath Dominion over?

Quer. 2. How doth a man become Dead to the Law, that he might be Married to another, even to him who is raiſed from the Dead, that he ſhould bring forth fruit

Fruit unto God? Can any be Married to the raiſed living Husband, but the quickened, raiſed and living Soul? And can any elſe bring forth fruit to God?

Quer. 3. What is the ſtate of being in the Fleſh, and of knowing the things of God after the Fleſh? of receiving Directions, and Practiſing Duties in that ſtate? Do not the motions of Sin (which all outward Laws and Directions do but ſtir up, but cannot overcome) Work in the members there, in that ſtate to bring forth fruit unto Death?

Quer. 4. How comes a man to be delivered from the Law? Is it not by the death of that in him, which held him Captive unto ſin? And, why doth God quicken with a new Life, and kill in the Hearts of his that, wherein they were held? Is it not that they ſhould ſerve him in newneſs of ſpirit, and not in the oldneſs of the Letter? For the Letter killeth, and the litteral Service and Worſhip is Dead, and that Worſhip alone Living, and Goſpel-Worſhip, which is in the Newneſs of the Spirit: for ſuch alone, the Father ſeeketh to Worſhip him, and ſuch Worſhip alone he acceptęth.

Quer. 5. Is the Law Sin, becauſe it ſtirs up Sin? Nay, the Law it ſelf is not Sin, but that which diſcovers and makes it known: for no man can know ſin, but by the Law or Light which diſcovers it.

Quer. 6. How is Sin Dead without the Law? And how doth it take occaſion by the Commandement, to work in the heart all manner of Concupiſence?

Quer. 7. How was Paul alive, without the Law once? Could he Sacrifice, could he read the Scriptures, could he be Knowing, could he be Zealous, could he Walk according to the Law in the Letter blameleſs, in that State? See Phil. 3. 4, 5, 6.

Quer. 8. What Commandment was that, upon the coming whereof Sin revived, and he Dyed? Was it the Law in the Letter, or the Law in the Spirit? he ſaith The Commandment which was to Life, he found to be unto Death. What is the Commandment, which is to Life? Is not the Word nigh in the Mouth and Heart? See Deut. 30.

Quer. 9. How came Sin to take Occaſion by the Commandment (which comes forth Holily, and as juſt and good from God) to deceive and ſlay him? What was it, which it deceived, and ſlew? Was it not that part, which thought it could Obey and ſerve God, if his Will was made Manifeſt! Which now, when the Law indeed came, found it could not? Nor can any man obey the Holy Law of Life, till this Nature, Wiſdom, and Spirit be in ſome meaſure ſlain in him.

Quer. 10. Doth then the Holy Law of God, which God ordains and ſends unto Life, Miniſter Death to the Soul? Or, doth Sin (being provoked and ſtirred up, to put forth its ſtrength to ſave its Life, and retain its Dominion in the heart) take occaſion by the Commandment, to work Death, and ſhew the exceeding Evil and Sinfulneſs of its Nature?

Quer. 11. Is not the Law Spiritual? Can Sin gain any Strength or Advantage by that which is Spiritual? Surely, nay; but it taketh Occaſion then to Tyrannize over, and Captivate me (who am Carnal and ſold under it) till the Power of the Lord make a Change in my State, working me from under the Dominion of it.

Quer. 12. How is it with the Soul in the State of Captivity, when Sin is revived by the Law, the Soul dead as to its former Life and Strength, and not yet come under the Dominion and Power of Grace? Doth it not do what it allows not, and not do the good it would? Yea, doth not the Enemy oftentimes even force it to do what it hates, the Soul being as yet weak in the Faith, whereby alone Strength is received to reſiſt him? Is not this State experienced, in ſome meaſure, by every Traveller? Doth not every one feel the ſtrength of Sin, and his own inability, either to Will or Do of himſelf that which is Good, &c. before he witneſs Help and Deliverance from the Lord?

Quer. 13. Doth God impute to the Soul, or to Sin, the effect of this Captivity, and Work of Sin and Satan upon the Heart, againſt the Bent, and Earneſt Deſires and Endeavours of the Soul?

Quer. 14. When is the Soul in this State of Trouble and Captivity? Is it not after ſome appearance and Operation of Gods Power in the Heart? Is it not after the mind is turned from Sin, and deſireth to be Joyned to the holy Law of Life

Life, and Obey it? is it not after God hath wrought the Will (in the Mind to do Good; ſo that, the conſent is given to the Law, and the Will is preſent; but how to perform that which is Good, it findeth not, becauſe Faith is yet ſo weak, and Sin and Unbelief ſo ſtrong in the Heart?

Quer. 15. Is not this the Time of bitter Warfare, and day of Terrible Diſtreſs in the Heart, and of feeling the wickedneſs of the eſtate, becauſe of Sin, and of crying out, and longing after the Salvation, and deliverance of the Goſpel? O, wo is me, who ſhall deliver me, poor Captive, ſaith the Soul in this State!

Quer. 16. Is not God very tender to the Soul in this ſtate, daily blotting out, and not Imputing Sin? Oh! If it were not for the exceeding Mercy, and tender love and help of the Lord in this ſtate, it were impoſſible for any ever to come through it? But, thanks be to God, through Jeſus Chriſt our Lord, who both upholds in it, and carries through it; ſo that, a Change comes to be witneſſed, and a better ſtate known by thoſe who conſent not to Sin; but continue in taking part with the good, holy, and ſpiritual law of life againſt it.

From Chap 8.

Quer. 1. What is that ſtate, wherein there is no Condemnation? Is not that the ſtate of the Redeemed ſouls in Chriſt? Doth not Condemnation follow, where there is Sin and Diſobedience? ſee Heb. 2. 1. &c. Doth not God condemn ſin, and the ſoul becauſe of ſin; till it be driven from Sin by the Law, unto Chriſt, and learn of him to walk, as he walked, even not after the Fleſh, but after the Spirit? For to the ſpirit, to the ſeed, to the heavenly Man there is no Condemnation; nor to them that walk after the ſpirit.

Quer. 2. How come any to walk after the ſpirit? can any walk after the ſpirit, but as they are made free by the Power of Chriſt, revealed in their Hearts againſt the Power of Satan, from the Law of ſin and death? Will not ſin and death Captivate a man, and entangle him in Luſts, evil Motions and Works; till their ſtrength be broken in him, and his Soul delivered, and ſet free therefrom?

Quer. 3. How doth the Law of the ſpirit of life in Chriſt Jeſus, make free from the law of ſin and death? Is it not thus? Did not God Condemn ſin in Chriſt's Fleſh? and doth not the ſame ſpirit, and Law of Life Condemn it in ours alſo, and bring the Judgment and Juſtice of the holy Law of Life over it? And ſo bringing the ſoul of from that which is un-holy, unto the holy and Righteous Spirit and Nature of Chriſt, and bringing it to walk out of the deadneſs of Sin in the newneſs of Life, it is removed from thence where the Condemnation is, thither where the Condemnation cannot come: for in Chriſt, in the new Nature, in the Heavenly Image, in the newneſs of the Spirit there never was, nor ever can be any Condemnation.

Quer. 4. Would God have the Righteouſneſs of the Law fulfilled in his Children? would he have them walk exactly with him in the new Covenant, which both Comprehends and exceeds the Righteouſneſs of the old Covenant? Conſider whether Chriſt fulfilling the Old Covenant be their Righteouſneſs, or his fulfilling the new in them and for them? for he both doth away their unrighteouſneſs, and alſo brings in the Righteouſneſs into them which is of his own Pure, Heavenly and Everlaſting Nature. Is not he the Image of God? Is not he Righteouſneſs? And when he is in them, and they changed into his Nature and Spirit, is not he their Righteouſneſs? O wait to determine this thing (all that deſire to know and partake of the Righteouſneſs of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt) in the true and pure ſenſe of Life, and in the Evidence and Demonſtration of God's Holy Spirit, Quer. 5. Do not all men act according to the Principle, whether of Fleſh or Spirit, to which their minds are Joyned? Do not they which are of the Fleſh mind, favour, approve, deſire after and delight in that which is Fleſhly? but they that are after the Spirit, do not they mind, favour, deſire after, approve, and delight in the things of the Spirit? Therefore is not this of great concern to all, to to consider not so much what their Profession and appearance is outwardly, as what their Root is inwardly, and what Nature, Spirit and Growth they and their Religion is of?

Quer. 6. What doth it Produce to have the mind exercised by the Flesh? Doth it not produce Death? Is not the Nature, Spirit and Wisdom of the Flesh separated from God's Nature, who is Life? And can it bring forth any thing in the Heart, but Corruption and Death? But the minding of the other Principle, and being exercised by the other Principle, that produceth Life and Peace: Doth it not? Let all, that have inwardly experienced these things, assent and testifie in Spirit before the Lord, to his Praise.

Quer. 7. Is not the Flesh enmity against God? Can any thing which is enmity against God, who is the Quickening Life, do any thing but deaden and kill where it finds entrance? Life and Peace is witnessed in subjection to God, who gives it to them that Obey the Law of his Spirit. Is that which is in the enmity and stands in the enmity, subject (or can it be subject) to the Holy Law of God? Nay, there must be a new Creation felt in the Heart, before there can be a subjection to that which is pure and Living.

Quer. 8. Can any men that are in the Flesh, that are not truly and inwardly changed by the Spirit and Power of the Gospel; I say, can they please God in any thing they do? Can they believe, or pray or read the Scriptures, or practise any thing they observe from the Scriptures, so as to please God thereby? Nay surely, without changing the Principle, without having the Heart changed by God's Power, there is no right believing, praying, or doing any thing to please God. This makes most mens Religion and Performances unsavory, because they know not, nor are returned to, and guided by that principle and Seed of Life, which seasons and makes savory.

Quer. 9. How may a man know whether he be in the Flesh, or in the Spirit? If he be in the Spirit, doth not the spirit dwell in them? For the spirit Createth anew, and the spirit dwelleth in that which he new-Createth. It is the strong Man Armed who keeps, and dwells in the Old House; but the Spirit of Christ keeps, and dwells in the new House: and if any man have not the spirit of Christ, (notwithstanding all his Religion, Knowledge, Faith, Prayers, &c.) he is none of his.

Quer. 10. If Christ, the quickning spirit (the living Power) be in a man: Doth he not kill sin there? Is not the Body dead there, because of sin? Can sin live there, where Christ dwells? And is not his spirit Life there, to quicken in and unto Righteousness? yea, is it possible that Christ should dwell in any mans heart by his spirit, and his spirit not be quickning the mortal Body in which he dwells? O how pretious is it to feel the quickening Life and Power! This is a dayly seal of the true Religion, and the dayly Operation of God's spirit in the hearts of his Children, shews who dwells there.

Quer. 11. To which are we debters, who are redeemed to God by his Spirit and Power? Are we debters to the Flesh, to live after the Flesh, which brings into Bondage to sin and death? Or are we debters to that spirit and power of Life, which hath made us alive to God, and preserveth us in Life, and quickeneth us unto Life, day by day?

Quer. 12. Is it possible that any one should come to Life, but by the mortifying, denying, and destroying of that, which nourisheth sin, and leads into death? and what can do that, but the Power of God's spirit?

Quer. 13. Are not all the sons of God lead by his spirit? O how necessary then is it for every man to be sure, both that he hath received God's spirit, and that he be led by it?

Quer. 14. What is the spirit of Bondage, which begetteth fear when God awakeneth the soul? and what is the spirit of adoption, whereby the soul can cry Abba Father? Can any cry Abba Father, but those that are begotten of Gods Spirit? many men put up requests, and are able to make long Prayers (perhaps such as may be taking to the eye of mans Wisdom) and yet, know not that spirit which begetteth Life in the heart, and teacheth to cry Abba, Father.

Quer. 15. Is it not a pretious thing for people truly to feel the spirit of God bearing witneſs, with their Spirits, that they are God's Children, and heirs of God and with Chriſt; and ſo leading them through the ſufferings, that they may come to partake with him of his Glory? but do any come to partake of his Glory, who do not firſt come through the ſufferings?

XXVIII.

A further Teſtimony in Brief concerning the Work of God upon our hearts, who are called Quakers.

IT hath been with us, and ſo we have felt it from the Lord, juſt as is expreſſed Tit. 2. 5. Not by Works of Righteouſneſs which we have done, but according to his Mercy he ſaved us, by the waſhing of Regeneration and renewing of the Holy Ghoſt.

We are a people, who have been greatly diſtreſſed (many of us) for want of that Life and Power, which was revealed in the Apoſtles dayes. We are a race of travellers, who have been travelling out of the Nature, Wiſdom, Spirit and courſe of this World (which is vain and paſſeth away) towards our reſting place. We have wandered from Mountain to Hill, from one way of Religion to another, ſeeking after him whom our Souls dearly loved. Indeed the watch-men have often laughed at us and Mocked us, wiſhing us to return to them: but that would not ſtill the cry of our Souls, which were ſick with earneſt deſire, not after formal wayes of Religion, but after Life and Immortality that it might be again brought to Light (as it had been in the Apoſtles dayes) and our Souls made partakers thereof. Now, after many a weary ſtep and deep ſickneſs of Heart, when we were come even near to deſpair, of ever finding and injoying what our Souls ſo ſorely longed after; it pleaſed the Lord, at length in his tender Mercy to appear among us, and by the directions of his holy Spirit to turn our Minds inwards: ſhewing us, that that which we ſought without, was to be found within; telling us that there was the Kingdom, which was not to be found by Obſervations without, but by meeting with and ſubjecting to the Light and Power of Life within, and when we were ſollicitous how to know it, from the darkneſs and deceit within: this anſwer was given us from the Lord, Its Nature will diſcover it ſelf: it will turn againſt all darkneſs and deceit in the heart: it will find out and Reprove whatever is Reprovable, and furniſh the Soul with ſtrength againſt it. O bleſſed Sound from the Lord God of Life, who thus drew our hearts to wait upon him; and ſhewed us how to wait, and what to wait for, and where we might meet with that which our hearts ſo exceedingly deſired and panted after! And truly as our minds were thus turned inwards, the holy Light did ſhine upon us from the Son of Righteouſneſs, and the pure Life and Nature from the Son of God did ſpring up in us; and we felt the Power of God revealed in our Hearts, and the Old Image of Sin and unrighteouſneſs daily defacing, and our Souls Creating anew (in Chriſt Jeſus) into the Holy and heavenly Image. So that here we felt the Mercy of God, which ſaved his People in all ages, reaching to us alſo; and his Spirit regenerating, renewing and waſhing us, with the Water and Blood which cleanſeth. And as we were regenerated and renewed more and more: ſo we were ſtill waſhed more and more, and came more into fellowſhip with Chriſt in his Death, and were alſo raiſed up by him more and more into his Life, and taught to ſet our affections more on things above, and leſs on things below; which are of an enſnaring and entangling Nature, in which the minds of the ſons of men are held Captive, untill they meet with that Royal, Excellent, Noble Spirit and Power, which breaks the Chains and Fetters of darkneſs and redeems out of them. And now we can Teſtifie (in true ſence, and in the evidence and demonſtration of Gods Spirit) that not by Working, willing or running of our ſelves; not by any works of Righteouſneſs, which we had done or could do: but by the tender Mercy of God viſiting, and by the Operation of his holy ſpirit upon us (in and through regenerating, renewing, and

(and washing us from that which defiled and stained our Souls, and made them guilty in his sight, and lyable to his wrath) were we saved from the wrath to come, and from the wayes of Transgression wherein we walked, before our God thus visited us.

Now, it is the sincere desire of our Souls, that this tender Mercy of God might take effect on others also, and that they might likewise be Lighted by him to the place where Wisdom teacheth her Children, and where the True Redemption of the Soul is witnessed, and the true Knowledg of the Father and of Christ (which is Life eternal) given and received, that People might not be hardned to Destruction and deceived of their Souls, by a foolish and vain Religion, wherein is not the substance and kernel (which alone can nourish up to Life Eternal) but only some shew and appearance thereof, which cannot really satisfie that which is indeed begotten and born of God's Spirit.

XXIX.

A brief account of the ground of our Worship, and How it cometh to pass that we cannot conform to the Spirit of this World, or to the Wills of Men therein, but only to the Spirit and Will of our God.

WE fear God, who made Heaven and Earth, whose Power is over all, who hath caused the Light of his Holy Spirit to shine in our Hearts, thereby teaching us how to Worship him acceptably in Spirit and Truth: which Worship he hath required of us, and that we meet together so to do in those Assemblies, which he hath gathered by his Power, and ordereth by his Spirit, either in silence or sound of Words according to his pleasure.

And God who hath appointed us thus to worship him, hath Power over our Bodies and Souls, and can destroy and cast both into Hell, if we should deny that Truth and way of Worship, which he hath taught us. Yea, if we should deny this way of Worship, we should deny Christ and be denyed by him, before his Father in Heaven: For he himself hath said, that neither at the Mountain of Samaria nor at Jerusalem should men worship; but they that worship the Father, must worship him in Spirit and in Truth. Now men cannot worship in Spirit, and in Truth, as they Please, or in wayes of their own Inventing and setting up: but he that worshipeth in Spirit and Truth, must first be made Spiritual; and then must wait in silence of the Flesh, for God's Spirit to quicken him unto Spiritual worship. For they that worship otherwise than thus, worship at best, but after the Oldness of the Letter, and not in the Newness of the Spirit, which is the only worship God seeketh, and requireth under the New Testament.

Besides, we have found God's presence with us, and blessing upon us, in this way of worship, and our Hearts greatly melted and warmed therein, and Power given us over our passions, and corruptions inwardly, and to order our Lives and Conversations, Holily, Righteously, and Innocently outwardly: which presence of God, and holy Power over sin and vanity, affections and lusts, we would not lose for ten thousand Worlds. And what an unjust, and unthankful thing were it in us, to turn from this way of Worship, which God hath called us to, where we have met with these things; to that way of worship, where we did not meet with these things, and where others do not, nor can meet with them? For these things are only to be met with in that way of worship, which God hath appointed and blessed, and not in that way of worship, which man hath invented and set up; which every prophane and wicked Person can cry up and enjoy his lusts under, but they that are otherwise taught of God can by no means submit to, without grievous sinning against him.

Now, Magistracy was never Ordained of God, nor Power given men by him to force People to Sin against him.

And is it not a great Sin to worship against one's Faith, according to the wills and precepts of men, contrary to the teachings and requirings of his holy Spirit? Are not they, that do thus Hypocrites? Was Power given unto Magistrates to make men Hypocrites? or to incourage People unto Truth and Uprightness both towards God and men? To wait upon God, in his fear, to be taught by him the true Way of Worship: is not this Good and Right in his sight? and to Worship in Spirit and Truth, as he teacheth: is not this to do well? and was not the Magistrate Ordained of God to be a terror to evil doers, and a praise to them that do well? The Magistrate saith we do not Obey him: but he should rather inquire, whether he doth not require that of us, wherein we cannot Obey him, without Sinning against the Lord, and against the Light of his Holy Spirit in our own hearts and Consciences, and so bring God's Wrath upon us, and provoke him to destroy us both Body and Soul. But if men will needs be angry with us for serving the Lord, and Worshiping him according to his Holy Law and Will: we had better undergo their anger and unjust punishments for Obeying our God, than come under his Wrath for Disobedience. And God is our witness that no stubornness, wilfulness or contempt of authority engageth us in the least to continue, through many sufferings, in this way of meeting together to Worship our God: but only Obedience to the Gospel and Power of Christ, which we have found this Visitation and Ministration of Life from on High to be to us, by its Redeeming us out of Sin and from the Spirit of this World. And the same that hath redeemed us in some measure, hath required us thus to wait on the Lord to have our Redemption perfected: and in thus waiting upon him it is daily added to and carried on; Blessed be the Name of our God. But if we should forbear thus to meet, we should turn from, Sin against and provoke our God (who hath already Redeemed us in part, and is still further and further Redeeming us,) and turn Back to Egypt, Sodom and Babylon, where is darkness, thy Lust and Confusion, and not the holy Order of God's Spirit, neither in the Conversations nor in the Worships of those that dwell and abide there.

XXX.

Some Queries concerning knowing and owning the Lord Jesus Christ truly and aright, who hath been the only Saviour and Redeemer in all Ages and Generations, and there never was and never shall be any other.

Quer. 1. WHether they know or own the Lord Jesus Christ truly and aright, who only know and own him as outwardly described and related of in the Scriptures; but know him not inwardly revealed in their hearts, as the Word and Power of Eternal Life? Or whether they are the true knowers and owners of Christ, who know and own him not only according to a litteral description of him in the Scriptures, but also as inwardly revealed by the Father, witnessing him formed in them, and their hearts changed into his holy and Heavenly Image, by the virtue of his inward appearance, and operation of his Spirit and Power in them?

Quer. 2. Whether they truly and rightly know the Death and Resurrection of Christ, who know only the Relation of them in the Scriptures; but are not made conformable to his Death, nor raised up by him in the Power of his Life? Or whether they are the true and right Knowers of his Death and Resurrection; who are buried with him by the holy Baptism of his Spirit into Death? who through the Spirit have mortified the deeds of the Body, and witness the holy Seed of Life raised and living in them, and themselves raised and made alive to God, in and through the power of the Father revealed in them?

Quer. 3. Whether they truly and rightly confess Christ to be the Lord and King, Priest and Prophet of his People, who confess it only from the Reading of it to be so in the Scriptures? Or whether they are not the true and right

Con-

Confessors of Christ's Kingly, Priestly and Prophetical Offices, who witness him exercising them in them? Who witness him overcoming and reigning over Sin and Death in them? over whom other Lords, even the Spirits and Powers of darkness have not Dominion now, but Christ only? and in whom he Ministreth as in his Temple, Offering Spiritual Gifts and Sacrifices to his Father; and who also prophesieth there, opening and revealing the Mysteries of his Kingdom to them, as he doth to the least Babes that are truly begotten and born of his Spirit?

Quer. 4. Do they or can they truly know Christ's voice, who never experienced the Word of Life speaking in their hearts? Where doth the false Prophet speak? Doth he not speak within? And where doth the true Shepherd speak? Doth he not speak within also, even in the heart? And do not his Sheep hear, know and distinguish his voice there?

Quer. 5. Who knoweth the truth as it is in Jesus? Do any do so, but those that have felt the drawings of the Father, come unto the Son, in the drawings received Life from and abide in him? Do any know the truth in Jesus, but those that witness Virtue, Freedom, Life and Power by the truth in some measure? Doth not that saying and promise of Christ (John. 8. 31, 32.) Stand firm in every Age? If ye continue in my Words, then are ye my Disciples indeed. And ye shall know the Truth, and the Truth shall make you Free.

Quer. 6. Who are ingrafted into Christ? Can any one be ingrafted into him, but as he is inwardly revealed and made known? yea is not he in them who are ingrafted into him, and are not they in him? is not he that is truly regenerated cut off from the old stock within, from the Root of bitterness within? and is not he implanted into the new stock within also; Insomuch as he sensibly feeleth the pure, holy root of Life bear him, and the Sap thereof springing up in him, causing him to bring forth Fruit to God in due season?

Quer. 7. Who prayeth in the Name of Christ? Doth he who saith these, or such like Words, with the best seriousness and sensibleness he can in his own Will; Hear me, O Lord, for Christ's sake: I confess I am unworthy, but I beg of thee in his Name who is worthy, &c. Or he, who prayeth in the childs Nature, on the Fathers breathing upon him, in the Spirit of the Father which is given him, and in the time and Will of the Father? He that doth but sigh or groan in and from the Spirit, doth not that Sigh or Groan ascend up to the Father in Christ's Name? Alas, how outward is mens Religion: but the inward strains and current of the True, Pure, and Heavenly Religion they know not?

Quer. 8. Who receiveth Christ? Do any but those, who receive and bow to the Light of his Spirit inwardly revealed? Can any receive him, but they that hear his knocks and open to him? Do any know the inward Voice of the Shepherd, besides the sheep? And can any receive his Voice, and not receive him? And can any who are Ignorant of and refuse his Voice, receive him?

Quer. 9. Who do truly and rightly believe in Christ? do any do so, or can any do so, but they who first feel life, from whence the true Faith springs? Ah that all the faith in men were dashed, but what comes from life, unites to life and abides in Life?

Quer. 10. Whom doth Christ gather from the barren Mountains? are they not his Sheep: his Poor, Distressed, Scattered, Wounded, Fainting and almost Famished Sheep? What are the Mountaines he gathers them from? are they not the several dead Wayes, Worships and Gatherings without Life? And out of whose mouths doth he rescue them? Is it not out of the mouths of the Shepherds that made a Prey of them? who fed them not with Life, with Vertue, with pure living Knowledge: but with Words, with Dreams, with Apprehensions of their own concerning the things of God? And whither doth he lead them? is it not to his own holy Mountain (which is exalted by God and established over, and on top of all those other Mountains) where the fresh pastures are, and where the Streams of Life flow and run plentifully?

Quer. 11. Who are Christs kindred according to the Spirit? who is his Mother, Sister, Brother? Are any so, but they that do the Will of his Father? And is this Obedience a working according to the Law, or of the Righteousness of the Law?

Nay

Nay, is it not rather of the Nature and Righteousness of the Gospel? is not that which floweth from him who is Righteous, Righteous also even as he is Righteous.

Quer. 12. To whom doth Christ give Power to become Sons? Is it not to as many, as truly and rightly receive him and believe in his name. To as many as received him of Old, to them he gave Power to become the Sons of God: Doth he not do so still? What is it to receive Power to become a Son? Let the heart that hath received it, answer; for the Notionist cannot.

Quer. 13. What is the Reason so many who are high in Notion and Profession, cannot own his Precious Appearance of the Spirit, Power and Glory of our Lord Jesus Christ in this our Day in the Hearts of his Children, after the long Night of Darkness, which hath so long covered the Earth? Is not this the very reason, even because they do not truly and rightly know either the Father or the Son? Can any see or know him that begets, and with the same Eye not see or know him that is begotten of him? Can any love Christ, and not love his Brethren? is not Wisdom, in her appearances, justified of her Children in this age, as well as formerly?

Quer. 14. Are there two Christs: one manifested without, and another revealed within? or is it the same Lord Jesus Christ, who in the dayes of his flesh appeared outwardly, and was afterwards manifested within as the Mystery of Life and Hope of Glory, who also in this our Day is revealed and made known within unto his, by the same eternal Spirit?

Quer. 15. He that truly and rightly knoweth the Spirit of Christ, doth he not know Christ also? even as he that knoweth Christ, must needs know the Father also. Are not the Father and Christ one? could any one see Christ, even in the Dayes of his Flesh, and not see the Father also? (see John 14. 9.) So is not Christ and the Spirit one in like manner? and are not all that are truly of Christ, begotten by, gathered into, and do they not live and walk in that one Spirit of his? and do they not there know the things of God as they are, and testifie of what they have seen and known; though they that are out of that Spirit and Power know neither him, nor the Testimony of Life that comes by him, no more than the Jews knew his appearance outwardly in their Day.

A Query Added Concerning Imputation.

Quer. IN what State was Abraham, when Faith was Imputed to him for Righteousness? Was he in the ungodly State? in the State of unbelief and disobedience to the Spirit and Power of the Lord? or was he in the sense of Gods Power, in the belief of him who could raise up his Son from the Dead, and in the performance of Obedience unto him, giving up his Son at the Lords command?

And in what State must we be, when we witness Faith Imputed to us also for Righteousness? Must we not be in the sense of the same power and in the belief of it, and in the Obedience of Faith? Read Rom. 4. and consider: For the Righteousness of the Gospel is not Imputed in or by the works of the Law, but in the Obedience of Faith.

It is true, God justifieth the ungodly, through Faith he makes them Just and Godly, but doth he justifie or accept them in the ungodly State? doth he not first make change in them by his Power? doth he not first, in some measure, purifie their hearts by Faith?

The

The CONCLUSION.

THere are a great many who profeſs the Goſpel-State, and that they are in Chriſt, and under Grace, and freely juſtified by Grace; ſo that they look upon their Sins, as Covered by the Lord, and not imputed to them; they believing (as they pretend) in the Name of His Son, and Obeying His Goſpel, &c. I ſay, many profeſs theſe things, who do not at all know what they mean, truly and rightly, as in God's Sight.

For it is a great matter to be in Chriſt; even to Know Him that is True, and to be in Him that is True: to come out of Darkneſs into His Light, out of Death into His Life, out of Satans Kingdom, and out of Subjection to Sin, into His Kingdom, and into Subjection to His Spirit. If any Man be in Chriſt, he is a New Creature: Old things are paſſed away, and all things become New. Is this true? Doth he that is in Chriſt, witneſs this? And he that doth not witneſs this, Is he in Chriſt?

Ah! How many then are Deceived about their being in Him, and of their Hope in Him. For, ~~How~~ few of thoſe, who Talk of being in Chriſt, know what the New Creation in Him means, or what it is to have Chriſt formed in them! How few know His Spirit by Receiving it, by Union with it; which yet if a Man have not, he is none of His! How few know how to try Spirits, by the holy Anointing, which is only able to try, and diſcover ſuch falſe Spirits, as come in the Sheeps Cloathing, and as Miniſters of Righteouſneſs, and yet come with the Deceivableneſs of Unrighteouſneſs, to draw Men from the Spirit and Power, or to keep them in a Dead form of Knowledge, and Worſhip without true Life.

So, for being under Grace, few truly know what it is: For Grace is that which hath Dominion over Sin, and which giveth Dominion to thoſe that are under it. Sin ſhall not have Dominion over you, ſaid the Apoſtle: For ye are not under the Law, but under Grace. Therefore, yield not your Members Servants or Inſtruments to Sin. Ye did ſo, when ye were free from Righteouſneſs: but now, let not Sin Reign in your Mortal Bodies, ſeeing Grace gives you Power over it, and makes you free from it unto Righteouſneſs.

So, Juſtification by Grace is only to them who are Taught by Grace. The Grace of God brings Salvation, Redemption, Juſtification to them, and no others. For their Sins only are Blotted out, Covered, and not imputed, who receive Grace, hear the Voice of it, and Obey it. Hear, and your Souls ſhall Live. In Hearing the Grace which Teacheth from God, Souls come to Live in His Sight; and the Living are Juſtified by Him, and in the Living Way, and Path of Life, are the Sins Blotted out, and the Garment given which Covers the Nakedneſs; which Garment is to be girt about the Soul, and kept cloſe on; or the Nakedneſs and Shame will appear, and be ſeen again.

So, to Believe in the Name of Chriſt, and to Fly to His Name, and Truſt in His Name, and to Pray to the Father in His Name, and to Obey in His Name and Power: Theſe are great Matters, and very few of thoſe that make Profeſſion of them, truly know them. For His Name is Living (He was Dead, but is Alive) and his Preſence, Heavenly Vertue, and Power is in it. They that know His Name, know that which is above every Name. They know that which hath an Authority from God, to bring all things under (both in the Heart, and alſo in the Life and Converſation) that God alone may be Exalted.

The Goſpel-State, is a great State, an high State, a State not of ſhadowy things; but of the Everlaſting Kingdom, where the Subſtance of the things under the Law is given to, and Poſſeſſed by thoſe that are there, as they Grow up in the Goſpel-Power and Covenant. There the Goſpel-Faſt is known, the Faſt which God hath choſen, which is to looſe the bands of Wickedneſs (which bind down the Good, even that which is of God in the Heart) to take off the heavy Burthens, under which, and by which,

that

that which is pure is bowed down, and to let the Oppreſſed Seed go free. This is the Faſt which God hath choſen under the Goſpel, the pure and undefiled Faſt, even to Viſit the Fatherleſs, and Widows in their Affliction, and to keep ones ſelf unſpotted from the World. And to thoſe that obſerve this Faſt, God maketh a Feaſt of Fat things: for their Light breaketh forth as the Morning, and their Health Groweth up ſpeedily, and their Righteouſneſs goeth before them, and the Glory of the Lord gathereth them up, or is their Rereward; and the Lord is nigh unto them, and ready to Anſwer them, in all that they call upon him for, as was Promiſed, Iſa. 58. 8, 9. Now being come to this Feaſt, they are to keep it with unleavened Bread, as to the Fleſh, as to Mans Wiſdom; but with the Bread which is Leavened with the Spirit, Leavened with Life; and with the Wine of the Kingdom, which Chriſt Eats and Drinks with his Redeemed Ones, new, in the Goſpel-Spirit and Power, which is His Fathers Kingdom: For the Kingdom of God ſtandeth not in Meats or Drinks, or any other outward thing, no not in good Words concerning the things of the Kingdom; but in the Spirit, Power, and Life it ſelf, and in the Righteouſneſs, Peace, and Joy, which is in the Spirit.

THE END.

Concerning the RULE of the NEW-COVENANT, or that which God hath Appointed to be the Rule to the Children of the New-Covenant.

THE Way, the Truth, the Life, the Everlaſting Way, the Everlaſting Truth, the Everlaſting Life; that is, the Rule in the New-Covenant. God ſent Chriſt his Son, the Word of Eternal Life, a Light into the World; and the Meſſage and Driſt of the Goſpel is to turn Men from the Inward Darkneſs to the inward Light: and being turned to it, the Manifeſtation of this Light is to be the Rule, which Manifeſts the Way of Light and Truth, as Immediately in the Heart, as ever the Darkneſs did the Way of Deceit and Errour.

The Promiſe of the New-Covenant is, I will put my Spirit within them: and this Spirit hath an Inward Law and Teſtimony, which it Writeth in the Heart; which Inward Law and Teſtimony, is to be the Rule of the Heart. And as the Outward Jews were to have Recourſe to the Outward Law and Teſtimony, ſo the Inward Jews are to have Recourſe to the Inward Law and Teſtimony; and to Witneſs the Law of the Spirit of Life in Chriſt Jeſus Revealed in them, and their Minds and Spirits ſubjected thereto: And this is near, bright and powerful in thoſe who receive the Spirit, and with him, the Law and Power of the Endleſs Life.

The Letter Killeth, the Jews underſtand not the Way of Life by the Letter; therefore, the Promiſe was, I will pour out my Spirit upon all Fleſh: And becauſe ye are Sons, God hath ſent forth the Spirit of His Son; and thou ſhalt hear a Voice behind thee, ſaying, This is the Way, Walk in it. And this Voice is to be hearkened to; this Prophet (which God raiſeth up to the Soul in the New-Covenant) is to be heard in all things: And he that hears His Voice, and Obeys, Live; and he that hears not, is in Death, even until now, profeſs what he will.

In Chriſt Jeſus, neither Circumciſion availeth any thing, nor Uncircumciſion, but the New-Creation: If any Man Walk according to this Rule, Peace be upon him, &c. What doth the Apoſtle call the Rule here? O wait on the Lord to Read in the Spirit, and Rightly to Underſtand.

If

If a Man receive the Spirit, and walk in the Newneſs of the Light, and quickenings thereof every Day, hath he not a Rule which is certain and infallible? If any Man be in Chriſt, there is a New Creation; and the Limits of that New Creation, which is the Light and Power of the Endleſs Life, or of God's holy Spirit dwelling within, that is His Rule. And within the bounds of that (within the bounds of His Light, His Life, His Motions, His Inſtructions) Man never Errs; but out of it, Deceit, and Darkneſs, and Errour is always at hand.

Yet (though we do own Chriſt to be the Rule) we do not deny making uſe of the Scriptures to try Doctrines, and Forms of Religion by; but know, that what is of God, doth, and will agree therewith, and what doth not agree therewith, is not of God; and that our Fore-Fathers in the Faith, were led to Batter the Superſtitions, and Idolatries of the Papiſts, by the Teſtimony of the Scriptures; and we have alſo the Teſtimony of the Scriptures with us, both to the Light, and Spirit within, and againſt Forms formerly invented, or now Practiſed out of the Life and Power. But we believe the Spirit to be a Touch-Stone beyond the Scriptures, and to be that which giveth Ability to try, and diſcern not only words, but Spirits; whereas a Man may hold the Form of Doctrine and Godlineſs, and yet want the Power; in which Caſe, nothing can try ſuch a Spirit, but the Spirit of God, which is in the Spiritual Man. And for calling the Scriptures the Word of God, we cannot but look upon it, as an improper Expreſſion, They being many Words, not the one Word; and Chriſt is called in Scripture, not only the Word God, but the Word of God. And if in the Fear of the Lord, and true Senſe, we keep herein to the Expreſſions of Scripture, and its Form of Words, which are Sound; ſurely we cannot Juſtly be blamed for ſo doing.

But whereas ye affirm the Scripture to be the Rule; Conſider ſeriouſly, and Anſwer me this Queſtion. How is it a Rule? Whether it be a Rule, as it is literally underſtood? Or, Whether it muſt not be Interpreted, before it can be underſtood as a Rule? If it muſt be Interpreted, What muſt be the Interpreter, whether it be the Spirit of God, or a Man's Wiſdom?

As to that Queſtion, Whether the Writings of any now be of equal Weight with the Scriptures; I have this to ſay:

The Weight of the Words which are from God's Spirit, is according to the Strength of Life, which he pleaſeth to Cloath them with; he ſent forth Moſes, the Prophets, the Son in that Body of Fleſh, the Apoſtles in His Name and Authority; and the Angel that He ſends with the Everlaſting Goſpel, after the Apoſtacy, to Preach to every Nation, Kindred, Tongue, and People, he ſends not without His Authority; yea, the Meſſage that he thus ſends in any Age, hath a peculiar Reference to the State of the World, and the State of the People of God in that Age, and none can ſlight (whether it be ſignified by word or writing) without daſhing againſt God's Authority, and deſpiſing him that ſpeaketh in theſe Latter Days. Yea, the immediate Word of the Lord, Spoken, and Declared at this Day, by any Man to whom it pleaſeth the Lord to commit the ſame, is of no leſs Authority, nor more to be ſlighted now, than it was in His Servants in the Days paſt, by whom the Scriptures were given forth.

Concerning Chriſt.

CHriſt is that Word of Eternal Life, which was Glorified with the Father before the World was, who in the full appointed time took up the Body of Fleſh, prepared by the Father, to do the Will in, and did the Will in it, Fulfilling all Righteouſneſs to the Satisfaction of the very Heart of the Father, for whoſe Names Sake the Sins of Believers are Pardoned. And this ſame Word of Eternal Life, and no other, which took that Body of Fleſh upon Him, is alſo Manifeſted, and Dwelleth in the Hearts of His Saints, who (receiving Him in the Faith which is of Him) Dwells in them Richly, Manifesting in the Vessel, the Treasures of His Divine Wisdom and Knowledge. Now, this is the precious Knowledge of Christ indeed; and this is it, every one is to wait for, to find a Measure of the same Life, the Fulness whereof Dwells in Him Bodily, Dwelling in our Mortal Bodys, and making us like unto Him in Spirit, Nature, and Conversation. And he that knoweth not, but Oppoſeth this (in any of its Appearances, or Operations) either in himself or others, is so far of the dark Anti-Christian Spirit.

Concerning the Form of Sound Words.

NOt only the Form of Sound Words, but also the good Knowledge of the Heavenly Things themselves, have been miserably Lost, and Buried in the Ruins of the great Apostacy. And though God hath oftentimes touched Men's Spirits, and given them some Sense of the Anti-Christian State of Darkness; yet have they not had that regard thereunto, so as to be led thereby out of the State of Darkness, but are found in Babylon, by the Spirit of the Lord, at the very time of His coming to Destroy Her. For though the Spirit of the Lord Call out of Babylon; yet there is great Danger of not Observing, and Following the Call; but of abiding still there, and partaking of her Plagues.

Now, though Men have had the Scriptures, yet wanting the Spirit of God, and not knowing how to turn their Minds thereto, and distinguish His Voice, from the Voice of their own Spirits and Reasonings; (yea, of the Enemy also, who lieth in wait to Steal into Men's minds, false Apprehensions from Scriptures) they have not come into a clear Understanding, either of the Things or Words of Scripture: but with that Knowledge, and Apprehensions of things, which they have gathered, have many times been ready to Fight, rather against Christ, than Anti-christ; and so their Confessions of Faith, and Expositions of Scriptures, have been mixed things; rather suiting to their own Beliefs and Apprehensions, than the true Nature of the things themselves: yea, by this gathered Knowledge, they have been in great danger of a desperate oppoſing the pure Administration of God's Truth, from, and in the Light and Power of His own Spirit. Likewise, the Churches they have Gathered, and Built up, they have done in a way of Imitation, from what was done once formerly, by the power, and in the authority of the Spirit; but not in the same power, life, and authority. I might say the same about their Ordinances and Duties, wherein the Lord, God knoweth, hath Manifested to others, and can Manifest to them, that they have Erred very much.

It is true, ye have rejected some Wood, Hay and Stubble, and we acknowledge the Lords goodness to you, in that ye have gone so far: Yea but there is yet more to be rejected, and all Imitations and Knowledges and Interpretations of Scripture out of the pure Life are to be laid aside, and the Spirit of the Lord waited upon, in the light which is of him, to which the mind is to be turned from the Darkness, and in which it is to abide. Now here ye are very short, not so much as come to the outward owning or understanding of the way; so far are ye from walking therein.

That ye seek to find the Power and Operation of Truth in your hearts, I do believe it concerning divers of you, and do bless the Lord in reference to any of you that it is so with you, and from my heart desire for you, that your hearts may be answered by the Lord therein, and that ye may feel preservation through that which is of him in you, though distinctly ye know it not, nor how to have your minds turned towards, and waiting upon, the Lord in it.

So to seek to have Christ formed in you, and to know Union with him, and a real Implanting into him, to know as a Vine, as Head, a living Stone, a Root, as Meat indeed and Drink indeed, &c. This is pretious indeed to desire after, but much more more pretious to witneſs: And O that ye alſo knew the way, the living way, wherein God communicateth theſe things abundantly to thoſe, who once ſate in the Deſolate and Barren places, mourning and ſorely crying out for the want of them: for then ye would not oppoſe us for turning people from Darkneſs to Light, but be one with us therein: The integrity which is in any of you, is of God; and though the ſoul miſtake about a Duty or Ordinance, yet the Cry therein after him is not wholly rejected and deſpiſed by him. But ye would know much more of him, if ye were accquainted with him in his own Way, and Worſhipped him in the Everlaſting Ordinance, which is the pure Light of his Son, which was before the Letter, brings the Soul nearer to the Lord than the Letter can, and gives a fuller Communion with the Lord in Spirit, than can be had or enjoyed through Words or Conceptions of things. And the end of the Letters Teſtimony is to bring into the Spirit and Power, which is the Adminiſtration of the Goſpel.

Concerning inward Impreſſions.

ALl the Impreſſions which are from the Holy, Pure Power of the Living God, are of the Goſpel Adminiſtration, and are of great Uſe and Vertue; and he that is gathered out of the Dark Power, into the pure Power of God who is Light, and who gathers into the Light, by the Meſſage and Miniſtration of the Goſpel in that Light, hath a diſcerning of the Power into which he is gathered, from the Power out of which he is gathered. And here he neither can nor dares receive any Impreſſion of the Dark Spirit and Power (which is known and experienced to work in great ſubtilty and deceivableneſs) nor refuſe any motion or impreſſion which is of the Pure and Holy One. But ye lay the great ſtreſs upon owning Doctrinals according to your apprehenſions of them, whereas ye muſt come much further out of Babylon, out of Man's Spirit and Wiſdom, more into the pure Fear and waiting upon God, more into the Senſe and Power of Truth, and into the Light and Knowledge which is thereof, before your Doctrinals can be owned and ſubſcribed to, by that which is of God. And this ſprings in my heart in true Love and Tenderneſs and Melting Bowels concerning you, O that ye held the head! I queſtion not, but that ye hold notions about the Head, according to your underſtanding of things; but to hold the Head is a far deeper thing than ſo. As for that paſſage about Communion with God, apply it, O apply it, or rather wait for the Spirit of the Lord to apply it cloſe to your hearts: for it is poſſible by his Light and Spirit in his own due Seaſon, he may make manifeſt to you, that much of that which goeth with you for Communion with God, is not really ſo: and indeed in the true love and upright tenderneſs of my heart towards you, I would not have you miſtaken about theſe things. As for raptures, the errour is eaſy, but in that which lies low in the pure fear is the preſervation. And friend, I pray, conſider this queſtion, which now is in my heart to thee. Thou ſpeakeſt of departing from the Faith: Ah friend, art thou yet come to the Faith? Do not anſwer it ſlightly: for I put it not ſlightly to thee nor without a cauſe. For through the Faith of the Son of God an otherghes knowledge and ſenſe of things, in this Day of the Lord's Power, is received, than thou haſt yet attained.

That a man's Doctrinals are right according to Scripture in all the main ſubſtantials, is no infallible Rule to try what Power it is that works in him, or what his Spirit is; becauſe deceit works in a Myſtery, and the Spirit of error may come in Sheep's Cloathing, and may get good words and fair ſpeeches to deceive the hearts of the ſimple: and there were thoſe that held a form of godlineſs, and had not the true Power. But denyed it, and ſuch were to be turned from, becauſe denying the true Power they denied the Lord that bought them, and ſo held not the head: and he that doth ſo, whatſoever he holds of the Doctrine of Scriptures hath ſufficient cauſe to queſtion his Communion with God, and alſo the truth of his raviſhments and ſpiritual enjoyments, and all his Duties and Graces.

Again, a man may apprehend his Doctrinals to be right, as to the main ſubſtantials, when indeed they are not ſo. For the Doctrines of the Goſpel are Myſteries, Faith is a Myſtery, the Love of and in the Spirit a Myſtery, Obedience to the Truth a Myſtery, the right confeſſion of Chriſt in and through the ſpirit a Myſtery, the Worſhip of God in Spirit a Myſtery, Juſtification, Sanctification, and the Peace and Joy of the Spirit Myſteries of the Kingdom, &c. and it is eaſy miſſing and miſunderſtanding theſe things, but hard to come to the true knowledge of them: and if any of the true, inward, Spiritual knowledge of theſe things be received at any time, it is hard retaining it, nay impoſſible rightly ſo to do but in that which gave it. And indeed this is the great Myſtery of Religion, to wit, to begin in the Spirit, and ſo to travel on in the pure Light, Life and Knowledge thereof, and not to entertain or mix with any thing of the fleſh. But now if a man have not the Spirit of Chriſt, or if he be not able to diſtinguiſh the Spirit of Chriſt in its Voice, Motions and Workings from the other Spirit, and from his own Wiſdom and Underſtanding: when he reads a ſcripture he may eaſily err and miſtake about the Doctrines thereof, and let in ſomewhat of his own, or the other ſpirits forming, inſtead of that which is the pure Truth of God. And then this which he hath ſo let in, will cauſe him to miſ-judge concerning the Truth, when God manifeſts and brings it forth purely and unmixedly in others, and make him a great enemy to it.

This was the caſe of the Scribes and Phariſees and great Prieſts in the time of Chriſt; they Studied the Law, gave interpretations of it, being appointed by God to preſerve the Peoples Knowledge; and by their underſtanding of the Law and Prophets, Chriſt could not be the Meſſiah: for plainly, that appearance of his diſagreed with the Law and the Prophets, according to their underſtanding of them. Chriſt was to abide for ever, but he ſaid the Son of man muſt be lifted up. Yea the very Diſciples themſelves underſtood not this for a long time, and if the ſenſe of the Life and Power of the Father in him, had not bowed down their Spirits, they alſo would have reaſoned againſt him in many things. When Chriſt cometh, no man knoweth whence he is: But we know this Man whence he is. And when Nichodemus (who was touched with the ſenſe of his Power) ſeemed to favour him: What ſaid they to him? Search and look, for out of Galilee ariſeth no Prophet. And they themſelves in ſearching and looking and trying by the Scriptures, found him not agree with Moſes and the Law which he had given from God (whom they ſaid they knew was of God) but whereas Moſes had given a ſtrict command about the Sabbath upon which there was no work to be done, nor burthen born, &c. He on the other hand bids a man take up his Bed and walk on the Sabbath day. How could this be the Meſſiah, of whom Moſes wrote (would they ſay in their hearts) would he teach and practiſe contrary to Moſes? So that there is no certain trying by the Scriptures, further than a man is certain that he hath the underſtanding of thoſe Scriptures which he tryeth by, from God's Spirit. For was not this plain to them, that no burthen was to be born on the Sabbath? and do they not herein (according to their Underſtandings and Knowledge of the Scripture) find Chriſt contrary to Moſes and the Prophets; what then would follow naturally? A Deceiver, a Deceiver, would they preſently cry. He cannot be of God; let him talk of what power he will, it cannot be God's power: we need a further ſign from him, before we can believe him to be the Meſſiah.

But the way of trying Doctrines by the unerring Spirit, and pure Light of Truth in the Heart, is certain and infallible. He who is Truth, and no Lye, never deceives about Truth; yea, the very inſtinct of his Life, and Nature diſtinguiſhes things truly, and never Teaches the Heart to Err, who is acquainted with it, and keepeth to it. And, What is the Spirit which is given, and why is He given? Is he not above the Letter? and where he is Received, is he not to be Acknowledged above it? Is not his Law of Light Written by his Finger in the Heart, above any literal Deſcription or Command of it? We muſt ſet the Spirit above the Scriptures, and the Miniſtration of the Spirit, above the Miniſtration of the Letter. We cannot be clear before the Lord, in giving way to any Profeſſors on the Earth herein, but muſt Teſtify for God againſt them. Yea, he that hath hath received the Anointing, and knoweth how it Teacheth, and how it Preserveth from all that seduceth, cannot but give the Honour to it, and acknowledge that it is the great Ordinance of God in the Gospel, even above, and beyond the Letter. And till he is so known and received, Men can never be able to distinguish the Truths of God, as held forth by him in the Scriptures, of Truth, from their own Conceivings, and Apprehensions about things, but will be ready to take their own Apprehensions, and Conceivings for Truth; and having so done, they cannot but mis-see, mistake, and mis-judge about that which is Truth indeed. So that the Doctrine which they thus set up, is not indeed the Doctrine of Truth according to the Scriptures, but rather that which they conceive, and have imagined so to be.

So that, whereas thou sayest, your Religion consists, first of right Apprehensions, &c. we on the other hand, cannot but Testify, as we have been convinced by the Lord, felt, and understood in him that is true, that a Man must first receive the Spirit, before he can have right Apprehensions about the Mystery of God, Christ, &c. because the Spirit searcheth the deep things of God, and the things of God knows no Man but by the Spirit: therefore, there is a necessity for People, first to be turned to the Spirit of God, as being the first step in the way to true saving Knowledge.

Concerning the Light.

CHrist who had all Power given Him by the Father, and Authority to send forth Messengers to Preach the Gospel of His Salvation, He sent forth His Apostles and Servants, to Testify and Declare of it.

That which they were to Preach and Testify of, was, That which was from the Beginning, even the Eternal Life, which was with the Father, and was Manifested unto them. And this is the Message which they heard of Him, and were to Declare to others, That God is Light, and in Him is no Darkness at all. And this Word of Faith, this Word which was from the Beginning, this Word which Reconciles the Soul to God, they were to Preach as near in the heart, as in the mouth. And the intent of their Preaching and Testifying of this, was to turn men to it, from the Darkness within to the Light within, from the Power of Sathan within to the Power of God within. Thus was the Gospel Preached before the Apostacy, and thus is it again Preached after the Apostacy: and this Light, this Life, this Power of the Invisible Word is witnessed again to become the Salvation, as it was before the Apostacy.

Now here, being turned to this, this discovers the Darkness, the lost Estate, the Captivity, the Bands, the Misery of the Soul, and gives to long after the Saviour; and not only so, but it also sheweth the Saviour whom it causeth the Soul to long after; and in the waiting upon the Saviour in the Light which is of him, giveth to partake of his Salvation.

And so here, we come to have that Work of God renewed in our hearts and spirits, which at any time was formerly wrought, and it wrought more clearly and effectually, as it must needs be, as the mind is turned toward and gathered into the pure Light, Life and Power. And in this, we are taught to own Christ, as he appeared in that body of flesh, and what he did in the Life and Vertue of the Father; yea the pretiousness of that his Sacrifice, both in its own Nature, and in the eye of the Father; and we bless the Lord for him, and believe in the Father through him. Yea, we bless the Lord for the Declarations of the good things in the Scriptures, and read them with Joy, and Thankfulness to the Father, and in the watch against that which would imagine about them; for we know any such thing (let into the mind) Darkens. So that we do not fall short in a true owning of Christ, as he appeared in that body: and also we know and own the same word of Eternal Life appearing in us, that we can say truly with the Apostle, it hath pleased the Father

to reveal the Son in us, and it is the Eternal Life, it is the Son indeed of the Holy God, and not another.

Now, for that way of Working, which thou ſpeakeſt of, of ſeeing a Man's Nakedneſs, Filthineſs, wretched, loſt, undone condition, of being convinced of his own impotency, that his help is not in himſelf, that all his Righteouſneſs is as filthy Rags, of crying out, What ſhall I do, Wo is me, I am undone, what ſhall I do to be Saved? How ſhall I appear before the Lord? And ſo of Mourning in Secret, and the Sore Running, &c. and the Diſcovery of Chriſt, as was in that Day, as offer'd without Mony, without Price, &c. and ſo the Soul's humble, and cordial caſting it ſelf upon him, &c. and deſiring to know him, not only as a Saviour, but as a Lord, alſo Reigning over him, &c.

All this we knew, in the true and ſenſible experience, as it was revealed in that day. But we knew not the word of Life within to be the word (though we felt Operations from it) and ſo were not founded upon the Rock, upon the word of Life, as revealed within: and ſo when the ſtorms came, they had greater Power upon our ſpirits, than we believed they could poſſibly have. And now in the Lords freſh viſiting of us, we have not loſt any thing we had before, nor do deny any thing that God wrought in us then, but have it again with advantage, and precious Additions from the Lord God, in that pure Light of Life wherewith he hath viſited us.

And now God having demonſtrated this thing to us, ſhewing us what it is? and giving us to partake of the precious Virtues of it; how can we call it leſs than a meaſure of Chriſt, of his Spirit, than the ſeed of the Kingdom, than the Heavenly leaven &c. knowing and experiencing it aſſuredly to be that very thing, which Chriſt ſo called in his Parables: and that in you which is offended at us for it, we know to be not the true Birth, but the Birth of another wiſdom, which is to be caſt out, with her Mother: and it will be a happy day with you, if ever ye come to witneſs the caſting of it out; which ye can never do, till ye come to know, and own and be ſubject to Chriſt within, to the pure Commandement and word of Life in the Heart, to the Law which cometh out of Sion, and to the Teſtimony and word of the Lord from Jeruſalem (And they that come not to know it caſt out of them by the Power, they thereby will be caſt out with it.)

But that there are ſome glimmerings of Light remaining in fallen man, directing concerning many things morally good, as to honour Parents, to deal juſtly, to do as we would be done unto, &c. There is, thou ſayeſt, a Light diſcovering theſe things as duties, and the contrary to be Evil, and there is alſo ſome anſwerable ſtrength to come up to ſuch Moralities. If thou meaneſt a light diſtinct from the Spitit and Divine Nature of God, I deſire thee to manifeſt it from Scripture: For Adam was to dye the death that very day that he ſinned. And the Death and Curſe came upon his Poſterity, who are dead in treſpaſſes and ſins; but the light that diſcovers and leads out of evil is from Chriſt. That which maketh ſin manifeſt, is his Light. I read that the Grace which bringeth ſalvation, hath appeared to all men, and that that teaches men to deny Ungodlineſs and worldly Luſts and gives them ſtrength ſo to do: and that it is the work of the ſpirit to convince of ſin, and that the Spirit of the Lord ſtrived with the Old world to reduce them from their evil wayes, and that he gave the Jews his good Spirit to inſtruct them, but they rebelled againſt him: but that there are ſome glimmerings of Light diſtinct from the Spirit of Chriſt, teaching fallen man to do this, and ſome anſwerable ſtrength in him to walk up thereto, I read not.

It is the promiſe of the new-Covenant, that God will write his Laws in the Heart, and whatever of his Law is written in any man's heart it is by Virtue thereof: for man is dead unto God's Law Naturally, and his eye blinded by the God of the world, but that which opens his eye to ſee what the Law ſaith, is the light of the Spirit. For that which maketh manifeſt is Light, and that which may be known of God in the Gentiles, is made manifeſt to them by the Light of God in them, which ſhineth in their darkneſs, but their darkneſs cannot comprehend comprehend it. But it fathometh and comprehendeth the Darkneſs, and is able to gather the Mind out of it, being ſubjected to it, in the Will which it creates and begets, through the Eternal Power which viſits by it, and is preſent with it, to Work the Mind out of, and deliver it from the Darkneſs. And as this Light comes from Chriſt (For he is the true Light, that enlighteneth every Man that cometh into the World) ſo it diſcovers, and maketh Manifeſt Chriſt, in his Nature and Spirit, and leadeth, and guideth towards him: and he that is lead to him in Spirit, and born of him in Spirit, cannot miſs of the Benefit, and Vertue of what he did in that Body of Fleſh; being gathered into, and found in that which is of him, to which all belongs. And in, and by this is received that nature wherein the Law is Anſwered, and the Work of Anſwering the Law, is through the Renewing of the Mind, and an Evidence of ſomewhat of a New Nature: every Degree of which Nature is Begotten, and Maintained by Chriſt the Power of God, who is over the Fall, and the whole Corruption thereof. But by the Old Corrupt Nature or Mind can no Man do the things contained in the Law: for it is enmity againſt God, and is not ſubject to his holy Law; neither indeed can be. But the Law is Spiritual, Holy, Juſt, and Good, Converting the Soul, and making Wiſe the Simple; which Work it effecteth, wherever it is Written in the Heart, by the Finger of God's Spirit.

Then again, as touching God's imputing Chriſt's active, and paſſive Obedience, &c. We do not lay the ſtreſs of Juſtification in believing a Notion, concerning Chriſt's active, and paſſive Obedience; but this we know, that Chriſt did Obey and Suffer, and that it was for our ſakes; and that for his ſake, there is a Gift given us from the Father, to Draw us to Chriſt; and that he, that is overcome to God, by the Gift of His Light, is thereby drawn out of the Darkneſs; and that that Gift brings every Man (that hears the Heavenly Voice thereof, and follows it) into the Son's Light, into the Son's Nature, into the Son's Life, into the Son's Spirit; in which, the Gentiles might partake of Remiſſion of Sins for his ſake, being gathered thereby, out of the Darkneſs into his Light and Power. For though they had never heard the outward Sound, or Name Chriſt; yet feeling the thing, and being gathered to God by the thing, the Value, and Vertue of it could not but redound to them: For it is not the outward Name, but the inward Life, and Power which is the Saviour.

And whereas the Voice of the Spirit ſaith, Ho every one that Thirſteth, come ye to the Waters: What are the Waters to which the Thirſty are Invited to come? Did we not believe in Chriſt, and caſt our ſelves on Chriſt in that Day, according as thou apprehendeſt? And yet the Thirſt and Cry our of Souls was not ſatisfied. But the living Waters ſatisfy the Thirſt. Not is it a believing a Relation concerning the Thing; but a Receiving of the Thing, of the Milk, of the Wine, of the Living Water, which anſwers the deſire of the Thirſty Soul. And by coming to the living Waters, and hearing the living Voice, and eating and drinking the living Food, the Soul Lives, and the Everlaſting Covenant is made with it, even the ſure Mercies of David, which are ſure in the Covenant of Life for Ever. And thoſe that are living, in, and by the true Life, cannot deſire to Reap, or Enjoy any thing out of the New Covenant of Life, but only in it.

This is in my Heart concerning you; ye lay the ſtreſs upon a Notion, and upon an act of the Creature, from, and upon a Notion, which they that are out of the Life may perform, and who (that hath any Senſe of a Man in him) would not perform to avoid Periſhing? That is, Who would not thus caſt himſelf upon Chriſt, if believing after ſuch a manner would Save him? And yet there is alſo a difference, a very great difference between doing of it now, when Chriſt is generally owned as the Saviour, and doing it then, when he was generally diſowned. Then who thus believed, it argued the teachings of the light and power ſo to do: but now the form of owning Chriſt, is far more common, than any form or way of diſowning him. So that now, not the word, not the form, not the outward owning, or caſting the Soul upon Chriſt, is ſo much to be conſidered or valued; but rather the power, the light, the life, the gift wherein, and whereby this is alone rightly, and truly done. And he that owneth Chriſt aright, will own that which is of Chriſt, the manifeſtation and gift of his Spirit, the ſhining of his pure Light, firſt in the Darkneſs, and then out of the Darkneſs, to that mind which it hath gathered and preſerveth out of the Darkneſs.

And then for being compleat in Chriſt in a relative way, while the Heart is unmortified, and unſubdued to God. It is dangerous miſtaking about theſe things. I do confeſs, the Sins are pardoned upon a true belief, and the Soul enters into the Covenant of Life, and is accepted with the Lord, as it finds entrance thereinto and walks therein. And there is no Condemnation to them that are in Chriſt, Who walk not after the Fleſh, but after the Spirit. But if there be an hearkening to the Fleſh, and walking after the Luſts and deſires thereof, is there no Condemnation then? Is not the Juſtification in the Covenant, and according to the Laws of the Covenant? Alas, alas, how do men Imagin concerning things and ſo in their Imaginations juſtify themſelves wherein the Lord God condemns them, and know not the way of the Covenant and of the Juſtification thereof. For there is a New Covenant as well as an Old (and the New is not like the Old) and a walking with God in the New Covenant; and every ſtep in it his Life juſtifies, and every ſtep out of it his Life Condemns, and the Mediatour of the new Covenant juſtifies it and according to the new Covenant, and never otherwiſe. For the way of God is perfect, (the way of Life, the way of Reconciliation, the way of Redemption,) and the Soul is only accepted of and juſtified of the Lord therein. Yea Juſtification is a Myſtery to man's wiſdom and underſtanding, with all his Knowledge he can gather from Scripture, and he only knows it, who feels it, and hath the experience of it in that which is true, and which cannot deceive.

Concerning Juſtification.

THe Apoſtle James ſaith expreſly, that by Works a man is juſtified, and not by Faith only: and his words were from God's Spirit, and are true, and the Lord ſaw an uſe and ſervice of them. There are Works which are excluded the Covenant of Life: and there are Works which are not excluded, no not to Juſtification. There are Works required by the Covenant, Works wrought in the Faith and by the Power of God; and when they are brought to the Light, it is made manifeſt that they were wrought in God, even works that are of his Son, wrought in the Life and by the Spirit of his Son, and theſe the Father alwayes Juſtifieth. Yet we do not ſay, this is a man's Juſtification for his ſins paſt, but they are forgiven for his names ſake: nor do they expiate ſins afterward committed, &c. But the Advocate intercedes and his blood waſhes them away. But this we ſay, that alone in the Faith, in the Obedience of the New Covenant, the Juſtification of the New Covenant is Witneſſed: and the New Covenant Juſtifieth no ſin, nor the Soul in ſin, but Purgeth away the ſin, and Juſtifieth from it, waſhing off the Venom and defilement of the wicked Spirit from the Conſcience, which the Lord purgeth by the Faith, and by the vertue of the Water and Blood which the Faith brings in.

Now having been led by God into the pure Covenant of Life, and having there had the true Sence, Knowledg and Experience of things, even of the Truth as it is in Jeſus, we cannot but ſpeak and teſtify of it, as we have felt and received it; and here we know and find certainly and infallibly, that it is not the Law of works which juſtifieth the believer, nor the Obedience or Righteouſneſs thereof: but there is a Righteouſneſs revealed of an higher Nature and Kind, than the Righteouſneſs of that Law, which is made the Souls in and by the Faith. And this is Chriſts Righteouſneſs, the Righteouſneſs of his Life, the Righteouſneſs of his Nature, the Righteouſneſs of his Spirit, which is revealed in the ſoul, and which in the Union with Chriſt becomes the ſouls, and Chriſt theredy is made of God unto us Righteouſneſs. And the works which are wrought in man by this Righteous ous Spirit and Holy Power, are of far more value in themſelves and of more acceptation with God, than man's Obedience to the Law could be, could he obey never ſo exactly; for theſe are from an higher principle, and of a far more excellent Nature, Spirit and Kind, than man's Nature and Spirit is: and yet the acceptance is not for the works ſake, but for the ſake of the worker of theſe works.

Concerning God's Love to Mankind.

GReat is the Love of God to Mankind, who deſireth not their Deſtruction, but their Redemption and Salvation from that which deſtroyeth. Now, from and according to this Love, he ſent Chriſt as a Ranſom, a Propitiation for the Sins of the whole World: and not only ſo, but he hath given him as a Light to Enlighten all the dark parts of the Earth, that every Soul might believe in his Light, and by its Guidance and Power come out of the Darkneſs: and the free gift is as large and as powerful to ſave, as the offence or offences are to deſtroy. So that God hath not only ſaid it, but he hath manifeſted that he deſireth not the death of a Sinner, but would have all men to be ſaved, and come to the Knowledge of his Truth and Gift of his Grace, that they might be ſaved thereby. And this is the Goſpel, even the Grace which bringeth Salvation, and the Power of Eternal Life to all men's Doores, by and in which the Spirit of the Lord God (who is able to ſave) ſtrives with them and in them (according to his pleaſure) againſt the Enemy.

Now for men to interpret a Scripture, ſo as to overturn this, contrary to the very driſt of the Goſpel, and contrary to the very Nature and Heart of God, they do not well, nor by the guidance of his Spirit in ſo doing. And now in love to thee, though I have not much freedom to open theſe things, knowing that they are above the ſtate of moſt People to underſtand, and that it is rather proper for them to wait in what is clear and manifeſt, than to meddle with things hard to be underſtood and deeply myſterious, before the ſpirit of the Lord opens them to them: Yet I ſay, in Love I find freedom in the Lord to ſay a little to thee. Mind the words of the Apoſtle, in fear and reverence towards the Lord What if God, willing to ſhew his Wrath and to make his Power known, endured with much Long-Suffering the Veſſels of Wrath, fitted to deſtruction.

Now conſider, how is God willing to ſhew his Wrath, and to make the Power of his deſtroying a Veſſel known? is it a thing natural to him? is it not contrary to his Nature to deſtroy? Any who can teſtify any thing of the Life of God in their hearts, do they find any thing of a deſtroying Nature in it? Chriſt, who was the expreſs Image of God, did not he come to ſave? did he come to deſtroy any? And when any reſiſted the Counſel of God againſt themſelves, was it not grievous to him? O Jeruſalem, Jeruſalem, how often would I have gathered thee! Here the heart of God towards the Sons of Men may be read, as in a true Glaſs. And before the Lord gives them up to deſtruction, doth he not endure them with much Long-Suffering? and is it not the proper intent of the Goodneſs, Forbearance and Long-Suffering of God to lead men to repentance? Rom. 2. 4. And they that are led by the Long-Suffering to repent, do they not witneſs it Salvation? 2 Pet. 3. 15. Ah, wait on God that thou maiſt underſtand theſe things from him, as they are, and not according to the Imaginations and Reaſonings of thine own Wiſdom and Underſtanding: It hath been a long Night of Darkneſs, wherein many Miſapprehenſions and Falſe Conceivings upon Scriptures have been ſwallowed down, which the Lord pitied us under, and bare with us in them: but now it is high time to bow down to, and receive, that Light which purgeth the Veſſel from all ſuch Miſapprehenſions and Miſconceivings, which are as really hay and ſtubble in the ſight of God, as the Groſſeſt Darkneſs of Popery is.

Concerning Baptiſm.

WE own the one Baptiſm, and (bleſſed be the Lord) are baptiſed therewith into one body. That of water was but the forerunner's, but the ſhadow of Chriſt's Baptiſm, which is with the Holy Spirit and Fire. Now when Chriſt ſent his Apoſtles to Preach and Baptize, did he ſend them to Baptize with the Forerunner's Baptiſm, or with his own Baptiſm, when he ſaid, Go teach all Nations Baptizing them into the Name, &c. Paul profeſſeth openly, he was not ſent to Baptize, but to Preach the Goſpel. Was he not an Apoſtle? had he not ſeen the Lord? had he not his Commiſſion from him? did not the Apoſtolick Commiſſion contain Baptiſm, as fully as Preaching? Is it not ſaid, He that believeth and is Baptized ſhall be ſaved? Yes without doubt it did contain Chriſt's Bapiſm (without which there is no Salvation) as well as preaching: but the Baptiſm of Water, which was a figure of the thing (which Paul did find freedom to do to ſome) Paul ſaid he was not ſent to do. He did it not by Commandment, but he might do it by Permiſſion, as well as Circumciſe, which was another figure of the ſame thing.

Concerning Perfection.

CHriſt is a perfect Phyſician, and is able to work a perfect cure, on the heart that believeth in him and waiteth upon him: Yea he came to deſtroy the Works of the Devil, to cleanſe man's mind of the Darkneſs and Power of Satan, and to fill it with the Life and Power of Truth: and he ſent forth a Miniſtry, not only for the begining, but for the perfecting of the work: Yea his word in the mouth and heart is powerful, ſharper than a two edged ſword, and he can caſt out the ſtrong man, and cut down all that is corrupt and contrary to himſelf, and break down every ſtrong Hold in the mind, and ſpoil all the goods of the Enemy. Chriſt likewiſe bids his Diſciples, Be Perfect as their Heavenly Father is Perfect; and the Apoſtle bids men Perfect holineſs in the fear of God, that they might be fully ſeparated from, and not ſo much as touch, the unclean thing; but enjoy the promiſes of God's dwelling in them and walking in them, whoſe Temple under the Goſpel is to be pure. And if a man wait upon God in the Work of puriſying, and witneſs the Power and Vertue of the New Covenant, even the Fear put into the Heart, which keepeth the heart clean, and will not ſuffer it to depart from the Lord, and witneſs the Powerful Law of the endleſs Life, giving him dominion over the Law of Sin and Death in the Members, and the Spirit of the Lord put within him, cauſing him to walk in his wayes, and to keep his ſtatutes and do them: ſure this man cometh near to Perfection. Did Chriſt cure perfectly outwardly in the dayes of his Fleſh, and ſhall he not cure perfectly inwardly in the day of his Spirit? Yes certainly, the Lame, the Deaf, the Blind, the Dumb, the Lepers, waiting upon him in the way of his Covenant, ſhall be cured by him as perfectly inwardly, as ever the others were outwardly. And then is the day of Joy, and of reaping the good things which the promiſes contain, feeding on the feaſt of fat things on God's Holy Mountain in peace of Spirit, in ſecurity from the ſouls Enemies, none of them being able to come to hurt or deſtroy; nay not ſo much as to make afraid on the Mountain of Gods holineſs; and then the ſong of Moſes and the Song of the Lamb is ſung, and walking in the way of Holineſs witneſſed, which no unclean thing can paſs over to, but only the ranſomed and redeemed of the Lord.

Now

Now if any man come in truth to witneſs this from the Lord, and hath found by his conſuming Fire the droſs burnt up in him, and his Soul cleanſed from what is corrupt and unrighteous; doth he deceive himſelf or is he a Liar, if he ſay the Lord hath cleanſed me from all my unrighteouſneſs? And did John ſpeak there of his own ſtate, or of the ſtate of the other Apoſtles and Believers who were grown up in the Life and Power of truth, and had overcome the wicked one by the Strength of Chriſt in them? or did he ſpeak condeſcendingly (as the Apoſtles often did, with the Weak, becoming as Weak, when they were exalted by God to an higher State than that Condition ſignified?) Had he not fellowſhip with the Father and the Son, and was not his Joy full, and is the Joy of any full, while Sin, while Corruption is near and hath Power; while Satan, while the powers of Darkneſs, are not trodden under foot? There is a State of Righteouſneſs without Chriſt, wherein if a man ſay he hath no Sin (and ſo thinks he hath no need of Chriſt) he deceives himſelf. But there is a Power in Chriſt to perfect the Work of Redemption in the Heart, to Sanctify the Creature wholly, in Body, Soul and Spirit; yea his Leaven received will work and works daily, till it hath wrought all out, and the whole be Leavened: and he that truly feeleth it ſo, and can ſay in Gods preſence and in the true fear and humility of Heart the Old Leaven is wholly wrought out, and the new hath wholly Leavened me, this is not the Voice of Deceit but of Truth in him

As for that Queſtion, Whether Chriſt hath not Reigned in his Spirit all along in the Souls of his true people?

Anſw. There hath been little of Chriſt's Reign in Spirit witneſſed all along the Apoſtacy. It is a great matter to come to witneſs Chriſt Reign in the Heart: Yea there are many who never yet came through the ſuffering which goes before the Reign: but the Croſs, the Power of the Croſs and the thorow-death thereby of all that ſtands in the way of Chriſt's Spirit Reigning, is yet to be taken up, and many Journeyes to be gone, before men come to witneſs Chriſt's Kingdom and the Reign of his Spirit therein?

There are ſome other paſſages which I find in my Heart to ſay ſomwhat to. One is this, That ye know through Mercy when ye are well, that ye are ſatiſfied, &c.

There hath been a Cloudy and a Dark day, which for its thickneſs may well be called Night, wherein the People of the Lord have been ſcattered from Mountain to Hill, ſeeking their reſting place.

Now it hath pleaſed the Lord, after this thick Night of Darkneſs, to gather the ſcattered Sheep, and to become the Phyſician (in the Miniſtration of his Spirit, Life and Power) to heal them and bind them up

And thoſe that have been ſick and diſtreſſed and brought into the true ſenſe, they feel the need of the Phyſician, and Bleſs his Name for the healing which he bringeth with him under his wings.

But there are ſome that are fat and ſtrong and whole and compleat by an Imputed Righteouſneſs according to their own apprehending, and theſe are well theſe are ſatisfied, they have no need of this Viſitation of God, nor of this Diſpenſation of Life and Power from on High.

There was a Church once, before the Apoſtacy took place, that knew the Truth better than ye do, that ſaid ſhe was Rich, encreaſed with goods, and had need of nothing, and yet wanted the tryed Gold, the white Raiment and the Eye Salve: and if ye knew how aright to wait on the Lord, and receive Councel and Light from him, perhaps ye might therein ſee alſo, that ye are deſtitute of, and want, the ſame things.

Now in that we teſtifie to you, that we have been in your State, and fully experienced it, and ſeen in the Light of the Lord the truth thereof and the defects thereof, and in Love and in the Leadings of God's Spirit are drawn to teſtify thereof to you, and have from him received the knowledg of the Living way which was made manifeſt before the Apoſtacy, and is now again; and are taught, and enabled by the Lord to walk with him therein, the Lord having led us into that, and brought us forth in that, from which all the Apoſtates have erred, and out of which they all are, this ſhould not be a thing ſlighted by you; but being a weighty teſtimony, and of great concernment to you ſhould be weightily conſidered of, and determined in you by that which alone is able to decide it. Now if ye weigh this Teſtimony by Scriptures, and have not a true underſtanding of thoſe Scriptures from God, ye will but thereby err the more, and be the more confident and hardened in your Errors, and ſo go on in a kind of Satisfaction and Peace in kicking againſt the pricks.

And as for our Confidence, we can truly ſay in the Spirit of truth, we know that we are of God, gathered unto him by the Life and Spirit of his Son revealed in us; and we could eat our Bread in ſecret, and drink the water of Life out of our own Ciſterns ſilently, but that the Lord required us, and his love conſtraineth us, and it is due to the Glorious Work of his Mercy and Power towards us, to declare in the ſeaſons of his chuſing, what the Lord hath done for our poor, diſtreſſed, mourning, wandering, undone Souls. Now if others are confident without a cauſe, that doth not make void our confidence, which is grounded upon the truth, nor the Teſtimony thereof; iſſuing forth from and in the truth: but that which is of God heareth and owneth it, and feeleth the work of his Love and great Power, and bleſſeth his Name therefore.

As for thoſe expreſſions, It is enough for thee that Jeſus Chriſt is thine, &c. So far as thou feeleſt Union with him, in the Principle of Life which is of him, thou mayeſt ſay ſo truly. But is it not ſtrange, that thou ſhouldeſt be of it, and not be able to know and own it, in this day of its manifeſtation; but call the Light which is Spiritual and Eternal (and gives the true and certain Knowledge of Chriſt) Natural? What, of God, of Chriſt, having received the Spirit, the Living Well, and yet not know the Myſtery of Life within, nor its pure voice in this preſent day, but limit the unlimitted one to a form of words formerly ſpoken by him, how do theſe things agree with what thou profeſſeſt? ſurely they are deeply in the miſt, who know not Chriſt from Antichriſt, but fight againſt Chriſt and his Light, as if it were of Antichriſt or Nature. Now we are one with any of you (though ye know it not) ſo far as ye know and are of the Truth, and feel true Union with whatever is of God in you.

Thus in Faithfulneſs to God, and in Truth of love and tenderneſs to thee, I have given forth that which ſprang in me towards thee: and Indeed I ſingly breath to the Lord in my Spirit, that it may be ſerviceable in the hands of the Lord for thy good, even to ſhake that Knowledge and ſenſe which is not of him in thee (though thou ſtrongly believeſt it to be of him) and ſo to bring thee to the Infallible ſenſe and experience of the true foundation, and to a fixed building and eſtabliſhment in Spirit thereupon, in that Light which is of the Father, that therein thou mayeſt own and partake of the Miniſtration of the everlaſting and pure Power in thy preſent day and Generation; which is now ſo diſpenſed, as it hath not been ſince the Night of Apoſtacy. Bleſſed be his Name whoſe Light ſhines, whoſe Life is made Manifeſt, whoſe Power is riſen out of and Reigns over the Darkneſs, whoſe Love and Mercy abounds in the Hearts of his Redeemed ones, who abundantly partake of the Covenant of Life, and of the precious promiſes of the Goſpel, to the praiſe of the Riches of the Grace and Mercy; which was to be revealed in the Ages to come after the Apoſtacy, and are ſo revealed, and are yet more to be revealed, to the encreaſe of the Glory of his Name, and of the Joy and Conſolation of his Redeemed ones, who find that to be God's Power and Wiſdom and mighty redemption to them, who to others is a ſtumbling Block, weakneſs and fooliſhneſs: and he who ever was and ſtill is the Life, is once again become a ſtumbling ſtone, and rock of offence to both the Houſes of Iſrael, who though they have longed after him and breathed for him, and Prayed that his Kingdom might come; yet now when he is come, they know him not, but are Wiſe and Strong in reſiſting and oppoſing him, which is much to their hurt and great danger, as the Lord God ſeeth in the Light wherein he dwells, and as he hath given his Children, who dwells with him in the ſame light, to ſee with his eye. And friend, take heed that thou turn not the edge of thy weapon, even of thy Scripture-Knowledg againſt Chriſt, (there were thoſe that once did ſo)

ſo) nor that thy Table become thy Snare: for that was the Curſe, which lighted on thoſe which oppoſed Chriſt's appearnce in Fleſh, and it may alſo (in the juſt and moſt righteous Judgment of God) befall thoſe, who oppoſe his appearance in Spirit in this his day.

And as for what I have writ unto thee, thou ſhalt one day witneſs, that I have writ to thee in true Love, and in the true Light and Senſe of truth: and if thou canſt retire into that which is of God in thee, and receive the true ſenſe and underſtanding there, thou wilt there feel it ſo now. And O that thou couldeſt diſtinguiſh between God's witneſs in thy Heart, and the voice of thy underſtanding and gathered Knowledg, that thou mighteſt receive a Being, Life, pure ſenſe and underſtanding in that which is pure of God, that the Gold might be ſeparated from the Droſs, and there might come forth a veſſel for the refiner?

I am a lover of Souls, an earneſt deſirer after their welfare, but eſpecially of ſuch as breath after and long for Communion with the Lord in that which is Living and Pure.

A Reply to thy Animadverſions.

To the Firſt.

A Man is juſtified upon account of Chriſt, of being in him, believing in him, obeying his Goſpel. All theſe have reference to Juſtification, according to the ſouls experience and according to the Scriptures, and none of them are to be excluded. God hath appointed Chriſt to be a Prince and a Saviour, to give Repentance, Faith and Remiſſion of Sins; and in the exerciſe of that Repentance and Faith, the Righteouſneſs and Juſtification is received. And the Lord condemns the unbeliever, becauſe he believes not; and the diſobedient, becauſe he obeyes not the Goſpel: and he alſo juſtifies the Believer and the Obedient, becauſe of the Faith and Obedience of his Son which he finds in them. And in this Faith the Righteouſneſs, the pure Righteouſneſs flows; the Spirit of the Lord covers, and that it is not only the principle, but alſo the garment of Righteouſneſs and Salvation; yea all that Chriſt did in the fleſh comes in here, and the ſoul feels and partakes of the Vertue and Value of it all, being found here. But out of this are the Notions and Imaginations of mens minds upon, and about Scriptures concerning the thing, who indeed and in Truth (as it really is) know it not.

To the Second, There are Two Covenants, and there are Works of each, Works required by each. In the Old-Covenant, Obedience to the Law of Moſes is required. In the New-Covenant, Believing in Chriſt, (this is the Work of God, that ye Believe in him whom he hath ſent) and Obedience to his Goſpel and holy Spirit. Now theſe, and the Works of the Old, are not one and the ſame, nor have the ſame Acceptance, and Juſtification with the Lord. Nay, though a Man could perform all the Law of Moſes exactly, yet would he not be therein ſo juſtified in the Sight of God, as the Believer is; his Faith and Obedience, which he Receiveth from Chriſt, and performeth in the Strength of his Grace and New Life, being of an higher kind, and more excellent nature, than Man's fulfilling the Law in his own natural Capacity, and Principle can be. I am ſorry thou haſt no better a knowledge, and ſavour of the things of the Kingdom, than to Teſtify a diſlike of this Diſtinction. And as for the Papiſts, we meddle not with them, farther farther than we are led by the Lord: for my part I know not what they hold as to this thing.

To the Third; God did threaten the Gentiles (wishing them to take heed of boasting against the Jews) that if they did not continue in the faith, and in the fear, they should be cut off, as the Jews were. Now there was a great and general departing from the Faith, and answerably, a General cutting off. And though Life was reserved in a select member in the wilderness, yet the true way of gathering into Churches and the Church-State fell. And Now being fallen, the Lord alone is able to rebuild, as he built at first. Now men reading the Scriptures of the Glory of the former Church-State, have been longing after it (which was Good) but withal too forward to thrust themselves into it, and build by imitation without the clear Light, leadings and guidance of the Spirit, and so have not built up in the same Life and Power, by which the Building was at first, and can alone be truly raised again. Now the Lord being come forth in his Power, and raising up his own Building; the same Spirit which raiseth up that, Testifieth against all the other, which are raised up without it. And indeed, the Testimony against the present Churches, and Congregations gathered out of the Power, is Gods, not ours. But consider seriously, John had a Reed given him to measure the Temple, &c. which, when part was to be reserved for God, and part to be given to the Gentiles; but who gave you power to gather Churches, or practise those which we call Church-Ordinances? Who hath required these things at your hands? And where dost thou Read, that the Gentiles did tread down the outward Court, after it was given them? They trod down the holy City indeed Forty Two Months.

To the Fourth; So far as you see, hear, tast, feel, any thing in the pure light of the Truth, as it is in Jesus, we rejoyce therein; and heartily desire the increase thereof in you: but we would not have you mistaken about these things.

To the Fifth; Concerning the word or commandement which Moses speaks of, and which Paul said was the word of Faith which they preached.

If the first Covenant had been faultless, there had not been place left for a second. For if there had been a Law given, which could have given Life, Righteousness should have been by that Law. But notwithstanding the Wonders which God did in Egypt and the Wilderness, and the giving the Law and Ordinances, &c. yet the Vail was upon them, And the Lord had not given them an heart to perceive, nor eyes to see, nor ears to hear to that very day, Deut. 29. 4. Well then, there was a necessity of another Covenant, and these words which Moses now speaks to them from God, were words concerning another Covenant, besides that made in Horeb.

But where is the Commandment of this Covenant? where is the Law of this Covenant? where is the word of this Covenant? It is not hidden from thee, neither is it far off. It is not in Heaven, that thou shou'dst say, who shall go up for us to Heaven and bring it unto us, that we may hear it and do it. Neither is it beyond the Sea; But the Word is very nigh unto thee, in thy Mouth, and in thy Heart, that thou mayest do it. And this nigh word, this word of the other Covenant, whereby God circumciseth the heart, to love the Lord God with all the heart, is the word eternal, and no other, who hath received this Power of the Father, and none else hath received it: and in the Obedience to him, his Righteousness is revealed and received, and made the Souls from Faith to Faith. And it is in vain for you to think to blind our eyes either concerning this Scripture, or concerning the thing it self which this Scripture testifies of; God having opened the eye and heart which sees and knows, and which in the true Light, which is from and of the word, sees him who is invisible and eternal, even the Life, Holy Power, Wisdom and Righteousness, which was in and with the Father before the World was. And this was the word, before it took up the body of flesh, and is still the word, and no other: and its Commandment is Life Eternal, in the pure Faith whereof and in the pure Obedience whereto, he giveth life abundantly; but out of the Faith and Obedience thereto, he doth neither give Life, nor the Justification of Life, but the deceits of the Enemy there prevail in mens minds concerning these things.

Now

Now had the Jews under the Law come to this Word, they had by the Light thereof underſtood the Law, and by the Power thereof fulfilled it. And when Chriſt and the Apoſtles preached, had they, that heard, felt this word, they could not but in their hearts have believed him to be the Lord, and alſo have confeſſed his Reſurrection from the Dead, which in that day it was a great thing to confeſs, being not revealed by Fleſh and Blood, nor the Teſtimony then eaſily ſwallowed by the Fleſhly and Earthly part, but Generally oppoſed by it. But now theſe things are received and acknowledged by multitudes without the Power, and as ſo received are of no value, nor can ſave: but the owning and receiving and being born of the Spirit, Life and Power (which was in him) Saves, and gives ſuch an acknowledgment of theſe things, as is of the Life and Power, and accepted with the Father.

But alas! Friend, how haſt thou wreſted and perverted this Scripture, turning aſide the intent of Gods Spirit, and putting thine own meaning upon his Words, ſtriving to make them ſpeak what thou would'ſt have them; Is this Reading of the Scriptures in Reverence, Humility and Godly Fear? O that God would give thee a ſenſe of what thou haſt done herein! For neither Moſes, nor Paul doth thus reſtrain them, or mention any ſuch ſort of People, as thou ſpeakeſt of; but thou by thy expoſition makeſt void the mind of God, and the drift of his Spirit in the Scriptures. If thou haſt in this Wiſdom and Latitude of thy own Spirit read the Scriptures, not knowing Gods Spirit to gird and limit thee from thine own apprehendings and conceivings, what kind of Rule haſt thou made to thy ſelf out of them? Ah friend, if thou knoweſt Gods Spirit, keep to it: if thou knoweſt it not, wait for it to become thy guide and leader, and the opener of Scriptures and the Myſteries of the Kingdom to thee.

The Light which enlightneth every Man that cometh into the World, and the Eternal Word or Son of God is the ſame. And this Light Shining in the Darkneſs, ſhineth, and enlighteneth with the True Light: and the end of its enlightning is, that therein Men might feel the Drawings of the Father, the Strivings of his Spirit, and in the Faith thereof, and Subjection thereto, come out of the Darkneſs.

Now, the Condemnation is not becauſe Chriſt hath not ſufficiently enlightened them, or that there goeth not ſufficient Power, with his Light to Redeem from the Darkneſs; but becauſe Men turn the Deaf Ear to him, will not hear him, but in love to the Darkneſs, hear the Voice of him who dwells in the Darkneſs. But the Spirit of Chriſt, who is in the Light, and dwells in the Light, who ſtrives with the dark World by his Light, is able to conquer, and overcome the Darkneſs. Yea, the Word of Life nigh in the Mouth and Heart, is able to overcome the power of Death there, to quicken, to gather to God, to ſet the captive free, &c. And the Reaſon why Men Periſh, is not through God's inſufficient viſiting of them, but becauſe of their turning from the Meaſure of the Manifeſtation of his Spirit. They deſpiſe the Day of ſmall things, they will not come to that, wherein the Life and Vertue was hid, and ſo loſe the Day of their Viſitation, and miſs of the Good, which God intended to them thereby.

And whereas thou ſayeſt, The Light doth not, nor cannot diſcover Chriſt, and his being Raiſed from the Dead, &c. I cannot but ſay on the other hand, What doth diſcover them, but the Light? How came the Scriptures to declare of Chriſt? was it not from the Spirit? And is not that ſame Light ſtill with the Spirit, by which the Scriptures were given forth? and can he not give it forth without the Letter, where he ſeeth need of it, and vouchſafeth ſo to do? But how can the vaſt unbelieving multitudes of the world experience what the Light and Spirit of the Lord can do, being not ſubject to it, but rebelling againſt him, Job 24. 13. And why may not men now by the Light of the Spirit come to know that Chriſt is come, dead and riſen, as well as theſe things were known and believed before the Scriptures were written? Yet, if a man ſhould not know the outward death of Chriſt, and his raiſing from the outward Grace; yet being in the Faith of the Power (which whom ever it toucheth and draweth to it, it redeems) that gives him a Right to all that was done by Chriſt: for then he hath Union with the thing which ſaves, and Strengh from it againſt that which Deſtroys. Yea, there was a time, when the Diſciples of Chriſt were in the Faith, and yet neither knew, nor believed his Death and Reſurrection: yea, Peter with no ſmall Confidence, ſaid, Lord, this ſhall not be unto Thee, Mat. 16. 22.

As touching that paſſage of Renouncing the Works, not only of the Old-Covenant, but even thoſe of the New alſo, as filthy Rags; that is Manifeſtly unſcriptural and unſavoury; the Works of the New-Covenant, being Fruits of God's holy Spirit, which he works in us, and for us. If any Man be in Chriſt, there is a New Creation (where the old things are paſſed away) and he that walks after this Rule, walks in the newneſs of the Spirit, and the ſpirit moves, and lives, and works in him. Not I, but Chriſt in me. And as the Root is holy, ſo is alſo the fruit. The fear which God puts into the heart is clean, and keeps the heart clean, and out of the good and honeſt and clean heart comes good, honeſt and clean fruit, which is not unclean like filthy Rags, read Iſa. 64. 5. and conſider it, waiting on the Lord to open thine underſtanding; Were the works which the Apoſtle ſpeaks of Hebr. 11. and Jam. 2. 24. to be reckoned as filthy Rags?

Abraham was acquainted with the inviſible, eternal Word, and was turned from Darkneſs to Light, and from the Power of Satan unto God, and in his converted eſtate had the Promiſe of the ſeed, and ſaw with the reſt of the Prophets through the day of his Fleſh to the Day of his Spirit, 1 Pet. 1. 10, 11, 12.

David was a ſpiritual man and knew the word of the New-Covenant, which is a Lantern to the feet, and a Light to the Paths of the Children of the New-Covenant, who witneſs and experience their way cleanſed by taking heed thereto according to this word. And the Precepts, Statutes, Laws, Commandments, Ordinances, Judgments, &c. of this word are a Myſtery to all that are not acquainted with it. But they that are acquainted with it, and in the pure fear and humility wait upon it, they learn of it the way of its precepts, and are guided by the Spirit of the Lord in the way everlaſting.

The Wiſdom which Solomon ſpeaks of, is undoubtedly Chriſt, the Word eternal. It is much thou ſhouldſt boggle at this. He is the Sun of the inward World, which enlightens the Dark inward World; not that they ſhould abide in the Darkneſs, but by the Vertue and Power of his Light come out of it. And friend, mark theſe following words, and wait upon the Lord for the true underſtanding of them. Till thou witneſs the inward Word, with the inward Law and Teſtimony thereof, and know its Commandment to be a Lamp, and its Law Light, &c. thou canſt never witneſs the perfect keeping and preſervation from the evil Woman, from the flattery of the tongue of the ſtrange Woman, but wilt be apt to luſt after her Beauty in thy heart, and to be taken with her eye-lids. But if thou know and keep Wiſdom's Commandments, thou wilt thereby witneſs Life indeed, according to that ſaying of Chriſt, If a man keep my ſayings, he ſhall never ſee Death. And Chriſt directed his Apoſtles to wait for his Spirit to receive his ſayings from, who teacheth not only the greateſt, but the leaſt in the New-Covenant, writing his Law in their hearts, which Law is Light. And if any man hear the inward voice of wiſdom, and turn at her reproofs, ſhe will power out her Spirit unto him; ſhe will make known her words unto him.

The ſame thing that teaches to do juſtly and love Mercy, teacheth alſo to walk Humbly with the Lord. It is the ſame Grace (which brings Salvation) which teacheth to live Godlily, that teacheth alſo to live Soberly and Righteouſly. What I had in my former Profeſſion and Congregational-way, the Lord brake by a mighty hand: but yet in tender Mercy he was with me, preſerving me in the midſt of the Storms, and Flouds, and Roarings of the Enemy upon me, till his freſh viſiting of me. And he viſited me with his own Spirit, with the Eternal Light Life and Power thereof, and I know it to be the ſame thing, which had been with me from the beginning: yea the Child, being quickned and raiſed out of the Grave, preſently knew its Father, and cannot but honour and bear Teſtimony to that appearance of Truth, wherewith his Father viſited him, and wherein he hath felt the renewing, and reſtoring of his former Work. And they that knew me formerly, before the Lord daſhed me to pieces, could and did witneſs, that the

the Lord had given me true Humility, and my Soul did witneſs a walking with him in the humility which he gave me. And now I witneſs from him, in this pretious diſpenſation of his Life and Power, the very ſame Humility (and bleſſed be his name, with great increaſe) and a freſh walking with him therein, in a freſh ſenſe and meltings and bowings of Spirit before him Night and Day. I do confeſs I took it to be a Natural thing, and overlooked and deſpiſed it, till the Lord opened my underſtanding and ſhewed me what it was, and how he wrought by it, and that it was a myſtery hid from all, but thoſe to whom he revealed it. And indeed I do hang daily upon the Lord in this for Life and Power, and am very weak without, but ſtrong as it pleaſeth the Father to manifeſt himſelf in me, and to breath upon me through it: Yea indeed my Life, Peace, Reſt, Hope, Joy, Delight, &c. is a Continual Gift from the Father of Spirits, who hath manifeſted himſelf near unto me, and ſhewn me his dwelling Place. And I am ſatisfied that the Spirit of the Lord, by his Immediate Light, is able to reach the darkeſt Heart in the darkeſt part of the World, and to turn his mind to, and give him belief in, that which Saves, and to ſave him thereby.

The Word of Faith which the Apoſtles preached, and the Word or Life Eternal and the Light which enlighteneth every man that cometh into the World differ not, but are the ſame: and the Light wherewith he enlightens them, that they might believe in him who enlighteneth, is of the ſame Nature with the enlightner, and ſufficient to guide them to the Faith of him. But, Friend, take heed of reproaching the Truth. Though thou mayeſt do it Ignorantly, yet it is not wholly excuſable. Haſt thou heard Preaching which thou ſpeakeſt thus ſlightly of, and if thou haſt not, ſurely thou ſhouldeſt have heard and conſidered, before thou hadſt judged. Thou ſetteſt up thine own underſtanding, and a judgment according to the appearance of things to thee, inſtead of the true and Righteous judgment, therein expoſing thy ſelf to the Righteous judgment of the Lord, who judgeth in Truth & Righteouſneſs, and Fear, otherwiſe in this matter, than thou doſt.

Chriſt is the Pearl of Price, or treaſure hid in a field. The field is the World. The World is in man's Heart. And yet this Myſtery was hid from Ages and Generations; (and the Kingdom which the Phariſees ſought) was within them, who were as far from any ſenſe and underſtanding of it, as the Gentiles; and ſo though it was within them, yet they were without it, they had no Knowledg, no underſtanding, no ſenſe of it, had reaped no benefit by it, but were Enemies and Alienated in their minds from it. Ah what pallate and underſtanding is that, to which this is unſpiritual and unſavory! but how bold and Preſumptuous, do mens apprehenſions (which they take up from the Letter of the Scriptures, without the Lights and leadings of Gods Spirit) make them, even to fly in the face of that which is certainly known, witneſſed and experienced to be of God, as well as held forth in the Scriptures, as Col. 1. 27, ſee the Greek.

As to thoſe harſh expreſſions, vilifiing the truth of our God, and the Converſion to him thereby; I ſhall only ſay this, well Friend, go on, reproach us and our Teſtimony and the truth of our God, as being able to lead us no further than morality, &c. We aſſuredly know and experience, and faithfully teſtify as in God's Sight, that it hath led us further into the Myſtery and power of Life, and into Union and fellowſhip with the father and the Son, than your Doctrines ever have done or can do. For, the apprehenſions of man upon Scriptures are paſſing away, and the pure truth it ſelf, which the Scriptures teſtify of, is already revealed, and further to be revealed, and to have the Glory.

Ye think we ſet up a Natural Light, and eſteem it Spiritual; but we are taught of God to diſtinguiſh, underſtandingly, and experimentally between Nature, and him from whom Nature came, who is the Word of Life, the Lord God of Life, beſides whom there is no Saviour, who is near to every man to warn him of, turn him and deliver him from, the devourer and oppreſſor of the Soul. Now though the veſſels in which the Light ſhines be Natural and filled with Darkneſs, and become Darkneſs in the Darkneſs: yet the diſcoverer, reprover, checker thereof, which giveth the living ſound in the Veſſel, is ſpiritual, even the Spirit of the Lord God, which ſtriveth with fallen man in the midſt of his darkneſs and Captivity at ſeaſons, according to his good pleaſure. This the ſhepherd of our Souls hath taught us, opening our ears, and cauſing us to hear and know his Voice, and to learn of him, who is Truth and ſpeaketh Truth, who is Life and Spirit, and giveth of his own eternal Life and Spirit to his Children.

To the Sixth: What others have been I know not, but this I know concerning my ſelf, that I was ſetled firmly in the Doctrines which ye now own, and in the Congregational way of worſhip, till the Lord ſmote me and brake me to pieces, with ſuch as I did converſe with (to wit, teachers and others of eſteem in that way) profeſſed they could not conceive the ground of; but ſaid it was a prerogative caſe, and did not doubt but the iſſue thereof would be good unto me. But what if the Sheep were ſcattered, before the Shepherd came to gather them; what if they were wandering from Mountain to Hill, ſeeking their reſting Place? What if they went mourning up and down from one Watchman to another, from one ſort of people to another, inquiring after their Beloved? Did this make them unfit to be pitied and viſited by the Shepherd? What ſort did Chriſt gather in the dayes of his fleſh? were they not deſpiſed of the wiſe, learned, ſetled ones? (in their knowledge of the Law and Prophets) But bleſſed be the Lord who hath now manifeſtly revealed the Foundation, and the Kingdom that can never be ſhaken, and in his mercy and tender love, and by his power fixed them thereon; that they know in whom they have believed, and how they came to believe; and have taken up the Croſs of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, wherein the Power is manifeſted to Crucify that, which cannot otherwiſe be Crucified. The ſeventh hath been largely ſpoken to already.

To the Eighth, The Lord God knoweth that it is not in my heart to Judge, or ſet at nought any man, but in faithfulneſs to God and in tender love to ſouls to teſtify to others, what I have ſeen in his Light, as he requireth of me: and is this ſetting them at nought? It is true, they cannot believe nor receive the Teſtimony in the State wherein they ſtand, but that doth not diſanul or weaken it; but Truth and its Teſtimony ſtands, notwithſtanding their rejecting and riſing up againſt it.

To the Firſt particularly, To own and contend earneſtly for the Scriptures aright, is good, but it was not good formerly to ſet up the writings of Moſes, and the Prophets above and againſt Chriſt; nor is it good now to ſet up the Scriptures above the Spirit, or to make them the tryer inſtead of the anointing (John. 2, 27.) for the Scriptures came from the Spirit, and they teſtify of the *S*pirit, and the Spirit is to be received and to dwell in the Soul as in its Temple: and here the King and Law-giver of the Church (with the Ballance of the Sanctuary) is indeed known. And he that receives the *S*pirit is to Live in the Spirit, and walk in the Spirit, and in the Light of the New Jeruſalem; which Light is Eternal, diſcovering, diſpoſſeſſing and working out the Darkneſs, and ſo taking up its Place.

Now though ye may aim at having things concerning Churches and Church-Worſhip, regulated according to the *S*criptures; yet ye may eaſily err therein, and cannot but err therein, if your underſtandings be not opened and Kept open by the Spirit; yea ye may not wait for the Spirits gathering and building, but may gather of your ſelves and build of your ſelves; whereas the Apoſtles were to wait for the Power from on High to do their work with: and were your eyes truly opened, ye would quickly and eaſily ſee, that neither your Preaching nor praying is at all like theirs. They ſpake what they received from the Spirit, ye what ye apprehend and conceive concerning Words ſpoken of by the Spirit. This is very ſhort of ſpeaking as Gods Oracles. And one ſhort of you conceives thus, and another thus concerning the ſame *S*criptures, &c.

To the Second, Till ye know the Spirit, and come to the true waiting upon the Spirit, and Underſtand his Voice, ye can never recover the form of ſound Words by Reading the Scriptures, but will be liable to the ſetting up your own Conceivings and Apprehenſions, inſtead of the Truth it ſelf. And till ye have the true underſtanding of the Spirit, ye cannot but alſo err, concerning the power, and about your experiences of things, and ſo will be continually in great danger of being deceived, and of deceiving one anothers Souls.

To

To the Third, Ye have a Notion about Chriſt's active, and paſſive Obedience, being imputed to the Soul as its Righteouſneſs, which the Scriptures ſpeak not; and which manifeſts, that ye do not know how the Righteouſneſs is Revealed and how the Son is made of God unto them Righteouſneſs, who wait upon him in the Faith, and obey his Goſpel. For the Righteouſneſs is Revealed in the Faith, and is further and further made the Souls, in, and by the Faith.

To the Nineth, God is my Witneſs (whom I Worſhip in Spirit, and in whoſe Fear I write and ſpeak) that I dearly Love you, and in the Truth, and Dearneſs of Love, earneſtly deſire Concerning you, that ye may not miſtake about Chriſt, his Spirit, his Scriptures, about Faith, Love, Mortification, and about the Righteouſneſs, Peace, and Joy of the Kingdom, or any other Spiritual Thing, but may know, experience, and enjoy the truth and ſubſtance of things, as they are in Jeſus. Now, if ye know, and have received the true living Faith, and witneſs the powerful, purifying Vertue of it, which God hath given to overcome the World, and the Wicked one with; How comes it about, that there is ſuch a belief in you, that it can never do its Work perfectly in this World, but only in part? Surely this belief is not of, or from, the true Faith, nor to the Honour of him that hath given it. For the Spiritual Weapons are mighty through God, to the pulling down of the ſtrong holds, and bringing all (even every Thought) into Subjection to Chriſt.

To the Tenth, That God did as much for Judas, as for Peter, is not our Doctrine: For God giveth more or leſs out of his Rich Treaſury, according to his own good Pleaſure. But the unprofitable Servant had alſo a Talent given him, which he did not improve, but hid it in a Napkin; and his Lord Condemned him therefore. There were others had Talents likewiſe, which they did improve, and their Lord accepted and juſtified them therein, ſaying, Well done, Good and Faithful Servant, thou haſt been Faithful over a few Things, I will make thee Ruler over many Things, enter into the Joy of thy Lord.

Now is there juſt Ground for any of theſe Servants to boaſt and ſay, the other had a Talent as well as I; but I made my ſelf to differ, I improved my Talent, whereas he did not? The true Jew doth believe, doth obey the Goſpel, and hath praiſe of God (he that hateth the Light, doth not believe nor obey) and yet he ſeeth no ground of boaſting: for it was not he of himſelf, but the Grace and Power of the Lord wrought all in him. And what is done in, and by, and through the Power of the Lord, the Honour and Glory thereof, properly belongs to the Lord. Yea, he that is in the true Faith, feels that which excludes boaſting, and keeps in the ſenſe of the Love and Mercy. O! that thou kneweſt a limit, and check to this Wiſdom, and theſe Reaſonings in thee, which are not of, but againſt the Truth; as that Light which thou depiſeſt, would Manifeſt to thee, if thou kneweſt the Nature and Vertue of it, and didſt cleave unto it. In this Wiſdom and Underſtanding, thou mayeſt Read much, and Comprehend much, and be greatly taken with thine Apprehenſions upon Scriptures; but it is ſhut out of the true Knowledge of them, and out of the Spirit and Power of Life, which they that Wrote them were in, and Witneſſed of.

As for Free-will; we own no ſuch thing as Man's Free-will to Good in the fallen Eſtate. But the Spirit of the Lord changeth, and reneweth the Will in the day of his Power; and whoever he ſtriveth with, and draweth, may come in the Drawing, Vertue iſſuing out with the drawing from him that draweth: and this is not the Condemnation, that Men cannot come to the Son, that they might have Life, but that they do not come, that they do not turn at the reproof of his Wiſdom, from that which he ſtands ready to turn them from.

There may be high Admirations concerning God, and his Love in the natural part, which we have known, and are made able in the Lord to judge of, ſince he hath Taught us to diſtinguiſh of things: and this is chaffy in all ſorts of Men. But there is a feeling of the pure Nature of Heavenly Love, and a ſinking therein, into the deep Senſe thereof; and an acknowledging of it to God, in the Humility, in the Fear, in the Spirit, and in the Power. Now this is indeed from the Beloved, and Accepted with God in the Beloved. And this is his Children, who are ſtripped of their own ability of admiring and loving, are taught of him to love, and admire him, being gathered out of that which is natural of Man, into that which is ſpiritual, and of God.

As for the Four Queries at the cloſe, which I propounded in Love, and for Advantage to thee, it ſeemeth to me ſtrange thou ſhouldſt ſay, thou wouldſt ſpeak to the ſenſe of them, and yet ſo wave the main driſt and plain ſenſe.

The Firſt was concerning Chriſt's being Spiritually Born of his Church, to which thou haſt ſaid nothing at all, but that the firſt Chriſtians and Churches were very Glorious, &c. which they alſo can own, who have denied the Faith, and are not in the Truth.

To the Second thou haſt Anſwered as little, nor rightly according to the Letter, putting in the Dragon inſtead of the Beaſt.

Thy Third and Fourth are alſo ſhort, and not directly to the thing: but I Wrote not to Contend. The Lord God ſhew thee Mercy, bring down the wrong Wiſdom in thee, bring thee into a capacity of knowing, and receiving his pure living Truth, that thou mayeſt not witneſs or fight againſt him, but in, and by his Spirit underſtand the Scriptures aright, and Witneſs for him.

A POSTSCRIPT.

THere is a Word of Advice in my Heart to thee, which it behoveth thee ſeriouſly, and uprightly to wait on the Lord, to be made able to weigh and conſider aright; it is this. Take heed of ſetting up the Letter above or againſt the Spirit (for that is not right in the Sight of God) and take heed alſo, of ſetting up thine own Wiſdom, Conceivings, and Apprehenſions above both: for that is a dangerous way of erring, and may prove a great ſnare to thy Soul; as it hath been formerly, and is at this Day to many. If ye had known what this meaneth (ſaid Chriſt) I will have Mercy, and not Sacrifice, ye would not have Condemned the Guiltleſs. We own the Scriptures truly and ſingly, being Taught of God ſo to do, and do not hold forth any thing contrary thereto, or deny any thing therein contained; but are Witneſſes (Living Witneſſes) of the Truths expreſſed, and related therein: but Mens meanings and conceivings thereupon (who though they will acknowledge, that a Man cannot underſtand the Scriptures without the Spirit; yet will not venture in their own Wiſdom, Spirit, and Underſtanding, to expound and give meanings) we cannot own, nor them, in ſuch their Apprehenſions and Practices.

That in thee, or any which breaths after the Lord, we have Unity with; but that Wiſdom and Comprehenſion which is above it, and a vail over it, and contrary to its Nature, and which is a limit, and bond to the Pious Seed, we cannot have Unity with, becauſe it is of the ſame nature with that which the Lor hath Condemned, and Deſtroyed in us, and he will not ſuffer it to live in others, where his Life and Power prevails.

A Few EXPERIENCES Concerning some of the Weighty things, relating to Gods Everlasting Kingdom.

Given forth, in true and tender Love, for the help of any such of the Race of the true Travellers as may stand in need thereof.

By Isaac Penington.

A PREFACE to the Experiences.

IT hath pleased the Lord to unseal and open the Fountain of Life in the midst of his heritage, so that in his Light do they see Light, and in his Life do they Reap and Enjoy Life. And the precious promises are fulfilled in the midst of them, of sending the Comforter and pouring out of the Holy Spirit, so that he that believeth, out of his Belly do flow Rivers of Living Water. *Yea the Lord hath a Vineyard of his own Planting, which he keepeth Night and Day, (least any hurt it,) and watereth every Moment. O the Streams of Life, the Streams of Love, the Streams of Grace, the Streams of Mercy, the Streams of Peace, the Streams of Joy and Consolation which flow from him into the bosoms of his Children! Indeed Grace and Mercy, and Peace is Multiplied from God our Father, in and through the Lord Jesus Christ daily, insomuch as that saying of Christ to his Desciples (Joh. 14. 26, 27.) is now fulfilled,* I say not that I will pray the Father for you: for the Father himself loveth you, &c. The Father in his love hath brought us to the Son, and the Son in the same love hath brought us back to the Father: and now the love flows from the Father in and through the Son most naturally and abundantly. And where the heart is circumcised and much forgiven; there love returns back most truly and abundantly, so that the Lord our God, in the Lord Jesus Christ, is loved with all the heart and with all the soul, and nothing is thought too good to sacrifice to him, nor nothing too much to suffer for him. O the pure Love that springs and flows between the heavenly Father and the spiritual Child! The best love that is to be found in this world (in the men of this world) is not worthy to be a shadow of it. God is Love, and his Children are of him, and partake of, and dwell in the same love; though the enmity and highest wisdom of this world know them not, nor can know them; as it never could know the Children of the true wisdom.

Now from this Fountain do not only issue springs and streams of Life to refresh our own hearts; but testimonies concerning the Life which we feel and partake of, and concerning our travels from the dark Lands through the vally of tears (where he that gave us Life, was our Well) towards our resting place.

These also spring up in us for the sakes of others. Of which nature are the things which follow, in this little Treatise. For not for my own sake only did they spring up in me, but to signifie to others of the Mercy the Lord hath shewn me, and the way wherein he hath led me, and what he hath given me to taste of and experience in the way; which will answer every true palate, every palate that is seasoned with life and with true experience. And having received them from the Lord for this very end, to hold them forth to others; in love and in tenderness of Spirit, my heart is freely given up to him therein, not aiming at any thing thereby, but his glory singly, and the good of such souls, to whom he ſhall pleaſe to extend Favour and ſhew Mercy, in opening the Heavenly Myſtery of Life and Salvation.

I have often ſaid in my heart, Who hath begotten me there? who would have ſaid, that Sarah ſhould have given Children ſuck, My wound was deep and ſeemed incurable. But Bleſſed be the Lord who hath made known to me the Phyſitian of value, for whom no diſeaſe is too hard, but he is able to cure every Sickneſs, and to relieve and reſcue all that are Captived and Oppreſſed by the Devil, that come unto him and wait upon him, in the way of his Righteous Judgments and moſt Tender Mercies. For after all My Relligon and deep Exerciſes, and inward Experiences and Knowledge, I came to ſuch a loſs of what I once had, that I ſenſibly felt I knew not the Lord, and lay continually groaning and mourning after him, and deeply afflicted for want of him. O the Pure Living and Pretious Life and ſweet Preſence of My God, that my ſoul wanted, inſomuch as my moyſture was turned into the drought of Summer, and my bones grown dry and withered. But at length the Lord in his goodneſs (O bleſſed for ever be his Name) breathed upon the dry Bones, and I felt life enter from him into me, and the dayes of deep ſorrow and diſtreſs were at length forgotten; becauſe a heavenly birth was at length conceived and brought forth. And now where's the Sackcloth? where's the Aſhes? O there's beauty in Life, inſtead of the Aſhes in the ſtate without Life, and the Garment of Praiſe inſtead of the Spirit of Heavineſs. O Glory, Glory, to the binder up of the bruiſed and broken ones, to the Redeemer of the Captives, to the repairer of the branches, to the builder up of the waſted and deſolate ones! Glory to his Tender Mercy, Glory to his Grace, Glory to his Love, Glory to his Wiſdom, Glory to his Power for ever and ever, Amen.

I.

A faithful Teſtimony concerning the True and Pure Way of Life, with Breathings for ſuch as have deſires after it, and yet are Strangers to it.

THis hath been the Cry of my Soul from my Childhood, even after Holineſs, after the Preſence of the Lord, after Union with him, after the Nature and Image of his Son, after a ſeparation from what was contrary to him, and a being brought forth in the Power of his Life.

Now bleſſed be the Lord, that is revealed, which anſwers the Cry, which ſo far as my ſoul comes to partake of, is refreſhed and ſatisfyed with the ſupply of that, which it thirſted and cryed after.

And all that have felt the true Cry, O that they might alſo be taught of God, and learn aright how to wait upon him, and to walk humbly and in fear before him, that nothing might come between them and the Cry of their ſouls; but they might be led by him into the enjoyment and poſſeſſion of that, which the true birth (which is born of the Spirit, and is Spirit) naturally longs after.

Now truly there is no other way to Life and Satisfaction, than by believing in that Power and following that Power which raiſed Chriſt from the dead; for that is to work the work in all that are ſaved. To feel this power, revealed within, to have the mind turned to this Power, to follow this power in the regenerating Work and Path, is the way to partake of its vertue, and to experience the Redemption which is thereby and therefrom.

And he that is born of the Spirit, and hath his eye opened by the Spirit, and daily exerciſed thereby; he knoweth the Spirit, and is acquainted with his ſtirrings and movings and taught of God to diſtinguiſh them from the evil Spirit, its ſtirrings and movings; and ſo doth not quench the Spirit of God, nor grieve it when it moves; nor give way to the other ſpirit, when it moves and allures.

Now

Now the Spirit of Deceit allures and guides men not so much by outward Rules, as by an inward evil Nature, and by the Law of Sin and Death. So the Spirit of truth leads into Truth, by the newness and Power of its own Life revealed in the heart; by the pure instinct of Life within, and by the Law of God written in the Nature of the new Creature, which is nearer than words without. For God blots out of the Hearts of his what Satan had written there and writes by the finger of his spirit, what he would have the new Birth read there, and indeed there is a Kingdom of Life, of Righteousness, of true Peace and Joy, (yea of the holy Power and wisdom of the most high) for his Children (which are born of his Spirit and springs up of the Immortal Seed) to read.

O why should mens eyes be closed and their Hearts hardened against the truth! Why should they Cry up Christ in words, and cry out against his Life and power, where it is revealed! Is this to Kiss the Son? Can such chuse (who are guilty of this) but perish in the way of their souls travels? And how many must needs Perish in their resistings the Power of truth, and Precious testimony of Gods Holy Spirit (in this our day) tending to their Rescue and Salvation from that which Captivates and Destroyes?

Christ came to destroy Sin, he having received Power from his Father so to do. He knoweth it to be of a destroying Nature, and that it will destroy the Soul, where it is not by the Power of Life consumed and destroyed in the Soul. O most precious to us is that visitation of Truth, Light, Life and Power, which searcheth out and discovereth Sin to the very Root, and also destroyes it! O Glorious is that Axe of the Lord Jesus Christ which is laid to the root of the corrupt Tree, and is daily hewing at and cutting it down, that it might Cumber the ground no more; but that the Heart might become good Earth, Sanctified Earth, Circumcised by the Lord to bring forth good Fruit, good Grapes, a good increase of the good Seed of Life to the Good Husband-man, who is worthy to reap, even in this World, the Grace and Mercy, Love and Goodness, Wisdom and Power, &c. Which he Plentifully soweth in the Spirits of his daily. Glory to his Name over all for ever, who hath exalted, exalteth and will exalt that, which the several sorts of high Professors in their Wisdom trample upon and despise.

II

Concerning the perfecting of Gods Work in the Heart.

IS it not the Will of God, that his People and Children should be Sanctified throughout, in Soul, in Body, in Spirit?

Is it not the Will of Christ, that his Disciples should be perfect, as their Heavenly Father is Perfect?

Did he not bid them pray, Thy Kingdom come, Thy Will be done in Earth as it, is in Heaven? and would he never have them believe and expect that it should be done in Earth, as it is in Heaven?

Doth not he who hath the True, Pure, Living Hope (which Anchors within the Vail) purifie himself; even as he is pure?

Is not this the way to enjoy Promises of Gods holy Presence, (who Tabernacleth in his People, that are cleansed and Sanctified) to cleanse our selves from all filthiness of Flesh and Spirit, perfecting holiness in Gods fear? Will God dwell in an unholy Temple? Will he dwell where Sin dwells? He may indeed to such, when at any time they are tender and truly melted before him, be to them as a way-faring man that tarries for a Night: but he will not take up his abode there, walk there, sup there, and give them to sup with him?

Hath not Christ received all Power both in heaven and earth from his Father? Is not this the end of receiving this Power, to bring down the Soul's Enemies, and to Purify and sanctify his Church, that it may be without spot, or wrinkle or any such thing? Is he not the Captain of our Salvation, anointed to fight the Battels of the Lord? Where is the fight? Where is the strong man to be found cast out, his goods spoiled, and the house emptied of him, and all that belongs to him? Is not Christ the author of Faith, the finisher of Faith; and doth not he carry on the Work of Faith with Power? And what is the Work of Faith? Is it not to fight with, and overcome, Sin; to be too hard for the Enemy at all his Weapons; Is there not a whole armour of Light, Life and Salvation prepared? What is it prepared for? Is it not that the Children of Light should be wholly Armed with it? Were there never any wholly Armed with it? or can the Enemy prevail on those that are wholly Armed with it? Are those that are armed with it afraid of the Enemy, his Power, his Snares, his Wiles? Or are they bold in the Faith, following on in the Spiritual Battles, him who rideth before them conquering, and to conquer.?

O that mens eyes were opened by the Lord! Then might they see the Glory of Truth, in the pure Light which Shines from Gods Holy Mountain: and such dark doctrines of the Night (which tend to the dishonour of Christ, his Power and Love, and to the upholding of the Enemies Kingdom) would pass away, and prevail no more in the hearts of any that truly fear the Lord; but they would quietly wait and hope for his Salvation, that by the Law of the Spirit of Life in Christ Jesus, they might be made free from the Law of Sin and Death, and not alwayes to be subject thereto! For all, whom the Son maketh free, they are free indeed, and being made free by him may serve God in freedom of Spirit, without fear, in Holiness and Righteousness before him, all the dayes of their lives. And then they know the Power and Virtue of the new Covenant, and the defence which is thereby, where the Wing of the Almighty over-shadows, and his Salvation (revealed therein) is experienced for a sufficient Wall and Bulwark against the Enemy.

III.

Concerning the true Christ, how it may be certainly and Infallibly known which is He.

WHile People were in expectation and mused in their Hearts concerning John, whether he were the Christ or no, John answers the case and tells them, how they might discern and know the true Christ. It is not he that Baptiseth with Water, but he that Baptiseth with the Holy Ghost and with Fire. He whose Fan is in his hand, wherewith he cometh thorowly to Purge his Floor, gathering the Wheat into his Garner, and burning the Chaff with Fire unquenchable. Now he that knoweth him that doth this Work, and experienceth him doing this Work in him, doth not he know Christ? O is it not pretious to be Baptised by him, whom God hath appointed to Baptise? O the Fan, the pretious Fan, wherewith Christ (who is the Power and Wisdom of God) he separates the precious from the Vile; severs the Wheat and the Chaff; gathers the Wheat into the precious Treasury, and lets out the unquenchable Fire upon the Chaff! Our God is a consuming Fire, saith the Apostle. To what is he a consuming Fire? Is it not to the Chaffy, earthy, Drossy Nature in men and women? Why, bring the Chaff near to the Fire, will it not burn it up? And then (as that is burnt up and consumed) that which is Pure, that which is upright, that which is tender, that which is born of God can dwell with, and delight in, the devouring Fire and everlasting burnings. For God is not terrible to the Child which is born of him, to him who is brought forth in the Image and Spirit of his Son: but to the transgressing Nature, to the Seed of evil doers, which are Naturally inclined to do evil, and every day doing evil, he is terrible for ever more. O Blessed are they, who believe lieve in that Power, and experience that Power near, which raiſed Chriſt from the dead, and are baptized with his baptiſm! They have acceſs to God: for ſo the true Jews have, being inwardly cleanſed and kept clean: But the unclean, who have only a Notion of Chriſt's Blood, and of his righteouſneſs, but are not waſhed thereby nor Cloathed therewith, nor ever knew what it was to put off the filthy Garment, and to put on the white Raiment. They may Pray in their own Wills and Spirits, but they know not what it is to draw nigh to God in the Spirit and Life of his Son, and ſo are yet to learn what it is to Pray to the Father in the Name of Chriſt. For none truly know Chriſt, but they who truly know and are led by his infallible Spirit. They that have not the Spirit of Chriſt, are none of his: and they that have his Spirit, have that which is infallible. It is one thing to have Words ſpoken concerning Chriſt, or formerly by Chriſt; another thing to have the infallible Spirit it ſelf; to be infallibly born of the Spirit, and brought up in the Life and Light of the Spirit, that he may certainly know the Shepherds Voice, from the Voice of every ſtrange Spirit.

IV.

Some Queries to ſuch as Affirm the Scriptures to be the only Rule, and Deny the Spirit, the Seed of the Kingdom, the New-Covenant, the Holy Leaven of Life, the Law Written in the Heart, to be the Rule of the Children of the New-Covenant.

Quer. 1. HOw are the Scriptures the Rule, or which of the Scriptures are the Rule? Are the whole Scriptures the Rule, from the beginning of Geneſis, to the end of the Revelation? Or are ſome Parts of them the Rule, ſome other not? If ſome parts of them be the Rule, and ſome not, Which parts are the Rule, and which are not the Rule? As to Inſtance, in the Book of Job; His Friends ſpake many words concerning God, which were not ſo right as Jobs, Job 42. And alſo Job himſelf, in ſome of his Words and Speeches, darkened Counſel by Words without Knowledge, as he himſelf Confeſſed, Job 42. 3. Now which of Job's Friends Words are the Rule and which not, and which of Job's Words are the Rule, and which not?

Quer. 2. Moſes was the Miniſter of the Old-Covenant (for He Miniſtred to the Jews the Old-Covenant, which was Glorious in its Day:) but he was not the Miniſter of the New-Covenant. Now the New-Covenant, and Miniſtration thereof, exceeds the Old in Glory. The Writing of the Law inwardly, in the Tables of the Heart, is a more Glorious Miniſtration, than the Writing of it outwardly in Tables of Stone. Now, were Moſes Words to the Jews under the Old-Covenant, intended by God, to be the Rule of the Children of Light under the New-Covenant? Shall the Words of that Miniſtration which was to paſs away, be the Rule of the Children of that Miniſtration, which is to abide for ever?

Quer. 3. Did Moſes ſay, That when Chriſt came, my Words which I ſpeak or write, ſhall be your Rule, or part of your Rule? Or did he not rather ſay, When God raiſeth up that Prophet, him ſhall ye hear in all things? Is there any one that is truly a Sheep, who is not ſo made by him who gives Life to the Soul? And after he is made Alive, and knows the Shepherds Voice, is he not to hear his Voice for ever, who gives Life Eternal, and who leads into the Paſtures of Life, and to the pure ſtill Waters, all that hear his Voice and follow him? Read John 14. 3, 4. and Acts 3. 22. and Conſider.

Quer. 4. Was not John as great, if not greater than Moſes? Had ever any the Honour beſides him, to be the immediate forerunner, and preparer of the Way, and to point to the Lamb of God as he did? And yet was not he to decreaſe in his Miniſtry (it being not the Goſpel-Miniſtration of the Spirit and Power, as Chriſt's was) and Chriſt to increaſe Goſpel-Miniſtration in his? Is not the leaſt in the Kingdom greater than John? And are not all that are quickened by Chriſt, and follow him, led by him into the Kingdom? And who can give the Rule of Life in the Kingdom, but the King thereof? In the Laſt Dayes doth not the Lord ſpeak to his People by his Son? And is not he Faithful in all his Houſe, as a Son to give the Law and Rule of Life to them in Chriſt?

Quer. 5. Are not all that are Souldiers and Subjects under Chriſt, to follow him, their Lord and Captain, whitherſoever he Goes or Rules? How can they know whither he Goes or Rules, but by an inward Eye, and Ear fixed upon, and open to him? So that when once they know his Spirit (the Voice of his Spirit, as his true Sheep do) his movings, his drawings, his leadings, his going before, is their Rule to follow. And they are not to grieve, or quench his Spirit, in drawing back from any thing that he leads and draws them to.

Quer. 6. Is not Chriſt the Way, the Truth, the Life; the Living Way, the Living Truth? Is not the Living Way the Rule to them that Live? Is not the Truth it ſelf, the Rule of all that are true? What ſhould rule and guide the Spiritual Man, that is Born of the Spirit, but the Wiſdom of the Spirit, but the Oracle of God, Manifeſted in his Temple and Sanctuary? That which is Born of the Spirit is Spirit, in which the Spirit is to dwell, and he in whom he dwells, is to be Ruled by him.

Quer. 7. What is that which the Apoſtle calls the Rule, Gal. 6. 15, 16. which if a Man walk according to, Peace will be upon him? Is it not the Word, Power, and Wiſdom of God? Doth not he that walketh according to that, walk in the newneſs of the Spirit? Doth not he that walketh out of that, walk but in the Oldneſs of the Letter at the beſt? Doth not he that believeth according to that, hopeth according to that, prayeth according to that, I ſay, doth not he believe, hope and pray according to the Rule? Doth not he that believeth, hopeth, prayeth otherwiſe (though never ſo zealouſly and affectionately;) yet at beſt, can any better be ſaid of it, but that it is but in the Oldneſs of the Letter, and ſo is not the right Goſpel which God requires in the Goſpel-Covenant?

Quer. 8. Is not the Law of the ſpirit of Life in Chriſt Jeſus, the Law of the New Covenant? and is not that the Rule to the Children of the New-Covenant? Is not the Truth which makes free, the Way and Rule to them who are made free by it? Is the Letter or Spirit, the Rule under the Miniſtration of the ſpirit? Let that which is ſenſible, and which feels and knows the Truth and Way of Life (as it is in Jeſus.) anſwer: Men may ſearch the Scriptures, and yet not come to Chriſt for Life: and men may get deſcriptions and a knowledg of things out of the ſcriptures, and yet not receive from him the Rule of the new Life.

V.

Concerning the Light, wherewith Chriſt the Life enlightneth every Man.

In him was Life, and the Life was the Light of Men. And the Light ſhineth in Darkneſs, and the Darkneſs comprehended it not, John 1. ver. 4, 5.

WHat is the Darkneſs which Comprehendeth not the Light? Is it not Man in the Unregenerate eſtate? Ye were Darkneſs, ſaith the Apoſtle, ſpeaking concerning them as they had been in that ſtate.

Now

Now it pleaſeth the Lord that in this darkneſs his pure light ſhould ſhine, to gather man out of the darkneſs. For unleſs Light ſhould ſhine on man in his dark ſtate, he could never be gathered out of it. But he that is turned to the Light and followeth it, he cannot abide in the darkneſs, but cometh into that which gathereth and preſerveth the mind out of it.

But of what Nature is this Light, which ſhineth in man in his dark State? It is of a Living Nature. It is Light which flows from Life; It is Light which hath Life in it. It is the Life of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, of the word eternal, which is the Light of men. And he who cometh to the true underſtanding, may thereby diſtinguiſh it from all other Lights whatſoever.

There is a vaſt difference between it and the reaſon and underſtanding of a man: for the Natural man with his underſtanding is dead, but this is Living and Powerfully operating in man, as it finds entrance, and as his mind is joyned to it. He that is dead indeed knows it not; but he that is alive unto God, feels the virtue of it. This Light is above all gathered knowledg whatſoever, and above all deſcriptions of things whatſoever: for it is the thing it ſelf, even of the Nature of him from whom it flows. A man may get a Notion from this into his mind, which he may retain the dead knowledg of, yea his Notion may quickly be dead in them: but he that dwells in the thing it ſelf, knows that and dwells in that which never dyes

VI.

A few Words further concerning Perfection.

WHat was the intent of God in commending Job to Satan for a perfect and upright man, one that feared God and eſchewed evil? Was it not to repreſent him as a perſon, whom he could not make any breach upon or prevail upon to Sin? Thou haſt been ranging up and down the Earth, tempting many, defiling many: what ſaieſt thou to my ſervant Job, Satan, is not he perfect? Is not he upright to me in his Heart and all his waies? canſt thou make any breach upon him?

What ſaith Satan hereto? Doth he object any ſin againſt Job? He is the accuſer of the Brethren: and if he have wherewith to accuſe, he will not fail to lay it to their charge, even before the throne of God. But what hath he to ſay againſt Job? what can he object (either againſt his uprightneſs or againſt his perfection) to the Lord? O ſayes he thou haſt ſet an hedge about him. He ſerves thee indeed perfectly and uprightly; I confeſs I have nothing to lay to his Charge: but doth he ſerve thee for nought? But take away thy hedge, ſuffer me to winnow him, and thou ſhalt quickly ſee I ſhall have ſomewhat to lay to his Charge, and that no ſmall matter neither: for do but take away thy bleſſings from him, wherewith thou haſt ſo abundantly bleſſed him, and he will ſoon curſe thee to thy face.

Well, the Lord giveth him leave to try if he can ſtain Jobs uprightneſs and perfection: and now begins the tryal, whether the Devils temptations ſhall bring him to Sin, or the fear of the Lord prevail to preſerve him from Sin

Firſt, the Devil hath Power to touch all he hath, which he ſoon doth. What doth this produce! Doth he not ſin againſt the Lord? Doth he murmur? Doth he Blaſpheme, as the Devil had ſaid? No, he fell on the ground and worſhipped, acknowledging all to be the Lords, and bleſſing his Name. So that in all this ſore affliction, he Sinned not, nor Charged God fooliſhly, Job. 1. 20, 21, 22.

But the commendation which God had given him, of being a perfect and upright man, fearing God and eſchewing Evil, ſtill remains and ſtands good againſt Satan, Chap. 2, 3.

Satan gets leave to try him yet further, inſinuating againſt him, that if he may have liberty to Smite his Body, he ſhall eaſily prevail upon him to Sin; but not being able at preſent to bring in any plea againſt his perfection and uprightneſs, againſt his fearing God and eſchewing Evil. But this hath the ſame ſucceſs with the former; for he could not bring Job, to Sin with his Lips, ver. 10.

Now mind, Can any man that hath his heart made upright by the Lord, keep that integrity and Sin? Is not every Sin a departing from the purity, from the Integrity? Was not every tranſgreſſion againſt the firſt Covenant, out of the Firſt Covenant, even a departing from the limits of it? is not every tranſgreſſion of the ſecond Covenant a departing out the limits of the ſecond Covenant? He that abideth in Chriſt, doth he Sin? Can he Sin? doth not he that Sins, depart out of his Light, out of his Life, out of his Power, into the darkneſs, into the Death, into the temptation of the Enemy? Is it not promiſed, I will put my fear in their hearts, and they ſhall not depart from me: while the fear, which God puts into the heart abides there, can that man Sin? Doth not the pure fear cleanſe the heart and keep it clean, that the conſcience may be void of offence, both towards God and Man? Is the conſcience void of offence, where Sin is committed either againſt God or Man? When the blood flows in the pure Light, doth it not waſh? Doth it not waſh clean? Doth it not make whiter than the Snow? When Sin is entred into afterwards, and committed again, doth it not defile? O read in the true ſence, in the true experience, with the true underſtanding, which God gives.

VII.

Concerning Imputation of Righteouſneſs

THe Scripture ſaith, that Abraham belived God, and it was counted unto him for Righteouſneſs: and that ſo it ſhall be alſo to all that believe as he did, even in the ſame Power which he believed in, Rom. 4, 23, 24.

Now thus we witneſs the thing: our minds being turned from Sin and turned to the pure gift of God; that works a change in us. Herein we feel Faith ſpring up, which faſtens our Spirits to the Power of Life, and then we feel that (in the Power of Life) flow upon our Spirits, which waſheth away our Sin: and all that is done in this holy and Righteous Faith, is of the holy, Righteous Life and Power, and accepted with the Lord, and that which condemns Sin in us, never condemns any work that is wrought in God, but Juſtifies it. So that the Root of Sin, with all that flows from it, is condemned by the Righteous principle of Life: but the Root of Holineſs with all that flows from it is Juſtified. And this is our Righteouſneſs, even Chriſt the Holy Power of Life, who condemns and caſts out Sin: and it is great Joy to any of us, to feel the root of Sin ſtuck at, and condemned by his Power, and him caſting Sin out of us; and the root of Righteouſneſs growing up in us, and bearing us, and cauſing us to bring forth Fruit to God. And here we ſenſibly find we have right to the Scriptures, to the promiſes, to all that Chriſt did and ſuffered for us, and witneſs the propitiation by and through him, and bleſs God for all the diſpenſations of Life, wherein he hath appeared to the Children of men in any Age, which were all Glorious and excellent in their ſeaſon: but the diſpenſation of the Spirit is the ſtanding diſpenſation, which excells in Glory, which Chriſt in the dayes of his fleſh pointed his Diſciples to wait for, which his going away was to make way for. This diſpenſation was revealed and ſet up, before the Apoſtacy from the Life and Spirit of the Apoſtles, and is again revealed and ſet up in Power and great Glory, after the long Night of Apoſtacy, Bleſſed be the Name of the Lord for ever. For the darkneſs is already paſt away from many ſpirits, and the true Light again ſhineth, Glory in the Higheſt to the God of Life and Glory for ever and ever, Amen.

Concerning the

TIME and WORK

OF

SOME

QUERIES.

I.

Concerning the Time and Work of Reformation, Some Queries.

Quer. 1. WHat did the time of Reformation and Subſtance (ſpoken of Heb. 9. 10.) Signify and point at in Relation to the Myſtery; was it not for the bringing in of the Goſpel? the day of Chriſts Spirit and Power? the day of his inward Renewing and Reforming? the day of his taking his Fan in to his hand, to purge his floor? the day of his laying the Axe to the Root of the Corrupt Tree, that he may deſtroy the works of the devil in men's hearts, caſting down and plucking up what his heavenly Father hath not planted there? When he cometh as a Refiners fire and fullers ſope, to purify the ſons of Levi, as Gold and Silver is purged, that they may offer unto the Lord an offering in Righteouſneſs: Is not this the time of Reformation?

Quer. 2. Who is the Reformer? Is it not the Lord Jeſus Chriſt? Doth not he Create anew? Doth not he blot out the Old Image; and Form into a new Lump? For if any man be in Chriſt, ther's a renewing there, a new building there: yea Old things are paſſed away there, there's nothing in him but what is new. He is faithful (in all his houſe) inwardly to judg, condemn, crucify, ſubdue, deſtroy whatſoever is contrary to the Nature and Spirit of his Father, and to form and build up the ſpirits of his in that which is new and Pure.

Quer. 3. How, or by what doth Chriſt reform? Is it not by his Spirit, and Power, by the Light thereof, by the Life thereof, by the virtue thereof? For nothing can change and reform the heart, but that which is more powerful than him who corrupteh it.

Quer. 4. Where doth Chriſt reform and new Create? Is it not in the new Covenant? In the Faith and Obedience thereof? Doth he not by the Laws thereof of, break and disannul the Laws of the new Covenant, and Covenant of hell and Death, making void: and so making an everlasting Covenant of life and peace; even an holy, pure, living agreement, between God his Father, and the soules of his? Thus by his light he overcomes darkness, by his life he overcomes death: by his pure Nature and Spirit he overcomes (chains down, subdues and destroyes) that which is Impure, breaking the bond of sin and iniquity, and letting the oppressed go free from under it. Thus he manifests himself to be the Saviour, his holy anointing breaking the Yoke of the oppressor, Isa. 10. 27.

Quer. 5. Whom doth Christ reform? Are they not those who take his Yoke upon them and learn of him? Are they not those who are turned to the Light of his Spirit, inwardly made manifest; turned from the Darkness, walking no more therein, but in his pure Light? They that own his inward appearance in their hearts, and turn (from the Enmity there) to him, receiving his Light, his Law, his Life his Spirit, them doth he exercise daily, and is daily reforming their hearts and waies thereby. But if any man receiveth not his light, his life, his spirit within, such an one is none of his: and he may reform himself as much as he can, but he knoweth not yet the day of the true Reformation.

Quer. 6. How are they to walk, whom Christ hath begun to reform? Is it nor in that Light, in that Spirit, in that Covenant, in that Grace, wherein and whereby he hath in some measure reformed them? Is it not in the newness of the spirit, and in the newness of the Law thereof? Here Christ walked before the Father in all well pleasing, (Lo I come, I delight to do thy Will, O my God: Yea thy Law is within My Heart, said he, Psal. 40. 7, 8.) and here all his are also to walk, 1 Joh. 2. 6. For indeed there is no pleasing the Father, or Christ our Lord and Master, out of the Vertue, Life and newness of his own spirit.

Quer. 7. What was the glory that was to follow the sufferings of Christ, spoken of, 1 Pet. 1. 11. Was it not the Glory of his inward reformation, in the hearts of the Children of the New Covenant? Doth not Christ give of his Grace in the Gospel? And doth not his Grace make a glorious Change? Doth not he give of his spirit to his Children? and doth not his spirit change from sin, from shame into holiness, into true Beauty, into the heavenly Glory: and so from Glory to Glory, translating more and more into the Glory? Doth not Christ appear Gloriously in the hearts of his, and in the assemblies of his, who meet together in his name, and wait upon him in that which is pure and living of him? and is there not a covering, or defence of the wing of the Almighty, upon the Glory? Isa. 4. 5.

Quer. 8. Was not this Glory brought forth in the dayes of the Apostles? Was not great Grace then upon them all? (I mean such as received and held the Truth in the love of it) Did they not witness the Peace which passeth mans understanding. Had they not received the holy and spiritual understanding from him that is true, and were they not in him that is true? Did they not know Victory and Dominion over sin and death? Did not the little Babes witness Pardon of sin, and know him who preserveth from sin? Had not the young men overcome the Wicked One? and were not the Elders strong in the Lord, and in the Power of his Might? Were they not come to the spiritual Sion and Heavenly Jerusalem? and did they not walk in the Light of the Lamb, and of the holy City, before God the Judge of all? There is no man in these our dayes, can so much as conceive the glory of that state, but he that hath tasted of a measure thereof.

Quer. 9. VVas not this Glory Eclipsed, and did not a great darkness come over it, hiding it from the sons of men; so that (for Ages and Generations) they knew not the true spirit, the true Light, the true Life, the everlasting Covenant, the Holy Gospel, the true Church, the Man-child, &c. but these, with many other Heavenly Mysteries, have been hid from their eyes.

Quer. 10. VVhat hath got up since these have been hid? Have not the shaddowes of the night took place and overspread the Christian state, instead of the Light of the Day? Hath not Antichrist got up and a false Church appeared; that which hath been tender, and begotten of God, snibbed, bowed down, curbed and persecuted, and false devotion and worship set up instead of the true.

Quer. 11. Must

Quer. 11. Must not Antichrist be Destroyed, the false Church Judged, the true Church come out of the Wilderness into which she fled, the man-child appear again Conquering and to Conquer all that which hath risen up from the Spirit of Darkness, since the first breaking forth of the Gospel? and is not the Gospel to be preached again to them that dwell on the Earth; even to every Nation and Kindred and Tongue and People? Rev. 14. 6.

Now who is wise to understand the appearance of the Lord, and the begining of these things, which is in a way contrary to mans wisdom: and so he that will discern them, must come out from following of the man's own spirit, nature and wisdom in himself, into the sence and leadings of him who giveth the true eye sight: the appearance of the Lord is inward and spiritual: and he must have an inward and spiritual eye, who discerneth it. It was said of Old by Mockers and Scoffers, Where is the promise of his coming? for all things continue as they were from the begining. The same spirit will say so still: and yet to that eye which the Lord hath opened, he is already come inwardly, spiritually, in his own pure eternal Life and Power; and the Precious Effects of his coming are made manifest in many hearts, blessed be his name. Yet he is further to appear in his Glory and pure brightness, and so we wait further for his appearance, both in our own hearts, and in the hearts of the Children of Men. We have met with our Beloved. Our God, whom we waited for, hath appeared. The Son of Righteousness hath arisen with healing under his Wings, and we have felt Vertue and healing from him, and cannot but rejoyce and testifie of his Salvation.

And what further manifestations of himself he hath yet to give forth, we are sure to partake of, being formed by him in spirit, and found in that wherein he appears, and from whence his glory shines. O that all, that Love the Lord Jesus Christ in any measure of sincerity, did know the way of the Gospel; which is in the Spirit, Light, Life and Power, which is eternal even in the Grace and Truth which is in him! And his Kingdom, which is spiritual, and not of this World, cannot be shaken by this World (nor his Mount Sion removed) but is able to shake all Nations and Kingdoms which kiss not the Son, but oppose him. Blessed are they who are turned to the Light of his Spirit, and who therein kiss and obey him.

II.

Some Queries Concerning the Spirit of Christ, or the Spirit of the Father (it being one and the same Spirit) for those who take themselves to be Christians (and under the Gospel-Dispensation) to consider and examine themselves by, that they may not be deceived either concerning their Present Estate here, or the Eternal Estate of their Souls hereafter, seeing the Apostle so expresly saith, If any man hath not the Spirit of Christ, he is none of his, Rom. 8.

Quer. 1. DOst thou know the holy Spirit of the Father? Thou mayest have read somwhat concerning it, and have apprehensions in thy mind about it: but dost thou truly know what it is, by its inward appearances and operations in thine own heart?

Quer. 2. Hast thou received Gods Holy Spirit into thy heart? Hast thou let in Christs Spirit, when he hath knocked at the door of thy heart, and received him? For he that is a true Child, most naturally breatheth and cryeth for the Fathers Spirit; and the Father also most naturally giveth his Spirit to them, that truly and rightly ask it of him, Luk. 11. 13. and you muſt thankfully receive the Comforter, the Holy Spirit, when the Father gives him.

Quer. 3. Doth the Spirit of Chriſt dwell in thee? Hath the ſtronger man caſt the ſtrong man out of thee, and taken poſſeſſion of thy heart, and doth he dwell therein? then thou mayeſt truly ſay, that thou art built up by God, an Habitation for him, in the Spirit. Then thou art waſhed and cleanſed by him from thy filthineſs: and luſts or vain thoughts do not lodge in thee. For the Holy Spirit of Chriſt will not dwell, where ſuch things lodge: but come out from among them, and be ye ſeparate, and touch not the unclean thing, and I will receive you and be a Father to you, and ye ſhall be my Sons and Daughters, ſaith the Lord Almighty, in whom I will dwell and walk, 2 Cor. 6. 15, 16, 17.

Quer. 4. Doth Gods Spirit lead thee into all truth that thou needeſt know and walk in? Art thou a true Child, depending upon and guided by the ſpirit of the Father? Canſt thou not ſee thy way, but as he maketh it known to thee? Art thou a follower of the ſpotleſs Lamb, in the ſame ſpirit wherein he walked? If it be thus with thee, then art thou a Child of God indeed.

Quer. 5. Doſt thou live in the Spirit? Doſt thou feel the Spirit of God to be a Fountain of Life, from whence Life ſprings up into thee daily? Doſt thou witneſs that Scripture fulfilled in thee, He that believeth on me, as the Scripture hath ſaid, Out of his Belly ſhall flow Rivers of Living Water? Haſt thou received the living Water from Chriſt? and is that Living Water become a Well of Life in thee?

Quer. 6. Doſt thou walk in the Spirit, in the Life thereof, in the newneſs thereof ſpringing up in thy heart? Doſt thou know the difference between walking in the oldneſs of the Letter, and in the newneſs of the Spirit?

Quer. 7. Didſt thou ever learn of the Father, to know Chriſt? And didſt thou ever learn of Chriſt, to know the Father? and hath the Father indeed revealed the Son to thee, and the Son indeed revealed the Father to thee? Or art thou yet only in the dead and dry Notions, or barren comprehenſions about theſe things?

Quer. 8. Doſt thou know how the Letter killeth, and how the Spirit quickeneth and maketh alive? and art thou made alive by the Spirit, and born of the Heavenly Water and Spirit, and ſo become ſpiritual as the Scripture teſtifieth, That which is born of the Spirit, is Spirit.

Quer. 9. Art thou come under the Miniſtration of the Spirit? Doſt thou know what the Miniſtration of the ſpirit is? or doſt thou only know what the Letter ſaith concerning the Miniſtration of the ſpirit, but art altogether ignorant of the Miniſtration it ſelf?

Quer. 10. Doſt thou know what the Law of the Spirit of Life in Chriſt Jeſus means? Haſt thou ever received this Law; the Law of the New-Covenant; the Holy Law of Life written in thy heart by the finger of God's ſpirit? for the ſame ſpirit that wrote the Law of the Letter in Tables of Stone, writeth the Law of the Spirit in the fleſhly Tables of the heart.

Quer. 11. Doſt thou not grieve the Holy ſpirit, nor quench it, nor deſpiſe the Prophecyings thereof in thine own heart? For Chriſt is a King, a Prieſt, a Prophet: and he Miniſters in his Sanctuary, in his Temple (which the Holy renewed heart is) in and by his ſpirit.

Quer. 12. Doſt thou know what the Anointing is? Art thou Anointed therewith? And doth thy whole ability lye therein, in ſo much as that thou art daily ſenſible thou cannot do any thing of thy ſelf, but ſtill findeſt a working in thee both to will and to do that which is right in his eyes of his own good pleaſure?

Quer. 13. Did thy Religion begin in the ſpirit? in the living Miniſtration of the New-Covenant? Did thy Knowledge begin ſo; to wit, in feeling God opening thy heart by his Spirit, and giving thee the underſtanding whereby thou mighteſt know him? Did thy Faith begin in his Power, and doth it ſtand in the ſame Power to this day? O that men were ſenſible what is the right Religion, and of the inward appearance of Gods holy Arm and Power, which alone can redeem, and ſave the ſoul out of the hands of its Enemies?

Quer. 14. Doth thy Worſhip ſtand in the ſpirit, and inward Life of Truth in thy heart? Art thou ſuch a Worſhipper as the Father hath ſought out and made ſo?

ſo? or art thou a Worſhipper of thine own or other mens making? And doſt thou keep within the Limits of the living and ſpiritual Worſhip, and not tranſgreſs the Law thereof?

Oh, who would be miſtaken and deceived about ſuch weighty things as theſe, of ſo great neceſſity and Concern? Who would miſs of Gods ſpirit, and of the Law and Covenant of Life in Chriſt Jeſus, and be only in a dream concerning theſe things, without the true, demonſtrative knowledge, poſſeſſion and enjoyment of them?

III.

Of the true Way (the Way of Holineſs, the Way of Life) and of the true Teaching and Knowledge.

CHriſt is the Way, the only Way to the Father: there is not another. Now every one that will truly know Chriſt, and come to Chriſt, muſt Learn of the Father. It is written in the Prophets, All thy Children ſhall be taught of the Lord; every one therefore that hath heard and learned of the Father, cometh unto me, ſaid Chriſt. Here are two things neceſſary for every one that would come to Chriſt. One is hearing of the Father: the other is, learning, what he teacheth. For though a man do hear the Living Voice of the Father, yet if he do not learn and keep the inſtruction of Life received from him, he may be drawn aſide, before he come to the Son. But he whoſe ears are opened to hear the voice, and who feels the inſtruction of Life from the Father, to go to him in whom he hath placed Life: here the ſpirit of the Father ſecretly draws in the inwards of a mans mind and ſpirit, from that which is realy dead, to that which is truly living,

Now, when a man is come to the Son, in whom the Father hath placed the fulneſs of Life, then he ſhall witneſs him the way to the Father; and he will teach him daily of the Father. And here is the ſtate of true Subjection to the Son experienced, whom the ſoul muſt hear (and of whom he is to learn) in all things; who diſcovers the inward Darkneſs in mans mind, and breaks down that in him which is contrary to God, having a daily Croſs ready for that which is to be Crucified in him, whereby he ſhall dye daily to himſelf. And as he dies to himſelf, Chriſt will reveal himſelf more and more in him, and he ſhall feel the pure ſeed of Life ſpringing more and more up in him, and living in him, and he in it; in and through which he ſhall come more and more into Union and Fellowſhip with the Father of ſpirits, and the whole living Body of his Church and People.

But now, to learn of the Father to come to the Son, and to learn of the Son to know the Father, and to walk in newneſs of ſpirit before him (and not in an old dead knowledge and fleſhly underſtanding) theſe are great Myſteries, which none can learn by a litteral Conception and Comprehenſion of things; but as they are quickned, and their minds and underſtandings opened and kept open by the Lord. Therefore this is the great skill and true wiſdom, to know the Shepherd and his voice; and his manner of appearing, and to what he appears: which is to his own Sheep, to the true birth. And his way and manner of appearing to that birth, is by viſiting and reaching to it by his Power opening it, thereby giving it to ſee, hear and underſtand; but ſhutting up himſelf from the contrary nature, wiſdom and ſpirit in all men.

There is ſomewhat, which maketh a fair ſhew in the fleſhly part, as if it were of God: but God knoweth what and who are his. Now, it is for the true Children, that the milk of the word, and the Bread of Life is; and them the Lord is ſtill gracious to, and heareth all the deſires and breathings of their hearts; them he preſerveth and viſiteth in Egypt, and alſo bringeth out thence. Them he leadeth through the Wilderneſs, dividing the Red-Sea before them; before them alſo he divideth Jordan (the River of Judgment) cauſing them to paſs through it alſo, that they may enter into the Holy Land. And their lot he defendeth in the Holy Land, in their ſubjection to the ſpirit and law of Life which rules there. But the contrary birth falleth ſhort by the Way, and cannot enter into, nor abide in that which is pure and living of God.

Now in the lowly ſeed the whole Myſtery of Life is learned, by theſe that come thither, and wait there, growing up into him who is the head: but no Leſſon of Life, and of the Truth as it is in Jeſus, is learned out of it. O how careful had men need be to know this ſeed in themſelves, and to witneſs its daily ſpringing up and growth in them.

IV.

Concerning Separation from the Spirit and Wayes of the World.

THere is a neceſſity of ſeparation from the ſpirit, wayes and worſhips of the World, by thoſe that will be the Lords People. The Jews outward were to be a ſeparated People from all other People (from their Gods, from their Worſhips) if they would enjoy the Favour of the Lord, and the bleſſings of the good Land. God had ſeparated them from all other Nations, and they were not to mingle with them; neither in their Worſhip, nor Marriages, &c. So the Jews inward, who are Gods gathering of ſpiritual worſhippers, out of every Nation, Kindred, Tongue and People, are to be a ſeparated and Holy People to the Lord. For when God caſt off the Jews, he fought out Worſhippers in their ſtead, even for a ſpiritual Nation and Holy People of inward Jews, in ſtead of that outward People, outward Place of Worſhip, and outward Land, which he caſt off. Now thoſe whom God ſeeks to be the new, inward and ſpiritual Worſhippers (inſtead of the litteral and outward) muſt come out of all other waies and gatherings, upon the many Mountains, to the Mountain of the Lords Houſe, and to the Place of his gathering; The command is expreſs, Come out from among them, and be ye ſeparate, and touch not the unclean thing, and I will receive you, &c. 2 Cor. 6. It is true, I ſeek you for Worſhippers, and I call you to the Goſpel-Feaſt of fat things; and I will receive you, if ye come: but ye muſt firſt come out from among all the falſe wayes and falſe Worſhippers, and depart from (and not ſo much as touch) that which is unclean (the unclean Spirit, his unclean Wayes and Worſhippers) and then I will receive you, and own you as my Sons and Daughters, and be a Father to you; not elſe. Mark now; The Jews outward (in their Day) muſt be ſeparate from all the Heathen outward, if they would be judged and owned by God for true Worſhippers according to the Law. The Primitive Chriſtians were to ſeparate from both Heathen and Jews too (even their Temple, Prieſts and Ordinances, which were once of God) if they would be Worſhippers, true Worſhippers under the Goſpel, Worſhippers of Gods ſeeking. And the Chriſtians after the Antichriſtian Corruption and Darkneſs, muſt come out of Babylon, that is, out of all forms of Religion, and Buildings out of the Life and Power (for that is Babylon, the City of confuſion, which is built, ſtands out of, and practiſeth out of, the order and unity of the ſpirit) if they will be found Worſhippers in the day of Reſtoration; after the long darkneſs of the Apoſtacy, they muſt not worſhip the Beaſt (nor worſhip God, as the Beaſt teacheth and requireth: for in ſo Worſhipping, God is not Worſhipped, but the Beaſt) nor bear his name, nor receive his mark, either on their forehead or right hand, nor be of the number of his Name. Now the command is as expreſs to come out of Babylon, that is, to ſeparate from all Antichriſtian wayes and worſhips, as ever it was to ſeparate from the Heathen and Jews: and there is no being a true Worſhipper in Gods ſight, but in the true way of ſeparation from all all falſe Worſhippers, who worſhip in forms and appearances of godlineſs, out of the Life and Power.

Now, O how precious it is to feel God Seeking, God Gathering, God Separating, God teaching, Leading, Drawing into the Truth, and true way of Worſhip! For there are ſelf-ſeparations, which are out of the true Spirit, Life and Power. Yea God may begin the ſeparation, and another wiſdom may ſtep in and carry it on, out of the limits of the ſweet, innocent Spirit, Life and Power. O bleſſed is he who is ſeparated by the Lord, from all that is not of him! But he that is but ſenſual, and hath not the ſpirit, but only by a litteral knowledge ſeparateth himſelf, he differeth from others but in the outward form and appearance of Godlineſs, but is one in Nature and ground with theſe whom he ſeparateth from. Thus the Papiſts and all pretended Chriſtians (of the ſame ſpirit) who feel not the true ſpirit, Power and Life, are but one in the ground, how great ſoever their difference outwardly ſeem. And thoſe that ſeparate further and further (even to the utmoſt extent outwardly, or in way of appearance) being not ſeparated by the Lord, from that nature and ſpirit wherein the enmity lodgeth, they are ſtill inhabitants of one and the ſame City, (for the City Babylon is very large) and Daughters of one and the ſame Mother, even of the wiſdom which is from beneath, which wiſdom in its higheſt exaltation, is far beneath the nature and true excellency of the pure and Heavenly Wiſdom, even in its loweſt and moſt contemptible appearance. O bleſſed is the Religion, the Worſhip, the Separation, the Fear of the moſt High God, the Faith, the Knowledge which begins in the ſpirit and power, (even in the evidence and demonſtration of Gods own Spirit) and which ſtnads and abides therein! for herein are the Children of Light diſtinguiſhed and kept diſtinct (by God Almighty, who hath made the difference) from all the Children of Darkneſs.

By Iſaac Penington, Priſoner for the Teſtimony of Truth at Reading-Goal.

The END.

A TREATISE Concerning God's Teachings and CHRIST'S Law, with ſome other things of Weighty Importance, particularly mentioned after the Preface.

Written By Iſaac Penington, Priſoner at Reading-Goal, for the Teſtimony of Truth.

They alſo that erred in Spirit ſhall know underſtanding, and they that Murmured ſhall learn doctrine, Iſa. 29. 24. Bleſſed be the Lord it is ſo. This Propheſie is ſenſibly and experimentally fulfiled, and fulfilling daily more and more.

The PREFACE.

CHriſt, who came from the Father, and knew the way of Truth and Life everlaſting, and was to guide men to the Father, being the only way unto him; he preached the Kingdom, and bid men ſeek the Kingdom, teaching and inſtructing them in many parables concerning it, and directing them where and how to find it.

The Apoſtles likewiſe (who ſucceeded Chriſt in the ſame ſpirit and power wherein he miniſtred) preached the ſame kingdom, declared and deſcribing what it was, and wherein it conſiſted; namely, not in Word, but in Power, (even in the Power which ſhakes all that is to be ſhaken, but cannot be ſhaken it ſelf, nor the Kingdom which is in it, 1 Cor. 3. 20. and Ebr. 12. 28.) Nor was the Kingdom of God meat and drink (or any outward thing;) but Righteouſneſs, and Peace, and Joy in the Holy Ghoſt, Rom. 14. 17.

And they Preached not in vain: for the Life was inwardly revealed in many, the Power inwardly revealed, the Kingdom inwardly revealed, and the Righteouſneſs, Peace and Joy thereof felt. For ſuch as truly believe and obeyed the Goſpel, received the Kingdom which could never be ſhaken, and had an entrance miniſtred to them thereinto, according to their diligence and carefulneſs in the Truth.

Now, afterwards a great darkneſs came over, and this glorious Kingdom was again Vailed, and the Kingdom of Darkneſs & Deceit overſpread the Profeſſion of Chriſtianity: and in this time Notions and Outward Knowledges took with men, inſtead of the Life and Truth it ſelf, wherein the Kingdom and Power ſtands.

But bleſſed be the Lord, the Light of Life again ſhines out of and over the Darkneſs, and the Kingdom is again received, and the entrance into it again known; and from what is ſeen and heard (and in meaſure enjoyed and poſſeſſed) is a Faithful Teſtimony given forth. And bleſſed are they who hear the joyful ſound, for it is no leſs than the ſound of Life it ſelf, the Power it ſelf, the Goſpel it ſelf, the Spirit himſelf, manifeſting himſelf in and by ſpeaking through Veſſels, according to his Pleaſure.

Now,

Now they that receive this Light, which is teſtified of and witneſſed to, receive Chriſt; but they that deſpiſe and reject it, reject him; as will be made manifeſt in the day of the Lord, whatever men in their Wiſdom and Comprehenſions judge to the contrary, who know not, nor are able to judge of the appearances of the Lord, or of the Glory of this diſpenſation.

For this diſpenſation is indeed moſt Precious, Glorious and Living, being a diſpenſation of the Seed and Power of Life it ſelf, whereby God tranſlateth out of Darkneſs and the Regions thereof, into the Kingdom of his dear Son, and into his glorious Image. Which, Reader, not that thou maiſt have only Notions concerning, but mayeſt really come to partake of, is the end of my giving forth theſe things following, which Sweetly, Freſhly, Livingly and Powerfully ſprang up in my heart for thy ſake, and are in great Love Preſented to thy View;

By a Sufferer for the Truth which lives in him, and in which he lives, through the tender Mercy of the Lord, and to the Glory of the Riches of his Grace.

I.

Concerning God's Teachings.

It is Written in the Prophets (ſaid Chriſt) they ſhall be all taught of God. Every one therefore that hath Heard, and hath Learned of the Father, cometh unto me, Joh. 6. 45. For the Prophets indeed had ſaid, All thy Children ſhall be taught of the Lord, and they ſhall all know Me, from the Leaſt of them to the Greateſt of them.

NOw, whoſe Children are they, which ſhall all be taught of the Lord? and which are them, which ſhall all know the Lord, by the teachings of his Spirit, from the leaſt to the greateſt? Are they not the Children of the free Woman, the Children of the Jeruſalem which is from above, which is the Mother of all that are truly Living? Now all her Children the Father of Life begets, and taketh care to teach them the true, pure, heavenly, living Knowledg: ſo that they indeed know the Lord, being taught by the anointing ſo to do; and they indeed know Chriſt, the Father revealing him to them. For none knows the Father but the Son, and none knows the Son but the Father, and he to whom the Father reveales him. Fleſh and Blood hath not revealed it to thee, but my Father which is in Heaven (ſaid Chriſt to Peter, Mat. 16. 17.) And it pleaſed God to reveal his Son in me, ſaid Paul, Gal. 1. 15, 16. And how did Paul preach Chriſt among the Gentiles? Did he not preach him as a Myſtery hid from Ages and Generations, which none but the Father could reveal and make manifeſt? And when he is known and made manifeſt, is he not known within, revealed within, made manifeſt within? Col. 1. 26, 27. and 1 John. 1. 2. Mark. The Life was manifeſted: thus they came to know Chriſt. And if they will bring others to the Knowledg of Chriſt, they muſt bring them to the manifeſtation of the ſame Life, and ſhew unto them that Eternal Life which was with the Father, and was manifeſted unto them, ver. 2. Now that they might do thus, they were to preach the Light to them (even this meſſage that God is Light, and in him is no darkneſs at all, ver. 5.) and to turn them to the Light (Acts 26. 18.) in which alone men men can ſee and receive the Life which is Eternal. Men may know, or comprehend many things concerning the Meſſiah, from the Letter: but they can only know the Meſſiah himſelf, in the Light which he ſhines into their hearts, and ſent his Apoſtles to direct and turn their minds to. For they directed them to the Word within, Light within, Life within, Spirit within: to feel after the manifeſtation of God within, which was communicated to the very Gentiles, Rom 1. 17. and ſo Paul directed the Gentiles to ſeek after and find God nigh, and not afar of, Acts 17. 27. O this is pretious, to find and feel God near, Chriſt near; in his Light to ſee Light, in his Life to feel and enjoy Life. For here (in the Place of darkneſs, in the place of Sin and Death, in the place where Dragons lay, Iſa 35. 7.) is the redeeming Power to be felt, and the deliverance of the Soul experienced by thoſe that truly believe.

The Scribes and Phariſees had a knowledg, that the meſſiah was to come: but how came they by it? why, they had read ſo in the Letter of the Scriptures. The Profeſſors of this age have a knowledg that Chriſt is come: how came they by that? why, they have read ſo in the writings of the Evangeliſts and Apoſtles. But who hath believed the report of Life now, and to whom is the Arm of the Lord (which is now ſtretched forth) revealed? who hath heard and learned of the Father to know the Son, and ſo to come to him, even from the inward Revelation of his Spirit, and from the inward Living knowledg which is thereby? Every one therefore, (ſaith Chriſt) every one of theſe Children, every one that is taught of God, (becauſe of what they have heard and learned of the Father) cometh to the Son. Now every one that is thus drawn, and thus cometh, Chriſt receiveth, and giveth to all ſuch Eternal Life: and they know him who giveth them Eternal Life, and who preſerveth and maintaineth Life in them. Others have but a notional knowledg of him; but do not indeed know him that is true, nor are in him that is true, even in his Son Jeſus Chriſt, who is the very God and Life Eternal, 1 John 5. 20.

And ſo they that are taught of God, learn of him to repent from dead works, and do repent them thereof: whereas others through hardneſs of heart do not ſo much as diſcern which are dead works, which not, in matters of worſhip. Others do not know the true difference, between that which is dead and that which is Living: but death (unknown to them) lives and reigns in their very knowledg and apprehenſions of things; ever in their faith, in their duties, yea in all they believe and perform to God. For as Paul was alive without the Law once, even when he walked according to the Letter of the Law blameleſs; ſo all ſorts are now dead, in the midſt of all their Knowledges and practiſes from the Letter (how much alive ſoever they may ſeem to themſelves therein) till they come to the miniſtration of the ſpirit. For the Letter killeth, but the ſpirit quickeneth or giveth Life, 2 Cor. 3. 6. and ver. 3. This therefore is the work of a true miniſter, to beget into the ſpirit and into the Life. But ah, how little do men know what dead works are, and what it is truly to witneſs repentance from them! Men out of Gods Spirit, Light and Power, are ſo far from repenting for them, that they do not ſo much as rightly diſtinguiſh and diſcern them; but take that for living which is dead; kindling a fire of themſelves, and compaſſing themſelves about with ſparks, thinking the warmth thereof to be the true warmth. Now if men are not come to the true repentance from dead works, much leſs are they come to the true Faith towards God; and ſo are yet in their ſins, yet out of Chriſt, having never learned of the Father to come to him; and ſo are ſtill in Egypts ſpirit, in Egypts wiſdom; and in that, hold their Religion: and whenever God appears in his Spirit and Power, he will not be that to them which they expect; but a dreadful ſtroke from him will come upon all their wayes and worſhips, which are as abominable to God, as they are pleaſing to them. But alas, to what end are words to that Ear, to that Spirit, which is like the Deaf Adder, which will not hearken to the voice of the charmer, charm he never ſo wiſely! Could the Letter-learned Scribes and Phariſees hear the voice of Chriſt, in the dayes of his fleſh? Nay, they could not in that gain-ſaying ſpirit. Can the Letter-learned Profeſſors in the ſame ſpirit, hear the Voice of Chriſts Spirit now? Nay, they cannot. And they that cannot hear the voice of the ſecond

Adam,

Adam, the voice of the quickening Spirit, the voice of him who gives Life to the Soul; how can they live? and if they first receive not Life from Christ, how can they perform any Living Action to God? how can they worship in the Spirit & in the Living Truth? Who are not gathered into the Spirit & into the Living Truth? O that men could consider aright of these things, and wait on the Lord for the true understanding of them: for without the true Knowledg of God and Christ (without that knowledge which is Life eternal) men must needs perish. It cannot be otherwise; For the true knowledg only saves: and therefore they which have it not must needs perish.

II.

Concerning the Law of Christ.

And the Isles shall wait for his Law, Isa. 42. 4.

WHat is that Law, which the Isles were, and are to wait for it? Is not the Grace and Truth which comes by Jesus Christ: even the Grace in the inward parts, the Truth in the inward parts? The Law outward was given by Moses to the outward Jews: but Grace and Truth comes by Jesus Christ. That is the Law of the Jew inward, which the Isles of the Gentiles were to wait for.

The Apostle holdeth forth Christ to be the Souls master (he is the Shepherd, Lord, King and Bishop of the soul) to whom every one must give an account: Now what must men give an account to him of? Is it not of the Grace and Truth which comes by him? If any man hath received that, Obeyed that, Believing the sound, Report and Voice of that, and so loved and followed it; will it not be said unto him, well done good and faithful servant? But if any one hath neglected and despised the Grace (not improving the Talent, but improving his own Natural Abilities, while God's Talent lay wrapped up in a napkin and hid in the Earth) will not that Person be judged a slothful servant, as to improving the Talent, whatever he hath been as to improving his own Natural parts and abilities?

Now mind: If Christ be an inward, a spiritual master, what is his Law but the inward teachings of his spirit? A Prophet shall the Lord your God raise up unto you, like unto me, him shall ye hear in all things: and he that will not hear him, how secure and confident soever he may seem to himself of his state at present, yet it shall come to pass, that he shall be cut off and destroyed from among Gods People. Are not the Words, the Voice, the motions, the leadings, the drawings, the commands of his spirit the Law to all that are spiritual? Doth not he say to one go, and he goeth? and to another come, and he cometh; to another do this, and he doth it? Heres the Glory of the great Lord and King, and of the great high-Priest over the household of God; in that he giveth forth Precepts according to his holy will and pleasure, and all his sheep know his Voice and follow him, and all his Children and servants Observe and Obey him.

If we live in the spirit, let us also walk in the spirit, said the holy Apostle. Here's the limits of the Children of the new Covenant: here's the Law of Life (the Law of the spirit of Life in Christ Jesus) the Law of the new Covenant, written in the heart, which none can read but with the new eye. The Children of the flesh may read the Letter, and comprehend concerning the Letter, and gather Rules and Observations out of the Letter: but the Children of the new Covenant alone can read the Law of Life in the heart. And this Law 'tis the path of Life, the Path of all that are renewed by God's Spirit; which the Jew inward is to read diligently and to have his delight therein, and to meditate thereon Day and Night. And this Law is Light; true Light, pure Light, spiritual Light, yea the Light which is eternal and never varies; and the Commandment which comes therefrom is a Lamp, which they that receive know it to be no less than Life everlasting: for indeed the commandments of Christ's Spirit are felt to be so. Now this Commandment, this Law, this Light shines in the Darkness at first, but afterwards out of the Darkness more and more (as it is believed, received, obeyed and walked in) unto the perfect day; see Prov. 4. 18, 19.

Quest. But how may I wait for, come to know and receive this Law? I am not of the stock of the Jews Natural, but of the Isles of the Gentiles: how may I meet with and receive the Law of Life from Christ, or the Grace and Truth which comes by him?

Answ. The way of receiving it, is to mind that which enlightens and renews the mind, drawing it out of the Nature and Spirit of this world, and out of the Waies, Worships, Knowledg and Customes thereof, into that which seasons it otherwise, and opens it another way. Now here the Grace is met with, here the Truth is met with, here the Spirit of Life is met with; here the inward Change is felt, and the new Law written in the heart and Spirit. And here the mind comes to prove and know what is that Good, that Acceptable and Perfect Will of God. For God is the Teacher in the new Covenant: and his teachings are here, ever in that which he renews. He gathereth into his Spirit, and he teacheth those that abide in his Spirit, and giveth unto them Eternal Life, Eternal Virtue, Eternal Nourishment in, and from, his Spirit. But they that may be great searchers into the Letter, and comprehenders from the Letter, and practisers according to their apprehensions of the Letter (not being gathered into nor reading in the Spirit) they miss of Eternal Life, and of the redeeming Arm and Power, and are not saved from Sin by the blood of Christ, but are yet in transgression, darkness and Death even untill now. The Lord, who knoweth all things make manifest their estate and conditions unto them, that they perish not for ever, but may learn of the Father to know the Son, and of the Son to know the Father, and come to witness true Life manifested in their own hearts, that they may have fellowship with the Father and Son therein. For he that is not turned from Darkness, unto Light (from the Darkness within, in his own heart unto the Light which God causeth to shine there) doth not yet know Christ Livingly and savingly: but is only in the Notions and comprehensions concerning him, which cannot save. For it is the Life and Power of the Lord Jesus Christ, inwardly revealed against the Power of Sin and Death, which is alone able to save therefrom.

Now consider with your selves (all who would not be deceived in this matter) have ye known this Law? have ye received it in measure, and do ye wait to know and receive it daily more and more? Then are ye Christians indeed, and in the house of Jacob, which walk in the Light of the Lord, and in the Light of the holy City, whose Light, the Lamb is. But without this Law, without this light, without the inward writing of God's Spirit in your hearts, ye cannot be inward Jews, nor Children of the new Covenant.

These are weighty things, and to be considered weightily and weighed in the ballance of the Sanctuary. O wait to know what it is to go into the Sanctuary, and to weigh things there, in the Ballance thereof, which exactly and infallibly weigheth and determineth what ever is brought thither. For, of a truth, ye cannot understand any Scripture aright, which treateth of any Spiritual and heavenly Mystery, but as ye are taught of God to bring it unto the Ballance of the Sanctuary, and to weigh it there: where all your own apprehensions, meanings, and conceptions will fall, and the mind and intent of God's Spirit be alone owned and justified. Ah, what a vast difference there is, between weighing men's apprehensions and conceivings upon Scriptures in the ballance of their own understanding, and weighing them in the true ballance! In the former are all the erring judgments: but in the Latter is the true, unerring judgment of God's own Spirit, in the light which is Eternal, which judgment will stand for ever?

III.

A brief Relation concerning my ſelf in Reference to what hath befallen me in my purſuit after Truth.

I Was acquainted with a ſpring of life from my Childhood, which enlightened me in my tender years, and pointed my heart towards the Lord, begetting true ſenſe in me, and Faith and Hope, and Love, and Humility, and Meekneſs, &c. ſo that indeed I was a wonder to ſome that knew me, becauſe of the ſavour and life of Religion which dwelt in my heart, and appeared in my Converſation.

But I never dur'ſt truſt the ſpring of my Life and the ſpringings up of Life therefrom: but, in reading the Scriptures, gathered what knowledg I could therefrom; and ſet this over the ſpring and ſpringings of Life in me, and indeed judged that I ought ſo to do.

Notwithſtanding which, the Lord was very tender and merciful to me, helping me to pray, and helping me to underſtand the Scriptures, and opening and warming my heart every day.

And truly, my Soul was very near the Lord, and my heart was made and preſerved very low and humble before him, and very ſenſible of his Rich Love and Mercy to me in the Lord Jeſus Chriſt: as I did daily from my heart cry Grace, Grace unto him in every thing my Soul received, and partook of, from him.

Indeed I did never look to have been ſo broken, ſhattered and diſtreſſed, as I afterwards was: and could by no means underſtand the meaning thereof, my heart truly and earneſtly deſiring after the Lord, and not having the ſenſe of any Guilt upon me. Divers came to ſee mee, ſome to enquire into, and conſider of my condition; others to bewail it, and (if poſſibly) adminiſter ſome relief, help and comfort to me: and divers were the judgments they had concerning me. Some would ſay, it was deep melancholy. Others would narrowly ſearch and enquire how and in what manner, and in what way I had walked; and were jealous that I had ſinned againſt the Lord, and provoked him ſome way or other, and that ſome Iniquity lay as a load upon me. But after through converſe with me they would ſtill expreſs that they were of another mind, and that the hand of the Lord was in it, and it was an eminent caſe, and would end in good to my Soul.

At that time when I was broken and daſhed to pieces in my Religion, I was in a congregational way: but ſoon after parted with them, yet in great love; Relating to them how the hand of the Lord was upon me, and how I was ſmitten in the inward part of my Religion, and could not now hold up an outward form of that which I inwardly wanted, having loſt my God, my Chriſt, my Faith, my Knowledg, my Life, my All. And ſo we parted very Lovingly, I wiſhing them well, even the preſence of that God, whom I wanted, promiſing to return to them again, if ever I met with that which my Soul wanted, and had clearneſs in the Lord ſo to do.

After I was parted from them, I never joyned to any way or people, but lay mourning day and Night, pleading with the Lord why he had forſaken me, and why I ſhould be made ſo miſerable through my Love to him and ſincere deſires after him. For truly I can ſay, I had not been capable of ſo much miſery, as my Soul lay in for many years, had not my love been ſo deep and true towards the Lord my God, and my deſires ſo great after the ſenſible injoyment of his Spirit, according to the promiſe and way of the Goſpel. Yet this I can alſo ſay, in uprightneſs of heart: It was not gifts I deſired to appear and ſhine before men in; but Grace and Holineſs, and the Spirit of the Lord dwelling in me to act my heart by his Grace, and to Preſerve me in holineſs.

Now indeed, the Lord at length had compaſſion on me and viſited me, though in a time and way wherein I expected him not: nor was I willing (as to the Natural part) to have that the way, which God shewed me to be the way. But the Lord opened my eye, and that which I knew to be of him in me closed with it and owned it, and the pure Seed was raised by his Power, and my heart taught to know and own the Seed, and to bow and worship before the Lord in the pure Power, which was then in my heart. So that, of a Truth, I sensibly knew and felt my Saviour, and was taught by him to take up the Cross, and to deny that Understanding, Knowledg and Wisdom, which had so long stood in my way: and then I learned that lesson (being really taught it of the Lord) what it is indeed to become a fool for Christs sake; I cannot say but I had learned somwhat of it formerly: but I never knew how to keep to what I had learned, till that day.

And then God shewed me (by degrees, as he nurtured me up in the heavenly sense and experience of his Spirit) the workings of the good in me and the workings of the subtilty: and how himself had in time past taught me to pray, and to understand the Scriptures, and to believe in his Son, and know some things aright: but withall, how a knowledg and understanding of another Nature had crept in, and gained ground upon me (which indeed I knew not how to distinguish throughly from the other and watch against) and so the Truth came not to live in me, nor I to live in that, according to the earnest desire and Travel of of my Soul.

But now, of a truth, by this Blessed visitation of the everlasting Gospel, the Lord hath at length brought me back to the same spring I was acquainted with at first, and joyned my heart in true sense and understanding to it: so that the Life that I live is by the springing up of Life in me, and I know the Lord my God by being daily taught by him so to do, and I love him by feeling my heart Circumcised and Constrained through the New Nature thereunto: and truly it is not Natural to the Good Seed in me, and to my Soul in and through the same to trust my Father, and to suffer any thing that he requires of me, who freely giveth me both to do and to suffer; for indeed I live not of my self, but by a continual gift and quickening of Life in my heart.

And, O that others also could come to hear the testimony of Truth and Life from God's holy Spirit, and be turned thereby to the pure Principle and Spirit of Life it self (which many formerly had a true tast of, but are now turned aside to another Nature and Spirit, though they themselves know it not) that they might witness the Gospel-Power, and know the Spiritual and heavenly Jerusalem, and suck at her breasts and be dandled on her knee, who is the Mother and bringer up of all that are truly Living.

III.

A Question about preaching the everlasting Gospel, answered.

Quest. HOw is the everlasting Gospel (wherein Christ is truly made known, and Salvation really witnessed in the hearts of those that receive it) preached at this day; how hath the Lord appointed it to be preached, and how is it preached, and how may men come to hear it, that their Souls may live? Are, not they blessed that hear the joyful sound thereof? Are not they wretched and miserable, and blind and naked, who mistake and miss concerning that sound of it, which it pleaseth the Spirit of the Lord to give forth in this day?

It is wonderful to consider how the Truth, the Gospel, the Life, the Power which saves, is one and the same in all Ages and Generations; and yet still hid from the wise, prudent, professing eye, in every Age and Generation.

Now let me speak a few words to this thing; not only from what I have felt in my heart, but have also read in the Scriptures of Truth.

Answ. The Gospel, after the Apostacy, is thus to be Preached, fear God and give Glory

Glory to him, for the hour of his Judgment is come: and worship him that made Heaven and Earth, &c. Rev. 14. 6, 7. He that knoweth the preacher that Preacheth this, he that hath heard this preached in his own heart, he that hath met with that fear which Gods Spirit teacheth and giveth, he that hath known the hour of Gods Judgment, and had the Axe laid to the Root of the corrupt Tree, and hath been taught by the Son to Worship the Father in Spirit and Truth; he hath without doubt met with the Gospel, the Everlasting Gospel: and if God require of such an one, and assist him by his spirit and power to Preach this to others, he is a Preacher of the Everlasting Gospel, and an able Minister of the New Testament, not of the Letter, but of the Spirit. But all should take heed of Preaching their own Formings and Conceivings upon the Letter (as too many do in this day who Reproach, Revile and Persecute the Life and Power,) for that falls short of true Preaching the Letter.

O that these things were weighty upon mens spirits, that they might learn aright to search and understand the Scriptures, and know how the Father hath revealed the Son in this day, and how to come to him to receive Life from him: for many (who seem knowing) through Ignorance mistake in this matter, and so run on in their own Wills, Wisdoms and Comprehension of things, and miss of the drawings of the Father, & so come not aright to the Son, but only according to what they themselves imagine and apprehend, from what they have gathered & conceived upon the Scriptures.

God, who commanded Light to shine in this outward world hath judged it necessary to cause the Light of his Spirit to shine inwardly in mens hearts: and this gives the knowledg of the Scriptures, and the true sense and discerning of inward and Spiritual things; yea here the Son is known, and his blood felt cleansing, which without the Scriptures do not make manifest, but in this the Scriptures are a clear and Faithful record of, and testimony to. Men had need take heed how they read and how they understand the Scriptures (in what Light, in what Spirit;) for it is easy erring, but without the presence and guidance of God herein, men cannot walk safely. And truly it is great presumption in any man to read the Scriptures boldly, without fear and reverence to him who is the Author of them, or to put any of his meanings and conceivings upon God's Words; which it is hard for him to forbear doing, who readeth them in the liberty of his own Spirit, out of the Light of God's Spirit, which is the limit and yoke of the true Readers and Understanders of the Scriptures.

V.

Concerning Christ's Ministry or Priest-Hood.

CHrist is made by God a Minister or High-Priest, over the Spiritual Israel of God; Not after the Law of a Carnal Commandment, but after the Power of an endless Life (as Heb. 7. 16. and Chap. 8. 2.) and he Ministers with his Spirit and Power unto, and in all his. So that he that knows Christ's Ministry, knows the Power, the Life, the Spirit in which he Ministers: But he that is not acquainted with these, is yet to learn to know Christ aright, and to believe in him unto life and Salvation, which are Wrapped up, Comprehended, Revealed, and Communicated in the Power wherewith he Ministers. For the very beginning of Christ's Ministry, is in the Spirit and Power of God, whereby he Redeems out of the Spirit and Power of Satan: and to this Men are to be turned, if they will Witness Salvation by Jesus Christ; even to the Light and Power of God's Holy Spirit, which breaks the Darkness, and Strength of the Kingdom of Satan in the Heart. For indeed, all litteral Professions, Beliefs, Knowledges, and Practises, out of the Life and Power, Satan can Transform himself into, and uphold, and maintain his Kingdom under, in the Hearts of Men: but the inward Light, and Power of Life breaks it, where the Minds of People are by the Spirit of the Lord turned thereto, and Subjected under its Rule and Government.

Concerning the True Knowledge of Chriſt.

IT was ſaid in the Time of the Prophets, under the Miniſtration of the Law, that The Prieſt's Lips ſhould keep Knowledge, and they (that is, the outward Iſrael, Iſrael after the Fleſh) ſhould feel the Law at his Mouth; for he is the Meſſenger of the Lord of Hoſts, Mal. 1. 7. And, Doth not Chriſt our High-Prieſt, and Apoſtle of our Profeſſion, keep all his Peoples Knowledge? And, Are they not all to ſeek the Law of Life, the Law of the New-Covenant at his Mouth? Is not he the Meſſenger of the Covenant, who brings Tidings of the Covenant of Life and Peace; and muſt not the Soul that will Live, hear him? Iſa. 55. 1, 2, 3. Is not he the ſealed, and ſent One of the Father, to open the blind Eye, and to bring the Priſoner out of the Pit? Is not he the Shepherd of the Spiritual Flock? Are not ſuch as are called out of the World (and Sanctified by him) his Sheep? And are not all his Sheep to hear his Voice, and follow him? Is not he the Prophet like Moſes, appointed by God, for all the Spiritual Iſrael to hear in all things? (Is not his Spirit to Teach, and Lead into all Truth? Can any elſe Lead into Truth? or can any come into Truth, unleſs they be Led?) And they that will not hear the Voice of his Spirit in theſe latter Days (ſeeing God in theſe laſt Days ſpeaketh by his Son, and ſaith to all the true Diſciples, and Followers of the Lamb, Hear ye Him.) Are they not to be cut off from the Comforts of his Spirit, from the pure Refreſhments of his Spirit, from the Life of his Spirit, and from the Living Iſrael, and ſo to be Numbred among the Dead and Unredeemed?

Chriſt ſaith, I am the Way, the Truth, and the Life. It is he alone that is the Living Way, which Leads to the Father. Now, How is Chriſt the Way to the Father? How is he the Truth? How is he the Life? Is he ſo by any litteral, and outward Knowledge of him: or, by the Inward, Spiritual, and Living Knowledge of him? They that know his Spirit, know the Way; and they that walk in his Spirit, walk in the Way: this is moſt certain. They that walk not in the Oldneſs of the Letter, but in the Newneſs, and Life of the Spirit, they walk in the New, and Living Way. How is the Letter Old? and how is the Spirit New? How is Chriſt known after the Fleſh, and ſo to be known no more? And, How is he known after the Spirit, and ſo to be known for Ever? Man is but Fleſh, and his Knowledge and Underſtanding of things of his own fetching, from the litteral Relation and Deſcriptions of them, is but the Knowledge of the Fleſhly part: but there is a New Eye, a New Underſtanding, a New Heart and Mind, to which the Father Reveals him: and that Knowledge which this New Birth Receives of the Father, that is Spiritual, True, Pure, Heavenly, Living Knowledge. And ſo the Children of the Kingdom are to dwell in that Light, wherein the Father Reveals the things of the Kingdom: and this differenceth them from all the litteral knowers of the things of God, upon the Face of the Earth. Now this is it, which ſatisfieth my Heart, concerning my Knowledge of the Things of God; even that I have ſo Learned to know Chriſt, and to Believe in him (and to repent from dead Works, and to Obey him, and Suffer for him) as I could never have Learned, unleſs the Father himſelf had Taught me. And now ſeeing, and partaking of the Difference, I cannot but Teſtify againſt all Dead Teachings, unto the Spirits Teaching, which is Living: knowing aſſuredly, that no other Teaching or Learning the things of God will amount to true Knowledge, or be owned in the Day of the Lord, but that which is of, and in the Spirit.

VII.

A few Words more Concerning the Right Way of Knowing, as it is Witneſſed unto, in the Scriptures, and Experienced in the Hearts of thoſe that Truely, and Livingly Know the Lord.

Wiſdom is Juſtified of her Children, ſaid Chriſt, Mat. 11. 19. Now, Who is Wiſdom? What is Wiſdom? Is it not the Heavenly Mother of all the Living? It is the Spirit which begets all, who are truly Begotten to the Lord? Now, Where, and into What doth he Beget them? In the Earthly Nature, in the Earthly Wiſdom, in the Earthly Spirit; or out of it, in, and into that which is Heavenly.

Now, all that are of this Heavenly Begetting, and Birth, they know (own and juſtify) that Wiſdon, wherein they are Begotten. They juſtify the Nature of Truth, the Light of Truth, the Life of Truth, the Power of Truth, the Appearance of Truth in their Age and Generation. The falſe Birth will own, and juſtify the Words of Truth which were formerly ſpoken, and the former Appearances thereof (as the Scribes and Phariſees did Moſes, and the Prophets, who denyed Chriſt, who was Truth, and ſpake Truth beyond them:) But the True Birth knoweth, and juſtifieth the preſent Words, and the preſent Appearances of Truth, which the falſe Birth ſtill ſlighteth and deſpiſeth.

If any Man therefore will judge aright, concerning the things of God, he muſt be ſure to be of the true Birth (a Child of the true Wiſdom) and that he keep to that Nature, Spirit, and Birth, to which God giveth the diſcerning. For there is an eye of diſcerning, and way of diſcerning, which is a Gift: and he that will know aright, and judg aright, muſt keep to the Gift of Light, the Gift of Grace, the Gift of the Spirit, the Gift of the Holy Anointing; and be watchful, and careful to judg in it, and take heed of judging out of it. For though a Man be come to a Spiritual State, and hath Received the Gift of Grace, Knowledg, and Diſcerning: yet if he be not watchful to keep to the Gift, he may eaſily err, and judg amiſs.

VIII.

Concerning Chriſt's Righteouſneſs, which is the Righteouſneſs of all his Saints.

CHriſt is the Head, his Saints the Body: and they do not all partake of one Nature, one Spirit, one Vertue, one Life, one Righteouſneſs? Doth not Chriſt give them of his own Righteouſneſs, even of the Righteouſneſs which his Father gave him? And is not that Righteouſneſs which Chriſt giveth them, their Righteouſneſs? What was Chriſt's Righteouſneſs? Was it not the Righteouſneſs of God Revealed in him, Communicated to him, and made his? And what is their Righteouſneſs? Is not the ſame Righteouſneſs Revealed in them, Communicated to them, and made theirs, in, and by Chriſt? Are not they made partakers of the Divine Nature, in, and through him, and made the Righteouſneſs of God in him? Chriſt Truſted his Father, and Obeyed his Father in all things. Now was not that an effect of the Righteous Nature, and Spirit of his Father in him? He became Obedient unto Death, even the Death of the Croſs. And, O how was his Father pleaſed therewith! Did not he ſay to him, as to Abraham in the like caſe? Becauſe thou haſt done this thing, in Bleſſing, I will Bleſs thee, and in Multiplying, I will Multiply thy Seed, and thou ſhalt ſee of the Travel of thy Soul, and be ſatisfied: For thou ſhalt not only gather the Diſperſed of Iſrael, but Inherit the Gentiles alſo, And have the uttermoſt parts of the Earth, for thy Poſſeſſion.

was

Conſider now ſeriouſly, in God's Fear; Is Chriſt's Obedience to the Law of Moſes, the Saints Evangelical Righteouſneſs? Or is his Righteouſneſs Revealed in them, from Faith to Faith? Was his being Circumciſed Outwardly, their Circumciſion? Or is his Inward Circumciſing them, their Circumciſion? Which of theſe is the Goſpel-Circumciſion: the Circumciſing of his Fleſh Outwardly, or the Circumciſiing of their Hearts Inwardly? Again, Was his being Outwardly Baptized, their Baptiſm? Or is the Inward Baptiſm of the Spirit, the Goſpel-Baptiſm? Doth he not fulfil the Righteouſneſs of the Law of the Spirit of Life in them, who believe in his Spirit and Power, and walk not after the Fleſh, but after the Spirit? Was not Chriſt juſtified in the Spirit? And are not all his juſtified in the Spirit alſo? Whatſoever is of God, whatſoever is Wrought in God, doth not God Juſtify? Is not the Perſon here Juſtified, the Faith Juſtified, the Works Juſtified with the Juſtification of Life, and of God's Holy Spirit, from whence they proceed? And here Chriſt's Words are verified, He that doth Truth, cometh to the Light, that his Deeds may be Manifeſt, that they are Wrought in God, Joh. 3. 21. And are not his Deeds then Juſtified? He that is United to the Spirit of God (and acquainted with the Spirit of God, and knows his Voice) hears, and ſees, and feels, and underſtands what God Condemns, and alſo what he Juſtifies; who never Condemns any thing that ariſeth from himſelf, and is wrought in himſelf: but only that which cometh from the Fleſh, and is wrought in the Fleſh. And here he ſees (in the True Light) what Faith is imputed for Righteouſneſs, and what Faith is ſhut out; and what Works are accounted Righteous, and what Works are ſhut out: and how Enoch Walked with God, in the Righteous Spirit and Life, and was therein Juſtified: and how Noah built an Ark in the Faith, being moved with Fear, and was therein with his Family Saved. So Abel Sacrificed in the Faith, By which he obtained Witneſs, that he was Righteous, God Teſtifying of his Gifts, Heb. 11. 4. Mark, his Sacrifice, his Gift came from a Righteous Spirit, and ſo the Righteous God Teſtified of his Gift: and ſuch are all the Sacrifices now, that are Offered up in God's Spirit, and in the True Faith. And ſo he alſo ſeeth how Abraham (the Father of the Faithful) was Juſtified by Works, Jam. 2. 21. and how God was pleaſed with him, becauſe he had done that thing, of Offering up his only Son at God's Command. Alſo Phinehas his Zeal for the Lord, in Executing Judgment, was highly eſteemed of the Lord, and Was counted to him for Righteouſneſs, unto all Generations for evermore, Pſal. 106. 30, 31.

But Alas! How do Men miſtake about the Righteouſneſs of Chriſt, about the Goſpel-Righteouſneſs; and in effect, make it but the Righteouſneſs of the Law, but the Righteouſneſs of the Old-Covenant, performed in the perſon of another for us, and imputed to us? Whereas it is the Righteouſneſs of another Covenant, even of the New and Living Covenant, which the Lord Jeſus Chriſt Worketh, both in us, and for us. Now whoever receiveth this Righteouſneſs from him, and is Cloathed with it by him, he findeth it to be the Righteouſneſs of the Goſpel, the New and Living Righteouſneſs, the True and Everlaſting Righteouſneſs, both of the Father and Son, which the Souls of thoſe that truly believe, partake of in them, and with them.

Now conſider a Scripture or two, to Evidence this further.

The Apoſtle ſaith, 2 Cor. 3. 17, 18. The Lord is that Spirit (the Lord Jeſus is the Second Adam, the quickening Spirit) in whom the Vail is done away, ver. 15. And ſo the true Chriſtian (in whom the Vail is done away, who is come into the true liberty of the Spirit) With open Face, beholding as in a Mirrour, the Glory of the Lord, is Changed into the ſame Image.

Now mind: if man be changed into the heavenly Image; if he partake of Chriſts

Image;

Image is he not made righteous, and become truly righteous therein? Was not the Image of the firſt Adam Holy and Righteous? and is not the Image of the ſecond Adam Holy and Righteous alſo? and are not they that are changed from the Image of Sin and Satan, into Chriſts Image, Holy and Righteous in that Image? Are they not changed from Unrighteouſneſs to Righteouſneſs? and is not this Image, whereinto they are changed, and wherein they are new created by God, their Righteouſneſs? Whoever is Ingraffed into Chriſt, is he not Ingrafted into Righteouſneſs? (Cut off from Unrighteouſneſs, and Ingraffed into Righteouſneſs; even into the Righteous Nature and Spirit of the Lamb?) And doth he not partake of the Righteouſneſs of the Vine or Olive-Tree, into which he is ingrafted? And doth not that become his Righteouſneſs? If the root be holy, then are alſo the Branches: and if the Root be Righteous, ſo are alſo the Branches: and that is the Righteouſneſs and Holineſs of the Branches, which they have from the Root.

The other Scripture is that of Eph. 4. 22, 23, 24. which ſpeaks of putting off the Old man, which is corrupt according to the deceitful luſts; and of being renewed in the ſpirit of the mind, and putting on the New Man, which after God is created in Righteouſneſs and true Holineſs. Mark, here's the New Creation. Now conſider well, what is the Holineſs and Righteouſneſs of the New Creation? Is not that which is put off, Old, Corrupt, Unholy, Unrighteous? is not that which is put on, New, Holy, Righteous: even the Image before ſpoken of, Chriſt the Heavenly Image, the New Man, which is created and formed in man? and then God owneth ſuch to be his People, Iſa. 51. 16.

No man can do that which is Righteous, but he that firſt partakes of Gods Righteous Nature and Spirit. The Tree muſt firſt be good, before the Fruit can be ſo. A man muſt firſt be renewed and made Righteous, before he can bring forth Righteouſneſs. So that he that doth bring forth Righteouſneſs, without doubt he is inwardly renewed, without doubt he is inwardly Righteous. Did the Gentiles do by Nature the things contained in the Law? Then without doubt, they were Partakers of another Nature than the Old Corrupt Nature, which is not ſubject to the Law of God, neither indeed can be. Little Children, let no man deceive you: he that doth Righteouſneſs, is Righteous, even as he is Righteous, 1 Joh. 3. 7. This is the true and weighty Judgement of Gods Spirit: and he that Judgeth otherwiſe, is deceived, and erreth in this particular; and ſheweth that he doth not yet know Gods Righteouſneſs, and Chriſts Righteouſneſs, which is one and the ſame. For, If ye know that he is Righteous, ye know that every one that doeth Righteouſneſs is born of him, 1 Joh. 2. 29. Mark, the New Birth precedes the doing of Righteouſneſs: and the doing of Righteouſneſs is a certain evidence of the New Birth. He that doth Righteouſneſs is Born of God: this Fruit can ariſe from no other, but the Pure, Living, Heavenly Root.

IX.

Of the Grace of the Goſpel.

THe Prophets of Old, propheſied of the ſufferings of Chriſt, and the Glory that ſhould follow, 1 Pet. 1. 10, 11. Now what was the Glory which ſhould follow? Was it not the ſetting up Chriſts Inward and Inviſible Kingdom in the hearts of men? Was it not Gods abundant pouring out his Spirit, and filling Veſſels therewith: ſo that the Spirit of Grace and of Glory ſhould reſt upon Believers, as it had done upon Chriſt? was it not Gods Tabernacling in men, and becoming their God, and making them his People? was it not the fulfilling the precious promiſes concerning the Goſpel-State, whereby men ſhould be made partakers of the Divine Nature (of the Heavenly Image) and be changed from Glory to Glory, by the renewing Spirit and Power? Was it not to have Fellowſhip with Chriſt, not only in his Sufferings and Death, but alſo in his Reſurrection and Kingdom:

where the Bread and Wine of the Kingdom is Eaten and Drank, and the Feaſt of Fat things partook of? Is it not a Glorious State to be tranſlated out of the Kingdom of Darkneſs, into the Kingdom of the Dear Son? and to dwell with Chriſt in the Kingdom; and ſup there with him, and he with them? to have Fellowſhip (Pure Fellowſhip, Living Fellowſhip) with the Father and the Son, that the bleſſedneſs and Joy of the Soul in the Goſpel-State may be full?

The Law was a Miniſtration of ſhadows: for under it were the various and many ſhadows of the good things to come, which were to be poſſeſſed and enjoyed in the dayes of the Goſpel. In the Law there was an outward people (the Jews outward) an outward Covenant, an outward Land of bleſſings, plenty and reſt; an outward Sion, outward Jeruſalem, outward Temple, outward Ark, outward Table, outward Laver, outward Candleſticks, outward Lamps, outward Oyl, outward Anointing, outward Circumciſion and Sacrifices, outward New-Moons and Sabbaths, outward Kings, outward Prieſts, and outward Victories over outward Enemies, &c.

But now, in the Goſpel, there is the ſubſtance of theſe things inwardly revealed, and inwardly poſſeſſed and enjoyed: even the Jew inward (the New Man of the heart) an inward Covenant of Life and Peace, an inward Land of Bleſſedneſs, of Reſt, an inward Sabbath or day of Goſpel-Reſt (which the true Believer keepeth in the Faith, not bearing any Burden, kindling any Fire, nor doing any work of the Fleſh therein) an inward Sion, an inward Jeruſalem or Holy City, an inward Temple (in which the Holy of Holyes) an inward Ark in which the Law of Life is treaſured up, inward Table, inward Laver, inward Candleſtick, inward Lamp, inward Oyl, inward Anointing, inward Circumciſion and Sacrifices, and ſolemn ſeaſons, the inward King of Glory, inward Prophet and Prieſt known, even Chriſt within, who giveth Victories and dominion over the inward Enemies, and giveth his to partake of his Kingdom, and Prieſt-hood, Rev. 1. 6. Yea and (by his Spirit poured out upon them) maketh his Seers and Prophets alſo, as it is written, I will pour out my ſpirit upon upon all Fleſh, and your Sons and your Daughters ſhall Propheſy.

Now, was not this fulfilled after the ſufferings of Chriſt in the Fleſh? (and is it not daily more and more fulfilled, as the ſufferings of Chriſt, which are yet behind, are filled up in his Body the Church?) Did not the Glory then ſucceed? Was not the Goſpel-Spirit and Power then revealed and beſtowed? and did it not bring into the Goſpel-Sate? Were not the Precious Promiſes fulfilled therein? (2 Pet. 1. 5, 6.) Are they not all Yea and Amen in Chriſt? Is not the Vail or Covering taken away in him? Is not the Glory Revealed in him? Is not the Lord one and his Name one in him? Is there not Glory then in the Higheſt, on Earth Peace, and good Will among men, as well as good Will in God towards men? Where's then the Enmity and Wars; the Luſts and Fightings? Where's the envy of Judah or Ephraim, or the vexing one another here? Are not theſe things drowned in the Love and in the Peace, in the Life and in the Power which is revealed in the Goſpel-State, and ſprings up in the Goſpel-Spirit? they know not what ſpirit they are of, who would have fire come down from Heaven upon the Diſobedient and Gainſayers. To be ſure, they are not of the Goſpel-Spirit, not of Chriſts Spirit, who came not to deſtroy mens lives, but to ſeek and ſave that which was loſt, and to overcome by the overflowings of his Love and tender Viſits of his Life. And how do his Children make War in this day? Is it not with Innocency, with Meekneſs, with Patience, with Bowels of Love, with Long-ſuffering, with Truth, with Righteouſneſs, like the followers of the Lamb, like the Children of him who abounds therein? Indeed there is a Sword given, there is a threſhing Inſtrument, there are Darts and Arrows to be ſhot in the hearts of the Kings Enemies: (Pſal. 45. 3, 4, 5.) But it is not to deſtroy the Creature, but rather to ſmite and wound that Spirit which Captivates it, that the Creature may witneſs Deliverance and Freedom therefrom: though it is true; that they that joyn with that Spirit, muſt partake of its Judgments and Plagues, even to Deſtruction, if they ſo continue.

Now this Glory is wrapped up in the Grace which is Miniſtred by the Goſpel:

and where the Grace is ſown, the Glory is ſown, (there is a true ſeed of the Glory) and where Grace abounds, the Glory abounds. It was ſaid concerning the firſt gathering of Chriſtians by the Apoſtles, that great Grace was upon them all, Acts 4. 33. and indeed, it was a precious and glorious ſtate, which they were gathered into and brought forth in. Now the grace is revealed again, the grace is poured forth again, the grace hath appeared, teaching and bringing Salvation again; doth it not behove every one to know it and partake of it? not to be content with words concerning the grace, but to know the grace it ſelf, receiving it from the hand of him that giveth it, and hearing the Voice, Reproofes and Inſtructions of it? Hear, and your ſouls ſhall Live. Whom ſhould they hear? Are they not to hear Chriſt, the great Prophet? How ſhall they hear Chriſt? Is there any other way, then by hearing his Grace teaching them? then by hearkening to the meaſure of the gift of Grace, which is by Jeſus Chriſt? The Law was given by Moſes (all his People, all his Children, all his Family were to come under the Law, to be governed by the Law.) Grace and Truth comes by Jeſus Chriſt. (All his Children, all his People, all his Family are to come under the Grace, to be governed by the Grace,) who is faithful in all his Houſe, diſpencing of his Grace and Truth to all his, as Moſes did of the Law (Committed to him) to all under him. So then, all that deſire to be truly Chriſtians, let them wait to know, what the Grace and Truth which Chriſt giveth is, and to partake of it and come under it: under its Teachings, under its Influences, under its Protection, under its Government (by being ſubject to it; and in every thing guided by it) that they may know what that Scripture means, in the true and weighty experiences: Sin ſhall not have dominion over you, for ye are not under the Law, but under Grace, Rom. 6. 14.

X.

A Queſtion Anſwered concerning real Holineſs.

Queſt. ARe not Perſons to be really holy (really ſanctified in Chriſt Jeſus) who would be received by the Lord, and enjoy fellowſhip with him as Sons and Daughters, in the Goſpel of his Son?

Anſw. Under the Law, that People of the Jews were to be ſeparated from the heathen, to be outwardly Circumciſed and cleanſed by the Water and Blood of Purifying (which ſanctifyed to the Purifying of the fleſh) and not to touch any dead or unclean thing: for any ſuch thing polluted them, and thoſe that were unclean muſt be kept without the Camp, as unfit for the holy Communion with God and his people, till cleanſed.

Now what did this ſignify? Did it not ſignify that pure and clean ſtate inwardly, which God requireth under the Goſpel? Did it not ſignify the inward Circumciſion of the heart and ſpirit before the Lord, and the cleanſing of the Soul, Mind, and Body, before its appearing to worſhip in the inward and ſpiritual Temple? (Heb. 10. 22) Is there not a Jeruſalem under the Goſpel, into which no Uncircumciſed or unclean thing is to enter, or appear before God there? Mark what the Apoſtle ſaith, Heb. 12. Ye are not come to the Mount that might be touched, to outward Mount Sinai, or Sion to the appearance of God there: but ye are come to the inward Sion, and to the City of the Living God the heavenly Jeruſalem, and to fellowſhip with God and Chriſt there, ver 18, and 22.

Now what is the way to this holy fellowſhip and Heavenly Communion? Doth not God himſelf preſcribe it, 2 Cor. 6. 16, 17. Wherefore come out from among them, and be ſeparated, ſaith the Lord, and touch not the unclean thing, and I will receive you; I will be a Father unto you, and ye ſhall be my ſons and daughters, ſaith the Lord Almighty. For God would have a People repreſentatively holy, in the time of the Law, (yet not deſtitute of inward Holineſs) and he will have a People really holy in the time of the Goſpel. He that defileth the Temple of God, him will God deſtroy: but keep the Temple clean, pure, holy, and then the holy God will dwell and appear there, according to his promiſe, I will dwell in them, and walk in them. And this is Eternally true, and witneſſed by certain experience among them that know the Lord; that if any thing that is unclean be touched, there is a defilement thereby, and there muſt be a cleanſing felt, before an admittance into the preſence of the holy God, and enjoying fellowſhip with him again.

XI.

Concerning the Law of Sin in the Fleſhly Mind, and the Law of Life and Holineſs in the Renewed Mind, and whence each have their Strength.

WHat is the Law of Sin? Who Writes it in the Mind? And, What is it, when it is Writ? When Luſt hath Conceived, it bringeth forth Sin: and Sin when it is Finiſhed, bringeth forth Death, Jam. 1. 15. So that the firſt beginning of Sin Is Evil Luſt; and the whole Corruption that is in the World, is through Luſt, 2 Pet. 1. 4. Now whence cometh that Luſt? Is it not begotten in the Mind, and Spirit by the Tempter? And, What is the Law, both of the Luſting, and of the Sins committed through the Luſt? Is it not the Luſtful Nature, the Luſtful Will, the Luſtful Wiſdom, the Luſtful Deſires and Paſſions, which the God of this World, begetteth in the Worldly part? So on the other hand, there is an Holy Law in the Holy, and Renewed Mind. Whence cometh that Law? Doth it not come from God? Doth it not come from the Holy One? Is it not he that blots out Satans Law, and then Writes his own Law in the Hearts of his? Now, What is his Law? Is it not of a contrary Nature to Satans Law? What God Writeth in the Hearts of his, Teaching them Holineſs, Requiring Holineſs, enlightening the Mind unto Holineſs, manifeſting the good, perfect, and acceptable Will, is not that his Law? Under the Old-Covenant the Law was at a diſtance, Writ in Tables of Stone: But under the New-Covenant the Law is nigh, Written in the Heart by the Spirit, and Power of the Lord Jeſus Chriſt. For he is King, the Inward King, the Spiritual King of his People, who cometh to reform, and amend by his Covenant, what was amiſs under the former. Now, becauſe he found under the Old-Covenant, that Laws Outwardly Written, would never bring Men into, and keep Men in Subjection to his Father: therefore, he Writeth Inwardly by his Spirit and Power, and Viſiteth with the Inward, Eternal Day, even the Day of his Power; and ſo maketh his People willing to receive the Law of his Spirit of Life, which maketh Free from the Law of Sin and Death. For this Law, being Inward and Spiritual, and more Powerful than the other, overcomes the other Law, even the Law of Sin and Death (though it be Inward and Spiritual, and Inwardly Written alſo) and ſetteth free from it; Rom. 6. 18. and 8. 2.

Now theſe Laws have each their Strength from him that Writes them. The Law of Sin and Death hath its Strength from the God of this World, the Prince of Darkneſs, who Ruleth in all that are diſobedient to the Spirit, and Power of Chriſt. The Law of Holineſs, the Law of Life, the Law of Faith in the Power, the Law of Obedience to Gods Holy Spirit, hath its Strength from the Holy One, from the Prince of Life and Peace. For Satan is near his Subjects, and dwells in them, to Act them, and to make his Laws of Sin, and Diſobedience forcible in them. Every Motion, and Temptation to Sin he kindles, and adds Vigour to, that he may ſet on Flame the Wicked Spirits of Men, after Sin, Vanity, Pride, Luſt, Uncleanneſs, Cruelty, and all manner of Wickedneſs, that they may draw on Iniquity, as with Cart-Ropes, and Drink it in, as the Oxe doth Water (Jam. 3. 6.) And the Lord alſo is near to the Soul, the King of Holineſs, neſs, the King of Righteouſneſs, and Peace is near, to give Strength to every Holy Deſire in the Heart, and to every Motion of his Spirit towards that which is Good and Holy. Hence it is, that he that truſts God's Spirit, watching to, and following the movings, and drawings thereof, finds Life flow in, Vertue, and Strength flow in, to carry on effectually, in that which the Spirit of the Lord moves to. So that, come but truly to know a Motion, to underſtand the Drawings, and Leadings of God's Spirit; Strength is never wanting to him, who giveth up in the Faith to follow the Lord, in that which he moves, and draws to. And this is the great Skill of Chriſtianity, to come Inwardly to know the Lord, to know the Inward appearances of the Shepherd, his Leadings out into the Paſtures, where Eternal Life is Fed on; and again, into the Fold of Reſt, which is no leſs than the Boſom of Love, and Life Eternal. Now the growth of the New Man, the growth of the Chriſtian State, is in the Exerciſe under the Law of Life, under the Law of the Spirit. For the Spirit Exerciſeth the Mind by his Law, and the Mind is to give up to the Exerciſe thereof, and to wait upon the Lord in it, Day and Night; finding it ſelf never without, but ſtill under the Law to Chriſt in every thing. And indeed, How can a Man do any thing aright, without the ſenſe and knowledge of this Law? How can a Man Fight aright with his ſpiritual Enemies, without underſtanding the Law of Fighting? For there is a lawful fighting, and an unlawful fighting againſt the Souls Enemies. The unlawful fighting is in the Self-will, Wiſdom, and Strength, according to ones own Apprehenſions and Conceivings, which gains no real Ground; and therefore, they that ſo fight, cannot overcome: The lawful fighting is in the Faith, in the Wiſdom, and Guidance of the Lord, in his Spirit and Power; and this is ever Succeſsful. So there is a lawful running, and an unlawful running the Race, which the Apoſtle plainly implyeth, when he ſaith, So Run, that ye may Obtain, 1 Cor. 9. 24. So likewiſe there is a law of prayer, a law of faith, a law of love, a law of new obedience, a law of liberty (for the liberty under the Goſpel is not boundleſs, but bounded by the Spirit) a royal law, which the King of Glory writes, and keeps living in the Heart, by which his Will is underſtood, and the Way of Life known, which never can be underſtood by any, but in thoſe in whom this Law is Written, even the Law of the New-Covenant, the Law of the Spirit of Life in Chriſt Jeſus.

Read, and Conſider this ſeriouſly: For indeed, it contains the very myſtery of Chriſtianity and Redemption. For Redemption is not by a Notional knowledge of Chriſt (it is not ſo Witneſſed by any) but by receiving, and ſubjecting to the Law of his Spirit. And mind, and wait to know and underſtand, whether this be not the Law which David ſpeaks of, when he ſaith, Pſal. 19. 7. &c. The Law of the Lord is perfect, Converting the Soul: the Teſtimony of the Lord is ſure, making Wiſe the Simple. The Statutes of the Lord are right, rejoycing the Heart: the Commandement of the Lord pure, enlightening the Eyes. The Fear of the Lord clean, enduring for Ever: the Judgments of the Lord Truth, altogether Righteous. Certainly the Law of the Spirit of Life in Chriſt Jeſus is all this, containing in it the Commandement which is Life Everlaſting, and the ſure Teſtimony, and all the Holy Statutes, Judgments, and Fear, which the Soul need to Learn; and is indeed perfect, and able to convert, and inſtruct perfectly the converted Soul. And here that Scripture is fulfilled, under this Holy Law of the Spirit, and Power of Life, They ſhall not Teach every Man his Neighbour, and every Man his Brother, ſaying, Know the Lord (they ſhall not do ſo in this Covenant, under this Miniſtration, which is a Miniſtration not of the Letter, but of the Spirit) for they ſhall all know me, from the leaſt of them, to the greateſt of them, by the Teachings of my own Spirit, by my Writing my Law in their Hearts; by my Holy Unction, which ſhall Teach my Children, my Anointed Ones, all that they need to know, 1 Joh. 2. 27. Jer. 31. and Heb. 8.

Come, be not deceived about the New-Covenant; but wait to find the entrance thereinto, and to feel the Vertue thereof, and to know, and receive the Law and Power thereof, as becometh Chriſtians.

XII.

Concerning God's Gathering Us home to Himſelf, who are a People deſpiſed and rejected of Men, and in ſcorn by them called Quakers.

IT pleaſed the Lord, who is Rich in Mercy and Goodneſs, to pity our many Wanderings, and ſore Diſtreſſes; and, at length, to gather us Home to the Light and Spirit of his Son, which was the Goſpel-Standard in the Apoſtles Dayes.

Now, that by which God gathered us, was the Power of Chriſt, and the Preaching of the Everlaſting Goſpel, by the Miniſtry which he hath raiſed up in theſe latter Dayes. For as the Lord raiſed up a Miniſtry to preach it at firſt, when he had ſome of the Jews, and many of the Gentiles, to gather: So he hath raiſed up a Miniſtry, to preach it again after the Apoſtacy, that he may cauſe the Sound thereof to go through all Nations. And this Miniſtry hath been raiſed, to go forth in the ſame Virtue, Power, and Spirit, wherein the fore-going Miniſtry was ſent.

God promiſed of old, That he would ſeek after, ſearch out, and gather home his ſcattered Sheep himſelf, and become their Shepherd, Ezek. 34. Now, this was fulfilled in a great Meaſure, in the Dayes of Chriſt, and his Apoſtles; when Chriſt came himſelf, and alſo ſent his Apoſtles after him, to ſeek and gather the Loſt Sheep of the Houſe of Iſrael: And not only ſo, but alſo to Preach the Goſpel to all Nations, that he might be God's Salvation to the Ends of the Earth, gathering and ſaving loſt, and ſcattered Souls out of every Quarter and Corner thereof.

But afterwards, (after the ſpreading of the Goſpel, and Chriſt's gathering of many thereby) there was a great Apoſtacy, and Scattering from this Holy Standard of Life and Salvation, and Darkneſs over-ſpread the Nations again, and an Antichriſtian Reign and Kingdom got up, under a Form and Forms of Godlineſs, without the Life and Power; in which Forms People generally have been ſcattered from the Life and Power, which indeed is the Goſpel.

Now, in this cloudy and dark time, great hath been the Loſs and Diſtreſs of the poor, hungry Sheep; their Shepherds and Watch-men not being able to preach the Goſpel diſtinctly to them, and direct their Minds to the Spirit and Power which ſaves: Therefore, God, in pity to this ſad and loſt Condition of his Sheep, ſends his Angel to preach his Everlaſting Goſpel to them that dwell on the Earth; to every Nation, Kindred, Tongue, and People, Rev. 14. 6.

Now, as the former Publiſhing of the Goſpel began at the ſcattered Jews, who were God's People under the Law; ſo this begins at the ſcattered Chriſtians, who had ſome true Deſires, and had been ſeeking after the Lord, (from Mountain to Hill, and Hill to Mountain) but could by no means find him, nor by any of the Watch-men hear any certain News of their Souls Beloved. But the Lord, in his tender Love, and rich Mercy, in the appointed Time, ſends forth the Shepherd of Iſrael, to ſeek and find them out: And, bleſſed be the Lord, he ſought effectually, and hath found out many, and perſwaded them to follow him, and hath brought their weary Souls home to their proper reſting Place; where they dwell under the Care of the Shepherd, and Biſhop of their Souls.

But, if any ſhall yet further enquire, How, and by whom the Goſpel was preached unto us? My Anſwer is, By the Shepherd himſelf. God Himſelf gave forth the Sound, and Great hath been the Company of them that publiſhed it; and our Ears and Hearts were opened by the Lord, to hear the Sound, and know the Shepherd's Voice.

And mind my Words, (which the Spirit of the Lord is now uttering forth through me; for they are Words of Truth, and certain Underſtanding) They that do not hear, and own the Sound thereof now, (from this Miniſtry which the Lord hath now choſen, and ſent forth) would not have heard nor owned the Sound thereof, in in Christ's, and the Apostles Dayes, had they lived therein: But would have reproached, and opposed them, had they lived then, in those Dayes; as they do now, in these Dayes. For, of a Truth, it is the Voice and Sound of one and the same Spirit and Wisdom; and they that do despise the one, would have despised the other, had they lived in the Day of the Appearance and Manifestation thereof.

And then, for the Manner of its Preaching; It was just such as is described, ver. 7. of Rev. 14. For we are commanded to Fear God, and give glory to him, because the Hour of his Judgment (the great and terrible Day of the Lord) was come; and therefore, to leave off all false Wayes and Worships, and learn to worship the living God, the Creator of All, in Spirit, and in Truth. And truly, it was a terrible Day to the Man of Sin in us; for the Judgments of God were revealed against him, and we in fear lay under the Judgment, that we might learn Righteousness, and witness the Redemption of Sion thereby.

Now, being thus turned to that Light, and Spirit, and Power which judgeth, it wrought effectually in us against the Darkness and Power of Satan; searching, trying, manifesting, judging the Secrets of our Hearts daily. It tryed all our Knowledge, all our Faith, all our Desires, all our Thoughts, Words, Wayes, and Worships: So that, all things were naked, and open before him, with whom we had to do; and what had gone before, as glorious and taking in our Eyes, was now manifested to be loathsome and abominable in the Sight of God. For indeed, the Axe was laid to the Root of the Tree, and every Plant which the Heavenly Father had not planted, was he now plucking up, that they might no longer cumber the Ground; but he might have Room for his own Seeds, and Plants of Holyness and Righteousness, which he was ready to sow in his own Garden.

And so, at length, we came to witness (abiding the Tryal of this dreadful Day, wherein our God appeared to us as a Consuming Fire) a New Heaven, and a New Earth inwardly; and no more Sea of Wickedness, no more Sea of inward Trouble; but Righteousness, Peace, and Joy inwardly, and our God becoming a rich Portion to us, watching over us in most tender Care and Love, and delighting in us to do us good, making known to us the Riches of the Gospel, even the Feast of fat Things; and giving us to partake of the Well or Fountain of Living Waters in our own Hearts, which springs up freshly in us dayly unto Life Eternal. So that, we were not only invited to the Waters, but taught also to come thereto: and when we came, we were not sent away empty, but had the Water of Life given us; which became such a Well, as out of it flow Streams of Living Water. Ah, blessed be the Lord! Did we ever think in our dry, dead, barren Estate, to have seen such a Day as this?

And all this we met with in the way of Self-Denyal, and taking up the Cross; in denying our own Wisdom, our own Knowledge, our own Faith, our own Righteousness, and all that we could call our Own; and owning a little Seed of Light and Life Eternal, even the Seed of the Everlasting Kingdom, which the Shepherd of Israel discovered to us, and helped us to search after, and taught us how to find; which was endued in a way very despisable, even to the Eye of our own Wisdom: For thus it was:

We had been long looking out abroad, searching very diligently the Scriptures, and other serious Books, for great, full, certain, and undoubted Wisdom and Knowledge: But now, we were directed to turn inwards, (even thither where we thought no Good was to be found) to mind the Appearance of God there, the Spirit of God testifying to us, (according to the Scriptures of Truth) that the Kingdom was within; and there we were directed to search for the Least of all Seeds, and to mind the lowest Appearance thereof; which was its turning against Sin and Darkness. And so by minding and observing that in us which turned against Sin and Darkness, we came by Degrees to find we had met with the pure, living, eternal Spirit; and by observing the Movings, Stirrings, Guidings, Directions, and Law thereof, we found e're we were aware, that we had met with the Law of the New-Covenant, the Law of the Spirit of Life, which had Life and Virtue in it, to enable us to do the Holy Will; and then our Hearts rejoyced; being made truly sensible, that we had found that, which we had mourned ed after, and longed for all our Dayes. And then we began to see our way more clearly, and to wait on our God for his Teachings, and to follow the Lamb, our Leader, with Joy and Comfort. For indeed, this Experience greatly settled our Spirits; knowing assuredly, that as none but Christ could do those Works outwardly, which he did in the Dayes of his Flesh: So none beneath his Spirit could do these Works inwardly, enlighten inwardly, enliven inwardly, bind up and heal inwardly, open the inward Eye, the inward Ear, the closed Heart, and loosen the dumb Tongue; so as the Touch of his Power, and Virtue of his Life, and holy Presence among us, hath done very frequently and livingly.

And now, Is this Testimony nothing to you, O ye Professors, that we have found him by God's holy Guidance, (or rather have been found by him) whom we could never find in your Wayes and Gatherings? But still, that which God had quickened in us, was there unsatisfyed, weary, panting, and gasping for want of, and after the Breath of Life.

O, come and see, if this be not He indeed! Wait to feel the closing of that Eye, which cannot see, (which God hath ordained shall never see) and for his opening the Eye, which is as yet blind in you, (to which he giveth the true Sight) that ye perish not from the Way of Life, through Mistakes and Deceits from the Mists of Darkness, which are yet over all, who have not seen the Light of God's Day. To the Law, and to the Testimony, (to the inward Law, and inward Testimony, if ye be inward Jews; for the Law inwardly written, is Light, even the Light of the Living; and the Testimony of Jesus, is the Spirit of Prophesie) for he that knoweth not these, nor walketh according to these, nor speaketh according to this Word, it is because there is as yet no Morning in him.

O, come to the Morning-Light of the Everlasting Day! Come to the Son's Light, to the Son's Spirit! Wait for the Dawning of the Day of Righteousness, Love, and Peace, and for the Arising of the Day-star. Come, Dye to your own Wisdom, (it was the Word livingly spoken to me, and entred my Soul when it was spoken; never departing from me, though I was long in learning it) and know what it is to suffer with Christ, that ye may also reign with Him.

Ah, if that Candle were lighted in you, which ye so much reproach and despise the Light of, ye might see, that instead of suffering with Christ, that which is of Christ in you (the pure Light, the pure Life of his Spirit) suffers by you, and the Worldly spirit Lives (shall I add, and Reigns) in you, under all your Professions, Knowledge, Faith, Worships, Duties, Ordinances, as ye call them, who want the Knowledge of the Everlasting Ordinance, even of the Spirit and Power of our Lord Jesus Christ; which is the great Ordinance, and Way of the Gospel! And he that is subject to this Ordinance, shall be saved; but he that misseth of This, shall perish; let him search the Scriptures, and practise according to what he apprehends there-from, as exactly as he can, without this Spirit and Power.

XIII.

A few Words concerning the Worship which Our God hath Taught Us.

OUr Worship is a deep Exercise of our Spirits before the Lord; which doth not consist in an Exercising the Natural Part, or Natural Mind, either to hear or speak words; or in praying according to what we, of our selves, can apprehend or comprehend concerning our Needs: But we wait, in silence of the fleshly Part, to hear with the new Ear, what God shall please to speak inwardly in our own Hearts, or outwardly through others, who speak with the new Tongue, which he unlooseth, and teacheth to speak: And we pray in the Spirit, and with the new Understanding, as God pleaseth to quicken, draw forth, and open our Hearts towards himself.

Thus

Thus our Minds being gathered into the Meaſure, or Gift of Grace, which is by Jeſus Chriſt; here we appear before our God; and here our God, and his Chriſt, is witneſſed in the midſt of us.

This is that Gathering in the Name, which the Promiſe is to, where we meet together, waiting with one Conſent on the Father of Life, bowing and confeſſing to Him in the Name of his Son; and that fleſhly Part, that fleſhly Underſtanding, that fleſhly Wiſdom, that fleſhly Will, which will not bow, is chained down, and kept under by the Power of Life, which God ſtretcheth forth over it, and ſubdueth it by. So then, there's the ſweet Communion enjoyed, the ſweet Love flowing, the ſweet Peace of Spirit reaped, which the Father breaths upon, and gives to his Children, the ſweet Joy and Refreſhment in the Lord our Righteouſneſs, who cauſeth Righteouſneſs to drop down from Heaven, and Truth to ſpring up out of the Earth. And ſo our Father is felt bleſſing Us, bleſſing our Land, bleſſing our Habitations, delighting in Us, and over Us to do us Good; and our Land yields its Increaſe to the Lord of Life, who hath redeemed it, and planted the precious Plants and Seeds of Life in it.

The CONCLUSION.

NOw, this ought to be the great Care of every renewed Mind, even to keep out that which is Unclean. The Enemy will be aſſaulting, tempting, caſting into the Mind that which is Unclean: But the pure, chaſt Mind will not entertain or touch it; but with-draw and retire from it into the Place of Safety, into the ſtrong Tower of Defence, from all the Aſſaults and Annoyances of the Enemy. Such the Lord receiveth, ſuch the Lord delighteth in as his dear Children, and in every reſpect carrieth himſelf as a Father to: And this is a precious State truly to enjoy.

Now, bleſſed be the Lord, who hath revealed and beſtowed on his Sons and Daughters, in theſe latter Dayes, that Light of his Holy Spirit, which ſearcheth the moſt inward Parts, diſcovering every thing that is of a contrary Nature to it ſelf, turning and ſeparating the Mind there-from, and bringing the Mind, Heart, Soul, and Spirit under that; which is a Croſs, and Yoke to it, and hath Power from God to crucifie and ſubdue it: that ſo Life and Immortality may be brought to Light, and reign in the Heart; and Death and Uncleanneſs be ſwallowed up in Victory. For this is the Intent of the Goſpel, and of Chriſt's Appearance, even to deſtroy Sin, and bring up the Holy Seed, and eſtabliſh the Law of the New-Covenant, the Law of Love, the Law of Life, Righteouſneſs, and Holyneſs, in which the Renewed ſhould walk before the Lord all their Dayes.

And God forbid, but that the Goſpel of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, (which is the Power of God unto Salvation) ſhould attain its End, and the Will of God be fulfilled; which is the Sanctification of his People in Soul, Body, and Spirit; that they may be wholly leavened with the Leaven of his Kingdom, and become a new Lump to him.

The Lord bring this to paſs in the Hearts of the Children of Men, bringing down all Religions, which have not the true Virtue in them; and propagate and eſtabliſh that Religion more and more, which ſtands in the Evidence, Demonſtration, Vertue, and Power of his own Spirit: that Men may be redeemed out of, and preſerved from Deceit, in Matters of Religion, wherein the Eternal Condition of their Souls is ſo deeply concerned. Amen.

THE END.

A Queſtion Anſwered concerning Reading the Scriptures Aright.

Queſtion,

How may a Man know, whether he Readeth the Scriptures to his Advantage and Benefit? or, Whether he Readeth Them to his Diſadvantage or Hurt?

THat the Holy Scriptures, written by Men inſpired by God's Spirit, were of great Uſe and Benefit to thoſe to whom they were written, (they rightly underſtanding them, and becoming ſubject to the Voice of God's Spirit in thoſe that wrote or ſpoke them) is an undenyable Truth.

And that they were not only written for them, but for others alſo, in future Ages, who alſo may reap Benefit in the Reading of them; this is as manifeſt.

Yet, that Men may ſo Read them, as not to Underſtand them aright, but miſ-apply them to their own Hurt; that is true alſo, and hath been often, and is ſtill evidenc'd by lamentable Experience.

The Jews, the Scribes and Phariſees heard and read the Law and Prophets to their hurt; ſome in a ſpirit of direct Oppoſition to the Truths, and Will of God, held out by the Prophets; others in a Spirit of Miſ-underſtanding.

Thus the Scribes and Phariſees, in Chriſt's Time, ſo read the Words of Moſes, and the Prophets, (who teſtified concerning the Son, and his Coming) as that thereby they became ſtrong, wiſe, and confident, in oppoſing him when he came. They thought they could prove by Scriptures, That This was not, could not be He: He was to be a Glorious King, and to Reſtore Iſrael. This was a mean Man, a Carpenter's Son; and ſo taught, and ſo behaved himſelf, that if Men believed in him, the Romans would thereby be provoked to deſtroy their Place and Nation. He was an Eater, a Drinker, a Friend of Publicans and Sinners, a frequent Breaker of the Sabbath, a Galilean, &c. And ſhall Chriſt come out of Galilee? Search, and Look; for out of Galilee ariſeth no Prophet, Joh. 7. 52. As if they had ſaid, Can this be the Meſſiah, of whom the Scriptures have ſo abundantly propheſied, who cometh out of Galilee; out of which the Scriptures have not propheſied of ſo much as any Prophet to ariſe? Thus they read the Scriptures to their Hurt.

And ſo afterwards, in the Apoſtles Dayes, Men wreſted the words of the Apoſtles, as they did alſo the other Scriptures, to their own Deſtruction.

And ſince, in the Apoſtacy from the Apoſtles Spirit, Life, and Doctrine, and the coming up of many Sects, Heads, and Horns; Which of them have not ſo read the Scriptures, as to confirm themſelves even in thoſe very Doctrines and Practiſes, which are directly contrary to the Doctrines, Practiſes, and Spirit of the Apoſtles?

Yea, ſince God's breaking the Darkneſs of the Night, and cauſing the Light of his Day again to ariſe; How do Men Read and Underſtand Scriptures? Even ſo as to oppoſe this Light, Life, Spirit, and Power, now it is again made manifeſt; thinking and judging its Appearance now (according to their Underſtanding of, and Apprehenſions on the Scriptures) to be as contrary to its Appearance in the Apoſtles Dayes, as the Scribes and Phariſees judged Chriſt's Appearance in their Dayes, to be different from, and contrary to what the Prophets had propheſied concerning the Meſſiah.

Therefore, it is a Matter of very great weight, for a Man to know when he Reads Reads the Scriptures aright, that his Table (whereon he feeds, and by which Food he hopes to live to God, and be accepted with him) become not his snare, and set him further of from God. For it is as true in this Day, as it was in Christ's Day; that Publicans, and Harlots are nearer the Kingdom, than those who are in the Spirit, Wisdom, and Righteousness of the Scribes and Pharisees; who have a knowledge, a belief, an hope, a zeal, &c. from a misunderstanding of the Scriptures: for this is wrong in a mystery of deceit, which is worse in its nature, and more dangerous to the person in whom it is, and to the Souls of others, than the deceit which is openly manifest.

Well then, Is it not worth the diligent enquiry, and waiting upon God to know, What is the right reading of the Scriptures; and whether a Man so read them, as is to the benefit and profit of his Soul, or to his loss and detriment? To come then to the Answer, which is as followeth.

Answ. He that Reads the Scriptures in a true measure of Life received from God, he Reads them aright: and when ever he so readeth, it is to his benefit. He that readeth out of that, readeth to his Hurt; that being then up in him, which misunderstands, misapplies, and grows conceited, wise, and confident, according to the Flesh: and so he is thereby lyable to, and in great danger of setting up his Interpretations, instead of the meaning of Gods Spirit, and of condemning that which doth not assent and agree therewith, though it be never so necessary, and precious a Truth of God, and never so fully demonstrated by his Spirit, to those who are in the true faith and understanding.

The true Birth is meek, tender, gentle, fearing before the Lord, waiting upon him, often crying to him, that it may not be deceived, that a wrong thing get not up in it; that it receive not any thing for Truth, but what he knoweth to be Truth: and when the Lord pleaseth to give the true Knowledge, that it hold that Knowledge of his Truth in Righteousness, in his Life, in his Will, in his Wisdom, &c. But the wrong Birth is not so, nor is its Course thus: but that is subtile in searching, and forming of things, and holding them in the subtilty, and drawing the wrong part in others, to own and acknowledge that, which it represents, and holds forth as Truth.

There is a wisdom in Man, which is against God; which wisdom opposeth the the Wisdom of God two wayes; either in a direct, opposite way, or in a secret, subtle, undermining way. Now no Man can come to God, or truly understand, or receive the things of God; but as this wisdom comes to be confounded and destroyed in him, by the Light and Power of God. All its strong Holds, all its subtle imaginations, all its reasonings, and consultings must be dashed, and brought to nought, before the Truth of God can have full place and power in the Heart. Now in the true discovery of this wisdom to Man, and in his denyal of it, and watching against it, and turning to the other; he may wait upon God aright, receive the knowledge of the Heavenly miseries aright, read the Scriptures aright, come to the true sense, understanding, and experience of them: But at any time, so far as he is out of this, he is liable to the snare, to the misunderstanding of Scriptures, and to the Fleshly confidence that ariseth thereupon. So that, having taken up a misunderstanding of a Scripture, or some Scriptures; he will even boldly venture to speak evil of the heavenly, and spiritual dignities, which are of God, and the holy Truths which are held forth by his holy Ministers: against the Prophets in their day, against Christ and his Apostles in their day, against the Witnesses in the times of the Apostacy, and against the Angel (learn who that is) that is to Preach the everlasting Gospel again, after the Apostacy. Ah, How doth this wisdom destroy and entangle; and how hath it destroyed and entangled many at this day, who think they are greatly for God in those things and practises, wherein they are directly against him; and that they only oppose errour, and a wrong spirit, when they are opposing his Truth, and his holy Spirit! And it is impossible it should be otherwise, while they judg and act from that which is wrong, and in that which is wrong. Now mark;

The spirit, the truth, the life, the substance is God's for ever: the unclean

Spirit cannot enter into it, the unclean Womb cannot conceive of it, nor bring it forth: but the letter, the ſhell, the outward figure, the outward relations, and deſcriptions of things, the other ſpirit, wiſdom, and nature in Man may read, gueſs at, transform, receive, believe, and build up with according to the Fleſh. And here is the foundation, and riſe of Anti-Chriſt and Babylon, among them who raiſe up a building, a knowledge, a faith, an hope, a Church, a worſhip, duties, ordinances, juſtification, ſanctification, &c. in imitation of Sion. But they are not the thing it ſelf, but falſe repreſentations of the thing; either ſuch as were invented by Man, or ſuch as were once appointed, and made uſe of by the Spirit of the Lord. For there is little difference between inventing a new thing, and making uſe of an old thing, which once was of God, but is now underſtood, obſerved, and practiſed out of the ſenſe, light, and guidance of his Spirit, in another Spirit, and according to another Wiſdom. Now this is not the right way of reformation, to wit, to return to outward (litteral) things, which were practiſed by the Jews in their day, or by the former Chriſtians in their day: but to return to the Spirit that they were in, and to feel (in the true life and leadings thereof) what it teacheth and requireth, to be obſerved and practiſed now. For there are things, whoſe value is not in themſelves, but in Gods requiring of them; which the wrong ſpirit may get into, and the Lord may draw his People out of them (as he did out of the outward Court, into the inward Building or Temple, by his Light and Spirit within, when he gave the outward Court to the Gentiles, Rev. 11. 1, 8.) And he that is found in thoſe things, after God hath given them to the Gentiles, and drew his People out of them; is not therein owned or accepted of God, though God may bear with him in the time of his ignorance: yet if he abide in them, after the riſing of Light, and its Teſtimony, the Lord will not ſo bear with him; but will condemn him, and deal with him as a Tranſgreſſor of that Covenant, wherein Life and Peace with him is witneſſed.

Therefore, in all things that concern God, whether in Reading the Scriptures, Praying, or obſerving any thing ye call Duties and Ordinances; O that ye would approve your ſelves Chriſtians indeed, waiting to know your Guide and Leader, and the true Limits which are ſet by God; that ye may ſerve him in the true Faith, Spirit, and Underſtanding, even in that which God knoweth to be ſo, and not in that which ye may falſly account ſo! For mark: If ye be Chriſtians, Are ye not in Chriſt, and, Is not Chriſt in you? And, Are ye not to feel his Life, and the Guidance of his Spirit, ſo as ye may live in the Spirit, and walk in the Spirit, read in the Spirit, pray alwayes in the Spirit, believe in the Spirit, worſhip in the Spirit, and in the Holy Underſtanding of his Truth, which is of him?

He that would be right in Religion, muſt have a right Beginning. How is that? He muſt begin in the Spirit: His Knowledge, his Faith, his Hope, his Peace, his Joy, his Righteouſneſs, his Holyneſs, his Worſhip, &c. muſt begin there. He muſt come out of his own Spirit, his own Wiſdom, the Counſels and Thoughts of his own Heart; and wait on Him, who beginneth the Work of Regeneration, and Life in the Heart.

And he muſt afterwards diligently watch againſt that Spirit and Wiſdom, from which the Lord hath led him, that it at no time again enter him; for it will be ſtriving to lead him out of the way, with Likeneſſes, and falſe Images of things, with Knowledge falſly ſo called, with a Faith which is not truly of God, nor of the ſame Nature with that which he firſt felt; with falſe Hopes, falſe Fears, falſe Joyes, a falſe Righteouſneſs and Holyneſs, which are not Chriſt's, nor according to the Scriptures; but only ſuch as he apprehends to be ſo. For a Man, who once taſted the Truth, and in ſome meaſure judged aright, may afterwards erre in his Palate and Judgment; and then take the Wrong for the True, not keeping to that, nor being now in that, which formerly gave him the true Reliſh.

Now, he that would meet with the true Religion, the Religion of the Goſpel, muſt meet with the Power, receive the Power, believe, dwell, and reſt in the Power. For Chriſt was made a King, Prieſt, and Prophet, not after the Law of a Carnal Commandment, but after the Power of an Endleſs Life: And his Covenant is not like the Old, in Word or Letter; but in the ſame Power and Life, wherein the Prieſt was made, and Miniſters.

So

So the knowledge here, the Faith here, the Hope here, &c. are not litteral but living. He that receiveth this Knowledge, receiveth living Knowledge. This Faith gives Victory over unbelief; and over that Spirit whoſe ſtrength lies in Unbelief. This Hope purifies the heart even as he is pure. And he that receiveth the Righteouſneſs of this Covenant, receiveth a living Garment, which hath power in it over Death and Unrighteouſneſs. The beginning of this Religion, of this Power and Holy inward Covenant is ſweet: but the pure progreſs and going on of much more pleaſant, as the Lord gives to feel the growth and ſweet living freſhneſs of it; Notwithſtanding the Temptations, Fears, Troubles, Trials, Oppoſitions and great Dangers, both within and without, which the Life (which was at firſt turned to) being ſtill kept to, by the Power which is from it, and through the Faith which is in it, in its own ſeaſons and way of its own Wiſdom overcomes, giving the ſoul that is diligent and faithful to witneſs, that all its wayes are pleaſantneſs, and its Paths Peace; Yea, the very Yoke is eaſy and the Burden light, when the mind and will is changed by the Power, and helped and aſſiſted by the Lord in its ſubjection to the power.

So the Lord God of tender Mercies, (who pittieth the Miſerable and Erring out of the Way, eſpecially thoſe in whom he hath begot Deſires after himſelf) remove the Stumbling-Blocks, and lead the wandering Jews (who are entangled in their own Thoughts and Reaſonings about the Letter) into that which is of himſelf in them, which is Spirit and Life, and was before the Letter, and excels the Letter (with its Diſpenſation) in Glory; and is to remain (after the Letter) the Reſt, Joy, Life, Peace, and Portion of the Soul for ever and ever. So honour the Letter, in believing its Teſtimony concerning Chriſt, who is the Shepherd, (to whom the Sheep are to be gathered) the Way, the Truth, the Life it ſelf, to whom the Soul is to come, and on whom the Soul is to wait for Life; and having received Life from him, to dwell, abide, and grow up into him, who is the Life; and not go backward into any thing that is litteral, or without Life, nor to glory in the Knowledge, or litteral Deſcriptions of things; but forward into the ſpiritual, heavenly Diſpenſation of Life and Power. The Law was Letter, the Goſpel is Life and Power: The Law was a ſhadow of good Things to come; but the Goſpel is the Subſtance, the Life, the Virtue, the Spirit of what the Law ſhadowed out. From hence the Chriſtian is to ſpring: The Jeruſalem from Above is to be its Mother, the Holy Spirit its Begetter. And becauſe here the ſtate of true Sonſhip is witneſſed, therefore God pours out the ſpirit of his Son upon theſe; And then the Spirit being received, which is above the Letter, a Life is to be felt and lived in beyond Words; even that which the Good Words lead to, and end in.

And here the truth, ſweetneſs, and fullneſs of Words is known, felt, and witneſſed, even in that which comprehends them, and gives them their due Weight and Meaſure. Nor can any poſſibly underſtand the words of the ſpirit, but he that is in the ſpirit; and then he knows the Place of the Words, which came from the ſpirit, and of the ſpirit from whom the Words came. And this is precious; but not to be witneſſed by the wiſe Diſputer, but by the ſerious Traveller; who firſt is broken and daſhed to pieces in his own VViſdom; and then afterwards healed, led, and guided by the Eternal ſpirit of Wiſdom, which is the ſure and unerring Guide.

The Spirit of God knoweth the things of God, and the ſtates of Perſons, and what is proper or improper for them: He knew what was proper for the Jews under the Law and Prophets, what was proper for them in Egypt, what in the Wilderneſs, what in Canaan, and what in their ſeveral Diſperſions and Captivities) for the Diſciples, in the Dayes of Chriſt's Appearance in Fleſh, for the Churches in the Dayes of the Apoſtles, for the Witneſſes and Mourners in the times of the Apoſtacy, and for thoſe who by his Power are raiſed up, and delivered out of the Apoſtacy.

And the Spirit of the Lord doth not only know the ſtate thus in general, but likewiſe every Souls particular State, and how to apply things to its ſtate. There are ſome newly quickned, newly come out of the Darkneſs. There are ſeveral ſtates and degrees of Growth: there is a tempted ſtate, a wandering ſtate, a back-ſliding ſtate, ſtate, a ſhaken ſtate, an eſtabliſh't ſtate, &c. Now, there is ſomewhat proper to every one according to his ſtate, which the ſpirit of the Lord knows; and thoſe who are called out by him, to miniſter in his Name and Power, know alſo, as his ſpirit pleaſeth to teach them, and make manifeſt to them. All Truths are not proper to every ſtate, nor all Remedies to every diſeaſe. Chriſt had many things to teach and ſay to his Diſciples, which they were not able to bear: And a Man in Reading the Scriptures, though he ſhould underſtand the Truth of what he reads; yet he is apt to miſ-apply things, as to himſelf or others, unleſs the Lord guide and help him. He is apt to apply that to him, which belongs not to him; and thruſt that from him, which belongs to him.

Thus may a Man eaſily err and wander, from Error to Error, and toyl and wear out himſelf in his ſeveral Apprehenſions, Wayes and Practiſes, (thinking he doth as he ought, and as God requires of him, according to the Scriptures) and yet his Mind be from that, and his Underſtanding out of that, which opens the Scriptures aright, and gives the Right Uſe of them.

Therefore, wait on the Lord, to feel Quickenings from him, through a Meaſure of his Life revealed, and the Minds gathered into, and purged thereby; and then wait for the ſpirit's Appearing to thee, in this meaſure; further quickening, puriſying, guiding thee, and manifeſting his truth therein to thee, according as he ſees thy Need, Eſtate, and Condition to require.

And thus thou wilt be like a Child, living not upon a Wiſdom of thy own, but upon thy Father's Wiſdom, and not gathering a Knowledge according to thy own Will, and into thy own Comprehenſion; but receiving it as a gift daily from the Hands of the Father, and ſo thou ſhalt alwayes have it freſh and living, and ſafe for thy Uſe; whereas that, whil'ſt thou keepeſt in thy Comprehenſion, and canſt run to when thou liſts, and make uſe of as thou liſts, putrifies and yields but Corrupt Nouriſhment, feeding not the Living, but the Dead in thee: And ſo thy very Knowledge corrupts thy Mind, and brings it into Death; and thou haſt only ſuch a Knowledge, as may be held in the dead part, and ſo liveſt and walkeſt as Man may live and walk, without the pure Life and Preſence of God.

So, this is the Anſwer, which was in my Heart, (and indeed ſprang up in me, as the Queſtion was laid before me in ſpirit.) In the true Meaſure of Life, which is from God, and one with Him, the Scriptures are rightly Read and Underſtood, in the Will of God, by him that doth it, in the Holy Underſtanding which comes from Him: Not in a Man's own Will, or Underſtanding; for he cannot underſtand what Scriptures he will, or when he will, or as he will; but he muſt wait on him, who hath the Key, who underſtandeth what is fit and proper for him, to know, or not to know; and ſo openeth or ſhutteth in his Eternal Pleaſure, and according to his Eternal Wiſdom: And what he openeth to thee, that is proper for thee to know; and what he ſhutteth from thee, that is proper for thee (as yet) not to know; but to wait the Times and Seaſons of Things, which are in the Father's Hand: And ſo, what the Lord reveals not to thee, that is yet a Secret with him, as to thee; but what he reveals to thee, that is thine in his Fear and Counſel to feed on, and make uſe of.

So here, in the gathering of Life, in the Holy Building, there is a Holy Order and Wiſdom, from the moſt High, wherein every one waites on the Maſter, on the Lord, on the Shepherd, on the Father of Spirits, and receives from his hand, what is proper to his ſtate. And ſo all hold the head, and live by the life, vertue and teaching that comes from the head, and there is one God who is over all, and one Chriſt in whom all are, and one Spirit of Life in which all are Baptized and Joyned together. And every one as he ſprings from this Life, and feels the Union, Vertue and Fellowſhip thereof, ſo abiding here, he is in his Place, and Service, beloved of the Lord and Father of all, and felt by the Life in all, in the Unity of the Body; and ſo cheriſhed and helped forward in the Love and Spirit, wherein the Body is knit to the Head: Yea, whatever his State be, (whether a State of Mourning or Temptation, or deep Diſtreſs; or a State of Joy, Rejoycing, and Peace) yet abiding and waiting on the Lord, he is felt, received, owned, and dearly beloved in the Lord.

A few Words to such as Complain for want of Power.

BE sure ye Receive Christ; for he is the same that ever he was. To as many as Receive him, to them gave he Power (not only to stand against Sin, but) to become the Sons of God; He did so formerly, and he doth so still. And they that are true Jews, born after the Spirit, truly Circumcised, and are indeed come to Mount Sion, and the Heavenly Jerusalem inwardly; who feed on God's Holy Mountain, and dwell in his Holy City, in the Building that is from Above, for the Birth which is from Above: There is no complaining in the Streets of this City; but what God requireth, is performed; and what God promiseth to His, is enjoyed there; according to the several States and Conditions of each, and according to the Ability, which is given in the New-Covenant, where God fulfilleth the good Pleasure of his Goodness, and the Work of Faith with Power, in the Hearts of his daily, everlasting Praises, and Honour to his Name.

O the precious Name of JESUS, in which the Spirits of the Redeemed meet, in which Name is Power; and He who is the Arm and Power of God, is in the midst of them!

They who receive Him who is the Power, who is a Spiritual Vine and Olive-Tree to all His, who yields dayly of the living Sap, and Vertue to them, (wherein there is Power:) How can they want Power? or, How can they but praise the Lord, who dayly ministers unto them of the Power of the Endless Life? When the Holy Life and Power springs, and is felt, Praises to the Lord cannot but spring with it.

So that, it concerns all People seriously to consider, whether the Reason why they have not Power, be not because they do not Receive Christ, who hath all Power in Heaven and Earth, given to Him; for many talk of Christ, but few come to Him in the Father's Drawings, so will not Receive Him; like the Jews, who waited for his Appearance, and yet Rejected Him when He came.

The PREFACE.

IT hath pleaſed God, in theſe our Dayes, to cauſe his true Light to ſhine forth out of Darkneſs, O everlaſtingly Bleſſed be his Name! He hath laid the Foundation of Life in many Hearts, and gathered his once deſolate People into Families and Churches, and hath been with them, and is with them, dwelling among them, preſerving them, building up Sion more and more, and cauſing his Glory more and more to appear therein. The Living

Living God hath made us a living People, and honoureth us with his living presence, and with the daily Manifestations of his pure Power, Oh Glory, Glory is sounded to him, in his own springing life, in the hearts of his Children, day by day.

But the Enemy of God and his appearance, hath wrought against his Power and Work, many wayes, and hath endeavoured to stop the gathering to the Light and the building up, not only by outward force, but also by all the devices and Mysterious workings he could invent. But blessed be the Lord, who hath appeared against them all, and preserved his remnant from them all, though some that have not watched and lain low, but being soaring high, in that part where the snare is laid and takes, have stumbled and fallen. Yet truth stands, and the gathering in the truth stands; and the Life which God hath raised, and to which he hath given Dominion reigns, and much is subdued, and the Lord is going on to subdue more and more under it daily, in the hearts of such as sensibly and Livingly, and not notionally and in a dead formal way, wait upon him and worship him.

Now, the sorest and most mischievous way of opposing Truth, is by pretending to it. Who could more adventageously or readily betray Christ, than an Apostle of Christ? And who can be fitter to undermine the Light, than he who in words cries it up; and yet is departed from it, and secretly fights against it, and would bring forth, propagate and set up an hideous, monstrous, comprehensive kind of Knowledg (which is contrary to it, and cannot consist with it) in the Name of it?

Ah, that this person, who now appears against the Truth, and the Church and Ministry which is in and of the Truth, were but what he pretends to be! For then I should gladly have received his Testimony, and not have been thus necessitated to appear against his Spirit, and the dark work and Testimonies thereof. He saith, there are two Christs, both the true Christ and Antichrist. I confess his work comes from one of them, even Anti-christ, who would destroy Christ's Work, Kingdom, and Building, and the Ministry which he makes use of, both to plant, water, and build up: But not from that Christ who hath gathered a Church to himself, and is with the Church which he hath gathered, and blesseth the Church which he hath gathered, and owneth them in their Assemblings, and in their Ministring: Which Owning and Testimony will stand; when the Disowning, and false Testimonies of all these false Apostate Spirits will fall, and end in their own Sorrow and Misery.

What I have here written, I have written in an holy Constraint, in the opening and feeling Life of Truth, with true Love to Souls; yea, even of this very Person, who is erred so exceedingly from the Holy Light and Spirit, and its Holy Testimony, and would fain exalt his critical Conceits and Notions, above the plain Testimony and Evidence of Truth, in the Hearts of God's Chosen Ones.

The Lord bring down the Kingdom of Darkness, and exalt his own Kingdom in the Hearts of the Children of Men more and more; and add to his Church, and keep them in that which will never suffer them to depart from it; or to testify against the Life, and Power, and Presence of the Lord, manifested, dwelling, and ruling in it. Amen.

REMARKS upon some Passages in a late Book,

Entituled, Anti-christ's Transformations Within, &c.

THe first thing that I shall observe, is, That he doth deny, that Man hath any Rule, Power, Dominion, Government, or Authority, either given or committed to him from the Lord; as pertaining to the Conscience, in things relating to the Worship of God.

Remark, God sent Christ into the World, and he gave him Power and Authority in his Name to do whatever he required of him. And Christ sends his Servants and Miniſters into the World, as Sheep among Wolves, and he gives them Power and Authority to do what ever he requires of them, and which he expects from them, and would have done by them. And their work relates to the Conſcience and to the Worſhip of God; and their Power and Authority extends thither, where their work lies. They are Embaſſadours of Chriſt, and they have Power and Authority in Chriſts ſtead to beſeech men to be reconciled to God. For as Chriſt came in his Fathers name, to fulfil the work which the Father gave him to do: ſo they come in Chriſts name, to fulfil the work which he gives them to do. They have Power to feed the Flock, they have Power to watch over them, they have power to build up in that which is good, and they have Power and Authority to teſtify againſt and hammer down that which is evil; they have power to reprove, they have Power and Authority to viſit with a Spirit of Meekneſs, and Power to come with Gods Rod, yea with his Sword, and to ſmite that with it which riſeth up againſt the Truth, againſt the Life, againſt the Spirit, againſt the holy way and work of the Lord, and holy Order and Government of his Truth and Spirit.

That Chriſt hath ſent forth his Servants, his Miniſters, his Embaſſadours, about things relating to the Conſcience, is ſo manifeſt, that it cannot be denied, but that he hath ſent them forth with Power and Authority in things pertaining to the Conſcience, relating to the worſhip of God; That this man denies; but all that have received the Truth, hold the Truth, and keep the Truth, cannot but acknowledge it.

Now the reaſon he gives, why he denies Man any Rule, Power, Dominion, Government or Authority, either given or Committed to him from the Lord, as pertaining to the conſcience, in things relating to the Worſhip of God, is becauſe it belongeth to Chriſt the Light, the inviſible Power which dwells in men and Women, &c.

Rem. All Power in Heaven and earth was given to Chriſt, and belongs to him: that is freely granted. But the queſtion is, whether he hath not given of this Power to his Children, and his Servants and Miniſters, as his Father gave of it unto him? Doth not he give Power to as many as believe in his Name, to become Sons of God? Did not he make his Apoſtles able Miniſters of the New Covenant, in the Spirit and Power which he gave them? All Power is given me in Heaven and in Earth, ſaid Chriſt, Matth. 28. 18. Go ye therefore and teach all Nations, &c. v. 19. But wait at Jeruſalem for the Power firſt, Act. 1. 8. So when the Power came upon them, it led them forth in their work, and they had Power to gather, and Power to build up, and Power to govern and watch over the Flock of God, over which the Holy-Ghoſt had made them Overſeers, Act. 20. 28. And Paul ſpeaks of the Power the Lord had given him to uſe ſharpneſs, even againſt thoſe in that Church of Corinth, who would not be ſubject to him in that which he had received from the Lord, 2 Cor. 13. 10. But this Power was to Edification, but not to Deſtruction. For though he had Power from Chriſt the Lord, and did by that Spirit and in that Power deliver Hymeneus and Alexander unto Satan; yet it was not that they ſhould be deſtroyed by the Devil, but by feeling themſelves out of the Truth, and under the Dominion of a wrong Spirit, they might come to true ſenſe and underſtanding, and learn not to blaſpheme the Truth, nor the dignities whom God hath made honourable in the Truth, 1 Tim. 1. 20. And not the Apoſtle only, but the Church of Corinth had a ſhare in the ſame Power; and therefore the Apoſtle, knowing what was given and committed to them, exhorts them, that in the Name of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, when they were gathered together, and his Spirit with the Power of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, to deliver ſuch an one to Satan. But this was not for Deſtruction, to deſtroy the Soul; but to bring it back into a ſtate of Edification and Salvation, which now, by departing from the Truth, it was gone from. It was indeed for the Deſtruction of the Fleſh, but not of the Spirit; but that the Spirit might be ſaved in the day of the Lord Jeſus, 1 Cor. 5. 4, 5.

Secondly,

Secondly, The next thing I shall observe is this, he saith, There is no Glory to be given to man, although he be born of the Light.

Rem. That Glory and Honour is to be given to Man, which God gives to Man, who hath said, Them that Honour me, I will Honour; and they that Despise me, shall be lightly esteemed, 1 Sam. 2. 30. He that brings his Deeds to the Light, they being Justified and approved there, he hath Honour in the Light. His deeds being made manifest that they are wrought in God, that is Honour enough for him, John 3. 21. The Children of Light seek for Glory, and Honour, and Immortality, and Eternal Life; and that Glory and Honour they have, and Eternal Life from God, Rom. 2. 7. They seek not the Honour that is from Men, but the Honour that cometh from God only, John 5. 44. the Honour in the Truth, in the Life, in the Power, which God gives them in the hearts of all that are truly sensible and living. For Honouring the Lord and his Truth, how can I but Honour those that are Honourable in his eye, and who are Glorious in his Truth? For indeed the Children of Light, the tender, the humble, the contrite and broken-hearted ones are Glorious in his eye; and the Lord doth exalt them in due time: for after the true Humility, and in the true Humility, they come to partake of the true Honour, 1 Pet. 5. 5, 6. And so every true Jew, every true Servant, every Faithful Steward, every true Minister, that is faithful in the use of his Gift and Talent, hath praise of God, Rom. 2. 29. & they that are of God, honour those whom God honours, glorifying the Lord for them and honouring them in the Lord, 2 Cor. 8. 18. O how could this man say, there is no Glory to be given to man, though he be born of the Light, whenas the King's Daughter is all glorious within, and man in that Birth is nothing but Glorious in the eye of the Lord. Man, having sinned, fell short of the Glory of God: but coming out of sin, cometh into the Glory again, and is daily more and more changed into the Glorious Image of the Son, from Glory to Glory, &c. 2 Cor. 3. 18. The aim of God is to bring many Sons to Glory, Heb. 2. 10. and as they come out of Darkness and Sin, into Light and Holiness, they come into the Glory, and are in the Glory. Is it not their Glory, in the Lord and in his Light, to be owned and acknowledged by them that are one with them in the same light? They who love God and Honour God, cannot but love them and honour them who are begotten by him and who are in an especial manner made use of by him in his service, for the Good of souls, and for the preservation and building up of the Church. The Apostle speaks of double Honour to be given to the Elders that Rule well, especially they who labour in the Word and Doctrine, and would (from the Spirit of God) have them counted worthy of it, 1 Tim. 5. 17. How far is this man from the Apostles mind, who would have no glory given to any man, no not to the Children of Light, nor Ministers in the Light, who in the Apostles daies were the Glory of Christ? 2 Cor. 8. 23. Yea the just that live by Faith in Christ, and are gathered by him out of Satans Kingdom, into his spiritual Kingdom, and walk in the Light, as God is in the Light; there Light doth shine in them, and they do shine as the Sun in the Firmament, and they that are honoured by the Lord to turn many to Righteousness, do shine as Stars: and though one Star differs from another in glory; yet all that come into the true Nature and Heavenly Image of the Son, do come into a measure of the true glory; and have some of the glory given them, which God gave Christ; and in that are glorious, partaking of his Spirit, Kingdom, Power and Holy Dominion over Sin and Satan, all which is truly glorious, Joh. 17. 22.

Thirdly, The third thing I shall observe is this, he saith, All is to be given to Christ the light in man, unto whom alone it doth belong, who is the true Minister, and hath power in himself to teach all the Sons and Daughters of Men, &c.

Rem. That Christ is the true Minister, that is not denied: but doth not Christ, who is the true Minister in the Power of the endless life, send forth Disciples and Embassadours in the same power, and make them through his Spirit and Power able Miniſters of the New Teſtament? and they that hear them, do they not hear Chriſt? and they that deſpiſe or deny them, do they not deſpiſe or deny Chriſt? And doth not Chriſt ſay to the ſeventy Diſciples, He that heareth you, heareth me: and he that deſpiſeth you, deſpiſeth me: and he that deſpiſeth me, deſpiſeth him that ſent me? Luk. 10. 16. It is Antichriſt that ſo vainly pretends to ſet up Chriſt, or his Light, or Spirit or Power; as to deny thoſe that are ſent of him, and Miniſter in his name. As man is in the fall, he is corrupt, and his works are out of God, and he is there to be denied, ceaſed from and not accounted of: but in the reſtoration, in union and fellowſhip with the Lord, he is a worker together with God, and is there to be owned, and hath a ſhare in Miniſtring out of the heavenly treaſure that dwells in him. So Chriſt was the great Miniſter, who had the fulnes; and they that have gifts from him for the Work of the Miniſtry, and who Miniſter in and from the gift, and in that are able and faithful, are eſteemed and accounted as Miniſters by him. So ſaith the Apoſtle, As every man hath received the gift, even ſo Miniſter the ſame one to another, as good ſtewards of the manifold graces of God. If any Man ſpeak, let him ſpeak as the Oracles of God; If any Man Miniſter, let him do it as of the ability which God giveth: that God in all things may be glorified through Jeſus Chriſt, to whom be Praiſe and Dominion for ever and ever, Amen; 1 Pet. 4. 10, 11. And Paul ſaith he was made a Miniſter of the Goſpel, according to the gift of the grace of God given unto him, by the effectual working of his Power, Epheſ. 3. 7. Now the gift is given, not to thoſe that are wiſe after the fleſh (unleſs that wiſdom be firſt broken:) but to ſuch as are Mean, Poor, Weak, Low, or ſome way or other contemptible in the eye of mans Wiſdom, and eaſy to be diſregarded and deſpiſed by men. Yet it is hard to deſpiſe the man whom God ſends, without deſpiſing his gift in them; and the gift cannot be deſpiſed or rejected, without deſpiſing or rejecting him that gave it, as the Apoſtle told the Church of the Theſſalonians, he that deſpiſed or rejected, deſpiſed or rejected not man, but God (who gives his holy Spirit to them whom he ſends forth to Miniſter in his Name) 1 Theſ. 4. 8. He had been beſeeching and exhorting the Brethren, by the Lord Jeſus Chriſt that as they had received of them, how they ought to walk, and to pleaſe God; ſo they would abound more and more. For ye know, ſaid he, what Commandments we gave you by the Lord Jeſus Chriſt. Mark, the Apoſtle did not only turn them to the word of Life and Power in themſelves; but did give them Commandments from the word of life in him, and they received of them whom Chriſt ſet forth, how they ought to walk, &c. v. 1. 2. And life hath not loſt any of its Authority; but the power may teach and command others, through any veſſel when it pleaſeth: and they that are the true ſheep, know the voice of the true Shepherd, ſpeaking either in their own hearts, or through any other Inſtrument unto them. And the voice of Wiſdom in any, is in every age ſtill heard and juſtified of her Children; and he that is of God, heareth his voice, in thoſe whom he ſends in this age, as well as in former ages: and he that is not of God, heareth not his voice: and hereby the Spirit of Truth and Spirit of Errour is known in this, as well as in former ages, 1 Joh. 4. 6.

Fourthly, The Fourth Paſſage I ſhall take notice of, are theſe words, wherefore ſaith he, whoſoever doth Exalt, Chriſt the Light, who is the true Miniſter, before themſelves, by Chriſt the Light within ſhall thoſe be Exalted.

Rem. This is very different from what went before: for before he denied all Glory and Exaltation at all to man, although he be born of the Light. Here he ſpeaks of Exalting Chriſt, the true Miniſter, before themſelves, which doubtleſs every true Miniſter and every Child of Light cannot but do: and herein he confeſſeth they ſhall be Exalted by Chriſt the Light. Then Glory is given to them, and he that ſees them thus Exalted by the Light, cannot but eſteem as ſo Honoured and Exalted by Chriſt, and give them that Glory which Chriſt hath given them. And happy would it be with this man, could he ſee the true Church, which God hath brought out of the Wilderneſs, and beautified, and Glorioufly built up to a great height; and the Elders and Miniſters whom he preſerveth, and is with, and makes use of in his service, and give them in his heart the Honour and Glory which God hath Glorified them with. But that he cannot do, till he come out of Babylon, and out of that dark and confused Spirit, wherein he wrote these things, into that Light and Holy Spirit of truth, which discovers what they are (to those that are in the Truth) and condemns the Ground and Root out of which they sprang.

Fifthly, The next thing to be observed by me is this, He layeth it down, as his Judgment, Faith and Belief, that whatever is written to the Churches, ought to be written from God's infallible Spirit, and the word of Eternal Life; wherein I am one with him: for what good can any thing do the Living, but what comes from Life, and from God's infallible Spirit, which alone is able rightly to exhort, advise, admonish, warn and build up the Spiritual? But his inference thereupon, is that which is before me to take notice of. Wherefore, saith he, your paper to the Churches, is not to be owned by the Churches, in as much as it was written from a sight, or a sense, and from the sensible part, and not in and from the Spirit of Revelation.

Rem. God hath, in his holy Church and Living People, opened the eye that was once blind, and daily anointeth that eye, giving a true sight, and in the springings of Life giveth a true sense; and that which giveth this, is the Spirit of Revelation: and what is writ in this Sight and Sense, is writ from the Spirit of Revelation. And the called People of the Lord wait upon the Lord, that they may be kept in this Sight, Sense, and Spirit, in what they do not at all times; but more especially, when they consider of things relating to the Churches, even to the welfare, holy order and peace thereof; that God's Spirit may have its scope every where, and nothing else have place in the Churches of Christ. And though every one be not an eye and ear-witness, of what is to be considered of for the good of the Churches; yet every one waits to feel things in the openings, springing Life, and in that to speak, consider or write. I have often seen the carriage of things after this manner, to the joy of my heart, and causing of my soul Livingly to bless the Lord for it; and therefore may I, yea ought I now thus to speak; this testimony, which the Lord hath livingly given me, being at this time required of me. O that men knew the seriousness and solemnity of our Spirits before the Lord, in our considering things relating to his Church; and how we retire out of mans wisdom (affectionate part and comprehending part, as he speaks) to feel the springing Life, and God's holy guidance there? and how the Lord doth satisfy and bless us with it: so that we can say, in truth and uprightness of heart, not we (as men) of our selves do things on truths account; but he on whose shoulders God hath laid the Government, rules and reigns among us; and things are ordered by his Councel and wisdom, to his praise. And the peace and comfort of God's Spirit, remaines with us, in the midst of all the reproaches and oppositions we met with, from that Evil Spirit which envieth and opposeth us many wayes. This one word more is with me, as to this particular, God hath given believers, his Church, senses exercised to discern both good and evil: and those senses are not without the true Life and Spirit, and every motion and action of them is in that Life, and in that Spirit.

And whereas he further saith, Whatsoever is written, declared, or given forth in the sight, or in the sense or from the sensible part, it is not to be owned: for the sensible part is that which hath been in the transgression with the Woman, &c.

Rem, Herein he is greatly mistaken: for friends in truth do not speak, or write, or admonish, or reprove, or give warning from that part; but from the Sight and Sense which God gives to his own Birth: and it is the Spirit of God that gives both the Sight and Sense, and speaks through them; and those whose ears are Circumcised and opened, know the voice, and give Glory to God, and are obedient to his Spirit, when it gives advice and warning through any; which those that are in the comprehending part, and consider and judg in that, cannot have the sense of.

Sixthly,

Sixthly, He ſaith, Antichriſt will bring a Vail over the underſtanding of Men and Women, and yet they for the preſent cannot perceive it.

Rem. This is very true, I would he and others, who are Vailed by Antichriſt, did ſee it; for then he would not eſteem thoſe Vailed, whom the Lord hath unvailed, nor attribute theſe ſayings of his, and this his book, to the Light within, which thoſe whom the Lord hath unvailed and keepeth unvailed, in his pure Spirit and quickening Life, know to have come from the darkneſs within, and not from the true Light: but the true eye, in the truly Living, ſees through it, and hath no union with it; but returns it back thither, from whence it came. O how deeply doth Antichriſt blind and deceive men; that that which is their own ſtate, they cannot ſee to be ſo! but apply it to others, whoſe ſtate it is not, and ſo Juſtify themſelves in that wherein God Condemns them, and condemn others in that wherein God Juſtifieth them! This is ſad work, and will have a ſad Iſſue!

Seventhly, He ſaith, There is an inviſible Woman in every viſible man, and there is an inviſible man in every viſible Woman, and the man Chriſt Jeſus, who is the Light of the World, he is in them both, &c.

Rem. Is not he now in the Notional and comprehending part, mudling himſelf and others (whoſe ears are open to him) about a Woman in a man, and a man in a woman, and Chriſt in both? Whereas Truth is a plain thing; Which they that come to feel and abide in, feel and witneſs redemption, and preſervation out of the comprehending part, and the dead notional knowledg thereof.

Eightly, He ſaith, He doth not own the Judgment and Opinion of thoſe miniſters, nor yet their ſuperiority, who ſay, He that is not juſtified by the witneſs of God in friends is condemned by it in himſelf.

Rem. I ſhall not now argue that there are true Miniſters, and that there is a true ſuperiority (ſome being greater and ſome leſs in the Covenant and Life of Truth) which every one that heareth and learneth of the Father, and ſo is taught of God, will own: but to the thing it ſelf. The witneſs of God is but one in all, and it condemns nothing, but what is not of God: and what his witneſs in another condemns in me, his witneſs in me (when ever it ariſeth and ſpeaketh in me, concerning that thing) cannot but condemn alſo.

It is true, as he ſaith, that Juſtification is by Chriſt alone, who is the head in every member, &c.

Rem. But Chriſt is in other members alſo, as well as in one: and his Life hath Power to judg and condemn: and it judgeth and condemneth no where, but that which is to be judged and condemned. So that wherever Chriſt's Life in any judgeth & condemneth any thing, that is judged & condemned by Chriſt. And the Saints have Power and Authority in Chriſt, not only to judg and condemn the World, but alſo to judg and condemn fallen Angels and Spirits. To what end are they bid to try the Spirits, if after they have tryed them, they may not judg and condemn, what they find Life and Truth judging and condemning?

Ninethly, He excepts againſt that paſſage in friends Paper (as he recites it) that none are to Miniſter, but thoſe that are reconciled to the Church, and have the Approbation of the Elders.

Rem. What is the end of Miniſtring, but to gather out of the World into the Church, or to build up the Church? and are they fit to do either, who are not reconciled to the Church? or whom the Spirit, Life and Power in the Church and Elders hath not unity with?

He

He further saith, that God was in Christ, Reconciling the World unto himself, and not to the Church (saith he) he remembers no such Scripture.

Rem. God added to the Church such as should be saved, and were they not reconciled to it, before they were added? And Christ said, concerning that Brother that would not hear the Church, that he should be looked upon as an Heathen or a Publican: and are such as will not be reconciled to the Church, nor hear it, allowed by God to Minister, either to gather into the Church, or to build up in it? and surely it cannot be. There can be no true Ministring out of the Life and Spirit of the Body, or Church that is in God. And all such as have thus gone out from God in whom the Church is, have Ministred against the Life, Spirit and power, but not in it: but in Antichrists Spirit and Power, and against the Truth.

Tenthly. He saith, Christ the Light within, will not give his Power and Authority out of his own hand to any man or men: for unto him alone is all judgment in Heaven and in Earth committed in matters of Conscience.

Rem. Is Christs Power given out of his hands, when his Life and spirit in one judgeth concerning that which is evil and out of the Truth in another? Doth not the spiritual man judg all things? Doth not Christ teach and enable him so to do? Is there not such a gift of his to discern spirits? Cannot the ear that is Circumcised and kept open by the Lord, cast speeches and actions, and discern when they are out of the Life, and when in the Life? and doth he give the Power and Authority out of his own hands, in enabling them so to do? What dark expressions are these, and dead too; not so much as litterally true.

Eleventhly, He saith, Christ the Light within is able to break, and he is also able to bind up that which he hath broken, and to heal that which he hath wounded, &c.

Rem. And hath not Christ put a spiritual Rod and sword into the hands of his Church and ministry, with which to smite and wound, as his spirit guides and leads them? Have they not Power both to bind and loose as Christ saith? And is not this a wounding and healing virtue and Power; After Christ had said, Tell the Church: but if he neglect to hear the Church, let him be unto thee as an Heathen man or a Publican; doth he not immediately add, verily I say unto you, whatsoever ye shall bind on Earth, shall be bound in Heaven: and whatsoever shall be loosed on Earth, shall be loosed in Heaven? Mat. 18. 17, 18. Is not this Power and Authority necessary to the true Church? what, a Church, and not have Power over her own members; but every one left, to the dictates of what they shall call the Light within, and not be subject to the judgment of the true Light, spirit and Power of Christ the head in the Living Body? What a Church were this? a meer Babel, an heap of confusion, a Body that would never be at unity in it self. But God is the God of the order of his own Spirit, Life and Power; and not of such confusion. This Doctrine may go for truth in Babylon, but can never be owned in Gods Jerusalem, where his Spirit did build up and defends the Buildings, and judgeth out all such sandy and windy Doctrines, which are loose and airy, and have not a ground or bottom in the Truth.

Twelfthly, He saith, There is fallibility attends all those, who are Regenerated, and born of the Spirit of God, who is Light, and that it is possible for them to err from the Light again, &c.

Rem. He doth herein lay the state of the truly regenerate and born of God, lower than the Scripture layes it. The Scripture saith, whosoever is born of God, doth not commit Sin; for his seed remaineth in him, and he cannot sin, because he is born of God, 1 John. 3. 9. And again, We know that whosoever is born of God sinneth not, but he that is begotten of God keepeth himself, & that wicked one toucheth him not, c. 5. 18.

There

There is a gathering into the Seed, and an abiding in the Seed: and there the Soul is in the ſtrong Tower, and munition of Rocks, where the Enemy cannot reach. Adam in the fall was in a Fallible State: Is the renewed, the redeemed State as fallible? What State is that wherein Truth is ſo natural, and the Soul ſo one with it, that it can do nothing againſt the Truth, but for the Truth, as Paul ſpeaks? What State is that, wherein Men overcoming, ſhall become Pillars in the Houſe of God, and ſhall go no more out? Rev. 3. 12. But, let Men be never ſo fallible; the infallible Spirit and Power is given to the Church of God, to guide them in true Underſtanding and Judgment; eſpecially in all things that relate to, and concern them, as a Body: and they that are of the Truth, and in the Truth, love the Judgment of Chriſt the Head in her; but they that are of another Spirit, and would have liberty out of the Truth, to the transforming Nature and Spirit, cannot abide it. What were my Life in me, if it did not Judg in me? And, What were the Churches Life, if it did not Judg in her, and Condemn all that riſeth up from a contrary Spirit and Nature? What means that Promiſe, Iſa. 54. 17. No Weapon that is formed againſt thee ſhall proſper, and every Tongue that riſeth againſt thee in Judgment, ſhalt thou Condemn?

Yet he Confeſſeth, That God is infallible, and that no fallibility attends him; but denies The very Regenerate and Born of the Spirit to be infallible, and that it is poſſible for them to err from the Light; again, the Enemy which is the Power of Darkneſs, preſenting to them the Fruit of the Tree of Knowledge, &c.

Rem. If God be infallible, as he confeſſeth (though it is to be queſtioned, whether from any true Knowledge of Nature, or only from the Comprehenſion) and God beget Children: into what doth he beget them? whether into a fallible Nature and Spirit, or into his own Nature and Spirit, the leaſt Degree whereof is infallible? When Men are truly turned to God, there are great and precious Promiſes made to them, which through Faith, Obedience, and Diligence, they come to Enjoy, whereby they are made Partakers of the Divine Nature, 2 Pet. 1. 4. And when they partake of the Divine Nature, Do they partake of a Nature that is fallible, or infallible? He that is joyned to the Lord, is one Spirit, 1 Cor. 6. 17. and, Is that one Spirit a fallible, or infallible Spirit? There is one Baptiſm, wherewith the truly Living are Baptized: and, Doth that Baptiſm waſh away that which is fallible, or no? The Church of Chriſt, the Body of Chriſt, the Spouſe of Chriſt, the chaſt Virgin that is Married to Chriſt, is one with Chriſt: Is it one with him in fallibility or in infallibility? Bear with me, for I am conſtrained to ſpeak theſe things for Truths ſake, for the Churches ſake; yea, for Chriſt's ſake, and for the ſakes of them who cry up the Light within, in words, and yet are deceived about it, and know it not; but are erred from it, and have ſet up the darkneſs of Anti-Chriſt in their Minds, inſtead of it, which with them goes for the true Light: and in this they Judg that which is true, as if it were falſe, and Juſtify that which is falſe, as if it were true, both in themſelves and others; both which is an abomination to the Lord.

He ſaith, There is a Fallibility attends all thoſe that are Regenerate, and Born of the Spirit of God.

Rem. What all? Thoſe that come to the higheſt pitch, and greateſt growth, Can they not paſs fallibility, and arrive at infallibity in a meaſure, and abide in it? To be Regenerated and Born of God, is an high State: it is not for every Notioniſt, and Comprehender to be talking what is Experienced there. There is a Regenerating, and a being Regenerated. There is a following Chriſt in the Regeneration, and there is a conformity to him in his Death, and in his Life too. It is not good for him to be ſpeaking much concerning that State, but rather to wait, to be led into it, and to arrive at it in the true Travel. But how, he that is Regenerated is one with Chriſt (and is in meaſure as he is) is hard to be known, and harder to be uttered. But he that is in this State, hath Witneſſed the the holy Calling, and Faithfulness to him that Called, and the Election, and is one of the Chosen, or Elect of God; and Christ saith, such are beyond fallibility; for speaking of false Christs, he saith, If it were possible, they should deceive the very Elect, Mat. 24. 24. plainly signifying, that it is impossible.

Now their possibility of erring he lays upon the Enemies, presenting to them the Fruit of the Tree of Knowledge, whilst they are in Eden, p. 6.

Rem. The Enemies presenting Temptations, doth not imply a possibility of letting in the Temptation, and so of Erring in all, to whom he doth present things. For he presented things to Christ, and yet it was impossible for that Spirit and Nature, that Christ was of, to let in his Temptations.

But then, immediately in the next Words, he sheweth, How this possibility of falling is upon the Enemies, presenting to them the Fruit of the Tree of Knowledge, namely thus, Their Minds taking delight in it, and they feeding upon it, the Enemy hath power to draw their Minds out of Eden again.

Rem. The Regenerate and Born of God, are partakers of the Divine Nature, and wait on God for Living Food, and receive it of him, and live by it, and cannot abide dead, dry, notional food, nor feed upon it. Blessed be the Lord, there is that Birth known, which can feed on nothing but Life it self. And let the power of Darkness present the Fruit of the dead Tree never so often; the living Babe will not meddle with it, but Hungers, and Thirsts after Righteousness, and desires the sincere Milk of the pure living Word, that it may grow thereby. And if this holy Nature be put into the Babe; How much stronger is it in those that are grown in Truth, and who come to be Naturalized into it, the contrary Nature being Crucified, and Slain in them by the Cross of Christ, and the New and Holy Nature Ruling in them?

Thirteenthly, He saith, Wherefore, I do believe that I ought not to subject my self to what the Church imposeth.

Rem. The Church of God under the Law, walking in that outward Covenant, was a glorious Camp or Body; and had outward Power, according to the outward Law, appertaining to it. And the Church of God under the Gospel, walking with God according to the Covenant of the Gospel, is a Glorious, Spiritual Body; and hath inward Power belonging to it: and though not the Church meerly as Men; yet that Spirit and Power in the Church, ought to be obeyed by every Member thereof, in things pertaining to God. So it was it the Apostles days; they that were not disorderly and unruly, were obedient to the Spirit and Power of God in the Apostles, and Churches then, 2 Cor. 7. 15. and ch. 29. who had power to Judg those that were within, 1 Cor. 5. 12. And those that are indeed of God, will be obedient and subject to his Spirit and Power in his Church now. And there is nothing else desired, but obedience to the Lord, as he moves, guides, leads, and orders, both in the particular, and in the general.

His Reasons why he doth not believe, That he ought to subject himself to what the Church imposeth, are these: For then, saith he, I must believe that it is God in them, which doth impose those Yokes of Bondage upon their Brethren.

Rem. The Church is called into the liberty of the Gospel, and her Children are Born of the word Immortal, and of the Truth which makes free: and it is not the Church its Natnre, either to receive or impose Yokes of Bondage; but to stand fast, and to exhort all her Members to stand fast, in the liberty wherewith Christ hath made them free. But where there is any thing unruly, or contrary to the Power, that is to be Yoked down by the Power.

And the particular waiting upon God in his holy Spirit, Light, and Power; the Spirit, Light, and Power, will diſcover what is diſorderly, and unruly, and not of God in the particular, and lay a Yoke upon it. The Church alſo waiting upon God, in their Meetings together in his Name; the Lord will diſcover what is hurtful to the Body, and contrary to the Life of the Body, and lay Yokes upon it: and he that refuſeth this Yoke, keeps alive that which is impure and fleſhly, and keeps down the Juſt in himſelf.

But indeed, he that doth not believe God in his Church, and that his Spirit, Life, and Power, ſits as King there; he is not in a capacity to obey aright, becauſe he doth not diſcern nor acknowledge that in the Church, which alone is to be Obeyed.

Another Reaſon he gives is, Becauſe (he ſaith) he muſt alſo then believe that the Church is Infallible, and cannot Err.

Rem. The Spirit of God is infallible, the Power whereby the Church was gathered and built up, is infallible. Chriſt is infallible, and hath given to his Church of his Infallible Spirit; without which, they cannot be preſerved or act aright; And, Is the Church in God fallible? And this Spirit will not fail them in their waiting upon him: and the Church which is one with Chriſt, Married to Chriſt, Joyned to Chriſt, partaketh of his holy, living, and infallible Nature.

Judge in the Truth, how it would ſuit: an holy Head, an unholy Body; a living Head, a dead Body; an infallible Head, an elect and choſen Head; but a body very lyable to be deceived and err. Hath not the Church that Spirit, that Life, that Power of the Lord Jeſus Chriſt her Head with her, that is able to keep her from erring? And, Is it not her earneſt travel, and deſire to keep to it her ſelf, and to have all her Members kept to it? And, Will not that Power keep, and preſerve all that keep to it?

He addeth further to the foregoing Words, Which thing I cannot believe, for then I muſt believe theſe particulars following.

Firſt, I muſt believe that they are as infallible, as God is; and that it is as impoſſible for them to err, as it is for God to err.

Anſw. No, A Man may believe, That God hath given to his Church a glorious proportion of his Spirit, to dwell in them, and guide them, as his Sons, Spouſe, and Wife; and that they are Married to him that is infallible, and partake of a bleſſed proportion of his Nature; and yet not believe, that they are as infallible, as God is. The Lord is abſolutely infallible of himſelf: what infallibility the Church hath, is by Gift, by Union, and Communion with the Lord her Husband and Maker.

But, Doth he believe, or will he go about to maintain, that the Church hath nothing of the Infallible Spirit of her Husband? Or that ſhe is to act in a Fallible Spirit? Or that ſhe is to act nothing at all? But only direct Men to the Light and Spirit within, and let her Members alone, though ſhe infallibly (by the Infallible Spirit and Power) know that they are deceived and err, and ſee (with the Anointed Eye) that they are going from, and acting contrary to the Light in their own particulars? If ſhe ſhould do ſo, ſhe would ſhew little Care over her Children, and ſmall Regard or Faithfulneſs to him, who hath entruſted her with his own Spirit and Power, for Edification and Salvation, and not for Deſtruction.

Secondly, That no Man or Woman ſhall ever attain to any higher meaſure of the grace of God then they, and that they are come to the higheſt revelation that can be attainable by the Spirit of God.

Anſw. The higheſt meaſure of Life and of the Spirit, is not neceſſary for the Government of the Church: but a true meaſure. And a true meaſure the Lord hath ordained for his Church; and Chriſt the Head is not abſent from his Church, but preſent with it, to ſupply with what Wiſdom and Power he ſeeth needful. And where is the attainment and growth in grace? Is it in the Church, or out of the Church? Doth not the Lord add to the Church ſuch as ſhall be ſaved? and is not their

their growth there? And if any member be blessed, and grow never so abundantly in grace, it is the growth of the Church, and the Church is glad of it. Now if it be a true growth, they would have Unity with the Church, and mind the Peace of the Church, and be subject to the Spirit and pure Power of Life in the Church: else their growth is in another Spirit, which the true Church can never own.

Thirdly, And that there is no more to be made known by the Spirit of God, in the Sons and Daughters of Men, but what already is made known to them.

Answ. The particulars owning a measure of Life, of Truth, of the Spirit and Power doth not argue there is no more to be made known, or revealed in the particular. And the Churches owning a fuller measure dwelling in the body, than in any one particular (for the greatest fulness in any particular doth but go to make up the largness or fulness in the body) doth not argue that the Church shall not grow, or be enlarged and filled, as it grows. But if he intend the growth of any, departing from the Church, or out of the Spirit of Life of the Church, who hath her Life from the head, and is in unity with the Head: that growth we cannot but deny, finding it, by constant tryal and experience, to be a growth in Notion and Comprehension, out of the feeling life and power.

Now this kind of growth, I do not desire ever to know; the Lord also preserve others out of it, and open their Ears to hear the voice of Christ, and of his Church, that they may be preserved out of it. For had this been hearkened and kept to, things had been better with many, as to their inward State, true Peace with the Lord, than they have been.

Fourthly, Or if there be any thing more to be revealed by the Spirit of God, that God will make it known to them, and to none else.

Answ. The true Church doth not limit God, where he shall reveal, or not reveal, but owneth God in what ever it reveales in any man upon the Face of the Earth. For being in Unity with Gods Spirit, and born of the Immortal Life, they are in the sealing sense and knowledge of what came from the Life in ages past, or in this present age; and are in Unity with it: yet they know, the Lord revealeth the Mystery of his Truth and Kingdom in the Churches, and the growth is in the Churches.

Now if any in Lucifers Nature, will hearken to that Spirit which despiseth Gods Church, and rend from it, and think to grow above it; and expect this Growth in their high notions and comprehensions about things, in that exalted mind, should be be owned by the Church; they will be mistaken: for the true Spirit, which knows all things, and guides the Church, will not guide the Church to own any such Spirit or Growth; but to judge and condemn it in its greatest spreading and exaltation.

There were those in the Apostles dayes, who would seem to be grown high, and to be spiritual, far above the Apostles and such as lay low in the Truth, and obeyed the holy Commandments; and yet were far short of their Life; as may be seen Abundantly in his Epistles to the Church of Corinth. But what saith the Apostle concerning such? If any man think himself a Phrophet or Spiritual, let him acknowledge the things that I write unto you, are the Commandments of the Lord, 1 Cor. 12. 37. And did not he give Commandments about those that were unruly, and would not be subject to the Order, Power and Government of Gods Spirit in the Church? And did not the Apostle say of unruly Persons, and vain Talkers and Deceivers, that their mouths must be stopped? Tit. 1. 10. 11. What, had the Church or Ministers, in the first promulgation of the Gospel Power to stop mouths? Yea, in the Spirit that was in them and with them, they knew which was the vain talkers, the unruly and deceivers, and what mouths were to be stopped, and what Power would stop them?

Fifthly, He saith, Friends, I would have you seriously take into your consideration some of your Doctrines and Principles which are commonly preached among us, how they can stand with Gods Soveraignty, Dominion and Glory, that either the seed or God should arise in Man.

Rem. Chriſt preached a Seed, even the Kingdom like a grain of muſtard-ſeed, and this Seed ſown in man. Now if it was ſown in man, in his earthly heart, Nature and Spirit, then the earth was over it, and did cover it, and it was to ſpring up or ariſe over and above the Earth; and the pure Power, Wiſdom, and Glory of the Father to appear to be manifeſted in it.

Is this ſuch a ſtrange Doctrine to him? where are his Spiritual ſenſes? How was he convinced? was it without the feeling of the ſeed? If he truly felt it, where did he feel it? did he not feel it in the earth? was there not much over it?

I am ſure, we who were truly convinced, felt it ſo; felt the pure ſeed under, ſuffering the pure Life under, the pure meaſure of truth under, and much of the Earth over it, the Lamb ſlain inwardly by ſin and tranſgreſſion, and bleſſed be the Lord, we felt alſo the Earth Judged, and removed out of its place; the Earth ploughed up, and the ſeed ſpringing over all thats Earthly, and growing up in that which God made New, over that which was Old.

And did not God ariſe outwardly, in the manifeſtation of his Power outwardly, among the outward Jews? And, Doth not he ariſe inwardly, in the manifeſtation of his Power inwardly, among the inward Jews? Are the Enemies ever ſcattered inwardly, till Gods ariſing inwardly? What kind of Convincement or Growth, hath that Man been acquainted with, who never Experienced theſe things?

Now having propoſed this, he asketh ſome Queſtions, which as the Lord ſhall open my Heart, I may return Anſwers to: not after a Notional way, but as the Lord hath given me the Knowledge, Feeling, and Experience of the thing.

His Firſt Queſtion is, Whether the Light or Spirit, Seed, and God, be not all one and the ſame thing?

Anſw. God is the Fulneſs, the Seed is a meaſure, and manifeſtation of him, the infinite Fulneſs. And as he is Light, and Spirit: ſo the Seed that comes from him, or that the good Husband-man Sows, is Light and Spirit alſo.

His Second Queſtion is, How came this Seed of God to be under, or beneath in Man?

Anſw. Any Man that knows the Truth in the holy Experience, and hath been Tempted, and let in Sin upon him, may know what comes then under, and how it comes under. The Spirit by Sin is Grieved; yea, the holy Spirit may be quenched, and Man may Crucify to himſelf the Lord of Glory.

His Third and Fourth Queſtions are, What ſhall raiſe it up? And, By what?

Anſw. to both, The Power of God, the Spirit of God, the Life of God, entring into its own in Man, entring into the Witneſs, raiſeth it up, brings that under, which reſiſted, oppreſſed, and kept it down. The Power of the Almighty, by his out-ſtretched-Arm, cruſheth Pharaoh inward, and brings his Spiritual Seed out of Spiritual Egypt, Sodom, and Babylon, in all which the Lord, in all Ages, hath Inwardly, and Spiritually been Crucified, by them that have reſiſted his holy Spirit, in the pure Manifeſtations thereof: for what is done to it, is done to him. Saul, Saul, Why Perſecuteſt thou me?

Laſtly, Whether the Appearance of God in Man, to Man by his Spirit, be not for the quickening and raiſing of Man, both Soul and Body, out of a State of Bondage and Captivity?

Anſw. Yes, it is: But how doth God raiſe up Man? Is it not by joyning him to his Seed, and cauſing him to bow to his Seed; and ſuffer with his Seed, and deny that which is contrary to his Seed; ſo that the Seed, which hath been grieved, and burden'd with Sin and Iniquity, may riſe up over it, and cruſh the Head of the Serpent in the Authority, Power, Dominion of the Fathers Life? Who of the Redeemed Ones, that have Witneſſed true Redemption, have not Witneſſed God, bringing that up which was down, low, deep in the Heart; and bringing that down which was high, and exalted over it?

But for the raiſing of God, that is but his miſrepreſentation of this ſound Doctrine, and holy experience: for Chriſt himſelf, who was God, and the Reſurrection and the Life; yet the God-head was not raiſed in him, but the Reſurrecti-on

on, and the Life raiſed that Body. And that of him, which he ſoweth in us, and which differeth in the Soul, through the ſouls ſin; he raiſeth up in his own holy Dominion, in them that come to ſuffer with it, and to bear the Croſs with that which Crucifieth ſin.

This is ſound Doctrine and ſound Experience, Univerſally experienced by all that know the inward truth, and have ſubjected to it. They have felt what truth was, and where it was; and what it is, and where it is; and what they are in it, and by it; bleſſings and praiſes over all unto him, who by the working of his moſt Glorious Power, hath brought this about in a remnant, whom the Lord hath viſited and ſhewn Mercy to.

Let him wait for true underſtanding, from him who is able to give it, and anſwer me this one queſtion then, Doth not the Devil, the Enemy of Man-Kind, hunt after the Precious Life, even in thoſe that come to witneſs Redemption in meaſure from him? and if at any time they hearken to his temptations, and let him in, doth not the Life receive a wound? is not the ſpirit grieved? is not the tender, righteous, living Plant hurt?

O the tender Mercy of God to permit his truth, his ſeed, his ſon; not only to ſuffer for man, without the Gates of Jeruſalem, but alſo to ſuffer in Man, even in the ſtreets of Sodom, where our Lord was in Ages paſt Crucified, and is ſpiritually Crucified to this day! Rev. 11. 8.

He ſaith, The Kingdom of Heaven is within all men and women, and Heaven is above Hell, and the Light is above Darkneſs, p. 7.

Rem. If he mean that their Nature is ſo, I grant it: but if he mean that Heaven, or the Light which is Heavenly, is uppermoſt in men who are under the Kingdom and Power of Darkneſs, he is utterly miſtaken: for in the Kingdom where Satan and Antichriſt Reign, Antichriſt is there exalted (in that heart) above all that is called God; even above the Light, Spirit and Power, which ought to be Worſhiped and Obeyed there, but is not: and there is need of the Arm and Power of God to be awakened, and to put on ſtrength there, to cut Rahab, wound the Dragon, and bring him under, and to bring up the Seed into its heavenly Authority, Dominion and Power (which is due unto it) in that heart.

He ſaith, The Seed is to redeem, and not to be redeemed.

Rem. This is true, relating to the Seed, as it is in it ſelf: But as God hath beſtowed it on man, given it as a Gift in man, and it condeſcends to his Condition, deſcending into the lower parts of the Earth, and ſuffering with man, that it might bring man into its Death and ſufferings, and ſo raiſe it in and with it ſelf: ſo the mighty power of Life, from whence it came, is to be revealed in it, and bring it out of Egypt, and the darkneſs wherein it finds man, and in the tender Love of God to man, bears a ſhare with him. It is not the Jew outwardly that pierced Chriſt, but the Soul inwardly by Tranſgreſſion pierceth his Life and Spirit: and as it comes to true ſenſe and Faith, looks upon him whom it hath pierced by Sin, and mourns bitterly over him, and turns from and hates that Sin, whereby it pierced him.

He ſaith, The Seed in both Man and Woman, it is both God and Chriſt, and it is above the Seed of the Serpent in all, and he is in himſelf, &c. p. 7.

Rem. Who denies that God and Chriſt, and the Holy Seed, which are one in Nature, though not in Meaſure and Fulneſs, as he is in himſelf, is above the Seed of the Serpent?

He addeth further, Neither hath mans mind been ſo blinded, that he could not ſee his Sins by the Light, P. 8. L. 38. (as corrected by the Errata.)

Rem. There is an eye that the God of this World blinds, that it may not ſee the Glorious ſhinings of the Light, 2 Cor. 4, 3, 4. And the eye that is blind, cannot ſee, till God opens it. The outward eye cannot ſee the ſhining of the outward Sun, but as it is opened: nor can the inward Eye ſee inward things, but as the Lord opens it. Paul was ſent to the Gentiles, to open their Eyes, and to turn them from Darkneſs to Light, Act. 26. 18. So that Mans Eye is blinded, that though the Light ſhine in the Darkneſs, yet he cannot ſee, nor walk in the way of the Light, but as God anoints, and opens his Eye; Anoint thine Eyes with Eye-ſalve, that thou mayeſt See, Rev. 3. 18.

But

But I beſeech him, in the tender Bowels of Love, to conſider where his Standing is, and what it is in him, that brings forth theſe Things: For, I am ſure, it is not the true Light, where-with God hath ſhined in the Hearts of his People, and doth ſhine at this Day. He miſtakes the true Light in others, and calls it Darkneſs; and alſo miſtakes the Darkneſs in himſelf, and calls it Light: And, Whither, after this rate, may he wander in his uncertain Notions and Comprehenſions; and while he is thus talking of God, and Heaven, and the Light within, he be found among them who blaſpheme God, and his Tabernacle, and them that dwell in Heaven?

What I have hitherto took notice of, may ſufficiently manifeſt, even to himſelf, could he retire low enough, where the true Underſtanding and Knowledge is given) how he hath erred from the true Light, and but pretended to it, and not been led by it, in what he hath now writ.

As for the other Part of his Book, though I could ſay much to it, if the Lord did require me; yet finding it chiefly to be Matter of Notion and Criticiſm, my Heart is not engaged to meddle with it: For it is not in me, to bring People into ſuch Critical Diſputes, about an Inviſible Man, or Inviſible Woman, or who was the firſt Inviſible Man; which one while he ſeems to call God, or Chriſt; another while the Son of Perdition, or Power of Darkneſs. he calls the firſt Inviſible Man; as pag. 21. for which I am ſatisfied, he can produce no Scripture; which he requires of Friends, for what they aſſert.

I muſt confeſs, I ſee no Profit in his medling with ſuch things; but rather a drawing the Minds of the People into forbidden Knowledge, and airy Comprehenſion about the Heavenly Things, and feeding that Part in themſelves, which ſhould not thus be ſuffered to fly aloft, but be kept under.

And happy were it for him, if he could feel the Truth, Seed, and Life, (which is grieved in him) riſe above them, trample them down, and reign over them: But he muſt experience great Humility, and a long Travel, before he can come to witneſs this.

As for his denying himſelf to be of us; indeed he hath ſufficiently manifeſted by this Book, and by his ſtrange Notions and Comprehenſions therein, that he is not of Us; but a Stranger to that Life, Spirit and Power, which hath gathered, guideth, and preſerveth Us out of ſuch Paths as theſe.

And, O that he did not hug ſo many Notions, (and thoſe very ſtrange ones too, contrary to the Truth and Holy Experience, in the Hearts of God's Redeemed Ones, and the Holy Scriptures, as hath been already ſhewed) and get ſuch Comprehenſions into his Brain, concerning the ſaving Power; but wait to deſcend, and come down thither, where he may feel it in his Heart; and that will preſerve him, for the future, from ſuch Contradictions and Confuſions, which the other Part of his Book is alſo too full of; which, if the Lord pleaſe, he may draw forth ſome other to lay open, for the Vindication of Truth, and its true Teſtimony, from his Spirit, and falſe Teſtimony, uttered in very ſtrange and extravagant Expreſſions; not at all ſuitable to the Nature of Truth, but rather to the Nature of that dark Spirit, from whence it came; which the Lord of his tender Mercy manifeſt to him, and Redeem him from, into a tender, living, humble Senſe of the meek and lowly Principle of Life, in the Heart.

THE POST-SCRIPT.

SInce the Writing of the Former, and my not intending to meddle with the Rest, there hath something lain upon me, as to some few Passages therein also, to write a few Words, by way of Testimony, to One or Two Particulars therein: But that which mainly lay upon me, was somewhat in Relation to his Post-script; he looking upon it as so Unanswerable, and yet so plain and clear an Answer arising to it in my Heart.

First, As to his main Controversy with Friends, about the Christ that Dyed at Jerusalem, (he affirming, That neither Justification nor Condemnation is by Him; and reproaching Friends, as having gone back to the Professour's Christ, and Saviour, who Dyed without the Gates of Jerusalem, as pag. 17. p. 21. & p. 26.) this is in my Heart to say:

Rem. Is Christ divided? Is there One Christ that Dyed without the Gates of Jerusalem, and Another that did not Dye? Or, Is it not the same Lord Jesus Christ, who Died without the Gates of Jerusalem, according to the Flesh, and yet was then alive in the Spirit? Do we affirm, that the God-head died? (no, we do not so much as affirm, That his Soul dyed, as he doth, p. 19.) but according to the Flesh he dyed; that is, he who was the Resurrection, and the Life, laid down his Life, and took it up again, according to the Commandment of his Father.

Thus we have been taught of God to believe, and thus to hold it forth. And we have no other Justifier, Condemner, Saviour, or Intercessor, than he that laid the Life of the Body, offering it up a Sacrifice to his Father, without the Gates of Jerusalem. Who is he that Justifyeth? Is it not God, in and through him? And, Who is he that Condemneth? Is it not Christ that dyed? (And, Where did he dye? Was it not without the Gates of Jerusalem? yea rather, that is Risen again, &c. Rom. 8. 33, 34.

Secondly, The next thing that lyes upon me to take Notice of, is writing against Sense, and disowning the Exhortation to come to a Sense, and to wait in a Sense, and abide in a Sense, &c. as p. 25.

Rem. Though I have given a touch at this already, in the fore-going Part; yet there is some-what more lies upon me. The Inward Man, the New Man, the Spiritual Man hath Inward and Spiritual Senses. Christ's Sheep have Spiritual Ears to hear his Voice with, and a Spiritual Eye is given to the Spiritual Man, to see Him who otherwise is Invisible.

There is also a Spiritual Tast, to savour and distinguish between that which is Living, and that which is Dead; between that which is Corrupt and Unwholsom, and that which is Wholsom Food: and by the Exercise of these Senses, the Children of God become more and more skilful in discerning between Good and Evil, Heb. 5. 14. And in this Living Sense, the Elect cry unto God against their Enemies, and are heard and preserved by him, and shall in due time be fully delivered, Luk. 18. 7, 8.

The truly living, are truly sensible. Indeed, if he could take away the Sense of Life, and the Judgment of Life from God's People, it were an easy Matter to deceive them with such kind of Notions and Comprehensions, as he hath brought forth in this his Book. But the Lord hath given a living Sense, or Senses to his,

and

and pure Living Judgment therein: which their Minds being kept to, it is impoſſible for this Spirit, or any ſuch like, with all its Inchantments, to prevail upon them; becauſe the Sheeps Ear knows the Sound and Voice of Life, from the Sound and Voice of Death, let Anti-chriſt transform in any of his Miniſters never ſo myſteriouſly.

He ſaith, God is not a Senſe, nor is his Spirit a Senſe.

Rem. It is not for him, in his Notional Way, to ſay what God is: He that made the Eye, ſhall not he ſee? He that made the Ear, ſhall not he hear? Doth he beget his Children into a living Senſe, and beſtow living Senſes upon them? and, Hath not he the Thing in himſelf much more?

But let me ask him this Queſtion: Did God, the Holy Begetter of Life, ever beget him into a living Senſe? If not, he was never of Us: If the Lord did, let him wait to be begotten ſo again, and he ſhall ſoon be one of Us again, and judge in the true Spirit, Life, and Power, what he hath here Writ and Publiſhed abroad in the wrong; and he ſhall no longer believe, that this his Writing was written from the Teſtimony of Jeſus in him, (as he expreſſeth, pag. 21.) but ſhall experience the Life of Jeſus, condemning it in his own Heart; as I am ſure, it hath done, and doth in mine, and cannot but do in all that have been gathered to, and abide in that which keepeth livingly ſenſible.

Thirdly, The Third Thing, and that which moſt lies upon me, is that Charge of his upon Friends, That they do ſhew more Homage, Reverence, and Obedience to the Form outwardly, than to the Power of God inwardly; and that they Worſhip the Form beyond the Power, becauſe they keep their Hats on when they Wait and Worſhip in Silence; but in publick Prayer, both Men and Women either Stand up, or elſe Kneel down; and the Men all put off their Hats: Herein (he ſaith) they Worſhip, Reverence, and Adore the Form outwardly; and the Words, more than the Word of Life in their Hearts, &c. This Practiſe he would have them vindicate, if they can: Indeed, he hath ſufficiently Condemned it, and more than God hath allowed him to do, or will Juſtify him in.

Rem. The Thing is nakedly and plainly thus: The Great God, by the Arm of his Power, hath gathered a People to Himſelf, and taught them to Worſhip Him in his own Spirit and Truth: Yea, he hath taught us to be continually Retired, and upon our Watch, and in his Fear; eying, and regarding Him in all we do.

Beſides this, He hath appointed us ſolemn Times of Meeting together, to Worſhip Him; in which Times, we do, in a more ſolemn, and after a more eſpecial manner, retire to feel his Preſence with us, and holy Spirit and Power working in our Hearts, and miniſtring to us. And, bleſſed be the Lord, he is ſtill found, according to his Promiſe, in the Midſt of us; and doth give us pure Breathings after Him, and pure Senſe of Him, and pure Praiſes to him; even Praiſes from, and in that which is pure.

Yet, while we are ſitting thus waiting, or when Breathings or Praiſes ariſe, we are not taught or required of the Lord, to pull off our Huts, or kneel on our Knees.

But, when the Lord moveth and calleth any forth (for the Aſſembly, or in the Name, and on the Behalf of the Aſſembly) to offer Prayer or Praiſes to God; then, to ſignify our Unity in the Spirit, and our joint Reverence to our God, we are moved either to Kneel, or Stand, as the Lord ſhall incline our Hearts, and to uncover our Heads before Him. And in this we do not adore the Form, as our God knoweth, and beareth witneſs; but Him who hath taught us the Form, and who teacheth us to continue therein, and juſtifyeth us in the Uſe and Practice thereof.

And, What Spirit is this that Condemneth us, after this vaunting manner, as if if he had brought forth ſuch a manifeſt Evidence of our Adoring the Form, as could not be Anſwered?

The last thing, which lies on me to take Notice of, is those Words about the Close of his Post-script: I have yet another Book, that is written in and from the Spirit of God; the Tendency of which Book, is for the Overthrowing of all Anti-christ's Ministers in this Nation, &c.

Rem. This Testimony lyes on my Heart concerning him, that he is not in a Condition, or Capacity, to write or speak in or from God's Spirit. He may pretend to have Written this, or to Write another Book from God's Spirit, but he doth but take the Name of the Lord in vain, in so doing; and the Spirit of the Lord will without doubt through some of those that are in him that is true, give a sure and certain Sound, and Testimony against his false Pretences.

O! That he could indeed think, or write, or speak against Anti-christs Ministers, and against the Spirit of Anti-christ: which if ever he be able from God to do, he must first see how Anti-christ hath prevailed over him, and darkened him; and how he dwelleth and reigneth in his Heart, as if he were God; yea, he must deny his present Light and Spirit, and call it no more Christ; but feel that which is now little and low in him rise (through his Sense of it, and Subjection to it) over that which is now so high, and so exalted above the Measure of Truth in his own Heart: Which, if it were so, or might once be so, How glad would my Soul be for his sake, which is now grieved to see him so lifted up, and so mistaken, and so deeply to err, both concerning himself, and God's People, Church, and Ministers, and concerning God's Light and Spirit, denying, debasing, and casting down that, to exalt himself; that so he might set up the Wrong, instead of the Right, and be justifyed and owned by the one, seeing he cannot by the other!

The Lord, if it be his Will, in tender Mercy to him, bring him down from his high Seat, and exalt that Holy Blood of the Covenant, which is now trampled under foot by him, that his Soul may be saved, and not perish for ever, (in the Day that never shall have end) from the Presence of the Lord, and from the Glory of his Power, Amen.

SOME

Mis-representations

Of Me concerning

Church-Government CLEARED.

AND

The Power and Authority of GOD's Spirit, in Governing His CHURCH, Testifyed to.

By One, whom it hath pleased the Lord to make a Member of the Church, which he hath Gathered, and Preserveth by his own Almighty Arm; who accounteth it his Duty and Honour in the Lord, to be Subject to the Government and Ordering of his Spirit and Power in his Church,

Isaac Penington.

That ye submit your selves unto such, and to every one that helpeth with us, and laboureth, 1 Cor. 16. 16.

Obey them that have the Rule over you, and submit your selves; for they watch for your Souls, as they that must give Account, that they may do it with Joy, and not with Grief; for that is unprofitable for you, Heb. 13. 17.

Likewise, ye Younger, submit your selves unto the Elder; yea, all of you be subject one to another, and be clothed with Humility: For God resisteth the Proud, and giveth Grace to the Humble, 1 Pet. 5. 5.

And be not drunk with Wine, wherein is Excess: But be filled with the Spirit, and submitting your selves one to anotber in the Fear of God, Ephes. 5. 18, 21.

THE PREFACE.

Upon occasion of the Suffering of our dear Friends and Brethren in New-England, cruel Imprisonments, many hard Usages, and at last (some of them) Death it self, for their Obedience and Faithful Testimony to the Lord, and his precious Truth; and because of the undue Covering thereof, by the Grounds and Causes produc'd to justify their Proceedings; I was engaged to shew the Nakedness, and Unreasonableness thereof, in a Book, Entituled, An Examination of the Grounds or Causes, which are said to induce the Court of Boston in New-England, to make that Order, or Law

Law of Baniſhment upon pain of Death againſt the Quakers, &c. Whereunto ſomewhat was added (being very proper to the ſubject in hand) about the Authority and Government which Chriſt excluded out of his Church, which alſo occaſioned ſomewhat concerning the true Church-Government..

Now this latter part (about Church-Government) hath been ſo Miſrepreſented, as if, becauſe the wrong Church-Government was Excluded, the Excluſion of all Church-Government was intended by Me, there being no notice taken of my owning the true Church-Government, but only ſome paſſages of my diſowning the falſe produced, as if they intended to overturn and deny all Church-Government, which never was intended by Me: for in that very Book which is thus made uſe of, I did poſitively affirm the neceſſity and uſe of the true Church-Government, which may more fully appear in that which hereafter follows.

Some Miſrepreſentations of Me, concerning Church-Government.

FOr the Manifeſting that I am Miſ-repreſented, and the clearing of my Innocency from thoſe Miſrepreſentations, this is on my heart;

Firſt, to ſet down thoſe words which John Pennyman hath cited out of that part of my Book which ſpeaks of the Authority and Government which Chriſt excluded out of his Church.

Secondly, To add ſomewhat, in way of Confirmation of that Truth and Tender ſence, which was then upon my Heart.

Thirdly, To propoſe ſome Queſtions, as I ſhall find them ariſe in my Heart, further to open and manifeſt the intent of my Heart in this thing.

Fourthly, To annex ſomewhat, which is mentioned and immediately added in the very ſame part of the Book, concerning true Church-Government, which plainly manifeſteth that I was not againſt the true Church-Government, nor did mention or intend any of thoſe things to hinder, deny or oppoſe the true Church-Government, of which I do there infer an abſolute neceſſity.

Fifthly, It is on my heart to add a few Conſiderations further concerning the neceſſity, uſefulneſs and benefit of the true Church-Government.

The firſt words John Pennyman cites out of this part of my Book, concerning the Authority and Government which Chriſt excluded out of his Church, from Mat. 20. ver. 25, to 29. are theſe.

Here Chriſt cuts off that Power and Authority, which grows up in the corrupt nature of man, which was ever and anon ſpringing up even in the Diſciples; here he wholly excludes it out of his Church, and ſaith expreſſly, He would have no ſuch thing amongſt them, no ſuch kind of Greatneſs, no ſuch kind of Authority.

Confirm. It is the full belief of my Heart, that Chriſt hath cut off that Power and Authority, which grows up in the corrupt Nature of Man, and wholly excluded it out of his Church, even very expreſly in this forecited Scripture; plainly ſignifying therein, that he would have no ſuch kind of Greatneſs, no ſuch kind of Authority among his gathered and choſen People.

Queſt. But doth this ſignifie or imply, that he would have no authority at all? Doth this exclude the Authority and Government of his Spirit and Power in his Church? Doth not he notwithſtanding this ſay, Go tell the Church? And enjoyn the members of the Church, to hear the Church, upon the penalty of being accounted Heathens and Publicans? And did not the Holy Ghoſt make and appoint Overſeers over the Church? Act. 20. 28. And what is an Overſeer? Or in what were they to overſee? Were they not to overſee in the true Light, to which every Child of Light is to be ſubject? And they that did reſiſt the Light, Spirit and Power of the Holy Ghoſt in any of the Overſeers; were they not unruly, and departers from the Light in themſelves; though they might pretend they were ſtill for the Light, and that it was the Overſeers that were departed and erred from it?

The next words he Cites are theſe.

TWo things are here excluded by Chriſt, from whence all the miſchief ariſeth in the Church (all the Tyranny and Oppreſſion of men's Conſciences, and of their Perſons, Eſtates and Liberties for Conſcience-ſake) Firſt, Greatneſs; Secondly, the Exerciſing Dominion and Authority by thoſe that would be great therein.

Confirm. It is my Belief, that all the Miſchief in the Church, Tyranny, and Oppreſſion of Mens Conſciences, and of their Perſons, Eſtates, and Liberties for Conſcience-ſake, doth ariſe from a wrong Greatneſs, and from the Exerciſing of a wrong Dominion and Authority, by thoſe that would be great therein: and that theſe two things are here Excluded by Chriſt, in the forementioned Scripture.

Queſt. But is there not a true Greatneſs? Thoſe that lye low before the Lord, and have humbled themſelves under his mighty Hand; Doth not the Lord Exalt them in due time, filling them with his Spirit, Life, Vertue, and Power? And, is not that great in them; and are they not highly Favoured, and Exalted in the Eye of the Lord therein? (Oh, none knows how great thoſe are in the Eye of the Lord, who are poor and low, and nothing in their own Eyes!) And, is there not a true Authority, and Dominion of Gods Spirit in the Church in general, as well as in the particular, over the Spirit and Power of Darkneſs? Becauſe of which Spirit, becauſe of which Power, becauſe of which holy Authority and Dominion, the Gates of Hell ſhall not be able to prevail againſt it.

His next Citation is this (which though ſomewhat long, I am willing to Recite punctually, that my Innocency may the more appear.)

This Spirit muſt be kept out from amongſt you, this aſpiring Spirit, this lofty, ruling Spirit, which Loves to be Great, which Loves to have Dominion, which would Exalt it ſelf becauſe of the Gifts it hath Received, and would bring others into Subjection; this Spirit muſt be Subdued amongſt Chriſt's Diſciples, or it will Ruin all. The Lord gives Grace and Knowledge for another end, than for Men to take upon them to be Great, and Rule over others becauſe of it. And he, that becauſe of this, thinks himſelf fit to Rule over other Mens Conſciences, and to make them bow to what he knows, or takes to be Truth, he loſeth his own Life thereby; and ſo far as he prevails upon others, he doth but Deſtroy their Life too. Therefore the Diſciples, or Church of Chriſt, are to Watch over every ſuch Spirit; to beat it down, to teſtify againſt it, to turn from it, to lay it flat, to put it in its proper Place, that is, beneath all, and ſo not to ſuffer it to ariſe.

Before I come to the Confirmation of this, I judge it meet to ſet down the foregoing Clauſe or Paragraph omitted by him, which will very much help to clear the naked drift, and true intent of theſe Words. The foregoing Paragraph runs thus;

Such a kind of greatneſs as is in the World, its the deſtruction of the Life of Chriſt; and ſuch a kind of Dominion and Authority as is among the Nations, is a direct overturning of the Kingdom of Chriſt. It ſets up another Power than Chriſts, another Great-

Greatneſs than Chriſts, another kind of Authority than Chriſts; and ſo eats out the Vertue and Life of his Kingdom, and makes it juſt like one of the Kingdoms of this World.

This (which immediately went before) being thus added, may ſufficiently open the thing of it ſelf. Yet for further Satisfaction, I ſhall add a Confirmation to the Truth of that which he hath cited; and that in ſeveral particulars, becauſe of the length of the Citation.

Confirm. Firſt, An aſpiring Spirit, a lofty, ruling Spirit, which Loves to be Great, which Loves to have Dominion, which would Exalt it ſelf, &c. muſt be kept out from among the Diſciples, and Church of Chriſt. There muſt not be ſuch a Spirit, or loving to be great, or ſuch a ruling among them, as is in the World. No, Life alone, the Spirit alone, the humble Seed alone, the Truth alone, the Grace alone muſt Rule among them: and God forbid the Authority and Government thereof, ſhould be ſtopt in any. It cannot be well with the Church, that it ſhould be ſo; that God's Spirit ſhould be grieved or quenched, or ſtopped in its Holy Way of Governing, and Ordering the Church of its own Building.

Secondly, That which would Exalt it ſelf becauſe of the Gifts it hath Received, and would bring others into Subjection; this Spirit muſt be Subdued among Chriſt's Diſciples, or it will ruin all. God alone, Chriſt alone, the Spirit alone, the Truth alone, the Seed alone is to be Exalted in the Church; not Fleſh, not Self, not the Aſpiring, Lofty, Ruling Spirit.

Thirdly, The Lord gives Grace and Knowledge for another end, than for Men to take upon them to be Great, and Rule over others, becauſe of it. Man, without Grace, and True Knowledge, is High and Exalted, and would be Ruling over, and Subjecting others: But True Grace and Knowledge brings Man down, and keeps him low, even out of every deſire of Aſpiring, and Ruling over others, in earneſt Breathings and Endeavours, that both the Grace and Spirit may Teach, and Rule both over himſelf, and others

Fourthly, Becauſe God hath given a Man Knowledge; he muſt not take upon to Rule over others with his Knowledge. Chriſt did not Rule over his Diſciples with his Knowledge, nor require them to believe what he knew to be Truth. Nor may any Man at this Day, though never ſo full of Gods holy Spirit and Power, take upon him (above what his Lord and Maſter did) to Rule over other Mens Conſciences. If he do, he will do it out of the leadings of Life, and of Gods holy Spirit; and ſo will wound, and hurt his own Life thereby: and ſo far as herein he prevails on others, he will hurt their Life too.

Fifthly, Therefore this Spirit (which Chriſt never was of himſelf, nor encouraged in his Diſciples) the Church is to watch over, beat down, teſtify againſt, turn from, lay flat, and keep beneath all, and ſo not ſuffer it to ariſe.

Queſt. But doth all this hinder, deny, or oppoſe Chriſt's Spirit, Chriſt's Power, Chriſt's Truth, and Grace from ariſing in the Church, in a way of Spiritual, and Holy Government? Becauſe Man is not to Aſpire, nor take upon him to Reign or Rule, becauſe of Grace, Gifts, or Knowledge Received; Shall not therefore the Head Govern the Body? Shall not Life, and Truth, and the Wiſdom of God Spring in the Church, to Order, and Govern the Church? But muſt every Man be left to the Dictates of what he calls Light in him, and not be Reproved or Teſtified againſt, though the Spirit of God Manifeſt it (to them that are indeed in the Light, Life, Spirit, and Power) that it is not Light, as perſons may pretend and imagine, but real Darkneſs, groſs Darkneſs, Darkneſs that may be felt, even by the leaſt Babes that are in the true, living Senſe?

The

The Next Citation.

IF this Rule of Christ had been kept to, Anti-christs power could never have got up, nor the poor innocent Lambs so often have been Worried by the Wolves.

Confirm. It is most certainly true, if the wrong Authority and Government had been kept down; if the Aspiring, lofty Spirit, which exalts it self, and loves to have the Preheminence, over that which it should be subject to both in it self and others, had been judged, beat down, denied, turned from, &c. how could the spirit of Antichrist, which is the spirit that would be Exalting it self above all that is indeed of God, have got up? This is the Wolf that worries the Lambs: and if this Power and Spirit be kept out of the Church, how can there be any Wolf found there, to Worry the innocent Lambs, and sheep of Christ?

Quest. But did ever Anti-Christ's Power get up by the exercise of the Power of Christ in his Church? Doth not that Power turn against Anti-Christ, and keep out Anti-Christ? Did that Power ever Worry the Lambs? Nay, rather, doth it not cherish, feed, build up and preserve the Lambs? And is it possible but Anti-Christs Power should get up, unless this Power be watched to, and observed in its Ordering, and Governing the Church, and discovering the subtle working of the Wolvish Spirit of Anti-Christ; which appears in the Sheeps Cloathing, and may pretend to the Light within, that it might draw Men from that which is indeed the Light within, into that which is indeed Darkness in the Sight of the Lord, and in the Sight of all that are kept truly Living, and Sensible by Him?

The Next Citation.

THe great Work of the Minister of Christ, is to keep the Conscience open to Christ; and to preserve Men from Receiving any Truths as from them, further than the Spirit opens; or to imitate any of their Practices; further than the Spirit leads, guides, and perswades them; for Persons are exceeding prone to receive things as Truths, from those they have an high Opinion of, and to imitate their Practices, and so hurt their own Growth, and endanger their Souls.

Confirm. When the Minister of Christ comes with the Gospel of Christ, he finds men in darkness, with their Consciences defiled, with the Door of the Heart shut against Christ. Now his great work is to turn them to the Light, Spirit and Power, whereby their Hearts may be opened, their Consciences washed, and there may be a ready entrance for Christ's Spirit and Power into them. Then the Conscience being opened to Christ, their great Endeavour, Labour and Work is to keep it open, and that that may not be let in again by them, which will shut it against Christ. For as there is one Spirit opens to Christ: so their is another will shut, even after the Heart and Conscience is opened, if a man hearken to it.

And the way of receiving Truth, is in the Evidence and Demonstration of God's Spirit in ones own particular: and this is for ever the aim and care of the Ministers of Christ to keep men to, and not to allure men to receive Truths as from them, but from Christ; or to Imitate any of their practices, further than the Spirit leads, guides and perswades them. For the Ministers of Christ are sensible, how exceeding prone Persons are to receive things as Truths, from those they have an high Opinion of; and to imitate their practices, and so hurt their own growth, and endanger their Souls. Now it lies on my heart to testify, upon this Occasion, that I have found the Ministers of Christ, whom I have conversed with, in this Age, walk so towards me and others, still turning me to that Light, Spirit and Truth in my own particular, wherein the knowledg of Truth was to be given given me by the Lord, and not impoſing upon me that which they knew to be Truth, before the Lord had prepared and fitted my Heart for the Knowledg thereof. And this is ſtill the Courſe and Practice of the Miniſters of Chriſt to this Day.

Queſt. But muſt not the Miniſter of Chriſt, who is ordained of God to watch for the Soul, watch againſt that, which (if hearkened to by any particular) will ſhut the Conſcience againſt Chriſt, and open it to another Spirit, who is often working in a Myſtery to deceive it? And if they ſee the workings of this other Spirit in any, ought they not, in Faithfulneſs to Chriſt, and to the Souls of ſuch, to warn them of it? And if any, having let in the wrong Spirit, turn from, and deny, the practices which the Lord once taught them (and wherein the teſtimony of Truth ſtands) into practices which are of the World, and anſwer the worlds Spirit, and tend to weaken the faithful Teſtimonies of others in the true Light and Spirit; ought the Miniſter of Chriſt to leave this Perſon to its openneſs to a wrong Spirit, and wrong practices, wherein they deny the Lord that bought them and enlightened them, and are ſhut up againſt the Viſitations and Teſtimonies of God's true Spirit and Power in his Children, who keep their Habitations in that Light, which theſe are departed from, though they make never ſo great pretences to it?

AH poor Hearts! how ſimply do they come thither where they once taſted refreſhment, to find wholſome advice, not ſuſpecting what is got up there ſince; and ſo give Dominion to a wrong thing, and take directions from a wrong Spirit, and betray their own ſimplicity? Therefore the main thing is to keep the Conſcience pure to the Lord, and not to take things for Truths becauſe others ſee them to be Truths, but to wait till the Spirit makes them manifeſt to me; nor to run into Worſhips, Duties, Performances, or Practices, becauſe others are led thither, but to wait till the Spirit lead me thither; he that makes haſte to be Rich (even in Religion, running into knowledg, and into Worſhips and Performances before he feel a true and clear evidence) ſhall not be innocent, nor the Lord will not hold him Guiltleſs, when he comes to viſit for Spiritual Adultery and Idolatry.

Confirm. This hath been experienced in this our day, more than once; when ſome, having departed from the Power whereby the innocent Lambs had taſted ſweet Nouriſhment and Refreſhment through them, and have come afterwards for that which is wholſome, not ſuſpecting what was got up in them ſince, and ſo gave Dominion to a wrong thing, and took directions from a wrong Spirit, and betrayed their own ſimplicity.

Queſt. But had theſe reſorted to the Church, and waited for judgment from the Church, to whom God has given eyes to ſee, in ſuch caſes as may paſs the Eye-Sight of the Particular, and a mouth to ſpeak; might not the Church have been Inſtrumental to have opened the true eye in them alſo, and ſo have preſerved them from being inſnared, by any that ran out from the Truth in their own Particulars, and loſt their Habitation therein? And mark, when the Church was in its great Glory, cloathed with the Sun, and the Moon under its feet, and Crowned with a Crown of twelve Stars; yet the Dragon, even then, might prevail upon ſome Stars, and with his tail ſweep them down from their place: but the Church he could not prevail upon. The gates of Hell, the Power of the Dragon, the mouth of the Dragon, nay the tail of the Dragon (which what if I ſhould ſay is the falſe prophet within) cannot.

Further Confirm. Indeed, the main thing is to keep the Conſcience pure to the Lord. To bring men to that which Purifies the Conſcience, and to keep them to it, this is the great work. Men muſt not take things for Truths, becauſe others ſee them to be Truths (that is not God's way, nor did his Miniſters ever ſo teach) but to wait till God's Spirit makes them manifeſt to the Particula.

Nor

Nor must men run into Worships, Duties, Performances or Practices, because others are led thither, but wait till the Spirit lead every one in his own Particular thither.

Quest. Where is the Faithfull Minister that teacheth otherwise, or practiseth otherwise at this day? I am sure I never met with any thing of this Nature from any of them, but only one that ran out in his own Particular, who first endeavoured to draw me from esteeming or taking directions from others, and then would have given me directions himself, and would speak and undertake to prophesy great things of me, that he might have raised up that part in me, which could have answered him. And though he himself be dead, yet his Spirit is alive in others at this day, which the Lord discover and preserve his People from.

Further Confirm, It is not good to make haste to be Rich (no not in Religion) He that rightly believeth, and abideth in the true and living Faith, makes not haste to run into knowledge, worships and performances, before he feel his guide! but rather chuseth to be as a weaned Child, lying low before the Lord, in brokenness of Spirit, and not medling with things too high for him; and so he is kept in Innocency, Poverty and Humility before the Lord, and preserved out of the bed of the stranger (the strange Spirit and Power) and so not judged or condemned by the Lord, for either spiritual Adultery or Idolatry.

Quest. But he that lets in a wrong Spirit, that mistakes about the Light in him, and judgeth that which is indeed darkness to be it, and errs from the true Church, and denies the Authority of God's Spirit and Power in it, and is not preserved thereby, but entangled and bewitched with this wrong Spirit, and in it testifies against the true Church and true Spirit, and the Ministry and Ministers of Christ; is not he joyned to the Spirit of whoredom in his own Particular? and hath not he set up an Idol in his own heart, instead of the true Light there? and doth not he worship and obey that Idol, that wrong Spirit, that wrong Power? and will not the Lord visit and judg him for his Spiritual Adultery and Idolatry from the true?

IN the Apostles dayes, Christians were too apt to strive after a wrong Unity and Uniformity in outward Practices and Observations, and to judg one another unrighteously in these things. And Mark, it is not the different Practice from one another that breaks the Peace and Unity, but the judging one another because of differing Practices He that keeps not a day, may Unite in the same spirit, in the same Life, in the same Love with him that keeps a day; and he who keeps a day, may Unite in Heart and Soul with the same Spirit and Life in him who keeps not a day; but he that judgeth the other because of either of these, errs from the Spirit, from the Love, from the Life, and so breaks the bond of Unity. And he that draws another to any practice, before the Life in his own Particular lead him, doth as much as in him lies to destroy the Soul of that Person. This was the Apostles Rule, for every one to perform singly to the Lord what he did, and not for one to meddle with the Light or Conscience of another, &c. but every one to keep close to their own measure, &c. and here is the true Unity in the Spirit, in the inward Life,, and not in an outward Uniformity; that was not necessary in the Apostles dayes, nor is it necessary now: and that eye, which so dotes upon it, overlooks the one thing which is necessary.

Confirm. This is so manifest from that Scripture quoted by me, which is here omitted, that he that shall read that Scripture, which is Rom. 14. may easily observe the Apostle affirming and teaching these things.

That even in the Apostles dayes, Christians were too apt to strive after a wrong Unity and Uniformity, in outward practices and observations, and to judg one another unrighteously in these things, is manifest from the several instructions and exhortations given to this Church, in this ch. as ver. 2, 3, 4. One believeth that he

he may eat all things: another who is weak, eateth herbs. Let not him that eateth, despise him that eateth not; and let not him that eateth not, Judg him that eateth: for God hath received him. Who art thou that Judgest another mans servant? to his own Master he standeth or falleth: yea he shall be holden up, for God is able to make him stand.

Yea in matters of Worship, (as keeping and observing a day to God or not keeping it) it is not the different practice from one another that breaks the peace, but the judging of one another, because of differing practices. So the Apostle plainly holds forth, ver. 5, 6. One man esteemeth one day above another: another esteemeth every day. Let every man be fully perswaded in his own mind. He that regardeth the day, regardeth it unto the Lord; and he that regardeth not the day, to the Lord he doth not regard it. He that eateth, eateth to the Lord, for he giveth God thanks; and he that eateth not, to the Lord he eateth not, and giveth God thanks.

And he that draws another to any practice, before the Life in his own particular lead him, doth as much as in him lies to destroy the Soul of that Person. So the Apostle signifies ver. 5. (which was quoted in my book) in that he saith, Destroy not him with thy meat, for whom Christ Dyed. So that not an outward Uniformity in all things, but an Unity in the one Spirit and Life is the necessary thing. And there may be Unity, and Love, and Life, and Peace without an Uniformity in practice, further than the Spirit of God teacheth and leadeth His unto.

Quest. But if the Lord hath taught a man, opened the same eye in him that he opened in others, and brought him into Unity and Uniformity with the Church in the practices which the Lord hath taught it; and he afterwards let in another Spirit, and fall from these practices, and Judg the very Church it self for continuing in them; may not the Church testifiy to this Person, that he is erred from his guide, hath lost the right Judg in himself, and so Judgeth amiss, both concerning himself and concerning the Church of God? This hath been the State of some, who went out from among us formerly; and may also be the state of some who go out from us now. For as there is one that gathers to the true Church; so there is another that endeavours to draw and scatter from it, and then to cause men to turn head against it, as if it were not of God, but Apostatized from the Spirit and Principle of Truth, which indeed is their own state and condition in God's sight; but not the Churches which was gathered and is preserved by him, Glory to the Lord, over all the accusations of the accuser, through what mouth soever he utter them forth.

O How sweet and pleasant is it to the truly Spiritual eye, to see several sorts of believers, several forms of Christians in the School of Christ, every one learning their own Lesson, performing their own peculiar service, and knowing, owning, and loving one another in their several places, and different performances to their Master, to whom they are to give an account, and not to quarrel one with another about their different practices? This is the true ground of Love, and Unity, not that such a man walks and does just as I do, but because I feel the same Spirit of Life in him, and that he walks in his rank, in his own order, in his proper way and place of subjection to that. And this is far more pleasing to me, than if he walked just in the track wherein I walk; (nay so far as I am spiritual) I cannot so much as desire that he should do so, untill he be particularly led thereto, by the same Spirit that led me.

Confirm. The spiritual eye beholdeth things aright, beholdeth things in the Lord, and tasteth sweetness in, and is pleased with that which is Spiritual. If every one did eye the Lord, subject to the Lord, answer the Light and Spirit of the Lord, in their own hearts? though the forms in the school of Christ be higher or lower, the lessons different, and the practices answerable; yet every one minding his own place and Leſſon, and performing his own peculiar ſervice, the Spiritual eye would be delighted therewith. And thoſe that are of the true Seed and Birth do know, own, and love one another in their ſeveral places, and different performances to their Maſter to whom they are to give an account; and do not quarrel with one another about their different performances. O how ſweetly is this practiſed and experienced among us at this day!

And Unity in the Life, is the ground of true Brotherly love, and fellowſhip. Not that another man walks juſt as I do: but though he be weaker or ſtronger, yet he walks by the ſame Principle of Light, and is felt in the ſame ſpirit of Life, which guideth both the weak and the ſtrong, in their ſeveral ranks, order, proper way and place of ſubjection, to that one Spirit of Life and Truth, which all are to be ſubject to.

Nay, he that is truly Spiritual and ſtrong in the Light and Spirit of the Lord, cannot deſire that the weak ſhould walk juſt as he does; but only as they are ſtrengthened, taught and led thereunto, by the ſame Spirit that ſtrengthened, taught and led him.

Queſt. This is true concerning every one that is in the Faith, that is in the true Light, that is in the true Spirit; and keeps his rank, order, place and ſubjection, though in a weak and low degree: but will this hold good concerning any that have erred from the Faith, have made ſhipwrack thereof, and have turned from the true Light and Spirit in themſelves, and left their rank, order and teſtimony againſt the World, and are again become one with the World, even in thoſe very practices which the Spirit of the World delights in, and which the Spirit of the Lord hath teſtified, and ſtill teſtifieth againſt, in all that are Faithful, and keep to their firſt Love and Light? Is the Church to bear with theſe in their practices, or own ſuch Spirits, or believe that they now walk according to the Light which firſt convinced them? Is not the Spirit of Judgment with the Church? Hath not God given her diſcerning? Hath ſhe not Power and Authority from God to try Spirits? yea and to judg falſe Spirits, that have loſt their habitation in the Light, though they may ſtill pretend to dwell there; Can ſhe not try thoſe which ſay they are Jews and are not, but have loſt the Light, Spirit and Power which Circumciſeth, and keepeth Circumciſed, and are run back into the uncircumciſed paths of the World again, which came from, and anſwer the uncircumciſed Spirit and Nature, both in themſelves and others?

And he, that knows what it is to receive any Truths from the Spirit, and to be led into the practices by the ſpirit, and how prone the Fleſhly part is to make haſt, and how dangerous that haſt is, will not be forward to preſs his Knowledg or Practices upon others, but rather wait patiently till the Lord fit them for the receiveing thereof, and fear leſt they ſhould receive and practice too ſoon, even in that part which cannot ſerve the Lord

Confirm. I will ſend the Comforter, the Spirit of Truth, ſaith Chriſt to his Diſciples, and he ſhall lead you into all Truth. Now the Diſciple of Chriſt is led into Truth, in the Croſs to that part, wherein others may receive the Notions of things, yea perhaps of Truth it ſelf. And the Diſciple muſt alſo abide in the Croſs, after that the Lord hath given him the true Knowledg, or he cannot be rightly led into the practice of what he knows. So that the Diſciple comes very hardly, both by his Knowledg, and by his Ability to practiſe, what the Spirit of God teacheth him and requireth of him. There is a fleſhly part, indeed Prone to make haſt: but that haſt is dangerous, and that fleſhly part, in all its haſty Deſires and Motions, is to be denyed, and kept down. And he that is diligent in denying, and keeping down that Fleſhly part in himſelf (with the forwardneſs and haſtineſs thereof) cannot eaſily be forward to preſs his knowledg and practices upon others; but will be patiently waiting on the Lord, for their kindly kindly and ſeaſonable underſtanding of the Truth, and growth in it; and fear, leſt they ſhould run before their guide, and be practiſing too ſoon even in that Part which cannot ſerve the Lord: for the Lord muſt be ſerved and worſhiped in his Spirit and Truth, and thither are all to be directed and brought, and there is every mind to be ſtayed and kept, or it cannot worſhip and ſerve aright.

Queſt. But what if a man entertain a wrong Spirit, and let go the Truths he had received, and turn from the Practices which Gods Spirit taught him, into the Spirit and Practices of the world, which Gods Spirit hath teſtified and will for ever teſtify againſt? Is not the Church to deny this ſpirit, and theſe practices, and the perſon that hath hearkened to this ſpirit, and is found in theſe Practices? that he may turn from this ſpirit and practices, to the true ſpirit, and to the true teſtimony and practices which it once taught him, and ſtill teacheth all that hearken to its voice and holy motions, and liſten not to the voice and inſtigations of a ſtranger.

THe great Error of the ſtate of the Apoſtacy, hath been to ſet up an outward order and uniformity, and to make men's Conſciences bend thereto, either by Arguments of wiſdom, or by force; but the property of the true Church-Government is, to leave the Conſcience to its full liberty in the Lord, to preſerve it ſingle and entire for the Lord to exerciſe, and to ſeek Unity in the Light, and in the Spirit, walking ſweetly and harmoniouſly together in the midſt of differing Practices.

Confirm. That there have been Ages of Apoſtacy, from the true Spirit and Power of the Apoſtles, is very manifeſt, both by the Doctrines, Diſcipline and cruel Practices of thoſe, that would have themſelves accounted the true Church, and true Believers and Chriſtians. And that they have ſet up an outward Order and Conformity, and have uſed both Arguments of Wiſdom and alſo Force, to make men's Conſciences to bend thereto; this is as manifeſt as the former. Now that this hath been an Errour, and a great Errour, is very manifeſt alſo: becauſe it is contrary to the Nature of Conſcience, which is to be led by God's Spirit, not bent by mans wiſdom and conſtraint; and contrary to Chriſt and his Apoſtles Doctrine and Practice, who would have every man fully perſwaded of what he performs to God, from whom he muſt receive the reward and approbation, or the diſlike and puniſhment, for his anſwering or diſobeying the Light which God ſets up, or cauſeth to ſhine in his own Conſcience.

And the property of the true Church-Government, and the Practice and Path of the true-Church in theſe our dayes, is to leave the Conſcience to its full liberty in the Lord: to preſerve it ſingle and entire for the Lord, and to ſeek Unity in the Light, and in the Spirit, walking ſweetly and harmoniouſly together in the midſt of differing practices. Nay, it is not the deſire of the Church at this day, that any ſhould come up into the Practice, or holy Order of the Goſpel, according to what the Lord hath taught others, but only as the Lord teacheth and leadeth them.

Queſt. Concerning what Conſcience is this to be underſtood? is it to be underſtood of the tender and weak Conſcience? or of the hard and ſeared Conſcience. For the Conſcience which God once made tender, may afterwards come to be ſeared and hardened: and is the Church of Chriſt, which is guided by the Spirit and Wiſdom of God, taught and required by him ſo to act towards the hard and ſeared Conſcience, as it is towards the tender and weak Conſcience? Is the hard and ſeared Conſcience, which hath forſaken the true Light, Spirit and Power, and turned againſt the Truth, and is in a wrong, ſtiff, wilful, hardened liberty and ſubtilty, to be left to its liberty, and to that ſpirit which draweth it out and hardeneth it in a wrong liberty? Can there be any Unity in the Light and in the Spirit had, with thoſe who are erred from the Light and from the Spirit and are deceived in their own hearts concerning it, and do but only pretend to it? Can they walk sweetly and harmoniously together in differing practices, who differ also in the Ground, and are not one in the Foundation, even in the true Light and Spirit of the Lord? Ought not the Church to Judge this Spirit, with its liberty and evil conscience (for that Spirit will make the consciences of all that let it in, evil) as well as, to the utmost, to cherish the Liberty of the tender Consciences in and to the Lord? Read and Consider these Scriptures following, Tit. 1. 15. 1 Tim. 1. 19. and chap. 4. 2.

AND this I can truly say concerning my self, I never found my Spirit forward to draw any, either to any thing I believed to be true, or to any practice or way of Worship I observ'd or walked in; but desired that the Power and leadings of Life might go before them, and I was afraid lest Men should receive things from my hand, and not from the Lord's. He hath written in the Margent of the Book he sent me, Oh, what a tender Spirit was here! intimating as if it were not so with me now.

Confirm. Blessed be the Lord, it was so with me formerly, and is so with me daily more and more: For as I wait on the Lord in his Truth, which makes tender; so upon this occasion, being forced to it, I cannot but confess, that I Witness the Lord daily more and more Uniting my Spirit to him in his Truth; and as Truth increaseth, so the Tenderness which comes from it, still increaseth in me; and I do not (nay, I may say cannot, the contrary is so written on my Heart) so much as desire, to drive any to what practice or way of Worship I believe to be true, and am taught of God to observe; but this is the longing of my Soul, that the Power and Leadings of Life may go before them, and I daily behave my self as one that is afraid, lest men should receive things from my Hand, and not from the Lords.

Quest. Yet, where I find Persons manifestly Warp and turn aside from the Truth, and let in a wrong thing, and Testify against the Truth and Way of the Lord, and their Hearts hardened by the subtilty of him, who hath deceived them; may I not singly and faithfuly testify it to them, & breath to the Lord for them that they may return to the true Spirit, and to the Holy Testimony and Practices thereof, and not Condemn such, as Departers from the Light and Truth, who abide in it; nor justify themselves as abiding in it, when they are really departed from it?

His last Citation of Words of mine, is out of another Book, Entituled, An Answer to the Common Objection, &c. p. 8.

The Words are these.

THat Power therefore in the Church which spares the Hypocrites, (who can easily comply with an outward Conformity in Worship without feeling an inward Life and Vertue) but lights heavy on that which was tender and shie in matters of Worship, that is not the true Church-Power; but at best, but a Counterfeit of the True.

Confirm. The Power which Christ hath given his Church is not to spare Hypocrites, who may easily comply with an outward Uniformity in Worship, without feeling an inward Life and Vertue. And such are not spared, but smote at by the Spirit and Power of God among us very often: And O that there were no Hypocrites and formal Spirits among us; but that all that profess the Truth were in the Truth, and subject to it, and did live the Life of it! Nor doth the true Church-Power light heavy on that which is tender and shy in matters of Worship; but the Miniſtry of the true Church is to the Conſcience, as in Gods Sight, and is very tender of it, as before him, to whom it is to give an Account of the ſpiritual Power it hath received from him, and of the exerciſe of it. That Power therefore which ſpares the Hypocrites, and lights heavy on that which is tender and ſhie in matters of Worſhip, to be ſure is not the true Church-Power, but at beſt but a Counterfeit of the True.

Queſt. But that Power in the Church which doth not ſpare Hypocrites, but is very gentle and tender to all tender Conſciences, is not that the true Church-Power? And who is the Hypocrite? Is it not he that pretendeth to the Light, when he is departed from it, an Hipocrite? And he which ſetteth up that which he calls Light in himſelf, and denieth that which is indeed true Light, and which iſſueth forth from Gods Holy Spirit in his Church, is not he an Hypocrite? And hath not the Church Power to judg all his falſe pretences, and to try his Spirit, by the true Light and Spirit of the Lord Jeſus, which is ſtill preſent with the true Church? If the Spirit of Chriſt be indeed preſent with his Church; ſurely it cannot but have Power and Authority, to try, judg, and condemn every thing that is of a contrary Spirit and Nature, in all falſe Pretenders whatſoever; who by their pretences to the true Light, cannot ſhelter that which is indeed contrary to it, from the Holy and Righteous judgment of the Spirit, and Power of God in his Church.

Thus I have gone over theſe ſeveral Citations of John Pennymans, and punctually ſet them down as he hath Cited them, and ſpoken more words to the Confirmation of them, to Manifeſt to others, as I find it plainly with me before the Lord, that I am fully the ſame at this day, in the ſenſe and belief of my Heart, as I was then, believing the ſame Truth, and as ready to hold it forth, if the Lord, at any time, ſhall call me unto it, as I was then. But I was not then againſt true Church-Government, nor did intend this to encourage any Man to ſhelter himſelf, by a pretence to the Light in himſef, againſt true Church-Government, aſſuredly knowing, that the Spirit of the Prophets is ſubject to the Prophets, and that he that is truly ſubject to the Light and Spirit of God in his own Heart, will be taught thereby to ſubject to it alſo in others. For the Life, Spirit and Power of God doth not riſe in vain in any; and he that hath the true Ear open, will hear its Voice in whom ſoever it ſpeaks, and he that doth not hear its Voice, when it ſpeaks through any to him, doth not hear with the Circumciſed Ear, nor unederſtand with the Curcumciſed Heart. So that John Pennyman, in Citing theſe my Words, as if in ſo writing, I was againſt true Church-Covernment, or for ſetting up the Judgment of any particular Man (upon any pretence whatſoever) above the Senſe, Underſtanding, and Judgment of the true Church, doth me great wrong, even before the Lord, who knoweth that it was otherwiſe with me in that Day; and he greatly wrongeth my Words, which did not ſignify any ſuch thing: For in the very ſame Book, and in ſome of the pages which he Quotes, there is expreſſed a Senſe of, and a Teſtimony to the true Church-Government, which I am aſſured the Spirit of the Lord will give forth and lead His into, as the Neceſſities and Occaſions of the Church require. For as the Lord is not wanting to the particular, ſo will he not be wanting to the general: But he is faithful, who hath promiſed to be with his Church and People, who wait upon him, and look up to him for the Light and Judgment of his Spirit in things, wherein he Engageth them, and which require their ſingle diſcerning and judgment in.

To Manifeſt therefore, from this very Book what my Belief was, and how hearty I was to Church-Government, and ſenſible of the neceſſity and uſefulneſs of it, I ſhall Recite ſome Paſſages out of it.

Firſt, I ſhall mention the Title of that part of my Book, which had John Pennyman expreſſed fully, as it is in the Title-page, he had done me ſome Right, and manifeſted ſomewhat of my Senſe concerning true Church-Government. The Title, in the Title Page, is thus, Whereunto ſomewhat is added about the Authority and Government, which Chriſt excluded out of his Church, which occaſioneth ſomewhat concerning the true Church-Government.

This

This might have poiſed Peoples Spirits, in the Reading of his Citations; from judging me to direct men to the ſetting up of any thing in their Minds and Conſciences, which they may call Light in oppoſition to the Light and Spirit of God in his Church, or to ſet up a private judgment in themſelves, above the Light and judgment of Gods Spirit in the Church. For as the Church is to be tender of every Member, ſo every Member is to be tender and regardful towards the Church, and of the Power and Authority which God hath given it.

The next Paſſage that is on me to mention is p. 76.

There is nothing to hurt in the Mountain of Gods Holineſs; but there is a Righteous Scepter, a ſweet Scepter, a ſpiritual Scepter, which reacheth the Spirit in the Power of Life, but toucheth not the outward Man. To which I may add, The Power of the Church, is not to hurt the outward Man, Nay, nor the Soul neither: But is for the deſtruction of the Fleſh, that the Soul may be ſaved. And when the Church hath teſtified againſt their Practices, or, denied their Spirit, it leaves them to the Lord; yet ſtill praying to him, that Repentance may be given them, and Mercy ſhewed them by him, whoſe Mercy endures for ever.

Another Paſſage in p. 77.

Let the Life in every one Riſe over it, (ſpeaking of the Proud, Aſpiring Spirit) and trample upon it: And afterwards, that in thee may ariſe which is fit to Teach, yea, and to Rule in the Lord, &c.

p. 78 The Example of Chriſt is urged, who did not exerciſe a wrong Authority over his Diſciples, though he was their Lord and Maſter, which ſignified both Greatneſs above them, and Authority over them, ſee lin. 15 Yet Chriſt took not upon him this kind of Greatneſs, nor did Exerciſe this kind of Authority; But he was a Servant, &c. and did Miniſter.

So that there was one kind of Greatneſs and Authority which Chriſt did not exerciſe, and which his Church alſo is not to meddle with: But there was another kind of Authority which he had, and which he, who hath all Power in Heaven and Earth, giveth to his Church to partake with him in, and to Act in his Name.

But what ſhould I mention any ſuch ſmall touches at the thing, when it is directly ſpoken to in a Queſtion propounded, and the Anſwer thereto p. 79, 80. &c? I ſhall therefore ſet down the Queſtion, and part of the Anſwer thereto; the Whole being too long to be here Inſerted.

Queſt. But, is there to be no Greatneſs, no Authority among the Diſciples of Jeſus, or in the Church of Chriſt? Is every one to do what he will, to be ſubject to his own Fancies, and Imaginations, to the Inventions of his own corrupt Heart? What a confuſed Building will this be? ſurely this will not long remain a Zion, but ſoon become a Babylon, even a Heap of Diſorder and Confuſion.

Anſw. There is to be no ſuch kind of Greatneſs, no ſuch kind of Authority. Yet there is both a Greatneſs and Authority ſuitable to the State of Diſciples, ſuitable to that kind of Kingdom whereof they are. There are Laws, there are Governments, there are Governours, there is Ruling and there is Subjection; but all in the Spirit, all ſuitable to that which is to be Governed: but no Government of, or according to the Fleſh. As Chriſts Kingdom is not of this World, ſo the Government of His Church and People is not according to the World, but as that which gathers is his Spirit, and that which is gathered is Spiritual: ſo that which is governed is the Spirits of his People, and they are to be governed by his Spirit and ſpiritually, and not after a fleſhly manner. Thus Chriſt himſelf, though he Miniſtred to his Diſciples, yet he alſo was their Lord and Maſter, and in the Spirit and Life of the Father Ruled over them; and thus the Apoſtles, and other Miniſters of Chriſt had likewiſe in the Spirit, the Care of the Churches and Authority in the Lord, by his ſpirit to govern the ſpirits of his People:

ple: not to govern after a fleshly manner, by their own Wills, nor to prescribe them in a Lordly way, either what they should believe or practise, but in the Light, and in Power of the Spirit, to make their way into every ones Conscience in the sight of God, Ministring to every one in the spirit according to their capacity and growth, and waiting patiently for God to convey the Food and Nourishment, and to build their spirits up in the Faith thereby.

The Spirit of the Prophets is subject to the Prophets. Here is the Government, here is the Law of Rule, and Subjection in the Life. Every one feeling a Measure of the Spirit in himself, is thereby Taught to own, and subject to a greater Measure of the same Spirit in another. He that hath no Measure of the Spirit of God, he is not of God, he is none of Christs: and he that hath received a Measure of the Spirit in the same Spirit feeleth anothers Measure, and owneth it in its place and service, and knoweth its moving, and cannot quench it, but giveth way to it with joy and delight. When the Spirit moves in any one to speak, the same Spirit moves in the other, to be subject and give way: and so every one keeping to his own Measure in the Spirit, here can be no disorder, but true Subjection of every Spirit: and where this is wanting, it cannot be supplied by any outward Rule, or Order set up in the Church by common Consent; for that is Fleshly, and lets in the Flesh, and destroys the true Order, Rule, and Subjection.

And then to limit the Government aright, these two precious Cautions or Directions are added, pag. 85. which I am sure will answer the Truth, and Witness of God in every Conscience.

First, Care must be had, that nothing Govern in the Church of Christ, but the Spirit of Christ.

Secondly, That the Conscience be kept Tender, that nothing be received but according to the Light in the Conscience.

There is likewise an Objection answered about Uniformity, pag. 87, 88. which not being very large, and tending further to open the Sense of my Heart in this thing, I shall also here annex.

Object. But is not Uniformity lovely, and doth not the Apostle exhort Christians to be of one Mind, and were it not a sweet thing if we were all of one Heart, and one Way?

Answ. Yea, Uniformity is very lovely, and to be desired, and waited for, as the Spirit of the Lord which is one, leads and draws into one. But for the Fleshly part (the Wise reasoning part of Man) by Fleshly wayes and means, to strive to bring about a Fleshly Uniformity, which insnares, and overbears, the tender Conscience; this is not Lovely, nor Spiritual, nor Christian. And the Apostle who exhorts Christians to one Mind, yet doth not bid them force one another into one Mind, but walk together sweetly so far as they had attained, and wherein they were otherwise minded, God in his due time would reveal more to them, Phil. 3. 15, 16. He that hath, to him shall be given. And the Intent, and Work of the Ministry (with the several Ministrations of it) is to bring into the Unity (Ephes. 4. 13.) as persons are able to follow, and not to force all Men into one Practice or Way; that's the way to Destroy the Faith, and the True Unity, and at best can introduce but a Fleshly appearance of Unity in such a form of Worship and Godliness, as eats out the Power. And for being of one Heart, and one Way, Blessed be the Lord, this is in Measure Known, and Witnessed. The Way is one, Christ the Truth of God, and He that is in the Faith, and in the Obedience to that Light which shines from his Spirit into the Heart of every Believer, hath a Tast of the one Heart, and of the one Way; and knoweth, that no variety of Practices (which is of God) can make a breach in the True Unity. This is the one Way, for every one to be subject to that Light of Christ's Spirit, which he hath Received from Christ, and every one keeping here, there is also one Heart kept in themidst of all the variety, and diversity of Practices. And the Unity being thus kept, all will come into one Outwardly also at length, as the Light grows in every one,

one, and as every one grows into the Light: but this must be patiently waited for, from the Hand of God (who hath the right way of effecting it, and who alone can do it) and not harshly, and cruelly Attempted by the rough Hand of Man.

Now I desire all that would not Injure, and Wrong another (in taking part of ones Sence and Mind, and Concealing the other) to observe, how serious my Heart is in the Sight of the Lord, concerning Church-Government, and Unity, and Uniformity among the People of the Lord, in the Spirit and Power of the Lord, as the Lord shall please Rightly, and Orderly to bring it forth, and not otherwise. And my Words so plainly signifying, and holding forth this, O how will J. Pennyman Answer it to the Great God, for thus Mis-representing me, and striving to make my Words signify that which they never did, and as a Proof how contrary our Doctrine was then, to what it hath been of late Years; whereas in that very Book he cites, my Words are full concerning Church-Government, the Authority of the Church, and the Duty of Subjection to it in the Life, as was before recited.

I have been in a great Travel of Spirit for J. Pennyman, the Lord having shewed me his Spirit and State (as he hath also done to many others, who abide in that pure, holy Light, which he hath forsaken, and is departed from) and this hath been the Cry of my Heart to the God, and Father of my Life for him, in great Brokenness, and Tears many times, Father forgive him, for he knows not what he does. He knows not what Spirit and Power he acts against, nor what Spirit and Power it is that leads him. O that he might see it, and turn from it, and Live! And O that all that Err, and are mistaken in Judgment, might have a Sense of that which is Truth indeed, and of that which is Darkness indeed in their own Hearts; and might not put Darkness for Light, and Light for Darkness, as too many now do, to the great hurt of their own Souls, and the hardening of others against God's precious Way and Truth, which will be Bitterness in the Latter End, unto all such.

THREE or FOUR CONSIDERATIONS Added, Concerning Church-Government.

First, THat it is the Holy Will, and Pleasure of the Great God, that his Church should be Governed by his Holy Spirit and Power Revealed in it. God is the God of Order, and not of Confusion, and he would have every thing in the Right, and Holy Order every where, especially in his Church. He hath given a Measure of his Good Spirit to every Man, and he would have every Man Governed thereby: And he hath given more of his Good Spirit, and Holy Power to his Church, than to any particular: and he would have his Church Governed thereby. Read the Epistles of Christ to the Churches in the Second and Third Chapters of the Revelations, and see how Government, and Care over their Members is expected from them. A Church is a gathering in the Name, Power, and Authority of the most High; and Christ, to whom God gave all Power in Heaven and Earth, is in them, and with them. God knows they can do nothing without his Power: and he is Faithful, who hath Appointed them to Meet together in his Name, and will not Fail them. How hath this this been Experienced in former Dayes! And, How is this Experienced in this our Day, Bleſſed be the Name of our God! The Life that Springs in the Church, the Light that Shines in the Church, the Power and Preſence of the Lord that is Revealed in his Church, O how Glorious is it! God hath not Gathered, nor Preſerved a People through ſo many Tryals, nor ſo Exerciſed, and Built them up in his Pure Fear, Holy Spirit, and Living Truth, to leave them ſo ſuddenly, and caſt them off, as ſome Men vainly imagine; but as the Lord hath thrown down that, which ſhall never be Built up more: ſo the Lord hath Built up that, which ſhall never be thrown down more, and brought many of his People to a ſettled State, in the unchangeable Truth and Power.

Secondly, It is the great work of Satan, and the great Intereſt of Satan to oppoſe the Holy Order and Government of the Spirit of Chriſt in his Church. It is that Power which threw down his Kingdom, and that Power will keep his Kingdom down; yea, the more that Authority and Power is eſtabliſhed in the Church, the more he is ſeen through, and his ſtrength and ſubtilty avail nothing before the Wiſdom and Power of God, Revealed in his Church. And this we have obſerved and may obſerve in this our day, the judgment of the Church, the Life in the Church, the Light that hath ſtayed with the Church and Holy Gathering, while particulars ſometimes have been miſtaken, and Erred about the Light in themſelves, hath been a ſtay to thoſe that have hearkened to her Voice, and a means to help to recover thoſe, who through the ſtrength of the Temptation, and their too confident leaning to that which they took for the Light within, and not conſulting with thoſe whom God had Ordained to be an help to the Weak, and had a clearer Eye-ſight, and Underſtanding in the Truth, than themſelves; I ſay, the Light that ſtayed hath with the Church, hath been a help to recover ſuch, who have miſtaken in judgment, and Erred from the Light in their own particulars.

Thirdly, There is great benefit and ſafety to every particular, in the Holy Order and Government, which God hath ordained in his Church. God knoweth it is not fit for Believers, or his gathered Ones to be alone; and therefore he hath appointed that by the ſame Power and Spirit which gathered them, they ſhould be added to the Church which he hath already gathered. And then they are in the place where God takes care of them; where the Lord God appears, where the Lord God dwells: For as he dwelt outwardly in the National Church of the Jews; ſo he dwells inwardly in the Spiritual Church, and gathering of Believers. There Life is in its Unity and Strength, there Light Shines as in its proper Place. There the Shepherd is, who keeps the Sheep from Erring. There the Leading Power, the Preſerving Power, the Ordering Power, is dayly Waited for, and Experienced in its Brightneſs and Clearneſs. Wo is to him that is alone: but Bleſſings are upon him who is in Unity with God's holy gathered People, and is in the Senſe of, and under the Guidance of that Spirit, which is continually preſent with them. And as we have Witneſſed Bleſſings in our Firſt Gathering, as we were gathered, and joyned to the Light, Spirit, and Power of the Holy God in our own Particulars: ſo we have Witneſſed Bleſſings in our Unity with the Life in the Body. O how every Motion of Life is felt there! How the Wiſdom and Power of God is Revealed there! What help is Adminiſtred to every Member there! How the knitting in the Life, and the flowing of the Life, and holy Power from Veſſel to Veſſel is dayly Experienced there! So that every one is quickened with the pure Life, every one ſeaſoned with the pure Salt, every Virgin anointed with the holy Oyntment, every one leavened with the Leaven which unleavens to Sin and Satan, and Leavens to God. Indeed my Soul dayly Bleſſeth the Lord, not only that he hath Viſited me, but brought me into the holy living Society, and that dayly the Lord vouchſafeth to give me to partake of their Life and Spirit, in which Life and Spirit, I have Unity with them, and Love them, and Honour them, and not out of it. O Praiſes and Everlaſting Honour, and Renown to the Lord my God, who hath Remembred me with the Favour he bears to his People, and hath ſo Viſited me with his Salvation, that he hath given me to ſee the Good of his Choſen, and cauſed my poor, deſolate, mourning Soul to Rejoyce in the Gladneſs of his Nation, and to Glory in him with his Inheritance. Glorious things were ſpoken of the Church under the Law, a Glorious Power and Preſence was with that outward People, under that outward Covenant: but this was but a Shadow of the Glory, that was to be Revealed in the Church of the New-Covenant, and of the Preſence and Power of the Living God, that was to be Manifeſted, and Dwell there. And indeed it is Manifeſted, indeed it doth Dwell there, and thoſe that are the Begotten, and Born, and Preſerved by God's Holy Spirit and Power, of the immortal Word of Life, dayly Witneſs it.

Fourthly, The Glory and Beauty of the New-Teſtament-Church, doth in no ſmall degree conſiſt in the holy Order and Government of them as a ſpiritual living Body, by the bleſſed Spirit and Power of the Lord.

There were four things wherein the Glory of the Church of the Jews, under the firſt Covenant, did much conſiſt.

The firſt was in the Salvation, wherewith God viſited them, and which he beſtowed upon them, Happy art thou, O Iſrael: Who is like unto thee, O People! ſaved by the Lord, the Shield of thy help, and who is the Sword of thine Excellency: and thine Enemies ſhall be found liars unto thee, and thou ſhalt tread upon their High Places, Deut. 33. 29.

Secondly, In the gifts God beſtowed upon them; for God did adorn and beautify that People, with the good things which he beſtowed upon them, Ezek. 16. 14.

Thirdly, In the preſence of the Lord their God in the midſt of them, the Ark of whoſe preſence was with them, and whoſe dwelling place was among them, and who was nigh unto them to enquired of by them, and to anſwer and ſupply them, with all that they wanted and called upon him for, Deut. 4. 7.

Fourthly, In the Holy Statutes and Righteous Judgments, which God gave them to be Ordered and Governed by, as his choſen People, ver. 5, 6, and 8.

Now all theſe are much more fulfilled in the New-Teſtament-Church; for firſt, There is the Salvation witneſſed, which this outward Salvation, of this outward People, was but a figure of. There the everlaſting Arm of Gods Power is revealed, in an Inward and Spiriritual Way and Manner, to deſtroy the Enemies of a Mans own Houſe; to redeem from Satan, to cut Rahab, to wound the Dragon inwardly, and to defend his gathered People from the Inroads of his ſtrength, and from the Subtilty of his Temptations.

Secondly, The Lord doth give great Gifts to his Churches, he bleſſeth them with all Spiritual bleſſings in heavenly things in Chriſt. Mark the Diverſity of gifts, and Diverſity of Manifeſtations, which God gave to his Churches in the Apoſtles Daies, 1 Cor. 12. 4, &c.

Thirdly, There was Gods preſence revealed, there Chriſt was in the midſt, when ever they were gathered together in his name. Every Church (as well as that of the Epheſians) was built up together an Habitation of God through the Spirit, Epheſ. 2. 22. Yea Chriſt was Head over all things to the Church, which is his Body, the fulneſs of him that filleth all in all, Chap. 1. 22, 23. Yea, they were and are the Temple of the living God, in which God would dwell and walk, and be their God, and they his People, 2 Cor. 6. 16.

Fourthly, The holy Order of his own Spirit and Life, God will not fail to reveal unto them, that they may walk in the Spirit of the Goſpel, in the Power of the Goſpel, in the Order of the Goſpel, and the Holy Government of Gods Spirit and Power may ſhine in the midſt of them, and that God may bleſs them as an Habitation of Juſtice and Mountain of Holineſs, Jer. 21. 23.

The Church is a Body, every particular ſoul that is renewed, quickened and kept alive is a member. Now every member needs the Preſence and Power of that Spirit which quickned it, to nouriſh, keep alive, and order it. And the Church hath much more need of the Spirit to be preſent with it, to guide and order it, and keep it in the holy Order, Power and Government of Life. And this Order and holy Government in the Spirit and Power of the Lord, was brought forth in the Apoſtles ſtles daies: for the Apoſtles did rejoyce in it concerning that Church of Coloſſe, who joyed beholding their Order, and the ſtedfaſtneſs of their Faith in Chriſt, Coloſ. 2. 5. For the Apoſtles and Miniſters of Chriſt did ſet things in order in that day, Tit. 1. 5. 1 Cor. 11. 34. and it was their Joy to ſee that Order obſerved, and their Grief when any were unruly, and would not be ſubject to the Holy Order and Government of the Church, 1 Theſ. 5. 14. Tit. 1. 10. And the Church of Corinth, though it fell ſhort in no gift, yet falling ſhort in order, it did not arrive at the Glory of ſome other Churches.

The ſpiritual Solomon, who is full ofthe Wiſdom of God; O the bleſſed Order and holy Government that he brings forth among his Church and People! How doth God eſtabliſh Jeruſalem, and make her a praiſe in the Earth; but by the holy Order and bleſſed Government of his Spirit, governing her as a Church, as a ſpiritual Body, by his own pure wiſdom, which no other Government or Order can come near? And truly my heart hath been often affected, and filled with raviſhing Joy, when I have beheld the Heavenly and Bleſſed Order and Government, which the Lord God of Wiſdom hath already brought forth among us, and guideth us in, to the comfort and refreſhment of many, and to the injury and hurt of none, neither without, nor within. And indeed, we do not deſire any Greatneſs or Authority of man; but only of the Lord our God in the midſt of us, and that all men may be but his Servants and Miniſters in the Church, and to the Church, for the good of the Church. No, no; this is the day of the Lord, of the ſetting up, and of exalting his Power in the Church, which the Church waiteth for, and knoweth the appearance of, and cannot bear the Exaltation of Man (of Mans Spirit, Wiſdom, Power and Authority) inſtead of the Lords. Yet, nothing that cometh from the Lord, from his pure Life and Spirit in any, muſt be rejected: and if the Lord pleaſe to make uſe of thoſe, whom he did make uſe of to gather home to himſelf; I ſay if he hath given them gifts, and pleaſe to make uſe of them alſo in building up, and manifeſting the holy Order of his holy Spirit and Power; the Lord muſt not be reſiſted or withſtood therein: but whatever comes from him, muſt be received with thankfulneſs, through what inſtrument ſoever he pleaſe to convey it.

Object. But have I not been taught to be ſubject to the Light in my own heart, and to make that my Judge; and is not this another, or new or different Doctrine from that, now to tell me I muſt ſubject to the Light of Gods Spirit in his Church? Suppoſe that which the Church requires or orders or holds forth, be different from my Light, or be not yet revealed to me, by the Light wherewith God hath Enlightned me: muſt I deny the Light wherewith God hath Enlightned me, and ſubject to the Churches Light? Or muſt I Practiſe as the Church Orders, before I have Light and Faith in my own particular?

Anſw. I ſhall Anſwer this Queſtion, according to the naked and plain ſenſe of Truth in my Heart.

Firſt, God gives Power to his Church, to perform all that he requires of her as a Church. Now the Church is a ſpiritual Body, and is to take care of her members to look after them that they mind the Truth, and walk according to Truth, and to admoniſh and reprove them, when they do otherwiſe. And every member of the Church, ought to hear the Church, in whatever ſhe ſpeaks unto it from God.

Secondly, Every member hath need of the Light, Spirit and Power which God gives his Church, and reveals in his Church for the good of the Body, and the benefit and advantage of each Member therein.

Thirdly, The Light, Spirit and Power in the Church, is never contrary to the Light, Spirit and Power in any Member; but alwaies one with it, and a Cheriſher and Preſerver of what God begets, and which anſwers his Witneſs in any. The new Jeruſalem, the Church of Gods building in his own Spirit and Power, is a City at Unity within it ſelf. The greateſt degree of Light owns, and is at Unity with the leaſt: and the leaſt degree of Light, hath a ſenſe of that which is in degree and meaſure above it.

Fourthly, The Light in the weakeſt, which they are at firſt to be turned, and afterward terwards to be kept to, though there is a sufficiency in it for the particular, yet they are not so understanding and sensible of it, as those whose senses have been long exercised in the living Truth, and are grown in the holy Experience. Therefore as the Elders are to be tender of the Younger: so the Younger are to reverence the Elders in the Lord, and not to slight their Testimony, Experience or Judgment in the Truth. When we were first convinced of the Truth, were we not in a great degree ignorant and doubtful concerning the risings and motions of it in the heart? Which the eye being yet weak, could not clearly distinguish; and O how helpful to us was the tender care and advice of such, whom God had made acquainted with those things, and were able to give us true Judgment from him, in such cases as our weak minds were apt to be entangled about, and could not see through?

Fifthly, Great Sobriety is needful in such cases, wherein men are too prone to be Judging others, especially the Church of God. Every man is to take heed of thinking of himself more highly than he ought to think; but to think soberly, according as God hath dealt to every man the measure of Faith, Rom. 12. 3. And the young men (who have not the experience of the aged, and are most apt to confidence, and excursions) are in a special manner to be Exhorted to be sober-minded, Tit. 2. 6. Men may easily judge that others err; and that they themselves keep to the Light and measure of Truth in their own particulars: but it is hard to do it. But they that indeed do it, abide in the Humility and Innocency, and Lamb-like Spirit, which would give no offence in any thing, neither to Jew nor Gentile, nor to the Church of God. If it will go so hard with him that offends one of Christ's Little Ones; how will it go with him that offends his Church, wherein his Glory and Power riseth and is established? The Church is not apt to be such an erring Body from the Light, Spirit and Power of the Lord Jesus, as many (who mistake concerning the Light in their own Particulars) are too apt to suppose.

Lastly, Ever since the fall of Man, Man hath been secretly or more manifestly directed by a Light, or the Principle within, to direct or guide his wayes. To Adam the Holy Seed was promised, which was not only to appear outwardly in a body of Flesh, but also within in Mans Heart, to bruise the Serpents Head there. And the Holy Patriarchs had not the letter outwardly, but Gods Spirit inwardly to be their Guide and Teacher, which did also strive with the wicked Old World before the Flood. The Jews also were directed to the Word nigh in the Mouth and Heart; And by this Word God shewed also to the Gentiles what was Good, and what the Lord required of them: and by this Word such of the Gentiles as hearkened to it, felt somewhat of the new Creation and of the new Nature, by which Nature they did in measure Answer the Holy Law of God, and do the things contained in the Law, which by the old, corrupt Nature no Man can do. Also Christ Preached the Kingdom, or Seed of the Kingdom within. And the Apostles Preached the same word of Faith within, which Moses had testified of.

Yet in none of these Dispensations, was any Testimony from God to be despised; but his Voice to be heard in the Prophets, in Christ and in the Apostles. And though Men are blessedly and gloriously turned, and to be turned to the Light within, in these our Days; yet they are not thereby taught to neglect or despise the Voice of God, in any whom he sends and speaks by, and pretend it is contrary to their Light; But to lye low before the Lord, that in the true Humility and Holy Fear, they may know the Voice of the Shepherd, both in their own Hearts, and in whomsoever he pleaseth to speak. For the great, Almighty God is not limited, but he may speak in and through whom he pleaseth. He may speak to me from the Anointing in my own Heart, and the holy Anointing may please to speak to me through others: and so far as I am God, and sensible of his Appearance, I cannot despise the Voice of the Anointing in my own Heart, or through others. Yea, truth teacheth that modesty, temperance, humility, tenderness and sobriety, that I dare not despise the Voice that pretends to the Anointing in any, until I have made tryal of it. Yea, John Pennymans Voice and Testimony, I durst not Condemn until the Lord my God, in the un-erring Light and pure springing Life, manifested unto me, that it was not of him, but of the transforming Enemy, who had bewitched and deceived him by his strong Delusions (he forsaking the Rock, which which would have been his ſtrength) to receive and believe a Lie, inſtead of the Truth.

O Bleſſed be the Lord for the building up ſuch a Church, and ſpeaking to us through his Church! And happy are they that hear her Voice, that ſo keep to their own, as to know the Voice of their own in the Church, and are not through Temptation prejudiced againſt it. For it is the Lords gathering, and the Lord is with it; and the People who have been gathered by the Lord, and are daily taught by him keep with him. And though ſome may depart from us, and through Errour of judgment teſtify againſt us, yet Truth abides, and the Lords People abide with the Truth, and his building goeth on, and the holy Government of his Son encreaſeth in it, and the Lord appears more and more inwardly in his Glory, as the hearts of his People are made capable to receive it from him. And in all the goings out of any, and Apoſtacies that have been in any, through hearkening to a wrong Spirit, they that have heard and reverenced the Voice and Teſtimony of the Church, and Gods Choſen and bleſſed Miniſtry, which he hath raiſed among us, have ſtill been preſerved; and they that have gone therefrom, been betrayed. And it is my Faith, this Church of Gods gathering ſhall ſtill be preſerved, and grow in the holy Dominion and Authority of Gods Bleſſed Spirit; and that all her Enemies ſhall be found Liars unto her, and ſhe ſhall tread upon their high Places, and ſhall grow and proſper the more, by all Oppoſition; the Everlaſting Arm, and Wiſdom of the Almighty being with Her to preſerve, proſper, and bleſs Her; ſo be it. Amen.

THE END.

THE

THE SEED OF GOD, AND OF His KINGDOM

Treated and Testified of according to the Scriptures of Truth, and according to True Experience felt in the Heart from the God of Truth:

By Isaac Penington.

The Kingdom of Heaven is like to a grain of Mustard-Seed, which a man took and sowed in his Field. Which indeed is the least of all Seeds: but when it is grown, it is the greatest among Herbs, &c. Matth. 13. 31, 32.

Being born again not of Corruptible Seed, but of Incorruptible, by the Word of God which Liveth and Abideth for ever. 1 Pet. 1. 23.

Whosoever is born of God, doth not commit sin; for his seed remaineth in him: and he cannot sin, because he is born of God, 1 Joh. 3. 9.

The PREFACE.

I Would fain have (and my Soul exceedingly breaths to the Lord for it) disputing about Religion come to an end, and the right understanding, practising and experiencing the true Religion begun and go on in Mens Hearts. The Gospel-Religion, in the Apostles Days, did begin in the Evidence and Demonstration of Gods Spirit inwardly: and it cannot rightly begin any otherwise now. Nor can it rightly go on any other way, but according to its beginning: For they that begin in the Spirit, cannot possibly rightly go on, or be made perfect by the Flesh. Did the Apostles in vain wait for the Spirit and Power from on High? Can the Gospel-Ministry, or Gospel-Work in any Heart, be carried on without it? Or did they in vain turn men from Satans Power to God? Can the least, true change be wrought in the Heart, without the Operation of Gods Holy Spirit and Power there? And to be turned to wait for, and taught to know the risings of the pure Power of the Lord inwardly, (which is so necessary to begin, preserve and carry on the work) O what a precious Ministration of Life, and of the Gospel, is this from the Lord? The thing that we wanted, and mourned after, all our Days, in our several strains and wates of profession, without the knowledge of this; is now met with; Blessed be the Lord God of Israel, who hath risen up, and prepared the way (according to his Promise) before the face of all People. Who ever hath an Ear to hear, what the Spirit saith to the Churches of his own Gathering, or from the Angel of his own sending, may now hear the Blessed Tidings of the Reign of the King of Israel, and of Zion his holy Hill, and Jerusalem his holy City; and how to wait for the Law going out of Sion, and the Word of the Lord

Lord from Jeruſalem, and how he may receive the Sheeps Nature, and the Sheeps Ear, which hears the voice of the Shepherd, and is not deceived about it. O come out of the vain-diſputing mind, and thou comeſt out of deceit. Come into the true ſilence and ſtilling of the fleſhly part thither, where Gods voice is heard and underſtood; and thou comeſt into true certainty. There thou comeſt to hear the voice behind thee, calling thee from every falſe way (which is polluted, and where thy Souls reſt is not) and directing thee to the true Way, to the Way of Holineſs, livingly pointing out and ſaying to thee, This is the Way, walk in it. This is the Way of Life, this is the Way of Truth, this is the Way Peace, this is the Way of Holineſs; here all the true Travellers are to Walk, with their Faces Sion-wards, to obtain the Kingdom and Righteouſneſs of the Lord Jeſus Chriſt. Now; O every one that truly Thirſts, why do ye not come to the Waters? God hath opened the Way, He heartily invites you; yea the Spirit and the Bride ſaith Come, and take the waters of Life freely. O wait to know the inward Holy Power, and the inward Birth, and the inward Teaching, and the inward Covenant; and this Birth's overcoming by the inward Power, the inward Enemies: that ye being delivered from them, may come to enjoy the Well of Life, and to ſit down in the Heavenly Places in Chriſt Jeſus, where the true Reſt is; and in the Srength, Life and Vertue of his Spirit, may ſerve the Lord in Righteouſneſs and Holineſs without fear, of thoſe Enemies which the Lord hath delivered you from, and which his Love, Mercy, and Power, is as a Wing over you to preſerve you for ever from; I ſay, that ye may ſerve the Lord your God out of the fear of theſe, and feed in his Holy Mountain, out of the reach of thoſe, in the Majeſty of the Nam of the Lord your God; and theſe may not be able to make you affraid, or diſturb your Reſt, or hinder your ſweet enjoyment and precious ſervice of your God any more. O ye that are afraid of being deceived, take heed ye be not deceived inwardly in your hearts, about theſe things; and by the Vail which the Enemy ſpreads there, hindred and deprived of your ſhare in the bleſſed adminiſtration of the Spirit, Life and Power of our Lord Jeſus: whom to know after the fleſh (or as man can comprehend concerning him in his carnal mind) is of little value: but to know him inwardly, and ſpiritually to live and reign, and to exerciſe his Dominion in the heart, over every temptation, and over all that is contrary to God (whenever any ſuch thing appears) is a pure, living excellent and ſatisfactory knowledge of him; which the Lord lead every truly-hungring and thirſting Soul, towards the obtaining and full enjoyment of! Amen.

Concerning the

SEED OF GOD,

OR, THE

Seed of the Kingdom:

What it is? Where it is to be found? Who ſowed it there? What is hid or wrapped up in it? What is its Nature? What its Effects? Of its Growth, and Hindrances thereof; Of its Bleſſedneſs, and how it makes Bleſſed? How Chriſt is Formed of this Seed; and, How the Soul is Born of this Immortal Seed.

Firſt, What the Seed is?

Anſw. THe Seed of God is the Word of God, the Seed of the Kingdom is the Word of the Kingdom. It is a meaſure of the Light and Life, of the Grace and Truth which is by Jeſus Chriſt, whereof in him is the fulneſs. It is an Heavenly Heavenly Talent, or Manifeſtation of his Spirit in the Heart, which is given to Man for him, in the Vertue and Strength of Chriſt, to improve for God. This which God hath placed in Man, to Witneſs for himſelf, and to Guide Man from Evil unto Good (in the pure Breathings, Quickenings, and Shinings of it) this is the Seed, which is freely beſtowed on Man, to ſpring up, and remain in him, and to gather him out of himſelf, into it ſelf.

Secondly, Who is the Sower of this Seed?

Anſw. God in, and through Chriſt. He is the good Husband-Man. He, by the Word which Created all in the Beginning, Creates anew in Chriſt Jeſus, renews his Workmanſhip in Man, and puts a Meaſure of this Word or Spirit of Life in Man's Heart, whereby he renews him: and they that are thus renewed by him, are his Workmanſhip, Created in Chriſt Jeſus unto good Works.

Thirdly, Where is this Seed to be Found?

Anſw. Where God Sows it, which is in the inward Earth. It is an inward Seed, and it is Sowed in inward Land or Earth; that is, in the Hearts of Men. There the Light of the Word ſhines, there the Light of the Word is felt, ſtirring ſecretly in, and Quickening thoſe that were Dead in Treſpaſſes and Sins. There the Voice and Call of the Word is heard, calling from Unrighteouſneſs and Sin, to Righteouſneſs and Holineſs.

Fourthly, In what ſorts of Earth is this Heavenly Seed ſown?

Anſw. In all ſorts: in thorny ground, ſtony ground, high-way ground and good ground. God's inward lightenings enlighten the inward World throughout: ſo that God hath not left any man without a witneſs in his Conſcience againſt Sin. So that, though mans Conſcience be corrupt, and his Light become Darkneſs; yet God's witneſs in his Conſcience can never be corrupted: but whenever it ſhines in the Heart, it gives true Light there: and whenever it witneſſeth there, it witneſſeth the truth for God, and againſt man, and the Corruption and ſearedneſs of his Heart and Conſcience.

Fiftbly, In what ſort of earth it brings forth good fruit to Perfection.

Anſw. Only in the good ground. It brings forth fruit in other grounds, and the fruit it brings forth is good. The Convictions are good, the deſires begotten there by it, and that ariſe from it, are good. The leaving off of ſome bad things, and doing ſome good things, is good: but the thorns, the cares, the worldlineſs, the fear of Perſecution, that ſpring up from another root, and are of another Nature, choak the Good which the Seed brings forth in the thorny ground, and ſtifle and choak the Seed it ſelf alſo, in ſuch kind of grounds. But in the good ground which yields its whole nouriſhment to the good Seed, and will not yield nouriſhment to any bad; the good Seed not only ſprings up, but brings forth Fruit to perfection.

Sixthly, How may the ground that is bad, be made good? Was not the ground which is now good, once bad, and may not the ground which is now bad, be made good?

Anſw. God hath ſhut up all Men in unbelief, that he might have Mercy upon all. The Heart that is now ſoft, was once hard. The Heart that is now Believing, was once in the Unbelief. The Heart that now Loves God, was once in the Enmity. The Plough of God, put into the Thorny Ground, tearing it up, and Rooting out the Thorns thereof, will change its Nature, and make it become better.

Break up your Fallow Ground, Sow not among Thorns, ſaid God to his Iſrael of Old. And the Stony ground, if the Stones be picked out of it, will be leſs Stony: Yea, not at all Stony, if all the Stones be picked out. And the High-Way ground, being encloſed, and dreſſed by God's Spirit and Power, will be no longer Common, or High-Way ground. Doth not Man by Care, Art, and Induſtry, change the Nature of outward land or ground? Surely then the Lord, by the Word of his Power, by his inward deſtroying of Evil, and Creating good anew, can change the Nature of ground inwardly.

Now for the clearer, and plainer ſignifying of what yet remains on my Heart, concerning this precious Seed of Life, or Seed of the Kingdom of God; I ſhall Diſtri-

Distribute it under these Three Heads; under which, the things mentioned in the foregoing Title will be comprized.

1. What is hid or wrapped up in this Seed?
2. The Nature of it.
3. The Effects of it.

I.

What is hid or wrapped up in this Precious, Heavenly Seed.

Answ. Indeed there is so much wrapped up in it, as the Heart of Man cannot conceive, much less the Tongue utter: yet somewhat have I felt, and somewhat is upon my Heart, to say in Answer to this thing, under these Four Heads following.

First, The Glory of the Kingdom of Heaven, the Glory of the Everlasting Kingdom is hid and wrapped up in it, as in a Seed. Whatever Christ Appears, Reigns, and Shines in, is there as in a Seed. O the shootings forth, and spreadings abroad of it, is indeed Glorious and Excellent! How can a Man almost speak concerning it, the thing it self (being inwardly felt, known, and enjoyed) is so far beyond all words! What doth the Kingdom of God stand in? It stands not in Word, but in Power. The Power is hid, and wrapped up in this Seed. The pure Power of Life is in this Seed. The Sword that Pierceth Leviathan, that Woundeth the Serpents Head, that Cutteth Rahab, and the Dragon, is in this Seed. Doth the Kingdom of God consist in Righteousness, Peace, and Joy in God's Spirit? This is all in this Seed, and is partook of, and enjoyed, as this Seed springs up, and gains Authority, and Dominion in the Heart. Yea, the Horn of God's Anointed, the Righteous, and Peaceable Scepter of the Saviour, is known and exalted in this Seed, as it springs up, and spreads abroad in the Life, and Vertue of the Father.

Secondly, The Divine Nature of God Almighty is hid, and wrapped up in it. It is the Seed of God, and it is of the very Nature of God: And he in whom it springs, and who is gathered into it, born of it, and one with it, partakes of the Divine Nature. Peter speaks of the great and precious Promises, whereby the Saints are made partakers of the Divine Nature. All the Promises are to the Seed of Promise, to Christ the Son of God, to the Seed of God, to the Heirs of Life, and Salvation in Christ: and they are all Fulfilled to them, and Enjoyed by them, who are Ingrafted into, and One with Christ the Seed; which cannot be, but by the Grace, by the Truth, by the Light, Life, Spirit, and Power, which he Sows in the Heart; which are not many things, but all Contained, and Comprehended in the one Seed.

Thirdly, All the Graces, and Vertues of God's Holy Spirit are hid, and wrapped up in this one Seed. There is nothing God can require of the Soul, nor nothing the Soul can desire of God, but is hid, and wrapped up in this Seed. So that all that is needful, or all that can be desired, is the growing, and spreading of this Seed in the Soul, and the Souls Gathering into it, and its Living, Dwelling, Abiding, and Acting in it. And, O the great difference between the Souls selfish striving, and willing, and running to Joyn to God and Christ, and to Live in God and Christ; and God's Joyning it to himself, and his Son in this Seed, and its Living, Willing, and Acting in the springing Life of this Seed! To make this a little more Plain and Evident, to the Hearts of those that desire the true Understanding of this thing, I shall Instance in some Particulars.

First, The Pure, Living, Heavenly Knowledge of the Father, and of his Son Christ Jesus, is wrapped up in this Seed. God is Light; and this Seed, which comes from Him, is not Darkness, but Light: And in the springing Light of this Seed, God and Christ are Revealed. The Divine Nature of them springs up in the Seed (and if I know their Nature, I know them) yea here we (whom he Lord hath visited, and shewn Mercy to, though Men despise us) know the Righteous Spirit of Christ, the Righteous Nature of Christ, the Righteous Life of Christ, and feel him to be one with the Father, who begets of the ſame Spirit, Nature, and Life in us. And he that is Born of the Spirit, is Spirit, and he that is United to the Lord, is one Spirit: And he that is United to the Seed, to the Meaſure of Grace and Truth from Chriſt (wherein, and whereby the Soul is United) is United to God, and Ingrafted into Chriſt: And as the Seed is Formed in him, Chirſt is Formed in him, and as he is Formed, and New-Created in the Seed, He is the Workman-Ship of God, Formed, and New Created in Chriſt.

Secondly, Faith, the True Faith; the Lively, Effectual, Saving, Conquering Faith, which gives Victory over the World, and over the Devil, and his Temptations is contained or wrapped up in this Seed. Faith is the Gift of God, the precious Gift of God, which is not found in Man's Nature: But ſprings, and grows from the precious Seed of the Kingdom, which God Sows in Man's Heart. So that it is a Gift to be waited for, and Obtained from God. Therefore the Apoſtle Peter, Writing to the Saints in his time, directs his Epiſtle thus, To them who have Obtained like precious Faith with us, through the Righteouſneſs of God, and our Saviour Jeſus Chriſt, 2 Pet. 1. 1. Faith is a Precious thing, a Righteous thing, an Holy thing, which God is the giver of, which Chriſt is the Author and Finiſher of: And it ſprings from the Holy Root, from the Holy Seed of Life and Righteouſneſs, which God Sows in the Heart. This Faith (I ſpeak not of Man's Ability of Believing, or the Faith which is Found in Man's Nature) is the Faith of God's Elect, Tit. 1. 1. The Faith which God gives to them that are Born of Him, Joh. 1. 12, 13. who are Born of the Seed incorruptible, by the Word of God which Liveth and Abideth for ever, 1 Pet. 1. 23. which Word being nigh in the Mouth and Heart, and begetting, preſerving, and increaſing Faith there (as is dayly experienced plentifully, Bleſſed be the Lord) is therefore called the Word of Faith, Rom. 10. 8.

Thirdly, The Pure Fear, the Holy Fear, the Heavenly Fear, which is of a Clean and Heavenly Nature, and endureth for ever; is alſo in this Seed. The Child-like Fear is in the Nature of the Child: and the more it grows in the true Child-like Nature, the more it grows in this kindly Fear; wherein there is no Torment, but the pure Pleaſure of Life, and of Holy Obedience to the Father of Life. The Child-like Fear is a promiſe of the New-Covenant, and given to the Children of the New-Covenant, by Vertue of the New-Covenant, God putting it into their Hearts from the Seed of Life ſpringing up in them, which preſerves them from departing from the Lord, Jer. 32. 40.

Fourthly, The Pure Divine Love is in it. As this ſprings, Love to God ſprings. As God is Love, ſo the Seed that is of him partakes of his Love. There is no Enmity in it, nor no Enmity or ill Will ſprings from it. This is it, that makes it ſo Natural to the Children of God to Love: becauſe they are Born of that Seed which came from the God of Love, whoſe Nature is Love. O how dayly is it found, by ſweet and certain Experience, that this Seed (ſpringing up) teacheth and enableth to Love! And they that have this Seed ſpringing up in them, need not to be Writ to, or outwardly Taught to Love, with the Brotherly Love: for in it, and by it, and through it, they are Taught of God to Love one another. So that, there needs nothing but the Circumciſing of the Heart, the Purifying of the Heart, through the Obedience of the Truth, the Cutting off of that Fleſhly Mind, Nature, Will, and Wiſdom, which cannot Love aright: and the pure Love will ſpring up, fully towards the Lord, and towards the Brethren, Deut. 30. 6. 1 Pet. 1. 22. yea, it will be Natural to Love all: and that Command of Chriſts, will not be grievous, namely, to Love Enemies, even the greateſt Revilers, Curſers, and Perſecuters, Mat. 5. 44.

Fifthly, The Pure Hope, the Hope of the Upright, the Hope which makes not Aſhamed, the Hope which goes within the Vail, and is a ſure, and ſtedfaſt Anchor there, ſtaying the Mind upon the Lord, who keeps ſuch in perfect Peace; this Hope is contained in, and ſpringeth from the Seed. For nothing but that which comes from God (from the Holy Seed of Truth and Righteouſneſs) can ſtay the Mind upon God. So that, he that feels the Seed, feels the Hope: and keeping keeping to the Seed (to the Holy Root, to the end) the Hope remains to the end. So the Mind being turned to the Light, being turned from Satan's Power to God, being turned to Christ, being turned to the Appearance, and Voice of the Word of Life within, being turned from the Seed of Wickedneſs, and Darkneſs, to the Holy and Righteous Seed of the Kingdom, it is turned to the Hope, it is turned to that which begets a true and right Hope in the Heart; which Hopes in God's Love, Hopes in God's Mercy, Hopes in God's Kind, Tender, and Faithful Nature; and hath no Confidence nor Hope in the Fleſh, but in the Holy and Heavenly Seed, and Work of Righteouſneſs, and of the Kingdom, which is God's Battle-Ax, and Weapon of War, whereby he brings down the Fleſh. This Hope ſtayes the Mind in every Temptation, in every Diſtreſs, in every Tryal, in all the Winds, Storms, and Waves of Perſecution that it can be Aſſaulted with. For in this Seed the Root of Jeſſe is felt, the Everlaſting Rock and Foundation of Life is felt: and here the God of Hope fills His, that are gathered hither, and abide here, with all Joy, and Peace in Believing, that they may abound in Hope, through the Power of the Holy Ghoſt, Rom. 15. 12, 13.

Sixthly, The true Patience, which obtains the Crown, which makes Perfect and Entire; ſo that there is nothing wanting, where it hath its perfect Work; (Jam. 1. 4.) the Patience which enables quietly to ſuffer any Chaſtiſement from God, or any Affliction, or hard Dealing from Men; it is contained in, and given with this Seed. As God is Patient, and Long-Suffering: ſo this Seed is alſo. It is Man that is of the brittle, fretful, impatient Nature. But he that Receiveth the Word of Faith, the Seed of Faith; in it he receiveth Faith and Patience alſo: ſo that to him it is not only given to Believe, but to Suffer alſo for the ſake of Chriſt. And he that abides in the Seed, and feels the Seed remaining in him, and its Nature prevailing; can never be Impatient, whatſoever the Lord ſuffers to befal him.

Seventhly, The Lambs Meekneſs is in it. Where ſhould the Lambs Meekneſs be found, but in his Fathers Seed, or in the Seed of his Fathers Kingdom? Here the meek and quiet Spirit is Received, Witneſſed, and Enjoyed, which in the Sight of God, is of much Price. This Seed is Sowed or Begotten in the Womb of the Heavenly Wiſdom, and the Meekneſs of Wiſdom, the true Meekneſs of the true Wiſdom is found in it. Here the ſtill, ſoft, gentle, Lamb-like Nature grows up, wherein there is none of Eſau's Roughneſs.

Eighthly, Here Poverty of Spirit, true Poverty of Spirit is Witneſſed. He is Poor indeed, who hath ſold all, and hath nothing left him but this Seed, and the appearance, and help of God in this Seed; which is not in his own hands neither, but in the Will, and Diſpoſal of God.

Ninethly, Here Mercifulneſs towards others is Experienced. For he that is brought hither, Lives only by Mercy: and he that Lives by Mercy, and is dayly what he is by Mercy, cannot but be Merciful unto others.

Tenthly, Here the true Mourning, and Lamenting after the Lord, and his precious Life and Preſence; and becauſe of the Preſence or Power of that which hinders the growth of the Seed, and the Souls Union with, and Enjoyment of the Lord in it, is Witneſſed. For the true Mourning, to which the Bleſſedneſs belongs, is of God, from the Living Sence that ariſeth from his pure Seed in the Heart: and Bleſſed indeed are they that thus Mourn, for they ſhall be Comforted.

Eleventhly, The true Hungring, and Thirſting after Righteouſneſs ariſeth from this Seed. It is the Seed of God, the Birth of God, that which hath the Sence of the Excellency of his Righteouſneſs, that Hungers and Thirſts after his Righteouſneſs.

Twelfthly, The true Sobriety, Moderation, and Temperance ariſeth from this Seed: and they that are joyned to the Seed, and are, and act in the Seed, eaſily learn ſuch Sobriety, Moderation, and Temperance, as they that are out of it, cannot poſſibly Learn.

Laſtly, To name no more, The Croſs which Mortifies, and Crucifies to the World and to Sin, can only be taken up in the Seed, or by Vertue of the Seed.

Indeed the Seed is a Crofs; yea, Enmity to the Serpents Nature, Spirit, and Courfe: and he that takes it up, its Will, its Nature, its Law of Life, takes up the Crofs to the other Nature, Will, and the Law of Sin and Death. So that fly the Holy Seed, and thou haft only a fhadow or appearance of the Crofs: but in fenfe of, and fubjection to the Seed, the Crofs of our Lord Jefus Chrift is felt, Working Powerfully againft Sin, and the whole Courfe of the Evil, and Sinful Nature, effectually Crucifying, and Subduing it.

Fourthly, The Fourth thing which is hid, or wrapped up in the precious Seed, which is the laft that remains to be mentioned by me, at this time, is this, The New-Covenant, which God makes with the New-Ifrael, by which he makes the Heart New, and Writes his Law in it, and takes away the ftony Heart, and Heals all their Back-flidings, and Loves them freely, and puts his Spirit within them, caufing them to walk in his Wayes, and to keep his Statutes, and Judgments, and do them, even the holy Agreement of the Soul with God in Chrift Jefus, is in this Seed.

God gave Chrift for a Covenant, and the Seed of Grace and Truth comes by Jefus Chrift: which is of his Nature, of him the Covenant: and all that receive this grace and truth from him, this holy Seed of the Kingdom, they receive the Covenant: and they that walk in it, walk in the Covenant.

Here, and here alone, the new Creation in Chrift Jefus is Known.

Here, and here alone, the coming to God by Chrift is truly underftood and witneffed.

Here, and here alone, the Law of the Spirit of Life in Chrift Jefus is writ in the heart.

Keep here, thou never goeft out of the holy Agreement with God and with Chrift: for in this grace and truth, in this Seed of Life, there is nothing that difagrees with them. Here thou liveft in the Spirit, walkeft in the Spirit, and doft not, canft not, fulfill the luffs of the Flefh. There is nothing here, that will either difpleafe God, or lead thy Soul afide from him: but here the Lord guides the Feet of his Saints, and teacheth all of them, (from the leaft Babe of them, to the higheft growth) and puts his Law of Life and new Obedience, and his holy Spirit into their hearts, that none of their fteps may flide. Here the way of holinefs wherein God preferves His from erring (Ifa. 35. 8.) is known and walked in. Yea here Chrift is known, and felt to be the Way, the Truth and the Life. The Sheep that are gathered hither, and come hither, are returned to the Bifhop and fhepherd of their Soul; who watcheth over them, and Powerfully preferveth them, that they run aftray no more. For whither fhould they go, or whom fhould they hear, when they have found him, and know his Voice, with whom are the Words of eternal Life?

I fhall conclude this head with that precious Scripture, 1 Cor. 1. 30. But of him are ye in Chrift Jefus who of God is made unto us Wifdom, and Righteoufnefs, and Sanctification, and Redemption. How are we of God in Chrift Jefus: but by this Seed of God, by being born of the Spirit of God, by being begotten out of the Spirit of the world into the Nature and Spirit of Chrift, from this immortal and incorruptible Seed of Life, Truth, Grace and Spirit? And how do we put on Chrift, but by puting on this Seed? and how do we grow up in Chrift? but by the growing up in this Seed. and feeling this Seed grow up in us? And here, in Truth and Demonftration of God's Spirit we are formed in Chrift, and Chrift formed in us, as this Seed groweth up into a form and fhape in us, and we into a form and fhape in it. Now we cannot receive this feed, but as we part with and deny our own wifdom and fleflily confidence: and denying that, and crying to God for Wifdom; God brings up the wifdom of the feed in us. and makes Chrift become unto us wifdom therein. And we cannot hunger after the true Righteoufnefs, the heavenly Righteoufnefs, the Righteoufnefs of our Lord Jefus Chrift; but as we fee the loathfomnefs of, and put off our own righteoufnefs: and then becoming naked, we are taught of God to buy white raiment of him, which is the Righteoufnefs of the Saints; and fo he becomes our Righteoufnefs, made fo of God to us.

And

And he is the purger and cleanſer of ſin and unholineſs out of our Hearts, and Lives, and the holy Leavener and Sanctifier of our hearts: ſo that we have nothing of holineſs, but what we have of him and in him. And he is our Redemption: our Redemption is by him and through him, our Redemption is wrought and preſerved by him, and enjoyed in him; yea he is made of God unto us Redemption. So that having him, we have Redemption through his Blood; yea he is our Redeemer, and Redemption for evermore. Alas, what is it to get notions of theſe things into the outward comprehenſion! but to feel them Livingly in the heart, is Life and Peace for evermore: and the Knowledg of this Seed of the Kingdom, and of God and Chriſt in this ſeed, is the moſt precious Knowledg that can be deſired, obtained or enjoyed.

II.

The Nature of this Seed.

WHat is the Nature of the Seed of God, or the Seed of the Kingdom?

Anſw. Though the Nature of it hath been largely ſignified already, under the fore-going head; (for the mentioning of what is wrapped up in it, abundantly ſheweth its Nature) yet I ſhall ſpeak a little more punctually and expreſly of it in ſeveral particulars, according to the Scriptures, that the Reader may have the more diſtinct ſenſe and inward apprehenſion of it, the Lord opening his heart in Reading theſe things.

Firſt, It is of an immortal, incorruptible Nature, 1 Pet. 1. 23. It is a Seed that can never dye in it ſelf, though it may be as it were Dead in man or unto man, not putting forth any of its hidden Life, or Virtue in the man that hath ſlain it as to himſelf: who having ſlain that whereby God gives Life, is dead in Treſpaſſes and in Sins; and cannot Live any more, till God breath upon and quicken this Seed in him, and him by this Seed. This is a great Myſtery. Doubtleſs the Seed of Life and Godlineſs, wherein the Life and Godlineſs of the Soul lies hid, muſt needs be a great Myſtery, and cannot be known but as God reveals it.

Secondly, Its of a gathering Nature. It is of the Nature of a Net, Mat. 13, 47. It gathers out of that which is contrary to God, unto God. It gathers out of the world, out of the Sea of wickedneſs, out of the Kingdom of Darkneſs, out of a man's own Nature and Spirit, into God's Nature and Spirit, and his Light and Kingdom, wherein the Soul ſhould dwell and walk, and be ſubject with God.

Thirdly, It is of a purging, cleanſing Nature. It is of the Nature of Fire, of the Nature of Water, inwardly and Spiritually. This Seed is Spirit and Life in a meaſure; and by it, or by God's Spirit which dwells and is revealed in it, he waſheth and purgeth away the filth of the Daughter of Sion, and the Blood of Jeruſalem from the midſt thereof. There is ſtrength in this Seed, and Virtue in this Seed, againſt all the ſtrength of deceit and wickedneſs in the other Seed: and as it ſprings up, and is received and joyned to, in the holy fear of the Lord, it prevailes over it, and caſteth away its darkneſs, and purgeth away and burneth up its filth, chaff and corruption.

Fourthly, It is of a Seaſoning, Leavening, Sanctifying Nature. Its like Salt, its like Leaven. It ſeaſons and Leavens with Life. It Seaſons and Leavens with Righteouſneſs. It Seaſons and Leavens with the Image of God. So ſoon as ever it ſprings in the Heart, it begins to Leaven it: and if it be not ſnibbed, or grieved, or hurt, or quenched (for it is of a moſt ſenſible tender Nature) it will go on Leavening more and more with the Nature of Truth, into the likeneſs of the God of Truth. Mark. 9. 50. Luke. 13. 21. Col. 4. 6.

Fifthly. It is of an inriching Nature. It is a hidden Treaſure or Pearl of great price. It makes the wiſe Merchant very Rich, who ſells all for it and buyes the field and it. He that buyes the Truth, and will by no means ſell or part with it, but gives up to it, and makes it his Treaſure; Oh how doth it enrich his Heart with that which is Holy and Heavenly! How rich doth it make him towards God! Mat. 13. 44, 46.

Sixthly, It is of an Improving, growing Nature, of a Nature that will grow and may be be Improved. The one Ta'ent may be increaſed into more. The little Seed, like a grain of Muſtard-Seed, will grow in the good ground beyond all herbs, and become a tree; a Tree of Righteouſneſs of the Lords planting, that he may be Glorÿfied Matt. 13. 31, 32, and Ch. 25. 16. and Ch. 8. 23.

III.

Of the Effects.

What are the Effects of this Seed?

Anſw. THe Effects of the pure ſeed in the Heart are very many, very great, very ſweet, pretious and bleſſed; which every one comes to experience, that experienceth the growth and ſpreading of it. I ſhall inſtance only in ſome few, to give a taſte thereof.

The firſt I ſhall mention is, Union and Communion with God the Father of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, and the Father of this ſeed, and of all that are united to it. Union and Communion with God is ſtill in this ſeed, and never out of it. For as in the ſeed of the Serpent a man is ſeparated from God, alienated from his Life, and can never come near him, nor have fellowſhip with him: ſo in the holy Seed, in the Seed of Life and in the Seed of Righteouſneſs, in the Seed of Faith, the Soul is United to God, hath acceſs to him, the living Fountain, and hath fellowſhip with him in that which is Living and holy of him. Men may Imagine an Union and Communion with God out of this; but none can truly Unite to God, or have fellowſhip with him, but in the gift, in the grace, in the light, in the ſpirit which is of God.

Secondly, This Seed felt ſpringing in the Heart and joyned to, brings down and keeps down all that is contrary to God. This Honour and Power God hath given to the ſeed of the Woman (even to the leaſt meaſure of it) that it ſhould bruiſe the ſerpents head, and free the ſoul from Captivity and ſlavery, to the wicked one. So that the ſoul, in the Living ſenſe, Authority and Vertue of this, may refuſe yielding its Members, its Faculties, its Will, its Mind, its Underſtanding its Affections to ſin and unrighteonſneſs. Yea the Devil, the great red Dragon, the God of the world, the mighty ſpirit and power of darkneſs, being reſiſted in this, is ſtill overcome. When any reſiſt the Devil in their own ſtrength (in the ſtrength of their own deſires, abilities and reſolutions) he ſtill overcomes them: but they that reſiſt the Devil in the Faith that ſprings from this ſeed, ſtill overcome him. So that ſin is brought down, and temptations kept out of, by the Virtue and Power of the Life and Authority of the Saviour, that ſprings up in this ſeed of God, which the ſoul that is joyned to (Leavened with, and Tranſplanted into) partakes of.

Thirdly, As it ſprings, and its Operations are felt and received, it brings into the Image and Nature of God. It blots out the Devils Image in the mind, and makes like God, and like Chriſt. Yea here we have the very mind of Chriſt, and are one with the mind of Chriſt. As in the Serpents Seed, the ſerpents Image and Nature is put on: ſo in this ſeed, the Image of God and Chriſt is put on. Yea the ſerpent, the dark ſpirit, the wicked ſpirit, the deceitful ſpirit is here put off, and Chriſt is put on: and whoever would know the real putting off of the Old man, and the putting on of the New man, which is Created in the Righteouſneſs and Holineſs of Truth, muſt know it in this Seed. Here the Truth is known as it is in Jeſus; in its effectual Power and Virtue, putting off the Old Image and Nature, and putting on the New, even the Heavenly, Divine Image and Nature.

Fourthly, It brings the mind, the Heart, the Soul, the Spirit into the New Obedience (into its own Obedient Nature) even to do the Will of God with great delight and pleaſure. I delight to do thy Will, ſaid Chriſt. This Seed is of his Nature. It is a meaſure, a Proportion, an Heavenly Talent of his Grace and Truth; a gift of Light and Life from him, the fulneſs, given to make willing (like him) to do the Fathers Will; And it really doth ſo; inſomuch as the Soul, that is through throughly Leavened and one with it, can also say, I likewise delight to do thy Will, O God; it is become my meat and drink: For I am nourished, refreshed, and delighted with the Virtue, that I feel spring in me; in doing thy Will. Indeed, it is not so at First; while there is a Nature, a Will, a Wisdom contrary to the Nature, Will and Wisdom of God: Obedience is then hard, the Cross is then a sore Yoke upon my neck. But that Nature being subdued, and the Nature of the Seed coming up and prevailing, what can be more delightfull to this New Nature, than to do the Will of its Heavenly Father, and to find the Heart of the Father pleased with the Child; which it always is, while the Child is in tenderness of Spirit, in the Holy Faith, and in the holy Obedience to him!

Fifthly, It brings into the understanding, sense and enjoyment of all the precious promises, and to the partaking of all the Spiritual Blessings in Christ Jesus our Lord. All the promises are to the Seed, and are Yea and Amen in Christ: and the least measure of his Life hath a share therein. The seed, the everlasting seed is the Heir: and we joyned to the seed, Born of the seed, growing up in the seed are Joynt-Heirs; Heirs of God & Joynt-Heirs with Christ. So that every promise comes to be understood here, tasted of here, enjoyed here. How full are the Scriptures of sweet and precious promises! Alas, what is it for men to apply them to themselves, when they have no right to them; nor indeed rightly understand them, nor were they intended by the Lord to their present states and conditions. But to come to the true understanding of the Promises, to be led by the Lord into that Conditton, and preserved by him in that Condition, to which the promises belong; and to have him bring home the Promises to the heart, and drop in the sweet, healing, delighting, refreshing Virtue of them; O how sweet, comforting and gladding is this! Indeed in this seed all the curses of the Book pass away, and all the Blessings flow in, and multiply on the soul day by day. So that this may well be called the Blessed seed: for in it the soul is Blessed, and filled with Blessings by him who is able to multiply them upon the Soul, and to guide the soul in the safe and right use and enjoyment of them.

But what need I mention any more? Here's Light, here's Life, here's Righteousness, here's Peace, here's heavenly Joy, here's the holy Power, springing and bringing forth their fruits, and precious Operations and Effects in the heart: and here's assurance of the Love of God in Christ for ever, and that God will never leave nor forsake that soul which is joyned to him, and abides with him in this seed; but it shall be kept by the Power of God, through the Faith that springs from this seed, unto perfect Redemption and Salvation, Amen.

CONCERNING

God's Kingdom;

Whereby the SEED thereof may be the better Illustrated and Understood.

Quer. 1. WHat is the Kingdom of God, which Christ said he must Preach to other Cities also? For therefore was He sent, Luk. 4. 43.

Quer. 2. What is the Kingdom of Heaven, which first John the forerunner, and then then Jesus himself, when he began to Preach, bid men repent, because it was at hand? Matth. 3. 2. and Chap. 4. 13. What would Repentance Advantage men? Would it fit men for entrance thereinto? Did those that truly repented and believed, come out of the Kingdom of Darkness and Satan, and enter into the Kingdom of the dear Son? 2 Pet. 1. 10, 11.

Quer. 3. What is the Kingdom of God, and the Righteousness of God, which Christ (the Everlasting, Wise and Holy Councellour) adviseth men first to seek? Luk. 6. 33. Where is this Kingdom to be found? Where is this Righteousness to be found? What is it hid and wrapped up in? Can it be found in any thing, but what it is hid by God and Wrapped up in?

Quer. 4. What kind of Poverty of Spirit is it, and who are those Poor in Spirit, to whom the Kingdom of Heaven belongs? Matth. 5. 3.

Quer. 5. How may men know, when the Kingdom of God is come unto them? Is it not then manifest, when these stronger than the strong man, not only knocks at the Door of the heart, but casts out Satan thence, and maketh spoil of his goods? Matth. 12. 28, 29.

Quer. 6. Who are they that shall enter into the Kingdom of God? Are they not they who are born of Water and of the Spirit? Joh. 3. 5. (of what Water? and how must they be born of the Spirit?) Were not this worth the knowing!) and they that become as little Children; Simple, Innocent (not wise or knowing after the flesh) that know the breast that is natural and proper for them, and thirst after and drink in the sincere Milk of the Word of Life, from the breast of the Heavenly Wisdom? Luk. 18. 17. 1 Pet. 2. 2.

Quer. 7. Who shall in no wise enter into the Kingdom of Heaven? Shall not all they be excluded, who want the Wedding Garment who want the true Righteousness? Matth. 5, 20.

Quer. 8. What are the glad tidings of the Kingdom of God? Is it not that the Kingdom of God is come, and that his reign is set up, and setting up therein? Luk. 8. 1. Isa. 52. 7.

Quer. 9. Who are they, before whom Publicans and Harlots shall enter into the Kingdom of God? Mat. 21. 31. Who were they in that Age? and who are they in this Age? O that men had hearts rightly to consider and understand!

Quer. 10. Who are they that the Kingdom of God shall be taken from, and given to a Nation bringing forth the fruits thereof? Are they not the wrong Builders in every age, and such as are taught by the wrong Builders, to reject the living stone? ver. 42, 43.

Quer. 11. Who are the Children of the Kingdom that shall be cast out into utter-darkness, where shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth? Matth. 8. 12.

Quer. 12. Who are those God Reveals the Mysteries of the Kingdom to in every age? (Are they not his begotten Ones, his Babes in the Spirit?) and who are those that he hides the Mystery of the Kingdom of Life and Salvation, and the way thereof from in every age? (Are they not the wise and prudent in their own apprehensions of the Letter, without the Spirit?) Matth. 13. 11. and Chap. 11. 15.

Quer. 13. Who are those that are nigh the Kingdom of God! Are they not those who know that Love is the fulfilling of the Law, and that the substance is beyond shadows? Mark. 12. 33, 34.

Quer. 14. Who are those that shut up the Kingdom of Heaven against men? Are they not those who take upon them to expound the Letter to men, and do not turn men to the Spirit, but quench it both in themselves and others? Mat. 23. 13. Luk 11. 52. Isa. 22. 22.

Quer. 15. What a Kingdom is that, wherein he that is least, is greater than the greatest Prophet? wherein he that is feeble shall be as David, and the house of David as God, as the Angel of the Lord before the Inhabitants of Jerusalem? Mat. 11. 11. Zac. 12, 8.

Quer. 16. Who were they in the Apostles Age (and are there any such in this Age?) who shall not tast of Death outwardly, till they have seen the Kingdom of God come with Power inwardly? Mark. 9. 1.

Quer. 17.

Quer. 17. What kind of Looking back is that, which makes a man unfit for the Kingdom of God? Is it not a looking back from the Plough, and not forward to the Plough? And what Plough is it a man muſt put his hand to, and not look back, that he may be fit for the Kingdom of God? Luk. 9. 62.

Quer. 18. What Hand, what Foot, what Eye is it, which a man may enter into the Kingdom of God with? and what Hand, what Foot, what Eye is it, which a man cannot enter into the Kingdom of God withall? Mar. 9. 47.

Quer. 19. What is it to eat Bread in the Kingdom of God? Is not there the feaſt of fat things, and of wines well refined, made to the Soul; and doth it not there ſup with Chriſt, and Chriſt with it? And is not the wine of the Kingdom there drunk new and freſh with Chriſt? Luke. 14. 15. Iſa. 25. 6. Rev. 3. 20. Mark. 14. 25. Luke. 22. 16, 18. Shall not the Mountains there drop down new wine, and the Hills flow with Milk, and all the Rivers of Judah flow with Water? and ſhall not a Fountain come forth out of the houſe of the Lord, and water the valley of Shittim? Joel, 3. 18.

Quer. 20. How may one become as a little Child, that he may receive the Kingdom? Muſt not that man be born anew? Muſt he not be unborn after the fleſh, & born after the Spirit? (And not only ſo, but he muſt receive, & enter into & abide in the Kingdom in that Childlike ſimplicity, and Innocent wiſdom, whereof he is born) Luke. 18. 7. John. 3. 3.

Quer. 21. What is that Fleſh and Blood, which cannot inherit the Kingdom of God; and that Corruption which cannot put on Incorruption? 1 Cor. 15. 50. (let him that readeth underſtand the thing, both in the Letter and in the Spirit.)

Quer. 22. Who are the Unrighteous, that ſhall not inherit the Kingdom of God? Are they not both the manifeſtly unrighteous, and alſo the ſecretly unrighteous; who though they may Preach Faith in Chriſt, and the Righteouſneſs of Chriſt, and may think themſelves believers in him, and cloathed with his Righteouſneſs; yet have not received Power to become the ſons of God, nor through the ſpirit have mortified the deeds of the Body; but, at laſt, notwithſtanding all their profeſſion and pretence to Chriſt's Righteouſneſs, (out of the Faith that works by love, and out of the fine linnen in their own filthy raggs:) are found by him Workers of Iniquity; 1 Cor. 6. 8. Luke. 13. 26. Rom. 8. 13. 1 John. 3. 7.

Quer. 23. Shall any enter in the Kingdom of Heaven, but they that do the Will of Chriſt's Father which is in Heaven? Is it enough to Pray, Thy Will be done on Earth, as it is in Heaven? Is it not neceſſary alſo to receive that Power which makes willing, and that Nature and ſpirit whoſe delight it is to do the Will of the Father? Mat. 7. 21.

Quer. 24. Who ſhall be counted worthy of the Kingdom of God? ſhall not they who ſuffer for it in the holy Faith and Patience, and ſo are willing through the much Tribulation (whether outward or inward, or both) to enter into it? Theſſ. 1. 4, 5. Acts. 14. 22.

Quer. 25. What are the Keyes of the Kingdom of Heaven? who hath need of them, and whom are they given unto? Were they given only to the Apoſtles? or only to the Miniſters of the Church? Are they not given to every one that hath need of them, to whom God giveth underſtanding to open the Myſteries of the Kingdom with them? Mat. 16. 19. The Lawyers were blamed for taking away the Key of Knowledg, Luk. 11. 52. Then they from whom they took it, ſhould have had it; that they might have entred into the Kingdom of heaven by it, and not have been hindred from entring for want of it, and they taking it away from others, loſt it themſelves: for when Chriſt came and preached the Kingdom, they could not ſee to enter into it, but were blind and oppoſed it, Mat. 23.13. And now, under the goſpel, if any man have not the ſpirit of Chriſt, he is none of his (he is not the Fathers Child, who hath not the Fathers ſpirit to lead him, Rom. 8. 4) and he that hath the ſpirit of Chriſt, hath he not the Key of Knowledg? 1 Cor. 2. 10, 11.

Quer. 26. What is the joyfull ſound, which they that know are Bleſſed. Is it not the Teſtimony of the Kingdom? Is it not the preaching of the Goſpel of the Kingdom; which they that Repent and become little Children, being begotten and born of the ſpirit, believing in the ſpirit and power of the Lord Jeſus, enter into, and walk in the Light of God's countenance there. Pſal. 89. 15. Gal. 4. 15.

Quer. 27. Which is the joyful Sound of the Everlaſting Goſpel to every Nation, Kindred, Tongue, and People, after the Ages of the great Apoſtacy from the Spirit and Power of the Apoſtles? Is it not this, Fear God, and give Glory to Him, for the Hour of his Judgment is come, and Worſhip the great Creator in Spirit, and in Truth? He that heareth this Sound, in the Evidence, and Demonſtration of God's Spirit; Doth he not hear the Goſpel? He that indeed knoweth this Sound, Doth he not know the joyful Goſpel-Sound? And he that Believeth, and Obeyeth it; Doth he not Believe, and Obey the Goſpel, even as God hath appointed it to be Preached, and Obeyed by all Nations, Kindreds, Tongues, and People? Rev. 14. 6, 7.

Quer. 28. What is that Kingdom, that cometh not with Obſervation, but is inward, and to be found within? Where Men need not ſay, Lo here, or Lo there, but may find the Meſſiah, and His Light ſhining in upon them? Luk. 17. 20, 21. 2 Cor. 4. 6.

Quer. 29. What is that Kingdom, which ſtands not in Word, but in Power; nor is Meat and Drink, but Righteous, and Peace, and Joy, in the Holy Ghoſt? 1 Cor. 4. 20. Rom 14. 17.

Quer. 30. What is it to come unto, and viſit the Churches of Chriſt, in the fulneſs of the Bleſſing of the Goſpel of Chriſt? Is it not to come in the fulneſs of God's Spirit and Power, to Feed them with the Bread of Life, to fill their Hearts with the ſtrength and vertue of Life from God, as the Lord ſhall pleaſe to drop it into their Spirits through them, and to build them up in the Holy Faith, that at length they may be filled with all the fulneſs of God? Joh. 21. 15, 16, 17. Rom. 15. 29. Eph. 3. 19.

Quer. 31. Whom will the Lord aſſemble? and whom will He gather to make up his Kingdom of, in the Dayes of the Goſpel? Will not the Lord aſſemble her that halteth, and gather her that is driven out, and her that He hath afflicted? and will not He make her that halted, a Remnant, and her that was caſt off, a ſtrong Nation? and ſhall not the Lord Reign over them in Mount Sion, from hence-forth, even for ever? (For when Chriſt, the inward and ſpiritual King comes to ſit on the Throne of his Father David, inwardly and ſpiritually, He ſhall Reign over the Houſe of Jacob for ever, and of his Kingdom, there ſhall be no end, Luk. 1. 32, 33.) Mic. 4. 6, 7. Ezek. 34. 16.

Quer. 32. What are the places wherein the Sheep of God have been ſcattered, in the cloudy and dark Day, which the Lord promiſed to deliver them out of? And what is the good Paſture he will feed them in, after he hath delivered them? And what are the High Mountains of Iſrael, where their fold, and fat Paſtures ſhall be? Are not thoſe things to be fulfilled to the ſpiritual People, in the inward and ſpiritual Kingdom of the Meſſiah? Ezek. 34. 12, 14. Joh. 10. 3, 4. and ver. 9. and ver. 27, 28.

THE END.

AN EPISTLE TO ALL Serious Profeſſors OF THE Chriſtian Religion;

WHEREIN

A Brief Touch of my Knowledge, Senſe, Belief and Experience concerning the God-Head, the Offering up of the Lord Jeſus Chriſt in his Body on the Tree, as a Propitiatory Sacrifice to the Father, and the Imputation of his Righteouſneſs to thoſe who believe in his Name and Power, is Nakedly laid before them, wherin I am not alone, but one with thoſe who have ſo Learned and Experienced the ſame in the Leadings and Light of his Holy Spirit.

Written in Love to them (that they might have the better underſtanding of us, as to theſe things, and might not think otherwiſe either of us, or of the Truth of our God which we bear witneſs to, than there is cauſe, to their own Hurt and Prejudice,)

Iſaac Penington.

Friends,

AFter it pleaſed the Lord to touch my heart with the ſenſe of his truth, and to manifeſt unto me the Principle of his Life, in the Demonſtration and Power of his own ſpirit, inſomuch as I could Reaſon, Diſpute, Conſider about it no longer, but was fully ſatisfied concerning it; I ſay, after this, the love of God ſprang in me towards you, and pure deſires and breathings unto him, that ye alſo might have the way caſt up before you, and might ſo walk therein, as to come to partake of the ſame Mercy and Salvation. How I have mourned before the Lord for you, and deſired that the Stumbling-Blocks might be removed from you, and that ye might ſo ſeek as to obtain (not in that Wiſdom and Diſputing mind, which ſtill is ſhut out; but in that meekneſs, humility and fear which gives entrance) the Lord God knoweth. Yea the deſires in me after you are ſtill Living: who knoweth, but the Lord may at length hear, and with his key ſo open your hearts, and ſo Anoint your eyes, with his eye-Salve, that ye may ſee, acknowledg, believe in and receive the beloved of your ſouls, even as he now appears (after the long night of darkneſs) a comforter of the drooping ſpirits of his People with the pure Light of Life, wherein the redeemed Houſe of Jacob (who ſate in darkneſs and in the valley of the ſhadow of Death mourning after him) now in holy rejoycing and pure joy of ſpirit walk before him? O the Lord God viſit you and Break in upon you, as he hath done upon us, and cauſe you to ſet to your ſeals alſo, as we could not but do, that this is he whom all our dayes we waited for, and longed after. And now there are two or three things in my heart to open to you, how it is with me in reference to them: for indeed I have not been taught to deny any Teſtimony the ſcriptures hold forth, concerning the Lord Jeſus, or any of his appearances, but am taught by the Lord more certainly and fully to own and acknowledg them.

The Firſt is concerning the God-Head, which we own as the Scriptures expreſs it, and as we have the ſenſible, experimental Knowledge of it. In which, There are Three that bear record in Heaven, the Father, the Word, and the Holy Spirit: and theſe Three are One, 1 John. 5. 7. This I believe from my Heart, and have Infallible Demonſtrations of: for I know three and feel three in Spirit, even an eternal Father, Son, and Holy Spirit, which are but one eternal God. And I feel them alſo one, and have fellowſhip with them (through the tender mercy of the Lord) in their Life, and in their Redeeming Power. And here I lye low before the Lord in the ſenſible Life, not deſiring to know and comprehend notionally, but to feel the thing inwardly, truly, ſenſibly and effectually: yea indeed this is to me far beyond what I formerly knew Notionally concerning them, and I cannot but invite others hither.

Now conſider ſeriouſly, if a man from his heart believe thus concerning the eternal power and God-Head; that the Father is God, the Word God, the Holy-Spirit God, and that theſe are one Eternal God, waiting ſo to know God, and to be ſubject to him accordingly: is not this man in a Right frame of heart towards the Lord in this reſpect? Indeed friends, we do know God ſenſibly and experimentally to be a Father, Word and Spirit, and we worſhip the Father in the Son by his own Spirit, and here meet with the Seal of acceptance with him. Nor would we contend with you about your Crimes in this reſpect, but that ye provoke us thereunto, in laying to our Charge, as if we denyed the thing; whereas, we do not, nor can deny the expreſſions which the Scripture uſeth, nor our own ſenſe and experience concerning the thing. I Pray, let this ſuffice, and let us all ſtrive to know God (and his Son Jeſus Chriſt) in his Life, Spirit and Power, wherein is Unity and true Demonſtration; and not contend about ſuch expreſſions concerning things, as are beſides the ſcriptures. For would not ye your ſelves think it hard (I mean ſuch of you as read the ſcriptures ſeriouſly, deſiring to underſtand and obſerve what is written therein) to have a belief of things Impoſed on you otherwiſe than is there written, and otherwiſe than ye have the Senſe, Knowledg and Experience of them from the Lord?

The Second is concerning the offering of the Lord Jeſus Chriſt, without the gates of Jeruſalem. I do exceedingly honour and eſteem that offering; believing it had relation to the Sins of the whole World, and was a propitiatory Sacrifice to the Father therefore. And ſurely he that is Redeemed out of the World up to God by Chriſt, cannot deny that Chriſt was his Ranſom, and that he was bought with a price, and therefore is to Glorify God, with his Body and Spirit, which are Gods. 1 Cor. 6. 20. And, ſaith the Apoſtle Peter, ye know that ye were not Redeemed with corruptible things, as Silver and Gold, from your vain Converſation, &c. but with the precious Blood of Chriſt, as of a Lamb without Blemiſh and without ſpot, 1 Pet. 1. 18, 19. who ſo offered himſelf up to God through the Eternal ſpirit, Heb. 9. 14. This we do own ſingly and nakedly as in the ſight of the Lord, though I muſt confeſs we do not lay the ſole ſtreſs upon that which is outward and viſible (though we truly and fully acknowledg it in it's place) but upon that which is inward and inviſible: upon the inward Life, the inward Power, the ſpirit within knowing and experiencing dayly, that that is it which doth the work. The outward Fleſh is not the meat indeed, nor the outward Blood the drink indeed; but it is the ſpirit, the Life, the ſubſtance; which the Birth that is born of the ſpirit feeds upon and lives by. O conſider ſeriouſly, and wait on the Lord, rightly to underſtand that ſcripture, Joh. 6 63. It is the Spirit that quickeneth, the Fleſh profiteth nothing: the words that I ſpeak unto you, they are Spirit and they are Life. What doth this Scripture lay the ſtreſs upon? Is it not upon the quickening Spirit, and the words which the quickening Spirit ſpeaketh to the Soul, which are Living and give Life to thoſe that hear them? Hear and your Soul ſhall Live. Hear his voice who giveth Life, and your Souls ſhall live by him: but can any one Live without hearing the Voice of him, who alone is able to quicken and raiſe the Soul from Death, and out of the grave of Sin.

The third thing is concerning the Imputation of Chriſt's Righteouſneſs to ſuch, as believe in his Name and Power, which we have felt, witneſſed, and own to be thus.

God viſits men by the Light and Power of his holy Spirit in their dead and dark eſtate, even while they are ungodly. Now, they that feel Life, and in the quickenings of Life, by the Faith which comes from Life; turn to the Light and Power which viſits them; by this Faith in the Power, they are in meaſure tranſplanted out of the unholy-Root into the holy Root, where they partake of the Nature and Virtue of the true Olive Tree: and the Mercy of the Lord in and through his Son Jeſus Chriſt, is ſpread over them, and their iniquities are pardoned and their tranſgreſſions done away for his Name ſake, and they are reckoned by God, not as in the old Root and unholy Nature, but that whereon they lay hold by Faith and are in Union with, they are reckoned by in the eye of the Lord, and they are accepted and beloved in him in whom they are found, by him who tranſplanted them there and ingrafted them thereinto. So that Chriſt is really theirs, and they his: and what he did for them in his Body of Fleſh is become theirs, and they have the Benefit and reap the ſweet fruits of it. And if they Sin afterwards, they have an Advocate, who pleads their cauſe with the father, and who breaths livingly upon them again, and quickens faith in them, and gives them to turn from that which ran after them, and overtook them and defiled them. So that in this ſtate of true faith in and union with the Son, the fountain is felt ſet open for Sin and for Uncleanneſs, which daily waſheth away the pollutions and ſtains of the mind, which it is liable to in the travelling ſtate.

But now, to every faith this doth not belong, but to the faith only which flows from the Power of the endleſs Life, and which ſtands in the Power. The faith which is from the Power is precious, having a precious Nature and Virtue in it, and very precious effects flow from it. For it is the ſubſtance of things hoped for: it is of a pure Nature, which hath dominion and giveth dominion over the wicked one. There is no overcoming of the Saints here: for as it came from the Power, ſo it ſtands near the Power, and engages the Power of Life againſt the Enemy, and ſo is ſtill too hard for him. For he that reſiſteth the Enemy in the true Faith, ſtill overcomes him and makes him fly; (Jam. 4. 7.) But that belief on Chriſt and applying his Righteouſneſs, which is not of this Faith, nor in the true light of Life, but according to the Creatures apprehenſions concerning things, that is not of the ſame Nature with this, nor hath the ſame Virtue, nor produceth the ſame effects; but notwithſtanding ſuch a believing and hoping, men are ſtill in their Sins, and they are not waſhed away from them by the Blood of Chriſt, nor remitted or covered by the Spirit of the Lord. And, O that men were wary, and did take heed in this matter; that they might not miſs of true pardon from the Lord, and ſo find their Sins bound by him, in the dayes of his refreſhing others!

For there is a ſtate, wherein there is an imputation of Chriſt's Righteouſneſs to perſons reached to by the Power of the Lord, and coming up out of the ungodly ſtate; and ſo a real bringing into the Righteouſneſs. For in the true growth, the Soul daily grows more and more out of its own unrighteouſneſs, out of the dark, corrupt Image, into the Righteouſneſs of Chriſt, and into his pure Image. Thus Chriſt is formed in the hearts of them that truly believe, daily more and more: they receiving him as an Heavenly Leaven, and given up to be leavened by him, are changed daily more and more into the newneſs of Spirit, even untill they become a new Lump, even a Lump wholly Leavened; ſo that Old things paſſed away, and all things become New; that is, not of Old Adam any more, but all of God in Chriſt, all of the new Nature and Spirit, which is all of it Righteous in the Sight of God. Now this is it all ſhould labour for and ſeek after, even the Kingdom of God and his Righteouſneſs, to find an entrance Miniſtred to them into the everlaſting Kingdom and the Righteouſneſs thereof, that they might really put off the Old man with his Affections and Luſts, and put on the New man; the new man's Nature, the new man's Image, the new man's Spirit, the new man's Righteouſneſs, the new man's Holyneſs; that they might have the Wedding Garment on to be married to Chriſt in, and might be as a Bride prepared for the Bride-Groom. O it is precious for any one to feel his Soul in this State! And who would not Travel and Wreſtle, and ſtrive and watch, and pray, and wait that he might be thus fitted by the Spirit of the Lord for his Son Jeſus Chriſt? For, Friends, there is a coming under Grace, under Graces Wing, and out of ſhame and confuſion becauſe of Sin, into the Glory which is in the pure Image: and there is a being changed from Grace to Grace, and from Glory to Glory, by the Spirit and Power of the Lord. O that ſuch as take upon them the Profeſſion of Chriſtianity, might feel the power, and wait upon the Power, and know what it is to believe in the Power and Live in the Power: for without this, the oppreſſed State of Chriſtianity is but dead, and dry and cold, not having the true living Sap and warmth in it. There are great deceits in the World about theſe things, but he that knoweth the Truth as it in Jeſus, who was viſited by the Power, gathered to the Power, and abides in the power, he hath that with him which anoints his eye and heart, and ſtrengthens them againſt the moſt ſubtle Devices and Deceits of the transforming Spirit. But whoever he be, that profeſſeth Chriſtianity, and is not here, he is not ſafe; but the Enemy hath wayes of bewitching and deluding him, which he hath not wherewith effectually to withſtand, and avoid.

Now having nakedly expreſſed theſe things unto you, as they are in my heart; there is a queſtion lies before me to propound to you, which deſerves your ſerious Conſideration of, and Ability to anſwer in the Sight of the Lord, which is this;

Queſt. Do ye rightly, truly and fully (as the Lord requireth of you,) know, eſteem and honour the Son? Do ye own him as God hath revealed him in the Spirits of his Children, ſince the Apoſtacy? Do ye feel him as an Horn of Salvation liſted up there? Do ye find and experience him revealed within, by the Father, as the Seed of the Woman, bruiſing the head of the Serpent? O this is precious Knowledg, and the right way of truly knowing him as he came from the Father, Lived in Obedience to him, ſuffered for the Sins of the whole World, aſcended again to the Father, and now ſits with him in Glory. For Indeed, it is the Chief thing, and that whereon the Souls Reſt depends, to know and feel him near. O that we were one here (I mean in the inward ſenſe and acknowledgment of the Lord Jeſus Chriſt) and we ſhould ſoon be one in the other alſo!

For we, who are reproachfully by many called Quakers, are (for the moſt part) a people who have much and long ſought after the Lord, and after the experimental knowledge of thoſe truths, which are teſtified of, and related in the holy Scriptures. We ſought not after a new Chriſt, or a new Spirit, or new Doctrines concerning Chriſt or his Spirit: but to know Chriſt ſo, as to receive life from him, and to live to him in the life and ſpirit received from him; this hath been the ſingle aim and deſire of our ſouls. And if men could with patience conſider what we hold forth, and wait till God open their underſtandings, they would not lay ſuch blame upon us as they do, in many reſpects, but find that we reverence the Scriptures, believing and holding concerning the things of God, according as is there expreſſed expressed, from a true understanding received from the Lord, and in the true light and guidance of his spirit. There is another Question springs in my heart unto you; I beseech you consider of it seriously, perhaps there may be a blessing to you in it.

Quest. Do ye rightly and weightily consider and embrace that counsel of Christ, Mat. 6. 33. Seek ye first the Kingdom of God, and his Righteousness. Do ye mind what Christ likens the Kingdom to? even a Grain of Mustard-Seed, a Pearl hid in a Field, a little Leaven, a lost peice of silver, &c. Do ye know and are ye acquainted with that little thing which is like unto these? and do ye really and rightly seek after it? Do ye seek it where it is to be found? Do ye know the place where it is hid? And do ye take the right way to buy and purchase it? How is that? VVhy, not by outward observation, saith Christ, but by inward sweeping the House: By keeping the eye upon it, and sweeping out of the Rubbish that covers it, this is the way to find it, purchase and possess it. O that ye could all learn thus, and be thus exercised by the Spirit of the Lord daily. Surely they that thus seek, shall find; and they that thus ask, shall have; and they that thus knock, to them the Everlasting Kingdom shall be opened.

For, Mark the difference between the State of the Law and Gospel. The Law was a shadow of Good things to come. The Gospel is a State of enjoyment of the good things shadowed out under the Law. The Law was a Type of the Kingdom, of the spiritual Kingdom of Christ, which is set up under the Gospel. In Johns day the Kingdom was at hand: but in the day of Christ's Power the Kingdom is come. Under the Law there was a Tabernacle pitched by man: but under the Gospel the true Tabernacle and Temple is witnessed, which God pitcheth and not man; and the Holy, spiritual, Heavenly Sacrifices, and the Living Covenant, whereof Christ is the Mediatour, and the Law written in the Heart, and the spirit of the Lord put within; so that his presence is as really witnessed inwardly, in that which is truly his Tabernacle and Temple now, as ever it was witnessed outwardly, in his outward Tabernacle and Temple under the Law. O that Christians might not have the Name only, but might be in the life and in the Power, wherein these things are felt and experienced: for indeed the wonders of the Lord are seen in his Temple, and his Name is praised there, Selah. There he breaks the Shield and the Bow, the Spear and the Battle, Selah. There the Enemy is overcome: the holy victory that bringeth him under, issueth out thence, Selah. There the Well is opened, and the Philistine-Nature hath Power to stop it no more, Selah. There the Treasury of life and Wisdom, and the Riches of God's goodness are made manifest for ever.

Truly Friends, I have not lost any thing that ever I had, or acknowledged of God in the dayes of my former profession, by believing in the Light which God hath now revealed in me; but have it still with me, and in greater clearness and plainness and fuller Demonstration, than I then had it: but that of the Flesh which mixed with it, and hindred it from being rightly servicable to the Lord, and fully comfortable to me, that the Lord hath been removing by his searching Light, and by the Demonstration of his Spirit and Power. And if at length, after all my deep and long misery, the Lord hath given me to meet with and enjoy that which is truly excellent, (among those whom men despise) I could heartily wish for you, that ye also might meet with and enjoy the same, without passing through that misery and bitter anguish, and distress of spirit, through which the Lord led me thereto. The Lord preserve his People, by the Arm of his mighty Power, which he hath stretched out for them, and whereby he hath gathered them to himself. And those which are not yet of this fold, O that it would please him to seek them out, and bring them home also; that the Lord may be one and his name one amongst us, and that that which divideth, and scattereth from the Living truth, might be scattered and brought to nought every where, in all who would be one and desire to serve God (with one Consent) in that which is true and pure, Amen.

A REPLY TO AN ANSWER OF Some Queries,

(Given Forth by Me, J. P.)

Concerning the Gospel-Baptism,

WITH

ANSWERS to some other QUERIES Return'd, in a Paper Subscribed, N. B.

Quer. 1. Which is the Gospel-Baptism, or of what kind is the Baptism in the Gospel-State? Is it outward or inward? Is it the Figure of the inward Baptism, or the inward Baptism it self?

N. B's. Answer is, It's a stooping to God's Law.

Reply, This is a very improper Answer, and not at all to the thing in Hand, for the Query was not concerning the stooping or subjecting to Baptism, but what the Baptism is, which is to be stooped, and subjected to; whether that be an inward or outward Baptism? Whether it be a Figure of the Holy and Heavenly Baptism of the Gospel, or the Holy and Heavenly Baptism it self? So that, in these Words, there is no Answer at all returned to the Query, but rather the asserting of another thing, which the Query did not mention, altogether improper in this place: For the Query tends to determine what the Baptism it self is: and when that is once determined, about the stooping, and subjecting to it; there will be no Question, I hope between us.

Now to explain what this Law of God is, which is to be stooped to, he saith, It is the Law of the Spirit of Life in Christ, quoting to prove it, Rom. 8. 2. Mat. 28. 18, 19. Mark 16. 16.

Reply, That Baptism, Water-Baptism (as he afterwards expresseth it in his Answer to this Query) is the Law of the Spirit of Life in Christ Jesus, I never Read in Scripture. Nor doth it effect in the Heart, what the Law of the Spirit of Life in Christ Jesus doth, which the Apostle saith, made him free from the Law of Sin and Death: and it hath Vertue and Power in its Nature, over the Law of Sin and Death; which Water-Baptism hath not. The Law of Sin and Death, is of an inward and spiritual Nature, and the Law of the Spirit of Life also, is of an inward and spiritual Nature, stronger than the Law of Sin and Death, and is able to make free from the Law of Sin and Death inwardly. But Water-Baptism is an outward thing, an elementary thing, not able to reach the Law of Sin and Death, nor to make free from it. I beseech you consider, ye who look upon this to be a Command and Ordinance of our Lord Christ; Are ye, or are they, who are outwardly Baptized with Water, made free from the Law of Sin and Death thereby? Nay, Paul himself, who was by the Law of the Spirit of Life in Christ Jesus, made free from the Law of Sin and Death; yet was not made free so by outward Baptism. For if he was outwardly Baptized (as I am ready to believe he was, it being usual at that time) it was when Ananias came to him, and when the Scales fell from his Eyes, and he received Sight, Act. 9. 18. But he was not then made free from the Law of Sin and Death: for afterward, in his inward and spiritual Exercise, and Holy Travel, he found and complained of a Law in his Members, warring against the Law of his Mind, and bringing him into Captivity to the Law of Sin in his Members, Rom. 7. 23. This was not a State of Freedom from the Law of Sin: for with his Flesh, he still served it, while in this State. But when by the Spirit the Flesh was Crucified, when the Law of the Spirit of Life in Christ Jesus, prevailed over the Law of Sin and Death in his Members; then he was no longer under Satans Captivity by Sin, but a delivered Man, made free therefrom, by the Law of the Spirit of Life in Christ Jesus. Then he knew the Truth, and the Power, and Vertue of the Truth Manifested it self in him, and made him free; and he was free indeed, and said no more, he could not do the good he would; nor forbear doing the evil he would not: but he was more than a Conquerour over the Evil, and set at Liberty to Work Righteousness, and could do all things through Christ that strengthened him. O that ye that plead so much for outward Water, knew this Law writ in your Hearts, and the effectual Power and Vertue thereof, freeing you from the Law of Sin and Death; and then ye would no more attribute that to an outward thing (or to your Obedience as to such an outward thing) which belongs to the Spirit and Power of the Lord Jesus, and to the Law of his Life inwardly written in the Heart.

Another Scripture he brings to prove Water-Baptism to be the Law of the Spirit of Life in Christ Jesus, is Mat. 28. 19.

Reply, If it were Granted, that Christ did in that place command Water-Baptism; yet that would not prove it to be the Law of the Spirit of Life in him. The Law of the Spirit of Life in him, is a deep thing (I beseech you do not mistake it) and hath mighty effects in the Soul, which Water-Baptism never had, nor can have upon any. The Law of the Spirit of Life in Christ Jesus, hath that Vertue, and Power from God in its Nature, which Water-Baptism is not capable of. The Figures, the outward Representations, have not a capacity to receive that from God, which the inward law and substance hath.

But, that outward Baptizing with Water is there Commanded by Christ, is not at all manifest from that Scripture, but rather the contrary, if it be well minded. For Christ saith, all Power was given Him in Heaven and Earth, and bids them go, and Baptize. Doth He say, with Water? Nay, doth he not say into the Name of the Father, Son, and Spirit? So that now, when the Gospel is Preached in the Spirit and Power of God, and his Spirit and Power reacheth to our Hearts, we are by that Spirit and Power, both Taught, and Baptized inwardly, gathered into the Name of the Father, Son, and Spirit, and Baptized into their Name. And he that doth this in the Heart, Teacheth the Heart to call this the Gospel-Baptism: and to call that which came forth in the Hands of the fore-runner, the Type or Figure of this, the Representation of this, the Shadow of the Gospel-Baptism; but not the Gospel-Baptism it self. Indeed, we dare not call John's Baptism, or Water-Baptism, the Gospel-Baptism, or Christ's Baptism; the Lord who hath Manifested things to us, and Taught us to put a difference between things that really differ, would Judg, and Condemn us for so doing.

Mark further, Christ who saith, All Power in Heaven and Earth is given Me, and therefore bid them go Teach, and Baptize; yet withal bid them wait for the same Spirit, and Power which was given Him, Act. 1. ver. 4. and ver. 8. And then having his Spirit and Power, wherewith he inwardly Taught and Baptized; might they not be able therewith to reach the Heart and Conscience, and Spiritually both to Teach and Baptize, as Instruments in God's Hand, in the springings of his Life and Power in them?

Now to Manifest this further: For I feel the Lord opening my Heart in this thing, and I hope it is for your Sakes (O ye mistaken Ones in this weighty Business) that the Lord may explain things of this Nature to you, and do you good thereby. To whom was this Commission, or Command, in the Authority, & Power of God's Spirit given, to go and teach all Nations, Baptizing them into the Name, &c? Was it not especially given to the Apostles, who were especially Gifted thereunto? And was not Paul one; yea, one of the Chief, made so by God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ? And he being in a special manner sent to the Gentiles, or Heathen Nations (for the Jews were but one Nation) Did not this Commission extend to him, and this Command lye upon him? Now if this Command did extend to Inward, Spiritual, Gospel-Baptizing with the Spirit and Power of the Lord Jesus, he had it as full as any of them: but if it be understood of Water-Baptism, we do not find that he had any such Commission, but rather otherwise. Read his Commission, Act. 26. 18. Is there any thing of Water-Baptism in it? There's Remission of Sins, which depends upon believing, and turning to God, in his Illuminating Spirit and Power; but nothing of Water-Baptism. And Mark, it is God that opens Mens Eyes, and it is God that opens their Hearts, and inwardly turns them from Darkness to Light, and Satan's Power to God: yet, Paul is sent by the Lord to do this. And is it an harder matter inwardly to Baptize, than to do this? So that it is not Paul, but the Lord that opens the Eyes, and turns Men; Yet the Lord sent Paul to do it; and surely the Lord enabled him, by his Spirit and Power, to do what He sent him to do.

Obj. But though it is not here particularly Expressed, yet it may be implyed or intended. Or if this Commission did not reach to him, the former Apostolick Commission would, he being made so extraordinary an Apostle. Or at least it would reach him, as a Teaching Disciple: For he that hath Authority to Teach the Nations, hath also Authority to Baptize them.

Answ. No, Paul neither by this Commission, nor by the Apostolick Commission, nor by his Discipleship, had any Authority or Mission from God to Baptize, if ye take Baptism in this Sence, for Baptizing with outward Water, as he himself expressly saith, Christ sent me not to Baptize (speaking of Water-Baptism) but to Preach the Gospel, 1 Cor. 1. 17. Nay, he thanks God that he Baptized none of them, to his Remembrance, but Crispus, Gaius, and the Houshold of Stephanus, ver. 14, 16. Now if he had looked upon Water-Baptism, as Christ's Ordinance, and as the Law of the Spirit of Life in Christ Jesus, would he thank God he had Obeyed it no more?

Obj. But he gives the Reason of that, lest any should say, he had Baptized in his own Name.

Answ. Why? Persons might say, he Preached in his own Name, yet that would not have excused him from Preaching. No more would Mens saying, he Baptized in his own Name, excuse him from Baptizing, if Water-Baptism had been Christ's Command and Ordinance.

The last Place he brings, to prove Water-Baptism to be the Law of the Spirit of Life in Christ Jesus, is Mar. 16. 16. He that Believeth, and is Baptized, shall be Saved; but he that Believeth not, shall be Damned.

Reply, This sheweth the necessity of the Gospel-Baptism; but this doth not express which the Gospel-Baptism is, whether an inward, or outward Washing. We know, having been taught by the Lord, that there is no Salvation without inward Washing, which is also very demonstrable to others: but God forbid that all should be Damned, that are not Baptized with outward Water.

He saith, This Law was Confirmed by them that had the Spirit-Baptism, being Commanded to be Obeyed by them that had the Spirit, Act. 10. 47, 48.

Reply, That Peter did command Persons to be Baptized with Water, and that John's Baptism, or Water-Baptism was made use of in those Dayes, and that John had it from God, and that it was done in God's Name; this is not denyed: but that Water-Baptism, was Christ's Baptism, or the Gospel-Baptism; this Place doth not prove.

He

He saith further, The Kind of this Baptism, is Water-Baptism, bringing Mat. 3. 16. and Act. 8. 38, 39. to prove it.

Reply, Mat. 3. 16. Only proves that Christ was Baptized with Water, but doth not prove that Water-Baptism is the Gospel-Baptism. If I could prove by Scripture expresly, that Christ was Circumcised; yet that would not prove, that therefore that was to be the Gospel-Circumcision. So though it be Manifest, that Christ was Baptized by John, with his Water-Baptism; yet that doth not at all prove, that John's Water-Baptism is Christ's Gospel-Baptism. The end of John's Baptizing with Water was, that Christ might be made Manifest, Joh. 1. 31. And when he is made Manifest (when He who is the Word, who is the Life, is made Manifest, 1 Joh. 1. 1, 2.) then Men must come to him, to be Baptized by him with his Baptism, which is with the Holy-Ghost, and with Fire, Mat. 3. 11. or with the Spirit of Judgment, and Burning, Isa. 4. 4.

That other place of Act. 8. 38, 39. Doth not at all prove, that Water-Baptism is the Gospel-Baptism; but only, that Philip did Baptize the Eunuch with Water, which is not a thing Denyed by us. Yea, What if I should grant, that the Lord did Honour it, as much as any Shadow, or more than other Shadows, by letting it have a longer time, and otherwise? Yet that will not prove it to be Christ's Baptism, or a Gospel-Ordinance. And if Men do take it up in tenderness of Spirit, bowing to the Lord, it is so much the better; yet it is not easy to believe that all do so: and those that do so, may err in their Judgments, notwithstanding; though I am perswaded, the Lord is tender to Persons that do things in tenderness of Heart to him, notwithstanding some errour or mistake in their Judgments.

Quer. 2. What is it that is to be Washed in the Gospel-State? Is it the outward or inward Man? And what is the inward Man to be Washed with?

Answ. His Answer is, 'tis the Body, the whole Man or Woman to go into the Water, in the Name of the Father, Son, and Spirit; so that the Soul comes to be Sanctified by the Word and Spirit. For the proof of which he quotes, Joh. 8. 32. and chap. 15. 3.

Reply, That the whole Body was to go into the Water, according to John's Baptism, it is granted: but that this is the Gospel-Baptism, or Christ's Baptism, is denyed by us. It is the inward Jew, that is to be Washed in the Gospel-State; and it is inward Water, spiritual Water, that he is to be Washed with. I pray consider that Scripture seriously, (and the Lord give you the true Understanding thereof) Zech. 13. 1. Doth not that Scripture speak of the Gospel-State? What Fountain is it, that is opened in the Gospel-State? Is it an outward Fountain of outward Waters, which is opened for Sin and for Uncleanness, to wash it away? The Lord knoweth of what Nature Sin is, and with what Water it is to be washed away; and therefore openeth that Fountain in the House of David in the Gospel-State, which is proper to wash it away with. What is the House of David? Who is the Jew in the Gospel-State? What is the Tabernacle or House of David, that is raised up then? What is the Fountain that is opened there for Sin, and for Uncleanness? Can Sin be washed away from any Heart and Conscience, but by the Water of this Fountain? And is not the Gospel-Baptism with this Water? Do not those that are washed with this Water, feel the true washing, and know it certainly, evidently, infallibly, in the demonstration of God's Spirit, to be the true Baptism; not the figurative, outward washing of the Body, but the real, inward washing of the Soul? There is the washing of Regeneration, Tit. 3. 5. which is with that which Regenerates, which the Water of the Fountain of Life, and Holiness doth, which God opens in the Heart, and washeth the Soul with, and causeth the Soul to wash in: but the outward Water, which washeth the outward Body, hath no such Nature, or Vertue in it, nor ever was Appointed by God, to produce any such effect. That the Soul is Sanctified by the Word and Spirit, is granted: but that the Soul is not Sanctified by the Word and Spirit, unless the Body is washed with outward Water, that is denyed, and the Scriptures forementioned by him, of Joh. 8. 32. and chap. 15. 3. do not at all prove any such thing. Now the Gospel-Obedience is to Christ's Baptism, not to John's Baptism. And the Soul that is subject to Christ's Baptism, doth not Live in Disobedience, for not taking up John's Baptism, which God doth not allow him to do: but in the Gospel-State, every one is to hear the Son, the Shepherd of the Soul, and follow him the Substance, and not Moses's Circumcision or John's Baptism.

Quer. 3. What is washed away by the Gospel-Baptism? Is it the filth of the outward Body or Flesh? Or the filth of the Soul? And with what Water is the filth of the Soul to be washed away?

Answ. Sin is washed away by the Gospel-Baptism; for the proof whereof he quotes, Act. 22. 16. Rom. 6. 17, 18.

Reply, Thus far we agree, that Sin is washed away by the Gospel-Baptism: but what that Baptism is, which washeth away Sin, herein we greatly differ. He affirmeth it to be outward Water, and the washing of the outward Man therewith. I affirm it to be inward Water, from the inward Holy Fountain which God opens in the House of David, whereby the Soul and Conscience is washed from Sin, and from Uncleanness. That place of Act. 22. 16. speaks of Paul's being Baptized, and washing away his Sins: but doth not say, that outward washing the Body with outward Water, is the washing away of Sins; but bids him wash away his Sins, calling on the Name of the Lord. And thus the washing away of Sins is at this Day Experienced. The Lord manifests Sin, turns the Mind against it, and causeth a Cry to the Lord; and then the Lord opens the Fountain, causeth the pure Water to flow, which the Soul is washed with: and so far as it is washed therewith, is clean in the Sight of God, and hath the inward Sence of its Cleanness from the Lord. Yet that there was a figurative washing away of Sins by John's Baptism, I do not deny: for it was unto Repentance, and they thereby professed Repentance, and were to Bring forth Fruits meet for Repentance, Mat. 3. 8. Nor doth that other place (Rom. 6. 17, 18.) prove, that washing the Body with outward Water, washeth away Sin, or maketh free from Sin: but that which makes free from Sin, is the Power, Vertue, and Life of Truth felt in the Heart, washing and cleansing it. It is receiving the Truth in the Love of it, and being moulded into the Nature of it, believing it in the Evidence and Demonstration of God's Spirit, and Obeying it in the Obedience of the New Nature, Mind, and Spirit. And the Answer of a good Conscience comes from the inward Baptism, from the washing, which the Apostle calls ἀντίτυπον the Anti-type, 1 Pet. 3. 21. which Baptism is not the washing away the filth of the Flesh, or Body; but an inward Baptism, which so washeth inwardly, that the Answer of a good Conscience is presently felt, in the Sight and Presence of God, And then the Soul knows what Water it was washed with, which was able to produce, and did produce this Effect.

He saith, And thus it appears, First it takes off Disobedience.

Reply, What is it takes off Disobedience? The Truth as it is in Jesus, the life and Power of Truth, felt, and working in the Heart, destroys the disobedient Nature, and takes away the Disobedience thereof: but outward washing of the Body doth not, though Men may apprehend there is an outward Command for it, and judg they do it in Obedience to that outward Command. But Obedience is from true Understanding of the Mind, and Will of God, and from that holy Light of his Spirit wherein the holy Understanding is given. And in this Obedience, the Lord's Justification is Witnessed, which is not Witnessed in the other, I mean in that which Men call Obedience, to that which they account a literal Command, according to their Conceivings and Apprehensions.

Secondly, As it leads Persons into Christ, for which he quotes, Rom. 6. 2, 3. Gal. 3. 27.

Reply, That which leads unto Christ, and into the Truth as it is in him; the Children of the new Covenant know, who are drawn by the Father, and are taught and learn of him to come to the Son, Joh. 6. 44, 45. And how can we give

give that Honour to Johns Baptism, or outward washing the Body, which belongs to the Father and his powerful Spirit? To be Baptised into Christ is a great thing. To be buried with Christ by Baptism into Death, is a precious State, and effected by the inward work of the Spirit in the heart, working against Sin, working the mind out of Sin into the Nature, Spirit and Life of Christ. And the being Baptised into Christ, is the real putting on Christ. It is the effect of knowing the Truth as it is in Jesus, which causeth the putting off of the Old man, and the renewing in the Spirit of the mind, and putting on the new, Eph. 4. 22, 23, 24. But Johns Baptism, or the washing the Body with outward Water, doth none of these things; but is only a Type, or Representation of what is done in and by the inward Baptism.

He adds further, And so the Soul receives Christ in his Prophetical and Priestly-Office, so by Christ wee are delivered from all filthyness of Flesh and Spirit, that we may perfect holiness in the fear of God

Rep. The Kingdom of Christ is Spiritual, the Kingdom of Christ is within; and he that would truly know him as he is King, Prophet, and Priest, must hear his knocks, know his Voice, open to him and let him in; and then he will manifest himself there, and the Soul shall know what he is, even his King, Priest and Prophet, and feel him exercising all these holy Offices, in the Authority and Power of his Father, in the Heart. This is Precious Knowledg indeed. Yea he shall know him with his Fan in his hand, throughly purging his floor from all unbelief, from all disobedience, from all chaffiness and earthliness; yea from all filthyness of Flesh and Spirit: for his fan turns against them all, and his Spirit of judgment and burning flames inwardly against them all; and as they are consumed and burnt up, the pure fear of the Lord is increased in the heart, wherein holiness is begun, and at length perfected, by the through Circumcision and Baptism of the Spirit. But the Corinthians were not cleansed from all filthyness of flesh and spirit by Water-Baptism, but were afterwards exalted by Paul to do it.

Quer. 4. What water is it, that the inward Israel shall be sprinkled with, that they may be clean? Is it not inward water, Spiritual water? And can any be clean or Baptised in the sight of God, that are not Baptised with this water, wherewith God sprinkleth and washeth his Spiritual and inward Israel?

Answ. Baptism is not sprinkling, nor so rendred by the Spirit, but Baptise: Baptise is to dip or put into the water.

Rep. When God sprinkleth his inward Israel, with the water which he hath promised to sprinkle with, he doth sufficiently cleanse them; for whom the Lord sprinkleth with this water, they are cleansed thereby, Ezek. 36. 25. And this relates to the Gospel-State: for a new heart is immediately promised v. 26. which is the promise of the Gospel-Covenant. And the Blood of sprinkling in the New-Covenant, doth sufficiently wash and cleanse, Heb. 12. 24. Rev. 1. 5. sprinkling and dipping are but figures, but they are both comprehended in the substance, which we should wait inwardly to feel and experience. The water which Christ speaks of, John 3. 5. (which place he quotes) is not outward, but of the same Nature with the Spirit, whereof the Soul is washed and born again, and riseth up in the new Life with Christ.

He saith, the inward fits for the outward.

Rep. It is true, Johns Baptism did require inward qualifications (in which respect it went beyond Circumcision) and so where those qualifications were found, who could forbid water? But Christs Baptism, the Baptism with Spirit and Fire to purify the mind and burn up the Dross, is of an higher Ministration, and a far more Glorious Baptism than that, Matt. 3. 11. He shall Baptise you: you, what you? You whom I have Baptised with Water. So that those whom he had Baptised to Repentance, he tells of another Baptism, a more Glorious Baptism than his, which happy are they that wait for, and feel accomplished in them.

Quer. 5. What is the Gospel-Circumcision? Is it not an inward and Spiritual tual Circumcision? and is not the Circumcising knife, wherewith the inward Israel is Circumcised, inward and Spiritual? and is not the Gospel-Baptism wherewith the inward Israel is washed, as inward and Spiritual, as the Gospel-Circumcision? Is not this Circumcision and washing of the same Nature, and effected without outward hands?

Answ. 'Tis inward, Spiritual, Heavenly, that which God works by the knife of his Word, Heb. 4. 12. Hos. 6. 5.

Rep. This is true, we whom God hath called, quickened, enlightened, Circumcised, and Baptised, experience it so: and happy is he, if he experience it so also. For the Word is Living and makes alive, the Word is quick and Powerfull, sharper than any two-edged Sword, and it doth inwardly pierce to the dividing asunder of the Soul and Spirit (Oh this is a Blessed experience inwardly, where ever it is felt!) and of the Joynts and Marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart. And this Word came to the Prophets, and did hew through the Prophets, and God's Judgments by this Word were as a Light that went forth. This Word is the Word of Life, and the Life is manifested in it, as the Apostles knew in their day (1 John 1. 2.) and as God's gathered ones know in this day.

But let him take heed, lest he put the Letter, or outward descriptions of Heavenly things for the Word: for the Kingdom or Gospel-State stands not in such kind of Words, but in Power, 1 Cor. 4. 20. and the Apostles were made able Ministers of the New-Testament, not of the Letter, but of the Spirit: for the Letter killeth, but the Spirit ministreth Life, 2 Cor. 3. 6. So we distinguish the Word of Life (the quick, piercing Word that giveth Life) from the Words which came from it, Act. 5. 20. which Words are also Living, as they come from the Life, and are livingly spoken to the Heart by Him, who is the Life: Otherwise, in the Mouth, Understanding, or Comprehension of Him, who is not living (nor in a true Sense, and Understanding of them) they are not Life. So Men should not strive to Comprehend things with that outward Understanding, which can never Attain thereto; but wait to receive the Understanding from God, whereby they may know Him that is True, and His Gospel-Ordinance, and the Holy Laws of His Kingdom, and be found in the Obedience thereof, to Him in the Spirit.

Now, granting the Gospel-Circumcision to be inward and spiritual, How can he make the Gospel-Baptism, to be of a Nature inferiour to it, even outward and carnal, viz. a washing with the Elementary Water of this Creation, and not with the inwardly sanctifying, and cleansing Water of Life, which God sprinkleth upon His spiritual Israel, and also plunges their Souls into? And consider seriously, whether the Apostle, speaking both of Circumcision and Baptism, Col. 2. 11, 12. did intend either of them, as to the outward, and not rather both of them, as to the inward, wherein the true inward spiritual Circumcising, and also the true inward Baptizing is Witnessed, and both without Hands: for neither Circumcision, nor Uncircumcision avails (no more doth outward washing the Body, or not washing it avail) but a New Creature; the putting off of the Body of the Sins of the Flesh, by the Circumcision, and Baptism of Christ; this avails, and is of great Esteem with God.

Quer. 6. What is the one Baptism of the spiritual Israel, without which, there is no Salvation? Can there be any Salvation without the inward washing of the Soul? May there not be Salvation without the outward washing of the Body?

Answ. That which Christ Jesus Commanded: for there is but one Baptism Commanded, and that leads Us to Christ and God.

Rep. Was not John's Baptism Commanded, which was an outward washing? And is not the inward washing Commanded also? Was not Israel Commanded to Circumcise their Hearts, and was not that an inward Circumcision? And were they not also Commanded to wash their Hearts from Wickedness, and was not that an inward Washing or Baptism? How could they do either of these? Why, did not Moſes direct them to the Word nigh in their Mouth and Heart whereby both theſe might be done? And can either of theſe be done in any Heart, but by the Operation of this Word of Life inwardly in the Heart? We know, There is no other Name under Heaven, nor way to be Saved, but Chriſt the Word of Life, and Light of Men. But they that are Saved by Him, muſt know Him as a Living Stone within, and come from all elſe in their Hearts to Him (as to a precious Foundation-Stone of Life) and be New Created by Him, Circumciſed, and Baptized into Him, and ſo walk in Him, the new and living Way, and ſerve God His Father, in the newneſs of the Spirit, and not in the oldneſs of the Letter; which happy are they that Underſtand what it is, and are found in this Obedience to the Lord; and in thus Worſhipping Him, in His Spirit and Truth, which is the Goſpel-ſervice and Worſhip. For Men may eaſily miſtake about the Letter: but the New Birth doth not miſtake concerning the Spirit; nor the true Sheep concerning the Voice of Chriſt.

did

Quer. 7. How are Men Buried with Chriſt, by Baptiſm into Death? Is it not an inward ſpiritual Death, that Men are thus Buried with Chriſt into? And is it not effected by an inward ſpiritual Baptiſm?

Anſw. By Water-Baptiſm: for Chriſt was Buried, ſo are We. Chriſt was Buried by Baptiſm in the Water, ſo are We.

Rep. Chriſt was outwardly Circumciſed; ſo are We alſo Circumciſed, not outwardly, as Chriſt was. Chriſt was not Circumciſed to effect any thing upon him (for he needeth it not) but for our ſakes. And he was Baptized for our ſakes alſo, that we alſo might be Circumciſed, and Baptized with the Circumciſion, and Baptiſm which we need, which is the Circumciſing, and Baptizing of our Souls, and not the Circumciſing, or Waſhing of our Bodyes.

He adds, Chriſt did to fulfil all Righteouſneſs: We to fulfil the Righteous Law, and Will of God; We thereby entring into Covenant with God, whereby We ſet to his Seal (I ſuppoſe he means, Our Seal) that He is true.

Rep. It remains yet to be proved, that baptizing with VVater is Gods Law and Will in the Goſpel-State. I am ſure there are thoſe that are taught otherwiſe, by him that teacheth all his Children, from the leaſt to the greateſt, in the New Covenant? And the New Covenant is an Inward Covenant, which they that hear Gods voice therein, and have his Law written in their hearts and obey it, are led by him more and more into. Now the New Covenant is not made with every thirſty one after the living VVaters, but only ſuch as come to Chriſt in the drawings and teachings of his Father: and when they are come to Chriſt, eneline their ears and hearken diligently to him, Iſa. 55. 1, 2, 3. Such aſſuredly know and enjoy the ſure Mercyes of David, having God to be their Shepherd to ſpread their Table for them: and they eat that which is good, and are ſatisfied with the fat things of his Houſe, and ſo can ſet to their ſeal that God is true and faithful, who hath not only promiſed ſuch things, but is daily fulfilling and making them good in and to their ſouls.

Quer. 8. What is that Baptiſm, from whence there certainly and constantly ariſeth the Anſwer of a good Conſcience towards God? Doth not this always ariſe from the inward baptiſm, from the waſhing away of that which defileth the Conſcience? Is not then the Conſcience thereby made Good and Holy in the ſight of God? And doth it not then Anſwer the Holy Will, Law and Spirit of the holy and good God?

Anſw. The Baptiſm of Water, being that which Chriſt commanded.

Rep. VVater Baptiſm, or outward waſhing of the Body, cannot make the Conſcience good: for a man may do that upon a miſtake, through error of Judgment, and go unchanged into it, and come unchanged out of it. But the inward Circumciſion and inward Baptiſm, doth really cut off and waſh away the ſin and filth of the Conſcience, and ſo make it good, and then the good Conſcience doth anſwer to God, in what he teacheth and requireth. But that water-baptiſm was commanded by Chriſt, is ſtill denied on our part, and unproved on his.

He

He saith, A clear Conscience ariseth from a true Conformity to the Law of God.

Rep. This is very true. But what is the Law of God in the new Covenant, but what he writes in the heart? God is the Teacher of his People in the new Covenant, and what he teacheth and requireth of them by his Spirit, is their Law. Christ is their Law-giver, and he gives forth his Law of Life, from his Spirit of Life, to those that wait for it; Isa. 42. 2. And he likewise opens the Scriptures, and shews what God taught and required of former Ages, and of this present Age. He shews what the shadows of the Law were, and what the Ministration of the Prophets and John was, and what the Ministration of the Son is; who is Faithfull in all his House, to every one there, as a Son, to give the Law of the Spirit of Life to them, even as Moses the servant was to give the outward Law to those of his house. So that it is not sufficient to read a Scripture, or Scriptures, and say this was Commanded and this was Practised of Old; but to wait to know how it was Commanded, and how Practised, and of what Nature it was, whether of the everlasting Nature of the Kingdom, which is to remain, or of an outward, Elementary Nature, which might be shaken and pass away. For it was the Will of God, that all such things should be shaken and pass away that the Kingdom it self alone, which cannot be shaken, might remain; Heb. 12. 27

Conclusion. O that People knew and experienced the Baptism which is the substance, and then they would not lodge that Baptism or outward washing, which in its Nature can be no more than a Sign, Signification or Representation of that which is the substance!

Answ. Our Baptism which is the Gospel-Baptism, being Baptised into Christ, is that which brings us to the substance Christ Jesus our Lord the substance of all things. So that signs or significations are nothing to us, but Christ is all to our souls.

Rep. That Water-Baptism is the Gospel-Baptism, can never be proved by you, it being neither of the Nature of the Gospel, nor commanded by Christ the Law-giver in the Gospel. And that this washing with outward Water is the Baptising into Christ, is a very low and dark Apprehension, far from Truth and the right understanding of the Scriptures, and the experience of those, who are Baptised with Christ's Baptism. And that which brings to Christ, is the Father by his drawings, not outward *B*aptising, or washing the outward man, with outward Water: that is but a bodily exercise, and bodily exercises profit little; so far are they from bringing to Christ the substance. And as for what he saith concerning Signs and Significations; O that it were so indeed, that they were nothing to you, but Christ were all to your souls! For if it were so indeed, could ye thus cry up a figure or shadow of the Gospel-*B*aptism; and be so ignorant of the substance; Do the Jews know the inward Circumcision? or do ye know the inward *B*aptism, any more than the Jews knew the inward Circumcision? Read that Scripture, Rom. 2. 28, 29. and the Lord apply it home to your Souls; He is not a Jew which is one outwardly, neither is that Circumcision, which is outward in the flesh: but he is a Jew which is one inwardly, and Circumcision is that of the Heart in the spirit and not in the Letter, whose praise is not of men, but of God. Now may not the Spirit of God say in these our dayes, (yea of a truth the spirit of our God doth say so, and many have heard his Voice so speaking) He is not a Christian, which is one outwardly, neither is that Gospel-*B*aptism, which is outward on the flesh: but he is a Christian which is one inwardly, and the Gospel-*B*aptism is that of the heart, in the spirit, not in the Letter, whose praise is not of men, but of God. The Jews praised the outwardly Circumcised, and ye praise the outwardly *B*aptised: but God praiseth the inwardly Circumcised and Washed. So that their Justification and Praise is of him, and they matter not the Justification or Praise of man.

He adds further, Neither do we these things but to obey him and follow his footsteps, that he went before us in, and so he is our leader and Commander.

Rep. Every practice of his he doth not Lead or Command his Disciples to follow him in. He was Circumcised outwardly: are we to take it up because it was his footstep? No more are we to take up the outward washing, because it was his footstep. But we are to take up that Circumcision, which cutteth off that tha which is Evil from us, and Crucifieth to the Word: and we are also to take up that Baptism, which inwardly Baptiseth and Effectually cleanseth from Sin. O how plain are these things, where the Eye is single, and the mind not blinded or prejudiced, with its own Conceivings and Misapprehensions!

He adds yet, So that we are not Idolizing any thing, but following Christ in the way he went before us in.

Rep. I wish from my Heart, ye were not Idolizing Johns Baptism, or Water-Baptism, by setting it in the place of Christ's Baptism, and attributing that to it, which belongs to Christ's Baptism, and not to it. To affirm the water-Baptism is the Law of the spirit of Life in Christ, and that stooping to it, is stooping to the Law of the spirit of Life in Christ, and that the soul cannot be sanctified without going into the outward Water: for till then 'tis in disobedience, and charged as a transgressour, and the inward man cannot be washed while living in disobedience; and that sin is washed away by this outward water-Baptism, and that this takes off Disobedience, and so is the answer of a good Conscience in obedience to God, and that it leads persons into Christ; with more of this Nature; what is this, but the Idolizing of an outward. Elementary Creature and Creaturely action; and an undervaluing of that Water and Blood, which alone can do this? Now to term this Idolizing is no reflecting on Christ, but on mens error of Judgment, and their erroneous Practices which insue thereupon: Much less is it Blasphemy, although Christ himself was accounted a Blasphemer for testifying the truth, by the professors of that Age; and such a judgment may his followers meet with now, from the professours of this Age.

He saith further, I know that the pretence of all this, is the Baptism of the Spirit, Rep. He is greatly mistaken. It is not a pretence, but a feeling of the Baptism of the Spirit, by the Water of the fountain of Life, which God opens in the heart and the being born of this water and of the Spirit. By this means we came to know the Baptism which saves, and the Spirits washing and Regenerating us therewith; and if we should give the honour of this Baptism, to the washing of the Body with outward water, we should Sin against the Lord, and be Unfaithful in the Testimony he hath given us to bear.

He saith; Take notice that the Baptism of the Spirit, is a Promise, not a Duty.

Rep. That it is a Promise, is granted: but it is also a Duty to receive the Promise, and to give up to be baptized by him. Now to open this a little: for I write in Love and Tender Good-Will, and in that which opens my heart. The Spirit of the Lord did strive with the Old World. What did he strive for? Did he not strive to reclaim them from sin? To Circumcise them? To Wash them? God gave his good Spirit to the Jews to instruct them. To what end to instruct them, but that they might circumcise the foreskin of their hearts, and be no more stiff-necked: and that they might be inwardly washed in heart from their wickedness, and their vain thoughts might no longer lodge within them. So that the inward Circumcision and the inward Baptism of the Soul and Conscience (from whence is the answer of a good Conscience) was before either the outward Circumcision or outward Baptism, and is the substance, whereof the other were but figures. The Spirit was not only promised in the time of the Gospel, but was also promised in the time of the Law (though more abundantly promised to be poured forth in the Gospel-dayes) Prov. 1. 23. Now what doth it do, when poured forth? Doth it not enlighten, quicken, lead, touch, wash or sanctify; purge out the Old Leaven, and Leaven with the New Leaven of the Kingdom? Here's true Understanding and true Experience. O that ye might come to witness and partake of it? Do ye desire to obey? O that ye were taught of God to know Christ, as the Father reveals him inwardly, and to deny and put off all that is contrary unto him, that ye may be baptised into him, and be found in him, Filled and Clothed with his Righteous Spirit, Life and Nature; in which Righteous Spirit, Life and Nature the true Circumcision and the true Baptism is witnessed.

He saith; The Promise of the Spirit, John calls the Baptism of the Spirit, Mat. 3. 11.

Rep. Though the spirit, when poured out according to the promise of the Father, did baptise several wayes: Yet that is not it which John there calls the Baptism of the Spirit: but the Baptism of the Spirit is the inward purging away of Sin and Filth, by the spirit and its Fire, or by the spirit of Judgment and Burning, which those that were Baptised by John, were afterwards to expect and wait for, that with his fan their Floor might be purged, their Chaff burnt up, and the Wheat gathered into the garner, v. 12.

He saith again; Take Notice, that the being baptized with the Spirit, or having the Spirit, does not excuse us of our being baptised in Water, but rather fits us for it.

Rep. If Baptism with VVater were a Command of Christ; being baptized with the spirit, or having the spirit, would not excuse from it. But if baptizing with the spirit be the Gospel-Baptism, and that which was figured out or represented by Johns Baptism; then we are not to turn back, from the substance, to the figure; or from Christs command to his Disciples, to Gods command by John to his Disciples.

He quotes Act. 8. 29. compared with ver. 38, 39. Where (saith he) We may see, that the Spirit was in the work of the Administration of VVater-Baptism, as it leads Men to the Truth of the Gospel; and therefore 'tis that the Apostle saith, that by One Spirit, we are baptized into One Body, 1 Cor. 12. 13.

Rep. God, from whom the Law was, and the Prophets, and Johns Preaching and Baptism, did work in them all by his Spirit; and Johns Ministration being the highest, God might please to work most therein. But that this is Christ's Baptism, commanded by him in the Gospel; or the VVater thereof, the VVater wherewith Christ washeth the Soul, or the VVater of Regeneration, whereby God Regenerates; that we cannot but deny, being taught of God and having experience of the contrary. Yea it is manifestly but a shadow of Christs Baptism, and not the Baptism it self; not the Baptism of his spirit and fire, wherewith alone the soul can be inwardly purged, Mat. 3. 11. compared with Isa. 4. 4.

But that VVater-Baptism leads Men into the Truth of the Gospel, is his great mistake. He had said but a few lines before, that it is the Office and VVork of the spirit of God to lead us into all Truths of the Gospel: Let him stick to that, and wait to experience that; and not attribute, that to a dead thing, which belongs to the Living spirit.

And whereas he interpreteth that scripture 1 Cor 12. 13. of outward visible Baptism with outward Water, that is a very manifest Misapprehension. (I wish he did not so misunderstand and misinterpret scriptures, for want of the right Key which opens them) For all that are Baptised with outward-Water (whether Jews or Gentiles, bond or free) are not Baptised into one Body: but all that are inwardly Baptised by the one spirit, are Baptised into the one Body, whereof Christ is head; and they all drink into one spirit: in which spirit they all have Life to act in the Body, and have a living sense of their place and service in the Body, which they, who only are Baptised with Water, have not.

THus far in way of Reply to his Answers to those Queries, which did flow from me, as Life and the Love of God sprang up in me, without any premeditation at all; which retain their truth, evidence and strength, notwithstanding all that he hath said to invalidate or weaken them. Now follow his Queries returned to Consideration, which it is on my heart to return an Answer to, in the nakedness and plainness of truth, as the Lord hath pleased to open and give me the Knowledg and Experience of the things queried of.

Quer. 1. Whether the Baptism of the Spirit be not a promise, and the Work of God to give it to his Creatures, and the Baptism of Afflictions an imputation of wicked men: and but one Baptism Commanded by Christ as a Duty to submit unto, if not Water-Baptism; what is it then?

Answ. The Baptism Christ Commands his Disciples to submit to, is his own Baptism, the Baptism of his Spirit. The true Disciples of Christ are inward Jews, and and inward Christians; and they are to submit to the inward Circumcision and Baptism of Christ their Lord. They are to be washed inwardly with the Water of that Fountain, which God opens to the house of David, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem for Sin and for Uncleanness, Zech. 13. 1. Doth God set this open for the Inward and Spiritual Jews, or Christians; and is it not their Duty to be washed or Baptised inwardly with it? They are to be Baptised with the Holy-Ghost and with fire, Matt. 3. 11. Every Disciple ought to wait for, receive and experience this Baptism. They are to be washed with the Spirit of Judgment and burning, and to have their Corrupt blood purged away thereby, Isa. 4. 4. They are inwardly to be Baptised into the Name of the Father, Son and Spirit, that they may inwardly rise up in the newness of the Life and of that Living Name, Matt. 28. 19. They are to be Baptised into the one Body, which is the Spiritual Body, and by Spiritual Baptism is the soul Baptised into it (and not by that which is Carnal) and so to come to mount Sion, and the Heavenly Jerusalem, and enter into it, which the Uncircumcised and unclean cannot enter into; but they alone that know the Truth, as it is in Jesus, and keep it, Heb. 12. 22. Isa. 52. 1. and Chap. 26. 2.

Quer. 2. If but One Baptism commanded, and Men cannot Baptize one another with the Spirit, and 'tis sinful to Afflict one another; What Baptism is this One Baptism?

Answ. God made his Apostles (and makes those whom he makes Ministers in the Gospel) able Ministers of the New-Testament; not of the Letter, but of the Spirit. And if the Lord make them able Ministers in his Spirit, What should hinder them from Ministring the Spiritual Baptism? The same Spirit that teacheth through them, Is it not able to Baptize through them? Who is sufficient for these Things, saith the Apostle, 2 Cor. 2. 16? Were they sufficient to Teach, but as God taught through them? And, Are they not sufficient to Baptize, as God baptizeth through them? How often have we found our Souls taught and baptized, by the Water of Life, flowing from the Spring of Life, through the Holy Ministry, which God hath mercifully raised up, and maketh use of, in these our Dayes?

Quer. 3. Whether it be not the Work of God on the inner Man, that brings the outward Man to be Baptized, and Obey the Commands of God?

Answ. It was the Work of God on the inner Man, when John's Baptism was commanded by God, to bring Men to John's Baptism; and it is the Work of God's Spirit in the Heart, which brings Men to discern and subject to Christ's Baptism: For the Baptism of Christ is not discerned by Man's Wisdom, or by the Reasoning Mind, but by the Sense of Life in the Heart.

Quer. 4. Whether Men can be truly sanctifyed by Faith, and the Spirit, that are disobedient to God, and live so?

Answ. No, they cannot. But true Obedience requires true Light and true Understanding: For all are not Obedient, who judge Themselves so; but those whom God judgeth so. The inward Jew is obedient to the inward Baptism, which Christ hath appointed, and dareth not set up John's Outward in its place.

Quer. 5. Whether the Spirit of God doth not distinguish between Sprinkling of the Spirit and Baptism?

Answ. They are both Figurative Expressions; but they tend to, and end in one and the same thing in Substance, which is Inward Cleansing. Sprinkling clean Water upon the Soul doth cleanse it, Ezek. 36. 25. And dipping into, or being over-whelmed with the Water of Life, in the pourings out of the Spirit upon the Soul, doth cleanse also. For there is a River, the Streams whereof do not only Refresh, but also Cleanse and carry away Sin and Filth from the Soul, as with a Flood.

I pray consider that Place, Isa. 44. 3, 4, 5. When God, from the Fountain of Life, pours out Water and Floods upon him that is a Thirst; Do not these Floods and Water wash him and nourish him also? Do not they wash away that, which hinders his Springing up, and Growth in the Truth? And, Is not he hereby Baptized into the Name of the Lord? God is the God of Jacob, the Holy One of Israel. And, Doth not one that is washed, feeling that carryed away by the Floods, and Over-flowings of the Spirit, inwardly feel, and presently say in his Heart, I am the Lord's, and another surname himself by the Name of Israel? Now, I am one of the Seed of Ja- tab indeed, and of God's Israel; and that Name belongs to me. I am inwardly washed from my former Wicked and Deceitful Heart: That is gone, and a New Heart and Spirit of God's Creating and Forming, is witnessed by me; and God's Spirit testifyes in me, and to me, That I am an Israelite indeed, in whom is no Guile.

Quer. 6. Whether the Circumcising Knife be not the Word of God; and the Soul obeying of it, be not a Sign the Knife hath entred, and taken place on the Soul of Man?

Answ. It is true: The Word of God, the quick, powerful, piercing Word of Life, the Word which lives and abides for ever, and is a Commandment of Life in the Heart, (Deut. 30. 11, to 15. which is the Commandment, Law, or Word of the New-Covenant, Chap. 29. 1.) which is the Word of Faith, which the Apostles preached, Rom. 10. 8. This Word of God is the Circumcising Knife; and the Soul Obeying of it, cannot but be Circumcised by it.

But I am jealous, with a Godly Jealousie, lest he mistake, and call somewhat else the Word, and reckon his Obedience to what he apprehends from the Letter, to be Obedience to the Word; and if so, he greatly deceives his own Soul. And I have good Reason thus to be Jealous concerning him, because I find him, in his Answer to my First Query, terming Water-Baptism the Law of the Spirit of Life in Christ; which cannot but be strange Language, to all that know the Nature, Vertue, Life, and Power of the Law of the Spirit of Life in Christ Jesus.

Quer. 7. Whether Baptism doth not lead Men into Christ, as Obedience to the Mind of God in Noah's Time, led him into the Ark, that we may be saved by Christ, as Noah was by the Ark?

Answ. It is the Father, by his Drawings, that leads Men to Christ; and Christ, by his Spirit, Baptizeth them into Himself. He Conforms those to Himself, that come to Him, both in his Death and Resurrection, by the Spirit and Power of the Father.

Now, it is this Baptism, or the Inward Washing, which removeth that which destroyes: and the Soul that is subject to the Ministration of Christ's Spirit, and gives up to be washed by him, is washed and made clean, and comes into the Number of the Saved: For feeling the Power which saves, and experiencing the Vertue and Operation of it, he must needs be saved thereby.

Nor was it Obedience in Noah's Time, which led him into the Ark; but God's Voice or Special Command to him, which he received in the Faith, (By Faith he prepared the Ark, Heb. 11. 7.) which Faith produced Obedience: So that, 'tis Faith in the mighty Power of God, which saves; which Power works mightily in them that truly believe, mightily Circumcising, mightily Baptizing, mightily Burying with Christ, Burying the Soul into his Death, and Raising it up again in the Newness of his Life. So that, here is a real inward Work of Faith, a real inward Appearing and Working of the Power, and a real Obedience to, and a going along with the Power in its Work, in the holy Fear and Trembling: And so the Soul works out its Salvation, by the Power which works in it both to Will and to Do, according to God's good Pleasure, Phil. 2. 12, 13. Eph. 1. 19, 20.

Quer. 8. Whether Christ was not Buryed in the Water in Baptism, (We then being Baptized) We then be not Buryed with Christ by Baptism?

Answ. Christ was Circumcised with Moses's Circumcision, and was also Baptized with John's Baptism, which was a dipping into, or burying in the Water: Yet notwithstanding this, he hath his own Spiritual Circumcision, and Spiritual Baptism, to be administred in the Gospel-Dispensation unto His. And, as all Moses's Disciples were to be Circumcised with his Circumcision, and all John's Disciples to be Baptized with his Baptism unto Repentance; so all Christ's Disciples are to be inwardly Circumcised and Baptized with his inward Circumcision and Baptism; which is the Substance of both the other Figures.

Now, those only that are thus Circumcised, are Circumcised by Christ; and those only that are thus Baptized, are buryed with him by Baptism into his Death; which must be, before they can truly know a Rising with Him in his Life. May not a Man or Woman easily, from an Apprehension in their Understanding, go into the outward

Water,

Water, and rise up again out of the Water; and yet not know what it is to Dye with Christ, or Rise with Christ? But he that knoweth the inward Baptism, witnesseth and experienceth these Things, being made a Partaker with Christ, both in his Death and Resurrection.

Quer. 9. Whether Obedience to the Law of God doth not give a Soul a Good Conscience in the sight of God, and Disobedience make the Conscience guilty? and, Whether ever the Soul can be clear of Sin, while living in Disobedience to the Law of God?

Answ. It is God's sprinkling the Soul, whether with the Water of his Holy Fountain, or with the Blood of the Covenant, and his washing them there-with, which makes the Conscience good, Ezek. 36. 25. Zech. 13. 1. Heb. 12. 22. (Let it be considered seriously, whether Outward Water, or Inward, be intended in that Place, Heb. 12. 22? and when David said, He washed his Hands in Innocency, Psal. 26 6. whether he did it with Outward Water?) This Water, this Blood, this Sprinkling, this Washing, is received in Obedience, and not in Disobedience. But, What Obedience is it received in? Is it received in Obedience to Moses's Circumcision, or John's Baptism? or in Obedience to Christ's Circumcision and Baptism? And let him, and all of his Perswasion seriously weigh, Whether ever the Soul can be clear of Sin, while living in Ignorance of, or Disobedience to Christ's Circumcision and Baptism, whereby alone Sin can be cut off from the Heart, and washed away from the Conscience?

Quer. 10. Whether to Obey God, be not the Way to meet with God, and to be Baptized of God?

Answ. Obedience is better than Sacrifice; and to hearken, than the Fat of Rams. And to obey Christ's Spirit in the Gospel-Dispensation, being inwardly Circumcised and Washed by him, is far better, than to be Circumcised with Moses's Circumcision, or Baptized with John's Baptism. The Day is dawned, and the Shadows are fled away; and the Obedience is not now to the shadowy Ordinances of Moses, or John the Baptist; but to the Light of the Day, which shines in the Hearts of the Children of the New-Covenant. And they only have the true Knowledge of Christ, and the true Obedience, who know the Shinings of this Light, and walk with God in the Shinings thereof, 2 Cor. 4. 6. 1 Joh. 1. 7.

Quer. 11. Whether Men can idolize God's Ordinances, in keeping, doing, loving, and living up to them?

Answ. They that set up Moses's Circumcision, or John's Baptism, for Christ's (which are not outward, as Moses's and John's were, but Inward and Spiritual) they idolize them, and are found Guilty of so doing in the sight of Him who judgeth Righteously. Is it not Idolizing the Shadow or Figure, to set it up in the Place of the Substance?

Quer. 12. Whether Men's calling the keeping, doing, loving, and pleading for God's Ordinances, Idolatry, be not some of those hard Speeches Jude speaks of, 15 Jude?

Answ. He still all along takes the Thing in Question for granted. We grant, that Moses's Circumcision was God's Ordinance, and that John's Baptism was God's Ordinance: but that either of these is a Gospel-Ordinance, that Moses's Circumcision is the Circumcision of Christ, or John's Water-baptism is the Baptism of Christ; that we Conscientiously and Groundedly deny; God's Spirit in the Scriptures, putting a Difference between them; as particularly, between John's Baptism and Christ's, Matth. 3. 11. So that, as he greatly mistakes the thing, so (through his Mistake) he lamentably wrests and misapplyes that Scripture, Jude 15. And let him seriously consider, Whether that Scripture may not fully be applyed to them? and, Whether they can possibly avoid the Load of it, without Repentance, who deny and revile the Inward Appearance of Christ, by the Light of his Spirit, in the Hearts of His, in this our Day, and deny his Inward Circumcision and Baptism, to be the Gospel-Ordinance of our Lord Jesus Christ, setting up John's Water-Baptism in the stead thereof.

Quer. last. Whether is he not inexcusable, and labouring to make void God's Law and Commands, when Men so slight, contemn, despise, write, and do all they can to keep People from closing in with them, and make them afraid of them by their Writing and Preaching, as some do?

Answ. This Query implyes a very deep, wrong Charge against the Children and Servants of God, for their Obedience to God's Spirit. O, How will he answer this

to

to God! Becauſe we own Chriſt's Baptiſm, with the Holy Ghoſt and Fire, and into the Name of the Father, Son, and Spirit, with the Water of the Fountain which God opens for Sin, and for Uncleanneſs, and give Teſtimony thereto in the Requirings in God's Spirit, having learnt it of him, and experienced it from him, and having a Neceſſity upon us in his Name and Authority (many times) to teſtify, That this is the Goſpel-Baptiſm of Chriſt our Lord, and that John's Water-baptiſm is not the Goſpel-Baptiſm; but only a Figure, Repreſentation, or Shadow thereof: Therefore, this Man chargeth us with Invading and Labouring to make voyd God's Law and Commands, with ſlighting, contemning, deſpiſing, &c. Are not theſe hard words, and a very unjuſt Accuſation againſt God's Choſen Meſſengers and Servants, and any whom he pleaſeth to make uſe of in this Teſtimony? But the Truth is, Theſe hard words are not ſo much againſt Us, as againſt Him that ſends Us with this Teſtimony; and is no leſs than a fighting againſt Him, who will be too hard for you All, and will gather People more and more from the outward Water-Baptiſm of John, to the inward Baptiſm, by his holy Spirit and Fire; which, happy are they, that know and are baptized with.

He ſaith at the Cloſe; I have no End in this, but God's Glory.

Anſw. But he greatly miſtakes the way to glorify God: For to ſet up the Shadow of a Thing, inſtead of the Thing it ſelf, is not the way to glorify Chriſt, or the Goſpel-Diſpenſation. For Chriſt is the Son, who doth not come forth with Moſes's Circumciſion, or John's Baptiſm, (who were both Servants) but with the Spirit and Power of his Father, where-with he Circumciſeth and Baptizeth inwardly and ſpiritually. And to ſet up that which is Outward in the ſtead of This, is both to diſhonour the Father, and the Son.

THE CONCLUSION.

NOw, for a Cloſe, I ſhall open a little of the Myſtery of CHRIST, and of his Enlightning, Quickening, Circumciſing, and Baptizing; from ſome Scriptures, as the Lord hath pleaſed to open them in Me, and to Me, and give Me the Inward Senſe and Experience of them.

Joh. 1. 1. & Verſ. 3. The Word was in the Beginning, which Created all Things: and this Word is alſo the Beginning of the Creation of God in the Heart. In this Word was Life, and the Life was the Light of Men; and this Light, which is Life in the Word, ſhineth in Mens Darkneſs; which enlightneth them that believe in it, and the Life thereof quickneth, and giveth Life to them that hear its Voice, and believe in it; and both the Light and Life, or the Word by its Light and Life, Circumciſeth and Baptizeth. Doth not the pure Light cut off, chaſe away, waſh away Darkneſs (wherein all Sin and Uncleanneſs is Comprehended) from the Heart? Doth not the pure Word of Life, received in the Faith, purify the Heart?

Queſt. But, Where is this Word? or, How ſhall a Man come at this Word, or hear its Voice or Commandment, in the Obedience whereof it is enlightned, quickned, circumciſed, and baptized?

Anſw. It is not far off: It is nigh thee, ſaith Moſes, Thou needs not go up to Heaven for it, or down to the Deep, &c. For God, in his Love to Man, hath placed it nigher, even in Man's Mouth and Heart, that he might hear it, and do it, Deut. 30. and Rom. 10. And he that enclines his Ear to this Word, hears and obeys it, lives. And as

as it is the Word of the New-Covenant, (in which is the Light and Life of the New-Covenant) ſo it brings him into the New-Covenant, or makes an Everlaſting Covenant with him, even the ſure Mercies of David, Iſa. 55. 3.

Another Scripture is, 1 Joh. 1. 1. where he ſpeaks of the ſame Word, of the ſame Life, and of the ſame Light, where-with Men are Enlightned, and wherein they are to walk, Verſ. 7. That which is declared of, that which is to be teſtifyed of by the Goſpel-Miniſters, is the Word, the Life, the Light. This is the Meſſage Chriſt gave his Apoſtles to Preach, That God is Light, Verſ. 5. What is the Intent of this Meſſage, but That Men might be turned from Darkneſs to this Light, Act. 26. 18. And then the Light enlightens them, and they ſoon come to feel Life, and the Word from which the Life comes. And ſo they that truly Receive the Teſtimony of the Light, (which is the Goſpel-Meſſage, Verſ. 5) they ſoon come to the Manifeſtation of the Life (or of him who is the Life) in their own Hearts; and ſo into fellowſhip with them that are in the Light, and with the Father, and his Son Jeſus Chriſt alſo.

A Third Scripture is, 2 Cor. 4. 6. which ſhews the way of Enlightning the mind, which is by God's cauſing the Light of Life to ſhine in the Heart; which being believed in, gives the Knowledge of the Glory of God in the Face of Jeſus Chriſt. God is a Spirit, the Knowledge of Him is Spiritual, given and received in the Shinings of his Light in the Heart.

Thus we receive the Beginnings of our Spiritual Knowledge, and thus we receive the Increaſe thereof day by day. In his Light (in the Shinings of his Light in our Hearts) we ſee Light at firſt, and in the further Shinings thereof, we ſee more and more Light.

The Laſt Place I ſhall mention, is Matth. 13. 31. The Kingdom of God was that which Chriſt much Preached, and here he preacheth it as a Seed ſown in the Heart, and that a very little One. Now conſider, if this be not the Word of God in a Seed, Chriſt in a Seed, Life in a Seed, Light in a Seed, (God's Seed, his Seed remaineth in him, 1 Joh. 3, 9.) Now this Seed, as it grows in the Heart, grows in its own Life, Light, Nature, Spirit, Power, &c. and puts all theſe forth in the Heart in which it grows, againſt Sin, and towards Righteouſneſs. Yea, the Judgment of God is Revealed in the Spiritual Light, Life, and Power of this Word againſt Sin, and for Righteouſneſs; and God's Zion, God's inward, ſpiritual Zion, (or his People and Children) is Redeemed by the Judgment and Righteouſneſs, which is Revealed from, and in this Word in the Heart. And this Word is ſo Powerful againſt Sin, that it doth not only cut it off, and waſh it away from the Mind and Conſcience, and ſo make them Clean; but it alſo keeps the Mind, in whom it remains (as it is regarded and hearkned to) from joining to Sin any more: And if Sin cannot be joined to, it can neither be Conceived, nor brought Forth, 1 Joh. 3. 9. Jam. 3. 15.

Object. But by this Doctrine, or Experience, (as thou call'ſt it) Chriſt in his Outward Appearance, his Sacrifice and Blood, as alſo the Scriptures, with the Exhortations and Commands thereof, are all laid waſt, and made voyd, and of no uſe or effect; all being attributed to this Word, Life, and Light within.

Anſw. No, in no wiſe. This Word within, with the Life and Light thereof, doth not make voyd any former Appearance or Miniſtration of God; but rather Eſtabliſh them, by owning them in their proper Place, Uſe, and Service. For he that truly owns this Word, Light, Life, Spirit, Power, &c. in his own Heart, muſt alſo own it in the Hearts of others, in Moſes, in the Prophets, in John, and in its Fulneſs in Chriſt in Fleſh: and the Vertue of all it did in Chriſt, and by Chriſt in the Fleſh, towards the Salvation of Mankind, which his Obedience, and the ſhedding of his Blood, was by the Father made abſolutely Requiſite unto. And the Scriptures, the Inſtructions, Reproofs, Exhortations, Commands thereof, &c. in the Hand of the Spirit, are very uſeful to this Day: and the Shinings of Chriſt, and Quicknings of his Life are felt in them, when the Lord manageth them unto the Soul for good. Yea, the Words that Chriſt ſpoke in the Dayes of his Fleſh, are Spirit and Life to this Day, when he ſpeaks them in the Heart. But they are not Life, as Men apprehend, underſtand, or ſpeak them of themſelves; but rather Death, as ſo made uſe of.

And

And ſo thoſe that thus only learn the Words, or practiſe the Words; they do not learn aright, or practiſe aright: They do not know Chriſt aright; they do not Believe aright, or Repent aright: They cannot know Chriſt, as he is the Word of Life in the Heart; nor Hear him, nor Obey him, nor be Circumciſed or Baptized by him: but are drowned in litteral Apprehenſions and Conceptions of their own, beneath Him who is the Life.

Thus the Jews, in their Day, waited for the Meſſiah, & ſpake great Things of the Kingdom of the Meſſiah; but knew neither Him, nor his Kingdom, when He appeared and preached it. So likewiſe, many now ſpeak great Things of Chriſt being come, and of his Obedience, Death, Reſurrection, Aſcenſion, &c. and yet know not Him, his Voice, his Appearance in their own Hearts, or in the Hearts of others: but think in their Obedience to what they apprehend from the Scriptures, to have Eternal Life, whilſt ſtrangers to the living Principle of Truth; whereby he gives Eternal Life to his Sheep, that hear his Voice, and follow the Lamb of God whereſoever he goes, and leads along his Sheep with him, Joh. 10. 27, 28.

He that would know God and Chriſt to Salvation, muſt know them in that Myſtery of Light and Life, wherein and whereby they ſave and deliver from the Myſtery of Sin and Death: for there's the Myſtery of God, the Myſtery of the Father, the Myſtery of Chriſt, the Myſtery of the Goſpel, the Revelation of the Myſtery, the Preaching of the Myſtery, the Myſtery of the Kingdom of God, the ſpeaking the Wiſdom of God in a Myſtery, the Riches of the Glory of the Myſtery, the Acknowledgment of the Myſtery, the Fellowſhip of the Myſtery, and the Myſtery of the Faith held in a pure Conſcience. The true Miniſters of Chriſt, are Stewards of the Myſteries of God. They have the Treaſure of Life in their Earthen Veſſels, and are to give forth from that Treaſure to thoſe they miniſter to, and bring them to the diſcerning and partaking of the ſame Treaſure in themſelves.

O conſider, conſider, all ye Profeſſors of Chriſt, and of the Chriſtian Religion! There is a Myſterious Power that begets, a Myſterious Womb that conceives and brings forth, a Myſterious Birth that is begotten and brought forth, which hungers after the Myſtery, and is fed with the Knowledge, Life, and Vertue of the Myſtery. That Birth, which is of a Nature below this, or feeds on a Knowledge below this, and hath a Faith and Hope beneath the Nature of the Faith and Hope, which God gives to this Birth; is but the Child, or Birth of the Bond-Woman, which is not to Inherit with Iſaac, the true Heir: but all ſuch kind of Children of the Kingdom, muſt be caſt out with the Bond-Woman, their Mother, Matth. 8. 12. Gal. 4. 30.

The Birth of the Father's Spirit and Power, is only the true, inward Jew or Chriſtian; to which the Promiſes, the Kingdom, and everlaſting Salvation belongs: and all elſe are but Pretenders to be what they are not; who after all the Fires of their own kindling, and Sparks where-with they compaſs themſelves about, will at laſt lye down in Sorrow, from the Hand of the Lord. O that none might be deceived, by the Enemy of their Soul, about Matters of ſo Great Concern!

THE END.

TO FRIENDS

In and About the

Two Chalfonts.

Dear Friends!

YE have a deep Place in my Heart; and my Cryes are to the Lord for you, that ye may live to Him, and find his Life ſpringing up, and abounding in you. What is it to have a diſtinct Name, or diſtinct Meetings from the World, unleſs the Power of the Lord be felt in your Hearts, and his Preſence in your Aſſemblies? O that the Lord would awaken you! O that the Lord would quicken you! O that it would pleaſe the Lord to raiſe up a ſtrict Watch in you, againſt all Drowſineſs, and Careleſneſs, and Temptations and Snares of the Enemy, that ye may Travel on your Journey, with your Backs upon the World, and your Faces towards Sion; never looking back to the Fleſhly Nature, Deſires, or Luſts, to entertain any thing of that any more, which ye have parted with in the Demonſtrations, and Leading of Life; but ſtill preſſing on further and further, till ye come to apprehend, and be poſſeſſed of That, for which ye have been apprehended by God, and drawn in ſome Meaſure towards.

O my Friends! There is a Path of Life, in which ye muſt travel even to the very End of it, or the Crown of Life is not to be Received! O that ye might travel on! O that nothing might ſtop you! O that ye might every Day wait for, and feel the Leader, and walk on with Him in the Simplicity, Uprightneſs, and Senſe of his Life, out of the Reach of that Wiſdom, which is ever and anon forming Reaſonings in the Heart againſt it, and ſtriving to darken, and make the plain Way of God intricate to the Soul!

My Life often reacheth to you, my Soul exceedingly longeth after you! And in the Stirrings of the ſame Life, be ye alſo helpful to me, crying to the Lord for me, that I may abide with Him, feel his Preſervation, and dwell in that, which he hath choſen to appear to, and refreſh the Soul in; that I may be Acceptable to Him, and further Helpful to You, in the Seaſon of the Stirrings of his precious and powerful Life in my Heart. The Lord God of Mercy, watch over you; pruning, and keeping down all the Earthlyneſs, and Corruption, in any of you, and watering and cheriſhing his own Plant in you all; that ye may dayly witneſs the Dying and Decreaſe of the One, and the Quickening and Growth of the Other, even till Death be perfectly conſumed and ſwallowed up by the Growth, Power and Preſence of the Immortal Life in you, and your ſouls ſafe and happy in your God.

And ſo to the tender Mercyes and Care of the Lord, do I give you all up, breathing for you (as for my own Soul) that ye may be perfectly the Lord's, perfectly given unto Him, perfectly waiting upon Him, and dayly Receiving into your precious Veſſels the precious Living Teſtimonies of his Love and Acceptance, and his ſweet Heavenly Dews; which will exceedingly Refreſh, and make your Hearts glad, as he cauſeth them to deſcend and light upon you: So that, which is of God in your Hearts every Day, wait to feel God breathing upon, that it may open unto Him, receive Strength from Him; and ye in it be more and more Gathered and United to the Lord, even till ye wholly become one Nature, Mind, and Spirit with him: and then ye will see the End of your Travels, and sit down in his Joy, and Peace, and pure Rest from all Labouring after Life, and all Sorrows for the Want and Absence of it, and all Fears of losing or being separated from it, being Established in the Power which is over all, and which preserveth all that are Encompassed with it, and Established in it, for ever and ever.

From my present Place of Confinement in Alisbury, according to the Will of God; who is Blessed, and to be Blessed in all that He doth, or suffereth to be done: 22d. of the 3d. Mon. 1666.

Your Friend and Brother in the Meek Innocent Nature of the Lamb, and in the Begetting of the Royal Heavenly Life,

I. P.

O My Friends! Prize the rich, tender Mercy of the Lord, in calling you out of this World, towards his Everlasting Inheritance, and Fulness of Life! And let not any thing of this World come between Him and You; but let all that is of this Worldy Nature, both within and without, be trampled upon by you; and the Price of the High Calling of our God in Christ Jesus, be faithfully and earnestly pursued after, that none fall short of the Hope and Glory set before him; but that every one may so run, as certainly to Obtain and Enjoy for ever, even the Dominion and Reign of God, over all that is contrary to him, and the setting down in the Rest, Joy, and Peace of his Nature, for evermore. Amen.

To Friends in Truth, in and about the Two Chalfonts.

O Let every Soul wait to feel the pure Life of God, that in that we may wrestle with our tender Father, for the opening the Depth of his Bowels, and tender Mercy, that that may be brought forth in every Vessel, and in the whole Body, as may make the Glory of his Name shine, and may fill the Vessels of his Choice with the Joy and Pleasure of his Salvation! O that the pure Measure of his Life might be awakened, and raised in your Assemblies together; that ye might feel the pure Fountain, the Springs opening in you, the Streams running through you, and every Soul refreshed, filled, and satisfyed; that ye might go away blessing his Name, who hath taught you, and given you Hearts to wait upon Him, and who sheweth you Mercy, and giveth you Acceptance in your Waitings!

And, Dear Friends, Watch, that Life may be alwayes fresh and savoury in you, to the seasoning of all your Thoughts, Words, Conversations, and Actions, that ye may feell the Name of GOD written upon you, and his precious Presence in you, and with you.

And in this Freshness remember me, to whom the Lord hath given to remember and breath for you; who am a Prisoner, and have suffered many Afflictions, because that of God which is in me, cannot bow to that which is of Man.

TO

To Diligent and Faithful Friends, in and about the Two Chalfonts.

O tender and dearly beloved Friends,

MY Spirit is at this time touched with the Sence of the great Goodneſs, and Mercy of the Lord; inſomuch, as I feel breakings forth therein, and repeating there over and over again; O What hath the Lord done for Us, What hath the Lord done for Us? For he hath not only given Us a Senſe, and Taſt of the precious Promiſes in the Scripture: but hath alſo led Us in the Way of the fulfilling of them. He hath Manifeſted that to Us, wherein not only the Promiſe is made, but whereto alſo the Promiſe is fulfilled. Which of you, that is open and freſh, doth not know the Seed of Life, the living Principle, the Light Eternal, which leads out of the Death and Darkneſs into the Land of the Living, the Holy Land, wherein dwells Peace and Righteouſneſs, the Land which flows with Milk and Hony, wherein are the Vineyards which ye Planted not, and the Houſes that ye Built not, wherein the true Vine grows, and its Branches ſhoot forth, and bear the right Grapes. O my Friends, Do ye not know the Father which Begat you, and the Son in whoſe Image He hath Begotten you, and His Spirit, which is the breath, ſtrength, and power of your Life? How hath the Lord God advanced you, poor, afflicted, deſpiſed, perſecuted Remnant, above all the Kindreds, Families, and Profeſſions of the Earth? How nigh is the Lord your God unto you! Doth He not Tabernacle, and Dwell in you! Do ye not feel Him walking up and down, and taking Delight in your Spirits, who are ſeparated from the unclean Thing, and to whom ſubjection to Him is become Pleaſant and Natural. O the Lord God give His People a Senſe what He is unto them in this Day, and lead them along into their ſeveral Poſſeſſions and Inheritances, that they may ſit down with Abraham, Iſaac, and Jacob, each in his Portion in the Holy Land, and in the Heavenly Dwelling-places in Chriſt Jeſus, which the Souls of thoſe that are Redeemed by Him, are acquainted with, and ſit in.

It is on my Heart to inſtance in ſome things a little more particularly, that the Senſe, and Remembrance of God's Goodneſs to you herein, may come the nearer and cloſer to your Spirits.

Firſt, Have ye not had experience of the Lord's Love, and Faithfulneſs in Manifeſting his Name unto you, which ye have in ſome meaſure known, as pure, precious, and excellent, as a ſtrong Tower in caſe of Danger, and Aſſaults from the Enemy? And hath not the Lord taught you by a ſecret inſtinct of his Spirit and Life in you, to retire, and hide your ſelves in this Tower, from the violence and fury of the Enemy? And have ye not alwayes found Relief, Safety, and Protection therein? Indeed, when ye have gone out into your own Thoughts, and conſulted with the Reaſonings of the fleſhly Mind, there ye have met with a Wound and a Hurt, and have lain open to the ſtroke of the Betrayer and Devourer: but the Name of the Lord hath never deceived, or diſappointed any of you that have Truſted in it, relying upon His Kindneſs, Tenderneſs, Mercy, Love, and Faithfulneſs therein.

Secondly, Hath not the Lord given you a Proportion of the pure Heavenly Patience, even of the Lambs Meekneſs and Patience; and alſo given you to poſſeſs your Souls therein, wherein hath been felt a true meaſure of Reſt and Peace with Him, in the midſt of all the Diſturbances, Fears, and Troubles, both within and without? And hath not this been an help and ſuccour to you, even in the time of his Judgments, wherein ye have been inabled to wait, and lye ſtill, until the Indignation was over-paſt, and the Mercy ſprang afreſh?

Thirdly, Hath not God Manifeſted to you the Place of his Worſhip, even ſo that ye know, and have often experienced it to be in his Name, Spirit, Truth, and Power? And hath he not prepared for you, and given to you the pure Offering and Sacrifice, and accepted it at your Hands? And have ye not often; yea, may I not ſay alwayes, felt his Preſence meeting there, and the Refreſhments which come from his Preſence in this Day of his Mercy, and of his tender viſiting, and refreſhing his Seed?

Fourthly, Have ye not felt the Word of his Power ſhaking the Mountains, breaking the Rocks, and making the dark, hard part in you, and the Enemy of your Souls to Tremble at the Sound of his Voice? Yea, Have ye not found thereby the Stony heart in a great meaſure taken out of you, and a tender heart, an heart like Fleſh given you inſtead thereof, which hath melted, and bowed before the Lord, and tenderly received the Impreſſions of his Spirit?

Fifthly, Have ye not found the Laws of Life, the Laws of the New-Covenant Written by the Finger of God's Spirit in this new heart, ſo that ye could read the Will and Requirings of your God, by the Light of his Spirit in the inner Man?

Sixthly, Hath not he alſo put his Spirit within you, that ye have not only read the Law Written, but have alſo found a delight (and ability alſo in him) to do his Will? For the Lord hath not left you to do what he requires, according to the Old-Covenant, but he himſelf Worketh in you both to Will, and to do what is acceptable to him, of his own good Pleaſure.

Seventhly, Have ye not found his Fear put into your hearts, even a Fear which no precepts of Men can teach, nor ye can by no means attain to, but as he pleaſeth to give it you? and doth not this Fear make you Wiſe in him to depart from Evil? doth it not cleanſe out the Evil? Doth it not keep out the Evil? Did ye not find this Vertue in it at the very firſt, and do ye not ſtill find it to this very Day?

Eighthly, Do ye not find the blotting out of Iniquity, and the not remembring of your Sins by the Lord? Ah, How hath the Lord forgiven you? How doth the Lord pitty you? How doth he bear with you? Do ye not know the place and ſtate wherein Mercy pleaſeth him, and where he is never weary of pardoning, blotting out, and forgiving? Do ye not feel the Sprinkling of the Blood of the Covenant dayly by him upon your Conſciences, and the precious Vertue thereof?

Ninethly, Do ye not find the Anointing near you; yea, within you, ready to teach you to know the Lord, ſo that ye indeed know him, not according to outward Names and Apprehenſions only, but his Nature, in his heavenly Power, in his inward Vertue, Manifeſtations, Operations, and Appearances in you? And this is true Knowledge indeed, pure Knowledge, freſh Knowledge, living Knowledge, which makes you Conformable to, and brings you forth in the Image, and Likeneſs of what ye Know.

Tenthly, Is not the Way of the Ranſomed, the Way of Holineſs, become Clear and Pleaſant to you? Hath not the Lord removed many Stumbling-Blocks, that he might make the Way plain? And is it not a Path, wherein there is no erring, wherein a Way-farer may walk without Fear or Danger, the Light is ſo certain, the Guide ſo faithful, and the Path ſo eaſy and infallible to the plain, honeſt, ſingle, upright Heart, who freely giveth up to the Lord, and waiteth to be taught and led by him? Indeed to the Wiſe, Reaſoning, Diſputing Mind it is not thus; nor to you at any time when that part is up: but as that is brought down, and the ſimplicity of Chriſt (the Innocent Birth) raiſed in you, Do ye not ſtill feel it thus? Therefore ye had need to Watch, and Pray, and Wait, and Believe; that ye may know, and enjoy the precioufneſs of your Spiritual Eſtates, and Conditions in the Lord, and that that which would corrupt and deſtroy, may (by the lifting up, and diſplaying of the Banner of his Love and Power in you) be beat down, and kept out.

Eleventhly, Hath not God given you of the true Humility, whereby that which was once exalted in you, above his Fear, and above his Seed, is now brought down, down, and laid low, and his pure Life and Fear in you exalted over it? Do ye not know the feigned Humility and Fear (which Man's Wisdom Teacheth, and Man's Wisdom Learneth) and abhor them? And is not the true Fear and Humility which ye have received from God, very precious, and of great Use and Service to you?

Twelfthly, Have ye not received the true Love, whereby ye are taught, and enabled to Love the Lord your God above all, and the Brethren, Children, and Fathers in him; yea, and your very Enemies also. How Precious is this! Who can Witness this, but he who hath received it! But he, whose heart the Lord hath Circumcised, and from which he hath cut off the enmity and contentious Nature, which cannot truly Love, neither the Lord, nor His People, nor His Creatures, though it maketh a subtile, deceitful shew thereof, to the deluding both of it self and others.

Thirteenthly, Do ye not know the true Righteousness, and the true Sanctification which is in Christ Jesus, and which ye receive, and abide in, in him, which formerly (in a great measure) ye did but talk of, and which many to this day (whom the Lord hath not gathered, as He hath done you; but hath left behind, out of the Power, out of the Calling, out of the Election) have only the Words of, and their own Apprehensions upon the Words, but know not, nor feel, nor enjoy the thing it self, as ye do this day, Blessed be the Name of your Merciful God and Redeemer.

Fourteenthly, Do ye not know Sion, the Holy Hill of God, and Jerusalem, the Holy City which is Built thereon, which hath long been hid even from Ages and Generations, but now is made Manifest in the Spirit, and many are already come thither, and many more are Travelling thither-wards, and some dwell and abide therein, and feel the Law going forth out of Sion, and the Word of the Lord from Jerusalem, and find their Souls Translated by the Mighty Power of God from Death, and Hell, and Enmity, into the Nature, Love, and Life of the Lamb, in whose Light, those that are Saved, and Redeemed by Him, walk?

Fifteenthly, Do ye not know the true Church and Body of Christ, which is one Spirit with Him, which is Flesh of his Flesh, and Bone of his Bones? And hath not the Lord in his Mercy, made you Members thereof? And do ye not feel the Nourishment, Vertue, Life, and Spirit of the whole Body in your own Vessels, and so are partakers of the true Union and Fellowship, both with the Lord Jesus Christ, and one with another? For he that is gathered by, and walks in the true Light, is also in the true Life and Fellowship, both with that which Begets, and with that which is Begotten.

Sixteenthly, Do ye not know the Kingdom and Reign of Christ, already in measure set up, and daily more and more setting up in your hearts? And is not his Government Sweet, Pure, Heavenly, Pretious, Refreshing to that which is of God in you, and an Iron Hammer and Scepter to that which is Earthly and Fleshly. And is it not your Joy to feel him Reign and Overcome his Enemies, Exalting his Holy Name, Power and Scepter over them? And what he hath done, and what he is a doing, and what he yet will do in you, of his own tender Love, and for his own Name's Sake: Do not your hearts leap within you, when at any time the Lord pleaseth to give you the sense and sight thereof?

Seventeenthly, Do ye not know the Fast which the Lord hath Chosen, and hath not the Lord helped you to keep that Fast? Have ye not felt his Power break the bond of Iniquity in you, and the once oppressed in you coming up in a true measure of the pure freedom to serve and worship the Lord? And have ye not also had a taste of the Feast, which the Lord hath prepared on his Holy Mountain, even of the Fat Things, and Wines on the Lees well Refined, which they that Inhabit there, eat and drink of abundantly in his Presence?

Eighteenthly, Do ye not feel God the Lord making an Everlasting Covenant with you, even of the Love and Mercies sure to David and his Seed forevermore? Is not he near you, yea with you and in you, who is the gatherer into and the preserver in this Covenant? Yea do not ye feel him teaching and enabling you to keep Covenant with the Lord your God (by the Vertue, Power and Presence of his Life Life and Spirit in you) even as he keepeth Covenant with you? Inſomuch as ye begin to feel a Settlement and Eſtabliſhment in him that is true, and your Calling and Election becoming ſure, and the danger and fear of falling away or miſcarrying, removing from off your ſpirits?

What ſhall I ſay to you, what ſhall I mention further, or what ſhall I Inſtance in? Have ye not felt the Wilderneſs become a fruitful Field, and the fruitful Field become a Forreſt? Have ye not felt the Lame walk, the Deaf hear, the Blind ſee, the Dumb ſpeak, the Leper cleanſed, the Dead raiſed, &c? Have ye not witneſſed the ſore ſhaking and terrible paſſing away (in meaſure) of the Old Heavens and Old Earth, and the Forming, Planting and Bringing in (in meaſure) of the New Heavens and the New Earth, wherein dwells Righteouſneſs, in the ſtead thereof? So that in the places where Dragons lay, is now green Graſs with ſweet-ſmelling flowers; and in the once Parched, Dead, Dry, *B*arren, Deſolate Heaths, are now Springs and Flowings of the pure Living Water?

Friends, There is one, whom the Father hath ſealed (and he is but one, yea the very ſame in us all) in whom are all the Treaſures of Wiſdom and Knowledge, and all the Riches and Subſtance of life: And we through the Mercy and Goodneſs of the Lord partake thereof, as we are gathered into him, found in him, and abide in him.

And now my Friends, What hath differenced us from others, or why hath the Lord done this for us more than for others? Search your hearts, ſee if any of you can find the cauſe thereof in your ſelves. Indeed I cannot. From my very heart I cannot but cry Grace, Grace, Mercy, Mercy, Love, Love, (deep tender Love) Goodneſs, Goodneſs from the very firſt beginning all along throughout the whole carrying on of the work to this day: and I have nothing elſe to hope in or plead before my God. Do I believe? It is he gave me Faith; yea he putteth it forth and cauſeth it to act in me, or I eaſily fail therein. Do I will that which is good in any kind? My Will is of him, yea it is in him, and hath its Creation, Preſervation, Being and Strength from him. Do I obey or do that which is good? No, no; Not I, but his Life, Power and Spirit in me. Do I ſuffer inwardly or outwardly? That is not of me neither, but he that hath given me to believe; he alſo giveth me to ſuffer, and beareth up my ſpirit in my ſufferings by his Power and for his Name's-ſake. So that my heart ſaith (and I confidently believe he will in his Mercy and Goodneſs preſerve me in that ſenſe for ever) Not unto me, not unto me, in any one Reſpect; but to thy Name, to thy Holy Name, to thy tender Name, to thy Infinite Bowels and pretious Love and Compaſſions, in every Reſpect, be the acknowledgment and praiſe given of what thou haſt done, and yet doſt, and wilt do in and for my ſoul, for ever and ever.

And now my dear Friends, as the Lord hath Demonſtrated the way of *L*ife unto you, ſo that it is ſealed in your ſpirits, and ye have walked in it, and alwayes met with, not only the Promiſes of Life, but even Life it ſelf therein: So the Lord ſtill watch over you, that nothing ever blind that eye in you, which alone can ſee this way; and the Lord preſerve you in uprightneſs of heart, that ye may ſingly wait on him, for his Father manifeſting of it in you and to you, and that he by his living ſpirit would continually quicken and rouſe up your ſpirits to walk diligently and faithfully therein: that ſo ye may come to ſee what ye have not yet ſeen, and to deſire what ye have not yet deſired, and may find your hearts and inheritances enlarged in the Lord. Ah what is the world or any worldly thing or intereſt in compariſon of this! The Lord remove every ſnare, and every ſtumbling block out of your way, and every weight and burthen from off your ſpirits, that ye may run with joyfulneſs to the end of your courſe, and may enter into the full Kingdom and Poſſeſſion of *L*ife. Ye have received already that which is all: but ye muſt wait for the farther opening and ſpreading of it in you, and your farther growth into it. The Lord's ſoul hath travelled for you, and his faithful meſſengers have likewiſe travelled and ſought after your ſouls, and your ſouls have travelled, and mourned, and waited, and gone through temptations and tryals of many kinds; and had a taſt of the true Peace, the true Holineſs, the true Righteouſneſs, the true Joy, even the Joy of Everlaſting Kingdom. Now the *L*ord God preſerve you, that nothing may interrupt rupt or come between you and that, wherein ye have felt him, and wherein is his riches and fulneſs: but that ye may alwayes feel that, and abide faithful to the Lord in that, wherein the Preſervation and Growth unto Life Eternal alone is witneſſed.

And Friends, Put the Lord in mind, that as he hath pleaſed to manifeſt the way, and ſhew that clearly unto you whereby the heart is joyned to him and preſerved in him: ſo he would pleaſe of his free and tender Mercy to add this alſo, even to give upright hearts and entire ſpirits, to abide with him in that Principle of Life, wherein he hath gathered you, and to watch unto, and be faithful to all his warnings, drawings, movings and leadings, that his Spirit may have no matter of grief againſt you, but it may be the delight of his Soul to do you good continually, and to anſwer the deſire of your ſouls in every thing that ye breath unto him for: that the Lord may not be aſhamed to own you to be his people, and ye may feel with joy and abundant conſolation that he is your God. And this will be enough in all the tribulations, afflictions, and tryals that ye meet with, either inwardly or outwardly. So the God of love and peace preſerve you in that wherein is fellowſhip with him, and in which his Life, Love, Joy and Peace naturally, and delightfully ſpring up, and flow into the Soul. Amen. Amen.

For Friends of our Meeting, and Thereabouts.

Dear Friends,

I Am deeply ſenſible that it is a day of trouble, rebuke and diſtreſs, to the Iſrael of God. The Lord hath pitched his pure, living Tent, and begun to build up his beloved City: the Lord hath indeed had Mercy upon Sion, and favoured the Ruins and Deſolations thereof. But the malice and rage of the Enemy is great, who ſeeketh to compaſs the Tent of the Holy, and the beloved City, that he may lay waſte and deſtroy the Work and Heritage of God. Now all that feel Life, all that are of the true Birth, all that know the Seed, Oh abide, Live and Breath in the Seed, that ye may come forth in true Life and in the ſtrength of God's holy Spirit (with ſtrong Cries and Tears, with Innocency and Righteouſneſs, with Meekneſs and Patience, &c.) to the help of the Lord againſt the mighty. We have no ſtrength but our God, nor is our expectation from Man, (whoſe breath is in his Noſtrills) who is to be ceaſed from: but we believe the Voice; that not by ſtrength, nor by mans Power, but by my Spirit, ſaith the Lord of Hoſts, ſhall this work of his be preſerved, and go on. Therefore every one wait to feel the Seed travel, and cry daily to the Father, that ſo the Spirit of darkneſs may be hindred, and by the Power of Life withſtood, in all its enterprizes againſt the Children of Light. O let the Condition of Jeruſalem be written upon every ones heart: and as members of the Living body, feel the wants, afflictions and diſtreſſes of your fellow-members day by day. And let every one ſay in Spirit.

Lord, take care of all thy Children. O thou tender Father, Conſider what they ſuffer for the Teſtimony of thy Truth and for thy Names ſake; and uphold them, and give them Victory and an holy Dominion over all, becauſe it belongs to thy Seed, into which thou haſt gathered them, and in which thou haſt United them to thy ſelf. O carry on thy Glorious work, which thy own mighty Arm hath begun, and cut it ſhort in Righteouſneſs for thine Elects ſake, that it may be finiſhed by thee, to thine own everlaſting Praiſe. Thy Children wait on thee, they cry to thee day and night, that they may be preſerved by thee in the well doing, and in the pure, holy, innocent ſufferings for thy Truths ſake, until thou ſayſt it is enough, until thy holy Spirit ſay it is finiſhed. My Lambs, ye ſhall ſuffer no more, but now ye ſhall reign with me and my Son for ever.

My dear Friends, it is now the time of Prayer, and of waiting upon and hopeing in the Lord, who knoweth and conſidereth all our Conditions. If any be Afflicted let him pray. We are Afflicted, we are oppreſſed without cauſe or provocation on our parts, only becauſe we fear, and love, and obey our God, according as he hath taught us, and becauſe he hath put this Reſolution into our hearts, that we will abide in ſubjection to him, and ſtand to the holy Teſtimony which he hath given us to bear, whatever befalls us. And what ſhall ſeparate us from his Love, or come between us and his care over us, who is able to bear us up in all, and carry us over all (in the Holy Dominion and Strength of his Seed) that can ſet upon us, and ſtrive to turn us out of the way, or to make us faint in the Way?

Dear Friends, In my bonds I remember you, and pray for your proſperity, do ye alſo remember me in your daily addreſſes and approaches to God, that I may receive increaſe of Virtue and Strength from the Lord, by the help of your prayers: and Oh feel the afflictions of the afflicted, and breath for them day by day, that the whole Body may receive the flowings in of Life, help and ſtrength daily, from the pure breathings of Life, in every member of the Body every day.

So the God of Love and Mercies be with, and do good to his whole Heritage: and fill you, (with the reſt of his Children) from the pure fountain of Life, with freſh ſtreams of Life day by day. Amen. This is the hearty deſire of Reading-Goal, 9th. of the 6th. Mon. 1670.

Your Friend, Brother and Companion in the Faith and Patience of the Saints, who have had a Share in the Affections, which befall his Children, and Choſen ones, for his Names ſake,

I P.

AND truly Friends, it is not grievous, but rather Joy to me, to undergo the ſeveral afflictions and temptations, which my tender Father in his tender Love and Good-Will orders for me. Yea all that can taſt, tell me, Is it not greater Riches and far ſweeter, in this our day, to bear the Reproach of Chriſt, and to ſuffer for the Teſtimony of his precious Truth, than to enjoy the pleaſures of Sin and Glory of this World, which are but for a ſeaſon?

Dear Friends, (Whom I love in the Lord, and whoſe Proſperity and Growth in the Truth, I greatly deſire) This Senſe is on my Heart, in reference to you, at this time.

THE Lord's Soul travelleth for you, (having viſited you in tender Mercy, and with great loving Kindneſs) and he deſireth to Enjoy and Poſſeſs you, as an Inheritance for Himſelf to delight in, and to do Good unto continually: And I know, there are many among you, who have alſo deſired and travelled after the Lord, and have been burthened and grieved with that, which hath in any meaſure hindered your Soul's enjoying the Lord, and your Faithful Serving Him, and His Delight and Pleaſure in You. Now Friends, This is my preſent Deſire and Breathings for you, even that ye may be joyned further and cloſer in the Everlaſting Covenant of Life and Peace with the Lord, which muſt never be forgotten on your Parts, as it cannot be on on His: Wherein to help all the Tender and Faithful Hearted among you, this Advice ſprang in my Heart to you this Morning.

Mind and watch to that which quickens and enlivens the Soul towards God; and watch againſt that which flats and deadens it: For they are both near, and they both ſeek after you; the One for your Good, the Other for your Hurt. I need not tell you what theſe are, nor where or how they appear, (ye have been abundantly, and as ye wait on the Lord, are dayly inſtructed therein, bleſſed be the Name of the Lord) but in continual watching to the One, and againſt the Other, is the Diligence and Care of your Spirits dayly to be Exerciſed. O! at no time, let your Spirits be looſe and careleſs! For the Enemy waits to do Hurt, and the Lord waits to be gracious, and to do your Souls Good. Watch therefore, and Pray, that ye enter not into the Temptation of the Enemy, nor miſs of the tender Mercies, and loving Kindneſſes of the Lord, which are ſure to the Seed (and to all that are of, and abide in the Seed) for ever.

O! Who would miſs of the quickning Vertue of our God, of being Anointed with his Holy Oyl, and of having the Flames of Life kindled further in him, who would be Captivated, and brought into Subjection to Sin, Satan, Vanity, and the Spirit of this World again; who hath witneſſed any Proportion of Deliverance there-from? Ye know, that ye can do nothing of your ſelves: Oh, What need have ſuch to watch to that, which is able to work mightily in the Heart, and to bring forth the Fruits and Effects of Righteouſneſs; and to bring under, and keep under, kill and ſlay that Power of Unrighteouſneſs; and to root out, and bury the Dead out of the Sight and Remembrance of the Living. Glorious Things are teſtifyed (truly teſtifyed) concerning the Power of the Lord, and his mighty Operation inwardly in the Hearts of his Children, in this Day of the Preaching of the Everlaſting Goſpel again, after the long Night of Darkneſs. Let none be content without witneſſing and experiencing a Meaſure thereof, in their own Particular. O dwell not with Death, Vanity, nor Corruption! (O my dear Friends, let not vain or earthly Thoughts lodge in any of your Hearts!) But dwell with Him, who is Pure, who is Living, and gives Life to your Souls; and alſo gives Peace, and brings it Home to you, leaving upon your Spirits that Peace which paſſeth all the Underſtanding, and Comprehenſion of Man; and who maketh his Called, Choſen, and Faithful Ones glad with his Deliverance from the Power and Temptation of the Enemy, and with the Flowings in of Life, and Redeeming Vertue, from the Fountain thereof. Judea (the City) is known among the Living; Whoſe Walls are Salvation, and all the Gates and Entrance into it Praiſe.

And, my dear Friends, Mind your Meetings together, to wait upon your God, with great Serioufneſs and Intention of Spirit; every one watching to feel Life up in your own Spirits. O ſit down (yea, breath earneſtly to the Lord, to give you to ſit down) in the Silence of Fleſh, and in the Stilneſs of your Spirits; waiting for the Preſence, Appearance, and Power of your God, to be Revealed in the Midſt of you, that your Hearts may be ſearched more and more, and the pure Judgment revealed againſt whatever would appear or riſe up contrary to the Holy Nature and Will of God, and that which is for Death brought into Death more and more; and ſo the Bread and Water of Life given to that which is to be Nouriſhed up in Life, that all that is Impure may be kept down, and that which is Pure (the Plants and Trees of Righteouſneſs) may thrive, flouriſh, and ſpread more and more, and you ſit down under the Shadow of your own Vine and Olive-Tree, partaking of the Sap and Fatneſs thereof.

O that every one of you, in all your Meetings together, might witneſs that Scripture fulfilled in you: They ſhall be abundantly ſatisfyed with the Fatneſs of thy Houſe, and thou ſhalt give them, or make them to Drink of the Rivers of thy Pleaſures.

And I beſeech you, in the Bowels of tender Love, take heed of Sluggiſhneſs, or Careleſneſs, or Deadneſs of Spirit in your Meetings: Theſe Things in no wiſe become the Lord's People, nor your Profeſſions of waiting upon the Living God. Ye are to look up, to watch, wait, and breath for the Lord, to be Exerciſed by his Spirit, to have to do with Him, before whom all Things are naked and bare; to offer up that Acceptable Sacrifice of a Broken Heart, of pure Praiſes, of Love, Life, Humility, Thankſgiving, &c. and to receive what the Father of Mercies ſtands ready (in and through the Lord Jeſus Chriſt, the Son of his Love) to give forth unto you: Can you be thus Exerciſed, while in a drowſie, ſluggiſh, careleſs Spirit? Do not ſuch diſhonour the Lord, whose Name ye should honour? And, Is not the Jealous God provoked and grieved by such things as these, whom ye should walk in all Humility, Tenderness of Spirit, and Well-Pleasingness before?

I beseech you therefore Watch against all Things of this Nature, and be Diligent, that ye may witness the Law of the Spirit of Life in Christ Jesus; making you free, and fencing you against all Things of this kind; that ye may be a Chosen Generation, a Royal Priest-hood, an Holy Nation, a peculiar People, a Temple of Living Stones, wherein the living God may Dwell and Walk, and Sup with You, and give unto you to Sup with Him; where ye shall Eat the pure Bread of Life, and Drink the Wine of the Kingdom, which will glad your Hearts exceedingly, and the Joy of the Lord will become your Strength; which Strength will carry you above the Strength of the Enemy, and cause you to bring forth the Fruits of Life, and Righteousness, naturally to the Lord: And so you shall shine as Lights in your several Places, and shew forth the Praises of Him, who hath called you out of Darkness into his marvellous Light? For it is a Marvellous Light indeed, which the Lord hath caused to shine in the Spirits of his Children, whom in this Day of his Power he hath begotten to Himself, and the Life Eternal is wrapped up in it: and they that truly know it, know it to be no less than the Light of Life, even the Light which came from the pure Life of the Son, and leads to the Habitation, and Dwelling-place of the Father.

There is one thing yet remains with me, which I would fain have you grow in a true, sensible, and experimental Understanding of, which is this; to wit, What it is not to touch the Unclean Thing; the Enemy will be stirring up, and casting in that which is Unclean, upon the Vessels which God is purifying and preserving from all Pollution. But there is a Starting-back from, and Eschewing the Evil, a Forsaking of the vain earthly Mind and Thoughts, and a Receiving in such Temptations and Suggestions no more. O that ye might all experimentally know and witness what This is! I know, many of you do in some Measure; Blessed be the God of our Mercies, Blessed be our Saviour and Redeemer, for ever and ever! But, Oh! more, more, more of this Knowledge, more of this Experience, my Heart livingly breaths for, for my Self and You, that we may witness the Scripture abundantly fulfilled in our Hearts from the Lord: Whosoever is Born of God, doth not commit Sin; for his Seed remains in him; and he cannot Sin, because he is Born of God. O feel the Weight of this Scripture, in that which gives the Understanding of it! The Lord hath made a New Covenant, and a Living Covenant, and prepared a new and living Way of the Ransomed to walk in without erring, that he might amend all (in this New People,) which was amiss in those under the First Covenant.

O let the Lord enjoy the Design of his Heart; and his People so wait upon Him, that they may all be Renewed in the Spirit of their Minds, and the Lord may have a Generation of Calebs and Joshuas, who may fully follow after Him in all Things, and who may witness his Power and Presence still with them; and the holy (tender, merciful) God may never be provoked by them, to cause him to with-draw his good Spirit from them, and so to leave them, and forsake them; for if any draw back from the Lord, and from the Holy Commandment of Life, the Lord's Soul can have no Pleasure in such. O that therefore, there may be none among you drawing back to Perdition! (and take heed of Deadness, Drowsiness, Sluggishness of Spirit, Earthlyness, Fleshly Wisdom, Unbelief, &c. for that is a Degree thereof, and leadeth thitherwards) but all to grow in Faith, with Diligence, towards the Saving of your Souls, (which is far nearer, than when you first believed) which ye shall be sure in due time to reap even the Salvation ye wait for; if ye faint not, nor grow weary in your Minds; but abide in the Faith and Patience, unto the End of your Tryals both Inward and Outward, which are measured out by the Spirit and Wisdom of the Lord; and not by the Wiles of your Enemies, whom the Lord stops and chains at his Pleasure.

The Grace, Mercy, Love, and Peace of God our Father, and of our Lord Jesus Christ, be multiplyed unto you, and fill your Hearts from Day to Day, according to your several Capacities; and enlarge your Capacities, and bring you more and more into the Heavenly Fellowship; that your Joy therein may abound, and ye may dayly Rejoyce in in the Goodness of the Lord, and in his exercising loving Kindness, Judgment, and Righteousness in the Earth.

Reading-Goal, 22d. of the 3d. Month, 1671.

This is from your Brother and Companion in the Afflictions, and also in the Joy and Glory of this Day of the Salvation of our God, which is further to be Revealed and Enjoyed by those who Meekly and Patiently wait for it,

J. P.

AND, all my dear Friends, who have known what it is to be Uncovered, and Stripped of your own Righteousness, (and of all Fleshly Robes and Garments) and to put on the Lord Jesus Christ, even the Innoceney and Righteousness of his Nature and Spirit; and so to appear before the Lord, and walk with Him in the Garment which he puts upon you. O Friends, keep this Garment about you, that ye be not stripped and robbed of that where-with God once Cloathed you, and so your Nakedness appear, and Men see your Shame; and instead of being an Honour, ye become (any of you) a Reproach to the Name and Truth of the Lord; which is very Honourable, and should be Honoured in, and by us All.

The Direction of This in my Heart, was to Friends in Truth in Chalfont, and thereabouts; among whom my Heart hath been greatly Comforted and Refreshed, who (some of you) had some Knowledge of my former great Misery and Distress for want of the Power and Presence of the Lord; & are now witnesses with me of his tender Mercy, & great Salvation: Glory to Him, who sits on the Throne; and to the Lamb, whose Kingdom is Exalted over all, who already Reigns in Righteousness in the Hearts of a Remnant; who sit down, and find Rest and Peace, and true Joy of Heart, Soul, and Spirit, under the Shadow of his Government; and cannot but sing and sound forth Praises, pure Praises, Honour, and Dominion, and Strength to the Name and Arm, which hath done the Valiant Acts, bringing Sin, Corruption, Death, and the Grave under; and bringing Life and Immortality to Rule, and have Dominion over it; that so He that is pure Power and Life, is felt Tabernacling and Living in his People; and he gives unto them to Live in, and through, and with Him: and they cannot but sound Praises to the Power and Glory of his Life, from Day to Day; Glory in the Highest to our God, and to His Christ, for ever and ever; Amen. Hallelujah.

SOME QUERIES CONCERNING Compulsion in Religion.

Query 1. WHether every Man ought not to endeavour to be fully perswaded in his own Soul, concerning the Religion and Worship which he performs, and offers up to God?

Quer. 2. Whether, when a Man is fully perswaded concerning the Religion and Worship he ought to perform to God, Whether he is not then bound in Conscience so to worship and serve God, as he is fully perswaded in his own Soul?

Quer. 3. Whether, if a man should leave that way of Religion and Worship, whereof he is fully perswaded in his own Soul, and should worship according to the Law and worship of the Country wherein he lives; whether this would be accepted of the Lord, and whether his Soul would not be in danger of the displeasure and wrath of the Lord therefore?

Quer 4. Whether God hath given any man or men Power, by laws and penalties to compel men to worship him, contrary to the belief of their hearts and their full perswasions of their Souls? Is it not written, that whatsoever is not of Faith is Sin? and hath God given any men power and Authority to compel others to sin? surely the end of Magistracy is to Restrain men from sin, and not to compel men to sin.

Quer. 5. Whether under the law of Moses, the Worship was not first made manifestly clear to mens *H*earts and Consciences, and they fully perswaded thereof. Before they suffered any penalties annexed for failing in it, or turning aside, from it?

Quer. 6. Whether under the Gospel, Christ or his Apostles did ever compel any by outward force to their way of Worship, or give any Rule for compulsion after their dayes. Did not they say, they were not Lords over mens Faith, but that there was one Lord and Master, even Christ, to whom every man was to give an account? Now if men should commend us for Worshiping, as they teach us, and by Laws require of us contrary to the belief and full perswasion of our own Souls, and Christ condemn and punish us therefore, would it not go hard with us?

Quer. 7. Was it not the Beast that compelled men to Worship, and is he not branded therefore. Rev. 13. But could he by his Laws and Penalties compel any, whose Names were written in the Book of Life, to his Worship? others indeed he did compel, and cause to Worship, as may be seen in that Chapter.

Quer. 8. Is not Christ's Kingdom Spiritual? are not the weapons of his welfare Spiritual? are they not mighty, through God, to convince and establish men in the Truth, and in the way of the Gospel-Worship? Would Christ have any People forced by outward Compulsion, to Serve or Worship him? Whosoever will, let him come, saith he; and his people are a willing People, and God loveth a Chearfull giver and a Chearfull worshipper. Is not compulsion a great argument against that Church and Ministry, that useth it, that they want the Spiritual Weapons? that they want the Authority and Power of the true Church and Ministry, and so are fain to seek to supply it by the Authority and Power of Man? For that which is of man, if it were not held up by Man, would fall: but the Truth will grow and increase, and that which is of God will stand, and out-Live all the Violence, and Oppositions of Men. And one thing is worthy of very serious Consideration concerning this Worship, which there is such striving to compel men to, which is this; What kind of Persons they are that dissent from it, and what they are, for the Generality, that so cry it up. Are not many of them very Loose, Prophane, Swearers, Cursers, excessive Drinkers, yea some of them Atheists? Is there not a ground of jealousie at least, if not a strong Argument against that Worship and way of Religion which pleaseth these?

Can that which came from God and is of God, please Corrupt man? And who are they that dissent from and dare not practise it? Are they not men of tender Consciences, and that fear to offend the Lord, and who seek after that Religion and Worship, wherein there is Truth, Life, Vertue and Power? Now which of these are likeliest to know the Truth, and to be taught of the Lord the true Worship.

O that these things were seriously considered of: for though men were Wicked and Prophane themselves, yet if they did not oppose that which is good, but could suffer others quietly to serve, and fear the Lord; neither their Sin nor danger would be so great.

He

HE that Ruleth over men, must be just, Ruling in the fear of God; Now he that is just and Ruleth in the fear of God, cannot afflict or punish any for fearing God or for worship which they perform to him in his fear. Shall not he that made the World, be Worshipped by his Children and Servants, according as he requires of them? but shall the Authorities of this World oppose him therein, and with all their might stop and hinder, (as much as in them lies) his Children and Servants from obeying him? Now the Lord God of Heaven and Earth (who is above all and hath Power over all) knoweth; that not in opposition to Authority, but in the fear of his Name, do we (who are called Quakers) meet together to worship him as he hath required of us; and that if we should not so do, we should Sin against him, and be guilty of Rebellion against the King of Kings, who is able to save and destroy both Body and Soul for ever. And in this case it is that Christ hath bid us not fear him that can kill the Body and can go no further, but rather to fear him, who can kill both Body and Soul and cast them into Hell.

O that the Magistrates of this Nation were just, Ruling in the fear of God; could they then afflict those that fear him, as they do; even such as are taught by him to Love and Pray for their Enemies? Is not there work enough for the Magistrates Sword against manifest wicked men, but it must still be turned against those that fear the Lord? Will ye provoke the Lord to the utmost? are ye stronger than he? will ye put it to the proof, whether he be able to deliver his People or no? Remember, the Nations are but as the drop of a Bucket, and as the small dust of the Ballance before him? What then is the wisdom and strength of One, Two, Three or Four Nations, to his wisdom and strength?

This is written in our Hearts, that God is to have his due, as well as Cæsar his: and that God is to have his due in the first place, but Cæsar after God, and in subjection to God. But if there be an absolute necessity put upon us by men, (which they ought not to do) either of disobeying God, or Cæsar, we do really believe that question of some of the Apostles, in this case to be very weighty and worthy to be duly considered, Acts. 4. 19. Whether it be right in the Sight of God, to hearken unto you more than unto God, judge ye, (for we cannot but obey the Lord our God in what he hath required and doth require of us.) And truly if we should so do, great and dreadfull woe, would be upon our Souls, and we should lose the enjoyment of God's presence, and the peace which passeth all understanding, which we cannot but value above our Estates, Liberties or what ever outward thing we can enjoy, or possess in this World: above our very Lives, yea it were far better for every one of us, to lose our lives in our Faithful Testimony to the true Worship of God in Spirit and Truth, which he hath taught us, and required us to practise, and give our Testimony to, than to be found unfaithful, and disobedient to him herein.

Concerning

Concerning the

Diſpenſation of the Goſpel,

OR THE

Diſpenſation of the Son in Spirit,

Which is the

Laſt Diſpenſation

VVhereby the

Myſtery of God, the Myſtery of the Work of Redemption, is finiſhed in the Heart, all created anew Inwardly, all ſubdued that is contrary to God, the Soul brought into or Tranſlated into the Everlaſting Kingdom, and the Kingdom at length delivered up to the Father, and God becomes All in All; where all names ceaſe, and the Pure Eternal Being is known, united to and lived in, after an unutterable manner.

TO know the Father (even the God and Father of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt) as the Fountain or Original Spring of Light, Life, Love, Wiſdom, Power, Holineſs, Righteouſneſs, and all Spiritual and Heavenly Bleſſings.

To know the Son as the way to the Father, as the way to Life, Peace and Bleſſedneſs in the Father.

To know the Sons Spirit, and the Fathers alſo, whereby the Father draws to the Son, and the Son brings to the Father; whereby the Son Quickens, Begets, Renews, Sanctifies, Deſtroyes, Cuts down, Burns up that which is Droſſy, Corrupt and Chaffy: Yea not only the fruits of ſin, but the very Root it ſelf; Yea the very Earth in which the Root grows, and the Heavens that Water the Earth, are conſumed and paſs away inwardly; and a New Heaven and a New Earth is inwardly planted and formed, wherein dwells Righteouſneſs. So that the Cage of Unclean Birds, the place where the Dragons lay, is ſhaken and removed, and the place of the Wicked inwardly known no more. But inſtead thereof there are New Heavens and Earth, even of the New Creation of God: which Earth brings forth the Increaſe of Life, the Fruits of Life, the Seeds and Trees of Righteouſneſs of Gods Sowing, Planting, Grafting, Pruning and cauſing to Grow, that he may be glorified. I ſay,

Thus to know the Father, thus to know the Son, thus to know the Holy Spirit of Light, Life, Love and Righteouſneſs, &c. not notionally in the Brain, or with a comprehenſive Knowledge of the mind, but livingly in the Heart, in the Light that ſhines from the Father and Son, in the Life that ſprings from them, in the Love which is of them (for indeed it is love that gives the bright, purely ſenſible and uniting knowledge.) This is pretious knowledge: and all knowledge of the very ſame things, any otherwiſe than as coming from and held in this this ſpringing Life, is of no Compare with the excellency (for Nature and Vertue) of this kind of knowledge.

Now there have been two great Diſpenſations of the Father, Son, and Spirit. The one figurative; the other ſubſtantial. The one called the Law; the other the Goſpel. For under the Law the Father was made known, the Son made known, the Spirit made known: but all in Figures and outward Wayes of Manifeſtation. God was to that People of the Jews, a Fountain of living Waters; and when they forſook him, and truſted in lying vanities, they forſook the Fountain of their own Mercies. They then forſook the Fountain of living waters, digging to themſelves broken Ciſterns, that could hold no Water.

So the Son was made known under the Types and Figures of the Law, as the King of Righteouſneſs, as the High-Prieſt of God, as the Prophet that God would raiſe up, as the ſpiritual Rock, which yielded the ſpiritual Waters, of which the Soul was to Drink. And they that were a thirſt were to come to him and buy Wine and Milk of him; and encline their ear to him, that they might hear and live, and he would make an everlaſting Covenant with them, even the ſure Mercies of David.

So the Spirit of God, which was Typified under a Pillar of Cloud and Fire in the Wilderneſs, did ſtrive with man before the Law, and was given to the Jews to inſtruct them, and to Plough up their fallow-ground and Circumciſe them inwardly, and to waſh their Hearts from wickedneſs and vain thoughts, that they might not lodge in them.

But all this was not properly (in the Spirit and Power of it) the Diſpenſation of the Law: but hid in a Myſtery, and running under ground, as I may ſo ſay. This was from another Covenant, and part of another Covenant, than the Covenant of the Law, though in the time of the Law. For there was another Covenant, which Moſes declared of beſides the Covenant of the Law made in Horeb, which was the word of Life, or Word of Faith in the Mouth and Heart, which teacheth the ſubſtance of the Law, and alſo gives power to fulfill the Righteouſneſs of the Law, to them that hear and receive its voice, in the Faith which it gives or begets. And ſo the Father of ſpirits was known in the time of the Law. Chriſt the Redeemer was known to live, yea to live in the heart, in the time of the Law. The free Spirit, the Spirit of Love, was received, and the Preſence of God felt and enjoyed by Gods Calebs, Joſhuahs and Davids (by Men after Gods own Heart) in the time of the Law. Moſes had his meekneſs, and tenderneſs and was made faithful in all Gods Houſe by the Spirit of Chriſt, this meek, Lamb-like Spirit.

Now when the Shadowes came to an end, Chriſt the ſubſtance was to come. The everlaſting King, the everlaſting High-Prieſt, the everlaſting Prophet was to appear. The everlaſting Rock and Holy Builder was to appear, and raiſe up Davids Tabernacle in Spirit, and Miniſter in the true Sanctuary by his Light, by his Life, by his Power, by his Righteous Spirit. There is not another Tabernacle to be built, not another Temple, not another Jeruſalem than the Heavenly Jeruſalem; not another Mount Sion to be known or come to, than the Goſpel-Mount Sion; not another God, than God the Judge of all in the Goſpel-ſtate: Not another Word or Law of Life, than the Law which goeth forth out of Sion, and the word that iſſueth out from this Heavenly Jeruſalem; not another water to waſh the Soul with, not another Blood to Sprinkle the Conſcience with, not another Spirit to enlighten, quicken, keep alive and comfort, than the Spirit of Light, Life and Love from God, which reconciles unto God, and brings into the Goſpel-Righteouſneſs, Reſt and Peace, and eſtabliſheth the ſoul therein.

So now, feeling the ſpirit of the Son, and being led by him to the Father, and the Father with the Son, by the Holy Spirit creating me anew, enlightning me, quickening me, raiſing me in Life, circumciſing my heart to love, I am come to Life, and at reſt in him that lives in me, and works in me, and gives me to live and work and reſt in him. For there are the Sabbath-dates works, even works of Love, works of Life, works of Righteouſneſs and Holineſs, works that the Lord works in the ſouls in whom he dwells and reſts, and which they in the pure Reſt

Peace,

Peace and Joy of Life, work in the Lord their God, who works all their works in them and for them.

Now in this Goſpel Diſpenſation or in this Diſpenſation of the Son in Spirit, all other Diſpenſations are gathered into and wrapped up, and throughly experienced by the ſoul, that Travels with and is led by Chriſt, in this his Goſpel-Diſpenſation.

As firſt, there's Moſes in Spirit known and travelled through. There is the Miniſtration of the Law in the Spirit inwardly commanding known, heard, felt, received, before the Goſpel-Power is given to perform. And here is hard travell, and ſore exerciſes. Here the Father is known commanding, and the ſoul conſents and would fain obey: but findes the Law in the members, rebelling againſt the Law, which the mind hath a ſenſe of, and deſires after.

Then afterwards, comes the Diſpenſation of the Prophets; wherein there are prophecies of a better ſtate to come, openings of the Mercy and Love which is to be manifeſted in the latter daies, at the end of theſe tryals and exerciſes, wherein the ſoul hath promiſes from God, that the Righteouſneſs ſhall be revealed, that power to become a ſon ſhall be given, and the enemies ſtrength broken, and the bowed down ſoul raiſed up, from under his Oppreſſion, and the Lord ſhall Tread him under the Feet of the Poor and Needy, and the Hungry, and Thirſty ſhall be filled with Righteouſneſs, and the Meek come to inherit God's Earth, and the Beggar come from the Dunghil, raiſed up in the Power of Life, to ſit among Princes, even the Princes in the Heavenly Glory of God's Everlaſting Kingdom.

After this, ſucceeds John's Miniſtry in Spirit, even the levelling the Mountains, the raiſing up the Valleys, the preparing the Way for the King of Glory, that He may come in, and reveal His Glory inwardly. For not in the time of the Law inwardly, nor in the time of the Prophecies inwardly: but after the Soul is exerciſed, and prepared inwardly (that being waſted which hindered, that raiſed up which lay low, that made ſtraight which lay crooked, that made plain that was rough; and ſo the Way is prepared, and fitted for the great Appearance of the great God and Saviour, in the pure, bright Goſpel-Glory, Spirit and Power) Doth the King come ſuddenly into His Temple? Not when the Foundation is laid: but when Sion is built up. Doth God appear in his Glory therein? Read Iſa. 40. 3, 4, 5. and conſider. After John's coming in a Body of Fleſh, and preparing the Way by his outward Miniſtry: Chriſt came in a Body of Fleſh, and was revealed as the only Begotten of the Father, full of Grace and Truth, by the Life, Spirit, and Power that that Body was filled with. And after John comes in Spirit, and prepares the Way in any Heart, by the mighty and effectual Operation of his Miniſtry there, then Chriſt comes after him in Spirit, in the great Power and Glory of the Father, and the Father is revealed, and the Son alſo in the Spirit of Light, Life, Love, and Righteouſneſs, and the Glory of the Lord is beheld with open Face, in the Glaſs of Life and Righteouſneſs, and the Soul is changed into the ſame Image, and partakes of the Heavenly Glory, and is Married, or Joyned to the Lord, to become one Spirit with Him, and hath Fellowſhip with the Father and the Son, in the Light of Life: and this is the Goſpel-State, and Glory, and there is not another.

Now take one Scripture more, which ſums up all Diſpenſations, and ſets up the Diſpenſation of the Son in Spirit, as the laſt, as the Diſpenſation of the laſt Dayes. 'Tis Heb. 1. 1. Read but what things are ſpoken of, to be brought to paſs in the laſt Dayes, of the great Goſpel-Glory, to be revealed then, of the perfect redeeming to God, and centring in Him, of being married to Him, and becoming one with Him, &c. and of the Son's being the Miniſter in the Goſpel-State, by the Spirit and Power of the endleſs Life, to bring it all forth, and Accompliſh it in the Husbandry, and Building of God. Conſider the place: at ſundry times, and in divers manners God ſpake in times paſt, by Moſes, by the Prophets, by John: but now the laſt Dayes are come, now the laſt Diſpenſation is come, now the Covenant wherein God himſelf is the Teacher, is come, now the time of Building the Sion, the Jeruſalem, wherein God himſelf will dwell for Ever, is come; now the Light of the City of God is come, which is an Eternal nal Light, an unchangeable Light. Now the Spirit of Love, which brings up the Gospel-life, is come, and Edifies the Holy Gospel-building, in the Gospel-Love and Life. Oh the light, oh the life, oh the love, oh the righteousness, oh the divine nature, which is now revealed, and partooke of in the Son! He is the Brightness of the Fathers Glory: and thither he brings his. What would ye have more? He destroys Anti-christ inwardly, by the Brightness of his coming or appearing. Oh the Desolations that he makes inwardly, of Sin and Iniquity in the Hearts of his! He is the express Image (or Engraving) of his Fathers Substance: and he makes thee, who art one with him in his Spirit of Life and Love, of the same Image with him. He Translateth thee out of Satans Image, into his very Image. His Light, his Life, his Love, his Righteousness, his divine Nature doth not wax old as a Garment, but endure, and remain the same for ever. He is Alpha and Omega. There was nothing before him, nor shall be after him. There is no other thing, appertaining to Life and Godliness; but what he now Dispenseth in the Gospel: no other Kingdom, but what stands in the Power of the Life and Righteousness, which is now revealed in the Peace, Love, and Joy of the Spirit. The Gospel-building is his House: and he is Faithful in all his House, as a Son, having received all Power from his Father, to gather fully, to preserve fully, to build up fully, to leaven fully with Life and Righteousness, even in Soul, Body, and Spirit, to lead into the holy land, and to enable to keep the holy Sabbath there, even to cease from Sin, and every thing that burdens the life; and to rest in God, and not work any thing of our selves any more, but to feel the Spirit of Life, Love, and Power, work in us. And his Yoke of Life, his Yoke of Love, his Yoke of the Power, is the pure Gospel-liberty Comprehended in. The Lord Jesus did appear in Flesh: but now he appears in Spirit, and is Spirit, giving himself to be Life, and Spirit in his. And where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is Liberty: and every thing which is of a fleshly Nature, which deceiveth, and imbondageth, wherein the pure Liberty is not, he discovereth, and keepeth his out of, that so they may stand fast in the pure Liberty of the Light, Life, and Love of his Holy Spirit, wherewith he maketh his Free.

SOME EXPERIENCES,

Which it hath pleased the Lord to give me concerning His Way, His Truth, His Church and People, against whom the Gates of Hell cannot prevail.

First, IT hath pleased the Lord to manifest to me, that there is a light wherewith he (in his tender Mercy, Love, and Good-Will) enlighteneth Mankind. This light I have found my own Soul enlightened with, even from my very Child-hood, though I never took Notice of it, to be what it is, till the Lord manifested it to me. But ever since it pleased the Lord to manifest it to me, and to turn my Mind to it, I have found it to shine inwardly in my Heart, even as the outward light of the Sun shineth outwardly to the outward Eye.

Secondly, By this light it hath pleased the Lord to give me the distinction of things inwardly in my own Heart. The Lord hath shewn me by it, Evil and Good in my own Heart; and taught me to choose the Good, and refuse the Evil. So that, as my Eye hath been turned to this light, and kept to this light, I have known, and walked in the Way of life: for the Power which hath appeared in this light, hath Created me anew, made me a Child of light, and taught, and caused me to walk in this light, as God is in the light. And in this light I have experienced Fellowship with the Father, who is light, and with his Son, who is light also, and with all the Children of light.

Thirdly, In this light (being gathered out of Darkness into it, and abiding in it) I have had remission of Sins. For no Sin is laid to the charge of any soul that abides in this light; but only to such as continue in Darkness, or go out from it into Darkness. This I have had the constant Experience of, from my first distinct Knowledge of God's Truth: for I never found at any time any Condemnation, while I abode in the pure light of God's holy Spirit, and blessed Witness: but if at any time I hearkened to the Enemy, the Prince of Darkness, and went by his Allurements into Darkness, I still met with Condemnation there.

Fourthly, In this light, I have received Power to become a Son to God. Oh it is unutterable to relate what Power is here received against the Souls Enemies, and to do the Will of God! Indeed, in the light there is Power; yea, full Power, suitable to every Souls condition. There needs no more Power (no not to the highest condition) than what is laid up, and to be received in this light. All the Power of Darkness is Communicated in the Darkness, to the Children of Darkness: and all the Power of light is Communicated in the light, to the Children of light. In the light there is an holy Will, and Ability given dayly more and more; and the unholy Will, and Ability (which troubleth the holy Seed) removed out of the way.

Fifthly, In this light, I know the true Church, the holy gathering by the Gospel-Spirit and Power: for none are the true Church in the Gospel-Dayes, but such. The Law-Church was a Company of Jews after the Flesh, Circumcised in Flesh, to keep the outward law of Commandements: but the Gospel-Church is a company of Believers after the Spirit, Circumcised in Spirit, to keep the inward law, even the law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus, which makes free from the law of Sin and Death. So that all the Gospel-Church are Children of the true Woman, growing up in the holy liberty from the bondage of Sin and Corruption, unto the Royal law of Holiness and Righteousness. So that, being in the light, I see the Children of light, and know that the holy gathering, even the Gospel-Church, are such, and that none else can be of the Gospel-Church, having (out of the light) nothing of the Nature of the Gospel-Church or Spirit in them. Ye may as well make a Man without the Nature of a Man, as a Christian without the Nature of a Christian. He was not a Jew outward under the law, without the Nature of a Jew outward: nor is he a Jew inward under the Gospel, without the Nature of a Jew inward. And as the Law-Church consisted of Jews outward: so the Gospel-Church consists of Jews inward; which are Children of light, and not of darkness, and can be known only by them who are in the true light. So that the Lord having Mercifully gathered me into his Gospel-light, these things (in his Gospel-light) have been clearly seen by me.

Sixthly, In this light I know the Gospel-Worship, the Worship which lies not in the darkness of Man's Apprehensions, but in the light which shines from God in the Heart. For the Children of God are taught in the light, know God their Father in his own pure light, and Worship in the light, wherein they are taught by him to know him. They Worship in the Truth. They are led by the Spirit of light and truth, out of darkness, out of deceit, out of all kind of errour, and unrighteousness: and they Worship in the Truth, and in the Spirit, into which they are led, and in which there is no deceit nor errour. They gather together in the Son's Name (in his living Name, Oh wait to understand that!) And there the Son is in the midst of them, and his life and spirit intercedes in them; and in his Name they offer up the Righteous Sacrifices, the Holy Sacrifices of life, and the pure Incense, in which the Father is greatly delited, and smells a sweet smell, and savour of Rest.

Seventhly, In this light I have experienced the good Conscience, even the Con-

ſcience which Anſwers to Truth, and will not Anſwer to Unrighteouſneſs. Indeed, in this light I have felt my Heart ſprinkled from an Evil Conſcience (I teſtify it in deep humility of Spirit, and in great Thankfulneſs towards the Lord.) The Darkneſs defiles and ſtains: but in the pure light the Heart is waſhed, cleanſed, and ſanctified; from whence ariſeth the Anſwer of a good Conſcience towards God. And in this light the Conſcience is ſtill kept good: but though it have its Habitation in the light, if it keep not its Habitation, but go out from thence into the Darkneſs, it is ſoon defiled and corrupted again.

Eighthly, I have, and (bleſs the Lord) dayly do ſtill experience Faith, the Heavenly Faith of the New Birth, the precious Gift of God to his own Children, in this pure, bleſſed light of the Son of God, which ſhines from the Heavenly Glory into the Hearts of his redeemed Ones. Unbelief came at firſt from the Darkneſs, and lodgeth in the Darkneſs, iſſuing thence into thoſe that give Ear to the dark Spirit: but Faith ſprings from the holy Root of Life in the Heart. Here I cannot but believe, and alſo know Him in whom I do believe, who is the holy Power of Life and Light, who oppoſeth, and overcometh the Prince of Darkneſs, who hath the power of Death. And in the light God carries on the Work of Faith with Power, and unbelief, which ſtops it, is not able to enter the Minds of thoſe, who are ſtayed upon the Lord in his pure Light.

Ninethly, In the light I taſt and enjoy the pure Peace, which paſſeth Man's Underſtanding. In the Darkneſs is condemnation and trouble, as Man's Mind comes to be awakened: but in the light is Righteouſneſs, Juſtification, and Peace, to all that dwell and abide there. Perfect peace the Mind here grows up into, which the Enemy cannot break or interrupt. Indeed, in the Darkneſs, out of the Light, the Peace that is there is eaſily broken: but never in the Light is the true Peace broken.

Tenthly, In the light, I have experience of the Killing or Mortifying of that, which is contrary to the light. I Kill, I make Alive, ſaith the Lord. Indeed he doth ſo in and by his light. Doth not Light expel Darkneſs in the Figure? Much more doth it ſo in the Subſtance. Light drives away Darkneſs, Baniſheth Darkneſs, Deſtroyeth Darkneſs, in the Mind that is truly enlightened by the Lord, and ſingly gives up to his Light. O the deſolations of Darkneſs (the Works of Darkneſs, the Power of Darkneſs) that God makes in the Hearts of ſuch as are ſenſible of, and ſubject to the Light of his Son ſhining there. The Lord there cuts his Work ſhort in Righteouſneſs, making an end of the Kingdom of Darkneſs, revealing his own Kingdom inſtead thereof, and gathering and tranſlating the Mind thereinto.

Eleventhly, In the Light I have experience of the New Creation in Chriſt Jeſus, even the paſſing away of the Old things, and the New things coming inſtead thereof. The Old heart gone, the hard heart gone, and a new and tender one inſtead thereof. The Old Law of Sin and Death taken out of the way, and the Law of the Spirit of Life in Chriſt Jeſus received in the Place thereof. And the fear of the New-Covenant put into the New-Heart, (in which is the beginning and perfection of the Heavenly Wiſdom) and the Spirit of God put within to enlighten, enliven and fill the mind with Life and Righteouſneſs, and cauſe it to walk with God in the New and Living way, and to know his Statutes and Judgments and do them.

Twelfthly, In the Light, the Goſpel-Love is known and ſprings. In the darkneſs is enmity: but in the light is love. It is true indeed, that here the whole law is fulfilled, even of loving the Lord God with all the Heart, Soul, Mind and Strength, and ones neighbour as ones ſelf. Yea here one is not only commanded to love Enemies, but taught and enabled ſo to do. Yea, keep but here in the light, no enmity can ſpring up, but only love to the greateſt enemies; whom we have no coals of wrath, but only of love to heap upon.

Thirteenthly, Here I meet with and partake of a cool, meek, patient, tender, gentle, quiet, lowly Spirit, which is of the Lord and of much eſteem with him. This is the Lambs Nature, who is light: and this alſo is their Nature, who are of the Lamb, and walk in the Light of the Lamb. All Eſaus roughneſs, all Iſh- maels diſdain and ſcoffing, all Cains envy and cruelty towards his Brother is of the darkneſs; whereof Cain, Iſhmael, and Eſau, are, and wherein they walk and their off-ſpring: but this is not found in them who are light in the Lord, and who walk in the light, as he is in the light. And in patience to poſſeſs the Soul, and to be tender towards Sinners, meek, quiet, and humble, before the Lord, and of a Gentle Spirit towards all. Oh who, beſides the Children of light, know the preciouſneſs of being thus Created by the Lord, and of thus walking before him; In the light of the Lord Jeſus, in the renewings of the mind by him, in the life and Power, wherein he anew Createth and Changeth, theſe things become Natural. For in the light, whatever is of the Darkneſs, whatever is corrupt, whatever is of the Devils Kingdom, is diſcovered and removed from them that take up the light's yoke; and a contrary Nature planted in the mind inſtead thereof, which brings forth quite other fruits, even of a contrary kind, to what the Darkneſs brought forth before. So that as it was ſaid of Chriſt, Behold the lamb of God: ſo it may ſaid of them, behold the lambs of God, who are ſweet, meek, gentle, lowly in heart like him, bringing forth fruits like him, and walking like ſheep among wolves, as he alſo walked.

Laſtly, (to mention no more) here, in the light I meet with certainty, aſſurance, ſatisfaction, yea infallibility. I meet with the evidence & demonſtration, of Gods ſpirit, which is infallible. I meet with God's witneſs, which is an infallible witneſs. I meet with God's Spirit, which is an Infalible ſpirit, who infallibly leads into all Truth, and infalibly guides in the Truth. I meet with an infallible ſhepherd, who hath an infallible Voice, and gives to his ſheep an infallible ear, wherewith they infallibly hear. He opens an infallible eye, and gives to it an infallible ſight of God, and the Heavenly myſteries of his Kingdom. The Spirit breaths infallibly, begets infallibly, leades infallibly, Creates a New heart, a right ſpirit; which heart, which ſpirit, is of Gods infallible Nature like him; for that which is born of the ſpirit is ſpirit. That which is born of mans fallible ſpirit and wiſdom is fallible: but that which is born of Gods ſpirit and Heavenly Wiſdom, is of the Nature of his ſpirit and Wiſdom: and hence it is that Wiſdom is juſtified of her Children. The Apoſtle ſpeaks to the Galathians of having begun in the ſpirit (Ch. 3. 3.) and did they not begin in that which is infallible? and if they went on in the ſpirit, did they not go on in that which is infallible? I never found the light deceive me, nor did I ever find the Birth of God's ſpirit, the holy Elect ſeed deceived in me. And the new and living way, wherein this Birth walks is infallible, in which there is no erring by thoſe who eye the Lord, and follow his ſpirit therein. This is the way caſt up (the way of holineſs, life and peace) for the ranſom and redeemed of the Lord to walk in, in the Goſpel-dayes, in which they way-farring men, though fools, ſhall not err. Iſa 35. 8. The Lord who hath promiſed, is able to make it good. The Lord make it more and more manifeſt, and bring more and more people into it, and keep them in the guidance of his bleſſed ſpirit of truth, that they may ſee his light, and walk therein, and not let in any temptations, from the ſpirit of darkneſs, and ſo follow him, and miſs of the guide unto, and the preſerver in the new and living way.

POST-SCRIPT.

I do not ſay that I, as a man, am infallible, or that any of us as men are infallible: but God's light, God's grace, God's truth, God's ſpirit, God's wiſdom and power is infallible; and ſo far as we partake of that, are gathered into and abide in that, we partake of that wich is infalible, and are gathering into and abide in that which is infallible. And O let not men reſt in, or be contented with, that Knowledg which is fallible, but preſs after Unity and fellowſhip with the Lord in his infallible Spirit, there being no true Union nor Fellowſhip with him in any thing that is falible.

O that Proteſtants, Papiſts, Jews, Turks, Indians did all know and own this light, that that here might be an end of the Darkneſs and miſery, wherewith man-kind hath been ſo long overwhelmed, and happineſs both in particular Nations and in the whole World might be experienced in the ſtead thereof. For mens erring from the light and ſpirit of God, hath been the cauſe of all their Miſery: and their returning to the light and ſpirit of God (from which all have erred) will take away the cauſe of their miſery; and in it (as they faithfully ſubject to the Lord and travel therein) they ſhall find his Power, Love and Mercy revealed, towards their reſtoring unto happineſs.

Concerning the

Times and Seaſons,

Both which have Been, and which are yet to Be.

WHen God made Man in his own Image, placing him in Paradiſe, and giving him Dominion over the Works of his Hands: Then was a Time of great Joy to Adam and Eve; and ſhould have ſtill been ſo to Them, and all Mankind, had they continued in the State wherein they were Created.

When Eve, and by hear Means Adam, hearkned to the Voice of the Serpent, diſobeyed the Lord their Creatour, aſpiring after Wiſdom, and the Knowledge of Good and Evil out of God's Way: Then was a Seaſon of Miſery to Adam, and all his Poſterity; the holy and heavenly Image being loſt, and a curſed Image gained in the ſtead thereof; and ſo Man thruſt out of Paradiſe, and the Bleſſedneſs thereof, into the Earth, which was Curſed for Man's Sake. So, in this State, Sin and the Curſe is Man's Portion, inſtead of the Holyneſs and Bleſſedneſs, which his Creatour had allotted him.

When God promiſed the Bleſſed Seed, and revealed himſelf to the Fathers in the Faith, begetting Sons to himſelf, who heard his voice, obeyed and walked with him: then was a bleſſed time and ſeaſon to them, though ſin and Death Reigned in the World. But when the Sons of God alſo forgat him, and mingled their Seed with the Corupted World, then the Deluge came, ſweeping away all, but Noah with his Family, and the Creatures ſaved in the Ark.

When the Lord choſe the Jews to be a People to himſelf, from amidſt all Nations, delivering them by his outſtretched arm out of Egypt, deſtroying Pharaoh his and his Hoſt, and led them through the Wilderneſs, fitting the ſucceeding Generation for the good Land, bringing them into it, bleſſing and eſtabliſhing them in it, while they feared him and walked in Covenant with him; then was a bleſſed time and ſeaſon with that People. But when they provoked God, brought his Judgments often, and at laſt utter ruin and deſolation upon themſelves; then were ſeaſons of great Miſery and Diſtreſs, and at laſt of utter deſtruction to them.

While the Gentiles were caſt off, and were no People, being of the corrupt Seed which God hath not choſen, nor had any delight in; and while they knew not the living God, but worſhiped Stocks and Stones, and ſo were liable to the pouring down of his Wrath and Indignation upon all occaſions, and to utter ruin and deſtruction, when their iniquities were full it was a ſad time and ſeaſon with them, wherein they were eſtranged from the life of God, and his Holy Covenant of Promiſe, and were without God in the World.

When

When the Lord Preached the Gospel to the Gentiles, by his holy Apostles and Ministers manifesting Christ to them, the hope of Glory, the Mystery hid from Ages and Generations, engrafting them into the Holy Vine and Olive-Tree, giving them to partake of the sweetness and fatness thereof, even of the Riches of his Grace and Goodness in his Son, who is eternal Life, and gives Eternal Life to all his: then was such a time and season of Love, Grace, Mercy and Peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ (both towards Jews and Gentiles) as had not been known in the World before.

When the Christian Church apostatized, the love in many waxing cold, men minding the name of Christianity, and form of Godliness, but not the Life and Power; and so the Lord was provoked against them, to remove the Candlestick out of its place, and give up the outward Court to the Gentiles; and so the Spirit was lost or departed from, the Life lost, the Power lost, the everlasting Gospel hid from mens eyes, and darkness and mens inventions set up instead thereof, in Nations, Tongues and Peoples, and the Witnesses to any appearances of Gods living Truth and holy Power persecuted: then was a sad time, then was a season of Death and Darkness reigning over all Nations, Kindreds, Tongues and People, and the Cup of Fornication drunk by them all, and all generally bewitched by it, except those whose names were written in the Lambs Book of Life. This was the greatest time of darkness (wherein the Mystery of Iniquity most deeply wrought in the deepest wayes of deceit) that ever was in the World.

When the Church comes again out of the Wilderness, when the Spirit and Power of God builds up again the Gospel-Church in its Primitive Glory, when the Everlasting Gospel is Preached again to all Nations, Kindreds, Tongues and Languages, in the Authority and Power of God, when the Spirit of the Lord is poured out plentifully on his Sons and Daughters, and they prophesie, walk and live in it, when God dwells and walks in his people, and his true light shines in them, dispelling the darkness throughly, and filling them with the Glory and Majesty of the Lord, and they ascend up, out of the Worlds Spirit and Nature, into his Spirit and Nature, even in the sight of their Enemies, and the full wrath of the Lamb be poured out on Babylon, and the full Glory revealed in Sion: then shall there be such a day of brightness and pure Heavenly Glory, as shall dazle the eyes of all beholders.

But the passing away of this night, and the bringing forth of this day, will be very terrible and dreadful, both in particulars, and in nations. The Kingdoms of this World must indeed become the Kingdom of our Lord and of his Christ: but it will require great power to bring it about. The wrath and strength of the Spirit of Darkness, will be working against the Lord and his power to the utmost: and the more it works against the Lord and his power, the more will the Lords power, and the wrath of the Lamb be revealed against that Spirit, and against all its Devices and Undertakings, against the Counsel and Power of the Lord. O blessed are they that are of the Lambs Nature and Spirit, of his Righteousness and Meekness: for the wrath of the Lamb will not be kindled against them; but he will be a munition of Rocks unto them, and their inward life shall be preserved, and they shall enjoy peace with the Lord in the midst of all that shall outwardly befall them.

THe Everlasting Gospel hath been Preached in this Nation, (and also other Nations) just after that very manner, as it was fore-told it should; Rev. 14. 16. Saying with a loud Voice; Fear God, and give Glory to Him: For the Hour of his Judgment is come; and Worship Him that made Heaven, and Earth, and the Sea, and Fountains of Waters.

Now,

Now, they that have heard this Bleſſed Sound of the Everlaſting Goſpel, and have learned to fear God, with this Fear which the Goſpel calls for, (which is the Fear of the New Covenant, which is not taught by the Precept of men, but which God puts into the Heart in the new Covenant) and to give glory to him, bowing to him, and learning Righteouſneſs of him, in the hour of his Judgment upon their ſouls; and have worſhiped him, and him only, in his ſpirit and truth, which is the Goſpel-Worſhip, or the worſhip of God, according to the everlaſting Goſpel. Theſe are accounted with God Knowers and Obeyers of the Goſpel of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt. Theſe are a peculiar People to God, whom he hath taken an eſpecial care of, and whom he will hide under the ſhadow of his wings, and in the ſecret of his pavilion, while his wrath is poured out upon Peoples and Nations.

But others, that have not been gathered under the ſhadow of Gods wings, by the preaching of the everlaſting Goſpel, who have not known or obeyed the ſound thereof: when the ſtorm comes, when the wrath of God is revealed againſt all Ungodlineſs and Unrighteouſneſs of men (whereof this Nation is full, and hath had ſeveral tokens of Gods great diſpleaſure for a long time) they will not find a ſhelter, though they flye to the Rocks and Mountains to hide and cover them from the wrath of the Lamb; but will lye open to the ſtroke of the overflowing ſcourge, which uſeth to overflow Nations, after ſuch a Deluge of ſin, as hath long overflowed this Nation. O that men could hear the voice of the Rod, and him who hath appointed it, and ſeek an hiding place, and enter into the Chamber of reſt and quietneſs with the Lord, untill the indignation be overpaſt.

Now unto any, whoſe hearts are touched with the fear of the Lord, and the ſenſe of his Righteous Judgments and wrath due to this Nation (which doubtleſs have come in part already, and are coming faſter and faſter, and entring into the very heart and bowels of it) and who would eſcape the ſtroke of Gods dreadful hand, and find inward reſt and peace with him in the day of outward trouble and ſore diſtreſs.

To ſuch, a few words of advice, very early this morning lay upon my heart.

Firſt, Seek the Lord (O do not ſeek the World, but ſeek the Lord, who Redeems out of the Spirit of the World, where the Wrath comes, and upon which it is to ſeize:) And ſeek Righteouſneſs, ſeek Meekneſs; it may be, ye ſhall be hid in the Day of the Lord's Anger, Zeph. 2. Verſ. 3.

Secondly, Wait upon God, that ye may learn of him to Keep your Heart with all Diligence; for out of it are the Iſſues of Life. If ever ye know the Iſſues of Life, ye muſt know them there: And if ye know the Iſſues of Life there, and they ſweetly iſſue up, and flow into your Souls, they will Refreſh and Delight you in the midſt of all the ſore Afflictions, Troubles, and Diſtreſſes, which can befal you outwardly. Read Pſal. 46. and Conſider.

Thirdly, Mind who Knocks at the Door of your Hearts, whether it be the Deſtroyer, or Saviour of the Soul: for both theſe Knock often at the Door; but Men are not aware thereof. And wait to receive Power from God to be Faithful Doorkeepers, that ye may keep the Door of your Hearts ſhut againſt the Enemy, when he Knocks with any Temptation; and may open them to the Lord, when he Knocks with any Motion, or pure Stirring of Life.

Fourthly, Wait to know, and experience truly, and alſo more and more, the Chriſtian Spirit and State; the State of a Servant to the Father, and his Son Chriſt, and the State of a Souldier, the State of a Pilgrim and Holy Traveller: to be doing the Lord's Work, (the Lord's Will, and not your own) to be Fighting the Lord's Battles, againſt His, and the Soul's Enemies; and to be Travelling farther and farther out of the Spirit, Mind, and Nature of this World (wherein the Kingdom of Darkneſs ſtands) into God's Spirit; where the Kingdom of the dear Son is known, and entred into, by thoſe that deny their own Wiſdom, and become as little Children.

Many have the Form of Godlyneſs, who are not Accepted of the Lord; but ſuch only as know God's Power, and are led by his Spirit, ſuch are indeed in Chriſt Jeſus: for the holy Power graffs the Soul, Mind and Spirit of a Man, into the holy Stock and Root of Life. And ſuch know the New Creation in Chriſt, and the Works of the New Creation, which they perform and walk in, (being God's Workmanſhip, Created in Christ Jesus unto Good Works.) And here the Old Things pass away, (which can pass away by no other Means, but by the Revealing of the Arm and Power of God inwardly in the heart, and by its Effectual Operation there) and so all Things become New. Now, where all Things become new; where the Heart is new, the Mind and Spirit new, the Desires new, the Joyes and Delights new, the Life and Conversation new; and the Soul walks before the Lord, not after the flesh, but after the Spirit, even in the Newness thereof; What is there for the Wrath of God to seize upon?

Though the Lord be a Consuming Fire; yet it is to his Enemies, to Sin, to Unrighteousness, to the Chaffy, Earthly Mind and Nature: He is not so to his Children, to the Wheat, to the Holy Seed, to them that are New-Created and Cleansed by him; to them that fear him, love him, walk with him, keep his Commandments, obey the Gospel of his Son; denying all for him, and following the Shepherd, and Leader of their Souls, out of all Untruth and Unrighteousness, into all Truth and Righteousness. Surely, these shall not only be able to abide, but dwell with the devouring Fire, and everlasting Burnings: and that shall be their Safety and Shelter, when the Flames thereof break forth to Consume and Burn up the Chaff every-where.

THe Gospel-Religion is very Precious, being inwardly felt and Experienced in the Life and Power of it: But a bare Profession of it, out of the Life and Power of Godliness, is of no Value in the Sight of God, nor is it of any Profit or Advantage to the Soul.

O that ye could hear the Lords voice, who crieth aloud to the Profeſſors of this Age to ceaſe from man! Ceaſe from man in thy ſelf, O thou who haſt ever had any taſt of the pure Grace and Power of God. Ceaſe from thine own underſtanding, thine own affections, thine own zeal, thine own gathered knowledge and wiſdom from the Scriptures, with all the ſparks of thine own kindling, that God may be all in thee, and his eternal habitation be raiſed up in thee, and perfected, and thou ſwallowed up and comprehended in it for ever. O what a Work hath God to drive mans Reaſon and Wiſdom out of his Temple, out of his Scriptures, out of all his holy things! He that hath an ear, let him hear, for the ſake of his ſouls eternal Peace. Alas, Alas how many ſtumble at, and blaſpheme that, which alone can ſave the Soul. There have been many diſpenſations of, but there is but one living Truth, but one Subſtance, but one Arm of Salvation: And he that ſtumbles at the thing it ſelf, how can he be ſaved by it? It is eaſie miſunder ſtanding a former diſpenſation, reading it in the Letter, and ſo to miſs of the Salvation hoped for by it. The Jews opened the Meſſiah (according to the Scriptures, as they thought) but rejected him in the way he came to ſave them in. Now if Chriſtians have gathered ſuch a kind of knowledge from the Letter of the Scriptures, as they did, how can they avoid the ſame error, namely, of owning Chriſt according to the Scriptures: as they think, but rejecting him as he comes to ſave them, rebelling againſt his living miniſtry, and the pure power and demonſtration of his Spirit, becauſe it appears weak and low, becauſe it doth not appear the ſame thing to them which they expect to be ſaved by, according to their apprehenſions of the Scriptures? Thus reading the Scriptures in another Spirit and Wiſdom then that which wrote them, they muſt needs conclude and gather another thing from them, then what is written in them, and ſo make that a means to them of erring from the life, which was written to teſtifie of, and point to the living Principle from whence Life and Salvation ſprings, and where alone it is to be had.

Which are ſaid to induce the Court of Boſton in New-England to make that Order or Law of Baniſhment upon pain of Death againſt the Quakers; As alſo of the Grounds and Conſiderations by them produced to manifeſt the warrantableneſs and juſtneſs both of their making and executing the ſame, which they now ſtand deeply engaged to defend, having already thereupon put two of them to death.

The Stone the Builders refuſed, is become the head of the Corner. This is the Lords' doing it is marvelous in our eyes, Pſal. 118. 22, 23:

I thank thee O Father, Lord of Heaven and Earth, becauſe thou haſt hid theſe things from the Wiſe and Prudent, and haſt revealed them unto Babes. Even ſo Father, for ſo it ſeemed good in thy ſight, Mat. 11. 25, 26.

To the Rulers, Teachers, and People of New-England.

MAny a weary ſtep hath my poor Soul fetched, and many difficulties and hardſhips hath it met with in its purſuit after truth. The immortal ſeed hath deeply ſuffered in me through the miſts of darkneſs, and various ſtratagems and powers of the enemy, which have often encompaſſed me, and diſtreſſed my Spirit exceedingly. I have known many battels, received deep Wounds, yea and have been in deaths and graves often, where the living ſeed hath languiſhed for want of the living ſpring. Let this thing to the praiſe and glory of the preſerver of Iſrael may I ſpeak, the ſence of God and the ſavour of his Spirit was never wholly taken away from me, though many times I knew it not, but was too apt to diſtruſt diſtruſt it, being ignorant of the way of its appearing in me. The Scriptures I always exceedingly priz'd, and a deep knowledge of them (from an experimental ſenſe of the things they ſpake of) was beſtowed on me: but I knew not what it was which gave me the knowledge, nor how it ſprang, but went about ſtill to fix it in the letter, and ſo gave away the glory from the Spirit, which ſhines above and beyond the letter, and ought ſo to be acknowledged. Before this deſpiſed people appeared, I was even quite worn out, and ſaid, my hope is cut off from the Lord, there is no ſuch appearance of him to be looked for, as my poor diſtreſſed Soul wants. Live without the preſence of his Spirit I could not, where to meet with his Spirit could I hear no news; and that precious knowledge which I had through the operation of God upon my heart from the living ſpring, the ſame hand which gave me, alſo brake in pieces, and pulled down that inward building which was reared up in my Spirit. What a man of ſorrows I became hereupon, how I mourned all the day long, and roared out after my God all the night ſeaſon, is not to be uttered. And if it might be the Lords pleaſure, O that my miſery might end with me, and that this might be the iſſue of all my ſufferings, to fit me to be a faithful inſtrument in the hand of the Lord for the preſerving of others therefrom! Now this was it which undid me, namely the getting up of the fleſhly wiſdom and underſtanding, which though God had broken in me mightily ſeveral times, yet it ſtill had ſome ſecret device or other to creep in again unto me, and to twine about my Spirit, undiſcerned by me: but this effect ſtill attended it, by degrees (like a canker) it eat out the ſweetneſs and freſhneſs of my life and ſpirit, and exalted that part in me which God hides the myſteries of his Kingdom from. At firſt acquaintance with this rejected people, that which was eternal of God in me opened, and I did immediately in my ſpirit own them as Children of my Father, truly begotten of his life by his own Spirit: but the Wiſe reaſoning part preſently roſe up, contending againſt their uncouth way of appearance, and in that I did diſown them, and continued a ſtranger to them, and a reaſoner againſt them for above twelve months, and by weighing and conſidering things in that part, was ſtill further and further off from diſcerning their leadings by the Life and Spirit of God into thoſe things. But at length it pleaſed the Lord to draw out his Sword againſt that part in me, turning the Wiſdom and Strength thereof backward, and to open that eye in me again, wherewith he had given me to ſee the things of his Kingdom in ſome meaſure from a Child; and then I ſaw and felt them grown in that life and ſpirit, which I through the treachery of the Fleſhly-wiſe part had been eſtranged to, and had adulterated from. And now what bitter days of mourning and lamentation (even for ſome years ſince) I have had over this, the Lord alone fully knows. Oh I have known it to be a bitter thing to follow this Wiſdom in underſtanding of Scriptures, in remembring of Scriptures, in remembring of experiences, and in many more inward ways of workings, that many can bear to hear. The Lord hath judged me for that, and I have born the burden and condemnation of that, which many at this day wear as their Crown. And now what am I at length? A poor Worm, whom can I warn effectually? Whom can I help? Whom can I ſtop from running into the Pit? But though I am nothing, I muſt ſpeak, for the Lord draweth and moveth me: and how unſerviceable ſoever my pity be, yet my Bowels cannot but roul, both towards thoſe that are in miſery, and thoſe that are running into miſery. Read in the fear, and in ſimplicity, what was ſo written; and the Lord open that eye in you which can ſee the way of life, and diſcover the paths of the myſtery of Iniquity in its moſt hidden workings in the heart, that ye ſleep not the ſleep of eternal death, and ſo at laſt be awakened in the Bowels of that wrath and fiery indignation, which that Spirit which erreth from, and tranſgreſſeth the life and light within, can neither bear nor eſcape.

AN

AN EXAMINATION

Of the Grounds or Cauſes which are ſaid to induce the Court of BOSTON in NEW-ENGLAND, to make that Order or Law of Baniſhment upon pain of Death againſt the QUAKERS; As alſo of the Grounds and Conſiderations by them produced to manifeſt the warrantableneſs and juſtneſs, &c.

THat in New-England there hath been a Law made of Baniſhing the Quakers (ſo called) and of death in caſe of return, is well known in theſe parts; but what induced them hereunto, and what juſt grounds and reaſons they had for it, many are not acquainted with, but are very much diſſatisfied concerning their proceedings therein, fearing that they have diſhonoured God, brought a reproach upon the Name of Chriſt and his Goſpel, exceeded the limits of their power, given an ill example of Perſecution. laid a Foundation of hardening their hearts againſt God, and of drawing his heavy Wrath upon them, all which they cannot but be guilty of, in caſe it ſhould be proved that they have been miſtaken, and that theſe People (upon a further ſearch) ſhould appear to them to be of God, as they have already to very many, who have been exceedingly prejudiced againſt them, till they came more meekly to hear and conſider their caſe. For there are many here in Old-England, and in other parts, who once reviled, reproached, and thought they could hardly do bad enough againſt them, who now (in the ſingleneſs of their hearts) can bleſs God for raiſing up ſuch a People, and that they themſelves were not cut off in their blind zeal againſt them, but in the rich mercy of God had a way made for the removing of their prejudices and hard thoughts. and for the opening of their eyes, whereby they came to ſee that theſe are indeed a precious people of God, begotten, brought forth, and guided by his power, and that it is his living truth, which they (in obedience to his living power) are drawn to bear witneſs to, and to hold forth unto the World. And one ſuch teſtimony for them, is of more weight and value in a true Ballance, than thouſands of teſtimonies againſt them from ſuch who are prejudiced, and have not patience to conſider things in equity and uprightneſs of heart, and alſo whoſe intereſt lies another way.

Now meeting of late with a Paper beginning thus, At a general Court held at Boſton the 8th. of October, 1659. (Wherein by way of preface, there is firſt an account given of what induced them to make this Law of baniſhment and death, and then grounds and conſiderations laid down to clear it to be warrantable and juſt) it was upon my heart to conſider and examine theſe, to ſee whether they did ariſe from the Seed of God, and from the true knowledge of the Scriptures by his Spirit, and ſo were weighty to the conſcience which ſingly waits upon God for ſatisfaction about truth or whether they did ariſe from the fleſhly part, and from fleſhly reaſonings upon Scriptures, and ſo were but chaffy, and not able to ſatisfie the weighty conſidering Spirit, as in the ſight of God.

And this I was the more induced to do, becauſe I found Bowels rowling towards them, and a ſenſe of what might eaſily be their ſnare, which hath overtaken and intangled many, for many who have blamed others ſeverely, and really thought how well they themſelves would have amended things, if ever they came into place and and power, yet have failed, and run into the very ſame errour, when they have come to the Tryal. So theſe perſons when they were formerly perſecuted in England, no doubt but thought and intended (if ever they came to be free from it) to lay a foundation againſt it: yet when they come to the point, and feel their condition changed, inſomuch as it was now in their hand to determine what was the way of Worſhip, Church Government, and Order, there lay a great Temptation before them to ſet up what they judged to be right, and to force all others to a conformity to it. Yea now was their great danger, and time to beware, leſt the ſame perſecuting ſpirit did get up in them, which their being perſecuted was a proper means to keep down: And if ſo (if the ſame ſpirit which perſecuted them, got up in them) then they who were once perſecuted, could not poſſibly forbear perſecuting: for that ſpirit will perſecute wherever it gets up. And having laid its foundation of Perſecution under a plauſible cover, then by degrees it more and more vails the eye, hardens the heart, and takes away the tenderneſs which was in the perſons before, while they themſelves were perſecuted. Now I cannot but pity thoſe that fall into the ſnare of the enemy, eſpecially thoſe who are taken into ſo great a Snare, and come to ſo great a loſs of their tenderneſs towards God, his Truths and People, and run ſo great an hazard and danger of the loſs of their own Souls.

The Grounds or Cauſes expreſſed of their making that Law of Baniſhment, are in ſubſtance theſe three.

1. THE coming of the Quakers from foreign parts, and from other Colonies, at ſundry times, and in ſeveral companies and numbers, into the juriſdiction of the Maſſathuſets.

Anſw. This, of it ſelf is far from any warrant: for the Earth is the Lords and the fulneſs thereof: and though they claim a propriety in it, yet it is ſtill more the Lords than theirs; and he may ſend any one of his Servants into it at his pleaſure, upon what Meſſage or ſervice it ſeemeth good unto him. So that the great queſtion to be determined here is this, Whether theſe perſons came from the Lord, in his will, and at his appointment: or whether they came of themſelves, and in their own wills? For if they came by commiſſion and appointment from the Lord of Heaven and Earth, their warrant was without doubt ſufficient: but if they came in their own will, and upon their own deſigns, then they went out of the Lords Counſel and Protection, and muſt bear their own Burthen. Now conſider, whether ye were tender in the due weighing of this, before your impriſoning, and dealing hardly with them: for if at their firſt coming ye impriſoned them, and engaged your ſelves againſt them, ye thereby made your ſelves unfit for an equal conſideration of the cauſe, and God might juſtly then leave your eyes to be cloſed, and your hearts hardned againſt his Truths and People; for beginning with them ſo harſhly and unrighteouſly, and not in his fear.

2. Thoſe leſſer puniſhments of the Houſe of Correction, and Impriſonment for a time having been inflicted on ſome of them, but not ſufficing to deter and keep them away. (Why do ye omit cutting off of ears? are ye aſhamed to mention that amongſt the reſt? indeed the remembrance of it ſtrikes upon the Spirits of people here, and perhaps in New England alſo.)

Anſw. They that are ſent by the Lord, and go in the guidance of his Spirit, cannot be deterred from obedience to him in his Service and Work, either by leſſer or greater puniſhments. Puniſhments deter the evil doer; but he that doth well, is not afraid of being puniſhed, but is taught, and made willing, and inabled to ſuffer for righteouſneſs ſake, Phil. 1. 29. And ye will find your greater puniſhments as ineffectual to obtain your end, as your leſſer. For they whoſe lives (in the power of God) are ſacrificed up to the Will of God, are no more afraid of Death, than they are of Whips, Priſons, cruel uſage in Priſons, and cutting off of ears. Surely it had been a ſweeter, a more Chriſtian and ſafer courſe, to have weighed the thing in Gods fear and dread, before ye had begun any of your puniſhments. But your own late relation confeſſeth, that ye began with them upon reports from Barbadoes, and England (from good hands ye ſay, and ſo they of Damaſcus might have ſaid, if they had received the Letters from the High-Prieſt, Prieſt, or relations from zealous and devout Jews) and I have heard related from many hands (which having drunk in prejudices from reports, and begun with impriſoning of them, might eaſily follow) that they were never afforded a fair hearing, but at your Courts Queſtions put to entrap them, and they not ſuffered to plead the Righteouſneſs and Innocency of their cauſe, but endeavours uſed to draw them to that (and a watching to catch that from them) which would bring them within the compaſs of ſome of your Laws. Your Conſciences know how true theſe things are, and will one day give in a clear and true Teſtimony, although ye ſhould be able to bribe them at preſent.

3. That their coming thither was upon no other grounds or occaſion (for ought that could appear) then to ſcatter their corrupt opinions, and to draw others to their way, and ſo to make diſturbance.

Anſw. Chriſt ſaith to his Diſciples, ye are the Salt of the earth, and the light of the World: and they are not to lie ſtill, and keep their light under a Buſhel, but to lighten and ſeaſon the World, as the Lord calleth and guideth them. And if the Lord doth ſee that New England, notwithſtanding all its Profeſſion and talk of the things of God, hath need of his Salt to ſavour it with, and of his Light to enlighten them with, and ſo ſendeth his Meſſengers and Servants among them, they have no reaſon to be offended with the Lord for this, or with his People, or with the Truths they bring. They have long had a form up, and it may have eaten out the power, that they may not be ſo ſavoury now in their eaſe and authority in New England, as they were under their Troubles and Perſecutions in Old England: and God may in kindneſs to them ſend among them a fooliſh people to ſtir them up and provoke them to jealouſie. Now the coming thus is not to ſcatter corrupt Opinions; but by the power of truth to ſcatter that, which ſcatters from the Lord; nor is it to draw to their way, but to the Lord, to Chriſt his living way, which they are exhorted to try, and feel, and certainly to know, before they receive: nor doth it make any diſturbance but only to that which is at eaſe in the fleſh, and fleſhly forms of Worſhip. And Iſrael of old was often thus diſturbed by the Prophets of God, (though they ſtill could not bear it, but were enemies to the Prophets for it) notwithſtanding they had received their way of Worſhip certainly from Gods hand: how much more may the Lord take liberty by his Servants and Meſſengers to diſturb theſe, who never ſo received it, but have formed up a way out of the Scriptures, whereof many that are truly conſcientious doubt whether it be the way or no, even as they themſelves doubt and are ready to contend againſt the ways that others have formed?

Now thoſe that pick a quarrel with Truth, and ſeek matter againſt it to perſecute it, do not call it Truth but Error, corrupt Opinions, the way of a Sect, the making of diſturbance; or ſuch like. And Perſecutors for the moſt part do not only ſay this, but bring forth their ſtrong Arguments, inſomuch as the Perſecutor is commonly juſt in his own eyes, and the Perſecuted is blamed as the evil doer, and cauſe of his own ſufferings. Were the Biſhops without their Plea? nay did not he that was called Dr. Burgeſs (in his Book) ſeem to carry the Cauſe clear againſt the Non-conformiſts? And why the Biſhops might not eſtabliſh their way by Authority, or the Presbyters their way, as well as thoſe accounted Independants their way (not regarding the Diſſenters, or tender Conſcienced) I confeſs I ſee not; but that they have juſtified the Biſhops by their practiſing the ſame thing, and ſo unjuſtly condemned them in words.

But how can ye ſay, for ought that could appear? when ye were ſo unfit (through receiving of prejudices and reports, and beginning ſo roughly with them) to conſider what might be made appear, and alſo ſo far from giving way to them to make what they could appear, as is before expreſſed? And doth not this alſo imply that there may be a juſt, righteous, and warrantable cauſe of their coming, in relation to God and his Service, though it doth not yet appear to you; and in a meeker and cooler temper, when another eye is opened in you, ye may ſee and acknowledge that cauſe, who are the Lords Servants, whether they come in his Name or no; whether they are his Truths or no, which they bring with them, theſe are things God opens to the humble, to the meek, to ſuch as feed before him and wait for his Counſel therein: but thoſe that can determine things by intelligence before hand from other parts, and Impriſon perſons as ſoon as they come, and ſo proceed on with a ſtiff reſolution againſt them, how are theſe in any capacity to ſeek or receive counſel from God in a caſe of ſo great concernment? So that at laſt even when they have drunk their Blood, they muſt be forced to ſay, for ought that could appear, this was their only end, work and intent; but whether it was ſo or no, they do not certainly know.

Thus far is in anſwer to the account they give, by way of Preface, to what led them to the making of this Law of Baniſhment and Death. Now the grounds and conſiderations themſelves, which they held forth to clear this to be warantable and juſt, follow to be ſcanned, which are in number ſix.

1. The Doctrine of this Sect of People (ſay they) it is deſtructive to fundamental Truths of Religion.

Anſw For the making of this Argument forcible, two things are neceſſary; if either of which fails, it falls to the ground.

1. It is neceſſary to make manifeſt, that perſons for holding or propagating Doctrins contrary to fundamental Truths of Religion, are by Chriſts inſtitution puniſhable with Diſmembring, Baniſhment, or Death. For Chriſt is the Head, King, and Law giver to his Church: it is he that is the Foundation of Religion, and the giver forth of Fundamental Truths of Religion: and he is the proper Judge of what puniſhment is fit for ſuch as either will not receive his fundamental Truths of Religion, or afterwards ſtart back from them, and broach Doctrines contrary thereto Now it is required, in his Name and Authority, of ſuch Powers as will take upon them to inflict theſe kinds of puniſhments, upon ſuch kind of offenders, Chriſts inſtitution for this thing Chriſt was as faithful in his Houſe as Moſes, and if ſuch a courſe had been neceſſary for the preſervation of his Church, ſurely he would not have with-held it. But Chriſt overcomes the Devils Kingdom by his Spirit: by that he wins Souls, and gathers into, and builds up his Church, and by that he is able to defend them. By his Spirit he Preacheth the truth and ſoweth the Seed of the Kingdom, and by his ſpirit he upholds and maintains it. This is his way of overcoming all the miſts of darkneſs, and falſe Doctrines and not a Magiſtrates Sword The Weapons of our Warfare (ſaith the Apoſtle) are not carnal but mighty through God, to the pulling down of Strong Holds, 2 Cor. 10 4. Are there Strong holds of darkneſs? Are there falſe Doctrines broached againſt the truths of Chriſt? Who are the Warriers againſt theſe? Are they the civil State, the Magiſtrate, the earthly Powers; or are they the Miniſters and Servants of Chriſt? And what are the Weapons that are mighty to overthrow theſe? Are they Stocks, Whips, Priſons, cutting off of Ears, Baniſhment, Death? or are they of a ſpiritual Nature? The ſpiritual Weapons are ſanctified by God to this end, and are mighty through him, able to effect it throughly; whereas the carnal Weapons are weak and unſanctified, and can reach only the carnal part, but the ſtrong Hold remains untouch'd by theſe. And it is only the carnal part, which deſires to have the uſe of ſuch carnal Weapons in the Church: the Spiritual man would conquer by his own Weapon, or not at all. Chriſt came not to deſtroy mens lives, nor never gave order to have men killed about his truths. If his people be diſobedient, and broach Doctrines never ſo contrary and deſtructive to his Kingdom, he hath a ſpiritual way of fighting with them now, and hath appointed his ſervants to have his mighty ſpiritual Weapons in a readineſs, for the revenging every diſobedience, 2 Cor. 10. 6. And he hath likewiſe a time of dealing with them hereafter; but he hath no where appointed that his ſubjects (if they could get the command of the Sword in a Nation or Country) ſhould kill ſuch. Abundance of bloud hath been ſhed upon this pretence, which the Lord will make inquiſition for: it would at length be ſeriouſly inquired into, what truth there is in this bloudy Doctrine? For under this cover all the perſecutions and ſheddings of the Saints bloud ſhelter themſelves. O conſider at length, how cruel and bloudy men have made the Goſpel of Peace by this Principle: and what an advantage it gives to the carnal part in thoſe that are perſecuted, if once they can get the command of the outward Sword, to forget their own ſufferings, and ſuddenly turn perſecutors of ſuch as differ from them, though upon as weighty grounds (if not more weighty) than they differed from others upon. But this they that are uppermoſt will not yield to, that the grounds of ſuch as differ from them are ſufficient; even as thoſe that they differed from would not yield that their grounds were ſufficient. Thus ſtill they whoſe arguments go forth under the ſhelter, or by the command of the preſent authority, they are looked upon as moſt weighty, and the others cauſe is trampled upon, though never ſo juſt, innocent, upright, and weighty in it ſelf; and the meek of the earth, the humble-heart-

hearted, the tender-conſcienced towards God. they are ſtill made the offenders and ſufferers: and their enemies are ſtill made their Judges. I do think theſe of New-England would have once thought it hard meaſure, that Conformiſts whom they differed from, ſhould have been the Judges whether their grounds were ſufficient or no, and yet they (ever ſince they have had the power in their hands) have taken upon them to be the Judges of the ſufficiency of the grounds of ſuch as differ from them, and have as freely condemned all that differed from them, and been as ſore a curb upon the tender-conſcience, as ever the Biſhops were. So that it is plain, that which they ſought was their own liberty (they did not like to be oppreſſed and inthralled contrary to their judgments) but not the liberty of the tender-conſcience toward God, but rather the yoaking and inthralling of it to their judgments, and arguments, and interpretations of Scripture, which he that differs from, muſt be an offender with them, even as they were once accounted offenders for differing from the Conformiſts, and ſo are all become tranſgreſſors of the Law of God in doing that to others, which they would not that others ſhould do to them.

2. It is requiſite alſo to make manifeſt, that the Doctrine of this ſort of people is deſtructive to the fundamental truths of Religion. For if it be not ſo, then they are injured and miſ-repreſented; and both their Baniſhment, and Death; and all other puniſhments inflicted upon them on this account, will prove to have been unjuſt.

There are four inſtances given, or four particular fundamentals mentioned, to which their Doctrines are ſaid to be deſtructive. Firſt, the Sacred Trinity, Secondly, the perſon of Chriſt, Thirdly, the holy Scriptures as a perfect rule of Faith and Life, Fourthly, the Doctrine of perfection.

Now for the making the thing clear and manifeſt to every ſober mind, it is requiſite firſt to conſider what the Quakers hold in theſe ſeveral particulars, and then whether that which they hold in theſe reſpects, be contrary to the truth of theſe things, as they are plainly related in the Scriptures: for if that which they hold be according to the naked voice and proper intent of the Scriptures, then they are not to be blamed, but the blame will light on their accuſers, who might eaſily be found guilty of injuring both them and the Scriptures, both in theſe and many other things, were they not Judges?

1. Concerning the ſacred Trinity. They generally both in their ſpeakings, and in their writings, ſet their Seal to the truth of that Scripture, 1 John 5. 7. That there are three that bear record in Heaven, the Father, the Word, and the Holy Spirit. That theſe three are diſtinct, as three ſeveral beings or perſons, this they read not, but in the ſame place they read, that they are one. And thus they believe, their being to be one, their life one, their light one, their wiſdom one, their power one: and he that knoweth and ſeeth any one of them, knoweth and ſeeth them all, according to that ſaying of Chriſt's to Philip, He that hath ſeen me hath ſeen the Father, John 14. 9 Three there are, and yet one, thus they have read in the Scripture, and this they teſtifie they have had truly opened to them, by that very Spirit which gave forth the Scriptures, inſomuch as they certainly know it to be true, and own the thing from their very hearts. But as for this title of Sacred Trinity, they find it not in Scripture: and they look upon Scripture-words as fitteſt to expreſs Scripture-things by. And ſurely if a man mean the ſame thing as the Scripture-means, the ſame words will ſuffice to expreſs it: but the Papiſts and School-men having miſſed of the thing which the Scripture drives at, and apprehended ſomewhat elſe in the wiſe imagining part, have brought forth many Phraſes of their own invention to expreſs their apprehenſions by, which we confeſs we have no unity with, but are content with feeling the thing which the Scripture ſpeaks of, and with the words whereby the Scriptures expreſs it Now whereas they call this a fundamental, we do not find it ſo called in Scripture, nor do we find the Diſciples themſelves underſtanding therein, but knew not the Father, John 14. 8, 9. And Chriſt going about to inform them, does not tell them of another diſtinct being or perſon: but Haſt thou not ſeen me? and believeſt thou not that I am in the Father, and the Father in me? ver. 10. And ſo the believers at Epheſus had not ſo much as heard there was an Holy Ghoſt, Acts 19. 2. So that if ye will make this a fundamental truth, yet it is ſuch a fundamental, as true Faith did ſtand without, both in believers afore Chriſt's death, and in believers after. This is the great fundamental, that God is light, and in him is no darkneſs at all, 1 John 1. 5. and the great work of the Miniſtry is to ſhew men where this light is, and to turn men from the darkneſs, wherein is the power of Satan, unto this light: wherein is the power of God, Acts 26. 18. And he that comes into this light, and into this power, is owned in the light and in the power, wherein is the life of all the Saints, and the true fellowſhip both with the Father and the Son, and one with another, John 1. 3, 7. And the true trial of Spirits, is not by anaſſent to Doctrines (which the hypocrite may aſſent to on the one hand, and the true believer may ſtartle at on the other hand) but by feeling of them in the inward vertue of the light, in the Spirit, and in the power. This was the Apoſtles way of trial, 1 Cor. 4. 19, 20. I will know, not the ſpeech of them which are puffed up, but the power; for the Kingdom of God is not in Word, but in Power. A man may ſpeak high Words concerning the Kingdom, and get all the Doctrines about it, and yet be a ſtranger to it, and quite ignorant of the power: and another may want divers Doctrines concerning it (perhaps ſome of thoſe which men call fundamentals) and yet be a Citizen of it, and in the power. But now under the Antichriſtian Apoſtacy. men wanting the feeling of the life and power, wherein the true judgment is, they own or diſown one another upon an aſſent or diſſent to ſuch and ſuch Doctrines, and ſo fall into this great error, of owning many whom Chriſt owns: and if they find perſons not aſſent to, or diſſenting from any of thoſe things, which they call fundamentals, then they think they may lawfully excommunicate and perſecute them. So by this miſtake, they cut of that which is green, they perſecute that wherein is the living ſap, and cheriſh the dry and withered. That which is moſt tender towards God, and moſt growing in the inward ſenſibleneſs (which cauſeth it to ſtartle at that, which others can eaſily ſwallow) lies moſt open to ſuffering by this kind of trial.

2. Concerning the Perſon of Chriſt. They belive that Chriſt is the eternal Light, Life, Wiſdom, and Power of God, which was manifeſted in that body of fleſh, which he took of the Virgin: that he is the King, Prieſt, and Prophet of his people, and ſaveth them from their ſins by laying down his life for them, and imputing his righteouſneſs to them, yet not without revealing and bringing forth the ſame righteouſneſs in them, which he wrought for them. And by experience they know, that there is no being ſaved by a belief of his death for them, and of his Reſurection, Aſcention, Interceſſion, &c. without being brought unto a true fellowſhip with him in his death, and without feeling his immortal ſeed of life raiſed and living in them. And ſo they diſown that Faith in Chriſts death, which is only received and entertained from the relation of the letter of the Scriptures, and ſtands not in the divine power, and ſenſible experience of the begotten of God in the heart.

Now they diſtinguiſh, according to the Scriptures, between that which is called the Chriſt, and the bodily Garment which he took. The one was Fleſh, the other Spirit. The Fleſh profiteth nothing (ſaith he) the Spirit quickeneth, and he that eateth me, ſhall live by me, even as I live by the Father, John 6. 57, 63. This is the Manna it ſelf, the true Treaſure, the other but the viſible or earthen Veſſel which held it. The body of fleſh was but the vail, Heb 10. 20. The eternal life was the ſubſtance vailed. The one he did partake of, as the reſt of the Children did, the other was he which did partake thereof, Heb. 2. 14. The one was the body which was prepared for the life, for it to appear in, and be made manifeſt, Heb. 10. 5. The other was the life or light it ſelf, for whom the body was prepared, who took it up, appeared in it to do the Will, Pſal. 40. 7, 8. and was made manifeſt to thoſe eyes which were able to ſee through the Vail wherewith it was covered, John 1. 14.

Now is not this ſound, according to the Scriptures? And is it not a good way to know this, by unity with it; by feeling a meaſure of the ſame life made manifeſt in our mortal fleſh? 2 Cor. 4. 11. This we confeſs is our way of underſtanding things, and likewiſe of underſtanding the Scriptures which ſpeak of theſe things. And we have found it a far ſurer kind of knowledge, namely, to underſtand the Scriptures, by experience of that whereof the Scripture ſpeaks, then to gueſs at the things the Scripture ſpeaks of, by conſidering and ſcanning in the earthly part; what the Scriptures ſpeak of them. Such a kind of knowledge as this, a Wiſe man may attain to a great meaſure of, but the other is peculiar to him who is begotten of God, whoſe knowledge is true and certain, though it ſeem never ſo different from his who hath attained what he hath by the ſearch of his Wiſdom.
